<sup>12</sup> “Can iron break iron and bronze from the north? <sup>13</sup> I will give away your wealth and your treasures as plunder, and you will not be paid for them, because of all your sins throughout your territory; <sup>14</sup> and I will make you pass together with your enemies into a land you do not know. For my anger has become a blazing fire, and it will flare up against you.”

ADONAI, you know. Remember me, think of me,
and take vengeance for me on my persecutors.
Because you are patient, don’t banish me;
know that for your sake I suffer insults.

<sup>16</sup>

When I found your words, I devoured them;
your words made me glad, they gave me joy;
because, ADONAI-Tzva’ot,
you had me bear your name.

<sup>17</sup>

I have never kept company with merry-makers,
I could not celebrate;

with your hand on me I sat by myself,
for you filled me with indignation.

<sup>18</sup> Why is my pain unending,
my wound incurable, refusing to be healed?
Will you be for me like a deceptive vadi,
which is only sometimes filled with water?

“If you return — if I bring you back —
you will stand before me.

If you separate the precious from the base,
you will be my spokesman.

It will then be they who turn to you,
not you who turn to them.

<sup>20</sup> Toward this people I will make you a fortified wall of bronze —
they will fight against you but not prevail against you;
for I am with you to save you and rescue you,” says A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

“I will free you from the grasp of the wicked and redeem you from the clutches of the ruthless.”

<sup>10</sup> “When you tell this people all that I have said, and they ask you, ‘Why has ADONAI decreed all this terrible disaster against us? What is our iniquity, what is our sin, that we have committed against ADONAI our God?’ <sup>11</sup> then you are to say to them, ‘It is because your ancestors abandoned me, says ADONAI, and went after other gods, serving and worshipping them, but abandoned me and did not keep my Torah. <sup>12</sup> And you have done worse than your ancestors, for — look! — each of you lives according to the stubbornness of his own evil heart, so that you don’t listen to me. <sup>13</sup> Therefore I am thrusting you out of this land into a land you have not known, neither you nor your ancestors; and there you will serve other gods day and night; for I will show you no favor.’

<sup>14</sup> “‘Therefore,’ says ADONAI, ‘the day will come when people will no longer swear, “As ADONAI lives, who brought the people of Isra’el out of the land of Egypt,” <sup>15</sup> but, “As ADONAI lives, who brought the people of Isra’el out of the land to the north and out of all the countries where he drove them”; for I will bring them back to their own land, which I gave to their ancestors.

<sup>16</sup> “‘Look,’ says ADONAI, ‘I will send for many fishermen, and they will fish for them. Afterwards, I will send for many hunters; and they will hunt them from every mountain and hill and out of caves in the rocks. <sup>17</sup> For I see all their ways; they are not hidden from me; their crimes are not concealed from my eyes. <sup>18</sup> First, I will pay them back double for their crimes and sins; because they have defiled the land which is mine; they have filled my heritage with the corpses of their horrors and abominations.’”

my refuge in time of trouble,

the nations will come to you

from the ends of the earth, saying,

“Our ancestors inherited nothing but lies,

futile idols, completely useless.”

(In fact they aren’t gods at all.)

once and for all, I will make them know

my power and my might.

Then they will know that my name is ADONAI.

17 <sup>1</sup> “Y’hudah’s sin is written with an iron pen;

with a diamond point it is engraved on the tablet of their hearts and on the horns of your altars.

<sup>2</sup> As they remember their children,
so they remember their altars
and their sacred poles by the green trees on the high hills.

<sup>3</sup> My mountain in the field, your wealth
and all your treasures will be plundered;
because of the sin of your high places
throughout your territory.

<sup>4</sup> You will relinquish your hold on your heritage which I gave you.
I will make you serve your enemies
in a land you do not know.
For you have kindled my fiery anger,
and it will burn forever.”

“A curse on the person who trusts in humans,

who relies on merely human strength,
whose heart turns away from A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

<sup>6</sup> He will be like a tamarisk in the ‘Aravah —
when relief comes, it is unaffected;
for it lives in the sun-baked desert,
in salty, uninhabited land.

A<sub>DONAI</sub> will be his security.

<sup>8</sup> He will be like a tree planted near water;
it spreads out its roots by the river;
it does not notice when heat comes;
and its foliage is luxuriant;
it is not anxious in a year of drought
but keeps on yielding fruit.

<sup>9</sup> “The heart is more deceitful than anything else and mortally sick. Who can fathom it?

<sup>10</sup> I, A<sub>DONAI</sub>, search the heart;
I test inner motivations;
in order to give to everyone

what his actions and conduct deserve.”

like this are those who get rich unjustly:
in the prime of life their wealth will desert them;
in the end they will prove to be fools.

<sup>12</sup>       Throne of Glory,
exalted from the beginning!
Our Holy Sanctuary,

All who abandon you will be ashamed,
those who leave you will be inscribed in the dust,
because they have abandoned ADONAI,
the source of living water.

<sup>14</sup>       Heal me, ADONAI, and I will be healed;
save me, and I will be saved,
for you are my praise.

<sup>15</sup>       They keep asking me,
“Where is the word of ADONAI?
Let it come now.”

<sup>16</sup> As for me, I have not run away
from being a shepherd who follows you;
you know I didn't want this fatal day;
what came from my lips has been clear to you.

<sup>17</sup> So do not be my ruin,
you, my refuge on the day of disaster.

<sup>18</sup> Let my persecutors be ashamed, not me;
let them be terrified, not me.
Bring on them the day of disaster,
destroy them with double destruction.

<sup>19</sup> Then ADONAI said this to me: "Go, and stand at the People's Gate, where the kings of Y'hudah go in and out, and at all the gates of Yerushalayim; <sup>20</sup> and say to them: 'Kings of Y'hudah, all Y'hudah and all living in Yerushalayim who enter through these gates, hear the word of ADONAI! <sup>21</sup> Here is what ADONAI says: "If you value your lives, don't carry anything on Shabbat or bring it in through the gates of Yerushalayim; <sup>22</sup> don't carry anything out of your houses on Shabbat; and don't do any work. Instead, make Shabbat a holy day. I ordered your ancestors to do this, <sup>23</sup> but they neither listened nor paid attention; rather, they stiffened their necks, so that they wouldn't have to hear or receive instruction. <sup>24</sup> However, if you will pay careful heed to me," says ADONAI "and carry nothing through the gates of this city on Shabbat, but instead make Shabbat a day which is holy and not for doing work; <sup>25</sup> then kings and princes occupying the throne of David will enter through the gates of this city, riding in chariots and on horses. They, their princes, the people of Y'hudah and the inhabitants of Yerushalayim will enter; and this city will be inhabited forever. <sup>26</sup> They will come from the cities of Y'hudah, from the places surrounding Yerushalayim, from the land of Binyamin, from the Sh'felah, from the hills and from the Negev, bringing burnt offerings, sacrifices, grain offerings, frankincense and thanksgiving sacrifices to the house of ADONAI.<sup>27</sup> But if you will not obey me and make Shabbat a holy day and not carry loads through the gates of Yerushalayim on Shabbat, then I will set its gates on fire; it will burn up the palaces of Yerushalayim and not be quenched.”””

18<sup>1</sup> This word came to Yirmeyahu from ADONAI:<sup>2</sup> “Get up, and go down to the potter’s house; there I will tell you more.”<sup>3</sup> So I went down to the house of the potter; and there he was, working at the wheels.<sup>4</sup> Whenever a pot he made came out imperfect, the potter took the clay and made another pot with it, in whatever shape suited him.

<sup>5</sup> Then the word of ADONAI came to me: <sup>6</sup> “House of Isra’el, can’t I deal with you as the potter deals with his clay? — says ADONAI. Look! You, house of Isra’el, are the same in my hand as the clay in the potter’s hand.<sup>7</sup> At one time, I may speak about uprooting, breaking down and destroying a nation or kingdom;<sup>8</sup> but if that nation turns from their evil, which prompted me to speak against it, then I relent concerning the disaster I had planned to inflict on it.<sup>9</sup> Similarly, at another time, I may speak about building and planting a nation or kingdom;<sup>10</sup> but if it behaves wickedly from my perspective and doesn’t listen to what I say, then I change my mind and don’t do the good I said I would do that would have helped it.

<sup>11</sup> “So now, tell the people of Y’hudah and those living in Yerushalayim that this is what ADONAI says:

‘I am designing disaster for you,

working out my plan against you.

Turn, each of you, from his evil ways;

improve your conduct and actions.’

We will stick to our own plans;

each of us will stubbornly follow
his own evil desires!’

<sup>13</sup> “Therefore, A<sub>DONAI</sub> says this:

‘Ask among the nations
who has heard anything like this.
The virgin Isra’el has done
a most horrible thing.

<sup>14</sup> Does the snow of the L’vanon
disappear from the mountain crags?
Do the cold waters of foreign lands
ever run dry?

<sup>15</sup> No, but my people have forgotten me
and offer incense to nothings.
This causes them to stumble
as they walk the ancient paths;
they leave the highway
to walk on side-trails.

<sup>16</sup> Thus they make their land an object of horror and ongoing ridicule.

Passers-by shake their heads,
appalled, every one.

<sup>17</sup> Like a strong east wind, I will scatter them before the enemy.

I will see their back, not their face,
on their day of disaster.”

<sup>18</sup> Then they said, “Let’s develop a plan for dealing with Yirmeyahu. Torah won’t be lost from the cohanim, or counsel from the wise, or words from the prophets. So come, let’s destroy him with slander; and meanwhile, we won’t pay attention to anything he says.”

Listen to what my opponents are saying!

For they have dug a pit [to trap] me.

Remember how I stood before you

and spoke well of them,

in order to turn your anger

away from them?

<sup>21</sup> Therefore, hand their sons over to famine,

hurl them into the power of the sword,

let their wives be made childless and widows,
let their husbands be slain by disease,
let their young men be slain by the sword in battle, <sup>22</sup> let screams be heard from their houses

when you bring raiders on them without warning.

For they have dug a pit to catch me
and have laid snares for my feet.

<sup>23</sup> Nevertheless, ADONAI, you know

all their plans against me to stop me.

Do not forgive their crime,

do not blot out their sin from your sight;

but let them be made to stumble before you;

deal with them when you are angry.

19 <sup>1</sup> ADONAI then said, “Go; buy a clay jar from the potter; take some of the people’s leaders and some of the leading cohanim; <sup>2</sup> and go out into the Ben-Hinnom Valley, by the entry to the Potsherd Gate. There you are to proclaim the words I am about to tell you. <sup>3</sup> Say: ‘Hear the word of ADONAI, kings of Y’hudah and inhabitants of Yerushalayim! This is what ADONAI-Tzva’ot, the God of Isra’el, says: “I am about to bring disaster on this place that will make the ears of whoever hears about it ring. <sup>4</sup> This is because they have abandoned me and alienated this place. In it they have offered to other gods that neither they nor their ancestors have known, nor the kings of Y’hudah. They have filled this place with the blood of innocent people. <sup>5</sup> They have built the high places of Ba‘al, in order to burn up their children in the fire as burnt offerings to Ba'al — something I never ordered or said; it never even entered my mind.

<sup>6</sup> ““Therefore the time is coming,” says ADONAI, “when this place will no longer be called either Tofet or the Ben-Hinnom Valley, but the Valley of Slaughter. <sup>7</sup> I will nullify the plans of Y’udah and Yerushalayim in this place. I will have them fall by the sword before their enemies and at the hand of those seeking their lives, and I will give their corpses as food for the birds in the air and the wild animals. <sup>8</sup> I will make this city an object of horror and ridicule; everyone passing by will be horrified and will ridicule it because of all its wounds. <sup>9</sup> I will cause them to eat the flesh of their own sons and daughters; everyone will be eating the flesh of his friends during the siege, because of the shortage imposed on them by their enemies and those set on killing them.”

<sup>10</sup> “Then you are to smash the jar in front of the people who went with you, “and say to them, ‘ADONAI-Tzva’ot says that this is how I will break this people and this city, just as one smashes a potter’s vessel beyond the possibility of repair. The dead will be buried in Tofet, because there will be no space left for burial [anywhere else]. <sup>12</sup> That is what I will do to this place,’ says ADONAI ‘and to its inhabitants; I will make it like Tofet. <sup>13</sup> The houses of Yerushalayim and those of the kings of Y’udah will be defiled like this place Tofet — yes, all the houses on whose roofs they have offered to all the stars in heaven and poured out drink offerings to other gods.’”

<sup>14</sup> Then Yirmeyahu returned from Tofet, where ADONAI had sent him to prophesy, stood in the courtyard of ADONAI’s house and said to all the people, <sup>15</sup> “This is what ADONAI-Tzva’ot, the God of Isra’el, says: ‘I am bringing on this city and all its surrounding villages all the disaster I have pronounced against it; because they have stiffened their necks and refused to pay attention to my words.’”

the sword of their enemies, while you watch. I will hand over all of Y'hudah to the king of Bavel, and he will carry them off captive to Bavel and put them to the sword. <sup>5</sup> Moreover, I will hand over everything stored in this city, all its valuables, all its wealth, indeed all the treasures of the kings of Y'hudah, to their enemies, who will plunder them, take them and carry them to Bavel. <sup>6</sup> And you, Pash'chur, along with your entire household, will go into captivity; you will go to Bavel, where you will die and be buried — you and all your friends to whom you have prophesied lies.”

You overpowered me, and you have prevailed.

All day long I'm a laughingstock;

everyone makes fun of me.

<sup>8</sup>        Whenever I speak, I have to cry out;

I shout, “Violence!” and “Destruction!”

Thus the word of ADONAI becomes for me

the cause of reproach and derision all day!

<sup>9</sup>        But if I say, “I won't think about him,

I won't speak in his name any more,”

then it seems as though a fire

is burning in my heart, imprisoned in my bones;

I wear myself out

trying to hold it in,

but I just can't do it.

Denounce him! Let's denounce him!”

Even all my close friends

are watching for me to make a false step —

“Maybe he can be tricked,

then we'll get the better of him,

then we'll take our revenge on him.”

<sup>11</sup> But ADONAI is with me like a dreaded warrior;

so my persecutors will stumble, defeated,

greatly ashamed because of their failure;

their lasting disgrace will not be forgotten.

<sup>12</sup> ADONAI-Tzva'ot, you who test the righteous and see people's hearts and thoughts,

let me see you take vengeance on them,

for I have committed my cause to you.

For he rescues those in need

from the clutches of evildoers.

<sup>14</sup> A curse on the day I was born!

The day my mother gave birth to me —
let it not be blessed!

<sup>15</sup> A curse on the man who brought the news
to my father, “A son has been born to you!” —
thus making him very happy.

<sup>16</sup> Let that man be like the cities

ADONAI overthrew without mercy!

Let him hear cries of alarm in the morning
and the sound of battle at noon,

<sup>17</sup> because God did not put me to death in the womb
and let my mother become my grave,
her womb forever filled with me.

<sup>18</sup> Why did I have to emerge from the womb,
just to see toil and sorrow,
and end my days in shame?

21 <sup>1</sup> This is the word that came to Yirmeyahu from ADONAI when King Tzidkiyahu sent to him Pash’chur the son of Malkiyah and Tz’fanyah the son of Ma’aseiyah with this message: <sup>2</sup> “Please consult ADONAI for us, because N'vukhadretzar king of Bavel is making war on us. Maybe ADONAI will perform a miracle for us and cause him to withdraw.”

<sup>3</sup> Yirmeyahu answered them, “Here is what you are to tell Tzidkiyahu: <sup>4</sup> ‘This is what ADONAI, the God of Isra’el, says: “I will make the weapons of war that you have in your hands ineffectual in your fight against the king of Bavel and the Kasdim who are outside the walls besieging you. Instead, I will gather them inside this city; <sup>5</sup> and I myself will fight against you with my hand stretched out and with a strong arm, in anger, rage and great fury. <sup>6</sup> I will strike the inhabitants of this city, humans and animals alike, and they will die of a terrible plague. <sup>7</sup> Afterwards,” says ADONAI “I will hand over Tzidkiyahu king of Y’udah, his servants, the people, and anyone remaining alive in this city after the plague, war and famine, to N’vukhadretzar king of Bavel and to their enemies, to those who seek their lives; and he will put them to the sword. He will not spare them; he will have no pity, no compassion.””

<sup>8</sup> “And here is what you are to tell this people: ‘ADONAI says: “Look! I am presenting you with the way of life and the way of death. <sup>9</sup> Anyone who stays in this city will die by sword, famine and plague. But he who leaves and surrenders to the Kasdim besieging you will stay alive; his own life will be his only ‘spoils of war.’ <sup>10</sup> For I have determined absolutely that this city will have evil, not good,” says ADONAI. “It is going to be handed over to the king of Bavel, and he will burn it to the ground.””

“Judge fairly every morning,
rescue the wronged from their oppressors;
or my fury will lash out like fire,
burning so hot that no one can quench it,
because of how evil your actions are.”

ADONAI says, “I am against you, [Yerushalayim,]

situated in a valley like a rock on a plain.

You who say, ‘Who can come down against us?

Who can enter our lairs?’ —

<sup>14</sup> I will punish you,” says ADONAI,

“as your deeds deserve.

I will set its forest on fire,

and it will devour everything around it.””

22 <sup>1</sup> ADONAI said, “Go down to the house of the king of Y’hudah and there speak this word: <sup>2</sup> ‘King of Y’hudah occupying David’s throne, hear the word of ADONAI — you, your servants and your people who enter through these gates. <sup>3</sup> This is what ADONAI says:

“Do what is right and just;

rescue the wronged from their oppressors;

do nothing wrong or violent

to the stranger, orphan or widow;

don’t shed innocent blood in this place.

<sup>4</sup> ““If you are careful to do this, then future kings occupying David’s throne will enter these palace gates riding in chariots and on horses — he, his servants and his people. <sup>5</sup> But if you will not pay attention to these words, then I swear by myself,” says ADONAI, “that this palace will become a ruin.””

‘You are like Gil‘ad to me,

like the peak of the L'vanon;
yet I will turn you into a desert,
uninhabited cities.

<sup>7</sup> I will designate men to destroy you,
each one with his weapons;
they will chop down your choice cedars
and throw them in the fire.'

<sup>8</sup> "Many nations will pass by this city, and they will say to one another,
'Why has ADONAI done such a thing to this great city?' <sup>9</sup> The answer will be,
'Because they abandoned the covenant of ADONAI their God and worshipped other gods, serving them.'"

<sup>10</sup> Do not weep for [the king] who has died,
do not mourn for him [Yoshiyahu].
But weep for him who departs [to Egypt],
for he will never return
or see his native land again.

<sup>11</sup> For this is what ADONAI says about Shalum the son of Yoshiyahu, king of Y'hudah, who succeeded Yoshiyahu his father as king: "He has left this place, never to return; <sup>12</sup> but he will die in the place where they have led him captive, without seeing this land again.

its upper rooms by injustice;

who makes his neighbor work for free
and will not give him his wages;

<sup>14</sup>       who says, ‘I will build me a spacious palace with airy upper rooms,’ then makes windows and cedar panels painted with vermilion!

<sup>15</sup>       Your cedar may be excellent,
but that doesn’t make you a better king.
True, your father ate and drank,
but he also did what was right and just,
so things went well with him.

<sup>16</sup>       He upheld the cause of the poor and the weak,
so everything went well.
Isn’t that what knowing me
is all about?” says ADONAI.

<sup>17</sup>       “In contrast, your eyes and heart are controlled entirely by your greed,
your desire for shedding innocent blood,
oppressing and extorting.”

“There will be no one to mourn for him,

‘Oh! My brother!’ or ‘Oh! My sister!’

There will be no one to mourn for him,

‘Oh! My master!’ or ‘Oh! His glory!’

<sup>19</sup> He will be given a donkey’s ‘burial’ —

dragged out the gates of Yerushalayim

and thrown away [to rot].

raise your voice in Bashan,

cry out from ‘Avarim,

for all your lovers are broken.

<sup>21</sup> I spoke to you in your times of prosperity,

but you said, ‘I won’t listen.’

This has been your pattern since you were young —

you pay no attention to what I say.

<sup>22</sup> The wind will shepherd all your shepherds away,

and your lovers will go into captivity.

Then you will be ashamed and disgraced

for all your wicked deeds.

<sup>23</sup> You who live in the L'vanon,

nesting in the cedars,

how gracious will you be

when pains come on you like a woman in labor?

<sup>24</sup> “As I live,” says A<sub>DONAI</sub>, “even if Koniyahu the son of Y'hoyakim king of Y'udah were the signet ring on my right hand, I would pull you off <sup>25</sup> and hand you over to those who seek your life, to those you fear, N'vukhadretzar king of Bavel and the Kasdim. <sup>26</sup> I will hurl you and the mother who gave birth to you into a country different from the one you were born in, and you will die there. <sup>27</sup> They will not return to the country to which they long to return.”

a despised, broken pot,

an instrument nobody wants?

Why are they being thrown out?

Why are he and his offspring thrown out into a country they do not know?

Hear the word of A<sub>DONAI</sub>!

“List this man as childless;

he is a lifetime failure —
none of his offspring will succeed, none will sit on David's throne
or rule again in Y'hudah."

23 <sup>1</sup> "Oh no! The shepherds are destroying and scattering the sheep in my pasture!" says ADONAI. <sup>2</sup> Therefore this is what ADONAI, the God of Isra'el, says against the shepherds who shepherd my people: "You have scattered my flock, driven them away and not taken care of them. So I will 'take care of' you because of your evil deeds," says ADONAI. <sup>3</sup> "I myself will gather what remains of my flock from all the countries where I have driven them and bring them back to their homes, and they will be fruitful and increase their numbers. <sup>4</sup> I will appoint shepherds over them who will shepherd them; then they will no longer be afraid or disgraced; and none will be missing," says ADONAI.

when I will raise a righteous Branch for David.

He will reign as king and succeed,
he will do what is just and right in the land.

<sup>6</sup> In his days Y'hudah will be saved,

Isra'el will live in safety,
and the name given to him will be
ADONAI Tzidkenu [ADONAI our righteousness].

<sup>7</sup> "Therefore," says ADONAI, "the day will come when people no longer swear, 'As ADONAI lives, who brought the people of Isra'el out of the land of Egypt,'

<sup>8</sup> but, ‘As ADONAI lives, who brought the descendants of the house of Isra’el up from the land to the north’ and from all the countries where I drove them. Then they will live in their own land.”

My heart within me is broken,

all my bones are shaking;

I am like a drunk,

like a man overcome by wine,

because of ADONAI,

because of his holy words.

<sup>10</sup> For the land is full of adulterers;

because of a curse the land is in mourning —

the desert pastures have dried up.

Their course is evil, their power misused.

<sup>11</sup> “Both prophet and cohen are godless;

In my own house I find their wickedness,” says ADONAI.

<sup>12</sup> “Therefore their way will be slippery for them;

they will be driven into darkness and fall there.

For I will bring disaster upon them,

in the prophets of Shomron —
they prophesied by Ba‘al
and led my people Isra’el astray.

<sup>14</sup> But in the prophets of Yerushalayim

I have seen a horrible thing —
they commit adultery, live in lies,
so encouraging evildoers
that none returns from his sin.
For me they have all become like S’dom,
its inhabitants like ‘Amora.”

“I will feed them bitter wormwood
and make them drink poisonous water, for ungodliness has spread through all the land from the prophets of Yerushalayim.”

“Don’t listen to the words of the prophets
who are prophesying to you.
They are making you act foolishly,

telling you visions from their own minds

and not from the mouth of ADONAI.

<sup>17</sup> They keep reassuring those who despise me,

‘ADONAI says you will be safe and secure,’

and saying to all living by their own stubborn hearts,

‘Nothing bad will happen to you.’

of ADONAI to see and hear his word?

Who has paid attention to his word enough to hear it?”

bursting out in fury,

a whirling storm, whirling down

upon the heads of the wicked!

<sup>20</sup> ADONAI’s anger will not abate

till he fully accomplishes the purpose in his heart.

In the acharit-hayamim,

you will understand everything.

I did not speak to them; yet they prophesied.

<sup>22</sup> If they have been present at my council,
they should let my people hear my words
and turn them from their evil way
and the evil of their actions.

<sup>23</sup> Am I God only when near,” asks ADONAI,
“and not when far away?

that I won’t see him?” asks ADONAI.

ADONAI says, “Do I not fill heaven and earth?

<sup>25</sup> “I have heard what these prophets prophesying lies in my name are saying: ‘I’ve had a dream! I’ve had a dream!’ <sup>26</sup> How long will this go on? Is [my word] in the hearts of prophets who are prophesying lies, who are prophesying the deceit of their own minds? <sup>27</sup> With their dreams that they keep telling each other, they hope to cause my people to forget my name; just as their ancestors forgot my name when they worshipped Ba‘al.

let him tell it as a dream.

But someone who has my word should speak my word faithfully.

What do chaff and wheat

have in common?” asks ADONAI.

<sup>30</sup> So, I am against the prophets,” says ADONAI,

“who steal my words from each other.

<sup>32</sup> “I am against those who concoct prophecies out of fake dreams,” says ADONAI. “They tell them, and by their lies and arrogance they lead my people astray. I didn’t send them, I didn’t commission them, and they don’t do this people any good at all,” says ADONAI.

<sup>33</sup> “When [someone from] this people, a prophet or a cohen asks you, ‘What is the burden of ADONAI?’ you are to answer them, ‘What burden? I am throwing you off,’ says ADONAI. <sup>34</sup> As for a prophet, cohen or [someone else from] this people who speaks about ‘the burden of ADONAI,’ I will punish him and his household.”

<sup>35</sup> So, when you speak with your neighbor or brother, ask, “What answer has ADONAI given?” or “What has ADONAI said?” <sup>36</sup> Don’t use the expression, “burden of ADONAI” any more; for every person’s own word will be his burden. Must you twist the words of the living God, of ADONAI-Tzva’ot, our God? <sup>37</sup> So, when speaking to a prophet, ask, “What answer has ADONAI given you?” or “What did ADONAI say?” <sup>38</sup> But if you talk about “the burden of ADONAI,” then here is what ADONAI says: “Because you use this expression, ‘the burden of ADONAI,’ after I have already sent you the order not to say, ‘the burden of ADONAI,’ <sup>39</sup> I will lift you up, burden that you are, and throw you off, away from my presence — you and the city I gave you and your ancestors. <sup>40</sup> Then I will subject you to everlasting disgrace — eternal, unforgettable shame.”

24<sup>1</sup> It was after N'vukhadretzar king of Bavel had carried Y'khanyahu the son of Y'hoyakim, king of Y'hudah, along with the leaders of Y'hudah, the artisans and the skilled workers into exile from Yerushalayim and brought them to Bavel, that ADONAI gave me a vision. There, in front of the temple of ADONAI, two baskets of figs were placed.<sup>2</sup> One of the baskets had in it very good figs, like those that ripen first; while the other basket had very bad figs, so bad that they were inedible.<sup>3</sup> Then ADONAI asked me, "Yirmeyahu, what do you see?" I answered, "Figs — the good figs are very good; but the bad ones are very bad, so bad they are inedible."<sup>4</sup> The word of ADONAI came to me:<sup>5</sup> "Here is what ADONAI the God of Isra'el says: 'I will regard the exiles from Y'hudah, whom I sent away from this place to the land of the Kasdim, as good, just as I do these good figs.

I will bring them back to this land;

I will build them up and not tear them down,

plant them and not pull them up.

<sup>7</sup> I will give them a heart to know me

that I am ADONAI.

They will be my people,

and I will be their God;

for they will return to me

with all their heart.'

<sup>8</sup> "But concerning the bad figs that are so bad as to be inedible, ADONAI says: 'I will make Tzidkiyahu the king of Y'hudah and his leaders resemble them, likewise the rest of Yerushalayim remaining in this land and those living in the land of Egypt.<sup>9</sup> Everywhere I drive them I will make them an object of horror, repulsive to all the kingdoms of the earth, a disgrace, a byword, a laughingstock and a curse; <sup>10</sup> and I will send sword, famine and plague among them until they have disappeared from the land I gave them and their ancestors.’”

25 <sup>1</sup> This is the word that came to Yirmeyahu concerning all the people of Y’hudah in the fourth year of Y’hoyakim the son of Yoshiyahu, king of Y’hudah; this was also the first year of N’vukhadretzar king of Bavel. <sup>2</sup> Yirmeyahu the prophet proclaimed it before all the people of Y’hudah and all the inhabitants of Yerushalayim: <sup>3</sup> “For twenty-three years, since the thirteenth year of Yoshiyahu the son of Amon, king of Y’hudah, until today, the word of ADONAI has come to me; and I have proclaimed it to you on numerous occasions; but you haven’t listened. <sup>4</sup> Moreover, ADONAI sent you all his servants the prophets — again, on numerous occasions — but you didn’t listen or pay attention. <sup>5</sup> The message was always: ‘Every one of you, turn back from his evil way, from the evil of your actions. Then you will live in the land ADONAI gave you and your ancestors forever and ever. <sup>6</sup> Don’t follow other gods by serving and worshipping them. “Don’t provoke my anger with things your own hands have made; then I will do you no harm. <sup>7</sup> But you wouldn’t listen to me,” says ADONAI, “so that you could provoke me with the products of your hands, to your own harm.”

<sup>8</sup> “Therefore, here is what ADONAI-Tzva’ot says: ‘Because you haven’t paid attention to what I’ve been saying, <sup>9</sup> I’m going to send for all the families of the north,’ says ADONAI, ‘and for my servant N’vukhadretzar the king of Bavel, and bring them against this land, against its inhabitants and against all the surrounding nations. I will completely destroy them, making them an object of horror and ridicule, a perpetual ruin. <sup>10</sup> Moreover, I will silence among them the sounds of joy and gladness, the voices of bridegroom and bride, the grinding of millstones and the light of lamps. <sup>11</sup> This entire land will become a ruin, a waste; and these nations will serve the king of Bavel for seventy years. <sup>12</sup> But when the seventy years are over, I will punish the king of Bavel and that nation for their sin,’ says ADONAI, ‘and I will turn the land of the Kasdim into everlasting ruins. <sup>13</sup> I will inflict on that land all my words that I have decreed against it, everything written in this book, in which Yirmeyahu has prophesied against all the nations. <sup>14</sup> For they too will become slaves to many nations and to powerful kings; I will pay them back according to their deeds and the work of their own hands.'

<sup>15</sup> "For here is what ADONAI the God of Isra'el says to me: 'Take this cup of the wine of fury from my hand, and make all the nations where I am sending you drink it. <sup>16</sup> They will drink, stagger to and fro and behave like crazy people because of the sword that I will send among them.'"

<sup>17</sup> Then I took the cup from ADONAI's hand and made all the nations drink, where ADONAI had sent me — <sup>18</sup> Yerushalayim and the cities of Y'hudah, along with their kings and leaders, to make them a ruin and an object of horror, ridicule and cursing, as it is today; <sup>19</sup> Pharaoh king of Egypt, with his servants and leaders and all his people, both native <sup>20</sup> and foreign; all the kings of the land of 'Utz; all the kings of the land of the P'lishtim, Ashkelon, 'Azah, 'Ekron and those remaining in Ashdod; <sup>21</sup> Edom, Mo'av, and the people of 'Amon; <sup>22</sup> all the kings of Tzor, of Tzidon and of the coastlands across the sea; <sup>23</sup> D'dan, Teima, Buz and all who cut the corners of their beards; <sup>24</sup> all the kings of Arabia and of the mixed peoples living in the desert; <sup>25</sup> all the kings of Zimri, of 'Eilam and of the Medes; <sup>26</sup> and all the kings of the north, far and near, one after another — indeed, all the kingdoms of the world that there are on the surface of the earth. And the king of Sheshakh will drink last of all.

<sup>27</sup> "You are to say to them, 'Here is what ADONAI-Tzva'ot, the God of Isra'el, says: Drink until you're so drunk that you throw up, fall down, and never get up again, because of the sword I am sending among you!' <sup>28</sup> If they refuse to take the cup from your hand and drink it, then say to them, 'Here is what ADONAI-Tzva'ot says: You must drink! <sup>29</sup> For, look! — if I am bringing disaster on the city that bears my own name, do you expect to go unpunished? Yes, I will summon a sword for all the inhabitants of the earth,' says ADONAI.

'ADONAI is roaring from on high,

raising his voice from his holy dwelling,

roaring with might against his own habitation,

shouting out loud, like those who tread grapes,
against everyone living on earth.

for ADONAI is indicting the nations,
about to pass judgment on all humankind;
the wicked he has handed over to the sword,’
says ADONAI.” <sup>32</sup> Thus says ADONAI-Tzva’ot:

“Disaster is spreading from nation to nation,
a mighty tempest is being unleashed
from the farthest ends of the earth.”

<sup>33</sup> On that day, those killed by ADONAI will be strewn from one end of the earth to the other;
they will not be mourned or gathered or buried,
but will lie on the ground like dung.

Wallow in the dust, you lords of the flock!
For the days for your slaughter have come.
I will break you in pieces,
and like a prized vase you will fall.”

<sup>35</sup>       The shepherds have no way to flee,
the lords of the flock no way to escape.

the wails of the lords of the flock!
For A<sub>DONAI</sub> is destroying their pasture,

<sup>37</sup>       the peaceful grazing grounds are silenced,
because of A<sub>DONAI</sub>'s fierce anger.

<sup>38</sup>       Like a lion, he has abandoned his lair;
for their land has become desolate
because of the oppressor's fierce sword
and because of A<sub>DONAI</sub>'s fierce anger.

26 <sup>1</sup> At the beginning of the reign of Y'hoyakim the son of Yoshiyahu, king of Y'hudah, this word came from ADONAI: <sup>2</sup> “ADONAI says: ‘Stand in the courtyard of ADONAI’s house and speak to the people from all the cities in Y'hudah who come to worship at ADONAI’s house; say everything I order you to say to them, and don’t leave out a word. <sup>3</sup> Maybe they will listen, and each of them turn from his evil way; then I will be able to relent from the disaster I intend to bring on them because of how evil their deeds are. <sup>4</sup> So tell them that this is what ADONAI says: “If you will not pay attention to me and live according to my Torah, which I have given you, <sup>5</sup> and listen to what my servants the prophets, whom I send to you, say — I have sent them frequently, but you haven’t listened — <sup>6</sup> then I will make this house like Shiloh, and I will make this city an object of cursing for all the nations of the earth.””

<sup>7</sup> The cohanim, the prophets and all the people heard Yirmeyahu speaking these words in the house of ADONAI. <sup>8</sup> When Yirmeyahu had finished saying everything ADONAI had ordered him to say to all the people, the cohanim, prophets and all the people seized him, shouting, “You will die for this! <sup>9</sup> Why have you prophesied in the name of ADONAI, ‘This house will become like Shiloh,’ and, ‘This city will become uninhabited ruins’?” The people all crowded in on Yirmeyahu in ADONAI’s house.

<sup>10</sup> When the officials of Y'hudah heard about it, they came up from the king’s palace to ADONAI’s house and sat at the entrance to the New Gate of ADONAI’s house. <sup>11</sup> The cohanim and prophets said to the officials and all the people, “This man deserves a death sentence, because he has prophesied against this city; you have heard it with your own ears.” <sup>12</sup> Then Yirmeyahu said to the officials and all the people, “ADONAI sent me to prophesy against this house and against this city all the words you have heard. <sup>13</sup> Therefore now, improve your ways and your doings; and listen to the voice of ADONAI your God; then ADONAI will relent from the disaster he has decreed against you. <sup>14</sup> But as for me, here, I am in your hands; do with me whatever seems good and right to you. <sup>15</sup> Only know for certain that if you put me to death, you will bring innocent blood on yourselves, on this city and on its inhabitants; because the fact is that ADONAI sent me to you to speak all these words, so that you could hear them.”

<sup>16</sup> The officials and all the people then said to the cohanim and prophets, “This man does not deserve a death sentence, because he has spoken to us in the name of ADONAI our God.” <sup>17</sup> At this point some of the leaders of the land stood up and addressed all the people assembled: <sup>18</sup> “Back in the time of Hizkiyahu king of Y’hudah, Mikhah from Moreshet was a prophet. He told all the people of Y’hudah, ‘ADONAI-Tzva’ot says,

Yerushalayim will become heaps of ruins,

<sup>19</sup> “Did Hizkiyahu king of Y’hudah and all Y’hudah put him to death? Not at all. Rather, he feared ADONAI, and prayed for ADONAI’s favor; and ADONAI relented from the disaster he had pronounced against them. So [if we put Yirmeyahu to death,] we might bring great disaster on ourselves.”

<sup>24</sup> But in this situation concerning Yirmeyahu, Achikam the son of Shafan used his influence to help him, so that he was not handed over to the people to be put to death.

Yerushalayim, and to Tzidkiyahu king of Y'hudah. <sup>4</sup> Give them this message for their masters by telling their envoys that ADONAI-Tzva'ot, the God of Isra'el, says for them to tell their masters:

<sup>5</sup> ““I made the earth, humankind, and the animals on the earth by my great power and my outstretched arm; and I give it to whom it seems right to me. <sup>6</sup> For now, I have given over all these lands to my servant N'vukhadnetzar the king of Bavel; I have also given him the wild animals to serve him. <sup>7</sup> All the nations will serve him, his son and his grandson, until his own country gets its turn — at which time many nations and great kings will make him their slave. <sup>8</sup> The nation and kingdom that refuses to serve this N'vukhadnetzar king of Bavel, that will not put their necks under the yoke of the king of Bavel, I will punish,” says ADONAI “with sword, famine and plague, until I have put an end to them through him.

<sup>9</sup> ““You, therefore, don't listen to your prophets, diviners, dreamers, magicians or sorcerers, when they tell you that you won't be subject to the king of Bavel; <sup>10</sup>for they are prophesying lies to you that will result in your being removed far from your land, with my driving you out, so that you perish. <sup>11</sup> But the nation that puts its neck under the yoke of the king of Bavel and serves him, that nation I will allow to remain on their own soil,” says ADONAI. “They will farm it and live there.””

<sup>16</sup> I also spoke to the cohanim and to all this people; I said, “This is what ADONAI says: ‘Don't listen to the words of the prophets prophesying to you that the articles from ADONAI's house will soon be returned from Bavel; because they are prophesying lies to you. <sup>17</sup> Don't listen to them. Serve the king of Bavel, and stay alive; why should this city become a ruin?’ <sup>18</sup> But if they are in fact prophets, and if the word of ADONAI is with them, then let them now intercede with ADONAI-Tzva'ot that the articles still remaining in the house of ADONAI and in the palace of the king of Y'hudah will not go off to Bavel. <sup>19</sup> For this is what ADONAI-Tzva'ot says concerning the columns, the Sea, the bases and the rest of the articles still here in this city, <sup>20</sup> that N'vukhadnetzar, king of Bavel did not seize when he carried off captive Y'khanyahu the son of Y'hoyakim, king of Y'hudah, from Yerushalayim to Bavel, along with all the leading men of Y'hudah and Yerushalayim — <sup>21</sup> yes, this is what ADONAI Shaddai, the God of Isra'el, says about the things remaining in the house of ADONAI, in the palace of the king of Y'hudah and in Yerushalayim: <sup>22</sup> 'They will be carried to Bavel; and there they will stay until the day I remember them, bring them back and restore them to this place,' says ADONAI."

<sup>5</sup> Then the prophet Yirmeyahu said to the prophet Hananyah in front of the cohanim and all the people standing in ADONAI's house — <sup>6</sup> the prophet Yirmeyahu said, "Amen! May ADONAI do it! May ADONAI fulfill the words you have prophesied and bring back from Bavel to this place the articles from ADONAI's house and all the people who were carried away captive! <sup>7</sup> Nevertheless, listen now to this word that I am speaking for you to hear and for all the people to hear. <sup>8</sup> The prophets who were here before me and before you prophesied in times past against many countries and against great kingdoms about war, disaster and plagues. <sup>9</sup> As for a prophet who prophesies peace — when the word of that prophet is fulfilled, it will be evident concerning that prophet that ADONAI indeed did send him."

N'vukhadnetzar king of Bavel from the necks of all the nations within two years.””

The prophet Yirmeyahu left them; <sup>12</sup> but then this word of ADONAI came to Yirmeyahu, after Hananyah the prophet had broken off the crossbar from the neck of the prophet Yirmeyahu: <sup>13</sup> “Go and tell Hananyah that ADONAI says, ‘You have broken the crossbars of wood, but you will make in their place crossbars of iron. <sup>14</sup> For here is what ADONAI-Tzva’ot, the God of Isra’el, says: “I have put a yoke of iron on the necks of all these nations, so that they can serve N'vukhadnetzar king of Bavel; and they will serve him; and I have given him the wild animals too.”””

<sup>15</sup> Then the prophet Yirmeyahu said to Hananyah the prophet, “Listen here, Hananyah! ADONAI has not sent you! You are making these people trust in a lie! <sup>16</sup> Therefore, here is what ADONAI says: ‘I am about to send you away from the face of the earth — this year you will die, because you have preached rebellion against ADONAI.’” <sup>17</sup> Hananyah the prophet died that same year, in the seventh month.

welfare.’ <sup>8</sup> For this is what ADONAI-Tzva’ot, the God of Isra’el, says: ‘Don’t let your prophets who are living among you and your diviners deceive you, and don’t pay attention to the dreams you urge them to dream. <sup>9</sup> For they are prophesying falsely in my name; I have not sent them,’ says ADONAI.

<sup>10</sup> “For here is what ADONAI says: ‘After Bavel’s seventy years are over, I will remember you and fulfill my good promise to you by bringing you back to this place. <sup>11</sup> For I know what plans I have in mind for you,’ says ADONAI, ‘plans for well-being, not for bad things; so that you can have hope and a future. <sup>12</sup> When you call to me and pray to me, I will listen to you. <sup>13</sup> When you seek me, you will find me, provided you seek for me wholeheartedly; <sup>14</sup> and I will let you find me,’ says ADONAI. ‘Then I will reverse your exile. I will gather you from all the nations and places where I have driven you,’ says ADONAI, ‘and bring you back to the place from which I exiled you.’

<sup>15</sup> “You say that ADONAI has raised up prophets for you in Bavel. <sup>16</sup> But here is what ADONAI says about the king occupying David’s throne and about all the people living in this city, your kinsmen who did not go into exile with you — <sup>17</sup> thus says ADONAI-Tzva’ot: ‘I will attack them with sword, famine and plague; I will make them like bad figs, so bad they are inedible. <sup>18</sup> I will pursue them with sword, famine and plague and make them an object of horror to all the kingdoms of the earth; and they will bring on themselves cursing, astonishment, ridicule and reproach among all the nations where I have driven them; <sup>19</sup> because they have not paid attention to my words,’ says ADONAI, ‘which I sent to them through my servants the prophets. I sent them frequently, but you refused to listen,’ says ADONAI.

<sup>20</sup> “So pay attention now to the word of ADONAI, all of you in exile, whom I sent away from Yerushalayim to Bavel. <sup>21</sup> Here is what ADONAI-Tzva’ot, the God of Isra’el, says about Ach’av the son of Kolayah and Tzidkiyahu the son of Ma’aseiyah , who prophesy lies to you in my name: ‘I will hand them over to N’vukhadretzar king of Bavel, and he will put them to death before your eyes. <sup>22</sup> In fact, all those exiled from Y’hudah who are in Bavel will take up this formula for cursing: “May ADONAI make you like Tzidkiyahu and Ach’av, whom the king of Bavel roasted in the fire!” <sup>23</sup> because they have done vile things in Isra'el, committing adultery with their neighbors' wives and speaking words in my name, falsely, which I did not order them to say. For I am he who knows; I am witness to this,' says ADONAI.

<sup>25</sup> ‘This is a word from ADONAI-Tzva'ot, the God of Isra'el, because of the letters you sent in your own name to all the people in Yerushalayim, including Tz'fanyah the son of Ma'aseiyah the cohen and all the cohanim.<sup>26</sup> Your letter said, “ADONAI has made you cohen in place of Y'hoyada the cohen, in order to have officials in ADONAI's house who will arrest any crazy person who makes himself out to be a prophet, so that you can restrain him in stocks and collar.<sup>27</sup> So why haven't you rebuked Yirmeyahu of 'Anatot, who makes himself out to be a prophet for you?<sup>28</sup> He even sends word to us in Bavel saying that the exile will last a long time; so build houses and live in them, plant gardens and eat what they produce.”<sup>29</sup> Tz'fanyah the cohen read this letter to Yirmeyahu the prophet, and afterwards<sup>30</sup> the word of ADONAI came to Yirmeyahu,<sup>31</sup> instructing him to send to all those in exile this message: “Here is what ADONAI says about Sh'ma'yah the Nechelami: ‘This Sh'ma'yah has prophesied to you, even though I did not send him, and has caused you to put your trust in a lie.<sup>32</sup> Because of this,’ ADONAI says, ‘I will punish Sh'ma'yah the Nechelami and his offspring. He will not have a man to live among this people, and he will not see the good I am planning to do for my people,’ says ADONAI, ‘because he has preached rebellion against ADONAI.’””

of fear and not of peace.

<sup>6</sup> Ask now and see:

can men give birth to children?

Why, then, do I see all the men

with their hands on their stomachs like women in labor,

with every face turned pale?

<sup>7</sup> How dreadful that day will be! —

there has never been one like it:

a time of trouble for Ya‘akov,

but out of it he will be saved.

<sup>8</sup> “On that day,” says ADONAI-Tzva’ot,

“I will break his yoke from off your neck,

I will snap your chains.

Foreigners will no longer enslave him.

<sup>9</sup> Instead, they will serve ADONAI their God

and David their king, whom I will raise up for them.

<sup>10</sup> “So don’t be afraid, Ya‘akov my servant,”

says ADONAI, “or be alarmed, Isra’el;

for I will return you from far away

and your offspring from their country of exile.

Ya‘akov will again be quiet, at rest;

and no one will make him afraid.

<sup>11</sup> “For I am with you to save you,” says A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

“I will finish off all the nations

where I have scattered you.

However, you I will not finish off,

but will discipline only as you deserve;

I will not completely destroy you.”

“Your wound is past healing,

you have no medicines that can heal you.

<sup>14</sup> All your friends have forgotten you,

they no longer seek you out.

I have struck you down as an enemy would,

punished as a cruel man would,

because of your great wickedness,

I have done these things to you

because of your great wickedness,

because of your many sins.

<sup>16</sup> “But all who devour you will be devoured,

all your enemies will go into exile,

those who plunder you will be plundered,

those who pillage you will be pillaged.

<sup>17</sup> For I will restore your health,

I will heal you of your wounds,” says ADONAI,

“because they called you an outcast,

Tziyon, with no one who cares about her.”

I will take pity on his dwellings.

Cities will be rebuilt on their own tels,

with palaces where they’re supposed to be.

<sup>19</sup> From them will come thanksgiving

and the sound of people celebrating.

I will increase them; they will not be decreased;

I will honor them; they will not be despised.

<sup>20</sup> Their children will be as they used to be,

their community confirmed in my presence;

and I will punish everyone

their ruler will come from among them.

I will cause him to come close

and let him approach me;

for, otherwise, who would guarantee his heart

enough to approach me?" says A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

<sup>22</sup> "You will be my people,

and I will be your God."

bursting out in fury,

a sweeping storm, whirling down

upon the heads of the wicked!

A<sub>DONAI</sub>'s fierce anger will not abate till he accomplishes the purpose in his heart.
In the acharit-hayamim,
you will understand.

<sup>25(31:1)</sup> “When that time comes,” says A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
“I will be God of all the clans of Isra’el,
and they will be my people.”

“The people escaping the sword found favor in the desert —
I have brought Isra’el to its rest.”

“I love you with an everlasting love;
this is why in my grace I draw you to me.

<sup>3(4)</sup> Once again, I will build you; you will be rebuilt, virgin of Isra’el.

Once again, equipped with your tambourines,
you will go out and dance with the merrymakers.

and those doing the planting will have the use of its fruit.

<sup>5(6)</sup>

For a day will come when the watchmen
on Mount Efrayim will call, ‘Come, let’s go up to Tziyon,
to A<sub>DONAI</sub> our God.’”

<sup>6(7)</sup>

For here is what A<sub>DONAI</sub> says:
“Sing with joy for Ya‘akov!
shout for the chief of the nations!
Proclaim your praise, and say:
‘A<sub>DONAI</sub>! You have saved your people, the remnant of Isra’el!’

Look! I am bringing them from the land in the north, gathering them from the far ends of the earth;
among them are the blind and lame,
women with children, women in labor,
all together, a vast throng
returning here.

<sup>8(9)</sup>

They will come weeping and praying
as I bring them back.

I will lead them by streams of water
on smooth paths, so that they won't stumble.
For I am a father to Isra'el,
and Efrayim is my firstborn son."

<sup>9(10)</sup> Nations, hear the word of ADONAI!

Proclaim it in the coastlands far away. Say:
"He who scattered Isra'el is gathering him, guarding him like a shepherd his flock."

<sup>10(11)</sup> For ADONAI has ransomed Ya'akov, redeemed him from hands too strong for him.

streaming to the goodness of Adonai,
to the grain, the wine, the olive oil,
and the young of the flock and the herd.
They themselves will be like a well-watered garden,
never to languish again.

<sup>12(13)</sup> "Then the virgin will dance for joy,
young men and old men together;
for I will turn their mourning into joy,

comfort and gladden them after their sorrow.

<sup>13(14)</sup> I will give the cohanim their fill of rich food, and my people will be satisfied with my bounty,” says ADONAI.

<sup>14(15)</sup> This is what ADONAI says:

“A voice is heard in Ramah,
lamenting and bitter weeping.
It is Rachel weeping for her children,
refusing to be comforted for her children,
because they are no longer alive.”

“Stop your weeping, and dry your eyes,
for your work will be rewarded,” says ADONAI.
“They will return from the enemy’s land;

<sup>16(17)</sup> so there is hope for your future,” says ADONAI.

“Your children will return to their own territory.

<sup>17(18)</sup> “I hear Efrayim bemoaning himself:

‘You disciplined me, and I took your discipline
like a young ox not used to a yoke.

Let me return, and I will return,
for you are ADONAI, my God.

<sup>18(19)</sup> Yes, I turned away;

but later I repented.

When I had been made to understand,
I struck my thigh in shame and remorse,
bearing the weight of the disgrace acquired when I was young.'

<sup>19(20)</sup> "Isn't Efrayim my very dear son,

a child who delights me so?

I speak about him all the time,

I can't help but recall him to mind.

In sum, I deeply yearn for him;

I will surely show him favor," says ADONAI.

<sup>20(21)</sup> Set up road signs, erect guideposts,

pay attention to the highway,

the path on which you traveled.

Come back, virgin Isra'el,

come back to these cities of yours!

<sup>21(22)</sup>

How long will you hesitate,
you unruly daughter?
For ADONAI has created something new on earth:
a woman with the strengths of a man.

the God of Isra'el, says:

“This expression will be used again in the land of Y'hudah and its cities
after I have returned their exiles:

‘May ADONAI bless you,
home of justice, holy mountain!’

<sup>23(24)</sup> In it will live together

Y'hudah and all its cities,
the farmer and those who lead the flocks.

<sup>26(27)</sup> “Here, the days are coming,” says ADONAI, “when I will sow the house of Isra'el and the house of Y'hudah with the seed of humans and the seed of animals. <sup>27(28)</sup> At that time, just as I used to watch over them with the intent to uproot, break down, overthrow, destroy and do harm; so then I will watch over them to build and plant,” says ADONAI.<sup>28(29)</sup> “When those days come they will no longer say,

‘The fathers have eaten sour grapes,
and the children’s teeth are set on edge.’

every one who eats sour grapes,
his own teeth will be set on edge.

<sup>30(31)</sup> “Here, the days are coming,” says ADONAI, “when I will make a new covenant with the house of Isra’el and with the house of Y’hudah.<sup>31(32)</sup> It will not be like the covenant I made with their fathers on the day I took them by their hand and brought them out of the land of Egypt; because they, for their part, violated my covenant, even though I, for my part, was a husband to them,” says ADONAI.<sup>32(33)</sup> “For this is the covenant I will make with the house of Isra’el after those days,” says ADONAI: “I will put my Torah within them and write it on their hearts; I will be their God, and they will be my people.<sup>33(34)</sup> No longer will any of them teach his fellow community member or his brother, ‘Know ADONAI’; for all will know me, from the least of them to the greatest; because I will forgive their wickednesses and remember their sins no more.”

who gives the sun as light for the day,
who ordained the laws for the moon and stars
to provide light for the night,
who stirs up the sea until its waves roar —
ADONAI-Tzva’ot is his name:

“then the offspring of Isra’el will stop being

“If the sky above can be measured and the foundations of the earth be fathomed,
then I will reject all the offspring of Isra’el
for all that they have done,” says ADONAI.

<sup>37(38)</sup> “Look, the days are coming,” says ADONAI, “when the city will be rebuilt for ADONAI from the Tower of Hanan’el to the Corner Gate. <sup>38(39)</sup> The measuring line will be stretched straight to Garev Hill, then turn to Go’ah.
<sup>39(40)</sup> The whole valley of corpses and ashes, including all the fields as far as Vadi Kidron, and on to the corner of the Horse Gate to the east, will be separated out for ADONAI; it will never be uprooted or destroyed again.”

32 <sup>1</sup> This is the word that came to Yirmeyahu from ADONAI in the tenth year of Tzidkiyahu king of Y’udah, which was the eighteenth year of N’vukhadretzar. <sup>2</sup> At that time the army of the king of Bavel was besieging Yerushalayim; and Yirmeyahu the prophet was imprisoned in the guards’ quarters attached to the king of Y’udah’s palace, <sup>3</sup> where Tzidkiyahu king of Y’udah had imprisoned him after demanding, “How dare you prophesy that ADONAI says, ‘I will hand this city over to the king of Bavel, and he will capture it; <sup>4</sup> Tzidkiyahu king of Y’udah will not escape from the Kasdim but will certainly be handed over to the king of Bavel, who will address him face to face, with their eyes meeting; <sup>5</sup> and he will lead Tzidkiyahu to Bavel, where he will stay until I remember him,’ says ADONAI, ‘and even if you fight
the Kasdim, you will fail’?”

<sup>6</sup> Yirmeyahu said, “This word of ADONAI came to me: <sup>7</sup> ‘Hanam’el, the son of your uncle Shalum, will approach you and say, “Buy my field at ‘Anatot; you have next-of-kin’s right to redeem it; so buy it.””” <sup>8</sup> As ADONAI had said, my cousin Hanam’el came to me in the guards’ quarters and said, “Please buy my field at ‘Anatot, in the territory of Binyamin; because you will inherit it, and you have next-of-kin’s right to redeem it, so buy it for yourself.” Then I was certain that this was ADONAI’s word.

<sup>16</sup> After giving the purchase contract to Barukh son of Neriyah, I prayed to ADONAI: <sup>17</sup> “ADONAI, God! You made heaven and earth by your great power and outstretched arm; nothing is too hard for you. <sup>18</sup> You display your grace to thousands but also repay the guilt of the fathers into the lap of their children who follow them. Great, powerful God, whose name is ADONAI-Tzva’ot, <sup>19</sup> great in counsel, mighty in deed! Your eyes are open to all the ways of human beings in order to repay each one according to his ways, according to the consequences of what he does. <sup>20</sup> You gave signs and performed miracles in the land of Egypt which continue to this day, also in Isra’el and among other people; thus you made yourself the reputation you have today. <sup>21</sup> You brought your people of Isra’el out of the land of Egypt with signs and miracles, with a strong hand and an outstretched arm and with great terror. <sup>22</sup> Then you gave them this land, which you had sworn to their ancestors that you would give them, a land flowing with milk and honey. <sup>23</sup> They entered and took possession of it; but they did not pay attention to your voice, did not live according to your Torah, and did nothing of all you ordered them to do. Therefore you made this complete disaster befall them—<sup>24</sup> the siege-works are already there; they have come to the city to capture it; and the city, by means of sword, famine and plague, is being handed over to the Kasdim fighting against it. What you foretold is being fulfilled; here, you see it, yourself. <sup>25</sup> Yet you, ADONAI, God, have said to me, ‘Buy the field for money, and call witnesses; even as the city is being turned over to the Kasdim!’”

<sup>26</sup> Then this word of ADONAI came to Yirmeyahu: <sup>27</sup> “Look, I am ADONAI, the God of every living creature; is there anything too hard for me? <sup>28</sup> Therefore, here is what ADONAI says: ‘I will hand this city over to the Kasdim and to N’vukhadretzar king of Bavel; and he will capture it. <sup>29</sup> The Kasdim who are fighting against this city will enter and set this city on fire; they will burn it down, including its houses, on whose roofs they offered to Ba‘al and poured out drink offerings to other gods, in order to make me angry. <sup>30</sup> For from their youth, the people of Isra’el and the people of Y’udah have done only what is evil from my perspective; the people of Isra’el have done nothing but provoke me with what their hands make,’ says ADONAI. <sup>31</sup> ‘This city has so provoked my anger and fury from the day they built it to this day that I ought to remove it from my presence, <sup>32</sup> because of all the evil that the people of Isra’el and the people of Y’udah have done in order to make me angry — they, their kings, their leaders, their cohanim, their prophets, the men of Y’udah and the inhabitants of Yerushalayim. <sup>33</sup> They have turned their backs on me, not their faces; and although I taught them, taught them frequently, they have not listened so as to receive instruction. <sup>34</sup> Instead they put their detestable idols in the house that bears my name, to defile it; <sup>35</sup> and they built the high places for Ba‘al which are in the Ben-Hinnom Valley, to burn alive their sons and daughters to Molekh — something I did not order them to do, it never even entered my mind that they would do such an abominable thing — and thus they caused Y’udah to sin.’

covenant not to turn away from them, but to do them good; I will put fear of me in their hearts, so that they will not leave me. <sup>41</sup> I will take joy in them, so as to do them good. I will plant them in this land truly, with my whole heart and being.’ <sup>42</sup> For here is what ADONAI says: ‘Just as I have brought this complete disaster on this people, so likewise I will bring on them all the good I have promised them. <sup>43</sup> Fields will be bought in this land, even though you say about it that it is desolate, devoid of human beings or animals, and given over to the Kasdim. <sup>44</sup> Yes, people will buy fields for money, sign the purchase contracts, seal them and call witnesses, in the territory of Binyamin, in the areas around Yerushalayim, in the cities of Y’hudah, in the cities of the hill-country, in the cities of the Sh’felah and in the cities of the Negev. For I will cause their exiles to return,’ says ADONAI.”

ADONAI who formed [the universe]

so as to keep directing it —

ADONAI is his name:

<sup>3</sup> ‘Call out to me,

and I will answer you —

I will tell you great things, hidden things of which you are unaware.’”

<sup>4</sup> For here is what ADONAI the God of Isra’el says concerning the houses of this city and the palaces of the kings of Y’hudah which are about to be destroyed and used as siege-works and ramparts, <sup>5</sup> where they will come to fight the Kasdim: “These places will eventually be filled with the corpses of people whom I am striking down in my anger and fury, everyone whose wickedness has caused me to hide my face from this city. <sup>6</sup> However, I will bring it health and healing; I will heal them and reveal to them peace and truth in plenty. <sup>7</sup> I will cause the captives of Y'hudah and the captives of Isra'el to return; and I will build them up as I did at first. <sup>8</sup> I will cleanse them from all their sins, through which they offended me; and I will pardon all their sins, through which they offended and rebelled against me. <sup>9</sup> Then the name of this city will bring me joy, praise and glory before all the nations of the earth that hear about all the good I am doing for them; they will be overcome with fear and trembling at all the good and peace I am securing for it."

<sup>12</sup> ADONAI-Tzva'ot says, "In this place, which is a wasteland without people or animals, and in all its cities, there will once again be pasture-lands where shepherds can let their flocks rest. <sup>13</sup> In the cities of the hill-country, in the cities of the Sh'felah, in the cities of the Negev, in the territory of Binyamin, in the areas around Yerusha-layim and in the cities of Y'hudah flocks will again pass under the hands of the one who counts them," says ADONAI.

<sup>15</sup> When those days come, at that time,

I will cause to spring up for David a Branch of Righteousness.

He will do what is just and right in the land.

When those days come, Y'hudah will be saved,
Yerushalayim will live in safety,
and the name given to her will be

<sup>17</sup> For this is what ADONAI says: “There will never be cut off from David a man to occupy the throne of the house of Isra’el. <sup>18</sup> Nor will there ever be cut off from the cohanim who are L’vi’im a man before me to offer burnt offerings, burn grain offerings and offer sacrifices every day.”

‘If you can break my covenant with the day
and my covenant with the night,
so that daytime and nighttime no longer come
when they are supposed to,

<sup>21</sup> then my covenant with my servant David
also can be broken,
so that he will not have a descendant
to reign from his throne
or L’vi’im who are cohanim
to minister to me.

<sup>22</sup> To the degree that the armies of heaven are past counting and the sand by the sea past measuring,
I will increase the descendants of my servant David and the L’vi’im ministering to me.’”

<sup>23</sup> This word of ADONAI came to Yirmeyahu: <sup>24</sup> “Haven’t you noticed that these people are saying, ‘ADONAI has rejected the two families he chose’? Hence they despise my people and no longer look at them as a nation. <sup>25</sup> Here is what ADONAI says: ‘If I have not established my covenant with day and night and fixed the laws for sky and earth, <sup>26</sup> then I will also reject the descendants of Ya‘akov and of my servant David, not choosing from his descendants people to rule over the descendants of Avraham, Yis’chak and Ya‘akov. For

I will cause their captives to come back, and I will show them compassion.’”

34<sup>1</sup> This word came to Yirmeyahu from ADONAI when N’vukhadretzar king of Bavel, his whole army, all his vassal kingdoms and all the peoples fought against Yerushalayim and all its cities:<sup>2</sup> “ADONAI the God of Isra’el says to go and speak to Tzidkiyahu king of Y’hudah. Tell him that ADONAI says: ‘I am going to hand this city over to the king of Bavel, and he will burn it to the ground.’<sup>3</sup> You will not escape but will surely be captured and handed over to him; your eyes will see the eyes of the king of Bavel, he will speak with you face to face, and you will go to Bavel.’ “Nevertheless, Tzidkiyahu king of Y’hudah, hear the word of ADONAI. ADONAI says this about you: ‘You will not be put to the sword<sup>5</sup> but will die peacefully; and just as they burned spices for your ancestors, the earlier kings who preceded you, so they will burn spices for you and mourn you, “Oh! Master!” For I have spoken the word,’ says ADONAI”<sup>6</sup> Yirmeyahu the prophet said all these words to Tzidkiyahu king of Y’hudah in Yerushalayim<sup>7</sup> at the time when the king of Bavel’s army was fighting against Yerushalayim and against all the cities of Y’hudah that were left — that is, against Lakhish and ‘Azekah, since only these remained of the fortified cities of Y’hudah.

<sup>8</sup> This word came to Yirmeyahu from ADONAI after King Tzidkiyahu had made a covenant with all the people in Yerushalayim to emancipate them.<sup>9</sup> Everyone who had a male or female slave who was Hebrew was to let him go free; none was to keep as his slave a fellow Jew.<sup>10</sup> All the leaders and all the people listened who had entered into the covenant, wherein everyone was to free his male and female slaves and not keep them in bondage any longer. They listened, and they let them go. “But afterwards, they changed their minds; they made the male and female slaves, whom they had freed, return; and they brought them back into subjection as slaves.<sup>12</sup> Therefore this word of ADONAI came to Yirmeyahu from ADONAI:<sup>13</sup> “Here is what ADONAI the God of Isra’el says: ‘When I brought your ancestors out of the land of Egypt, where they lived as slaves, I made this covenant with them:<sup>14</sup> “At the end of seven years every one of you is to set free his brother Hebrew who has been sold to you and has served you six years. You are to let him go free from you.” But your ancestors did not listen to me or pay any attention.

you proclaimed freedom to his fellow; and you made a covenant before me in the house bearing my name. <sup>16</sup> But then you changed your minds. You profaned my name when each of you took back his male and female slaves, whom you had set free to live as they wished, and brought them back into subjection as your slaves.’ <sup>17</sup> Therefore here is what ADONAI says: ‘You did not heed me and proclaim freedom, each to his brother and each to his neighbor; so now I proclaim for you a freedom,’ says ADONAI, ‘for sword, plague and famine. I will make you an object of horror to all the kingdoms on earth. <sup>18</sup> As for the men who violated my covenant by not living up to the conditions of the covenant which they made in my presence when they cut the calf in two and passed between its parts — <sup>19</sup> the leaders of Y’hudah, the leaders of Yerushalayim, the officials, the cohanim and all the people of the land who passed between the parts of the calf; <sup>20</sup> I will hand them over to their enemies, hand them over to those who seek their lives; and their corpses will become food for birds in the air and wild animals. <sup>21</sup> Tzidkiyahu king of Y’hudah and his officials I will hand over to their enemies, to those who seek their lives and to the army of the king of Bavel, which has withdrawn. <sup>22</sup> I will give the order,’ says ADONAI, ‘and cause them to return to this city. They will attack it, capture it and burn it to the ground; and I will make the cities of Y’hudah desolate and uninhabited.’”

We have heeded the words of Yonadav the son of Rekhav, our ancestor, in all that he instructed us to do: not to drink wine as long as we live—we, our wives, our sons and our daughters; <sup>9</sup> not to build houses for ourselves to live in; and not to have vineyards, fields or seed. <sup>10</sup> We have lived in tents, and we have heeded Yonadav our ancestor and done everything he ordered us to do. <sup>11</sup> But when N’vukhadretzar king of Bavel came up to attack the land, we said, ‘Come, let’s go up to Yerushalayim,’ because we were afraid of the army of the Kasdim and the army of Aram; hence we are living in Yerushalayim.”

<sup>12</sup> Then the word of ADONAI came to Yirmeyahu: <sup>13</sup> “ADONAI-Tzva’ot the God of Isra’el says to go to the men of Y’udah and the inhabitants of Yerushalayim and say: ‘Won’t you ever learn to listen to my words?’ says ADONAI. <sup>14</sup> ‘The words of Yonadav the son of Rekhav which he ordered his offspring, not to drink wine, are obeyed; so to this day they don’t drink any; because they heed their ancestor’s order. But I have spoken to you, spoken frequently, and you have not listened to me. <sup>15</sup> I have also sent you all my servants the prophets, sent them frequently, with the message, “Every one of you should turn back now from his evil way, improve your actions and not follow other gods in order to serve them. Then you will live in the land I gave you and your ancestors. But you have not paid attention or listened to me. <sup>16</sup> Because the descendants of Yonadav the son of Rekhav have obeyed the order of their ancestor, which he ordered them; but this people has not listened to me; <sup>17</sup> therefore —” here is what ADONAI Elohei-Tzva’ot, the God of Isra’el, says: “I will inflict on Y’udah and all the inhabitants of Yerushalayim all the disaster I have decreed against them; because I have spoken to them, but they have not listened; and I have called out to them, but they have not answered.””

write on it all the words I have spoken to you against Isra'el, Y'hudah and all the other nations, from the day I started speaking to you, back in the time of Yoshiyahu, until today. <sup>3</sup> Perhaps the house of Y'hudah will listen to all the disaster I intend to bring on them, and turn back, each person from his evil way; then I will forgive their wickedness and sin."

<sup>4</sup> So Yirmeyahu summoned Barukh the son of Neriyah; and Barukh wrote down on a scroll, at Yirmeyahu's dictation, all the words that ADONAI had said to him. <sup>5</sup> Then Yirmeyahu gave this order to Barukh: "I am not allowed to enter the house of ADONAI. <sup>6</sup> Therefore, you take the scroll which you wrote at my dictation, go into the house of ADONAI on a fast-day, and read from it the words of ADONAI in the hearing of the people; also read them to all Y'hudah as they exit their cities. <sup>7</sup> Perhaps they will turn to ADONAI in prayer and will return, each one, from his evil way. For the anger and fury which ADONAI has decreed against this people is great."

<sup>8</sup> Barukh the son of Neriyah obeyed everything Yirmeyahu the prophet ordered him to do, reading the words of ADONAI from the scroll in ADONAI's house. <sup>9</sup> A fast was proclaimed in the ninth month of the fifth year of Y'hoyakim the son of Yoshiyahu, king of Y'hudah, for all the people in Yerushalayim and all the people who came from the cities of Y'hudah to Yerushalayim. <sup>10</sup> It was then that Barukh read from the scroll the words of Yirmeyahu in the house of ADONAI, in the chamber of G'maryahu the son of Shafan the secretary, in the upper courtyard, at the entry to the New Gate of ADONAI's house, for all the people to hear. <sup>11</sup> When Mikhay'hu the son of G'maryahu, the son of Shafan, had heard from the scroll all the words of ADONAI, <sup>12</sup> he went down to the king's palace, into the secretary's room. All the officials were there—Elishama the secretary, D'layahu the son of Sh'ma'yahu, Elnatan the son of 'Akhbor, G'maryah the son of Shafan, Tzidkiyahu the son of Hananyahu and all the [other] officials. <sup>13</sup> Mikhay'hu told them all the words he had heard when Barukh read the scroll in the people's hearing; <sup>14</sup> whereupon all the officials sent Y'hudi the son of N'tanyahu, the son of Shelemiyahu, the son of Kushi, to Barukh to say, "Take in your hand the scroll from which you read in the hearing of the people, and come." So Barukh the son of Neriyah took the scroll in his hand and went to them. <sup>15</sup> They said to him, "Sit down, please, and read it to us." Barukh read it to them. <sup>16</sup> After they had heard all the words, they turned in fear to each other and said to Barukh, "We will certainly tell the king about all these words." <sup>17</sup> Then they asked Barukh, "Tell us now, how did you write all these words? At his dictation?”<sup>18</sup> Barukh answered them, “He said all these words to me with his mouth, and I wrote them with ink in the scroll.”<sup>19</sup> At this, the officials said to Barukh, “Go and hide yourselves, you and Yirmeyahu; don’t let anyone know where you are.”<sup>20</sup> After depositing the scroll in the room of Elishama the secretary, they went in to the courtyard and told everything to the king.

<sup>21</sup> The king sent Y’hudi to bring the scroll, and he took it from the room of El-ishama the secretary. Y’hudi read it to the king and all the officials standing near the king.<sup>22</sup> The king was sitting in his winter house; and since it was the ninth month, he had a fire burning in the stove in front of him.<sup>23</sup> After Y’hudi had read three or four columns from the scroll, he would cut off that portion with a knife and throw it into the fire that was burning in the stove, until the entire scroll had been consumed by the fire in the stove.<sup>24</sup> But even though they heard all these words, neither the king nor any of his servants grew afraid or tore their clothes.<sup>25</sup> Elnatan, D’layahu and G’maryahu had begged the king not to burn the scroll; but he wouldn’t listen to them.<sup>26</sup> Then the king ordered Yerachme’el the king’s son, S’rayahu the son of ‘Azri’el and Shelemyahu the son of ‘Avde’el to arrest Barukh the scribe and Yirmeyahu the prophet; but ADONAI hid them.

<sup>32</sup> Then Yirmeyahu took another scroll and gave it to Barukh the scribe, the son of Neriya. At Yirmeyahu’s dictation he wrote in it all the words of the scroll which Y’hoyakim king of Y’hudah had burned up in the fire, and to those he added many similar words.

<sup>3</sup> Tzidkiyahu the king sent Y'hukhal the son of Shelemyahu and Tz'fanyahu the son of Ma'aseiyah, the cohen, to the prophet Yirmeyahu with the message, "Please pray to ADONAI our God for us." <sup>4</sup> At that time Yirmeyahu was mixing freely with the people, because they had not yet put him in prison. <sup>5</sup> At the same time Pharaoh's army marched out of Egypt; and when the Kasdim besieging Yerushalayim heard about them, they lifted the siege from Yerushalayim.

<sup>6</sup> Then this word of ADONAI came to the prophet Yirmeyahu: <sup>7</sup> "ADONAI the God of Isra'el says to tell the king of Y'udah, who sent you to me to consult me: 'Pharaoh's army has marched out to assist you; but they will return to Egypt, to their own country. <sup>8</sup> The Kasdim will return, attack this city, capture it and burn it to the ground.' <sup>9</sup> Here is what ADONAI says: 'Don't deceive yourselves by thinking that the Kasdim must withdraw from you, because they will not withdraw. <sup>10</sup> Even if you were to strike the entire army of the Kasdim fighting against you, to the degree that only their wounded were left, they would still rise up every man from his tent and burn this city to the ground.'"

is,” Yirmeyahu said. “You will be handed over to the king of Bavel.” <sup>18</sup> Yirmeyahu asked King Tzidkiyahu, “In what way have I sinned against you or against your officials or against this people, that has caused you to put me in prison? <sup>19</sup> Where are your prophets now, the ones who prophesied to you that the king of Bavel wouldn’t attack you or this land? <sup>20</sup> So now, please listen, my lord king! I beg you, approve my request — don’t make me return to the house of Y’honatan the secretary, or I will die there.” <sup>21</sup> At that, Tzidkiyahu the king gave the order, at which they committed Yirmeyahu to the guards’ quarters and gave him daily a loaf of bread from the Bakers’ Street, until all the bread in the city had been used up. Thus Yirmeyahu remained in the guards’ quarters.

38 <sup>1</sup> But Sh’fatyah the son of Mattan, G’dalyahu the son of Pash’chur, Yukhal the son of Shelemyahu and Pash’chur the son of Malkiyah heard these words which Yirmeyahu had said to all the people, <sup>2</sup> “Here is what ADONAI says: whoever remains in this city will die by sword, famine and plague; but whoever leaves and surrenders to the Kasdim will stay alive; his own life will be his only ‘spoils of war,’ but he will stay alive. <sup>3</sup> ADONAI says that this city will certainly be handed over to the army of the king of Bavel, and he will capture it.” <sup>4</sup> The leaders said to the king, “Please let this man be put to death; because by speaking such words to the soldiers left in this city and to all the people, he is demoralizing them. This man is seeking not to benefit this people, but to harm them.” <sup>5</sup> Tzidkiyahu the king said, “All right, he is in your hands; for the king can’t prevent you from doing as you please.”

bring Yirmeyahu the prophet up out of the cistern before he dies.” <sup>11</sup> So ‘Eved-Melekh took the men with him and entered a storeroom under the treasury in the king’s palace, from which he took some old clothes and rags. These he let down with ropes to Yirmeyahu in the cistern. <sup>12</sup> ‘Eved-Melekh the Ethiopian then said to Yirmeyahu, “Use these old clothes and rags as padding between your armpits and the ropes.” After Yirmeyahu had done this, <sup>13</sup> they pulled Yirmeyahu up with the ropes and took him out of the cistern. Yirmeyahu remained in the guards’ quarters.

<sup>14</sup> Tzidkiyahu summoned and had Yirmeyahu brought to him through the third entry in the house of ADONAI. Then the king said to Yirmeyahu, “I want to ask you something; don’t hide anything from me.” <sup>15</sup> Yirmeyahu said to Tzidkiyahu, “If I do say it to you, won’t you have me put to death? And if I give you counsel, you won’t listen to me.” <sup>16</sup> So Tzidkiyahu swore secretly to Yirmeyahu, “As ADONAI lives, who gave us our lives, I will not put you to death; nor will I hand you over to these men who want you put to death.”

<sup>17</sup> Then Yirmeyahu said to Tzidkiyahu, “Here is what ADONAI-Tzva’ot, the God of Isra’el, says: ‘If you will go out and surrender to the king of Bavel’s officers, then you will stay alive — this city will not be burned down; and you and your family will live. <sup>18</sup> But if you will not go out to the king of Bavel’s officers, then this city will be handed over to the Kasdim; they will burn it to the ground; and you will not escape from them.’” <sup>19</sup> Tzidkiyahu the king said to Yirmeyahu, “I am afraid of the Judeans who deserted to the Kasdim. The Kasdim might hand me over to them, and they would mistreat me.” <sup>20</sup> Yirmeyahu answered, “They won’t hand you over. I beg you, listen to the voice of ADONAI concerning what I’m telling you about; then it will go well with you, and you will live. <sup>21</sup> But if you refuse to surrender, then this is the word ADONAI has shown me: <sup>22</sup> all the women remaining in the king of Y’hudah’s palace will be brought out to the king of Bavel’s officers, and those women will taunt you:

‘Your own close friends misled you and took advantage of you.

Now that your feet are stuck in the mud,

they have abandoned you.’

<sup>24</sup> Tzidkiyahu said to Yirmeyahu, “Don’t tell anyone what you just said, or you will die. <sup>25</sup> If the officials hear that I have talked with you, and they come to you and say, ‘Tell us now what you said to the king; don’t hide it from us, or we will put you to death, and also what the king said to you,’ <sup>26</sup> then tell them, ‘I presented my request to the king that he would not make me return to Y’honatan’s house, to die there.’” <sup>27</sup> All the officials did come to Yirmeyahu and asked him, and he told them everything the king had ordered him to say. So they stopped speaking with him, since the matter had not been reported.

39 <sup>1</sup> In the ninth year of Tzidkiyahu king of Y’udah, in the tenth month, N’vukhadretzar king of Bavel marched against Yerushalayim with his entire army and began to lay siege against it. <sup>2</sup> On the ninth day of the fourth month of the eleventh year of Tzidkiyahu, they broke through into the city. <sup>3</sup> All the officers of the king of Bavel entered and sat at the Middle Gate — Nergal-Sar’etzer, Samgar-N’vo, Sars’khim the Rav-Saris, Nergal-Sar’etzer the Rav-Mag and all the other officers of the king of Bavel. <sup>4</sup> When Tzidkiyahu the king of Y’udah and all the soldiers saw them, they fled, leaving the city by night through the king’s garden, exiting from the gate between the two walls, and continuing out by the route through the ‘Aravah. <sup>5</sup> But the army of the Kasdim went in pursuit of them and overtook Tzidkiyahu on the plains near Yericho. Upon capturing him, they brought him up to N’vukhadretzar king of Bavel at Rivlah, in the land of Hamat, where he passed judgment on him. <sup>6</sup> The king of Bavel slaughtered the sons of Tzidkiyahu before his eyes in Rivlah; the king of Bavel also slaughtered all the leading men of Y’udah. <sup>7</sup> Then he put out Tzidkiyahu’s eyes and bound him in chains to be carried off to Bavel. <sup>8</sup> The Kasdim burned down the royal palace and the people’s houses, and they broke down the walls of Yerushalayim. <sup>9</sup> N’vuzar’adan commander of the guard then deported to Bavel the remaining population of the city, the deserters who had defected to him, and the rest of the people remaining. <sup>10</sup> But N’vuzar’adan the commander of the guard left behind in the territory of Y'hudah some of the poor people, those who had nothing, and at the same time gave them vineyards and fields.

<sup>15</sup> This word of ADONAI came to Yirmeyahu while he was imprisoned in the guards' quarters: <sup>16</sup> "Go and tell 'Eved-Melekh the Ethiopian that ADONAI-Tzva'ot, the God of Isra'el, says: "'I am about to fulfill my words about this city for disaster, not for good; when the day arrives, they will come true before your eyes. <sup>17</sup> But at that time I will rescue you," says ADONAI, "and I will not hand you over to the men you fear. <sup>18</sup> Yes, I will keep you safe; you will not fall by the sword, but you will escape with your life, because you have put your trust in me," says ADONAI.'"

40 <sup>1</sup> This word came to Yirmeyahu from ADONAI after N'vuzar'adan the commander of the guard had let him leave Ramah, after having taken him, bound in chains, with all the captives from Yerushalayim and Y'hudah that had been carried off to Bavel. <sup>2</sup> The commander of the guard took Yirmeyahu and said to him, "ADONAI your God decreed this disaster for this place, <sup>3</sup> and ADONAI has brought it about; he has done what he said he would do, because you people sinned against ADONAI and did not listen to what he said; that is why this has come upon you. <sup>4</sup> Now, today, I am freeing you from the chains on your hand. If it seems good to you to come with me to Bavel, come; and I will look after you well. But if it seems not good to you to come with me to Bavel, then don't—the entire land is in front of you: wherever it seems good and right for you to go, go there." <sup>5</sup> Before Yirmeyahu could answer, [N'vuzar'adan said,] "Go back then to G'dalyahu the son of Achikam, the son of Shafan, whom the king of Bavel has made governor over the cities of Y'hudah, and live with him among the people; or go wherever it seems right for you to go." The commander of the guard gave him provisions and a gift, and dismissed him. <sup>6</sup> Yirmeyahu then went to G'dalyahu the son of Achikam in Mitzpah and lived with him among the people who were left in the land.

Kareach and the military commanders with him then took all the rest of the people he had freed from Yishma'el the son of N'tanyahu, those Yishma'el had taken from Mitzpah after assassinating G'dalyahu the son of Achikam — the heroes, the soldiers, the women, the children and the officers he had brought back from Giv'on — <sup>17</sup> and they left there to stay at Kimham's Lodge, near Beit-Lechem, intending to go on to Egypt <sup>18</sup> and thus escape the Kasdim. They were afraid of them, because Yishma'el the son of N'tanyahu had murdered G'dalyahu the son of Achikam, whom the king of Bavel had appointed governor of the land.

42 <sup>1</sup> Then all the military commanders, Yochanan the son of Kareach, Y'zanyah the son of Hosha'yah and all the people, from the least to the greatest, approached <sup>2</sup> and said to Yirmeyahu the prophet, "I beg you, approve our request: pray for us to ADONAI your God for all of this remnant. For, while once we were numerous, only a few of us are left, as you can see. <sup>3</sup> Pray that ADONAI your God will tell us what direction to take and what to do."

<sup>4</sup> Yirmeyahu the prophet said to them: "I hear you. All right, I will pray to ADONAI your God, as you have asked. And whatever ADONAI answers you, I will tell you; I will withhold nothing from you." <sup>5</sup> They said to Yirmeyahu, "May ADONAI be a true and faithful witness against us if we fail to do any part of what ADONAI your God gives you to tell us. <sup>6</sup> Whether it be good or bad, we will listen to what ADONAI our God says. We are dispatching you to him so that things will go well with us, as we heed what ADONAI our God says."

<sup>7</sup> Ten days later the word of ADONAI came to Yirmeyahu. <sup>8</sup> So he called Yochanan the son of Kareach, all the military commanders with him and all the people, from the least to the greatest, <sup>9</sup> and said to them, "You sent me to present your request to ADONAI the God of Isra'el. This is what he says: <sup>10</sup> 'If you will stay in this land, then I will build you up, not pull you down; I will plant you and not uproot you; for I am relenting from the calamity I inflicted on you. <sup>11</sup> Don't be afraid of the king of Bavel — of whom you are afraid. Don't be afraid of him,' says ADONAI, 'for I am with you to save you and to rescue you from his power. <sup>12</sup> I will take pity on you, so that he will take pity on you and cause you to return to your own land.

<sup>13</sup> “But if you say, ‘We will not stay in this land,’ thereby not heeding what ADONAI your God is saying, <sup>14</sup> and instead say, ‘No, we will go to the land of Egypt; because there we will not see war or hear the shofar sounding its alarm or be short of food; so we’ll stay there’; <sup>15</sup> then hear what ADONAI says, remnant of Y’hudah — this is what ADONAI-Tzva’ot, the God of Isra’el, says: ‘If you are determined to go to Egypt and stay there, <sup>16</sup> the sword, of which you are afraid, will overtake you there in the land of Egypt; and the famine, of which you are afraid, will pursue you relentlessly there in Egypt; and there you will die. <sup>17</sup> This is how it will be for all the people determined to go to Egypt and stay there — they will die by sword, famine and plague; none of them will remain or escape the disaster that I will bring upon them.’ <sup>18</sup> For here is what ADONAI-Tzva’ot, the God of Isra’el, says: ‘Just as my anger and fury were poured out on the inhabitants of Yerushalayim, so likewise my fury will be poured out on you if you go to Egypt; so that you will become an object of condemnation, astonishment, cursing and reproach; and you will see this place no more.’

<sup>19</sup> “ADONAI has spoken concerning you, remnant of Y’hudah! Don’t go to Egypt! You know for a fact that I have given you fair warning today. <sup>20</sup> For you have been behaving deceitfully, against your own interests. You sent me to ADONAI your God, saying, ‘Pray for us to ADONAI our God; tell us everything ADONAI our God says, and we will do it.’ <sup>21</sup> Today I have told it to you, but you haven’t heeded any part of what ADONAI your God gave me to tell you. <sup>22</sup> Therefore, know for a fact that you will die by sword, famine and plague in the place where you want to go and live.”

all the remnant of Y'hudah who had returned from all the nations where they had been driven to live in the land of Y'hudah — <sup>6</sup> the men, the women, the children, the king's daughters, everyone N'vuzar'adan the commander of the guard had committed to G'dalyahu the son of Achikam, the son of Shafan, and Yirmeyahu the prophet and Barukh the son of Neriya — <sup>7</sup> and went to the land of Egypt; for they did not heed what ADONAI had said; and they arrived in Tachpanches.

<sup>8</sup> Then this word of ADONAI came to Yirmeyahu in Tachpanches: <sup>9</sup> “With the men of Y'hudah watching, take some big stones, and set them with mortar in the pavement at the entry to Pharaoh's palace in Tachpanches. <sup>10</sup> Tell them: ‘This is what ADONAI-Tzva'ot, the God of Isra'el, says: “I will summon N'vukhadretzar the king of Bavel, my servant, take him and set his throne on these stones I laid here; he will come and spread his royal canopy over them. <sup>11</sup> He will come and attack the land of Egypt.

Those destined for death — to death!

Those destined for captivity — to captivity!

Those destined for the sword — to the sword!

<sup>12</sup> I will light a fire in the temples of the gods of Egypt, and he will burn [those gods] or take them captive. He will fold up the land of Egypt like a shepherd folding up his cloak, and leave there victorious. <sup>13</sup> He will also break the standing-stones of the temple of the sun in the land of Egypt and burn to the ground the temples of the gods of Egypt.””

44 <sup>1</sup> This word came to Yirmeyahu concerning all the people from Y'hudah living in the land of Egypt — in Migdol, Tachpanches, Nof and the land of Patros: <sup>2</sup> “Here is what ADONAI-Tzva'ot, the God of Isra'el, says: ‘You have seen all the disaster I inflicted on Yerushalayim and all the cities of Y'hudah; there they are today, ruined, with no one living in them. <sup>3</sup> It came about because of the wicked things they did to make me angry — sacrificing to and serving other gods, whom they did not know, neither they, nor you nor your ancestors. <sup>4</sup> I had sent you all my servants the prophets, sent them frequently, with the message, “Don't do this horrible thing which

I hate!” <sup>5</sup> But they neither listened nor obeyed, so as to turn from their wickedness and stop offering to other gods. <sup>6</sup> Hence my fury and anger were poured out and ignited in the cities of Y’hudah and the streets of Yerushalayim; so that they became waste and desolate, as they are today.’

<sup>7</sup> “Therefore now, ADONAI-Tzva’ot, the God of Isra’el, says this: ‘Why are you committing this great sin against yourselves? The result can only be to cut you off from Y’hudah — men, women, children and babies — so that none of you remain. <sup>8</sup> For you continue provoking me with the products of your own hands, offering to other gods in the land of Egypt, where you have gone to live as aliens. It will lead only to your destruction and becoming an object of curses and reproaches among all the nations of the earth. <sup>9</sup> Have you forgotten the wicked deeds of your ancestors, the wicked deeds of the kings of Y’hudah, the wicked deeds of their wives, your own wicked deeds, and the wicked deeds of your wives, which they committed in the land of Y’hudah and in the streets of Yerushalayim? <sup>10</sup> To this day they remain unhumbled; they have not been afraid, and they have not lived according to my Torah or my regulations that I presented to you and your ancestors.’

<sup>11</sup> “Therefore here is what ADONAI-Tzva’ot, the God of Isra’el, says: ‘I will decree disaster for you and destroy all of Y’hudah. <sup>12</sup> I will take the remnant of Y’hudah, who determined to go to Egypt and live there as aliens, and they will all perish — in the land of Egypt they will fall and perish by sword and famine. They will die, from the least to the greatest, by sword and famine; and they will become an object of condemnation, astonishment, cursing and reproach. <sup>13</sup> Yes, I will punish those living in the land of Egypt, as I punished Yerushalayim, by sword, famine and plague; <sup>14</sup> so that none of the remnant of Y’hudah who went into the land of Egypt to live as aliens will escape or remain, to be able to return to the land of Y’hudah. They long to return and live there, but none will return except a few refugees.’”

For then we had plenty of food; everything was fine, we didn't experience anything unpleasant.<sup>18</sup> But since we stopped offering to the queen of heaven and pouring out drink offerings to her, we have lacked everything, and we have been destroyed by sword and famine.”<sup>19</sup> [Then the wives added,] “Are we the ones who offer incense to the queen of heaven? Do we pour out drink offerings to her? And did we make cakes marked with her image for her and pour out drink offerings to her without our husbands' consent?”

<sup>20</sup> Then Yirmeyahu said to all the people — to the men, the women, and all the people who had answered him back: <sup>21</sup> “The incense you offered in the cities of Y'hudah and in the streets of Yerushalayim — you, your ancestors, your kings, your leaders and the people of the land — ADONAI kept remembering and taking note of this [insult], <sup>22</sup> until ADONAI could no longer bear it, so evil and so detestable were your deeds. This is why your land has become a wasteland, an object for astonishment and cursing, uninhabited, as it is today. <sup>23</sup> It is because you offered incense, sinned against ADONAI, didn't listen to what ADONAI said, and didn't live by his Torah, regulations and instructions that this disaster has befallen you, as it is today.”

<sup>24</sup> In addition, Yirmeyahu said to all the people, but especially the women: “Hear the word of ADONAI, all Y'hudah who are in the land of Egypt; <sup>25</sup> this is what ADONAI-Tzva'ot, the God of Isra'el, says: ‘You and your wives stated your intentions with your mouths and performed them with your hands — you said, “We will certainly fulfill our vows that we made to offer incense to the queen of heaven and pour out drink offerings to her.”’ Without doubt, you will indeed fulfill every point of your vows. <sup>26</sup> Therefore hear the word of ADONAI, all Y'hudah living in the land of Egypt: ‘I swear by my own great name,’ says ADONAI, ‘that no man of Y'hudah will speak my name again in the land of Egypt, swearing, “As ADONAI, God, lives.”’ <sup>27</sup> I am watching over them for harm, not for good. All the men of Y'hudah in the land of Egypt will be destroyed by sword and famine, until none of them is left. <sup>28</sup> Those who escape the sword will return from the land of Egypt to the land of Y'hudah few in number; and all the remnant of Y'hudah who went into the land of Egypt to live will know whose word will stand — mine or theirs! <sup>29</sup> Moreover, here is a sign for you,’ says ADONAI, ‘that I will punish you in this place, so that you can know that my threats of disaster against you will come true.’ <sup>30</sup> ADONAI says, ‘I will hand over Pharaoh Hofra king of Egypt to his enemies, to those seeking his life — just as I handed Tzidkiyahu king of Y'hudah over to N'vukhadretzar king of Bavel, his enemy, who sought his life.'”

45 <sup>1</sup> Here is what Yirmeyahu said to Barukh the son of Neriya when he wrote these words in a book at Yirmeyahu's dictation, in the fourth year of Y'hoyakim the son of Yoshiyahu, king of Y'hudah: <sup>2</sup> “This is what Adonai the God of Isra'el says concerning you, Barukh. You said,

ADONAI has compounded my pain with sorrow,

I am weary from groaning,

and I can find no relief!’

<sup>4</sup> “Tell him that ADONAI says:

‘I will tear down what I built up,

I will uproot what I planted,

and this throughout the land.

<sup>5</sup> Are you seeking great things for yourself? Don't! For I am bringing disaster on everything living,' says ADONAI. 'But wherever you go, you will escape with your life.'"

Polish the spears! Coats of mail on!

their heroes routed, fleeing headlong,

not looking back, terror all around?"

In the north, by the Euphrates River,

they have stumbled and fallen."

like rivers whose waters surge out in flood?

It is Egypt, rising up like the Nile,
like rivers whose waters surge out in flood,
saying, “I will surge out and cover the earth,
destroying the city along with its people.”

Let the warriors attack! —

Kush and Put, bearing their shields, and the Ludim, strung bows in hand.

<sup>10</sup> For on that day Adonai ELOHEI-Tzva’ot

will have a day of vengeance

for avenging himself on his enemies.

The sword will destroy, have its fill,

be made drunk on their blood.

Yes, Adonai ELOHEI-Tzva’ot

decrees slaughter in the land to the north by the Euphrates River.

virgin daughter of Egypt.

You try many medicines, all in vain;

for you there is no cure.

your shrieks fill the earth

as warrior trips over warrior,

both falling down together.

<sup>13</sup> This word ADONAI spoke to Yirmeyahu the prophet concerning how N'vukhadretzar king of Bavel would come and attack the land of Egypt:

announce in Nof and Tachpanches;

say: ‘Take your stand! Get ready!

For all around you the sword is destroying.

<sup>15</sup> Why has your strong one been overthrown?

He failed to stand because ADONAI pushed him down.

yes, they fell all over each other.’”

Then they said, “Let’s get up,

let’s return to our own people,

back to the land where we were born,

away from the sword that destroys.”

They cried there, “Pharaoh king of Egypt makes noise, but he lets the right time [for action] slip by.”

whose name is ADONAI-Tzva’ot, “when he comes, he will be [as mighty]
as Tavor among the mountains,
as Karmel next to the sea.

<sup>19</sup> “Daughter living in Egypt, prepare what you need for exile;
for Nof will become a ruin,
laid waste, without inhabitant.

but a horsefly from the north has come to attack her.

were like well-fed calves in a stable;
but they too have withdrawn in retreat,
they all ran away without standing their ground.
For their day of disaster has come over them,
the time for them to be punished.

as the enemy's army marches ahead,
attacking her with their axes
like lumbermen chopping trees.

"for they cannot be numbered;
yes, there are more of them than locusts,
far too many to count.

handed over to the people from the north."

don't be distressed, Isra'el.
For I will save you from faraway places,
and your offspring from the lands where they are held captive.
Ya'akov will return and be at peace,
quiet, with no one to make him afraid.

Don't be afraid, Ya'akov my servant,"

says ADONAI, "for I am with you.

I will finish off all the nations

where I have scattered you.

However, you I will not finish off,

I will discipline you as you deserve,

but not completely destroy you."

'Water is rising out of the north;

it will become a flooding stream,

flooding the land and all that is in it,

the city and its inhabitants.

The people are crying out in alarm,

everyone in the land is weeping

at the thunderous pounding of his stallions' hoofs,

at his rattling chariots' rumbling wheels.

Fathers fail to turn back for their children;

instead, their hands hang limp,

because the day has come for destroying all the P'lishtim, for cutting off from Tzor and Tzidon

the last of their allies;
for ADONAI is destroying the P'lishtim,
the remnant from the island of Kaftor.

Ashkelon reduced to silence.
Those of you who remain in their valley,
how long will you go on gashing yourselves?'"

how long till you can be quiet?
Put yourself back in your scabbard!
Stop! Be still!

<sup>7</sup> But how can you be still?
For ADONAI has given it orders against Ashkelon, against the seacoast;
he has assigned it its task there.

48 <sup>1</sup> Concerning Mo'av, this is what ADONAI-Tzva'ot, the God of Isra'el, says:

“Woe to N’vo, for it is ravaged;
Kiryatayim disgraced and captured.
Misgav is put to shame, distressed.

At Heshbon they plotted her downfall:
‘Come, we’ll cut her off as a nation.’
You too, Madmein, will be silenced;
the sword pursues behind you.

ruin, terrible devastation!

<sup>4</sup> Mo’av has been shattered;
the cries of her young ones are heard,

<sup>5</sup> as they ascend the slopes of Luchit,
weeping bitterly as they climb.

On the road down to Horonayim

Be strong, like a tamarisk in the desert.

<sup>7</sup> Because you trust in your deeds and your wealth,

you too will be captured.

Together with his priests and princes,

K'mosh will go into exile.

<sup>8</sup> A destroyer will descend on every city,

no city will escape.

The valley too will perish,

the plain will be laid waste,

as A<sub>DONAI</sub> has said.

<sup>9</sup> Give Mo'av wings,

so it can fly and get away.

Its cities will become ruins,

with no one to live in them.

<sup>10</sup> A curse on him who does the work of A<sub>DONAI</sub> carelessly!

A curse on him who withholds his sword

from blood!

he is [wine] settled on its dregs,

not decanted from jar to jar —

he has not gone into exile.

Therefore it retains its own [bad] taste,

its aroma remains unchanged.

<sup>12</sup> “So the days are coming,” says ADONAI, “when I will send people to tilt him; they will tilt his jars, emptying them and shattering the wine-flasks to pieces. <sup>13</sup> Mo’av will be disappointed by K’mosh then, just as the house of Isra’el was disappointed by Beit-El, a god in whom they had put their trust.

warriors valiant in battle’?

its best young men go down to be slaughtered,”

<sup>17</sup> Pity him, all of you who are near him,

all of you who know his name;

say, “How the mighty scepter is shattered,

that splendid staff!”

<sup>18</sup> Descend from your glory, and sit in thirst, daughter living in Divon;

for Mo'av's destroyer advances on you;
he has destroyed your strongholds.

<sup>19</sup> Stand by the road and watch,
inhabitant of 'Aro'er;
ask the man fleeing and the woman escaping,
"What is going on?"

Wail aloud! Shriek!
Proclaim it by the Arnon
that Mo'av has been laid waste.

K'riot, Botzrah and all the cities in the land of Mo'av, far and near.

<sup>25</sup> "Mo'av's strength is cut down,
his arm is broken," says ADONAI.

<sup>26</sup> Because Mo'av boasted against ADONAI, make him so drunk that he wallows in his own vomit and becomes a laughingstock. <sup>27</sup> After all, Isra'el was a laughingstock for you. He didn't associate with thieves; nevertheless, whenever you spoke of him, you shook your head.

<sup>28</sup> You who live in Mo'av,
leave the cities, and live on the rocks;

be like the dove who makes her nest
in a hole in the rock at the mouth of a cave.

<sup>29</sup> We have heard of the pride of Mo'av:
so very proud he is! — presumptuous, proud, conceited;
so haughty his heart!

<sup>30</sup> “I know what meager ground he has for his arrogance,” says ADONAI.
“His boasting has nothing behind it,
and it hasn't accomplished a thing.”

for all Mo'av I cry;
for the people of Kir-Heres I lament.

<sup>32</sup> I will weep for you, vineyard of Sivmah, more than I wept for Ya'zer.
Your branches spread to the sea,
reaching as far as the sea of Ya'zer.
On your summer fruits and on your vintage
the destroyer has fallen.

Gladness and joy have been removed from productive fields and the land of Mo'av.
“I have stopped the flow of wine from the vats and the shouts of those who tread the grapes —
those shouts of joy are stilled.”

The cries from Heshbon to El'aleh are heard as far away as Yachatz;
those from Tzo'ar to Horonayim
are heard in 'Eglat-Shlishiyah;
for even the waters of Nimrim
have become a desolate waste.

“Moreover,” says A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
“in Mo'av I will put an end to anyone sacrificing on a high place or offering incense to his gods.”

This is why my heart is moaning
for Mo'av like funeral flutes,
why my heart moans for the men of Kir-Heres like funeral flutes;

for the wealth they produced has vanished.

<sup>37</sup> Every head has been shaved bald, every beard has been clipped short,
gashes are on every hand,
sackcloth around every waist.

<sup>38</sup> On all the housetops of Mo'av
and in its open places —
lamentation everywhere!

“For I have broken Mo'av like a pot that nobody wants,” says ADONAI.

How shamefully in retreat!”
Thus will Mo'av become an object of ridicule and distress to all its neighbors.

<sup>40</sup> For here is what ADONAI says:
“Look! Down he swoops like a vulture, spreading his wings against Mo'av —

On that day the hearts of Mo'av's warriors

will be like the heart of a woman in labor.

<sup>42</sup> Mo'av will be destroyed as a people,

because he boasted against ADONAI.

<sup>43</sup> Terror, pit and trap are upon you,

people of Mo'av," says ADONAI.

will fall into the pit;

and he who climbs up out of the pit

will be caught in the trap.

For I will bring on her, on Mo'av,

the year for her punishment," says ADONAI.

the fugitives stop, exhausted.

For fire breaks out from Heshbon,

a flame from inside Sichon,

consuming the sides and tops of the heads of Mo'av's noisy boasters.

K'mosh's people are doomed!

For your sons have been taken captive,
and your daughters led into captivity.

<sup>47</sup>

Yet I will end Mo'av's exile
in the acharit-hayamim," says ADONAI.

This is the judgment on Mo'av.

49 <sup>1</sup> Concerning the people of 'Amon, here is what ADONAI says:

"Has Isra'el no sons?

Has he no heir?

Then why has Malkam inherited Gad,
with his people settled in its cities?

<sup>2</sup>

Therefore," says ADONAI, "the days are coming when I will sound the battle alarm against Rabbah and the people of 'Amon;
it will become a tel of ruins,
her villages burned to the ground.

Then Isra'el will inherit from them who disinherited him," says ADONAI.

<sup>3</sup>

"Wail, Heshbon, for 'Ai is doomed!
Cry out, daughters of Rabbah!

Wear sackcloth and mourn,
running here and there among the sheep pens.
For Malkam will go into exile,
together with his priests and officers.

<sup>4</sup> Why do you take such pride in the valleys,
your well-watered valleys, rebellious daughter?
You trusted in your riches
and thought, ‘Who can attack me?’

<sup>5</sup> I am bringing terror on you,”
says Adonai ELOHEI-Tzva’ot, “from every side.
Each of you will be driven out headlong,
with no one to gather the fugitives.

<sup>6</sup> But afterwards, I will bring back
the exiles of ‘Amon,” says ADONAI.

“Is there no wisdom left in Teman?
Have her wise men forgotten how to counsel?
Has their wisdom vanished?

<sup>8</sup> Flee! Turn back! Hide yourselves well,

you who live in D'dan;
for I am bringing calamity on 'Esav,
when the time for me to punish him comes.

<sup>9</sup> If grape-pickers came to you,
they would leave no grapes for gleaning.
If thieves came at night,
they would destroy until they were satisfied.

<sup>10</sup> So I, for my part, have stripped 'Esav bare,
I have exposed his hiding-places;
he will not be able to hide himself.
He is doomed — sons, brothers and neighbors —
so that he is no more.

<sup>11</sup> Leave your orphans; I will keep them alive;
let your widows trust in me.”

<sup>12</sup> For this is what ADONAI says: “Those who do not deserve to drink from this cup will have to drink it anyway, so should you go unpunished? No, you will not go unpunished; you will certainly drink it. <sup>13</sup> For I have sworn by myself,” says ADONAI, “that Botzrah will become a ruin and an object of astonishment, reproach and cursing; all its cities will be ruins forever.”

<sup>14</sup> I have heard a message from ADONAI:

‘Gather together, and march against her!

Prepare for battle!’

<sup>15</sup> Here! I will make you least among nations,
the most despised of people.

<sup>16</sup> Your capacity to terrorize
has deceived you and made you arrogant.
You make your home in the rocky crags
and seize the top of the mountain;
but even if you build your nest high as an eagle’s, from there I will drag you down,” says A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

<sup>17</sup> Edom will become an object of horror;
everyone passing by will whistle
in astonishment at all its disasters.

<sup>18</sup> It will be like the overthrow of S’dom, ‘Amora and their neighboring towns,” says A<sub>DONAI</sub>.
“No one will settle there any more,
no human being will live there again.

<sup>19</sup> It will be like a lion coming up from the thickets
of the Yarden against a strong settlement:

in an instant I will chase him away
and appoint over it whomever I choose.
For who is like me? Who can call me to account?
What shepherd can stand up to me?”

So hear the plan of A<sub>DONAI</sub>
that he has devised against Edom,
and his purpose that he will accomplish against those who live in Teman:
the least of the flock will drag them away;
their own pasture will be in shock at them.

The earth quakes at the sound of their fall;
their cry can be heard at the Sea of Suf.

<sup>22</sup>

Like a vulture he will soar, swoop down and spread out his wings against Botzrah.
On that day the hearts of Edom’s warriors
will be like the heart of a woman in labor.

“Hamat and Arpad are confused;
having heard bad news, they dissolve in fear,

like the churning sea, which cannot calm itself.

trembling has seized her;

anguish and pain take hold of her

like the pains of a woman in labor.

<sup>25</sup> How can a city so praised be deserted,

a city that gave me such joy?

and all her warriors be silenced on that day,”

says ADONAI-Tzva’ot.

<sup>27</sup> “I will light a fire inside Dammeseek’s walls which will consume the palaces of Ben-Hadad.”

<sup>28</sup> Concerning Kedar and the kingdoms of Hatzor, which N’vukhadretzar king of Bavel struck, ADONAI says:

“Set out! March against Kedar!

Plunder the people of the east!

<sup>29</sup> They will seize their tents and their flocks,

their tent curtains and all their equipment;

their camels too they will take for themselves and shout at them, ‘Terror in every direction!’

Flee! Leave your homes! Hide yourselves well, you who live in Hatzor,” says A<sub>DONAI</sub>;
“for N’vukhadretzar king of Bavel has devised a plan against you;
he has formed a scheme against you.

31

Get up! March on a nation at ease, that lives secure,” says A<sub>DONAI</sub>.
“They have neither gates nor bars;
they live in isolation.

Their camels will be booty,
their many cattle a spoil.
I will scatter to the winds
those who shave the sides of their heads;
From every direction I will bring their disaster on them,” says A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

“Hatzor will be a place for jackals to live,
desolate forever;
no one will settle there any more,
no human being will live there again.”

“ADONAI-Tzva’ot says:

‘I will break ‘Eilam’s bow,
the mainstay of their might.

<sup>36</sup> I will bring against ‘Eilam the four winds from the four quarters of the sky
and scatter them to all those winds.
There will not be one nation to which the dispersed of ‘Eilam will not come.

before those who seek their lives;
I will bring disaster on them,
my burning anger,’ says ADONAI.
‘I will send the sword to pursue them until I have finished them off.

<sup>38</sup> I will put my throne in ‘Eilam
and destroy their king and leaders,’ says ADONAI.

I will bring back the exiles of ‘Eilam,’ says ADONAI”

Hoist a banner, proclaim it, don’t hide it!

Say: ‘Bavel is captured.

Bel is shamed, M’rodakh disgraced,

her images shamed, her idols disgraced.’

that will desolate her land.

No one will live there —

both humans and animals have fled and gone.

“the people of Isra’el will come, together with the people of Y’hudah.

They will weep as they go their way,

seeking A<sub>DONAI</sub> their God.

<sup>5</sup> They will ask the way to Tziyon;

and, turning their faces toward it, will say,

‘Come, join yourselves to A<sub>DONAI</sub>

by an everlasting covenant never to be forgotten.’

<sup>6</sup> My people have been lost sheep.

My shepherds made them go astray,
turning them loose in the mountains.

As they wandered from mountain to hill,
they lost track of where their home is.

<sup>7</sup> Everyone finding them ate them up.

Their enemies said, 'We aren't guilty;
for they sinned against A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
the resting place of justice;
yes, against A<sub>DONAI</sub>, their ancestors' hope.'

Be like male goats leading the flock;

<sup>9</sup> for I will stir up and bring against Bavel

an alliance of great nations from the country to the north.

They will array themselves against her;

from there she will be captured.

Their arrows are like those of a death-dealing warrior;

none will return in vain.

<sup>10</sup> The land of the Kasdim will be plundered;

all who plunder it will get enough,” says A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

<sup>11</sup> “Because you are glad, because you exult,
you plunderers of my heritage;
because you frisk like a calf in the grass
and neigh like stallions;

<sup>12</sup> your mother will be utterly shamed,
she who bore you will be disgraced.
Here she is! — last among the nations,
a desert, parched and barren.

no one will live there any more;
all of it will be desolate.
Everyone passing Bavel will whistle
in shock at all her plagues.

all you whose bows are strung;
shoot at her, spare no arrows;
because she sinned against A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

Now she surrenders!

Her buttresses fall, her walls are thrown down,

for this is the vengeance of ADONAI.

Avenge yourself on her!

As she has done, do to her!

and the reaper with sickle at harvest-time.

For fear of the destroying sword everyone returns to his own people,

each one flees to his own land.

driven away by lions.

First to devour him was Ashur’s king;

and the last to break his bones

the God of Isra’el, says:

“I will punish the king of Bavel and his land

as I punished the king of Ashur.

I will bring Isra'el back to his pasture,
to graze on the Karmel and the Bashan,
on the hills of Efrayim and in Gil'ad
until he has his fill.

"Isra'el's guilt will be sought,
but there will be none,
and Y'hudah's sins,
but they won't be found;
for I will pardon the remnant I leave.

attack it and those living in P'kod.
Waste them, utterly destroy them;
do all I have ordered you," says A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

<sup>22</sup> "The sound of battle is heard in the land,
with great destruction!

<sup>23</sup> How the hammer of the whole earth lies hacked apart and shattered!
What an object of horror among the nations

Bavel has become!

<sup>24</sup> I set a trap and caught you,

Bavel, before you knew it.

You were discovered and seized,

because you challenged ADONAI.

<sup>25</sup> ADONAI has opened his store of arms

and brought out the weapons of his wrath;

for Adonai ELOHEI-Tzva'ot has work to do in the land of the Kasdim.

Open her stores of grain!

Pile her up like heaps of grain;

destroy her completely; leave nothing!

let them go down to be slaughtered!

Woe to them! for their day has come,

<sup>28</sup> Hear the sound of the fugitives,

of those escaping from Bavel,

coming to proclaim in Tziyon
the vengeance of ADONAI our God,
vengeance over his temple.

all whose bows are strung.
Besiege her from every side,
let no one escape.
Repay her for her deeds;
as she has done, do to her.
For she insulted ADONAI,
the Holy One of Isra’el.

<sup>30</sup> This is why her young men will fall
in her open places,
why all her warriors will be silenced
on that day,” says ADONAI.

<sup>31</sup> “I am against you, arrogant [nation],”
says Adonai ELOHEI-Tzva’ot.
“For your day has come,
the time for you to be punished.

The arrogant [nation] will stumble and fall,
and no one will lift him up again.
I will set his cities on fire,
and it will devour everything around him.”

“The people of Isra’el are oppressed,
and so are the people of Y’hudah.
Those who took them captive hold them fast;
they refuse to let them go.

A<sub>DONAI</sub>-Tzva’ot is his name.

He will thoroughly plead their cause,
so that he can give rest to the land
but unrest to those who live in Bavel.

<sup>35</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub> says,

“A sword hangs over the Kasdim,
and over those who live in Bavel,
over her leaders and over her sages.

they will become fools.

A sword hangs over her warriors;

they will be disgraced.

<sup>37</sup>

A sword hangs over their horses,

also over their chariots,

also over the foreigners within her;

they will become like women.

A sword hangs over her treasures;

they will be robbed.

<sup>38</sup>

A drought hangs over her waters;

they will be dried up.

For this is a land of idols;

they go mad over these horrors of theirs.

<sup>39</sup>

“Therefore wildcats and jackals will live there,

and ostriches will settle there.

It will never again be peopled,

it will be uninhabited age after age;

<sup>40</sup>

as when God overthrew S’dom,

‘Amora and their neighboring towns,’ says ADONAI.

“No one will settle there any more,
no human being will live there again.

a great nation and many kings
are being stirred up from the ends of the earth.

<sup>42</sup> They are armed with bow and spear;
they are cruel, without compassion;
their sound is like the roaring sea,
as they ride forth on horses.
Their men take their battle positions against you, daughter of Bavel.

<sup>43</sup> The king of Bavel has heard news of them;
his hands droop, helpless.
Anguish seizes hold of him
and pain, like a woman in labor.

<sup>44</sup> “It will be like a lion coming up from the thickets
of the Yarden against a strong settlement;
in an instant I will chase him away
and appoint over it whomever I choose.

For who is like me? Who can call me to account?

So hear the plan of A<sub>DONAI</sub>

that he has devised against Bavel,

and his goals that he will accomplish against the land of the Kasdim:

the least of the flock will drag them away;

their own pasture will be in shock at them.

<sup>46</sup>

At the sound of Bavel’s capture the earth quakes;

their cry is heard throughout the nations.

51 <sup>1</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub> says this:

“Against Bavel and those living in Lev-Kamai

I will stir up a destructive wind.

<sup>2</sup>

Against Bavel I will send foreigners

to winnow her and leave her land empty.

They will besiege her from every side

on the day of disaster.

<sup>3</sup>

Let the archer draw his bow,

let him flaunt his coat of mail;

do not spare her young men,
completely destroy her whole army.

<sup>4</sup> In the land of the Kasdim the slain will fall,
those thrust through [by the sword] in her streets.

of their God, A<sub>DONAI</sub>-Tzva'ot;
but the land of [the Kasdim] is full of guilt

Don't perish because of her guilt.
For the time has come for the vengeance of A<sub>DONAI</sub>;
he will repay her what she deserves.

<sup>7</sup> Bavel was a gold cup in the hands of A<sub>DONAI</sub>;
it made the whole earth drunk —
the nations drank her wine;
this is why the nations have lost their senses.

<sup>8</sup> Bavel has suddenly fallen.
She is broken; wail for her.
Bring healing ointment for her wounds;

perhaps she can be healed.

<sup>9</sup> “We tried to heal Bavel,

but she cannot be healed.

So leave her alone, and each of us

will return to his own country.”

For the judgment against her rises to the skies

and reaches even the clouds.

<sup>10</sup> ADONAI has brought forth our victory.

Come, let us proclaim in Tziyon

the work of ADONAI our God!

ADONAI roused the spirit of the kings of the Medes,

because he plans to destroy Bavel.

This is the vengeance of ADONAI

vengeance over his temple.

Strengthen the guard! Post the sentries!

Prepare ambushes! For ADONAI

has both planned and accomplished

what he promised to do to those living in Bavel.

<sup>13</sup>       You who live near plenty of water,
so rich in treasure — your end has come,
your time for being cut off!

<sup>14</sup>       ADONAI-Tzva 'ot has sworn by himself, “I will fill you with men as numerous as grasshoppers;
they will raise over you a shout of triumph.”

<sup>15</sup>       He made the earth by his power, established the world by his wisdom spread out the sky by his understanding.

he raises clouds from the ends of the earth,
he makes the lightning flash in the rain
and brings the wind out from his storehouses.

<sup>17</sup>       At this, everyone is proved stupid, ignorant,
every goldsmith put to shame by his idol!
The figures he casts are a fraud,
there is no breath in them,

<sup>18</sup>       they are nothings, ridiculous objects;

when the day for their punishment comes, they will perish.

for he is the one who formed all things,
including the tribe he claims as his heritage.

A<sub>DONAI</sub>-Tzva’ot is his name.

<sup>20</sup> “[Bavel] you are my war club and weapons of war —
with you I shatter nations;
with you I destroy kingdoms;

<sup>21</sup> with you I shatter horses and their riders;
with you I shatter chariots and their drivers;

<sup>22</sup> with you I shatter husbands and wives;
with you I shatter old and young;
with you I shatter young men and virgins;

<sup>23</sup> with you I shatter shepherds and their flocks;
with you I shatter farmers and their teams;
with you I shatter governors and deputies.

<sup>24</sup> “But I will repay Bavel and all living in the land of the Kasdim for all the evil
they did in Tziyon,” says A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

“I am against you, destructive mountain,
destroying all the earth,” says A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

“I will stretch out my hand against you,
to send you tumbling down from the crags
and make you a burned-out mountain.

No one will make cornerstones
or foundation-stones from you again;
but you will be desolate
forever,” says A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

Raise up a banner in the land,
blow the shofar among the nations.
Prepare the nations for war against her.
Summon kingdoms against her — Ararat, Minni and Ashkenaz.
Appoint an officer against her;
bring up horses like bristling grasshoppers.

Prepare the nations against her,
the kings of the Medes, his governors and deputies,

and all the land he controls.

<sup>29</sup>

The earth quakes and writhes, as A<sub>DONAI</sub>'s designs against Bavel are fulfilled,
to make the land of Bavel a ruin,
with no one living there.

<sup>30</sup>

Bavel's warriors have given up fighting;
they remain in their fortresses;
their courage has failed; they are now like women.
Her homes are on fire, her gate-bars broken.

One runner runs to meet another,
messenger to meet messenger,
to report to the king of Bavel
that every part of his city is taken,

<sup>32</sup>

the fords have been occupied,
and the swamp thickets set on fire,
while the warriors are seized with panic.

<sup>33</sup>

For here is what A<sub>DONAI</sub>-Tzva'ot,
the God of Isra'el, says:
"The daughter of Bavel is like a threshing-floor at treading-time.

Just a little while longer,

and the time for harvesting her will come.”

has devoured me, crushed me.

He left me like an empty pot.

Like a monster, he swallowed me whole.

With my delicacies he stuffed his belly;

then he rinsed me out.

<sup>35</sup> But one who lives in Tziyon will say,

“May my torn flesh be avenged on Bavel”;

and Yerushalayim will say,

“I will plead your cause.

I will take vengeance for you.

I will dry up her river

and make her water sources dry.

<sup>37</sup> Bavel will become a heap of ruins,

a place for jackals to live,
an object of horror and hissing,
with no one living there.

growl like lion cubs.

<sup>39</sup> When they are hot with desire,
I will prepare them a drink.
I will make them so drunk
they will have convulsions,
sleep forever and never wake up,”
says A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

<sup>40</sup> “I will drag them down like lambs to be slaughtered, like rams and male goats.”

the pride of the whole earth seized!
Bavel has become an object of horror
throughout the nations!

<sup>42</sup> The sea has flooded Bavel,
overwhelmed her with its raging waves.

<sup>43</sup> Her cities have become desolate —
parched, arid land,
a land where no one lives;
nobody even passes through.

<sup>44</sup> “I will punish Bel in Bavel
and make him disgorge what he swallowed.
The nations will no longer flow to him.
Bavel’s wall will fall.

<sup>45</sup> Get out of her, my people!
Each one, save yourself
from A<sub>DONAI</sub>’s furious anger!

<sup>46</sup> Don’t be fainthearted, don’t be afraid of the rumors spreading abroad in the land.
One year one rumor comes,
the next year another one,
rumors of violence in the land
and rulers fighting rulers.

<sup>47</sup> Therefore, listen! The days are coming when I will pass judgment on Bavel’s idols.

Her whole land will be put to shame,
as all her slain fall on home soil.

<sup>48</sup> Then heaven and earth and all that is in them will sing for joy over Bavel;
for the plunderers from the north
are coming to her,” says ADONAI.

<sup>49</sup> Just as Bavel caused the slain of Isra’el to fall,
so at Bavel will fall
the slain of all the land.

<sup>50</sup> You who escaped the sword, go! Don’t stand still!
Remember ADONAI from afar,
let Yerushalayim come into your minds.

<sup>51</sup> “The reproaches we have heard have put us to shame, disgrace covers our faces;
because foreigners have entered the sanctuaries of ADONAI’s house.”

<sup>52</sup> “Therefore,” says ADONAI, “the days are coming when I will pass judgment on her idols,

and the wounded will groan throughout her land.

<sup>53</sup> Even if Bavel scales the heavens
or reinforces her lofty stronghold, plunderers will come to her from me,” says A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

Great destruction in the land of the Kasdim!

<sup>55</sup> For A<sub>DONAI</sub> is plundering Bavel
and silencing her noisy din —
their waves roar like the raging ocean,
their clamor sounds and resounds.

<sup>56</sup> Yes, the plunderer has fallen upon her, fallen on Bavel.
Her warriors are captured, their bows are broken.
For A<sub>DONAI</sub> is a God of retribution;
he will surely repay.

<sup>57</sup> “I will intoxicate her leaders and sages,
her governors, deputies and warriors.

They will sleep forever and never wake up,”
says the king, whose name is A<sub>DONAI</sub>-Tzva’ot.

“The wide walls of Bavel will be razed to the ground,
her lofty gates will be set on fire.

The peoples are toiling for nothing,
the nation’s labor goes up in flames,
and everyone is exhausted.”

<sup>59</sup> This is the order which Yirmeyahu the prophet gave to S’rayah the son of Neriyah, the son of Machseyah, when he went to Bavel with Tzidkiyahu the king of Y’hudah in the fourth year of his reign. S’rayah was quartermaster.

<sup>60</sup> Yirmeyahu had written on a separate scroll all the above words describing the disaster that was to befall Bavel. <sup>61</sup> Yirmeyahu said to S’rayah, “See to it that when you arrive in Bavel you read all these words aloud. Then say, <sup>62</sup> ‘A<sub>DONAI</sub>, you have promised to destroy this place, that no one will live here, neither human nor animal, but that it will be desolate forever.’ <sup>63</sup> When you finish reading this scroll, tie a rock to it, throw it into the middle of the Euphrates, <sup>64</sup> and say, ‘Like this, Bavel will sink, never to rise again, because of the disaster I am bringing on her; and they will grow weary.’”

Tzidkiyahu rebelled against the king of Bavel; <sup>4</sup> so in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, on the tenth day of the month, N'vukhadretzar king of Bavel marched against Yerushalayim with his entire army. He set up camp against it and built siege towers against it on every side. <sup>5</sup> The city remained under siege into the eleventh year of King Tzidkiyahu.

<sup>6</sup> On the ninth day of the fourth month, when the famine in the city was so severe that there was no food for the people of the land, <sup>7</sup> they broke through into the city. All the soldiers fled and left the city by night through the gate between the two walls, near the king's garden. Because the Kasdim were surrounding the city, they took the route through the 'Aravah. <sup>8</sup> But the army of the Kasdim went in pursuit of the king and overtook Tzidkiyahu on the plains near Yericho; all his troops deserted him. <sup>9</sup> Then they took the king and brought him up to the king of Bavel in Rivlah, in the land of Hamat, where he passed judgment on him. <sup>10</sup> The king of Bavel slaughtered his sons before his eyes; he also slaughtered all the leading men of Y'hudah in Rivlah. <sup>11</sup> Then the king of Bavel put out Tzidkiyahu's eyes, bound him in chains, carried him off to Bavel and kept him in prison until the day of his death.

<sup>17</sup> The Kasdim smashed the bronze columns of the house of ADONAI, also the trolleys and bronze Sea that were in the house of ADONAI, and carried their bronze to Bavel. <sup>18</sup> They also took away the pots, shovels, snuffers, basins, pans, and all the bronze articles they had used in worship. <sup>19</sup> The commander of the guard took the cups, censers, sprinkling bowls, pots, menorahs, pans and bowls — everything made of gold and everything made of silver. <sup>20</sup> The bronze in the two columns, the one Sea, and the twelve bronze bulls under the bases, all of which Shlomo had made for the house of ADONAI, was more than could be weighed. <sup>21</sup> As for the columns, the height of one column was thirty-one-and-a-half feet; it took a twenty-one-foot measuring line to go around it; and its thickness was four fingers — it was hollow. <sup>22</sup> On it was a capital of brass eight-and-three quarters feet high, with netting and pomegranates all around the capital, all of bronze; the second column was similar, also with pomegranates. <sup>23</sup> There were ninety-six pomegranates on the outside; while the total number of pomegranates in the netting was one hundred.

<sup>31</sup> In the thirty-seventh year of the captivity of Y'hoyakhin king of Y'hudah, in the twelfth month, on the twenty-fifth day of the month, Eveel-M'rodakh began his reign as king of Bavel; and in his first year, he commuted the sentence of Y'hoyakhin king of Y'hudah and released him from prison. <sup>32</sup> He treated him with kindness and gave him a throne higher than those of the other kings there with him in Bavel. <sup>33</sup> So Y'hoyakhin no longer had to wear prison clothes; moreover, he was provided with food as long as he lived, <sup>34</sup> and he was granted a daily allowance by the king of Bavel to spend on his other needs for as long as he lived, until the day of his death.

EZEKIEL

<sup>4</sup> I looked and saw a windy storm approaching from the north and a huge cloud with flashing fire, glowing brightly all around with the color of gleaming amber from within the fire. <sup>5</sup> Inside, there appeared to be four living creatures that looked like human beings; <sup>6</sup> but each one had four faces and four wings. <sup>7</sup> Their legs were straight, with feet like calves' hoofs. They glittered like burnished bronze. <sup>8</sup> Beneath their wings they had human hands on their four sides. The four of them had faces and wings as follows: <sup>9</sup> they touched one another with their wings; they did not turn when they moved, but each one moved straight forward; <sup>10</sup> as for the appearance of their faces, they had human faces [in front], each of the four had a lion's face on the right, each of the four had a bull's face on the left, and each of the four had an eagle's face [toward the rear] — <sup>11</sup> thus their faces. As for their wings, each had two that stretched upward and joined those of others, and two more that covered their bodies. <sup>12</sup> Each [living creature] moved in the direction of any of its faces; in whichever direction the spirit wanted to go, they went, without turning as they moved — <sup>13</sup> thus the appearance of the living creatures.

With them was something that looked like fiery coals burning the way torches do, with the fire flashing here and there between the living creatures; the fire had a brilliance, and out of the fire went lightning. <sup>14</sup> The living creatures kept speeding here and there like flashes of lightning.

and fearsome, because the rims of all four were full of eyes all around.<sup>19</sup> When the living creatures moved, the wheels moved along with them; and when the creatures were lifted off the ground, the wheels went with them.<sup>20</sup> Wherever the spirit was to go, they went, in the direction the spirit wanted to go. The wheels were lifted up next to them, because the spirit of the living creatures was in the wheels.<sup>21</sup> When [the living creatures] moved, [the wheels] moved; when the former stood still, the latter stood still; and when the former were lifted off the ground, the wheels were lifted up next to them; because the spirit of the living creatures was in the wheels.

2<sup>1</sup> He said to me, “Human being! Stand up! I want to speak with you!”<sup>2</sup> As he spoke to me, a spirit entered me and put me on my feet, and I heard him who was speaking to me.<sup>3</sup> He said, “Human being! I am sending you to the people of Isra’el, that nation of rebels who have rebelled against me — they and their ancestors have been transgressing against me to this very day.<sup>4</sup> Because they are defiant, hardhearted children, I am sending you; and you are to tell them, ‘Here is what Adonai ELOHIM says.’<sup>5</sup> Whether they listen or not, this rebellious house will still know that a prophet has been among them!

<sup>6</sup> “As for you, human being, don’t be afraid of them or their words, even if briars and thorns surround you, and you sit among scorpions. Don’t be afraid of their words or be upset by their looks, for they are a rebellious house. <sup>7</sup> You are to speak my words to them, whether they listen or not, for they are very rebellious. <sup>8</sup> But you, human being, hear what I am telling you: don’t you be rebellious like that rebellious house. Open your mouth, and eat what I am about to give you.”

<sup>9</sup> When I looked, there was a hand stretched out to me, holding a scroll. <sup>10</sup> He spread it out in front of me, and it was covered with writing front and back. Written on it were laments, dirges and woes.

3<sup>1</sup> He said to me, “Human being, eat what you see in front of you; eat this scroll. Then go and speak to the house of Isra’el.” <sup>2</sup> So I opened my mouth, and he gave me the scroll to eat, <sup>3</sup> as he said, “Human being, eat this scroll I am giving you; fill your insides with it.” When I ate it, it tasted as sweet as honey.

<sup>4</sup> “Human being,” he said to me, “go to the house of Isra’el, and speak my words to them. <sup>5</sup> For you are not being sent to a people with a difficult language and unintelligible speech, but to the house of Isra’el — <sup>6</sup> not to many peoples with difficult languages and unintelligible speech, whose words you can’t understand when you hear them. Without doubt, if I sent you to them, they would listen to you. <sup>7</sup> But the house of Isra’el will not be willing to listen to you, because they aren’t willing to listen to me; since all the house of Isra’el are obstinate and hardhearted. <sup>8</sup> However, I am making you as defiant and obstinate as they are. <sup>9</sup> Yes, I am making your resoluteness harder than flint, as hard as a diamond. So don’t be afraid of them or depressed by how they look at you, because they are a rebellious house.”

<sup>10</sup> Then he said to me, “Human being, receive in your heart and hear with your ears all my words that I speak to you. <sup>11</sup> Then go to the exiles, to your countrymen; and speak to them. Tell them, ‘Here is what Adonai ELOHIM, says,’ whether they listen or not.”

took me away. I went in bitterness and the heat of my spirit, with the hand of ADONAI strong on me.

<sup>15</sup> I went to the exiles who were living in Tel-Aviv, by the K'var River and stayed with them there in a stupefied state for seven days. <sup>16</sup> After seven days the word of ADONAI came to me: <sup>17</sup> "Human being, I have appointed you to be a watchman for the house of Isra'el. When you hear a word from my mouth, you are to warn them for me. <sup>18</sup> If I say to a wicked person, 'You will certainly die'; and you fail to warn him, to speak and warn the wicked person to leave his wicked way and save his life; then that wicked person will die guilty; and I will hold you responsible for his death. <sup>19</sup> On the other hand, if you warn the wicked person, and he doesn't turn from his wickedness or his wicked way, then he will still die guilty; but you will have saved your own life. <sup>20</sup> Similarly, when a righteous person turns away from his righteousness and commits wickedness, I will place a stumbling block before him — he will die; because you failed to warn him, he will die in his sin; his righteous acts which he did will not be remembered; and I will hold you responsible for his death. <sup>21</sup> But if you warn the righteous person that a righteous person should not sin, and he doesn't sin; then he will certainly live, because he took the warning; and you too will have saved your life."

<sup>22</sup> The hand of ADONAI came on me there, and he said to me, "Get up, go out to the valley, and I will speak with you there." <sup>23</sup> So I got up and went out to the valley. The glory of ADONAI was there, like the glory I had seen by the K'var River; and I fell on my face. <sup>24</sup> A spirit entered me and put me on my feet. Then he spoke with me and said to me, "Go, shut yourself inside your house. <sup>25</sup> Human being, you are going to be bound with ropes, unable to go out among the people. <sup>26</sup> I will make your tongue stick to the roof of your mouth, so that you will be mute, unable to reprove them; for they are a rebellious house. <sup>27</sup> But when I speak with you, I will open your mouth; and you will say to them, 'This is what Adonai ELOHIM says.' Whoever is inclined to listen will listen, and whoever is inclined to refuse will refuse, because they are a rebellious house.

surround it with battering rams. <sup>3</sup> Then take an iron griddle and put it in place as a wall of iron between yourself and the city, and fix your gaze on it — the city is under siege, and you are the one besieging it. This will be a sign for the house of Isra'el.

<sup>16</sup> He then said to me, “Human being, I am going to cut off the supply of bread in Yerushalayim, so that they will anxiously weigh out bread to eat, and, horrified, ration water to drink. <sup>17</sup> Finally, due to lack of bread and water, they will stare at each other in shock, wasting away because of their guilt.”

5<sup>1</sup> “Now you, human being, take a sharp sword; and use it like a barber's razor to shave your head and beard. Then weigh the hair on a balance-scale, and divide it up. <sup>2</sup> A third of it you are to burn in the city when the days of the siege are over. Take another third, and hit it with your sword all around the city. Scatter the last third to the wind, and I will pursue them with drawn sword. <sup>3</sup> Also take a few hairs and tie them up in the folds of your garment. <sup>4</sup> Again, of these take some; throw them in the fire, and burn them up; from there a fire will come out against the entire house of Isra'el.

‘This is Yerushalayim!

I have placed her in the middle of the nations;

countries can be found all around her.

<sup>6</sup> But she has rebelled against my rulings

and committed wickedness more than the nations,

against my laws more than the countries around her;

because they have rejected my rulings

and not lived according to my laws.’

<sup>7</sup> “Therefore here is what Adonai ELOHIM, says: ‘Because you have outdone the nations around you by not living according to my laws or following my rulings or even following the rules of the nations around you,’ <sup>8</sup> therefore here is what Adonai ELOHIM, says: ‘I too am against you, yes, I; and I will execute judgments among you while all the nations look on. <sup>9</sup> Moreover, because of all your disgusting practices, I will do things to you that I have never done before; and I will never do such things again. <sup>10</sup> Parents among you will eat their children, and children will eat their parents! I will execute judgments among you and scatter to all the winds those of you who remain.

a third will fall by the sword all around [Yerushalayim]; and a third I will scatter to all the winds and pursue with the sword.’<sup>13</sup> In this way my anger will spend itself, my fury against them will die down, and I will be satisfied. Then, when I have spent my fury on them, they will know that I, ADONAI, have spoken out of my zeal.<sup>14</sup> ‘I will make you a ruin and an object of reproach among the nations around you, in the sight of all passing by.<sup>15</sup> When I execute judgments and furious punishments among you in anger and fury, [Yerushalayim] will be an object of reproach, derision and horror, and a lesson to warn the nations around you. I, ADONAI, have announced it.<sup>16</sup> I will send upon them the deadly, destructive arrows of famine, which I will send to destroy you. I will make the famine worse for you by cutting off your food supply.<sup>17</sup> Yes, I will send famine and savage beasts upon you to leave you without children; plague and bloodshed will sweep through you; and I will bring the sword upon you. I, ADONAI, have spoken it.’”

<sup>8</sup> ““Nevertheless, I will leave a remnant, some who will escape the sword among the nations, when you have been scattered throughout the countries.<sup>9</sup> Those of you who escape will remember me among the nations where they have been exiled. How broken I have been over their whoring hearts that left me, and over their eyes that went whoring after their idols! They are going to loathe themselves for all the evils they committed in their disgusting practices.<sup>10</sup> Then they will know that I am ADONAI; it isn’t for nothing that I said I would bring this calamity upon them.””

<sup>11</sup> “Here is what Adonai ELOHIM says: ‘Strike with your hand, and stamp with your foot, and bemoan all the terrible disgusting practices of the house of Isra’el. For they will fall by sword, famine and plague. <sup>12</sup> Those far away will die from the plague, those nearby will fall by the sword, and whoever stays and is besieged will die from famine. This is how I will spend my fury on them. <sup>13</sup> You will know that I am ADONAI when their slain men are lying among their idols around their altars on every high hill, on every mountaintop, under every green tree, under every thick pistachio tree, wherever they offered sweet-smelling sacrifices to appease their idols. <sup>14</sup> I will stretch out my hand over them and make the land wherever they live into a desolate waste worse than the Divlah Desert. Then they will know that I am ADONAI.’”

‘The end! The end is coming to the four corners of the land!

<sup>3</sup> Now the end is upon you!

I will send my anger upon you,

I will judge you according to your ways.

I will bring on you all your disgusting practices.

<sup>4</sup> My eye will not spare you, I will have no pity,

but I will bring your ways upon you,

and your disgusting practices will be done among you.

Then you will know that I am ADONAI.’

It rouses itself against you — here it comes!

<sup>7</sup> Doom has come to you,

you who live in the land!

The time has come, the day is near,

for tumult, not joyful shouts on the mountains.

<sup>8</sup> Now, soon, I will pour out my fury on you,

I will spend my anger on you;

I will judge you according to your ways

I will bring on you all your disgusting practices.

but will bring upon you what your ways deserve;

and your disgusting practices will be among you.

Then you will know it is I, A<sub>DONAI</sub>, striking you.

Doom has gone out, the rod has blossomed,

arrogance has budded. <sup>11</sup> Violence has grown into a rod of wickedness.

Nothing is left of them,
nothing of their crowds,
nothing of their wealth —
there is nothing of importance in them.

<sup>12</sup>       The time has come, the day has arrived;
let neither buyer rejoice nor seller regret;
for wrath is coming to all her many people.

<sup>13</sup>       For the seller will not return to what he sold,
even if he is still alive;
for though the vision was brought to all her many people,
nobody repented.
Each kept living his own wicked life;
they weren't strong enough [to repent].

<sup>14</sup>       The shofar has sounded, everything is ready,
but no one goes out to the battle,
for my wrath is coming to all her many people.

Those in the country will die by the sword.
And as for those in the city,

plague and famine will eat them up.

<sup>16</sup> But if any of them manage to escape,

they will head for the mountains

like doves from the valleys,

all of them moaning, each for his sin.

horror will cover them;

every face will be ashamed,

every head shaved bald.

<sup>19</sup> They will throw their silver into the streets;

their gold will be like something unclean.

On the day of A<sub>DONAI</sub>'s wrath their silver and gold won't be able to rescue them.

These things won't satisfy their hunger,

these things won't fill their stomachs,

because these are what caused them to sin.

in which they took such pride,

they made their abominable idols

and their other detestable things;
therefore, for them I have caused it to be like something unclean.

<sup>21</sup> I will hand it over to foreigners as booty,
to the wicked of the earth as spoil,
and they will profane it.

<sup>22</sup> I will turn my face away from them;
then [Babel] will profane my secret place,
robbers will enter and profane it.

for the land is full of capital crimes
and the city full of violence.

<sup>24</sup> Therefore I will bring the worst of the nations to take possession of their homes;
I will end the arrogance of the strong;
and their holy places will be profaned.

<sup>25</sup> When horror comes, they will seek peace;

<sup>26</sup> Calamity will follow calamity,

rumor will follow rumor;
they will seek a vision from the prophet,
but Torah will perish from the cohen
and advice from the leaders.

<sup>27</sup> The king will go into mourning,
the prince will be clothed with fright,
and the hands of the people of the land
will tremble in terror.

I will treat them as their way of life deserves
and judge them as they have judged others.
Then they will know
that I am ADONAI.’’

8 <sup>1</sup> On the fifth day of the sixth month of the sixth year, as I was sitting in my house, and the leaders of Y’hudah were sitting there with me, the hand of Adonai ELOHIM fell on me. <sup>2</sup> I looked and saw what seemed like a man made of fire. From what appeared to be his waist downward was fire, and from his waist upward was what appeared to be a gleaming amber-colored brilliance. <sup>3</sup> The form of a hand was put out, which took me by a lock of my hair; and a spirit lifted me up between earth and heaven and brought me, in these visions from God, to Yerushalayim, to the entrance of the inner [courtyard] gate that faces north. There stood the idol that [arouses God’s] jealousy and provokes [his] zealous indignation. <sup>4</sup> There before me was the glory of the God of Isra’el, as in the vision I had seen in the valley.

<sup>5</sup> Then he said to me, “Human being, raise your eyes toward the north.” I raised my eyes toward the north and saw, north of the Altar Gate, this image that [arouses God’s] jealousy in the entryway. <sup>6</sup> He asked me,

“Human being, do you see what they are doing, the horribly disgusting practices that the house of Isra’el is committing here, so that I must distance myself from my own sanctuary? But you will see even worse abominations.”

<sup>7</sup> He brought me to the entrance of the courtyard; and when I looked, I saw a hole in the wall. <sup>8</sup> He said to me, “Human being, dig into the wall.” After digging in the wall, I saw a door. <sup>9</sup> “Go in,” he said, “and see the wicked practices they are engaged in here.” <sup>10</sup> So I went in and looked, and there, carved on the walls all around, were every kind of reptile and repulsive animal, along with all the idols of the house of Isra’el. <sup>11</sup> Standing in front of them were seventy of the leading men of the house of Isra’el — in the center stood Ya’azanyahu the son of Shafan. Each man had his incense-burner in his hand, and a thick cloud of incense went up. <sup>12</sup> Then he said to me, “Human being, did you see what the leaders of the house of Isra’el are doing in the dark, each one in the room of his own carved image, because they say, ‘ADONAI can’t see us; ADONAI has left the land.’?” <sup>13</sup> He also said to me, “You will see even worse abominations that they are doing.”

9 Then he cried loudly right in my ears: “Summon the commanders of the city, each holding his weapon of destruction.” <sup>2</sup> At once, six men approached on the path from the upper gate, to the north, each man holding his weapon of destruction. Among them was a man clothed in linen, with a scribe's writing equipment at his waist. They entered and stood by the bronze altar. <sup>3</sup> Then the glory of the God of Isra'el was made to go up from over the keruv, where it had been, to the threshold of the house. He called to the man clothed in linen, who had the scribe's writing equipment at his waist. <sup>4</sup> ADONAI said to him, "Go throughout the city, through all Yerushalayim, and put a mark on the foreheads of the men who are sighing and crying over all the disgusting practices that are being committed in it." <sup>5</sup> To the others I heard him say, "Go through the city after him and strike! Don't let your eye spare; have no pity! <sup>6</sup> Kill old men, young men, girls, little children, women — slaughter them all! But don't go near anyone with the mark. Begin at my sanctuary." They began with the leaders in front of the house. <sup>7</sup> Then he said to them, "Defile the house! Fill the courtyards with corpses! Get going!" So they went out, spreading death in the city.

10<sup>1</sup> Then I looked, and suddenly, on the dome over the heads of the k'ruvim, there appeared above them something like sapphire that seemed to take the form of a throne. <sup>2</sup> He spoke to the man clothed in linen; he said, "Go in between the wheels under the k'ruvim, fill both your hands with fiery coals from between the k'ruvim, and throw them on the city." As I watched, he went. <sup>3</sup> Now the k'ruvim were standing to the right of the house when the man entered, and the cloud filled the inner courtyard. <sup>4</sup> The glory of ADONAI rose from above the keruv to the threshold of the house, leaving the house filled with the cloud and the courtyard full of the brilliance of ADONAI's glory. <sup>5</sup> The sound of the wings of the k'ruvim could be heard even in the outer courtyard sounding like the voice of God, Shaddai, when he speaks.

<sup>20</sup> This was the living creature I had seen beneath the God of Isra'el by the K'var River, so I knew they were k'ruvim. <sup>21</sup> Each of the four had four faces, and each had four wings, and what looked like a man's hands was under their wings. <sup>22</sup> As for how their faces looked, they were the faces I had seen by the K'var River, identical in appearance. Each one moved straight ahead.

11 <sup>1</sup> Then a spirit lifted me up and brought me to the east gate of ADONAI's house, the gate that faces eastward. At the entrance of the gate I saw twenty-five men; among them were Ya'azanyah the son of 'Azur and P'latyahu the son of B'nayahu, leaders of the people. <sup>2</sup> He said to me, "Human being, these are the men who make evil plans and give wicked advice in this city. <sup>3</sup> They say, 'The time hasn't come to build houses. This city is the cooking pot, and we're the meat!' <sup>4</sup> Therefore prophesy against them, human being, prophesy!" <sup>5</sup> The Spirit of ADONAI fell on me, and he said to me, "Say, 'Here is what ADONAI says: "What you are saying is correct, house of Isra'el; because I know how your minds work. <sup>6</sup> You have killed many in this city, you have filled its streets with the dead." <sup>7</sup> Therefore Adonai ELOHIM says this: "Those you have killed and strewn all over it, they are the meat; and this city is indeed the cooking pot; but you will be removed from it. <sup>8</sup> You are afraid of the sword, but I will bring the sword upon you," says Adonai ELOHIM. <sup>9</sup> "I will bring you out of it, hand you over to foreigners and execute judgments among you. <sup>10</sup> You will die by the sword; I will judge you at the border of Isra'el; and you will know that I am ADONAI. <sup>11</sup> This city will not be your cooking pot, but you will be the meat in it — I will judge you at Isra'el's frontier; <sup>12</sup> and you will know that I am ADONAI. For you have not lived by my laws or obeyed my rulings but have acted according to the rules of the nations surrounding you.'""

<sup>13</sup> As I was prophesying, P'latyahu the son of B'nayah died. I fell down on my face and cried out, "Oh, Adonai ELOHIM! Are you going to destroy completely those of Isra'el who are left?" <sup>14</sup> Then the word of ADONAI came to me: <sup>15</sup> "Human being, it is to your kinsmen — your brothers, your relatives and the whole house of Isra'el — that the people living in Yerushalayim have said, 'Get away from ADONAI! This land has been given to us to possess!' <sup>16</sup> Therefore, say that Adonai ELOHIM says this: 'True, I removed them far away among the nations and scattered them among the countries; nevertheless, I have been a little sanctuary for them in the countries to which they have gone.' <sup>17</sup> Therefore, say that Adonai ELOHIM says this: "'I will gather you from the peoples and collect you from the countries where you have been scattered, and I will give the land of Isra'el to you." <sup>18</sup> Then they will go there and remove all its loathsome things and disgusting practices, <sup>19</sup> and I will give them unity of heart. "I will put a new spirit among you." I will remove from their bodies the hearts of stone and give them hearts of flesh; <sup>20</sup> so that they will live by my regulations, obey my rulings and act by them. Then they will be my people, and I will be their God. <sup>21</sup> But as for those whose hearts go after the heart of their loathsome things and disgusting practices, I will bring [the consequences of] their ways on their own heads,' says Adonai ELOHIM."

12 <sup>1</sup> The word of ADONAI came to me: <sup>2</sup> "Human being, you are living among a rebellious people. They have eyes that can see, but they don't take notice; and they have ears that can hear, but they don't pay attention; because they are a rebellious people. <sup>3</sup> So you, human being, prepare supplies for exile; and during the daytime, as they watch, go away as if you were going into exile — leave your place, and go somewhere else as they watch. Perhaps they will take notice, even though they are a rebellious house. <sup>4</sup> Bring out your belongings during the day while they watch, as supplies for exile; and you yourself, while they watch, are to leave as people do who are going into exile. <sup>5</sup> Dig a hole through the wall while they watch, and carry [your belongings] out through it. <sup>6</sup> While they watch, you are to shoulder your pack and carry it out into the dark, with your face covered, so that you can't see the ground; for I am making you a sign for the house of Isra'el."

<sup>7</sup> So I did as I had been ordered — I brought out my belongings during the day as supplies for exile, and in the evening I dug a hole through the wall with my hand; then I carried my pack out on my shoulder in the dark as they watched.

<sup>8</sup> In the morning the word of ADONAI came to me: <sup>9</sup> "Human being, the house of Isra'el, that rebellious house, has asked you what you are doing. <sup>10</sup> Tell them that Adonai ELOHIM says this prophecy concerns the prince in Yerushalayim and all the house of Isra'el there. <sup>11</sup> Say: 'I am a sign for you. As I have done, so will it be done to them — they will go into exile, into captivity. <sup>12</sup> The prince who is with them will shoulder his pack and leave in the dark. They will dig holes through the wall to carry out their supplies. He will cover his face, so that he won't be able to see the ground with his eyes.

<sup>13</sup> I will spread my net over him, and he will be caught in my snare. Then I will bring him to Bavel, to the land of the Kasdim. But he will not see it, even though he is going to die there. <sup>14</sup> I will scatter to every wind all who are in attendance on him to help him, along with all his troops; and I will pursue them with the sword. <sup>15</sup> They will know that I am ADONAI when I scatter them among the nations and disperse them among the countries. <sup>16</sup> But I will spare a few of them from sword, famine and plague; so that they can tell about all their disgusting practices among the nations where they go; thus they too will know that I am ADONAI.”

<sup>21</sup> The word of ADONAI came to me: <sup>22</sup> “Human being, don't you have this proverb in the land of Isra’el, ‘Time keeps passing, and none of the visions are fulfilled’? <sup>23</sup> Therefore tell them that Adonai ELOHIM says, ‘I will put an end to that proverb; never again will they use it as a proverb in Isra’el.’ Tell them, ‘The time has come for the fulfillment of every vision. <sup>24</sup> There will no longer be empty visions or falsely optimistic divinations in the house of Isra’el, <sup>25</sup> because I am ADONAI. I will speak; and whatever statement I make, it will be accomplished. It will no longer be delayed; for in your days, you rebellious house, I will speak the word and accomplish it,’ says Adonai ELOHIM.”

<sup>26</sup> Again, the word of ADONAI came to me: <sup>27</sup> “Human being, look! People from the house of Isra’el are saying, ‘The vision he sees concerns the distant future; he is prophesying about a time far off.’ <sup>28</sup> Therefore, say to them that Adonai ELOHIM says, ‘None of my words will be delayed any more, but the word that I speak will be accomplished,’ says Adonai ELOHIM.”

thoughts, ‘Listen to what ADONAI says! <sup>3</sup>Adonai ELOHIM says: “Woe to the vile prophets who follow their own spirits and things which they have not seen! <sup>4</sup> Isra’el, your prophets have been like jackals among ruins. <sup>5</sup> You [prophets] have not gone up to the breaks in the barricade or repaired it for the house of Isra’el, so that they can stand fast in battle on the day of ADONAI. <sup>6</sup> Their visions are futile and their divination is false; they say, ‘ADONAI says,’ when ADONAI has not sent them; yet they hope that the word will be confirmed. <sup>7</sup> Haven’t you had a futile vision and spoken a false divination when you say, ‘ADONAI says,’ and I have not spoken? <sup>8</sup> Therefore here is what Adonai ELOHIM does say: ‘Because you have spoken futilities and seen falsehoods, therefore I am against you,’ says Adonai ELOHIM.

<sup>9</sup> “““My hand will be against the prophets who have futile visions and produce false divinations; they will not be allowed into the council of my people, or be written in the register of the house of Isra’el, or enter the land of Isra’el. Then you will know that I am Adonai ELOHIM. <sup>10</sup> They deserve this, because they have led my people astray by saying there is peace when there is no peace. If someone builds a wall without mortar, they ‘plaster’ it with whitewash [to make it appear strong]. <sup>11</sup> Tell these ‘plasterers’ that a cloudburst is coming, with huge hailstones and gale-force winds; <sup>12</sup> and the wall will fall down. Then people will ask you, ‘Where is the whitewash you used to “plaster” it?’” <sup>13</sup> Therefore Adonai ELOHIM says: “In my rage I will cause gale-force winds to break out, and in my anger there will come a cloudburst, with huge hailstones to consume it in fury. <sup>14</sup> This is how I will break down the wall you covered with whitewash — I will smash it to the ground, so that its foundation will be revealed. The wall will fall down, and you will be consumed with it. Then you will know that I am ADONAI. <sup>15</sup> In this way I will spend my fury on the wall and on those who covered it with whitewash; and I will say to you, ‘The wall is gone, and so are those who “plastered” it,’ <sup>16</sup> that is, the prophets of Isra’el who prophesy about Yerushalayim and see visions of peace for her when there is no peace,” says Adonai ELOHIM.’

handfuls of barley and crumbs of bread, killing people who should not die and sparing those who should not live, by your lying to my people, who love hearing lies.’<sup>20</sup> Therefore here is what Adonai ELOHIM says: ‘I am against your pads, with which you hunt human lives like birds; I will tear them from your arms and let the lives go, yes, the human lives that you hunt like birds.’<sup>21</sup> I will also tear your veils and rescue my people from your clutches, so that they will no longer be in your power for you to hunt. Then you will know that I am ADONAI.<sup>22</sup> Because you have disheartened the righteous with your lies when I was not trying to cause them pain and have encouraged the wicked not to turn from their wicked ways and thus be saved,<sup>23</sup> therefore you will have no more futile visions, and you will produce no more divinations. I will rescue my people from your clutches, and you will know that I am ADONAI.’”

<sup>9</sup> “‘Now, whenever a prophet is enticed into speaking a word, it will be I, ADONAI, who will have enticed that prophet. I will stretch out my hand over him and destroy him from among my people Isra’el.’<sup>10</sup> The prophets will bear the guilt for their sins — the sin of the prophet will be the same as the sin of the inquirer — <sup>11</sup> so that the house of Isra'el will no longer wander away from me or defile themselves with all their crimes; rather, they will be my people and I will be their God,' says Adonai ELOHIM."

<sup>15</sup> "If I unleash wild beasts on the land, and they kill its children and desolate it, so that no one can pass through because of the animals; <sup>16</sup> even if these three men were in it, as I live," says Adonai ELOHIM, "they would save neither sons nor daughters; only they themselves would be saved, and the land would remain barren.

<sup>17</sup> "Or if I bring the sword down on that land, saying, 'Let the sword pass through the land,' so that I eliminate both its humans and its animals; <sup>18</sup> even if these three men were in it, as I live," says Adonai ELOHIM, "they would save neither sons nor daughters; only they themselves would be saved.

<sup>19</sup> "Or if I bring a plague into that land and pour out my fury on it in bloodshed, so that I eliminate both its humans and its animals; <sup>20</sup> even if Noach, Dani'el and Iyov were in it, as I live," says Adonai ELOHIM, "they would save neither a son nor a daughter; they would save only themselves by their righteousness."

<sup>21</sup> For here is what Adonai ELOHIM says: "Even if I inflict my four dreadful judgments on Yerushalayim — sword, famine, wild animals and plagues — to eliminate both its humans and its animals; <sup>22</sup> there will still be left a remnant in it to be brought out, including both sons and daughters. When they come out to you, and you see their way of life and how they act, then you will be consoled over the calamity I have brought upon Yerushalayim, over everything I have done to it. <sup>23</sup> Yes, they will console you when you see their way of life and how they act; and you will understand that it was not without good reason that I did what I did in [Yerushalayim]," says Adonai ELOHIM.

than some other kind of wood, than some branch that one might find
among the trees of the forest?

<sup>3</sup> Its wood can’t be used to make anything,
not even a pin on which to hang a pot.

<sup>4</sup> So now it is thrown in the fire as fuel,
the fire consumes both ends of it,
and the middle of it is singed —
is it useful now for making something?

<sup>5</sup> When it was whole, it was good for nothing;
so how much less, when the fire
has consumed it, and it is singed,
will it be useful for making something!

<sup>6</sup> “So Adonai ELOHIM says this:
‘Like wood from the vine among the trees of the forest,
which I consign to the fire as fuel,
so I give those living in Yerushalayim.

<sup>7</sup> I will set my face against them —

they may have escaped one fire,
but the fire will consume them yet.
When I set my face against them,
you will know that I am ADONAI.

<sup>8</sup> I will make the land desolate because they have dealt so treacherously,'
says Adonai ELOHIM."

<sup>6</sup> "I passed by and saw you there, wallowing in your own blood; and as you lay in your blood I said to you, "Live!" Yes, I said to you, as you lay in your blood, "Live! <sup>7</sup> I will increase your numbers just like plants growing in the field." And you did increase, you developed, you reached puberty, your breasts appeared, and your hair grew long; but you were naked and exposed.

<sup>8</sup> "Again I passed by you, looked at you and saw that your time had come, the time for love. So I spread my cloak over you to cover your private parts and entered into a covenant with you,' says Adonai ELOHIM, 'and you became mine. <sup>9</sup> Then I bathed you in water, washed the blood off you, and anointed you with oil. <sup>10</sup> I also clothed you with an embroidered gown, gave you fine leather sandals to wear, put a fine linen headband on your head and covered you with silk. <sup>11</sup> I gave you jewelry to wear, bracelets for your hands, a necklace for your neck, <sup>12</sup> a ring for your nose, earrings for your ears and a beautiful crown for your head. <sup>13</sup> Thus you were decked out in gold and silver; your clothing was of fine linen, silk and richly embroidered cloth; you ate the finest flour, honey and olive oil. You grew increasingly beautiful — you were fit to be queen. <sup>14</sup> Your fame spread among the nations because of your beauty, because it was perfect, due to my having bestowed my own splendor on you' says Adonai ELOHIM.

<sup>15</sup> “‘But you put your trust in your own beauty and began prostituting yourself because of your fame, soliciting everyone passing by and accepting all comers. <sup>16</sup> You took your clothes and used them to decorate with bright colors the high places you made for yourself, and there you continued prostituting yourself. Such things shouldn't happen, and in the future they won't. <sup>17</sup> You also took your beautiful jewels made of my gold and my silver, which I had given you, and made for yourself male images, with which you continued to prostitute yourself. <sup>18</sup> You took your embroidered clothing and covered them; you set my olive oil and my incense in front of them; <sup>19</sup> and you took my food, which I had given you — my fine flour, olive oil and honey, that I had given you to eat — and set it in front of them to give a pleasant aroma. That is how it was,’ says Adonai ELOHIM.

<sup>35</sup> “‘All right, you whore, listen to the word of ADONAI!’ <sup>36</sup>Adonai ELOHIM says: ‘Because your filth has been poured out and your privates exposed through your acts of fornication with your lovers, and because of all the idols of your disgusting practices, and because of the blood of your children, which you gave them, <sup>37</sup> therefore, look! I am going to gather all your lovers, to whom you have been so very nice, all the ones you hate right along with all the ones you love — I will gather them against you from all over the place and expose your private parts to them, so that they will see you completely naked. <sup>38</sup> I will pronounce on you the sentence that applies to women who commit adultery and murder; I will bring on you the death [decreed for] furious jealousy. <sup>39</sup> Yes, I will hand you over to them; and they will make a ruin of your platforms, tear down your high places, strip you of your clothes, take away your jewels, and leave you naked and exposed. <sup>40</sup> They will also bring up a mob against you, who will stone you to death and hack you to pieces with their swords. <sup>41</sup> They will burn your houses to the ground and execute judgments against you in the presence of many women. I will make you stop fornicating, and you will never again pay for a lover.

<sup>42</sup> “‘Yes, I will satisfy my fury against you. But after that, my jealousy will leave you; and I will calm down and no longer be angry.

<sup>43</sup> “‘Because you didn’t remember the condition you were in when you were young, but enraged me with all these things, therefore I will bring [the consequences of] your ways on your own head’ says Adonai ELOHIM.

“‘You committed these obscenities in addition to all your other disgusting practices! <sup>44</sup> Everyone who quotes proverbs will quote this proverb against you, “Like mother, like daughter.” <sup>45</sup> Yes, you are your mother’s daughter, who despises her husband and children; you are the sister of your sisters, who despise their husbands and children; your mother was a Hitti and your father an Emori. <sup>46</sup> Moreover, your older sister is Shomron, who lives at your left, she and her daughters; and your younger sister, living at your right, is S'dom with her daughters. <sup>47</sup> You didn't merely live by their ways and act according to their disgusting practices, but in a very short time you acted more corruptly than they in all your ways.

<sup>48</sup> “‘As I live’ says Adonai ELOHIM, ‘your sister S'dom has not done, neither she nor her daughters, [as much evil] as you have done, you and your daughters. <sup>49</sup> The crimes of your sister S'dom were pride and gluttony; she and her daughters were careless and complacent, so that they did nothing to help the poor and needy. <sup>50</sup> They were arrogant and committed disgusting acts before me; so that when I saw it, I swept them away. <sup>51</sup> Shomron did not commit even half as many sins as you did. You committed many more disgusting acts than your sisters; in fact, in comparison with all the disgusting acts you have committed, they seem innocent! <sup>52</sup> But you too must bear your disgrace; for by your passing judgment that your sisters were innocent, through your having committed sins worse than theirs, they are shown to be more righteous than you. So be ashamed, and bear the disgrace you deserve for making your [guilty] sisters seem innocent!

<sup>53</sup> “‘I will end their exile — the exile of S'dom and her daughters, the exile of Shomron and her daughters, and the exile of your captives there among them; <sup>54</sup> so that you can bear your own shame and experience the disgrace you deserve for all you have done to shield them from feeling their own guilt. <sup>55</sup> Your sisters, S'dom with her daughters and Shomron with her daughters, will return to their previous condition; and you with your daughters will return to your previous condition. <sup>56</sup> When you were so proud, you spoke with contempt about your sister S'dom, <sup>57</sup> before your own wickedness was exposed. But now the daughters of Aram mock you, as do her neighbors; and the daughters of the P'lishtim on every side are repulsed by you. <sup>58</sup> You have brought it all on yourself with your depravities and disgusting practices,’ says ADONAI.

<sup>59</sup> “For here is what Adonai ELOHIM says: ‘I will do to you as you have done — you treated the oath with contempt by breaking the covenant. <sup>60</sup> Nevertheless, I will remember the covenant I made with you when you were a girl and will establish an everlasting covenant with you. <sup>61</sup> Then you will remember your behavior and be ashamed of it as you receive your older and younger sisters and make them your daughters, even though the covenant with you does not cover that; <sup>62</sup> and I will re-establish my covenant with you. Then you will know that I am ADONAI; <sup>63</sup>so that you will remember and be so ashamed that you will never open your mouth again, so ashamed will you be when I have forgiven you all that you have done,' says Adonai ELOHIM."

<sup>7</sup> "“There was another big eagle with great wings and many feathers; and the vine bent its roots toward him and put forth its branches toward him, so that he might water it more than in the bed where it was planted. <sup>8</sup> It had been planted in good soil, near plenty of water, so that it would produce branches, bear fruit and become a noble vine.’

<sup>9</sup> "Say that Adonai ELOHIM asks: 'Will it succeed? Won't he pull it up by the roots and cut off its fruit; so that it dries up; and all its sprouting leaves wither? There will be no great power and few people there when it is plucked up by the roots. <sup>10</sup> Will it thrive just because it was planted? Won't it wither altogether when the east wind strikes it? Yes, it will wither right there in the beds where it was growing.'"

who does such things escape punishment? Can he break the covenant and still escape punishment?

<sup>16</sup> “‘As I live,’ says Adonai ELOHIM, ‘in the place where the king who gave him his throne lives, whose oath he despised and whose covenant he broke, there with him in Bavel I swear that he will die. <sup>17</sup> Pharaoh with his mighty army and numerous troops will give him no help in the war, when they raise siege-works and build fortified towers to destroy many people; <sup>18</sup> because he despised the oath by breaking the covenant to which he had sworn allegiance; having done all these things, he will not escape unpunished.’ <sup>19</sup> Therefore Adonai ELOHIM says: ‘As I live, I swear that it is my oath he has despised and my covenant he has broken, and I will bring this on his own head. <sup>20</sup> I will spread my net over him, and he will be caught in my snare; I will bring him to Bavel and bring him to judgment there for breaking faith with me. <sup>21</sup> The elite troops among his forces will die by the sword, and those who survive will be scattered to every wind. Then you will know that I, ADONAI, said it.’

their children’s teeth are set on edge’?

<sup>3</sup> “As I live,” says Adonai ELOHIM, “I swear that you will never again quote this proverb in Isra’el. <sup>4</sup> Look, all lives belong to me — both the parent’s life and the child's life are equally mine — so it is the person who sins, himself, who must die.

<sup>21</sup> “However, if the wicked person repents of all the sins he committed, keeps my laws and does what is lawful and right; then he will certainly live, he will not die. <sup>22</sup> None of the transgressions he has committed will be remembered against him; for the righteousness that he has done, he will live. <sup>23</sup> Do I take any pleasure at all in having the wicked person die?” asks Adonai ELOHIM. “Wouldn’t I prefer that he turn from his ways and live?”

<sup>24</sup> “On the other hand, when the righteous person turns away from his righteousness and commits wickedness by acting in accordance with all the disgusting practices that the wicked person does, will he live? None of the righteous deeds he has done will be remembered; for the trespasses and sins he has committed, he will die.

<sup>25</sup> “So now you say, ‘ADONAI’s way isn’t fair.’ Listen, house of Isra’el! Is it my way that is unfair? or your ways that are unfair? <sup>26</sup> When the righteous person turns away from his righteousness and commits wickedness, he will die for it — for the wickedness he commits he will die. <sup>27</sup> And when the wicked person turns away from all the wickedness he has committed and does what is lawful and right, he will save his life. <sup>28</sup> Because he thinks it over and repents of all the transgressions he committed, he will certainly live, not die. <sup>29</sup> Yet the house of Isra’el says, ‘ADONAI’s way isn’t fair.’ House of Isra’el, is it my ways that are unfair, or your ways that are unfair? <sup>30</sup> Therefore, house of Isra’el, I will judge each of you according to his ways,” says Adonai ELOHIM. “Repent, and turn yourselves away from all your transgressions, so that they will not be a stumbling block that brings guilt upon you. <sup>31</sup> Throw far away from yourselves all your crimes that you committed, and make yourselves a new heart and a new spirit; for why should you die, house of Isra’el? <sup>32</sup> I take no pleasure in the death of anyone who dies,” says Adonai ELOHIM, “so turn yourselves around, and live!”

‘What a mother you had — a lioness among lions!

She lay down among young lions and reared her cubs.

he became a young lion,

he learned to seize his prey,

he became a man-eater.

<sup>4</sup> The nations sounded an alarm against him;

and he was caught in their pit.

With hooks they dragged him off to the land of Egypt.

<sup>5</sup> When she saw that she had been thwarted,

that her hope was lost,

she took another of her cubs

and made a young lion of him.

<sup>6</sup> He prowled among the lions,

grew to be a young lion,

learned to seize his prey

and became a man-eater.

<sup>7</sup> He raped their widows

and destroyed their cities;

the land and all in it were appalled

at the sound of his roaring.

<sup>8</sup>       The nations set a snare for him
from the provinces all around,
they spread their net over him,
and he was caught in their pit.

<sup>8</sup>       With hooks they put him in a cage and brought him to the king of Babel
to imprison him in a fortress,
so that his roar would be heard no more on the mountains of Isra'el.

<sup>10</sup>       “Your mother was like a strong grapevine planted by the water.
It was fruitful and luxuriant
because of the abundant water.

<sup>11</sup>       It had strong branches
to be used as scepters by rulers;
besides having thick foliage,
it grew taller and taller,
until its height was noticed,

with its mass of branches.

<sup>12</sup> But it was torn up in fury

and flung on the ground.

An east wind withered her fruit,

her strong branches were broken off;

they dried up; and fire consumed the vine.

<sup>13</sup> It has been transplanted to the desert,

to a dry, thirsty land.

<sup>14</sup> Fire has gone out from its own branches,

burning up its fruit,

so that now it has no strong branch

to be a ruler's scepter.'"

This lamentation became very well known.

20 <sup>1</sup> On the tenth day of the fifth month of the seventh year, some of Isra'el's leaders came to consult ADONAI and sat with me; <sup>2</sup> and the word of ADONAI came to me: <sup>3</sup> "Human being, speak to Isra'el's leaders; tell them that Adonai ELOHIM asks, 'Have you come to consult me? As I live,' says Adonai ELOHIM, 'I swear that I will not let you consult me.'

pledging to bring them out of the land of Egypt into a land I had reconnoitered for them, a land flowing with milk and honey, the most beautiful of all lands, <sup>7</sup> I told them, “Each of you is to throw away the detestable things that draw your eyes. Do not defile yourselves with the idols of Egypt. I am ADONAI your God.”

<sup>8</sup> ““But they rebelled against me and wouldn’t listen to me; they did not, each of them, throw away the detestable things that drew their eyes; and they did not abandon the idols of Egypt. Then I said I would pour out my fury on them and spend my anger on them there in the land of Egypt. <sup>9</sup> But concern for my own reputation kept me from letting it be profaned in the sight of the nations among whom they were living, in the sight of whom I had made myself known to them, in order to bring them out of the land of Egypt. <sup>10</sup> So I had them leave the land of Egypt and brought them into the desert. <sup>11</sup> I gave them my laws and showed them my rulings; if a person obeys them, he will have life through them. <sup>12</sup> I gave them my shabbats as a sign between me and them, so that they would know that I, ADONAI, am the one who makes them holy.

<sup>13</sup> ““But the house of Isra’el rebelled against me in the desert. They did not live by my laws; and they rejected my rulings, which, if a person does, he will have life through them; moreover, they greatly profaned my shabbats. Then I said I would pour out my fury on them in the desert, in order to destroy them. <sup>14</sup> But concern for my own reputation kept me from letting it be profaned in the sight of the nations who had seen when I brought them out. <sup>15</sup> Yet I also raised my hand and swore to them in the desert that I would not bring them into the land I was giving them, a land flowing with milk and honey, the most beautiful of all lands; <sup>16</sup> because they had rejected my rulings, did not live by my laws and profaned my shabbats; since their hearts went after their idols. <sup>17</sup> However, I spared them from complete destruction; I did not completely finish them off in the desert.

<sup>21</sup> ““But the children too rebelled against me. They did not live by my laws or observe my rulings, to obey them, which, if a person does, he will have life by them; and they profaned my shabbats. Then I said I would pour out my fury on them and spend my anger on them in the desert. <sup>22</sup> Nevertheless, I withdrew my hand and allowed concern for my own reputation to keep me from letting it be profaned in the sight of the nations who had seen when I brought them out.

<sup>23</sup> “I also raised my hand and swore to them in the desert that I would scatter them among the nations and disperse them through the countries; <sup>24</sup> because they hadn’t obeyed my rulings but had rejected my laws and profaned my shabbats, and their eyes had turned toward their fathers’ idols.

<sup>25</sup> I also gave them laws which did them no good and rulings by which they did not live; <sup>26</sup> and I let them become defiled by their own gifts, in that they offered up their firstborn sons, so that I could fill them with revulsion, so that they would [finally] realize that I am ADONAI.’

<sup>27</sup> “Therefore, human being, speak to the house of Isra’el; tell them that Adonai ELOHIM says, ‘Moreover, your ancestors blasphemed me by breaking faith with me in still another way: <sup>28</sup> for after I had brought them into the land, which I had raised my hand in pledge to give them, they noted all its high hills and leafy trees and offered there their sacrifices; there they made offerings that provoked my anger, there they set out their sweet aromas, and there they poured out their drink offerings. <sup>29</sup> When I asked them, “This high place where you go, what is the meaning of it?” they gave it the name Bamah which it retains to this day.’

<sup>30</sup> “So tell the house of Isra’el that Adonai ELOHIM says, ‘You are defiling yourselves in the same way as your ancestors, following their abominations and fornicating with them; <sup>31</sup> and when offering your gifts, you make your children pass through the fire and defile yourselves with all your idols — to this day. So, am I supposed to allow you to consult me, house of Isra’el? As I live,’ says Adonai ELOHIM, ‘I swear that I won’t have you consult me, <sup>32</sup> and that what you have in mind when you say, “We will be like the Goyim, like the families of the other countries, serving wood and stone,” will certainly not happen. <sup>33</sup> As I live,’ says Adonai ELOHIM, ‘I swear that surely with a mighty hand, with a stretched-out arm and with poured-out fury I myself will be king over you. <sup>34</sup> I will bring you out from the peoples and gather you out of the countries where you were scattered, with a mighty hand, with a stretched-out arm and with poured-out fury; <sup>35</sup> then I will bring you into the desert of the peoples and judge you face to face. <sup>36</sup> Just as I judged your ancestors in the desert of the land of Egypt, so will I judge you,’ says Adonai ELOHIM. <sup>37</sup> ‘I will make you pass under the crook and bring you into the obligations of the covenant. <sup>38</sup> I will rid you of the rebels who are in revolt against me — I will bring them out from the land where they are living, but they will not enter the land of Isra'el; then you will know that I am ADONAI.'

<sup>39</sup> “As for you, house of Isra'el, here is what Adonai ELOHIM says: ‘Go on serving your idols, every one of you! But afterwards, [I swear that] you will listen to me, and you will no longer profane my holy name with your gifts and with your idols. <sup>40</sup> For on my holy mountain, the high mountain of Isra'el,’ says Adonai ELOHIM, ‘the whole house of Isra'el, all of them, will serve me in the land. I will accept them there, and there I will require your contributions, your best gifts and all your consecrated things. <sup>41</sup> I will accept you with your sweet aroma when I bring you out from the peoples and gather you out of the countries where you were scattered; and through you I will manifest my holiness in the sight of the nations.

<sup>42</sup> “‘You will know that I am ADONAI when I bring you into the land of Isra'el, into the country which I pledged, by raising my hand, to give to your ancestors. <sup>43</sup> There you will remember your behavior and all the things you did by which you defiled yourselves, and you will loathe yourselves for all the evils you committed. <sup>44</sup> You will know that I am ADONAI when I have dealt with you in a manner that preserves my reputation, and not according to your evil ways and corrupt actions, house of Isra'el’ says Adonai ELOHIM.”

<sup>6(1)</sup> Then the word of ADONAI came to me: <sup>7(2)</sup> “Human being, turn your face toward Yerushalayim, preach to the sanctuaries and prophesy to the land of Isra'el; <sup>8(3)</sup> tell the land of Isra'el that Adonai ELOHIM says, ‘I am against you. I will draw my sword from its scabbard and cut off from you the righteous and the wicked. <sup>9(4)</sup> Since I am going to rid you of both righteous and evildoers, my sword will also go out of its scabbard against everyone, from the Negev to the north. <sup>10(5)</sup> Everyone alive will know that I, ADONAI, drew my sword from its scabbard; it will not be sheathed again.'

<sup>11(6)</sup> "Therefore, human being, groan! Groan bitterly, as if your heart would break, as they watch. <sup>12(7)</sup> Then, when they ask you, 'Why are you groaning?' you will answer, 'Because of the news, because it's coming. All hearts will melt, all hands hang limp, all spirits faint and all knees turn to water; here, it's coming, it will happen,' says Adonai ELOHIM."

<sup>13(8)</sup> The word of ADONAI came to me: <sup>14(9)</sup> "Human being, prophesy. Say that Adonai ELOHIM says to say this:

'A sword, a sword has been sharpened and polished,

<sup>15(10)</sup> sharpened in order to slaughter and slaughter,

polished to flash like lightning.

But how can we rejoice?

My son rejects the rod

and every other stick.

<sup>16(11)</sup> The sword was given to be polished,

so that it could be wielded;

it was sharpened and polished

to be placed in the slaughterer's hand.'

<sup>17(12)</sup> "Shout and wail, human being, because it's coming upon my people, upon all the leaders of Isra'el — they will be victims of the sword along with my people. Strike your thigh in remorse! <sup>18(13)</sup> For a test is coming, and what if he rejects the rod again then? He will cease to exist," says Adonai ELOHIM.

<sup>19(14)</sup> "Therefore, human being, prophesy and clap your hands together. Then the sword will strike twice, three times, the sword for victims, the sword for a great slaughter, coming from every direction. <sup>20(15)</sup> So that their hearts will melt, and many will stumble and fall, I have posted the point of the sword at every one of their gates. See how it flashes, sharpened for the kill!

Slash to the right; destroy to the left,

whichever way your edge is aimed!

<sup>21(17)</sup> I too will clap my hands together and satisfy my fury.

I, ADONAI, have spoken.”

<sup>29(24)</sup> “Therefore this is what Adonai ELOHIM says: ‘Because you have caused your guilt to be remembered, with your misdeeds revealed and the sins in all your actions evident — since you have been remembered, you will be captured.’ <sup>30(25)</sup> As for you, you wicked prince of Isra’el, due to be killed, whose day has come, at the time of final punishment, <sup>31(26)</sup> here is what Adonai ELOHIM says:

‘Remove the turban, take off the crown!

Everything is being changed.

What was low will be raised up,
and what was high will be brought down.

<sup>32(27)</sup>

Ruin! Ruin!

I will leave it a ruin

such as there has never been,

and it will stay that way

until the rightful ruler comes,

and I give it to him.’

<sup>33(28)</sup> “You, human being, prophesy! Say that Adonai ELOHIM says this about the people of ‘Amon and their insults:

‘A sword, a sword, is drawn for slaughter,
polished to the utmost, to flash like lightning —

while [your prophets] produce false visions for you,
while they divine lies for you —
to lay you out upon the necks
of the wicked who are to be killed,
whose day has come,
at the time of final punishment.

<sup>35(30)</sup> Cause it to return to its scabbard!

I will judge you in the place
where you were created,
in the land of your origin.

<sup>36(31)</sup> I will pour my fury out on you,
breathe on you with the fire of my rage,
and hand you over to barbarous men highly skilled in destruction.

<sup>35(30)</sup> You will be fuel for the fire,
your blood will flow through the land,
you will be remembered no more;
for I, ADONAI, have spoken.’”

22 <sup>1</sup> The word of ADONAI came to me: <sup>2</sup> “Now, human being, are you prepared to judge? Are you prepared to judge the city drenched in blood? Then make her realize how disgusting all her practices are! <sup>3</sup> Say that Adonai ELOHIM says, ‘City that sheds blood within yourself, thus speeding your own doom, and that makes idols for yourself that defile you: <sup>4</sup> you are guilty because of the blood you have shed, you are defiled by your idols that you have made. You have shortened your days, you have completed your years; therefore I have made you an object of scorn for the nations and a laughingstock for every country. <sup>5</sup> Those close by and those far off will taunt you, you who have such a defiled reputation and such great disorder.

contempt, you profane my shabbats. <sup>9</sup>In you, people gossip to the point of inciting bloodshed; in you are those who go to eat on the mountains; in you, they commit lewd acts; <sup>10</sup> in you, they commit incest; in you, they force themselves on women during their menstrual impurity. <sup>11</sup> In you, one commits an abomination with his neighbor's wife; another commits some lewd act defiling his daughter-in-law; still another humbles his sister, his own father's daughter. <sup>12</sup> In you, people take bribes to shed blood; you demand and accept interest on loans; in greed you make profits off your neighbors by extorting them; and you have forgotten me,' says Adonai ELOHIM.

<sup>13</sup> “‘Therefore, I am clapping my hands together because of your ill-gotten gains and the blood shed in you. <sup>14</sup> Can your courage last, can your strength continue during the days when I deal with you? I, ADONAI, have spoken it; and I will do it. <sup>15</sup> I will scatter you among the Goyim and disperse you throughout the countries; thus I will remove your defilement from you, <sup>16</sup> and you will cause yourselves to be profaned in full view of the Goyim. Then you will know that I am ADONAI.’”

benefit unjustly. <sup>28</sup> Her prophets have “plastered” for them with whitewash, seeing false visions and divining lies for them, saying, “Thus says Adonai ELOHIM,” when ADONAI has not spoken. <sup>29</sup> The people of the land have extorted, robbed, wronged the poor and needy and unjustly oppressed foreigners.

very image of men of Bavel born in the land of the Kasdim.<sup>16</sup> The moment she saw them, she lusted after them and sent messengers to them in the land of the Kasdim;<sup>17</sup> and the men of Bavel climbed into her “love bed” and defiled her with their lust. She was defiled by them, and then filled with revulsion at them.<sup>18</sup> Thus did she reveal her fornication and expose her private parts. When this happened, I was filled with revulsion at her, just as I had been filled with revulsion at her sister.<sup>19</sup> Still she kept increasing her whoring, remembering the days when she was young, fornicating in the land of Egypt.<sup>20</sup> Yes, she lusted after their male prostitutes, whose members are like those of donkeys and who ejaculate like stallions.<sup>21</sup> You yearned for the lewdness of your girlhood, when the Egyptians used to fondle your nipples and caress your young breasts.

‘You will drink from your sister’s cup,

a cup both deep and wide,

full right up to the brim

with scorn and derision,

<sup>33</sup> filling you with drunkenness and sorrow,

a cup of horror and devastation —

the cup of your sister Shomron.

<sup>34</sup> You will drink it, you will drain it,

and then you will gnaw it to shreds

and tear out your own breasts!

For I have spoken it’

says Adonai ELOHIM.

<sup>35</sup> “Therefore this is what Adonai ELOHIM says: ‘Because you forgot me and flung me behind your back, you will bear the guilt of your lewdness and whoring.’”

noise of a carefree crowd could be heard there; many of the men were brought in drunk from the desert. They put bracelets on their hands and magnificent crowns on their heads. <sup>43</sup> I thought, ‘That woman! She’s worn out from all her adulteries, but they still go to fornicate with her!’ <sup>44</sup> For every one went in to her; just as men go in to a prostitute, so they went in to Oholah and Oholivah, those debauched women. <sup>45</sup> Nevertheless, there are righteous men who will judge them as adulterers and murderers are supposed to be judged; because they are adulterers, and blood is dripping from their hands. <sup>46</sup> For here is what Adonai ELOHIM says:

‘Summon an assembly to punish them;

give them over to terror and plunder.

<sup>47</sup> Let the assembly stone them to death,

dispatch them with their swords,

kill their sons and daughters

and burn their houses to the ground.

<sup>48</sup> “‘Thus I will put an end to lewdness in the land, so that all women may be taught not to imitate your lewdness. <sup>49</sup> You will receive the punishment your lewdness deserves, and you will pay the penalty for your idolatries. Then you will know that I am Adonai ELOHIM.’”

24 <sup>1</sup> The word of ADONAI came to me on the tenth day of the tenth month of the ninth year: <sup>2</sup> “Human being, write down today’s date; because on this very day the king of Bavel has begun his attack on Yerushalayim. <sup>3</sup> And tell this allegory to these rebels; say that Adonai ELOHIM says:

‘Put a pot on the fire;

put it there, pour water in it;

<sup>4</sup> Put in it pieces of meat,

all the best parts — the thigh, the shoulder;

fill it with the choicest cuts,

and pile the bones underneath.

Bring it to a rolling boil,

till it's all cooked, even the bones.'

<sup>6</sup> "Therefore Adonai ELOHIM says:

'Woe to the city drenched with blood,

to the pot whose scum is in it,

and whose scum has not been removed.

Empty it piece by piece,

without troubling to draw lots.

<sup>7</sup> For her blood is still in her;

she poured it on bare rock;

she did not pour it on the ground,

to cover it with dust.

<sup>8</sup> So in order to rouse my fury

and excite my vengeance,

I have fixed her blood there on the bare rock,

where it will not be covered.’

<sup>9</sup> “Therefore Adonai ELOHIM says this:

I myself will make a huge bonfire,

<sup>10</sup> heap on the wood, light it,

cook the meat and add the spices —

the bones can just be burned.

<sup>11</sup> Put the empty pot on the coals,

heat it till its copper bottom glows,

till its impurity melts inside it,

and its scum is burned away.

its layers of scum will not leave it;

so into the fire with its scum!

<sup>13</sup> Because of your filthy lewdness,

because you refused to be purified

when I wanted to purify you;

now you will not be purified from your filth

until I have satisfied my fury on you.

<sup>14</sup> “‘I, ADONAI, have spoken it, and it will happen. I will do it, I will not turn back, I will not refrain or spare or relent. They will judge you as your ways and deeds deserve,’ says Adonai ELOHIM.”

<sup>15</sup> The word of ADONAI came to me: <sup>16</sup> “Human being, with a single blow I am about to deprive you of the delight of your eyes. But you are not to lament, weep or let your tears run down. <sup>17</sup> Sigh silently, don’t observe mourning for the dead, bind your turban on your head, put your sandals on your feet, don’t cover your upper lip, and don’t eat the food people prepare for mourners.” <sup>18</sup> I spoke to the people in the morning, and that evening my wife died. So I did the following morning as I had been ordered. <sup>19</sup> The people asked me, “Won’t you tell us what these actions of yours mean for us?” <sup>20</sup> I answered them, “The word of ADONAI came to me, telling me <sup>21</sup>to speak to the house of Isra’el and say that this is what Adonai ELOHIM says: ‘I am about to profane my sanctuary, the pride of your strength, the delight of your eyes and your heart’s desire. Your sons and daughters whom you have left behind will die by the sword. <sup>22</sup> But you are to do as I have done — not cover your upper lips, not eat the food people prepare for mourners, <sup>23</sup> put your turbans on your heads and your sandals on your feet, and neither observe mourning nor cry. Rather, because of your crimes you will pine away and groan to one another. <sup>24</sup> Thus Yechezk’el will be a sign for you; you will do just what he has done; and when this happens, you will know that I am Adonai ELOHIM.’

25<sup>1</sup> The word of Adonai came to me: <sup>2</sup> “Human being, turn your face toward the people of ‘Amon and prophesy against them; <sup>3</sup> say to the people of ‘Amon, ‘Hear the word of Adonai ELOHIM. Adonai ELOHIM says, “Because you gloated when my sanctuary was profaned, when the land of Isra’el was laid waste, and when the house of Y’hudah went into exile; <sup>4</sup> I will let the people from the east take possession of you. They will set up camps and build their homes among you; they will eat your fruit and drink your milk. <sup>5</sup> I will turn Rabbah into a camel pasture and ‘Amon into a sheep-yard. Then you will know that I am Adonai.” <sup>6</sup> For here is what Adonai ELOHIM says: “Because you clapped your hands and stamped your feet, full of malicious joy over the land of Isra’el; <sup>7</sup> I am going to stretch out my hand over you and deliver you as plunder to the nations; I will cut you off from being a people and cause you to cease from being a nation; I will destroy you. Then you will know that I am Adonai.””

<sup>12</sup> “Adonai ELOHIM says: ‘Because Edom has taken severe vengeance against the house of Y’hudah, incurring much guilt by its acts of vengeance against them, <sup>13</sup>therefore,’ Adonai ELOHIM says, ‘I will stretch my hand out over Edom and eliminate both its humans and its animals. I will make it a ruin; from Teman to D’dan they will die by the sword. <sup>14</sup> Moreover, I will lay my vengeance on Edom through my people Isra’el; they will treat Edom in accordance with my anger and my fury; and they will know my vengeance’ says Adonai ELOHIM.

<sup>15</sup> “Adonai ELOHIM says, ‘Because the P’lishtim have acted out of vengeance, taking revenge and destroying with malice of heart, due to their long-standing hatred; <sup>16</sup> therefore,’ Adonai ELOHIM says, ‘I will stretch out my hand over the P’lishtim, eliminate the K’reti and destroy the rest of the seacoast peoples. <sup>17</sup> I will execute great vengeance on them with furious punishments; and they will know that I am Adonai when I lay my vengeance on them.’”

26<sup>1</sup> On the first day of the month in the eleventh year, the word of Adonai came to me: <sup>2</sup> “Human being, since Tzor has said against Yerushalayim, ‘Ha! She is shattered,

the gateway of the peoples.

Now that she is ruined,

her riches will be mine’;

<sup>3</sup> therefore, Adonai Elohim says,

‘Look, Tzor! I am against you.

Just as the sea churns up its waves,

I will churn up many nations against you.

they will demolish her towers.

I will scrape its soil from her

and reduce her to bare rock.

<sup>5</sup> With the sea all around her, she will be a place for drying fish nets

and a plunder for the nations.

I have spoken,’ says Adonai Elohim.

<sup>6</sup> ‘Her daughters on the mainland

will be put to death with the sword;

then they will know

that I am ADONAI.’

he will put to death with the sword.

He will build siege-towers against you,

he will build a ramp against you

and raise a screen of shields against you.

<sup>9</sup> He will pound your walls with his battering-rams and break down your towers with his axes.

The thunder of cavalry, wagons and chariots

will shake your walls, as he enters your gates,

like men storming a city through a breach.

<sup>11</sup> With the hoofs of his horses he will trample your streets.

He will put your people to the sword and pull to the ground your massive standing-stones.

<sup>12</sup> They will seize your wealth, loot your wares, break down your walls, destroy your fine houses;
then they will throw your stones and timber
and even your dust into the sea.

<sup>13</sup> I will put an end to your singing,
the sound of your lyres will be heard no more.

<sup>14</sup> I will reduce you to bare rock,
you will be a place for drying fish nets,
you will never be built again,
for I, Adonai, have spoken,
says Adonai Elohim.”

<sup>15</sup> To Tzor Adonai Elohim says:
“How the coastlands will shake
at the sound of your fall,
when the wounded groan,
when the slaughter takes place in you!

<sup>16</sup> Then all the princes of the sea will step down from their thrones;
they will put aside their robes and strip off their embroidered garments.

They will clothe themselves with trembling;

they will sit on the ground,

trembling all the time,

appalled at your condition.

<sup>17</sup> Then they will raise this lament for you:

‘How you have been destroyed,

you who were peopled from the seas,

city so renowned, once so strong at sea,

you and your inhabitants, who used to spread terror

over all [the mainland’s] inhabitants!

<sup>18</sup> Now the coastlands tremble

on the day of your downfall,

and the islands in the sea

are in shock at your end.’

‘When I make you a ruined city,

like other uninhabited cities;

when I bring the deep sea over you,

and its mighty waters cover you;

<sup>20</sup> then I will bring you down

with those who descend to the pit,

to the people of long ago,

and make you live in underworld places

like those who were ruined long ago,

with those who descend to the pit,

so that you will be uninhabited

when I give glory to the land of the living.

<sup>21</sup> I will make you horrible;

you will cease to exist.

People will seek you but never more find you,'

says Adonai ELOHIM."

27 <sup>1</sup> The word of ADONAI came to me: <sup>2</sup> "You, human being, raise this lament for Tzor; <sup>3</sup> say to Tzor, located at the gateways to the sea, merchant for peoples to many coastlands, that Adonai ELOHIM says:

'Tzor, you have said,

"My beauty is perfect."

<sup>4</sup> Your borders are in the heart of the sea,

your builders perfected your beauty.

to fashion all your planking.

They took cedars from the L'vanon

to make masts for you.

<sup>6</sup> Out of oaks from Bashan

they made your oars.

Your deck they made of ivory

inlaid in larch from the coasts of Kittim.

<sup>7</sup> Richly woven linen from Egypt

was used for your sail, which was also your banner.

Blue and purple from the coasts of Elishah

was used to cover your deck-tent.

<sup>8</sup> The people of Tzidon and Arvad served as your oarsmen.

Your own skilled men, Tzor,

were there as your pilots.

<sup>9</sup> The leaders and craftsmen of G'val

sealed the cracks between your boards.

“Every seagoing ship and its crew

came to you to trade in your wares.

<sup>10</sup> Men from Paras, Lud and Put were [mercenaries] in your army;

hanging shield and helmet on you,

they showed off your splendor.

were posted around on your walls.

The Gamadim were in your towers;

they hung their shields all around your walls,

making your beauty perfect.

<sup>12</sup> ““Tarshish did business with you because of the quantity and variety of your resources; they exchanged silver, iron, tin and lead for your goods. <sup>13</sup> Greece, Tuval and Meshekh traded with you, exchanging slaves and articles of bronze for your wares. <sup>14</sup> The people of Togarmah traded for your merchandise with horses, horse-men and mules. <sup>15</sup> The men of D’dan traded with you. Many coastlands were your customers, giving you ivory tusks and ebony in payment. <sup>16</sup> Aram traded with you, because you were so wealthy; for your goods they exchanged green feldspar, purple stuff, embroidery, fine linen, coral and rubies. <sup>17</sup> Y’hudah and the land of Isra’el also traded with you, exchanging for your goods wheat from Minnit, millet, honey, olive oil and resin for healing. <sup>18</sup> Because you were so wealthy, with such a variety of valuable merchandise, Dammeseek traded wine from Helbon and white wool with you. <sup>19</sup> V’dan and Yavan from Uzal traded ironwork, cassia and aromatic cane for your goods. <sup>20</sup> D’dan traded with you for riding gear. <sup>21</sup> Arabia and all the princes of K’dar were your customers; for your goods they traded lambs, rams and goats. <sup>22</sup> The traders of Sh’va and Ra’mah exchanged the best quality spices, all kinds of precious stones and gold for your goods. <sup>23</sup> The merchants of Haran, Kaneh and ‘Eden, who traded also with Sh'va, Ashur and Kilmad, <sup>24</sup> brought you in exchange for your goods rich clothes, cloaks made of blue material and embroidery, and cedar-lined chests filled with multicolored clothing and bound with cords. <sup>25</sup> "Tarshish" ships transported your imports and exports.

"So you were full, loaded down,
surrounded by the sea.

<sup>26</sup> Your oarsmen brought you through heavy seas.

But the east wind will break you
surrounded by the sea.

<sup>27</sup> Your riches, your goods, your merchandise,
your crew, your pilots, your ship-sealers,
your traders, all your warriors aboard,
and all the others in the ship with you will sink surrounded by the sea
on the day of your shipwreck.

<sup>28</sup> When they hear the cries of your pilots,
the mainland coasts will tremble.

<sup>29</sup> The oarsmen, crew and pilots
will disembark and stand on shore,

<sup>30</sup> mourning aloud at your fate,

crying bitterly,
throwing dust on their heads,
rolling in the ashes,
<sup>31</sup> shaving their heads bald for you,
wrapping themselves in sackcloth,
with heartfelt bitterness weeping for you
in bitter lamentation.

<sup>32</sup> Wailing, they will raise a lament for you;
this will be their lament for you:
““Who anywhere in the sea
has ever been silenced like Tzor?

<sup>33</sup> When your wares came forth from the seas,
you satisfied many peoples;
with your vast wealth and variety of goods
you enriched the kings of the earth.

<sup>34</sup> But now you have been wrecked by the waves,
sunk in the watery depths;
your merchandise and all your people
have gone down with you.

All who live along the coasts
are aghast at you;
their kings are horribly afraid,
their faces are convulsed;
<sup>36</sup> the merchants among the peoples
are gasping at your fate;
you are an object of terror,
and you will cease to exist.”””

28 <sup>1</sup> The word of ADONAI came to me: <sup>2</sup> “Human being, tell the prince of Tzor that Adonai ELOHIM says:

‘Because you are so proud and have said, “I am a god;
I sit on the throne of God,
surrounded by the sea”;
yet you are a man, not God,
even though you think that you think like God.

No secret can be hidden from you!

<sup>4</sup> By your wisdom and discernment

you have acquired wealth,

you have gathered gold and silver
into your treasuries.

<sup>5</sup> By your great skill in trading
you have increased your wealth,
and it is because of your wealth
that you have become so proud.

<sup>6</sup> “Therefore Adonai ELOHIM says,
‘Because you think that you think like God,

<sup>7</sup> I will bring foreigners against you,
the most barbarous of the nations,
to draw their swords against your fine wisdom
and defile your splendor.

<sup>8</sup> They will lower you into the pit to die
a violent death surrounded by the sea.

<sup>9</sup> Will you still say, “I am God,”
to them who are about to kill you?
You are a man, you are not God,
in the hands of those who defile you.

<sup>10</sup> You will die the deaths of the uncircumcised at the hands of foreigners.

For I have spoken,’

says Adonai ELOHIM.”

<sup>11</sup> The word of ADONAI came to me: <sup>12</sup> “Human being, raise a lament for the king of Tzor, and tell him that Adonai ELOHIM says:

‘You put the seal on perfection;

you were full of wisdom and perfect in beauty;

<sup>13</sup> you were in ‘Eden, the garden of God;

covered with all kinds of precious stones —

carnelians, topaz, diamonds,

beryl, onyx, jasper,

sapphires, green feldspar, emeralds;

your pendants and jewels were made of gold,

prepared the day you were created.

<sup>14</sup> You were a keruv, protecting a large region;

I placed you on God’s holy mountain.

You walked back and forth

among stones of fire.

<sup>15</sup> You were perfect in your ways

from the day you were created,

until unrighteousness

was found in you.

<sup>16</sup>

“When your commerce grew,

you became filled with violence;

and in this way you sinned.

Therefore I have thrown you out, defiled,

from the mountain of God;

I have destroyed you, protecting keruv,

from among the stones of fire.

<sup>17</sup>

Your heart grew proud because of your beauty,

you corrupted your wisdom for the sake of your splendor.

But I have thrown you on the ground;

before kings I have made you a spectacle.

By your many crimes in dishonest trading,

you have profaned your sanctuaries;

therefore I brought forth fire from within you,

and it has devoured you;

I reduced you into ashes on the ground

in the sight of all who can see you.

<sup>19</sup>

All who know you among the peoples
will be aghast at you.

You are an object of terror,
and you will cease to exist.’”

‘I am against you, Tzidon;
but I will be glorified in you.

They will know that I am ADONAI, once I execute judgments in her
and show my holiness in her.

<sup>23</sup> For I will send plagues into her,
and blood will flow in her streets;
attacked from all sides by the sword,
the wounded will fall within her.

Then they will know that I am ADONAI.

<sup>24</sup> “‘The house of Isra’el will no longer have a briar pricking away at them, no longer will any of its contemptuous neighbors be a thorn to stab them. Then they will know that I am Adonai ELOHIM.’

<sup>25</sup> “Adonai ELOHIM says, ‘Once I have gathered the house of Isra’el from the peoples among whom they are scattered, once I have shown my holiness in them as the Goyim watch, then they will live in their own land, which I gave to my servant Ya’akov. <sup>26</sup> They will have security when they live there, building houses and planting vineyards; yes, they will live in safety, once I have executed judgments against all their contemptuous neighbors. Then they will know that I am ADONAI their God.’”

29<sup>1</sup> On the twelfth day of the tenth month of the twelfth year, the word of ADONAI came to me: <sup>2</sup> “Human being, turn your face against Pharaoh king of Egypt; prophesy against him and against all Egypt; <sup>3</sup> speak out; and say that Adonai ELOHIM says:

‘I am against you,

Pharaoh king of Egypt,

you big crocodile

lying in the streams of the Nile!

You say, “My Nile is mine;

I made it for myself.”

<sup>4</sup> But I will put hooks in your jaws

and make your Nile fish stick to your scales.

Yes, I will bring you up from your Nile,

with all your Nile fish sticking to your scales,

<sup>5</sup> and leave you in the desert,

you and all your Nile fish.

You will fall in the open field

and not be gathered or buried;

but I will give you as food

to wild animals and birds.

<sup>6</sup> Then all who live in Egypt

will know that I am ADONAI,

because they have been a support made of straw

for the house of Isra'el.

<sup>7</sup> When they grasped you in hand, you splintered and threw all their shoulders out of joint;

when they leaned on you, you broke and made them all wrench their backs.'

<sup>8</sup> "Therefore Adonai ELOHIM says, 'I will bring the sword against you and eliminate both your people and your animals. <sup>9</sup> The land of Egypt will become a desolate waste, and they will know that I am ADONAI; because he said, "The Nile is mine; I made it." <sup>10</sup> So I am against you and your Nile; and I will make the land of Egypt a totally desolate waste from Migdol to S'venah, all the way to the border of Ethiopia. <sup>11</sup> No human foot will pass through it, and no animal foot will pass through it; it will be uninhabited for forty years. <sup>12</sup> Yes, I will make the land of Egypt desolate, even when compared with other desolate countries, likewise her cities in comparison with other ruined cities; they will be desolate forty years. I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations and disperse them through the countries.'

<sup>13</sup> "For this is what Adonai ELOHIM says: 'At the end of forty years I will gather the Egyptians from the peoples where they were scattered — <sup>14</sup> I will restore the fortunes of Egypt and cause them to return to the land of their origin, Patros. But there they will be a humble kingdom, <sup>15</sup> the humblest of kingdoms. It will never again dominate other nations; I will reduce them, so that they never again rule other nations. <sup>16</sup> Moreover, they will no longer be a source of confidence for Isra'el to turn to; rather, it will only bring to mind their guilt in having turned to them before. Then they will know that I am Adonai ELOHIM.”

the Day of ADONAI, a day of clouds,

the time of the Goyim.

<sup>4</sup> The sword will come against Egypt,

and Ethiopia will be in anguish,

when the slain fall in Egypt,

when they take away her wealth,

and her foundations are torn down.

<sup>5</sup> Ethiopia, Put and Lud,

all the mixed population and Kuv,
and the people of allied lands
will die by the sword with them.'

'Those supporting Egypt will fall;
its arrogant power will be brought down;
from Migdol to S'venah they will die by the sword,'
says Adonai E<sub>LOHIM</sub>.

<sup>7</sup> "They will be desolate even when compared with other desolate countries, likewise her cities in comparison with other ruined cities. <sup>8</sup> They will know that I am A<sub>DONAI</sub> when I set fire to Egypt, and those supporting it are destroyed. <sup>9</sup> When that day comes, I will send out messengers in ships to terrify the unsuspecting Ethiopians; and anguish will overcome them on the day of Egypt. Yes, here it comes!

<sup>10</sup> "A<sub>donai E<sub>LOHIM</sub></sub> says:

'I will destroy the hordes of Egypt
through N'vukhadretzar king of Bavel.

<sup>11</sup> He and his people, the most barbarous of the nations,
will be brought in to ravage the land.

They will unsheathe their swords against Egypt
and fill the land with corpses.

<sup>12</sup> I will dry up the streams of the Nile

and sell the land to the wicked.

Through the power of foreigners I will make the land
and all that is in it desolate.

'I will destroy the idols,
make the false gods in Nof cease to exist.

No longer will there be a prince from the land of Egypt;
I will put fear in the land of Egypt,

<sup>14</sup> desolate Patros, set fire to Tzo'an,
execute judgements in No,

and destroy the hordes of No.

<sup>16</sup> Yes, I will set fire to Egypt;

Seen will writhe in anguish;

No will be torn apart;

enemies will attack Nof in broad daylight.

<sup>17</sup> The young men of On and Pi-Veset

will die by the sword,

while the cities themselves

will go into captivity.

<sup>18</sup> At T'chafn'ches the day will grow dark

when I break the yokes of Egypt there, and the pride she takes in her power ceases.

A cloud will cover her,

and her daughters will go into captivity.

Then they will know that I am ADONAI.”

<sup>20</sup> On the seventh day of the first month of the eleventh year, the word of ADONAI came to me: <sup>21</sup> “Human being, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt; it has not been bound up with dressings and bandages, so that it can heal and become strong enough again to wield the sword. <sup>22</sup> Therefore Adonai ELOHIM says this: ‘I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt. I will break his arms, both the sound one and the broken one, and I will make the sword fall from his hand. <sup>23</sup> I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations and disperse them throughout the countries. <sup>24</sup> I will strengthen the arms of the king of Bavel and put my sword in his hand; but I will break the arms of Pharaoh; he will groan like a man mortally wounded. <sup>25</sup> Yes, I will hold up the arms of the king of Bavel; but the arms of Pharaoh will droop. They will know that I am ADONAI when I put my sword in the hand of the king of Bavel, and he stretches it out over the land of Egypt. <sup>26</sup> Yes, I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations and disperse them throughout the countries; and they will know that I am ADONAI.”

31 <sup>1</sup> On the first day of the third month of the eleventh year, the word of ADONAI came to me: <sup>2</sup> “Human being, say to Pharaoh king of Egypt and to his hordes:

‘Whom are you like in your greatness?

It had beautiful branches, dense foliage,
its tall crown surrounded by leafy boughs.

<sup>4</sup> The water nourished it; the deep made it grow, sending its rivers round the place where it was planted,
sending its streams to all the trees in the fields.

<sup>5</sup> So it grew taller than any other tree,
its branches grew in number and spread far and wide,
for it had plenty of water to make them grow.

<sup>6</sup> In its boughs all the birds of the air had their nests, beneath its branches all the wild animals gave birth to their young,
and all great nations lived in its shade.

<sup>7</sup> It was beautiful in its greatness and the length of its branches,
because its roots went down to plenty of water.

<sup>8</sup> No cedar in God’s garden was like it,
no cypress tree could compare with its boughs,
no chestnut tree could rival its branches,
no tree in God’s garden could match its beauty.

I made it so beautiful, with its many branches;
all the trees in 'Eden, God's garden, envied it.'

<sup>10</sup> "Therefore here is what Adonai ELOHIM says: 'Because you are so tall, because he has lifted his crown above the leafy boughs, because he has grown so arrogant about his height, <sup>11</sup> I am handing him over to the mightiest of the nations, who will certainly deal with him as his wickedness deserves; I reject him. <sup>12</sup> Foreigners, the most barbarous of the nations, will destroy him and leave him lying where he is. His branches will lie fallen on the mountains and in the valleys, his boughs will lie broken in all the rivers of the land, and all the peoples of the earth will withdraw from his shade and leave him. <sup>13</sup> All the birds will settle on his fallen trunk, and all the wild animals will be on his branches. <sup>14</sup> This is to warn all the trees growing near water not to grow so tall, not to lift their crowns above the leafy boughs, and all that take up water not to reach up in their height.

For they are all given over to death,
to the depths of the underworld,
along with human beings,
with those who descend to the pit.'

<sup>15</sup> "Here is what Adonai ELOHIM says:

'On the day he descended to Sh'ol,
I caused the abyss to mourn
and cover itself for him;
I held back its rivers,
so that its deep waters were stopped.

I made the L'vanon mourn for him,
and all the field trees withered because of him.

<sup>16</sup> At the sound of his fall

I made the nations shake,
when I hurled him down to Sh'ol
with those who descend to the pit.
All the trees of 'Eden,
the pick of the best in the L'vanon,
all that take up water,
were consoled in the underworld.

<sup>17</sup> They descended with him to Sh'ol
to those who were killed by the sword,
to those who were his fighting arm,
those among the nations who lived in his shade.

<sup>18</sup> Which of the trees of 'Eden
was your equal in glory or size?
Yet you will be brought down to the underworld
along with the trees of 'Eden.
You will lie there among the uncircumcised,
with those killed by the sword.

This is Pharaoh and his hordes,'

says Adonai ELOHIM.”

32 <sup>1</sup> On the first day of the twelfth month of the twelfth year, the word of ADONAI came to me: <sup>2</sup> “Human being, raise a lament for Pharaoh king of Egypt; say to him,

‘You compared yourself to a lion among the nations;

In fact, you are more like a crocodile in the lakes.

You burst out of your streams,

churn the water with your feet

and foul their streams.’

<sup>3</sup> “So here is what Adonai ELOHIM says:

‘With many nations assembled,

I will spread my net over you,

and they will haul you up in my dragnet.

<sup>4</sup> Then I will throw you on the shore,

hurl you into an open field,

make all the birds in the air settle on you and let the animals of the whole earth eat their fill of you.

<sup>5</sup> I will leave your flesh on the mountains and fill the valleys with your rotting carcass.

<sup>6</sup> I will drench the land in which you swim
with your blood, as far as the mountains;
the waterways will be full of you.

<sup>7</sup> When I extinguish you, I will cover the sky
and make its stars black;
I will cover the sun with a cloud,
and the moon will not give its light.

<sup>8</sup> All the shining lights in the sky
I will darken above you;
I will spread darkness over your land,'
says Adonai ELOHIM.

<sup>9</sup> “I will anger many peoples
when I bring your destroyed ones
in among the nations,
into countries you have not known.

<sup>10</sup> I will make many peoples aghast at you;
their kings will shudder in horror over you
when I brandish my sword before them.
On the day of your downfall

they will tremble continuously,
each man in fear of his life.’

<sup>11</sup> “For Adonai ELOHIM says this:

‘The sword of the king of Bavel
will come against you.

<sup>12</sup> With the swords of the warriors
I will cause your hordes to fall.
They are all the most barbarous of the nations,
and they will shatter the glory of Egypt —
all its hordes will be destroyed.

<sup>13</sup> I will destroy all her cattle beside her plentiful waters.
No human foot will trouble them again,
nor the hoof of any animal.

<sup>14</sup> Then I will make their water clear and cause their streams to flow like oil,’
says Adonai ELOHIM.

<sup>15</sup> ‘When I make the land of Egypt a ruined waste,
a land stripped of all that filled it;

when I strike all those who live there;

they will know that I am A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

<sup>16</sup> This is the lament that they will raise;

the daughters of the nations will use it to mourn;

they will chant it for Egypt and all its hordes,'

says Adonai E<sub>LOHIM</sub>."

<sup>17</sup> On the fifteenth day of the month in the twelfth year, the word of A<sub>DONAI</sub> came to me:

<sup>18</sup> "Human being, wail for the hordes of Egypt;

send them with the daughters of mighty nations

down to the underworld,

with those who descend to the pit.

<sup>19</sup> Are you more beautiful than the others?

Go down, lie with the uncircumcised dead!

<sup>20</sup> They will fall among those killed by the sword;

she is given to the sword; pull her down with her hordes.

will speak of him with those who helped him.

They went down; they lie still,

the uncircumcised, killed by the sword.

22

“Ashur is there with her hordes;
their graves are all around them,
all of them slain, killed by the sword.

23

Their graves are in the deepest parts of the pit,
her hordes are all around her grave,
all of them slain, killed by the sword,
those who terrorized the land of the living.

24

“Eilam is there, with her hordes around her grave,
all of them slain, killed by the sword,
descended uncircumcised to the underworld,
those who terrorized the land of the living;
they bear their shame together with those who descended to the pit.

25

They have given her a bed among the slain with her hordes;
her graves are all around them,
all of them uncircumcised, killed by the sword,
because they terrorized the land of the living;
they bear their shame with those who descended to the pit;
they are put among those who were slain.

“Meshekh and Tuval with her horde is there,
her graves are all around them,
all of them uncircumcised, killed by the sword,
because they terrorized the land of the living.

<sup>27</sup> They do not lie with the fallen warriors of the uncircumcised who descended to Sh’ol
with their weapons of war,
their swords laid under their heads,
and their crimes upon their bones;
because these warriors terrorized the land of the living.

<sup>28</sup> But you will lie broken among the uncircumcised,
with those who were killed by the sword.

<sup>29</sup> “There is Edom, her kings and all her princes, who, despite all their power, are laid with those who were killed by the sword, with the uncircumcised,
with those who descended to the pit.

<sup>30</sup> “There are all the princes of the north, all of them, and the Tzidoni, who descended with the slain,
ashamed of all the terror they caused by their power;

they lie uncircumcised with those killed by the sword,
bearing their shame with those who descended to the pit.

<sup>31</sup> “All of these Pharaoh will see,
and he will be consoled about his hordes, Pharaoh and all his army, slain by the sword,”
says Adonai ELOHIM.

<sup>32</sup> “For I have put my terror in the land of the living,
and he will lie among the uncircumcised,
with those killed by the sword, Pharaoh and all his hordes,”
says Adonai ELOHIM.

33 <sup>1</sup> The word of ADONAI came to me: <sup>2</sup> “Human being, speak to your people; say to them, ‘Suppose I bring the sword on a country, and the people of that country take one of their men and appoint him their watchman. <sup>3</sup> Now if, upon seeing the sword coming against that country, he blows the shofar and warns the people; <sup>4</sup> then, if the sword comes and takes away someone who heard the sound of the shofar but paid no attention to it, the responsibility for that person’s death will be his own — <sup>5</sup> he heard the shofar but paid no attention, so the responsibility for his death is his own; whereas if he had paid attention, he would have saved his life. <sup>6</sup> But if the watchman sees the sword coming and does not blow the shofar, so that the people are not warned; and then the sword comes and takes any one of them, that one is indeed taken away in his guilt, but I will hold the watchman responsible for his death.’

warn them for me. <sup>8</sup> When I tell the wicked person, ‘Wicked person, you will certainly die’; and you fail to speak and warn the wicked person to leave his way; then that wicked person will die guilty; and I will hold you responsible for his death. <sup>9</sup> On the other hand, if you warn the wicked to turn from his way, and he doesn’t turn from his way; then he will still die guilty, but you will have saved your own life.

<sup>10</sup> “Therefore, you, human being, say to the house of Isra’el: ‘You say, “Our crimes and sins are weighing us down, we’re pining away because of them, how can we even stay alive?”’ <sup>11</sup> Say to them, ‘As I live,’ swears Adonai ELOHIM, ‘I take no pleasure in having the wicked person die, but in having the wicked person turn from his way and live. So repent! Turn from your evil ways! For why should you die, house of Isra’el?’

<sup>12</sup> “Next, you, human being, say to your people: ‘The righteousness of the righteous person will not save him, once he starts committing crimes; and likewise, the wickedness of the wicked person will not cause him to fall, once he turns from his wickedness. No, the righteous person cannot live by virtue of [his former righteousness], once he starts sinning. <sup>13</sup> So if, after I tell the righteous person that he will surely live, he begins trusting in his own [former] righteousness and starts committing crimes; then none of his [former] righteous actions will be remembered; on the contrary, he will die for the evil deeds he has committed. <sup>14</sup> Likewise, if, after I tell the wicked person, “You must die,” he turns from his sin and does what is lawful and right — <sup>15</sup> if the wicked person restores pledged property and returns what he stole, so that he lives by the laws that give life and does not commit evil deeds; then he will live, he will not die. <sup>16</sup> None of the sins he committed will be remembered against him; he has done what is lawful and right; he will surely live.’

<sup>21</sup> In the twelfth year of our exile, on the fifth day of the tenth month, a fugitive from Yerushalayim came to me with the news, “The city has been struck.” <sup>22</sup> Now the hand of ADONAI had been on me that evening, before the fugitive arrived — he had opened my mouth prior to his coming to me in the morning, so my mouth was open, and I was no longer mute. <sup>23</sup> Then the word of ADONAI came to me: <sup>24</sup> “Human being, those living in the desolate parts of the land of Isra’el are saying, ‘Avraham was only one, and he inherited the land. But we are many, so [how much more] is the land given to us to inherit!’ <sup>25</sup> Therefore, tell them that Adonai ELOHIM says, ‘You eat [flesh] with the blood, you raise your eyes to your idols, and you shed blood — and you still expect to possess the land? <sup>26</sup> You depend on your swords, you commit disgusting practices, and each of you defiles his neighbor’s wife — and you still expect to possess the land?’ <sup>27</sup> Tell them that Adonai ELOHIM swears, ‘As I live, those living in the ruins will fall by the sword, those in the countryside I will give to the wild animals to eat, and those in the fortresses and caves will die of the plague. <sup>28</sup> Moreover, I will utterly desolate the land; it will cease taking pride in its power; and the mountains of Isra’el will be so desolate that no one will pass through.’ <sup>29</sup> Then they will know that I am ADONAI, when I have made the land utterly desolate, because of all the disgusting practices they have committed.

<sup>30</sup> “Now you, human being, your people are gathering and talking about you by the walls and in the doorways of houses. They’re saying to each other, each one telling his brother, ‘Come, let’s go and hear the latest word coming from ADONAI.’ <sup>31</sup> So then they come to you, as people do, sit in front of you as my people, and hear your words; but they don’t act on them. For with their mouths they flatter you, but their hearts are set on their own self-interest; <sup>32</sup> so for them you are like a love-song sung by someone with a nice voice who can play an instrument well — they hear your words, but they don’t act on them. <sup>33</sup> So when all this comes true, then, at last, they will realize that a prophet has been there with them.”

hill; yes, my sheep were scattered all over the land, with no one to search for them or look after them.

<sup>7</sup> “Therefore, shepherds, hear the word of ADONAI: <sup>8</sup> “As I live,” Adonai ELOHIM swears, “because my sheep have become prey, my sheep have become food for every wild animal, since there was no shepherd, since my shepherds didn’t look for my sheep, and instead my shepherds fed themselves but not my sheep,” <sup>9</sup> therefore, shepherds, hear the word of ADONAI! <sup>10</sup>Adonai ELOHIM says, “I am against the shepherds. I demand that they hand my sheep back to me. I will not allow them to feed the sheep, and they won’t feed themselves either. I will rescue my sheep from their mouths; they will be food for them no longer.”

<sup>11</sup> “For here is what Adonai ELOHIM says: “I am taking over! I will search for my sheep and look after them, myself. <sup>12</sup> Just as a shepherd looks after his flock when he finds himself among his scattered sheep, so I will look after my sheep. I will rescue them from all the places where they were scattered when it was cloudy and dark. <sup>13</sup> I will bring them back from those peoples, gather them from those countries and return them to their own land. Then I will let them feed on the mountains of Isra’el, by the streams and in all the livable places of the land. <sup>14</sup> I will have them feed in good pastures; their grazing ground will be on the high mountains of Isra’el. They will rest in good grazing grounds and feed in rich pastures on Isra’el’s mountains. <sup>15</sup>Yes, I will pasture my sheep; and I will let them rest” says Adonai ELOHIM. <sup>16</sup> “I will seek the lost, bring back the outcasts, bandage the broken, and strengthen the sick. But the fat and the strong I will destroy — I will feed them with judgment.”

<sup>17</sup> “‘As for you, my flock,’ Adonai ELOHIM says this: ‘I will judge between sheep and other sheep, between rams and billy-goats. <sup>18</sup> Wasn’t it enough for you to feed on the best pasture and drink from the clearest water? Did you have to trample the rest of the pasture and foul the remaining water with your feet? <sup>19</sup> So now my sheep eat what you have trampled with your feet and drink water fouled by your feet.’ <sup>20</sup>Therefore here is what Adonai ELOHIM says to them: ‘I will judge between the fat sheep and the thin sheep. <sup>21</sup> Because you push them with your flanks and shoulders and butt all the weak ones with your horns, till you scatter them in every direction; <sup>22</sup>therefore I will save my flock; they will no longer be prey; and I will judge between sheep and other sheep.

<sup>23</sup> “I will raise up one shepherd to be in charge of them, and he will let them feed — my servant David. He will pasture them and be their shepherd.
<sup>24</sup> I, ADONAI, will be their God; and my servant David will be prince among them. I, ADONAI, have spoken. <sup>25</sup> I will make a covenant of peace with them; I will rid the land of wild animals; and they will live securely in the desert and sleep in the forests. <sup>26</sup> I will make them and the places around my hill a blessing, and I will cause the rain to fall when it should — there will be showers of blessing. <sup>27</sup> The trees in the field will bear their fruit and the soil its produce, and they will be secure in their land. Then they will know that I am ADONAI, when I break the bars of their yoke and rescue them from the power of those who turned them into slaves. <sup>28</sup> No longer will they be prey for the Goyim, nor will the wild animals devour them; but they will live securely, with no one to make them afraid. <sup>29</sup> I will make the productivity of their crops famous, and they will no longer be consumed by hunger in the land or bear the shame of the Goyim any more. <sup>30</sup> They will know that I, ADONAI their God, am with them, and that they, the house of Isra’el, are my people,’ says Adonai ELOHIM. <sup>31</sup> ‘You, my sheep, the sheep in my pasture, are human beings; and I am your God,’ says Adonai ELOHIM.”

35 <sup>1</sup> The word of ADONAI came to me: <sup>2</sup> “Human being, turn your face against Mount Se‘ir; prophesy against it, <sup>3</sup> and say that Adonai ELOHIM says, ‘I am against you, Mount Se‘ir. I will stretch out my hand against you and make you utterly desolate. <sup>4</sup> I will make your cities ruins and make you an utter waste, and you will know that I am ADONAI. <sup>5</sup> Because of your long-standing hatred, you put the people of Isra’el to the sword at their time of calamity, at the time of final iniquity. <sup>6</sup> Therefore, as I live,’ Adonai ELOHIM swears, ‘I will prepare you for blood. Blood will pursue you. You intensely hate your own blood [relatives]; therefore blood will pursue you. <sup>7</sup> Yes, I will make Mount Se‘ir utterly desolate, cutting off from it anyone passing through or returning. <sup>8</sup> I will fill his mountains with his slain; in your hills and valleys and in all your ravines will fall those slain by the sword. <sup>9</sup> I will turn you into perpetual ruins; your cities will not return; and you will know that I am ADONAI.

<sup>10</sup> “‘Because you say, “These two nations, these two countries, will be mine; we will take possession of them,” even though ADONAI is there; <sup>11</sup> therefore, as I live,’ swears Adonai ELOHIM, ‘I will deal with you as your anger and envy arising from your hatred deserve; and I will make myself known among them when I judge you. <sup>12</sup> You will know that I, ADONAI, have heard all your blasphemous talk against the mountains of Isra'el, such as, "They are desolated, they are given to us to devour." "Moreover, you have boasted against me with your mouths, speaking more and more against me — I have heard it." <sup>14</sup> Here is what Adonai ELOHIM says: "To the joy of all the land, I will desolate you. <sup>15</sup> Since you rejoiced over possessing the house of Isra'el, because it was desolate, that is what I will do to you — you will be desolate, Mount Se'ir and all Edom, all of it. Then they will know that I am ADONAI."

36 <sup>1</sup> "Now you, human being, prophesy to the mountains of Isra'el. Say: 'Mountains of Isra'el, hear the message from ADONAI. <sup>2</sup>Adonai ELOHIM says: "The enemy is boasting over you, 'Ha! Even the ancient high places are ours now!' " ' <sup>3</sup> Therefore prophesy, and say that Adonai ELOHIM says, 'Because they desolated you and swallowed you up from every side, so that the other nations could take possession of you; and now people are gossiping about you and slandering you; <sup>4</sup> therefore, mountains of Isra'el, hear the message of Adonai ELOHIM — this is what Adonai ELOHIM says to the mountains and hills, the streams and valleys, the desolate wastes and the abandoned cities, now preyed on and derided by the other surrounding nations — <sup>5</sup> therefore this is what Adonai ELOHIM says: "In the heat of my jealousy I speak against the other nations and all of Edom, since, rejoicing with all their heart, they have arrogated my land to themselves as a possession and, with utter contempt, seized it as prey."'

<sup>6</sup> "Therefore prophesy concerning the land of Isra'el, and say to the mountains, the hills, the streams and the valleys that Adonai ELOHIM says this: 'I speak in my jealousy and fury, because you have endured being shamed by the nations. <sup>7</sup> Therefore thus says Adonai ELOHIM: "I have raised my hand and sworn that the nations surrounding you will bear their shame. <sup>8</sup> But you, mountains of Isra'el, you will sprout your branches and bear your fruit for my people Isra'el, who will soon return. <sup>9</sup> I am here for you, and I will turn toward you; then you will be tilled and sown; <sup>10</sup> and I will multiply your population, all the house of Isra'el, all of it. The cities will be inhabited and the ruins rebuilt. <sup>11</sup> I will multiply both the human and animal populations, they will increase and be productive; and I will cause you to be inhabited as you were before — indeed, I will do you more good than before; and you will know that I am ADONAI.<sup>12</sup> I will cause people to walk on you, my people Isra'el; they will possess you, and you will be their inheritance; never again will you make them childless.”<sup>13</sup> Adonai ELOHIM says, “Because they say to you, ‘Land, you devour people and make your nations childless,’<sup>14</sup> therefore you will no longer devour people, and you will not make your nations childless any more,” says Adonai ELOHIM.<sup>15</sup> “I will not permit the nations to shame you, or the peoples to reproach you any longer; and you will no more cause your nations to stumble,” says Adonai ELOHIM.’”

<sup>22</sup> “Therefore tell the house of Isra'el that Adonai ELOHIM says this: ‘I am not going to do this for your sake, house of Isra'el, but for the sake of my holy name, which you have been profaning among the nations where you went.<sup>23</sup> I will set apart my great name to be regarded as holy, since it has been profaned in the nations — you profaned it among them. The nations will know that I am ADONAI,’ says Adonai ELOHIM, ‘when, before their eyes, I am set apart through you to be regarded as holy.

gather you from all the countries,

and return you to your own soil.

<sup>25</sup> Then I will sprinkle clean water on you,

and you will be clean;

I will cleanse you from all your uncleanness

and from all your idols.

<sup>26</sup> I will give you a new heart

and put a new spirit inside you;

I will take the stony heart out of your flesh

and give you a heart of flesh.

<sup>27</sup> I will put my Spirit inside you and cause you to live by my laws,

respect my rulings and obey them.

<sup>28</sup> You will live in the land I gave to your ancestors.

You will be my people,

and I will be your God.

<sup>29</sup> I will save you from all your uncleanness.

I will summon the grain and increase it,

and not send famine against you.

<sup>30</sup> I will multiply the yield of fruit from the trees and increase production in the fields,

so that you never again suffer the reproach

of famine among the nations.

<sup>31</sup> Then you will remember your evil ways
and your actions that were not good;
as you look at yourselves, you will loathe yourselves
for your guilt and disgusting practices.

‘that I am not doing this for your sake.
Instead, be ashamed and dismayed for your ways,
house of Isra’el.’

<sup>33</sup> “Adonai ELOHIM says, ‘When the day comes for me to cleanse you from all your guilt, I will cause the cities to be inhabited and the ruins to be rebuilt. <sup>34</sup> The land that was desolate will be tilled, whereas formerly it lay desolate for all passing by to see. <sup>35</sup> Then they will say, “The land that used to be desolate has become like Gan-‘Eden, and the cities formerly ruined, abandoned and wasted have been fortified and are inhabited!” <sup>36</sup> Then the nations around you that remain will know that I, ADONAI, have rebuilt the ruins and replanted what was abandoned. I, ADONAI, have spoken; and I will do it.’

37 <sup>1</sup> With the hand of ADONAI upon me, ADONAI carried me out by his Spirit and set me down in the middle of the valley, and it was full of bones. <sup>2</sup> He had me pass by all around them — there were so many bones lying in the valley, and they were so dry! <sup>3</sup> He asked me, “Human being, can these bones live?” I answered, “Adonai ELOHIM! Only you know that!” <sup>4</sup> Then he said to me, “Prophecy over these bones! Say to them, ‘Dry bones! Hear what ADONAI has to say!’ <sup>5</sup> To these bones Adonai ELOHIM says, ‘I will make breath enter you, and you will live. <sup>6</sup> I will attach ligaments to you, make flesh grow on you, cover you with skin and put breath in you. You will live, and you will know that I am ADONAI.’”

<sup>7</sup> So I prophesied as ordered; and while I was prophesying, there was a noise, a rattling sound; it was the bones coming together, each bone in its proper place. <sup>8</sup> As I watched, ligaments grew on them, flesh appeared and skin covered them; but there was no breath in them. <sup>9</sup> Next he said to me, “Prophecy to the breath! Prophecy, human being! Say to the breath that Adonai ELOHIM says, ‘Come from the four winds, breath; and breathe on these slain, so that they can live.’”

<sup>10</sup> So I prophesied as ordered, and the breath came into them, and they were alive! They stood up on their feet, a huge army! <sup>11</sup> Then he said to me, “Human being! These bones are the whole house of Isra’el; and they are saying, ‘Our bones have dried up, our hope is gone, and we are completely cut off.’ <sup>12</sup> Therefore prophecy; say to them that Adonai ELOHIM says, ‘My people! I will open your graves and make you get up out of your graves, and I will bring you into the land of Isra’el. <sup>13</sup> Then you will know that I am ADONAI — when I have opened your graves and made you get up out of your graves, my people! <sup>14</sup> I will put my Spirit in you; and you will be alive. Then I will place you in your own land; and you will know that I, ADONAI, have spoken, and that I have done it,’ says ADONAI.’”

<sup>15</sup> The word of ADONAI came to me: <sup>16</sup> “You, human being, take one stick and write on it, ‘For Y’hudah and those joined with him [among] the people of Isra’el.’ Next, take another stick and write on it, ‘For Yosef, the stick of Efrayim, and all the house of Isra’el who are joined with him.’ <sup>17</sup> Finally, bring them together into a single stick, so that they become one in your hand. <sup>18</sup> When your people ask you what all this means, <sup>19</sup> tell them that Adonai ELOHIM says this: ‘I will take the stick of Yosef, which is in the hand of Efrayim, together with the tribes of Isra’el who are joined with him, and put them together with the stick of Y’hudah and make them a single stick, so that they become one in my hand.’ <sup>20</sup> The sticks on which you write are to be in your hand as they watch. <sup>21</sup> Then say to them that Adonai ELOHIM says: ‘I will take the people of Isra’el from among the nations where they have gone and gather them from every side and bring them back to their own land. <sup>22</sup> I will make them one nation in the land, on the mountains of Isra'el; and one king will be king for all of them. They will no longer be two nations, and they will never again be divided into two kingdoms.

<sup>23</sup> ““They will never again defile themselves with their idols, their detestable things, or any of their transgressions; but I will save them from all the places where they have been living and sinning; and I will cleanse them, so that they will be my people, and I will be their God. <sup>24</sup> My servant David will be king over them, and all of them will have one shepherd; they will live by my rulings and keep and observe my regulations. <sup>25</sup> They will live in the land I gave to Ya'akov my servant, where your ancestors lived; they will live there — they, their children, and their grandchildren, forever; and David my servant will be their leader forever. <sup>26</sup> I will make a covenant of peace with them, an everlasting covenant. I will give to them, increase their numbers, and set my sanctuary among them forever. <sup>27</sup> My home will be with them; I will be their God, and they will be my people. <sup>28</sup> The nations will know that I am ADONAI, who sets Isra'el apart as holy, when my sanctuary is with them forever.””

<sup>10</sup> “Adonai ELOHIM says: ‘When that day comes, thoughts will well up in your mind, and you will devise a sinister scheme. <sup>11</sup> You will say, “I am going to invade this land of unwalled villages; I will take by surprise these people who are at peace, living securely, all in places without walls, bars or gates. <sup>12</sup> I will seize the spoil and take the plunder.” You will attack the former ruins that are now inhabited and come against the people gathered from the nations, who have acquired livestock and other wealth and are living in the central parts of the land. <sup>13</sup> Sh’va, D’dan and all the leading merchants of Tarshish will ask you, “Have you come to seize spoil? Have you assembled your hordes to loot; to carry off silver, gold, livestock and other wealth; to take much plunder?”’”

<sup>14</sup> “Therefore, human being, prophesy! Tell Gog that Adonai ELOHIM says this: ‘Won’t you be aware of it when my people Isra’el are living in security? <sup>15</sup> You will choose just that time to come from your place in the far reaches of the north, you and many peoples with you, all of them on horseback, a huge horde, a mighty army; <sup>16</sup> and you will invade my people Isra’el like a cloud covering the land. This will be in the acharit-hayamim; and I will bring you against my land, so that the Goyim will know me when, before their eyes, I am set apart as holy through you, Gog.’

<sup>17</sup> “Adonai ELOHIM says: ‘I spoke of you long ago through my servants the prophets of Isra’el. Back then, they prophesied for many years that I would have you invade them. <sup>18</sup> When that day comes, when Gog invades the land of Isra’el,’ says Adonai ELOHIM, ‘my furious anger will boil up. <sup>19</sup> In my jealousy, in my heated fury I speak: when that day comes there will be a great earthquake in the land of Isra’el; <sup>20</sup> so that the fish in the sea, the birds in the air, the wild beasts, all the reptiles creeping on the ground and every human being there in the land will tremble before me. Mountains will fall, cliffs crumble and every wall crash to the ground. <sup>21</sup> I will summon a sword against him throughout all my mountains,’ says Adonai ELOHIM; ‘every man will wield his sword against his brother. <sup>22</sup> I will judge him with plague and with blood. I will cause torrential rain to fall on him, his troops and the many peoples with him, along with huge hailstones, fire and sulfur. <sup>23</sup> I will show my greatness and holiness, making myself known in the sight of many nations; then they will know that I am ADONAI.’

<sup>6</sup> “‘I will also send fire against Magog and against those living securely in the coastlands; then they will know that I am ADONAI. <sup>7</sup> I will make my holy name known among my people Isra’el; I will not allow my holy name to be profaned any longer. Then the Goyim will know that I am ADONAI, the Holy One in Isra’el. <sup>8</sup> Yes, this is coming, and it will be done,’ says Adonai ELOHIM; ‘this is the day about which I have spoken.

<sup>9</sup> “‘Those living in Isra’el’s cities will go out and set fire to the weapons, to use as fuel — the shields, breastplates, bows, arrows, clubs and spears; they will use them for fire seven years; <sup>10</sup> so that they will not need to gather wood from the fields or cut down any from the forests; because they will use the weapons for fire. Thus they will plunder those who plundered them and rob those who robbed them,’ says Adonai ELOHIM.

<sup>11</sup> “‘When that day comes, I will give Gog a place there in Isra’el for graves, the Travelers’ Valley, east of the sea; and it will block the travelers’ passage. There they will bury Gog and all his horde, and they will rename it the Valley of Hamon-Gog [horde of Gog]. <sup>12</sup> It will take the house of Isra’el seven months to bury them, in order to cleanse the land. <sup>13</sup> Yes, all the people of the land will be burying them; they will become famous for it. It will be a day for me to be glorified,’ says Adonai ELOHIM. <sup>14</sup> ‘They will then pick men for the continual duty of going through the land and burying with the travelers the corpses still lying out on the ground, in order to cleanse it; they will begin their search after the seven months. <sup>15</sup> As they go through the land, if anyone sees a human bone, he will put a marker next to it until the gravediggers have buried it in the Valley of Hamon-Gog. <sup>16</sup> Moreover, “Hamonah” [its horde] will be the name of a city. Thus will they cleanse the land.’

and come, gather yourselves from all around for the sacrifice I am preparing for you, a great sacrifice on the mountains of Isra'el, where you can eat flesh and drink blood! <sup>18</sup> You will eat the flesh of heroes and drink the blood of the earth's princes — rams, lambs, goats and bulls, fattened in Bashan, all of them. <sup>19</sup> You will eat fat till you are gorged and drink blood till you are drunk at the sacrifice I have prepared for you. <sup>20</sup> At my table you will be satiated with horses, horsemen, heroes and every kind of warrior,' says Adonai ELOHIM.

<sup>21</sup> “‘Thus will I display my glory among the nations, so that all the nations will see my judgment when I execute it and my hand when I lay it on them. <sup>22</sup> From that day on, the house of Isra'el will know that I am ADONAI their God; <sup>23</sup> while the Goyim will know that the house of Isra'el went into exile because of their guilt, because they broke faith with me; so that I hid my face from them and handed them over to their adversaries; and they fell by the sword, all of them. <sup>24</sup> Yes, I treated them as their uncleanness and crimes deserved; and I hid my face from them.’

<sup>25</sup> “‘Therefore Adonai ELOHIM says this: ‘Now I will restore the fortunes of Ya'akov and have compassion on the entire house of Isra'el, and I will be jealous for my holy name. <sup>26</sup> They will bear their shame and all their [guilt from] breaking faith with me, once they are living securely in their land, with no one to make them afraid. <sup>27</sup> This will be after I have brought them back from the peoples and gathered them out of their enemies' lands, thereby being consecrated through them in the sight of many nations. <sup>28</sup> Then they will know that I am ADONAI their God, since it was I who caused them to go into exile among the nations, and it was I who regathered them to their own land. I will leave none of them there any more, <sup>29</sup> and I will no longer hide my face from them, for I have poured out my Spirit on the house of Isra'el,’ says Adonai ELOHIM.”

40 <sup>1</sup> In the twenty-fifth year of our exile, at the beginning of the year, on the tenth day of the month — this was the fourteenth year after the city [of Yerushalayim] was struck — it was on that very day that the hand of ADONAI was on me, and he took me there. <sup>2</sup> In visions God brought me into the land of Isra'el and put me down on a very high mountain; on it, toward the south, it seemed that a city was being built. <sup>3</sup> That is where he took me, and there in front of me was a man whose appearance was like bronze. He had a flax cord and a measuring rod in his hand, and he stood in the gateway. <sup>4</sup> The man said to me, “Human being, look with your eyes, hear with your ears, and pay attention to all the things I am showing you; because the reason you were brought here is so that I could show them to you. Tell everything you see to the house of Isra’el.”

<sup>5</sup> There was a wall surrounding the house. The man had in his hand a measuring rod six cubits long [ten-and-a-half feet], each cubit [twenty-one inches] being a normal cubit [eighteen inches] plus a handbreadth [three inches]. He measured the wall’s width at ten-and-a-half feet and its height ten-and-a-half feet. <sup>6</sup> He went to the east gate, climbed its steps and measured one of the gate’s doorposts at ten-and-a-half feet wide and the other one the same. <sup>7</sup> There were guardrooms, each ten-and-a-half feet square; the distance between the guardrooms was eight-and-three-quarters feet. The threshold of the gate adjoining the gate’s entranceway facing the house measured ten-and-a-half feet. <sup>8</sup> He measured the gate’s entranceway facing the house at ten-and-a-half feet. <sup>9</sup> Then he measured the gate’s entranceway itself, fourteen feet, and its supports, three-and-a-half feet; the gate’s entranceway was on the side facing the house. <sup>10</sup> There were three guardrooms on each side of the east gate, all the same size; and on each side the supports [between the guardrooms] were also all the same size. <sup>11</sup> He measured the width of the opening to the gateway at seventeen-and-a-half feet and the width of the passage through the gateway at twenty-two-and-three-quarters feet. <sup>12</sup> There was a partition in front of the guardrooms [on one side] twenty-one inches [wide] and a partition on the other side twenty-one inches [wide], with the guardrooms themselves being ten-and-a-half feet square. <sup>13</sup> He measured [inside] the gate from the back wall of one guardroom to the back wall of the other a distance of forty-three-and-three-quarters feet, the openings [to the guardrooms] being opposite each other. <sup>14</sup> He made the posts 105 feet, likewise the posts of the other gates around the courtyard. <sup>15</sup> The distance along the passage from the outer opening of the gateway to the far side of the entranceway at the inner end of the gateway was eighty-seven-and-a-half feet. <sup>16</sup> There were narrow windows to the guardrooms and to their supports facing inward all along the gate; also the vestibules had windows all around facing inward. On each side support were [carvings of] palm trees.

<sup>17</sup> Then he brought me into the outer courtyard. There I saw rooms and paved mosaic flooring made for the courtyard all around its perimeter, and thirty rooms facing the flooring.<sup>18</sup> The flooring was alongside the gates and corresponded to the length of the gates [from outside to inside], this lower flooring.<sup>19</sup> He measured at 175 feet the distance from inside this lower gate that faced east to the outside of the inner courtyard, and he did the same for the gate that faced north.

<sup>20</sup> Next he measured the length and width of the outer courtyard gate that faced north.<sup>21</sup> It had three guardrooms on each side, and its supports and vestibule were the same size as those at the first gate; its length was eighty-seven-and-a-half feet and its width forty-three-and-three-quarters feet.<sup>22</sup> Its windows, vestibule and palm trees were the same size as those at the east gate. Seven steps led up to it [from the outside], while its vestibule was toward the inside.

<sup>24</sup> He led me toward the south, and there I saw a gate that faced south. He measured its supports and vestibule; they were the same size as the others.<sup>25</sup> There were windows in it and all around its vestibule like the other windows; the length was eighty-seven-and-a-half feet and the width forty-three-and-three-quarters feet.<sup>26</sup> Seven steps led up to it [from the outside], while its vestibule was toward the inside. It had palm trees, one on each side, on its supports.<sup>27</sup> The inner courtyard had a gate on the south; he measured from gate to gate toward the south 175 feet.

<sup>28</sup> He brought me to the inner courtyard through its south gate. He measured this south gate as being the same size; <sup>29</sup> its guardrooms, supports and vestibule were the same size; it had windows and a vestibule surrounding it; it was eighty-seven-and-a-half feet long and forty-three-and-three-quarters feet wide.<sup>30</sup> There was a vestibule around it forty-three-and-three-quarters feet long and eight-and-three-quarters feet wide; <sup>31</sup> this vestibule faced the outer courtyard, palm trees were on its supports, and it had eight steps leading up to it.

<sup>32</sup> He brought me into the inner courtyard, went toward the east and measured that gate as being the same size; <sup>33</sup> its guardrooms, supports and vestibule were the same size; it had windows and a vestibule surrounding it; it was eighty-seven-and-a-half feet long and forty-three-and-three-quarters feet wide.<sup>34</sup> Its vestibule faced the outer courtyard, palm trees were on its supports, both on the one side and on the other; and it had eight steps leading up to it.

<sup>38</sup> There was a room with its entry by the supports at the gates where the burnt offerings were washed. <sup>39</sup> In the entranceway to the gate were two tables on the one side and two on the other, on which to slaughter the burnt offerings, sin offerings and guilt offerings. <sup>40</sup> On the outside, as one goes up to the entry of the north gate, were two tables; and on the other side of the entranceway to the gate were two tables. <sup>41</sup> So there were four tables on the one side and four on the other side, by the gate — eight tables on which to slaughter sacrifices. <sup>42</sup> There were four tables of cut stone for the burnt offering, thirty-one-and-a-half inches square and twenty-one inches high, on which to lay the instruments for slaughtering the burnt offerings and other sacrifices. <sup>43</sup> Hooks a handbreadth long were fastened all around the inside of the room; the flesh of the offerings was to be placed on the tables.

<sup>48</sup> He brought me to the vestibule of the house and measured at eight-and-three-quarters feet the thickness of the walls on either side of its entrance. On each side, these walls extended five-and-a-quarter feet from the side-walls of the vestibule. <sup>49</sup> The length of the vestibule was thirty-five feet and the width nineteen-and-a-quarter feet; steps led up to it. There were columns on each side of the entrance.

<sup>3</sup> Next, he went farther in [to the entranceway leading to the Especially Holy Place] and measured at three-and-a-half feet [the thickness of] each entrance support. He measured at ten-and-a-half feet the total thickness of the walls on either side of the entrance; and he measured at twelve-and-a-quarter feet the width of the entrance. <sup>4</sup> [Continuing into the inner room,] he said to me, “This is the Especially Holy Place.” He measured its length at thirty-five feet and its width at thirty-five feet along the wall nearest the sanctuary.

<sup>5</sup> [On his way out,] he measured the thickness of the wall of the house at ten-and-a-half feet [at ground level], and the width of all the side-rooms surrounding the house, seven feet [at ground level]. <sup>6</sup> There were three floors of side-rooms, thirty on each floor; and the wall around the house was terraced, so that the side-rooms rested on the terraces and were not supported on [the vertical parts of] the wall. <sup>7</sup> The higher side-rooms surrounding the house were wider than the lower ones, as were the passageways next to the side-rooms on each floor; thus the width of the side-rooms plus that of the passageways increased as one went up from floor to floor. The ascent from the lowest floor to the highest was [by a ramp] through the middle floor.

<sup>9</sup> The outer wall of the side-rooms was eight-and-three-quarters feet thick [at ground level], likewise the empty space left [between] the structure containing the side-rooms [and the house itself also measured eight-and-three quarters feet wide]. <sup>10</sup> On all sides around the house itself was a space thirty-five feet wide between it and the [block of] rooms [for the cohanim].

The sanctuary, the inner place and the vestibules [leading from the house] to the courtyard, <sup>16</sup> as well as the thresholds, narrow windows and galleries around these three, had wood panelling around them as far as the thresholds and from the ground up to the windows; and the windows were covered. <sup>17</sup> From the area above the entrance to the interior of the house, as well as outside, and on the entire wall all the way around, both inside and outside, was a pattern <sup>18</sup> consisting of k'ruvim and palm trees, with a palm tree between every two k'ruvim. Every keruv had two faces; <sup>19</sup> so that there was the face of a man toward the palm tree on its one side and the face of a young lion toward the palm tree on its other side — this was the pattern all the way around the house. <sup>20</sup> The k'ruvim and palm trees ran from the ground to above the door, and likewise on the wall of the sanctuary. <sup>21</sup> As for the sanctuary, the doorframes were squared, and the appearance of the [Especially] Holy Place was like the appearance [I saw at the K'var River]. <sup>22</sup> The altar was of wood, five-and-a-quarter feet high and three-and-a-half feet long; its length and walls were also of wood. He said to me, “This is the table which is in the presence of ADONAI.”

42 <sup>1</sup> Then he led me into the outer courtyard — the route went north — and brought me to the [block of] rooms opposite the separated yard and opposite the building to the north. <sup>2</sup> The length of the front was 175 feet on the north side, where the door was; the width was eighty-seven-and-a-half feet. <sup>3</sup> It was located between the inner courtyard, which was thirty-five feet wide, and the flooring of the outer courtyard. It had galleries, one above the other, on three floors. <sup>4</sup> In front of the [block of] rooms was a walkway seventeen-and-a-half feet wide and a path twenty-one inches [wide]; their doors faced north.

<sup>10</sup> In the width of the courtyard wall on the east, facing the separated yard and facing the building, there were rooms, <sup>11</sup> with a passageway in front of them, similar to the rooms on the north. They were the same length and width and had similarly made exits and entrances.

<sup>13</sup> Then he said to me, "The north and south [blocks of] rooms in front of the separated yard are the holy rooms where the cohanim who approach ADONAI will eat the especially holy things. This is where they will put the especially holy things — the grain offerings, sin offerings and guilt offerings; for the place is holy. <sup>14</sup> When the cohanim come, they will not go out of the [Especially] Holy Place into the outer courtyard; rather, they will leave [in these rooms] the clothes they use when ministering, because they are holy. They will put on other clothes and only then approach the areas permitted to the people."

<sup>5</sup> Next, a spirit took me up and brought me into the inner courtyard, and I saw ADONAI's glory fill the house. <sup>6</sup> I heard someone speaking to me from the house, and a man was standing by me. <sup>7</sup> He said, "Human being, this is the place for my throne, the place for the soles of my feet, where I will live among the people of Isra'el forever. The house of Isra'el, both they and their kings, will never again defile my holy name by their prostitution, by [burying] the corpses of their kings [on] their high places, <sup>8</sup>or by placing their threshold next to my threshold and their door-frames next to my door-frames, with only a common wall between me and them. Yes, they defiled my holy name by the disgusting practices they committed; which is why I destroyed them in my anger. <sup>9</sup> So now, they should put their prostitution at a distance and the corpses of their kings far away from me; then I will live among them forever.

<sup>10</sup> "You, human being, describe this house to the house of Isra'el, so that they will be ashamed of their crimes. And let them measure accurately. <sup>11</sup> If they become ashamed of all they have done, show them the elevation and plan of the house, its exits and entrances, all its details and decorations, and all its specifications, its design and its Torah. Sketch it for them to see, so that they can observe the entire design with its specifications, and carry them out. <sup>12</sup> This is Torah for the house: the whole surrounding area on the mountaintop will be especially holy. This is Torah for the house.”

<sup>18</sup> He said to me, “Human being, Adonai ELOHIM says, ‘These are the regulations for the altar when the time comes to construct it, offer burnt offerings on it and splash the blood against it: <sup>19</sup> you are to give to the cohanim, who are L’vi’im descended from Tzadok and who approach to serve me,’ says Adonai ELOHIM, ‘a young bull as a sin offering. <sup>20</sup> You are to take its blood and put it on the four horns of the altar, on the four corners of the ledge and on the molding all the way around; this is how you will purify it and make atonement for it. <sup>21</sup> You are also to take the bull which is the sin offering and have it burned up at the designated place [on the grounds] of the house, outside the sanctuary. <sup>22</sup> On the second day you are to offer a male goat without defect as a sin offering, and they are to purify the altar as they purified it with the bull. <sup>23</sup> When you have finished purifying it, you are to offer a young bull without defect and a ram from the flock without defect. <sup>24</sup> You are to present them before ADONAI, and the cohanim will throw salt on them and offer them as a burnt offering to ADONAI. <sup>25</sup> Every day, for seven days, you are to prepare a goat as a sin offering; they are also to prepare a young bull and a ram from the flock without defect. <sup>26</sup> For seven days, they are to make atonement for the altar and cleanse it; in this way they are to consecrate it. <sup>27</sup> When these days are over, then, on the eighth day and afterwards, the cohanim will present your burnt offerings on the altar and your peace offerings; and I will accept you,’ says Adonai ELOHIM.”

44 <sup>1</sup> Then he brought me back by way of the outer gate of the sanctuary, the one facing east; and it was shut. <sup>2</sup> ADONAI said to me, “This gate will remain shut; it will not be opened, and no one will go through it; because ADONAI, the God of Isra’el, has gone through it. Therefore, it is to be kept shut. <sup>3</sup> Only the prince, since he is a prince, is to sit there to eat his meal before ADONAI; he is to enter through the vestibule of the gate and leave the same way.”

<sup>4</sup> Then he brought me through the north gate to the front of the house. I looked, saw ADONAI’s glory filling the house of ADONAI, and fell on my face. <sup>5</sup> ADONAI said to me, “Human being, pay attention; see with your eyes and hear with your ears everything I tell you about all the regulations of ADONAI’s house and about all its Torah; pay attention to who can enter the house and who must be excluded from the sanctuary. <sup>6</sup> You are to tell the rebels, the house of Isra’el, that this is what Adonai ELOHIM says: ‘House of Isra’el, enough of all your disgusting practices! <sup>7</sup> You brought in foreigners, uncircumcised in both heart and flesh, to be in my sanctuary and profane it — yes, my house — when you offered my food, the fat and the blood; thus in addition to all your disgusting practices, they broke my covenant. <sup>8</sup> Instead of taking care of my holy things yourselves, you have put these people in charge of my sanctuary.’ <sup>9</sup> Here is what Adonai ELOHIM says: ‘No foreigner, uncircumcised in both heart and flesh, is to enter my sanctuary — no foreigner living among the people of Isra’el.

<sup>10</sup> “‘Rather, the L’vi’im, who went far away from me when Isra’el went astray, going astray after their idols — they will bear the consequences of their guilt, <sup>11</sup> but they are to serve in my sanctuary. They will have charge of the gates of the house and of serving in the house; they will slaughter the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people; and they will attend and serve them. <sup>12</sup> Because they served them in the presence of their idols and became an occasion of sin for the house of Isra’el, I am raising my hand against them,’ says Adonai ELOHIM, ‘and they will bear the consequences of their guilt. <sup>13</sup> They will not approach me to serve me in the office of cohen or approach any of the holy things or the especially holy things; but they will bear their shame for the disgusting practices they committed. <sup>14</sup> Yet I will put them in charge of the house and all its maintenance and everything to be done in it.

<sup>15</sup> “‘However, the cohanim, who are L’vi’im and descendants of Tzadok, who took care of my sanctuary when the people of Isra’el went astray from me — they are the ones who will approach me and serve me; it is they who will attend me and offer me the fat and the blood,’ says Adonai ELOHIM.<sup>16</sup> ‘They will enter my sanctuary, approach my table to minister to me and perform my service.

<sup>23</sup> “‘They are to teach my people the difference between holy and common and enable them to distinguish between clean and unclean. <sup>24</sup> They are to be judges in controversies, and they are to render decisions in keeping with my rulings. At all my designated festivals they are to keep my laws and regulations, and they are to keep my shabbats holy. <sup>25</sup> They are not to come to any dead person, because this would make them unclean; however, for father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister who has had no husband they may make themselves unclean. <sup>26</sup> After a cohen has been purified, he is to wait seven days. <sup>27</sup> Then, on the day he enters the sanctuary, when he goes into the inner courtyard to minister in the sanctuary, he is to offer his sin offering,’ says Adonai ELOHIM.

45 <sup>1</sup> “‘When you divide the land by lot for inheritance, you are to set aside an offering for ADONAI, a holy portion of the land. Its length is to be 25,000 [cubits, that is, eight miles] and its width 10,000 [three miles]; this entire region is to be holy. <sup>2</sup> Of this there is to be reserved for the holy place an area 875 [feet] square, with eighty-seven-and-a-half feet for open land around it. <sup>3</sup> Alongside this region you are to measure a length of eight [miles] and a width of three [miles]; in it is to be the sanctuary, which will be especially holy. <sup>4</sup> It is a holy portion of the land; it is for the cohanim who serve in the sanctuary, who approach to minister to ADONAI; there will be a place for their houses and a place set aside for the sanctuary. <sup>5</sup> A portion eight by three [miles] will be owned by the L’vi’im who serve in the house; it will also have twenty [gatekeepers’] rooms. <sup>6</sup> You are to give the city possession of an area, alongside the offering of the holy portion, one-and-a-half by eight [miles]; it will be for the whole house of Isra’el.

<sup>7</sup> “‘The prince is to have the territory on both sides of the holy offering and the city’s holding; it will extend westward to the western border of the land and eastward to its eastern border; and the length [from the far side of one] of its two parts [to the far side of the other] will be the same as the length of one of the [tribal] portions. <sup>8</sup> His possession in Isra’el will be limited to this, and henceforth my princes will not wrong my people but will give the land to the house of Isra’el according to their tribes.’ <sup>9</sup> Adonai ELOHIM says this: ‘Princes of Isra’el, that should be enough for you! Get rid of violence and looting, do what is right and just, and stop evicting my people from their land!’ says Adonai ELOHIM.

offerings, burnt offerings and peace offerings, to make atonement for them,’ says Adonai ELOHIM.<sup>16</sup> ‘All the people in the land are to present this offering to the prince in Isra’el.<sup>17</sup> The prince’s obligation will be to present the burnt offerings, grain offerings and drink offerings at the feasts, on Rosh-Hodesh, and on Shabbat — at all the designated times of the house of Isra’el. He is to prepare the sin offerings, grain offerings, burnt offerings and peace offerings to make atonement for the house of Isra’el.’

<sup>21</sup> “‘On the fourteenth day of the first month you are to have the Pesach, a feast seven days long; matzah will be eaten.<sup>22</sup> On that day the prince will provide, for himself and for all the people of the land, a young bull as a sin offering.<sup>23</sup> On the seven days of the feast he is to provide a burnt offering for ADONAI, seven young bulls and seven rams without defect daily for the seven days, and a male goat daily as a sin offering.<sup>24</sup> He is to provide as a grain offering a bushel [of grain] for a young bull and a bushel for a ram, and for each bushel [of grain] a gallon of olive oil.

<sup>12</sup> “‘When the prince provides a voluntary offering, whether it is a burnt offering or peace offerings that he offers voluntarily to ADONAI, someone is to open the east gate for him; and he is to provide his burnt offering and peace offerings as he does on Shabbat. Then he will leave; and after he leaves, the gate is to be shut.

an inheritance out of his own property, so that none of my people will be driven off their property.’”

<sup>19</sup> Next, he brought me through the entry at the side of the gate into the holy rooms facing north that were for the cohanim. At their far west end I saw a place <sup>20</sup> about which he said to me, “This is the place where the cohanim will boil the guilt offerings and sin offerings and bake the grain offerings. In this way they won’t have to bring them into the outer courtyard and risk transmitting holiness to the people.” <sup>21</sup> He took me into the outer courtyard and had me pass by the four corners of the courtyard, and there in each corner of the courtyard was another courtyard — <sup>22</sup> in the four corners of the courtyard were enclosed courtyards seventy feet long and fifty-two-and-a-half feet wide; the four courtyards in the corners were the same size. <sup>23</sup> There was a wall around each of the four, with open stoves all around the bases of the walls. <sup>24</sup> He said to me, “These are the stoves where those serving in the house will boil the people’s sacrifices.”

there will be a vast number of fish; for this water is flowing there, so that, wherever the river goes, everything will be restored and able to live. <sup>10</sup> Then fishermen will stand on its shores spreading their nets all the way from 'Ein-Gedi to 'Ein-'Eglayim. There will be as many kinds of fish there as in the Great Sea, [the Mediterranean,] a great variety. <sup>11</sup> However, its mud flats and marshes will not become fresh but will remain salty. <sup>12</sup> On both riverbanks will grow all kinds of trees for food; their leaves will not dry up, nor will their fruit fail. There will be a different kind of fruit each month, because the water flows from the sanctuary, so that this fruit will be edible, and the leaves will have healing properties.”

<sup>13</sup> “Adonai ELOHIM says this: ‘These are the borders of the land you are to distribute for inheritance by the twelve tribes of Isra’el, with Yosef receiving two portions. <sup>14</sup> For inheritance you will each have equal shares. I swore to your ancestors that I would give them this land, and now it falls to you to inherit it.

<sup>19</sup> “‘On the side of the Negev toward the south it will be from Tamar as far as the waters of M’rivot-Kadesh, then to the Vadi [of Egypt] and on to the Great Sea. This is the south side toward the Negev.

<sup>21</sup> “‘This is the territory you are to divide among the tribes of Isra’el. <sup>22</sup> You are to divide it by lot as an inheritance both to you and to the foreigners living among you who give birth to children living among you; for you they are to be no different from the native-born among the people of Isra’el — they are to have an inheritance with you among the tribes of Isra’el. <sup>23</sup> You are to give the foreigner an inheritance in the territory of the tribe with whom he is living,’ says Adonai ELOHIM.

48<sup>1</sup> “Following is the list of tribes:

<sup>8</sup> “Alongside the territory of Y’hudah, from east to west, will be the offering you are to set aside, 25,000 [cubits] wide [eight miles], and in length equal to distance between the east and west boundaries of one of the portions, with the sanctuary inside it. <sup>9</sup> The offering you are to set aside for ADONAI is to be eight [miles] long and three wide. <sup>10</sup> This holy offering will be for the cohanim; it will be eight [miles] in length along its north and south sides and three in width along its west and east sides; ADONAI’s sanctuary will be inside it. <sup>11</sup> The portion set aside as holy will be for the cohanim who are descendants of Tzadok that remained faithful to my commission and did not go astray when the people of Isra’el and the L’vi’im went astray. <sup>12</sup> It is to be an especially holy portion set apart for them and taken from the offering of the land, next to the border of the L’vi’im.

<sup>13</sup> “Alongside the territory for the cohanim, the L’vi’im are to have a portion eight [miles] long and three wide — its total length will be eight and its width three. <sup>14</sup> They may not sell, exchange or alienate any of this choice land; because it is holy, for ADONAI.

<sup>15</sup> “The 5,000 [cubits, that is, the one-and-a-half miles] that are left of the width is to be for the common use of the city, for housing and for open fields. The city will be inside it. <sup>16</sup> and will measure 4,500 cubits [just under one-and-a-half miles] along each of its sides — north, south, east and west.<sup>17</sup> The city is to have outside it a border of land 440 feet wide on each side — north, south, east and west.<sup>18</sup> A strip next to the holy offering extending three [miles] to the east and three to the west is to be left. This area by the holy offering is to be used to grow food for those serving the city.<sup>19</sup> The people from all the tribes of Isra'el who serve in the city will farm it.<sup>20</sup> The entire offering will be eight [miles] square, including the section for the city.

<sup>21</sup> “‘What remains will be for the prince — the land on the two sides of the holy offering and section for the city, that is, the portion eastward from the eight [miles] of the offering’s eastern border to the land’s eastern border and the portion westward from the eight [miles] of the offering’s western border to the land’s western border — this land adjacent to the [tribal] portions will be for the prince, with the holy offering and the sanctuary of the house inside it.<sup>22</sup> Thus the land belonging to the L’vi’im and the section for the city will be inside that which belongs to the prince.

“‘The territory belonging to the prince will be between the territory of Y’hudah and the territory of Binyamin —<sup>23</sup> which brings us to the rest of the tribes:

<sup>28</sup> “‘Alongside the territory of Gad, from the Negev southward, the border will run from Tamar to the water at M’rivat-Kadesh, then to the Vadi [of Egypt], and onto the Great Sea.<sup>29</sup> This is the land you are to distribute by lot to the tribes of Isra’el for inheritance, and these are their portions,’ says Adonai ELOHIM.

<sup>30-34</sup> “‘These are the city exits; they are to be named after the tribes of Isra’el, three gates on each of the four sides; the four sides each measure just under one-and-a-half [miles]: on the north, gates named after Re’uven, Y’hudah and Levi; on the east, gates named after Yosef, Binyamin and Dan;

on the south, gates named after Shim'on, Yissakhar and Z'vulun; and on the west, gates named after Gad, Asher and Naftali.

<sup>35</sup> “The perimeter of [the city] will be just under six [miles] long. And from that day on the name of the city will be ADONAI Shamah [ADONAI is there].”

Hoshea

HOSEA

1 <sup>1</sup> This is the word of ADONAI that came to Hoshea the son of Be'eri during the reigns of 'Uziah, Yotam, Achaz and Y'chizkiyah, kings of Y'hudah, and during the reign of Yarov'am the son of Yo'ash, king of Isra'el. <sup>2</sup> ADONAI's opening words in speaking to Hoshea were to instruct Hoshea, “Go, marry a whore,

and have children with this whore;
for the land is engaged in flagrant whoring,
whoring away from ADONAI.”

<sup>3</sup> So he went and married Gomer the daughter of Divlayim, and she conceived and bore him a son. <sup>4</sup> ADONAI said to him, “Call him Yizre'el, because in only a short time I will punish the house of Yehu for having shed blood at Yizre'el; I will put an end to the kingdom of the house of Isra'el. <sup>5</sup> When that day comes, I will break the bow of Isra'el in the Yizre'el Valley.”

<sup>6</sup> She conceived again and bore a daughter. ADONAI said to him, “Name her Lo-Ruchamah [unpitied], for I will no longer have pity on the house of Isra'el. By no means will I forgive them. <sup>7</sup> But I will pity the house of Y'hudah; I will save them not by bow, sword, battle, horses or cavalry, but by ADONAI their God.”

<sup>8</sup> After weaning Lo-Ruchamah, she conceived and bore a son. <sup>9</sup> ADONAI said, “Name him Lo-'Ammi [not-my-people], because you are not my people, and I will not be your [God].

2 <sup>1(1:10)</sup> “Nevertheless, the people of Isra'el will number as many as the grains of sand by the sea, which cannot be measured or counted; so that the time will come when, instead of being told, ‘You are not my people,’ it will be said to them, ‘You are the children of the living God.’ <sup>2(1:11)</sup> Then the people of Y'hudah and the people of Isra'el will be gathered together; they will appoint for themselves one leader; and they will go up out of the land; for that will be a great day, [the day] of Yizre‘el.

and to your sisters, ‘Ruchamah [Pitied]!’

for she isn’t my wife, and I’m not her husband.

She must remove her whoring from her face,

and her adulteries from between her breasts.

<sup>5(3)</sup> Otherwise, I will strip her naked

and place her as she was the day she was born,

make her like a desert, place her like a dry land and kill her with thirst.

<sup>6(4)</sup> I will have no pity on her children,

for they are children of whoring —

she who conceived them behaved shamelessly;

she said, ‘I will pursue my lovers,

who give me my food and water,

wool, flax, olive oil and wine.’

<sup>8(6)</sup>

Therefore, I will block her way with thorns and put up a hedge so she can't find her paths.

<sup>9(7)</sup> She will pursue her lovers but not catch them.

She will seek them but won't find them.

Then she will say, 'I will go
and return to my first husband;
because things were better for me then than they are now.'

<sup>10(8)</sup> For she doesn't know it was I who gave her the grain, the wine and the oil;

I who increased her silver and gold,
which they used for Ba'al.

<sup>11(9)</sup> So I will take back my grain at harvest-time and my wine in its season;

I will snatch away my wool and flax,
given to cover her naked body.

<sup>12(10)</sup> Now I will uncover her shame,

while her lovers watch;

and no one will save her from me.

<sup>13(11)</sup>

I will end her happiness,
her festivals, Rosh-Hodesh, and shabbats,
and all her designated times.

<sup>14(12)</sup> I will ravage her vines and fig trees,
of which she says, ‘These are my wages
that my lovers have given me.’

But I will turn them into a forest,
and wild animals will eat them.

<sup>15(13)</sup> I will punish her for offering incense on the feast days of the ba‘alim,
when she decked herself with her earrings and jewels,
pursuing her lovers and forgetting me,” says ADONAI.

<sup>16(14)</sup> “But now I am going to woo her —
I will bring her out to the desert and I will speak to her heart.

<sup>17(15)</sup> I will give her her vineyards from there and the Akhor Valley as a gateway to hope.
She will respond there as she did when young,
as she did when she came up from Egypt.

<sup>18(16)</sup> “On that day,” says A<sub>DONAI</sub>

“you will call me Ishi [My Husband];
you will no longer call me Ba‘ali [My Master].

<sup>19(17)</sup> For I will remove the names of the ba‘alim from her mouth;

they will never again be mentioned by name.

<sup>20(18)</sup> When that day comes, I will make a covenant for them

with the wild animals, the birds in the air and the creeping things of the earth.
I will break bow and sword,
sweep battle from the land,
and make them lie down securely.

<sup>21(19)</sup> I will betroth you to me forever;

yes, I will betroth you to me
in righteousness, in justice,
in grace and in compassion;

<sup>22(20)</sup> I will betroth you to me in faithfulness, and you will know A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

<sup>23(21)</sup>

When that day comes,
I will answer,” says ADONAI
“I will answer the sky,
and it will answer the earth;
<sup>24(22)</sup> the earth will answer the corn, wine and oil,
and they will answer Yizre‘el [God will sow].
<sup>25(23)</sup> I will sow her for me in the land.
I will have pity on Lo-Ruchamah [Unpitied];
I will say to Lo-‘Ammi [Not-My-People], ‘You are my people’;
and they will say, ‘You are my God.’”

3 <sup>1</sup> ADONAI said to me, “Go once more, and show love to [this] wife [of yours] who has been loved by her boyfriend, to this adulteress — just as ADONAI loves the people of Isra’el, even though they turn to other gods and love the raisin cakes [offered to them].”

<sup>2</sup> So I bought her back for myself with fifteen pieces of silver and eight bushels of barley. <sup>3</sup> Then I told her, “You are to remain in seclusion for a long time and be mine. You are not to be a prostitute, and you are not to be with any other man; and I won’t come in to have sex with you either.” <sup>4</sup> For the people of Isra’el are going to be in seclusion for a long time without a king, prince, sacrifice, standing-stone, ritual vest or household gods. <sup>5</sup> Afterwards, the people of Isra’el will repent and seek ADONAI their God and David their king; they will come trembling to ADONAI and his goodness in the acharit-hayamim.

people of Isra'el!

For ADONAI has a grievance

against the inhabitants of the land:

there is no truth, no faithful love

or knowledge of God in the land;

<sup>2</sup> only swearing and lying, killing and stealing and committing adultery!

They break all bounds, with one blood crime

following another.

<sup>3</sup> Therefore the land mourns,

and everyone living there languishes,

wild animals too, and the birds in the air;

even the fish in the sea are removed.

<sup>4</sup> But no one should quarrel or rebuke,

because your people are having to quarrel with the cohen.

<sup>5</sup> Therefore you will stumble by day,

and the prophet will stumble with you at night.

“I will destroy your mother.

<sup>6</sup> My people are destroyed for want of knowledge.

Because you rejected knowledge,
I will also reject you as cohen for me.
Because you forgot the Torah of your God,
I will also forget your children.

<sup>7</sup>       The more they increased in number,
the more they sinned against me.
I will change their glory into shame.

<sup>8</sup>       They feed on the sin of my people
and are greedy for their crimes.

<sup>9</sup>       But the cohen will fare
no better than the people;
I will punish him for his ways
and pay him back for his deeds.

<sup>10</sup>       They will eat but not have enough and consort with whores but have no children, because they stopped listening to ADONAI.

<sup>11</sup>       Whoring and wine, both old and new,
take away my people's wits.

<sup>12</sup>       My people consult their piece of wood,

their diviner's wand speaks to them;
for the spirit of whoring makes them err,
they go off whoring, deserting their God.

<sup>13</sup> They sacrifice on the mountain peaks

and offer incense on the hills

under oaks, poplars and pistachio trees;

because they give good shade.

Therefore your daughters behave like whores,

And your daughters-in-law commit adultery.

<sup>14</sup> I won't punish your daughters when they act like whores,

or your daughters-in-law when they commit adultery;

because the men are themselves going off with whores

and sacrificing with prostitutes.

Yes, a people without understanding will come to ruin."

<sup>15</sup> If you, Isra'el, prostitute yourself,

still Y'hudah has no need to incur such guilt.

Don't go to Gilgal or up to Beit-Aven,

and don't swear, "As ADONAI lives."

For Isra'el is stubborn as a stubborn cow;
will ADONAI now feed them like a lamb in a big pasture?

let him alone!

<sup>18</sup> When they finish carousing, they start their whoring;
their rulers deeply love dishonor.

<sup>19</sup> The wind will carry them off in its wings
and their sacrifices bring them nothing but shame.

5 <sup>1</sup> “Hear this, cohanim!

Pay attention, house of Isra'el!

Listen, house of the king!

For judgment is coming to you.

You have become a snare for Mitzpah
and a net spread on Tavor.

<sup>2</sup> The rebels have deepened their slaughter,
and I am rejected by all of them.

Isra'el is not hidden from me;
for now, Efrayim, you are a whore;

Isra'el is defiled.”

<sup>4</sup> Their deeds will not allow them
to return to their God,
for the spirit of whoring is in them,
and they don't know ADONAI.

<sup>5</sup> Isra'el's arrogance will testify in his face;
Isra'el and Efrayim will stumble in their crimes;
Y'hudah too will stumble with them.

<sup>6</sup> With their flocks and herds
they will go in search of ADONAI.
But they won't find him;
he has withdrawn from them.

<sup>7</sup> They have betrayed ADONAI,
by fathering foreign children.
Now within the month the invaders
will devour their lands.

<sup>8</sup> “Blow the shofar in Giv'ah,
a trumpet at Ramah;
sound an alarm at Beit-Aven:

‘Behind you, Binyamin!’

<sup>9</sup> Efrayim will be laid waste
when the day for punishment comes;
I am announcing to the tribes of Isra’el
what will surely happen.

<sup>10</sup> The leaders of Y’hudah are like men who move boundary stones;
I will pour my fury out upon them like water.

<sup>11</sup> Efrayim is oppressed, crushed by the judgment,
because he deliberately sought out futility.

<sup>12</sup> Therefore I am like a moth to Efrayim
and like rotteness to the house of Y’hudah.

and Y’hudah his wound, Efrayim went to Ashur
and sent envoys to a warring king;
but he can’t heal you
or cure your wound.

For to Efrayim I will be like a lion,
and like a young lion to the house of Y'hudah —
I will tear them up and go away;
I will carry them off, and no one will rescue.

<sup>15</sup> I will go and return to my place,
till they admit their guilt and search for me,
seeking me eagerly in their distress.”

6 <sup>1</sup> Come, let us return to ADONAI;
for he has torn, and he will heal us;
he has struck, and he will bind our wounds.

<sup>2</sup> After two days, he will revive us;
on the third day, he will raise us up;
and we will live in his presence.

<sup>3</sup> Let us know, let us strive to know ADONAI.
That he will come is as certain as morning;
he will come to us like the rain,
like the spring rains that water the earth.

<sup>4</sup> “Efrayim, what should I do to you?
Y'hudah, what should I do to you?

For your ‘faithful love’ is like a morning cloud,
like dew that disappears quickly.

<sup>5</sup> This is why I have cut them to pieces by the prophets, slaughtered them with the words from my mouth —
the judgment on you shines out like light.

<sup>6</sup> For what I desire is mercy, not sacrifices, knowledge of God more than burnt offerings.

<sup>7</sup> “But they, just like men, have broken the covenant,
they have been faithless in dealing with me.

<sup>8</sup> Gil‘ad is a city of criminals,
covered with bloody footprints;

<sup>9</sup> just as bands of robbers wait to ambush someone,
so does a gang of cohanim.

They commit murder on the road to Sh’khem!

Their conduct is an outrage!

<sup>10</sup> In the house of Isra’el

I have seen a horrible thing;

whoring is found there in Efrayim,

Isra’el is defiled.

<sup>11</sup> For you, too, Y'udah,

a harvest will come!

7 <sup>1</sup> “When I restore the fortunes of my people, when I am ready to heal Isra’el,

the crimes of Efrayim confront me,

along with the wickedness of Shomron.

For they keep practicing deceit;

thieves break in, bands of robbers raid outside.

<sup>2</sup> They never say to themselves

that I remember all their evil.

Now their own deeds surround them;

they are right in front of me.

and the leaders with their lies.

<sup>4</sup> They are all adulterers,

like an oven heated by the baker,

who doesn’t stoke the fire

from kneading time till the dough has risen.

<sup>5</sup> “On their king’s special day

the leaders inflame him with wine,
and he joins hands with scorners, <sup>6</sup> who ready themselves like an oven
while they wait for their chance.

Their baker sleeps through the night;
then in the morning it bursts into flame.

<sup>7</sup> They are all as hot as an oven,
and they devour their judges.
All their kings have fallen;
not one of them calls out to me.

<sup>8</sup> “Efrayim mixes himself with the peoples,
Efrayim has become a half-baked cake.

<sup>9</sup> Foreigners have eaten up his strength,
but he doesn’t know it;
yes, gray hairs appear on him here and there,
but he doesn’t know it.

but in spite of all this they haven’t returned to ADONAI their God or sought him.

<sup>11</sup> Efrayim behaves like a silly, foolish dove —
going to Egypt, then to Ashur for help.

<sup>12</sup> Even as they go, I will spread my net over them;
I will bring them down like birds from the sky;
I will discipline them, as their assembly was told.

<sup>13</sup> Woe to them! for they have strayed from me.
Destruction to them! for they have wronged me.
Am I supposed to redeem them,
when they have spoken lies against me?

<sup>14</sup> They have not cried out to me from their hearts, even though they wail on their beds.
They assemble themselves for grain and wine,
yet turn away from me.

<sup>15</sup> It was I who trained and strengthened their arms,
yet they plot evil against me.

they are like an unreliable bow.
Their leaders will die by the sword
because of their angry talk.

They will become a laughingstock
in the land of Egypt.

8<sup>1</sup> “Put the shofar to your lips!

Like a vulture [he swoops down] on the house of ADONAI, because they have violated my covenant
and sinned intentionally against my Torah.

<sup>2</sup> Will they cry out to me,

‘We are Isra’el, God, we know you’?

<sup>3</sup> Isra’el has thrown away what is good;

the enemy will pursue him.

<sup>4</sup> They make kings, but without my authority;

they appoint leaders, but without my knowledge.

With their silver and gold they make themselves idols,

but these can lead only to their own destruction.

<sup>5</sup> Your calf, Shomron, has been thrown away;

my fury burns against them.

How long will it be until they are able to make themselves clean?

a craftsman makes something — it's a non-god;
the calf of Shomron will be broken to pieces.

<sup>7</sup> For they sow the wind,
so they will reap the whirlwind.
The standing grain has no ears,
so it will yield no flour;
and if it does yield any,
foreigners will swallow it up.

<sup>8</sup> Isra'el is swallowed up;
now they are among the Goyim
like a vessel nobody wants.

<sup>9</sup> For they have gone up to Ashur;
like a wild donkey, alone by itself,
Efrayim has bargained for lovers.

<sup>10</sup> But even if they bargain among the Goyim,
now I will round them up.
Soon they will start to feel the burden of these kings and leaders.

yes, altars are sinful for him.

<sup>12</sup> I write him so many things from my Torah, yet he considers them foreign.

<sup>13</sup> They offer me sacrifices of flesh and eat them,

but ADONAI does not accept them.

Now he will recall their crimes and punish their sins —
they will return to Egypt.

and Y'hudah made more fortified cities;

but I will send fire on his cities,

and it will consume their strongholds.”

9<sup>1</sup> Don't rejoice, Isra'el!

Don't enjoy yourselves as other peoples do;

for you have gone whoring away from your God,

you love being hired as a whore on every grain-floor.

<sup>2</sup> Threshing-floor and winepress won't feed them,

and new wine will disappoint her.

<sup>3</sup> They won't remain in the land of ADONAI;

instead, Efrayim will return to Egypt,

and they will eat unclean food in Ashur.

they will not be pleasing to him.

Their sacrifices will be for them like mourners' food —
everyone eating it will be polluted.

For their food will be merely to satisfy their appetite;
it will not come into the house of A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

<sup>5</sup> What will you do at a designated time,

on a day which is a festival for A<sub>DONAI</sub>?

Egypt will round them up,

Memphis will bury them.

And their precious treasures of silver?

Nettles will possess them,

thorns will be in their tents.

<sup>7</sup> The days of punishment have come,

the days of retribution are here,

and Isra'el knows it.

[Yet they cry,] "The prophet is a fool,

the man of the spirit has gone crazy!"

Because your iniquity is so great,
the hostility [against you] is great.

<sup>8</sup> The watchman of Efrayim is with my God, but a prophet has a fowler's snare set on all his paths
and hostility even in the house of his God.

<sup>9</sup> They have deeply corrupted themselves,
as in the days of Giv'ah.
He will remember their guilt,
and he will punish their sins.

<sup>10</sup> "When I found Isra'el, it was like finding grapes in the desert;
when I saw your ancestors, it was like seeing a fig tree's first figs in its first season.
But as soon as they came to Ba'al-P'or,
they dedicated themselves to something shameful;
they became as loathsome
as the thing they loved.

no birth, no pregnancy, no conception.

Even if they raise their children,
I will destroy them till none is left —
and woe to them when I leave them, too!”

<sup>13</sup> Efrayim, as I see it, is like Tzor, planted in a pleasant place;
but Efrayim will bring out his children
to the slaughterer.

<sup>14</sup> ADONAI, give them — what will you give?

Give them wombs that miscarry and dried-up breasts!

<sup>15</sup> “All their wickedness was already there in Gilgal;
that’s where I came to hate them.
Because of the wickedness of their deeds
I will expel them from my house,
I will love them no more;
all their leaders are rebels.

<sup>16</sup> Efrayim has been struck down,
their root has been dried up,
they will bear no fruit.
Even if they do give birth,

I will kill their cherished offspring.”

<sup>17</sup> My God will cast them aside, because they wouldn’t listen to him,
and they will become wanderers
among the Goyim.

10 <sup>1</sup> Isra’el was a luxuriant vine, freely putting forth fruit.
As his fruit increased,
he increased his altars;
as his land got better,
he improved his standing-stones.

<sup>2</sup> Their heart is divided;
now they will bear their guilt.
He will break down their altars
and destroy their standing-stones.

<sup>3</sup> For now they will say,
“We have no king,
because we didn’t fear A<sub>DONAI</sub> —
and what could a king do for us, anyway?”

<sup>4</sup>

They mouth words,
swearing falsely, making treaties.
Thus judgment spreads like poisonous weeds
in the furrows of a field.

<sup>5</sup>

The inhabitants of Shomron are frightened of the calf-gods of Beit-Aven.
Its people mourn over it;
its priests tremble over it,
over its glory, which has left it.

<sup>6</sup>

It will be carried to Ashur
as a present for a warring king.
Efrayim will be put to shame,
and Isra'el be ashamed of his own advice.

<sup>7</sup>

Shomron's king will perish
like foam on the surface of the water.

<sup>8</sup>

Destruction will come to the high places of Aven,
that is, to the sin of Isra'el.
Thorns and thistles will grow over their altars;
and they will say to the mountains, "Cover us!"

and to the hills, “Fall on us!”

There they took their stand.

For these arrogant people at Giv‘ah,

war was insufficient punishment.

<sup>10</sup> When I wish to, I will discipline them;

and the peoples will be gathered against them

to discipline them for their two crimes.”

it loves to tread the grain,

and I have spared her fair neck.

But I will put Efrayim in harness,

Y’hudah will have to plow,

Ya‘akov will harrow his own land.

<sup>12</sup> If you sow righteousness for yourselves,

you will reap according to grace.

Break up unused ground for yourselves,

because it is time to seek ADONAI,

till he comes and rains down

righteousness upon you.

<sup>13</sup> You have plowed wickedness, reaped iniquity and eaten the fruit of lies.

Because you trusted in your own way,

in your large numbers of warriors,

<sup>14</sup> turmoil will erupt among your peoples,

and all your fortresses will be destroyed;

just as Shalman destroyed Beit-Arbel

on the day of battle,

when mothers were dashed to pieces

right along with their children.

<sup>15</sup> Thus will be done to you, Beit-El,

because of your great wickedness;

at dawn the king of Isra'el

will be completely cut off.

11 <sup>1</sup> “When Isra'el was a child, I loved him;

and out of Egypt I called my son.

<sup>2</sup> But the more [the prophets] called them,

the farther they went from them.

They sacrificed to the ba'alim
and offered incense to idols.

<sup>3</sup> “Yet it was I who taught Efrayim to walk;
I took them by their arms.

But they did not know that it was I
who was healing them,

<sup>4</sup> who was guiding them on through human means with reins made of love.

With them I was like someone removing the yoke from their jaws,
and I bent down to feed them.

<sup>5</sup> He will not return to the land of Egypt,
but Ashur will be his king,
because they refused to repent.

<sup>6</sup> The sword will fall on his cities,
destroying the bars of his gates,
because they follow their own advice.

<sup>7</sup> My people are hanging in suspense
about returning to me;

and though they call them upwards,
nobody makes a move.

<sup>8</sup> Efrayim, how can I give you up,
or surrender you, Isra'el?
How could I treat you like Admah
or make you like Tzvoyim?
My heart recoils at the idea,
as compassion warms within me.

<sup>9</sup> I will not give vent to the fierceness of my rage,
I will not return to destroy Efrayim;
for I am God, not a human being,
the Holy One among you;
so I will not come in fury.

<sup>10</sup> They will go after ADONAI,
who will roar like a lion;
for he will roar, and the children will come trembling from the west.

<sup>11</sup> They will tremble like a bird as they come from Egypt, like a dove as they come from the land of Ashur;
and I will resettle them in their own houses,

says ADONAI.

12 <sup>1(11:12)</sup> “Efrayim surrounds me with lies and the house of Isra’el with deceit.
Y’hudah still rules with God
and is faithful with holy ones.

<sup>2(1)</sup> Efrayim is chasing the wind,
pursuing the wind from the east.
All day he piles up lies and desolation —
they make a covenant with Ashur,
while sending olive oil to Egypt.

<sup>3(2)</sup> ADONAI also has a grievance against Y’hudah;
he will punish Ya‘akov according to his ways
and pay him back for his misdeeds.

<sup>4(3)</sup> In the womb he took his brother by the heel;
in the strength of his manhood he fought with God.

<sup>5(4)</sup> Yes, he fought with an angel and won;
he wept and pleaded with him.
Then at Beit-El he found him,
and there he would [later] speak with us —

<sup>6(5)</sup> Adonai ELOHEI-Tzva’ot;

ADONAI is his name!

<sup>7(6)</sup> So you, return to your God;
hold fast to grace and justice;
and always put your hope in your God.

<sup>8(7)</sup> “A huckster keeps false scales,
and he loves to cheat.

<sup>9(8)</sup> Efrayim says, ‘I have gotten so rich!
I have made me a fortune!
And in all my profits no one will find anything wrong or sinful.’

10(9)

“But I am ADONAI your God,
from the land of Egypt.
Again I will make you live in tents,
as in the days of the established festival.

11(10)

I have spoken to the prophets;
it was I who gave vision after vision;
through the prophets I gave examples
to show what it would all be like.

12(11)

Is Gil‘ad given to iniquity?
Yes, they have become worthless.
In Gilgal they sacrifice to bulls;
therefore their altars are like piles of stones
in a plowed field.”

13(12)

Ya‘akov fled to the land of Aram.
There Isra’el slaved to win a wife;
for a wife he tended sheep.

14(13)

By a prophet ADONAI brought Isra’el up from Egypt,
and by a prophet he was protected.

15(14)

Efrayim has given bitter provocation,
so the penalty for his bloodshed will be thrown down on him,
and his Lord will repay him for his insult.

“When Efrayim spoke, there was trembling;
he was a power in Isra’el.
But when he incurred guilt through Ba‘al,
he died.

<sup>2</sup>

So now they keep adding sin to sin,
casting images from their silver;
idols they invent for themselves,
all of them the work of craftsmen.
‘Sacrifice to them,’ they say.
Men give kisses to calves!

<sup>3</sup>

Therefore they will be like a morning cloud,

like the dew that disappears early,
like chaff blown by wind from the threshing-floor,
or like smoke that goes out the window.

4 Still, I am ADONAI your God,
from the land of Egypt;
and you don't know any God but me
or, other than me, any Savior.

5 I knew you in the desert,
in a land of terrible drought.

6 When they were fed, they were satisfied;
when satisfied, they became proud.
Therefore they forgot me.

7 So now I have become like a lion to them;
like a leopard I will lurk by the road;

8 I will meet them like a bear whose cubs have been taken away.
I will tear their hearts from their bodies.
I will devour them there like a lion,
like a wild animal ripping them up.

9 It is your destruction, Isra'el,
although your help is in me.

10 So now, where is your king,
to save you in all your cities?
Where are your judges, of whom you said,
'Give me a king and leaders'?

11 I gave you a king in my anger;
and in my fury I took him away.

12 "Efrayim's guilt has been wrapped up, his sin is stored away.

13 The pain of being born will come to him;
but he is an unwise son.
The time has come; and he shouldn't delay,
there at the mouth of the womb.

Should I ransom them from the power of Sh'ol?
Should I redeem them from death?
Where are your plagues, death;
where is your destruction, Sh'ol?
My eyes are closed to compassion.

15

For though he flourishes among the reeds,
an east wind will come, a wind from ADONAI,
blowing up from the desert.
Then his water source will dry up,
then his spring will fail —
it will plunder his treasury,
removing every precious thing.”

14 <sup>1(13:16)</sup> Shomron will bear her guilt, for she has rebelled against her God.
They will fall by the sword,
their little ones will be dashed to pieces
and their pregnant women ripped open.

2(1)

Return, Isra'el, to ADONAI your God,
for your guilt has made you stumble.

3(2)

Take words with you, and return to ADONAI;
say to him, “Forgive all guilt,
and accept what is good;
we will pay instead of bulls
[the offerings of] our lips.

4(3)

Ashur will not save us,
we will not ride on horses,
and we will no longer call
what we made with our hands our gods.
For it is only in you that the fatherless can find mercy.”

5(4)

“I will heal their disloyalty,
I will love them freely;
for my anger has turned from him.

6(5)

I will be like dew to Isra'el;
he will blossom like a lily
and strike roots like the L'vanon.

7(6)

His branches will spread out,
his beauty be like an olive tree
and his fragrance like the L'vanon.

8(7)

Again they will live in his shade and raise grain;
they will blossom like a vine,
and its aroma will be like the wine of the L'vanon.

9(8)

Efrayim [will say], 'What have I
to do any more with idols?'
And I, I answer and affirm him;
I am like a fresh, green cypress tree;
your fruitfulness comes from me."

10(9)

Let the wise understand these things,
and let the discerning know them.
For the ways of A<sub>DONAI</sub> are straight,
And the righteous walk in them,
but in them sinners stumble.

Yo'el

JOEL

1<sup>1</sup> The word of A<sub>DONAI</sub> that came to Yo'el the son of P'tu'el:

<sup>2</sup>       “Hear this, you leaders!

Listen, all who live in the land!

Has anything like this ever happened in your days,
or in your ancestors' days?

<sup>3</sup>       Tell your children about it,
and have them tell it to theirs,
and have them tell the next generation.

what the locusts left, the grasshoppers ate;
what the grasshoppers left, the shearer-worms ate.

wail, all you who drink wine,
because the juice of the grape
will be withheld from your mouth.

<sup>6</sup>       For a mighty and numberless nation

has invaded my land.

His teeth are lion's teeth;

his fangs are those of a lioness.

<sup>7</sup> He has reduced my vines to waste,

my fig trees to splinters —

he plucked them bare, stripped their bark

<sup>8</sup> Lament like a virgin wearing sackcloth

for the husband of her youth!

<sup>9</sup> Grain offering and drink offering are cut off from the house of A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

The cohanim are mourning,

those who are serving A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

<sup>10</sup> The fields are ruined, the ground is grieving;

for the grain is ruined, the new wine dried up,

and the olive oil is wretched.

<sup>11</sup> Despair, you farmers; lament, vinedressers,

over the wheat and the barley —

the harvest from the fields is lost.

<sup>12</sup>       The vines have withered, the fig trees wilted,
also the pomegranate, date-palm and apple tree —
all the trees in the fields have withered,
and the people's joy has withered away.

Wail, you who serve at the altar!

Come, lie in sackcloth all night long,

you who serve my God!

For the grain offering and drink offering are withheld
from the house of your God.

<sup>14</sup>       Proclaim a holy fast,
call for a solemn assembly,
gather the leaders
and all who live in the land to the house of ADONAI your God,
and cry out to ADONAI,

<sup>15</sup>       “Oh no! The Day!

The Day of ADONAI is upon us!

As destruction from Shaddai

it is coming!

<sup>16</sup> The food is cut off before our very eyes,
also joy and gladness from the house of our God.

<sup>17</sup> The seed-grain is rotting in its furrows;
the granaries are deserted, the barns in ruins;
because the grain has withered.

<sup>18</sup> How the animals groan!
The herds of cattle are perplexed,
because they have no pasture.
The flocks of sheep bear the punishment, too.

<sup>19</sup> ADONAI, I cry out to you!
For the fire has consumed the pastures in the desert,
and the flame set ablaze all the trees in the fields.

<sup>20</sup> Even the wild animals
come to you, panting,
because the streambeds have dried up,
and fire has consumed the pastures in the desert.”

2 <sup>1</sup> “Blow the shofar in Tziyon!

Sound an alarm on my holy mountain!”

Let all living in the land tremble, for the Day of A<sub>DONAI</sub> is coming! It's upon us! —

<sup>2</sup>       a day of darkness and gloom,
a day of clouds and thick fog;
a great and mighty horde is spreading
like blackness over the mountains.

There has never been anything like it,
nor will there ever be again,
not even after the years
of many generations.

<sup>3</sup>       Ahead of them a fire devours,
behind them a flame consumes;
ahead the land is like Gan-‘Eden,
behind them a desert waste.
From them there is no escape.

<sup>4</sup>       They look like horses,
and like cavalry they charge.

<sup>5</sup>       With a rumble like that of chariots
they leap over the mountaintops,
like crackling flames devouring stubble,

like a mighty horde in battle array.

<sup>6</sup> At their presence the peoples writhe in anguish,
every face is drained of color.

<sup>7</sup> Like warriors they charge,
they scale the wall like soldiers.
Each one keeps to his own course,
without getting in the other's way.

<sup>8</sup> They don't jostle each other,
but stay on their own paths;
they burst through defenses unharmed,
without even breaking rank.

<sup>9</sup> They rush into the city,
they run along the wall,
they climb up into the houses,
entering like a thief through the windows.

<sup>10</sup> At their advance the earth quakes,
and the sky shakes,
the sun and moon turn black,
and the stars stop shining.

A<sub>DONAI</sub> shouts orders to his forces —

his army is immense, mighty,

and it does what he says.

For great is the Day of A<sub>DONAI</sub>, fearsome, terrifying! Who can endure it?

<sup>12</sup> “Yet even now,” says A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

“turn to me with all your heart,

with fasting, weeping and lamenting.”

<sup>13</sup> Tear your heart, not your garments;

and turn to A<sub>DONAI</sub> your God.

For he is merciful and compassionate,

slow to anger, rich in grace,

and willing to change his mind about disaster.

<sup>14</sup> Who knows? He may turn, change his mind and leave a blessing behind him,

[enough for] grain offerings and drink offerings

to present to A<sub>DONAI</sub> your God.

Proclaim a holy fast,

<sup>16</sup>       Gather the people; consecrate the congregation;
assemble the leaders; gather the children,
even infants sucking at the breast;
let the bridegroom leave his room
and the bride the bridal chamber.

<sup>17</sup>       Let the cohanim, who serve ADONAI, stand weeping between the vestibule and the altar.
Let them say, “Spare your people, ADONAI!
Don’t expose your heritage to mockery,
or make them a byword among the Goyim.
Why should the peoples say, ‘Where is their God?’”

<sup>18</sup>       Then ADONAI will become jealous for his land and have pity on his people.

<sup>19</sup>       Here is how ADONAI will answer his people:
“I will send you grain, wine and olive oil,
enough to satisfy you;
and no longer will I make you a mockery among the Goyim.”

<sup>20</sup> No, I will take the northerner away, far away from you,
and drive him to a land
that is waste and barren;
with his vanguard toward the eastern sea
and his rearguard toward the western sea,
his stench and his rottenness will rise,
because he has done great things.”

for ADONAI has done great things.

<sup>22</sup> Don't be afraid, wild animals;
for the desert pastures are green,
the trees are putting out their fruit,
the fig tree and vine are giving full yield.

<sup>23</sup> Be glad, people of Tziyon!
rejoice in ADONAI your God!
For he is giving you
the right amount of rain in the fall,
he makes the rain come down for you,

the fall and spring rains — this is what he does first.

<sup>24</sup> Then the floors will be full of grain and the vats overflow with wine and olive oil.

<sup>25</sup> “I will restore to you the years that the locusts ate,

the grasshoppers, shearer-worms and cutter-worms,

my great army that I sent against you.

<sup>26</sup> You will eat until you are satisfied

and will praise the name of ADONAI your God,

who has done with you such wonders.

Then my people will never again be shamed.

<sup>27</sup> You will know that I am with Isra’el

and that I am ADONAI your God,

and that there is no other.

Then my people will never again be shamed.

3<sup>1(2:28)</sup> “After this, I will pour out my Spirit on all humanity.

Your sons and daughters will prophesy,

your old men will dream dreams, your young men will see visions;

<sup>2(2:29)</sup> and also on male and female slaves

in those days I will pour out my Spirit.

<sup>3(2:30)</sup> I will show wonders in the sky and on earth —

blood, fire and columns of smoke.

<sup>4(2:31)</sup> The sun will be turned into darkness

and the moon into blood

before the coming of the great

and terrible Day of ADONAI.”

<sup>5(2:32)</sup> At that time, whoever calls on the name of ADONAI will be saved.

For in Mount Tziyon and Yerushalayim

there will be those who escape,

as ADONAI has promised;

among the survivors will be those whom ADONAI has called.

4(3)<sup>1</sup> “For then, at that time, when I restore the fortunes of Y’hudah and Yerushalayim,

<sup>2</sup> I will gather all nations and bring them down to the Valley of Y’hoshafat [ADONAI judges].

I will enter into judgment there for my people, my heritage Isra'el, whom they scattered among the nations;

then they divided my land.

<sup>3</sup> They drew lots for my people,
traded boys for whores,
sold girls for wine to drink.

<sup>4</sup> “Moreover, what have you against me,
Tzor, Tzidon, all parts of P’leshet?
Are you paying me back for something I did?
If you’re paying me back for something I did,
then easily, quickly, I’ll pay you back right on your own head.

<sup>5</sup> You took my silver and gold.
You brought my good treasures into your temples.

<sup>6</sup> The people of Y’hudah and Yerushalayim
you sold to the Greeks, so that you could remove them far away from their land.

<sup>7</sup> I will rouse them from the place where you sold them
and pay you back right on your own head —

<sup>8</sup> I will sell your sons and daughters
to the people of Y'hudah;
and they will sell them to the men of Sh'va,
a nation far off; for A<sub>DONAI</sub> has spoken.

<sup>9</sup> “Proclaim this among the nations:
‘Prepare for war! Rouse the warriors!
Let all the fighting men approach and attack.’

<sup>10</sup> Hammer your plow-blades into swords
and your pruning-knives into spears.
Let the weak say, ‘I am strong.’

<sup>11</sup> Hurry, come, you surrounding nations,
gather yourselves together!”
Bring your warriors down, A<sub>DONAI</sub>!

<sup>12</sup> “Let the nations be roused and come up to the Valley of Y'hoshafat [A<sub>DONAI</sub> judges].
For there I will sit to judge
all the surrounding nations.”

<sup>13</sup> Swing the sickle, for the harvest is ripe;
come, and tread, for the winepress is full.

The vats are overflowing,
for their wickedness is great.

<sup>14</sup> Such enormous crowds
in the Valley of Decision!
For the Day of ADONAI is upon us
in the Valley of Decision!

<sup>15</sup> The sun and moon have grown black,
and the stars have stopped shining.

<sup>16</sup> ADONAI will roar from Tziyon,
he will thunder from Yerushalayim,
the sky and the earth will shake.

But ADONAI will be a refuge for his people,
a stronghold for the people of Isra'el.

<sup>17</sup> “You will know that I am ADONAI your God, living on Tziyon my holy mountain.”

Then Yerushalayim will be holy,
and foreigners will pass through her no more.

<sup>18</sup> Then, when that time comes,
the mountains will drip with sweet wine,

the hills will flow with milk,
all the streambeds of Y'hudah will run with water,
and a spring will flow from the house of ADONAI
to water the Sheetim Valley.

<sup>19</sup> But Egypt will be desolate
and Edom a desert waste,
because of the violence done to the people of Y'hudah,
because they shed innocent blood in their land.

<sup>20</sup> Y'hudah will be inhabited forever,
Yerushalayim through all generations.

<sup>21</sup> “I will cleanse them of bloodguilt which I have not yet cleansed,” for ADONAI is living in Tziyon.

‘Amos

AMOS

1 <sup>1</sup> The words of ‘Amos, one of the sheep owners in T’koa, which he saw concerning Isra’el in the days of ‘Uziah king of Y’hudah and Yarov’am the son of Yo’ash, king of Isra’el, two years before the earthquake; <sup>2</sup> he said:

ADONAI is roaring from Tziyon thundering from Yerushalayim;
the shepherds’ pastures will mourn,
and Mount Karmel’s summit will wither.

<sup>3</sup> Here is what ADONAI says:

“For Dammesek’s three crimes,
no, four—I will not reverse it—
because they threshed Gil‘ad
with an iron-spiked threshing-sledge;

<sup>4</sup> I will send fire to the house of Haza’el,
and it will consume the palaces of Ben-Hadad.

<sup>5</sup> I will break the bars of Dammesek’s gates.
I will cut off the inhabitants from Bik‘at-Aven,
and him who holds the scepter from Beit-‘Eden.

Then the people of Aram will go into exile
in Kir,” says A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

<sup>6</sup> Here is what A<sub>DONAI</sub> says:

“For ‘Azah’s three crimes,
no, four—I will not reverse it—
because they exiled a whole population and handed them over to Edom;

<sup>7</sup> I will send fire to the wall of ‘Azah,
and it will consume its palaces.

<sup>8</sup> I will cut off the inhabitant from Ashdod,
and him who holds the scepter from Ashkelon.
I will turn my hand against ‘Ekron,
and the rest of the P’lishtim will perish,” says A<sub>DONAI</sub>, God.

<sup>9</sup> Here is what A<sub>DONAI</sub> says:

“For Tzor’s three crimes,
no, four — I will not reverse it —
because they exiled a whole population to Edom
and did not remember the covenant with kinsmen;

<sup>10</sup> I will send fire to the wall of Tzor,
and it will consume its palaces.”

“For Edom’s three crimes,
no, four — I will not reverse it —
because with sword he pursued his kinsman
and threw aside all pity, constantly nursing his anger,
forever fomenting his fury;

<sup>12</sup> I will send fire on Teman,
and it will consume the palaces of Botzrah.”

“For the people of ‘Amon’s three crimes,
no, four — I will not reverse it —
because they ripped apart pregnant women
just to expand their territory,

<sup>14</sup> I will set fire to the wall of Rabbah,
and it will consume its palaces
amid shouts on the day of battle,

amid a storm on the day of the whirlwind.

<sup>15</sup>

Their king will go into exile,
he and his princes together,” says ADONAI.

2 <sup>1</sup> Here is what ADONAI says:

“For Mo’av’s three crimes,
no, four — I will not reverse it —
because he burned the bones of the king of Edom,
turning them into lime;

<sup>2</sup>

I will send fire on Mo’av,
and it will consume the palaces of K’riot.
Mo’av will die with turmoil and shouting,
along with the sound of the shofar.

<sup>3</sup>

I will cut off the judge from among them
and kill all his princes with him,” says ADONAI.

<sup>4</sup> Here is what ADONAI says:

“For Y’hudah’s three crimes,
no, four — I will not reverse it —
because they rejected ADONAI’s Torah
and haven’t observed his laws,

and their lies caused them to fall into error

and live the way their ancestors did;

<sup>5</sup> I will send fire on Y'hudah,

and it will consume the palaces of Yerushalayim.”

“For Isra’el’s three crimes,

no, four — I will not reverse it —

because they sell the upright for silver

and the poor for a pair of shoes,

<sup>7</sup> grinding the heads of the poor in the dust

and pushing the lowly out of the way;

father and son sleep with the same girl,

profaning my holy name;

<sup>8</sup> lying down beside any altar

on clothes taken in pledge;

drinking wine in the house of their God

bought with fines they imposed.

<sup>9</sup> “I destroyed the Emori before them;

though tall as cedars and strong as oaks,

I destroyed their fruit above
and their root below.

<sup>10</sup> More than that, I brought you up from Egypt,
led you forty years in the desert,
so that you could have the Emori's land.

<sup>11</sup> I raised up some of your sons to be prophets,
other young men of yours to be n'zirim.
People of Isra'el!
Isn't that true?" asks A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

<sup>12</sup> "But you gave the n'zirim wine to drink and ordered the prophets, 'Don't prophesy!'

<sup>13</sup> Enough! I will make all this crush you, just as a cart overloaded with grain
crushes what's under it.

<sup>14</sup> Even the swift won't be able to flee;
the strong won't be able to use their strength,
the warriors won't save themselves.

<sup>15</sup> Archers won't be able to stand,
the fastest runners won't save themselves,

those on horses won't save themselves.

<sup>16</sup>

On that day even the bravest warriors will throw off their weapons and flee," says A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

3 <sup>1</sup> "Listen to this word which A<sub>DONAI</sub> has spoken against you, people of Isra'el, against the entire family that I brought up from the land of Egypt:

<sup>2</sup>

"Of all the families on earth,
only you have I intimately known.
This is why I will punish you for all your crimes."

<sup>3</sup>

Do two people travel together
without having so agreed?

<sup>4</sup>

Does a lion roar in the forest
when it has no prey?
Does a young lion growl in his lair
if it has caught nothing?

<sup>5</sup>

Does a bird get caught in a trap on the ground
if it hasn't been baited?
Does a trap spring up from the ground
when it has taken nothing?

<sup>6</sup> When the shofar is blown in the city,
don't the people tremble?
Can disaster befall a city
without ADONAI's having done it?

<sup>7</sup> ADONAI, God, does nothing without revealing his plan to his servants the prophets.

<sup>8</sup> The lion has roared. Who will not fear?
ADONAI, God, has spoken. Who will not prophesy?

<sup>9</sup> "Proclaim it on the palaces in Ashdod
and on the palaces in the land of Egypt; say:
'Assemble yourselves on the hills of Shomron!
See what great tumult is seething within it,
how much oppression is being done there.'

"They store up violence and robbery in their palaces."

<sup>11</sup> Therefore, here is what Adonai ELOHIM says:
"An enemy will surround the land.
He will strip you of your strength,
and plunder your palaces."

<sup>12</sup> This is what ADONAI says:

<sup>13</sup>        “As a shepherd rescues from the mouth of a lion
a couple of leg bones or a piece of an ear;
so the people of Isra’el in Shomron will be rescued,
huddled under cushions in the corners of their beds.
“Hear, and testify against the house of Ya‘akov,” says Adonai ELOHIM Elohei-Tzva’ot.

<sup>14</sup>        “For when I punish Isra’el’s crimes,
I will also punish the altars of Beit-El.
The horns of the altar will be cut off,
and they will fall to the ground.

<sup>15</sup>        I will tear down winter houses
as well as summer houses;
houses adorned with ivory will be destroyed;
the mansions will be no more,” says ADONAI.

4 <sup>1</sup>        “Listen, you [lovely] cows of Bashan, who live on Mount Shomron,
who oppress the poor and grind down the needy,
who say to their husbands, ‘Bring something to drink’:

<sup>2</sup>        Adonai E<sub>LOHIM</sub> has sworn by his holiness that your time is surely coming.

“You will be dragged away with hooks,
the last of you with fishhooks.

<sup>3</sup>        You will leave through breaks in the wall,
each woman right behind the next,
and be sent off to Harmonah,” says ADONAI.

<sup>4</sup>        “Come to Beit-El, and commit crimes;
to Gilgal, and commit more crimes!
Bring your sacrifices in the morning
and your tithes after three days;

<sup>5</sup>        burn leavened bread as a thank offering;
brag in public about your voluntary offerings;
because that’s what you love to do, Isra’el!”
says Adonai E<sub>LOHIM</sub>.

<sup>6</sup>        “I made your teeth clean of food in all your cities, left you nothing to eat in all your villages;
still you haven’t returned to me,” says ADONAI.

<sup>7</sup>        “I withheld the rain from you

three months before the harvest.

I made it rain on one city and not on another —

one field had rain,

while another with no rain dried up;

<sup>8</sup> (from two or three cities they would stagger to one city for water to drink, but there wasn't enough;

still you haven't returned to me," says ADONAI.

<sup>9</sup> "I struck your crops with hot winds and blight, your many gardens and vineyards;

the cutter-worms devoured

your fig and olive trees;

still you haven't returned to me," says ADONAI.

<sup>10</sup> "I sent a plague on you like that of Egypt, put your young men to death with the sword;

let your horses be captured;

and filled your nostrils with the stench of your camps;

still you haven't returned to me," says ADONAI.

<sup>11</sup> "I overthrew some of you,

as when God overthrew S'dom and 'Amora;
you were like a burning stick snatched from the fire;
still you haven't returned to me," says Adonai.

<sup>12</sup> "This is why I will deal with you in this way, Isra'el;
and because I will deal with you in this way,
prepare to meet your God, Isra'el —

<sup>13</sup> him who forms mountains and creates wind, who declares to humankind his thoughts,
who turns the morning to darkness
and strides on the heights of the earth —
Adonai Elohei-Tzva'ot is his name."

5 <sup>1</sup> Hear this word that I take up against you in lament, house of Isra'el:

she will not rise again.
She lies abandoned on her own soil
with no one to lift her up.

<sup>3</sup> For thus says Adonai Elohim:
"The city from which a thousand marched will be left with a hundred,

and the one from which a hundred marched will be left with ten from the house of Isra'el.”

to the house of Isra'el:

“If you seek me, you will survive;

<sup>5</sup> but don't seek Beit-El, or enter Gilgal or pass on into Be'er-Sheva;

for Gilgal will certainly go into exile,

and Beit-El will come to nothing.”

<sup>6</sup> If you seek ADONAI, you will survive.

Otherwise, he will break out against the house of Yosef like fire,

devouring Beit-El,

with no one to quench the flames.

<sup>7</sup> You who turn justice to bitter wormwood

and throw righteousness to the ground!

<sup>8</sup> He who made the Pleiades and Orion,

who brings deathlike shadows over the morning,
who darkens the day into night,
who calls for the water in the sea
and with it floods the earth —
ADONAI is his name —

<sup>9</sup> he flashes destruction on the strong,
so that destruction overcomes the fortress.

<sup>10</sup> They hate anyone promoting justice
at the city gate,
they detest anyone who speaks the truth.

<sup>11</sup> Therefore, because you trample on the poor and extort from them levies of grain;
although you have built houses of cut stone,
you will not live in them;
and though you have planted pleasant vineyards,
you will not drink their wine.

<sup>12</sup> For I know how numerous are your crimes and how outrageous your sins —
bullying the innocent, extorting ransoms pushing the poor aside at the gate.

<sup>13</sup> At times like these a prudent person stays silent,
for it is an evil time.

<sup>14</sup> Seek good and not evil, so that you will survive.
Then Adonai ELOHEI-Tzva'ot will be with you,
as you say he is.

<sup>15</sup> Hate evil, love good, and uphold justice at the gate.
Maybe Adonai ELOHEI-Tzva'ot
will take pity on the survivors of Yosef.

<sup>16</sup> Therefore thus says Adonai ELOHEI-Tzva'ot, Adonai:
“In all public squares there will be lamentation,
in all the streets they will cry, ‘Oh, no!’
They will summon farmers to mourn and professional mourners to wail.

<sup>17</sup> There will be wailing in every vineyard,
for I will pass through among you,” says ADONAI.

<sup>18</sup> Woe to you who want the Day of ADONAI!
Why do you want it, this Day of ADONAI?
It is darkness, not light;

<sup>19</sup> as if someone were to run from a lion,
just to be met by a bear;
as if he entered a house, put his hand on the wall,
just to be bitten by a snake.

<sup>20</sup> Won't the Day of A<sub>DONAI</sub> be darkness, not light, completely dark, with no brightness at all?

<sup>21</sup> "I hate, I utterly loathe your festivals;
I take no pleasure in your solemn assemblies.

<sup>22</sup> If you offer me burnt offerings and grain offerings,
I will not accept them;
nor will I consider the peace offerings
of your stall-fed cattle.

<sup>23</sup> Spare me the noise of your songs!
I don't want to hear the strumming of your lutes!

<sup>24</sup> Instead, let justice well up like water,
and righteousness like an ever-flowing stream.

<sup>25</sup> Did you bring me sacrifices and offerings
in the desert forty years, house of Isra'el?

<sup>26</sup> No, but now you will bear Sikkut as your king and Kiyun, your images,

the star of your god, which you made for yourselves;
<sup>27</sup> as I exile you beyond Dammesek,”
says Adonai ELOHEI-Tzva’ot —
that is his name.

6 <sup>1</sup> Woe to those living at ease in Tziyon
and to those who feel complacent on the hills of Shomron, renowned men in this foremost of nations,
to whom the rest of Isra’el come.

<sup>2</sup> Travel to Kalneh and see;
from there go on to Hamat the great;
then go down to Gat of the P’lishtim.
Are you better than these kingdoms?
Is their territory larger than yours?

<sup>3</sup> You put off all thought of the evil day
but hasten the reign of violence.

<sup>4</sup> You lie on beds of ivory
and lounge sprawled out on your couches, dining on meat from lambs in the flock

and from calves fattened in stalls.

<sup>5</sup>        You make up wild songs at your parties, playing the lute and inventing other instruments — [imagining that you're] like David!

<sup>6</sup>        You drink wine by the bowlful
and anoint yourselves with the finest oils,
but feel no grief at the ruin of Yosef.

<sup>7</sup>        Therefore now they will be the first to go into exile with those being exiled,
and the revelry of those who lounged,
sprawling, will pass away.

<sup>8</sup>        “Adonai E<sub>LOHIM</sub> swears by himself,” says Adonai E<sub>LOHEI</sub>-Tzva’ot, “I detest that Ya‘akov is so proud,
and I hate his palaces.
I will hand over the city,
along with everything in it.”

<sup>9</sup> When that day comes, if ten men remain in one house, they will die. <sup>10</sup> And if a [dead] man’s uncle, coming to bring the corpse out of the house and burn it, finds a survivor hidden in the inmost recesses of the house and asks, “Is anyone else there with you?” — then, when he receives the answer,

“No,” he will say, “Don’t say any more, because we mustn’t mention the name of A<sub>DONAI</sub>.”

<sup>11</sup> For when A<sub>DONAI</sub> gives the order,

great houses will be shattered

and small houses reduced to rubble.

<sup>12</sup> Do horses run on rock?

Does one plow there with oxen?

Yet you have turned justice into poison

and the fruit of righteousness into bitter wormwood.

You think your power comes from your own strength.

<sup>14</sup> “But I will raise up a nation against you, house of Isra’el,” says Adonai E<sub>LOHEI</sub>-Tzva’ot, “and they will oppress you from the entrance of Hamat to the Vadi of the ‘Aravah.”

7 <sup>1</sup> Here is what Adonai E<sub>LOHIM</sub> showed me: he was forming a swarm of locusts as the late crop was starting to come up, the late crop after the hay had been cut to pay the king’s tribute. <sup>2</sup> While they were finishing up eating all the vegetation in the land, I said, “Adonai E<sub>LOHIM</sub>, forgive — please!

How will tiny Ya‘akov survive?”

<sup>3</sup> So A<sub>DONAI</sub> changed his mind about this. “It won’t happen,” A<sub>DONAI</sub> said.

<sup>4</sup> Next Adonai ELOHIM showed me this: Adonai ELOHIM was summoning a blazing fire to consume the great abyss, and it would have devoured the land too. <sup>5</sup> But I said, “Adonai ELOHIM, stop — please!

How will tiny Ya‘akov survive?”

<sup>7</sup> Then he showed me this: Adonai was standing by a wall made with a plumbline, and he had a plumbline in his hand. <sup>8</sup> ADONAI asked me, “‘Amos, what do you see?” I answered, “A plumbline.” Then Adonai said,

“I am going to put a plumbline in among my people Isra’el;

I will never again overlook their offenses.

<sup>9</sup> The high places of Yitz’chak will be desolate,

Isra’el’s sanctuaries will be destroyed,

and I will attack the house of Yarov’am with the sword.”

<sup>10</sup> Then Amatzyah the priest of Beit-El sent this message to Yarov’am king of Isra’el, “‘Amos is conspiring against you there among the people of Isra’el, and the land can’t bear all that he’s saying. <sup>11</sup> For ‘Amos says: ‘Yarov’am will die by the sword, and Isra’el will be led away from their land into exile.’” <sup>12</sup> Amatzyah also said to ‘Amos, “Go away, seer! Go back to the land of Y’hudah! Earn your living there; and prophesy there; <sup>13</sup> but don’t prophesy any more at Beit-El; for this is the king’s sanctuary, a royal temple.”

<sup>14</sup> ‘Amos gave this answer to Amatzyah: “I am not trained as a prophet, and I’m not one of the guild prophets — I own sheep and grow figs. <sup>15</sup> But ADONAI took me away from following the flock, and ADONAI said to me, ‘Go, prophesy to my people Isra’el.’ <sup>16</sup> So now, hear what ADONAI says: ‘You say, “Don’t prophesy against Isra’el, don’t lecture the people of Yitz’chak.”’ <sup>17</sup> Therefore ADONAI says this:

‘Your wife will become a whore in the city,
your sons and daughters will die by the sword,
your land will be parcelled out with a measuring line,
you yourself will die in an unclean land,
and Isra’el will certainly be exiled from their land.’”

8 <sup>1</sup> Here is what Adonai ELOHIM showed me: there in front of me was a basket of summer fruit. <sup>2</sup> He asked, “‘Amos, what do you see?’” I answered, “A basket of summer [Hebrew: kayitz] fruit.” Then ADONAI said to me,

“The end [Hebrew: ketz] has come for my people,
I will never again overlook their offenses.

<sup>3</sup> When that time comes, the songs in the temple will be wailings,” says Adonai ELOHIM.

“There will be many dead bodies;
everywhere silence will reign.”

<sup>4</sup> Listen, you who swallow the needy
and destroy the poor of the land!

<sup>5</sup> You say, “When will Rosh-Hodesh be over,

so we can market our grain?

and Shabbat, so we can sell wheat?”

You measure the grain in a small eifah,

but the silver in heavy shekels,

fixing the scales, so that you can cheat,

<sup>6</sup> buying the needy for money

and the poor for a pair of shoes,

and sweeping up the refuse of the wheat to sell!”

<sup>7</sup> ADONAI swears by Ya‘akov’s pride,

“I will forget none of their deeds, ever.

<sup>8</sup> Won’t the land tremble for this,

and everyone mourn, who lives in the land?

It will all rise, just like the Nile,

be in turmoil and subside, like the Nile in Egypt.

<sup>9</sup> “When that time comes,” says Adonai ELOHIM,

“I will make the sun go down at noon and darken the earth in broad daylight.

<sup>10</sup> I will turn your festivals into mourning

and all your songs into wailing;
I will make you all put sackcloth around your waists
and shave your heads bald in grief.
I will make it like mourning for an only son
and its end like a bitter day.

<sup>11</sup> “The time is coming,” says Adonai ELOHIM, “when I will send famine over the land,
not a famine of bread or a thirst for water,
but of hearing the words of ADONAI.

<sup>12</sup> People will stagger from sea to sea
and from north to east, running back and forth, seeking the word of ADONAI;
but they will not find it.

<sup>13</sup> When that time comes, young women and men will faint from thirst.

<sup>14</sup> Those who swear by the sin of Shomron, who say, ‘As your god, Dan, lives,’
and, ‘As the way of Be’er-Sheva lives’ —
they will fall and never get up again.”

9<sup>1</sup> I saw Adonai standing beside the altar, and he said, “Strike the tops of the columns until the thresholds shake!

Smash them to pieces on the heads of all the people!

Those who remain I will kill with the sword;

not one of them will succeed in fleeing,

not one of them will escape.

<sup>2</sup> If they dig down to Sh’ol,

my hand will haul them out;

if they climb up to heaven,

I will bring them down.

I will search them out and capture them there;

If they hide from me at the bottom of the sea,

I will order the serpent to bite them there.

<sup>4</sup> If their enemies herd them into exile,

I will order the sword to kill them there.

I will fix my gaze on them

for harm and not for good.”

<sup>5</sup> For Adonai E<sub>LOHIM</sub>-Tzva’ot

is the one who can melt the earth with his touch,
and make all who live on it mourn.

It will all rise, just like the Nile,
and then subside, like the Nile in Egypt.

<sup>6</sup> He builds his upper rooms in heaven and establishes his sky-vault over the earth.

He summons the waters of the sea
and pours them out over the earth.

ADONAI is his name.

<sup>7</sup> “People of Isra’el, are you any different from the Ethiopians to me?” asks ADONAI.

“True, I brought Isra’el up from Egypt, but I also brought the P’lishtim from Kaftor,
and Aram from Kir.

<sup>8</sup> Look, the eyes of Adonai ELOHIM
are on the sinful kingdom.

I will wipe it off the face of the earth,
yet I will not completely destroy the house of Ya‘akov,” says ADONAI.

“For when I give the order,
I will shake the house of Isra’el,
there among all the Goyim,
as one shakes with a sieve,
letting no grain fall to the ground.

<sup>10</sup> All the sinners among my people who say, ‘Disaster will never overtake us or confront us,’ will die by the sword.

<sup>11</sup> “When that day comes, I will raise up
the fallen sukkah of David.
I will close up its gaps, raise up its ruins
and rebuild it as it used to be,

<sup>12</sup> so that Isra’el can possess
what is left of Edom
and of all the nations bearing my name,”
says ADONAI, who is doing this.

<sup>13</sup> “The days will come,” says ADONAI, “when the plowman will overtake the reaper
and the one treading grapes the one sowing seed.

Sweet wine will drip down the mountains,
and all the hills will flow with it.

<sup>14</sup> I will restore the fortunes of my people Isra'el;
they will rebuild and inhabit the ruined cities;
they will plant vineyards and drink their wine,
cultivate gardens and eat their fruit.

<sup>15</sup> I will plant them on their own soil,
no more to be uprooted
from their land, which I gave them,” says ADONAI your God.

‘Ovadyah

OBADIAH

<sup>1</sup> This is the vision of ‘Ovadyah. Here is what Adonai ELOHIM says about Edom. As a messenger was being sent among the nations saying, “Come on, let’s attack her,” we heard a message from ADONAI:

<sup>2</sup> “I am making you the least of all nations,
you will be beneath contempt.

<sup>3</sup> Your proud heart has deceived you,
you whose homes are caves in the cliffs,
who live on the heights and say to yourselves,
‘Who can bring me down to the ground?’

<sup>4</sup> If you make your nest as high as an eagle’s, even if you place it among the stars,
I will bring you down from there.” says ADONAI.

<sup>5</sup> If thieves were to come to you,
or if robbers by night (Oh, how destroyed you are!),
wouldn’t they stop when they’d stolen enough?
If grape-pickers came to you,

Wouldn't they leave some grapes for gleaning?

<sup>6</sup> But see how 'Esav has been looted,
their secret treasures searched out!

<sup>7</sup> Your allies went with you only to the border,
those at peace with you deceived and defeated you,
those who ate your food set a trap for you,
and you couldn't discern it.

<sup>8</sup> "When that Day comes," says A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
"won't I destroy all the wise men of Edom
and leave no discernment on Mount 'Esav?"

<sup>9</sup> Your warriors, Teman, will be so distraught that everyone on Mount 'Esav will be slaughtered.

<sup>10</sup> For the violence done to your kinsman Ya'akov, shame will cover you;
and you will be forever cut off.

<sup>11</sup> On that day you stood aside,
while strangers carried off his treasure,
and foreigners entered his gates to cast lots for Yerushalayim —

you were no different from them.

<sup>12</sup> You shouldn't have gloated over your kinsman
on their day of disaster
or rejoiced over the people of Y'hudah
on their day of destruction.
You shouldn't have spoken arrogantly
on a day of trouble

<sup>13</sup> or entered the gate of my people
on their day of calamity —
no, you shouldn't have gloated over their suffering
on their day of calamity
or laid hands on their treasure
on their day of calamity.

<sup>14</sup> You shouldn't have stood at the crossroads to cut down their fugitives or handed over their survivors
on a day of trouble.”

<sup>15</sup> For the Day of A<sub>DONAI</sub> is near for all nations;
as you did, it will be done to you;

your dealings will come back on your own head.

<sup>16</sup> For just as you have drunk on my holy mountain,
so will all the nations drink in turn;
yes, they will drink and gulp it down
and be as if they had never existed.

<sup>17</sup> But on Mount Tziyon there will be a holy remnant who will escape,
and the house of Ya‘akov will repossess
their rightful inheritance.

<sup>18</sup> The house of Ya‘akov will be a fire and the house of Yosef a flame, setting aflame and consuming
the stubble which is the house of ‘Esav.
None of the house of ‘Esav will remain,
for ADONAI has spoken.

<sup>19</sup> Those in the Negev will repossess
the mountain of ‘Esav,
and those in the Sh’felah
the land of the P’lishtim;

they will repossess the field of Efrayim
and the field of Shomron,
and Binyamin will occupy Gil'ad.

<sup>20</sup> Those from this army of the people of Isra'el
exiled among the Kena'anim as far away as Tzarfat, and the exiles from Yerushalayim in S'farad,
will repossess the cities in the Negev.

<sup>21</sup> Then the victorious will ascend Mount Tziyon
to rule over Mount 'Esav,
but the kingship will belong to A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

Yonah

JONAH

1 <sup>1</sup> The word of ADONAI came to Yonah the son of Amitai: <sup>2</sup> “Set out for the great city of Ninveh, and proclaim to it that their wickedness has come to my attention.”

<sup>3</sup> But Yonah, in order to get away from ADONAI, prepared to escape to Tarshish. He went down to Yafo, found a ship headed for Tarshish, paid the fare and went aboard, intending to travel with them to Tarshish and get away from ADONAI. <sup>4</sup> However, ADONAI let loose over the sea a violent wind, which created such stormy conditions that the ship threatened to break to pieces. <sup>5</sup> The sailors were frightened, and each cried out to his god. They threw the cargo overboard to make the ship easier for them to control.

Meanwhile, Yonah had gone down below into the hold, where he lay, fast asleep. <sup>6</sup> The ship’s captain found him and said to him, “What do you mean by sleeping? Get up! Call on your god! Maybe the god will remember us, and we won’t die.”

<sup>7</sup> Then they said to each other, “Come, let’s draw lots to find out who is to blame for this calamity.” They drew lots, and Yonah was singled out. <sup>8</sup> They said to him, “Tell us now, why has this calamity come upon us? What work do you do? Where are you from? What is your country? Which is your people?” <sup>9</sup> He answered them, “I am a Hebrew; and I fear ADONAI, the God of heaven, who made both the sea and the dry land.” <sup>10</sup> At this the men grew very afraid and said to him, “What is this that you have done?” For the men knew he was trying to get away from ADONAI, since he had told them. <sup>11</sup> They asked him, “What should we do to you, so that the sea will be calm for us?” — for the sea was getting rougher all the time. <sup>12</sup> “Pick me up,” he told them, “and throw me into the sea. Then the sea will be calm for you; because I know it’s my fault that this terrible storm has come over you.”

<sup>13</sup> Nevertheless, the men rowed hard, trying to reach the shore. But they couldn’t, because the sea kept growing wilder against them. <sup>14</sup> Finally they cried to ADONAI, “Please, ADONAI, please! Don’t let us perish for causing the death of this man, and don’t hold us to account for shedding innocent blood;

because you, ADONAI, have done what you saw fit.” <sup>15</sup> Then they picked up Yonah and threw him into the sea, and the sea stopped raging. <sup>16</sup> Seized with great fear of ADONAI, they offered a sacrifice to ADONAI and made vows.

2 <sup>1(1:17)</sup> ADONAI prepared a huge fish to swallow Yonah; and Yonah was in the belly of the fish for three days and three nights. <sup>2(1)</sup> From the belly of the fish Yonah prayed to ADONAI his God; <sup>3(2)</sup> he said,

“Out of my distress I called to ADONAI,

and he answered me;

from the belly of Sh’ol I cried,

and you heard my voice.

<sup>4(3)</sup> For you threw me into the deep,

into the heart of the seas;

and the flood enveloped me;

all your surging waves passed over me.

<sup>5(4)</sup> I thought, ‘I have been banished from your sight.’

But I will again look at your holy temple.

<sup>6(5)</sup> The water surrounded me, threatened my life;

the deep closed over me, seaweed twined around my head.

<sup>7(6)</sup> I was going down to the bottoms of the mountains,

to a land whose bars would close me in forever;

but you brought me up alive from the pit,

ADONAI, my God!

<sup>8(7)</sup> As my life was ebbing away,

I remembered ADONAI;

and my prayer came in to you,

into your holy temple.

<sup>9(8)</sup> “Those who worship vain idols

give up their source of mercy;

<sup>10(9)</sup> but I, speaking my thanks aloud,

will sacrifice to you;

what I have vowed, I will pay.

Salvation comes from ADONAI!”

<sup>11(10)</sup> Then ADONAI spoke to the fish, and it vomited Yonah out onto dry land.

3 <sup>1</sup> The word of ADONAI came to Yonah a second time: <sup>2</sup> “Set out for the great city of Ninveh, and proclaim to it the message I will give you.” <sup>3</sup> So Yonah set out and went to Ninveh, as ADONAI had said. Now Ninveh was such a large city that it took three days just to cross it. <sup>4</sup> Yonah began his entry into the city and had finished only his first day of proclaiming, ‘In forty days Ninveh will be overthrown,’ <sup>5</sup> when the people of Ninveh believed God. They proclaimed a fast and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them to the least. <sup>6</sup> When the news reached the king of Ninveh, he got up from his throne, took off his robe, put on sackcloth and sat in ashes. <sup>7</sup> He then had this proclamation made throughout Ninveh: “By decree of the king and his nobles, no person or animal, herd or flock, is to put anything in his mouth; they are neither to eat nor drink water. <sup>8</sup> They must be covered with sackcloth, both people and animals; and they are to cry out to God with all their might — let each of them turn from his evil way and from the violence they practice. <sup>9</sup> Who knows? Maybe God will change his mind, relent and turn from his fierce anger; and then we won't perish."

<sup>10</sup> When God saw by their deeds that they had turned from their evil way, he relented and did not bring on them the punishment he had threatened.

4 <sup>1</sup> But this was very displeasing to Yonah, and he became angry. <sup>2</sup> He prayed to ADONAI, "Now, ADONAI, didn't I say this would happen, when I was still in my own country? That's why I tried to get away to Tarshish ahead of time! I knew you were a God who is merciful and compassionate, slow to anger and rich in grace, and that you relent from inflicting punishment. <sup>3</sup> Therefore, ADONAI, please, just take my life away from me; it's better for me to be dead than alive!" <sup>4</sup> ADONAI asked, "Is it right for you to be so angry?"

<sup>9</sup> God asked Yonah, "Is it right for you to be so angry about the castor-bean plant?" He answered, "Yes, it's right for me to be so angry that I could die!" <sup>10</sup> ADONAI said, "You're concerned over the castor-bean plant, which cost you no effort; you didn't make it grow; it came up in a night and perished in a night. <sup>11</sup> So shouldn't I be concerned about the great city of Ninveh, in which there are more than 120,000 people who don't know their right hand from their left — not to mention all the animals?"

Mikhah

MICAH

1 <sup>1</sup> This is the word of ADONAI that came to Mikhah the Morashti during the days of Yotam, Achaz and Y'chizkiyah, kings of Y'hudah, which he saw concerning Shomron and Yerushalayim:

<sup>2</sup> Listen, peoples, all of you!

Pay attention, earth, and everything in it!

Adonai ELOHIM will witness against you,

Adonai, from his holy temple.

<sup>3</sup> For — look! — ADONAI is coming out of his place,
coming down to tread on the high places of the land.

<sup>4</sup> Beneath him the mountains will melt,
the valleys split open like wax before fire,
like water poured down a steep slope.

<sup>5</sup> All this is because of the crime of Ya'akov
and the sins of the house of Isra'el.

What is the crime of Ya'akov?

Isn't it Shomron?

And what are the high places of Y'hudah?

Aren't they Yerushalayim?

<sup>6</sup>        "So I will make Shomron a heap in the countryside,
a place for planting vineyards;
I will pour her stones down into the valley,
laying bare her foundations.

<sup>7</sup>        All her carved images will be smashed to pieces,
all she earned consumed by fire;
and I will reduce her idols to rubble.
She amassed them from a whore's wages,
and as a whore's wages they will be spent again."

<sup>8</sup>        This is why I howl and wail, why I go barefoot and stripped,
why I howl like the jackals
and mourn like the ostriches.

<sup>9</sup>        For her wound cannot be healed,
and now it is coming to Y'udah as well;
it reaches even to the gate of my people,
to Yerushalayim itself.

<sup>10</sup>       Don't tell about it in Gat,

don't shed any tears.

At Beit-L'afrah [house of dust]

roll yourself in the dust.

<sup>11</sup> Inhabitants of Shafir, pass on your way

in nakedness and shame.

The inhabitants of Tza'anani

have not left yet.

The wailing of Beit-Ha'etzel

will remove from you their support.

<sup>12</sup> The inhabitants of Marot

have no hope of anything good;

for ADONAI has sent down disaster

to the very gate of Yerushalayim.

<sup>13</sup> Harness the chariots to the fastest horses, inhabitants of Lakhish;

she was the beginning of sin

for the daughter of Tziyon;

for the crimes of Isra'el

are traceable to you.

<sup>14</sup> Therefore you must bestow parting gifts upon Moreshet-Gat.

The houses of Akhziv will disappoint
the kings of Isra'el.

<sup>15</sup> Inhabitants of Mareshah,
I have yet to bring you
the one who will [invade and] possess you.
The glory of Isra'el will come to 'Adulam.

<sup>16</sup> Shave the hair from your head as you mourn
for the children who were your delight;
make yourselves as bald as vultures,
for they have gone from you into exile.

2 <sup>1</sup> Woe to those who think up evil
and plan wickedness as they lie in bed.
When morning comes, they do it,
since they have it in their power.

<sup>2</sup> They covet fields and seize them;
they take over houses as well,
doing violence to both owner and house,
to people and their inherited land.

<sup>3</sup> Therefore this is what A<sub>DONAI</sub> says:

“Against this family I am planning an evil
from which you will not withdraw your necks;
nor will you walk with your heads held high,
for it will be an evil time.”

<sup>4</sup> On that day they will take up a dirge for you;
sadly lamenting, they will wail,
“We are completely ruined!
Our people’s land has changed hands.
Our fields are taken away from us;
instead of restoring them, he parcels them out.”

<sup>5</sup> Therefore, you will have no one in the assembly of A<sub>DONAI</sub> to stretch out a measuring line and restore the land assigned by lot.

<sup>6</sup> “Don’t preach!” — thus they preach!
“They shouldn’t preach about these things.
Shame will not overtake us” —

<sup>7</sup> is this what the house of Ya‘akov says?

A<sub>DONAI</sub> has not grown impatient,
and these things are not his doings.

“Rather, my words do only good to anyone living uprightly.

<sup>8</sup> But lately my people behave like an enemy, stripping both cloaks and tunics
from travelers who thought they were secure,
so that they become like war refugees.

<sup>9</sup> You throw my people’s women
out of the homes they love.
You deprive their children
of my glory forever.

<sup>10</sup> Get up and go! You can’t stay here!
Because [the land] is now unclean,
it will destroy you
with a grievous destruction.”

<sup>11</sup> If a man who walks in wind and falsehood tells this lie: “I will preach to you of [how good it is to drink] wine and strong liquor” —

this people will accept him as their preacher!

<sup>12</sup> “I will assemble all of you, Ya‘akov;

I will gather the remnant of Isra’el,

I will put them together like sheep in a pen,

like a herd in its pasture —

it will hum with the sounds of people.”

<sup>13</sup> The one breaking through went up before them;

they broke through, passed the gate and went out.

Their king passed on before them;

ADONAI was leading them.

3 <sup>1</sup> “I said, ‘Please listen, leaders of Ya‘akov, rulers of the house of Isra’el:

Shouldn’t you know what justice is?

<sup>2</sup> Yet you hate what is good and love what is bad.

You strip off their skin from them

and their flesh from their bones,

<sup>3</sup> you eat the flesh of my people,

skin them alive, break their bones;

yes, they chop them in pieces,

like flesh in a caldron, like meat in a pot.’”

<sup>4</sup> Then they will call to A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

but he will not answer them;

when that time comes, he will hide his face from them,

because their deeds were so wicked.

<sup>5</sup> Here is what A<sub>DONAI</sub> says in regard to the prophets who cause my people to go astray, who cry, “Peace” as soon as they are given food to eat but prepare war against anyone who fails to put something in their mouths:

<sup>6</sup> “Therefore you will have night, not vision, darkness and not divination;

the sun will go down on the prophets,

over them the day will be black.”

<sup>7</sup> The seers will be put to shame,

the diviners will be disgraced.

They will have to cover their mouths,

because there will be no answer from God.

<sup>8</sup> On the other hand, I am full of power

by the Spirit of A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

full of justice and full of might,

to declare to Ya‘akov his crime,

to Isra'el his sin.

<sup>9</sup> Hear this, please, leaders of the house of Ya'akov,
rulers of the house of Isra'el,
you who abhor what is just
and pervert anything that is right,

<sup>10</sup> who build up Tziyon with blood
Yerushalayim with wickedness.

<sup>11</sup> and Her leaders sell verdicts for bribes,
her cohanim teach for a price,
her prophets divine for money —
yet they claim to rely on ADONAI!
“Isn't ADONAI here with us?” they say.
“No evil can come upon us.”

<sup>12</sup> Therefore, because of you,
Tziyon will be plowed under like a field,
Yerushalayim will become heaps of ruins,
and the mountain of the house like a forested height.

4 <sup>1</sup> But in the acharit-hayamim it will come about that the mountain of ADONAI's house

will be established as the most important mountain.

It will be regarded more highly than the other hills,
and peoples will stream there.

<sup>2</sup> Many Gentiles will go and say, “Come, let’s go up to the mountain of A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
to the house of the God of Ya‘akov!
He will teach us about his ways,
and we will walk in his paths.”
For out of Tziyon will go forth Torah,
the word of A<sub>DONAI</sub> from Yerushalayim.

<sup>3</sup> He will judge between many peoples and arbitrate for many nations far away.
Then they will hammer their swords into plow-blades
and their spears into pruning-knives;
nations will not raise swords at each other,
and they will no longer learn war.

<sup>4</sup> Instead, each person will sit under his vine
and fig tree, with no one to upset him,
for the mouth of A<sub>DONAI</sub>-Tzva’ot
has spoken.

<sup>5</sup> For all the peoples will walk,
each in the name of its god;
but we will walk in the name of A<sub>DONAI</sub>
our God forever and ever.

<sup>6</sup> “When that day comes,” says A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
“I will assemble the lame
and gather those who were dispersed,
along with those I afflicted.

<sup>7</sup> I will make the lame a remnant and those who were driven off a strong nation.”
A<sub>DONAI</sub> will rule them on Mount Tziyon
from that time forth and forever.

<sup>8</sup> You, tower of the flock,
hill of the daughter of Tziyon,
to you your former sovereignty will return,
the royal power of the daughter of Yerushalayim.

<sup>9</sup> Why are you now crying out?
Don’t you have a king?
Has your counselor been destroyed,

that you are seized with pain like a woman in labor?

<sup>10</sup> Be in pain! Work to give birth

like a woman in labor, daughter of Tziyon!

For now you will go out of the city and live in the wilds till you reach Bavel.

There you will be rescued;

there ADONAI will redeem you

from the power of your enemies.

<sup>11</sup> Now many nations have gathered against you;

they say, “Let her be defiled,

let’s gloat over Tziyon.”

<sup>12</sup> But they don’t know the thoughts of ADONAI,

they don’t understand his plan;

for he has gathered them like sheaves

on the threshing-floor.

<sup>13</sup> Get up! Start threshing, daughter of Tziyon!

“For I will make your horns like iron and your hoofs like bronze.”

You will crush many peoples and devote their plunder to ADONAI, their wealth to the Lord of all the earth.

<sup>14(5:1)</sup> Now gather yourself in troops,
you who are accustomed to being in troops;
they have laid siege to us.
They are striking the judge of Isra'el
on the cheek with a stick.

5 <sup>1(2)</sup> But you, Beit-Lechem near Efrat, so small among the clans of Y'udah,
out of you will come forth to me
the future ruler of Isra'el,
whose origins are far in the past,
back in ancient times.

<sup>2(3)</sup> Therefore he will give up [Isra'el]
only until she who is in labor gives birth.
Then the rest of his kinsmen
will return to the people of Isra'el.

<sup>3(4)</sup> He will stand and feed his flock
in the strength of ADONAI,

in the majesty of the name of A<sub>DONAI</sub> his God;
and they will stay put, as he grows great
to the very ends of the earth;
<sup>4(5)</sup> and this will be peace.

If Ashur invades our land,
if he overruns our fortresses,
we will raise seven shepherds against him,
eight leaders of men.

<sup>5(6)</sup> They will shepherd the land of Ashur with the sword,
the land of Nimrod at its gates;
and he will rescue us from Ashur
when he invades our land,
when he overruns our borders.

<sup>6(7)</sup> Then the remnant of Ya‘akov,
surrounded by many peoples,
will be like dew from A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
like showers on the grass,
which doesn’t wait for a man or expect anything from mortals.

<sup>7(8)</sup> The remnant of Ya‘akov among the nations,
surrounded by many peoples,
will be like a lion among forest animals,
like a young lion among flocks of sheep —
if it passes through, tramples and tears to pieces,
there is no one to rescue them.

<sup>8(9)</sup> Your hand will be raised over your enemies;
all your adversaries will be destroyed.

<sup>9(10)</sup> “When that day comes,” says ADONAI,
“I will cut off your horses from among you
and destroy your chariots.

<sup>10(11)</sup> I will cut off the cities of your land
and lay waste your strongholds.

<sup>11(12)</sup> I will cut off sorceries from your land;
you will no longer have soothsayers.

<sup>12(13)</sup> I will cut off your carved images and standing-stones from among you;
no longer will you worship
what your own hands have made.

<sup>13(14)</sup> I will pull up your sacred poles from among you and destroy your enemies.

<sup>14(15)</sup> I will wreak vengeance in anger and fury on the nations, because they would not listen.”

6 <sup>1</sup> So listen now to what A<sub>DONAI</sub> says:

“Stand up and state your case to the mountains,
let the hills hear what you have to say.”

<sup>2</sup> Listen, mountains, to A<sub>DONAI</sub>’s case;
also you enduring rocks that support the earth!
A<sub>DONAI</sub> has a case against his people;
he wants to argue it out with Isra’el:

<sup>3</sup> “My people, what have I done to you?
How have I wearied you? Answer me!

<sup>4</sup> I brought you up from the land of Egypt.
I redeemed you from a life of slavery.
I sent Moshe, Aharon
and Miryam to lead you.

<sup>5</sup> My people, just remember what Balak
the king of Mo’av had planned,

what Bil'am the son of B'or answered him,
[and what happened] between Sheetim and Gilgal —
so that you will understand the saving deeds of ADONAI.”

<sup>6</sup> “With what can I come before ADONAI

to bow down before God on high?

Should I come before him with burnt offerings?

<sup>7</sup> Would ADONAI take delight in thousands of rams with ten thousand rivers of olive oil?

Could I give my firstborn to pay for my crimes,

the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?”

<sup>8</sup> Human being, you have already been told what is good, what ADONAI demands of you —

no more than to act justly, love grace and walk in purity with your God.

<sup>9</sup> The voice of ADONAI! He calls to the city — and it is wisdom to fear your name —

“Listen to the rod and to him who commissioned it.

<sup>10</sup> Are there still ill-gotten gains in the house of the wicked?
still the detestable short EIFAH-measure?

<sup>11</sup> Should I declare innocent wicked scales
and a bag of fraudulent weights?

<sup>12</sup> The rich men there are full of violence,
the inhabitants tell lies,
with tongues of deceit in their mouths.

<sup>13</sup> “Therefore, I am starting to strike you down, to destroy you because of your sins.

<sup>14</sup> You will eat but not be satisfied, with hunger gnawing inside you.
You will conceive but not give birth;
if you do give birth, I will give him to the sword.

<sup>15</sup> You will sow but will not reap,
you will press olives but not rub yourself with oil,
likewise you will press grapes but not drink the wine.

<sup>16</sup> For you keep the regulations of ‘Omri
and all the practices of the house of Ach’av, modeling yourselves on their advice.

Therefore I will make you an object of horror,
the inhabitants of this city a cause for contempt;
you will suffer the insults aimed at my people.”

7<sup>1</sup>     Woe to me! for I have become like the leavings of summer fruit, like the gleanings when the vintage is finished —
there isn’t a cluster worth eating,
no early-ripened fig that appeals to me.

<sup>2</sup>         The godly have been destroyed from the land,
there is no one upright among humankind.
They all lie in wait for blood,
each hunts his brother with a net.

<sup>3</sup>         Their hands do evil well.
The prince makes his request,
the judge grants it for a price,
and the great man expresses his evil desires —
thus they weave it together.

<sup>4</sup>         The best of them is a briar,
the most upright worse than a thorn hedge.

The time of your watchmen — of your punishment — has come;
now they will be confused.

<sup>5</sup> Don't trust in your neighbor;
don't put confidence in a close friend;
shut the gates of your mouth even from [your wife],
lying there with you in bed.

<sup>6</sup> For a son insults his father,
a daughter rises against her mother,
daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law —
a person's enemies are the members of his own household.

<sup>7</sup> But as for me, I will look to ADONAI,
I will wait for the God of my salvation;
my God will hear me.

<sup>8</sup> Enemies of mine, don't gloat over me!
Although I have fallen, I will rise;
though I live in the dark, ADONAI is my light.

<sup>9</sup> I will endure ADONAI's rage, because I sinned against him;
until he pleads my cause

and judges in my favor.

Then he will bring me out to the light,

and I will see his justice.

<sup>10</sup> My enemies will see it too,

and shame will cover those who said to me, “Where is A<sub>DONAI</sub> your God?”

I will gloat over them,

as they are trampled underfoot

like mud in the streets.

<sup>11</sup> That will be the day for rebuilding your walls,

a day for expanding your territory,

<sup>12</sup> a day when [your] people will come [back] to you from Ashur and from the cities of Egypt,

from Egypt and from as far as the Euphrates River,

and from sea to sea, and from mountain to mountain.

<sup>13</sup> The earth will be desolate for those living in it, as a result of their deeds.

<sup>14</sup> Shepherd your people with your staff,

the flock that belongs to you,

who live alone, like a forest
in the middle of a fertile pasture.
Let them feed in Bashan and Gil'ad,
as they did in days of old.

<sup>15</sup> “As in the days when you came out of Egypt,
I will show them wonders.”

<sup>16</sup> The nations will see and be put to shame,
in spite of all their power.
They will cover their mouths with their hands,
and their ears will be deafened.

<sup>17</sup> They will lick the dust like snakes;
they will emerge from their fortresses trembling
like reptiles that crawl about on the earth;
they will come with fear to ADONAI our God,
afraid because of you.

<sup>18</sup> Who is a God like you,
pardoning the sin and overlooking the crimes
of the remnant of his heritage?
He does not retain his anger forever,

because he delights in grace.

<sup>19</sup> He will again have compassion on us,

he will subdue our iniquities.

You will throw all their sins

into the depths of the sea.

<sup>20</sup> You will show truth to Ya‘akov

and grace to Avraham,

as you have sworn to our ancestors

since days of long ago.

NAHUM

1<sup>1</sup> This is a prophecy about Ninveh, the book of the vision of Nachum the Elkoshi:

<sup>2</sup>       A<sub>DONAI</sub> is a jealous and vengeful God.

A<sub>DONAI</sub> avenges; he knows how to be angry.

A<sub>DONAI</sub> takes vengeance on his foes

and stores up wrath for his enemies.

<sup>3</sup>       A<sub>DONAI</sub> is slow to anger, but great in power;

and he does not leave the guilty unpunished.

A<sub>DONAI</sub>'s path is in the whirlwind and storm,

and the clouds are the dust of his feet.

<sup>4</sup>       He rebukes the sea and leaves it dry,

he dries up all the rivers.

Bashan and the Karmel languish;

the flower of the L'vanon withers.

<sup>5</sup>       The mountains quake before him,

and the hills dissolve;

the earth collapses in his presence,

the world and everyone living in it.

<sup>6</sup> Who can withstand his fury?

Who can endure his fierce anger?

His wrath is poured out like fire,
the rocks broken to pieces before him.

<sup>7</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub> is good,

a stronghold in time of trouble;

he takes care of those who take refuge in him.

<sup>8</sup> But with an overwhelming flood

he will make an end of [Ninveh's] place,
and darkness will pursue his enemies.

<sup>9</sup> What are you planning against A<sub>DONAI</sub>?

He is making an end [of it];
trouble will not arise a second time.

<sup>10</sup> For like men drunk with liquor,

they will be burned up like tangled thorns,
like straw completely dry.

<sup>11</sup> Out of you, [Ninveh,] he came,

one who plots evil against A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
who counsels wickedness.

<sup>12</sup> Here is what A<sub>DONAI</sub> says:

“Though they be many and strong,
they will be cut down, they will pass;
and though I have made you suffer,
I will make you suffer no more.

<sup>13</sup> Now I will break his yoke from your necks and snap the chains that bind you.

<sup>14</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub> gave this order concerning you:
you will have no descendants to bear your name;
from the house of your god I will cut off carved image and cast metal image;
I will prepare your grave,
because you are worthless.”

2<sup>1(1:15)</sup> Look! On the mountains are the feet of him who brings good news, proclaiming shalom.
Keep your festivals, Y’hudah, fulfill your vows;
for B’liya’al will never pass through you again;

he has been completely destroyed.

<sup>2(1)</sup> A destroyer has risen in front of your face;

guard the ramparts, keep watch on the road,

brace yourselves, marshall all your strength.

<sup>3(2)</sup> For A<sub>DONAI</sub> is restoring the pride of Ya‘akov, along with the pride of Isra’el;

because plunderers have plundered them

and ravaged their vines.

the soldiers are wearing scarlet.

The steel of the chariots flashes like fire

as they prepare for battle.

The cypress [spears] are poisoned.

<sup>5(4)</sup> The chariots rush madly about in the streets, jostling each other in the open places;

their appearance is like torches,

they run here and there like lightning.

<sup>6(5)</sup> [The king of Ninveh] assigns his officers;

they stumble as they march;

they hurry to its wall and set up shields
to protect the battering ram.

<sup>7(6)</sup> The gates of the rivers are opened,
and the palace melts away.

<sup>8(7)</sup> Its mistress is stripped and carried away;
her handmaids moan, they sound like doves,
as they beat their breasts.

<sup>9(8)</sup> Ninveh is like a pool whose water ebbs away.
“Stop! Stop!” But none of it goes back.

<sup>10(9)</sup> Plunder the silver! Plunder the gold!
There is no end to the treasure,
weighed down with precious things.

<sup>11(10)</sup> She is void, vacant; she is made bare.
Hearts are melting, knees are knocking;
every stomach is churning,
every face is drained of color.

<sup>12(11)</sup> What has become of the lion’s den,
the cave where the young lions fed,
where lion and lioness walked with their cubs,

and no one made them afraid?

<sup>13(12)</sup> The lion would tear up food for his cubs and strangle prey for his lionesses;

he used to fill his caves with prey,

his lairs with torn flesh.

<sup>14(13)</sup> “I am against you,” says ADONAI-Tzva’ot.

“Her chariots I will send up in smoke,

the sword will consume your lion cubs,

I will destroy your prey from the earth,

and your envoys’ voices will be heard no more.”

3<sup>1</sup> Woe to the city of blood, steeped in lies,

full of prey, with no end to the plunder!

Galloping horses, jolting chariots,

<sup>3</sup> cavalry charging, swords flashing,

spears glittering —

and hosts of slain, heaps of bodies;

there is no end to the corpses;

they stumble over their corpses.

<sup>4</sup> “Because of the continual whoring of this whore,
this alluring mistress of sorcery,
who sells nations with her whoring
and families with her sorcery;

<sup>5</sup> I am against you,” says Aoonai-Tzva’ot.
“I will uncover your skirts on your face;
I will show the nations your private parts
and the kingdoms your shame.

<sup>6</sup> I will pelt you with disgusting filth,
disgrace you and make a spectacle of you.

<sup>7</sup> Then all who see you will recoil from you;
they will say, ‘Ninveh is destroyed!’
Who will mourn for her?
Where can I find people to comfort you?”

<sup>8</sup> Are you any better than No-Amon, located among the streams of the Nile,
with water all around her,
the flood her wall of defense?

<sup>9</sup> Ethiopia and Egypt gave her boundless strength,

Put and Luvim were there to help you.

<sup>10</sup> Still she went captive into exile,
her infants torn to pieces at every streetcorner.
Lots were drawn for her nobles,
and all her great men were bound in chains.

<sup>11</sup> You too, [Ninveh,] will be drunk;
your senses completely overcome.
You too will seek a refuge
from the enemy.

<sup>12</sup> All your fortifications will be like fig trees with early ripening figs;
the moment they are shaken, they fall
into the mouth of the eater.

<sup>13</sup> Look at your troops! They behave like women!
Your country's gates are wide open to your foes;
fire has consumed their bars.

<sup>14</sup> Draw water for the siege!
Strengthen your fortifications!
Go down in the clay, tread the mortar,

Take hold of the mold for bricks!

<sup>15</sup> There the fire will burn you up;

and the sword will cut you down;

it will devour you like grasshoppers.

Make yourselves as many as grasshoppers,

Make yourselves as many as locusts!

<sup>16</sup> You had more merchants than stars in the sky.

The locust sheds its skin and flies away.

<sup>17</sup> Your guards are like grasshoppers,

your marshals like swarms of locusts,

which settle on the walls on a cold day,

but when the sun rises they fly away;

they vanish to no one knows where.

Your leaders are asleep.

Your people are scattered all over the mountains,

with no one to round them up.

<sup>19</sup> Your wound cannot be healed.

Your injury is fatal.

Everyone hearing the news about you

claps his hands in joy over you.

For who has not been overwhelmed

by your relentless cruelty?

Havakuk

HABAKKUK

1<sup>1</sup> This is the prophecy which Havakuk the prophet saw:

<sup>2</sup>       ADONAI, how long must I cry

without your hearing?

“Violence!” I cry to you,

but you don’t save.

<sup>3</sup>       Why do you make me see wrongdoing,

why do you permit oppression?

Pillage and cruelty confront me,

so that strife and discord prevail.

<sup>4</sup>       Therefore Torah is not followed;

justice never gets rendered,

because the wicked fence in the righteous.

This is why justice comes out perverted.

<sup>5</sup>       “Look around among the nations!

What you see will completely astound you!

For what is going to be done in your days

you will not believe, even when you are told.

<sup>6</sup> I am raising up the Kasdim,
that bitter and impetuous nation,
who march far and wide over the earth
to seize homes that are not their own.

<sup>7</sup> Fearsome and dreadful they are;
their rules and strength come from themselves.

<sup>8</sup> Their horses are swifter than leopards, fiercer than wolves at night.
Their cavalry gallop in from afar,
flying like vultures rushing to feed.

<sup>9</sup> All of them come for violence,
their faces set eagerly forward,
scooping up captives like sand.

<sup>10</sup> They scoff at kings;
princes they deride.
They laugh at any fortress;
they pile up earth and take it.

<sup>11</sup> Then they sweep on like the wind,

but they become guilty,
because they make their strength their god.”

<sup>12</sup>        A<sub>DONAI</sub>, haven’t you existed forever?

My God, my holy one, we will not die.

A<sub>DONAI</sub>, you appointed them to execute judgment.

Rock, you commissioned them to correct us.

<sup>13</sup>        Your eyes are too pure to see evil,

you cannot countenance oppression.

So why do you countenance traitors?

Why are you silent when evil people swallow up those more righteous than they?

<sup>14</sup>        You make people like fish in the sea,

like reptiles that have no ruler.

catch them in their fish net,

or gather them in their dragnet.

Then they rejoice and make merry,

<sup>16</sup>        offering sacrifices to their fishnet

and burning incense to their dragnet;

because through them they live in luxury,
with plenty of food to eat.

<sup>17</sup> Should they, therefore, keep emptying their nets?
Should they keep slaughtering the nations without pity?

2 <sup>1</sup> I will stand at my watchpost;
I will station myself on the rampart.
I will look to see what [God] will say through me
and what I will answer when I am reproved.

<sup>2</sup> Then A<sub>DONAI</sub> answered me; he said, “Write down the vision clearly on tablets,
so that even a runner can read it.

<sup>3</sup> For the vision is meant for its appointed time;
it speaks of the end, and it does not lie.
It may take a while, but wait for it;
it will surely come, it will not delay.

<sup>4</sup> “Look at the proud: he is inwardly not upright;
but the righteous will attain life through trusting faithfulness.

the arrogant will not live at peace
but keeps expanding his desires like Sh'ol;
like death, he can never be satisfied;
he keeps collecting all the nations for himself,
rallying to himself all the peoples.

<sup>6</sup> Won't all these take up taunting him
and say about him, in mocking riddles,
'Woe to him who amasses other people's wealth! —
how long must it go on? —
and to him who adds to himself the weight of goods taken in pledge!

<sup>7</sup> Won't your own creditors suddenly stand,
won't those who make you tremble wake up?
You will become their spoil.

<sup>8</sup> Because you plundered many nations,
all the rest of the peoples will plunder you;
because of the bloodshed and violence done
to the land, the city and all who live there.

<sup>9</sup> “Woe to him who seeks unjust gain for his household, putting his nest on the heights,

in order to be safe from the reach of harm.

<sup>10</sup> By scheming to destroy many peoples,
you have brought shame to your house
and forfeited your life.

<sup>11</sup> For the very stones will cry out from the wall,
and a beam in the framework will answer them.

<sup>12</sup> “‘Woe to him who builds a city with blood and founds a town on injustice,

<sup>13</sup> so that people toil for what will be burned up,
and nations exhaust themselves to no purpose.

Isn't all this from A<sub>DONAI</sub>-Tzva'ot?

<sup>14</sup> For the earth will be as full of the knowledge of A<sub>DONAI</sub>'s glory
as water covering the sea.

<sup>15</sup> “‘Woe to him who has his neighbor drink, adds his own poison and makes him drunk,
in order to see him naked.

<sup>16</sup> You are filled with shame, not glory.

You, drink too, and stagger!

The cup of A<sub>DONAI</sub>'s right hand

will be turned against you;

your shame will exceed your glory.

<sup>17</sup> For the violence done to the L'vanon

will overwhelm you,

and the destruction of the wild animals

will terrify you;

because of the bloodshed and violence done

to the land, the city and all who live there.”

<sup>18</sup> What good is an idol, once its maker has shaped it,

a cast metal image and a teacher of lies,

that its maker puts his trust in it,

and goes on making non-gods, unable to talk?

<sup>19</sup> Woe to him who tells a piece of wood, “Wake up!”

or a speechless stone, “Rouse yourself!”

Can this thing teach? Why, it's covered with gold and silver, without the slightest breath in it!

<sup>20</sup> But A<sub>DONAI</sub> is in his holy temple;

let all the earth be silent before him.

3<sup>1</sup> This is a prayer of Havakuk the prophet (on musical instruments called shi-gyonot).

<sup>2</sup>        A<sub>DONAI</sub>, I have heard the report about you.

A<sub>DONAI</sub>, I am awed by your deeds.

Bring your work to life in our own age,

make it known in our own time;

but in anger, remember compassion.

<sup>3</sup>        God comes from Teman,

the Holy One from Mount Pa'ran. (Selah)

His splendor covers the sky,

and his praise fills the earth.

<sup>4</sup>        His brightness is like the sun,

rays come forth from his hand —

that is where his power is concealed.

<sup>5</sup>        Before him goes pestilence,

and close behind, the plague.

<sup>6</sup>        When he stands up, the earth shakes;

when he looks, the nations tremble,

the eternal mountains are smashed to pieces,
the ancient hills sink down;
the ancient paths are his.

<sup>7</sup> I saw trouble in the tents of Kushan and the tent hangings shaking in the land of Midyan.

<sup>8</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub>, is it against the rivers, against the rivers that your anger is inflamed?
Is your fury directed at the sea?
Is that why you ride on your horses,
and drive your chariots to victory?

<sup>9</sup> You brandish your naked bow and order it filled with arrows. (Selah)
You split the earth with rivers.

<sup>10</sup> The mountains see you and tremble;
a torrent of water streams by;
the deep thunders forth,
as it raises enormous waves.

<sup>11</sup> The sun and moon stand still in the sky
at the light of your arrows speeding by,

at the gleam of your glittering spear.

<sup>12</sup> In fury you stride across the land,

in anger you trample the nations.

<sup>13</sup> You come out to save your people,

to save your anointed one;

you crush the head of the house of the wicked,

uncovering its foundation all the way to the neck.

<sup>14</sup> With their own rods you pierce the head of their warriors,

who come like a whirlwind to scatter us,

who rejoice at the prospect of devouring the poor in secret.

<sup>15</sup> You tread down the sea with your horses,

churning up the mighty waters.

<sup>16</sup> When I heard, my whole body trembled,

my lips shook at the sound;

weakness overcame my limbs,

my legs gave way beneath me.

But I wait calmly for the day of trouble,

when it comes upon our assailants.

<sup>17</sup> For even if the fig tree doesn't blossom,
and no fruit is on the vines,
even if the olive tree fails to produce,
and the fields yield no food at all,
even if the sheep vanish from the sheep pen,
and there are no cows in the stalls;

<sup>18</sup> still, I will rejoice in ADONAI,
I will take joy in the God of my salvation.

<sup>19</sup> ELOHIM Adonai is my strength!
He makes me swift and sure-footed as a deer
and enables me to stride over my high places.
For the leader. With my stringed instruments.

Tz’fanyah

ZEPHANIAH

1 <sup>1</sup> This is the word of ADONAI that came to Tz’fanyah the son of Kushi, the son of G’dalyah, the son of Amaryah, the son of Hizkiyah, during the reign of Yoshiyahu the son of Amon, king of Y’hudah:

<sup>2</sup> “I will completely sweep away everything off the face of the land,” says ADONAI.

<sup>3</sup> “I will sweep away humans and animals,
the birds in the air and the fish in the sea,
also the wicked and what makes them stumble;
I will wipe humanity off the land,” says ADONAI.

<sup>4</sup> “I will stretch out my hand over Y’hudah
and all those living in Yerushalayim.
I will wipe every remnant of Ba‘al from this place,
the idol-serving priests and even their names,

<sup>5</sup> those worshipping heaven’s army on the roofs,
also those who worship and swear by ADONAI
but swear by Malkam as well,

<sup>6</sup> those who turned away from following ADONAI,

and those who haven't sought Adonai
or consulted him at all."

<sup>7</sup> Keep silent before Adonai Elohim, for the Day of Adonai is near.
Adonai has prepared a sacrifice;
he has set apart those he invited.

<sup>8</sup> When the time comes for Adonai's sacrifice —
"I will punish the leaders and the sons of the king,
also those who dress in foreign clothes.

<sup>9</sup> On the same day I will also punish all who jump over the threshold to fill the house of their master
with violence and deceit.

<sup>10</sup> Also on that day," says Adonai,
"a cry will be heard from the Fish Gate,
wailing from the city's Second Quarter and a loud crash from the hills.

<sup>11</sup> Wail, you who live down in the hollow,

because all the merchants are destroyed,
all who trade with silver are ruined.

<sup>12</sup> When that time comes, I will search Yerushalayim with lamps
and punish those who are [smug and thick,
like wine] left too long on its dregs, who say to themselves, ‘A<sub>DONAI</sub> will do nothing — neither good nor bad.’

<sup>13</sup> For this, their wealth will be plundered;
and their houses will be destroyed.
Yes, they will build houses but not live in them;
they will plant vineyards but not drink the wine.”

<sup>14</sup> The great Day of A<sub>DONAI</sub> is near,
near and coming very quickly;
Hear the sound of the Day of A<sub>DONAI</sub>!
When it’s here, even a warrior will cry bitterly.

<sup>15</sup> That Day is a Day of fury,
a Day of trouble and distress,
a Day of waste and desolation,

a Day of darkness and gloom,

a Day of clouds and thick fog,

<sup>16</sup> a Day of the shofar and battle-cry

against the fortified cities

and against the high towers [on the city walls].

<sup>17</sup> “I will bring such distress on people that they will grope their way like the blind,

because they have sinned against ADONAI.

Their blood will be poured out like dust

and their bowels like dung.

<sup>18</sup> Neither their silver nor their gold will be able to save them.

On the day of ADONAI’s fury,

the whole land will be destroyed

in the fire of his jealousy.

For he will make an end, a horrible end,

of all those living in the land.”

2<sup>1</sup> Gather together, gather yourselves,

nation devoid of shame;

<sup>2</sup> before the decree takes effect,
and the day comes when one passes like chaff;
before ADONAI's fierce anger
comes on you,
before the day of ADONAI's anger
comes on you.

<sup>3</sup> Seek ADONAI, all you humble in the land,
you who exercise his justice;
seek righteousness, seek humility —
you might be hidden
on the day of ADONAI's anger.

<sup>4</sup> For 'Azah will be abandoned, Ashkelon will be desolate,
they will evacuate Ashdod at noon,
and 'Ekron will be uprooted.

<sup>5</sup> Woe to the inhabitants of the seacoast,
the nation of the K'reti!
The word of ADONAI is against you,
Kena'an, land of the P'lishtim:

“I will destroy you; no one will be left.”

<sup>6</sup> The seacoast will be reduced to pastures, meadows for shepherds, pens for sheep;

<sup>7</sup> and the coast will belong to the remnant of the house of Y’hudah.

They will pasture their flocks there
and in the evening lie down
in the houses of Ashkelon.

For A<sub>DONAI</sub> their God will remember them
and restore their fortunes.

<sup>8</sup> “I have heard the insults of Mo’av
and the taunts of the people of ‘Amon,
how they reviled my people
and boasted of expanding their territory.

<sup>9</sup> Therefore, as I live,” says A<sub>DONAI</sub>-Tzva’ot,
the God of Isra’el, “Mo’av will become like S’dom
and the people of ‘Amon like ‘Amora,
a land covered with nettles and salt pits,

desolate forever.

The remnant of my people will plunder them,
the survivors in my nation will inherit them.”

<sup>10</sup> This is what they will earn for their pride, for having reviled and boasted against the people of ADONAI-Tzva’ot.

<sup>11</sup> ADONAI will be fearsome against them,
for he will make all the earth’s gods waste away.
Then all the coasts and islands of the nations will worship him, each from its place.

<sup>12</sup> “You too, Ethiopians,
will be put to death by my sword.”

<sup>13</sup> He will stretch out his hand against the north;
he will destroy Ashur;
he will make Ninveh desolate,
as dry as the desert.

<sup>14</sup> Herds will lie down in it,
and all kinds of wild animals too —
jackdaws and owls will roost on her columns,

voices screeching in the windows,
desolation on the doorsteps,
for its cedarwork is stripped bare.

<sup>15</sup> This is the city, once so joyful, whose people felt themselves secure,
who used to say to herself,
“I am [the greatest]! I have no rival.”
What a ruin she has become —
a place for wild animals to lie down!
Everyone passing by her
hisses and shakes his fist!

3<sup>1</sup> Woe to her who is filthy, defiled;
woe to the tyrant city!

<sup>2</sup> She wouldn't listen to the voice,
wouldn't receive correction;
she didn't trust in ADONAI,
didn't draw close to her God.

<sup>3</sup> Her leaders there with her are roaring lions,
her judges desert wolves,

who don't leave even a bone for tomorrow.

<sup>4</sup> Her prophets are reckless, treacherous men;
her cohanim profane the holy
and do violence to Torah.

<sup>5</sup> ADONAI, who is righteous, is there among them;
he never does anything wrong.
Every morning he renders his judgment,
every morning, without fail;
yet the wrongdoer knows no shame.

<sup>6</sup> "I have cut off nations,
their battlements are ruined;
I have made their streets ruins,
no one walks in them.
Their cities are destroyed,
abandoned, unpeopled.

<sup>7</sup> I said, 'Surely now you will fear me,
you will receive correction';
so that her place will not be cut off
by all the punishments I brought on her.

But no, they only grew all the more eager to be corrupt in all that they do.

<sup>8</sup>       Therefore, wait for me,” says A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
“for the day when I rise to witness against you,
when I decide to assemble nations,
to gather kingdoms together,
to pour on them my indignation,
all my furious anger;
for all the earth will be consumed
in the fire of my passion.

<sup>9</sup>       For then I will change the peoples,
so that they will have pure lips,
to call on the name of A<sub>DONAI</sub>, all of them,
and serve him with one accord.

<sup>10</sup>       Even from beyond Ethiopia’s rivers
they will bring those who petition me,
the daughter of my dispersed as my offering.

<sup>11</sup>       When that day comes, you will not be ashamed of everything you have done,
committing wrongs against me;

for then I will remove from among you
those of you who take joy in arrogance;
you will no longer be full of pride
on my holy mountain.

<sup>12</sup> I will leave among you
a poor and afflicted people,
who will find their refuge
in the name of A<sub>DONAI</sub>.”

<sup>13</sup> The remnant of Isra’el will not do wrong,
nor will they speak lies,
nor will there be found in their mouths
a tongue given over to deceit;
for they will be able to graze and lie down,
with no one to disturb them.

<sup>14</sup> Sing, daughter of Tziyon!
Shout, Isra’el!
Be glad and rejoice with all your heart,
daughter of Yerushalayim!

<sup>15</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub> has removed the judgments against you,

he has expelled your enemy;
the king of Isra'el, A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
is right there with you.

You no longer need to fear that anything bad will happen.

<sup>16</sup> On that day, it will be said to Yerushalayim, “Do not fear, Tziyon!
don’t let your hands droop down.

<sup>17</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub> your God is right there with you,
as a mighty savior.
He will rejoice over you and be glad,
he will be silent in his love,
he will shout over you with joy.”

<sup>18</sup> “I will gather those of yours who grieve over the appointed feasts
and bear the burden of reproach
[because they cannot keep them].

<sup>19</sup> When that time comes, I will deal with all those who oppress you.

I will save her who is lame,

gather her who was driven away,

and make them whose shame spread over the earth

the object of praise and renown.

<sup>20</sup>

When that time comes, I will bring you in;

when that time comes, I will gather you and make you the object of fame and praise

among all the peoples of the earth —

when I restore your fortunes

before your very eyes,” says A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

Hagai

HAGGAI

1 <sup>1</sup> In the second year of Daryavesh the king, on the first day of the sixth month, the following word of ADONAI came through Hagai the prophet to Z'rubavel the son of Sh'alti'el, governor of Y'hudah, and to Y'hoshua the son of Y'hotzadak, the cohen hagadol: <sup>2</sup> “Here is what ADONAI-Tzva'ot says: ‘This people is saying that now isn’t the time — the time hasn’t yet arrived for ADONAI’s house to be rebuilt.’”

<sup>3</sup> Then this word of ADONAI came through Hagai the prophet: <sup>4</sup> “So is now the time for you to be living in your own paneled houses, while this house lies in ruins? <sup>5</sup>Therefore here is what ADONAI-Tzva'ot says:

‘Think about your life!

<sup>6</sup> You sow much but bring in little;

you eat but aren’t satisfied;

you drink but never have enough;

you clothe yourselves, but no one is warm;

and he who works for a living earns wages

that are put in a bag full of holes.’”

<sup>7</sup>Here is what ADONAI-Tzva'ot says: ‘Think about your life! <sup>8</sup> Go up into the hills, get wood, and rebuild the house. I will be pleased with that, and then I will be glorified,’ says ADONAI. <sup>9</sup> ‘You looked for much, but it came to little; and when you brought it home, I blew it away. Why?’ asks ADONAI-Tzva'ot. ‘Because my house lies in ruins, while every one of you runs to take care of his own house. <sup>10</sup> This is why the sky above you has withheld the dew, so that there is none, and the land withholds its yield. <sup>11</sup> In fact, I called for a drought on the land and on the hills, on the grain, the wine and the olive oil, on what the ground brings up, on men, animals and on all that hands produce.’”

<sup>12</sup> Then Z’rubavel the son of Sh’alti’el and Y’hoshua the son of Y’hotzadak, the cohen hagadol, with all the rest of the people, paid attention to what ADONAI their God had said and to the words of Hagai the prophet; since ADONAI their God had sent him; and the people were filled with fear in the presence of ADONAI. <sup>13</sup> Hagai the messenger of ADONAI conveyed this message of ADONAI to the people: “‘I am with you,’ says ADONAI.”

<sup>14</sup> ADONAI roused the spirit of Z’rubavel the son of Sh’alti’el, governor of Y’hudah, and the spirit of Y’hoshua the son of Y’hotzadak, the cohen hagadol, and the spirits of all the rest of the people; so that they came and began to work on the house of ADONAI-Tzva’ot their God. <sup>15</sup> This was on the twenty-fourth day of the sixth month of the second year of Daryavesh the king.

2 <sup>1</sup> On the twenty-first day of the seventh month, this word of ADONAI came through Hagai the prophet: <sup>2</sup> “Speak now to Z’rubavel the son of Sh’alti’el, governor of Y’hudah, and to Y’hoshua the son of Y’hotzadak, the cohen hagadol, and to the rest of the people; say this to them: <sup>3</sup> “‘Who among you is left that saw this house in its former glory? And how does it look to you now? It seems like nothing to you, doesn’t it? <sup>4</sup> Nevertheless, Z’rubavel, take courage now,” says ADONAI; “and take courage, Y’hoshua the son of Y’hotzadak, the cohen hagadol; and take courage, all you people of the land,” says ADONAI; “and get to work! For I am with you,” says ADONAI-Tzva’ot. <sup>5</sup> “This is in keeping with the word that I promised in a covenant with you when you came out of Egypt, and my Spirit remains with you, so don’t be afraid!” <sup>6</sup> For this is what ADONAI-Tzva’ot says: “It won’t be long before one more time I will shake the heavens and the earth, the sea and the dry land; <sup>7</sup> and I will shake all the nations, so that the treasures of all the nations will flow in; and I will fill this house with glory,” says ADONAI-Tzva’ot. <sup>8</sup> “The silver is mine, and the gold is mine,” says ADONAI-Tzva’ot. <sup>9</sup> “The glory of this new house will surpass that of the old,” says ADONAI-Tzva’ot, “and in this place I will grant shalom,” says ADONAI-Tzva’ot.”

what ADONAI-Tzva'ot says: 'Ask the cohanim what the Torah says about this: <sup>12</sup> if someone carries meat that has been set aside as holy in a fold of his cloak; and then he lets his cloak touch bread, stew, wine, olive oil or any other food; does that food become holy too?'" The cohanim answered, "No." <sup>13</sup> Then Hagai asked, "If someone who is unclean from having had contact with a corpse touches any of these [food items], will they become unclean?" The cohanim answered, "They become unclean." <sup>14</sup> Hagai then said, "'That is the condition of this people, that is the condition of this nation before me,' says ADONAI, 'and that is the condition of everything their hands produce; so that anything they offer there is unclean. <sup>15</sup> Now, please, from this day on, keep this in mind: before you began laying stones on each other to rebuild the temple of ADONAI, <sup>16</sup> throughout that whole time, when someone approached a twenty-measure pile [of grain], he found only ten; and when he came to the winepress to draw out fifty measures, there were only twenty. <sup>17</sup> I struck you with blasting winds, mildew and hail on everything your hands produced; but you still wouldn't return to me,' says ADONAI. <sup>18</sup> 'So please keep this in mind, from this day on, from the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, from the day the foundation of ADONAI's temple was laid, consider this: <sup>19</sup> there's no longer any seed in the barn, is there? and the vine, fig tree, pomegranate tree and olive tree have produced nothing yet, right? However, from this day on, I will bless you.'"

<sup>20</sup> The word of ADONAI came a second time to Hagai on the twenty-fourth day of the month, as follows: <sup>21</sup> "Tell Z'rubavel, governor of Y'hudah, 'I will shake the heavens and the earth, <sup>22</sup> I will overturn the thrones of kingdoms, I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the nations, and I will overturn the chariots and the people riding in them; the horses and their riders will fall, each by the sword of his brother. <sup>23</sup> When that day comes,' says ADONAI-Tzva'ot, 'I will take you, Z'rubavel, my servant, the son of Sh'alti'el,' says ADONAI, 'and wear you like a signet ring; for I have chosen you,' says ADONAI-Tzva'ot."

ZECHARIAH

1 <sup>1</sup> In the eighth month of the second year of Daryavesh, the following message from ADONAI came to Z'kharyah the son of Berekhyah, the son of 'Iddo, the prophet: <sup>2</sup>“ADONAI was extremely angry with your ancestors. <sup>3</sup> Therefore, tell them that ADONAI-Tzva'ot says this: “Return to me,” says ADONAI-Tzva'ot, “and I will return to you,” says ADONAI-Tzva'ot. <sup>4</sup> “Don’t be like your ancestors. The earlier prophets proclaimed to them, ‘ADONAI-Tzva'ot says to turn back now from your evil ways and deeds’; but they didn’t listen or pay attention to me,” says ADONAI. <sup>5</sup> “Your ancestors, where are they? And the prophets, do they live forever? <sup>6</sup> But my words and my laws, which I ordered my servants the prophets, overtook your ancestors, didn’t they? Then they turned and said, ‘ADONAI has dealt with us according to our ways and deeds, just as he intended to do.’”””

<sup>7</sup> On the twenty-fourth day of the eleventh month, the month of Sh’vat, in the second year of Daryavesh, this message from ADONAI came to Z'kharyah the son of Berekhyah, the son of 'Iddo, the prophet: <sup>8</sup> It was night, and I saw there before me a man riding on a russet-colored horse. He stood among the myrtle bushes in the valley; and behind him were other horses, russet, chestnut-colored and white. <sup>9</sup> I asked, “What are these, my Lord?” The angel speaking with me said to me, “I will show you what these are.” <sup>10</sup> The man standing among the myrtles said, “These are those whom ADONAI has sent to wander throughout the earth.” <sup>11</sup> Then they themselves answered the angel of ADONAI standing among the myrtles, “We have been wandering throughout the earth, and the whole world is quiet and at peace.”

<sup>12</sup> The angel of ADONAI said, “ADONAI-Tzva'ot, how long will you keep withholding mercy from Yerushalayim and the cities of Y’hudah? You’ve been angry with them for the past seventy years!” <sup>13</sup> ADONAI replied with kind and comforting words to the angel who was speaking with me. <sup>14</sup> The angel speaking with me then said to me, “Here is what ADONAI-Tzva'ot says: ‘I am extremely jealous on behalf of Yerushalayim and Tziyon; <sup>15</sup> and [to the same degree] I am extremely angry with the nations that are so self-satisfied; because I was only a little angry [at Yerushalayim and Tziyon], but they

made the suffering worse.’ <sup>16</sup> Therefore ADONAI says, ‘I will return to Yerushalayim with merciful deeds. My house will be rebuilt there,’ says ADONAI-Tzva’ot; ‘yes, a measuring line will be stretched out over Yerushalayim.’ <sup>17</sup> In addition, proclaim that ADONAI-Tzva’ot says, ‘My cities will again overflow with prosperity.’ ADONAI will again comfort Tziyon, and he will again make Yerushalayim the city of his choice.”

2 <sup>1(1:18)</sup> Then I looked up and saw four horns. <sup>2(1:19)</sup> I asked the angel who was speaking to me, “What are these?” He answered, “These are the horns that scattered Y’hudah, Isra’el and Yerushalayim.”

<sup>7(3)</sup> Here the angel who was speaking to me went forward, and another angel went out, met him <sup>8(4)</sup> and said to him, “Run and tell this young man, ‘Yerushalayim will be inhabited without walls, because there will be so many people and animals; <sup>9(5)</sup> “for,” says ADONAI, “I will be for her a wall of fire surrounding her; and I will be the glory within her. <sup>10(6)</sup> Up!” says ADONAI, “Move! Flee the land of the north! For I scattered you like the four winds of the sky,” says ADONAI. <sup>11(7)</sup> “Move, Tziyon! You who are living with the daughter of Bavel, escape!” <sup>12(8)</sup> For ADONAI-Tzva’ot has sent me on a glorious mission to the nations that plundered you, and this is what he says: “Anyone who injures you injures the very pupil of my eye. <sup>13(9)</sup> But I will shake my hand over them, and they will be plundered by those who were formerly their slaves.” Then you will know that ADONAI-Tzva’ot sent me. <sup>14(10)</sup> “Sing, daughter of Tziyon; rejoice! For, here, I am coming; and I will live among you,” says ADONAI. <sup>15(11)</sup> When that time comes, many nations will join themselves to ADONAI. “They will be my people, and I will live among you.” Then you will know that it was ADONAI-Tzva’ot who sent me to you. <sup>16(12)</sup> ADONAI will take possession of Y’hudah as his portion in the holy land, and he will again make Yerushalayim his choice. <sup>17(13)</sup> Be silent, all humanity, before ADONAI; for he has been roused from his holy dwelling.’”

3 <sup>1</sup> He showed me Y’hoshua the cohen hagadol standing before the angel of ADONAI, with the Accuser [Hebrew: Satan] standing at his right to accuse him. <sup>2</sup> ADONAI said to the Accuser, “May ADONAI rebuke you, Accuser! Indeed, may ADONAI, who has made Yerushalayim his choice, rebuke you! Isn’t this man a burning stick snatched from the fire?” <sup>3</sup> Y’hoshua was clothed in garments covered with dung; and he was standing before the angel, <sup>4</sup> who said to those standing in front of him, “Take those filthy garments off of him.” Then to him he said, “See, I am taking your guilt away. I will clothe you in fine robes.” <sup>5</sup> I said, “They should put a clean turban on his head.” So they put a clean turban on his head and gave him fine robes to wear, while the angel of ADONAI stood by. <sup>6</sup> Then the angel of ADONAI gave Y’hoshua this warning: <sup>7</sup> “ADONAI-Tzva’ot says this: ‘If you will walk in my ways, obey my commission, judge my house and guard my courtyards; then I will give you free access among these who are standing here. <sup>8</sup> Listen, cohen gadol Y’hoshua, both you and your colleagues seated here before you, because these men are a sign that I am going to bring my servant Tzemach [Sprout]. <sup>9</sup> For look at the stone I have put in front of Y’hoshua: on one stone are seven eyes; I will engrave what is to be written on it,’ says ADONAI-Tzva’ot; ‘and I will remove the guilt of this land in one day. <sup>10</sup> When that time comes,’ says ADONAI-Tzva’ot, ‘you will all invite each other to join you under your vines and fig trees.’”

4 <sup>1</sup> Then the angel that had been speaking with me returned and roused me, as if he were waking someone up from being asleep, <sup>2</sup> and asked me, “What do you see?” I answered, “I’ve been looking at a menorah; it’s all of gold, with a bowl at its top, seven lamps on it, and seven tubes leading to the lamps at its top. <sup>3</sup> Next to it are two olive trees, one on the right side of the bowl and the other on its left.” <sup>4</sup> I then asked the angel speaking with me, “What are these, my Lord?” The angel speaking with me said, <sup>5</sup> “Don’t you know what these are?” I said, “No, my Lord.” <sup>6</sup> Then he answered me, “This is the word of ADONAI to Z’rubavel: ‘Not by force, and not by power, but by my Spirit,’ says ADONAI-Tzva’ot. <sup>7</sup> ‘What are you, you big mountain? Before Z’rubavel you will become a plain; and he will put the capstone in place, as everyone shouts, “It’s beautiful! Beautiful!”<sup>8</sup> This message from ADONAI came to me:<sup>9</sup> ‘The hands of Z’rubavel have laid the foundation of this house, and his hands will also finish it.’ Then you will know that ADONAI-Tzva’ot sent me to you.<sup>10</sup> For even someone who doesn’t think much of a day when such minor events take place will rejoice at seeing the plumbline in the hand of Z’rubavel. So these seven are the eyes of ADONAI that range about over all the earth.”

5<sup>1</sup> Again I raised my eyes, and I saw in front of me a flying scroll.<sup>2</sup> He said to me, “What do you see?” I replied, “I see a flying scroll thirty feet long and fifteen feet wide.”<sup>3</sup> Then he said to me, “This is the curse that goes out over the face of all the land; for [according to what is written] on one side, everyone who steals will be swept away; and [according to what is written] on the other side, everyone who swears will be swept away.”<sup>4</sup> ‘I will release it,’ says ADONAI-Tzva’ot, ‘and it will enter the house of the thief and the house of anyone who swears falsely by my name; it will stay there inside the house and consume it completely, even its timbers and stones.’”

<sup>5</sup> Then the angel speaking with me went forward and said to me, “Now raise your eyes, and see what this thing is, passing by.”<sup>6</sup> I asked, “What is it?” He said, “This is the eifah-measure [a one-bushel dry-measure] passing by.” Then he added, “This is their eye in all the land.”<sup>7</sup> Next I saw a lead disc lifted up to reveal a woman sitting in the eifah.<sup>8</sup> He said, “This is Evil.” He threw her down into the eifah and pressed the lead weight over its opening.<sup>9</sup> I raised my eyes and saw two women coming with the wind in their wings; for they had wings like those of a stork. They lifted the eifah up between the earth and the sky.<sup>10</sup> I asked the angel speaking with me, “Where are they taking the eifah?”<sup>11</sup> He answered me, “To build it a shrine in the land of Shin’ar. When it’s ready, [the eifah] will be set down there on its base.”

<sup>9</sup> This message from ADONAI came to me: <sup>10</sup> “Take [gifts] from the exiles of Heldai, Toviyah, and Y’da’yah, who have arrived from Bavel; then you, go to the house of Yoshiyah the son of Tz’fanyah. <sup>11</sup> Take silver and gold; make crowns; put one on the head of Y’hoshua the son of Y’hotzadak, the cohen hagadol; <sup>12</sup> and tell him, ‘ADONAI-Tzva’ot says: “There is coming a man whose name is Tzemach [Sprout]. He will sprout up from his place and rebuild the temple of ADONAI. <sup>13</sup> Yes, he will rebuild the temple of ADONAI; and he will take up royal splendor, sitting and ruling from his throne. There will be a cohen before his throne; and they will accept each other’s advice in complete harmony. <sup>14</sup> The other crowns will be for Helem, Toviyah, Y’da’yah and Hen the son of Tz’fanyah; then [they are to be kept] as a memorial in the temple of ADONAI. <sup>15</sup> Those who are now far away will come and help rebuild the temple of ADONAI.” Then you will know that it is ADONAI-Tzva’ot who sent me to you. And it will all come about, provided you heed carefully what ADONAI your God says.’”

<sup>4</sup> It was then that this message came to me from ADONAI-Tzva'ot: <sup>5</sup> “Speak to all the people of the land and to the cohanim. Tell them, ‘When you fasted and mourned in the fifth and seventh months throughout these seventy years, were you really fasting for me? Was it for me? <sup>6</sup> Rather, when you eat and drink, it’s just to please yourselves, isn’t it? <sup>7</sup> Isn’t this just what ADONAI proclaimed through the earlier prophets, when Yerushalayim was inhabited and prosperous, as were the cities around her; and the Negev and the Sh’felah were inhabited?’”

<sup>8</sup> Then this message from ADONAI came to Z’kharyah: <sup>9</sup> “In the past ADONAI-Tzva'ot said, ‘Administer true justice. Let everyone show mercy and compassion to his brother. <sup>10</sup> Don’t oppress widows, orphans, foreigners or poor people. Don’t plot evil against each other.’ <sup>11</sup> But they wouldn’t listen, they stubbornly turned their shoulder away and stopped up their ears, so that they wouldn’t have to hear it. <sup>12</sup> Yes, they made their hearts as hard as a diamond, so that they wouldn’t hear the Torah and the messages that ADONAI-Tzva'ot had sent by his Spirit through the earlier prophets. This is why great anger came from ADONAI-Tzva'ot; <sup>13</sup> and it came about that just as they hadn’t listened when he called, so ADONAI-Tzva'ot said, ‘I won’t listen when they call; <sup>14</sup> but with the power of a whirlwind I will disperse them among all the nations which they have not known.’ Thus the land was left desolate after them, so that no one came or went. They had turned a pleasant land into a desert.”

8 <sup>1</sup> A message came from ADONAI-Tzva'ot: <sup>2</sup> “ADONAI-Tzva'ot says, ‘I am extremely jealous on Tziyon’s behalf, and I am jealous for her with great fury.’ <sup>3</sup> ADONAI says, ‘I am returning to Tziyon, and I will live in Yerushalayim. Then Yerushalayim will be called Truth City, ADONAI-Tzva'ot’s Mountain, the Mountain of the Holy One. <sup>4</sup> ADONAI-Tzva'ot says, ‘Old men and old women will once again sit in the open places of Yerushalayim, each one with his cane in his hand, because of their great age. <sup>5</sup> The city’s open places will also be full of boys and girls playing there.’ <sup>6</sup> ADONAI-Tzva'ot says, ‘This may seem amazing to the survivors in those days, but must it also seem amazing to me?’ says ADONAI-Tzva'ot. <sup>7</sup> ADONAI-Tzva'ot says, ‘I will save my people from lands east and west; <sup>8</sup> I will bring them back, and they will live in Yerushalayim. They will be my people; and I will be their God, with faithfulness and justice.’

<sup>9</sup> “ADONAI-Tzva’ot says, ‘Take courage, you who are hearing only now, in these days, these words spoken by the prophets when the foundation was being laid for rebuilding the temple, the house of ADONAI-Tzva’ot.<sup>10</sup> For prior to that time, there were wages neither for people nor for animals; moreover, it was unsafe for anyone to go out or come in, because of the enemy; for I set all people each against the other.<sup>11</sup> But from now on, I will not treat the remnant of this people as I did before,’ says ADONAI-Tzva’ot.<sup>12</sup> ‘Now they will sow in peace, the vine will give its fruit, the ground will produce its yield, the sky will give its dew, and I will cause the remnant of this people to possess all these things.<sup>13</sup> House of Y’hudah and house of Isra’el, just as you were formerly a curse among the nations, so now I will save you; and you will be a blessing. Don’t be afraid, but take courage!’

<sup>14</sup> “For ADONAI-Tzva’ot says, ‘Just as I resolved to do you harm when your forefathers provoked me,’ ADONAI-Tzva’ot says, ‘and I did not relent;<sup>15</sup> so now, I resolve to do good to Yerushalayim and to the house of Y’hudah. Don’t be afraid!<sup>16</sup> These are the things you are to do: speak the truth to each other; in your courts, administer justice that is true and conducive to peace;<sup>17</sup> don’t plot harm against each other; and don’t love perjury; for all these are things I hate,’ says ADONAI.”

<sup>18</sup> This word of ADONAI-Tzva’ot came to me: <sup>19</sup> “ADONAI-Tzva’ot says, ‘The fast days of the fourth, fifth, seventh and tenth months are to become times of joy, gladness and cheer for the house of Y’hudah. Therefore, love truth and peace.’

<sup>20</sup> “ADONAI-Tzva’ot says, ‘In the future, peoples and inhabitants of many cities will come;<sup>21</sup> the inhabitants of one city will travel to another and say, “We must go to ask ADONAI’s favor and consult ADONAI-Tzva’ot. I’ll go too.”<sup>22</sup> Yes, many peoples and powerful nations will come to consult ADONAI-Tzva’ot in Yerushalayim and to ask ADONAI’s favor.’<sup>23</sup> ADONAI-Tzva’ot says, ‘When that time comes, ten men will take hold — speaking all the languages of the nations — will grab hold of the cloak of a Jew and say, “We want to go with you, because we have heard that God is with you.”’”

In the land of Hadrakh and Dammesek is where [God] comes to rest, for the eyes of humankind are directed toward A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

as are those of all the tribes of Isra'el, <sup>2</sup> also Hamat at its border,
Tzor and Tzidon, for she is very wise.

<sup>3</sup> Tzor built herself a fortified tower,
heaping up silver as if it were dust
and fine gold as if it were mud in the streets.

<sup>4</sup> But Adonai will dispossess her and break her power at sea, while the city itself
will be destroyed by fire.

<sup>5</sup> On seeing this, Ashkelon will be terrified;
'Azah too will writhe in pain;
likewise 'Ekron, as her hopes are dashed.

"The king will vanish from 'Azah,
Ashkelon will be without people,

<sup>6</sup> and a mixed people will live in Ashdod,
as I destroy the pride of the P'lishtim.

<sup>7</sup> I will end their eating meat with its blood still in it, snatching the disgusting things from between their teeth.”

But the surviving remnant will belong to our God;
it will be like a clan in Y’hudah;
and ‘Ekron will be like a Y’vusi.

<sup>8</sup> “Then I will guard my house against armies,
so that none will march through or return.
No oppressor will ever again overrun them,
for now I am watching with my own eyes.

<sup>9</sup> Rejoice with all your heart, daughter of Tziyon!
Shout out loud, daughter of Yerushalayim!
Look! Your king is coming to you.
He is righteous, and he is victorious.
Yet he is humble—he’s riding on a donkey,
yes, on a lowly donkey’s colt.

<sup>10</sup> I will banish chariots from Efrayim
and war-horses from Yerushalayim.”
The warrior’s bow will be banished,
and he will proclaim peace to the nations.

He will rule from sea to sea,
and from the [Euphrates] River to the ends of the earth.

<sup>11</sup> “Also you, by the blood of your covenant,
I release your prisoners from [the dungeon,]
the cistern that has no water in it.

<sup>12</sup> Return to the stronghold,
you prisoners with hope!
This day I declare to you that I will grant you double reparation.

<sup>13</sup> For I have bent Y’hudah as my bow and made Efrayim its arrow.
I will rouse your sons, Tziyon,
and make you like a warrior’s sword against your sons, Greece.”

<sup>14</sup> ADONAI will appear over them,
and his arrow will flash like lightning.
Adonai ELOHIM will blow the shofar
and go out in the whirlwinds of the south.

<sup>15</sup> ADONAI-Tzva’ot will defend them;

they will devour and trample the sling-stones.

They will drink and roar

as if they had drunk wine;

they will be filled, like basins

and like the corners of the altar.

<sup>16</sup>

On that day ADONAI their God

will save them as the flock of his people;

for they will be like gems in a crown,

sparkling over his countryside.

<sup>17</sup>

What wealth is theirs, what beauty!

Grain will make the young men thrive,

and new wine the young women.

10 <sup>1</sup> Ask ADONAI for rain in the spring,

ADONAI who makes the rain clouds;

and he will give them showers of rain,

grass in the field to each one.

<sup>2</sup>

For the household gods talk nonsense,

the diviners have seen a lie;

their dreams convey delusions,

and the comfort they offer is in vain.

Therefore they go their way like sheep
in distress from lack of a shepherd.

<sup>3</sup> “My anger burns against the shepherds, and I will vent it on the leaders of the flock.”
For A<sub>DONAI</sub>-Tzva’ot will care for his flock,
the people of Y’hudah;
he will make them like his royal war-horse.

<sup>4</sup> From them come cornerstone and tent peg,
from them the bow for battle,
from them all the rulers together.

<sup>5</sup> They will be like warriors
trampling the mud of the streets in battle.
They will fight, because A<sub>DONAI</sub> is with them;
they will rout even those on horseback.

<sup>6</sup> “I will strengthen the house of Y’hudah
and save the house of Yosef.
I will bring them back in my compassion for them;
they will be as if I hadn’t driven them out;

for I am A<sub>DONAI</sub> their God,

and I will answer them.

<sup>7</sup> Efrayim's men will be like warriors;

their hearts will be cheered as if from wine.

Their children will see it and rejoice,

their hearts will be glad in A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

<sup>8</sup> "I will whistle for them and gather them, because I have redeemed them;

they will be as numerous

as they were before;

<sup>9</sup> and I will sow them among the peoples.

In distant lands they will remember me;

they will rear their children and then return.

<sup>10</sup> I will bring them back from the land of Egypt and gather them out of Ashur.

I will bring them into Gil'ad and the L'vanon,

until there is no more room for them.

<sup>11</sup> "Trouble will pass over the sea and stir up waves in the sea;

all the depths of the Nile will be dried up,
the pride of Ashur will be brought down,
and the scepter of Egypt will leave.

<sup>12</sup> But I will strengthen [Isra'el] in ADONAI;
they will travel here and there in his name,”
says ADONAI.

11 <sup>1</sup> Open your doors, L'vanon,
so that fire can consume your cedars.

<sup>2</sup> Wail, cypress, because the cedar has fallen,
those splendid trees are ruined.
Wail, oaks of Bashan,
because the thick forest has been felled.

<sup>3</sup> Listen to the wail of the shepherds,
because their glory is spoiled.
Listen to the roaring of young lions,
because the Yarden's thickets are plundered.

<sup>4</sup> ADONAI my God says this: “Shepherd the flock for slaughter. <sup>5</sup> Their buyers kill them and go unpunished; while those who sell them say, ‘Barukh ADONAI! Now I’m rich!’ Even their own shepherds show them no pity. <sup>6</sup> I will no longer show pity to the inhabitants of the land,” says ADONAI. “No, I will hand every one of them over to the power of a neighbor and to the power of his king; they will crush the land; and I won't rescue them from their power."

<sup>7</sup> So I shepherded the flock for slaughter, truly the most miserable of the sheep; and I took two staffs for myself. I called the one No'am [pleasantness], the other I called Hovalim [bound together], and I shepherded the flock. <sup>8</sup> "In a single month I got rid of three shepherds, because I grew impatient with them; and besides, they detested me. <sup>9</sup> I said, 'I'm not going to shepherd you. Whichever one is going to die, let it die; whichever is going to be destroyed, let it be destroyed; and the rest can all devour each other.'"

<sup>10</sup> I took my staff No'am and snapped it in two, "in order to break my covenant, which I made with all the peoples." <sup>11</sup> On that day when it was broken, the most miserable of the sheep who paid attention to me knew that this was indeed a message from ADONAI. <sup>12</sup> I said to them, "If it seems good to you, give me my wages; if not, don't." So they weighed out my wages, thirty silver [shekels, that is, twelve ounces]. <sup>13</sup> Concerning that "princely sum" at which they valued me, ADONAI said, "Throw it into the treasury!" So I took the thirty silver [shekels] and threw them into the treasury in the house of ADONAI.

<sup>14</sup> Then I snapped in two my other staff Hovalim [bound together], in order to break up the brotherhood between Y'hudah and Isra'el. <sup>15</sup> ADONAI said to me, "This time, take the equipment of a worthless shepherd. <sup>16</sup> For I am going to raise up a shepherd in the land who won't bother about the ones who have been destroyed, won't seek out the young, won't heal the broken and won't feed those standing still; on the contrary, he will eat the meat of the fat ones and break their hoofs in pieces.

who abandons the sheep!

May a sword strike his arm

and his right eye.

May his arm be completely withered

and his right eye totally blinded.”

12 <sup>1</sup> A prophecy, the word of ADONAI concerning Isra’el — here is the message from ADONAI, who stretched out the heavens, laid the foundation of the earth and formed the spirit inside human beings:

<sup>2</sup> “I will make Yerushalayim a cup that will stagger the surrounding peoples.

Even Y’hudah will be caught up in the siege against Yerushalayim.

<sup>3</sup> When that day comes, I will make Yerushalayim
a heavy stone for all the peoples.
All who try to lift it will hurt themselves,
and all the earth’s nations will be massed against her.

<sup>4</sup> When that day comes,” says ADONAI,
“I will strike all the horses with panic
and their riders with madness;
I will keep watch over Y’hudah,
but I will strike blind all the horses of the peoples.

<sup>5</sup> The leaders of Y’hudah will say to themselves, ‘Those living in Yerushalayim are my strength through ADONAI-Tzva’ot their God.’

<sup>6</sup>

When that day comes,
I will make the leaders of Y'hudah
like a blazing fire pan in a pile of wood,
like a fiery torch among sheaves of grain;
they will devour all the surrounding peoples,
on the right and on the left.
Yerushalayim will be inhabited
in her own place, Yerushalayim.

<sup>7</sup>

ADONAI will save the tents of Y'hudah first,
so that the glory of the house of David and the glory of those living in Yerushalayim will not appear greater than that of Y'hudah.

<sup>8</sup>

When that day comes, ADONAI will defend those living in Yerushalayim.
On that day, even someone who stumbles
will be like David;
and the house of David will be like God,
like the angel of ADONAI before them.

<sup>9</sup>

“When that day comes, I will seek to destroy

all nations attacking Yerushalayim;

<sup>10</sup> and I will pour out on the house of David and on those living in Yerushalayim

a spirit of grace and prayer;

and they will look to me, whom they pierced.”

They will mourn for him

as one mourns for an only son;

they will be in bitterness on his behalf

like the bitterness for a firstborn son.

<sup>11</sup> When that day comes, there will be great mourning in Yerushalayim, mourning like that for Hadad-Rimmon

in the Megiddo Valley.

<sup>12</sup> Then the land will mourn,

each family by itself —

the family of the house of David by itself,

and their wives by themselves;

the family of the house of Natan by itself,

and their wives by themselves;

the family of the house of Levi by itself,
and their wives by themselves;
the family of the Shim'i by itself,
and their wives by themselves;
<sup>14</sup> all the remaining families, each by itself,
and their wives by themselves.

13 <sup>1</sup> When that day comes, a spring will be opened up for the house of David and the people living in Yerushalayim to cleanse them from sin and impurity. <sup>2</sup> “When that day comes,” says ADONAI-Tzva’ot, “I will cut off the very names of the idols from the land, so that no one even remembers them any more. I will also expel the [false] prophets and the spirit of uncleanness from the land; <sup>3</sup> so that if anyone continues to prophesy, his own father and mother who brought him into the world will tell him, ‘You cannot continue to live, because you are speaking lies in the name of ADONAI’; then his own father and mother who brought him into the world will stab him to death. <sup>4</sup> When that day comes, each one of the prophets will be shamed by his vision when he prophesies. He will stop wearing a hair cloak to deceive people; <sup>5</sup> and instead, he will say, ‘I’m no prophet, I just work the soil; since my youth I’ve only wanted to be an ordinary man.’ <sup>6</sup> If someone asks him, ‘Then what are these gashes between your shoulders?’ he will answer, ‘I got hurt at my friends’ house.’

against the man who is close to me,”
says ADONAI-Tzva’ot.
“Strike the shepherd, and the sheep will be scattered;
I will turn my hand against the young ones.

<sup>8</sup>

In time, throughout that land,” says A<sub>DONAI</sub>, “two-thirds of those in it will be destroyed —
they will die, but one-third will remain.

<sup>9</sup>

That third part I will bring through the fire;
I will refine them as silver is refined,
I will test them as gold is tested.
They will call on my name,
and I will answer them.
I will say, ‘This is my people’
and they will say, ‘A<sub>DONAI</sub> is my God.’”

14 <sup>1</sup> Look, a day is coming for A<sub>DONAI</sub>

when your plunder, [Yerushalayim], will be divided right there within you.

<sup>2</sup>

“For I will gather all the nations against Yerushalayim for war.
The city will be taken,
the houses will be rifled,
the women will be raped,
and half the city will go into exile;

but the rest of the people will not be cut off from the city.”

<sup>3</sup> Then A<sub>DONAI</sub> will go out and fight against those nations,
fighting as on a day of battle.

<sup>4</sup> On that day his feet will stand on the Mount of Olives,
which lies to the east of Yerushalayim;
and the Mount of Olives will be split in half
from east to west, to make a huge valley.
Half of the mountain will move toward the north,
and half of it toward the south.

<sup>5</sup> You will flee to the valley in the mountains,
for the valley in the mountains will reach to Atzel.
You will flee, just as you fled before the earthquake
in the days of ‘Uziah king of Y’hudah.
Then A<sub>DONAI</sub> my God will come to you with all the holy ones.

<sup>6</sup> On that day, there will be neither bright light nor thick darkness;

<sup>7</sup> and one day, known to A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

will be neither day nor night,

although by evening there will be light.

<sup>8</sup> On that day, fresh water will flow

out from Yerushalayim,

half toward the eastern sea

and half toward the western sea,

both summer and winter.

<sup>9</sup> Then A<sub>DONAI</sub> will be king

over the whole world.

On that day A<sub>DONAI</sub> will be the only one,

and his name will be the only name.

<sup>10</sup> All the land will be made like the 'Aravah, from Geva to Rimmon in the Negev. Yerushalayim will be raised up and inhabited where she is, from Binyamin's Gate to the place where the earlier gate stood, and on to the Corner Gate, and from the Tower of Hanan'el to the king's winepresses. <sup>11</sup> People will live there, the curse will be broken, and Yerushalayim will live in safety.

<sup>12</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub> will strike all the peoples who made war against Yerushalayim with a plague in which their flesh rots away while they are standing on their feet, their eyes rot away in their sockets, and their tongues rot away in their mouths. <sup>13</sup> When that day comes, there will be among them great panic, sent by A<sub>DONAI</sub>, so that everyone lays hands on his neighbor, who in turn attacks him. <sup>14</sup> Y'hudah too will fight against Yerushalayim; and the wealth of all the nations will be assembled — gold, silver and clothing in great abundance. <sup>15</sup> A plague like this plague will also affect the horses, mules, camels, donkeys and all the other animals in those camps.

<sup>16</sup> Finally, everyone remaining from all the nations that came to attack Yerushalayim will go up every year to worship the king, ADONAI-Tzva'ot, and to keep the festival of Sukkot. <sup>17</sup> If any of the families of the earth does not go up to Yerushalayim to worship the king, ADONAI-Tzva'ot, no rain will fall on them. <sup>18</sup> If the family of Egypt doesn't go up, if they refuse to come, they will have no [annual] overflow [from the Nile]; moreover, there will be the plague with which ADONAI will strike the nations that don't go up to keep the festival of Sukkot. <sup>19</sup> This will be Egypt's punishment and the punishment of all the nations that don't go up to keep the festival of Sukkot.

<sup>20</sup> When that day comes, this will be written on the bells worn by the horses: "Consecrated to ADONAI"; and the cooking pots in the house of ADONAI will be [as holy] as the sprinkling bowls before the altar. <sup>21</sup> Yes, every cooking pot in Yerushalayim and Y'hudah will be consecrated to ADONAI-Tzva'ot. Everyone who offers sacrifices will come, take them and use them to stew the meat. When that day comes, there will no longer be merchants in the house of ADONAI-Tzva'ot.

Mal'akhi

MALACHI

1 <sup>1</sup> A prophecy, the word of ADONAI to Isra'el through Mal'akhi:

But you ask, “How do you show us your love?”

ADONAI answers, “‘Esav was Ya‘akov’s brother.

Yet I loved Ya‘akov <sup>3</sup> but hated ‘Esav.

I made his mountains desolate

and gave his territory to desert jackals.”

<sup>4</sup> Edom says, “We are beaten down now,

but we will come back and rebuild the ruins.”

ADONAI-Tzva’ot answers, “They can build,

but I will demolish.

They will be called the Land of Wickedness,

the people with whom ADONAI is permanently angry.

<sup>5</sup> You will see it and say, ‘ADONAI is great,

even beyond the borders of Isra’el.’”

<sup>6</sup> “A son honors his father and a servant his master. But if I’m a father, where is the honor due me? and if I’m a master, where is the respect due me? — says ADONAI-Tzva'ot to you cohanim who despise my name. You ask, 'How are we despising your name?' <sup>7</sup> By offering polluted food on my altar! Now you ask, 'How are we polluting you?' By saying that the table of ADONAI doesn't deserve respect; <sup>8</sup> so that there's nothing wrong with offering a blind animal as a sacrifice, nothing wrong with offering an animal that's lame or sick. Try offering such an animal to your governor, and see if he will be pleased with you! Would he even receive you?" asks ADONAI-Tzva'ot. <sup>9</sup> So if you pray now that God will show us favor, what your actions have accomplished is that ADONAI-Tzva'ot asks, "Will he receive any of you? <sup>10</sup> Why doesn't even one of you shut the doors and thus stop this useless lighting of fires on my altar? I take no pleasure in you," says ADONAI-Tzva'ot, "and I will not receive an offering from you. <sup>11</sup> For from farthest east to farthest west my name is great among the nations. Offerings are presented to my name everywhere, pure gifts; for my name is great among the nations," says ADONAI-Tzva'ot. <sup>12</sup> "But you profane it by saying that the table of ADONAI is polluted, so that the fruit and food offered deserve contempt. <sup>13</sup> You also say, 'It's all so tiresome!' and sniff scornfully at it," says ADONAI-Tzva'ot. "Then you bring animals that were taken by violence, or they are lame or sick. This is the sort of offering you bring. Am I supposed to accept this from you?" asks ADONAI. <sup>14</sup> "Moreover, cursed is the deceiver who has a male animal in his flock that is damaged, but vows and sacrifices to ADONAI anyway. For I am a great king," says ADONAI-Tzva'ot, "and my name is respected among the nations.

to honoring my name,"

says ADONAI-Tzva'ot,

"then I will send the curse on you;

I will turn your blessings into curses.

Yes, I will curse them,

because you pay no attention.

<sup>3</sup> I will reject your seed;

I will throw dung in your faces,

the dung from your festival offerings;

and you will be carted off with it.

<sup>4</sup> Then you will know that I sent you this command to affirm my covenant with Levi,”

says A<sub>DONAI</sub>-Tzva’ot.

<sup>5</sup> “My covenant with him was one of life and peace, and I gave him these things.

It was also one of fear, and he feared me;

he was in awe of my name.

<sup>6</sup> The true Torah was in his mouth,

and no dishonesty was found on his lips;

he walked with me in peace and uprightness

and turned many away from sin.

<sup>7</sup> A cohen’s lips should safeguard knowledge, and people should seek Torah from his mouth,

because he is the messenger

of A<sub>DONAI</sub>-Tzva'ot.

<sup>8</sup> But you turned away from the path,
you caused many to fail in the Torah,
you corrupted the covenant of Levi,”
says A<sub>DONAI</sub>-Tzva'ot.

<sup>9</sup> “Therefore I have in turn made you contemptible and vile before all the people, because you did not keep my ways
but were partial in applying the Torah.”

<sup>10</sup> Don't we all have the same father?
Didn't one God create us all?
Then why do we break faith with each other,
profaning the covenant of our ancestors?

<sup>11</sup> Y'udah has broken faith;
an abomination has been committed in Isra'el and Yerushalayim.
For Y'udah has profaned the sanctuary of A<sub>DONAI</sub>, which he loves,
by marrying the daughter of a foreign god.

If a man does this and presents an offering to ADONAI-Tzva'ot, may ADONAI cut him off from the tents of Ya'akov,
whether initiator or follower.

<sup>13</sup> Here is something else you do:
you cover ADONAI's altar with tears,
with weeping and with sighing,
because he no longer looks at the offering
or receives your gift with favor.

<sup>14</sup> Nevertheless, you ask, "Why is this?"
Because ADONAI is witness between you and the wife of your youth that you have broken faith with her,
though she is your companion, your wife by covenant.

<sup>15</sup> And hasn't he made [them] one [flesh]
in order to have spiritual blood-relatives?
For what the one [flesh] seeks is a seed from God.
Therefore, take heed to your spirit,

and don't break faith with the wife of your youth.

<sup>16</sup>

“For I hate divorce,”

says A<sub>DONAI</sub> the God of Isra'el,

“and him who covers his clothing with violence,”

says A<sub>DONAI</sub>-Tzva'ot.

Therefore take heed to your spirit,

and don't break faith.

<sup>17</sup>

You have wearied A<sub>DONAI</sub> with your words.

Yet you ask, “How have we wearied him?”

By saying that anyone who does wrong

is good from A<sub>DONAI</sub>'s perspective,

and that he is delighted with them;

or by asking, “Where is the God of justice?”

3<sup>1</sup>

“Look! I am sending my messenger to clear the way before me;

and the Lord, whom you seek,

will suddenly come to his temple.

Yes, the messenger of the covenant,

in whom you take such delight —

look! Here he comes,”

says A<sub>DONAI</sub>-Tzva’ot.

<sup>2</sup> But who can endure the day when he comes?

Who can stand when he appears?

For he will be like a refiner’s fire,

like the soapmaker’s lye.

<sup>3</sup> He will sit, testing and purifying the silver;

he will purify the sons of Levi,

refining them like gold and silver,

so that they can bring offerings to A<sub>DONAI</sub> uprightly.

<sup>4</sup> Then the offering of Y’hudah and Yerushalayim will be pleasing to A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

as it was in the days of old,

as in years gone by.

<sup>5</sup> “Then I will approach you for judgment;

and I will be quick to witness against sorcerers, adulterers and perjurers;

against those who take advantage of wage-earners, widows and orphans;

against those who rob the foreigner of his rights and don't fear me,"

says ADONAI-Tzva'ot.

<sup>6</sup> "But because I, ADONAI, do not change,

you sons of Ya'akov will not be destroyed.

<sup>7</sup> Since the days of your forefathers

you have turned from my laws and have not kept them.

Return to me, and I will return to you,"

says ADONAI-Tzva'ot.

"But you ask, 'In respect to what are we supposed to return?'

<sup>8</sup> Can a person rob God?

Yet you rob me.

But you ask, 'How have we robbed you?'

In tenths and voluntary contributions.

<sup>9</sup> A curse is on you, on your whole nation,

because you rob me.

<sup>10</sup> Bring the whole tenth into the storehouse,

so that there will be food in my house,

and put me to the test,"

says A<sub>DONAI</sub>-Tzva'ot.

“See if I won’t open for you
the floodgates of heaven and pour out for you a blessing
far beyond your needs.

<sup>11</sup> For your sakes I will forbid the devourer to destroy the yield from your soil;
and your vine will not lose its fruit
before harvest-time,”
says A<sub>DONAI</sub>-Tzva'ot.

<sup>12</sup> “All nations will call you happy,
for you will be a land of delights,”
says A<sub>DONAI</sub>-Tzva'ot.

<sup>13</sup> “You have spoken strongly against me,” says A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

“Yet you say, ‘How have we spoken against you?’

<sup>14</sup> By saying, ‘There is no point in serving God.

What good is it to obey his orders or to walk about as mourners
before A<sub>DONAI</sub>-Tzva'ot?

We consider the arrogant happy;
also evildoers prosper;
they put God to the test;
nevertheless, they escape.’”

<sup>16</sup> Then those who feared A<sub>DONAI</sub> spoke together;
and A<sub>DONAI</sub> listened and heard.
A record book was written in his presence
for those who feared A<sub>DONAI</sub>
and had respect for his name.

<sup>17</sup> “They will be mine,” says A<sub>DONAI</sub>-Tzva’ot, “on the day when I compose my own special treasure.
I will spare them as a man spares
his own son who serves him.

<sup>18</sup> Then once again you will see the difference between the righteous and the wicked, between the person who serves God
and one that doesn’t serve him.

<sup>19(4:1)</sup> For the day is coming, burning like a furnace,
when all the proud and evildoers will be stubble;

the day that is coming will set them ablaze,”

says ADONAI-Tzva’ot,

“and leave them neither root nor branch.

<sup>20(4:2)</sup>

But to you who fear my name,

the sun of righteousness will rise

with healing in its wings;

and you will break out leaping,

like calves released from the stall.

<sup>21(4:3)</sup>

You will trample the wicked,

they will be ashes under the soles of your feet

on the day when I take action,”

says ADONAI-Tzva’ot.

<sup>22(4:4)</sup>

“Remember the Torah of Moshe my servant,

which I enjoined on him at Horev,

laws and rulings for all Isra’el.

<sup>23(4:5)</sup>

Look, I will send to you

Eliyahu the prophet

before the coming of the great

and terrible Day of ADONAI.

<sup>24(4:6)</sup>

He will turn the hearts of the fathers to the children
and the hearts of the children to their fathers;
otherwise I will come and strike the land with complete destruction.”

[Look, I will send to you
Eliyahu the prophet
before the coming of the great
and terrible Day of ADONAI.]

PSALMS

Book I: Psalms 1–41

1<sup>1</sup> How blessed are those who reject the advice of the wicked,

don't stand on the way of sinners

or sit where scoffers sit!

<sup>2</sup> Their delight

is in ADONAI's Torah;

on his Torah they meditate

day and night.

<sup>3</sup> They are like trees planted by streams —

they bear their fruit in season,

their leaves never wither,

everything they do succeeds.

<sup>4</sup> Not so the wicked,

who are like chaff driven by the wind.

<sup>5</sup> For this reason the wicked won't stand up to the judgment,

nor will sinners
at the gathering of the righteous.

<sup>6</sup> For A<sub>DONAI</sub> watches over the way of the righteous,
but the way of the wicked
is doomed.

2 <sup>1</sup> Why are the nations in an uproar,
the peoples grumbling in vain?

<sup>2</sup> The earth's kings are taking positions,
leaders conspiring together,
against A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
and his anointed.

Let's throw off their chains!"

<sup>4</sup> He who sits in heaven laughs;
Adonai looks at them in derision.

<sup>5</sup> Then in his anger he rebukes them,
terrifies them in his fury.

<sup>6</sup> “I myself have installed my king
on Tziyon, my holy mountain.”

<sup>7</sup> “I will proclaim the decree:

ADONAI said to me,

‘You are my son;

today I became your father.

<sup>8</sup> Ask of me, and I will make the nations your inheritance;

the whole wide world

will be your possession.

<sup>9</sup> You will break them with an iron rod, shatter them like a clay pot.’”

be warned, you judges of the earth.

<sup>11</sup> Serve ADONAI with fear;

rejoice, but with trembling.

<sup>12</sup> Kiss the son, lest he be angry,

and you perish along the way,

when suddenly his anger blazes.

How blessed are all who take refuge in him.

3<sup>1(0)</sup> A psalm of David, when he fled from Avshalom his son:

<sup>2(1)</sup> ADONAI, how many enemies I have!

How countless are those attacking me;

<sup>3(2)</sup> how countless those who say of me,
“There is no salvation for him in God.” (Selah)

<sup>4(3)</sup> But you, ADONAI, are a shield for me;

you are my glory, you lift my head high.

<sup>5(4)</sup> With my voice I call out to ADONAI, and he answers me from his holy hill. (Selah)

<sup>6(5)</sup> I lie down and sleep, then wake up again, because ADONAI sustains me.

<sup>7(6)</sup> I am not afraid of the tens of thousands set against me on every side.

<sup>8(7)</sup> Rise up, ADONAI!

Save me, my God!

For you slap all my enemies in the face,

you smash the teeth of the wicked.

<sup>9(8)</sup> Victory comes from ADONAI,

may your blessing rest on your people. (Selah)

4<sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. With stringed instruments. A psalm of David:

Answer me when I call!

When I was distressed, you set me free;

now have mercy on me, and hear my prayer.

<sup>3(2)</sup> Men of rank, how long will you shame my honor, love what is vain, chase after lies? (Selah)

the godly person for himself;

A<sub>DONAI</sub> will hear when I call to him.

<sup>5(4)</sup> You can be angry, but do not sin!

Think about this as you lie in bed,

and calm down. (Selah)

<sup>6(5)</sup> Offer sacrifices rightly,

and put your trust in A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

<sup>7(6)</sup> Many ask, “Who can show us some good?”

A<sub>DONAI</sub>, lift the light of your face over us!

<sup>8(7)</sup> You have filled my heart with more joy

than all their grain and new wine.

<sup>9(8)</sup> I will lie down and sleep in peace;

for, ADONAI, you alone make me live securely.

5 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. On wind instruments. A psalm of David:

<sup>2(1)</sup> Give ear to my words, ADONAI,

consider my inmost thoughts.

<sup>3(2)</sup> Listen to my cry for help,

my king and my God, for I pray to you.

<sup>4(3)</sup> ADONAI, in the morning you will hear my voice;

in the morning I lay my needs before you and wait expectantly.

<sup>5(4)</sup> For you are not a God who takes pleasure in wickedness;

evil cannot remain with you.

<sup>6(5)</sup> Those who brag cannot stand before your eyes,

you hate all who do evil,

<sup>7(6)</sup> you destroy those who tell lies,

ADONAI detests men of blood and deceivers.

<sup>8(7)</sup>

But I can enter your house
because of your great grace and love;
I will bow down toward your holy temple
in reverence for you.

<sup>9(8)</sup>

Lead me, A<sub>DONAI</sub>, in your righteousness
because of those lying in wait for me;
make your way straight before me.

<sup>10(9)</sup>

For in their mouths there is nothing sincere,
within them are calamities,
their throats are open tombs,
they flatter with their tongues.

<sup>11(10)</sup>

God, declare them guilty!
Let them fall through their own intrigues,
For their many crimes, throw them down;
since they have rebelled against you.

<sup>12(11)</sup>

But let all who take refuge in you rejoice,
let them forever shout for joy!
Shelter them; and they will be glad,
those who love your name.

<sup>13(12)</sup> For you, ADONAI, bless the righteous;

you surround them with favor like a shield.

6 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. With stringed instruments. On sh'minit [low-pitched musical instruments?]. A psalm of David: don't discipline me in the heat of your fury.

<sup>3(2)</sup> Be gracious to me, ADONAI,

because I am withering away;

heal me, ADONAI,

because my bones are shaking;

<sup>4(3)</sup> I am completely terrified;

and you, ADONAI — how long?

<sup>5(4)</sup> Come back, ADONAI, and rescue me!

Save me for the sake of your grace;

<sup>6(5)</sup> for in death, no one remembers you;

in Sh'ol, who will praise you?

<sup>7(6)</sup> I am worn out with groaning;

all night I drench my bed with tears,

flooding my couch till it swims.

<sup>8(7)</sup> My vision is darkened with anger;

it grows weak because of all my foes.

<sup>9(8)</sup> Get away from me, all you workers of evil!

For ADONAI has heard the sound of my weeping,

<sup>10(9)</sup> ADONAI has heard my pleading,

ADONAI will accept my prayer.

<sup>11(10)</sup> All my enemies will be confounded, completely terrified;

they will turn back

and be suddenly put to shame.

7 <sup>1(0)</sup> A shiggayon of David, which he sang to ADONAI because of Kush the Ben-Y'mini:

<sup>2(1)</sup> ADONAI my God, in you I take refuge.

Save me from all my pursuers, and rescue me;

<sup>3(2)</sup> otherwise, they will maul me like a lion

and tear me apart, with no rescuer present.

<sup>4(3)</sup> ADONAI my God, if I have caused this,

if there is guilt on my hands,

<sup>5(4)</sup> if I paid back evil to him who was at peace with me, when I even spared those who opposed me without cause;

<sup>6(5)</sup> then let the enemy pursue me

until he overtakes me

and tramples my life down into the earth;

yes, let him lay my honor in the dust. (Selah)

<sup>7(6)</sup> Rise up, ADONAI, in your anger!

Arouse yourself against the fury of my foes.

Wake up for me; you commanded justice.

<sup>8(7)</sup> May the assembly of the peoples surround you;

may you return to rule over them from on high.

<sup>9(8)</sup> ADONAI, who dispenses judgment to the peoples, judge me, ADONAI, according to my righteousness

and as my integrity deserves.

<sup>10(9)</sup> Let the evil of the wicked come to an end,

and establish the righteous;

since you, righteous God,

test hearts and minds.

<sup>11(10)</sup> My shield is God,

who saves the upright in heart.

<sup>12(11)</sup> God is a righteous judge,
a God whose anger is present every day.

<sup>13(12)</sup> If a person will not repent,
he sharpens his sword.
He has bent his bow, made it ready;

<sup>14(13)</sup> he has also prepared for him weapons of death, his arrows,
which he has made into burning shafts.

<sup>15(14)</sup> Look how the wicked is pregnant with evil;
he conceives trouble, gives birth to lies.

<sup>16(15)</sup> He makes a pit, digs it deep,
and falls into the hole he made.

his violence will recoil onto his own skull.

<sup>18(17)</sup> I thank A<sub>DONAI</sub> for his righteousness and sing praise to the name of A<sub>DONAI</sub> ‘Elyon.

8 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. On the gittit. A psalm of David:

<sup>2(1)</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub>! Our Lord! How glorious

is your name throughout the earth!

The fame of your majesty spreads even above the heavens!

<sup>3(2)</sup>

From the mouths of babies and infants at the breast

you established strength because of your foes,

in order that you might silence

the enemy and the avenger.

<sup>4(3)</sup>

When I look at your heavens, the work of your fingers,

the moon and stars that you set in place —

<sup>5(4)</sup>

what are mere mortals, that you concern yourself with them;

humans, that you watch over them with such care?

<sup>6(5)</sup>

You made him but little lower than the angels,

you crowned him with glory and honor,

<sup>7(6)</sup>

you had him rule what your hands made,

you put everything under his feet —

<sup>8(7)</sup>

sheep and oxen, all of them,

also the animals in the wilds,

<sup>9(8)</sup>

the birds in the air, the fish in the sea,

whatever passes through the paths of the seas.

<sup>10(9)</sup>     A<sub>DONAI</sub>! Our Lord! How glorious

is your name throughout the earth!

9 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. On the death of Labben. A psalm of David:

<sup>2(1)</sup>     I give thanks to A<sub>DONAI</sub> with all my heart.

I will tell about all your wonderful deeds.

<sup>3(2)</sup>     I will be glad and exult in you.

I will sing praise to your name, ‘Elyon.

<sup>4(3)</sup>     When my enemies turn back,

they stumble and perish before you.

<sup>5(4)</sup>     For you upheld my cause as just,

sitting on the throne as the righteous judge.

<sup>6(5)</sup>     You rebuked the nations, destroyed the wicked, blotted out their name forever and ever.

<sup>7(6)</sup>     The enemy is finished, in ruins forever;

you destroyed their cities; all memory of them is lost.

<sup>8(7)</sup>     But A<sub>DONAI</sub> is enthroned forever;

he has set up his throne for judgment.

<sup>9(8)</sup>     He will judge the world in righteousness;

he will judge the peoples fairly.

<sup>10(9)</sup>      ADONAI is a stronghold for the oppressed,

a tower of strength in times of trouble.

<sup>11(10)</sup>      Those who know your name put their trust in you, for you have not abandoned those who seek you, ADONAI.

<sup>12(11)</sup>      Sing praises to ADONAI, who lives in Tziyon;

proclaim his deeds among the peoples.

<sup>13(12)</sup>      For the avenger of blood remembers them,

he does not ignore the cry of the afflicted:

<sup>14(13)</sup>      “Have mercy on me, ADONAI!

See how I suffer from those who hate me;

you raise me from the gates of death,

<sup>15(14)</sup>      so that I can proclaim all your praises

at the gates of the daughter of Tziyon

and rejoice in this deliverance of yours.”

caught their own feet in the net they hid.

<sup>17(16)</sup>      ADONAI made himself known and executed judgment;

the wicked are ensnared in the work of their own hands. (Higgayon; Selah)

<sup>18(17)</sup> The wicked will return to Sh'ol,

all the nations that forget God.

<sup>19(18)</sup> For the poor will not always be forgotten or the hope of the needy perish forever.

Let the nations be judged in your presence.

Let the nations know they are only human. (Selah)

10 <sup>1</sup> Why, A<sub>DONAI</sub>, do you stand at a distance?

Why do you hide yourself in times of trouble?

who get caught in the schemes they think up.

<sup>3</sup> For the wicked boasts about his lusts;

he blesses greed and despises A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

“There is no God, [so] it won't be held against me.”

Your judgments are way up there,
so he takes no notice.

His adversaries? He scoffs at them all.

<sup>6</sup> In his heart he thinks, “I will never be shaken;
I won’t meet trouble, not now or ever.”

<sup>7</sup> His mouth is full of curses, deceit, oppression;
under his tongue, mischief and injustice.

<sup>8</sup> He waits near settlements in ambush
and kills an innocent man in secret;
his eyes are on the hunt for the helpless.

<sup>9</sup> Lurking unseen like a lion in his lair,
he lies in wait to pounce on the poor,
then seizes the poor and drags him off in his net.

<sup>10</sup> Yes, he stoops, crouches down low;
and the helpless wretch falls into his clutches.

<sup>11</sup> He says in his heart, “God forgets, he hides his face, he will never see.”

<sup>12</sup> Arise, ADONAI! God, raise your hand!
Don’t forget the humble!

<sup>13</sup> Why does the wicked despise God

and say in his heart, “It won’t be held against me”?

<sup>14</sup> You have seen; for you look at mischief and grief,

so that you can take the matter in hand.

The helpless commits himself to you;

you help the fatherless.

<sup>15</sup> Break the arm of the wicked!

As for the evil man,

search out his wickedness

until there is none left.

<sup>16</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub> is king forever and ever!

The nations have vanished from his land.

<sup>17</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub>, you have heard what the humble want;

you encourage them and listen to them,

<sup>18</sup> to give justice to the fatherless and oppressed,

so that no one on earth will strike terror again.

11 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. By David:

<sup>(1)</sup> In A<sub>DONAI</sub> I find refuge.

So how can you say to me,

“Flee like a bird to the mountains!

<sup>2</sup> See how the wicked are drawing their bows
and setting their arrows on the string,
to shoot from the shadows at honest men.

<sup>3</sup> If the foundations are destroyed,
what can the righteous do?”

A<sub>DONAI</sub>, his throne is in heaven.

His eyes see and test humankind.

<sup>5</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub> tests the righteous;

but he hates the wicked and the lover of violence.

<sup>6</sup> He will rain hot coals down on the wicked,
fire, sulfur and scorching wind
will be what they get to drink.

<sup>7</sup> For A<sub>DONAI</sub> is righteous;

he loves righteousness;

the upright will see his face.

12 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. On sh'minit [low-pitched musical instruments?]. A psalm of David:

<sup>2(1)</sup> Help, ADONAI! For no one godly is left;

the faithful have vanished from humankind.

<sup>3(2)</sup> They all tell lies to each other,

flattering with their lips, but speaking from divided hearts.

<sup>4(3)</sup> May ADONAI cut off all flattering lips

and the tongue that speaks so proudly,

<sup>5(4)</sup> those who say, “By our tongues, we will prevail;

our lips are with us. Who can master us?”

<sup>6(5)</sup> “Because the poor are oppressed,

because the needy are groaning,

I will now rise up,” says ADONAI,

“and grant security to those whom they scorn.”

<sup>7(6)</sup> The words of ADONAI are pure words, silver in a melting-pot set in the earth,

refined and purified seven times over.

<sup>8(7)</sup> You, ADONAI, protect us;

guard us forever from this generation —

<sup>9(8)</sup> the wicked strut about everywhere

when vileness is held in general esteem.

<sup>2(1)</sup> How long, A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

Will you forget me forever?

How long will you hide your face from me?

<sup>3(2)</sup> How long must I keep asking myself what to do, with sorrow in my heart every day?

How long must my enemy dominate me?

<sup>4(3)</sup> Look, and answer me, A<sub>DONAI</sub> my God!

Give light to my eyes, or I will sleep the sleep of death.

<sup>5(4)</sup> Then my enemy would say, “I was able to beat him”;

and my adversaries would rejoice at my downfall.

<sup>6(5)</sup> But I trust in your grace,

my heart rejoices as you bring me to safety.

<sup>(6)</sup> I will sing to A<sub>DONAI</sub>, because he gives me

even more than I need.

14 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. By David:

“There is no God.”

They deal corruptly, their deeds are vile,
not one does what is right.

<sup>2</sup> From heaven A<sub>DONAI</sub> observes humankind to see if anyone has understanding,
if anyone seeks God.

<sup>3</sup> But all turn aside, all alike are corrupt;
no one does what is right,
not a single one.

<sup>4</sup> Don't they ever learn,
all those evildoers,
who eat up my people as if eating bread
and never call on A<sub>DONAI</sub>?

<sup>5</sup> There they are, utterly terrified;
for God is with those who are righteous.

<sup>6</sup> You may mock the plans of the poor,
but their refuge is A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

<sup>7</sup> How I wish Isra'el's salvation

would come out of Tziyon!

When ADONAI restores his people's fortunes,

Ya'akov will rejoice, Isra'el will be glad!

15<sup>1(0)</sup> A psalm of David:

<sup>(1)</sup> ADONAI, who can rest in your tent?

Who can live on your holy mountain?

<sup>2</sup> Those who live a blameless life,

who behave uprightly,

who speak truth from their hearts

<sup>3</sup> and keep their tongues from slander;

who never do harm to others

or seek to discredit neighbors;

<sup>4</sup> who look with scorn on the vile,

but honor those who fear ADONAI,

who hold to an oath, no matter the cost;

<sup>5</sup> who refuse usury when they lend money

and refuse a bribe to damage the innocent.

Those who do these things

never will be moved.

16<sup>1(0)</sup> Mikhtam. By David:

for you are my refuge.

<sup>2</sup> I said to ADONAI, “You are my Lord;

I have nothing good outside of you.”

<sup>3</sup> The holy people in the land are the ones who are worthy of honor; all my pleasure is in them.

<sup>4</sup> Those who run after another god

multiply their sorrows;

to such gods I will not offer

drink offerings of blood

or take their names on my lips.

<sup>5</sup> ADONAI, my assigned portion, my cup:

you safeguard my share.

<sup>6</sup> Pleasant places were measured out for me;

I am content with my heritage.

<sup>7</sup> I bless ADONAI, my counselor;

at night my inmost being instructs me.

<sup>8</sup> I always set A<sub>DONAI</sub> before me;
with him at my right hand, I can never be moved;
<sup>9</sup> so my heart is glad, my glory rejoices,
and my body too rests in safety;
<sup>10</sup> for you will not abandon me to Sh'ol,
you will not let your faithful one see the Abyss.
<sup>11</sup> You make me know the path of life;
in your presence is unbounded joy,
in your right hand eternal delight.

17 <sup>1(0)</sup> A prayer of David:

listen to my prayer from honest lips.
<sup>2</sup> Let my vindication come from you,
let your eyes see what is right.
<sup>3</sup> You probed my heart,
you visited me at night,
and you assayed me without finding evil thoughts
that should not pass my lips.

As for what others do, by words from your lips

I have kept myself from the ways of the violent;

<sup>5</sup> my steps hold steadily to your paths,

my feet do not slip.

<sup>6</sup> Now I call on you, God, for you will answer me.

Turn your ear to me, hear my words.

<sup>7</sup> Show how wonderful is your grace, savior of those who seek at your right hand

refuge from their foes.

<sup>8</sup> Protect me like the pupil of your eye,

hide me in the shadow of your wings

<sup>9</sup> from the wicked, who are assailing me,

from my deadly enemies, who are all around me.

<sup>10</sup> They close their hearts to compassion;

they speak arrogantly with their mouths;

<sup>11</sup> they track me down, they surround me;

they watch for a chance to bring me to the ground.

<sup>12</sup> They are like lions eager to tear the prey,

like young lions crouching in ambush.

<sup>13</sup> Arise, ADONAI, confront them! Bring them down!

With your sword deliver me from the wicked,

<sup>14</sup> with your hand, ADONAI, from human beings,

from people whose portion in life is this world.

You fill their stomachs with your treasure,

their children will be satisfied too

and will leave their wealth to their little ones.

<sup>15</sup> But my prayer, in righteousness, is to see your face;

on waking, may I be satisfied with a vision of you.

18 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. By David the servant of ADONAI, who addressed the words of this song to ADONAI on the day when ADONAI delivered him from the power of all his enemies, including from the power of Sha'ul. <sup>2</sup> He said:

<sup>3(2)</sup> “ADONAI is my Rock, my fortress and deliverer,

my God, my Rock, in whom I find shelter,

my shield, the power that saves me,

my stronghold.

<sup>4(3)</sup> I call on ADONAI, who is worthy of praise;

and I am saved from my enemies.

<sup>5(4)</sup> “For the cords of death surrounded me,

the floods of B’liya’al terrified me,

<sup>6(5)</sup> the ropes of Sh’ol were wrapped around me,

the snares of death lay there before me.

<sup>7(6)</sup> In my distress I called to A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

I cried out to my God.

Out of his temple he heard my voice;

my cry reached his ears.

<sup>8(7)</sup> Then the earth quaked and shook,

the foundations of the mountains trembled.

They were shaken because he was angry.

<sup>9(8)</sup> Smoke arose in his nostrils;

out of his mouth came devouring fire;

sparks blazed forth from him.

<sup>10(9)</sup> He lowered heaven and came down

with thick darkness under his feet.

<sup>11(10)</sup> He rode on a keruv; he flew,

swooping down on the wings of the wind.

<sup>12(11)</sup> He made darkness his hiding-place,

his canopy thick clouds dark with water.

<sup>13(12)</sup> From the brightness before him,

there broke through his thick clouds

hailstones and fiery coals.

<sup>14(13)</sup> “A<sub>DONAI</sub> also thundered in heaven,

Ha ‘Elyon sounded his voice —

hailstones and fiery coals.

<sup>15(14)</sup> He sent out arrows and scattered them, shot out lightning and routed them.

The channels of water appeared,

the foundations of the world were exposed

at your rebuke, A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

at the blast of breath from your nostrils.

<sup>17(16)</sup> “He sent from on high, he took me and pulled me out of deep water;

<sup>18(17)</sup> he rescued me from my powerful enemy,

from those who hated me,

for they were stronger than I.

<sup>19(18)</sup> They came against me on my day of disaster,

but A<sub>DONAI</sub> was my support.

<sup>20(19)</sup> He brought me out to an open place;

he rescued me, because he took pleasure in me.

<sup>21(20)</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub> rewarded me for my uprightness,

he repaid me because my hands were clean.

<sup>22(21)</sup> “For I have kept the ways of A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

I have not done evil by leaving my God;

<sup>23(22)</sup> for all his rulings were before me,

I did not distance his regulations from me.

<sup>24(23)</sup> I was pure-hearted with him and kept myself from my sin.

<sup>25(24)</sup> “Hence A<sub>DONAI</sub> repaid me for my uprightness, according to the purity of my hands in his view.

<sup>26(25)</sup> With the merciful, you are merciful;

with a man who is sincere, you are sincere;

<sup>27(26)</sup> with the pure, you are pure;

but with the crooked you are cunning.

but haughty eyes, you humble.

<sup>29(28)</sup> “For you, A<sub>DONAI</sub>, light my lamp;

A<sub>DONAI</sub>, my God, lights up my darkness.

<sup>30(29)</sup> With you I can run through a whole troop of men, with my God I can leap a wall.

<sup>31(30)</sup> “As for God, his way is perfect, the word of A<sub>DONAI</sub> has been tested by fire;

he shields all who take refuge in him.

<sup>32(31)</sup> “For who is God but A<sub>DONAI</sub>?

Who is a Rock but our God?

<sup>33(32)</sup> “It is God who girds me with strength;

he makes my way go straight.

<sup>34(33)</sup> He makes me swift, sure-footed as a deer,

and enables me to stand on my high places.

<sup>35(34)</sup> He trains my hands for war

until my arms can bend a bow of bronze;

<sup>36(35)</sup> “You give me your shield, which is salvation,

your right hand holds me up,

your humility makes me great.

<sup>37(36)</sup> You lengthen the steps I can take,

yet my ankles do not turn.

<sup>38(37)</sup> “I pursued my enemies and overtook them, without turning back until they were destroyed.

<sup>39(38)</sup> I crushed them, so that they can’t get up;

they have fallen under my feet.

<sup>40(39)</sup> “For you braced me with strength for the battle and bent down my adversaries beneath me.

<sup>41(40)</sup> You made my enemies turn their backs in flight,

and I destroyed those who hated me.

<sup>42(41)</sup> “They cried out, but there was no one to help, even to ADONAI, but he didn’t answer.

<sup>43(42)</sup> I pulverized them like dust in the wind, threw them out like mud in the streets.

<sup>44(43)</sup> “You also freed me from the quarrels of my people.

You made me head of the nations;

a people I did not know now serve me —

<sup>45(44)</sup>

the moment they hear of me, they obey me, foreigners come cringing to me.

<sup>46(45)</sup> Foreigners lose heart
as they come trembling from their fortresses.

<sup>47(46)</sup> “A<sub>DONAI</sub> is alive! Blessed is my Rock!

Exalted be the God of my salvation,

<sup>48(47)</sup> the God who avenges me

and subdues peoples under me.

<sup>49(48)</sup> He delivers me from my enemies.

You lift me high above my enemies,

you rescue me from violent men.

<sup>50(49)</sup> “So I give thanks to you, A<sub>DONAI</sub>, among the nations;

I sing praises to your name.

<sup>51(50)</sup> Great salvation he gives to his king;

he displays grace to his anointed,

to David and his descendants forever.”

19 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. A psalm of David:

<sup>2(1)</sup> The heavens declare the glory of God,

the dome of the sky speaks the work of his hands.

<sup>3(2)</sup> Every day it utters speech,

every night it reveals knowledge.

<sup>4(3)</sup> Without speech, without a word,

without their voices being heard,

<sup>5(4)</sup> their line goes out through all the earth

and their words to the end of the world.

In them he places a tent for the sun,

<sup>6(5)</sup> which comes out like a bridegroom from the bridal chamber,

with delight like an athlete to run his race.

<sup>7(6)</sup> It rises at one side of the sky,

circles around to the other side,

and nothing escapes its heat.

<sup>8(7)</sup> The Torah of A<sub>DONAI</sub> is perfect, restoring the inner person.

The instruction of A<sub>DONAI</sub> is sure,

making wise the thoughtless.

<sup>9(8)</sup> The precepts of A<sub>DONAI</sub> are right, rejoicing the heart.

The mitzvah of A<sub>DONAI</sub> is pure, enlightening the eyes.

<sup>10(9)</sup> The fear of A<sub>DONAI</sub> is clean, enduring forever.

The rulings of A<sub>DONAI</sub> are true,
they are righteous altogether,

<sup>11(10)</sup> more desirable than gold,

than much fine gold,
also sweeter than honey or drippings from the honeycomb.

<sup>12(11)</sup> Through them your servant is warned;
in obeying them there is great reward.

<sup>13(12)</sup> Who can discern unintentional sins?

Cleanse me from hidden faults.

<sup>14(13)</sup> Also keep your servant from presumptuous sins,

so that they won't control me.

Then I will be blameless
and free of great offense.

<sup>15(14)</sup> May the words of my mouth

and the thoughts of my heart

be acceptable in your presence,

A<sub>DONAI</sub>, my Rock and Redeemer.

20<sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. A psalm of David:

<sup>2(1)</sup> May A<sub>DONAI</sub> answer you in times of distress,

may the name of the God of Ya‘akov protect you.

<sup>3(2)</sup> May he send you help from the sanctuary and give you support from Tziyon.

<sup>4(3)</sup> May he be reminded by all your grain offerings and accept the fat of your burnt offerings.

(Selah)

<sup>5(4)</sup> May he grant you your heart’s desire and bring all your plans to success.

<sup>6(5)</sup> Then we will shout for joy at your victory and fly our flags in the name of our God.

May A<sub>DONAI</sub> fulfill all your requests.

<sup>7(6)</sup> Now I know that A<sub>DONAI</sub>

gives victory to his anointed one —

he will answer him from his holy heaven

with mighty victories by his right hand.

<sup>8(7)</sup> Some trust in chariots and some in horses, but we praise the name of A<sub>DONAI</sub> our God.

<sup>9(8)</sup> They will crumple and fall,

but we will arise and stand erect.

<sup>10(9)</sup> Give victory, A<sub>DONAI</sub>!

Let the King answer us the day we call.

<sup>2(1)</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub>, the king finds joy in your strength;

what great joy he displays in your victory!

<sup>3(2)</sup> You give him his heart's desire;

you don't refuse the prayer from his lips. (Selah)

<sup>4(3)</sup> For you come to meet him with the best blessings,

you place a crown of fine gold on his head.

<sup>5(4)</sup> He asks you for life; you give it to him,

years and years forever and ever.

<sup>6(5)</sup> Your victory brings him great glory;

you confer on him splendor and honor.

<sup>7(6)</sup> For you bestow on him everlasting blessings,

you make him glad with the joy of your presence.

<sup>8(7)</sup> For the king puts his trust in A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
in the grace of ‘Elyon; he will not be moved.

<sup>9(8)</sup> Your hand will find all your enemies;
your right hand will overtake those who hate you.

<sup>10(9)</sup> At your appearing,
you will make them like a fiery furnace.
A<sub>DONAI</sub> will swallow them up in his anger;
fire will consume them.

<sup>11(10)</sup> You will destroy from the earth their descendants, rid humankind of their posterity;

<sup>12(11)</sup> for they intended evil against you;
but despite their scheme, they won’t succeed.

<sup>13(12)</sup> For you will make them turn their back
by aiming your bow at their faces.

<sup>14(13)</sup> Arise, A<sub>DONAI</sub>, in your strength;
and we will sing and praise your power.

22 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. Set to “Sunrise.” A psalm of David:

<sup>2(1)</sup> My God! My God!

Why have you abandoned me?

Why so far from helping me,
so far from my anguished cries?

<sup>3(2)</sup> My God, by day I call to you,

but you don't answer;

likewise at night,

but I get no relief.

<sup>4(3)</sup> Nevertheless, you are holy,

enthroned on the praises of Isra'el.

<sup>5(4)</sup> In you our ancestors put their trust;

they trusted, and you rescued them.

<sup>6(5)</sup> They cried to you and escaped;

they trusted in you and were not disappointed.

<sup>7(6)</sup> But I am a worm, not a man,

scorned by everyone, despised by the people.

<sup>8(7)</sup> All who see me jeer at me;

they sneer and shake their heads:

<sup>9(8)</sup> "He committed himself to ADONAI,

so let him rescue him!

Let him set him free
if he takes such delight in him!”

<sup>10</sup> (9) But you are the one who took me from the womb, you made me trust when I was on my mother’s breasts.

<sup>11</sup> (10) Since my birth I’ve been thrown on you;
you are my God from my mother’s womb.

<sup>12</sup> (11) Don’t stay far from me, for trouble is near;
and there is no one to help.

<sup>13</sup> (12) Many bulls surround me,
wild bulls of Bashan close in on me.

<sup>14</sup> (13) They open their mouths wide against me, like ravening, roaring lions.

<sup>15</sup> (14) I am poured out like water;
all my bones are out of joint;
my heart has become like wax —
it melts inside me;

<sup>16</sup> (15) my mouth is as dry as a fragment of a pot,
my tongue sticks to my palate;
you lay me down in the dust of death.

<sup>17(16)</sup> Dogs are all around me,
a pack of villains closes in on me
like a lion [at] my hands and feet.*

<sup>18(17)</sup> I can count every one of my bones,
while they gaze at me and gloat.

<sup>19(18)</sup> They divide my garments among themselves;
for my clothing they throw dice.

<sup>20(19)</sup> But you, A<sub>DONAI</sub>, don't stay far away!
My strength, come quickly to help me!

<sup>21(20)</sup> Rescue me from the sword,
my life from the power of the dogs.

You have answered me from the wild bulls' horns.

<sup>23(22)</sup> I will proclaim your name to my kinsmen;
right there in the assembly I will praise you:

All descendants of Ya'akov, glorify him!

All descendants of Isra'el, stand in awe of him!

<sup>25(24)</sup>

For he has not despised or abhorred
the poverty of the poor;
he did not hide his face from him
but listened to his cry.”

26(25)

Because of you
I give praise in the great assembly;
I will fulfill my vows
in the sight of those who fear him.

27(26)

The poor will eat and be satisfied;
those who seek A<sub>DONAI</sub> will praise him;
Your hearts will enjoy life forever.

28(27)

All the ends of the earth will remember and turn to A<sub>DONAI</sub>;
all the clans of the nations
will worship in your presence.

29(28)

For the kingdom belongs to A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
and he rules the nations.

30(29)

All who prosper on the earth
will eat and worship;

all who go down to the dust
will kneel before him,
including him who can't keep himself alive.

<sup>31(30)</sup> A descendant will serve him;
the next generation will be told of Adonai.

<sup>32(31)</sup> They will come and proclaim his righteousness
to a people yet unborn,
that he is the one who did it.

23 <sup>1(0)</sup> A psalm of David:

<sup>(1)</sup> ADONAI is my shepherd; I lack nothing.
<sup>2</sup> He has me lie down in grassy pastures,
he leads me by quiet water, <sup>3</sup> he restores my inner person.

He guides me in right paths
for the sake of his own name.

<sup>4</sup> Even if I pass through death-dark ravines,
I will fear no disaster; for you are with me;
your rod and staff reassure me.

<sup>5</sup> You prepare a table for me,
even as my enemies watch;
you anoint my head with oil
from an overflowing cup.

<sup>6</sup> Goodness and grace will pursue me
every day of my life;
and I will live in the house of A<sub>DONAI</sub>
for years and years to come.

24 <sup>1(0)</sup> By David. A psalm:

<sup>(1)</sup> The earth is A<sub>DONAI</sub>'s, with all that is in it,
the world and those who live there;

<sup>2</sup> for he set its foundations on the seas
and established it on the rivers.

<sup>3</sup> Who may go up to the mountain of A<sub>DONAI</sub>?

Who can stand in his holy place?

<sup>4</sup> Those with clean hands and pure hearts,
who don't make vanities the purpose of their lives
or swear oaths just to deceive.

<sup>5</sup> They will receive a blessing from ADONAI
and justice from God, who saves them.

<sup>6</sup> Such is the character of those who seek him,
of Ya'akov, who seeks your face. (Sei

Lift them up, everlasting doors,
so that the glorious king can enter!

<sup>8</sup> Who is he, this glorious king?

ADONAI, strong and mighty,

ADONAI, mighty in battle.

<sup>9</sup> Lift up your heads, you gates!

Lift them up, everlasting doors,
so that the glorious king can enter!

<sup>10</sup> Who is he, this glorious king?

ADONAI-Tzva'ot —

he is the glorious king. (Sei

25<sup>1(0)</sup> By David:

<sup>(1)</sup> I lift my inner being to you, ADONAI;
<sup>2</sup> I trust you, my God.

Don't let me be disgraced,
don't let my enemies gloat over me.

<sup>3</sup> No one waiting for you will be disgraced;
disgrace awaits those who break faith for no reason.

<sup>4</sup> Make me know your ways, ADONAI, teach me your paths.

<sup>5</sup> Guide me in your truth, and teach me;
for you are the God who saves me,
my hope is in you all day long.

<sup>6</sup> Remember your compassion and grace, ADONAI;
for these are ages old.

<sup>7</sup> Don't remember my youthful sins or transgressions;
but remember me according to your grace
for the sake of your goodness, ADONAI.

<sup>8</sup> ADONAI is good, and he is fair;
this is why he teaches sinners the way [to live],

<sup>9</sup> leads the humble to do what is right and teaches the humble [to live] his way.

<sup>10</sup> All A<sub>DONAI</sub>'s paths are grace and truth to those who keep his covenant and instructions.

<sup>11</sup> For the sake of your name, A<sub>DONAI</sub>, forgive my wickedness, great though it is.

<sup>12</sup> Who is the person who fears A<sub>DONAI</sub>?
He will teach him the way to choose.

<sup>13</sup> He will remain prosperous,
and his descendants will inherit the land.

<sup>14</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub> relates intimately with those who fear him;
he makes them know his covenant.

<sup>15</sup> My eyes are always directed toward A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
for he will free my feet from the net.

<sup>16</sup> Turn to me, and show me your favor;
for I am alone and oppressed.

<sup>17</sup> The troubles of my heart are growing and growing;
bring me out of my distress.

<sup>18</sup> See my affliction and suffering,
and take all my sins away.

Consider my enemies, how many there are
and how cruelly they hate me.

<sup>20</sup> Protect me and rescue me;
don't let me be disgraced,
for I take refuge in you.

<sup>21</sup> Let integrity and uprightness preserve me, because my hope is in you.

<sup>22</sup> God! Redeem Isra'el from all their troubles!

26 <sup>1(0)</sup> By David:

<sup>(1)</sup> Vindicate me, ADONAI,
for I have lived a blameless life;
unwaveringly I trust in ADONAI.

<sup>2</sup> Examine me, ADONAI, test me,
search my mind and heart.

<sup>3</sup> For your grace is there before my eyes,
and I live my life by your truth.

<sup>4</sup> I have not sat with worthless folks,
I won't consort with hypocrites,

I hate the company of evildoers,
I will not sit with the wicked.

<sup>6</sup> I will wash my hands in innocence and walk around your altar, ADONAI,

<sup>7</sup> lifting my voice in thanks
and proclaiming all your wonders.

<sup>8</sup> ADONAI, I love the house where you live,
the place where your glory abides.

<sup>9</sup> Don't include me with sinners
or my life with the bloodthirsty.

<sup>10</sup> In their hands are evil schemes;
their right hands are full of bribes.

<sup>11</sup> As for me, I will live a blameless life.
Redeem me and show me favor.

<sup>12</sup> My feet are planted on level ground;
in the assemblies I will bless ADONAI.

<sup>(1)</sup> ADONAI is my light and salvation;
whom do I need to fear?

A<sub>DONAI</sub> is the stronghold of my life;
of whom should I be afraid?

<sup>2</sup> When evildoers assailed me
to devour my flesh,
my adversaries and foes,
they stumbled and fell.

<sup>3</sup> If an army encamps against me,
my heart will not fear;
if war breaks out against me,
even then I will keep trusting.

<sup>4</sup> Just one thing have I asked of A<sub>DONAI</sub>;
only this will I seek:
to live in the house of A<sub>DONAI</sub>
all the days of my life,
to see the beauty of A<sub>DONAI</sub>
and visit in his temple.

<sup>5</sup> For he will conceal me in his shelter
on the day of trouble,
he will hide me in the folds of his tent,
he will set me high on a rock.

Then my head will be lifted up above my surrounding foes,
and I will offer in his tent
sacrifices with shouts of joy;
I will sing, sing praises to ADONAI.

<sup>7</sup> Listen, ADONAI, to my voice when I cry;
show favor to me; and answer me.

<sup>8</sup> “My heart said of you, ‘Seek my face.’”
Your face, ADONAI, I will seek.

<sup>9</sup> Do not hide your face from me,
don’t turn your servant away in anger.
You are my help; don’t abandon me;
don’t leave me, God my savior.

<sup>10</sup> Even though my father and mother have left me,
ADONAI will care for me.

<sup>11</sup> Teach me your way, ADONAI;
lead me on a level path
because of my enemies —

<sup>12</sup> don’t give me up to the whims of my foes;
for false witnesses have risen against me,

also those who are breathing violence.

<sup>13</sup> If I hadn't believed that I would see

ADONAI's goodness in the land of the living,...

<sup>14</sup> Put your hope in ADONAI, be strong,

and let your heart take courage!

Yes, put your hope in ADONAI!

28 <sup>1(0)</sup> By David:

<sup>(1)</sup> ADONAI, I am calling to you;

my Rock, don't be deaf to my cry.

For if you answer me with silence,

I will be like those who fall in a pit.

<sup>2</sup> Hear the sound of my prayers

when I cry to you,

when I lift my hands

toward your holy sanctuary.

<sup>3</sup> Don't drag me off with the wicked,

with those whose deeds are evil;

they speak words of peace to their fellowmen,

but evil is in their hearts.

Pay them back for their deeds,
as befits their evil acts;
repay them for what they have done,
give them what they deserve.

<sup>5</sup> For they don't understand the deeds of ADONAI or what he has done.
He will break them down;
he will not build them up.

<sup>6</sup> Blessed be ADONAI,
for he heard my voice as I prayed for mercy.

<sup>7</sup> ADONAI is my strength and shield;
in him my heart trusted, and I have been helped.
Therefore my heart is filled with joy,
and I will sing praises to him.

<sup>8</sup> ADONAI is strength for [his people],
a stronghold of salvation to his anointed.

<sup>9</sup> Save your people! Bless your heritage!
Shepherd them, and carry them forever!

29 <sup>1(0)</sup> A psalm of David:

Give ADONAI his due, you who are godly;

give ADONAI his due of glory and strength;

<sup>2</sup> give ADONAI the glory due his name;

worship ADONAI in holy splendor.

<sup>3</sup> The voice of ADONAI is over the waters;

the God of glory thunders,

ADONAI over rushing waters,

<sup>4</sup> the voice of ADONAI in power,

the voice of ADONAI in splendor.

ADONAI splinters the cedars of the L'vanon

Siryon like a young wild ox.

ADONAI convulses the Kadesh Desert.

<sup>9</sup> The voice of ADONAI causes deer to give birth and strips the forests bare —

while in his temple, all cry, “Glory!”

<sup>10</sup> ADONAI sits enthroned above the flood!

ADONAI sits enthroned as king forever!

<sup>11</sup> May ADONAI give strength to his people!

May ADONAI bless his people with shalom!

30 <sup>1(0)</sup> A psalm. A song for the dedication of the house. By David:

<sup>2(1)</sup> I will exalt you, ADONAI, because you drew me up;

you didn't let my enemies rejoice over me.

<sup>3(2)</sup> ADONAI my God, I cried out to you, and you provided healing for me.

<sup>4(3)</sup> ADONAI, you lifted me up from Sh'ol;

you kept me alive when I was sinking into a pit.

<sup>5(4)</sup> Sing praise to ADONAI, you faithful of his;

and give thanks on recalling his holiness.

<sup>6(5)</sup> For his anger is momentary,

but his favor lasts a lifetime.

Tears may linger for the night,

but with dawn come cries of joy.

<sup>7(6)</sup> Once I was prosperous and used to say that nothing could ever shake me —

<sup>8(7)</sup> when you showed me favor, ADONAI,

I was firm as a mighty mountain.

But when you hid your face,

I was struck with terror.

<sup>9(8)</sup> I called to you, ADONAI;

to ADONAI I pleaded for mercy:

<sup>10(9)</sup> “What advantage is there in my death,

in my going down to the pit?

Can the dust praise you?

Can it proclaim your truth?

<sup>11(10)</sup> Hear me, ADONAI, and show me your favor!

ADONAI, be my helper!”

<sup>12(11)</sup> You turned my mourning into dancing!

You removed my sackcloth and clothed me with joy,

<sup>13(12)</sup> so that my well-being can praise you and not be silent;

ADONAI my God, I will thank you forever!

31 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. A psalm of David:

<sup>2(1)</sup> In you, ADONAI, I take refuge;

let me never be put to shame;

in your justice, save me!

<sup>3(2)</sup>

Turn your ear toward me,
come quickly to my rescue,
be for me a rock of strength,
a fortress to keep me safe.

<sup>4(3)</sup> Since you are my rock and fortress,
lead me and guide me for your name's sake.

<sup>5(4)</sup> Free me from the net they have hidden to catch me, because you are my strength.

<sup>6(5)</sup> Into your hand I commit my spirit;
you will redeem me, A<sub>DONAI</sub>, God of truth.

<sup>7(6)</sup> I hate those who serve worthless idols;
as for me, I trust in A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

<sup>8(7)</sup> I will rejoice and be glad in your grace,
for you see my affliction,
you know how distressed I am.

<sup>9(8)</sup> You did not hand me over to the enemy;
you set my feet where I can move freely.

<sup>10(9)</sup> Show me favor, A<sub>DONAI</sub>, for I am in trouble.
My eyes grow dim with anger,
my soul and body as well.

<sup>1(10)</sup> For my life is worn out with sorrow and my years with sighing;
my strength gives out under my guilt,
and my bones are wasting away.

<sup>12(11)</sup> I am scorned by all my adversaries, and even more by my neighbors;
even to acquaintances
I am an object of fear —
when they see me in the street,
they turn away from me.

<sup>13(12)</sup> Like a dead man, I have passed from their minds;
I have become like a broken pot.

<sup>14(13)</sup> All I hear is whispering, terror is all around me;
they plot together against me,
scheming to take my life.

<sup>15(14)</sup> But I, I trust in you, A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
I say, “You are my God.”

<sup>16(15)</sup> My times are in your hand;
rescue me from my enemies’ power,

from those who persecute me.

<sup>17(16)</sup> Make your face shine on your servant;

in your grace, save me.

<sup>18(17)</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub>, don't let me be put to shame,

for I have called on you;

let the wicked be put to shame,

let them be silenced in Sh'ol.

<sup>19(18)</sup> May lying lips be struck dumb,

that speak insolently against the righteous

with such pride and contempt.

<sup>20(19)</sup> But oh, how great is your goodness,

which you have stored up for those who fear you,

which you do for those who take refuge in you,

before people's very eyes!

<sup>21(20)</sup> In the shelter of your presence

you hide them from human plots,

you conceal them in your shelter,

safe from contentious tongues.

<sup>22(21)</sup> Blessed be A<sub>DONAI</sub>!

For he has shown me his amazing grace

when I was in a city under siege.

<sup>23(22)</sup> As for me, in my alarm I said,

“I have been cut off from your sight!”

Nevertheless, you heard my pleas

when I cried out to you.

<sup>24(23)</sup> Love ADONAI, you faithful of his.

ADONAI preserves the loyal,

but the proud he repays in full.

<sup>25(24)</sup> Be strong, and fill your hearts with courage, all of you who hope in ADONAI.

those whose sin is covered!

<sup>2</sup> How blessed those to whom ADONAI imputes no guilt,

in whose spirit is no deceit!

<sup>3</sup> When I kept silent, my bones wasted away

because of my groaning all day long;

<sup>4</sup> day and night your hand was heavy on me;
the sap in me dried up as in a summer drought.

(Selah)

When I acknowledged my sin to you,
when I stopped concealing my guilt,
and said, “I will confess my offenses to ADONAI”;
then you, you forgave the guilt of my sin. (Selah)

<sup>6</sup> This is what everyone faithful should pray
at a time when you can be found.
Then, when the floodwaters are raging,
they will not reach to him.

<sup>7</sup> You are a hiding-place for me,
you will keep me from distress;
you will surround me
with songs of deliverance. (Selah)

<sup>8</sup> “I will instruct and teach you
in this way that you are to go;
I will give you counsel;
my eyes will be watching you.”

<sup>9</sup> Don’t be like a horse or mule
that has no understanding,
that has to be curbed with bit and bridle,
or else it won’t come near you.

<sup>10</sup> Many are the torments of the wicked,
but grace surrounds those who trust in ADONAI.

<sup>11</sup> Be glad in ADONAI; rejoice, you righteous!
Shout for joy, all you upright in heart!

33<sup>1</sup> Rejoice in ADONAI, you righteous!

Praise is well-suited to the upright.

<sup>2</sup> Give thanks to ADONAI with the lyre,
sing praises to him with a ten-stringed harp.

<sup>3</sup> Sing to him a new song,
make music at your best among shouts of joy.

<sup>4</sup> For the word of ADONAI is true,
and all his work is trustworthy.

<sup>5</sup> He loves righteousness and justice;
the earth is full of the grace of ADONAI.

<sup>6</sup> By the word of ADONAI the heavens were made,
and their whole host by a breath from his mouth.

<sup>7</sup> He collects the sea waters together in a heap;
he puts the deeps in storehouses.

<sup>8</sup> Let all the earth fear ADONAI!

Let all living in the world stand in awe of him.

<sup>9</sup> For he spoke, and there it was;

he commanded, and there it stood.

<sup>10</sup> ADONAI brings to nothing the plans of nations,

he foils the plans of the peoples.

<sup>11</sup> But the counsel of ADONAI stands forever,

his heart's plans are for all generations.

<sup>12</sup> How blessed is the nation whose God is ADONAI,

the people he chose as his heritage!

<sup>13</sup> ADONAI looks out from heaven;

he sees every human being;

<sup>14</sup> from the place where he lives

he watches everyone living on earth,

<sup>15</sup> he who fashioned the hearts of them all and understands all they do.

a strong man not delivered by his great strength.

<sup>17</sup> To rely on a horse for safety is vain,

nor does its great power assure escape.

<sup>18</sup> But ADONAI's eyes watch over those who fear him,

over those who wait for his grace

<sup>19</sup> to rescue them from death

and keep them alive in famine.

<sup>20</sup> We are waiting for ADONAI;

he is our help and shield.

<sup>21</sup> For in him our hearts rejoice,

because we trust in his holy name.

<sup>22</sup> May your mercy, ADONAI, be over us, because we put our hope in you.

34 <sup>1(0)</sup> By David, when he pretended to be insane before Avimelekh, who then drove him away; so he left:

<sup>2(1)</sup> I will bless ADONAI at all times;

his praise will always be in my mouth.

<sup>3(2)</sup> When I boast, it will be about ADONAI;

the humble will hear of it and be glad.

<sup>4(3)</sup> Proclaim with me the greatness of ADONAI,

let us exalt his name together.

<sup>5(4)</sup> I sought ADONAI, and he answered me;

he rescued me from everything I feared.

<sup>6(5)</sup> They looked to him and grew radiant;

their faces will never blush for shame.

<sup>7(6)</sup> This poor man cried; A<sub>DONAI</sub> heard and saved him from all his troubles.

<sup>8(7)</sup> The angel of A<sub>DONAI</sub>, who encamps around those who fear him, delivers them.

<sup>9(8)</sup> Taste, and see that A<sub>DONAI</sub> is good.

How blessed are those who take refuge in him!

<sup>10(9)</sup> Fear A<sub>DONAI</sub>, you holy ones of his,

for those who fear him lack nothing.

<sup>11(10)</sup> Young lions can be needy, they can go hungry,

but those who seek A<sub>DONAI</sub> lack nothing good.

<sup>12(11)</sup> Come, children, listen to me;

I will teach you the fear of A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

<sup>13(12)</sup> Which of you takes pleasure in living?

Who wants a long life to see good things?

<sup>14(13)</sup> [If you do,] keep your tongue from evil

and your lips from deceiving talk;

<sup>15(14)</sup> turn from evil, and do good;

seek peace, go after it!

<sup>16(15)</sup> The eyes of A<sub>DONAI</sub> watch over the righteous, and his ears are open to their cry.

<sup>17(16)</sup> But the face of A<sub>DONAI</sub> opposes those who do evil, to cut off all memory of them from the earth.

<sup>18(17)</sup> [The righteous] cried out, and A<sub>DONAI</sub> heard,
and he saved them from all their troubles.

<sup>19(18)</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub> is near those with broken hearts;
he saves those whose spirit is crushed.

<sup>20(19)</sup> The righteous person suffers many evils,
but A<sub>DONAI</sub> rescues him out of them all.

<sup>21(20)</sup> He protects all his bones;
not one of them gets broken.

<sup>22(21)</sup> Evil will kill the wicked,
and those who hate the righteous will be condemned.

<sup>23(22)</sup> But A<sub>DONAI</sub> redeems his servants;
no one who takes refuge in him will be condemned.

<sup>(1)</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub>, oppose those who oppose me;

fight against those who fight against me.

<sup>2</sup> Grasp your shield and protective gear,
and rise to my defense.

<sup>3</sup> Brandish spear and battle-axe against my pursuers;
let me hear you say,
“I am your salvation.”

<sup>4</sup> May those who seek my life
be disgraced and put to confusion;
may those who are plotting harm for me
be repulsed and put to shame.

<sup>5</sup> May they be like chaff before the wind, with the angel of ADONAI to drive them on.

<sup>6</sup> May their way be dark and slippery,
with the angel of ADONAI to pursue them.

<sup>7</sup> For unprovoked, they hid their net over a pit;
unprovoked, they dug it for me.

<sup>8</sup> May destruction come over him unawares.
May the net he concealed catch himself;
may he fall into it and be destroyed.

<sup>9</sup> Then I will be joyful in A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

I will rejoice in his salvation.

<sup>10</sup> All my bones will say,

“Who is like you?

Who can rescue the weak

from those stronger than they,

the poor and needy

from those who exploit them?”

<sup>11</sup> Malicious witnesses come forward,

asking me things about which I know nothing.

<sup>12</sup> They repay me evil for good;

it makes me feel desolate as a parent bereaved.

<sup>13</sup> But I, when they were ill, wore sackcloth;

I put myself out and fasted;

I can pray that what I prayed for them

might also happen to me.

<sup>14</sup> I behaved as I would for my friend or my brother;

I bent down in sorrow as if mourning my mother.

<sup>15</sup> But when I stumble, they gather in glee;

they gather against me and strike me unawares;

they tear me apart unceasingly.

<sup>16</sup> With ungodly mocking and grimacing,

they grind their teeth at me.

<sup>17</sup> Adonai, how much longer will you look on?

Rescue me from their assaults,

save the one life I have from the lions!

<sup>18</sup> I will give you thanks in the great assembly,

I will give you praise among huge crowds of people.

<sup>19</sup> Don't let those who are wrongfully my enemies gloat over me;

and those who hate me unprovoked —

don't let them smirk at me.

<sup>20</sup> For they don't speak words of peace

but devise ways to deceive

the peaceful of the land.

we saw you with our own eyes!"

Adonai, don't stay far away from me.

<sup>23</sup> Wake up! Get up, my God, my Lord!

Defend me and my cause!

<sup>24</sup> Give judgment for me, A<sub>DONAI</sub>, my God,
as your righteousness demands.

Don't let them gloat over me.

<sup>25</sup> Don't let them say to themselves,

"Aha! We got what we wanted!"

or say, "We swallowed them up!"

<sup>26</sup> May those who gloat over my distress

be disgraced and humiliated.

May those who aggrandize themselves at my expense

be covered with shame and confusion.

<sup>27</sup> But may those who delight in my righteousness shout for joy and be glad!

Let them say always, "How great is A<sub>DONAI</sub>, who delights in the peace of his servant!"

<sup>28</sup> Then my tongue will tell of your righteousness and praise you all day long.

<sup>2(1)</sup> Crime speaks to the wicked.

I perceive this in my heart;
before his eyes there is no fear of God.

<sup>3(2)</sup> For, the way he sees it, crime makes his life easy —
that is, until his wrongs are discovered;
then, he is hated.

<sup>4(3)</sup> His words are wrong and deceitful;
he has stopped being wise and doing good.

<sup>5(4)</sup> He devises trouble as he lies in bed;
so set is he on his own bad way
that he doesn't hate evil.

<sup>6(5)</sup> ADONAI, in the heavens is your grace;
your faithfulness reaches to the skies.

<sup>7(6)</sup> Your righteousness is like the mountains of God,
your judgments are like the great deep.
You save man and beast, ADONAI.

<sup>8(7)</sup> How precious, God, is your grace!
People take refuge in the shadow of your wings, <sup>9(8)</sup> they feast on the rich bounty of your house, and you have them drink from the stream of your delights.

<sup>10(9)</sup> For with you is the fountain of life;

in your light we see light.

<sup>11(10)</sup> Continue your grace to those who know you and your righteousness to the upright in heart.

<sup>12(11)</sup> Don't let the foot of the proud tread on me or the hands of the wicked drive me away.

<sup>13(12)</sup> There they lie fallen, those evildoers, flung down and unable to rise.

<sup>(1)</sup> Don't be upset by evildoers

or envious of those who do wrong,

<sup>2</sup> for soon they will wither like grass

and fade like the green in the fields.

<sup>3</sup> Trust in ADONAI, and do good;

settle in the land, and feed on faithfulness.

<sup>4</sup> Then you will delight yourself in ADONAI,

and he will give you your heart's desire.

<sup>5</sup> Commit your way to ADONAI;

trust in him, and he will act.

<sup>6</sup> He will make your vindication shine forth like light,
the justice of your cause like the noonday sun.

<sup>7</sup> Be still before ADONAI, wait patiently till he comes.

Don't be upset by those whose way succeeds because of their wicked plans.

<sup>8</sup> Stop being angry, put aside rage,
and don't be upset — it leads to evil.

<sup>9</sup> For evildoers will be cut off,
but those hoping in ADONAI will inherit the land.

<sup>10</sup> Soon the wicked will be no more;
you will look for his place, and he won't be there.

<sup>11</sup> But the meek will inherit the land and delight themselves in abundant peace.

<sup>12</sup> The wicked plots against the righteous
and grinds his teeth at him;

<sup>13</sup> but Adonai laughs at the wicked,
knowing his day will come.

The wicked have unsheathed their swords,
they have strung their bows
to bring down the poor and needy,
to slaughter those whose way is upright.

<sup>15</sup> But their swords will pierce their own hearts,
and their bows will be broken.

<sup>16</sup> Better the little that the righteous has
than the wealth of all the wicked.

<sup>17</sup> For the arms of the wicked will be broken,
but ADONAI upholds the righteous.

<sup>18</sup> ADONAI knows what the wholehearted suffer,
but their inheritance lasts forever.

<sup>19</sup> They will not be distressed when times are hard;
when famine comes, they will have plenty.

<sup>20</sup> For the wicked will perish;
ADONAI's enemies will be like sheep fat,
ending up as smoke, finished.

<sup>21</sup> The wicked borrows and doesn't repay,
but the righteous is generous and gives.

<sup>22</sup> For those blessed by [ADONAI] will inherit the land,

but those cursed by him will be cut off.

<sup>23</sup>        A<sub>DONAI</sub> directs a person's steps, and he delights in his way.

<sup>24</sup>        He may stumble, but he won't fall headlong,

for A<sub>DONAI</sub> holds him by the hand.

<sup>25</sup>        I have been young; now I am old;

yet not once have I seen the righteous abandoned

or his descendants begging for bread.

<sup>26</sup>        All day long he is generous and lends,

and his descendants are blessed.

<sup>27</sup>        If you turn from evil and do good,

you will live safely forever.

<sup>28</sup>        For A<sub>DONAI</sub> loves justice and will not abandon his faithful;

they are preserved forever.

But the descendants of the wicked will be cut off.

<sup>29</sup>        The righteous will inherit the land and live in it forever.

<sup>30</sup>        The mouth of the righteous articulates wisdom,

his footsteps do not falter.

<sup>32</sup> The wicked keeps his eye on the righteous,

seeking a chance to kill him.

<sup>33</sup> But ADONAI will not leave him in his power or let him be condemned when judged.

<sup>34</sup> Put your hope in ADONAI, keep to his way,

and he will raise you up to inherit the land.

When the wicked are cut off, you will see it.

flourishing like a shade tree in its native soil.

<sup>36</sup> But I passed by again, and he was no longer there;

I looked for him, but he could not be found.

<sup>37</sup> Observe the pure person, consider the upright;

for the peaceful person will have posterity.

<sup>38</sup> But transgressors will all be destroyed;

the posterity of the wicked will be cut off.

<sup>39</sup> ADONAI is the one who saves the righteous;

he is their stronghold in time of trouble.

<sup>40</sup>        ADONAI helps them and rescues them, rescues them from the wicked and saves them;
because they take refuge in him.

38 <sup>1(0)</sup> A psalm of David, serving as a reminder:

<sup>2(1)</sup>        ADONAI, don't rebuke me when you are angry or discipline me when you are enraged, <sup>3(2)</sup>        for your arrows penetrate me deeply,
and your hand is pressing me down.

my sin made my whole body sick;

<sup>5(4)</sup>        for my iniquities loom high over my head
as a heavy burden, too heavy for me.

<sup>6(5)</sup>        I have stinking, festering wounds
because of my foolishness.

<sup>7(6)</sup>        I am bent down, prostrate completely;
I go about mourning all day long.

<sup>8(7)</sup>        For my insides burn with fever,
and my whole body is sick.

<sup>9(8)</sup> I am numb, completely crushed;
my anguished heart makes me groan aloud.

<sup>10(9)</sup> Adonai, all my longing is known to you;
my sighing is not hidden from you.

<sup>11(10)</sup> My heart is throbbing, my strength is gone,
and the light in my eyes has left me.

<sup>12(11)</sup> My friends and companions shun my disease;
even the closest keep their distance.

<sup>13(12)</sup> Those seeking my life lay snares for me,
those seeking to harm me speak of disaster
and think up deceptions all day long.

<sup>14(13)</sup> But I'm like a deaf man — I don't hear it;
and, like a mute, I don't say a word.

<sup>15(14)</sup> Yes, I've become like a man who doesn't hear and in whose mouth are no defenses.

<sup>16(15)</sup> For it is in you, ADONAI, that I hope.
You will answer, Adonai my God.

<sup>17(16)</sup> I said, "Don't let them gloat over me or boast against me when my foot slips."

<sup>18(17)</sup> For I am about to fall,
and my pain is always with me.

<sup>19(18)</sup> I acknowledge my guilt,
I am anxious because of my sin.

<sup>20(19)</sup> But my enemies are alive and well,
those who wrongfully hate me increase their numbers;

<sup>21(20)</sup> and, since they repay good with evil,
they oppose me because I pursue good.

<sup>22(21)</sup> Don't abandon me, ADONAI!

My God, don't be far from me!

<sup>23(22)</sup> Come quickly to help me,
Adonai, my salvation!

39 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. Set in the style of Y'dutun. A psalm of David:

<sup>2(1)</sup> I said, "I will watch how I behave,
so that I won't sin with my tongue;
I will put a muzzle on my mouth
whenever the wicked confront me."

<sup>3(2)</sup> I was silent, said nothing, not even good;
but my pain kept being stirred up.

<sup>4(3)</sup> My heart grew hot within me;

whenever I thought of it, the fire burned.

Then, [at last,] I let my tongue speak:

<sup>5(4)</sup> “Make me grasp, Adonai, what my end must be,

what it means that my days are numbered;

let me know what a transient creature I am.

<sup>6(5)</sup> You have made my days like handbreadths;

for you, the length of my life is like nothing.”

Yes, everyone, no matter how firmly he stands,

is merely a puff of wind. (Selah)

<sup>7(6)</sup> Humans go about like shadows;

their turmoil is all for nothing.

They accumulate wealth, not knowing who will enjoy its benefits.

<sup>8(7)</sup> Now, Adonai, what am I waiting for?

You are my only hope.

<sup>9(8)</sup> Rescue me from all my transgressions;

don’t make me the butt of fools.

<sup>10(9)</sup> I am silent, I keep my mouth shut,

because it is you who have done it.

<sup>11(10)</sup> Stop raining blows on me;

the pounding of your fist is wearing me down.

<sup>12(11)</sup> With rebukes you discipline people for their guilt;

like a moth, you destroy what makes them attractive;

yes, everyone is merely a puff of wind. (Selah)

<sup>13(12)</sup> Hear my prayer, A<sub>DONAI</sub>, listen to my cry, don't be deaf to my weeping;

for with you, I am just a traveler

passing through, like all my ancestors.

<sup>14(13)</sup> Turn your gaze from me, so I can smile again

before I depart and cease to exist.

<sup>2(1)</sup> I waited patiently for A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

till he turned toward me and heard my cry.

<sup>3(2)</sup> He brought me up from the roaring pit,

up from the muddy ooze,

and set my feet on a rock,

making my footing firm.

<sup>4(3)</sup> He put a new song in my mouth,

a song of praise to our God.

Many will look on in awe

and put their trust in ADONAI.

<sup>5(4)</sup> How blessed the man who trusts in ADONAI,

and does not look to the arrogant

or to those who rely on things that are false.

<sup>6(5)</sup> How much you have done, ADONAI my God!

Your wonders and your thoughts toward us —

none can compare with you!

I would proclaim them, I would speak about them;

but there's too much to tell!

<sup>7(6)</sup> Sacrifices and grain offerings you don't want;

burnt offerings and sin offerings you don't demand.

Instead, you have given me open ears;

<sup>8(7)</sup> so then I said, "Here I am! I'm coming!"

In the scroll of a book it is written about me.

<sup>9(8)</sup> Doing your will, my God, is my joy;

your Torah is in my inmost being.

<sup>10(9)</sup> I have proclaimed what is right in the great assembly;

I did not restrain my lips, ADONAI, as you know.

<sup>11(10)</sup> I did not hide your righteousness in my heart
but declared your faithfulness and salvation;
I did not conceal your grace and truth
from the great assembly.”

<sup>12(11)</sup> ADONAI, don’t withhold your mercy from me.
Let your grace and truth preserve me always.

<sup>13(12)</sup> For numberless evils surround me;
my iniquities engulf me — I can’t even see;
there are more of them than hairs on my head,
so that my courage fails me.

<sup>14(13)</sup> Be pleased, ADONAI, to rescue me!
ADONAI, hurry and help me!

<sup>15(14)</sup> May those who seek to sweep me away
be disgraced and humiliated together.
May those who take pleasure in doing me harm
be turned back and put to confusion.

be aghast because of their shame.

<sup>17(16)</sup> But may all those who seek you
be glad and take joy in you.

May those who love your salvation say always,

“A<sub>DONAI</sub> is great and glorious!”

<sup>18(17)</sup> But I am poor and needy;

may Adonai think of me.

You are my helper and rescuer;

my God, don’t delay!

<sup>2(1)</sup> How blessed are those who care for the poor!

When calamity comes, A<sub>DONAI</sub> will save them.

<sup>3(2)</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub> will preserve them, keep them alive,

and make them happy in the land.

You will not hand them over to the whims of their enemies.

<sup>4(3)</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub> sustains them on their sickbed;

when they lie ill, you make them recover.

<sup>5(4)</sup> I said, “A<sub>DONAI</sub>, have pity on me!

Heal me, for I have sinned against you!”

<sup>6(5)</sup> My enemies say the worst about me:

“When will he die and his name disappear?”

<sup>7(6)</sup>

When they come to see me they speak insincerely,
their hearts meanwhile gathering falsehoods;
then they go out and spread bad reports.

<sup>8(7)</sup> All who hate me whisper together against me, imagining the worst about me.

<sup>9(8)</sup> “A fatal disease has attached itself to him;
now that he lies ill, he will never get up.”

<sup>10(9)</sup> Even my close friend, on whom I relied,
who shared my table, has turned against me.

<sup>11(10)</sup> But you, A<sub>DONAI</sub>, have pity on me, put me on my feet, so I can pay them back.

<sup>12(11)</sup> I will know you are pleased with me
if my enemy doesn’t defeat me.

<sup>13(12)</sup> You uphold me because of my innocence
you establish me in your presence forever.

<sup>14(13)</sup> Blessed be A<sub>DONAI</sub> the God of Isra’el from eternity past to eternity future.

Amen. Amen.

Book II: Psalms 42–72

42 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. A maskil of the descendants of Korach:

God, I long for you.

<sup>3(2)</sup> I am thirsty for God, for the living God!

When can I come and appear before God?

<sup>4(3)</sup> My tears are my food, day and night,

while all day people ask me, “Where is your God?”

<sup>5(4)</sup> I recall, as my feelings well up within me, how I’d go with the crowd to the house of God,

with sounds of joy and praise from the throngs

observing the festival.

<sup>6(5)</sup> My soul, why are you so downcast?

Why are you groaning inside me?

Hope in God, since I will praise him again

for the salvation that comes from his presence.

<sup>7(6)</sup> My God, when I feel so downcast,

I remind myself of you

from the land of Yarden, from the peaks of Hermon, from the hill Mizar.

<sup>8(7)</sup> Deep is calling to deep
at the thunder of your waterfalls;
all your surging rapids and waves
are sweeping over me.

<sup>9(8)</sup> By day ADONAI commands his grace, and at night his song is with me
as a prayer to the God of my life.

<sup>10(9)</sup> I say to God my Rock,
“Why have you forgotten me?
Why must I go about mourning,
under pressure by the enemy?

<sup>11(10)</sup> My adversaries’ taunts make me feel as if my bones were crushed,
as they ask me all day long,
‘Where is your God?’”

<sup>12(11)</sup> My soul, why are you so downcast?
Why are you groaning inside me?

Hope in God, since I will praise him again
for being my Savior and God.

43<sup>1</sup> Judge me, God, and plead my cause against a faithless nation.

Rescue me from those who deceive
and from those who are unjust.

<sup>2</sup> For you are the God of my strength;
why have you thrust me aside?

Why must I go about mourning,
under pressure by the enemy?

<sup>3</sup> Send out your light and your truth;
let them be my guide;
let them lead me to your holy mountain,
to the places where you live.

<sup>4</sup> Then I will go to the altar of God,
to God, my joy and delight;
I will praise you on the lyre,
God, my God.

<sup>5</sup> My soul, why are you so downcast?

Why are you groaning inside me?

Hope in God, since I will praise him again
for being my Savior and God.

44<sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. By the descendants of Korach. A maskil:

<sup>2(1)</sup> God, we heard it with our ears;

our fathers told us about it —

a deed which you did in their days,

back in days of old.

<sup>3(2)</sup> With your hand you drove out nations

to plant them in [the land],

you crushed peoples

to make room for them.

<sup>4(3)</sup> For not by their own swords

did they conquer the land,

nor did their own arm

give them victory;

rather, it was your right hand,

your arm and the light of your face;

because you favored them.

<sup>5(4)</sup> God, you are my king;
command complete victory for Ya‘akov.

<sup>6(5)</sup> Through you we pushed away our foes,
through your name we trampled down our assailants.

<sup>7(6)</sup> For I don’t rely on my bow,
nor can my sword give me victory.

<sup>8(7)</sup> No, you saved us from our adversaries;
you put to shame those who hate us.

<sup>9(8)</sup> We will boast in our God all day and give thanks to your name forever. (Selah)

<sup>10(9)</sup> Yet now you have thrust us aside and disgraced us;
you don’t march out with our armies.

<sup>11(10)</sup> You make us retreat from the adversary, and those who hate us plunder us at will.

<sup>12(11)</sup> You have handed us over like sheep to be eaten and scattered us among the nations.

<sup>13(12)</sup> You sell your people for a pittance,
you don’t even profit on the sale.

<sup>14(13)</sup> You make us an object for our neighbors to mock,

one of scorn and derision to those around us.

<sup>15(14)</sup> You make us a byword among the nations;

the peoples jeer at us, shaking their heads.

<sup>16(15)</sup> All day long my disgrace is on my mind,

and shame has covered my face

<sup>17(16)</sup> at the sound of those who revile and insult,

at the sight of the enemy bent on revenge.

<sup>18(17)</sup> Though all this came on us, we did not forget you;

we have not been false to your covenant;

<sup>19(18)</sup> our hearts have not turned back;

and our steps did not turn away from your path,

<sup>20(19)</sup> though you pressed us into a lair of jackals and covered us with death-dark gloom.

<sup>21(20)</sup> If we had forgotten the name of our God

or spread out our hands to a foreign god,

<sup>22(21)</sup> wouldn't God have discovered this,

since he knows the secrets of the heart?

<sup>23(22)</sup> For your sake we are put to death all day long,

we are considered sheep to be slaughtered.

<sup>24(23)</sup> Wake up, Adonai! Why are you asleep?

Rouse yourself! Don't thrust us off forever.

<sup>25(24)</sup> Why are you turning your face away, forgetting our pain and misery?

<sup>26(25)</sup> For we are lying flat in the dust,

our bodies cling to the ground.

<sup>27(26)</sup> Get up, and come to help us!

For the sake of your grace, redeem us!

45 <sup>1(0)</sup>For the leader. Set to "Lilies." By the descendants of Korach. A maskil. A lovesong:

I address my verses to the king;

my tongue is the pen of an expert scribe.

<sup>3(2)</sup> You are the most handsome of men;

gracious speech flows from your lips.

For God has blessed you forever.

[gird on] your splendor and majesty.

<sup>5(4)</sup> In your majesty, succeed, ride on in the cause of truth, meekness and righteousness.
May your right hand teach you awesome things.

<sup>6(5)</sup> Your arrows are sharp. The people fall under you,
as they penetrate the hearts of the king's enemies.

<sup>7(6)</sup> Your throne, God, will last forever and ever;
you rule your kingdom with a scepter of equity.

<sup>8(7)</sup> You have loved righteousness and hated wickedness.
Therefore God, your God, has anointed you with the oil of joy in preference to your companions.

<sup>9(8)</sup> Your robes are all fragrant with myrrh, aloes and cassia;
from ivory palaces stringed instruments bring you joy.

<sup>10(9)</sup> Daughters of kings are among your favorites;
at your right stands the queen in gold from Ofir.

Forget your own people and your father's house,

<sup>12(11)</sup> and the king will desire your beauty;
for he is your lord, so honor him.

<sup>13(12)</sup> Then the daughter of Tzor, the richest of peoples, will court your favor with gifts.

<sup>14(13)</sup> Inside [the palace], the king's daughter looks splendid,
attired in checker-work embroidered with gold.

<sup>15(14)</sup> In brocade, she will be led to the king,
to you, with the virgins in her retinue.
They will be led in with gladness and joy,
they will enter the king's palace.

<sup>17(16)</sup> You will have sons to succeed your ancestors;
you will make them princes in all the land.

<sup>18(17)</sup> I will make your name known through all generations;
thus the peoples will praise you forever and ever.

46 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. By the descendants of Korach. On 'alamot [high-pitched musical instruments?]. A song:

<sup>2(1)</sup> God is our refuge and strength,
an ever-present help in trouble.

<sup>3(2)</sup> Therefore we are unafraid,
even if the earth gives way,
even if the mountains tumble
into the depths of the sea,

<sup>4(3)</sup> even if its waters rage and foam,
and mountains shake at its turbulence. (Selah)

<sup>5(4)</sup> There is a river whose streams
gladden the city of God,
the holy habitation of ‘Elyon —

<sup>6(5)</sup> God is in the city.

It will not be moved —
when daybreak comes, God will help it.

<sup>7(6)</sup> Nations were in turmoil, kingdoms were moved;
his voice thundered forth,
and the earth melted away.

<sup>8(7)</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub>-Tzva ’ot is with us,
our fortress, the God of Ya’akov. (Selah)

<sup>9(8)</sup> Come and see the works of A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
the astounding deeds he has done on the earth.

<sup>10(9)</sup> To the ends of the earth he makes wars cease —
he breaks the bow, snaps the spear,
burns the shields in the fire.

<sup>11(10)</sup> “Desist, and learn that I am God, supreme over the nations,
supreme over the earth.”

<sup>12(11)</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub>-Tzva’ot is with us,
our fortress, the God of Ya‘akov. (Selah)

<sup>2(1)</sup> Clap your hands, all you peoples!

Shout to God with cries of joy!

<sup>3(2)</sup> For A<sub>DONAI</sub> ‘Elyon is awesome,

a great king over all the earth.

<sup>4(3)</sup> He makes peoples subject to us,

puts nations under our feet.

<sup>5(4)</sup> He chooses our heritage for us,
the pride of Ya‘akov, whom he loves. (Selah)

<sup>6(5)</sup> God goes up to shouts of acclaim,

Sing praises to our king, sing praises!

<sup>8(7)</sup> For God is king of all the earth;

sing praises in a maskil.

<sup>9(8)</sup> God rules the nations;

God sits on his holy throne.

<sup>10(9)</sup> The leaders of the people gather together,

the people of the God of Avraham;

for the rulers of the earth belong to God,

who is exalted on high.

48 <sup>1(0)</sup> A song. A psalm of the descendants of Korach:

and greatly to be praised,

in the city of our God,

his holy mountain,

<sup>3(2)</sup> beautiful in its elevation,

the joy of all the earth,

Mount Tziyon, in the far north,

the city of the great king.

<sup>4(3)</sup> In its citadels God has been revealed as a strong defense.

<sup>5(4)</sup> For the kings met by agreement;

together they advanced.

<sup>6(5)</sup> They saw and were filled with consternation;

terrified, they took to flight.

<sup>7(6)</sup> Trembling took hold of them,

pains like those of a woman in labor,

<sup>8(7)</sup> as when the wind out of the east

wrecks the “Tarshish” ships.

<sup>9(8)</sup> We heard it, and now we see for ourselves in the city of A<sub>DONAI</sub>-Tzva’ot,

in the city of our God.

May God establish it forever. (Selah)

<sup>10(9)</sup> God, within your temple

we meditate on your grace.

<sup>11(10)</sup> God, your praise, like your name, extends to the ends of the earth.

Your right hand is filled with righteousness.

<sup>12(11)</sup> Let Mount Tziyon rejoice, let the daughters of Y’hudah be glad,

because of your judgment [on the enemy].

<sup>13(12)</sup> Walk through Tziyon, go all around it;

count how many towers it has.

<sup>14(13)</sup> Note its ramparts, pass through its citadels,

so that you can tell generations to come

<sup>15(14)</sup> that such is God, our God forever;

he will guide us eternally.

49 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. A psalm of the descendants of Korach:

<sup>2(1)</sup> Hear this, all you peoples!

Listen, everyone living on earth,

<sup>3(2)</sup> regardless of whether low or high,

regardless of whether rich or poor!

<sup>4(3)</sup> My mouth is about to speak wisdom;

my heart's deepest thoughts will give understanding.

<sup>5(4)</sup> I will listen with care to [God's] parable,

I will set my enigma to the music of the lyre.

<sup>6(5)</sup> Why should I fear when the days bring trouble,

when the evil of my pursuers surrounds me,

<sup>7(6)</sup> the evil of those who rely on their wealth and boast how rich they are?

<sup>8(7)</sup> No one can ever redeem his brother

or give God a ransom for him,

<sup>9(8)</sup> because the price for him is too high

(leave the idea completely alone!)

<sup>10(9)</sup> to have him live on eternally and never see the pit.

<sup>11(10)</sup> For he can see that wise men will die,

likewise the fool and the brute will perish

and leave their wealth to others.

<sup>12(11)</sup> They think their homes will last forever,

their dwellings through all generations;

they give their own names to their estates.

<sup>13(12)</sup> But people, even rich ones, will live only briefly;

then, like animals, they will die.

<sup>14(13)</sup> This is the manner of life of the foolish and those who come after, approving their words.

(Selah)

<sup>15(14)</sup> Like sheep, they are destined for Sh'ol;

death will be their shepherd.

The upright will rule them in the morning;
and their forms will waste away in Sh'ol,
until they need no dwelling.

<sup>16(15)</sup> But God will redeem me from Sh'ol's control, because he will receive me. (Selah)

<sup>17(16)</sup> Don't be afraid when someone gets rich,
when the wealth of his family grows.

<sup>18(17)</sup> For when he dies, he won't take it with him;
his wealth will not go down after him.

<sup>19(18)</sup> True, while he lived, he thought himself happy —
people praise you when you do well for yourself —

<sup>20(19)</sup> but he will join his ancestors' generations and never again see light.

<sup>21(20)</sup> People, even rich ones, can fail to grasp that, like animals, they will die.

50 <sup>1(0)</sup> A psalm of Asaf:

<sup>(1)</sup> The Mighty One, God, A<sub>DONAI</sub>, is speaking, summoning the world from east to west.

God is shining forth.

<sup>3</sup> Our God is coming and not staying silent.

With a fire devouring ahead of him

and a great storm raging around him,

<sup>4</sup> he calls to the heavens above and to earth,

in order to judge his people.

<sup>5</sup> “Gather to me my faithful,

those who made a covenant with me by sacrifice.”

<sup>6</sup> The heavens proclaim his righteousness,
for God himself is judge. (Selah)

<sup>7</sup> “Listen, my people, I am speaking:

Isra’el, I am testifying against you,

I, God, your God.

<sup>8</sup> I am not rebuking you for your sacrifices;

your burnt offerings are always before me.

<sup>9</sup> I have no need for a bull from your farm or for male goats from your pens;

<sup>10</sup> for all forest creatures are mine already,

as are the animals on a thousand hills;

<sup>11</sup> I know all the birds in the mountains;

whatever moves in the fields is mine.

<sup>12</sup> If I were hungry, I would not tell you;

for the world is mine, and everything in it.

<sup>13</sup> Do I eat the flesh of bulls

or drink the blood of goats?

<sup>14</sup> Offer thanksgiving as your sacrifice to God, pay your vows to the Most High,

<sup>15</sup> and call on me when you are in trouble;

I will deliver you, and you will honor me.”

<sup>16</sup> But to the wicked God says:

“What right do you have to proclaim my laws

or take my covenant on your lips,

<sup>17</sup> when you so hate to receive instruction

and fling my words behind you?

<sup>18</sup> When you see a thief, you join up with him,

you throw in your lot with adulterers,

<sup>19</sup> you give your mouth free rein for evil

and harness your tongue to deceit;

<sup>20</sup> you sit and speak against your kinsman,
you slander your own mother's son.

<sup>21</sup> When you do such things, should I stay silent?
You may have thought I was just like you;
but I will rebuke and indict you to your face.

<sup>22</sup> Consider this, you who forget God, or I will tear you to pieces, with no one to save you.

<sup>23</sup> "Whoever offers thanksgiving
as his sacrifice honors me;
and to him who goes the right way
I will show the salvation of God."

51 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. A psalm of David, <sup>2</sup> when Natan the prophet came to him after his affair with Bat-Sheva:

<sup>3(1)</sup> God, in your grace, have mercy on me;
in your great compassion, blot out my crimes.

<sup>4(2)</sup> Wash me completely from my guilt,
and cleanse me from my sin.

<sup>5(3)</sup> For I know my crimes,
my sin confronts me all the time.

<sup>6(4)</sup>       Against you, you only, have I sinned and done what is evil from your perspective;

so that you are right in accusing me

and justified in passing sentence.

<sup>7(5)</sup>       True, I was born guilty,

was a sinner from the moment my mother conceived me.

<sup>8(6)</sup>       Still, you want truth in the inner person;

so make me know wisdom in my inmost heart.

<sup>9(7)</sup>       Sprinkle me with hyssop, and I will be clean;

wash me, and I will be whiter than snow.

<sup>10(8)</sup>      Let me hear the sound of joy and gladness,

so that the bones you crushed can rejoice.

<sup>11(9)</sup>      Turn away your face from my sins,

and blot out all my crimes.

<sup>12(10)</sup>     Create in me a clean heart, God;

renew in me a resolute spirit.

<sup>13(11)</sup>     Don't thrust me away from your presence, don't take your Ruach Kodesh away from me.

<sup>14(12)</sup>

Restore my joy in your salvation,
and let a willing spirit uphold me.

<sup>15(13)</sup> Then I will teach the wicked your ways,
and sinners will return to you.

<sup>16(14)</sup> Rescue me from the guilt of shedding blood,
God, God of my salvation!
Then my tongue will sing
about your righteousness —

<sup>17(15)</sup> Adonai, open my lips;
then my mouth will praise you.

<sup>18(16)</sup> For you don't want sacrifices, or I would give them;
you don't take pleasure in burnt offerings.

<sup>19(17)</sup> My sacrifice to God is a broken spirit;
God, you won't spurn a broken, chastened heart.

<sup>20(18)</sup> In your good pleasure, make Tziyon prosper;
rebuild the walls of Yerushalayim.

<sup>21(19)</sup> Then you will delight in righteous sacrifices, in burnt offerings and whole burnt offerings;
then they will offer bulls on your altar.

<sup>3(1)</sup> Why do you boast of your evil, you tyrant,
when God's mercy is present every day?

<sup>4(2)</sup> Your tongue, as sharp as a razor,
plots destruction and works deception.

<sup>5(3)</sup> You love evil more than good,
lies rather than speaking uprightly. (Selah)

<sup>6(4)</sup> You love all words that eat people up,
you deceitful tongue!

<sup>7(5)</sup> This is why God will strike you down, seize you, pluck you from your tent
and uproot you from the land of the living. (Selah)

<sup>8(6)</sup> The righteous will see and be awestruck;
they will jeer at him, saying,

<sup>9(7)</sup> "This fellow would not make God his refuge,
but trusted in his own great wealth,
relying on his evil plots."

<sup>10(8)</sup> But I am like a leafy olive tree

in the house of God;

I put my trust in the grace of God

forever and ever.

<sup>11(9)</sup> I will praise you forever for what you have done,

and I will put my hope in your name;

for this is what is good

in the presence of your faithful.

53 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. On machalat. A maskil of David:

“There isn’t any God.”

Such people are depraved, all their deeds are vile,

not one of them does what is good.

<sup>3(2)</sup> God looks out from heaven

upon the human race

to see if even one is wise,

if even one seeks God.

<sup>4(3)</sup> Every one of them is unclean,

altogether corrupt;

not one of them does what is good,

not a single one.

<sup>5(4)</sup> Won't these evildoers ever learn?

They devour my people
as if they were eating bread,
and they never call on God!

<sup>6(5)</sup> They will be gripped with terror,

even though now they are not afraid;
for God will scatter the bones
of him who is besieging you.

You are putting them to shame,
because God has rejected them.

<sup>7(6)</sup> If only salvation for Isra'el

would come out of Tziyon!

When God restores his people's fortunes,
what joy for Ya'akov! what gladness for Isra'el!

54 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. With stringed instruments. A maskil of David, <sup>2</sup> when the Zifim came and told Sha'ul, "David is hiding with us":

<sup>3(1)</sup> God, deliver me by your name;

in your power, vindicate me.

<sup>4(2)</sup> God, hear my prayer;

listen to the words from my mouth.

<sup>5(3)</sup> For foreigners are rising against me,

violent men are seeking my life;

they give no thought to God. (Selah)

<sup>6(4)</sup> But God is helping me;

Adonai is my support.

<sup>7(5)</sup> May he repay the evil

to those who are lying in wait for me.

In your faithfulness, destroy them!

<sup>8(6)</sup> Then I will generously sacrifice to you;

I will praise your name, ADONAI,

because it is good,

<sup>9(7)</sup> because he rescued me from all trouble,

and my eyes look with triumph at my enemies.

<sup>2(1)</sup> Listen, God, to my prayer!

Don't hide yourself from my plea!

<sup>3(2)</sup>

Pay attention to me, and answer me!

I am panic-stricken as I make my complaint,

I shudder <sup>4(3)</sup> at how the enemy shouts,

at how the wicked oppress;

for they keep heaping trouble on me

and angrily tormenting me.

<sup>5(4)</sup> My heart within me is pounding in anguish,

the terrors of death press down on me,

<sup>6(5)</sup> fear and trembling overwhelm me,

horror covers me.

<sup>7(6)</sup> I said, “I wish I had wings like a dove!

Then I could fly away and be at rest.

<sup>8(7)</sup> Yes, I would flee to a place far off,

I would stay in the desert. (Selah)

<sup>9(8)</sup> I would quickly find me a shelter

from the raging wind and storm.”

<sup>10(9)</sup> Confuse, Adonai, confound their speech!

For I see violence and fighting in the city.

<sup>11(10)</sup> Day and night they go about its walls;

within are malice and mischief.

<sup>12(11)</sup>      Ruin is rife within it,

oppression and fraud never leave its streets.

<sup>13(12)</sup>      For it was not an enemy who insulted me;

if it had been, I could have borne it.

It was not my adversary who treated me with scorn;

if it had been, I could have hidden myself.

<sup>14(13)</sup>      But it was you, a man of my own kind,

my companion, whom I knew well.

<sup>15(14)</sup>      We used to share our hearts with each other;

in the house of God we walked with the crowd.

<sup>16(15)</sup>      May he put death on them;

let them go down alive to Sh'ol;

for evil is in their homes

and also in their hearts.

<sup>17(16)</sup>      But I will call on God,

and A<sub>DONAI</sub> will save me.

<sup>18(17)</sup>      Evening, morning and noon I complain and moan; but he hears my voice.

<sup>19(18)</sup> He redeems me and gives me peace,

so that no one can come near me.

For there were many who fought me.

<sup>20(19)</sup> God will hear and will humble them, yes, he who has sat on his throne from the start.

(Selah)

For they never change,

and they don't fear God.

<sup>21(20)</sup> [My companion] attacked those who were at peace with him;

he broke his solemn word.

<sup>22(21)</sup> What he said sounded smoother than butter,

but his heart was at war.

His words seemed more soothing than oil,

but in fact they were sharp swords.

<sup>23(22)</sup> Unload your burden on ADONAI,

and he will sustain you.

He will never permit

the righteous to be moved.

<sup>24(23)</sup> But you will bring them down, God,

into the deepest pit.

Those men, so bloodthirsty and treacherous,
will not live out half their days.

But for my part, [A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

I put my trust in you.

56 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. Set to “The Silent Dove in the Distance.” By David; a mikhtam, when the P’lishtim captured him in Gat:

for people are trampling me down —

all day they fight and press on me.

<sup>3(2)</sup> Those who are lying in wait for me

would trample on me all day.

For those fighting against me are many.

Most High, <sup>4(3)</sup> when I am afraid,

I put my trust in you.

<sup>5(4)</sup> In God — I praise his word —

in God I trust; I have no fear;

what can human power do to me?

<sup>6(5)</sup> All day long they twist my words;

their only thought is to harm me.

<sup>7(6)</sup> They gather together and hide themselves,

spying on my movements, hoping to kill me.

<sup>8(7)</sup> Because of their crime, they cannot escape;

in anger, God, strike down the peoples.

<sup>9(8)</sup> You have kept count of my wanderings;

store my tears in your water-skin —

aren't they already recorded in your book?

<sup>10(9)</sup> Then my enemies will turn back on the day when I call;

this I know: that God is for me.

in ADONAI — I praise his word —

<sup>12(11)</sup> in God I trust; I have no fear;

what can mere humans do to me?

<sup>13(12)</sup> God, I have made vows to you;

I will fulfill them with thank offerings to you.

<sup>14(13)</sup> For you rescued me from death,

you kept my feet from stumbling,
so that I can walk in God's presence,
in the light of life.

57 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. Set to "Do Not Destroy." By David, a mikhtam, when he fled from Sha'ul into the cave:

<sup>2(1)</sup> Show me favor, God, show me favor;

for in you I have taken refuge.

Yes, I will find refuge in the shadow of your wings
until the storms have passed.

<sup>3(2)</sup> I call to God, the Most High,

to God, who is accomplishing his purpose for me.

<sup>4(3)</sup> He will send from heaven and save me when those who would trample me down mock me.

(Selah)

God will send his grace and his truth.

<sup>5(4)</sup> I am surrounded by lions,

I am lying down among people breathing fire, men whose teeth are spears and arrows
and their tongues sharp-edged swords.

May your glory be over all the earth!

<sup>7(6)</sup> They prepared a snare for my feet,

but I am bending over [to avoid it].

They dug a pit ahead of me,

but they fell into it themselves. (Selah)

<sup>8(7)</sup> My heart is steadfast, God, steadfast.

I will sing and make music.

<sup>9(8)</sup> Awake, my glory! Awake, lyre and lute!

I will awaken the dawn.

<sup>10(9)</sup> I will thank you, Adonai, among the peoples;

I will make music to you among the nations.

and your truth, all the way to the skies.

May your glory be over all the earth!

58 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. Set to “Do Not Destroy.” By David, a mikhtam:

<sup>2(1)</sup> [Rulers,] does your silence really speak justice?

Are you judging people fairly?

<sup>3(2)</sup> [No!] In your hearts you devise wrongs,

your hands dispense violence in the land.

<sup>4(3)</sup> From the womb, the wicked are estranged,

liars on the wrong path since birth.

<sup>5(4)</sup> Their venom is like snake's venom;

they are like a serpent that stops its ears,

<sup>6(5)</sup> so as not to hear the voice of the charmer,

no matter how well he plays.

<sup>7(6)</sup> God, break their teeth in their mouth!

Shatter the fangs of these lions, A<sub>DONAI</sub>!

<sup>8(7)</sup> May they vanish like water that drains away.

May their arrows be blunted when they aim their bows.

<sup>9(8)</sup> May they be like a slug that melts as it moves,

like a stillborn baby that never sees the sun.

<sup>10(9)</sup> Before your cook-pots feel the heat of the burning thorns,

may he blow them away, green and blazing alike.

<sup>11(10)</sup> The righteous will rejoice to see vengeance done,

they will wash their feet in the blood of the wicked;

<sup>12(11)</sup> and people will say, “Yes, the righteous are rewarded;

there is, after all, a God who judges the earth.”

59 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. Set to “Do Not Destroy.” By David; a mikhtam, when Sha’ul sent men to keep watch on David’s house in order to kill him:

<sup>2(1)</sup> My God, rescue me from my enemies!

Lift me up, out of reach of my foes!

<sup>3(2)</sup> Rescue me from evildoers,

save me from bloodthirsty men.

<sup>4(3)</sup> For there they are, lying in wait to kill me.

Openly they gather themselves against me,

and not because I committed a crime

or sinned, ADONAI.

<sup>5(4)</sup> For no fault of mine, they run and prepare.

Awaken to help me, and see!

<sup>6(5)</sup> You, ADONAI Elohei-Tzva’ot,

God of Isra’el,

arouse yourself to punish all the nations;

spare none of those wicked traitors. (Selah)

<sup>7(6)</sup> They return at nightfall, snarling like dogs

as they go around the city.

<sup>8(7)</sup> Look what pours out of their mouth,

what swords are on their lips,

[as they say to themselves,]

<sup>9(8)</sup> But you, Adonai, laugh at them,

you mock all the nations.

<sup>10(9)</sup> My Strength, I will watch for you,

for God is my fortress.

<sup>11(10)</sup> God, who gives me grace, will come to me;

God will let me gaze in triumph at my foes.

<sup>12(11)</sup> Don’t kill them, or my people will forget;

instead, by your power, make them wander to and fro;

but bring them down, Adonai our Shield,

<sup>13(12)</sup> for the sins their mouths make with each word from their lips.

Let them be trapped by their pride

for the curses and falsehoods they utter.

<sup>14(13)</sup> Finish them off in wrath,

finish them off, put an end to them,
and let them know to the ends of the earth

that God is Ruler in Ya‘akov. (Selah)

<sup>15(14)</sup> They return at nightfall, snarling like dogs
as they go around the city.

<sup>16(15)</sup> They roam about, looking for food, prowling all night if they don’t get their fill.

<sup>17(16)</sup> But as for me, I will sing of your strength;
in the morning I will sing aloud of your grace.
For you are my fortress,
a refuge when I am in trouble.

<sup>18(17)</sup> My Strength, I will sing praises to you, for God is my fortress, God, who gives me grace.

60 <sup>1(0)</sup>For the leader. Set to “Lily of Testimony.” A mikhtam of David for teaching about <sup>2</sup>when he fought with Aram-Naharayim and with Aram-Tzovah, and Yo’av returned and killed 12,000 from Edom in the Salt Valley:

<sup>3(1)</sup> God, you rejected us; you crushed us;
you were angry; but now revive us.

<sup>4(2)</sup> You made the land shake, split it apart;

now repair the rifts, for it is collapsing.

<sup>5(3)</sup> You made your people suffer hard times,

had us drink a wine that made us stagger.

<sup>6(4)</sup> To those who fear you because of the truth
you gave a banner to rally around, (Selah)

<sup>7(5)</sup> so that those you love could be rescued;

so save with your right hand, and answer us!

<sup>8(6)</sup> God in his holiness spoke,

and I took joy [in his promise]:

“I will divide Sh’khem

and determine the shares in the Sukkot Valley.

<sup>9(7)</sup> Gil‘ad is mine and M’nasheh mine,

Efrayim my helmet, Y’hudah my scepter.

<sup>10(8)</sup> Mo’av is my washpot; on Edom I throw my shoe;

P’leshet, be crushed because of me!”

<sup>11(9)</sup> Who will bring me into the fortified city?

Who will lead me to Edom?

<sup>12(10)</sup> God, have you rejected us?

You don’t go out with our armies, God.

<sup>13(11)</sup> Help us against our enemy,

for human help is worthless.

<sup>14(12)</sup> With God's help we will fight valiantly,

for he will trample our enemies.

listen to my prayer.

<sup>3(2)</sup> From the end of the earth, with fainting heart,

I call out to you.

Set me down on a rock

far above where I am now.

<sup>4(3)</sup> For you have been a refuge for me,

a tower of strength in the face of the foe.

<sup>5(4)</sup> I will live in your tent forever and find refuge in the shelter of your wings.

(Selah)

<sup>6(5)</sup> For you, God, have heard my vows;

you have given me the heritage of those who fear your name.

<sup>7(6)</sup> Prolong the life of the king!

May his years go on for many generations.

<sup>8(7)</sup> May he be enthroned in God's presence forever!

Appoint grace and truth to preserve him!

<sup>9(8)</sup> Then I will sing praise to your name forever,

as day after day I fulfill my vows.

62 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. Set in the style of Y'dutun. A psalm of David:

<sup>2(1)</sup> My soul waits in silence for God alone;

my salvation comes from him.

<sup>3(2)</sup> He alone is my rock and salvation,

my stronghold; I won't be greatly moved.

<sup>4(3)</sup> How long will you assail a person

in order to murder him, all of you,

as if he were a sagging wall

or a shaky fence?

<sup>5(4)</sup> They only want to shake him from his height, they take delight in lying —

with their mouths they bless,

but inwardly they curse.      (Selah)

<sup>6(5)</sup> My soul, wait in silence for God alone,

because my hope comes from him.

<sup>7(6)</sup> He alone is my rock and salvation,

my stronghold; I won't be moved.

<sup>8(7)</sup> My safety and honor rest on God.

My strong rock and refuge are in God.

<sup>9(8)</sup> Trust in him, people, at all times;

pour out your heart before him;

God is a refuge for us. (Selah)

<sup>10(9)</sup> Ordinary folks are merely a breath

and important people a sham;

if you lay them on a balance-scale, they go up —

both together are lighter than nothing.

<sup>11(10)</sup> Don't put your trust in extortion,

don't put false hopes in robbery;

even if wealth increases,

don't set your heart on it.

<sup>12(11)</sup> God has spoken once, I have heard it twice:

strength belongs to God.

<sup>13(12)</sup> Also to you, Adonai, belongs grace;

for you reward all as their deeds deserve.

63<sup>1(0)</sup> A psalm of David, when he was in the desert of Y'hudah:

<sup>2(1)</sup> O God, you are my God;

I will seek you eagerly.

My heart thirsts for you,

my body longs for you

in a land parched and exhausted,

where no water can be found.

<sup>3(2)</sup> I used to contemplate you in the sanctuary,

seeing your power and glory;

<sup>4(3)</sup> for your grace is better than life.

My lips will worship you.

<sup>5(4)</sup> Yes, I will bless you as long as I live;

in your name I will lift up my hands.

<sup>6(5)</sup> I am as satisfied as with rich food;

my mouth praises you with joy on my lips

<sup>7(6)</sup> when I remember you on my bed

and meditate on you in the night watches.

<sup>8(7)</sup> For you have been my help;

in the shadow of your wings I rejoice;

<sup>9(8)</sup> my heart clings to you;

your right hand supports me.

<sup>10(9)</sup> But those who seek to destroy my life —

may they go to the lowest parts of the earth.

<sup>11(10)</sup> May they be given over to the power of the sword;

may they become prey for jackals.

<sup>12(11)</sup> But the king will rejoice in God.

Everyone who swears by him will exult,

for the mouths of liars will be silenced.

64 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. A psalm of David:

preserve my life from fear of the enemy.

<sup>3(2)</sup> Hide me from the secret intrigues of the wicked and the open insurrection of evildoers.

<sup>4(3)</sup> They sharpen their tongues like a sword;

they aim their arrows, poisoned words,

<sup>5(4)</sup> in order to shoot from cover at the innocent,
shooting suddenly and fearing nothing.

<sup>6(5)</sup> They support each other's evil plans;
they talk of hiding snares
and ask, "Who would see them?"

<sup>7(6)</sup> They search for ways to commit crimes, bringing their diligent search to completion
when each of them has thought it through in the depth of his heart.

<sup>8(7)</sup> Suddenly God shoots them down with an arrow,
leaving them with wounds;

<sup>9(8)</sup> their own tongues make them stumble.

All who see them shake their heads.

<sup>10(9)</sup> Everyone is awestruck —
they acknowledge that it is God at work,
they understand what he has done.

<sup>11(10)</sup> The righteous will rejoice in ADONAI;
they will take refuge in him;
all the upright in heart will exult.

and vows to you are to be fulfilled.

<sup>3(2)</sup> You who listen to prayer,

to you all living creatures come.

<sup>4(3)</sup> When deeds of wickedness overwhelm me,

you will atone for our crimes.

<sup>5(4)</sup> How blessed are those you choose and bring near,

so that they can remain in your courtyards!

We will be satisfied with the goodness of your house,

the Holy Place of your temple.

<sup>6(5)</sup> It is just that you answer us with awesome deeds,

God of our salvation,

you in whom all put their trust,

to the ends of the earth and on distant seas.

<sup>7(6)</sup> By your strength you set up the mountains.

You are clothed with power.

<sup>8(7)</sup> You still the roaring of the seas,

their crashing waves, and the peoples' turmoil.

<sup>9(8)</sup> This is why those living at the ends of the earth stand in awe of your signs.

The places where the sun rises and sets
you cause to sing for joy.

<sup>10(9)</sup> You care for the earth and water it,
you enrich it greatly;
with the river of God, full of water,
you provide them grain and prepare the ground.

<sup>11(10)</sup> Soaking its furrows and settling its soil,
you soften it with showers and bless its growth.

<sup>12(11)</sup> You crown the year with your goodness,
your tracks overflow with richness.

<sup>13(12)</sup> The desert pastures drip water,
the hills are wrapped with joy,

<sup>14(13)</sup> the meadows are clothed with flocks
and the valleys blanketed with grain,
so they shout for joy and break into song.

make his praise glorious.

<sup>3</sup> Tell God, “How awesome are your deeds!

At your great power, your enemies cringe.

<sup>4</sup> All the earth bows down to you, sings praises to you, sings praises to your name.

(Selah)

<sup>5</sup> Come and see what God has done,

his awesome dealings with humankind.

<sup>6</sup> He turned the sea into dry land.

They passed through the river on foot;

there we rejoiced in him.

<sup>7</sup> With his power he rules forever;

his eyes keep watch on the nations.

Let no rebel arise to challenge him.

(Selah)

<sup>8</sup> Bless our God, you peoples!

Let the sound of his praise be heard!

<sup>9</sup> He preserves our lives and keeps our feet from stumbling.

<sup>10</sup> For you, God, have tested us, refined us as silver is refined.

<sup>11</sup> You brought us into the net
and bound our bodies fast.

<sup>12</sup> You made men ride over our heads;
we went through fire and water.
But you brought us out
to a place of plenty.

<sup>13</sup> I will come into your house with burnt offerings,
I will fulfill my vows to you,

<sup>14</sup> those my lips pronounced and my mouth spoke when I was in distress.

<sup>15</sup> I will offer you burnt offerings of fattened animals, along with the sweet smoke of rams;

I will offer bulls and goats. (Selah)

<sup>16</sup> Come and listen, all you who fear God,
and I will tell what he has done for me.

<sup>17</sup> I cried out to him with my mouth,

his praise was on my tongue.

<sup>18</sup> Had I cherished evil thoughts,

Adonai would not have listened.

<sup>19</sup> But in fact, God did listen;

he paid attention to my prayer.

<sup>20</sup> Blessed be God, who did not reject my prayer or turn his grace away from me.

May he make his face shine toward us, (Selah)

<sup>3(2)</sup> so that your way may be known on earth,

your salvation among all nations.

<sup>4(3)</sup> Let the peoples give thanks to you, God;

let the peoples give thanks to you, all of them.

<sup>5(4)</sup> Let the nations be glad and shout for joy,

for you will judge the peoples fairly and guide the nations on earth. (Selah)

<sup>6(5)</sup> Let the peoples give thanks to you, God;

let the peoples give thanks to you, all of them.

<sup>7(6)</sup> The earth has yielded its harvest;

may God, our God, bless us.

<sup>8(7)</sup> May God continue to bless us,

so that all the ends of the earth will fear him.

let those who hate him flee from his presence.

<sup>3(2)</sup> Drive them away as smoke is driven away;

like wax melting in the presence of a fire,

let the wicked perish in the presence of God.

<sup>4(3)</sup> But let the righteous rejoice and be glad in God's presence;

yes, let them exult and rejoice.

<sup>5(4)</sup> Sing to God, sing praises to his name;

extol him who rides on the clouds

by his name, Yah;

and be glad in his presence.

<sup>6(5)</sup> God, in his holy dwelling,

is a father to orphans and defender of widows.

<sup>7(6)</sup> God gives homes to those who are alone

and leads prisoners out into prosperity.

But rebels must live in a parched wasteland.

<sup>8(7)</sup> God, when you went out at the head of your people, when you marched out through the wilderness,

(Selah)

<sup>9(8)</sup> the earth quaked, and rain poured from the sky,

at the presence of God.

Even Sinai [shook] at the presence of God,

the God of Isra'el.

<sup>10(9)</sup> You rained down showers in plenty, God;

when your heritage was weary, you restored it.

<sup>11(10)</sup> Your flock settled in it;

in your goodness, God, you provided for the poor.

<sup>12(11)</sup> Adonai gives the command;

the women with the good news are a mighty army.

<sup>13(12)</sup> Kings and their armies are fleeing, fleeing,

while the women at home divide the spoil.

<sup>14(13)</sup> Even if you lie among the animal stalls,

there are wings of a dove covered with silver and its plumes with yellow gold.

<sup>15(14)</sup> When Shaddai scatters kings there,

snow falls on Tzalmon.

<sup>16(15)</sup> You mighty mountain, Mount Bashan!

<sup>17(16)</sup> You rugged mountain, why look with envy

at the mountain God wants for his place to live?

Truly, Adonai will live there forever.

<sup>18(17)</sup> God's chariots are myriads, repeated thousands;

Adonai is among them as in Sinai, in holiness.

<sup>19(18)</sup> After you went up into the heights,

you led captivity captive,

you took gifts among mankind,

yes, even among the rebels,

so that Yah, God, might live there.

Every day he bears our burden,

does God, our salvation. (Selah)

<sup>21(20)</sup> Our God is a God who saves;

from Adonai Adonai comes escape from death.

<sup>22(21)</sup> God will surely crush the heads of his enemies,

the hairy crowns of those who continue in their guilt.

<sup>23(22)</sup> Adonai said, “I will bring them back from Bashan,

I will fetch [those rebels] even from the depths of the sea;

<sup>24(23)</sup> so that you can wash your feet in their blood, and your dogs’ tongues too can get their share from your foes.

<sup>25(24)</sup> They see your processions, God,

the processions of my God, my king, in holiness.

in the middle are girls playing tambourines.

<sup>27(26)</sup> “In choruses, bless God, Adonai,

you whose source is Isra’el.”

the princes of Y’hudah, crowding along;

the princes of Z’vulun; the princes of Naftali.

<sup>29(28)</sup> God, summon your strength!

Use your strength, God, as you did for us before,

<sup>30(29)</sup> from your temple in Yerushalayim,

where kings will bring tribute to you.

<sup>31(30)</sup> Rebuke the wild beast of the reeds,
that herd of bulls with their calves, the peoples,
who ingratiate themselves with bars of silver;
let him scatter the peoples who take pleasure in fighting.

<sup>32(31)</sup> Let envoys come from Egypt,
Let Ethiopia stretch out its hands to God.

<sup>33(32)</sup> Sing to God, kingdoms of the earth!
Sing praises to Adonai, (Selah)
<sup>34(33)</sup> to him who rides on the most ancient heavens.

Listen, as he utters his voice, a mighty voice!

<sup>35(34)</sup> Acknowledge that strength belongs to God,
with his majesty over Isra'el and his strength in the skies.

<sup>36(35)</sup> How awe-inspiring you are, God,
from your holy places,
the God of Isra'el, who gives strength
and power to the people.

Blessed be God!

<sup>2(1)</sup> Save me, God!

For the water threatens my life.

<sup>3(2)</sup> I am sinking down in the mud,

and there is no foothold;

I have come into deep water;

the flood is sweeping over me.

<sup>4(3)</sup> I am exhausted from crying,

my throat is dry and sore,

my eyes are worn out with looking for my God.

<sup>5(4)</sup> Those who hate me for no reason outnumber the hairs on my head.

My persecutors are powerful,

my enemies accuse me falsely.

Am I expected to return

things I didn't steal?

<sup>6(5)</sup> God, you know how foolish I am;

my guilt is not hidden from you.

<sup>7(6)</sup> Let those who put their hope in you,

Adonai ELOHIM-Tzva'ot,

not be put to shame through me;

let those who are seeking you,

God of Isra'el,

not be disgraced through me.

<sup>8(7)</sup> For your sake I suffer insults,

shame covers my face.

<sup>9(8)</sup> I am estranged from my brothers,

an alien to my mother's children,

<sup>10(9)</sup> because zeal for your house is eating me up,

and on me are falling the insults

of those insulting you.

<sup>11(10)</sup> I weep bitterly, and I fast,

but that too occasions insults.

<sup>12(11)</sup> I clothe myself with sackcloth

and become an object of scorn,

<sup>13(12)</sup> the gossip of those sitting by the town gate,

the theme of drunkards' songs.

<sup>14(13)</sup> As for me, ADONAI, let my prayer to you come at an acceptable time;

In your great grace, God, answer me
with the truth of your salvation.

<sup>15(14)</sup> Rescue me from the mud!

Don't let me sink!
Let me be rescued from those who hate me
and from the deep water.

<sup>16(15)</sup> Don't let the floodwaters overwhelm me, don't let the deep swallow me up,
don't let the pit close its mouth over me.

<sup>17(16)</sup> Answer me, ADONAI, for your grace is good;
in your great mercy, turn to me.

<sup>18(17)</sup> Don't hide your face from your servant,
for I am in trouble; answer me quickly.

<sup>19(18)</sup> Come near to me, and redeem me;
ransom me because of my enemies.

<sup>20(19)</sup> You know how I am insulted,
shamed and disgraced;
before you stand all my foes.

<sup>21(20)</sup>      Insults have broken my heart to the point that I could die.

I hoped that someone would show compassion,

but nobody did;

and that there would be comforters,

but I found none.

<sup>22(21)</sup>      They put poison in my food;

in my thirst, they gave me vinegar to drink.

<sup>23(22)</sup>      Let their dining table

before them become a snare;

when they are at peace,

let it become a trap;

<sup>24(23)</sup>      let their eyes be darkened,

so that they can't see,

and let their bodies

always be stumbling.

<sup>25(24)</sup>      Pour out your fury on them,

let your fierce anger overtake them.

<sup>26(25)</sup>      Let the place where they live be desolate,

with no one to live in their tents,

<sup>27(26)</sup> for persecuting someone you had already stricken,

for adding to the pain of those you wounded.

<sup>28(27)</sup> Add guilt to their guilt,

don't let them enter your righteousness.

<sup>29(28)</sup> Erase them from the book of life,

let them not be written with the righteous.

<sup>30(29)</sup> Meanwhile, I am afflicted and hurting;

God, let your saving power raise me up.

<sup>31(30)</sup> I will praise God's name with a song and extol him with thanksgiving.

<sup>32(31)</sup> This will please ADONAI more than a bull,

with its horns and hoofs.

<sup>33(32)</sup> The afflicted will see it and rejoice;

you seeking after God, let your heart revive.

<sup>34(33)</sup> For ADONAI pays attention to the needy and doesn't scorn his captive people.

<sup>35(34)</sup> Let heaven and earth praise him,

the seas and whatever moves in them.

<sup>36(35)</sup>

For God will save Tziyon,

he will build the cities of Y'hudah.

[His people] will settle there and possess it.

<sup>37(36)</sup>

The descendants of his servants will inherit it,

and those who love his name will live there.

70 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. By David. As a reminder:

<sup>2(1)</sup>

God, rescue me!

ADONAI, hurry and help me!

<sup>3(2)</sup>

May those who seek my life

be disgraced and humiliated.

May those who take pleasure in doing me harm

be turned back and put to confusion.

<sup>4(3)</sup>

May those who jeer, “Aha! Aha!”

withdraw because of their shame.

<sup>5(4)</sup>

But may all those who seek you

be glad and take joy in you.

May those who love your salvation say always,

“God is great and glorious!”

<sup>6(5)</sup> But I am poor and needy;

God, hurry for me.

You are my helper and rescuer;

ADONAI, don't delay!

71 <sup>1</sup> In you, ADONAI, I have taken refuge;

let me never be put to shame.

<sup>2</sup> In your righteousness, rescue me;

and help me to escape.

Turn your ear toward me,

and deliver me.

<sup>3</sup> Be for me a sheltering rock,

where I can always come.

You have determined to save me,

because you are my bedrock and stronghold.

<sup>4</sup> My God, help me escape

from the power of the wicked,

from the grasp of the unjust and ruthless.

For you are my hope, Adonai ELOHIM,
in whom I have trusted since I was young.

<sup>6</sup> From birth I have relied on you;
it was you who took me from my mother's womb.

<sup>7</sup> To many, I am an amazing example;
but you are strong protection for me.

<sup>8</sup> My mouth is full of praise for you,
filled with your glory all day long.

<sup>9</sup> Don't reject me when I grow old;
when my strength fails, don't abandon me.

<sup>10</sup> For my enemies are talking about me,
those seeking my life are plotting together.

<sup>11</sup> They say, "God has abandoned him;
go after him, and seize him,
because no one will save him."

<sup>12</sup> God, don't distance yourself from me!
My God, hurry to help me!

<sup>13</sup> May those who are opposed to me
be put to shame and ruin;

may those who seek to harm me
be covered with scorn and disgrace.

<sup>14</sup> But I, I will always hope and keep adding to your praise.

<sup>15</sup> All day long my mouth will tell
of your righteous deeds and acts of salvation,
though their number is past my knowing.

<sup>16</sup> I will come in the power of Adonai ELOHIM
and recall your righteousness, yours alone.

<sup>17</sup> God, you have taught me since I was young,
and I still proclaim your wonderful works.

<sup>18</sup> So now that I'm old, and my hair is gray, don't abandon me, God, till I have proclaimed
your strength to the next generation,
your power to all who will come,

<sup>19</sup> your righteousness too, God,
which reaches to the heights.
God, you have done great things;
who is there like you?

<sup>20</sup>

You have made me see much trouble and hardship,
but you will revive me again
and bring me up from the depths of the earth.

<sup>21</sup>

You will increase my honor;
turn and comfort me.

<sup>22</sup>

As for me, I will praise you with a lyre
for your faithfulness, my God.
I will sing praises to you with a lute,
Holy One of Isra'el.

<sup>23</sup>

My lips will shout for joy;
I will sing your praise, because you have redeemed me.

<sup>24</sup>

All day long my tongue
will speak of your righteousness.
For those who are seeking to harm me
will be put to shame and disgraced.

72 <sup>1(0)</sup> By Shlomo:

God, give the king your fairness in judgment,
endow this son of kings with your righteousness,

so that he can govern your people rightly
and your poor with justice.

<sup>3</sup> May mountains and hills provide your people with peace through righteousness.

<sup>4</sup> May he defend the oppressed among the people,
save the needy and crush the oppressor.

<sup>5</sup> May they fear you as long as the sun endures
and as long as the moon, through all generations.

<sup>6</sup> May he be like rain falling on mown grass,
like showers watering the land.

<sup>7</sup> In his days, let the righteous flourish
and peace abound, till the moon is no more.

<sup>8</sup> May his empire stretch from sea to sea,
from the [Euphrates] River to the ends of the earth.

<sup>9</sup> May desert-dwellers bow before him;
may his enemies lick the dust.

<sup>10</sup> The kings of Tarshish and the coasts will pay him tribute;
the kings of Sh'va and S'va will offer gifts.

Yes, all kings will prostrate themselves before him;
all nations will serve him.

<sup>12</sup> For he will rescue the needy when they cry,
the poor too and those with none to help them.

<sup>13</sup> He will have pity on the poor and needy;
and the lives of the needy he will save.

<sup>14</sup> He will redeem them from oppression and violence;
their blood will be precious in his view.

<sup>15</sup> May [the king] live long!
May they give him gold from the land of Sh'va!
May they pray for him continually;
yes, bless him all day long.

<sup>16</sup> May there be an abundance of grain in the land,
all the way to the tops of the mountains.
May its crops rustle like the L'vanon.
May people blossom in the city like the grasses in the fields.

<sup>17</sup> May his name endure forever,
his name, Yinnon, as long as the sun.*
May people bless themselves in him,

may all nations call him happy.

<sup>18</sup> Blessed be ADONAI, God,

the God of Isra'el,

who alone works wonders.

<sup>19</sup> Blessed be his glorious name forever,

and may the whole earth be filled with his glory.

Amen. Amen.

Book III: Psalms 73–89

<sup>(1)</sup> How good God is to Isra'el,

to those who are pure in heart!

<sup>2</sup> But as for me, I lost my balance,

my feet nearly slipped,

<sup>3</sup> when I grew envious of the arrogant

and saw how the wicked prosper.

<sup>4</sup> For when their death comes, it is painless;

and meanwhile, their bodies are healthy;

<sup>5</sup> they don't have ordinary people's troubles,

they aren't plagued like others.

<sup>6</sup> So for them, pride is a necklace;

and violence clothes them like a robe.

<sup>7</sup> Their eyes peep out through folds of fat;

evil thoughts overflow from their hearts.

<sup>8</sup> They scoff and speak with malice,

they loftily utter threats.

<sup>9</sup> They set their mouths against heaven;

their tongues swagger through the earth.

<sup>10</sup> Therefore his people return here

and [thoughtlessly] suck up that whole cup of water.

<sup>11</sup> Then they ask, “How does God know?

Does the Most High really have knowledge?”

<sup>12</sup> Yes, this is what the wicked are like;

those free of misfortune keep increasing their wealth.

<sup>13</sup> It’s all for nothing that I’ve kept my heart clean and washed my hands, staying free of guilt;

<sup>14</sup> for all day long I am plagued;

my punishment comes every morning.

<sup>15</sup> If I had said, “I will talk like them,”

I would have betrayed a generation of your children.

<sup>16</sup> When I tried to understand all this,

I found it too hard for me —

<sup>17</sup> until I went into the sanctuaries of God and grasped what their destiny would be.

<sup>18</sup>

Indeed, you place them on a slippery slope
and make them fall to their ruin.

<sup>19</sup> How suddenly they are destroyed,
swept away by terrors!

<sup>20</sup> They are like a dream when one awakens;
Adonai, when you rouse yourself,
you will despise their phantoms.

<sup>21</sup> When I had a sour attitude and felt stung by pained emotions,

<sup>22</sup> I was too stupid to understand;
I was like a brute beast with you.

<sup>23</sup> Nevertheless, I am always with you;
you hold my right hand.

<sup>24</sup> You will guide me with your advice;
and afterwards, you will receive me with honor.

<sup>25</sup> Whom do I have in heaven but you?
And with you, I lack nothing on earth.

<sup>26</sup> My mind and body may fail; but God is the rock for my mind and my portion forever.

<sup>27</sup> Those who are far from you will perish;

you destroy all who adulterously leave you.

<sup>28</sup> But for me, the nearness of God is my good;

I have made Adonai ELOHIM my refuge,

so that I can tell of all your works.

74 <sup>1(0)</sup> A maskil of Asaf:

with your anger smoking against the sheep you once pastured?

<sup>2</sup> Remember your community, which you acquired long ago,

the tribe you redeemed to be your very own.

Remember Mount Tziyon, where you came to live.

<sup>3</sup> Hurry your steps to these endless ruins,

to the sanctuary devastated by the enemy.

<sup>4</sup> The roar of your foes filled your meeting-place;

they raised their own banners as a sign of their conquest.

<sup>5</sup> The place seemed like a thicket of trees

<sup>6</sup> With hatchet and hammer they banged away,
smashing all the carved woodwork.

<sup>7</sup> They set your sanctuary on fire,
tore down and profaned the abode of your name.

<sup>8</sup> They said to themselves, “We will oppress them completely.”
They have burned down all God’s meeting-places in the land.

<sup>9</sup> We see no signs, there is no prophet any more;
none of us knows how long it will last.

<sup>10</sup> How much longer, God, will the foe jeer at us?
Will the enemy insult your name forever?

<sup>11</sup> Why do you hold back your hand?
Draw your right hand from your coat, and finish them off!

<sup>12</sup> God has been my king from earliest times,
acting to save throughout all the earth.

<sup>13</sup> By your strength you split the sea in two,
in the water you smashed sea monsters’ heads,

<sup>14</sup> you crushed the heads of Livyatan
and gave it as food to the creatures of the desert.

You cut channels for springs and streams,
you dried up rivers that had never failed.

<sup>16</sup> The day is yours, and the night is yours;
it was you who established light and sun.

<sup>17</sup> It was you who fixed all the limits of the earth,
you made summer and winter.

<sup>18</sup> Remember how the enemy scoffs at A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
how a brutish people insults your name.

<sup>19</sup> Don't hand over the soul of your dove to wild beasts, don't forget forever the life of your poor.

<sup>20</sup> Look to the covenant, for the land's dark places are full of the haunts of violence.

<sup>21</sup> Don't let the oppressed retreat in confusion;
let the poor and needy praise your name.

<sup>22</sup> Arise, God, and defend your cause;
remember how brutish men insult you all day.

<sup>23</sup> Don't forget what your foes are saying,
the ever-rising uproar of your adversaries.

75 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. Set to “Do Not Destroy!” A psalm of Asaf. A song:

<sup>2(1)</sup> We give thanks to you, God, we give thanks;

your name is near, people tell of your wonders.

<sup>3(2)</sup> “At the time of my own choice,

I will dispense justice fairly.

<sup>4(3)</sup> When the earth quakes, with all living on it, it is I who hold its support-pillars firm.”

(Selah)

and to the wicked, “Don’t flaunt your strength!

<sup>6(5)</sup> Don’t flaunt your strength so proudly;

don’t speak arrogantly, with your nose in the air!

<sup>7(6)</sup> For you will not be raised to power

by those in the east, the west or the desert;

<sup>8(7)</sup> since God is the judge; and it is he who puts down one and lifts up another.

<sup>9(8)</sup> In ADONAI’s hand there is a cup of wine, foaming, richly spiced;

when he pours it out, all the wicked of the earth

will drain it, drinking it to the dregs.”

<sup>10(9)</sup> But I will always speak out, singing praises to the God of Ya‘akov.

<sup>11(10)</sup> I will break down the strength of the wicked,
but the strength of the righteous will be raised up.

76 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. With string music. A psalm of Asaf. A song:

his name is great in Isra’el.

<sup>3(2)</sup> His tent is in Shalem,
his place is in Tziyon.

<sup>4(3)</sup> There he broke the flashing arrows,
the shield, the sword, and the weapons of war. (Selah)

<sup>5(4)</sup> You are glorious, majestic,
more so than mountains of prey.

<sup>6(5)</sup> The bravest have been stripped of their spoil and now are sleeping their final sleep;
not one of these courageous men
finds strength to raise his hands.

<sup>7(6)</sup> At your rebuke, God of Ya‘akov,
riders and horses lie stunned.

<sup>8(7)</sup> You are fearsome! When once you are angry, who can stand in your presence?

<sup>9(8)</sup> You pronounce sentence from heaven;

the earth grows silent with fear

<sup>10(9)</sup> when God arises to judge,

to save all the humble of the earth. (Selah)

<sup>11(10)</sup> Human wrath serves only to praise you;

what remains of this wrath you wear as an ornament.

<sup>12(11)</sup> Make vows to ADONAI your God, and keep them;

all who are around him must bring presents to the one who should be feared.

<sup>13(12)</sup> He curbs the spirit of princes;

he is fearsome to the kings of the earth.

77 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. For Y'dutun. A psalm of Asaf:

<sup>2(1)</sup> I cry aloud to God,

aloud to God; and he hears me.

<sup>3(2)</sup> On the day of my distress I am seeking Adonai;

my hands are lifted up;

my tears flow all night without ceasing;

my heart refuses comfort.

<sup>4(3)</sup> When remembering God, I moan;
when I ponder, my spirit fails. (Selah)

I am too troubled to speak.

<sup>6(5)</sup> I think about the days of old,

the years of long ago;

<sup>7(6)</sup> in the night I remember my song,

I commune with myself, my spirit inquires:

<sup>8(7)</sup> “Will Adonai reject forever?

will he never show his favor again?

<sup>9(8)</sup> Has his grace permanently disappeared?

Is his word to all generations done away?

<sup>10(9)</sup> Has God forgotten to be compassionate?
Has he in anger withheld his mercy?” (Selah)

<sup>11(10)</sup> Then I add, “That’s my weakness —

<sup>12(11)</sup> So I will remind myself of Yah’s doings;

yes, I will remember your wonders of old.

<sup>13(12)</sup> I will meditate on your work and think about what you have done.

<sup>14(13)</sup> God, your way is in holiness.

What god is as great as God?

<sup>15(14)</sup> You are the God who does wonders, you revealed your strength to the peoples.

<sup>16(15)</sup> With your arm you redeemed your people,
the descendants of Ya‘akov and Yosef. (Selah)

<sup>17(16)</sup> The water saw you, God;

the water saw you and writhed in anguish,

agitated to its depths.

<sup>18(17)</sup> The clouds poured water, the skies thundered, and your arrows flashed here and there.

<sup>19(18)</sup> The sound of your thunder was in the whirlwind,

the lightning flashes lit up the world,

the earth trembled and shook.

<sup>20(19)</sup> Your way went through the sea,

your path through the turbulent waters;

but your footsteps could not be traced.

<sup>21(20)</sup>

You led your people like a flock
under the care of Moshe and Aharon.

78 <sup>1(0)</sup> A maskil of Asaf:

Listen, my people, to my teaching;
turn your ears to the words from my mouth.

<sup>2</sup>

I will speak to you in parables
and explain mysteries from days of old.

<sup>3</sup>

The things which we have heard and known,
and which our fathers told us

<sup>4</sup>

we will not hide from their descendants;
we will tell the generation to come
the praises of ADONAI and his strength,
the wonders that he has performed.

<sup>5</sup>

He raised up a testimony in Ya'akov
and established a Torah in Isra'el.
He commanded our ancestors
to make this known to their children,

<sup>6</sup>

so that the next generation would know it,

the children not yet born,
who would themselves arise
and tell their own children, <sup>7</sup> who could then put their confidence in God,
not forgetting God's deeds,
but obeying his mitzvot.

<sup>8</sup> Then they would not be like their ancestors,
a stubborn, rebellious generation,
a generation with unprepared hearts,
with spirits unfaithful to God.

<sup>9</sup> The people of Efrayim, though armed with bows and arrows, turned their backs on the day of battle.

<sup>10</sup> They did not keep the covenant of God and refused to live by his Torah.

<sup>11</sup> They forgot what he had done,
his wonders which he had shown them.

<sup>12</sup> He had done wonderful things in the presence of their ancestors
in the land of Egypt,

in the region of Tzo‘an.

<sup>13</sup> He split the sea and made them pass through,

he made the waters stand up like a wall.

<sup>14</sup> He also led them by day with a cloud

and all night long with light from a fire.

<sup>15</sup> He broke apart the rocks in the desert

and let them drink as if from boundless depths;

<sup>16</sup> yes, he brought streams out of the rock, making the water flow down like rivers.

<sup>17</sup> Yet they sinned still more against him, rebellious in the wilderness against the Most High;

<sup>18</sup> in their hearts they tested God

by demanding food that would satisfy their cravings.

<sup>19</sup> Yes, they spoke against God by asking,

“Can God spread a table in the desert?

<sup>20</sup> True, he struck the rock, and water gushed out, until the vadis overflowed;

but what about bread? Can he give that?

Can he provide meat for his people?”

<sup>21</sup> Therefore, when A<sub>DONAI</sub> heard, he was angry;

fire blazed up against Ya‘akov;

his anger mounted against Isra’el;

<sup>22</sup> because they had no faith in God,

no trust in his power to save.

<sup>23</sup> So he commanded the skies above

and opened the doors of heaven.

<sup>24</sup> He rained down man on them as food;

he gave them grain from heaven —

<sup>25</sup> mortals ate the bread of angels;

he provided for them to the full.

<sup>26</sup> He stirred up the east wind in heaven,

brought on the south wind by his power,

<sup>27</sup> and rained down meat on them like dust,

birds flying thick as the sand on the seashore.

<sup>28</sup> He let them fall in the middle of their camp,

all around their tents.

<sup>29</sup> So they ate till they were satisfied;

he gave them what they craved.

<sup>30</sup> They were still fulfilling their craving,

the food was still in their mouths,

<sup>31</sup> when the anger of God rose up against them and slaughtered their strongest men,

laying low the young men of Isra'el.

<sup>32</sup> Still, they kept on sinning

and put no faith in his wonders.

<sup>33</sup> Therefore, he ended their days in futility

and their years in terror.

<sup>34</sup> When he brought death among them, they would seek him;

they would repent and seek God eagerly,

<sup>35</sup> remembering that God was their Rock,

El 'Elyon their Redeemer.

<sup>36</sup> But they tried to deceive him with their words,

they lied to him with their tongues;

<sup>37</sup> for their hearts were not right with him,

and they were unfaithful to his covenant.

<sup>38</sup> Yet he, because he is full of compassion, forgave their sin and did not destroy;

many times he turned away his anger
and didn't rouse all his wrath.

<sup>39</sup>        So he remembered that they were but flesh,
a wind that blows past and does not return.

<sup>40</sup>        How often they rebelled against him in the desert and grieved him in the wastelands!

<sup>41</sup>        Repeatedly they challenged God
and pained the Holy One of Isra'el.

<sup>42</sup>        They didn't remember how he used his hand on the day he redeemed them from their enemy,

<sup>43</sup>        how he displayed his signs in Egypt,
his wonders in the region of Tzo'an.

<sup>44</sup>        He turned their rivers into blood,
so they couldn't drink from their streams.

<sup>45</sup>        He sent swarms of flies, which devoured them,
and frogs, which destroyed them.

<sup>46</sup>        He gave their harvest to shearer-worms,

the fruit of their labor to locusts.

<sup>47</sup> He destroyed their vineyards with hail and their sycamore-figs with frost.

<sup>48</sup> Their cattle too he gave over to the hail
and their flocks to lightning bolts.

<sup>49</sup> He sent over them his fierce anger,
fury, indignation and trouble,
with a company of destroying angels

<sup>50</sup> to clear a path for his wrath.

He did not spare them from death,
but gave them over to the plague,

<sup>51</sup> striking all the firstborn in Egypt,
the firstfruits of their strength in the tents of Ham.

<sup>52</sup> But his own people he led out like sheep,
guiding them like a flock in the desert.

<sup>53</sup> He led them safely, and they weren't afraid,
even when the sea overwhelmed their foes.

<sup>54</sup> He brought them to his holy land,

to the hill-country won by his right hand.

<sup>55</sup> He expelled nations before them, apportioned them property to inherit
and made Isra'el's tribes live in their tents.

<sup>56</sup> Yet they tested El 'Elyon
and rebelled against him,
refusing to obey his instructions.

<sup>57</sup> They turned away and were faithless, like their fathers;
they were unreliable, like a bow without tension.

<sup>58</sup> They provoked him with their high places
and made him jealous with their idols.

<sup>59</sup> God heard, and he was angry;
he came to detest Isra'el completely.

the tent he had made where he could live among people.

<sup>61</sup> He gave his strength into exile,
his pride to the power of the foe.

<sup>62</sup> He gave his people over to the sword and grew angry with his own heritage.

<sup>63</sup> Fire consumed their young men,
their virgins had no wedding-song,

<sup>64</sup> their cohanim fell by the sword,
and their widows could not weep.

<sup>65</sup> Then Adonai awoke, as if from sleep,
like a warrior shouting for joy from wine.

<sup>66</sup> He struck his foes, driving them back and putting them to perpetual shame.

<sup>67</sup> Rejecting the tents of Yosef
and passing over the tribe of Efrayim,

Mount Tziyon, which he loved.

<sup>69</sup> He built his sanctuary like the heights;
like the earth, he made it to last forever.

<sup>70</sup> He chose David to be his servant,
taking him from the sheep-yards;

<sup>71</sup> from tending nursing ewes he brought him to shepherd Ya'akov his people,

Isra'el his heritage.

<sup>72</sup> With upright heart he shepherded them
and guided them with skillful hands.

79 <sup>1(0)</sup> A psalm of Asaf:

<sup>(1)</sup> God, the pagans have entered your heritage.

They have defiled your holy temple
and turned Yerushalayim into rubble.

<sup>2</sup> They have given the corpses of your servants
as food for the birds in the air,
yes, the flesh of those faithful to you for the wild animals of the earth.

<sup>3</sup> All around Yerushalayim
they have shed their blood like water,
and no one is left to bury them.

<sup>4</sup> We suffer the taunts of our neighbors,
we are mocked and scorned by those around us.

<sup>5</sup> How long, A<sub>DONAI</sub>?
Will you be angry forever?
How long will your jealousy burn like fire?

<sup>6</sup> Pour out your wrath on the nations that don't know you,
on the kingdoms that don't call out your name;

and left his home a waste.

<sup>8</sup> Don't count past iniquities against us,
but let your compassion come quickly to meet us,
for we have been brought very low.

<sup>9</sup> Help us, God of our salvation,
for the sake of the glory of your name.
Deliver us, forgive our sins,
for your name's sake.

<sup>10</sup> Why should the nations ask,
"Where is their God?"
Let the vengeance taken on your servants' shed blood
be known among the nations before our eyes.

<sup>11</sup> Let the groaning of the captives come before you;
by your great strength save those condemned to death.

<sup>12</sup> Repay our neighbors sevenfold where they can feel it for the insults they inflicted on you, Adonai.

<sup>13</sup>

Then we, your people and the flock in your pasture,
will give you thanks forever.

From generation to generation
we will proclaim your praise.

80 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. Set to “Lilies.” A testimony. A psalm of Asaf:

<sup>2(1)</sup>

Shepherd of Isra’el, listen!
You who lead Yosef like a flock,
you whose throne is on the k’ruvim,
shine out!

<sup>3(2)</sup>

Before Efrayim, Binyamin and M’nasheh, rouse your power; and come to save us.

<sup>4(3)</sup>

God, restore us!
Make your face shine, and we will be saved.

<sup>5(4)</sup>

ADONAI, God of armies, how long will you be angry with your people’s prayers?

<sup>6(5)</sup>

You have fed them tears as their bread
and made them drink tears in abundance.

<sup>7(6)</sup>

You make our neighbors fight over us,

and our enemies mock us.

<sup>8(7)</sup> God of armies, restore us!

Make your face shine, and we will be saved.

<sup>9(8)</sup> You brought a vine out of Egypt,

you expelled the nations and planted it,

<sup>10(9)</sup> you cleared a space for it;

then it took root firmly and filled the land.

<sup>11(10)</sup> The mountains were covered with its shade,

the mighty cedars with its branches —

<sup>12(11)</sup> it put out branches as far as the sea

and shoots to the [Euphrates] River.

<sup>13(12)</sup> Why did you break down [the vineyard's] wall,

so that all passing by can pluck [its fruit]?

<sup>14(13)</sup> The boar from the forest tears it apart;

wild creatures from the fields feed on it.

<sup>15(14)</sup> God of armies, please come back!

Look from heaven, see, and tend this vine!

the son you made strong for yourself.

<sup>17(16)</sup> It is burned by fire, it is cut down;

they perish at your frown of rebuke.

the son of man you made strong for yourself.

<sup>19(18)</sup> Then we won't turn away from you —

if you revive us, we will call on your name.

<sup>20(19)</sup> ADONAI, God of armies, restore us!

Make your face shine, and we will be saved.

Shout to the God of Ya'akov!

<sup>3(2)</sup> Start the music! Beat the drum!

Play the sweet lyre and the lute!

<sup>4(3)</sup> Sound the shofar at Rosh-Hodesh

and at full moon for the pilgrim feast,

<sup>5(4)</sup> because this is a law for Isra'el,

a ruling of the God of Ya'akov.

<sup>6(5)</sup> He placed it as a testimony in Y'hosef

when he went out against the land of Egypt.

I heard an unfamiliar voice say,

his hands were freed from the [laborer's] basket.

<sup>8(7)</sup> You called out when you were in trouble,

and I rescued you;

I answered you from the thundercloud;

I tested you at the M'rivah Spring [by saying,]

(Selah)

<sup>9(8)</sup> “Hear, my people, while I give you warning!

Isra'el, if you would only listen to me!

<sup>10(9)</sup> There is not to be with you any foreign god;

you are not to worship an alien god.

<sup>11(10)</sup> I am A<sub>DONAI</sub> your God, who brought you up from the land of Egypt.

Open your mouth, and I will fill it.'

<sup>12(11)</sup> “But my people did not listen to my voice;

Isra'el would have none of me.

<sup>13(12)</sup>

So I gave them over to their stubborn hearts,
to live by their own plans.

<sup>14(13)</sup> How I wish my people would listen to me, that Isra'el would live by my ways!

<sup>15(14)</sup> I would quickly subdue their enemies and turn my hand against their foes.

<sup>16(15)</sup> Those who hate ADONAI would cringe before him, while [Isra'el's] time would last forever.

<sup>17(16)</sup> They would be fed with the finest wheat,
and I would satisfy you with honey from the rocks.”

there with the elohim [judges], he judges:

<sup>2</sup> “How long will you go on judging unfairly,
favoring the wicked? (Selah)

Uphold the rights of the wretched and poor!

deliver them from the power of the wicked!”

<sup>5</sup> They don't know, they don't understand,
they wander about in darkness;
meanwhile, all the foundations of the earth
are being undermined.

<sup>6</sup> “My decree is: ‘You are elohim [gods, judges],
sons of the Most High all of you.

<sup>7</sup> Nevertheless, you will die like mortals;
like any prince, you will fall.’”

<sup>8</sup> Rise up, Elohim, and judge the earth;
for all the nations are yours.

83 <sup>1(0)</sup> A song. A psalm of Asaf:

Don't stay quiet, God, or still;

<sup>3(2)</sup> because here are your enemies, causing an uproar;
those who hate you are raising their heads,

<sup>4(3)</sup> craftily conspiring against your people, consulting together against those you treasure.

<sup>5(4)</sup> They say, “Come, let's wipe them out as a nation;

let the name of Isra'el be remembered no more!"

<sup>6(5)</sup> With one mind they plot their schemes;

the covenant they have made is against you —

<sup>7(6)</sup> the tents of Edom and the Yishma'elim,

Mo'av and the Hagarim,

<sup>8(7)</sup> G'val, 'Amon and 'Amalek,

P'leshet with those living in Tzor; (Selah)

<sup>9(8)</sup> Ashur too is allied with them, to reinforce the descendants of Lot.

<sup>10(9)</sup> Do to them as you did to Midyan, to Sisra and Yavin at Vadi Kishon —

<sup>11(10)</sup> they were destroyed at 'Ein-Dor

and became manure for the ground.

<sup>12(11)</sup> Make their leaders like 'Orev and Ze'ev,

all their princes like Zevach and Tzalmuna,

of God's meadows for ourselves."

<sup>14(13)</sup> My God, make them like whirling dust,

like chaff driven by the wind.

<sup>15(14)</sup> Like fire burning up the forest,
like a flame that sets the mountains ablaze,

<sup>16(15)</sup> drive them away with your storm,
terrify them with your tempest.

<sup>17(16)</sup> Fill their faces with shame,
so that they will seek your name, ADONAI.

<sup>18(17)</sup> Let them be ashamed and fearful forever;
yes, let them perish in disgrace.

<sup>19(18)</sup> Let them know that you alone,
whose name is ADONAI,
are the Most High over all the earth.

84 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. On the gittit. A psalm of the sons of Korach:

ADONAI-Tzva'ot!

<sup>3(2)</sup> My soul yearns, yes, faints with longing for the courtyards of ADONAI;
my heart and body cry for joy
to the living God.

<sup>4(3)</sup>

As the sparrow finds herself a home
and the swallow her nest, where she lays her young, [so my resting-place is] by your altars,
ADONAI-Tzva'ot, my king and my God.

<sup>5(4)</sup> How happy are those who live in your house;
they never cease to praise you! (Selah)

<sup>6(5)</sup> How happy the man whose strength is in you,
in whose heart are [pilgrim] highways.

<sup>7(6)</sup> Passing through the [dry] Baka Valley,
they make it a place of springs,
and the early rain clothes it with blessings.

<sup>8(7)</sup> They go from strength to strength and appear before God in Tziyon.

<sup>9(8)</sup> ADONAI, God of armies, hear my prayer;
listen, God of Ya'akov. (Selah)

<sup>10(9)</sup> God, see our shield [the king];

look at the face of your anointed.

<sup>11(10)</sup> Better a day in your courtyards

than a thousand [days elsewhere].

Better just standing at the door of my God's house

than living in the tents of the wicked.

<sup>12(11)</sup> For A<sub>DONAI</sub>, God, is a sun and a shield;

A<sub>DONAI</sub> bestows favor and honor;

he will not withhold anything good

from those whose lives are pure.

<sup>13(12)</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub>-Tzva'ot,

how happy is anyone who trusts in you!

85 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. A psalm of the sons of Korach:

you have restored the fortunes of Ya'akov,

<sup>3(2)</sup> taken away the guilt of your people, pardoned all their sin, (Selah)

<sup>4(3)</sup> withdrawn all your wrath,

turned from your fierce anger.

<sup>5(4)</sup> Restore us, God of our salvation,

renounce your displeasure with us.

<sup>6(5)</sup> Are you to stay angry with us forever?

Will your fury last through all generations?

<sup>7(6)</sup> Won't you revive us again,

so your people can rejoice in you?

<sup>8(7)</sup> Show us your grace, ADONAI;

grant us your salvation.

<sup>9(8)</sup> I am listening. What will God, ADONAI, say?

For he will speak peace to his people,

to his holy ones —

but only if they don't relapse into folly.

<sup>10(9)</sup> His salvation is near for those who fear him,

so that glory will be in our land.

<sup>11(10)</sup> Grace and truth have met together;

justice and peace have kissed each other.

<sup>12(11)</sup> Truth springs up from the earth,

and justice looks down from heaven.

<sup>13(12)</sup> ADONAI will also grant prosperity;

our land will yield its harvest.

<sup>14(13)</sup> Justice will walk before him

and make his footsteps a path.

86 <sup>1(0)</sup> A prayer of David:

Listen, ADONAI, and answer me,
for I am poor and needy.

<sup>2</sup> Preserve my life, for I am faithful;
save your servant,
who puts his trust in you
because you are my God.

<sup>3</sup> Take pity on me, Adonai,
for I cry to you all day.

<sup>4</sup> Fill your servant's heart with joy,
for to you, Adonai, I lift my heart.

<sup>5</sup> Adonai, you are kind and forgiving,
full of grace toward all who call on you.

<sup>6</sup> Listen, ADONAI, to my prayer;
pay attention to my pleading cry.

<sup>7</sup> On the day of my trouble I am calling on you,
for you will answer me.

<sup>8</sup> There is none like you among the gods, Adonai;
no deeds compare with yours.

<sup>9</sup> All the nations you have made will come and bow before you, Adonai;

they will honor your name.

<sup>10</sup> For you are great, and you do wonders;
you alone are God.

<sup>11</sup> ADONAI, teach me your way,
so that I can live by your truth;
make me single-hearted,
so that I can fear your name.

<sup>12</sup> I will thank you, Adonai my God,
with my whole heart;
and I will glorify your name forever.

<sup>13</sup> For your grace toward me is so great!
You have rescued me from the lowest part of Sh'ol.

<sup>14</sup> God, arrogant men are rising against me,
a gang of brutes is seeking my life,
and to you they pay no attention.

<sup>15</sup> But you, Adonai, are a merciful, compassionate God,
slow to anger

and rich in grace and truth.

<sup>16</sup> Turn to me, and show me your favor;
strengthen your servant, save your slave-girl's son.

<sup>17</sup> Give me a sign of your favor,
so that those who hate me
will see it and be ashamed,
because you, ADONAI,
have helped and comforted me.

87 <sup>1(0)</sup> A psalm of the sons of Korach. A song:

<sup>2</sup> ADONAI loves the gates of Tziyon

more than all the dwellings in Ya'akov.

<sup>3</sup> Glorious things are said about you,
city of God. (Selah)

<sup>4</sup> I count Rahav and Bavel

among those who know me.

Of P'leshet, Tzor and Ethiopia [they will say],

"This one was born there."

<sup>5</sup> But of Tziyon it will be said,

“This one and that was born in it,
for the Most High himself establishes it.”

<sup>6</sup> When he registers the peoples, A<sub>DONAI</sub> will record,
“This one was born there.” (Selah)

“For me, you are the source of everything.”

88 <sup>1(0)</sup> A song. A psalm of the sons of Korach. For the leader. Set to “Sickness that Causes Suffering.” A maskil of Heiman the Ezrachi.

<sup>2(1)</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub>, God of my salvation,

when I cry out to you in the night,

<sup>3(2)</sup> let my prayer come before you,

turn your ear to my cry for help!

<sup>4(3)</sup> For I am oversupplied with troubles,

which have brought me to the brink of Sh’ol.

<sup>5(4)</sup> I am counted among those going down to the pit,

like a man who is beyond help,

<sup>6(5)</sup> left by myself among the dead,

like the slain who lie in the grave —

you no longer remember them;

they are cut off from your care.

<sup>7(6)</sup> You plunged me into the bottom of the pit,
into dark places, into the depths.

<sup>8(7)</sup> Your wrath lies heavily on me;
your waves crashing over me keep me down. (Selah)

<sup>9(8)</sup> You separated me from my close friends,
made me repulsive to them;

I am caged in, with no escape;

<sup>10(9)</sup> my eyes grow dim from suffering.

I call on you, ADONAI, every day;

I spread out my hands to you.

<sup>11(10)</sup> Will you perform wonders for the dead?
Can the ghosts of the dead rise up and praise you? (Selah)

<sup>12(11)</sup> Will your grace be declared in the grave,
or your faithfulness in Abaddon?

<sup>13(12)</sup> Will your wonders be known in the dark,
or your righteousness in the land of oblivion?

<sup>14(13)</sup> But I cry out to you, ADONAI;
my prayer comes before you in the morning.

<sup>15(14)</sup>

So why, ADONAI, do you reject me?

Why do you hide your face from me?

<sup>16(15)</sup> Since my youth I have been miserable, close to death;

I am numb from bearing these terrors of yours.

<sup>17(16)</sup> Your fierce anger has overwhelmed me,

your terrors have shriveled me up.

<sup>18(17)</sup> They surge around me all day like a flood,

from all sides they close in on me.

<sup>19(18)</sup> You have made friends and companions shun me;

the people I know are hidden from me.

89<sup>1(0)</sup> A maskil of Eitan the Ezrachi:

with my mouth proclaim your faithfulness to all generations;

<sup>3(2)</sup> because I said, "Grace is built to last forever;

in the heavens themselves you established your faithfulness."

<sup>4(3)</sup> You said, "I made a covenant with the one I chose,

I swore to my servant David,

<sup>5(4)</sup> 'I will establish your dynasty forever, build up your throne through all generations.’”

(Selah)

<sup>6(5)</sup> Let the heavens praise your wonders, A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

your faithfulness in the assembly of the angels.

<sup>7(6)</sup> For who in the skies can be compared with A<sub>DONAI</sub>?

Which of these gods can rival A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

<sup>8(7)</sup> a God dreaded in the great assembly of the holy ones and feared by all around him?

<sup>9(8)</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub> Elohei-Tzva’ot!

Who is as mighty as you, Yah?

Your faithfulness surrounds you.

<sup>10(9)</sup> You control the raging of the sea;

when its waves rear up, you calm them.

<sup>11(10)</sup> You crushed Rahav like a carcass;

with your strong arm you scattered your foes.

<sup>12(11)</sup> The heavens are yours, and the earth is yours;

you founded the world and everything in it.

<sup>13(12)</sup> You created north and south;

Tavor and Hermon take joy in your name.

<sup>14(13)</sup> Your arm is mighty, your hand is strong,

your right hand is lifted high.

<sup>15(14)</sup> Righteousness and justice are the foundation of your throne;

grace and truth attend you.

<sup>16(15)</sup> How happy are the people who know the joyful shout!

They walk in the light of your presence, A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

<sup>17(16)</sup> They rejoice in your name all day

and are lifted up by your righteousness,

<sup>18(17)</sup> for you yourself are the strength in which they glory.

Our power grows by pleasing you,

our king is from the Holy One of Isra'el.

<sup>20(19)</sup> There was a time when you spoke in a vision;

you declared to your loyal [prophets],

“I have given help to a warrior,

I have raised up someone chosen from the people.

<sup>21(20)</sup> I have found David my servant

and anointed him with my holy oil.

<sup>22(21)</sup> My hand will always be with him,

and my arm will give him strength.

<sup>23(22)</sup> No enemy will outwit him,

no wicked man overcome him.

<sup>24(23)</sup> I will crush his foes before him and strike down those who hate him.

<sup>25(24)</sup> My faithfulness and grace will be with him;

through my name his power will grow.

<sup>26(25)</sup> I will put his hand on the sea

and his right hand on the rivers.

<sup>27(26)</sup> He will call to me, ‘You are my father,

my God, the Rock of my salvation.’

<sup>28(27)</sup> I will give him the position of firstborn, the highest of the kings of the earth.

<sup>29(28)</sup> I will keep my grace for him forever,

and in my covenant be faithful with him.

<sup>30(29)</sup> I will establish his dynasty forever,

and his throne as long as the heavens last.

and fail to live by my rulings,

<sup>32(31)</sup> if they profane my regulations

and don't obey my mitzvot,

<sup>33(32)</sup> I will punish their disobedience with the rod

and their guilt with lashes.

<sup>34(33)</sup> But I won't withdraw my grace from him

or be false to my faithfulness.

<sup>35(34)</sup> I will not profane my covenant

or change what my lips have spoken.

<sup>36(35)</sup> I have sworn by my holiness once and for all;

I will not lie to David —

<sup>37(36)</sup> his dynasty will last forever,

his throne like the sun before me.

<sup>38(37)</sup> It will be established forever, like the moon,
which remains a faithful witness in the sky.”

(Selah)

<sup>39(38)</sup> But you spurned your anointed one,

rejected and vented your rage on him.

<sup>40(39)</sup> You renounced the covenant with your servant and defiled his crown in the dust.

<sup>41(40)</sup> You broke through all his defenses

and left his strongholds in ruins.

<sup>42(41)</sup> All who pass by plunder him;

he is an object of scorn to his neighbors.

<sup>43(42)</sup> You raised up the right hand of his foes

and made all his enemies rejoice.

<sup>44(43)</sup> You drive back his drawn sword

and fail to support him in battle.

<sup>45(44)</sup> You brought an end to his splendor

and hurled his throne to the ground.

<sup>46(45)</sup> You cut short the days of his youth and covered him with shame. (Selah)

How long will your fury burn like fire?

Was it for no purpose that you created all humanity?

<sup>49(48)</sup> Who can live and not see death?
Who can save himself from the power of the grave? (Selah)

<sup>50(49)</sup> Where, Adonai, are the acts of grace you once did,

those which, in your faithfulness, you swore to David?

<sup>51(50)</sup> Remember, Adonai, the taunts hurled at your servants, which I carry in my heart [from] so many peoples!

<sup>52(51)</sup> Your enemies, ADONAI, have flung their taunts, flung them in the footsteps of your anointed one.

<sup>53(52)</sup> Blessed be ADONAI forever.

Amen. Amen.

Book IV: Psalms 90–106

90<sup>1(0)</sup> A prayer of Moshe the man of God:

<sup>(1)</sup>        Adonai, you have been our dwelling place in every generation.

<sup>2</sup>        Before the mountains were born,
before you had formed the earth and the world,
from eternity past to eternity future
you are God.

<sup>3</sup>        You bring frail mortals to the point of being crushed, then say, “People, repent!”

<sup>4</sup>        For from your viewpoint a thousand years are merely like yesterday or a night watch.

<sup>5</sup>        When you sweep them away, they become like sleep;
by morning they are like growing grass,

<sup>6</sup>        growing and flowering in the morning,
but by evening cut down and dried up.

<sup>7</sup>        For we are destroyed by your anger, overwhelmed by your wrath.

<sup>8</sup> You have placed our faults before you,
our secret sins in the full light of your presence.

<sup>9</sup> All our days ebb away under your wrath;
our years die away like a sigh.

<sup>10</sup> The span of our life is seventy years,
or if we are strong, eighty;
yet at best it is toil and sorrow,
over in a moment, and then we are gone.

<sup>11</sup> Who grasps the power of your anger and wrath to the degree that the fear due you should inspire?

<sup>12</sup> So teach us to count our days,
so that we will become wise.

<sup>13</sup> Return, ADONAI! How long must it go on?
Take pity on your servants!

<sup>14</sup> Fill us at daybreak with your love,
so that we can sing for joy as long as we live.

<sup>15</sup> Let our joy last as long as the time you made us suffer, for as many years as we experienced trouble.

<sup>16</sup> Show your deeds to your servants

and your glory to their children.

<sup>17</sup> May the favor of Adonai our God be on us, prosper for us all the work that we do —

yes, prosper the work that we do.

91 <sup>1</sup> You who live in the shelter of ‘Elyon, who spend your nights in the shadow of Shaddai, <sup>2</sup> who say to ADONAI, “My refuge! My fortress!

My God, in whom I trust!” —

<sup>3</sup> he will rescue you from the trap of the hunter and from the plague of calamities;

<sup>4</sup> he will cover you with his pinions,

and under his wings you will find refuge;

his truth is a shield and protection.

<sup>5</sup> You will not fear the terrors of night

or the arrow that flies by day,

<sup>6</sup> or the plague that roams in the dark,

or the scourge that wreaks havoc at noon.

<sup>7</sup> A thousand may fall at your side,

ten thousand at your right hand;

but it won't come near you.

<sup>8</sup> Only keep your eyes open,
and you will see how the wicked are punished.

<sup>9</sup> For you have made A<sub>DONAI</sub>, the Most High,
who is my refuge, your dwelling-place.

<sup>10</sup> No disaster will happen to you,
no calamity will come near your tent;

<sup>11</sup> for he will order his angels to care for you and guard you wherever you go.

<sup>12</sup> They will carry you in their hands,
so that you won't trip on a stone.

<sup>13</sup> You will tread down lions and snakes,
young lions and serpents you will trample underfoot.

<sup>14</sup> "Because he loves me, I will rescue him;
because he knows my name, I will protect him.

<sup>15</sup> He will call on me, and I will answer him.
I will be with him when he is in trouble.

I will extricate him and bring him honor.

<sup>16</sup> I will satisfy him with long life

and show him my salvation.”

92 <sup>1(0)</sup> A psalm. A song for Shabbat:

<sup>2(1)</sup> It is good to give thanks to A<sub>DONAI</sub>

and sing praises to your name, ‘Elyon,

<sup>3(2)</sup> to tell in the morning about your grace

and at night about your faithfulness,

<sup>4(3)</sup> to the music of a ten-stringed [harp] and a lute,

with the melody sounding on a lyre.

<sup>5(4)</sup> For, A<sub>DONAI</sub>, what you do makes me happy;

I take joy in what your hands have made.

How very deep your thoughts!

fools don’t understand,

<sup>8(7)</sup> that when the wicked sprout like grass,

and all who do evil prosper,

it is so that they can be eternally destroyed,

<sup>10(9)</sup> For your enemies, A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

your enemies will perish;

all evildoers will be scattered.

<sup>11(10)</sup> But you have given me

the strength of a wild bull;

you anoint me with fresh olive oil.

<sup>12(11)</sup> My eyes have gazed with pleasure on my enemies' ruin, my ears have delighted in the fall of my foes.

<sup>13(12)</sup> The righteous will flourish like a palm tree,

they will grow like a cedar in the L'vanon.

<sup>14(13)</sup> Planted in the house of A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

they will flourish in the courtyards of our God.

<sup>15(14)</sup> Even in old age they will be vigorous,

still full of sap, still bearing fruit,

<sup>16(15)</sup> proclaiming that A<sub>DONAI</sub> is upright,

my Rock, in whom there is no wrong.

93 <sup>1</sup> ADONAI is king, robed in majesty;

ADONAI is robed, girded with strength.

The world is well established;

it cannot be moved.

<sup>2</sup> Your throne was established long ago;

you have existed forever.

<sup>3</sup> ADONAI, the deep is raising up,

the deep is raising up its voice,

the deep is raising its crashing waves.

<sup>4</sup> More than the sound of rushing waters

or the mighty breakers of the sea,

ADONAI on high is mighty.

<sup>5</sup> Your instructions are very sure;

holiness befits your house,

ADONAI, for all time to come.

94 <sup>1</sup> God of vengeance, ADONAI!

God of vengeance, appear!

<sup>2</sup> Assert yourself as judge of the earth!

Pay back the proud as they deserve!

<sup>3</sup> How long are the wicked, A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

how long are the wicked to triumph?

<sup>4</sup> They pour out insolent words,

they go on bragging, all these evildoers.

<sup>5</sup> They crush your people, A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

they oppress your heritage.

<sup>6</sup> They kill widows and strangers

and murder the fatherless.

<sup>7</sup> They say, “Yah isn’t looking;

the God of Ya‘akov won’t notice.”

<sup>8</sup> Take notice, yourselves, you boors among the people!

You fools, when will you understand?

<sup>9</sup> Will the one who planted the ear not hear?

Will the one who formed the eye not see?

<sup>10</sup> Will the one who disciplines nations not correct them?

Will the teacher of humanity not know?

<sup>11</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub> understands that people’s thoughts are merely a puff of wind.

How happy the man whom you correct, Yah,
whom you teach from your Torah,

<sup>13</sup> giving him respite from days of trouble,
till a pit is dug for the wicked!

<sup>14</sup> For A<sub>DONAI</sub> will not desert his people,
he will not abandon his heritage.

<sup>15</sup> Justice will once again become righteous,
and all the upright in heart will follow it.

<sup>16</sup> Who will champion my cause against the wicked?
Who will stand up for me against evildoers?

<sup>17</sup> If A<sub>DONAI</sub> hadn't helped me,
I would soon have dwelt in the land of silence.

<sup>18</sup> When I said, "My foot is slipping!"
your grace, A<sub>DONAI</sub>, supported me.

<sup>19</sup> When my cares within me are many,
your comforts cheer me up.

<sup>20</sup> Can unjust judges be allied with you,
those producing wrong in the name of law?

<sup>21</sup> They band together against the righteous and condemn the innocent to death.

<sup>22</sup> But ADONAI has become my stronghold,
my God is my rock of refuge.

<sup>23</sup> But he repays them as their guilt deserves;
he will cut them off with their own evil;
ADONAI our God will cut them off.

95 <sup>1</sup> Come, let's sing to ADONAI!

Let's shout for joy to the Rock of our salvation!

<sup>2</sup> Let's come into his presence with thanksgiving;
let's shout for joy to him with songs of praise.

<sup>3</sup> For ADONAI is a great God,
a great king greater than all gods.

<sup>4</sup> He holds the depths of the earth in his hands;
the mountain peaks too belong to him.

<sup>5</sup> The sea is his — he made it —
and his hands shaped the dry land.

<sup>6</sup> Come, let's bow down and worship;

let's kneel before ADONAI who made us.

<sup>7</sup> For he is our God, and we are the people in his pasture, the sheep in his care.

If only today you would listen to his voice:

<sup>8</sup> “Don’t harden your hearts, as you did at M’rivah,
as you did on that day at Massah in the desert,

<sup>9</sup> when your fathers put me to the test;
they challenged me, even though they saw my work.

<sup>10</sup> For forty years I loathed that generation;
I said, ‘This is a people whose hearts go astray,
they don’t understand how I do things.’

<sup>11</sup> Therefore I swore in my anger that they would not enter my rest.”

96 <sup>1</sup> Sing to ADONAI a new song!

Sing to ADONAI, all the earth!

<sup>2</sup> Sing to ADONAI, bless his name!

Proclaim his victory day after day!

his wonders among all peoples!

<sup>4</sup> For A<sub>DONAI</sub> is great, and greatly to be praised;

he is to be feared more than all gods.

<sup>5</sup> For all the gods of the peoples are idols,

but A<sub>DONAI</sub> made the heavens.

<sup>6</sup> In his presence are honor and majesty;

in his sanctuary, strength and splendor.

<sup>7</sup> Give A<sub>DONAI</sub> his due, you families from the peoples;

give A<sub>DONAI</sub> his due of glory and strength;

<sup>8</sup> give A<sub>DONAI</sub> the glory due to his name;

bring an offering, and enter his courtyards.

<sup>9</sup> Worship A<sub>DONAI</sub> in holy splendor;

tremble before him, all the earth!

The world is firmly established, immovable.

He will judge the peoples fairly.

<sup>11</sup> Let the heavens rejoice; let the earth be glad;

let the sea roar, and everything in it;

let the fields exult and all that is in them.

Then all the trees in the forest will sing

<sup>13</sup> before A<sub>DONAI</sub>, because he has come,

he has come to judge the earth;

he will judge the world rightly

and the peoples with his faithfulness.

97 <sup>1</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub> is king, let the earth rejoice, let the many coasts and islands be glad.

<sup>2</sup> Clouds and thick darkness surround him;

righteousness and justice are the foundation of his throne.

<sup>3</sup> Fire goes before him,

setting ablaze his foes on every side.

<sup>4</sup> His flashes of lightning light up the world;

the earth sees it and trembles.

<sup>5</sup> The mountains melt like wax at the presence of A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

at the presence of the Lord of all the earth.

<sup>6</sup> The heavens declare his righteousness,

and all the peoples see his glory.

All who worship images will be put to shame,
those who make their boast in worthless idols.

Bow down to him, all you gods!

<sup>8</sup> Tziyon hears and is glad, ADONAI;
the daughters of Y'hudah rejoice at your rulings.

<sup>9</sup> For you, ADONAI, most high over all the earth,
you are exalted far above all gods.

<sup>10</sup> You who love ADONAI, hate evil!

He keeps his faithful servants safe.

He rescues them from the power of the wicked.

<sup>11</sup> Light is sown for the righteous and joy for the upright in heart.

<sup>12</sup> Rejoice in ADONAI, you righteous;

and give thanks on recalling his holiness.

98 <sup>1(0)</sup> A psalm:

because he has done wonders.

His right hand, his holy arm

have won him victory.

<sup>2</sup>        A<sub>DONAI</sub> has made known his victory;

revealed his vindication in full view of the nations,

<sup>3</sup>        remembered his grace and faithfulness

to the house of Isra'el.

All the ends of the earth have seen

the victory of our God.

Break forth, sing for joy, sing praises!

<sup>5</sup>        Sing praises to A<sub>DONAI</sub> with the lyre,

with the lyre and melodious music!

<sup>6</sup>        With trumpets and the sound of the shofar,

shout for joy before the king, A<sub>DONAI</sub>!

<sup>7</sup>        Let the sea roar, and everything in it;

the world, and those living in it.

<sup>8</sup>        Let the floods clap their hands;

let the mountains sing together for joy

<sup>9</sup>        before A<sub>DONAI</sub>, for he has come to judge the earth;

he will judge the world rightly and the peoples fairly.

He sits enthroned on the k'ruvim; let the earth shake!

<sup>2</sup> ADONAI is great in Tziyon;

he is high above all the peoples.

<sup>5</sup> Exalt ADONAI our God!

Prostrate yourselves at his footstool (he is holy).

and Sh'mu'el among those who call on his name called on ADONAI, and he answered them.

<sup>7</sup> He spoke to them in the column of cloud;

they kept his instructions and the law that he gave them.

<sup>8</sup> ADONAI our God, you answered them.

To them you were a forgiving God,

although you took vengeance on their wrongdoings.

<sup>9</sup> Exalt ADONAI our God,

bow down toward his holy mountain,
for A<sub>DONAI</sub> our God is holy!

100 <sup>1(0)</sup> A psalm of thanksgiving:

<sup>2</sup> Serve A<sub>DONAI</sub> with gladness.

Enter his presence with joyful songs.

<sup>3</sup> Be aware that A<sub>DONAI</sub> is God;

it is he who made us; and we are his,
his people, the flock in his pasture.

<sup>4</sup> Enter his gates with thanksgiving,

enter his courtyards with praise;

give thanks to him, and bless his name.

<sup>5</sup> For A<sub>DONAI</sub> is good, his grace continues forever,

and his faithfulness lasts through all generations.

I am singing to you, A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

<sup>2</sup> I will follow the path of integrity;

when will you come to me?

I will run my life with a sincere heart
inside my own house.

<sup>3</sup> I will not allow before my eyes
any shameful thing.

I hate those who act crookedly;
what they do does not attract me.

<sup>4</sup> Deviousness will depart from me;
I will not tolerate evil.

<sup>5</sup> If someone slanders another in secret,
I will cut him off.
Haughty eyes and proud hearts
I cannot abide.

<sup>6</sup> I look to the faithful of the land,
so that they can be my companions;
those who live lives of integrity
can be servants of mine.

<sup>7</sup> No deceitful person can live in my house;
no liar can be my advisor.

<sup>8</sup> Every morning I will destroy

all the wicked of the land,

cutting off all evildoers

from the city of A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

102 <sup>1(0)</sup> Prayer of a sufferer overcome by weakness and pouring out his complaint before A<sub>DONAI</sub>;

<sup>2(1)</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub>, hear my prayer!

Let my cry for help reach you!

<sup>3(2)</sup> Don't hide your face from me

when I am in such distress!

Turn your ear toward me;

when I call, be quick to reply!

<sup>4(3)</sup> For my days are vanishing like smoke,

my bones are burning like a furnace.

<sup>5(4)</sup> I am stricken and withered like grass;

I forget to eat my food.

<sup>6(5)</sup> Because of my loud groaning,

I am just skin and bones.

<sup>7(6)</sup> I am like a great owl in the desert,

I've become like an owl in the ruins.

<sup>8(7)</sup> I lie awake and become like a bird alone on the roof.

<sup>9(8)</sup> My enemies taunt me all day long;

mad with rage, they make my name a curse.

<sup>10(9)</sup> For I have been eating ashes like bread

and mingling tears with my drink

<sup>11(10)</sup> because of your furious anger,

since you picked me up just to toss me aside.

<sup>12(11)</sup> My days decline like an evening shadow;

I am drying up like grass.

<sup>13(12)</sup> But you, ADONAI, are enthroned forever;

your renown will endure through all generations.

<sup>14(13)</sup> You will arise and take pity on Tziyon, for the time has come to have mercy on her;

the time determined has come.

<sup>15(14)</sup> For your servants love her very stones;

they take pity even on her dust.

<sup>16(15)</sup>

The nations will fear the name of A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
and all the kings on earth your glory,

<sup>17(16)</sup> when A<sub>DONAI</sub> has rebuilt Tziyon,

and shows himself in his glory,

<sup>18(17)</sup> when he has heeded the plea of the poor and not despised their prayer.

<sup>19(18)</sup> May this be put on record for a future generation;

may a people yet to be created praise A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

<sup>20(19)</sup> For he has looked down from the height of his sanctuary;

from heaven A<sub>DONAI</sub> surveys the earth

<sup>21(20)</sup> to listen to the sighing of the prisoner,

to set free those who are sentenced to death,

<sup>22(21)</sup> to proclaim the name of A<sub>DONAI</sub> in Tziyon

<sup>23(22)</sup> when peoples and kingdoms have been gathered together to serve A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

<sup>24(23)</sup> He has broken my strength in midcourse,

he has cut short my days.

<sup>25(24)</sup>

I plead, “God, your years last through all generations;
so don’t take me away when my life is half over!

<sup>26(25)</sup> “In the beginning, you laid the foundations of the earth;
heaven is the work of your hands.

<sup>27(26)</sup> They will vanish, but you will remain;
like clothing, they will all grow old;
yes, you will change them like clothing,
and they will pass away.

<sup>28(27)</sup> But you remain the same,
and your years will never end.

<sup>29(28)</sup> The children of your servants will live securely and their descendants be established in your presence.”

103 <sup>1(0)</sup> By David:

<sup>(1)</sup> Bless A<sub>DONAI</sub>, my soul!
Everything in me, bless his holy name!

and forget none of his benefits!

<sup>3</sup> He forgives all your offenses,

he heals all your diseases,

<sup>4</sup> he redeems your life from the pit,

he surrounds you with grace and compassion,

<sup>5</sup> he contents you with good as long as you live,

so that your youth is renewed like an eagle's.

<sup>6</sup> ADONAI brings vindication and justice

to all who are oppressed.

<sup>7</sup> He made his ways known to Moshe,

his mighty deeds to the people of Isra'el.

<sup>8</sup> ADONAI is merciful and compassionate,

slow to anger and rich in grace.

<sup>9</sup> He will not always accuse,

he will not keep his anger forever.

<sup>10</sup> He has not treated us as our sins deserve or paid us back for our offenses,

<sup>11</sup> because his mercy toward those who fear him

is as far above earth as heaven.

<sup>12</sup> He has removed our sins from us

as far as the east is from the west.

<sup>13</sup> Just as a father has compassion on his children,

A<sub>DONAI</sub> has compassion on those who fear him.

<sup>14</sup> For he understands how we are made,

he remembers that we are dust.

<sup>15</sup> Yes, a human being's days are like grass,

he sprouts like a flower in the countryside —

<sup>16</sup> but when the wind sweeps over, it's gone;

and its place knows it no more.

<sup>17</sup> But the mercy of A<sub>DONAI</sub> on those who fear him is from eternity past to eternity future,

and his righteousness extends to his children's children,

<sup>18</sup> provided they keep his covenant

and remember to follow his precepts.

<sup>19</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub> has established his throne in heaven;

his kingly power rules everything.

<sup>20</sup> Bless A<sub>DONAI</sub>, you angels of his,

you mighty warriors who obey his word,

who carry out his orders!

<sup>21</sup> Bless A<sub>DONAI</sub>, all his troops, who serve him and do what he wants!

<sup>22</sup> Bless A<sub>DONAI</sub>, all his works,
in every place where he rules!
Bless A<sub>DONAI</sub>, my soul!

104 <sup>1</sup>Bless A<sub>DONAI</sub>, my soul!

A<sub>DONAI</sub>, my God, you are very great;
you are clothed with glory and majesty,

<sup>2</sup> wrapped in light as with a robe.

You spread out the heavens like a curtain,

You make the clouds your chariot,
you ride on the wings of the wind.

<sup>4</sup> You make winds your messengers,

fiery flames your servants.

<sup>5</sup> You fixed the earth on its foundations, never to be moved.

the waters stood above the mountains.

<sup>7</sup>

At your rebuke they fled;
at the sound of your thunder they rushed away,

<sup>8</sup>

flowing over hills, pouring into valleys,
down to the place you had fixed for them.

<sup>9</sup>

You determined a boundary they could not cross;
they were never to cover the earth again.

<sup>10</sup>

You make springs gush forth in the vadis;
they flow between the hills,

<sup>11</sup>

supplying water to all the wild animals;
the wild donkeys quench their thirst.

<sup>12</sup>

On their banks the birds of the air build their nests;
among the branches they sing.

<sup>13</sup>

You water the mountains from your palace;
the earth is satisfied with how you provide —

<sup>14</sup>

you grow grass for the cattle;
and for people you grow the plants they need to bring forth bread from the earth,

<sup>15</sup>

wine that gladdens the human heart,

oil to make faces glow,
and food to sustain their strength.

<sup>16</sup>        ADONAI's trees are satisfied —

the cedars of the L'vanon, which he has planted.

<sup>17</sup>        In them sparrows build their nests,

while storks live in the fir trees.

<sup>18</sup>        For the wild goats there are the high mountains, while the coneys find refuge in the rocks.

<sup>19</sup>        You made the moon to mark the seasons, and the sun knows when to set.

<sup>20</sup>        You bring darkness, and it is night,

the time when all forest animals prowl.

<sup>21</sup>        The young lions roar after their prey

and seek their food from God.

<sup>22</sup>        The sun rises, they slink away

and lie down to rest in their dens;

<sup>23</sup>        while people go out to their work,

laboring on till evening.

What variety there is in your works, ADONAI!

How many [of them there are]!

In wisdom you have made them all;

the earth is full of your creations.

<sup>25</sup> Look at the sea, so great, so wide!

It teems with countless creatures,

living beings, both large and small.

<sup>26</sup> The ships are there, sailing to and fro;

Livyatan, which you formed to play there.

<sup>27</sup> All of them look to you to give them their food when they need it.

<sup>28</sup> When you give it to them, they gather it;

when you open your hand, they are well satisfied.

<sup>29</sup> If you hide your face, they vanish;

if you hold back their breath, they perish

and return to their dust.

<sup>30</sup> If you send out your breath, they are created,

and you renew the face of the earth.

<sup>31</sup> May the glory of ADONAI last forever!

May ADONAI rejoice in his works!

<sup>32</sup> When he looks at the earth, it trembles;

when he touches the mountains, they pour out smoke.

<sup>33</sup> I will sing to ADONAI as long as I live, sing praise to my God all my life.

<sup>34</sup> May my musings be pleasing to him;

I will rejoice in ADONAI.

<sup>35</sup> May sinners vanish from the earth

and the wicked be no more!

Bless ADONAI, my soul!

Halleluyah!

105 <sup>1</sup> Give thanks to ADONAI! Call on his name!

Make his deeds known among the peoples.

talk about all his wonders.

<sup>3</sup> Glory in his holy name;

let those seeking ADONAI have joyful hearts.

<sup>4</sup> Seek ADONAI and his strength;

always seek his presence.

<sup>5</sup> Remember the wonders he has done,
his signs and his spoken rulings.

<sup>6</sup> You descendants of Avraham his servant,
you offspring of Ya‘akov, his chosen ones,

<sup>7</sup> he is ADONAI our God!

His rulings are everywhere on earth.

<sup>8</sup> He remembers his covenant forever,
the word he commanded to a thousand generations,

<sup>9</sup> the covenant he made with Avraham,
the oath he swore to Yitz’chak,

<sup>10</sup> and established as a law for Ya‘akov,
for Isra’el as an everlasting covenant:

<sup>11</sup> “To you I will give the land of Kena‘an
as your allotted heritage.”

<sup>12</sup> When they were but few in number,
and not only few, but aliens there too,

<sup>13</sup> wandering from nation to nation,
from this kingdom to that people,

he allowed no one to oppress them.

Yes, for their sakes he rebuked even kings:

<sup>15</sup> “Don’t touch my anointed ones

or do my prophets harm!”

<sup>16</sup> He called down famine on the land, broke off all their food supply,

<sup>17</sup> but sent a man ahead of them —

Yosef, who was sold as a slave.

<sup>18</sup> They shackled his feet with chains,

and they bound him in irons;

<sup>19</sup> until the time when his word proved true,

God’s utterance kept testing him.

<sup>20</sup> The king sent and had him released,

the ruler of peoples set him free;

<sup>21</sup> he made him lord of his household,

in charge of all he owned,

<sup>22</sup> correcting his officers as he saw fit

and teaching his counselors wisdom.

Then Isra'el too came into Egypt,
Ya'akov lived as an alien in the land of Ham.

<sup>24</sup> There God made his people very fruitful,
made them too numerous for their foes,

<sup>25</sup> whose hearts he turned to hate his people,
and treat his servants unfairly.

<sup>26</sup> He sent his servant Moshe
and Aharon, whom he had chosen.

<sup>27</sup> They worked his signs among them,
his wonders in the land of Ham.

<sup>28</sup> He sent darkness, and the land grew dark;
they did not defy his word.

<sup>29</sup> He turned their water into blood and caused their fish to die.

<sup>30</sup> Their land swarmed with frogs,
even in the royal chambers.

<sup>31</sup> He spoke, and there came swarms of insects and lice throughout their land.

<sup>32</sup> He gave them hail instead of rain,
with fiery [lightning] throughout their land.

<sup>33</sup> He struck their vines and fig trees,
shattering trees all over their country.

<sup>34</sup> He spoke, and locusts came,
also grasshoppers without number;

<sup>35</sup> they ate up everything green in their land, devoured the fruit of their ground.

the firstfruits of all their strength.

<sup>37</sup> Then he led his people out,
laden with silver and gold;
among his tribes not one stumbled.

<sup>38</sup> Egypt was happy to have them leave,
because fear of [Isra'el] had seized them.

<sup>39</sup> He spread out a cloud to screen them off and fire to give them light at night.

<sup>40</sup> When they asked, he brought them quails

and satisfied them with food from heaven.

<sup>41</sup> He split a rock, and water gushed out,
flowing as a river over the dry ground,

<sup>42</sup> for he remembered his holy promise to his servant Avraham.

<sup>43</sup> He led out his people with joy,
his chosen ones with singing.

<sup>44</sup> Then he gave them the lands of the nations,
and they possessed what peoples had toiled to produce,

<sup>45</sup> in order to obey his laws
and follow his teachings.

106 <sup>1</sup> Halleluyah!

Give thanks to ADONAI; for he is good,
for his grace continues forever.

<sup>2</sup> Who can express ADONAI's mighty doings
or proclaim in full his praise?

<sup>3</sup> How happy are those who act justly,

who always do what is right!

<sup>4</sup> Remember me, ADONAI, when you show favor to your people,
keep me in mind when you save them;

<sup>5</sup> so I can see how well things are going with those whom you have chosen,
so that I can rejoice in your nation's joy,
and glory in your heritage.

<sup>6</sup> Together with our ancestors, we have sinned, done wrong, acted wickedly.

<sup>7</sup> Our ancestors in Egypt failed to grasp
the meaning of your wonders.
They didn't keep in mind your great deeds of grace
but rebelled at the sea, at the Sea of Suf.

<sup>8</sup> Yet he saved them for his own name's sake,
to make known his mighty power.

<sup>9</sup> He rebuked the Sea of Suf, and it dried up;
he led them through its depths as through a desert.

<sup>10</sup> He saved them from hostile hands,
redeemed them from the power of the foe.

<sup>11</sup> The water closed over their adversaries;
not one of them was left.

<sup>12</sup> Then they believed his words,
and they sang his praise.

<sup>13</sup> But soon they forgot his deeds
and wouldn't wait for his counsel.

<sup>14</sup> In the desert they gave way to insatiable greed;
in the wastelands they put God to the test.

<sup>15</sup> He gave them what they wanted
but sent meagerness into their souls.

<sup>16</sup> In the camp they were jealous of Moshe and Aharon, A<sub>DONAI</sub>'s holy one.

<sup>17</sup> The earth opened up and swallowed Datan
and closed over Aviram's allies.

<sup>18</sup> A fire blazed out against that group,
the flames consumed the wicked.

they worshipped a cast metal image.

<sup>20</sup> Thus they exchanged their Glory
for the image of an ox that eats grass!

<sup>21</sup> They forgot God, who had saved them,
who had done great things in Egypt,

<sup>22</sup> wonders in the land of Ham,
fearsome deeds by the Sea of Suf.

<sup>23</sup> Therefore he said that he would destroy them,
[and he would have,] had not Moshe his chosen one stood before him in the breach
to turn back his destroying fury.

<sup>24</sup> Next, they rejected the beautiful land,
they didn't trust his promise;

<sup>25</sup> and they complained in their tents,
they didn't obey ADONAI.

<sup>26</sup> Therefore, raising his hand, he swore to them that he would strike them down in the desert

<sup>27</sup> and strike down their descendants among the nations, dispersing them in foreign lands.

Now they joined themselves to Ba'al-P'or
and ate meat sacrificed to dead things.

<sup>29</sup> Thus they provoked him to anger with their deeds,
so that a plague broke out among them.

<sup>30</sup> Then Pinchas stood up and executed judgment;
so the plague was checked.

<sup>31</sup> That was credited to him as righteousness, through all generations forever.

<sup>32</sup> They angered him at the M'rivah Spring,
and Moshe suffered on their account;

<sup>33</sup> for when they embittered his spirit,
[Moshe] spoke up without thinking.

<sup>34</sup> They failed to destroy the peoples,
as ADONAI had ordered them to do,

<sup>35</sup> but mingled with the nations
and learned to follow their ways.

<sup>36</sup> They went on to serve their idols,
which became a snare for them.

<sup>37</sup> They even sacrificed their sons

and their daughters to demons.

<sup>38</sup> Yes, they shed innocent blood,
the blood of their own sons and daughters,
whom they sacrificed to Kena'an's false gods,
polluting the land with blood.

<sup>39</sup> Thus they were defiled by their deeds;
they prostituted themselves by their actions.

<sup>40</sup> For this ADONAI's fury blazed up against his people,
and he detested his heritage.

<sup>41</sup> He handed them over to the power of the nations,
and those who hated them ruled over them.

<sup>42</sup> Their enemies oppressed them
and kept them in subjection to their power.

but they kept making plans to rebel.
Thus they were brought low
by their own wrongdoing.

<sup>44</sup> Still he took pity on their distress

whenever he heard their cry.

<sup>45</sup> For their sakes he kept in mind his covenant and in his limitless grace relented,

<sup>46</sup> causing them to be treated with compassion
by all who had taken them captive.

<sup>47</sup> Save us, ADONAI our God!
Gather us from among the nations,
so that we can thank your holy name
and glory in praising you.

<sup>48</sup> Blessed be ADONAI, the God of Isra'el,
from eternity past to eternity future.
Now let all the people say,
“Amen! Halleluyah!”

Book V: Psalms 107–150

107 <sup>1</sup> Give thanks to A<sub>DONAI</sub>; for he is good,
for his grace continues forever.

<sup>2</sup> Let those redeemed by A<sub>DONAI</sub> say it,
those he redeemed from the power of the foe.

<sup>3</sup> He gathered them from the lands,
from the east and from the west,
from the north and from the sea.

<sup>4</sup> They wandered in the desert, on paths through the wastes, without finding any inhabited city.

<sup>5</sup> They were hungry and thirsty,
their life was ebbing away.

<sup>6</sup> In their trouble they cried to A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
and he rescued them from their distress.

<sup>7</sup> He led them by a direct path
to a city where they could live.

<sup>8</sup> Let them give thanks to A<sub>DONAI</sub> for his grace,
for his wonders bestowed on humanity!

<sup>9</sup> For he has satisfied the hungry,
filled the starving with that which is good.

<sup>10</sup> Some lived in darkness, in death-dark gloom,
bound in misery and iron chains,

scorned the counsel of the Most High.

<sup>12</sup> So he humbled their hearts by hard labor;
when they stumbled, no one came to their aid.

and he rescued them from their distress.

<sup>14</sup> He led them from darkness, from death-dark gloom, shattering their chains.

<sup>15</sup> Let them give thanks to A<sub>DONAI</sub> for his grace,
for his wonders bestowed on humanity!

<sup>16</sup> For he shattered bronze doors
and cut through iron bars.

<sup>17</sup> There were foolish people who suffered affliction because of their crimes and sins;

<sup>18</sup> they couldn't stand to eat anything;
they were near the gates of death.

and he rescued them from their distress;

<sup>20</sup> he sent his word and healed them,
he delivered them from destruction.

<sup>21</sup> Let them give thanks to A<sub>DONAI</sub> for his grace,
for his wonders bestowed on humanity!

<sup>22</sup> Let them offer sacrifices of thanksgiving and proclaim his great deeds with songs of joy.

<sup>23</sup> Those who go down to the sea in ships, plying their trade on the great ocean,

<sup>24</sup> saw the works of A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
his wonders in the deep.

<sup>25</sup> For at his word the storm-wind arose,
lifting up towering waves.

<sup>26</sup> The sailors were raised up to the sky,
then plunged into the depths.

At the danger, their courage failed them,

<sup>27</sup> they reeled and staggered like drunk men,

and all their skill was swallowed up.

and he rescued them from their distress.

<sup>29</sup> He silenced the storm and stilled its waves,

<sup>30</sup> and they rejoiced as the sea grew calm.

Then he brought them safely to their desired port.

<sup>31</sup> Let them give thanks to A<sub>DONAI</sub> for his grace,

for his wonders bestowed on humanity!

<sup>32</sup> Let them extol him in the assembly of the people and praise him in the leaders' council.

<sup>33</sup> He turns rivers into desert, flowing springs into thirsty ground,

<sup>34</sup> productive land into salt flats,

because the people living there are so wicked.

<sup>35</sup> But he also turns desert into pools of water,

dry land into flowing springs;

<sup>36</sup> there he gives the hungry a home,

and they build a city to live in;

<sup>37</sup> there they sow fields and plant vineyards,

which yield an abundant harvest.

<sup>38</sup> He blesses them, their numbers grow,

and he doesn't let their livestock decrease.

<sup>39</sup> When their numbers fall, and they grow weak,

because of oppression, disaster and sorrow,

<sup>40</sup> he pours contempt on princes

and leaves them to wander in trackless wastes.

<sup>41</sup> But the needy he raises up from their distress and increases their families like sheep.

<sup>42</sup> When the upright see this, they rejoice;

while the wicked are reduced to silence.

<sup>43</sup> Let whoever is wise observe these things and consider A<sub>DONAI</sub>'s loving deeds.

I will sing and make music with my glory.

I will awaken the dawn.

<sup>4(3)</sup> I will thank you, ADONAI, among the peoples;

I will make music to you among the nations.

<sup>5(4)</sup> For your grace is great, above heaven,

and your truth, all the way to the skies.

May your glory be over all the earth,

<sup>7(6)</sup> in order that those you love can be rescued;

so save with your right hand, and answer me!

<sup>8(7)</sup> God in his holiness spoke,

and I took joy [in his promise]:

“I will divide Sh’khem

and determine the shares in the Sukkot Valley.

<sup>9(8)</sup> Gil‘ad is mine and M’nasheh mine,

Efrayim my helmet, Y’hudah my scepter.

<sup>10(9)</sup> Mo’av is my washpot; on Edom I throw my shoe;

Over P’leshet I shout in triumph.”

<sup>11(10)</sup> Who will bring me into the fortified city?

Who will lead me to Edom?

<sup>12(11)</sup> God, have you rejected us?

You don't go out with our armies, God.

<sup>13(12)</sup> Help us against our enemy,

for human help is worthless.

<sup>14(13)</sup> With God's help we will fight valiantly,

for he will trample our enemies.

have opened their mouths against me,

spoken against me with lying tongues,

<sup>3</sup> surrounded me with hateful words,

and attacked me without cause.

<sup>4</sup> In return for my love they became my accusers, even though I prayed for them.

and hatred for my love.

<sup>6</sup> [They say,] “Appoint a wicked man over him,
may an accuser stand at his right.

<sup>7</sup> When he is tried, let him be found guilty,
may even his plea be counted a sin.

<sup>8</sup> May his days be few,
may someone else take his position.

<sup>9</sup> May his children be fatherless
and his wife a widow.

<sup>10</sup> May his children be wandering beggars,
foraging for food from their ruined homes.

<sup>11</sup> May creditors seize all he owns and strangers make off with his earnings.

<sup>12</sup> May no one treat him kindly,
and may no one take pity on his orphaned children.

<sup>13</sup> May his posterity be cut off;
may his name be erased within a generation.

<sup>14</sup> May the wrongs of his ancestors be remembered by ADONAI,
and may the sin of his mother not be erased;

<sup>15</sup> may they always be before ADONAI,

so he can cut off all memory of them from the earth.

<sup>16</sup> For he did not remember to show kindness but hounded the downtrodden, the poor and the brokenhearted to death.

<sup>17</sup> He loved cursing; may it recoil on him!
He didn't like blessing; may it stay far from him!

<sup>18</sup> He clothed himself with cursing
as routinely as with his coat.
May it enter inside him as easily as water,
as easily as oil into his bones.

<sup>19</sup> May it cling to him like the coat he wears,
like the belt he wraps around himself.”

<sup>20</sup> This is what my adversaries want A<sub>DONAI</sub> to do,
those who speak evil against me.

<sup>21</sup> But you, God, A<sub>DONAI</sub>, treat me as your name demands;
rescue me, because your grace is good.

<sup>22</sup> For I am poor and needy,
and my heart within me is wounded.

<sup>23</sup> Like a lengthening evening shadow, I am gone;

I am shaken off like a locust.

<sup>24</sup> My knees are weak from lack of food,

my flesh wastes away for lack of nourishment.

<sup>25</sup> I have become the object of their taunts;

when they see me, they shake their heads.

<sup>26</sup> Help me, ADONAI, my God!

Save me, in keeping with your grace;

<sup>27</sup> so that they will know that this comes from your hand, that you, ADONAI, have done it.

<sup>28</sup> Let them go on cursing;

but you, bless!

When they attack, let them be put to shame;

but let your servant rejoice.

<sup>29</sup> Let my adversaries be clothed with confusion,

let them wear their own shame like a robe.

<sup>30</sup> I will eagerly thank ADONAI with my mouth,

I will praise him right there in the crowd,

<sup>31</sup> because he stands alongside a needy person to defend him from unjust accusers.

110<sup>1(0)</sup> A psalm of David:

<sup>(1)</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub> says to my Lord,

“Sit at my right hand,
until I make your enemies
your footstool.”

<sup>2</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub> will send your powerful scepter out from Tziyon,
so that you will rule over your enemies around you.

<sup>3</sup> On the day your forces mobilize, your people willingly offer themselves
in holy splendors from the womb of the dawn;
the dew of your youth is yours.

<sup>4</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub> has sworn it,
and he will never retract —
“You are a cohen forever,
to be compared with Malki-Tzedek.”

<sup>5</sup>        Adonai at your right hand

will shatter kings on the day of his anger.

<sup>6</sup>        He will pass judgment among the nations, filling it with dead bodies;

he will shatter heads

throughout an extensive territory.

<sup>7</sup>        He will drink from a stream as he goes on his way;

therefore he will hold his head high.

I will wholeheartedly give thanks to ADONAI,

in the council of the upright and in the assembly.

<sup>2</sup>        The deeds of ADONAI are great,

greatly desired by all who enjoy them.

<sup>3</sup>        His work is full of majesty and splendor,

and his righteousness continues forever.

<sup>4</sup>        He has gained renown for his wonders.

ADONAI is merciful and compassionate.

<sup>5</sup>        He gives food to those who fear him.

He remembers his covenant forever.

<sup>6</sup> He shows his people how powerfully he works
by giving them the nations as their heritage.

<sup>7</sup> The works of his hands are truth and justice;
all his precepts can be trusted.

<sup>8</sup> They have been established forever and ever,
to be carried out truly and honestly.

<sup>9</sup> He sent redemption to his people and decreed that his covenant should last forever.
His name is holy and fearsome —

<sup>10</sup> the first and foremost point of wisdom is the fear of ADONAI;
all those living by it gain good common sense.
His praise stands forever.

112 <sup>1</sup> Halleluyah!

How happy is anyone who fears ADONAI,
who greatly delights in his mitzvot.

<sup>2</sup> His descendants will be powerful on earth,
a blessed generation of upright people.

<sup>3</sup> Wealth and riches are in his house,

and his righteousness stands forever.

<sup>4</sup> To the upright he shines like a light in the dark,
merciful, compassionate and righteous.

<sup>5</sup> Things go well with the person who is merciful and lends,
who conducts his affairs with fairness;

<sup>6</sup> for he will never be moved.

The righteous will be remembered forever.

<sup>7</sup> He will not be frightened by bad news;
he remains steady, trusting in ADONAI.

<sup>8</sup> His heart is set firm, he will not be afraid,
till finally he looks in triumph at his enemies.

<sup>9</sup> He distributes freely, he gives to the poor;
his righteousness stands forever.

His power will be increased honorably.

<sup>10</sup> The wicked will be angry when they see this;
they will gnash their teeth and waste away,
the desires of the wicked will come to nothing.

113 <sup>1</sup> Halleluyah!

Servants of A<sub>DONAI</sub>, give praise!

Give praise to the name of A<sub>DONAI</sub>!

<sup>2</sup> Blessed be the name of A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

from this moment on and forever!

<sup>3</sup> From sunrise until sunset

A<sub>DONAI</sub>'s name is to be praised.

<sup>4</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub> is high above all nations,

his glory above the heavens.

<sup>5</sup> Who is like A<sub>DONAI</sub> our God,

seated in the heights,

<sup>6</sup> humbling himself to look on heaven and on earth.

<sup>7</sup> He raises the poor from the dust,

lifts the needy from the rubbish heap,

<sup>8</sup> in order to give him a place among princes,

among the princes of his people.

<sup>9</sup> He causes the childless woman

to live at home happily as a mother of children.

Halleluyah!

114 <sup>1</sup> When Isra'el came out of Egypt,
the house of Ya'akov from a people of foreign speech,

Isra'el his domain.

<sup>3</sup> The sea saw this and fled;
the Yarden turned back;

<sup>4</sup> the mountains skipped like rams,
the hills like young sheep.

<sup>5</sup> Why is it, sea, that you flee?
Why, Yarden, do you turn back?

<sup>6</sup> Why, mountains, do you skip like rams;
and you hills like young sheep?

<sup>7</sup> Tremble, earth, at the presence of the Lord,
at the presence of the God of Ya'akov,

<sup>8</sup> who turned the rock into a pool of water,
flint into flowing spring.

115 <sup>1</sup> Not to us, ADONAI, not to us,

but to your name give glory,
because of your grace and truth.

<sup>2</sup>       Why should the nations ask,
“Where is their God?”

<sup>3</sup>       Our God is in heaven;
he does whatever pleases him.

<sup>4</sup>       Their idols are mere silver and gold,
made by human hands.

<sup>5</sup>       They have mouths, but they can’t speak;
they have eyes, but they can’t see;

<sup>6</sup>       they have ears, but they can’t hear;
they have noses, but they can’t smell;

<sup>7</sup>       they have hands, but they can’t feel;
they have feet, but they can’t walk;
with their throats they can’t make a sound.

<sup>8</sup>       The people who make them will become like them,
along with everyone who trusts in them.

<sup>9</sup>       Isra’el, trust in ADONAI!

He is their help and shield.

<sup>10</sup> House of Aharon, trust in A<sub>DONAI</sub>!

He is their help and shield.

<sup>11</sup> You who fear A<sub>DONAI</sub>, trust in A<sub>DONAI</sub>!

He is their help and shield.

<sup>12</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub> has kept us in mind,

and he will bless.

He will bless the house of Isra'el;

he will bless the house of Aharon;

<sup>13</sup> he will bless those who fear A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

great and small alike.

<sup>14</sup> May A<sub>DONAI</sub> increase your numbers,

both yours and those of your children.

<sup>15</sup> May you be blessed by A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

the maker of heaven and earth.

<sup>16</sup> Heaven belongs to A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

but the earth he has given to humankind.

<sup>17</sup> The dead can't praise A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

not those who sink down into silence.

<sup>18</sup>

But we will bless A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
from now on and forever.

Halleluyah!

116 <sup>1</sup> I love that A<sub>DONAI</sub> heard

my voice when I prayed;

<sup>2</sup>

because he turned his ear to me,
I will call on him as long as I live.

<sup>3</sup>

The cords of death were all around me,
Sh'ol's constrictions held me fast;
I was finding only distress and anguish.

<sup>4</sup>

But I called on the name of A<sub>DONAI</sub>:
“Please, A<sub>DONAI</sub>! Save me!”

<sup>5</sup>

A<sub>DONAI</sub> is merciful and righteous;
yes, our God is compassionate.

<sup>6</sup>

A<sub>DONAI</sub> preserves the thoughtless;
when I was brought low, he saved me.

<sup>7</sup>

My soul, return to your rest!
For A<sub>DONAI</sub> has been generous toward you.

<sup>8</sup> Yes, you have rescued me from death,
my eyes from tears and my feet from falling.

<sup>9</sup> I will go on walking in the presence of A<sub>DONAI</sub>
in the lands of the living.

<sup>10</sup> I will keep on trusting even when I say,
“I am utterly miserable,”

<sup>11</sup> even when, in my panic, I declare,
“Everything human is deceptive.”

<sup>12</sup> How can I repay A<sub>DONAI</sub>
for all his generous dealings with me?

<sup>13</sup> I will raise the cup of salvation and call on the name of A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

<sup>14</sup> I will pay my vows to A<sub>DONAI</sub>
in the presence of all his people.

<sup>15</sup> From A<sub>DONAI</sub>’s point of view,
the death of those faithful to him is costly.

<sup>16</sup> Oh, A<sub>DONAI</sub>! I am your slave;
I am your slave, the son of your slave-girl;
you have removed my fetters.

<sup>17</sup> I will offer a sacrifice of thanks to you and will call on the name of ADONAI.

<sup>18</sup> I will pay my vows to ADONAI
in the presence of all his people,

<sup>19</sup> in the courtyards of ADONAI's house,
there in your very heart, Yerushalayim.

Worship him, all you peoples!

<sup>2</sup> For his grace has overcome us,
and ADONAI's truth continues forever.

Halleluyah!

118 <sup>1</sup> Give thanks to ADONAI; for he is good,
for his grace continues forever.

<sup>2</sup> Now let Isra'el say,
"His grace continues forever."

<sup>3</sup> Now let the house of Aharon say,
"His grace continues forever."

<sup>4</sup> Now let those who fear A<sub>DONAI</sub> say,

he answered and gave me more room.

<sup>6</sup> With A<sub>DONAI</sub> on my side, I fear nothing —

what can human beings do to me?

<sup>7</sup> With A<sub>DONAI</sub> on my side as my help,

I will look with triumph at those who hate me.

<sup>8</sup> It is better to take refuge in A<sub>DONAI</sub>

than to trust in human beings;

<sup>9</sup> better to take refuge in A<sub>DONAI</sub>

than to put one’s trust in princes.

<sup>10</sup> The nations all surrounded me;

in the name of A<sub>DONAI</sub> I cut them down.

<sup>11</sup> They surrounded me on every side

in the name of A<sub>DONAI</sub> I cut them down.

<sup>12</sup> They surrounded me like bees

but were extinguished [as quickly] as a fire in thorns;

in the name of A<sub>DONAI</sub> I cut them down.

<sup>13</sup> You pushed me hard to make me fall,
but A<sub>DONAI</sub> helped me.

<sup>14</sup> Yah is my strength and my song,
and he has become my salvation.

<sup>15</sup> The sound of rejoicing and victory is heard in the tents of the righteous:
“A<sub>DONAI</sub>’s right hand struck powerfully!

A<sub>DONAI</sub>’s right hand struck powerfully!”

<sup>17</sup> I will not die; no, I will live and proclaim the great deeds of Yah!

<sup>18</sup> Yah disciplined me severely,
but did not hand me over to death.

<sup>19</sup> Open the gates of righteousness for me;
I will enter them and thank Yah.

<sup>20</sup> This is the gate of A<sub>DONAI</sub>;
the righteous can enter it.

<sup>21</sup> I am thanking you because you answered me;
you became my salvation.

<sup>22</sup> The very rock that the builders rejected
has become the cornerstone!

<sup>23</sup> This has come from ADONAI,
and in our eyes it is amazing.

<sup>24</sup> This is the day ADONAI has made,
a day for us to rejoice and be glad.

<sup>25</sup> Please, ADONAI! Save us!
Please, ADONAI! Rescue us!

<sup>26</sup> Blessed is he who comes in the name of ADONAI.
We bless you from the house of ADONAI.

<sup>27</sup> ADONAI is God, and he gives us light.
Join in the pilgrim festival with branches
all the way to the horns of the altar.

<sup>28</sup> You are my God, and I thank you.
You are my God; I exalt you.

<sup>29</sup> Give thanks to ADONAI; for he is good,

for his grace continues forever.

119

⚡ (Alef)

who live by the Torah of A<sub>DONAI</sub>!

<sup>2</sup>       How happy are those who observe his instruction,
who seek him wholeheartedly!

<sup>3</sup>       They do nothing wrong
but live by his ways.

<sup>4</sup>       You laid down your precepts
for us to observe with care.

<sup>5</sup>       May my ways be steady
in observing your laws.

<sup>6</sup>       Then I will not be put to shame,
since I will have fixed my sight on all your mitzvot.

<sup>7</sup>       I thank you with a sincere heart
as I learn your righteous rulings.

<sup>8</sup>       I will observe your laws;

don't completely abandon me!

ב (Bet)

By guarding it according to your word.

<sup>10</sup> I seek you with all my heart;

don't let me stray from your mitzvot.

<sup>11</sup> I treasure your word in my heart,

so that I won't sin against you.

<sup>12</sup> Blessed are you, ADONAI!

Teach me your laws.

<sup>13</sup> I proclaim with my mouth

all the rulings you have spoken.

<sup>14</sup> I rejoice in the way of your instruction

more than in any kind of wealth.

<sup>15</sup> I will meditate on your precepts and keep my eyes on your ways.

<sup>16</sup> I will find my delight in your regulations.

I will not forget your word.

ג (Gimel)

<sup>17</sup> Deal generously with your servant;

then I will live and observe your word.

<sup>18</sup> Open my eyes, so that I will see wonders from your Torah.

<sup>19</sup> Though I'm just a wanderer on the earth,

don't hide your mitzvot from me.

<sup>20</sup> I am continually consumed

with longing for your rulings.

<sup>21</sup> You rebuke the proud, the cursed,

who stray from your mitzvot.

<sup>22</sup> Remove scorn and contempt from me,

because I observe your instruction.

<sup>23</sup> Even when princes sit and plot against me,

your servant meditates on your laws.

<sup>24</sup> Also your instructions are my delight;

they are my counselors.

ד (Dalet)

I lie prostrate in the dust;
revive me, in keeping with your word.

<sup>26</sup> I told you of my ways, and you answered me;
teach me your laws.

<sup>27</sup> Make me understand the way of your precepts,
and I will meditate on your wonders.

<sup>28</sup> I am melting away from anxiety and grief;
renew my strength, in keeping with your word.

<sup>29</sup> Keep deceitful ways far from me,
and favor me with your Torah.

<sup>30</sup> I choose the way of trust;
I set your rulings [before me].

<sup>31</sup> I cling to your instruction;
ADONAI, don't let me be put to shame!

<sup>32</sup> I will run the way of your mitzvot,
for you have broadened my understanding.

𐤁 (Heh)

<sup>33</sup> Teach me, ADONAI, the way of your laws;
keeping them will be its own reward for me.

<sup>34</sup> Give me understanding; then I will keep your Torah;

I will observe it with all my heart.

<sup>35</sup> Guide me on the path of your mitzvot,

for I take pleasure in it.

<sup>36</sup> Bend my heart toward your instructions

and not toward selfish gain.

<sup>37</sup> Turn my eyes away from worthless things;

with your ways, give me life.

<sup>38</sup> Fulfill your promise, which you made to your servant,

which you made to those who fear you.

<sup>39</sup> Avert the disgrace which I dread,

for your rulings are good.

<sup>40</sup> See how I long for your precepts;

in your righteousness, give me life!

יָ (Vav)

<sup>41</sup> May your grace come to me, ADONAI,

your salvation, as you promised;

<sup>42</sup> then I will have an answer for those who taunt me;

for I trust in your word.

<sup>43</sup> Don't take away completely my power to speak the truth;

for I put my hope in your rulings;

<sup>44</sup> and I will keep your Torah always,

forever and ever.

<sup>45</sup> I will go wherever I like,

for I have sought your precepts.

<sup>46</sup> I will speak of your instructions even to kings without being ashamed.

<sup>47</sup> I will delight myself in your mitzvot, which I have loved.

<sup>48</sup> I will lift my hands to your mitzvot, which I love;

and I will meditate on your laws.

י (Zayin)

<sup>49</sup> Remember your promise to your servant,

through which you have given me hope.

<sup>50</sup> In my distress my comfort is this:

that your promise gives me life.

<sup>51</sup> Though the arrogant scorn me completely,

I have not turned away from your Torah.

<sup>52</sup>        ADONAI, I keep in mind your age-old rulings;

in them I take comfort.

<sup>53</sup>        Fury seizes me when I think of the wicked,

because they abandon your Torah.

<sup>54</sup>        Your laws have become my songs

wherever I make my home.

<sup>55</sup>        I remember your name, ADONAI, at night;

and I observe your Torah.

<sup>56</sup>        This [comfort] has come to me, because I observe your precepts.

¶ (Het)

<sup>57</sup>        ADONAI, I say that my task is to observe your words.

<sup>58</sup>        I beg your favor with my whole heart;

show pity to me, in keeping with your promise.

<sup>59</sup>        I thought about my ways

and turned my feet toward your instruction.

<sup>60</sup> I hurry, I don't delay,

to observe your mitzvot.

<sup>61</sup> Even when the cords of the wicked close around me,

I don't forget your Torah.

<sup>62</sup> At midnight I rise to give you thanks

because of your righteous rulings.

<sup>63</sup> I am a friend of all who fear you,

of those who observe your precepts.

<sup>64</sup> The earth, ADONAI, is full of your grace;

teach me your laws.

 (Tet)

<sup>65</sup> You have treated your servant well,

ADONAI, in keeping with your word.

<sup>66</sup> Teach me good judgment and knowledge,

because I trust in your mitzvot.

but now I observe your word.

<sup>68</sup> You are good, and you do good;

teach me your laws.

<sup>69</sup> The arrogant are slandering me,
but I will wholeheartedly keep your precepts.

<sup>70</sup> Their hearts are as thick as fat,
but I take delight in your Torah

<sup>71</sup> It is for my good that I have been humbled;
it was so that I would learn your laws.

<sup>72</sup> The Torah you have spoken means more to me than a fortune in gold and silver.

י (Yud)

<sup>73</sup> Your hands made and formed me;
give me understanding, so I can learn your mitzvot.

<sup>74</sup> Those who fear you rejoice at the sight of me, because I put my hope in your word.

<sup>75</sup> I know, ADONAI, that your rulings are righteous, that even when you humble me you are faithful.

<sup>76</sup> Let your grace comfort me,
in keeping with your promise to your servant.

<sup>77</sup> Show me pity, and I will live,

for your Torah is my delight.

<sup>78</sup> Let the proud be ashamed, because they wrong me with lies;
as for me, I will meditate on your precepts.

<sup>79</sup> Let those who fear you turn to me,
along with those who know your instruction.

<sup>80</sup> Let my heart be pure in your laws,
so that I won't be put to shame.

כ (Kaf)

<sup>81</sup> I am dying to know your salvation;
my hope is in your word.

<sup>82</sup> My eyes fail from watching for your promise;
I ask, "When will you comfort me?"

<sup>83</sup> For I have shriveled like a wineskin in a smoky room;
still, I don't forget your laws.

<sup>84</sup> How long can your servant stay alive?
When will you bring judgment on my persecutors?

<sup>85</sup> The arrogant have dug pits for me to fall in;
this is not in keeping with your Torah!

<sup>86</sup> All your mitzvot [show your] faithfulness;

they are hounding me with lies; help me!

<sup>87</sup> They have nearly ended my life on earth,
but I have not abandoned your precepts.

<sup>88</sup> In keeping with your grace, revive me;
and I will observe your spoken instructions.

ל (Lamed)

<sup>89</sup> Your word continues forever, A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
firmly fixed in heaven;

<sup>90</sup> your faithfulness through all generations;
you established the earth, and it stands.

<sup>91</sup> Yes, it stands today, in keeping with your rulings;
for all things are your servants.

<sup>92</sup> If your Torah had not been my delight,
I would have perished in my distress.

<sup>93</sup> I will never forget your precepts,
for with them you have made me alive.

<sup>94</sup> I am yours; save me because I seek your precepts.

<sup>95</sup>       The wicked hope to destroy me,
but I focus on your instruction.

<sup>96</sup>       I see the limits of all perfection,
but your mitzvah has no bounds.

נ (Mem)

<sup>97</sup>       How I love your Torah!
I meditate on it all day.

<sup>98</sup>       I am wiser than my foes,
because your mitzvot are mine forever.

<sup>99</sup>       I have more understanding than all my teachers, because I meditate on your instruction.

<sup>100</sup>      I understand more than my elders, because I keep your precepts.

<sup>101</sup>      I keep my feet from every evil way,
in order to observe your word.

<sup>102</sup>      I don't turn away from your rulings,
because you have instructed me.

<sup>103</sup>      How sweet to my tongue is your promise, truly sweeter than honey in my mouth!

<sup>104</sup> From your precepts I gain understanding;

this is why I hate every false way.

<sup>105</sup> Your word is a lamp for my foot and light on my path.

<sup>106</sup> I have sworn an oath and confirmed it,

that I will observe your righteous rulings.

<sup>107</sup> I am very much distressed;

ADONAI, give me life, in keeping with your word.

<sup>108</sup> Please accept my mouth's voluntary offerings, ADONAI;

and teach me your rulings.

<sup>109</sup> I am continually taking my life in my hands, yet I haven't forgotten your Torah.

<sup>110</sup> The wicked have set a trap for me,

yet I haven't strayed from your precepts.

<sup>111</sup> I take your instruction as a permanent heritage,

because it is the joy of my heart.

<sup>112</sup> I have resolved to obey your laws

forever, at every step.

◻ (Samekh)

<sup>113</sup> I hate doubleminded people,

but I love your Torah.

<sup>114</sup> You are my hiding-place and shield;

I put my hope in your word.

<sup>115</sup> Leave me alone, you evildoers,

so that I can keep my God's mitzvot.

<sup>116</sup> Uphold me, as you promised; and I will live;

don't disappoint me in my hope.

<sup>117</sup> Support me; and I will be saved, always putting my attention on your laws.

<sup>118</sup> You reject all who stray from your laws,

for what they deceive themselves with is false.

<sup>119</sup> You discard the wicked of the earth like slag;

this is why I love your instruction.

<sup>120</sup> My body trembles for fear of you;

your rulings make me afraid.

don't abandon me to my oppressors.

<sup>122</sup> Guarantee your servant's well-being;

don't let the arrogant oppress me.

<sup>123</sup> My eyes fail from watching for your salvation and for [the fulfillment of] your righteous promise.

<sup>124</sup> Deal with your servant in accordance with your grace,

and teach me your laws.

<sup>125</sup> I am your servant; give me understanding,

so that I can know your instruction.

<sup>126</sup> The time has come for ADONAI to act,

because they are breaking your Torah.

<sup>127</sup> Therefore I love your mitzvot

more than gold, more than fine gold.

<sup>128</sup> Thus I direct my steps by [your] precepts;

every false way I hate.

פ (Peh)

Your instruction is a wonder;
this is why I follow it.

<sup>130</sup> Your words are a doorway that lets in light, giving understanding to the thoughtless.

<sup>131</sup> My mouth is wide open, as I pant with longing for your mitzvot.

<sup>132</sup> Turn to me, and show me your favor;
in keeping with [your] judgment for those who love your name.

<sup>133</sup> Guide my footsteps by your word;
don't let any kind of sin rule me.

<sup>134</sup> Redeem me from human oppression,
and I will observe your precepts.

<sup>135</sup> Make your face shine on your servant,
and teach me your laws.

<sup>136</sup> Rivers of tears flow down from my eyes, because they don't observe your Torah.

ז (Tzadeh)

<sup>137</sup> You are righteous, ADONAI;
and your rulings are upright.

<sup>138</sup> You have commanded your instructions
in righteousness and great faithfulness.

<sup>139</sup> My zeal is destroying me,
because my foes have forgotten your words.

<sup>140</sup> Your word is refined to complete purity,
and your servant loves it.

<sup>141</sup> I may be small and despised,
but I do not forget your precepts.

<sup>142</sup> Your righteousness is eternal righteousness, and your Torah is truth.

<sup>143</sup> Trouble and distress have overtaken me,
but your mitzvot are my delight.

give me understanding, and I will live.

P (Kuf)

<sup>145</sup> Wholeheartedly I am calling on you;
answer me, ADONAI; I will keep your laws.

<sup>146</sup> I am calling on you; save me;

and I will observe your instruction.

<sup>147</sup> I rise before dawn and cry for help;

I put my hope in your word.

<sup>148</sup> My eyes are open before the night watches,

so that I can meditate on your promise.

ADONAI, in keeping with your justice, revive me.

<sup>150</sup> The pursuers of carnality are getting close;

they are distancing themselves from your Torah.

<sup>151</sup> You are close by, ADONAI;

and all your mitzvot are truth.

<sup>152</sup> Long ago I learned from your instruction

that you established it forever.

⌒ (Resh)

<sup>153</sup> Look at my distress, and rescue me,

for I do not forget your Torah.

<sup>154</sup> Plead my cause, and redeem me;

in keeping with your promise, revive me.

<sup>155</sup> Salvation is far away from the wicked,

because they don't seek your laws.

<sup>156</sup> Great is your compassion, A<sub>DONAI</sub>;

in keeping with your rulings, revive me.

<sup>157</sup> Although my persecutors and foes are many,

I have not turned away from your instruction.

<sup>158</sup> I look at traitors with disgust,

because they don't keep your word.

<sup>159</sup> See how I love your precepts, A<sub>DONAI</sub>;

in keeping with your grace, revive me.

<sup>160</sup> The main thing about your word is that it's true;

and all your just rulings last forever.

 (Shin)

<sup>161</sup> Princes persecute me for no reason,

but my heart stands in awe of your words.

<sup>162</sup> I take joy in your promise,

like someone who finds much booty.

<sup>163</sup> I hate falsehood, I detest it;

but I love your Torah.

<sup>164</sup> I praise you seven times a day

because of your righteous rulings.

<sup>165</sup> Those who love your Torah have great peace;

nothing makes them stumble.

<sup>166</sup> I hope for your deliverance, A<sub>DONAI</sub>;

I obey your mitzvot.

<sup>167</sup> My soul observes your instruction, and I love it so much!

<sup>168</sup> I observe your precepts and instruction,

for all my ways lie open before you.

<sup>169</sup> Let my cry come before you, A<sub>DONAI</sub>;
in keeping with your word, give me understanding.

<sup>170</sup> Let my prayer come before you;
in keeping with your promise, rescue me.

<sup>171</sup> Let my lips speak praise,
because you teach me your laws.

<sup>172</sup> Let my tongue sing of your promise,
because all your mitzvot are righteous.

<sup>173</sup> Let your hand be ready to help me,
because I choose your precepts.

<sup>174</sup> I long for your deliverance, A<sub>DONAI</sub>;
and your Torah is my delight.

<sup>175</sup> Let me live, and I will praise you;
let your rulings help me.

<sup>176</sup> I strayed like a lost sheep; seek out your servant;
for I do not forget your mitzvot.

<sup>(1)</sup> I called to A<sub>DONAI</sub> in my distress,
and he answered me.

<sup>2</sup> Rescue me, A<sub>DONAI</sub>, from lips that tell lies,
from a tongue full of deceit.

<sup>3</sup> What has he in store for you, deceitful tongue?
What more will he do to you?

<sup>4</sup> A warrior's sharp arrows,
with red-hot coals from a broom tree.

<sup>5</sup> How wretched I am, that I'm an alien in Meshekh, that I must live among the tents of Keidar!

<sup>6</sup> I have had to live far too long with those who hate peace.

<sup>7</sup> I am all for peace;
but when I speak, they are for war.

121 <sup>1(0)</sup> A song of ascents:

<sup>(1)</sup> If I raise my eyes to the hills,
from where will my help come?

<sup>2</sup> My help comes from A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

the maker of heaven and earth.

<sup>3</sup> He will not let your foot slip — your guardian is not asleep.

<sup>4</sup> No, the guardian of Isra'el
never slumbers or sleeps.

<sup>5</sup> ADONAI is your guardian; at your right hand
ADONAI provides you with shade —

<sup>6</sup> the sun can't strike you during the day or even the moon at night.

<sup>7</sup> ADONAI will guard you against all harm;
he will guard your life.

<sup>8</sup> ADONAI will guard your coming and going
from now on and forever.

122 <sup>1(0)</sup> A song of ascents. By David:

<sup>(1)</sup> I was glad when they said to me,
“The house of ADONAI! Let's go!”

<sup>2</sup> Our feet were already standing at your gates, Yerushalayim.

<sup>3</sup> Yerushalayim, built as a city fostering friendship and unity.

<sup>4</sup> The tribes have gone up there, the tribes of A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
as a witness to Isra'el,
to give thanks to the name of A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

<sup>5</sup> For there the thrones of justice were set up, the thrones of the house of David.

may those who love you prosper.

<sup>7</sup> May shalom be within your ramparts, prosperity in your palaces.

<sup>8</sup> For the sake of my family and friends, I say, “Shalom be within you!”

<sup>9</sup> For the sake of the house of A<sub>DONAI</sub> our God,
I will seek your well-being.

123 <sup>1(0)</sup> A song of ascents:

<sup>(1)</sup> I raise my eyes to you,
whose throne is in heaven.

<sup>2</sup> As a servant looks to the hand of his master,
or a slave-girl to the hand of her mistress,
so our eyes turn to A<sub>DONAI</sub> our God,
until he has mercy on us.

<sup>3</sup> Have mercy on us, A<sub>DONAI</sub>, have mercy;
for we have had our fill of contempt,

<sup>4</sup> more than our fill of scorn from the complacent and contempt from the arrogant.

124 <sup>1(0)</sup> A song of ascents. By David:

let Isra'el repeat it —

when people rose to attack us,

<sup>3</sup> then, when their anger blazed against us,
they would have swallowed us alive!

<sup>4</sup> Then the water would have engulfed us,
the torrent would have swept over us.

<sup>5</sup> Yes, the raging water would have swept right over us.

<sup>6</sup> Blessed be A<sub>DONAI</sub>, who did not leave us to be a prey for their teeth!

<sup>7</sup> We escaped like a bird from the hunter's trap;
the trap is broken, and we have escaped.

<sup>8</sup> Our help is in the name of A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
the maker of heaven and earth.

125 <sup>1(0)</sup> A song of ascents:

<sup>(1)</sup> Those who trust in A<sub>DONAI</sub>
are like Mount Tziyon, which cannot be moved
but remains forever.

<sup>2</sup> Yerushalayim!
Mountains all around it!
Thus A<sub>DONAI</sub> is around his people
henceforth and forever.

<sup>3</sup> For the scepter of wickedness
will not rule the inheritance of the righteous,

so that the righteous will not themselves
turn their hands to evil.

<sup>4</sup> Do good, A<sub>DONAI</sub>, to the good,
to those upright in their hearts.

<sup>5</sup> But as for those who turn aside
to their own crooked ways,
may A<sub>DONAI</sub> turn them away,
along with those who do evil.

Shalom on Isra'el!

126 <sup>1(0)</sup> A song of ascents:

<sup>(1)</sup> When A<sub>DONAI</sub> restored Tziyon's fortunes,
we thought we were dreaming.

<sup>2</sup> Our mouths were full of laughter,
and our tongues shouted for joy.

Among the nations it was said,
“A<sub>DONAI</sub> has done great things for them!”

<sup>3</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub> did do great things with us;
and we are overjoyed.

Return our people from exile, A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
as streams fill vadis in the Negev.

<sup>5</sup> Those who sow in tears
will reap with cries of joy.

<sup>6</sup> He who goes out weeping
as he carries his sack of seed will come home with cries of joy
as he carries his sheaves of grain.

127 <sup>1(0)</sup> A song of ascents. By Shlomo:

its builders work in vain.
Unless A<sub>DONAI</sub> guards the city,
the guard keeps watch in vain.

<sup>2</sup> In vain do you get up early and put off going to bed,
working hard to earn a living;
for he provides for his beloved,
even when they sleep.

Children too are a gift from A<sub>DONAI</sub>;
the fruit of the womb is a reward.

<sup>4</sup> The children born when one is young are like arrows in the hand of a warrior.

<sup>5</sup> How blessed is the man who has filled his quiver with them;
he will not have to be embarrassed
when contending with foes at the city gate.

128 <sup>1(0)</sup> A song of ascents:

<sup>(1)</sup> How happy is everyone who fears A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
who lives by his ways.

<sup>2</sup> You will eat what your hands have produced;
you will be happy and prosperous.

<sup>3</sup> Your wife will be like a fruitful vine
in the inner parts of your house.
Your children around the table will be like shoots from an olive tree.

<sup>4</sup> This is the kind of blessing that will fall on him who fears A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

<sup>5</sup> May A<sub>DONAI</sub> bless you from Tziyon!

May you see Yerushalayim prosper

all the days of your life,

<sup>6</sup> and may you live to see your children's children!

Shalom on Isra'el.

129 <sup>1(0)</sup> A song of ascents:

<sup>(1)</sup> Since I was young they have often attacked me —

let Isra'el repeat it —

<sup>2</sup> since I was young they have often attacked me,

but they haven't overcome me.

wounding me with long furrows.

<sup>4</sup> But A<sub>DONAI</sub> is righteous;

he cuts me free from the yoke of the wicked.

<sup>5</sup> Let all who hate Tziyon

be thrown back in confusion.

<sup>6</sup> Let them be like grass on the roof,

which dries out before it grows up
and never fills the reaper's hands or the arms of the one who binds sheaves, <sup>8</sup> so that no passer-by says,

“A<sub>DONAI</sub>'s blessing on you!

We bless you in the name of A<sub>DONAI</sub>!”

130 <sup>1(0)</sup> A song of ascents. By David:

<sup>2</sup> hear my cry, Adonai!

Let your ears pay attention to the sound of my pleading.

<sup>3</sup> Yah, if you kept a record of sins,
who, Adonai, could stand?

<sup>4</sup> But with you there is forgiveness,
so that you will be feared.

<sup>5</sup> I wait longingly for A<sub>DONAI</sub>;
I put my hope in his word.

more than guards on watch wait for morning,

more than guards on watch wait for morning.

<sup>7</sup> Isra'el, put your hope in ADONAI!

For grace is found with ADONAI,
and with him is unlimited redemption.

<sup>8</sup> He will redeem Isra'el

from all their wrongdoings.

131 <sup>1(0)</sup> A song of ascents. By David:

<sup>(1)</sup> ADONAI, my heart isn't proud;

I don't set my sight too high,

I don't take part in great affairs

or in wonders far beyond me.

<sup>2</sup> No, I keep myself calm and quiet,

like a little child on its mother's lap —

I keep myself like a little child.

<sup>3</sup> Isra'el, put your hope in ADONAI,

from now on and forever!

132 <sup>1(0)</sup> A song of ascents:

<sup>(1)</sup> ADONAI, remember in David's favor

all the hardships he endured,

<sup>2</sup>        how he swore to ADONAI,

vowed to the Mighty One of Ya‘akov,

<sup>3</sup>        “I will not enter the house where I live or get into my bed,

<sup>4</sup>        I will not allow myself to sleep

or even close my eyes,

<sup>6</sup>        We heard about it in Efrat,

we found it in the Fields of Ya’ar.

<sup>7</sup>        Let’s go into his dwelling and prostrate ourselves at his footstool.

<sup>8</sup>        Go up, ADONAI, to your resting-place,

you and the ark through which you give strength.

<sup>9</sup>        May your cohanim be clothed with righteousness;

may those loyal to you shout for joy.

<sup>10</sup>       For the sake of your servant David,

don't turn away the face of your anointed one.

<sup>11</sup>        A<sub>DONAI</sub> swore an oath to David,

an oath he will not break:

“One of the sons from your own body

I will set on your throne.

<sup>12</sup>        If your sons keep my covenant

and my instruction, which I will teach them,

then their descendants too, forever,

will sit on your throne.”

<sup>13</sup>        For A<sub>DONAI</sub> has chosen Tziyon,

he has wanted it as his home.

<sup>14</sup>        “This is my resting-place forever,

I will live here because I so much want to.

<sup>15</sup>        I will bless it with plenty of meat,

I will give its poor their fill of food.

<sup>16</sup>        Its cohanim I will clothe with salvation,

and its faithful will shout for joy.

<sup>17</sup>        I will make a king sprout there from David's line and prepare a lamp for my anointed one.

<sup>18</sup>

His enemies I will clothe with shame,
but on him there will be a shining crown.”

133 <sup>1(0)</sup> A song of ascents. By David:

Oh, how good, how pleasant it is for brothers to live together in harmony.

<sup>2</sup>

It is like fragrant oil on the head
that runs down over the beard,
over the beard of Aharon,
and flows down on the collar of his robes.

<sup>3</sup>

It is like the dew of Hermon
that settles on the mountains of Tziyon.
For it was there that A<sub>DONAI</sub> ordained
the blessing of everlasting life.

134 <sup>1(0)</sup> A song of ascents:

<sup>(1)</sup>

Come, bless A<sub>DONAI</sub>, all you servants of A<sub>DONAI</sub>, who serve each night in the house of A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

<sup>2</sup>

Lift your hands toward the sanctuary,
and bless A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

<sup>3</sup> May A<sub>DONAI</sub>, the maker of heaven and earth, bless you from Tziyon.

<sup>(1)</sup> Give praise to the name of A<sub>DONAI</sub>!

Servants of A<sub>DONAI</sub>, give praise!

<sup>2</sup> You who stand in the house of A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
in the courtyards of the house of our God,

sing to his name, because it is pleasant.

<sup>4</sup> For Yah chose Ya‘akov for himself, Isra’el as his own unique treasure.

<sup>5</sup> I know that A<sub>DONAI</sub> is great,
that our Lord is above all gods.

<sup>6</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub> does whatever pleases him,
in heaven, on earth, in the seas, in all the depths.

<sup>7</sup> He raises clouds from the ends of the earth,
he makes the lightning flash in the rain
and brings the wind out from his storehouses.

<sup>8</sup> He struck down Egypt’s firstborn, humans and animals alike.

<sup>9</sup> He sent signs and wonders among you, Egypt, against Pharaoh and all his subjects.

<sup>10</sup> He struck many nations,
and slaughtered mighty kings —

‘Og king of Bashan,
and all the kingdoms of Kena‘an.

<sup>12</sup> Then he gave their land as a heritage,
to be possessed by Isra’el his people.

<sup>13</sup> ADONAI, your name continues forever,
your renown, ADONAI, through all generations.

<sup>14</sup> For ADONAI will vindicate his people,
he will take pity on his servants.

<sup>15</sup> The idols of the nations are mere silver and gold,
made by human hands.

<sup>16</sup> They have mouths, but they can’t speak;
they have eyes, but they can’t see;

<sup>17</sup> they have ears, but they can’t listen;

and they have no breath in their mouths.

<sup>18</sup> The people who make them will become like them,
along with everyone who trusts in them.

<sup>19</sup> House of Isra'el, bless ADONAI!

House of Aharon, bless ADONAI!

<sup>20</sup> House of Levi, bless ADONAI!

You who fear ADONAI, bless ADONAI!

<sup>21</sup> Blessed be ADONAI out of Tziyon,

he who dwells in Yerushalayim!

Halleluyah!

136 <sup>1</sup> Give thanks to ADONAI, for he is good,
for his grace continues forever.

<sup>2</sup> Give thanks to the God of gods,
for his grace continues forever.

<sup>3</sup> Give thanks to the Lord of lords,
for his grace continues forever;

<sup>4</sup> to him who alone has done great wonders,
for his grace continues forever;

<sup>5</sup> to him who skillfully made the heavens,

for his grace continues forever;

<sup>6</sup> to him who spread out the earth on the water,

for his grace continues forever;

<sup>7</sup> to him who made the great lights,

for his grace continues forever;

<sup>8</sup> the sun to rule the day,

for his grace continues forever;

<sup>9</sup> the moon and stars to rule the night,

for his grace continues forever;

<sup>10</sup> to him who struck down Egypt's firstborn,

for his grace continues forever;

<sup>11</sup> and brought Isra'el out from among them,

for his grace continues forever;

<sup>12</sup> with a mighty hand and an outstretched arm,

for his grace continues forever;

<sup>13</sup> to him who split apart the Sea of Suf,

for his grace continues forever;

and made Isra'el cross right through it,
for his grace continues forever;

<sup>15</sup> but swept Pharaoh and his army into the Sea of Suf,
for his grace continues forever;

<sup>16</sup> to him who led his people through the desert,
for his grace continues forever;

<sup>17</sup> to him who struck down great kings,
for his grace continues forever;

<sup>18</sup> yes, he slaughtered powerful kings,
for his grace continues forever;

<sup>19</sup> Sichon king of the Emori,
for his grace continues forever;

<sup>20</sup> and 'Og king of Bashan,
for his grace continues forever;

<sup>21</sup> then he gave their land as a heritage,
for his grace continues forever;

<sup>22</sup> to be possessed by Isra'el his servant,
for his grace continues forever;

who remembers us whenever we are brought low,
for his grace continues forever;

<sup>24</sup> and rescues us from our enemies,
for his grace continues forever;

<sup>25</sup> who provides food for every living creature,
for his grace continues forever.

<sup>26</sup> Give thanks to the God of heaven,
for his grace continues forever.

137<sup>1</sup> By the rivers of Babel we sat down and wept
as we remembered Tziyon.

<sup>2</sup> We had hung up our lyres
on the willows that were there,

<sup>3</sup> when those who had taken us captive
asked us to sing them a song;
our tormentors demanded joy from us —

<sup>4</sup> How can we sing a song about A<sub>DONAI</sub>
here on foreign soil?

<sup>5</sup> If I forget you, Yerushalayim,
may my right hand wither away!

<sup>6</sup> May my tongue stick to the roof of my mouth
if I fail to remember you,
if I fail to count Yerushalayim
the greatest of all my joys.

<sup>7</sup> Remember, A<sub>DONAI</sub>, against the people of Edom
the day of Yerushalayim's fall,
how they cried, "Tear it down! Tear it down!
Raze it to the ground!"

<sup>8</sup> Daughter of Bavel, you will be destroyed!
A blessing on anyone who pays you back for the way you treated us!

<sup>9</sup> A blessing on anyone who seizes your babies
and smashes them against a rock!

<sup>(1)</sup> I give you thanks with all my heart.
Not to idols, but to you I sing praise.

I bow down toward your holy temple
and give thanks to your name for your grace and truth;
for you have made your word [even] greater than the whole of your reputation.

<sup>3</sup> When I called, you answered me,
you made me bold and strong.

<sup>4</sup> All the kings of the earth will thank you, ADONAI,
when they hear the words you have spoken.

<sup>5</sup> They will sing about ADONAI's ways,
“Great is the glory of ADONAI!”

<sup>6</sup> For though ADONAI is high, he cares for the lowly;
while the proud he perceives from afar.

<sup>7</sup> You keep me alive when surrounded by danger;
you put out your hand when my enemies rage;
with your right hand you save me.

<sup>8</sup> ADONAI will fulfill his purpose for me.
Your grace, ADONAI, continues forever.
Don't abandon the work of your hands!

139 <sup>1(0)</sup> For the leader. A psalm of David:

<sup>(1)</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub>, you have probed me, and you know me.

you discern my inclinations from afar,

<sup>3</sup> you scrutinize my daily activities.

You are so familiar with all my ways

<sup>4</sup> that before I speak even a word, A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

you know all about it already.

<sup>5</sup> You have hemmed me in both behind and in front and laid your hand on me.

<sup>6</sup> Such wonderful knowledge is beyond me,

far too high for me to reach.

<sup>7</sup> Where can I go to escape your Spirit?

Where can I flee from your presence?

<sup>8</sup> If I climb up to heaven, you are there;

if I lie down in Sh'ol, you are there.

<sup>9</sup> If I fly away with the wings of the dawn

and land beyond the sea,

<sup>10</sup> even there your hand would lead me,

your right hand would hold me fast.

<sup>11</sup> If I say, “Let darkness surround me, let the light around me be night,”

<sup>12</sup> even darkness like this is not too dark for you;
rather, night is as clear as day,
darkness and light are the same.

<sup>13</sup> For you fashioned my inmost being,
you knit me together in my mother’s womb.

<sup>14</sup> I thank you because I am awesomely made, wonderfully; your works are wonders —
I know this very well.

<sup>15</sup> My bones were not hidden from you
when I was being made in secret, intricately woven in the depths of the earth.

<sup>16</sup> Your eyes could see me as an embryo,
but in your book all my days were already written;
my days had been shaped
before any of them existed.

<sup>17</sup> God, how I prize your thoughts!

How many of them there are!

<sup>18</sup> If I count them, there are more than grains of sand;

if I finish the count, I am still with you.

<sup>19</sup> God, if only you would kill off the wicked!

Men of blood, get away from me!

<sup>20</sup> They invoke your name for their crafty schemes;

yes, your enemies misuse it.

<sup>21</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub>, how I hate those who hate you!

I feel such disgust with those who defy you!

<sup>22</sup> I hate them with unlimited hatred!

They have become my enemies too.

<sup>23</sup> Examine me, God, and know my heart;

test me, and know my thoughts.

<sup>24</sup> See if there is in me any hurtful way,

and lead me along the eternal way.

<sup>3(2)</sup> They plan evil things in their hearts —

they continually stir up bitter strife.

<sup>4(3)</sup> They have made their tongues as sharp as a snake's;
viper's venom is under their lips.

(Selah)

<sup>5(4)</sup> Keep me, ADONAI, from the hands of the wicked,

protect me from violent people

who are trying to trip me up.

<sup>6(5)</sup> The arrogant hide snares for me;

they spread nets by the side of the road,

hoping to trap me there.

(Selah)

<sup>7(6)</sup> I said to ADONAI, "You are my God;

listen, ADONAI, to my plea for mercy."

<sup>8(7)</sup> ADONAI, Adonai, my saving strength,

my helmet shielding my head in battle,

<sup>9(8)</sup> ADONAI, don't grant the wicked their wishes;
make their plot fail, so they won't grow proud.

(Selah)

<sup>10(9)</sup> May the heads of those who surround me

be engulfed in the evil they spoke of, themselves.

<sup>11(10)</sup> May burning coals rain down on them,
may they be flung into the fire,
flung into deep pits,
never to rise again.

<sup>12(11)</sup> Let slanderers find no place in the land;
let the violent and evil be hunted relentlessly.

<sup>13(12)</sup> I know that A<sub>DONAI</sub> gives justice to the poor and maintains the rights of the needy.

<sup>14(13)</sup> The righteous will surely give thanks to your name;
the upright will live in your presence.

141 <sup>1(0)</sup> A psalm of David:

<sup>(1)</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub>, I have called you; come to me quickly!
Listen to my plea when I call to you.

<sup>2</sup> Let my prayer be like incense set before you,
my uplifted hands like an evening sacrifice.

<sup>3</sup> Set a guard, A<sub>DONAI</sub>, over my mouth;
keep watch at the door of my lips.

<sup>4</sup> Don't let my heart turn to anything evil

or allow me to act wickedly
with men who are evildoers;
keep me from eating their delicacies.

<sup>5</sup> Let the righteous strike me, let him correct me;
it will be an act of love.

Let my head not refuse such choice oil,
for I will keep on praying about their wickedness.

[the wicked] will hear that my words were fitting.

<sup>7</sup> As when one plows and breaks the ground into clods,
our bones are strewn at the mouth of Sh'ol.

<sup>8</sup> For my eyes, ADONAI, Adonai, are on you;
in you I take refuge; don't pour out my life.

<sup>9</sup> Keep me from the trap they have set for me,
from the snares of evildoers.

<sup>10</sup> Let the wicked fall into their own nets, while I pass by in safety.

142 <sup>1(0)</sup> A maskil of David, when he was in the cave. A prayer:

With my voice I cry to A<sub>DONAI</sub>, with my voice I plead to A<sub>DONAI</sub> for mercy.

<sup>3(2)</sup> Before him I pour out my complaint,
before him I tell my trouble.

<sup>4(3)</sup> When my spirit faints within me,
you watch over my path.

By the road that I am walking
they have hidden a snare for me.

<sup>5(4)</sup> Look to my right, and see that no one recognizes me.
I have no way of escape;
nobody cares for me.

<sup>6(5)</sup> I cried out to you, A<sub>DONAI</sub>;
I said, “You are my refuge,
my portion in the land of the living.”

<sup>7(6)</sup> Listen to my cry,
for I have been brought very low.
Rescue me from my persecutors,
for they are too strong for me.

<sup>8(7)</sup>

Lead me out of prison,
so that I can give thanks to your name;
in me the righteous will be crowning themselves,
because you will have treated me generously.

143 <sup>1(0)</sup> A psalm of David:

<sup>(1)</sup>

A<sub>DONAI</sub>, hear my prayer;
listen to my pleas for mercy.
In your faithfulness, answer me,
and in your righteousness.

<sup>2</sup>

Don't bring your servant to trial,
since in your sight no one alive
would be considered righteous.

<sup>3</sup>

For an enemy is pursuing me;
he has crushed my life into the ground
and left me to live in darkness,
like those who have been long dead.

<sup>4</sup>

My spirit faints within me;
my heart is appalled within me.

<sup>5</sup>

I remember the days of old,
reflecting on all your deeds,
thinking about the work of your hands.

<sup>6</sup> I spread out my hands to you,
I long for you like a thirsty land. (Selah)

<sup>7</sup> Answer me quickly, ADONAI,
because my spirit is fainting.
Don't hide your face from me,
or I'll be like those who drop down into a pit.

<sup>8</sup> Make me hear of your love in the morning,
because I rely on you.
Make me know the way I should walk,
because I entrust myself to you.

<sup>9</sup> ADONAI, rescue me from my enemies;
I have hidden myself with you.

<sup>10</sup> Teach me to do your will,
because you are my God.
Let your good Spirit guide me
on ground that is level.

For your name's sake, ADONAI, preserve my life;
in your righteousness, bring me out of distress.

<sup>12</sup> In your grace, cut off my enemies;
destroy all those harassing me;
because I am your servant.

144 <sup>1(0)</sup> By David:

<sup>(1)</sup> Blessed be ADONAI, my rock, who trains my hands for war
and my fingers for battle.

<sup>2</sup> He shows me grace; and he is my fortress,
my stronghold, in whom I find shelter,
my shield, in whom I take refuge,
who subdues my people under me.

<sup>3</sup> ADONAI, what are mere mortals,
that you notice them at all;
humans, that you think about them?

<sup>4</sup> Man is like a puff of wind,
his days like a fleeting shadow.

ADONAI, lower the heavens, and come down;
touch the mountains, make them pour out smoke.

<sup>6</sup> Shoot out lightning, and scatter them;
send out your arrows, and rout them.

<sup>7</sup> Reach out your hands from on high;
rescue me; save me out of deep water,
out of the power of strangers,

<sup>8</sup> whose mouths speak worthless words
and whose right hands swear false oaths.

<sup>9</sup> God, I will sing a new song to you;
sing praises to you with a ten-stringed harp.

<sup>10</sup> You give kings their victories;
you save your servant David from the cruel sword.

<sup>11</sup> Rescue me, save me from the power of strangers, whose mouths speak worthless words
and whose right hands swear false oaths.

<sup>12</sup> Our sons in their youth will be like full-grown saplings,
our daughters will be like sculptured pillars

fit for the corner of a palace.

<sup>13</sup>

Our barns are full with crops of every kind;
the sheep in our fields number thousands, tens of thousands.

<sup>14</sup>

our oxen are well-fed,
our city walls have no breach,
our people are not taken captive,
and there are no cries of protest in our cities' open places.

<sup>15</sup>

How happy the people who live in such conditions!
How happy the people whose God is ADONAI!

145 <sup>1(0)</sup> Praise. By David:

I will praise you to the heights, my God, the king;
I will bless your name forever and ever.

<sup>2</sup>

Every day I will bless you;
I will praise your name forever and ever.

<sup>3</sup>

Great is ADONAI and greatly to be praised;
his greatness is beyond all searching out.

<sup>4</sup>

Each generation will praise your works to the next and proclaim your mighty acts.

<sup>5</sup>

I will meditate on the glorious splendor
of your majesty and on the story of your wonders.

<sup>6</sup> People will speak of your awesome power,
and I will tell of your great deeds.

<sup>7</sup> They will gush forth the fame of your abounding goodness, and they will sing of your righteousness.

<sup>8</sup> ADONAI is merciful and compassionate,
slow to anger and great in grace.

<sup>9</sup> ADONAI is good to all;
his compassion rests on all his creatures.

<sup>10</sup> All your creatures will thank you, ADONAI,
and your faithful servants will bless you.

<sup>11</sup> They will speak of the glory of your kingship, and they will tell about your might;

<sup>12</sup> to let everyone know of your mighty acts
and the glorious majesty of your kingship.

<sup>13</sup> Your kingship is an everlasting kingship,
your reign continues through all generations.

<sup>14</sup> ADONAI supports all who fall

and lifts up all who are bent over.

<sup>15</sup> The eyes of all are looking to you;

you give them their food at the right time.

<sup>16</sup> You open your hand

and satisfy the desire of every living thing.

<sup>17</sup> ADONAI is righteous in all his ways,

full of grace in all he does.

<sup>18</sup> ADONAI is close to all who call on him,

to all who sincerely call on him.

<sup>19</sup> He fulfills the desire of those who fear him;

he hears their cry and saves them.

<sup>20</sup> ADONAI protects all who love him,

but all the wicked he destroys.

<sup>21</sup> My mouth will proclaim the praise of ADONAI;

all people will bless his holy name forever and ever.

Praise ADONAI, my soul!

<sup>2</sup> I will praise ADONAI as long as I live.

I will sing praise to my God all my life.

<sup>3</sup> Don't put your trust in princes

or in mortals, who cannot help.

<sup>4</sup> When they breathe their last, they return to dust;

on that very day all their plans are gone.

<sup>5</sup> Happy is he whose help is Ya'akov's God,

whose hope is in ADONAI his God.

<sup>6</sup> He made heaven and earth,

the sea and everything in them;

he keeps faith forever.

<sup>7</sup> He secures justice for the oppressed,

he gives food to the hungry.

ADONAI sets prisoners free,

<sup>8</sup> ADONAI opens the eyes of the blind,

ADONAI lifts up those who are bent over.

ADONAI loves the righteous.

<sup>9</sup> ADONAI watches over strangers,

he sustains the fatherless and widows;

but the way of the wicked he twists.

<sup>10</sup>        A<sub>DONAI</sub> will reign forever, your God, Tziyon, through all generations.

147 <sup>1</sup> Halleluyah!

How good it is to sing praises to our God!
How sweet, how fitting to praise him!

<sup>2</sup>        A<sub>DONAI</sub> is rebuilding Yerushalayim, gathering the dispersed of Isra'el.

<sup>3</sup>        He heals the brokenhearted
and binds up their wounds.

<sup>4</sup>        He determines how many stars there are
and calls them all by name.

<sup>5</sup>        Our Lord is great, his power is vast,
his wisdom beyond all telling.

<sup>6</sup>        A<sub>DONAI</sub> sustains the humble
but brings the wicked down to the ground.

<sup>7</sup>        Sing to A<sub>DONAI</sub> with thanks, sing praises on the lyre to our God.

<sup>8</sup> He veils the sky with clouds;

he provides the earth with rain;

he makes grass grow on the hills;

<sup>9</sup> he gives food to the animals,

even to the young ravens when they cry.

<sup>10</sup> He takes no delight in the strength of a horse,

no pleasure in a runner's speed.

<sup>11</sup> ADONAI takes pleasure in those who fear him,

in those who wait for his grace.

<sup>12</sup> Glorify ADONAI, Yerushalayim!

Praise your God, Tziyon!

<sup>13</sup> For he strengthens the bars of your gates,

he blesses your children within you,

<sup>14</sup> he brings peace within your borders,

he gives you your fill of the finest wheat.

<sup>15</sup> He sends his word out over the earth,

his command runs swiftly.

<sup>16</sup> Thus he gives snow like wool,

scatters hoarfrost like ashes,

<sup>17</sup> sends crystals of ice like crumbs of bread —

who can withstand such cold?

<sup>18</sup> Then he sends his word out and melts them;

he makes the winds blow, and the water flows.

<sup>19</sup> He reveals his words to Ya‘akov,

his laws and rulings to Isra’el.

<sup>20</sup> He has not done this for other nations;

they do not know his rulings.

148 <sup>1</sup> Halleluyah!

Praise ADONAI from the heavens!

Praise him in the heights!

<sup>2</sup> Praise him, all his angels!

Praise him, all his armies!

<sup>3</sup> Praise him, sun and moon!

Praise him, all shining stars!

<sup>4</sup> Praise him, highest heaven,

and waters above the heavens!

for he commanded, and they were created.

<sup>6</sup> He established them forever and ever;

he has given a law to which they must conform.

<sup>7</sup> Praise ADONAI from the earth,

sea monsters and watery depths,

<sup>8</sup> fire and hail, snow and mist,

storm-winds that obey his word,

<sup>9</sup> mountains and every hill,

fruit trees and all cedars,

<sup>10</sup> wild animals and all livestock,

creeping reptiles, flying birds,

<sup>11</sup> kings of the earth and all peoples,

princes and all rulers on earth,

<sup>12</sup> young men and women alike,

old men and children.

<sup>13</sup> Let them praise the name of ADONAI,

for his name alone is exalted;
his glory is above both earth and heaven.

<sup>14</sup> He has increased the power of his people, granted praise to all his faithful,
to the descendants of Isra'el,
a people close to him.

Halleluyah!

149 <sup>1</sup> Halleluyah!

Sing to ADONAI a new song,
his praise in the assembly of the faithful.

<sup>2</sup> Let Isra'el rejoice in their maker,
let Tziyon's children take joy in their king.

<sup>3</sup> Let them praise his name with dancing,
make melody to him with tambourine and lyre;

<sup>4</sup> for ADONAI takes delight in his people,
he crowns the humble with salvation.

<sup>5</sup> Let the faithful exult gloriously,
let them sing for joy on their beds.

Let the high praises of God be in their throats,
but a two-edged sword in their hands <sup>7</sup> to carry out vengeance on the nations and punishment on the peoples, <sup>8</sup> to bind their kings with chains
and put their nobles in irons, <sup>9</sup> to execute the judgments decreed for them;
for this will glorify all his faithful.

150 <sup>1</sup> Halleluyah!

Praise God in his holy place!
Praise him in the heavenly dome of his power!
<sup>2</sup> Praise him for his mighty deeds!
Praise him for his surpassing greatness!
<sup>3</sup> Praise him with a blast on the shofar!
Praise him with lute and lyre!
<sup>4</sup> Praise him with tambourines and dancing!
Praise him with flutes and strings!

<sup>5</sup> Praise him with clanging cymbals!

Praise him with loud crashing cymbals!

<sup>6</sup> Let everything that has breath praise A<sub>DONAI</sub>!

Halleluyah!

Mishlei

PROVERBS

1<sup>1</sup> The proverbs of Shlomo the son of David,
king of Isra'el,

<sup>2</sup> are for learning about wisdom and discipline;
for understanding words expressing deep insight;

<sup>3</sup> for gaining an intelligently disciplined life,
doing what is right, just and fair;

<sup>4</sup> for endowing with caution those who don't think and the young person with knowledge and discretion.

<sup>5</sup> Someone who is already wise
will hear and learn still more;
someone who already understands
will gain the ability to counsel well;

<sup>6</sup> he will understand proverbs, obscure expressions,
the sayings and riddles of the wise.

<sup>7</sup> The fear of ADONAI is the beginning of knowledge,
but fools despise wisdom and discipline.

<sup>8</sup> My son, heed the discipline of your father,
and do not abandon the teaching of your mother;

<sup>9</sup> they will be a garland to grace your head,
a medal of honor for your neck.

<sup>10</sup> My son, if sinners entice you,
don't go along with them.

<sup>11</sup> Suppose they say, "Come with us:
we'll ambush somebody and kill him,
we'll waylay some harmless soul, just for fun;

<sup>12</sup> we'll swallow him alive, like Sh'ol,
whole, like those who descend to the pit;

<sup>13</sup> we'll find everything he has of value,
we'll fill our homes with loot!

<sup>14</sup> Throw in your lot with us;
we'll share a common purse" —

<sup>15</sup> my son, don't go along with them,
don't set foot on their path;

<sup>16</sup> their feet run to evil,
they rush to shed blood.

<sup>17</sup> For in vain is the net baited

if any bird can see it;

<sup>18</sup> rather, they are ambushing themselves to shed their own blood, waylaying themselves.

<sup>19</sup> So are the ways of all greedy for gain —

it takes the lives of those who get it.

<sup>20</sup> Wisdom calls aloud in the open air

and raises her voice in the public places;

<sup>21</sup> she calls out at streetcorners

and speaks out at entrances to city gates:

<sup>22</sup> “How long, you whose lives have no purpose,

will you love thoughtless living?

How long will scorners find pleasure in mocking?

How long will fools hate knowledge?

I will pour out my spirit to you,

I will make my words known to you.

<sup>24</sup> Because you refused when I called,

and no one paid attention when I put out my hand,

<sup>25</sup> but instead you neglected my counsel and would not accept my reproof;

<sup>26</sup> I, in turn, will laugh at your distress,

and mock when terror comes over you —

<sup>27</sup> yes, when terror overtakes you like a storm and your disaster approaches like a whirlwind,

when distress and trouble assail you.

<sup>28</sup> Then they will call me, but I won't answer;

they will seek me earnestly, but they won't find me.

<sup>29</sup> Because they hated knowledge and did not choose the fear of A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

<sup>30</sup> they refused my counsel and despised my reproof.

<sup>31</sup> So they will bear the consequences of their own way and be overfilled with their own schemes.

<sup>32</sup> For the aimless wandering of the thoughtless will kill them,

and the smug overconfidence of fools will destroy them;

<sup>33</sup> but those who pay attention to me will live securely, untroubled by fear of misfortune.”

2<sup>1</sup> My son, if you will receive my words and store my commands inside you, <sup>2</sup> paying attention to wisdom
inclining your mind toward understanding — <sup>3</sup> yes, if you will call for insight and raise your voice for discernment, <sup>4</sup> if you seek it as you would silver and search for it as for hidden treasure — <sup>5</sup> then you will understand the fear of A<sub>DONAI</sub>
and find knowledge of God.

<sup>6</sup> For A<sub>DONAI</sub> gives wisdom;
from his mouth comes knowledge and understanding.

<sup>7</sup> He stores up common sense for the upright,
is a shield to those whose conduct is blameless,

<sup>8</sup> in order to guard the courses of justice and preserve the way of those faithful to him.

<sup>9</sup> Then you will understand righteousness, justice, fairness and every good path.

For wisdom will enter your heart,
knowledge will be enjoyable for you,

<sup>11</sup> discretion will watch over you,
and discernment will guard you.

<sup>12</sup> They will save you from the way of evil
and from those who speak deceitfully,

<sup>13</sup> who leave the paths of honesty
to walk the ways of darkness,

<sup>14</sup> who delight in doing evil
and take joy in being stubbornly deceitful,

<sup>15</sup> from those whose tracks are twisted and whose paths are perverse.

<sup>16</sup> They will save you from a woman who is a stranger,
from a loose woman with smooth talk,

<sup>17</sup> who abandons the ruler she had in her youth and forgets the covenant of her God.

<sup>18</sup> Her house is sinking toward death,
her paths lead to the dead.

<sup>19</sup> None who go to her return;

they never regain the path to life.

<sup>20</sup> Thus you will walk on the way of good people and keep to the paths of the righteous.

<sup>21</sup> For the upright will live in the land,
the pure-hearted will remain there;

<sup>22</sup> but the wicked will be cut off from the land,
the unfaithful rooted out of it.

3<sup>1</sup> My son, don't forget my teaching,
keep my commands in your heart;
<sup>2</sup> for they will add to you many days,
years of life and peace.

<sup>3</sup> Do not let grace and truth leave you — bind them around your neck;
write them on the tablet of your heart.

<sup>4</sup> Then you will win favor and esteem
in the sight of God and of people.

<sup>5</sup> Trust in ADONAI with all your heart;
do not rely on your own understanding.

<sup>6</sup> In all your ways acknowledge him;
then he will level your paths.

<sup>7</sup> Don't be conceited about your own wisdom;
but fear A<sub>DONAI</sub>, and turn from evil.

<sup>8</sup> This will bring health to your body
and give strength to your bones.

<sup>9</sup> Honor A<sub>DONAI</sub> with your wealth and with the firstfruits of all your income.

<sup>10</sup> Then your granaries will be filled and your vats overflow with new wine.

<sup>11</sup> My son, don't despise A<sub>DONAI</sub>'s discipline or resent his reproof;

<sup>12</sup> for A<sub>DONAI</sub> corrects those he loves like a father who delights in his son.

<sup>13</sup> Happy the person who finds wisdom,
the person who acquires understanding;

<sup>14</sup> for her profit exceeds that of silver,
gaining her is better than gold,

<sup>15</sup> she is more precious than pearls —

<sup>16</sup> Long life is in her right hand,

riches and honor in her left.

<sup>17</sup> Her ways are pleasant ways,

and all her paths are peace.

<sup>18</sup> She is a tree of life to those who grasp her;

whoever holds fast to her will be made happy.

<sup>19</sup> ADONAI by wisdom founded the earth,

by understanding he established the heavens,

<sup>20</sup> by his knowledge the deep [springs] burst open and the dew condenses from the sky.

<sup>21</sup> My son, don't let these slip from your sight;

preserve common sense and discretion;

<sup>22</sup> they will be life for your being and grace for your neck.

<sup>23</sup> Then you will walk your way securely,

without hurting your foot.

<sup>24</sup> When you lie down, you will not be afraid;

when you lie down, your sleep will be sweet.

<sup>25</sup> Don't be afraid of sudden terror or destruction caused by the wicked, when it comes;

<sup>26</sup> for you can rely on A<sub>DONAI</sub>;
he will keep your foot from being caught in a trap.

<sup>27</sup> Don't withhold good from someone entitled to it when you have in hand the power to do it.

I'll give it to you tomorrow," when you have it now.

<sup>29</sup> Don't plan harm against your neighbor who lives beside you trustingly.

<sup>30</sup> Don't quarrel with someone for no reason,
if he has done you no harm.

<sup>31</sup> Don't envy a man of violence,
don't choose any of his ways;

<sup>32</sup> for the perverse is an abomination to A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
but he shares his secret counsel with the upright.

<sup>33</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub>'s curse is in the house of the wicked,

but he blesses the home of the righteous.

<sup>34</sup>       The scornful he scorns,

but gives grace to the humble.

but fools win shame.

4 <sup>1</sup>     Listen, children, to a father's instruction;

pay attention, in order to gain insight;

<sup>2</sup>       for I am giving you good advice;

so don't abandon my teaching.

<sup>3</sup>       For I too was once a child to my father;

and my mother, too, thought of me as her special darling.

<sup>4</sup>       He too taught me; he said to me,

"Let your heart treasure my words;

keep my commands, and live;

<sup>5</sup>       gain wisdom, gain insight;

don't forget or turn from the words I am saying.

<sup>6</sup>       Don't abandon [wisdom]; then she will preserve you;

love her, and she will protect you.

The beginning of wisdom is: get wisdom!

And along with all your getting, get insight!

<sup>8</sup> Cherish her, and she will exalt you;

embrace her, and she will bring you honor;

<sup>9</sup> she will give your head a garland of grace, bestow on you a crown of glory.”

<sup>10</sup> Listen, my son, receive what I say,

and the years of your life will be many.

<sup>11</sup> I’m directing you on the way of wisdom,

guiding you in paths of uprightness;

<sup>12</sup> when you walk, your step won’t be hindered;

and if you run, you won’t stumble.

<sup>13</sup> Hold fast to discipline, don’t let it go;

guard it, for it is your life.

<sup>14</sup> Don’t follow the path of the wicked

or walk on the way of evildoers.

<sup>15</sup> Avoid it, don’t go on it,

turn away from it, and pass on.

<sup>16</sup> For they can’t sleep if they haven’t done evil,

they are robbed of sleep unless they make someone fall.

<sup>17</sup> For they eat the bread of wickedness

and drink the wine of violence.

<sup>18</sup> But the path of the righteous is like the light of dawn, shining ever brighter until full daylight.

<sup>19</sup> The way of the wicked is like darkness;

they don't even know what makes them stumble.

<sup>20</sup> My son, pay attention to what I am saying;

incline your ear to my words.

<sup>21</sup> Don't let them out of your sight,

keep them deep in your heart;

<sup>22</sup> for they are life to those who find them

and health to their whole being.

<sup>23</sup> Above everything else, guard your heart;

for it is the source of life's consequences.

<sup>24</sup> Keep crooked speech out of your mouth,

banish deceit from your lips.

<sup>25</sup> Let your eyes look straight ahead,

fix your gaze on what lies in front of you.

<sup>26</sup> Level the path for your feet,

let all your ways be properly prepared;

<sup>27</sup> then deviate neither right nor left;

and keep your foot far from evil.

5 <sup>1</sup> My son, pay attention to my wisdom;

incline your ear to my understanding;

<sup>2</sup> so that you will preserve discretion and your lips keep watch over knowledge.

<sup>3</sup> For the lips of a woman who is a stranger drop honey,

her mouth is smoother than oil;

<sup>4</sup> but in the end she is as bitter as wormwood, sharp as a double-edged sword.

<sup>5</sup> Her feet go down to death,

her steps lead straight to Sh'ol;

<sup>6</sup> she doesn't walk the level path of life —

her course wanders all over, but she doesn't know it.

<sup>7</sup> So now, children, listen to me;

don't turn away from what I am saying:

<sup>8</sup> distance your way from her,

stay far from the door of her house;

<sup>9</sup> so that you won't give your vigor to others and your years to someone who is cruel,

<sup>10</sup> so strangers won't be filled with your strength and what you worked for go to a foreign house.

<sup>11</sup> Then, when your flesh and bones have shrunk,

at the end of your life, you would moan,

<sup>12</sup> "How I hated discipline!

My whole being despised reproof,

<sup>13</sup> I ignored what my teachers said,

I didn't listen to my instructors.

<sup>14</sup> I took part in almost every kind of evil,

and the whole community knew it."

fresh water from your own well.

<sup>16</sup> Let what your springs produce be dispersed outside,

streams of water flowing in the streets;

<sup>17</sup> but let them be for you alone and not for strangers with you.

<sup>18</sup> Let your fountain, the wife of your youth,

be blessed; find joy in her —

<sup>19</sup> a lovely deer, a graceful fawn;

let her breasts satisfy you at all times,

always be infatuated with her love.

<sup>20</sup> My son, why be infatuated with an unknown woman?

Why embrace the body of a loose woman?

<sup>21</sup> For ADONAI is watching a man's ways;

he surveys all his paths.

<sup>22</sup> A wicked person's own crimes will trap him,

he will be held fast by the ropes of his sin.

<sup>23</sup> He will die from lack of discipline;

the magnitude of his folly will make him totter and fall.

6 <sup>1</sup> My son, if you have put up security for your friend,

if you committed yourself on behalf of another;

<sup>2</sup> you have been snared by the words of your mouth, caught by the words of your own mouth.

<sup>3</sup> Do this now, my son, and extricate yourself,
since you put yourself in your friend's power:
go, humble yourself, and pester your friend;

<sup>4</sup> give your eyes no sleep,
give your eyelids no rest;

<sup>5</sup> break free, like a gazelle from the [hunter's] trap,
like a bird from the grip of the fowler.

<sup>6</sup> Go to the ant, you lazybones!
Consider its ways, and be wise.

<sup>7</sup> It has no chief, overseer or ruler;
<sup>8</sup> yet it provides its food in summer and gathers its supplies at harvest-time.

<sup>9</sup> Lazybones! How long will you lie there in bed?
When will you get up from your sleep?

just fold my hands for a little more sleep" —

<sup>11</sup> and poverty comes marching in on you,
scarcity hits you like an invading soldier.

lives by crooked speech,

<sup>13</sup> winking his eyes, shuffling his feet,

pointing with his fingers.

<sup>14</sup> With deceit in his heart,

he is always plotting evil and sowing discord.

<sup>15</sup> Therefore disaster suddenly overcomes him;

unexpectedly, he is broken beyond repair.

<sup>16</sup> There are six things A<sub>DONAI</sub> hates,

seven which he detests:

<sup>17</sup> a haughty look, a lying tongue,

hands that shed innocent blood,

<sup>18</sup> a heart that plots wicked schemes,

feet swift in running to do evil,

<sup>19</sup> a false witness who lies with every breath,

and him who sows strife among brothers.

<sup>20</sup> My son, obey your father's command,

and don't abandon your mother's teaching.

Bind them always on your heart,
tie them around your neck.

<sup>22</sup> When you walk, they will lead you;
when you lie down, they will watch over you;
and when you wake up, they will talk with you.

<sup>23</sup> For the mitzvah is a lamp, Torah is light,
and reproofs that discipline are the way to life.

<sup>24</sup> They keep you from an evil woman,
from a loose woman's seductive tongue.

<sup>25</sup> Don't let your heart lust after her beauty or allow her glance to captivate you.

<sup>26</sup> The price of a whore is a loaf of bread,
but the adulteress is hunting for a precious life.

<sup>27</sup> Can a man carry fire inside his shirt
without burning his clothes?

<sup>28</sup> Can a man walk [barefoot] on hot coals without scorching his feet?

<sup>29</sup> So is he who has sex with his neighbor's wife;
anyone touching her will be punished.

<sup>30</sup> A thief is not despised if he steals

only to satisfy his appetite when hungry;

<sup>31</sup> but even he, if caught, must pay back sevenfold;

he may have to give up all the wealth that he owns.

<sup>32</sup> He who commits adultery lacks sense;

he who does it destroys himself.

<sup>33</sup> He will get nothing but blows and contempt,

and his disgrace will not be wiped away.

<sup>34</sup> For jealousy drives a man into a rage;

he will show no mercy when he takes revenge;

<sup>35</sup> he will not accept compensation;

he'll refuse every bribe, no matter how large.

7<sup>1</sup> My son, keep my words,

store up my commands with you.

<sup>2</sup> Obey my commands, and live;

guard my teaching like the pupil of your eye.

<sup>3</sup> Bind them on your fingers;

write them on the tablet of your heart.

Say to wisdom, "You are my sister";
call understanding your kinswoman;
<sup>5</sup> so that they can keep you from unknown women,
from loose women with their seductive talk.

<sup>6</sup> For I was at the window of my house,
glancing out through the lattice,

<sup>7</sup> when I saw among the young men there,
among those who don't think for themselves,
a young fellow devoid of all sense.

<sup>8</sup> He crosses the street near her corner
and continues on toward her house.

<sup>9</sup> Dusk turns into evening,
and finally night, dark and black.

<sup>10</sup> Then a woman approaches him,
dressed as a prostitute, wily of heart.

<sup>11</sup> She's the coarse, impulsive type,
whose feet don't stay at home;

<sup>12</sup> rather, she stalks the streets and squares, lurking at every streetcorner.

<sup>13</sup> She grabs him, gives him a kiss,

and, brazen-faced, she says to him,

<sup>14</sup> “I had to offer peace sacrifices,

and I fulfilled my vows today.

<sup>15</sup> This is why I came out to meet you,

to look for you; now I’ve found you.

<sup>16</sup> I’ve spread quilts on my couch

made of colored Egyptian linen.

<sup>17</sup> I’ve perfumed my bed

with myrrh, aloes and cinnamon.

<sup>18</sup> Come on, let’s make love till morning;

we’ll enjoy making love.

<sup>19</sup> My husband isn’t at home,

he’s gone on a long trip;

<sup>20</sup> he took a bag of money with him and won’t be back till the moon is full.”

enticing him with her seductive words.

<sup>22</sup> At once he follows her

like an ox on its way to be slaughtered;

like a fool to be punished in the stocks;

<sup>23</sup> or like a bird rushing into a trap,

not knowing its life is at stake

till an arrow pierces its liver.

<sup>24</sup> So now, children, listen to me;

pay attention to what I am saying.

<sup>25</sup> Don't let your heart turn to her ways;

don't stray onto her paths.

<sup>26</sup> For many are those she has struck down dead, numerous those she has killed.

<sup>27</sup> Her house is the way to Sh'ol;

it leads down to the halls of death.

8 <sup>1</sup> Wisdom is calling!

Understanding is raising her voice!

<sup>2</sup> On the heights along the road,

where the paths meet, she is standing;

<sup>3</sup> by the gates leading into the city,

at the entrances, she cries aloud:

<sup>4</sup>       “People, I am calling you,
raising my voice to all mankind.

<sup>5</sup>       You who don’t direct your lives, understand caution;
as for you, you fools,
get some common sense!

<sup>6</sup>       “Listen! I will say worthwhile things;
when I speak, my words are right.

<sup>7</sup>       My mouth says what is true,
because my lips detest evil.

<sup>8</sup>       All the words from my mouth are righteous;
nothing false or crooked is in them.

<sup>9</sup>       They are all clear to those who understand and straightforward to those who gain knowledge.

<sup>10</sup>      Receive my instruction, rather than silver;
knowledge, rather than the finest gold.

<sup>11</sup>      For wisdom is better than pearls;
nothing you want can compare with her.

<sup>12</sup> “I, wisdom, live together with caution;

I attain knowledge and discretion.

<sup>13</sup> The fear of A<sub>DONAI</sub> is hatred of evil.

I hate pride and arrogance,

evil ways and duplicitous speech.

<sup>14</sup> Good advice is mine, and common sense;

I am insight, power is mine.

<sup>15</sup> By me kings reign,

and princes make just laws.

<sup>16</sup> By me princes govern, nobles too, and all the earth’s rulers.

<sup>17</sup> I love those who love me;

and those who seek me will find me.

<sup>18</sup> Riches and honor are with me,

lasting wealth and righteousness.

<sup>19</sup> My fruit is better than gold, fine gold,

my produce better than the finest silver.

<sup>20</sup> I follow the course of righteousness

along the paths of justice,

<sup>21</sup> to endow with wealth those who love me
and fill their treasuries.

<sup>22</sup> “A<sub>DONAI</sub> made me as the beginning of his way,
the first of his ancient works.

<sup>23</sup> I was appointed before the world,
before the start, before the earth’s beginnings.

<sup>24</sup> When I was brought forth, there were no ocean depths, no springs brimming with water.

<sup>25</sup> I was brought forth before the hills,
before the mountains had settled in place;

<sup>26</sup> he had not yet made the earth, the fields,
or even the earth’s first grains of dust.

<sup>27</sup> When he established the heavens, I was there.

When he drew the horizon’s circle on the deep,

<sup>28</sup> when he set the skies above in place,

when the fountains of the deep poured forth,

<sup>29</sup> when he prescribed boundaries for the sea,

so that its water would not transgress his command,

when he marked out the foundations of the earth,

<sup>30</sup> I was with him as someone he could trust.

For me, every day was pure delight,
as I played in his presence all the time,

<sup>31</sup> playing everywhere on his earth,
and delighting to be with humankind.

<sup>32</sup> “Therefore, children, listen to me:
happy are those who keep my ways.

<sup>33</sup> Hear instruction, and grow wise;
do not refuse it.

<sup>34</sup> How happy the person who listens to me,
who watches daily at my gates
and waits outside my doors.

<sup>35</sup> For he who finds me finds life and obtains the favor of A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

<sup>36</sup> But he who misses me harms himself;
all who hate me love death.”

9<sup>1</sup> Wisdom has built herself a house;
she has carved her seven pillars.

She has prepared her food, spiced her wine,
and she has set her table.

she calls from the heights of the city,

To someone weak-willed she says,

<sup>5</sup> “Come and eat my food!
Drink the wine I have mixed!

<sup>6</sup> Don’t stay unsure of yourself, but live!
Walk in the way of understanding!”

reproving a wicked man becomes his blemish.

<sup>8</sup> If you reprove a scoffer, he will hate you;
if you reprove a wise man, he will love you.

<sup>9</sup> Give to a wise man, and he grows still wiser;
teach a righteous man, and he will learn still more.

<sup>10</sup> The fear of A<sub>DONAI</sub> is the beginning of wisdom, and knowledge of holy ones is understanding.

<sup>11</sup> For with me, your days will be increased;

years will be added to your life.

<sup>12</sup> If you are wise, your wisdom helps you;
but if you scoff, you bear the consequences alone.”

she doesn’t think, and she doesn’t know a thing.

<sup>14</sup> She sits at the door of her house or on a seat at the heights of the city,

<sup>15</sup> calling to those who pass by,
to those going straight along their ways,

To someone weak-willed she says,

food eaten in secret is pleasant.”

<sup>18</sup> But he doesn’t realize that the dead are there,
and that those who accept her invitation
are in the depths of Sh’ol.

10 <sup>1</sup> The proverbs of Shlomo:

A wise son is a joy to his father,

but a foolish son is a grief to his mother.

<sup>2</sup> No good comes from ill-gotten wealth,
but righteousness rescues from death.

<sup>3</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub> does not let the righteous go hungry,
but he thwarts the craving of the wicked.

<sup>4</sup> Idle hands bring poverty;
diligent hands bring wealth.

<sup>5</sup> A sensible person gathers in summer,
but he who sleeps during harvest is an embarrassment.

<sup>6</sup> Blessings are for the head of the righteous,
but the speech of the wicked is a cover for violence.

<sup>7</sup> The memory of the righteous will be for a blessing,
but the reputation of the wicked will rot.

<sup>8</sup> Wise-hearted people take orders,
but a babbling fool will have trouble.

<sup>9</sup> He who walks purely walks securely,
but he who walks in crooked ways will be found out.

<sup>10</sup> He who winks his eye [instead of rebuking] causes pain, yet a babbling fool will have trouble.

<sup>11</sup> The speech of the righteous is a fountain of life,
but the speech of the wicked is a cover for violence.

<sup>12</sup> Hate stirs up disputes,
but love covers all kinds of transgressions.

13 On the lips of the intelligent is found wisdom,
but a stick is in store for the back of a fool.

14 Wise people hide their knowledge,
but when a fool speaks, ruin is imminent.

15 The wealth of the rich is his fortified city;
the ruin of the poor is their poverty.

16 The activity of the righteous is for life;
the income of the wicked is for sin.

17 He who observes discipline is on the way to life;
but he who ignores correction is making a mistake.

18 He who covers up hate has lips that lie,
and anyone who slanders is a fool.

19 When words are many, sin is not lacking;
so he who controls his speech is wise.

20 The tongue of the righteous is like pure silver,
but the mind of the wicked is worth little.

21 The lips of the righteous feed many,
but fools die for lack of sense.

22 The blessing of ADONAI is what makes people rich,
and he doesn't mix sorrow with it.

23 To a fool, vileness is like a game,
as is wisdom to a person of discernment.

24 What a fool dreads will overtake him,
but the righteous will be given his desire.

25 When the storm has passed, the wicked are gone;
but the righteous are firmly established forever.

26 Like vinegar to the teeth and smoke to the eyes
is a lazy person to his employer.

27 The fear of ADONAI adds length to life,
but the years of the wicked are cut short.

28 What the righteous hope for will end in joy;
what the wicked expect will come to nothing.

29 The way of ADONAI is a stronghold to the upright
but ruin to those who do evil.

30 The righteous will never be moved,
but the wicked will not remain in the land.

31 The mouth of the righteous brings forth wisdom,
but the perverse tongue will be cut off.

32 The lips of the righteous know what is wanted,
but the mouth of the wicked [knows] deceit.

11<sup>1</sup> False scales are an abomination to ADONAI,
but accurate weights please him.

<sup>2</sup> First comes pride, then disgrace;
but with the humble is wisdom.

<sup>3</sup> The integrity of the upright guides them,
but the duplicity of the treacherous destroys them.

<sup>4</sup> On the day of wrath, wealth doesn't help;
but righteousness rescues from death.

<sup>5</sup> The righteousness of the innocent levels their way,
but the wickedness of the wicked makes them fall.

<sup>6</sup> The righteousness of the upright rescues them,

but the treacherous are trapped by their own intrigues.
7 When a wicked man dies, his hope perishes;
what he hopes for from evil comes to nothing.
8 The righteous is delivered from trouble,
and the wicked comes to take his place.
9 With his mouth the hypocrite can ruin his neighbor,
but by knowledge the righteous are delivered.
10 When the righteous prosper, the city rejoices;
and when the wicked perish, there is joy.
11 By the blessing of the upright, a city is raised up;
but the words of the wicked tear it down.

12 He who belittles another lacks good sense,
whereas a person of discernment stays silent.
13 A gossip goes around revealing secrets,
but a trustworthy person keeps a confidence.

14 Without clever tactics an army is defeated, and victory comes from much planning.

15 He who guarantees a loan for a stranger will suffer,
but refusing to underwrite is safe.

16 A gracious woman obtains honor;
aggressive men obtain wealth.

17 A man who is kind does himself good,
but the cruel does harm to himself.

18 The profits of the wicked are illusory;
but those who sow righteousness gain a true reward.
19 Genuine righteousness leads to life,
but the pursuer of evil goes to his own death.

20 The crooked-hearted are an abomination to ADONAI,
but those sincere in their ways are his delight.
21 Depend on it: the evil will not go unpunished;
but the offspring of the righteous will escape.

22 Like a gold ring in the snout of a pig is a beautiful woman who lacks good sense.

23 The righteous desire only good,
but what the wicked hope for brings wrath.

24 Some give freely and still get richer,
while others are stingy but grow still poorer.
25 The person who blesses others will prosper;
he who satisfies others will be satisfied himself.
26 The people will curse him who withholds grain;
but if he sells it, blessings will be on his head.

27 He who strives for good obtains favor,
but he who searches for evil — it comes to him!

28 He who trusts in his riches will fall,
but the righteous will flourish like sprouting leaves.

29 Those who trouble their families inherit the wind,
and the fool becomes slave to the wise.

30 The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life,
and he who is wise wins souls.
31 If the righteous are paid what they deserve here on earth,
how much more the wicked and the sinner!

He who loves knowledge loves discipline,

12<sup>1</sup>

but he who hates correction is a boor.

<sup>2</sup> A good man obtains A<sub>DONAI</sub>'s favor,
but the schemer his condemnation.

<sup>3</sup> No one is made secure by wickedness,
but the roots of the righteous will never be moved.

but a shameful one is like rot in his bones.

<sup>5</sup> The plans of the righteous are just,
but the schemes of the wicked are deceitful.

<sup>6</sup> The words of the wicked are a deadly ambush,
but the speech of the upright rescues them.

<sup>7</sup> Once the wicked are down, it's the end of them;
but the house of the upright endures.

<sup>8</sup> A person wins praise in keeping with his common sense,
but a person with a warped mind is treated with contempt.

<sup>9</sup> Better to be despised and have a servant than to boast of one's status but have nothing to eat.

<sup>10</sup> A righteous man takes care of his animal,
but the wicked? Even his compassion is cruel.

<sup>11</sup> He who farms his land will have plenty of food,
but he who follows futilities has no sense.

<sup>12</sup> The wicked covet the loot of evil men,

13 but the root of the righteous gives forth of itself.
The wicked is trapped by his own sinful speech,
but the righteous finds a way out of trouble.

14 One can be filled with good as the result of one's words,
and one gets the reward one's deeds deserve.

15 Fools suppose their way is straight,
but the wise pay attention to advice.

16 A fool's anger is known at once,
but a cautious person slighted conceals his feelings.

17 He who tells the truth furthers justice,
but a false witness furthers deceit.

18 Idle talk can pierce like a sword,
but the tongue of the wise can heal.

19 Truthful words will stand forever,
lying speech but a moment.

20 Deceit is in the hearts of those who plot evil,
but for those advising peace there is joy.

21 No harm can come to the righteous,
but the wicked are overwhelmed with disaster.

22 Lying lips are an abomination to A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
but those who deal faithfully are his delight.

23 A cautious person conceals knowledge,
but the heart of a fool blurts out folly.

24 The diligent will rule,
while the lazy will be put to forced labor.

25 Anxiety in a person's heart weighs him down,

but a kind word cheers him up.

<sup>26</sup> The righteous guides his friend's way rightly,
but the way of the wicked will lead them astray.

<sup>27</sup> A lazy man doesn't roast what he hunted;
but when a man is diligent, his wealth is precious.

<sup>28</sup> In the road of righteousness is life;
no death is in its pathway.

13<sup>1</sup> A son who heeds his father's discipline is wise, but a scoffer doesn't listen to rebuke.

but the essence of the treacherous is violence.

<sup>3</sup> He who guards his mouth preserves his life,
but one who talks too much comes to ruin.

<sup>4</sup> The lazy person wants but doesn't have;
the diligent get their desires filled.

<sup>5</sup> A righteous person hates lying,
but the wicked is vile and disgraceful.

<sup>6</sup> Righteousness protects him whose way is honest,
but wickedness brings down the sinner.

<sup>7</sup> There are those with nothing who pretend they are rich,
also those with great wealth who pretend they are poor.

<sup>8</sup> The rich man may have to ransom his life,
but a poor man gets no threats.

- 9 The light of the righteous [shines] joyfully,
but the lamp of the wicked will be extinguished.
- 10 Insolence produces only strife,
but wisdom is found with those who take advice.
- 11 Wealth gotten by worthless means dwindles away,
but he who amasses it by hard work will increase it.
- 12 Hope deferred makes the heart sick,
but desire fulfilled is a tree of life.
- 13 He who despises a word will suffer for it,
but he who respects a command will be rewarded.
- 14 The teaching of a wise man is a fountain of life,
enabling one to avoid deadly traps.
- 15 Good common sense produces grace,
but the way of the treacherous is rough.
- 16 Every cautious person acts with knowledge,
but a fool parades his folly.
- 17 A wicked messenger falls into evil,
but a faithful envoy brings healing.
- 18 Poverty and shame are for him who won't be taught,
but he who heeds reproof will be honored.
- 19 Desire fulfilled is sweet to the soul,
but turning away from evil is abhorrent to fools.
- 20

He who walks with the wise will become wise,
but the companion of fools will suffer.

<sup>21</sup> Evil pursues sinners,
but prosperity will reward the righteous.
<sup>22</sup> A good man leaves an inheritance to his grandchildren, but the wealth of a sinner is stored up for the righteous.
<sup>23</sup> The fields of the poor may yield much food,
but some are swept away because of injustice.

<sup>24</sup> He who fails to use a stick hates his son,
but he who loves him is careful to discipline him.

<sup>25</sup> The righteous person eats his fill,
but the belly of the wicked is empty.

14 <sup>1</sup> Every wise woman builds up her home,
but a foolish one tears it down with her own hands.

but a person who is devious scorns him.

but the lips of the wise protect them.

<sup>4</sup> Where there are no oxen, the stalls are clean;
but much is produced by the strength of an ox.

<sup>5</sup> An honest witness will not lie,
but a false witness lies with every breath.

<sup>6</sup> A scoffer seeks wisdom in vain,

but knowledge comes easily to someone with discernment.

- <sup>7</sup> Keep clear of a fool,
for you won't hear a sensible word from him.
- <sup>8</sup> The wisdom of the cautious makes him know where he is going,
but the folly of fools misleads them.
- <sup>9</sup> Guilt offerings make a mockery of fools;
but among the upright there is good will.
- <sup>10</sup> The heart knows its own bitterness,
and no stranger can share its joy.
- <sup>11</sup> The house of the wicked will be destroyed,
but the tent of the upright will flourish.
- <sup>12</sup> There can be a way which seems right to a person,
but at its end are the ways of death.
- <sup>13</sup> Even in laughter the heart can be sad,
and joy may end in sorrow.
- <sup>14</sup> A backslider is filled up with his own ways,
but a good person gets satisfaction from himself.
- <sup>15</sup> One who doesn't think believes every word,
but the cautious understands his steps.
- <sup>16</sup> A wise person fears and turns away from evil,
but a fool is reckless and overconfident.
- <sup>17</sup> He who is quick-tempered does stupid things,
and one who does vile things is hated.

18 Thoughtless people inherit folly,
but the cautious are crowned with knowledge.

19 The evil bow down before the good,
and the wicked at the gates of the righteous.

20 The poor are disliked even by their peers,
but the rich have many friends.

21 He who despises his fellow sins,
but he who shows compassion to the humble is happy.

22 Won't those who plot evil go astray?
But grace and truth are for those who plan good.

23 In all work there is profit,
but mere talk produces only poverty.

24 The crown of the wise is their riches,
but the folly of fools is just that — folly.

25 A truthful witness saves lives,
but a liar misdirects [judgment].

26 In the fear of ADONAI is powerful security;
for his children there will be a place of refuge.

27 The fear of ADONAI is a fountain of life
enabling one to avoid deadly traps.

28 A king's glory lies in having many subjects;
if the prince's people are few, it is his ruin.

29 Being slow to anger goes with great understanding,
being quick-tempered makes folly still worse.

30

A tranquil mind gives health to the body,
but envy rots the bones.

31

The oppressor of the poor insults his maker,
but he who is kind to the needy honors him.

32

The wicked are brought down by their wrongdoing,
but the righteous can be confident even at death.

33

Wisdom is at rest in a person with discernment,
but in fools it has to call attention to itself.

34

Righteousness makes a nation great,
but sin degrades any people.

35

A king shows favor to a servant with good sense,
but his wrath strikes one who shames [him].

A gentle response deflects fury,
but a harsh word makes tempers rise.

<sup>2</sup>

The tongue of the wise presents knowledge well,
but the mouth of a fool spews out folly.

<sup>3</sup>

The eyes of A<sub>DONAI</sub> are everywhere, watching the evil and the good.

<sup>4</sup>

A soothing tongue is a tree of life,
but when it twists things, it breaks the spirit.

<sup>5</sup>

A fool despises his father's discipline,
but he who heeds warnings is prudent.

<sup>6</sup>

The home of the righteous is a storehouse of treasure,
but the earnings of the wicked bring trouble.

7 The lips of the wise spread knowledge;
not so the hearts of fools.

8 A<sub>DONAI</sub> detests the sacrifices of the wicked
but delights in the prayers of the upright.

9 A<sub>DONAI</sub> detests the way of the wicked
but loves anyone who pursues righteousness.

10 Discipline is severe for one who leaves the way,
and whoever can't stand correction will die.

11 Sh'ol and Abaddon lie open to A<sub>DONAI</sub>;
so how much more people's hearts!

12 A scorner does not like being corrected;
he won't go to the wise [for advice].

13 A glad heart makes a face happy,
but heartache breaks the spirit.

14 The mind of a person with discernment seeks knowledge,
but the mouth of a fool feeds on folly.

15 For the poor, every day is hard;
but the good-hearted have a perpetual feast.

16 Better little with the fear of A<sub>DONAI</sub>
than great wealth coupled with worry.

17 Better a vegetable dinner with love
than a stall-fattened ox with hate.

- 18 Hot-tempered people stir up strife,
but patient people quiet quarrels.
- 19 The lazy person's way seems overgrown by thorns,
but the path of the upright is a level highway.
- 20 A wise son is a joy to his father,
and only a fool despises his mother.
- 21 Folly appeals to one who lacks sense,
but a person of discernment goes straight ahead.
- 22 Without deliberation, plans go wrong;
but with many advisers, they succeed.
- 23 People take pleasure in anything they say;
but a word at the right time, how good it is!
- 24 For the prudent, the path of life goes upward;
thus he avoids Sh'ol below.
- 25 ADONAI will pull down the houses of the proud,
but preserves intact the widow's boundaries.
- 26 ADONAI detests plans to do evil,
but kind words are pure.
- 27 The greedy for gain brings trouble to his home,
but he who hates bribes will live.
- 28 The mind of the righteous thinks before speaking,
but the mouth of the wicked spews out evil stuff.

29

A<sub>DONAI</sub> is far from the wicked,
but he listens to the prayer of the righteous.

30

A cheerful glance brings joy to the heart,
and good news invigorates the bones.

31

He who heeds life-giving correction
will be at home in the company of the wise.

32

He who spurns discipline detests himself,
but he who listens to correction grows in understanding.

33

The discipline of wisdom is fear of A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
so before being honored, a person must be humble.

A person is responsible to prepare his heart, but how the tongue speaks is from A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

2

All a man's ways are pure in his own view,
but A<sub>DONAI</sub> weighs the spirit.

3

If you entrust all you do to A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
your plans will achieve success.

4

A<sub>DONAI</sub> made everything for its purpose,
even the wicked for the day of disaster.

5

A<sub>DONAI</sub> detests all those with proud hearts;
be assured that they will not go unpunished.

6

Grace and truth atone for iniquity, and people turn from evil through fear of A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

7

When a man's ways please A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

he makes even the man's enemies be at peace with him.

8 Better a little with righteousness
than a huge income with injustice.

9 A person may plan his path,
but A<sub>DONAI</sub> directs his steps.

10 Divine inspiration is on the lips of the king,
so his mouth must be faithful when he judges.
11 The balance and scales of justice have their origin in A<sub>DONAI</sub>;
all the weights in the bag are his doing.
12 It is an abomination for a king to do evil,
for the throne is made secure by righteousness.
13 The king should delight in righteous lips,
and he should love someone who speaks what is right.
14 The king's anger is a herald of death,
and one who is wise will appease it.
15 When the king's face brightens, it means life;
his favor is like the clouds that bring spring rain.

16 How much better than gold it is to gain wisdom!
Yes, rather than money, choose to gain understanding.

17 Avoiding evil is the highway of the upright;
he who watches his step preserves his life.

18 Pride goes before destruction,
and arrogance before failure.

19 Better to be humble among the poor than share the spoil with the proud.

20

He who has skill in a matter will succeed;
he who trusts in A<sub>DONAI</sub> will be happy.

21

A wise-hearted person is said to have discernment,
and sweetness of speech adds to learning.

22

Common sense is a fountain of life to one who has it, whereas fools are punished by their own folly.

23

The wise man's heart teaches his mouth,
and to his lips it adds learning.

24

Pleasant words are like a honeycomb, sweet to the taste and healing for the body.

25

There can be a way which seems right to a person,
but at its end are the ways of death.

26

A working man's appetite acts on his behalf, because his hunger presses him on.

27

A worthless person digs up evil [gossip] —
it is like scorching fire on his lips.

28

A deceitful person stirs up strife,
and a slanderer can separate even close friends.

29

A violent man lures his neighbor astray
and leads him into evil ways.

30

One who winks knowingly is planning deceit;
one who pinches his lips together has already done wrong.

31

White hair is a crown of honor obtained by righteous living.

<sup>32</sup> He who controls his temper is better than a war hero, he who rules his spirit better than he who captures a city.

<sup>33</sup> One can cast lots into one's lap,
but the decision comes from ADONAI.

17<sup>1</sup> Better a dry piece of bread with calm than a house full of food but also full of strife.

<sup>2</sup> An intelligent slave will rule a shameful son and share the inheritance with the brothers.

<sup>3</sup> The crucible [tests] silver, and the furnace [tests] gold,
but the one who tests hearts is ADONAI.

<sup>4</sup> An evildoer heeds wicked lips;
a liar listens to destructive talk.

<sup>5</sup> He who mocks the poor insults his maker;
he who rejoices at calamity will not go unpunished.

<sup>6</sup> Grandchildren are the crown of the aged,
while the glory of children is their ancestors.

<sup>7</sup> Fine speech is unbecoming to a boor,
and even less lying lips to a leader.

<sup>8</sup> A bribe works like a charm, in the view of him who gives it — wherever it turns, it succeeds.

<sup>9</sup> He who conceals an offense promotes love,
but he who harps on it can separate even close friends.

- <sup>10</sup> A rebuke makes more impression on a person of understanding than a hundred blows on a fool.
- <sup>11</sup> An evil person seeks only rebellion,
but a cruel messenger will be sent against him.
- <sup>12</sup> Rather meet a bear robbed of its cubs
than encounter a fool in his folly.
- <sup>13</sup> Evil will not depart from the house
of him who returns evil for good.
- <sup>14</sup> Starting a fight is like letting water through [a dike] — better stop the quarrel before it gets worse.
- <sup>15</sup> He who justifies the wicked and he who condemns the righteous —
both alike are an abomination to ADONAI.
- <sup>16</sup> Why would a fool wish to pay for wisdom
when he has no desire to learn?
- <sup>17</sup> A friend shows his friendship at all times —
it is for adversity that [such] a brother is born.
- <sup>18</sup> He who gives his hand to guarantee a loan for his neighbor lacks good sense.
- <sup>19</sup> Those who love quarreling love giving offense;
those who make their gates tall are courting disaster.
- <sup>20</sup> A crooked-hearted person will find nothing good,
and the perverse of speech will end in calamity.

21 He who fathers a fool does so to his sorrow,
and the father of a boor has no joy.

22 A happy heart is good medicine,
but low spirits sap one's strength.

23 From under a cloak a bad man takes a bribe to pervert the course of justice.

24 The discerning person focuses on wisdom there before him,
but a fool's eyes wander to the ends of the earth.

25 A son who is a fool means anger for his father and bitterness for the mother who gave him birth.

26 To punish the innocent is not right,
likewise to flog noble people for their uprightness.

27 A knowledgeable person controls his tongue;
a discerning person controls his temper.

28 Even a fool, if he stays silent, is thought wise;
he who keeps his mouth shut can pass for smart.

18 <sup>1</sup> He who separates himself indulges his desires and shows contempt for sound advice of any kind.

<sup>2</sup> A fool takes no pleasure in trying to understand;
he only wants to express his own opinion.

<sup>3</sup> When a wicked person comes, contempt comes too,
and with disdain, provocation.

The words of a man's mouth are deep water,
a gushing torrent, a fountain of wisdom.

5 It is not good to be partial to the guilty and thus deprive the innocent of justice.

6 A fool's words get him into fights;
yes, his mouth calls out for a beating.

7 A fool's mouth is his ruin;
his words are a trap for him.

8 A slanderer's words are tasty morsels;
they slide right down into the belly.

9 Whoever is lazy in doing his work is brother to the destroyer.

10 The name of ADONAI is a strong tower;
a righteous person runs to it and is raised high [above danger].

11 The wealth of the rich is his fortified city,
like a high wall, in his own imagination.

12 Before being ruined, a person's heart is proud;
before being honored, a person must be humble.

13 To answer someone before hearing him out is both stupid and embarrassing.

14 A person's spirit can sustain him when ill,
but a crushed spirit — who can bear it?

15 The mind of a person with discernment gets knowledge,
and the ear of the wise seeks knowledge.

16 A person's gift clears his way
and gives him access to the great.

17 The first to state his case seems right,
till the other one comes and cross-examines.

18 Casting lots puts an end to strife
and separates powerful disputants.

19 It is harder to win an offended brother than a strong city;
their fights are like the bars of a fortress.

20 A person's belly will be filled with the fruit of his mouth;
with what his lips produce he will be filled.

21 The tongue has power over life and death;
those who indulge it must eat its fruit.

22 He who finds a wife finds a great good;
he has won the favor of ADONAI.

23 The poor man speaks beseechingly,
the rich man's answer is blunt.

24 Some "friends" pretend to be friends,
but a true friend sticks closer than a brother.

19 <sup>1</sup> Better to be poor and live one's life uprightly than engage in crooked speech, for such a one is a fool.

<sup>2</sup> To act without knowing how you function is not good;
and if you rush ahead, you will miss your goal.

A person's own folly is what ruins his way,
but he rages in his heart against A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

<sup>4</sup> Wealth brings in many friends,
but the poor man loses the one friend he has.

<sup>5</sup> A false witness will not go unpunished;
whoever breathes out lies will not escape.

<sup>6</sup> Many ask favors of a generous person —
to a giver of gifts, everyone is a friend.

<sup>7</sup> A poor man's relatives all hate him;
even more his friends stay away from him.

He may pursue them with entreaties,
but they aren't there to be found.

<sup>8</sup> To acquire good sense is to love oneself;
to treasure discernment is to prosper.

<sup>9</sup> A false witness will not go unpunished;
whoever breathes out lies will perish.

<sup>10</sup> It isn't fitting for a fool to live in luxury,
and even less for a slave to govern princes.

<sup>11</sup> People with good sense are slow to anger,
and it is their glory to overlook an offense.

but his favor is like dew on the grass.

- 13 A son who is a fool is his father's ruin,
and a nagging wife is like a leak that keeps dripping.
- 14 A house and wealth are inherited from ancestors,
but a sensible wife is from ADONAI.
- 15 Laziness makes people fall asleep,
and an idle person will go hungry.
- 16 He who keeps a mitzvah keeps himself safe,
but he who doesn't care how he lives will die.
- 17 He who is kind to the poor is lending to ADONAI;
and he will repay him for his good deed.
- 18 Discipline your child while there is hope,
but don't get so angry that you kill him!
- 19 A violent-tempered person will be punished;
if you try to save him from it, you make things worse
- 20 Listen to advice, and accept discipline,
so that in the end you will be wise.
- 21 One can devise many plans in one's mind,
but ADONAI's plan will prevail.
- 22 A man's lust is his shame,
and a poor man is better than a liar.
- 23 The fear of ADONAI leads to life;
one who has it is satisfied and rests untouched by evil

The lazy person buries his hand in the dish
but doesn't even bother to bring it to his mouth.

<sup>25</sup> If you strike a scorner,
the simple will learn to act wisely;

if you reprove the intelligent,
he will understand what you mean.

<sup>26</sup> One who mistreats his father and evicts his mother is a son who brings them shame and disgrace.

<sup>27</sup> My son, if you stop heeding discipline,
you will stray from the principles of knowledge.

<sup>28</sup> A worthless witness mocks at justice,
and the mouth of the wicked swallows wrongdoing.

<sup>29</sup> Judgments are in store for scorners
and blows for the backs of fools.

20<sup>1</sup> Wine is a mocker, strong liquor a rowdy;
anyone led astray by it is unwise.

<sup>2</sup> The dread of a king is like when a lion roars;
he who makes him angry commits a life-threatening sin.

<sup>3</sup> Avoiding quarrels brings a person honor;
for any fool can explode in anger.

<sup>4</sup> A lazy person won't plow in winter;
so at harvest-time, when he looks, there is nothing.

- 5       The heart's real intentions are like deep water;
          but a person with discernment draws them out.
- 6       Most people announce that they show kindness,
          but who can find someone faithful [enough to do it]?
- 7       The righteous live a life of integrity;
          happy are their children after them.
- 8       The king seated on his judgment throne
          can winnow out all evil with his glance.
- 9       Who can say, "I have made my heart clean,
          I am cleansed from my sin"?
- 10      False weights and false measures —
          ADONAI detests them both.
- 11      The character of even a child is known by how he acts,
          by whether his deeds are pure and right.
- 12      The hearing ear and the seeing eye —
          ADONAI made them both.
- 13      If you love sleep, you will become poor;
          keep your eyes open, and you'll have plenty of food.
- 14      "Really bad stuff!" says the buyer [to the seller];
          then he goes off and brags [about his bargain].
- 15      A person may have gold and a wealth of pearls,
          but lips informed by knowledge are a precious jewel.

16       Seize his clothes, because he guaranteed a stranger's loan;
          take them as security for that unknown woman.

17       Food obtained by fraud may taste good,
          but later the mouth is full of gravel.

18       After consultation, plans succeed;
          so take wise advice when waging war.

19       A gossip goes around revealing secrets,
          so don't get involved with a talkative person.

20       Whoever curses his father or mother —
          his lamp will go out in total darkness.

21       Possessions acquired quickly at first will not be blessed in the end.

22       Don't say, "I'll pay back evil for evil";
          wait for ADONAI to save you.

23       ADONAI detests a double standard in weights,
          and false scales are not good.

24       A man's steps are ordered by ADONAI,
          so how can a person understand his own ways?

25       It is a snare to dedicate a gift to God rashly
          and reflect on the vows only afterwards.

26       A wise king winnows the wicked [from the righteous] and threshes them under the cartwheel.

27

The human spirit is a lamp of A<sub>DONAI</sub>;
it searches one's inmost being.

28

Grace and truth preserve a king;
with grace he upholds his throne.

29

The pride of the young is their strength;
the dignity of the old is gray hair.

30

Blows that wound purge away evil,
yes, beatings [cleanse] one's inmost being.

21<sup>1</sup> The king's heart in ADONAI's hand is like streams of water —
he directs it wherever he pleases.

but ADONAI weighs the heart.

<sup>3</sup> To do what is right and just
is more pleasing to ADONAI than sacrifice.

<sup>4</sup> Haughty looks, a proud heart —
what the wicked plow is sin.

<sup>5</sup> The plans of the diligent lead only to abundance;
but all who rush in arrive only at want.

<sup>6</sup> A fortune gained by a lying tongue
is vapor dispersed [by] seekers of death.

<sup>7</sup> The violence of the wicked will sweep them away,
because they refuse to act justly.

<sup>8</sup> A criminal's conduct is crooked,
but the work of the pure is right.

<sup>9</sup> It is better to live on a corner of the roof
than to share the house with a nagging wife.

<sup>10</sup> The wicked is set on evil;
he doesn't pity even his neighbor.

When a scorner is punished, the simple become wiser;
and when the wise is instructed, he takes hold of knowledge.

he overthrows the wicked to their ruin.

<sup>13</sup> Whoever stops up his ears at the cry of the poor will himself cry, but not be answered.

<sup>14</sup> A secret gift allays anger,
and a bribe under the cloak the strongest fury.

<sup>15</sup> Acting justly is a joy for the righteous
but it terrifies evildoers.

<sup>16</sup> The person who strays from the way of common sense will come to rest in the company of the dead.

<sup>17</sup> Pleasure-lovers will suffer want;
he who loves wine and oil won't get rich.

<sup>18</sup> The wicked serve as a ransom for the righteous,
and likewise the perfidious for the upright.

<sup>19</sup> It is better to live in the desert
than with a nagging, irritable wife.

<sup>20</sup> In the home of the wise are fine treasures and oil,
but a fool quickly devours it.

<sup>21</sup> He who pursues righteousness and kindness finds life, prosperity and honor.

22 A wise man can go up into a city of warriors
and undermine the strength in which it trusts.

23 Whoever guards his mouth and tongue keeps himself out of trouble.

24 “Scoffer” is what you call a proud, insolent person who acts with overweening conceit.

25 A lazy man’s craving will kill him,
because his hands refuse to work — 26 he covets greedily all day long;
but a righteous person gives without holding back.

27 The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination;
how much more when he brings it with vile motives.

28 A lying witness is doomed,
but one who heard [what was said] will testify successfully.

29 A wicked man puts on a bold face,
whereas the upright prepares his ways.

30 No wisdom, discernment or counsel succeeds against A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

31 A horse may be prepared for the day of battle,
but victory comes from A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

22<sup>1</sup> Rather than wealth, choose a good reputation, esteem over silver and gold.

Rich and poor have this in common —
A<sub>DONAI</sub> made them both.

<sup>3</sup> The clever see trouble coming and hide;
the simple go on and pay the penalty.

<sup>4</sup> The reward for humility is fear of A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
along with wealth, honor and life.

he who values his life keeps his distance from them.

<sup>6</sup> Train a child in the way he [should] go;
and, even when old, he will not swerve from it.

<sup>7</sup> The rich rule the poor,
and the borrower is slave to the lender.

<sup>8</sup> He who sows injustice reaps trouble,
and the rod of his angry outburst will fail.

<sup>9</sup> He who is generous is blessed,
because he shares his food with the poor.

<sup>10</sup> Throw the scoffer out, and quarreling goes too;
strife and insults cease.

<sup>11</sup> He who loves the pure-hearted and is gracious in speech will have the king as his friend.

<sup>12</sup> The eyes of A<sub>DONAI</sub> protect [the man with] knowledge, but he overturns the plans of a traitor.

13

A lazy man says, “There’s a lion outside!
I’ll be killed if I go out in the street!”

14

The mouth of an adulteress is a deep pit;
the man with whom A<sub>DONAI</sub> is angry falls into it.

15

Doing wrong is firmly tied to the heart of a child, but the rod of discipline will drive it far away from him.

16

Both oppressing the poor to enrich oneself
and giving to the rich yield only loss.

17

Pay attention, and listen to the words of the wise;
apply your heart to my knowledge;

18

for it is pleasant to keep them deep within you;
have all of them ready on your lips.

19

I want your trust to be in A<sub>DONAI</sub>;
this is why I’m instructing you about them today.

20

I have written you worthwhile things
full of good counsel and knowledge,

21

so you will know that these sayings are certainly true
and bring back true sayings to him who sent you.

22

Don’t exploit the helpless, because they are helpless,
and don’t crush the poor in court,

23

for A<sub>DONAI</sub> will plead their case for them and withhold life from those who defraud them.

24

Don’t associate with an angry man;
make no hot-tempered man your companion.

25

If you do, you may learn his ways
and find yourself caught in a trap.

<sup>26</sup> Don't be one of those who give pledges, guaranteeing loans made to others;
<sup>27</sup> for if you don't have the wherewithal to pay,
they will take your bed away from underneath you.

<sup>28</sup> Don't move the ancient boundary stone
set up by your ancestors.

He will serve kings, not obscure people.

23<sup>1</sup> When you sit down to dine with a ruler,
think carefully about who is before you.

<sup>2</sup> If you have a big appetite,
put a knife to your throat!

<sup>3</sup> Don't be greedy for his delicacies,
for they are deceptive food.

<sup>4</sup> Don't exhaust yourself in pursuit of wealth;
be smart enough to desist.

<sup>5</sup> If you make your eyes rush at it,
it's no longer there!

For wealth will surely grow wings,

like an eagle flying off to the sky.

<sup>6</sup> Don't eat the food of a stingy man;
don't be greedy for his delicacies.

<sup>7</sup> For he is like someone who keeps accounts —

“Eat! Drink!” he says to you,

but he doesn't really mean it.

<sup>8</sup> The little you eat you will vomit up,

and your compliments will have been wasted.

<sup>9</sup> Don't speak in the ears of a fool,
for he will only despise the common sense in your words.

<sup>10</sup> Don't move the ancient boundary stone
or encroach on the land of the fatherless; <sup>11</sup> for their Redeemer is strong;
he will take up their fight against you.

<sup>12</sup> Apply your mind to discipline and your ears to words of knowledge.

<sup>13</sup> Don't withhold discipline from a child —
if you beat him with a stick, he won't die!
<sup>14</sup> If you beat him with a stick,
you will save him from Sh'ol.

<sup>15</sup> My son, if your heart is wise,
then my own heart too is glad;
<sup>16</sup> my inmost being rejoices
when your lips say what is right.

<sup>17</sup> Don't envy sinners, but follow the example of those who always fear God; <sup>18</sup> for then you will have a future;
what you hope for will not be cut off.

<sup>19</sup> You, my son: listen, be wise,
and set your mind on the right way.

<sup>20</sup> Don't be one of those who guzzle wine or of those who eat meat to excess,

21 for both drunkard and glutton will become poor — drowsiness will clothe them with rags.

22 Listen to your father, who gave you life;
and don't despise your mother when she gets old.

23 Buy the truth, don't sell it,
also wisdom, discipline and discernment.

24 A righteous person's father will be filled with joy;
yes, he whose son is wise will rejoice in him.

25 So let your father and mother be glad;
let her who gave you birth rejoice.

26 My son, give me your heart;
let your eyes observe my ways.

27 A prostitute is a deep ditch,
and a forbidden woman like a narrow well.

28 She lies in wait to snatch her prey
and adds to the number of faithless men.

29 Who has misery? Who has regret?
Who fights and complains all the time?

Who gets bruised for no good reason?

Who has bloodshot eyes?
30 Those who spend their time over wine,
those always trying out mixed drinks.

31 Don't gaze at the red wine
as it gives its color to the cup.

It may glide down smoothly now;

32 but in the end, it bites like a serpent —
yes, it strikes like a poisonous snake.
33 Your eyes will see peculiar things,
your mind will utter nonsense.
34 You will feel as if lying on the waves of the sea
or sprawled on top of the mast — 35 “They hit me, but I didn’t feel it!
They beat me up, and I didn’t even know it!

When will I wake up?...

I’ll go get another drink.”

24<sup>1</sup> Don’t be envious of evil people,
and don’t desire to be with them.
<sup>2</sup> For their minds are occupied with violence,
and their lips speak of making trouble.

<sup>3</sup> By wisdom a house is built,
by understanding it is made secure, <sup>4</sup> and by knowledge its rooms are filled with all kinds of costly and pleasant possessions.

<sup>5</sup> A wise man is strong;
yes, a man of knowledge grows in strength.
<sup>6</sup> For with clever strategy you wage your war,
and victory comes from having many advisers.

<sup>7</sup> Wisdom is too lofty for a fool;
he keeps his mouth shut at the city gate.

<sup>8</sup> He who plans to do evil people call a schemer.

9 The evil plans of the foolish are sin,
and people detest a scorner.

10 If you slack off on a day of distress,
your strength is small indeed.

11 Yes, rescue those being dragged off to death —
won't you save those about to be killed?

12 If you say, "We knew nothing about it," won't he who weighs hearts discern it?

Yes, he who guards you will know it
and repay each one as his deeds deserve.

13 My son, eat honey, for it is good;
honeycomb drippings are sweet to your taste.

14 Know that wisdom is similar[ly sweet] to your soul;
if you find it, then you will have a future,
what you hope for will not be cut off.

15 Don't lurk like an outlaw near the home of the righteous, don't raid the place where he lives.

16 For though he falls seven times, he will get up again;
it's the wicked who fail under stress.

17 Don't rejoice when your enemy falls;
don't let your heart be glad when he stumbles.

18 For ADONAI might see it, and it would displease him;
he might withdraw his anger from your foe.

19 Don't get upset because of evildoers;
don't be envious of the wicked.

20 For the evil person has no future —

the lamp of the wicked will go out.

<sup>21</sup> My son, don't get involved with revolutionaries, but fear A<sub>DONAI</sub> and the king.

<sup>22</sup> For disaster from them will suddenly appear,
and who knows what ruin they both can cause?

<sup>23</sup> These also are sayings of the wise:

Showing partiality in judgment is not good.

<sup>24</sup> He who tells the guilty, "You are innocent,"
will be cursed by peoples, reviled by nations; <sup>25</sup> but with those who condemn him, things will go well,
and a good blessing will come upon them.

<sup>26</sup> Giving an honest answer
is like giving a kiss.

<sup>27</sup> Prepare your outside work,

and get things ready for yourself on the land;

after that, build your house.

<sup>28</sup> Don't be a witness against your neighbor for no reason — would you use your lips to deceive?

<sup>29</sup> Don't say, "I'll do to him what he did to me, I'll pay him back what his deeds deserve."

<sup>30</sup> I passed by the field of the lazy man and the vineyard of the man lacking sense.

<sup>31</sup> There it was, overgrown with thistles;

the ground was covered with nettles,
and its stone wall was broken down.
32 I looked, and I thought about it;
I saw, and I learned this lesson:
33 “I’ll just lie here a bit, rest a little longer,
just fold my hands for a little more sleep” —
34 and poverty comes marching in on you,
scarcity hits you like an invading soldier.

25 <sup>1</sup> These also are proverbs of Shlomo; the men of Hizkiyah king of Y’hudah copied them out:

<sup>2</sup> God gets glory from concealing things;
kings get glory from investigating things.
<sup>3</sup> Like the sky for height or the earth for depth is the heart of kings — unfathomable.
<sup>4</sup> Remove the impurities from the silver,
and the smith has material to make a vessel.
<sup>5</sup> Remove the wicked from the king’s presence,
and his throne will rest firmly on righteousness.
<sup>6</sup> Don’t put yourself forward in the king’s presence;
don’t take a place among the great.
<sup>7</sup> For it is better to be told, “Come up here,” than be degraded in the presence of a nobleman.

What your eyes have seen,

<sup>8</sup> don’t rush to present in a dispute.

For what will you do later on,

if your neighbor puts you to shame?
<sup>9</sup> Discuss your dispute with your neighbor,
but don’t reveal another person’s secrets.

10 If you do, and he hears of it, he will disgrace you,
and your bad reputation will stick.

11 Like apples of gold in settings of silver is a word appropriately spoken.

12 Like a gold earring, like a fine gold necklace
is a wise reprover to a receptive ear.

13 Like the coldness of snow in the heat of the harvest is a faithful messenger to the one who sends him;
he refreshes his master's spirit.

14 Like clouds and wind that bring no rain is he who boasts of gifts he never gives.

15 With patience a ruler may be won over,
and a gentle tongue can break bones.

16 If you find honey, eat only what you need;
for if you eat too much of it, you may throw it up;
17 so don't visit your neighbor too much,
or he may get his fill of you and come to hate you.

18 Like a club, a sword or a sharp arrow is a person who gives false testimony against a neighbor.

19 Relying on an untrustworthy person in a time of trouble is like [relying on] a broken tooth or an unsteady leg.

20 Like removing clothes on a chilly day or like vinegar on soda is someone who sings songs to a heavy heart.

21 If someone who hates you is hungry, give him food to eat;
and if he is thirsty, give him water to drink.

22 For you will heap fiery coals [of shame] on his head, and A<sub>DONAI</sub> will reward you.

<sup>23</sup> The north wind brings rain
and a backbiting tongue, angry looks.

<sup>24</sup> It is better to live on a corner of the roof
than to share the house with a nagging wife.

<sup>25</sup> Like cold water to a person faint from thirst is good news from a distant land.

<sup>26</sup> Like a muddied spring or a polluted well
is a righteous person who gives way before the wicked.

<sup>27</sup> It isn't good to eat too much honey
or to seek honor after honor.

<sup>28</sup> Like a city breached, without walls,
is a person who lacks self-control.

26<sup>1</sup> Like snow in summer or rain at harvest-time, so honor for a fool is out of place.

<sup>2</sup> Like a fluttering sparrow or a flying swallow,
an undeserved curse will come home to roost.

<sup>3</sup> A whip for a horse, a bridle for a donkey,
and a rod for the back of fools.

<sup>4</sup> Don't answer a fool in terms of his folly,
or you will be descending to his level;

<sup>5</sup> but answer a fool as his folly deserves,
so that he won't think he is wise.

<sup>6</sup>

Telling a message to a fool and sending him out is like cutting off one's feet and drinking violence.
7 The legs of the disabled hang limp and useless;
likewise a proverb in the mouth of a fool.
8 Like one who ties his stone to the sling is he who gives honor to a fool.
9 Like a thorn branch in the hand of a drunk
is a proverb in the mouth of a fool.
10 A master can make anything,
but hiring a fool is like hiring some passer-by.
11 Just as a dog returns to his vomit,
a fool repeats his folly.
12 Do you see someone who thinks himself wise?
There is more hope for a fool than for him!

13 The lazy person says, "There's a lion in the streets!
A lion is roaming loose out there!"
14 The door turns on its hinges,
and the lazy man on his bed.
15 The lazy person buries his hand in the dish
but is too tired to return it to his mouth.
16 A lazy man is wiser in his own view
than seven who can answer with sense.

17 Like someone who grabs a dog by the ears
is a passer-by who mixes in a fight not his own.

18 Like a madman shooting deadly arrows and firebrands
19 is one who deceives another, then says, "It was just a joke."

20 If there's no wood, the fire goes out;
if nobody gossips, contention stops.
21 As coals are to embers and wood to fire

is a quarrelsome person to kindling strife.

<sup>22</sup> A slanderer's words are tasty morsels;
they slide right down into the belly.

<sup>23</sup> Like silver slag overlaid on a clay pot
are lips that burn [with friendship] over a hating heart.
<sup>24</sup> He who hates may hide it with his speech;
but inside, he harbors deceit.

<sup>25</sup> He may speak pleasantly, but don't trust him;
for seven abominations are in his heart.

<sup>26</sup> His hatred may be concealed by deceit,
but his wickedness will be revealed in the assembly.

<sup>27</sup> Whoever digs a pit will fall into it,
and a stone will come back on the one who starts it rolling.
<sup>28</sup> A lying tongue hates its victims,
and a flattering mouth causes ruin.

27<sup>1</sup> Don't boast about tomorrow,
for you don't know what the day may bring.

<sup>2</sup> Let someone else praise you, not your own mouth,
a stranger and not your own lips.

<sup>3</sup> Stone is heavy and sand a dead weight,
but a fool's provocation outweighs them both.

<sup>4</sup> Fury is cruel and anger overwhelming,
but who can stand up to jealousy?

<sup>5</sup> Better open rebuke

than hidden love.

<sup>6</sup> Wounds from a friend are received as well-meant,
but an enemy's kisses are insincere.

<sup>7</sup> A person who is full loathes a honeycomb;
but to the hungry, any bitter thing is sweet.

<sup>8</sup> Like a bird that strays from its nest
is a man who strays from his home.

<sup>9</sup> Perfume and incense make the heart glad,
[also] friendship sweet with advice from the heart.

<sup>10</sup> Don't abandon a friend who is also a friend of your father.

Don't enter your brother's house on the day of your calamity — better a neighbor nearby than a brother far away.

<sup>11</sup> My son, become wise, and gladden my heart,
so that I can answer my critics.

the thoughtless go on and pay the penalty.

<sup>13</sup> Seize his clothes because he guaranteed a stranger's loan;
take them as security for that unknown woman.

<sup>14</sup> Whoever greets his neighbor in a loud voice at dawn might just as well have cursed him.

15 A leak that keeps dripping on a rainy day and the nagging of a wife are the same — 16 whoever can restrain her can restrain the wind or keep perfume on his hand from making itself known.

17 Just as iron sharpens iron,
a person sharpens the character of his friend.

18 Whoever tends the fig tree will eat its fruit,
and he who is attentive to his master will be honored.

19 Just as water reflects the face,
so one human heart reflects another.

20 Sh'ol and Abaddon are never satisfied,
and human eyes are never satisfied.

21 The crucible [tests] silver, and the furnace [tests] gold,
but a person [is tested] by [his reaction to] praise.

22 You can crush a fool in a mortar with a pestle,

along with the grain being crushed;

yet his foolishness will not leave him.

23 Take care to know the condition of your flocks,
and pay attention to your herds.

24 For wealth doesn't last forever,
neither does a crown through all generations.

25 When the hay has been mown, and the new grass appears,
and the mountain greens have been gathered;

26 the lambs will provide your clothing,

27

the goats will sell for enough to buy a field,
and there will be enough goat's milk
to [buy] food for you and your household
and maintenance for your servant-girls.

28<sup>1</sup>

The wicked flee when no one pursues them;
but the righteous, like lions, feel sure of themselves.

2

A land which transgresses [is punished by] having many rulers;
but with a man of understanding and knowledge, stability is prolonged.

3

A poor man who oppresses the weak
is like a downpour that sweeps away all the food.

4

Those who abandon Torah praise the wicked,
but those who keep Torah fight them.

5

Evil people don't understand justice,
but those who seek ADONAI understand everything.

6

Better to be poor and live an honest life than be crooked in one's ways, though rich.

7

A wise son observes Torah,
but a friend of those lacking restraint shames his father.

8

He who increases his wealth by charging exorbitant interest amasses it for someone who will bestow it on the poor.

9

If a person will not listen to Torah,
even his prayer is an abomination.

<sup>10</sup> Whoever causes the honest to pursue evil ways will himself fall into his own pit,

but the pure-hearted will inherit good.

but the poor who has discernment sees through him.

<sup>12</sup> When the just are triumphant, there is great rejoicing,

but when the wicked rise up, people hide.

<sup>13</sup> He who conceals his sins will not succeed;

he who confesses and abandons them will gain mercy.

<sup>14</sup> Happy the person who is never without fear,

but he who hardens his heart will fall into misfortune.

<sup>15</sup> Like a roaring lion or a bear prowling for food is a wicked ruler over a poor people.

<sup>16</sup> A prince without discernment is a cruel oppressor,

but one who hates greed will prolong his life.

<sup>17</sup> Let a man weighed down with anyone's blood

flee to a pit; give him no support.

<sup>18</sup> Whoever lives blamelessly will be saved,

but he whose ways are crooked will fall in one [of those ways].

<sup>19</sup> He who farms his land will have plenty of food,

but he who follows futilities will have plenty of poverty.

<sup>20</sup> A trustworthy person will receive many blessings,

but one rushing to get rich will not go unpunished.

though a person may do wrong for a crust of bread.

<sup>22</sup> He who is greedy rushes after riches,
not knowing that want will overtake him.

<sup>23</sup> He who rebukes another person in the end gets more thanks than the flatterer.

is comrade to the destroyer.

<sup>25</sup> A grasping disposition stirs up strife,
but he who trusts in A<sub>DONAI</sub> will prosper.

<sup>26</sup> He who trusts in himself is a fool,
but he who lives by wisdom will escape.

<sup>27</sup> He who gives to the poor will lack nothing, but he who hides his eyes will get curses in plenty.

but when they perish, the righteous flourish.

29<sup>1</sup> He who remains stiffnecked after much rebuke will be suddenly and incurably broken.

<sup>2</sup> When the righteous flourish, the people rejoice;
but when the wicked are in power, the people groan.

Whoever loves wisdom brings joy to his father,
but a patron of prostitutes wastes his wealth.

<sup>4</sup> A king gives stability to a country by justice,
but one who overtaxes it brings it to ruin.

<sup>5</sup> A person who flatters his neighbor spreads a net for his own steps.

<sup>6</sup> In an evil person's crime is a trap,
but the righteous sing and rejoice.

<sup>7</sup> The righteous understands the cause of the poor,
but the wicked is unconcerned.

<sup>8</sup> Scoffers can inflame a city,
but the wise can calm the fury.

<sup>9</sup> When a wise man argues with a foolish one,
he meets anger and ridicule without relief.

<sup>10</sup> Men of blood hate those who are pure
and seek the life of the upright.

<sup>11</sup> A fool gives vent to all his feelings,
but the wise, thinking of afterwards, stills them.

<sup>12</sup> If a ruler listens to lies,
all his officials will be wicked.

<sup>13</sup> The poor and the oppressor have this in common:
ADONAI gives light to the eyes of both.

- 14 If a king steadfastly gives justice to the poor,
his throne will be secure forever.
- 15 The rod and rebuke give wisdom,
but a child left to himself brings shame on his mother.
- 16 When the wicked flourish, wrongdoing flourishes;
but the righteous will witness their downfall.
- 17 Discipline your son, and he will give you rest;
yes, he will be your delight.
- 18 Without a prophetic vision, the people throw off all restraint;
but he who keeps Torah is happy.
- 19 A slave can't be disciplined with words;
he may understand, but he won't respond.
- 20 Do you see someone too anxious to speak?
There is more hope for a fool than for him.
- 21 A slave who is pampered from youth
will in the end be ungrateful.
- 22 Angry people stir up strife;
hot-tempered people commit many crimes.
- 23 The proud will be humbled,
but the humble will be honored.
- 24 The accomplice of a thief hates himself;
he hears himself put under oath but discloses nothing.

<sup>25</sup> Fearing human beings is a snare;
but he who trusts in A<sub>DONAI</sub> will be raised high [above danger].

<sup>26</sup> Many seek the ruler's favor,
but it is from A<sub>DONAI</sub> that each gets justice.

<sup>27</sup> An unjust person is an abomination to the righteous,
but he who lives uprightly is an abomination to the wicked.

30<sup>1</sup> The words of Agur the son of Yakeh, the prophecy. The man says to Iti'el, to Iti'el and Ukhal:

<sup>2</sup> I am more boorish than anyone,
I lack human discernment;
<sup>3</sup> I have not learned enough wisdom
to know the Holy One.

<sup>4</sup> Who has gone up to heaven and come down?

Who has cupped the wind in the palms of his hands?

Who has wrapped up the waters in his cloak?

Who established all the ends of the earth?

What is his name, and what is his son's name?

Surely you know!

he shields those taking refuge in him.
<sup>6</sup> Don't add anything to his words;
or he will rebuke you, and you be found a liar.

<sup>7</sup> [God,] I have asked two things of you;
don't deny them to me as long as I live — <sup>8</sup> keep falsehood and futility far from me,
and give me neither poverty nor wealth.

Yes, provide just the food I need today;

<sup>9</sup> for if I have too much, I might deny you and say, "Who is ADONAI?"

And if I am poor, I might steal

and thus profane the name of my God.

<sup>10</sup> Never disparage a slave to his master,
or he will curse you, and you will deserve it.

<sup>11</sup> There is a type of people who curse their fathers and don't bless their mothers.

<sup>12</sup> There is a type of people clean in their own view,
but not cleansed from their filth.

utterly supercilious!

<sup>14</sup> There is a type of people whose teeth are like swords, yes, their fangs are knives;

they devour the poor from the earth,

the needy from humankind.

<sup>15</sup> The leech has two daughters;
they cry, "Give! Give!"

Three things are never satisfied;

four never say, “Enough!” —

<sup>16</sup> Sh’ol and a barren womb;
the earth, never satisfied with water;
and fire, which never says, “Enough!”

<sup>17</sup> The eye that mocks his father and scorns obeying his mother

will be pecked out by the ravens in the valley,
and the vultures will eat it.

<sup>18</sup> Three things are too wonderful for me,

four beyond my knowledge —

<sup>19</sup> the way of an eagle in the sky,
the way of a snake on a rock,
the way of a ship on the open sea,
and the way of a man with a girl.

<sup>20</sup> This is how an unfaithful wife behaves:
she eats, wipes her mouth, and says, “I did nothing wrong.”

<sup>21</sup> Three things make the earth quake,

four things it can’t bear —

<sup>22</sup> a slave who becomes king,
a boor gorged with food, <sup>23</sup> a hated [wife] when her husband takes her [back],
and a slave-girl who inherits from her mistress.

<sup>24</sup> Four things on the earth are small;

nevertheless, they are very wise — 25 the ants, a species not strong,
yet they store up their food in the summer;
26 the coneys, a species with little power,
yet they make their home in the rocks;
27 the locusts, who have no king,
yet they all march out in ranks; 28 and the spiders, which you can catch in your hand,
yet they are in the king's palace.

29 Three things are stately in their stride,

four of stately gait —

30 the lion, mightiest of beasts,
which turns aside for no one;
31 the greyhound, the billy-goat
and the king when his army is with him.

32 If you have been boorish, exalting yourself,

or if you have been scheming,

lay your hand on your mouth.
33 For as pressing milk produces butter and pressing the nose produces blood,

so pressing out anger produces strife.

31<sup>1</sup> The words of King L'mu'el, the prophecy with which his mother disciplined him:

<sup>2</sup> No, my son! No, son of my womb!

No, son of my vows!
3 Don't give your strength to women or your ways to that which destroys kings.
4 It is not for kings, L'mu'el,
not for kings to drink wine;

it is not for rulers to ask,

"Where can I find strong liquor?"
5 For they may drink, then forget what has been decreed, and pervert the justice due to the poor.
6 Give strong liquor to one who is perishing,
wine to the deeply depressed;
7 let him drink, forget his poverty
and cease to remember his troubles.

8 Speak up for those who can't speak for themselves,
for the rights of all who need an advocate.
9 Speak up, judge righteously,
defend the cause of the poor and the needy.

10 Who can find a capable wife?
Her value is far beyond that of pearls.
11 Her husband trusts her from his heart,
and she will prove a great asset to him.
12 She works to bring him good, not harm,
all the days of her life.

13 She procures a supply of wool and flax
and works with willing hands.

14 She is like those merchant vessels, bringing her food from far away.

15 It's still dark when she rises to give food to her household and orders to the young women serving her.

16 She considers a field, then buys it,
and from her earnings she plants a vineyard.

17 She gathers her strength around her
and throws herself into her work.

18 She sees that her business affairs go well;
her lamp stays lit at night.

19 She puts her hands to the staff with the flax;
her fingers hold the spinning rod.

20 She reaches out to embrace the poor and opens her arms to the needy.

21 When it snows, she has no fear for her household;
since all of them are doubly clothed.

22 She makes her own quilts;
she is clothed in fine linen and purple.

23 Her husband is known at the city gates
when he sits with the leaders of the land.

24 She makes linen garments and sells them;
she supplies the merchants with sashes.

25 Clothed with strength and dignity,
she can laugh at the days to come.

26 When she opens her mouth, she speaks wisely;
on her tongue is loving instruction.

27 She watches how things go in her house,
not eating the bread of idleness.

28 Her children arise; they make her happy;
her husband too, as he praises her:

ר

<sup>29</sup> “Many women have done wonderful things, but you surpass them all!”

<sup>30</sup> Charm can lie, beauty can vanish,
but a woman who fears ADONAI should be praised.

let her works speak her praises at the city gates.

Iyov

JOB

1<sup>1</sup> There was a man in the land of ‘Utz whose name was Iyov. This man was blameless and upright; he feared God and shunned evil. <sup>2</sup> Seven sons and three daughters were born to him. <sup>3</sup> He owned 7,000 sheep, 3,000 camels, 500 pairs of oxen and 500 female donkeys, as well as a great number of servants; so that he was the wealthiest man in the east.

<sup>6</sup> It happened one day that the sons of God came to serve ADONAI, and among them came the Adversary [Hebrew: Satan]. <sup>7</sup> ADONAI asked the Adversary, “Where are you coming from?” The Adversary answered ADONAI, “From roaming through the earth, wandering here and there.” <sup>8</sup> ADONAI asked the Adversary, “Did you notice my servant Iyov, that there’s no one like him on earth, a blameless and upright man who fears God and shuns evil?” <sup>9</sup> The Adversary answered ADONAI, “Is it for nothing that Iyov fears God? <sup>10</sup> You’ve put a protective hedge around him, his house and everything he has. You’ve prospered his work, and his livestock are spread out all over the land. <sup>11</sup> But if you reach out your hand and touch whatever he has, without doubt he’ll curse you to your face!” <sup>12</sup> ADONAI said to the Adversary, “Here! Everything he has is in your hands, except that you are not to lay a finger on his person.” Then the Adversary went out from the presence of ADONAI.

<sup>16</sup> While he was still speaking, another one came and said, “Fire from God fell from the sky and burned up the sheep and the servants; it completely destroyed them, and I’m the only one who escaped to tell you.”

<sup>17</sup> While he was still speaking, another one came and said, “The Kasdim, three bands of them, fell on the camels and carried them off; they put the servants to the sword too, and I’m the only one who escaped to tell you.”

<sup>18</sup> While he was still speaking, another one came and said, “Your sons and daughters were eating and drinking wine in their oldest brother’s house, <sup>19</sup> when suddenly a strong wind blew in from over the desert. It struck the four corners of the house, so that it fell on the young people; they are dead, and I’m the only one who escaped to tell you.”

<sup>20</sup> Iyov got up, tore his coat, shaved his head, fell down on the ground and worshipped; <sup>21</sup> he said,

“Naked I came from my mother’s womb,

and naked I will return there.

ADONAI gave; ADONAI took;

blessed be the name of ADONAI.”

2 <sup>1</sup> Another day came when the sons of God came to serve ADONAI, and among them came the Adversary to serve ADONAI. <sup>2</sup> ADONAI asked the Adversary, “Where are you coming from?” The Adversary answered ADONAI, “From roaming through the earth, wandering here and there.” <sup>3</sup> ADONAI asked the Adversary, “Did you notice my servant Iyov, that there’s no one like him on earth, a blameless and upright man who fears God and shuns evil, and that he still holds on to his integrity, even though you provoked me against him to destroy him for no reason?” <sup>4</sup> The Adversary answered ADONAI, “Skin for skin! A person will give up everything he has to save his life. <sup>5</sup> But if you reach out your hand and touch his flesh and bone, without doubt he’ll curse you to your face!” <sup>6</sup> ADONAI said to the Adversary, “Here! He is in your hands, except that you are to spare his life.”

<sup>11</sup> Now when Iyov’s three friends heard of all the calamities that had overwhelmed him, they all came. Each came from his own home — Elifaz from Teiman, Bildad from Shuach and Tzofar from Na’amah. They had agreed to meet together in order to come and offer him sympathy and comfort.<sup>12</sup> When they saw him from a distance, they couldn’t even recognize him. They wept aloud, tore their coats and threw dust over their heads toward heaven.<sup>13</sup> Then they sat down with him on the ground. For seven days and seven nights, no one spoke a word to him; because they saw how much he was suffering.<sup>14(3:1)</sup> At length, Iyov broke the silence and cursed the day of his [birth].

<sup>2(3)</sup> “Perish the day I was born

and the night that said, ‘A man is conceived.’

<sup>3(4)</sup> May that day be darkness,

may God on high not seek it,

may no light shine on it,

<sup>4(5)</sup> may gloom dark as death defile it,

may clouds settle on it,

may it be terrified by its own blackness.

<sup>5(6)</sup>

“As for that night, may thick darkness seize it,
may it not be joined to the days of the year,
may it not be numbered among the months;

<sup>6(7)</sup> may that night be desolate,

may no cry of joy be heard in it;

<sup>7(8)</sup> may those who curse days curse it,

those who[se curses] could rouse Livyatan;

<sup>8(9)</sup> may the stars of its twilight be dark,

may it look for light but get none,

may it never see the shimmer of dawn —

<sup>9(10)</sup> because it didn’t shut the doors of the womb I was in and shield my eyes from trouble.

<sup>10(11)</sup> “If I had been stillborn,

if I had died at birth,

<sup>11(12)</sup> had there been no knees to receive me

or breasts for me to suck.

<sup>12(13)</sup> Then I would be lying still and in peace,

I would have slept and been at rest,

<sup>13(14)</sup> along with kings and their earthly advisers,

who rebuilt ruins for themselves,

<sup>14(15)</sup> or with princes who had [plenty of] gold,

who filled their houses with silver.

<sup>15(16)</sup> Or I could have been like a hidden, miscarried child that never saw light.

<sup>16(17)</sup> “There the wicked cease their raging,

there the weary are at rest,

<sup>17(18)</sup> prisoners live at peace together

without hearing a taskmaster’s yells.

<sup>18(19)</sup> Great and small alike are there,

and the slave is free of his master.

<sup>19(20)</sup> “So why must light be given to the miserable and life to the bitter in spirit?

<sup>20(21)</sup> They long for death, but it never comes;

they search for it more than for buried treasure;

<sup>21(22)</sup> when at last they find the grave,

they are so happy they shout for joy.

whom God shuts in on every side?

<sup>23(24)</sup> “My sighing serves in place of my food,

and my groans pour out in a torrent;

<sup>24(25)</sup> for the thing I feared has overwhelmed me,

what I dreaded has happened to me.

and anguish keeps coming.”

4<sup>1</sup> Then Elifaz the Teimani spoke up:

<sup>2</sup> “If one tries to speak to you, will you mind?

Yet who could keep from speaking?

<sup>3</sup> You have given moral instruction to many,

you have firmed up feeble hands,

<sup>4</sup> your words have supported those who were stumbling,

and you have strengthened the weak-kneed.

<sup>5</sup> “But now it comes to you, and you are impatient;

at the first touch, you are in shock.

<sup>6</sup> Isn’t your fear of God your assurance,

and the integrity of your ways your hope?

<sup>7</sup> “Think back: what innocent person has perished?

Since when are the upright destroyed?

<sup>8</sup> What I see is that those who plow sin

and sow trouble reap just that.

<sup>9</sup> At a breath from God, they perish;

at a blast from his anger, they are consumed.

<sup>10</sup> The lion may growl, the king lion may roar,

but that old lion’s teeth are broken;

<sup>11</sup> so the lion succumbs from lack of prey,

and the lion’s cubs are scattered.

<sup>12</sup> “For a word was stealthily brought to me,

my ear caught only a whisper of it.

<sup>13</sup> In passing thoughts flashing through visions at night,

when sleep lies heavy on people,

<sup>14</sup> a shiver of horror came over me;

it made all my bones tremble.

<sup>15</sup> Then a spirit passed in front of my face;

the hair of my flesh stood on end.

<sup>16</sup> It stood still,

but I couldn't make out its appearance;
yet the form stayed there before my eyes.

Then I heard a subdued voice:

Can a mortal be pure before his maker?

<sup>18</sup> [God] doesn't trust his own servants,

he finds fault even with his angels;

<sup>19</sup> much more those living in houses of clay, whose foundation is in the dust.

They are crushed more easily than a worm;

<sup>20</sup> shattered between morning and evening;

they perish forever, and no one takes notice.

<sup>21</sup> Their cord within them is pulled up;

then they die, without ever gaining wisdom.'

5<sup>1</sup> "Call if you like, but will anyone answer?

To which of the holy ones will you turn?

<sup>2</sup> For anger kills the fool,

and envy slays the silly.

<sup>3</sup> I watch as a fool establishes roots,

but I curse his home with sudden [destruction] —

<sup>4</sup> his children are far from help, publicly humiliated, with no one to rescue;

<sup>5</sup> the hungry eat up his harvest,
taking it even from among thorns,
while the thirsty are panting,
eager to swallow his wealth.

<sup>6</sup> For misery does not come from the dust or trouble spring from the ground.

<sup>7</sup> No, people are born for trouble
as surely as sparks fly upward.

<sup>8</sup> “If I were you, I would seek God;
I would make my plea to him.

<sup>9</sup> For God does great deeds beyond investigation, wonders beyond all reckoning.

<sup>10</sup> He gives rain to the earth,
pours water down on the fields.

<sup>11</sup> He raises the lowly on high and lifts mourners to safety.

<sup>12</sup> He frustrates the schemes of the cunning,

so that they achieve no success;

<sup>13</sup> trapping the crafty in their own tricks

and foiling quickly the plans of the false.

<sup>14</sup> They meet with darkness during the day,

groping at noon like at night.

<sup>15</sup> But he saves the poor from the sword, their mouth,

and from the clutches of the strong;

<sup>16</sup> so the poor can hope again;

and injustice shuts its mouth.

<sup>17</sup> “How happy the person whom God corrects!

So don’t despise Shaddai’s discipline.

<sup>18</sup> For he wounds, but he bandages the sore;

his hands may strike, but they also heal.

<sup>19</sup> He will rescue you from six disasters;

yes, in seven no harm will touch you.

<sup>20</sup> In famine, he will save you from death,

and in war, from the power of the sword.

<sup>21</sup> You will be shielded from the lash of the tongue, and you won't have to fear destruction when it comes —

<sup>22</sup> you'll be able to laugh at destruction and famine.

Also you won't have to fear wild animals,

<sup>23</sup> for you will be in league with the stones in the field, and the wild animals will be at peace with you.

<sup>24</sup> You will know that your tent is safe;

you will look round your home and miss nothing.

<sup>25</sup> You will know that your descendants are many,

your offspring like grass [growing thick] in the fields.

<sup>26</sup> You will come to your grave at a ripe old age, like a pile of grain that arrives in season.

<sup>27</sup> “We’ve looked into this, and that’s how it is;

listen, and know that it’s for your own good.”

6 <sup>1</sup> Iyov responded:

<sup>2</sup> “I wish my frustration could be weighed,

all my calamities laid on the scales!

No wonder, then, that my words come out stammered!

<sup>4</sup> For the arrows of Shaddai find their mark in me,
and my spirit is drinking in their poison;
the terrors of God are arrayed against me.

<sup>5</sup> “Does a wild donkey bray when it has grass?
Does an ox low when it has fodder?

<sup>6</sup> Can food without flavor be eaten without salt?
Do egg whites have any taste?

<sup>7</sup> I refuse to touch them;
such food makes me sick.

<sup>8</sup> “If only I could have my wish granted, and God would give me what I’m hoping for — <sup>9</sup> that God would decide to crush me, that he would let his hand loose and cut me off!

<sup>10</sup> Then I would feel consoled;
so that even in the face of unending pain,
I would be able to rejoice;
for I have not denied the words of the Holy One.

<sup>11</sup> “Have I enough strength to go on waiting?
What end can I expect, that I should be patient?

<sup>12</sup> Is my strength the strength of stones?

Is my flesh made of bronze?

<sup>13</sup> Clearly, I have no help in myself;

common sense has been driven from me.

<sup>14</sup> “A friend should be kind to an unhappy man, even to one who abandons Shaddai.

<sup>15</sup> But my brothers are as deceptive as vadis,

as vadi streams that soon run dry;

<sup>16</sup> they may turn dark with ice

and be hidden by piled-up snow;

<sup>17</sup> but as the weather warms up, they vanish;

when it’s hot, they disappear.

<sup>18</sup> Their courses turn this way and that;

they go up into the confusing waste and are lost.

the travelers from Sh’va hope to find them;

<sup>20</sup> but they are disappointed, because they were confident;

on arrival there, they are frustrated.

“For now, you have become like that — just seeing my calamity makes you afraid.

<sup>22</sup> Did I say to you, ‘Give me something,’
or, ‘From your wealth, offer a bribe on my behalf,’

or, ‘Redeem me from the clutches of oppressors’?

<sup>24</sup> “Teach me, and I will be silent.
Make me understand how I am at fault.

<sup>25</sup> Honest words are forceful indeed,
but what do your arguments prove?

<sup>26</sup> Do you think [your own] words constitute argument,
while the speech of a desperate man is merely wind?

<sup>27</sup> I suppose you would even throw dice for an orphan or barter away your friend!

<sup>28</sup> “So now, I beg you, look at me!
Would I lie to your face?

<sup>29</sup> Think it over, please; don’t let wrong be done.
Think it over again: my cause is just.

Am I saying something wrong?

Can't I recognize trouble when I taste it?

7<sup>1</sup> “Human life on earth is like serving in the army;

yes, we drudge through our days like a hired worker,

<sup>2</sup> like a slave longing for shade,

like a worker thinking only of his wages.

<sup>3</sup> So I am assigned months of meaninglessness;

troubled nights are my lot.

<sup>4</sup> When I lie down, I ask,

‘When can I get up?’

But the night is long, and I keep tossing

to and fro until daybreak.

<sup>5</sup> My flesh is clothed with worms and dirt,

my skin forms scabs that ooze pus.

<sup>6</sup> My days pass more swiftly than a weaver's shuttle and come to their end without hope.

<sup>7</sup> “Remember that my life is but a breath;

my eyes will never again see good times.

The eye that now sees me will see me no more;
while your eyes are on me, I will be gone.

<sup>9</sup> Like a cloud dissolving and disappearing,
so he who descends to Sh'ol won't come back up.

<sup>10</sup> He will not return again to his house,
and his home will know him no more.

<sup>11</sup> "Therefore I will not restrain my mouth
but will speak in my anguish of spirit and complain in my bitterness of soul.

<sup>12</sup> Am I the sea, or some sea monster,
that you put a guard over me?

<sup>13</sup> When I think that my bed will comfort me,
that my couch will relieve my complaint,

<sup>14</sup> then you terrify me with dreams
and frighten me with visions.

<sup>15</sup> I would rather be strangled;
death would be better than these bones of mine.

<sup>16</sup> I hate it! I won't live forever, so leave me alone, for my life means nothing.

<sup>17</sup> “What are mere mortals, that you make so much of them?

Why do you keep them on your mind?

<sup>18</sup> Why examine them every morning and test them every moment?

<sup>19</sup> Won’t you ever take your eyes off of me,

at least long enough for me to swallow my spit?

<sup>20</sup> “Suppose I do sin — how do I harm you,

you scrutinizer of humanity?

Why have you made me your target,

so that I am a burden to you?

<sup>21</sup> Why don’t you pardon my offense and take away my guilt?

For soon I will lie down in the dust;

you will seek me, but I will be gone.”

8: Bildad the Shuchi spoke next:

<sup>2</sup> “How long will you go on talking like this?

What you are saying is raging wind!

Does Shaddai pervert justice?

<sup>4</sup> If your children sinned against him,
he left them to be victims of their own offense.

<sup>5</sup> “If you will earnestly seek God
and plead for Shaddai’s favor,

<sup>6</sup> if you are pure and upright;
then he will rouse himself for you
and fulfill your needs.

<sup>7</sup> Then, although your beginnings were small,
your future will be very great indeed.

<sup>8</sup> “Ask the older generation,
and consider what their ancestors found out;

<sup>9</sup> for we who were born yesterday know nothing,
our days on earth are but a shadow.

<sup>10</sup> They will teach you, they will tell you,
they will say what is in their hearts:

<sup>11</sup> ‘Can papyrus grow except in a marsh?
Can swamp grass flourish without water?

<sup>12</sup> While still green, before being cut down,

it dries up faster than any other plant.

<sup>13</sup>       Such are the paths of all who forget God;

the hope of a hypocrite will perish —

<sup>14</sup>       his confidence is mere gossamer,

his trust a spider's web.

<sup>15</sup>       He can lean on his house, but it won't stand;

he can hold on to it, but it won't last;

<sup>16</sup>       [for its destruction will come] like the lush growth of a plant in the sun,

its shoots may spread out all over its garden,

<sup>17</sup>       but meanwhile its roots cause the stone house to collapse, as it seizes hold of the rocks;

<sup>18</sup>       someone who tears it away from its place denies he has ever seen it.

<sup>19</sup>       Yes, this is the “joy” of the way [of the godless],

and out of the dust will spring up others [like him].’

<sup>20</sup>       “Look, God will not reject a blameless man;

nor will he uphold wrongdoers.

He will yet fill your mouth with laughter
and your lips with shouts of joy.

<sup>22</sup> Those who hate you will be clothed with shame,
and the tent of the wicked will cease to exist.”

but how can a human win a case against God?

<sup>3</sup> Whoever might want to argue with him
could not answer him one [question] in a thousand.

<sup>4</sup> His heart is so wise, his strength so great — who can resist him and succeed?

<sup>5</sup> “He moves the mountains, although they don’t know it,
when he overturns them in his anger.

<sup>6</sup> He shakes the earth from its place;
its supporting pillars tremble.

<sup>7</sup> He commands the sun, and it fails to rise;
he shuts up the stars under his seal.

<sup>8</sup> He alone spreads out the sky

and walks on the waves in the sea.

<sup>9</sup> He made the Great Bear, Orion, the Pleiades and the hidden constellations of the south.

<sup>10</sup> He does great, unsearchable things,
wonders beyond counting.

<sup>11</sup> He can go right by me, and I don't see him;
he moves past without my being aware of him.

<sup>12</sup> If he kills [people], who will ask why?
Who will say to him, 'What are you doing?'

<sup>13</sup> God will not withdraw his anger —
even Rahav's supporters submit to him.

<sup>14</sup> "How much less can I answer him
and select my arguments against him!

<sup>15</sup> Even if I were right, I wouldn't answer;
I could only ask for mercy from my judge.

<sup>16</sup> If I summoned him, and he answered me,
I still can't believe he would listen to my plea.

<sup>17</sup> He could break me with a storm;
he could multiply my wounds for no reason,

<sup>18</sup> to the point where I couldn't even breathe —

with such bitterness he could fill me!

<sup>19</sup> If it's a matter of force, look how mighty he is;

if justice, who can summon him to court?

<sup>20</sup> Even if I'm right, my own mouth will condemn me;

if I'm innocent, it would pronounce me guilty.

<sup>21</sup> "I am innocent. Don't I know myself?

But I've had enough of this life of mine!

<sup>22</sup> So I say it's all the same —

he destroys innocent and wicked alike.

<sup>23</sup> When disaster brings sudden death,

he laughs at the plight of the innocent.

<sup>24</sup> The earth has been given to the power of the wicked;

he covers the faces of its judges —

if it isn't he, then who is it?

<sup>25</sup> My days pass on more swiftly than a runner;

they flee without seeing anything good.

<sup>26</sup> They skim by like skiffs built of reeds,

like an eagle swooping down on its prey.

<sup>27</sup> “If I say, ‘I’ll forget my complaining,

I’ll put off my sad face and be cheerful,’

<sup>28</sup> then I’m still afraid of all my pain,

and I know you will not hold me innocent.

<sup>29</sup> I will be condemned,

so why waste my efforts?

<sup>30</sup> Even if I washed myself in melted snow and cleansed my hands with lye,

<sup>31</sup> you would plunge me into the muddy pit,

till my own clothes would detest me.

<sup>32</sup> “For he is not merely human like me;

there is no answer that I could give him

if we were to come together in court.

<sup>33</sup> There is no arbitrator between us who could lay his hand on us both.

<sup>34</sup> If he would remove his rod from me

and not let his terrors frighten me,

<sup>35</sup> then I would speak without fear of him;

for when I’m alone, I’m not afraid.

10<sup>1</sup> “I am just worn out.

“By my life [I swear],

I will never abandon my complaint;

I will speak out in my soul’s bitterness.

<sup>2</sup> I will say to God, ‘Don’t condemn me!

Tell me why you are contending with me.

<sup>3</sup> Do you gain some advantage from oppressing,

from spurning what your own hands made,

from shining on the schemes of the wicked?

<sup>4</sup> Do you have eyes of flesh?

Do you see as humans see?

<sup>5</sup> Are your days like the days of mortals?

Are your years like human years,

<sup>6</sup> that you have to seek my guilt

and search out my sin?

<sup>7</sup> You know that I won’t be condemned,

yet no one can rescue me from your power.

<sup>8</sup> Your own hands shaped me, they made me;

so why do you turn and destroy me?

<sup>9</sup> Please remember that you made me, like clay;
will you return me to dust?

<sup>10</sup> Didn't you pour me out like milk,
then let me thicken like cheese?

<sup>11</sup> You clothed me with skin and flesh
you knit me together with bones and sinews.

<sup>12</sup> You granted me life and grace;
your careful attention preserved my spirit.

<sup>13</sup> “Yet you hid these things in your heart;
I know what your secret purpose was —

<sup>14</sup> to watch until I would sin
and then not absolve me of my guilt.

<sup>15</sup> If I am wicked, woe to me! —
but if righteous, I still don't dare raise my head, because I am so filled with shame,
so soaked in my misery.

<sup>16</sup> You rise up to hunt me like a lion,
and you keep treating me in such peculiar ways.

<sup>17</sup> You keep producing fresh witnesses against me, your anger against me keeps growing,

your troops assail me, wave after wave.

<sup>18</sup> ““Why did you bring me out of the womb?

I wish I had died there where no eye could see me.

<sup>19</sup> I would have been as if I had never existed,

I would have been carried from womb to grave.

<sup>20</sup> Aren’t my days few? So stop!

Leave me alone, so I can cheer up a little

to the land of darkness and death-dark gloom,

<sup>22</sup> a land of gloom like darkness itself,

of dense darkness and utter disorder,

where even the light is dark.’”

11<sup>1</sup> Next Tzofar the Na’amati spoke up:

<sup>2</sup> “Shouldn’t this torrent of words be answered?

Does talking a lot make a person right?

When you mock, is no one to make you ashamed?

<sup>4</sup> “You claim that your teaching is pure;
you tell [God], ‘I am clean in your sight.’

<sup>5</sup> I wish that God would speak,
would open his mouth to answer you, <sup>6</sup> would tell you the secrets of wisdom,
which is worth twice as much as common sense.
Understand that God is demanding of you
less than your guilt deserves.

<sup>7</sup> “Can you penetrate God’s depths?
Can you find out Shaddai’s limits?

<sup>8</sup> They’re as high as heaven; what can you do?
They’re deeper than Sh’ol; what can you know?

<sup>9</sup> Their extent is longer than the earth and broader than the sea.

<sup>10</sup> If he passes through, puts in prison and assembles [for judgment], who can prevent him?

<sup>11</sup> For he knows when people are worthless;
so if he sees iniquity, won’t he look into it?

<sup>12</sup> “An empty man can gain understanding,

even if he was born like a wild donkey.

<sup>13</sup> If you will set your heart right,

if you will spread out your hands toward him,

<sup>14</sup> if you will put your iniquity at a distance

and not let unrighteousness remain in your tents,

<sup>15</sup> then when you lift up your face, there will be no defect;

you will be firm and free from fear.

<sup>16</sup> “For you will forget your misery;

you’ll remember it like a flood that passed through long ago;

<sup>17</sup> your life will be brighter than noon;

even its darkness will be like morning.

<sup>18</sup> You will be confident, because there is hope;

you will look around you and lie down secure;

<sup>19</sup> you will rest, and no one will make you afraid.

Many will seek your favor;

<sup>20</sup> but the eyes of the wicked will fail [to find comfort].

They will find no way to escape,

and their hope will turn to complete disappointment.”

and when you die, so will wisdom.

<sup>3</sup> But I too have a brain, as much as you,
In no way am I inferior to you.
Besides, who doesn’t know things like these?

<sup>4</sup> “Anyone who calls on God,
and he answers him,
becomes a laughingstock to his friends —
they make fun of an innocent, blameless man.

<sup>5</sup> Those at ease have contempt for misfortune,
for the blow that strikes somebody already staggering.

<sup>6</sup> The tents of robbers prosper,
[the homes of] those who anger God are secure,
those who carry their gods in their hands.

<sup>7</sup> “But ask the animals — they will teach you —
and the birds in the air — they will tell you;

<sup>8</sup> or speak to the earth — it will teach you — and the fish in the sea will inform you:

<sup>9</sup> every one of them knows that the hand of A<sub>DONAI</sub> has done this!

<sup>10</sup> In his hand is the life of every living thing and the spirit of every human being.

<sup>11</sup> Shouldn't the ear test words,

just as the palate tastes food?

<sup>12</sup> Is wisdom [only] with aged men?

discernment [only] with long life?

<sup>13</sup> "With God are wisdom and power;

he has [good] counsel and understanding.

<sup>14</sup> When he breaks something down, it can't be rebuilt;

when he imprisons someone, he can't be released.

<sup>15</sup> When he holds back water, there is drought;

when he sends it out, it overruns the land.

<sup>16</sup> With him are strength and common sense;

both the misled and those who mislead are his.

<sup>17</sup> He leads counselors away captive,

he makes fools of judges.

<sup>18</sup> He removes authority from kings,

then binds them up [as prisoners].

<sup>19</sup> He leads cohanim away captive

and overthrows those long in power.

<sup>20</sup> Those who are trusted he deprives of speech, and he removes the discernment of the aged.

<sup>21</sup> He pours contempt on princes

and loosens the belt of the strong.

<sup>22</sup> He discloses the deepest recesses of darkness and brings light into shadows dark as death.

<sup>23</sup> He makes nations great and destroys them;

he enlarges nations, then leads them away.

<sup>24</sup> He removes understanding from a country's leaders and makes them wander in trackless deserts.

<sup>25</sup> They grope in unlit darkness;

he makes them stagger like drunks.

13<sup>1</sup> “All this I have seen with my own eyes;

with my own ears I have heard and understood it.

Whatever you know, I know too;

I am not inferior to you.

<sup>3</sup> However, it's Shaddai I want to speak with;

I want to prove my case to God.

<sup>4</sup> But you, what you do is whitewash with lies;

you are all witch doctors!

<sup>5</sup> I wish you would just stay silent;

for you, that would be wisdom!

<sup>6</sup> “Now listen to my reasoning,

pay attention to how I present my dispute.

<sup>7</sup> Is it for God's sake that you speak so wickedly?

for him that you talk deceitfully?

<sup>8</sup> Do you need to take his side

and plead God's case for him?

<sup>9</sup> If he examines you, will all go well?

Can you deceive him, as one man deceives another?

<sup>10</sup> If you are secretly flattering [him],

he will surely rebuke you.

<sup>11</sup> Doesn't God's majesty terrify you?

Aren't you overcome with dread of him?

<sup>12</sup> Your maxims are garbage-proverbs;

your answers crumble like clay.

<sup>13</sup> “So be quiet! Let me be! I'll do the talking, come on me what may!

<sup>14</sup> Why am I taking my flesh in my teeth,

taking my life in my hands?

<sup>15</sup> Look, he will kill me — I don't expect more,

but I will still defend my ways to his face.

<sup>16</sup> And this is what will save me —

that a hypocrite cannot appear before him.

<sup>17</sup> “Listen closely, then, to my words;

pay attention to what I am saying.

<sup>18</sup> Here, now, I have prepared my case;

I know I am in the right.

<sup>19</sup> If anyone can contend with me,

I will be quiet and die!

<sup>20</sup> “Only grant two things to me, God;

then I won't hide myself from your face —

<sup>21</sup> take your hand away from me,

and don't let fear of you frighten me.

<sup>22</sup> Then, if you call, I will answer.

Or let me speak, and you, answer me!

<sup>23</sup> How many crimes and sins have I committed?

Make me know my transgression and sin.

<sup>24</sup> Why do you hide your face

and think of me as your enemy?

<sup>25</sup> Do you want to harass a wind-driven leaf?

do you want to pursue a dry straw?

<sup>26</sup> Is this why you draw up bitter charges against me and punish me for the faults of my youth?

<sup>27</sup> You put my feet in the stocks,

you watch me closely wherever I go,

you trace out each footprint of mine —

<sup>28</sup> though [my body] decays like something rotten or like a moth-eaten garment.

“A human being, born from a woman,

14<sup>1</sup>

lives a short, trouble-filled life.

<sup>2</sup>       He comes up like a flower and withers away, flees like a shadow, doesn't last.

<sup>3</sup>       You fix your eyes on a creature like this?
You drag him to court with you?

<sup>4</sup>       Who can bring what is pure from something impure?
No one!

<sup>5</sup>       Since his days are fixed in advance,
the number of his months is known to you,
and you have fixed the limits which he can't cross;

<sup>6</sup>       look away from him, and let him be;
so that, like a hired worker,
he can finish his day in peace.

<sup>7</sup>       “For a tree, there is hope that if cut down, it will sprout again,
that its shoots will continue to grow.

<sup>8</sup>       Even if its roots grow old in the earth and its stump dies in the ground,

<sup>9</sup> yet at the scent of water it will bud
and put forth branches like a young plant.

<sup>10</sup> But when a human being grows weak and dies,
he expires; and then where is he?

<sup>11</sup> Just as water in a lake disappears,
as a river shrinks and dries up;

<sup>12</sup> so a person lies down and doesn't arise —
until the sky no longer exists;
it will not awaken,
it won't be roused from its sleep.

<sup>13</sup> “I wish you would hide me in Sh'ol, conceal me until your anger has passed,
then fix a time and remember me!

<sup>14</sup> If a man dies, will he live again?
I will wait all the days of my life
for my change to come.

<sup>15</sup> You will call, and I will answer you;
you will long to see what you made again.

<sup>16</sup> Whereas now you count each step of mine,

then you will not keep watch for my sin.

<sup>17</sup> You will seal up my crime in a bag

and cover over my iniquity.

<sup>18</sup> “Just as a mountain erodes and falls away, its rock is removed from its place,

<sup>19</sup> the water wears away its stones,

and the floods wash away its soil,

so you destroy a person’s hope.

<sup>20</sup> You overpower him, and he passes on;

you change his appearance and send him away.

or they are brought low, but he doesn’t notice.

<sup>22</sup> He feels pain only for his own flesh;

he laments only for himself.”

15<sup>1</sup> Then Elifaz the Teimani spoke:

Should he fill up his belly with the hot east wind?

<sup>3</sup> Should he reason with useless talk

or make speeches that do him no good?

<sup>4</sup> “Why, you are abolishing fear of God
and hindering prayer to him!

<sup>5</sup> Your iniquity is teaching you how to speak,
and deceit is your language of choice.

<sup>6</sup> Your own mouth condemns you, not I;
your own lips testify against you.

<sup>7</sup> “Were you the firstborn of the human race,
brought forth before the hills?

<sup>8</sup> Do you listen in on God’s secrets?
Do you limit wisdom to yourself?

<sup>9</sup> What do you know that we don’t know?
What discernment do you have that we don’t?

<sup>10</sup> With us are gray-haired men, old men,
men much older than your father.

<sup>11</sup> Are the comfortings of God not enough for you,
or a word that deals gently with you?

<sup>12</sup> Why does your heart carry you away,

and why do your eyes flash angrily,

<sup>13</sup> so that you turn your spirit against God

and let such words escape your mouth?

<sup>14</sup> “What is a human being, that he could be innocent,
someone born from a woman, that he could be righteous?

<sup>15</sup> God doesn’t trust even his holy ones;
no, even the heavens are not innocent in his view.

<sup>16</sup> How much less one loathesome and corrupt,
a human being, who drinks iniquity like water.

<sup>17</sup> “I will tell you — hear me out!

I will recount what I have seen;

<sup>18</sup> wise men have told it,
and it wasn’t hidden from their fathers either,

<sup>19</sup> to whom alone the land was given —
no foreigner passed among them.

<sup>20</sup> “The wicked is in torment all his life,
for all the years allotted to the tyrant.

<sup>21</sup> Terrifying sounds are in his ears;

in prosperity, robbers swoop down on him.

<sup>22</sup> He despairs of returning from darkness —

he is destined to meet the sword.

<sup>23</sup> He wanders and looks for food, which isn't there.

He knows the day of darkness is ready, at hand.

<sup>24</sup> Distress and anguish overwhelm him,
assaulting him like a king about to enter battle.

<sup>25</sup> “He raises his hand against God
and boldly defies Shaddai,

<sup>26</sup> running against him with head held high and thickly ornamented shield.

<sup>27</sup> “He lets his face grow gross and fat,
and the rest of him bulges with blubber;

<sup>28</sup> he lives in abandoned cities,
in houses no one would inhabit,
houses about to become ruins;

<sup>29</sup> therefore he will not remain rich,
his wealth will not endure,
his produce will not bend

[the grain stalks] to the earth.

<sup>30</sup> “He will not escape from darkness.

The flame will dry up his branches.

By a breath from the mouth of [God],

he will go away.

<sup>31</sup> Let him not rely on futile methods,

thereby deceiving himself;

for what he will receive in exchange

will be only futility.

<sup>32</sup> This will be accomplished in advance of its day.

His palm frond will not be fresh and green;

<sup>33</sup> he will be like a vine that sheds its unripe grapes,

like an olive tree that drops its flowers.

<sup>34</sup> “For the community of the ungodly is sterile;

fire consumes the tents of bribery.

<sup>35</sup> They conceive trouble and give birth to evil;

their womb prepares deceit.”

16<sup>1</sup> In response Iyov said:

“I have heard this stuff so often!

Such sorry comforters, all of you!

<sup>3</sup> Is there no end to words of wind?

What provokes you to answer this way?

<sup>4</sup> “If I were in your place,

I too could speak as you do —

I could string phrases together against you and shake my head at you.

<sup>5</sup> I could ‘strengthen’ you with my mouth,

with lip service I could ‘ease your grief.’

<sup>6</sup> If I speak, my own pain isn’t eased;

and if I don’t speak, it still doesn’t leave.

<sup>7</sup> “But now he has worn me out;

you have desolated this whole community of mine.

<sup>8</sup> Besides, you have shriveled me up;

and this serves to witness against me.

My being so thin rises up against me

and testifies to my face.

<sup>9</sup> He tears me apart in his anger;

he holds a grudge against me;

he gnashes on me with his teeth.

“My enemies look daggers at me.

<sup>10</sup> Wide-mouthed, they gape at me;

with scorn, they slap my cheeks;

they gather themselves together against me.

<sup>11</sup> “God delivers me to the perverse, throws me into the hands of the wicked.

<sup>12</sup> I was at peace, and he shook me apart.

Yes, he grabbed me by the neck and dashed me to pieces.

He set me up as his target —

<sup>13</sup> his archers surrounded me.

He slashes my innards and shows no mercy,

he pours my gall on the ground.

<sup>14</sup> He breaks in on me again and again,

attacking me like a warrior.

<sup>15</sup> “I sewed sackcloth together to cover my skin and laid my pride in the dust;

<sup>16</sup> my face is red from crying,

and on my eyelids is a death-dark shadow.

<sup>17</sup> Yet my hands are free from violence, and my prayer is pure.

<sup>18</sup> “Earth, don’t cover my blood;

don’t let my cry rest [without being answered].

<sup>19</sup> Even now, my witness is in heaven;

my advocate is there on high.

<sup>20</sup> With friends like these as intercessors,

my eyes pour out tears to God,

<sup>21</sup> that he would arbitrate between a man and God,

just as one does for his fellow human being.

<sup>22</sup> For I have but few years left before I leave on the road of no return.

17 <sup>1</sup> “My spirit is broken, my days are quenched,

I am marked for the grave.

<sup>2</sup> Mockers are all around me;

my eye meets only their hostility.

<sup>3</sup> Be my guarantor, yourself!

Who else will put up a pledge for me?

<sup>4</sup> For you have shut their minds to common sense;
therefore you will not let them triumph.

<sup>5</sup> Should people share with their friends
when their own children's eyes are so sad?

<sup>6</sup> "He has made me a byword among the peoples,
a creature in whose face they spit.

<sup>7</sup> I am nearly blind with grief,
my limbs reduced to a shadow.

<sup>8</sup> The upright are perplexed at this,
the innocent aroused against the hypocrites.

<sup>9</sup> Yet the righteous hold on to their way,
and those with clean hands grow stronger and stronger.

<sup>10</sup> "But as for you all, turn around! Come back! —
yet I won't find a wise man among you.

<sup>11</sup> My days are over, my plans cut off,
which I had cherished so;

<sup>12</sup> but they [try to] turn [my] night into day,

[saying,] ‘Light is near!’ — in the face of darkness.

<sup>13</sup> “If I hope for Sh’ol to be my house;

if I spread my couch in the dark;

<sup>14</sup> if I say to the pit, ‘You are my father,’

and to worms, ‘You are my mother and sister,’

<sup>15</sup> then where is my hope?

And that hope of mine, who will see it?

<sup>16</sup> Only those who go down with me to the bars of Sh’ol,

when we rest together in the dust.”

18 <sup>1</sup> Bildad the Shuchi said,

<sup>2</sup> “When will you put an end to words?

Think about it — then we’ll talk!

<sup>3</sup> Why are we thought of as cattle, stupid in your view?

<sup>4</sup> You can tear yourself to pieces in your anger,

but the earth won’t be abandoned just for your sake;

not even a rock will be moved from its place.

<sup>5</sup> “The light of the wicked will flicker and die,
not a spark from his fire will shine,

<sup>6</sup> the light in his tent is darkened,
the lamp over him will be snuffed out.

<sup>7</sup> His vigorous stride is shortened,
his own plans make him trip and fall.

<sup>8</sup> For his own feet plunge him into a net,
he wanders into its meshes.

<sup>9</sup> A trap grabs him by the heel,
a snare catches hold of him.

<sup>10</sup> A noose is hidden for him in the ground;
pitfalls lie in his path.

<sup>11</sup> Terrors overwhelm him on every side
and scatter about his feet.

<sup>12</sup> “Trouble is hungry for him,
calamity ready for his fall;

<sup>13</sup> disease eats away at his skin;
the first stages of death devour him gradually.

<sup>14</sup> What he relied on will be torn from his tent,

and he will be marched before the king of terrors.

<sup>15</sup> “What isn’t his at all will live in his tent;

sulfur will be scattered on his home.

<sup>16</sup> His roots beneath him will dry up;

above him, his branch will wither.

<sup>17</sup> Memory of him will fade from the land,

while abroad his name will be unknown.

<sup>18</sup> He will be pushed from light into darkness

and driven out of the world.

<sup>19</sup> “Without son or grandson among his people,

no one will remain in his dwellings.

<sup>20</sup> Those who come after will be appalled at his fate,

just as those there before were struck with horror.

and this is the place of those who don’t know God.”

19<sup>1</sup> Then Iyov answered:

<sup>2</sup> “How long will you go on making me angry, crushing me with words?

<sup>3</sup> You've insulted me ten times already;

aren't you ashamed to treat me so badly?

<sup>4</sup> Even if it's true that I made a mistake,

my error stays with me.

<sup>5</sup> "You may take a superior attitude toward me and cite my disgrace as proof against me;

<sup>6</sup> but know that it's God who has put me in the wrong and closed his net around me.

<sup>7</sup> If I cry, 'Violence!' no one hears me;

I cry aloud, but there is no justice.

<sup>8</sup> "He has fenced off my way, so that I can't pass;

he has covered my paths with darkness.

<sup>9</sup> He has stripped me of my glory

and removed the crown from my head.

<sup>10</sup> He tears every part of me down — I am gone;

he uproots my hope like a tree.

<sup>11</sup> "Inflamed with anger against me,

he counts me as one of his foes.

His troops advance together,
they make their way against me
and encamp around my tent.

<sup>13</sup> “He has made my brothers keep their distance,
those who know me are wholly estranged from me,

<sup>14</sup> my kinsfolk have failed me,
and my close friends have forgotten me.

<sup>15</sup> Those living in my house consider me a stranger;
my slave-girls too — in their view I’m a foreigner.

<sup>16</sup> I call my servant, and he doesn’t answer,
even if I beg him for a favor!

<sup>17</sup> “My wife can’t stand my breath,
I am loathsome to my own family.

<sup>18</sup> Even young children despise me —
if I stand up, they start jeering at me.

<sup>19</sup> All my intimate friends abhor me,
and those I loved have turned against me.

<sup>20</sup> My bones stick to my skin and flesh;
I have escaped by the skin of my teeth.

<sup>21</sup> “Pity me, friends of mine, pity me!

For the hand of God has struck me!

<sup>22</sup> Must you pursue me as God does,

never satisfied with my flesh?

<sup>23</sup> I wish my words were written down,

that they were inscribed in a scroll,

<sup>24</sup> that, engraved with iron and filled with lead,

they were cut into rock forever!

<sup>25</sup> “But I know that my Redeemer lives,

that in the end he will rise on the dust;

<sup>26</sup> so that after my skin has been thus destroyed,

then even without my flesh, I will see God.

<sup>27</sup> I will see him for myself,

my eyes, not someone else’s, will behold him.

My heart grows weak inside me!

<sup>28</sup> “If you say, ‘How will we persecute him?’ —

the root of the matter is found in me.

<sup>29</sup> You had best fear the sword,

for anger brings the punishment of the sword,
so that you will know there is judgment!”

20<sup>1</sup> Tzofar the Na’amati replied,

<sup>2</sup> “My thoughts are pressing me to answer;

I feel such an urge to speak!

<sup>3</sup> I have heard reproof that outrages me,

but a spirit past my understanding gives me a reply.

<sup>4</sup> “Don’t you know that ever since time began,

ever since humans were placed on earth,

<sup>5</sup> that the triumph of the wicked is always short-lived,

and the joy of the ungodly is gone in a moment?

<sup>6</sup> His pride may mount to the heavens,

his head may touch the clouds;

<sup>7</sup> but he will vanish completely, like his own dung —

those who used to see him will ask, ‘Where is he?’

<sup>8</sup> Like a dream he flies off and is not found again;

like a vision in the night he is chased away.

<sup>9</sup> The eye which once saw him will see him no more,

his place will not behold him again.

<sup>10</sup> His children will have to pay back the poor;

his hands will restore their wealth.

but it will join him lying in the dust.

<sup>12</sup> “Wickedness may taste sweet in his mouth,

he may savor and roll it around on his tongue,

<sup>13</sup> he may linger over it and not let it go

but keep it there in his mouth —

<sup>14</sup> yet in his stomach his food goes bad,

it works inside him like snake venom;

<sup>15</sup> the wealth he swallows he vomits back up;

God makes him disgorge it.

<sup>16</sup> He sucks the poison of asps,

the viper’s fangs will kill him.

<sup>17</sup> He will not enjoy the rivers,

the streams flowing with honey and cream.

<sup>18</sup> He will have to give back what he toiled for;

he won’t get to swallow it down —

to the degree that he acquired wealth,
he won't get to enjoy it.

<sup>19</sup> “For he crushed and abandoned the poor, seizing houses he did not build,

<sup>20</sup> because his appetite would not let him rest,
in his greed he let nothing escape;

<sup>21</sup> nothing is left that he did not devour; therefore his well-being will not last.

<sup>22</sup> With all needs satisfied, he will be in distress;
the full force of misery will come over him.

<sup>23</sup> “This is what will fill his belly! —
[God] will lay on him all his burning anger and make it rain over him, into his insides.

<sup>24</sup> If he flees from the weapon of iron,
the bow of bronze will pierce him through —

<sup>25</sup> he pulls the arrow out of his back,
the shining tip comes out from his innards;
terrors come upon him.

<sup>26</sup> “Total darkness is laid up for his treasures,

a fire fanned by no one will consume him,
and calamity awaits what is left in his tent.

<sup>27</sup> The heavens will reveal his guilt,
and the earth will rise up against him.

<sup>28</sup> The income of his household will be carried off;
his goods will flow away on the day of his wrath.

<sup>29</sup> This is God's reward for the wicked,
the heritage God decrees for him."

<sup>2</sup> “Listen carefully to my words;
let this be the comfort you give me.

<sup>3</sup> Bear with me as I speak;
then, after I have spoken, you can go on mocking.

<sup>4</sup> “As for me, is my complaint merely to other people?
Don’t I have grounds for being short-tempered?

<sup>5</sup> Look at me, and be appalled;
cover your mouth with your hand!

<sup>6</sup> Whenever I recall it, I am in shock;
my whole body shudders.

<sup>7</sup> “Why do the wicked go on living,
grow old and keep increasing their power?

<sup>8</sup> They see their children settled with them,
their posterity assured.

God’s rod is not on them.

<sup>10</sup> Their bulls are fertile without fail,

their cows get pregnant and don't miscarry.

<sup>11</sup> They produce flocks of babies,

and their children dance around.

<sup>12</sup> They sing with tambourines and lyres

and rejoice to the sound of the pipe.

<sup>13</sup> They spend their days in prosperity and go down to the grave in peace.

<sup>14</sup> “Yet to God they said, ‘Leave us alone!

We don't want to know about your ways.

<sup>15</sup> What is Shaddai, that we should serve him?

What do we gain if we pray to him?’

The plans of the wicked are far from me.

How often does their calamity come upon them?

How often does [God] deal out pain in his anger,

<sup>18</sup> to make them like straw in the wind,

like chaff carried off by a storm?

<sup>19</sup> God lays up for their children

[the punishment for their] iniquity.

He should lay it on [the wicked] themselves,
so that they can feel it!

<sup>20</sup> Let their own eyes see their own destruction and themselves drink the wrath of Shaddai.

<sup>21</sup> What joy can they have in their family after them,
given that their months are numbered?

After all, he judges those who are on high.

<sup>23</sup> One person dies in his full strength,
completely at ease and content;

<sup>24</sup> his pails are full of milk,
and the marrow in his bones is moist.

<sup>25</sup> Another dies with embittered heart,
never having tasted happiness.

<sup>26</sup> They lie down alike in the dust,
and the worm covers them both.

<sup>27</sup> “Look, I know what you are thinking and your plans to do me wrong.

<sup>28</sup> You ask, ‘Where is the great man’s house?

Where is the tent where the wicked once lived?’

<sup>29</sup> Haven’t you ever questioned travelers?

Don’t you accept their testimony

<sup>30</sup> that the evil man is saved on the day of disaster,

rescued on the day of wrath?

<sup>31</sup> So who will confront him with his ways?

Who will repay him for what he has done?

<sup>32</sup> For he is carried off to the grave,

people keep watch over his tomb,

<sup>33</sup> the clods of the valley are sweet to him;

so everyone follows his example,

just as before him were countless others.

Of your answers, only the perfidy remains.”

Can even the wisest benefit him?

<sup>3</sup> Does Shaddai gain if you are righteous?

Does he profit if you make your ways blameless?

<sup>4</sup> “Is he rebuking you because you fear him?

Is this why he enters into judgment with you?

<sup>5</sup> Isn’t it because your wickedness is great?

Aren’t your iniquities endless?

<sup>6</sup> “For you kept your kinsmen’s goods as collateral for no reason,
you stripped the poorly clothed of what clothing they have,

<sup>7</sup> you didn’t give water to the weary to drink,
you withheld food from the hungry.

<sup>8</sup> As a wealthy man, an owner of land, and
as a man of rank, who lives on it,

<sup>9</sup> you sent widows away empty-handed
and left the arms of orphans crushed.

<sup>10</sup> “No wonder there are snares all around you,
and sudden terror overwhelms you,

<sup>11</sup> or darkness, so that you can’t see,

and a flood of water that covers you up!

<sup>12</sup> “Isn’t God in the heights of heaven,
looking [down even] on the highest stars?

<sup>13</sup> Yet you say, ‘What does God know?
Can he see through thick darkness to judge?

<sup>14</sup> The clouds veil him off, so that he can’t see;
he just wanders around in heaven.’

<sup>15</sup> “Are you going to keep to the old way,
the one the wicked have trodden,

<sup>16</sup> the ones snatched away before their time,
whose foundations a flood swept away?

<sup>17</sup> They said to God, ‘Leave us alone!
What can Shaddai do to us?’

(But the advice of the wicked is far away from me.)

the innocent laughed them to scorn —

<sup>20</sup> ‘Indeed, our substance has not been not cut off,

but the fire has consumed their wealth.’

in this way good will come [back] to you.

<sup>22</sup> Please! Receive instruction from his mouth, and take his words to heart.

<sup>23</sup> If you return to Shaddai, you will be built up.

If you drive wickedness far from your tents,

<sup>24</sup> if you lay your treasure down in the dust

and the gold of Ofir among the rocks in the vadis,

<sup>25</sup> and let Shaddai be your treasure

and your sparkling silver;

<sup>26</sup> then Shaddai will be your delight,

you will lift up your face to God;

<sup>27</sup> you will entreat him, and he will hear you,

and you will pay what you vowed;

<sup>28</sup> what you decide to do will succeed,

and light will shine on your path;

<sup>29</sup> when someone is brought down, you will say, ‘It was pride, because [God] saves the humble.’

<sup>30</sup>

“He delivers even the unclean;
so if your hands are clean, you will be delivered.”

23 <sup>1</sup> Then Iyov answered:

<sup>2</sup>

“Today too my complaint is bitter;
my hand is weighed down because of my groaning.

<sup>3</sup>

I wish I knew where I could find him;
then I would go to where he is.

<sup>4</sup>

I would state my case before him
and fill my mouth with arguments.

<sup>5</sup>

I would know his answering words
and grasp what he would tell me.

<sup>6</sup>

Would he browbeat me with his great power?
No, he would pay attention to me.

<sup>7</sup>

There an upright person could reason with him;
thus I might be forever acquitted by my judge.

<sup>8</sup>

“If I head east, he isn’t there;
if I head west, I don’t detect him,

<sup>9</sup>

if I turn north, I don’t spot him;

in the south he is veiled, and I still don't see him.

<sup>10</sup> Yet he knows the way I take;

when he has tested me, I will come out like gold.

<sup>11</sup> My feet have stayed in his footsteps;

I keep to his way without turning aside.

<sup>12</sup> I don't withdraw from his lips' command;

I treasure his words more than my daily food.

<sup>13</sup> "But he has no equal, so who can change him?

What he desires, he does.

<sup>14</sup> He will accomplish what is decreed for me,

and he has many plans like this.

<sup>15</sup> This is why I am terrified of him;

the more I think about it, the more afraid I am —

<sup>16</sup> God has undermined my courage;

Shaddai frightens me.

<sup>17</sup> Yet I am not cut off by the darkness;

he has protected me from the deepest gloom.

24<sup>1</sup> "Why are times not kept by Shaddai?

Why do those who know him not see his days?

<sup>2</sup>        There are those who move boundary markers;
they carry off flocks and pasture them;

<sup>3</sup>        they drive away the orphan's donkey;
as collateral, they seize the widow's ox.

<sup>4</sup>        They push the needy out of the way —
the poor of the land are forced into hiding;

<sup>5</sup>        like wild donkeys in the wilderness,
they have to go out and scavenge food, [hoping that] the desert
will provide food for their children.

<sup>6</sup>        They must reap in fields that are not their own and gather late grapes in the vineyards of the wicked.

<sup>7</sup>        They pass the night without clothing, naked,
uncovered in the cold,

<sup>8</sup>        wet with mountain rain,
and hugging the rock for lack of shelter.

<sup>9</sup>        “There are those who pluck orphans from the breast and [those who] take [the clothes of] the poor in pledge,

<sup>10</sup> so that they go about stripped, unclothed;

they go hungry, as they carry sheaves [of grain];

<sup>11</sup> between these men's rows [of olives], they make oil;

treading their winepresses, they suffer thirst.

<sup>12</sup> Men are groaning in the city,

the mortally wounded are crying for help,

yet God finds nothing amiss!

<sup>13</sup> "There are those who rebel against the light —

they don't know its ways or stay in its paths.

<sup>14</sup> The murderer rises with the light

to kill the poor and needy;

while at night he is like a thief.

<sup>15</sup> The eye of the adulterer too waits for twilight;

he thinks, 'No eye will see me';

but [to be sure], he covers his face.

<sup>16</sup> When it's dark, they break into houses;

in the daytime, they stay out of sight.

[None of them] know the light.

<sup>17</sup> For to all of them deep darkness is like morning,

for the terrors of deep darkness are familiar to them.

<sup>18</sup> “May they be scum on the surface of the water,
may their share of land be cursed,
may no one turn on the way of their vineyards,

<sup>19</sup> may drought and heat steal away their snow water and Sh’ol those who have sinned.

<sup>20</sup> May the womb forget them,
may worms find them sweet,
may they no longer be remembered —
thus may iniquity be snapped like a stick.

<sup>21</sup> They devour childless women
and give no help to widows.

<sup>22</sup> “Yet God keeps pulling the mighty along —
they get up, even when not trusting their own lives.

<sup>23</sup> However, even if God lets them rest in safety,
his eyes are on their ways.

<sup>24</sup> They are exalted for a little while;
and then they are gone,
brought low, gathered in like all others,

shriveled up like ears of grain.

<sup>25</sup> “And even if it isn’t so now,
still no one can prove me a liar
and show that my words are worthless.”

<sup>2</sup> “Dominion and fear belong to him;
he makes peace in his high places.

<sup>3</sup> Can his armies be numbered?
On whom does his light not shine?

<sup>4</sup> How then can humans be righteous with God?
How can those born of women be clean?

<sup>5</sup> Why, before him even the moon lacks brightness,
and the stars themselves are not pure.

a mortal, who is only a worm?!”

26<sup>1</sup> Then Iyov replied,

<sup>2</sup> “What great help you bring to the powerless!
What deliverance to the arm without strength!

So much common sense you've expressed!

<sup>4</sup> Who helped you to say these words?

Whose spirit is it, coming forth from you?

<sup>5</sup> "The ghosts of the dead tremble

beneath the water, with its creatures.

<sup>6</sup> Sh'ol is naked before him;

Abaddon lies uncovered.

<sup>7</sup> He stretches the north over chaos

and suspends the earth on nothing.

<sup>8</sup> He binds up the water in his thick clouds,

yet no cloud is torn apart by it.

<sup>9</sup> He shuts off the view of his throne

by spreading his cloud across it.

defining the boundary between light and dark.

aghast at his rebuke.

<sup>12</sup> He stirs up the sea with his power,

and by his skill he strikes down Rahav.

<sup>13</sup> With his Spirit he spreads the heavens;

his hand pierces the fleeing serpent.

<sup>14</sup> And these are but the fringes of his ways;

how faint the echo we hear of him!

But who is able to grasp the meaning of his thundering power?”

27 <sup>1</sup> Iyov continued his speech:

<sup>2</sup> “I swear by the living God,

who is denying me justice,

and by Shaddai,

who deals with me so bitterly,

<sup>3</sup> that as long as my life remains in me and God’s breath is in my nostrils,

<sup>4</sup> my lips will not speak unrighteousness,

or my tongue utter deceit.

<sup>5</sup> Far be it from me to say you are right;

I will keep my integrity till the day I die.

<sup>6</sup> I hold to my righteousness; I won’t let it go;

my heart will not shame me as long as I live.

<sup>7</sup> “May my enemy meet the doom of the wicked;
my foe the fate of the unrighteous.

<sup>8</sup> For what hope does the godless have from his gain
when God takes away his life?

<sup>9</sup> Will God hear his cry
when trouble comes upon him?

<sup>10</sup> Will he take delight in Shaddai
and always call on God?

<sup>11</sup> “I am teaching you how God uses his power,
not hiding what Shaddai is doing.

<sup>12</sup> Look, you all can see for yourselves;
so why are you talking such empty nonsense?

<sup>13</sup> “This is God’s reward for the wicked man,
the heritage oppressors receive from Shaddai:

<sup>14</sup> if his sons become many, they go to the sword;
and his children never have enough to eat.

<sup>15</sup> Those of his who remain are buried by plague,

and their widows do not weep.

<sup>16</sup> Even if he piles up silver like dust and stores away clothing [in mounds] like clay —

<sup>17</sup> he may collect it, but the just will wear it, and the upright divide up the silver.

<sup>18</sup> He builds his house weak as a spider's web,
as flimsy as a watchman's shack.

<sup>19</sup> He may lie down rich, but his wealth yields nothing;
when he opens his eyes, it isn't there.

<sup>20</sup> Terrors overtake him like a flood;
at night a whirlwind steals him away.

<sup>21</sup> The east wind carries him off, and he's gone;
it sweeps him far from his place.

<sup>22</sup> Yes, it hurls itself at him, sparing nothing;
he does all he can to flee from its power.

<sup>23</sup> [People] clap their hands at him in derision and hiss him out of his home.

28 <sup>1</sup> “There are mines for silver and places where gold is refined;

<sup>2</sup>       iron is extracted from the earth,

and copper is smelted from ore.

<sup>3</sup>       Miners conquer the darkness

and dig as far in as they can,

to the ore in gloom and deep darkness.

<sup>4</sup>       There where no one lives, they break open a shaft;

the feet passing over are oblivious to them;

far from people, suspended in space,

they swing to and fro.

<sup>5</sup>       “While the earth is [peacefully] yielding bread, underneath, it is being convulsed as if by fire;

<sup>6</sup>       its rocks have veins of sapphire,

and there are flecks of gold.

<sup>7</sup>       Birds of prey don’t know that path,

no falcon’s eye has seen it,

<sup>8</sup>       the proud beasts have never set foot on it,

no lion has ever passed over it.

<sup>9</sup>       “[The miner] attacks the flint,

overturns mountains at their roots,

<sup>10</sup> and cuts out galleries in the rock,

all the while watching for something of value.

<sup>11</sup> He dams up streams to keep them from flooding,

and brings what was hidden out into the light.

Where is the source of understanding?

<sup>13</sup> No one knows its value,

and it can’t be found in the land of the living.

<sup>14</sup> The deep says, ‘It isn’t in me,’

and the sea says, ‘It isn’t with me.’

<sup>15</sup> It can’t be obtained with gold,

nor can silver be weighed out to buy it.

<sup>16</sup> It can’t be purchased with choice gold from Ofir,

or with precious onyx or sapphires.

nor can it be exchanged for a bowl of fine gold,

<sup>18</sup> let alone coral or crystal;

for indeed, the price of wisdom is above that of pearls.

<sup>19</sup> It can't be compared with Ethiopian topaz,
and it can't be valued with pure gold.

<sup>20</sup> "So where does wisdom come from?

Where is the source of understanding,

<sup>21</sup> inasmuch as it is hidden from the eyes of all living and kept secret from the birds flying around in the sky?

<sup>22</sup> Destruction and Death say,
'We have heard a rumor about it with our ears.'

<sup>23</sup> "God understands its way,
and he knows its place.

<sup>24</sup> For he can see to the ends of the earth and view everything under heaven.

<sup>25</sup> When he determined the force of the wind
and parceled out water by measure,

<sup>26</sup> when he made a law for the rain
and cleared a path for the thunderbolts;

<sup>27</sup> then he saw [wisdom] and declared it,
yes, he set it up and searched it out.

And to human beings he said,
'Look, fear of ADONAI is wisdom!
Shunning evil is understanding!'"

29<sup>1</sup> Iyov went on speaking:

<sup>2</sup> "I wish I were as in the old days,
back in the times when God watched over me;
<sup>3</sup> when his lamp shone over my head,
and I walked through the dark by its light;
<sup>4</sup> as I was when I was young,
and God's counsel graced my tent.
<sup>5</sup> Then Shaddai was still with me,
my children were around me;
<sup>6</sup> my steps were awash in butter,
and the rocks poured out for me streams of olive oil.
<sup>7</sup> I would go out to the city gate and set up my seat in the open space; <sup>8</sup> when young men saw me they would hide themselves,
while the aged arose and stood;

leaders refrained from speaking —
they would lay their hands on their mouths;

<sup>10</sup> the voices of nobles were silenced;
their tongues stuck to their palates.

<sup>11</sup> Any ear that heard me blessed me,
any eye that saw me gave witness to me,

<sup>12</sup> for I delivered the poor when they cried for assistance,
the orphan too, who had no one to help him.

<sup>13</sup> Those who had been about to die would bless me, and I made widows sing in their hearts for joy.

<sup>14</sup> I clothed myself with righteousness, and it clothed itself with me;
my justice was like a robe and a crown.

<sup>15</sup> I was eyes for the blind,
and I was feet for the lame.

<sup>16</sup> I was a father to the needy,
and I investigated the problems of those I didn't know.

<sup>17</sup> I broke the jaws of the unrighteous and snatched the prey from his teeth.

<sup>18</sup> “I said, ‘I will die with my nest,

and I will live as long as a phoenix;

<sup>19</sup> my root will spread till it reaches water,

and dew will stay all night on my branch;

<sup>20</sup> my glory will always be fresh,

my bow always new in my hand.'

<sup>21</sup> "People would listen to me;

they waited and were silent when I gave advice.

my words were like drops [of dew] on them.

<sup>23</sup> They waited for me as if for rain,

as if for spring rain, with their mouths open wide.

<sup>24</sup> When I joked with them, they couldn't believe it;

and they never darkened the light on my face.

I lived like a king in the army,

like one who comforts mourners.

30<sup>1</sup> "But now those younger than I hold me in derision,

men whose fathers I wouldn't even have put with the dogs that guarded my sheep.

<sup>2</sup>       What use to me was the strength in their hands?
All their vigor had left them.

they gnaw the dry ground in the gloom
of waste and desolation.

<sup>4</sup>       They pluck saltwort and bitter leaves;
these, with broom tree roots, are their food.

<sup>5</sup>       They are driven away from society,
with men shouting after them as after a thief,

<sup>6</sup>       to live in gullies and vadis,
in holes in the ground and caves in the rocks.

<sup>7</sup>       Among the bushes they howl like beasts
and huddle among the nettles,

<sup>8</sup>       irresponsible nobodies driven from the land.

<sup>9</sup>       “Now I have become their song;
yes, I am a byword with them.

<sup>10</sup> They loathe me, they stand aloof from me;

they don't hesitate to spit in my face!

<sup>11</sup> For God has loosened my bowstring and humbled me;

they throw off restraint in my presence.

pushing me from place to place,

besieging me with their ways of destruction,

<sup>13</sup> breaking up my path,

furthering my calamity —

even those who have no one to help them.

<sup>14</sup> They move in as through a wide gap;

amid the ruin they roll on in waves.

<sup>15</sup> Terrors tumble over me,

chasing my honor away like the wind;

my [hope of] salvation passes like a cloud.

<sup>16</sup> “So now my life is ebbing away,

days of grief have seized me.

<sup>17</sup> At night pain pierces me to the bone,

so that I never rest.

<sup>18</sup> My clothes are disfigured by the force [of my disease];
they choke me like the collar of my coat.

<sup>19</sup> [God] has thrown me into the mud;
I have become like dust and ashes.

<sup>20</sup> “I call out to you [God], but you don’t answer me;
I stand up to plead, but you just look at me.

<sup>21</sup> You have turned cruelly against me;
with your powerful hand you keep persecuting me.

<sup>22</sup> You snatch me up on the wind and make me ride it;
you toss me about in the tempest.

<sup>23</sup> For I know that you will bring me to death,
the house assigned to everyone living.

if in one’s calamity one cried out to him for help.

<sup>25</sup> Didn’t I weep for those who were in trouble?
Didn’t I grieve for the needy?

<sup>26</sup> Yet when I hoped for good, what came was bad;
when I expected light, what came was darkness.

My insides are in turmoil; they can't find rest;
days of misery confront me.

<sup>28</sup> I go about in sunless gloom,
I rise in the assembly and cry for help.

<sup>29</sup> I have become a brother to jackals
and a companion of ostriches.

<sup>30</sup> My skin is black and falling off me,
and my bones are burning with heat.

<sup>31</sup> So my lyre is tuned for mourning,
my pipe to the voice of those who weep.

31 <sup>1</sup> “I made a covenant with my eyes
not to let them lust after any girl.

What is the heritage from Shaddai on high?

<sup>3</sup> Isn't it calamity to the unrighteous?
disaster to those who do evil?

<sup>4</sup> Doesn't he see my ways
and count all my steps?

<sup>5</sup> “If I have gone along with falsehood,

if my feet have hurried to deceit;

<sup>6</sup> then let me be weighed on an honest scale,

so that God will know my integrity.

<sup>7</sup> “If my steps have wandered from the way,

if my heart has followed my eyes,

if the least dirt has stuck to my hands;

<sup>8</sup> then let me sow and someone else eat,

let what grows from my fields be uprooted.

<sup>9</sup> “If my heart has been enticed toward a woman,

and I have lain in wait at my neighbor’s door;

<sup>10</sup> then let my wife grind for another man,

and let others kneel on her.

<sup>11</sup> For that would be a heinous act,

a criminal offense,

<sup>12</sup> a fire that would burn to the depths of Abaddon, uprooting all I produce.

<sup>13</sup> “If I ever rejected my slave or slave-girl’s cause,

when they brought legal action against me;

<sup>14</sup> then what would I do if God stood up?

Were he to intervene, what answer could I give?

<sup>15</sup> Didn't he who made me in the womb make them too?

Didn't the same one shape us both before our birth?

<sup>16</sup> "If I held back anything needed by the poor

or made a widow's eye grow dim [with tears],

<sup>17</sup> or ate my portion of food by myself,

without letting the orphan eat any of it —

<sup>18</sup> No! From my youth he grew up with me as if with a father,

and I have been her guide

from my mother's womb! —

<sup>19</sup> or if I saw a traveler needing clothing, someone in need who had no covering,

<sup>20</sup> who didn't bless me from his heart

for being warmed with the fleece from my sheep,

<sup>21</sup> or if I lifted my hand against an orphan,

knowing that no one would dare charge me in court;

<sup>22</sup> then let my arm fall from its socket,

and let my forearm be broken at the elbow!

<sup>23</sup> For calamity from God has always terrified me;

before his majesty I could never do a thing [like that].

<sup>24</sup> “If I made gold my hope,

if I said to fine gold, ‘You are my security,’

<sup>25</sup> if I took joy in my great wealth, in my having acquired so much;

<sup>26</sup> or if, on seeing the shining sun

or the full moon as it moved through the sky,

<sup>27</sup> my heart was secretly seduced,

so that I would wave them a kiss with my hand;

<sup>28</sup> then this too would be a criminal offense,

for I would have been lying to God on high.

<sup>29</sup> “Did I rejoice at the destruction of him who hated me?

Was I filled with glee when disaster overtook him?

<sup>30</sup> No, I did not allow my mouth to sin

by asking for his life with a curse.

“Was there anyone in my tent who didn’t say,
‘No one can find a single person whom he has not filled with his meat’?

<sup>32</sup> No stranger had to sleep in the street;
I kept my house open to the traveler.

<sup>33</sup> “If I concealed my sins, as most people do,
by hiding my wrongdoing in my heart,

<sup>34</sup> from fear of general gossip
or dread of some family’s contempt.
keeping silent and not going outdoors —

<sup>35</sup> I wish I had someone who would listen to me!
Here is my signature; let Shaddai answer me!
I wish I had the indictment my adversary has written!

<sup>36</sup> I would carry it on my shoulder;
I would bind it on me like a crown.

<sup>37</sup> I would declare to him every one of my steps;
I would approach him like a prince.

<sup>38</sup> “If my land cried out against me,
if its furrows wept together,

39

if I ate its produce without paying or made its owners despair;

40

then let thistles grow instead of wheat
and noxious weeds instead of barley!

“The words of Iyov are finished.”

32<sup>1</sup> So these three men stopped trying to answer Iyov, because he remained convinced of his own righteousness.

<sup>2</sup> But then the anger of Elihu the son of Barakh’el the Buzi, from the family of Ram, blazed up against Iyov for thinking he was right and God wrong. <sup>3</sup> His anger also blazed up against his three friends, because they had found no answer to Iyov but condemned him anyway. <sup>4</sup> Elihu had waited to speak to Iyov because they were older than he; <sup>5</sup> however, when Elihu saw that these three had no answer, his anger flared up. <sup>6</sup> Elihu the son of Barakh’el the Buzi said:

“I am young, and you are old,
so I held back from telling you my opinion.

7

I said, ‘Age should speak;
an abundance of years should teach wisdom.’

8

But it is the spirit in a person, the breath from Shaddai, that gives him understanding —

9

it isn’t [only] the great who are wise
or the aged who know how to judge.

10

Therefore, I say, listen to me;
I too will express my opinion.

<sup>11</sup> “Here, I waited for your words,
I listened to your reasoning,
as you were searching for what to say.

<sup>12</sup> I paid attention to you,
but none of you convicted Iyov
or refuted his arguments.

<sup>13</sup> So don’t say, ‘We found the wise course —
let God defeat him, not a human being.’

<sup>14</sup> For he did not direct his words against me, and I won’t answer him with your arguments.

<sup>15</sup> “They are confused, they don’t reply, words have failed them.

<sup>16</sup> But must I wait just because they don’t speak,
just because they stand there, stuck for an answer?

<sup>17</sup> No, I will now give my answer;
I too will express my opinion.

<sup>18</sup> For I am full of words;

the spirit within me compels me.

<sup>19</sup> Yes, my insides feel like new wine under pressure,
like new wineskins ready to burst.

<sup>20</sup> I must speak, to find relief;
I will open my lips and answer.

<sup>21</sup> I will show no favor to anyone,
and I will flatter no one;

if I did, my maker would soon put an end to me

33<sup>1</sup> “So, Iyov, please, hear my speech;
listen to all my words.

<sup>2</sup> Look, I am opening my mouth;
the words are on the tip of my tongue.

<sup>3</sup> I will say exactly what is on my mind;
what my lips know, they will speak sincerely.

<sup>4</sup> It is the Spirit of God that made me,
the breath of Shaddai that gives me life.

<sup>5</sup> So refute me, if you can;

organize your words, take your stand!

<sup>6</sup> Look, before God I'm the same as you;

I too am fashioned from clay.

<sup>7</sup> You don't need to be afraid of me;

my pressure on you will not be heavy.

<sup>8</sup> "You spoke within my hearing,

and I heard what you said —

<sup>9</sup> 'I am clean, without transgression;

I am innocent, not guilty.

<sup>10</sup> Yet [God] finds pretexts for accusing me;

he regards me as his enemy.

<sup>11</sup> He puts my feet in the stocks

and watches wherever I go.'

<sup>12</sup> "But in this, you are wrong; I will answer you:

God is greater than any mortal.

<sup>13</sup> Why do you strive against him?

He will not defend his words —

<sup>14</sup> God speaks once, even twice,

and still the hearer misses the point.

<sup>15</sup> “In a dream, in a vision at night,

when slumber falls upon people,

as they sleep in their beds,

<sup>16</sup> he opens people’s ears

and seals the matter with a warning,

<sup>17</sup> to turn a person away from his action

and protect a man from pride,

<sup>18</sup> so that he will keep himself away from the pit and from perishing by the sword.

<sup>19</sup> “He is also warned by pain when in bed,

when all his bones are hurting;

<sup>20</sup> so that he detests bread

as well as richer food.

<sup>21</sup> His flesh wastes away, till one can’t stand to look;

his bones protrude and become unsightly.

<sup>22</sup> His soul comes close to the pit

and his life to those who bring death.

<sup>23</sup> “If there is for him an angel, a mediator, one among a thousand,

who can vouch for the man's uprightness;

<sup>24</sup> then [God] is gracious to him and says,
'Redeem him from going down to the pit;
I have found a ransom.'

<sup>25</sup> His flesh becomes fresher than that of a child,
he returns to the days of his youth.

<sup>26</sup> He prays to God and is accepted by him,
so that he sees [God's] face with joy,
and [God] repays the man for his righteousness.

<sup>27</sup> He declares before everyone, 'I sinned;
I perverted what was right,
and it gained me nothing.

<sup>28</sup> [God] redeemed me from going into the pit,
and now my life sees light.'

<sup>29</sup> God will accomplish all these things twice, even three times, with a man,

<sup>30</sup> to bring him back from the pit,
so that he can enjoy the light of the living.

keep quiet, and I will keep speaking.

<sup>32</sup> If you have something to say, answer me;

speak, because I want to show that you are right.

<sup>33</sup> If not, then listen to me;

keep quiet, and I will teach you wisdom.”

Listen to me, you who know so much!

<sup>3</sup> For the ear tests words,

just as the palate tastes food.

<sup>4</sup> Let’s choose for ourselves what is just;

let’s decide among ourselves what is good.

<sup>5</sup> For Iyov says, ‘I am in the right,

but God is denying me justice.

my wound is mortal, though I committed no crime.’

who drinks in scoffing like water,

<sup>8</sup> who keeps company with evildoers

and goes with wicked men,

<sup>9</sup> since he thinks, ‘It profits a person nothing to be in accord with God’?

<sup>10</sup> “So listen to me, you men with sense!

Far be it from God to do anything wicked!

<sup>11</sup> For he pays people back for what they do and sees that each gets what his conduct deserves.

<sup>12</sup> It is certain that God does nothing wicked;

Shaddai will not pervert justice.

<sup>13</sup> Did someone else put him in charge of the earth?

Who else established the entire world?

<sup>14</sup> If he were to take back man’s heart to himself,

if he gathered to himself his spirit and breath;

<sup>15</sup> all flesh would instantly perish,

everyone would return to dust.

<sup>16</sup> “If you have any sense, [Iyov,] hear this;

listen to what I am saying.

<sup>17-18</sup> Should a hater of justice be in control?

If you wouldn't tell a king, 'You're a scoundrel!'

or nobles, 'You are wicked men!'

then you shouldn't condemn the Just and Mighty One,

<sup>19</sup> who is neither partial toward princes

nor favors the rich over the poor,

since they all are the work of his hands.

<sup>20</sup> They may die in a moment, in the middle of the night—

the people are shaken and pass away,

the mighty are removed without human hands.

<sup>21</sup> For he keeps watch on a person's ways;

he sees his every step.

<sup>22</sup> There is no darkness, no death-like gloom,

where wrongdoers can hide;

<sup>23</sup> for he doesn't give warning to people

when they must appear before God in judgment.

<sup>24</sup> He shatters the mighty without needing to investigate and sets up others in their place.

<sup>25</sup> Therefore, aware of what they are doing,
he overturns them by night, and they are crushed.

<sup>26</sup> He strikes them as if they were common criminals in the open sight of others,

<sup>27</sup> because they turned away from following him
and gave no thought to any of his ways,

<sup>28</sup> thereby bringing before him the cries of the poor;
and he hears the cries of the oppressed.

<sup>29</sup> “But if God is silent, who can accuse him;
if he hides his face, who can see him?
He may do this to nations and persons alike,

<sup>30</sup> so that godless men will not become kings,
and the people will not be lured into traps.

<sup>31</sup> “For has anyone said to God,
‘I have been chastised without having offended;

<sup>32</sup> teach me what I have failed to see;
and if I have done wrong, I will do it no more’?

<sup>33</sup> Must his rewards meet your approval?

Well, you are the one who doesn’t like them,

so you, not I, should pick the alternative;

come on, say what you think!

<sup>34</sup> Intelligent people will tell me,

every wise man who hears me will say,

<sup>35</sup> ‘Iyov is speaking without thinking;

his words lack discernment.’

because he answers like wicked men.

<sup>37</sup> For now to his sin he adds rebellion;

he [mockingly] claps his hands among us and keeps adding to his words against God.”

35<sup>1</sup> Elihu went on to say:

<sup>2</sup> “Are you so convinced you are right,

that you say, ‘I am more just than God’?

<sup>3</sup> For you ask what advantage it is to you,

‘How do I gain from not sinning?’

<sup>4</sup> “Here is my answer to you,

to you and to your friends:

<sup>5</sup> Look at the heavens and see;

observe the skies, high above you.

<sup>6</sup> If you sin, how do you hurt him?

If your crimes are many, how do you affect him?

<sup>7</sup> If you are righteous, what do you give him?

What benefit does he get from you?

<sup>8</sup> Your wickedness can affect only others like you, and your righteousness only other human beings.

<sup>9</sup> People cry out from under many oppressions;

they cry for help from under the fist of the mighty.

<sup>10</sup> But no one asks, 'Where is God my maker,

who causes glad songs to ring out at night,

<sup>11</sup> who teaches us more than he teaches wild animals and makes us wiser than the birds in the air?'

<sup>12</sup> They may cry out, but no one answers,

because of evil men's pride.

<sup>13</sup> For God will not listen to empty cries;

Shaddai pays no attention to them.

<sup>14</sup> All the more when you say that you don't see him!

Just be patient; he's considering the matter.

<sup>15</sup> But now, just because he doesn't get angry and punish,
does it mean he doesn't know what arrogance is?

<sup>16</sup> So Iyov is being futile when he opens his mouth;
he is piling up words without knowledge."

<sup>2</sup> "Bear with me a little, and I will show you that there is more to say on God's behalf.

<sup>3</sup> I may search far and wide for my arguments,
but I will ascribe righteousness to God my maker.

<sup>4</sup> For the fact is that my words are true;
you have with you a man whose views are pure.

<sup>5</sup> "Look, God is powerful and despises no one,
powerful in his strength of understanding.

<sup>6</sup> He does not preserve the lives of the wicked,
but he gives justice to the poor.

<sup>7</sup> He does not withdraw his eyes from the righteous;
but when he sets kings on their throne forever,

they may become proud;

<sup>8</sup> if, then, they are bound in chains,

held in oppressive cords,

<sup>9</sup> he shows them the results of their doings,

the crimes caused by their pride.

<sup>10</sup> He sounds a warning in their ears

and orders them to repent of their evil.

<sup>11</sup> “If they pay attention and obey him,

they spend their days in prosperity;

their years pass pleasantly.

<sup>12</sup> But if they don’t pay attention,

they perish by the sword

and die without learning their lesson.

<sup>13</sup> The godless in heart cherish their anger,

not crying for help when he binds them.

<sup>14</sup> Their soul perishes in their youth,

and their life becomes depraved.

<sup>15</sup> “God, with his affliction,

delivers the afflicted;

and he gets their attention

by pressing on them.

<sup>16</sup>       Indeed [Iyov], he is drawing you away from distress
to an untroubled open place,
with rich food on your table.

<sup>17</sup>       But the judgment on the wicked applies fully to you,
judgment and condemnation
take hold [of them].

<sup>18</sup>       For beware of wrath
when abundance entices you;
don't let a big bribe turn you aside.

<sup>19</sup>       Will your great wealth help you?
or all your efforts, no matter how strong?

<sup>20</sup>       Don't desire the night,
when people suddenly die.

<sup>21</sup>       Be careful; turn away from wrongdoing;

for because of this, you have been tested by affliction.

who is a teacher like him?

<sup>23</sup> Who ever prescribed his course for him?

Who ever said, ‘What you are doing is wrong’?

<sup>24</sup> Remember, rather, to magnify his work,

of which many have sung.

<sup>25</sup> Everyone has seen it,

[but] humans see it [only] from a distance.

<sup>26</sup> Look, God is great, beyond what we can know;

the number of his years is uncountable.

<sup>27</sup> “He makes the droplets of water,

which condense into rain from his mist.

<sup>28</sup> The clouds pour it down upon humankind in abundance.

<sup>29</sup> Can anyone fathom the spreading of the clouds,

or the crashes that come from his canopy?

<sup>30</sup> See how he scatters his lightning over it and covers the roots of the sea.

<sup>31</sup> By these things he judges the people and also gives food in plenty.

<sup>32</sup> He gathers the lightning into his hands and commands it to strike the target.

<sup>33</sup> Its crashing announces its presence

and appries the cattle of what is coming.

37<sup>1</sup> “At this, my own heart trembles and leaps out of its place.

<sup>2</sup> Just listen to the rumbling of his voice,

to the thunder that comes from his mouth!

<sup>3</sup> He sends it out under all of heaven,

his lightning to the ends of the earth.

<sup>4</sup> There follows a sound, a roar —

he is thundering with his majestic voice,

and he keeps releasing [the lightning]

even while his voice is being heard.

<sup>5</sup> “God thunders wonderfully with his voice,

he does great things beyond our understanding.

likewise to the light rain, also to the downpour.

<sup>7</sup> He brings all human activity to a stop,

so that everyone he has made can know it.

<sup>8</sup> Then the animals go into their lairs

and hibernate in their dens.

<sup>9</sup> “Out of its chamber comes the storm,

with cold out of the north.

<sup>10</sup> By the breath of God, ice is given,

and the wide waters freeze over.

<sup>11</sup> He weighs the clouds down with moisture,

and they flash forth his lightning.

<sup>12</sup> He, by his plans, turns them around,

so they do what he commands them anywhere on earth;

<sup>13</sup> he brings them forth on the earth

sometimes to punish, sometimes to express his grace.

Stop, and consider God's wonders.

<sup>15</sup> Do you know how God puts them in place,
how he causes lightning to flash from his cloud?

<sup>16</sup> Do you know how he balances the clouds?
These are marvels of him who knows everything!

<sup>17</sup> "You, sweltering in your clothing
as the earth lies still under a sultry south wind,

<sup>18</sup> can you, with him, spread out the sky,
hard as a cast metal mirror?

<sup>19</sup> Teach us what we should tell him,
for the darkness keeps us from organizing our case.

<sup>20</sup> Is he to be told that I will speak?
Can a man speak at all when he is already swallowed up?

<sup>21</sup> Now people don't see the light,
which is bright in the sky;
but then the wind blows
and clears [the clouds] away.

<sup>22</sup> Out of the north comes a golden glow,
fearsome majesty surrounding God.

<sup>23</sup> Shaddai, whom we cannot find,

whose power is immense,

in his great righteousness

does not pervert justice.

<sup>24</sup> This is why people fear him;

he does not consider those who think of themselves as wise.”

38 <sup>1</sup> Then ADONAI answered Iyov out of the storm:

<sup>2</sup> “Who is this, darkening my plans

with his ignorant words?

I will ask questions; and you, give the answers!

<sup>4</sup> “Where were you when I founded the earth?

Tell me, if you know so much.

<sup>5</sup> Do you know who determined its dimensions

or who stretched the measuring line across it?

<sup>6</sup> On what were its bases sunk,

or who laid its cornerstone,

<sup>7</sup>

when the morning stars sang together,
and all the sons of God shouted for joy?

<sup>8</sup> “Who shut up the sea behind closed doors
when it gushed forth from the womb,

<sup>9</sup> when I made the clouds its blanket
and dense fog its swaddling cloth,

<sup>10</sup> when I made the breakers its boundary
set its gates and bars,

<sup>11</sup> and said, ‘You may come this far, but no farther;
here your proud waves must stop’?

<sup>12</sup> “Have you ever in your life called up the dawn and made the morning know its place,

<sup>13</sup> so that it could take hold of the edges of the earth and shake the wicked out of it?

<sup>14</sup> Then the earth is changed like clay under a seal,
until its colors are fixed like those of a garment.

<sup>15</sup> But from the wicked the light is withheld,
and the arm raised [to strike] is broken.

“Have you gone down to the springs of the sea
or explored the limits of the deep?

<sup>17</sup> Have the gates of death been revealed to you,
the gates of death-like darkness?

<sup>18</sup> Have you surveyed the full extent of the earth?
Say so, if you know it all!

<sup>19</sup> “Which way leads to where light has its home?
and darkness, where does it dwell?

<sup>20</sup> If you knew, you could take each to its place and set it on its homeward path.

<sup>21</sup> You know, of course, because you were born then;
by now you must be very old!

<sup>22</sup> “Have you gone into the storehouses for snow or seen the storehouses for hail,

<sup>23</sup> which I save for times of trouble,
for days of battle and war?

<sup>24</sup> “By what path is light dispersed,
or the east wind poured out on the land?

Who cut a channel for the downpours,
or a way for the lightning and thunder,

<sup>26</sup> causing it to rain where no one is,

in a desert without anyone there,

<sup>27</sup> drenching the waste and desolate [ground],

till the tender grass sprouts?

<sup>28</sup> Does the rain have a father?

Who is the father of dewdrops?

<sup>29</sup> From whose womb does ice come?

Who gives birth to the frost of heaven,

<sup>30</sup> when water becomes as hard as stone,

and the surface of the deep freezes solid?

<sup>31</sup> “Can you tie up the cords of the Pleiades or loosen the belt of Orion?

<sup>32</sup> Can you lead out the constellations of the zodiac in their season or guide the Great Bear and its cubs?

<sup>33</sup> Do you know the laws of the sky?

Can you determine how they affect the earth?

<sup>34</sup> “Can you raise your voice to the clouds

and make them cover you with a flood of rain?

<sup>35</sup> Can you send lightning bolts on their way?

Will they say to you, ‘Here we are’?

<sup>36</sup> “Who put wisdom in people’s inner parts?

Who gave understanding to the mind?

<sup>37</sup> Who, by wisdom, can number the clouds?

Who can tilt the water-skins of heaven,

<sup>38</sup> so that the dust becomes a mass [of mud],

and its clods stick together?

<sup>39</sup> “Can you hunt prey for a lioness

or satisfy the appetite of the young lions,

<sup>40</sup> when they crouch in their dens

or lie in ambush in their lairs?

<sup>41</sup> Who provides food for the raven

when his young cry out to God and wander about for lack of food?

39<sup>1</sup> “Do you know when mountain goats give birth?

Have you seen deer in labor?

Do you know when they give birth,

<sup>3</sup> when they crouch down and bring forth their young,

when they deliver their fawns?

they leave and never return.

Who sets the wild donkey loose from its shackles?

<sup>6</sup> I made the ‘Aravah its home,

the salty desert its place to live.

<sup>7</sup> It scorns the noise of the city and hears no driver’s shouts.

<sup>8</sup> It ranges over the hills for its pasture,

searching for anything green.

<sup>9</sup> “Would a wild ox be willing to serve you?

Would it stay by your stall?

<sup>10</sup> Could you tie a rope around its neck

and make it plow furrows for you?

Would you trust its great strength enough
to let it do your heavy work,

<sup>12</sup> or rely on it to bring home your seed
and gather the grain from your threshing-floor?

<sup>13</sup> “An ostrich’s wings beat wildly,
although its pinions lack plumage.

<sup>14</sup> It leaves its eggs on the ground and lets them be warmed by the sand,

<sup>15</sup> forgetting that a foot may crush them or a wild animal trample on them.

<sup>16</sup> It treats its chicks heartlessly,
as if they were not its own;
even if her labor is in vain,
it really doesn’t care;

<sup>17</sup> because God has deprived it of wisdom
and given it no share in understanding.

<sup>18</sup> When the time comes, it flaps its wings,
scorning both horse and rider.

<sup>19</sup> “Did you give the horse its strength?

Did you clothe its neck with a mane?

<sup>20</sup> Did you make him able to leap like a locust?

Its majestic snorting is frightening!

<sup>21</sup> It paws with force and exults with vigor,

then charges into the battle;

<sup>22</sup> mocking at fear, unafraid,

it does not shy away from the sword.

<sup>23</sup> The [rider's] quiver rattles over it,

<sup>24</sup> Frenzied and eager, it devours the ground,

scarcely believing the shofar has sounded.

<sup>25</sup> At the sound of the shofar it whinnies;

as from afar it scents the battle,

the roar of the chiefs and the shouting.

<sup>26</sup> “Is it your wisdom that sets the hawk soaring,

spreading its wings toward the south?

<sup>27</sup> Does the eagle fly up when you say so,

to build its nest in the heights?

<sup>28</sup> It lives and spends its nights on the cliffs;

a rocky crag is its fortress.

<sup>29</sup> From there it spots its prey,

its eyes see it far off.

<sup>30</sup> Its young ones suck up blood;

wherever the slain are, there it is.”

40 <sup>1</sup> Continuing to address Iyov, A<sub>DONAI</sub> said:

Let him who wants to correct God give an answer!”

I lay my hand over my mouth.

<sup>5</sup> Yes, I spoke once, but I won’t answer more;

all right, twice, but I won’t go on.”

I will ask questions; and you, give the answers!

<sup>8</sup> “Are you impugning my justice?

Putting me in the wrong to prove yourself right?

<sup>9</sup> Do you have an arm like God's?

Can you thunder with a voice like his?

<sup>10</sup> Come on, deck yourself with majesty and dignity, robe yourself in glory and splendor.

<sup>11</sup> Let loose your furious anger,
look at all who are proud, and humble them.

<sup>12</sup> Look at all who are proud, and bring them down;
tread down the wicked where they stand.

<sup>13</sup> Bury them in the ground together,
bind their faces in the hidden world.

<sup>14</sup> If you do this, then I will confess to you that your own power can save you.

<sup>15</sup> “Now consider Behemot, whom I made along with you.
He eats grass like an ox.

<sup>16</sup> What strength he has in his loins!
What power in his stomach muscles!

<sup>17</sup> He can make his tail as stiff as a cedar,
the muscles in his thighs are like cables,

<sup>18</sup> his bones are like bronze pipes,

his limbs like iron bars.

<sup>19</sup> “He ranks first among God’s works.

Only his maker can approach him with his sword.

<sup>20</sup> The mountains produce food for him there,
where all the wild animals play.

<sup>21</sup> He lies down under the thorny lotus bushes
and is hidden by the reeds in the swamp;

<sup>22</sup> the lotus bushes cover him with their shade,
and the willows by the stream surround him.

<sup>23</sup> If the river overflows, it doesn’t worry him;
he is confident even if the Yarden rushes by his mouth.

<sup>24</sup> Can anyone catch him by his eyes or pierce his nose with a hook?

<sup>25(41:1)</sup> “And Livyatan! Can you catch him with a fishhook or hold his tongue down with a rope?

<sup>26(41:2)</sup> Can you put a ring in his nose
or pierce his jaw with a barb?

<sup>27(41:3)</sup> Will he entreat you at length?

Will he speak with you softly?

<sup>28(41:4)</sup> Will he agree with you to be your slave forever?

<sup>29(41:5)</sup> Will you play with him as you would with a bird or keep him on a string to amuse your little girls?

<sup>30(41:6)</sup> Will a group of fishermen turn him into a banquet?

Will they divide him among the merchants?

<sup>31(41:7)</sup> Can you fill his skin with darts

or his head with fish-spears?

<sup>32(41:8)</sup> If you lay your hand on him,

you won't forget the fight, and you'll never do it again!

41 <sup>1(9)</sup> “Look, any hope [of capturing him] is futile—

one would fall prostrate at the very sight of him.

so who can stand up to me?

<sup>3(11)</sup> Who has given me anything

and made me pay it back?

Everything belongs to me

under all of heaven.

<sup>4(12)</sup> “I have more to say about his limbs,

his strong talk, and his matchless strength.

<sup>5(13)</sup> Who can strip off his [scaly] garment?

Who can enter his jaws?

so close to his terrible teeth?

<sup>7(15)</sup> “His pride is his rows of scales,
tightly sealed together —

<sup>8(16)</sup> one is so close to the next

that no air can come between them;

<sup>9(17)</sup> they are stuck one to another, interlocked and impervious.

<sup>10(18)</sup> “When he sneezes, light flashes out;

his eyes are like the shimmer of dawn.

<sup>11(19)</sup> From his mouth go fiery torches,

and sparks come flying out.

<sup>12(20)</sup> His nostrils belch steam

like a caldron boiling on the fire.

<sup>13(21)</sup> His breath sets coals ablaze;

flames pour from his mouth.

<sup>14(22)</sup> “Strength resides in his neck,
and dismay dances ahead of him [as he goes].

<sup>15(23)</sup> The layers of his flesh stick together;
they are firm on him, immovable.

<sup>16(24)</sup> His heart is as hard as a stone,
yes, hard as a lower millstone.

<sup>17(25)</sup> When he rears himself up, the gods are afraid, beside themselves in despair.

<sup>18(26)</sup> “If a sword touches him, it won’t stick;
neither will a spear, or a dart, or a lance.

<sup>19(27)</sup> He regards iron as straw and bronze as rotten wood.

<sup>20(28)</sup> An arrow can’t make him flee;
for him, slingstones are so much chaff.

<sup>21(29)</sup> Clubs count as hay,
and he laughs at a quivering javelin.

<sup>22(30)</sup> His belly is as sharp as fragments of pottery,
so he moves across the mud like a threshing-sledge.

<sup>23(31)</sup> “He makes the depths seethe like a pot,

he makes the sea [boil] like a perfume kettle.

<sup>24(32)</sup> He leaves a shining wake behind him,

making the deep seem to have white hair.

<sup>25(33)</sup> “On earth there is nothing like him,

a creature without fear.

He is king over all proud beasts.”

42<sup>1</sup> Then [at last,] Iyov gave ADONAI this answer:

<sup>2</sup> “I know that you can do everything,

that no purpose of yours can be thwarted.

<sup>3</sup> “[You asked,] ‘Who is this, hiding counsel,

without having knowledge?’

Yes, I spoke, without understanding, of wonders far beyond me, which I didn’t know.

<sup>4</sup> “Please listen, and I will speak.

[You said,] ‘I will ask questions; and you, give me answers’ —

<sup>5</sup> I had heard about you with my ears,

but now my eye sees you;

and repent in dust and ashes.”

<sup>7</sup> After ADONAI had spoken these words to Iyov, ADONAI said to Elifaz the Teimani, “My anger is blazing against you and your two friends, because, unlike my servant Iyov, you have not spoken rightly about me. <sup>8</sup> So now, get yourselves seven young bulls and seven rams, go to my servant Iyov, and offer up for yourselves a burnt offering. My servant Iyov will pray for you — because him I will accept — so that I won’t punish you as your boorishness deserves; because you have not spoken rightly about me, as my servant Iyov has.” <sup>9</sup> So Elifaz the Teimani, Bildad the Shuchi and Tzofar the Na’amati went and did what ADONAI had ordered them to do, and ADONAI accepted Iyov[’s prayer].

<sup>10</sup> When Iyov prayed for his friends, ADONAI restored his fortunes; ADONAI gave Iyov twice as much as he had had before. <sup>11</sup> Then all his brothers and sisters came to him, also all who had known him before, and they ate a meal with him in his house. They consoled and comforted him for all the evils ADONAI had inflicted on him. Each one gave him a piece of silver and a gold ring. <sup>12</sup> ADONAI blessed Iyov’s later situation even more than his earlier one — he had 14,000 sheep, 6,000 camels, 1,000 pairs of oxen and 1,000 female donkeys.

<sup>13</sup> He also had seven sons and three daughters. <sup>14</sup> The first he named Y’mimah; the second, K’tzi’ah; and the third, Keren-Hapukh. <sup>15</sup> Nowhere in the land could women be found as beautiful as Iyov’s daughters; and their father gave them inheritances along with their brothers.

SONG OF SOLOMON

[She]           <sup>2</sup>       Let him smother me with kisses from his mouth, for your love is better than wine.
                  <sup>3</sup>       Your anointing oils have a wonderful fragrance;
your name is like anointing oil poured out.
This is why young women love you —
                  <sup>4</sup>       “Take me with you. We will run after you.”
The king has brought me into his rooms.

[Chorus]       We will be glad and rejoice for you.
We will praise your love more than wine.
How right it is for them to love you!

[She]           <sup>5</sup>       I am dark tan but beautiful,
you daughters of Yerushalayim,
like the tents of Kedar,
like the curtains of Shlomo.
                  <sup>6</sup>       Don't stare at me because I'm dark;
it's the sun that tanned me.
My mother's sons were angry with me
and made me look after the vineyards.
But I haven't cared for my own vineyard.
                  <sup>7</sup>       Tell me, my love, where you pasture your flock,
where you have them rest at noon;
for why should I veil myself [like a whore]
beside the flocks of your friends?

[Chorus] <sup>8</sup> If you do not know,
you most beautiful of women,
then follow the footprints of the flock
and let your kids graze by the shepherds' tents.

[He] <sup>9</sup> My love, I compare you with my mare, pulling one of Pharaoh's chariots — <sup>10</sup> your cheeks are lovely with ornaments,
your neck with its strings of beads;
<sup>11</sup> we will make you ornaments
of gold, studded with silver.

[She] <sup>12</sup> As the king reclines at table,
my nard gives forth its perfume:
<sup>12</sup> to me the man I love is a sachet of myrrh lodged between my breasts;
<sup>14</sup> to me the man I love is a spray of henna flowers in the vineyards of 'Ein-Gedi.

[He] <sup>15</sup> Look at you, my love! How beautiful you are!
Your eyes are doves —

[She] <sup>16</sup> — Look at you!
So handsome, so pleasing, my darling!
Our bed is the greenery;
<sup>17</sup> cedars are the beams of our houses, cypresses the rafters.

2 <sup>1</sup> I am but a rose from the Sharon,
just a lily in the valleys.

[He] <sup>2</sup> Like a lily among thorns is my darling among the other women.

[She]

<sup>3</sup> Like an apple tree among the other trees in the forest is my darling among the other men.

I love to sit in his shadow;
his fruit is sweet to my taste.

<sup>4</sup> He brings me to the banquet hall;
his banner over me is love.

<sup>5</sup> Sustain me with raisins, refresh me with apples,
for I am sick with love.

and his right arm around me.

<sup>7</sup> I warn you, daughters of Yerushalayim,
by the gazelles and deer in the wilds,
not to awaken or stir up love
until it wants to arise!

<sup>8</sup> The voice of the man I love! Here he comes,
bounding over the mountains, skipping over the hills!

<sup>9</sup> My darling is like a gazelle or young stag.
There he is, standing outside our wall,
looking in through the windows,
peering in through the lattice.

<sup>10</sup> My darling speaks; he is saying to me, “Get up, my love! My beauty! Come away!

<sup>11</sup> For you see that the winter has passed,
the rain is finished and gone,

<sup>12</sup> the flowers are appearing in the countryside,
the time has come for [the birds] to sing,
and the cooing of doves can be heard in the land.

<sup>13</sup> The fig trees are forming their unripe figs,
and the grapevines in bloom give out their perfume.
Get up, my love, my beauty!
Come away!”

[He] <sup>14</sup> My dove, hiding in holes in the rock,
in the secret recesses of the cliff,
let me see your face and hear your voice;
for your voice is sweet, and your face is lovely.

[She] <sup>15</sup> “Catch the foxes for us,
yes, the little foxes!
They are ruining the vineyards
when our vineyards are in bloom!”

<sup>16</sup> My darling is mine, and I am his,
as he pastures his flock among the lilies.
<sup>17</sup> Before the daytime breeze rises
and the shadows flee, return, my love, like a stag or gazelle
on the hills of Beter.

3 <sup>1</sup> Night after night on my bed
I looked for the man I love.
I looked for him, but I didn’t find him.
<sup>2</sup> “I will get up now and roam the city,
through the streets and the open places,
I will look for the man I love.”
I looked for him, but I didn’t find him.
<sup>3</sup> The guards roaming the city found me.
“Have you seen the man I love?”
<sup>4</sup> Scarcely had I left them,
when I found the man I love.
I took hold of him
and would not let him go
until I had brought him to my mother’s house,
to the bedroom of the woman who conceived me.
<sup>5</sup> I warn you, daughters of Yerushalayim,
by the gazelles and deer in the wilds,

not to awaken or stir up love
until it wants to arise!

6       Who is this, coming up from the desert
like a column of smoke,
perfumed with myrrh and frankincense,
chosen from the merchant's crushed spices?

7       It is Shlomo's litter, escorted by sixty valiant men
chosen from Isra'el's finest;
8       all of them wield the sword
and are expert fighters;
each one has his sword ready at his side
to combat the terrors of night.

9       King Shlomo made himself a royal litter of wood from the L'vanon.

10       He made its columns of silver,
its roof of gold, its seat of purple cloth;
its inside was lovingly inlaid
by the daughters of Yerushalayim.

11       Daughters of Tziyon, come out,
and gaze upon King Shlomo,
wearing the crown with which his mother crowned him
on his wedding day, his day of joy!

[He]

4<sup>1</sup>       How beautiful you are, my love!

How beautiful you are!
Your eyes are doves behind your veil.
Your hair is like a flock of goats
streaming down Mount Gil'ad.

2       Your teeth are like a flock of shorn sheep
that have just come up from being washed;
each of them is matched,

and none of them is missing.

3     Your lips are like a scarlet thread,
and your mouth is lovely.
Your cheeks are like a pomegranate
split open behind your veil.

4     Your neck is like the tower of David,
built magnificently,
on which hang a thousand bucklers,
each one a brave warrior's shield.

5     Your two breasts are like two fawns,
twins of a gazelle grazing among lilies.

6     When the day's cool breeze comes up
and the shadows lengthen,
I will get myself to the mountain of myrrh
to the hill of frankincense.

7     Everything about you is beautiful, my love;
you are without a flaw.

8     Come with me from the L'vanon, my bride, come with me from the L'vanon.
Come down from the heights of Amanah,
from the heights of S'nir and Hermon,
down from the lions' lairs
and the leopard-haunted hills.

9     My sister, my bride,
you have carried my heart away!
With just one glance, with one bead of your necklace
you have carried my heart away.

10    My sister, my bride,
how sweet is your love!
How much better your love than wine,
more fragrant your perfumes than any spice!

11    Your lips, my bride, drip honey;
honey and milk are under your tongue;
and the scent of your garments is like the scent of the L'vanon.

<sup>12</sup> My sister, my bride, is a garden locked up,
a pool covered over, a spring sealed shut.

<sup>13</sup> You are an orchard that puts forth pomegranates
and other precious fruits, henna and nard — <sup>14</sup> nard, saffron and aromatic cane, cinnamon and all kinds of frankincense trees,
myrrh, aloes, all the best spices.

<sup>15</sup> You are a garden fountain,
a spring of running water,
flowing down from the L'vanon.

[She] <sup>16</sup> Awake, north wind! Come, south wind!
Blow on my garden to spread its fragrance.
Let my darling enter his garden
and eat its finest fruit.

[He] 5 <sup>1</sup> My sister, my bride, I have entered my garden;
I am gathering my myrrh and my spices;
I am eating my honeycomb along with my honey;
I am drinking my wine as well as my milk.

[Chorus] Eat, friends, and drink,
until you are drunk with love!

[She] <sup>2</sup> I am asleep, but my heart is awake.
Listen! I hear my darling knocking!

[He] Open for me, my sister, my love,
my dove, my flawless one!
For my head is wet with dew,

my hair with the moisture of the night.

[She]           <sup>3</sup>       I've removed my coat; must I put it back on?
I've washed my feet; must I dirty them again?

<sup>4</sup>       The man I love put his hand through the hole by the door-latch,
and my heart began pounding at the thought of him.

<sup>5</sup>       I got up to open for the man I love.
My hands were dripping with myrrh —
pure myrrh ran off my fingers onto the handle of the bolt.

<sup>6</sup>       I opened for my darling,
but my darling had turned and gone.
My heart had failed me when he spoke —
I sought him, but I couldn't find him;
I called him, but he didn't answer.

<sup>7</sup>       The watchmen roaming the city found me;
they beat me, they wounded me;
they took away my cloak,
those guardians of the walls!

<sup>8</sup>       I charge you, daughters of Yerushalayim, that if you find the man I love,
what are you to tell him?
That I am sick with love.

[Chorus]       <sup>9</sup>       How does the man you love differ from any other,
you most beautiful of women?
How does the man you love differ from any other,
that you should give us this charge?

[She]           <sup>10</sup>       The man I love is radiant and ruddy;
he stands out among ten thousand.

His head is like the finest gold;
his locks are wavy and black as a raven.

<sup>12</sup> His eyes are like doves by running streams, bathed in milk and set just right.

<sup>13</sup> His cheeks are like beds of spices,
like banks of fragrant herbs.
His lips are like lilies
dripping with sweet myrrh.

<sup>14</sup> His arms are rods of gold set with beryl,
his body polished ivory adorned with sapphires.

<sup>15</sup> His legs are like pillars of marble set on bases of pure gold.
His appearance is like the L'vanon,
as imposing as the cedars.

<sup>16</sup> His words are sweetness itself;
he is altogether desirable.
This is my darling, and this is my friend,
daughters of Yerushalayim.

[Chorus] 6 <sup>1</sup> Where has your darling gone,
you most beautiful of women?
Which way did your darling turn,
so that we can help you find him?

[She] <sup>2</sup> My darling went down to his garden,
to the beds of spices,
to pasture his flock in the gardens
and to gather lilies.
<sup>3</sup> I belong to the man I love, and he belongs to me;
he pastures his flock among the lilies.

[He] <sup>4</sup> You are as beautiful as Tirtzah, my love,
as lovely as Yerushalayim,
but formidable as an army

marching under banners.

5 Turn your eyes away from me,
because they overwhelm me!

Your hair is like a flock of goats
streaming down Gil'ad.

6 Your teeth are like a flock of sheep
that have just come up from being washed;
each of them is matched,
and none of them is missing.

7 Your cheeks are like a pomegranate
split open behind your veil.

8 There are sixty queens and eighty concubines,
as well as young women beyond number;
9 but my dove, my perfect one, is unique,
her mother's only child,
the darling of the one who bore her.
The daughters see her and call her happy;
the queens and concubines praise her.

10 "Who is this, shining forth like the dawn, fair as the moon, bright as the sun" —
but formidable as an army
marching under banners?

[She] 11 I had gone down to the nut orchard to see the fresh green plants in the valley,
to see if the vine had budded,
or if the pomegranate trees were in bloom.

12 Before I knew it, I found myself in a chariot, and with me was a prince.

[Chorus] 7<sup>1(6:13)</sup> Come back, come back, girl from Shulam!
Come back, come back to where we can see you!

Why are you looking at the girl from Shulam
as if she were dancing for two army camps?

[He]

2(1)

How beautiful are your feet in sandals,
you daughter of princes!
The curves of your thighs are like a necklace
made by a skilled craftsman.

3(2)

Your navel is like a round goblet
that never lacks spiced wine.
Your belly is a heap of wheat encircled by lilies.

4(3)

Your two breasts are like two fawns,
twins of a gazelle.

5(4)

Your neck is like a tower of ivory,
your eyes like the pools in Heshbon
by the gate of Bat-Rabbim,
your nose like a tower in the L'vanon overlooking Dammeseek.

6(5)

You hold your head like the Karmel,
and the hair on your head is like purple cloth —
the king is held captive in its tresses.

7(6)

How beautiful you are, my love,
how charming, how delightful!

8(7)

Your appearance is stately as a palm tree,
with its fruit clusters your breasts.

9(8)

I said, "I will climb up into the palm tree,
I will take hold of its branches."
May your breasts be like clusters of grapes,
your breath as fragrant as apples,
and your mouth like the finest wine.

10(9)

[She]

May the wine go straight to the man I love
and gently move the lips of those who are asleep.
I belong to my darling,

11(10)

and his desire is for me.

<sup>12(11)</sup> Come, my darling, let's go out to the country and spend the nights in the villages.

<sup>13(12)</sup> We'll get up early and go to the vineyards to see if the vines have budded,
to see if their flowers have opened,
or if the pomegranate trees are in bloom.
There I will give you my love.

<sup>14(13)</sup> The mandrakes are sending out their fragrance,
all kinds of choice fruits are at our doors,
fruits both new and old, my darling,
which I have kept in store for you.

8 <sup>1</sup> I wish you were my brother,
who nursed at my mother's breast;
then, if I met you outdoors, I could kiss you,
and no one would look down on me.

<sup>2</sup> I would lead you and bring you to my mother's house,
and she would instruct me.
I would give you piced wine o drink,
fresh juice from my pomegranates.

<sup>3</sup> His left arm would be under my head
and his right arm around me.

<sup>4</sup> I warn you, daughters of Yerushalayim,
not to awaken or stir up love
until it wants to arise!

[Chorus] <sup>5</sup> Who is this, coming up from the desert, leaning on her darling?

[He]                    I awakened you under the apple tree.
It was there that your mother conceived you;
there she who bore you conceived you.

[She]                <sup>6</sup>        Set me like a seal on your heart,
like a seal on your arm;
for love is as strong as death,
passion as cruel as Sh'ol;
its flashes are flashes of fire,
[as fierce as the] flame of Yah.
<sup>7</sup>        No amount of water can quench love,
torrents cannot drown it.
If someone gave all the wealth in his house for love,
he would gain only utter contempt.

[Chorus]            <sup>8</sup>        We have a little sister;
her breasts are still unformed.
What are we to do with our sister
when she is asked for in marriage?
<sup>9</sup>        If she is a wall,
we will build on her a palace of silver;
and if she is a door,
we will enclose her with panels of cedar.

[She]                <sup>10</sup>        I am a wall, and my breasts are like towers;
so in his view I am like one who brings peace.

<sup>11</sup>        Shlomo had a vineyard at Ba'al-Hamon,
and he gave the vineyard to caretakers;
each of them would pay for its fruit
a thousand pieces of silver.

<sup>12</sup>        My vineyard is mine; I tend it, myself.
You can have the thousand, Shlomo,
and the fruit-caretakers, two hundred!

[He]

<sup>13</sup>

You who live in the garden,
friends are listening for your voice.
Let me hear it! —

[She]

<sup>14</sup>

— Flee, my darling!
Be like a gazelle or young stag
on the mountains of spices!

RUTH

1 <sup>1</sup> Back in the days when the judges were judging, at a time when there was a famine in the land, a certain man from Beit-Lechem went to live in the territory of Mo'av — he, his wife and his two sons. <sup>2</sup> The man's name was Elimelekh, his wife's name was Na'omi, and his two sons were named Machlon and Kilyon; they were Ephratim from Beit-Lechem in Y'hudah. They arrived in the plain of Mo'av and settled there. <sup>3</sup> Elimelekh, Na'omi's husband, died; and she was left, she and her two sons. <sup>4</sup> They took wives for themselves from the women of Mo'av; the name of the one was 'Orpah; and the name of the other was Rut. They lived there for about ten years. <sup>5</sup> Then Machlon and Kilyon died, both of them; and the woman was left with neither her two sons nor her husband.

<sup>8</sup> Na'omi said to her two daughters-in-law, "Each of you, go back to your mother's house. May ADONAI show grace to you, as you did to those who died and to me. <sup>9</sup> May ADONAI grant you security in the home of a new husband." Then she kissed them, but they began weeping aloud. <sup>10</sup> They said to her, "No; we want to return with you to your people." <sup>11</sup> Na'omi said, "Go back, my daughters. Why do you want to go with me? Do I still have sons in my womb who could become your husbands? <sup>12</sup> Go back, my daughters; go your way; for I'm too old to have a husband. Even if I were to say, 'I still have hope'; even if I had a husband tonight and bore sons; <sup>13</sup> would you wait for them until they grew up? Would you refuse to marry, just for them? No, my daughters. On your behalf I feel very bitter that the hand of ADONAI has gone out against me." <sup>14</sup> Again they wept aloud. Then 'Orpah kissed her mother-in-law goodbye. But Rut stuck with her. <sup>15</sup> She said, "Look, your sister-in-law has gone back to her people and to her god; go back, after your sister-in-law." <sup>16</sup> But Rut said,

“Don’t press me to leave you
and stop following you;
for wherever you go, I will go;
and wherever you stay, I will stay.
Your people will be my people
and your God will be my God.

<sup>17</sup> Where you die, I will die;
and there I will be buried.
May ADONAI bring terrible curses on me,
and worse ones as well,
if anything but death
separates you and me.”

<sup>19</sup> So the two of them went on until they came to Beit-Lechem. When they arrived in Beit-Lechem, the whole city was stirred with excitement over them. The women asked, “Can this be Na’omi?” <sup>20</sup> “Don’t call me Na’omi [pleasant],” she answered them; “call me Marah [bitter], because Shaddai has made my life very bitter. <sup>21</sup> I went out full, and ADONAI has brought me back empty. Why call me Na’omi? ADONAI has testified against me, Shaddai has afflicted me.” <sup>22</sup> This is how Na’omi returned, with Rut the woman from Mo’av, her daughter-in-law, accompanying her from the plain of Mo’av. They arrived in Beit-Lechem at the beginning of the barley harvest.

2 <sup>1</sup> Na'omi had a relative on her husband's side, a prominent and wealthy member of Elimelekh's clan, whose name was Bo'az. <sup>2</sup> Rut the woman from Mo'av said to Na'omi, "Let me go into the field and glean ears of grain behind anyone who will allow me to." She answered her, "Go, my daughter." <sup>3</sup> So she set out, arrived at the field and gleaned behind the reapers.

She happened to be in the part of the field that belonged to Bo'az from Elimelekh's clan, <sup>4</sup> when Bo'az arrived from Beit-Lechem. He said to the reapers, "ADONAI be with you"; and they answered him, "ADONAI bless you." <sup>5</sup> Then Bo'az asked his servant supervising the reapers, "Whose girl is this?" <sup>6</sup> The servant supervising the reapers answered, "She's a girl from Mo'av who returned with Na'omi from the plain of Mo'av." <sup>7</sup> She said, 'Please, let me glean and gather what falls from the sheaves behind the reapers.' So she went and has kept at it from morning until now, except for a little rest in the shelter."

<sup>8</sup> Bo'az said to Rut, "Did you hear that, my daughter? Don't go to glean in another field, don't leave this place, but stick here with my working girls. <sup>9</sup> Keep your eyes on whichever field the reapers are working in, and follow the girls. I've ordered the young men not to bother you. Whenever you get thirsty, go and drink from the water jars the young men have filled."

<sup>10</sup> She fell on her face, prostrating herself, and said to him, "Why are you showing me such favor? Why are you paying attention to me? After all, I'm only a foreigner." <sup>11</sup> Bo'az answered her, "I've heard the whole story, everything you've done for your mother-in-law since your husband died, including how you left your father and mother and the land you were born in to come to a people about whom you knew nothing beforehand. <sup>12</sup> May ADONAI reward you for what you've done; may you be rewarded in full by ADONAI the God of Isra'el, under whose wings you have come for refuge." <sup>13</sup> She said, "My lord, I hope I continue pleasing you. You have comforted and encouraged me, even though I'm not one of your servants."

<sup>14</sup> When meal-time came, Bo'az said to her, "Come here, have something to eat, and dip your piece of bread in the [olive oil and] vinegar." She sat by the reapers, and they passed her some roasted grain. She ate till she was full, and she had some left over.

Leave them for her to glean, and don't rebuke her." <sup>17</sup> So she gleaned in the field until evening. When she beat out what she had gathered, it came to about a bushel of barley.

<sup>18</sup> She picked it up and went back to the city. Her mother-in-law saw what she had gleaned, and Rut brought out and gave her what she had left over after eating her fill. <sup>19</sup> Her mother-in-law asked her, "Where did you glean today? Where were you working? Blessed be the one who took such good care of you!" She told her mother-in-law with whom she had been working; she said, "The name of the man with whom I was working today is Bo'az." <sup>20</sup> Na'omi said to her daughter-in-law, "May he be blessed by ADONAI, who has never stopped showing grace, neither to the living nor to the dead." Na'omi also told her, "The man is closely related to us; he's one of our redeeming kinsmen." <sup>21</sup> Rut the woman from Mo'av said, "Moreover, he even said to me, 'Stay close to my young men until they've finished my harvest.'" <sup>22</sup> Na'omi said to Rut her daughter-in-law, "It's good, my daughter, for you to keep going out with his girls; so that you won't encounter hostility in some other field." <sup>23</sup> So she stayed close to Bo'az's girls to glean, until the end of the barley and wheat harvests; and she lived with her mother-in-law.

redeeming kinsman.” <sup>10</sup> He said, “May ADONAI bless you, my daughter. Your latest kindness is even greater than your first, in that you didn’t go after the young men, neither the rich ones nor the poor. <sup>11</sup> And now, my daughter, don’t be afraid. I will do for you everything you say, for all the city leaders among my people know that you are a woman of good character. <sup>12</sup> Now, it is true that I am a redeeming kinsman; but there is a redeemer who is a closer relative than I am. <sup>13</sup> Stay tonight. If, in the morning, he will redeem you, fine! — let him redeem you. But if he doesn’t want to redeem you, then, as ADONAI lives, I will redeem you. Now, lie down until morning.”

<sup>14</sup> She lay at his feet until morning; then, before [it was light enough that] people could recognize each other, she got up; because he said, “No one should know that the woman came to the threshing-floor.” <sup>15</sup> He also said, “Bring the shawl you are wearing, and take hold of it.” She held it while he put six measures of barley into it; then he went into the city.

<sup>16</sup> When she came to her mother-in-law, she asked, “Who are you? My daughter?” She told her everything the man had done for her. <sup>17</sup> Then she added, “He gave me these six measures of barley; because he said to me, ‘You shouldn’t return to your mother-in-law with nothing.’” <sup>18</sup> Na’omi said, “My daughter, just stay where you are, until you learn how the matter comes out; for the man won’t rest unless he resolves the matter today.”

4 <sup>1</sup> Meanwhile, Bo’az had gone up to the gate and had sat down there, when the redeemer of whom Bo’az had spoken passed by. “Such-and-such,” he said, “come over, and sit down”; so he came over and sat down. <sup>2</sup> He took ten of the city’s leaders and said, “Sit down here”; and they sat down. <sup>3</sup> Then he said to the redeeming kinsman, “The parcel of land which used to belong to our relative Elimelekh is being offered for sale by Na’omi, who has returned from the plain of Mo’av. <sup>4</sup> I thought I should tell you about it and say, ‘Buy it in the presence of the people sitting here and in the presence of the leaders of my people. If you want to redeem it, redeem it. But if it is not to be redeemed, then tell me, so that I can know, because there is no one else in line to redeem it, and I’m after you.’” He said, “I want to redeem it.” <sup>5</sup> Then Bo’az said, “The same day you buy the field from Na’omi, you must also buy Rut the woman from Mo’av, the wife of the deceased [son], in order to raise up in the name of the deceased an heir for his property.” <sup>6</sup> The redeemer said, “Then I can’t redeem it for myself, because I might put my own inheritance at risk. You, take my right of redemption on yourself; because I can't redeem it."

<sup>7</sup> In the past, this is what was done in Isra'el to validate all transactions involving redemption and exchange: a man took off his shoe and gave it to the other party; this was the form of attestation in Isra'el. <sup>8</sup> So the redeemer said to Bo'az, "Buy it for yourself," and took off his shoe. <sup>9</sup> Bo'az addressed the leaders and all the people: "You are witnesses today that I am purchasing from Na'omi all that belonged to Elimelekh and all that belonged to Kilyon and Machlon. <sup>10</sup> Also I am acquiring as my wife Rut the woman from Mo'av, the wife of Machlon, in order to raise up in the name of the deceased an heir for his property; so that the name of the deceased will not be cut off from his kinsmen and from the gate of his place. You are witnesses today." <sup>11</sup> All the people at the gate and the leaders said, "We are witnesses. May ADONAI make the woman who has come into your house like Rachel and like Le'ah, who between them built up the house of Isra'el. Do worthy deeds in Efrat; become renowned in Beit-Lechem. <sup>12</sup> May your house, because of the seed ADONAI will give you from this young woman, become like the house of Peretz, whom Tamar bore to Y'hudah."

<sup>18</sup> Here is the genealogy of Peretz. Peretz was the father of Hetzron, <sup>19</sup> Hetzron was the father of Ram, Ram was the father of 'Amminadav, <sup>20</sup> 'Amminadav was the father of Nachshon, Nachshon was the father of Salmon, <sup>21</sup> Salmon was the father of Bo'az, Bo'az was the father of 'Oved, <sup>22</sup> 'Oved was the father of Yishai, and Yishai was the father of David.

LAMENTATIONS

1<sup>1</sup> How lonely lies the city

that once thronged with people!

Once great among the nations,

now she is like a widow!

Once princess among provinces,

she has become a vassal.

<sup>2</sup> Bitterly she weeps at night,

tears running down her cheeks.

Not one of all her lovers

is there to comfort her.

Her friends have all betrayed her;

they have become her enemies.

<sup>3</sup> Y'hudah has fled into exile

from oppression and endless slavery.

She lives among the nations,

but there she finds no rest.

Her pursuers have all overtaken her in the midst of her distress.

<sup>4</sup> The roads to Tziyon are mourning
because no one comes to the festivals.
Her gateways are all deserted,
her cohanim are groaning,
her unmarried girls are grieving —
how bitter it is for her!

<sup>5</sup> Her foes have become the head,
her enemies relax,
for ADONAI has made her suffer
because of her many sins.
Her young children have gone away
captive before the foe.

<sup>6</sup> All splendor has departed
from the daughter of Tziyon.
Her princes have become like deer
unable to find pasture,
running on, exhausted,

fleeing from the hunter.

<sup>7</sup> In the days of her affliction and anguish, Yerushalayim remembers
all the treasures that were hers,
ever since ancient times.
Now her people fall into the power of the foe,
and she has no one to help her;
her enemies are gloating over her,
mocking her desolation.

<sup>8</sup> Yerushalayim sinned grievously;
therefore she has become unclean.
All who honored her now despise her,
because they have seen her naked.
She herself also moans
and turns her face away.

<sup>9</sup> Her filthiness was in her skirts;
she gave no thought to how it would end.
Hence her astounding downfall,
with no one to console her.

“Look, ADONAI, how I suffer;
for the foe has triumphed!”

<sup>10</sup> Enemies have reached out their hands
to seize all her treasures.
She has seen Goyim approach and go inside her sanctuary,
those whom you forbade even to enter your assembly.

<sup>11</sup> All her people are groaning,
as they search for something to eat.
They barter their treasures for food
to keep themselves alive.

“Look, ADONAI! See how despised I am.

<sup>12</sup> “May it not happen to you,
all you passers-by!
Just look, and see if there is any pain
like the pain inflicted on me,
which ADONAI made me suffer

on the day of his blazing anger.

<sup>13</sup> “From on high, he sent down fire

deep into my bones;

he spread a net to catch my feet;

he turned me back;

he left me desolate,

in misery all day long.

<sup>14</sup> “My sins have been bound into a yoke, knit together by his hand.

It weighs down on my neck,

and it saps my strength.

Adonai has put me into the power of those I cannot withstand.

<sup>15</sup> “All the strong men within my walls

Adonai has rejected.

He has set a specific time

for crushing my young men.

Adonai has trodden, like grapes in a winepress,

the virgin daughter of Y’hudah.

<sup>16</sup>

“Because of these things, I weep;
my eyes, my eyes stream with tears;
for anyone who could comfort me
and revive my courage is far away.
My children are in a state of shock,
because the enemy has prevailed.”

<sup>17</sup>

Tziyon spreads out her hands,
but no one is there to console her.
Concerning Ya‘akov, A<sub>DONAI</sub> has ordered
those around him to be his foes; Yerushalayim has become for them
an unclean, filthy thing.

<sup>18</sup>

“A<sub>DONAI</sub> is in the right,
for I rebelled against his word.
Listen, please, all you peoples;
and see how I am in pain!
My young women and my young men have gone into captivity.

<sup>19</sup>

“I called out to my lovers,

but they let me down.

My cohanim and leaders
perished in the city,
as they were seeking food
to keep themselves alive.

<sup>20</sup> “See, ADONAI, how distressed I am!

Everything in me is churning!
My heart turns over inside me,
because I have been so rebellious.
Outside, the sword brings bereavement;
inside, it is like death.

<sup>21</sup> “People have heard how I groan,

with no one to comfort me.
All my foes have heard of my trouble;
they are glad that you have done it.
Bring the day you have promised,
so that they will suffer like me!

<sup>22</sup> “Let all their wickedness come before you.

Then do to them

as you have done to me
because of all my offenses.
For my groans are many,
and I am sick at heart.”

2<sup>1</sup> How enveloped in darkness Adonai, in his anger, has made the daughter of Tziyon!
He has thrown down from heaven to earth
the splendor of Isra’el, forgotten his footstool [the sanctuary]
on the day of his anger.

<sup>2</sup> Without pity Adonai swallowed up
all the dwellings of Ya‘akov.
In his wrath he broke down the strongholds
of the daughter of Y’hudah,
brought them down to the ground,
thus profaning the kingdom and its rulers.

<sup>3</sup> In his fierce anger he cut off
all the power of Isra’el, withdrew his protecting right hand

at the approach of the enemy,
and blazed up in Ya'akov like a flaming fire
devouring everything around it.

<sup>4</sup> He bent his bow like an enemy,
with his right hand set like a foe.
He killed all who were pleasant to see.
In the tent of the daughter of Tziyon,
he poured out his fury like fire.

<sup>5</sup> Adonai became like an enemy;
he swallowed up Isra'el,
swallowed up all its palaces,
and destroyed all its strongholds.
For the daughter of Y'udah
he has multiplied mourning and moaning.

<sup>6</sup> He wrecked his tabernacle as easily as a garden, destroyed his place of assembly.
ADONAI caused Isra'el to forget designated times and Shabbats.
In the heat of his anger

he rejected both king and cohen.

<sup>7</sup>        Adonai rejected his altar,
disowned his sanctuary,
and gave her palace walls
over to the power of the foe, who raised such shouts in the house of A<sub>DONAI</sub>
that it sounded like a festival day.

<sup>8</sup>        A<sub>DONAI</sub> resolved to destroy the wall of the daughter of Tziyon.
He measured it with his line and did not stay his hand
until it was all in ruins.
He brought grief to rampart and wall;
together they lie dejected.

<sup>9</sup>        Her gates have sunk into the ground;
he destroyed and broke their bars.
Her king and rulers are among the Goyim,
there is no more Torah,
and her prophets do not receive visions from A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

<sup>10</sup> The leaders of the daughter of Tziyon sit on the ground in silence.

They throw dust on their heads;

they are wearing sackcloth.

The unmarried women of Yerushalayim lower their heads to the ground.

<sup>11</sup> My eyes are worn out from weeping,

everything in me is churning;

I am empty of emotion

because of the wounds to my people,

because children and infants are fainting away

in the streets of the city.

<sup>12</sup> They keep asking their mothers,

“Where is something to eat or drink?”

as they faint away

in the streets of the city,

gasping out their last breath

in their mother’s bosom.

<sup>13</sup> What can be said to you, what can be compared with you,

daughter of Yerushalayim?

What example can I give to comfort you,

virgin daughter of Tziyon?

For your downfall is as vast as the sea;

who can heal you?

<sup>14</sup> The visions your prophets saw for you were futile, just a whitewash.

They did not expose your guilt,

so as to reverse your fortunes —

no, the visions they saw for you were alluring, but futile.

<sup>15</sup> All who pass your way

clap their hands at you,

hissing and shaking their heads

at the daughter of Yerushalayim:

“This city was called ‘perfection in beauty’?

‘the joy of the whole earth’?”

<sup>16</sup> All your adversaries

open their mouths to jeer at you.

They hiss, they grind their teeth;
they say, “We have swallowed her up!
This is the day we were waiting for,
and now we have lived to see it!”

<sup>17</sup>        ADONAI has done what he planned,
he has fulfilled his promise,
which he decreed in ancient times.
He has destroyed without pity,
he has let the enemy gloat over you
and filled your foes with pride.

<sup>18</sup>        Their hearts cried out to Adonai, “Wall of the daughter of Tziyon!
Let your tears stream down
like a torrent, day and night!
Give yourself no respite,
give your eyes no rest!

<sup>19</sup>        “Get up! Cry out in the night, at the beginning of every watch!
Pour your heart out like water

before the face of Adonai!
Lift up your hands to him
for the lives of your babies,
who are fainting away from hunger
at every streetcorner.”

<sup>20</sup>

ADONAI, look and see
who it is you have thus tormented!
Should women eat the fruit of their wombs,
the children they have held in their hands?
Should cohanim and prophets be slaughtered
in the sanctuary of Adonai?

<sup>21</sup>

Youths and old men are lying on the ground in the streets,
my unmarried women and young men
have fallen by the sword.
You killed them on the day of your anger,
you slaughtered them without pity.

<sup>22</sup>

You have summoned my terrors from every direction,
as on a festival day.

On the day of A<sub>DONAI</sub>'s anger, not one escaped; not one survived —
the children I held in my arms and raised,
my enemy has destroyed.

3<sup>1</sup> I am the man who has seen affliction
under the rod of his fury.

<sup>2</sup> He has led me and made me walk
in darkness and not in light.

<sup>3</sup> Against me alone he turns his hand
again and again, all day.

<sup>4</sup> He has worn away my skin and flesh,
he has broken my bones.

<sup>5</sup> He has besieged and surrounded me
with bitterness and hardship.

<sup>6</sup> He has made me live in darkness,
like those who are long dead.

<sup>7</sup> He has walled me in, so I can't escape;
he has weighed me down with chains.

Even when I cry out, pleading for help,
he shuts out my prayer.

<sup>9</sup> He has barred my way with blocks of stone,
he has made my paths crooked.

<sup>10</sup> He lies in wait for me like a bear,
like a lion in hiding.

<sup>11</sup> He has forced me aside and torn me to pieces, leaving me stunned.

<sup>12</sup> He has bent his bow and used me
as a target for his arrows.

<sup>13</sup> He has pierced my vital organs
with shafts from his quiver.

<sup>14</sup> I'm a laughingstock to all my people,
the butt of their taunts all day long.

<sup>15</sup> He has filled me with bitterness,
sated me with wormwood.

<sup>16</sup> He has broken my teeth with gravel
and pressed me down into ashes.

I have been so deprived of peace,
I have so forgotten what happiness is,

<sup>18</sup> that I think, “My strength is gone, and so is my hope in A<sub>DONAI</sub>.”

<sup>19</sup> Remember my utter misery,
the wormwood and the gall.

<sup>20</sup> They are always on my mind;
this is why I am so depressed.

<sup>21</sup> But in my mind I keep returning to something, something that gives me hope —

<sup>22</sup> that the grace of A<sub>DONAI</sub> is not exhausted, that his compassion has not ended.

<sup>23</sup> [On the contrary,] they are new every morning!
How great your faithfulness!

<sup>24</sup> “A<sub>DONAI</sub> is all I have,” I say;
“therefore I will put my hope in him.

<sup>25</sup> A<sub>DONAI</sub> is good to those waiting for him,
to those who are seeking him out.

It is good to wait patiently
for the saving help of Adonai.

<sup>27</sup> It is good for a man
to bear the yoke from his youth.

<sup>28</sup> Let him sit alone in silence
when he has laid it on him.

<sup>29</sup> Let him submit absolutely;
there may yet be hope.

<sup>30</sup> Let him offer his cheek to the one who strikes it,
and receive his fill of insults.

does not last forever.

<sup>32</sup> He may cause grief, but he will take pity,
in keeping with the greatness of his grace.

<sup>33</sup> For he does not arbitrarily torment
or punish human beings.

<sup>34</sup> When anyone tramples underfoot
any of the prisoners of the land;

when anyone deprives a person of justice,
in defiance of the Most High;

<sup>36</sup> when someone is cheated of justice in court —
does Adonai not take note of such things?

<sup>37</sup> Who can say something and have it happen without Adonai's commanding it?

<sup>38</sup> Don't both bad things and good proceed
from the mouth of the Most High?

<sup>39</sup> Why should anyone alive complain,
even a strong man, about the punishment for his sins?

<sup>40</sup> Let us examine and test our ways and return to ADONAI.

<sup>41</sup> Let us lift up our hearts and our hands
to God in heaven and say,

<sup>42</sup> "We, for our part, have transgressed and rebelled;
you, for your part, have not forgiven.

<sup>43</sup> "You have covered us with anger, pursued and slaughtered us without pity.

You have covered yourself with a cloud so thick that no prayer can pass through.

<sup>45</sup> You have reduced us
to rubbish and filth among the peoples.

<sup>46</sup> “All our adversaries
open their mouths to jeer at us.

<sup>47</sup> Panic and pitfall have come upon us, desolation and destruction.

<sup>48</sup> My eyes stream with rivers of water over the destruction of the daughter of my people.”

<sup>49</sup> My eyes weep ceaselessly;
there is no respite,

<sup>50</sup> until A<sub>DONAI</sub> looks down
and sees from heaven.

<sup>51</sup> My eyes make me so upset
at the fate of the women in my city.

<sup>52</sup> Those who are my enemies for no reason hunted me down like a bird.

They forced me alive into a pit
and threw stones on me.

<sup>54</sup> Water rose above my head;

I thought, “I am finished!”

<sup>55</sup> I called on your name, Adonai,

from the bottom of the pit.

<sup>56</sup> You heard my voice; don’t close your ear

at my sighs, at my cries.

<sup>57</sup> You came near when I called to you;

you said, “Don’t be afraid.”

<sup>58</sup> Adonai, you defended my cause;

you redeemed my life.

<sup>59</sup> Adonai, you see how I have been wronged;

give judgment in my favor!

<sup>60</sup> You have seen all their vindictiveness

and all their plots against me.

<sup>61</sup> You have heard their taunts, Adonai,

and all their plots against me,

<sup>62</sup>

the whispered murmurings of my foes
against me all day long.

<sup>63</sup> See how, whether they sit or stand,
I am the butt of their taunts.

<sup>64</sup> Repay them, A<sub>DONAI</sub>,
as their deeds deserve.

<sup>65</sup> Give them hardheartedness
as your curse on them.

<sup>66</sup> Pursue them in anger!
Destroy them from under your heavens!

4 <sup>1</sup> How the gold has lost its luster!
How the fine gold has changed!
How the stones of the sanctuary
lie scattered at every streetcorner!

<sup>2</sup> The precious sons of Tziyon,
as precious as fine gold —
to think they are now worth no more than clay jars made by a potter!

<sup>3</sup> Even jackals bare their breasts
in order to nurse their young,
but the daughters of my people have become as cruel
as ostriches in the desert.

<sup>4</sup> The tongue of the baby at the breast sticks to the roof of its mouth from thirst;
young children are begging for bread,
but no one is giving them any.

<sup>5</sup> People who once ate only the best
lie dying in the streets;
those who were raised wearing purple
are clawing at piles of garbage.

<sup>6</sup> For the offense of the daughter of my people is greater than the sin of S'dom,
which was overthrown in an instant,
without a hand to help her.

<sup>7</sup> Her princes were purer than snow;
they were whiter than milk,
their bodies more ruddy than pink pearls,

as beautiful as sapphires.

<sup>8</sup>        Now their faces are blacker than coal;
in the streets they go unrecognized.
Their skin has shriveled over their bones
and become as dry as a stick.

<sup>9</sup>        Those slain by the sword are better off than those who are dying from hunger;
since these waste away as if pierced through,
for lack of food from the fields.

<sup>10</sup>       With their own hands compassionate women have cooked their own children;
their children became their food
when the daughter of my people was destroyed.

<sup>11</sup>       ADONAI has finished with his fury,
he has poured out his blazing wrath;
he kindled a fire in Tziyon
that consumed its very foundations.

<sup>12</sup>       The kings of the earth could not believe,
neither could anyone living in the world,

that enemy or foe would ever enter
the gates of Yerushalayim.

<sup>13</sup> It happened because of the sins of her prophets and the offenses of her cohanim,
who, within her walls,
shed the blood of the righteous.

<sup>14</sup> They wander in the streets like the blind;
they are so polluted with blood that nobody is able
even to touch their clothing.

<sup>15</sup> “Keep away! Unclean!” people shout at them, “Keep away! Away! Don’t touch us!”
They flee, to wander here and there;
but no nation allows them to stay.

<sup>16</sup> ADONAI himself scattered them;
he will no longer look after them;
they had no respect for cohanim
and showed no kindness to the leaders.

<sup>17</sup> As for us, our eyes are worn out from looking in vain for help;

we kept on watching and watching
for a nation that couldn't save us.

<sup>18</sup> They keep dogging our steps,
so that we can't go out in our streets.
Our end is near, our time is up;
yes, our end has come.

<sup>19</sup> Those who pursued us were swifter
than eagles in the sky.
They chased us over the mountains and waylaid us in the desert.

<sup>20</sup> ADONAI's anointed, our life-breath,
was caught in their pits;
though of him we had said, "Under his protection
we can live among the nations."

who lives in the land of 'Utz.
To you too the cup will pass;
you will get drunk and strip yourself naked!

<sup>22</sup>

Your offenses, daughter of Tziyon, are atoned for;
he will keep you in exile no longer.

Your offenses, daughter of Edom, he will punish;
he will expose your sins.

5 <sup>1</sup>

Remember, ADONAI, what has happened to us;
look, and see our disgrace.

<sup>2</sup>

The land we possessed has been passed on to strangers,
our homes to foreigners.

<sup>3</sup>

We have become fatherless orphans,
our mothers now are widows.

<sup>4</sup>

We have to pay to drink our own water;
we have to buy our own wood.

<sup>5</sup>

The yoke is on our necks; we are persecuted;
we toil to exhaustion but are given no rest.

<sup>6</sup>

We made pacts with Egypt and Ashur
to get enough food.

<sup>7</sup>

Our ancestors sinned and no longer exist;
we bear the weight of their guilt.

<sup>8</sup>

We are ruled by slaves,
and there is no one to save us from their power.

<sup>9</sup> We get our food at the peril of our lives
because of the sword in the desert.

<sup>10</sup> Our skins are as black as a furnace
because of the searing blasts of famine.

<sup>11</sup> They have raped the women of Tziyon, virgins in the cities of Y'hudah.

<sup>12</sup> Princes are hung up by their hands, leaders receive no respect.

<sup>13</sup> Young men are compelled to grind at the mill,
boys stagger under loads of wood.

<sup>14</sup> The old men have deserted the city gate,
the young men have given up their music.

<sup>15</sup> Joy has vanished from our hearts,
our dancing has turned into mourning.

<sup>16</sup> The crown has fallen from our heads.
Woe to us! for we have sinned.

<sup>17</sup> This is why our hearts are sick;

this is why our eyes grow dim —

<sup>18</sup> it's because of Mount Tziyon, so wasted

that jackals have overrun it.

<sup>19</sup> You, ADONAI, reign forever;

your throne endures through all generations.

<sup>20</sup> Why do you never remember us?

Why abandon us for so long a time?

<sup>21</sup> ADONAI, turn us back to you; and we will come back;

renew our days, as they were in the past —

<sup>22</sup> unless you have totally rejected us

in a fury that knows no limits.

[ADONAI, turn us back to you; and we will come back;
renew our days, as they were in the past.]

Kohelet

ECCLESIASTES

1 <sup>1</sup> The words of Kohelet the son of David, king in Yerushalayim:

<sup>2</sup>       Pointless! Pointless! — says Kohelet —

Utterly meaningless! Nothing matters!

<sup>3</sup>       What does a person gain from all his labor at which he toils under the sun?

<sup>4</sup>       Generations come, generations go,
but the earth remains forever.

<sup>5</sup>       The sun rises, the sun sets;
then it speeds to its place and rises there.

<sup>6</sup>       The wind blows south,
then it turns north;
the wind blows all around
and keeps returning to its rounds.

<sup>7</sup>       All the rivers flow to the sea,
yet the sea is not full;
to the place where the rivers flow,

there they keep on flowing.

<sup>8</sup> Everything is wearisome,
more than one can express;
the eye is not satisfied with seeing,
the ear not filled up with hearing.

<sup>9</sup> What has been is what will be,
what has been done is what will be done,
and there is nothing new under the sun.

<sup>10</sup> Is there something of which it is said, “See, this is new”?
It existed already in the ages before us.

<sup>11</sup> No one remembers the people of long ago;
and those to come will not be remembered
by those who come after them.

<sup>12</sup> I, Kohelet, have been king over Isra’el in Yerushalayim. <sup>13</sup> I wisely applied myself to seek out and investigate everything done under heaven. What a bothersome task God has given humanity to keep us occupied! <sup>14</sup> I have seen all the activities that are done under the sun, and it’s all pointless, feeding on wind.

what is not there can't be counted.

<sup>16</sup> I said to myself, "Look, I have acquired much wisdom, more than anyone ruling Yerushalayim before me." Yes, I experienced a great deal of wisdom and knowledge; <sup>17</sup> yet when I applied myself to understanding wisdom and knowledge, as well as stupidity and folly, I came to see that this too was merely feeding on wind.

2 <sup>1</sup> I said to myself, "Come now, I will test myself with pleasure and enjoying good things"; but this too was pointless. <sup>2</sup> Of laughter I said, "This is stupid," and of pleasure, "What's the use of it?"

<sup>3</sup> I searched my mind for how to gratify my body with wine and, with my mind still guiding me with wisdom, how to pursue foolishness; my object was to find out what was the best thing for people to do during the short time they have under heaven to live. <sup>4</sup> I worked on a grand scale — I built myself palaces, planted myself vineyards, <sup>5</sup> and made myself gardens and parks; in them I planted all kinds of fruit trees. <sup>6</sup> I made myself pools from which to water the trees springing up in the forest. <sup>7</sup> I bought male and female slaves, and I had my home-born slaves as well. I also had growing herds of cattle and flocks of sheep, more than anyone before me in Yerushalayim. <sup>8</sup> I amassed silver and gold, the wealth of kings and provinces. I acquired male and female singers, things that provide sensual delight, and a good many concubines. <sup>9</sup> So I grew great, surpassing all who preceded me in Yerushalayim; my wisdom, too, stayed with me. <sup>10</sup> I denied my eyes nothing they wanted. I withheld no pleasure from myself; for I took pleasure in all my work, and this was my reward for all my work. <sup>11</sup> Then I looked at all that my hands had accomplished and at the work I had toiled at; and I saw that it was all meaningless and feeding on wind, and that there was nothing to be gained under the sun.

<sup>12</sup> So I decided to look more carefully at wisdom, stupidity and foolishness; for what can the man who succeeds the king do, except what has already been done? <sup>13</sup>I saw that wisdom is more useful than foolishness, just as light is more useful than darkness.

<sup>14</sup> The wise man has eyes in his head,

but the fool walks in darkness.

Yet the same fate awaits them all.

<sup>15</sup> So I said to myself, “If the same thing happens to the fool as to me, then what did I gain by being wise?” and I thought to myself, “This too is pointless. <sup>16</sup> For the wise man, like the fool, will not be long remembered, inasmuch as in the times to come, everything will long ago have been forgotten. The wise man, no less than the fool, must die.”

<sup>17</sup> So I came to hate life, because the activities done under the sun were loathesome to me, since everything is meaningless and feeding on wind. <sup>18</sup> I hated all the things for which I had worked under the sun, because I saw that I would have to leave them to the man who will come after me. <sup>19</sup> Who knows whether he will be a wise man or a fool? Yet he will have control over all the things I worked for and which demonstrated how wise I am under the sun. This too is pointless. <sup>20</sup> Thus I came to despair over all the things I had worked for under the sun. <sup>21</sup> Here is a man whose work is done with wisdom, knowledge and skill; yet he has to leave it to someone who has put no work into it. This is not only pointless, but a great evil. <sup>22</sup> For what does a person get from all his efforts and ambitions permeating the work he does under the sun? <sup>23</sup> His whole life is one of pain, and his work is full of stress; even at night his mind gets no rest. This too is pointless. <sup>24</sup> So there is nothing better for a man to do than eat, drink and let himself enjoy the good that results from his work. I also realized that this is from God’s hand. <sup>25</sup> For who will eat and who will enjoy except me? <sup>26</sup> For to the man who is good from [God’s] viewpoint he gives wisdom, knowledge and joy; but to the sinner he gives the task of collecting and accumulating things to leave to him who is good from God’s viewpoint. This too is pointless and feeding on wind.

3 <sup>1</sup> For everything there is a season,

a right time for every intention under heaven —

<sup>2</sup> a time to be born and a time to die,

a time to plant and a time to uproot,

<sup>3</sup> a time to kill and a time to heal,

a time to tear down and a time to build,

<sup>4</sup> a time to weep and a time to laugh,

a time to mourn and a time to dance,

<sup>5</sup> a time to throw stones and a time to gather stones,

a time to embrace and a time to refrain,

<sup>6</sup> a time to search and a time to give up,

a time to keep and a time to discard,

<sup>7</sup> a time to tear and a time to sew,

a time to keep silent and a time to speak,

<sup>8</sup> a time to love and a time to hate,

a time for war and a time for peace.

<sup>9</sup> What does the worker gain from his efforts? <sup>10</sup> I have seen the task God has given humanity to keep us occupied. <sup>11</sup> He has made everything suited to its time; also, he has given human beings an awareness of eternity; but in such a way that they can't fully comprehend, from beginning to end, the things God does. <sup>12</sup> I know that there is nothing better for them to do than to be happy and enjoy themselves as long as they live. <sup>13</sup> Still, the fact that everyone can eat and drink and enjoy the good that results from all his work, is a gift of God. <sup>14</sup> I know that whatever God does will last forever;

there is nothing to add or subtract from it;

and God has done it so that people will fear him.

<sup>15</sup> That which was is here already;

and that which will be has already been,

but God seeks out what people chase after.

<sup>16</sup> Another thing I observed under the sun:

There, in the same place as justice, was wickedness;

there, in the same place as righteousness, was wickedness.

<sup>17</sup> I said to myself, “The righteous and the wicked God will judge, because there is a right time for every intention and for every action.”

<sup>18</sup> Concerning people, I said to myself, “God is testing them, so that they will see that by themselves they are just animals. <sup>19</sup> After all, the same things that happen to people happen to animals, the very same thing — just as the one dies, so does the other. Yes, their breath is the same; so that humans are no better than animals; since nothing matters, anyway. <sup>20</sup> They all go to the same place; they all come from dust, and they all return to dust. <sup>21</sup> Who knows if the spirit of a human being goes upward and the spirit of an animal goes downward into the earth?” <sup>22</sup> So I concluded that there is nothing better for a person to do than take joy in his activities, that that is his allotted portion; for who can enable him to see what will happen after him?

4 <sup>1</sup> But I turned away and thought about all the kinds of oppression being done under the sun.

I saw the tears of the oppressed,
and they had no one to comfort them.

The power was on the side of their oppressors,
and they had no one to comfort them.

<sup>2</sup> So I considered the dead happier, because they were already dead, than the living, who must still live their lives; <sup>3</sup> but happier than either of them is the one who has not yet been born, because he has not yet seen the evil things that are done under the sun.

<sup>5</sup> Fools fold their arms together
and eat their own flesh away.

<sup>6</sup> Better an armload with tranquillity
than both arms full of effort and feeding on wind.

<sup>7</sup> Then I turned my attention to something else under the sun that is pointless: <sup>8</sup> the situation in which a solitary individual without a companion, with neither son nor brother, keeps on working endlessly but never has enough wealth. "For whom" [he should ask], "am I working so hard and denying myself pleasure?" This too is truly pointless, a sorry business.

<sup>9</sup> Two are better than one, in that their cooperative efforts yield this advantage: <sup>10</sup> if one of them falls, the other will help his partner up — woe to him who is alone when he falls and has no one to help him up. <sup>11</sup> Again, if two people sleep together, they keep each other warm; but how can one person be warm by himself? <sup>12</sup> Moreover, an attacker may defeat someone who is alone, but two can resist him; and a three-stranded cord is not easily broken.

Better a youth who is poor but wise
than a king who is old but foolish,
no longer willing to listen to advice.

<sup>14</sup> True, he rose from prison to be king;
yet, while ruling, he became poor.

<sup>15</sup> I observed that all who live and walk under the sun took the side of the youth mentioned first who would rule in place of the king, <sup>16</sup> and that no limit was set for the number of his subjects. Nevertheless, those who come afterwards will not regard him highly. This too is certainly pointless and feeding on wind.

<sup>17(5:1)</sup> Watch your step when you go to the house of God. Offering to listen is better than fools offering sacrifices, because they don't discern whether or not they are doing evil.

5 <sup>1(2)</sup> Don't speak impulsively — don't be in a hurry to give voice to your words before God.

For God is in heaven, and you are on earth;

so let your words be few.

and a fool, when he speaks, chatters too much.

<sup>3(4)</sup> If you make a vow to God, don't delay in discharging it. For God takes no pleasure in fools, so discharge your vow! <sup>4(5)</sup> Better not to make a vow than to make a vow and not discharge it. <sup>5(6)</sup> Don't let your words make you guilty, and don't tell the temple official that you made the vow by mistake. Why give God reason to be angry at what you say and destroy what you have accomplished? <sup>6(7)</sup> For [this is what happens when there are too] many dreams, aimless activities and words. Instead, just fear God!

<sup>7(8)</sup> If you see the poor oppressed, rights violated and justice perverted in the province, don't be surprised; for a high official has one higher watching him, and there are others above them. <sup>8(9)</sup> But the greatest advantage to the country is when the king makes himself a servant to the land.

the lover of luxury never has enough income.

This too is pointless.

<sup>10(11)</sup> When the quantity of goods increases,

so does the number of parasites consuming them;

so the only advantage to the owner is that he gets to watch them do it.

<sup>11(12)</sup> The sleep of a working man is sweet,

whether he eats little or much;

but the overfullness of the rich

won't let them sleep at all.

<sup>12(13)</sup> Here is a gross evil which I have seen under the sun: the owner of wealth hoards it to his own hurt.

<sup>13(14)</sup> Due to some misfortune,

the wealth turns to loss;

and then if he has fathered a son,
he has nothing to leave him.

<sup>14(15)</sup> Just as he came from his mother's womb,
so he will go back naked as he came,
and for his efforts he will take nothing
that he can carry away in his hand.

<sup>15(16)</sup> This too is a gross evil, that in every respect as he came, so will he go; thus what profit does he have after toiling to earn the wind? <sup>16(17)</sup> All his life he eats in darkness, in frustration, in sickness and in anger.

<sup>17(18)</sup> This is what I have seen to be good: that it is appropriate for a person to eat, drink and enjoy the good that results from all his work that he engages in under the sun for all the days of his life that God has given him, for this is his allotted portion. <sup>18(19)</sup> Also, everyone to whom God has given riches and wealth, along with the power to enjoy it, so that he takes his allotted portion and finds pleasure in his work — this is a gift of God; <sup>19(20)</sup> for he will not brood over the fact that his life is short, since God keeps him occupied with what will bring him joy.

<sup>3</sup> Suppose a man fathers a hundred children and lives many years, so that he has a long life, but he fails to enjoy himself; then, even if he were to [live indefinitely and therefore] never be buried, I say that it would be better to be born dead. <sup>4</sup> For the arrival of a stillborn baby is a futile thing, and its departure is in darkness; its name is [forgotten,] covered in darkness; <sup>5</sup> and although it has never seen or known the sun, it is more content than he is, <sup>6</sup> without enjoying himself, even if he were to live a thousand years twice over. Doesn't everyone go to the same place?

<sup>7</sup>       The purpose of all toil is to fill the mouth, yet the appetite is never satisfied.

<sup>8</sup>       What advantage has the wise over the fool,
or the person with experience, if he is poor?

<sup>9</sup>       Better what the eyes can see than meandering desire.
Yet this too is pointless
and feeding on wind.

<sup>10</sup>      Whatever he is, he was named long ago,
and it is known that he is merely human;
moreover, he cannot defeat
what is mightier than he [death].

<sup>11</sup>      There are many things that only add to futility, so how do humans benefit from them?

<sup>12</sup>      For who knows what is good for someone during life,
during the days of his pointless life spent like a shadow?
Who can tell what will happen under the sun

after a person is gone?

7<sup>1</sup> A good name is better than perfumed oil,
and the day of death better than the day of birth.

<sup>2</sup> Better to go to a house of mourning
than to go to a house of feasting,
for all are destined to be mourned;
the living should lay this to heart.

<sup>3</sup> Grief is better than laughter,
for sadness can improve a person.

<sup>4</sup> The thoughts of the wise are in the house of mourning,
but the thoughts of fools are in the house of pleasure.

<sup>5</sup> It is better to hear the rebukes of the wise
than to listen to the songs of fools.

<sup>6</sup> For the laughter of fools is like the crackling of thorns burning under a pot; this too is pointless.

<sup>7</sup> But oppression can make a wise man stupid;
also a gift can destroy understanding.

<sup>8</sup> The end of something is better than its beginning,

so the patient are better than the proud.

<sup>9</sup> Don't be quick to get angry,

for [only] fools nurse anger.

<sup>10</sup> Don't ask why the old days were better than now, because that is a foolish question.

<sup>11</sup> Wisdom is good, along with possessions,

an advantage to all who see the sun.

and money is a shelter,

but the advantage of knowledge is that wisdom keeps the one who has it alive.

<sup>13</sup> Consider the work of God:

who can make straight what he has made crooked?

<sup>14</sup> When things are going well, enjoy yourself;

but when things are going badly, consider that God made the one alongside the other,

so that people would learn nothing of their futures.

<sup>15</sup> In my pointless life, I've seen everything —

from the righteous person perishing in his uprightness

to the wicked one who lives a long life
and keeps on doing wrong.

<sup>16</sup> So don't be overly righteous or overly wise;
why should you disappoint yourself?

<sup>17</sup> But don't be overly wicked, and don't be foolish;
why should you die before your time?

<sup>18</sup> Don't grasp just one of these rules;
take hold of the other as well;
for he who is in fear of God
will live by both of them.

<sup>19</sup> To a wise man wisdom is better protection than ten rulers in a city.

<sup>20</sup> For there isn't a righteous person on earth
who does [only] good and never sins.

<sup>21</sup> Also, don't take seriously every word spoken,
such as when you hear your servant speaking badly of you;

<sup>22</sup> because often, as you yourself know,
you have spoken badly of others.

<sup>23</sup> All this I have put to the test of wisdom;

I said, “I will acquire wisdom”;
but wisdom remained far away from me.

<sup>24</sup> That which exists is far away
and deep, so deep, that it can’t be discovered.

<sup>25</sup> So I turned myself and my thoughts to know, search out and seek wisdom and the reasons behind things, also to know how foolish it is to be wicked and how stupid to act like a fool.

<sup>26</sup> I found more bitter than death
the woman who is a trap, whose heart is a snare
and whose hands are like prison chains.
The man who pleases God will escape from her,
but the sinner will be caught by her.

adding one thing to another to reach a conclusion,

<sup>28</sup> I searched a long time without finding it:
one man in a thousand I have found,
but a woman among all those I have not found.

<sup>29</sup> This is the only thing I have found,
that God made human beings upright,

but they have devised many schemes.

8<sup>1</sup> Who can be compared with a wise person?

Who else knows what a thing means?

Wisdom lights up the face

and softens a grim appearance.

<sup>2</sup> Keep the king's command

because of the oath before God.

<sup>3</sup> Don't be quick to leave his presence,

and don't persist in doing what is wrong,

for he does whatever he pleases.

<sup>4</sup> After all, his word is final;

who can challenge him, "Why are you doing that?"

<sup>5</sup> Whoever obeys his command

will never come to harm,

and the wise person will know

the right time and judgment.

<sup>6</sup> For to everything there is a right time and a judgment,

since people are greatly troubled

<sup>7</sup> by uncertainty over the future;

even when the event takes place,

who will tell them about it?

<sup>8</sup> Just as no one has the power to keep the wind from blowing,

so no one has power

over the day of death.

If one is drafted to fight a war,

one can't send a substitute;

likewise the wicked won't escape death

by their wickedness.

<sup>9</sup> All this I have seen, as I applied my mind to everything done under the sun when one person tyrannizes another. <sup>10</sup> Thus I saw the wicked buried; they had even come from the Holy Place. But those who had acted uprightly were forgotten in the city. This too is a futile thing; <sup>11</sup> because the punishment decreed for an evil act is not promptly carried out; therefore people who plan to do evil are strengthened in their intentions. <sup>12</sup> For a sinner can do evil a hundred times and still live a long life; although I know that in the end things will go well with those who fear God, because they fear him. <sup>13</sup> But things will not go well with the wicked; and, like a shadow, he will not prolong his days; because he doesn't fear God.

<sup>14</sup> There is something frustrating that occurs on earth, namely, that there are righteous people to whom things happen as if they were doing wicked deeds; and, again, there are wicked people to whom things happen as if they were doing righteous deeds. I say that this too is pointless.

him as he does his work for as long as God gives him to live under the sun.

<sup>16</sup> When I applied myself to gain wisdom and to observe how people occupy themselves on earth, that people's eyes don't see sleep either by day or by night, <sup>17</sup> then, on looking over all of God's work, I realized that it is impossible to grasp all the activity taking place under the sun; because even if a person works hard at searching it out, he won't grasp it; and even if a wise person thinks he knows it, he still won't be able to grasp it.

9 <sup>1</sup> I applied myself to all of this, sifted through it and concluded that the righteous and the wise, along with their deeds, are in God's hands — a person cannot know whether these people and deeds will be rewarded with love or with hatred; all options are open. <sup>2</sup> Anything can happen to anyone; the same thing can happen to the righteous as to the wicked, to the good and clean and to the unclean, to someone who offers a sacrifice and to someone who doesn't offer a sacrifice; it is the same for a good person as for a sinner, for someone who takes an oath rashly as for someone who fears to take an oath. <sup>3</sup> This is another evil among all those done under the sun, that the same events can occur to anyone. Truly, the human mind is full of evil; and as long as people live, folly is in their hearts; after which they go to be with the dead. <sup>4</sup> For as long as a person is linked with the living, there is hope — better to be a living dog than a dead lion! <sup>5</sup> For the living know that they will die, but the dead know nothing; there is no longer any reward for them, because all memory of them is lost. <sup>6</sup> What they loved, what they hated and what they envied all disappeared long ago, and they no longer have a share in anything done under the sun.

and drink your wine with a happy heart,
for God has already accepted your deeds.

<sup>8</sup>        Let your clothing always be white,
and never fail to perfume your head.

<sup>9</sup> Enjoy life with the wife you have loved throughout your meaningless life that he has given you under the sun, all the days of your futility; for that is your allotted portion in life and in your labor that you work at under the sun. <sup>10</sup> Whatever task comes your way to do, do it with all your strength; because in Sh'ol, where you will go, there is neither working nor planning, neither knowledge nor wisdom.

<sup>11</sup> Yet another thing I observed under the sun is that races aren't won by the swift or battles by the strong, and that food doesn't go to the wise or wealth to the intelligent or favor to the experts; rather, time and chance rule them all. <sup>12</sup> For people don't know when their time will come any more than fish taken in the fatal net or birds caught in a snare; similarly, people are snared at an unfortunate time, when suddenly it falls on them.

<sup>13</sup> Here is something else I have seen as wisdom under the sun, and it seemed important to me: <sup>14</sup> there was a small town with few people in it; and a great king came to attack it; he surrounded it and built massive siege-works against it. <sup>15</sup> Now there was found in it a man who was poor but wise, and by his wisdom he saved the city; yet afterwards, nobody remembered that poor man. <sup>16</sup> So, although I say that wisdom is better than strength, nevertheless the poor man's wisdom is despised; nobody pays attention to what he says.

than the shouts of a ruler commanding fools.

<sup>18</sup>       Wisdom is better than weapons of war,
but a person who makes a mistake can destroy much good.

10 <sup>1</sup>   Just as dead flies make perfumed oil stink,
so a little folly outweighs wisdom and honor.

<sup>2</sup>       A wise man's heart leads him rightly,
but a fool's heart leads him astray;

<sup>3</sup> and when a fool travels, he has no good sense,
thus showing everyone that he is a fool.

because calmness soothes great offenses.

<sup>5</sup> Another evil I have seen under the sun,
the kind of mistake rulers make, is that

<sup>6</sup> fools are promoted to high positions, while the rich occupy humble places.

<sup>7</sup> I have seen servants riding horses,
while princes walk on foot like slaves.

<sup>8</sup> He who digs a pit may fall into it;
he who breaks through a wall may be bitten by a snake.

<sup>9</sup> He who quarries stones may get hurt by them,
he who chops wood puts himself in danger.

<sup>10</sup> If the [hatchet's] iron [blade] is blunt,
and [its user] doesn't sharpen it,
he will have to exert more effort;
but the expert has the advantage of his skill.

If a snake bites before it is charmed,
the snake-charmer has no advantage.

<sup>12</sup> The words spoken by the wise bring them favor,
but the lips of a fool swallow him up.

<sup>13</sup> What he says starts with foolishness
and ends with wicked madness.

<sup>14</sup> A fool keeps talking and talking, yet no one knows what the future will bring —
can anyone tell a person
what will happen after he's gone?

<sup>15</sup> The efforts of a fool wear him out;
he doesn't even know the way to town!

<sup>16</sup> Woe to you, land, when your king is a child,
and your leaders start their parties in the morning!

<sup>17</sup> Happy are you, land, when your king is well-born,
and your princes eat at the proper time,
in order to stay strong, not to get drunk!

<sup>18</sup> When the owner is lazy, the roof sags;
when hands are idle, the house leaks.

<sup>19</sup>

Parties are made for having a good time,
wine adds cheer to life,
and money has an answer for everything.

<sup>20</sup>

Don't insult the king, not even in your thoughts;
and don't insult the wealthy, not even in your bedroom;
for a bird in the air might carry the news,
a creature with wings might repeat what you said.

11 <sup>1</sup> Send your resources out over the seas;

eventually you will reap a return.

<sup>2</sup>

Divide your merchandise into seven or eight shares, since you don't know what disasters may come on the earth.

<sup>3</sup>

If the clouds are full of rain,
they empty themselves on the earth.

Whether a tree falls toward the north or the south,
the place where the tree falls is where it stays.

<sup>4</sup>

He who keeps watching the wind will never sow;
he who keeps looking at the clouds will never reap.

<sup>5</sup>

Just as you don't know the way of the wind
or how bones grow in a pregnant woman's womb,

so you don't know the work of God,
the maker of everything.

<sup>6</sup> In the morning, sow your seed;
and don't slack off until evening;
for you don't know which sowing will succeed,
this, or that, or if both will do well.

<sup>7</sup> Then the light will be sweet,
and it will be a pleasure to see the sun.

<sup>8</sup> For if a person lives many years,
let him take joy in them all;
yet remembering that there will be many days of darkness,
that all to come is futile.

<sup>9</sup> Young person, if you spend your youth only having fun,
if you use your early years just to entertain yourself,
if you follow your heart as you live your life,
and let your eyes be your guide;
understand that for all these things
God will bring you to judgment.

<sup>10</sup> Therefore, remove anger from your heart;

and keep from harming your body;
for neither adolescence nor youth has any lasting value.

12<sup>1</sup> So remember your creator while you are young,

before the evil days come,
and the years approach when you will say,
“They no longer give me pleasure”;

<sup>2</sup> before the sun and the light grow dim,

also the moon and the stars;
before the clouds return after the rain;

<sup>3</sup> on the day when the guards of the house are trembling, and men of courage are bent over double;

when the women stop grinding grain,
because there are so few;

when the women at the windows
can no longer see out;

<sup>4</sup> when the doors to the streets are kept shut;

when the noise from the grain-mill fades;
when a person is startled by the chirp of a bird,

yet their singing is hard to hear;

<sup>5</sup>       when they will be afraid to go up a hill,
and terrors will stalk the way,
even though the almond tree is in bloom;
when the locust can only drag itself along,
and the caper berry has no [aphrodisiac] effect —
because the person is headed for his eternal home,
and the mourners are already gathering
in the marketplace —

<sup>6</sup>       before the silver cord is snapped
the bowl of gold is cracked,
the pitcher is shattered at the spring,
the pulley is broken at the cistern,

<sup>7</sup>       the dust returns to earth, as it was,
and the spirit returns to God, who gave it!

<sup>8</sup>       Pointless! Meaningless! — says Kohelet,

Nothing matters at all!

<sup>9</sup> Not only was Kohelet wise, he also taught the people what he knew; also he weighed, researched and corrected many ethical sayings. <sup>10</sup> Kohelet worked to develop an attractive writing style, in which he expressed the truth straightforwardly. <sup>11</sup> The sayings of the wise are as sharp as goads, and

those given by leaders of assemblies are like well-fixed nails; [in this case,] they are presented by a single shepherd. <sup>12</sup> In addition, my son, take heed: one can write many books — there's no end to it; and one can study so much that it wearies the flesh.

<sup>13</sup> Here is the final conclusion, now that you have heard everything: fear God, and keep his mitzvot; this is what being human is all about. <sup>14</sup> For God will bring to judgment everything we do, including every secret, whether good or bad.

[Here is the final conclusion, now that you have heard everything: fear God, and keep his mitzvot; this is what being human is all about.]

Ester

ESTHER

1 <sup>1</sup> These events took place in the time of Achashverosh, the Achashverosh who ruled over 127 provinces from India to Ethiopia. <sup>2</sup> It was in those days, when King Achashverosh sat on his royal throne in Shushan the capital, <sup>3</sup> in the third year of his reign, that he gave a banquet for all his officials and courtiers. The army of Persia and Media, the nobles and the provincial officials were in attendance. <sup>4</sup> He displayed the dazzling wealth of his kingdom and his great splendor for a long time, 180 days. <sup>5</sup> At the end of that time, the king gave a seven-day banquet in the courtyard of the royal palace garden for all the people, both great and small, there in Shushan the capital. <sup>6</sup> There were white cotton curtains and blue hangings fastened to silver rods, with cords of fine linen and purple; the columns were marble; the couches [for reclining at table] were of gold and silver on a mosaic flooring of malachite, marble, mother-of-pearl and onyx. <sup>7</sup> Drinks were served in gold goblets, with each goblet different from the others. There was royal wine in abundance, as befits royal bounty. <sup>8</sup> The drinking was not according to any fixed rule, for the king had ordered the stewards to serve each man what he wanted. <sup>9</sup> Also Vashti the queen gave a banquet for the women in the royal house belonging to King Achashverosh.

<sup>10</sup> On the seventh day, when the king was in high spirits from the wine, he ordered Mehuman, Bizta, Harvona, Bigta, Avagta, Zetar and Karkas, the seven officers who attended him, <sup>11</sup> to bring Queen Vashti before the king with the royal crown, in order to show the people and the officials her beauty, for she was indeed a good-looking woman. <sup>12</sup> But Queen Vashti refused to come at the order of the king, which he had sent through his officers. This enraged the king — his anger blazed inside him.

law, what should we do to Queen Vashti, since she didn't obey the order of King Achashverosh conveyed by the officers?"

<sup>16</sup> Memukhan presented the king and vice-regents this answer: "Vashti the queen has wronged not only the king, but also all the officials and all the peoples in all the provinces of King Achashverosh; <sup>17</sup> because this act of the queen's will become known to all the women, who will then start showing disrespect toward their own husbands; they will say, 'King Achashverosh ordered Vashti the queen to be brought before him, but she wouldn't come.'

2 <sup>1</sup> A while later, when King Achashverosh's anger had subsided, he remembered Vashti, what she had done and what had been decreed against her. <sup>2</sup> The king's servants attending him said, "A search should be made for young, good-looking virgins. <sup>3</sup> The king should appoint officials in all the provinces of the kingdom to gather all the young, good-looking virgins to the house for the harem, in Shushan the capital. They should be put under the care of Hegai the king's officer in charge of the women, and he should give them the cosmetics they require. <sup>4</sup> Then, the girl who seems best to the king should become queen instead of Vashti." This proposal pleased the king, so he acted accordingly.

<sup>5</sup> There was in Shushan the capital a man who was a Jew, whose name was Mordekhai the son of Ya'ir, the son of Shim'i, the son of Kish, a Binyamini. <sup>6</sup> He had been exiled from Yerushalayim with the captives exiled with Y'khanyah king of Y'hudah, whom N'vukhadnetzar king of Bavel had carried off. <sup>7</sup> He had raised Hadassah, that is, Ester, his uncle's daughter; because she had neither father nor mother. The girl was shapely and good-looking; after her father's and mother's death, Mordekhai had adopted her as his own daughter.

<sup>12</sup> Each girl had her turn to appear before King Achashverosh after she had undergone the full twelve-month preparation period prescribed for the women, consisting of a six-month treatment with oil of myrrh and six months with perfumes and other cosmetics for women. <sup>13</sup> Then, when the girl went to see the king, whatever she wanted would be given to her as she went from the harem's house to the king's palace. <sup>14</sup> She would go in the evening, and on the following day she would return to another part of the harem's house and be under the care of Sha'ashgaz the king's officer in charge of the concubines. She would not go to the king again unless he was especially pleased with her and had her summoned by name.

<sup>15</sup> When the turn came for Ester the daughter of Avichayil, whom Mordekhai had adopted as his own daughter, to appear before the king, she didn't ask for anything other than what Hegai the king's officer in charge of the harem advised. Yet Ester was admired by all who saw her. <sup>16</sup> She was brought to King Achashverosh in his royal palace in the tenth month, Tevet, during the seventh year of his reign. <sup>17</sup> The king liked Ester more than any of his wives; none of the other virgins obtained such favor and approval from him. So he put the royal crown on her head and made her queen in place of Vashti.

worthy of royal bounty.

3 <sup>1</sup> Some time later King Achashverosh began to single out Haman the son of Hamdata the Agagi for advancement; eventually he gave him precedence over all his fellow officers. <sup>2</sup> All the king's servants at the King's Gate would kneel and bow down before Haman, because the king had so ordered. But Mordekhai would neither kneel nor bow down to him. <sup>3</sup> The king's servants at the King's Gate asked Mordekhai, "Why don't you obey the king's order?" <sup>4</sup> But after they had confronted him a number of times without his paying attention to them, they told Haman, in order to find out whether Mordekhai's explanation that he was a Jew would suffice to justify his behavior. <sup>5</sup> Haman was furious when he saw that Mordekhai was not kneeling and bowing down to him. <sup>6</sup> However, on learning what people Mordekhai belonged to, it seemed to him a waste to lay hands on Mordekhai alone. Rather, he decided to destroy all of Mordekhai's people, the Jews, throughout the whole of Achashverosh's kingdom.

<sup>7</sup> In the first month, the month of Nisan, in the twelfth year of Achashverosh, they began throwing pur (that is, they cast lots) before Haman every day and every month until the twelfth month, which is the month of Adar. <sup>8</sup> Then Haman said to Achashverosh, "There is a particular people scattered and dispersed among the peoples in all the provinces of your kingdom. Their laws are different from those of every other people; moreover, they don't observe the king's laws. It doesn't befit the king to tolerate them. <sup>9</sup> If it please the king, have a decree written for their destruction; and I will hand over 330 tons of silver to the officials in charge of the king's affairs to deposit in the royal treasury."

<sup>12</sup> The king's secretaries were summoned on the thirteenth day of the first month. They wrote down all Haman's orders to the king's army commanders and governors in all the provinces and to the officials of every people, to each province in its own script and to each people in their own language; everything was written in the name of King Achashverosh and sealed with the king's signet ring. <sup>13</sup> Letters were sent by courier to all the royal provinces "to destroy, kill and exterminate all Jews, from young to old, including small children and women, on a specific day, the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, the month of Adar, and to seize their goods as plunder." <sup>14</sup> A copy of the document to be issued as a decree in every province was to be publicly proclaimed to all the peoples, so that they would be ready for that day. <sup>15</sup> At the king's order the runners went out quickly, and the decree was issued in Shushan the capital. Then the king and Haman sat down for a drink together, but the city of Shushan was thrown into confusion.

<sup>4</sup> When the girls and officials attending Ester came and informed her of this, the queen became deeply distressed. She sent clothes for Mordekhai to wear instead of his sackcloth, but he wouldn't accept them. <sup>5</sup> So Ester summoned Hatakh, one of the king's officials attending her, and instructed him to go to Mordekhai and find out what this was all about and why. <sup>6</sup> Hatakh went out to Mordekhai in the open space in front of the King's Gate, <sup>7</sup> and Mordekhai told him everything that had happened to him and exactly how much silver Haman had promised to put in the royal treasury for the destruction of the Jews. <sup>8</sup> He also gave him a copy of the decree for their destruction issued in Shushan; so that he could show it to Ester, explain it to her, and then instruct her to approach the king, intercede with him and implore his favor on behalf of her people. <sup>9</sup> Hatakh returned and told Ester what Mordekhai had said.

<sup>10</sup> Then Ester spoke to Hatakh and gave him this message for Mordekhai: <sup>11</sup> “All the king’s officials, as well as the people in the royal provinces, know that if anyone, man or woman, approaches the king in the inner courtyard without being summoned, there is just one law — he must be put to death — unless the king holds out the gold scepter for him to remain alive; and I haven’t been summoned to the king for the past thirty days.”

<sup>12</sup> Upon being told what Ester had said, Mordekhai <sup>13</sup> asked them to give Ester this answer: “Don’t suppose that merely because you happen to be in the royal palace you will escape any more than the other Jews. <sup>14</sup> For if you fail to speak up now, relief and deliverance will come to the Jews from a different direction; but you and your father’s family will perish. Who knows whether you didn’t come into your royal position precisely for such a time as this.”

<sup>15</sup> Ester had them return this answer to Mordekhai: <sup>16</sup> “Go, assemble all the Jews to be found in Shushan, and have them fast for me, neither eating nor drinking for three days, night and day; also I and the girls attending me will fast the same way. Then I will go in to the king, which is against the law; and if I perish, I perish.” <sup>17</sup> Then Mordekhai went his way and did everything Ester had ordered him to do.

him.” <sup>5</sup> The king said, “Bring Haman quickly, so that what Ester has asked for can be done.” <sup>(6)</sup> So the king and Haman came to the banquet Ester had prepared.

<sup>6(7)</sup> At the banquet of wine the king again said to Ester, “Whatever your request, you will be granted it; whatever you want, up to half the kingdom, it will be done.” <sup>7(8)</sup> Then Ester answered, “My request, what I want, is this: <sup>8</sup> if I have won the king’s favor, if it pleases the king to grant my request and do what I want, let the king and Haman come to the banquet which I will prepare for them; and tomorrow I will do as the king has said.”

<sup>9</sup> That day Haman went out happy and in good spirits. But when Haman saw Mordekhai at the King’s Gate, that he neither rose nor moved for him, Haman was infuriated with Mordekhai. <sup>10</sup> Nevertheless, Haman restrained himself and went home, where he summoned and brought his friends and Zeresh his wife. <sup>11</sup> Haman boasted to them about his vast wealth, his many sons, and everything connected with how the king had promoted him and given him precedence over the other officials and servants of the king. <sup>12</sup> “Indeed,” Haman added, “Ester the queen let nobody into the banquet with the king that she had prepared except myself; and tomorrow, too, I am invited by her, together with the king. <sup>13</sup> Yet none of this does me any good at all, as long as I keep seeing Mordekhai the Jew remaining seated at the King’s Gate.” <sup>14</sup> At this Zeresh his wife and all his friends said to him, “Have a gallows seventy-five feet high constructed, and in the morning speak to the king about having Mordekhai hanged on it. Then go in, and enjoy yourself with the king at the banquet.” Haman liked the idea, so he had a gallows made.

6 <sup>1</sup> That night, the king couldn’t sleep; so he ordered the records of the daily journal brought, and they were read to the king. <sup>2</sup> It was found written that Mordekhai had told about Bigtana and Teresh, two of the king’s officers from the group in charge of the private entryways, who had conspired to assassinate King Achashverosh. <sup>3</sup> The king asked, “What honor or distinction was conferred on Mordekhai for this?” The king’s servants answered, “Nothing was done for him.” <sup>4</sup> The king then asked, “Who’s that in the courtyard?” For Haman had come into the outer courtyard of the king’s palace to speak to the king about hanging Mordekhai on the gallows he had prepared for him. <sup>5</sup> The king’s servants told him, “It’s Haman standing there in the courtyard.” The king said, “Have him come in.” <sup>6</sup> So Haman came in. The king said to him, “What should be done for a man that the king wants to honor?” Haman thought to himself, “Whom would the king want to honor more than me?” <sup>7</sup> So Haman answered the king, “For a man the king wants to honor, <sup>8</sup> have royal robes brought which the king himself wears and the horse the king himself rides, with a royal crown on its head. <sup>9</sup> The robes and the horse should be handed over to one of the king’s most respected officials, and they should put the robes on the man the king wants to honor and lead him on horseback through the streets of the city, proclaiming ahead of him, ‘This is what is done for a man whom the king wants to honor.’” <sup>10</sup> The king said to Haman, “Hurry, and take the robes and the horse, as you said, and do this for Mordekhai the Jew, who sits at the King’s Gate. Don’t leave out anything you mentioned.”

<sup>13</sup> After Haman had told Zeresh his wife and all his friends everything that had happened to him, his advisers and his wife Zeresh said to him, “If Mordekhai, before whom you have begun to fall, is a Jew, you will not get the better of him; on the contrary, your downfall before him is certain.”

7 <sup>1</sup> So the king and Haman went to Queen Ester’s banquet; <sup>2</sup> and the king again said to Ester at the wine banquet, “Whatever your request, Queen Ester, you will be granted it; whatever you want, up to half the kingdom, it will be done.” <sup>3</sup> Ester the queen answered, “If I have won your favor, king, and if it pleases the king, then what I ask be given me is my own life and the lives of my people. <sup>4</sup> For we have been sold, I and my people, to be destroyed, killed, exterminated. If we had only been sold as men- and women-slaves, I would have remained quiet; since then [our] trouble would not have been worth the damage it would have caused the king [to alter the situation].” <sup>5</sup> King Achashverosh asked Ester the queen, “Who is he? Where is the man who dared to do such a thing?” <sup>6</sup> Ester said, “A ruthless enemy

— it's this wicked Haman!" Haman stood aghast, terrified before the king and queen. <sup>7</sup> In a rage, the king got up from the wine banquet and went out to the palace garden. But Haman remained, pleading with Ester the queen to spare his life; for he could see that the king had decided to do him in. <sup>8</sup> Haman had just fallen on the couch where Ester was, when the king returned from the palace garden to the wine banquet. He shouted, "Is he even going to rape the queen here in the palace, before my very eyes?" The moment these words left the king's mouth, they covered Haman's face. <sup>9</sup> Harvonah, one of the king's attendants, said, "Look! The gallows seventy-five feet high that Haman made for Mordekhai, who spoke only good for the king, is standing at Haman's house." The king said, "Hang him on it." <sup>10</sup> So they hanged Haman on the gallows he had prepared for Mordekhai. Then the king's anger subsided.

<sup>3</sup> Again Ester spoke to the king; she fell at his feet and begged him with tears to put an end to the mischief Haman the Agagi had caused by the scheme he had worked out against the Jews. <sup>4</sup> The king extended the gold scepter toward Ester. So Ester got up and stood in front of the king. <sup>5</sup> She said, "If it pleases the king, if I have won his favor, if the matter seem right to the king and if I have his approval, then let an order be written rescinding the letters devised by Haman the son of Hamdata the Agagi, which he wrote to destroy the Jews in all the royal provinces. <sup>6</sup> For how can I bear to see the disaster that will overcome my people? How can I endure seeing the extermination of my kinsmen?" <sup>7</sup> King Achashverosh said to Ester the queen and Mordekhai the Jew, "Listen! I gave Ester the house of Haman, and they hanged him on the gallows, because he threatened the lives of the Jews. <sup>8</sup> You should issue a decree in the king's name for whatever you want concerning the Jews, and seal it with the king's signet ring; because a decree written in the king's name and sealed with the king's ring can't be rescinded by anyone."

<sup>9</sup> The king's secretaries were summoned at that time, on the twenty-third day of the third month, the month of Sivan; and a decree was written according to everything Mordekhai ordered concerning the Jews, to the army commanders, governors and officials of the provinces from India to Ethiopia, 127 provinces, to each province in its script and to each people in their language, also to the Jews in their script and language. <sup>10</sup> They wrote in the name of King Achashverosh and sealed it with the king's signet ring; they sent the letters by couriers on horseback riding fast horses used in the king's service and bred from the royal stock. <sup>11</sup> The letters said that the king had granted the Jews in every city the right "to assemble and defend their lives by destroying, killing and exterminating any forces of any people or province that would attack them, their little ones or their women or would try to seize their goods as plunder <sup>12</sup> on the designated day in any of the provinces of King Achashverosh, namely, the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, the month of Adar." <sup>13</sup> A copy of the edict was to be issued as a decree in every province and proclaimed to all the peoples, and the Jews were to be ready on that day to take vengeance against their enemies. <sup>14</sup> Couriers riding fast horses used in the king's service left quickly, pressed by the king's order; and the decree was issued in Shushan the capital.

9 <sup>1</sup> The time approached for the king's order and decree to be carried out, the day when the enemies of the Jews hoped to overpower them. But, as it turned out, the opposite took place — the Jews overpowered those who hated them. Thus, on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, the month of Adar, <sup>2</sup> the Jews assembled in their cities throughout all the provinces of King Achashverosh to attack anyone who tried to do them harm; and no one was able to withstand them; because all the peoples were afraid of them. <sup>3</sup> All the officials of the provinces, the army commanders, the governors and those occupied with the king's affairs helped the Jews; because they were afraid of Mordekhai. <sup>4</sup> For Mordekhai had become a powerful person in the king's palace, and his fame had spread through all the provinces; Mordekhai continued to grow increasingly powerful.

<sup>11</sup> The same day, after the king had been told the number of those killed in Shushan the capital, <sup>12</sup> he said to Ester the queen, "If the Jews have slaughtered 500 men in Shushan the capital and the ten sons of Haman, what have they done in the rest of the royal provinces! Now, whatever your request, you will be granted it; whatever more you want, it will be done." <sup>13</sup> Ester replied, "If it pleases the king, let the Jews in Shushan act again tomorrow in accordance with today's decree; also have Haman's ten sons hanged on the gallows." <sup>14</sup> The king ordered these things done — a decree was issued in Shushan, and they hanged Haman's ten sons. <sup>15</sup> So the Jews in Shushan assembled also on the fourteenth day of the month of Adar and killed 300 men in Shushan, but they did not touch the spoil.

<sup>16</sup> The other Jews, those in the royal provinces, had assembled, defended their lives and won rest from their enemies, killing 75,000 of those who hated them, but without touching the spoil, <sup>17</sup> on the thirteenth day of the month Adar. So on the fourteenth day of Adar they rested and made it a holiday for celebrating and rejoicing. <sup>18</sup> However, the Jews of Shushan assembled on both the thirteenth and fourteenth days of Adar, so it was on the fifteenth that they rested and made it a holiday for celebrating and rejoicing. <sup>19</sup> This is why the Jews of the villages, those who live in unwalled towns, make the fourteenth day of the month of Adar a day for celebrating and rejoicing, a holiday and a time for sending each other portions [of food].

days of celebrating and rejoicing, sending portions [of food] to each other and giving gifts to the poor.

<sup>23</sup> So the Jews took it upon themselves to continue what they had already begun to do, and as Mordekhai had written to them; <sup>24</sup> because Haman the son of Hamdata the Agagi, the enemy of the Jews, had plotted against the Jews to destroy them and had thrown pur (that is, “cast lots”) to crush and destroy them; <sup>25</sup> but when Ester came before the king, he ordered by letters that [Haman’s] wicked scheme, which he had plotted against the Jews, should recoil on his own head, and that he and his sons should be hanged on the gallows. <sup>26</sup> This is why these days have been called Purim, after the word pur. Thus, because of everything written in this letter, and what they had seen concerning this matter, and what had come upon them, <sup>27</sup> the Jews resolved and took upon themselves, their descendants and all who might join them that without fail they would observe these two days in accordance with what was written in [this letter] and at the appointed time, every year; <sup>28</sup> and that these days would be remembered and observed throughout every generation, every family, every province and every city; and that these days of Purim would never cease among the Jews or their memory be lost by their descendants.

<sup>2</sup> All the acts of his power and might, along with a full account of the high honor to which the king advanced Mordekhai, are written in the Annals of the Kings of Media and Persia. <sup>3</sup> For Mordekhai the Jew was second only to King Achashverosh; he was a great man among the Jews, popular with all his many countrymen. He sought the good of his people and interceded for the welfare of all their descendants.

DANIEL

1 <sup>1</sup> In the third year of the reign of Y'hoyakim king of Y'hudah, N'vukhadnetzar king of Bavel came to Yerushalayim and laid siege to it; <sup>2</sup> and Adonai handed Y'hoyakim king of Y'hudah over to him, along with some of the articles from the house of God. He took them to the land of Shin'ar, to the house of his god and placed the articles in the storehouse of his god.

<sup>3</sup> The king ordered Ashp'naz, the eunuch serving as his chief officer, to bring into the palace from the people of Isra'el some of royal or noble descent. <sup>4</sup> They were to be boys without physical defect, handsome in appearance, versed in all kinds of wisdom, quick to learn, discerning, and having the capacity to serve in the king's palace; and he was to teach them the language and literature of the Kasdim. <sup>5</sup> The king assigned them a daily portion of his own food and the wine he drank, and they were to be cared for in this way for three years. At the end of this time they were to become the king's attendants.

<sup>6</sup> Among these, from the people of Y'hudah, were Dani'el, Hananyah, Misha'el and 'Azaryah. <sup>7</sup> The chief officer gave them other names — to Dani'el he gave the name Belt'shatzar; to Hananyah, Shadrakh; to Misha'el, Meishakh; and to 'Azaryah, 'Aved-N'go.

<sup>8</sup> But Dani'el resolved that he would not defile himself with the king's food or the wine he drank, so he asked the chief officer to be excused from defiling himself. <sup>9</sup> God caused the chief officer to be kind and sympathetic toward Dani'el; <sup>10</sup> however, the chief officer said to Dani'el, "I'm afraid of my lord the king. After all, he has given you an allowance of food and drink; so if he were to see you boys looking worse than the others your age, you would be putting my own head in danger from the king."

servants according to what you see.”<sup>14</sup> He agreed to do what they had asked and gave them a ten-day test.<sup>15</sup> At the end of ten days they looked better and more robust than all the boys who were eating the king’s food.<sup>16</sup> So the guard took away their food and the wine they were supposed to drink, and gave them vegetables.

<sup>17</sup> To these four boys God had given knowledge and skill in every aspect of learning and wisdom; moreover, Dani’el could understand all kinds of visions and dreams.

<sup>18</sup> When the time the king had set for them to be presented came, the chief officer presented them to N’vukhadnetzar;<sup>19</sup> and when the king spoke with them, none was found among all of them to compare with Dani’el, Hananyah, Misha’el and ‘Azaryah. So they entered the king’s service;<sup>20</sup> and in all matters requiring wisdom and understanding, whenever the king consulted them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and exorcists in his entire kingdom.

2 <sup>1</sup> In the second year of the reign of N’vukhadnetzar, N’vukhadnetzar became so troubled by a series of dreams he had that he couldn’t sleep.<sup>2</sup> So the king ordered the magicians, exorcists, sorcerers and astrologers summoned to interpret the king’s dreams to him. They came and stood in his presence.<sup>3</sup> The king said to them, “I had a dream which will keep troubling my spirit until I know what it means.”

<sup>4</sup> The astrologers spoke to the king in Aramaic: “May the king live forever! Tell your servants the dream, and we will interpret it.”<sup>5</sup> The king answered the astrologers, “Here is what I have decided: if you don’t tell me both the dream and its interpretation, you will be torn limb from limb and your houses reduced to rubble.<sup>6</sup> But if you do state the dream and its interpretation, I will give you presents, rewards and great honor. Just tell me the dream and its interpretation.”<sup>7</sup> A second time they said, “Let his majesty tell his servants the dream, and we will interpret it.”<sup>8</sup> The king replied, “I see you’re only trying to gain time, because you see that I’ve decided<sup>9</sup> that if you don’t tell me the dream, there is only one sentence passed on all of you. So you’ve conspired to mislead me with lies in the hope that time will change things. Now, just tell me the dream! That will convince me that you will also be able to give me its correct interpretation.”

<sup>14</sup> Then, choosing his words carefully, Dani’el consulted Aryokh, captain of the royal guard, who had already gone out to kill the sages of Bavel. <sup>15</sup> He said to Aryokh, “Since you are the king’s official, let me ask: why has the king issued such a harsh decree?” Aryokh explained the matter to Dani’el. <sup>16</sup> Then Dani’el went in and asked the king to give him time to tell the king the interpretation.

<sup>17</sup> Dani’el went home and made the matter known to Hananyah, Misha’el and ‘Azaryah, his companions; <sup>18</sup> so that they could ask the God of heaven for mercy concerning this secret, and thus save Dani’el and his companions from dying along with the other sages of Bavel. <sup>19</sup> Then the secret was revealed to Dani’el in a vision at night, and Dani’el blessed the God of heaven <sup>20</sup> in these words:

“Blessed be the name of God

from eternity past to eternity future!

For wisdom and power are his alone;

<sup>21</sup> he brings the changes of seasons and times;

he installs and deposes kings;

he gives wisdom to the wise

and knowledge to those with discernment.

<sup>22</sup> He reveals deep and secret things;

he knows what lies in the darkness;

and light dwells with him.

<sup>23</sup> I thank and praise you, God of my ancestors,

for giving me wisdom and power,

and revealing to me what we wanted from you,

for giving us the answer for the king.”

<sup>24</sup> So Dani’el went to see Aryokh, whom the king had charged with destroying the sages of Bavel, and said to him, “Don’t destroy the sages of Bavel! Bring me before the king, and I will give the king the interpretation.” <sup>25</sup> Quickly Aryokh brought Dani’el before the king and told him, “I have found one of the exiles of Y’hudah who will reveal the interpretation to his majesty.” <sup>26</sup> The king said to Dani’el (who had been renamed Belt’shatzar), “Can you tell me what I dreamt and what it means?”

<sup>27</sup> Dani’el answered the king, “No sage, exorcist, magician or astrologer can tell his majesty the secret he has asked about. <sup>28</sup> But there is a God in heaven who unlocks mysteries, and he has revealed to King N’vukhadnetzar what will happen in the acharit-hayamim. Here are your dream and the visions you had in your head when you were in bed.

<sup>29</sup> “Your majesty, when you were in bed, you began thinking about what would take place in the future; and he who reveals secrets has revealed to you what will happen. <sup>30</sup> Yet this secret has not been revealed to me because I am wiser than anyone living, but so that the meaning can be made known to your majesty, and then you can understand the thoughts of your own mind.

<sup>31</sup> “Your majesty had a vision of a statue, very large and extremely bright; it stood in front of you and its appearance was terrifying. <sup>32</sup> The head of the statue was of fine gold, its chest and arms of silver, its trunk and thighs of bronze, <sup>33</sup> its legs of iron, and its feet partly of iron and partly of clay. <sup>34</sup> As you watched, a stone separated itself without any human hand, struck the statue on its feet made of iron and clay, and broke them in pieces.

<sup>35</sup> Then the iron, the clay, the bronze, the silver and the gold were all broken into pieces which became like the chaff on a threshing-floor in summer; the wind blew them away without leaving a trace. But the stone which had struck the statue grew into a huge mountain that filled the whole earth.

<sup>36</sup> “That is what you dreamt, and now we will give the king its interpretation. <sup>37</sup> Your majesty, king of kings, to whom the God of heaven has given the kingdom, the power, the strength and the glory; <sup>38</sup> so that wherever people, wild animals or birds in the air live, he has handed them over to you and enabled you to rule them all — you are the head of gold. <sup>39</sup> But after you another kingdom will rise, inferior to you; then a third kingdom, of bronze, which will rule the whole world. <sup>40</sup> The fourth kingdom will be as strong as iron. Iron can break anything into pieces, pulverize it and crush it. So just as iron can crush anything, this kingdom will break the other kingdoms into pieces and crush them. <sup>41</sup> Finally, you saw the feet and toes made partly of pottery clay and partly of iron; this will be a divided kingdom; yet it will have some of the firmness of iron, since you saw the iron mixed with clay from the ground. <sup>42</sup> Just as the toes of the feet were part iron and part clay, this kingdom will be partly strong and partly brittle. <sup>43</sup> You saw the iron mixed with clay; that means that they will cement their alliances by intermarriages; but they won’t stick together any more than iron blends with clay.

<sup>44</sup> “In the days of those kings the God of heaven will establish a kingdom that will never be destroyed, and that kingdom will not pass into the hands of another people. It will break to pieces and consume all those kingdoms; but it, itself, will stand forever — <sup>45</sup> like the stone you saw, which, without human hands, separated itself from the mountain and broke to pieces the iron, the bronze, the clay, the silver and the gold. The great God has revealed to the king what will come about in the future. The dream is true, and its interpretation is reliable.”

3 <sup>1</sup> N’vukhadnetzar the king had a gold statue made, ninety feet high and nine feet wide, which he set up on the plain of Dura, in the province of Bavel. <sup>2</sup> Then N’vukhadnetzar the king summoned the viceroys, prefects, governors, judges, treasurers, counselors, sheriffs and all the provincial officials to assemble and come to the dedication of the statue which N’vukhadnetzar the king had set up. <sup>3</sup> The viceroys, prefects, governors, judges, treasurers, counselors, sheriffs and all the provincial officials assembled for the dedication of the statue which N’vukhadnetzar the king had set up. They stood in front of the statue that N’vukhadnetzar had set up; <sup>4</sup> and a herald proclaimed, “Peoples! Nations! Languages! You are ordered <sup>5</sup> that when you hear the sound of the horn, pipe, harp, zither, lute, bagpipe and the rest of the musical instruments, you are to fall down and worship the gold statue that N’vukhadnetzar the king has set up. <sup>6</sup> Whoever does not fall down and worship is to be thrown immediately into a blazing hot furnace.” <sup>7</sup> Therefore, when all the peoples heard the sound of the horn, pipe, harp, zither, lute and the rest of the musical instruments, all the peoples, nations and languages fell down and worshipped the gold statue that N’vukhadnetzar the king had set up.

<sup>13</sup> In a raging fury N’vukhadnetzar ordered that Shadrakh, Meishakh and ‘Aved-N’go be brought. When the men had been brought before the king, <sup>14</sup> N’vukhadnetzar said to them, “Shadrakh! Meishakh! ‘Aved-N’go! Is it true that you neither serve my gods nor worship the gold statue I set up? <sup>15</sup> All right, then. If you are prepared, when you hear the sound of the horn, pipe, harp, zither, lute, bagpipe and the rest of the musical instruments, to fall down and worship the gold statue, very well. But if you won’t worship, you will immediately be thrown into a blazing hot furnace — and what god will save you from my power then?” <sup>16</sup> Shadrakh, Meishakh and ‘Aved-N’go answered the king, “Your question doesn’t require an answer from us. <sup>17</sup> Your majesty, if our God, whom we serve, is able to save us, he will save us from the blazing hot furnace and from your power. <sup>18</sup> But even if he doesn’t, we want you to know, your majesty, that we will neither serve your gods nor worship the gold statue which you have set up.”

<sup>24</sup> Suddenly N’vukhadnetzar sprang to his feet. Alarmed, he asked his advisers, “Didn’t we throw three men, bound, into the flames?” They answered the king, “Yes, of course, your majesty.” <sup>25</sup> But he exclaimed, “Look! I see four men, not tied up, walking around there in the flames, unhurt; and the fourth looks like one of the gods!” <sup>26</sup> N’vukhadnetzar approached the opening of the blazing hot furnace and said, “Shadrakh! Meishakh! ‘Aved-N’go! You servants of El ‘Elyon! Come out, and come here!” Shadrakh, Meishakh and ‘Aved-N’go emerged from the flames. <sup>27</sup> The viceroys, prefects, governors and royal advisers who were there saw that the fire had had no power on the bodies of these men — not even their hair was singed, their clothes looked the same, and they didn’t smell of fire.

<sup>28</sup> N’vukhadnetzar said, “Blessed be the God of Shadrakh, Meishakh and ‘Aved-N’go! He sent his angel to deliver his servants who trusted in him. They defied the royal order to the point of being willing to give up their bodies, in order not to serve or worship any god but their own God. <sup>29</sup> Therefore I herewith decree that anyone, no matter from which people, nation or language, who says anything to insult the God of Shadrakh, Meishakh and ‘Aved-N’go is to be torn limb from limb, and his house is to be reduced to rubble; because there is no other god who can save like this.”

“From: N’vukhadnetzar the king

“To: All the peoples, nations and languages living throughout the earth:

“Shalom rav! [Abundant peace!]

<sup>32(4:2)</sup> “I am pleased to recount the signs and wonders which the Most High God has done for me.

<sup>33(4:3)</sup> “How great are his signs!
How powerful his wonders!
His kingdom lasts forever,
and he rules all generations.

4 <sup>1(4)</sup> “I, N’vukhadnetzar, was contentedly living at home, enjoying the luxury of my palace; <sup>2(5)</sup> but as I lay on my bed, I had a dream which frightened me, followed by fantasies and visions in my head which frightened me even more. <sup>3(6)</sup> So I ordered all the sages of Bavel to present themselves to me, so that they could tell me the interpretation of the dream. <sup>4(7)</sup> When the magicians, exorcists, astrologers and diviners came, I told them the dream; but they couldn’t interpret it for me. <sup>5(8)</sup> Finally, however, Dani’el (renamed Belt’shatzar, after the name of my god), in whom is the spirit of the holy gods, came before me; and I told him the dream: <sup>6(9)</sup> ‘Belt’shatzar, chief of the magicians! Because I know that the spirit of the holy gods is in you, and no mystery is too difficult for you, tell me the meaning of the visions I saw in my dream. <sup>7(10)</sup> Here are the visions I had in my head as I lay on my bed: I looked, and there before me was a tree at the center of the earth; it was very tall. <sup>8(11)</sup> The tree grew and became strong until its crown reached the sky, and it could be seen from anywhere on earth. <sup>9(12)</sup> Its foliage was beautiful and its fruit abundant; it produced enough food for everyone. The wild animals enjoyed its shade, the birds in the air lived in its branches, and it gave food to every living creature. <sup>10(13)</sup> I looked in the visions of my head as I lay on my bed, and there appeared a holy watcher coming down from heaven. <sup>11(14)</sup> He cried out:

““Cut down the tree, cut off its branches,
strip off its leaves, scatter its fruit!
Let the wild animals flee from its shelter!
Let the birds abandon its branches!

<sup>12(15)</sup> But leave the stump with its roots in the ground,
with a band of iron and bronze,
in the lush grass of the countryside;
let him be drenched with dew from the sky
and share the lot of animals in the pasture; <sup>13(16)</sup> let his heart and mind cease to be human and become those of an animal;
and let seven seasons pass over him.

<sup>14(17)</sup> ““This order is issued by the watchers,
the sentence is announced by the holy ones,
so that all who live may know that the Most High rules the human kingdom, that he gives it to whomever he wishes
and can raise up over it the lowliest of mortals.”

<sup>15(18)</sup> ““This is the dream which I, King N’vukhadnetzar, saw. Now you, Belt’shatzar, tell me its interpretation. None of the sages of my kingdom can tell me the interpretation, but you can do it, because the spirit of the holy gods is in you.’

<sup>16(19)</sup> “Dani’el, whose name was Belt’shatzar, was in shock awhile, frightened by his thoughts. The king said, ‘Belt’shatzar, don’t let the dream or the interpretation frighten you.’ Belt’shatzar answered, ‘My lord, if only the dream were about those who hate you, and the interpretation about your enemies! <sup>17(20)</sup> The tree you saw which grew and became strong until its crown reached the sky, and it could be seen throughout the whole earth, <sup>18(21)</sup> that had beautiful foliage and abundant fruit, enough to feed everyone, under which the wild animals lived, and on whose branches the birds in the air built their nests — <sup>19(22)</sup> it's you, your majesty! You have grown and become strong — your greatness has grown and reaches to heaven, and your rule extends to the end of the earth.

<sup>20(23)</sup> “Now the king saw a holy watcher coming down from heaven, who said,

““Cut down the tree, and destroy it,
but leave the stump with its roots in the ground,
with a band of iron and bronze,
in the lush grass of the countryside;
let him be drenched with dew from the sky
and share the lot of the wild animals
until seven seasons pass over him.”

<sup>21(24)</sup> “This is the interpretation, your majesty; and it is the decree of the Most High that has come upon my lord the king:

<sup>22(25)</sup> “You will be driven from human society
to live with the wild animals.
You will be made to eat grass like an ox
and be drenched with dew from the sky,
as seven seasons pass over you;
until you learn that the Most High
rules in the human kingdom
and gives it to whomever he pleases.

<sup>23(26)</sup> “But since it was ordered to leave the stump of the tree with its roots, your kingdom will be kept for you until you have learned that Heaven rules everything. <sup>24(27)</sup> Therefore, your majesty, please take my advice: break with your sins by replacing them with acts of charity, and break with your crimes by showing mercy to the poor; this may extend the time of your prosperity.’

<sup>25(28)</sup> “All this happened to King N’vukhadnetzar. <sup>26(29)</sup> Twelve months later, as he was walking on the roof of the royal palace of Bavel, <sup>27(30)</sup> the king said, ‘Bavel the great! I built it as a royal residence by my power and force to enhance the glory of my majesty!’ <sup>28(31)</sup> No sooner had the king spoken these words when a voice came down from heaven: ‘King N’vukhadnetzar! These words are for you:

“‘The kingdom has left you.
<sup>29(32)</sup> You will be driven from human society
to live with the wild animals.
You will be made to eat grass like an ox
and be drenched with dew from the sky,
as seven seasons pass over you,
until you learn that the Most High
rules in the human kingdom
and gives it to whomever he pleases.’

<sup>30(33)</sup> “Within the hour the word was fulfilled. N’vukhadnetzar was driven from human society, he ate grass like an ox, and his body was drenched with dew from the sky, until his hair had grown like eagles’ feathers and his nails like birds’ claws.

<sup>31(34)</sup> “When this period was over, I, N’vukhadnetzar, lifted my eyes toward heaven, and my understanding came back to me. I blessed the Most High, I praised and gave honor to him who lives forever.

“‘For his rulership is everlasting,
his kingdom endures through all generations.
<sup>32(35)</sup> All who live on earth are counted as nothing.
He does what he wishes with the army of heaven
and with those living on earth.
No one can hold back his hand
or ask him, “What are you doing?”’

<sup>33(36)</sup> “It was at that moment that my understanding came back to me; and for the sake of the glory of my kingdom, my majesty and splendor also came back to me. My advisers and lords sought me out, I was re-established in my kingdom, and to my previous greatness even more was added. <sup>34(37)</sup> So now I, N'vukhadnetzar, praise, exalt and honor the King of heaven:

“For all his works are truth,
and his ways are just;
and he can humble those who walk in pride.”

5 <sup>1</sup> Belshatzar the king gave a great banquet for a thousand of his lords, and in the presence of the thousand he was drinking wine. <sup>2</sup> While tasting the wine, Belshatzar ordered that the gold and silver vessels which his father N'vukhadnetzar had removed from the temple in Yerushalayim be brought; so that the king, his lords, his wives and his concubines could drink from them. <sup>3</sup> So they brought the gold vessels which had been removed from the sanctuary of the house of God in Yerushalayim; and the king, his lords, his wives and his concubines drank from them. <sup>4</sup> They drank their wine and praised their gods made of gold, silver, bronze, iron, wood and stone.

<sup>10</sup> At this point the queen mother, because of what the king and his lords were saying, entered the banquet hall. The queen mother said, “May the king live forever! Don't be scared by your thoughts or let your face be so pale. <sup>11</sup> There is a man in your kingdom in whom is the spirit of the holy gods. In the days of your father, he was found to have light, discernment and wisdom like the wisdom of the gods. King N'vukhadnetzar your father — the king, your father — made him chief of the magicians, exorcists, astrologers and diviners; <sup>12</sup> because he was found to have an extraordinary spirit, knowledge, discernment, and the ability to interpret dreams, unlock mysteries and solve knotty problems. He is called Dani’el, but the king gave him the name Belt’shatzar. Now have Dani’el summoned, and he will tell you what this means.”

<sup>13</sup> Dani’el was brought into the king’s presence. The king said to Dani’el, “Are you Dani’el, one of the exiles from Y’hudah whom the king my father brought out of Y’hudah? <sup>14</sup> I’ve heard about you that the spirit of the gods is in you, and that you have been found to have light, discernment and extraordinary wisdom. <sup>15</sup> Now the sages, the exorcists, were brought in to me so that they could read this inscription and tell me what it means, but they couldn’t interpret it for me. <sup>16</sup> However, I’ve heard that you can give interpretations and solve knotty problems. Now if you can read the inscription and tell me what it means, you will be dressed in royal purple, wear a gold chain around your neck and be one of the three men ruling the kingdom.”

<sup>17</sup> Dani’el answered the king, “Keep your gifts, and give your rewards to someone else. However, I will read the inscription to the king and tell him what it means. <sup>18</sup> Your majesty, the Most High God gave N’vukhadnetzar your father the kingdom, as well as greatness, glory and majesty. <sup>19</sup> Because of the greatness he gave him, all the peoples, nations and languages trembled with fear before him. Anyone he wanted to, he put to death; anyone he wanted to, he kept alive; anyone he wanted to, he advanced; and anyone he wanted to, he humbled. <sup>20</sup> But when he grew proud and his spirit became hard, he began treating people arrogantly, so he was deposed from his royal throne, and his glory was taken away from him. <sup>21</sup> He was driven from human society, his heart was made like that of an animal, he lived with the wild donkeys, he was fed with grass like an ox, and his body was drenched with dew from the sky; until he learned that the Most High God rules in the human kingdom and sets up over it whomever he pleases. <sup>22</sup> But, Belshatzar, you, his son, have not humbled your heart, even though you knew all this. <sup>23</sup> Instead, you have exalted yourself against the Lord of heaven by having them bring you the vessels from his house; and you and your lords, your wives and your concubines drank wine from them; then you offered praise to your gods of silver, gold, bronze, iron, wood and stone, which can’t see, hear or know anything. Meanwhile, God, who holds your very breath in his hands, and to whom belongs everything you do, you have not glorified. <sup>24</sup> This is why he sent the hand to write this inscription; <sup>25</sup> and the inscription says, ‘M’ne! M’ne! T’kel ufarsin.’ <sup>26</sup> This is what it means: ‘M’ne!’ — God has counted up your kingdom and brought it to an end. <sup>27</sup> ‘T’kel’ — you are weighed on the balance-scale and come up short. <sup>28</sup> ‘P’res’ — your kingdom has been divided and given to the Medes and Persians.”

<sup>29</sup> Then Belshatzar gave the order; and they clothed Dani’el in royal purple, put a gold chain around his neck and proclaimed of him that he was to be one of the three men ruling the kingdom.

6 <sup>1(5:31)</sup> The kingdom passed to Daryavesh the Mede when he was about sixty-two years old. <sup>2(1)</sup> Daryavesh decided to set over the kingdom 120 viceroys to rule throughout the entire kingdom, <sup>3(2)</sup> with three chiefs over them, of whom Dani’el was one, so that these viceroys could be responsible to them and so that the king’s interests would be safeguarded. <sup>4(3)</sup> But because an extraordinary spirit was in this Dani’el, he so distinguished himself above the other chiefs and the viceroys that the king considered putting him in charge of the whole kingdom. <sup>5(4)</sup> The other chiefs and the viceroys tried to find a cause for complaint against Dani’el in regard to how he performed his governing duties, but they could find nothing to complain about, no fault; on the contrary, because he was so faithful, not a single instance of negligence or faulty administration could be found.

<sup>6(5)</sup> Then these men said, “We’re not going to find any cause for complaint against this Dani’el unless we can find something against him in regard to the law of his god.” <sup>7(6)</sup> So these chiefs and viceroys descended on the king and said to him, “King Daryavesh, live forever! <sup>8(7)</sup> All the chiefs of the kingdom, along with the prefects, viceroys, advisers and governors, have met and agreed that the king should issue a decree putting in force the following law: ‘Whoever makes a request of any god or man during the next thirty days, except of you, your majesty, is to be thrown into the lion pit.’ <sup>9(8)</sup> Now, your majesty, issue this decree over your signature, so that it cannot be revoked, as required by the law of the Medes and Persians, which is itself irrevocable.” <sup>10(9)</sup> So King Daryavesh signed the document, and the decree became law.

<sup>11(10)</sup> On learning that the document had been signed, Dani’el went home. The windows of his upstairs room were open in the direction of Yerushalayim; and there he kneeled down three times a day and prayed, giving thanks before his God, just as he had been doing before. <sup>12(11)</sup> Then these men descended on Dani’el and found him making requests and pleading before his God. <sup>13(12)</sup> So they went to remind the king of his royal decree: “Didn’t you sign a law prohibiting anyone from making requests of any god or man within thirty days, except yourself, your majesty, on pain of being thrown into the lion pit?” The king answered, “Yes, that is true, as required by the law of the Medes and Persians, which is itself irrevocable.” <sup>14(13)</sup> They replied to the king, “That Dani’el, one of the exiles from Y’hudah, respects neither you, your majesty, nor the decree you signed; instead, he continues praying three times a day.” <sup>15(14)</sup> When the king heard this report, he was very upset. He determined to save Dani’el and worked until sunset to find a way to rescue him. <sup>16(15)</sup> But these men descended on the king and said to him, “Remember, your majesty, that it is a law of the Medes and Persians that no decree or edict, once issued by the king, can be revoked.”

<sup>19(18)</sup> Then the king returned to his palace. He spent the night fasting and refusing to be entertained, as sleep eluded him. <sup>20(19)</sup> Early in the morning, the king got up and hurried to the lion pit. <sup>21(20)</sup> On approaching the pit where Dani’el was, the king cried in a pained voice to Dani’el, “Dani’el, servant of the living God! Has your God, whom you are always serving, been able to save you from the lions?” <sup>22(21)</sup> Then Dani’el answered the king, “May the king live forever! <sup>23(22)</sup> My God sent his angel to shut the lions’ mouths, so they haven’t hurt me. This is because before him I was found innocent; and also I have done no harm to you, your majesty.” <sup>24(23)</sup> The king was overjoyed and ordered Dani’el taken up from the pit. So Dani’el was taken up from the pit, and he was found to be completely unharmed, because he had trusted in his God.

<sup>25(24)</sup> Then the king gave an order, and they brought those men who had accused Dani’el, and they threw them into the lion pit — them, their children and their wives — and before they even reached the bottom of the pit, the lions had them in their control and broke all their bones to pieces.

<sup>26(25)</sup> King Daryavesh wrote all the peoples, nations and languages living anywhere on earth:

<sup>27(26)</sup> “I herewith issue a decree that everywhere in my kingdom, people are to tremble and be in awe of the God of Dani’el.

“For he is the living God;
he endures forever.
His kingdom will never be destroyed;
his rulership will last till the end.

<sup>28(27)</sup> He saves, rescues, does signs and wonders both in heaven and on earth.
He delivered Dani’el
from the power of the lions.”

7 <sup>1</sup> In the first year of Belshatzar king of Bavel, Dani’el had a dream and visions in his head, as he was lying on his bed. He wrote the dream down, and this is his account:

<sup>2</sup> “I had a vision at night; I saw there before me the four winds of the sky breaking out over the great sea, <sup>3</sup> and four huge animals came up out of the sea, each different from the others. <sup>4</sup> The first was like a lion, but it had eagle’s wings. As I watched, its wings were plucked off, and it was lifted off the earth and made to stand on two feet like a man, and a human heart was given to it. <sup>5</sup> Then there was another animal, a second one, like a bear. It raised itself up on one side, and it had three ribs in its mouth between its teeth. It was told, ‘Get up, and gorge yourself with flesh!’ <sup>6</sup> After this, I looked; and there was another one, like a leopard with four bird’s wings on its sides. The animal also had four heads, and it was given power to rule. <sup>7</sup>

After this, I looked in the night visions; and there before me was a fourth animal, dreadful, horrible, extremely strong, and with great iron teeth. It devoured, crushed and stamped its feet on what was left. It was different from all the animals that had gone before it, and it had ten horns.

<sup>8</sup> “While I was considering the horns, another horn sprang up among them, a little one, before which three of the first horns were plucked up by the roots. In this horn were eyes like human eyes and a mouth speaking arrogantly.

<sup>9</sup> “As I watched, thrones were set in place;

and the Ancient One took his seat.

His clothing was white as snow,

the hair on his head was like pure wool.

His throne was fiery flames,

with wheels of burning fire.

<sup>10</sup> A stream of fire flowed from his presence;

thousands and thousands ministered to him,

millions and millions stood before him.

Then the court was convened, and the books were opened.

<sup>11</sup> “I kept watching. Then, because of the arrogant words which the horn was speaking, I watched as the animal was killed; its body was destroyed; and it was given over to be burned up completely. <sup>12</sup> As for the other animals, their rulership was taken away; but their lives were prolonged for a time and a season.

when I saw, coming with the clouds of heaven,
someone like a son of man.

He approached the Ancient One
and was led into his presence.

<sup>14</sup> To him was given rulership,
glory and a kingdom,
so that all peoples, nations and languages
should serve him.

His rulership is an eternal rulership
that will not pass away;
and his kingdom is one
that will never be destroyed.

<sup>15</sup> “As for me, Dani’el, my spirit deep within me was troubled; the visions in my head frightened me. <sup>16</sup> I approached one of those standing by and asked him what all this really meant. He said that he would make me understand how to interpret these things. <sup>17</sup> ‘These four huge animals are four kingdoms that will arise on earth. <sup>18</sup> But the holy ones of the Most High will receive the kingdom and possess the kingdom forever, yes, forever and ever.’

the time came for the holy ones to take over the kingdom. <sup>23</sup> This is what he said: ‘The fourth animal will be a fourth kingdom on earth. It will be different from the other kingdoms; it will devour the whole earth, trample it down and crush it. <sup>24</sup> As for the ten horns, out of this kingdom ten kings will arise; and yet another will arise after them. Now he will be different from the earlier ones, and he will put down three kings. <sup>25</sup> He will speak words against the Most High and try to exhaust the holy ones of the Most High. He will attempt to alter the seasons and the law; and [the holy ones] will be handed over to him for a time, times and half a time. <sup>26</sup> But when the court goes into session, he will be stripped of his rulership, which will be consumed and completely destroyed. <sup>27</sup> Then the kingdom, the rulership and the greatness of the kingdoms under the whole heaven will be given to the holy people of the Most High. Their kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all rulers will serve and obey them.’”

<sup>28</sup> This is the end of the account. As for me, Dani’el, my thoughts frightened me so much that I turned pale; but I kept the matter to myself.

8 <sup>1</sup> After that first vision, it was in the third year of the reign of King Belshatzar that another vision appeared to me, Dani’el. <sup>2</sup> I looked into the vision; and as I looked, I found myself in Shushan the capital, in the province of ‘Eilam. I looked into the vision, and I was by the Ulai canal. <sup>3</sup> I looked up; and as I watched, there in front of the stream stood a ram with two horns. The horns were long, but one was longer than the other, and the longer one came up later [than the other]. <sup>4</sup> I saw the ram pushing to the west, north and south; and no animals could stand up against it; nor was there anyone that could rescue from its power. So it did as it pleased and became very strong.

broken; and in its place arose what appeared to be four horns in the directions of the four winds of heaven. <sup>9</sup> Out of one of them came a little horn which grew extremely big in the directions of the south and east, and in the direction of the Glory. <sup>10</sup> It grew so great that it reached the army of heaven; it hurled some of the army and the stars to the ground and trampled on them. <sup>11</sup> Yes, it even considered itself as great as the prince of the army; the regular burnt offering was taken away from him, and the place of his sanctuary was thrown down. <sup>12</sup> Through sin, the army was put in its power, along with the regular burnt offering. It flung truth on the ground as it acted and prospered.

<sup>13</sup> Then I heard a holy one speaking, and another holy one said to the speaker, "How long will the events of the vision last, this vision concerning the regular offering and the transgression which is so appalling, that allows the sanctuary and the army to be trampled underfoot?" <sup>14</sup> The first said to me, "Two thousand three hundred evenings and mornings, after which the sanctuary will be restored to its rightful state."

princes; but, without human intervention, he will be broken. <sup>26</sup> The vision of the evenings and mornings which has been told is true; but you are to keep the vision secret, because it is about days in the distant future.”

<sup>27</sup> I, Dani’el, grew weak and was ill for some days. Then I got up and took care of the king’s affairs; but I was appalled at the vision and still couldn’t understand it.

9 <sup>1</sup> In the first year of Daryavesh the son of Achashverosh, a Mede by birth who was made king over the kingdom of the Kasdim — <sup>2</sup> in the first year of his reign, I, Dani’el, was reading the Scriptures and thinking about the number of years which ADONAI had told Yirmeyah the prophet would be the period of Yerushalayim’s desolation, seventy years. <sup>3</sup> I turned to Adonai, God, to seek an answer, pleading with him in prayer, with fasting, sackcloth and ashes. <sup>4</sup> I prayed to ADONAI my God and made this confession:

“Please, Adonai, great and fearsome God, who keeps his covenant and extends grace to those who love him and observe his mitzvot! <sup>5</sup> We have sinned, done wrong, acted wickedly, rebelled and turned away from your mitzvot and rulings. <sup>6</sup> We have not listened to your servants the prophets, who spoke in your name to our kings, our leaders, our ancestors and to all the people of the land.

<sup>7</sup> “To you, Adonai, belongs righteousness; but to us today belongs shame — to us, the men of Y’udah, the inhabitants of Yerushalayim and all Isra’el, including those nearby and those far away, throughout all the countries where you have driven them; because they broke faith with you. <sup>8</sup> Yes, ADONAI, shame falls on us, our kings, our leaders and our ancestors; because we sinned against you. <sup>9</sup> It is for Adonai our God to show compassion and forgiveness, because we rebelled against him. <sup>10</sup> We didn’t listen to the voice of ADONAI our God, so that we could live by his laws, which he presented to us through his servants the prophets. <sup>11</sup> Yes, all Isra’el flouted your Torah and turned away, unwilling to listen to your voice. Therefore the curse and oath written in the Torah of Moshe the servant of God was poured out on us, because we sinned against him. <sup>12</sup> He carried out the threats he spoke against us and against our judges who judged us, by bringing upon us disaster so great that under all of heaven, nothing has been done like what has been done to Yerushalayim. <sup>13</sup> As written in the Torah of Moshe, this whole disaster came upon us. Yet we did not appease ADONAI our God by renouncing our wrongdoing and discerning your truth. <sup>14</sup> So ADONAI watched for the right moment to bring this disaster upon us, for ADONAI our God was just in everything he did, yet we didn't listen when he spoke.

<sup>15</sup> “Now, Adonai our God, who brought your people out of the land of Egypt with a strong hand, thereby winning renown for yourself, as is the case today — we sinned, we acted wickedly. <sup>16</sup> Adonai, in keeping with all your justice, please allow your anger and fury to be turned away from your city Yerushalayim, your holy mountain; because it is due to our sins and the wrongdoings of our ancestors that Yerushalayim and your people have become objects of scorn among everyone around us. <sup>17</sup> Therefore, our God, listen to the prayer and pleadings of your servant; and cause your face to shine on your desolated sanctuary, for your own sake. <sup>18</sup> My God, turn your ear, and hear; open your eyes and see how desolated we are, as well as the city which bears your name. For we plead with you not because of our own righteousness, but because of your compassion. <sup>19</sup> Adonai, hear! Adonai, forgive! Adonai, pay attention, and don't delay action — for your own sake, my God, because your city and your people bear your name!”

<sup>20</sup> While I was speaking, praying, confessing my own sin and the sin of my people Isra'el, and pleading before ADONAI my God for the holy mountain of my God — <sup>21</sup> yes, while I was speaking in prayer, the man Gavri'el, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, swooped down on me in full flight at about the time of the evening sacrifice, <sup>22</sup> and explained things to me. He said, “I have come now, Dani'el, to enable you to understand this vision clearly. <sup>23</sup> At the beginning of your prayers, an answer was given; and I have come to say what it is; because you are greatly loved. Therefore look into this answer, and understand the vision.

<sup>24</sup> “Seventy weeks have been decreed for your people and for your holy city for putting an end to the transgression, for making an end of sin, for forgiving iniquity, for bringing in everlasting justice, for setting the seal on vision and prophet, and for anointing the Especially Holy Place. <sup>25</sup> Know, therefore, and discern that seven weeks [of years] will elapse between the issuing of the decree to restore and rebuild Yerushalayim until an anointed prince comes. It will remain built for sixty-two weeks [of years], with open spaces and moats; but these will be troubled times. <sup>26</sup> Then, after the sixty-two weeks, Mashiach will be cut off and have nothing. The people of a prince yet to come will destroy the city and the sanctuary, but his end will come with a flood, and desolations are decreed until the war is over. <sup>27</sup> He will make a strong covenant with leaders for one week [of years]. For half of the week he will put a stop to the sacrifice and the grain offering. On the wing of detestable things the desolator will come and continue until the already decreed destruction is poured out on the desolator.”

10 <sup>1</sup> In the third year of Koresh king of Persia, a word was revealed to Dani’el, also called Belt’shatzar. The word was certain: a great war. He understood the word, having gained understanding in the vision.

<sup>2</sup> At that time I, Dani’el, had been mourning for three whole weeks. <sup>3</sup> I hadn’t eaten any food that satisfied me — neither meat nor wine had entered my mouth, and I didn’t anoint myself once, until three full weeks had passed.

<sup>4</sup> On the twenty-fourth day of the first month, I was on the bank of the great river, the Tigris, <sup>5</sup> when I looked up, and there before me was a man dressed in linen wearing a belt made of fine Ufaz gold. <sup>6</sup> His body was like beryl, his face looked like lightning and his eyes like fiery torches; his arms and feet were the color of burnished bronze; and when he spoke, it sounded like the roar of a crowd. <sup>7</sup> Only I, Dani’el, saw the vision; the men who were with me did not see the vision; however, a great trembling fell over them; so that they rushed to hide themselves. <sup>8</sup> Thus I was left alone; and when I saw this great vision, there was no strength left in me — my face, normally pleasant-looking, became disfigured; and I had no strength.

<sup>9</sup> I heard his voice speaking; and when I heard him speaking, I fell down in a faint, with my face to the ground. <sup>10</sup> Then a hand touched me and raised me, tottering, to my hands and knees. <sup>11</sup> He said to me, “Dani’el, you are a greatly loved man. Now pay attention to the words I am saying to you, and stand upright; for it is to you that I have been sent now.” After he had said this to me, I stood up, trembling. <sup>12</sup> Then he said to me, “Don’t be afraid, Dani’el; because since the first day that you determined to understand and to humble yourself before your God, your words have been heard; and I have come because of what you said. <sup>13</sup> The prince of the kingdom of Persia prevented me from coming for twenty-one days; but Mikha’el, one of the chief princes, came to assist me; so that I was no longer needed there with the kings of Persia. <sup>14</sup> So I have come to make you understand what will happen to your people in the acharit-hayamim; for there is still another vision which will relate to those days.”

<sup>15</sup> After he had said these things to me, I looked down at the ground and couldn't speak. <sup>16</sup> Then someone who looked like a human being touched my lips, after which I could open my mouth and speak; I said to the one standing in front of me, "My lord, it is because of the vision that I am seized with such anguish; I don't have any strength. <sup>17</sup> For how can this servant of my lord speak with my lord, when my strength and breath have failed me?" <sup>18</sup> Then, again someone who looked human touched me and revived me. <sup>19</sup> He said, "You man so greatly loved, don't be afraid. Shalom to you; and be strong, yes, truly strong." His speaking to me strengthened me, and I said, "My lord, keep speaking; because you've given me strength." <sup>20</sup> Then he said, "Do you know why I came to you? Although now I must return to fight the prince of Persia; and when I leave, the prince of Greece will come; <sup>21</sup> nevertheless, I will tell you what is written in the Book of Truth. There is no one standing with me against them except Mikha'el your prince;

11 <sup>1</sup> however, I was already standing up to support and help Daryavesh the Mede in the first year of his reign. <sup>2</sup> What I am going to tell you now is true.

"Three kings will arise in Persia, followed by a fourth, who will be far wealthier than all of them; and when he has grown strong by means of his wealth, he will stir up everyone against the kingdom of Greece.

<sup>3</sup> "Then a powerful king will appear who will rule a vast kingdom and do whatever he pleases. <sup>4</sup> But once he appears, his kingdom will be broken up and divided to the four winds of heaven. It won't be inherited by his descendants, and it won't be ruled with the power he had, because his kingship will be uprooted and will pass to others than his own posterity.

<sup>5</sup> "The king in the south will be strong, and one of his princes will gain power over him and have dominion; his domain will be a great dominion. <sup>6</sup> After a number of years they will form an alliance. The daughter of the king of the south will approach the king of the north to make an agreement, but she won't retain her power; and he and his power won't last either. Rather, she will be surrendered, along with her attendants, her father and the one who supported her during those times. <sup>7</sup> But another branch from the same roots as hers will appear in her father's place. He will attack the army of the king of the north, enter his fortress and succeed in conquering them. <sup>8</sup> He will also carry off as booty to Egypt their gods, their cast metal images and their valuable gold and silver vessels. Then for some years, he will refrain from attacking the king of the north.

<sup>9</sup> “Afterwards, the king of the north will invade the kingdom of the king of the south, but he will retire to his own land. <sup>10</sup> His sons will rouse themselves to muster a large and powerful army, which will advance like a flood passing through. In another campaign, it will march on the enemy stronghold. <sup>11</sup> The king of the south, enraged, will set out to do battle with the king of the north, who, in turn, will muster a large army; but this army will be defeated by his enemy <sup>12</sup> and carried off. The conqueror will grow proud as he slaughters tens of thousands, yet he will not prevail. <sup>13</sup> Rather, the king of the north will again muster an army, larger than the first one, at the end of this period, after a number of years; it will be a large, well-supplied army. <sup>14</sup> Those will be times in which many will resist the king of the south; and the more violent ones among your own people will rebel in order to fulfill their vision; but they will fail.

<sup>15</sup> “Then the king of the north will come, set up siege-works and capture a fortified city; the forces of the south will be insufficient defense, even his elite troops will not be strong enough to resist. <sup>16</sup> The invader will do as he pleases; no one will be able to withstand him. So he will establish himself in the Land of Glory, and he will have the power to destroy it. <sup>17</sup> He will determinedly advance with the full force of his kingdom, but he will make an agreement with the king of the south and give him a daughter in marriage. His object will be to destroy him, but the agreement will not last or work out in his favor. <sup>18</sup> Next, he will put his attention on the coastlands and islands and capture many, but an army commander will put a stop to his outrages and cause his outrages to come back upon him. <sup>19</sup> After this, he will put his attention on the strongholds in his own land; but he will stumble, fall and not be seen again.

<sup>21</sup> “There will arise in his place a despicable man not entitled to inherit the majesty of the kingdom, but he will come without warning and gain the kingdom by intrigue. <sup>22</sup> Large armies will be broken and swept away before him, as well as the prince of the covenant. <sup>23</sup> Alliances will be made with him, but he will undermine them by deceit. Then, although he will have but a small following, he will emerge and become strong. <sup>24</sup> Without warning, he will assail the most powerful men in each province and do things his predecessors never did, either recently or in the distant past; he will reward them with plunder, spoil and wealth while devising plots against their strongholds, but only for a time.

<sup>29</sup> “At the time designated, he will come back to the south. But this time, things will turn out differently than before; <sup>30</sup> because ships from Kittim will come against him, so that his courage will fail him. Then, in retreat, he will take furious action against the holy covenant, again showing favor to those who abandon the holy covenant. <sup>31</sup> Armed forces will come at his order and profane the sanctuary and fortress. They will abolish the daily burnt offering and set up the abomination that causes desolation. <sup>32</sup> Those who act wickedly against the covenant he will corrupt with his blandishments, but the people who know their God will stand firm and prevail. <sup>33</sup> Those among the people who have discernment will cause the rest of the people to understand what is happening; nevertheless, for a while they will fall victim to sword, fire, exile and pillage. <sup>34</sup> When they stumble, they will receive a little help, although many who join them will be insincere. <sup>35</sup> Even some of those with discernment will stumble, so that some of them will be refined, purified and cleansed for an end yet to come at the designated time.

<sup>36</sup> “The king will do as he pleases. He will exalt himself and consider himself greater than any god, and he will utter monstrous blasphemies against the God of gods. He will prosper only until the period of wrath is over, for what has been determined must take place. <sup>37</sup> He will show no respect for the gods his ancestors worshipped, or for the god women worship — he won’t show respect for any god, because he will consider himself greater than all of them. <sup>38</sup> But instead, he will honor the god of strongholds; with gold, silver, precious stones and other costly things he will honor a god unknown to his ancestors.<sup>39</sup> He will deal with the strongest fortresses with the help of a foreign god. He will confer honor on those he acknowledges, causing them to rule over many and distributing land as a reward.

<sup>40</sup> “When the time for the end comes, the king of the south will push at him; while the king of the north will attack him like a whirlwind, with chariots, cavalry and a large navy. He will invade countries, overrun them and move on.<sup>41</sup> He will also enter the Land of Glory, and many [countries] will come to grief, but these will be saved from his power — Edom, Mo’av and the people of ‘Amon.<sup>42</sup> He will reach out his hand to seize other countries too. The land of Egypt will not escape — <sup>43</sup> he will control the treasures of gold and silver, as well as everything else in Egypt of value. Put and Ethiopia will be subject to him.<sup>44</sup> However, news from the east and north will frighten him, so that he moves out in great fury to ruin and completely do away with many.<sup>45</sup> Finally, when he pitches the tents of his palace between the seas and the mountain of the holy Glory, he will come to his end, with no one to help him.

12 <sup>1</sup> “When that time comes, Mikha’el, the great prince who champions your people, will stand up; and there will be a time of distress unparalleled between the time they became a nation and that moment. At that time, your people will be delivered, everyone whose name is found written in the book.<sup>2</sup> Many of those sleeping in the dust of the earth will awaken, some to everlasting life and some to everlasting shame and abhorrence.<sup>3</sup> But those who can discern will shine like the brightness of heaven’s dome, and those who turn many to righteousness like the stars forever and ever.

<sup>8</sup> I heard this, but I couldn't understand what it meant; so I asked, "Lord, what will be the outcome of all this?" <sup>9</sup> But he said, "Go your way, Dani'el; for these words are to remain secret and sealed until the time of the end. <sup>10</sup> Many will purify, cleanse and refine themselves; but the wicked will keep on acting wickedly, and none of the wicked will understand. But those with discernment will understand. <sup>11</sup> From the time the regular burnt offering is taken away and the abomination that causes desolation is set up, there will be 1,290 days. <sup>12</sup> How blessed will be anyone who waits and arrives at the 1,335 days. <sup>13</sup> But you, go your way until the end comes. Then you will rest and rise for your reward, at the end of days."

EZRA

1 <sup>1</sup> In the first year of Koresh king of Persia, in order for the word of ADONAI prophesied by Yirmeyahu to be fulfilled, ADONAI stirred up the spirit of Koresh king of Persia to make a proclamation throughout his whole kingdom, which he also put in writing, as follows:

<sup>2</sup> “Here is what Koresh king of Persia says: ADONAI, the God of heaven, has given me all the kingdoms on earth; and he has charged me to build him a house in Yerushalayim, in Y’hudah. <sup>3</sup> Whoever there is among you of all his people, may his God be with him! He may go up to Yerushalayim, in Y’hudah, and build the house of ADONAI the God of Isra’el, the God who is in Yerushalayim. <sup>4</sup> Let every survivor, no matter where he lives, be helped by his neighbors with silver, gold, goods and animals, in addition to the voluntary offering for the house of God in Yerushalayim.”

<sup>7</sup> In addition, Koresh the king brought out the vessels from the house of ADONAI which N’vukhadnetzar had taken from Yerushalayim and put in the house of his god. <sup>8</sup> Koresh king of Persia had Mitr’dad the treasurer bring them out and make an inventory of them for Sheshbatar the prince of Y’hudah. <sup>9</sup> The list was as follows:

Gold basins	30
Silver basins	1,000
Knives	29
Gold bowls	30
Silver bowls of a different kind	410
Other vessels	1,000

<sup>11</sup> In all there were 5,400 articles of gold and silver. Sheshbatar took all of them along when the exiles were brought up from Bavel to Yerushalayim.

2 <sup>1</sup> Here is a list of the people of the province who had been exiled, carried off to Bavel by N'vukhadnetzar king of Bavel, but who later returned from exile and went up to Yerushalayim and Y'hudah, each to his own city; <sup>2</sup> they went with Z'rubavel, Yeshua, Nechemyah, S'rayah, Re'elyah, Mordekhai, Bilshan, Mispar, Bigvai, Re-chum and Ba'anah.

descendants of Hatifa.

55 The descendants of Shlomo's servants:

descendants of Sotai,
descendants of Hasoferet,
descendants of P'ruda, 56 descendants of Ya'alalah,
descendants of Darkon,
descendants of Giddel, 57 descendants of Sh'fatyah,
descendants of Hatil, descendants of Pokheret-Hatzvayim, and descendants of Ami.

58 All the temple servants and the descendants of Shlomo's servants numbered 392

59 The following went up from Tel-Melach, Tel-Harsha, K'ruv, Adan and Immer; but they could not state which fathers' clan they or their children belonged to, [so it was not clear] whether they were from Isra'el:

60 descendants of D'layah, descendants of Toviyah, and descendants of N'koda 652

<sup>61</sup> and of the descendants of the cohanim:

descendants of Havayah,
descendants of Hakotz, and
descendants of Barzillai, who took a wife from the daughters of Barzillai the Gil'adi and was named after them.

<sup>62</sup> These tried to locate their genealogical records, but they weren't found. Therefore they were considered defiled and were not allowed to serve as cohanim. <sup>63</sup> The Tirshata told them not to eat any of the especially holy food until a cohen appeared who could consult the urim and tumim.

<sup>64</sup> The entire assembly numbered 42,360 — <sup>65</sup> not including their male and female slaves, of whom there were 7,337. They also had 200 male and female singers.

<sup>68</sup> Some of the heads of fathers' clans, when they came to the house of ADONAI in Yerushalayim, made voluntary offerings for rebuilding the house of God on its site. <sup>69</sup> According to their means they gave into the treasury for the work 61,000 gold darkmonim [about two-thirds of a ton], 5,000 manim of silver [just over three tons], and a hundred tunics for the cohanim.

<sup>70</sup> So the cohanim, the L'vi'im, some of the people, the singers, the gatekeepers and the temple servants lived in their towns and all Isra'el in their towns.

3 <sup>1</sup> When the seventh month arrived, after the people of Isra'el had resettled in the towns, the people gathered with one accord in Yerushalayim. <sup>2</sup> Then Yeshua the son of Yotzadak with his fellow cohanim, and Z'rubavel the son of Sh'alti'el with his kinsmen, organized rebuilding the altar of the God of Isra'el; so that they could offer burnt offerings on it, as is written in the Torah of Moshe the man of God. <sup>3</sup> They set up the altar on its former bases. Despite feeling threatened by the peoples of the [surrounding] countries; they offered on it burnt offerings to ADONAI, the morning and evening burnt offerings.

regular burnt offering, the offerings for Rosh-Hodesh and those for all the designated times set apart for ADONAI, as well as those of everyone who volunteered a voluntary offering to ADONAI.<sup>6</sup> From the first day of the seventh month, they began offering burnt offerings to ADONAI, even though the foundation of ADONAI's temple had not yet been laid.<sup>7</sup> They also gave money for the stone-workers and carpenters, as well as food, drink and olive oil for the people of Tzidon and Tzor bringing cedar logs from the L'vanon to the sea and on to Yafo, in accordance with the authorization granted by Koresh king of Persia.

<sup>8</sup> In the second year after their arrival at the house of God in Yerushalayim, in the second month, Z'rubavel the son of Sh'alti'el, Yeshua the son of Yotzadak, the rest of their kinsmen the cohanim and L'vi'im, and all who had come out of exile to Yerushalayim began the project. They appointed the L'vi'im aged twenty and up to direct work in the house of ADONAI.<sup>9</sup> Yeshua and his sons and brothers, Kadmi'el and his sons, and Y'hudah's sons together directed the workers in the house of God; also the sons of Henadad, with their sons and their kinsmen the L'vi'im.

<sup>10</sup> When the builders laid the foundation of the temple of ADONAI, the cohanim in their robes, with trumpets, and the L'vi'im the sons of Asaf, with cymbals, took their places to praise ADONAI, as David king of Isra'el had instructed.<sup>11</sup> They sang antiphonally, praising and giving "thanks to ADONAI, for he is good, for his grace continues forever" toward Isra'el. All the people raised a great shout of praise to ADONAI, because the foundation of the house of ADONAI had been laid.<sup>12</sup> But many of the cohanim, L'vi'im and heads of fathers' clans, the old men who had seen the first house standing on its foundation, wept out loud when they saw this house; while others shouted out loud for joy — <sup>13</sup> so that the people couldn't distinguish the noise of the joyful shouting from the noise of the people's weeping; for the people were shouting so loudly that the noise could be heard at a great distance.

4<sup>1</sup> When the enemies of Y'hudah and Binyamin heard that the people from the exile were building a temple to ADONAI the God of Isra'el,<sup>2</sup> they approached Z'rubavel and the heads of fathers' clans and said to them, "Let us build along with you; for we seek your God, just as you do; and we have been sacrificing to him since the time of Esar-Hadon king of Ashur, who brought us here.” <sup>3</sup> But Z’rubavel, Yeshua and the rest of the heads of fathers’ clans in Isra’el answered them, “You and we have nothing in common that you should join us in building a house for our God. We will build by ourselves for ADONAI the God of Isra’el, as Koresh king of Persia ordered us to do.”

<sup>12</sup> “Let the king know that the Judeans who left you to come to us in Yerushalayim are building this rebellious and wicked city. They have finished the walls and are now digging the foundations. <sup>13</sup> So let the king know that if this city is rebuilt and the walls are finished, they will refuse to pay tribute, tax or toll; and this will reduce the royal revenue. <sup>14</sup> Now, because we eat the king’s salt, and it is not right for us to see the king dishonored, we therefore are sending to inform the king, <sup>15</sup> so that a search can be made in the archives of your ancestors; in these archives you will find and ascertain that this city is indeed a rebellious city, the bane of kings and provinces, and that sedition has been fostered there since ancient times — which is why this city was destroyed. <sup>16</sup> We submit to the king that if this city is rebuilt and the walls are finished, you will soon lose possession of all territories beyond the River.”

“To Rechum the district governor, Shimshai the secretary, their other colleagues living in Shomron, and the rest beyond the River:

“Shalom!

<sup>18</sup> “The letter you sent us has now been translated for me. <sup>19</sup> I ordered a search made, and it was found that this city has a long history of revolt against kings, that rebellion and sedition have been fostered there; <sup>20</sup> also that there have been powerful kings over Yerushalayim who ruled all the territory beyond the River; and tribute, taxes and tolls were paid to them.

<sup>21</sup> “So now, order that these men stop work and that this city not be rebuilt until I order it. <sup>22</sup> Take care not to neglect your duty; otherwise the harm may increase, to the damage of the king.”

<sup>23</sup> When the text of King Artach’shashta’s letter was read before Rechum, Shimshai the secretary and their colleagues, they hurried to Yerushalayim to the Judeans and stopped their work by force of arms. <sup>24</sup> So the work on the house of God in Yerushalayim ceased; it remained at a standstill until the second year of the reign of Daryavesh king of Persia.

5 <sup>1</sup> The prophets Hagai and Z’kharyah the son of ‘Iddo prophesied to the Judeans in Yerushalayim and Y’hudah; they prophesied to them in the name of the God of Isra’el. <sup>2</sup> Then Z’rubavel the son of Sh’alti’el and Yeshua the son of Yotzadak began rebuilding the house of God in Yerushalayim; with them were the prophets of God, helping them.

<sup>6</sup> Here is the text of the letter which Tatnai the governor of the territory beyond the River, Sh'tar-Boznai and their fellow officials beyond the River sent to Daryavesh the king; <sup>7</sup> they sent him a letter in which it was written:

"To Daryavesh the king,

"Complete shalom!"

<sup>8</sup> "Let the king know that we went to the province of Y'hudah, to the house of the great God. It is being rebuilt with large stones, and timber is being set in the walls. This work is being done energetically, and it is making good progress under the direction <sup>9</sup> of their leaders. We asked them, 'Who gave you permission to rebuild this house and finish this wall?' <sup>10</sup> We also asked them their names, so that we could write you the names of the men in charge of them.

<sup>11</sup> "They gave us this answer: 'We are the servants of the God of heaven and earth. We are rebuilding the house that was built many years ago, built and finished by a great king of Isra'el. <sup>12</sup> But because our ancestors provoked the God of heaven, he handed them over to N'vukhadnetzar king of Bavel, the Kasdi; he destroyed this house and carried the people off to Bavel. <sup>13</sup> But in the first year of Koresh king of Bavel, Koresh the king gave authorization to rebuild this house of God. <sup>14</sup> Moreover, the gold and silver articles belonging to the house of God, which N'vukhadnetzar had removed from the temple in Yerushalayim and brought to the temple of Bavel, Koresh the king took out of the temple in Bavel; they were turned over to a man named Sheshbatzar, whom he had appointed governor. <sup>15</sup> He said to him, "Take these articles, go, put them in the temple in Yerushalayim, and let the house of God be rebuilt on its original site.”<sup>16</sup> So this same Sheshbatar came and laid the foundations of the house of God in Yerushalayim; it has been under construction ever since, and it isn’t finished yet.

- <sup>17</sup> ““Now therefore, if it seems good to the king, let a search be made in the royal treasury there in Bavel to determine whether a decree was issued by Koresh the king to rebuild this house of God in Yerushalayim; and let the king send us his decision concerning this matter.””

6 <sup>1</sup> Daryavesh the king issued an order; and search was made in the archives building, where treasures were stored in Bavel; <sup>2</sup> and there was found at Achm’ta, in the palace which is in the province of Media, a scroll on which was written the following:

“Memorandum:

- <sup>3</sup> “In the first year of Koresh the king, Koresh the king issued this decree: ‘Concerning the house of God in Yerushalayim, let the house be rebuilt, the place where they offer sacrifices; and let its foundations be firmly laid. Its height is to be ninety feet and its breadth ninety feet, <sup>4</sup> with three rows of large stones and one row of new timber. The expenses are to be charged to the king’s treasury. <sup>5</sup> Also let the gold and silver articles belonging to the house of God, which N’vukhadnetzar removed from the temple at Yerushalayim and brought to Bavel, be restored and returned to the temple in Yerushalayim, each item to its place; and you are to put them in the house of God.’
- <sup>6</sup> “Therefore, Tatnai governor of the territory beyond the River, Sh’tar-Boznai and your colleagues the officials beyond the River, stay away from there! <sup>7</sup> Let the work of this house of God alone. Let the governor of the Judeans and the leaders of the Judeans rebuild this house of God on its site.

<sup>8</sup> “Moreover, I herewith issue this order concerning how you are to assist these leaders of the Judeans in rebuilding this house of God: the expenses of these men are to be defrayed promptly from the royal funds, from the taxes collected beyond the River, so that the work can continue. <sup>9</sup> Whatever they need — young bulls, rams and lambs — for burnt offerings to the God of heaven, wheat, salt, wine and olive oil, according to what the cohanim in Yerushalayim say, is to be given them daily without fail; <sup>10</sup> so that they can offer sacrifices with a fragrant aroma to the God of heaven and pray for the life of the king and his sons.

<sup>11</sup> “I also order that if anyone defies this order, a beam is to be pulled from his house; and he is to be lifted up and impaled on it. His house is to be reduced to rubble. <sup>12</sup> May the God who has caused his name to be there overthrow any king or people that tries to defy it and destroy this house of God in Yerushalayim.

<sup>13</sup> Then Tatnai the governor of the territory beyond the [Euphrates] River, Sh’tar-Boznai and their colleagues obeyed strictly; because Daryavesh the king had given the order to do so.

<sup>14</sup> The leaders of the Judeans made good progress with the rebuilding, thanks to the prophesying of Hagai the prophet and Z’kharyah the son of ‘Iddo. They kept building until they were finished, in keeping with the command of the God of Isra’el and in accordance with the order of Koresh, Daryavesh and Artach’shashta king of Persia. <sup>15</sup> This house was finished on the third day of the month Adar, in the sixth year of the reign of Daryavesh the king. <sup>16</sup> The people of Isra’el, the cohanim, the L’vi’im and the other people from the exile joyfully dedicated this house of God. <sup>17</sup> At the dedication of this house of God they offered 100 young bulls, 200 rams, 400 lambs, and, as a sin offering for all Isra’el, twelve male goats, corresponding to the number of the tribes of Isra’el.

<sup>7</sup> In the seventh year of Artach'shashta the king, some of the people of Isra'el, and some of the cohanim, L'vi'im, singers, gatekeepers and temple servants went up to Yerushalayim. <sup>8</sup> ['Ezra] arrived at Yerushalayim in the fifth month of the seventh year of the king. <sup>9</sup> He began going up to Yerushalayim from Bavel on the first day of the first month and arrived on the first day of the fifth month, since the good hand of his God was on him.

<sup>10</sup> For 'Ezra had set his heart on studying and practicing the Torah of ADONAI and teaching Isra'el the laws and rulings.

<sup>11</sup> Here is the letter that King Artach'shashta gave 'Ezra the cohen and Torah-teacher, the student of matters relating to ADONAI's mitzvot and his laws for Isra'el:

“Herewith <sup>13</sup> I decree that everyone in my realm who belongs to the people of Isra’el, including their cohanim and L’vi’im, who, of his own free will, chooses to go with you to Yerushalayim, should go. <sup>14</sup> You are being sent by the king and his seven counselors to inquire how the law of your God, of which you have expert knowledge, is being applied in Y’udah and Yerushalayim. <sup>15</sup> You are also to bring with you the silver and gold which the king and his counselors have voluntarily offered to the God of Isra’el, whose dwelling is in Yerushalayim; <sup>16</sup> together with all the silver and gold you receive throughout the province of Bavel and the voluntary offerings of the people and the cohanim that have been offered willingly for the house of their God in Yerushalayim.

<sup>17</sup> “You are to spend this money carefully on young bulls, rams, and lambs, with their grain offerings and drink offerings; and offer them on the altar of the house of your God in Yerushalayim. <sup>18</sup> Whatever seems good to you and your kinsmen to do with the rest of the silver and gold, do it according to the will of your God.

<sup>19</sup> “The articles given to you for the service of the house of your God, deliver to the God of Yerushalayim.

<sup>20</sup> “Whatever else may be needed for the house of your God that you have to supply, you may supply from the royal treasury.

<sup>21</sup> “I, Artach’shashta the king, herewith order all the treasurers in the territory beyond the [Euphrates] River to do carefully anything ‘Ezra the cohen, scribe of the law of the God of heaven, requires of you, <sup>22</sup> up to three- and-a-third tons of silver, 500 bushels of wheat, 500 gallons of wine, 500 gallons of olive oil and unlimited amounts of salt. <sup>23</sup> Whatever is ordered by the God of heaven is to be performed exactly for the house of the God of heaven; for why should wrath come against the realm of the king and his sons? <sup>24</sup>

Moreover, we herewith proclaim to you that it will be illegal to impose tribute, taxes or tolls on any of the cohanim, L'vi'im, singers, gatekeepers, servants or laborers in this house of God.

<sup>25</sup> “And you, ‘Ezra, making use of the wisdom you have from your God, are to appoint magistrates and judges to judge all the people in the territory beyond the River, that is, all who know the laws of your God; and you are to teach those who don’t know them. <sup>26</sup> Whoever refuses to obey the law of your God and the law of the king, let judgment be executed on him swiftly, whether it be death, banishment, confiscation of goods or imprisonment.”

<sup>27</sup> Blessed be ADONAI, the God of our ancestors, who has put such a thing as this in the heart of the king, to restore the beauty of the house of ADONAI in Yerushalayim, <sup>28</sup> and has extended mercy to me before the king and his counselors, and before all the king’s most powerful officials.

So I took courage, since the hand of ADONAI my God was on me, and I gathered together out of Isra’el key men to go up with me.

<sup>2</sup> of the descendants of Pinchas: Gershom;
of the descendants of Itamar: Dani’el;
of the descendants of David: Hatush;

<sup>3</sup> of the descendants of Sh’khanyah:
of the descendants of Par’osh: Z’kharyah,

and with him 150 males officially registered;

<sup>4</sup> of the descendants of Pachat-Mo’av: Ely’ho‘einai the son of Z’rachyah,

and with him 200 males;

<sup>5</sup> of the descendants of Sh'khanyah: the son of Yachazi'el,

and with him 300 males;

<sup>6</sup> of the descendants of 'Adin: 'Eved the son of Yonatan,

and with him 50 males;

<sup>7</sup> of the descendants of 'Eilam: Yesha'yah the son of 'Atalyah,

and with him 70 males;

<sup>8</sup> of the descendants of Sh'fatyah: Z'vadyah the son of Mikha'el,

and with him 80 males;

<sup>9</sup> of the descendants of Yo'av: 'Ovadyah the son of Yechi'el,

and with him 218 males;

<sup>10</sup> of the descendants of Shlomit: the son of Yosifyah,

and with him 160 males;

<sup>11</sup> of the descendants of Bevai: Z'kharyah the son of Bevai,

and with him 28 males;

<sup>12</sup> of the descendants of 'Azgad: Yochanan the son of HaKatan,

and with him 110 males;

<sup>13</sup> of the descendants of Adonikam: the younger ones, whose names were Elifelet, Ye'i'el and Sh'ma'yah,

and with them 60 males; and

and with them 70 males.

<sup>15</sup> I assembled them by the river that runs to Ahava, and we camped there three days. I reviewed the people and the cohanim but found no L’vi’im there. <sup>16</sup> So I sent for Eli’ezer, Ari’el, Sh’mā’yah, Elnatan, Yariv, Elnatan, Natan, Z’kharyah and Meshulam, who were leaders, and also for Yoyariv and Elnatan, who were men of discernment. <sup>17</sup> I gave them instructions for Iddo, the leading man in a place called Kasifya, and told them what to say to Iddo and his brother, who were in charge of Kasifya, so that they would bring us men to minister in the house of our God. <sup>18</sup> Since the good hand of our God was on us, they brought us Ish-Sekhel from the descendants of Machli the son of Levi, the son of Isra’el; Sherevyah with eighteen of his sons and kinsmen; <sup>19</sup> Hashavyah, with Yesha’yah, from the descendants of M’rari, and twenty of his kinsmen and their sons; <sup>20</sup> and from the temple servants, whom David and the princes had assigned to serve the L’vi’im, two hundred temple servants, all recorded by name.

<sup>21</sup> Then, there at the Ahava River, I proclaimed a fast; so that we could humble ourselves before our God and ask a safe journey of him for ourselves, our little ones and all our possessions. <sup>22</sup> For I would have been ashamed to ask the king for a detachment of soldiers and horsemen to protect us from enemies along the road, since we had said to the king, “The hand of our God is on all who seek him, for good; but his power and fury is against all who abandon him.” <sup>23</sup> So we fasted and asked our God for this, and he answered our prayer.

the God of your ancestors.<sup>29</sup> Guard them carefully, until you weigh them before the chief cohanim and L'vi'im and the leaders of the fathers' clans in Yerushalayim, in the rooms of the house of ADONAI.”<sup>30</sup> So the cohanim and L'vi'im received the consignment of silver and gold and the articles to bring to Yerushalayim, to the house of our God.

<sup>35</sup> The exiles who had returned from captivity offered burnt offerings to the God of Isra'el — twelve young bulls for all Isra'el, ninety-six rams, seventy-seven lambs, and twelve male goats as a sin offering; all this was a burnt offering for ADONAI.

<sup>36</sup> They also delivered the king's orders to the king's viceroys and governors beyond the [Euphrates] River; and these gave their support to the people and to the house of God.

9<sup>1</sup> After these things had been done, the leaders approached me and said, “The people of Isra'el, the cohanim and the L'vi'im have not separated themselves from the peoples of the lands and their disgusting practices — the Kena'ani, Hitti, P'rizi, Y'vusi, 'Amoni, Mo'avi, Egyptians and Emori.<sup>2</sup> They have taken some of the women from these nations as wives for themselves and their sons, so that the holy seed has assimilated to the peoples of the lands; moreover, the officials and leaders have been the main offenders in this treachery.”<sup>3</sup> When I heard this, I tore my robe and tunic, pulled hair from my head and beard, and sat down in shock.<sup>4</sup> All who trembled at the words of the God of Isra'el assembled around me when confronted with the treachery of these exiles; and I sat there in shock until the evening offering.

and said, “My God, I am ashamed. I blush to lift my face to you, my God! For our sins tower over our heads; our guilt reaches up to heaven. <sup>7</sup> Since the times of our ancestors, we have been deeply guilty; and because of our sins, we, our kings and our cohanim have been handed over to the kings of the lands, to the sword, to exile, to pillage and to disgrace, as is the case today. <sup>8</sup> Now, for a brief moment, ADONAI our God has shown us the favor of allowing a remnant to escape and giving us a secure foothold in his holy place, in order for God to make things look brighter to us and revive us a little in our slavery. <sup>9</sup> For we are slaves. Yet our God has not abandoned us in our slavery, but has caused the kings of Persia to extend grace to us, reviving us, so that we can rebuild the house of our God, repair its ruins, and have a wall of defense in Y’hudah and Yerushalayim.

<sup>10</sup> “But now, our God, what are we to say after this? For we have abandoned your mitzvot, <sup>11</sup> which you gave us through your servants the prophets when they said, ‘The land which you are going to in order to take possession of it is a land defiled by the uncleanness of the peoples of the lands, because of their disgusting practices, which have filled it with their filth from one end to the other. <sup>12</sup> Therefore, you are not to give your daughters to their sons or take their daughters for your sons; and you are not to promote their peace or prosperity ever. Only in this way will you grow strong, enjoy the good things of the land and leave it as a lasting inheritance to your children.’ <sup>13</sup> Now, after all that has come upon us because of our evil deeds and our deep guilt — and even so, you, our God, have punished us less than our sins deserve and have given us a surviving remnant — <sup>14</sup> are we to break your mitzvot again by making marriages with the peoples who have these disgusting practices? Won’t you become so angry with us that you would destroy us completely, so that there would be no surviving remnant and no one who escapes? <sup>15</sup> ADONAI, God of Isra’el! You are just; yet we have been left a surviving remnant that has escaped, as is the case today. Look, we are before you in our guilt; because of it, no one can stand in your presence.”

and said to ‘Ezra, “We have acted treacherously toward our God by marrying foreign women from the peoples of the land. But in spite of this, there is still hope for Isra’el.<sup>3</sup> We should make a covenant with our God to send away all these wives, along with their children, in obedience to the advice of Adonai and of those who tremble at the mitzvah of our God; let us act in accordance with the Torah.<sup>4</sup> Stand up, and do your duty, for we are with you; take courage, and do it!”

<sup>5</sup> ‘Ezra stood up, and he made the chief cohanim, the L’vi’im and all Isra’el swear that they would act according to what had been said; and they took the oath. <sup>6</sup> ‘Ezra then left his place in front of the house of God and went to the room of Y’hochanan the son of Elyashiv. After going there, he neither ate food nor drank water; because he was mourning over the treachery of the exiles.

<sup>7</sup> A proclamation was issued throughout Y’hudah and Yerushalayim that all the exiles were to assemble in Yerushalayim; <sup>8</sup> and that whoever didn’t come within three days, in answer to the summons from the officials and leaders, would forfeit all he owned and himself be banished from the community of the exiles. <sup>9</sup> All the men of Y’hudah and Binyamin assembled in Yerushalayim within the three days. It was the twentieth day of the ninth month. All the people sat in the open place in front of the house of God, trembling because of this matter and because of the heavy rain. <sup>10</sup> ‘Ezra the cohen stood up and addressed them: “You have acted treacherously by marrying foreign women and have thus increased Isra’el’s guilt. <sup>11</sup> Now, therefore, make confession to ADONAI, the God of your ancestors; and do what will please him by separating yourselves from the peoples of the land and from the foreign women.” <sup>12</sup> In response, the whole assembly cried aloud, “Yes, our duty is to do as you have said. <sup>13</sup> But there are many people, and it’s the rainy season — we can’t stay out here in the open. Also, it isn’t the work of a day or two; for there are many of us who have committed this crime. <sup>14</sup> Let our leaders represent the whole community; and let all those in our cities who have married foreign women appear at prearranged times, accompanied by the elders and judges of each city; until our God’s fierce anger over this has been turned away from us.” <sup>15</sup> Only Yonatan the son of ‘Asah’el and Yachz’yah the son of Tikvah, supported by Meshulam and Shabtai the Levi, opposed this.

day of the tenth month. <sup>17</sup> They finished dealing with all the men who had married foreign women by the first day of the first month.

<sup>18</sup> Among the cohanim were found these who had married foreign women: of the sons of Yeshua the son of Yotzadak and his brothers: Ma'aseiyah, Eli'ezer, Yariv and G'dalyah. <sup>19</sup> They promised that they would send their wives away; and since they were guilty, they offered a ram from the flock for their guilt. <sup>20</sup> Of the sons of Immer: Hanani and Z'vadyah; <sup>21</sup> of the sons of Harim: Ma'aseiyah, Eliyah, Sh'ma'yah, Yechi'el and 'Uziyah; <sup>22</sup> of the sons of Pash'chur: Elyo'einai, Ma'aseiyah, Yishma'el, N'tan'el, Yozavad and El'asah.

Of the gatekeepers: Shalum, Telem and Uri.

Nechemyah

NEHEMIAH

1 <sup>1</sup> The words of Nechemyah the son of Hakhalyah:

It was in the month of Kislev, in the twentieth year, as I was in Shushan the capital, <sup>2</sup> that Hanani, one of my kinsmen, came out of Y'hudah with some men; and I asked them about the remnant of Judeans who had escaped the exile, and about Yerushalayim. <sup>3</sup> They answered me, "The remnant of the exile left there in the province are in great distress and are held in contempt, the wall of Yerushalayim is in ruins, and its gates have been completely burned up."

<sup>4</sup> On hearing this answer, I sat down and wept; I mourned for several days, fasting and praying before the God of heaven. <sup>5</sup> I said, "Please, ADONAI! God of heaven! You great and fearsome God, who keeps his covenant and extends grace to those who love him and observe his mitzvot! <sup>6</sup> Let your ear now be attentive and your eyes be open, so that you will listen to the prayer of your servant, which I am praying before you these days, day and night, for the people of Isra'el your servants — even as I confess the sins of the people of Isra'el that we have committed against you. Yes, I and my father's house have sinned. <sup>7</sup> We have deeply offended you. We haven't observed the mitzvot, laws or rulings you ordered your servant Moshe. <sup>8</sup> Remember, please, the word you gave through your servant Moshe, 'If you break faith, I will scatter you among the peoples; <sup>9</sup> but if you return to me, observe my mitzvot and obey them, then, even if your scattered ones are in the most distant part of heaven, nevertheless, I will collect them from there and bring them to the place I have chosen for bearing my name.' <sup>10</sup> Now these are your servants, your people, whom you have redeemed by your great power and strong hand. <sup>11</sup> Adonai, please, let your ear now be attentive to the prayer of your servant and to the prayer of your servants who take joy in fearing your name: please let your servant succeed today and win this man's compassion" — for I was the king's personal attendant.

2 <sup>1</sup> In the month of Nisan in the twentieth year of Artach'shashta the king, it happened that I took the wine and brought it to the king. Prior to then I had never appeared sad in his presence. <sup>2</sup> The king asked, “Why do you look so sad? You’re not sick, so this must be some deep inner grief.” At this, I became very fearful, <sup>3</sup> as I said to the king, “May the king live forever! Why shouldn’t I look sad, when the city, the place where my ancestors’ tombs are, lies in ruins; and its gates are completely burned up?” <sup>4</sup> The king asked me, “What is it that you want?” I prayed to the God of heaven, <sup>5</sup> then said to the king, “If it pleases the king, if your servant has won your favor, send me to Y’hudah, to the city of my ancestors’ tombs, so that I can rebuild it.” <sup>6</sup> With the queen sitting next to him, the king asked me, “How long is your trip going to take? When will you return?” So it pleased the king to send me, and I gave him a time.

<sup>7</sup> I then said to the king, “If it pleases the king, have letters given to me for the governors of the territory beyond the [Euphrates] River, so that they will let me pass through until I reach Y’hudah; <sup>8</sup> and also a letter for Asaf the supervisor of the royal forests, so that he will give me timber to make beams for the gates of the fortress belonging to the house, for the city wall and for the house I will be occupying.” The king gave me these, according to the good hand of my God on me.

<sup>9</sup> I went to the governors of the territory beyond the River and gave them the king’s letters. The king had sent with me an escort of army captains and cavalry. <sup>10</sup> When Sanvalat the Horoni and Toviyah the servant, the ‘Amoni, heard about this, they were very displeased that someone had come to promote the welfare of the people of Isra’el.

<sup>11</sup> So I reached Yerushalayim. After I had been there for three days, <sup>12</sup> I got up during the night, I and a few men with me. I hadn’t told anyone what my God had put in my heart to do for Yerushalayim; and I didn’t take any animal with me except the animal on which I was riding. <sup>13</sup> I went out by night through the Valley Gate, to the Dragon’s Well and the Dung Gate, and inspected the places where the walls of Yerushalayim were broken down and where its gates had been burned down. <sup>14</sup> Then I went on to the Fountain Gate and the King’s Pool, but there was no room for the animal under me to pass. <sup>15</sup> So I went up the valley in the dark and went on inspecting the wall; then I turned back, entered through the Valley Gate and returned, <sup>16</sup> without the officials’ knowing where I had gone or what I had done. Till then, I hadn’t said anything about this to the Judeans, cohanim, nobles, officials or anyone who would be responsible for the work.

<sup>17</sup> Afterwards, I said to them, “You see what a sad state we are in, how Yerushalayim lies in ruins, with its gates burned up. Come, let’s rebuild the wall of Yerushalayim, so that we won’t continue in disgrace.” <sup>18</sup> I also told them of the gracious hand of my God that had been on me, also what the king had said to me. They said, “Let’s start building at once,” and energetically set out to do this good work.

<sup>19</sup> When Sanvalat the Horoni, Toviyah the servant, the ‘Amoni, and Geshem the Arab heard about it, they began mocking us and jeering, “What is this you are doing? Are you going to rebel against the king?” <sup>20</sup> But I answered them: “The God of heaven will enable us to succeed. Therefore we his servants will set about rebuilding. But you have no share, right or history to commemorate in Yerushalayim.”

3 <sup>1</sup> Then Elyashiv the cohen hagadol set out with his fellow cohanim, and they rebuilt the Sheep Gate. They consecrated it and set up its doors; they consecrated it as far as the Tower of the Hundred and on to the Tower of Hanan’el. <sup>2</sup> Next to him the men from Yericho built. Next to him Zakur the son of Imri built.

<sup>3</sup> The sons of Hasna’ah rebuilt the Fish Gate; they installed its timber framework and set up its doors, along with its bolts and bars. <sup>4</sup> Next to them M’remot the son of Uriyah, the son of Hakotz, made repairs. Next to them Meshulam the son of Berekhyah, the son of Mesheizav’el, made repairs. Next to them Tzadok the son of Ba’ana made repairs. <sup>5</sup> Next to them the men from T’koa made repairs; but their nobles would not put their shoulders to the work of their Lord.

<sup>6</sup> Yoyada the son of Paseach and Meshulam the son of B’sodyah made repairs to the Old City Gate; they installed its timber framework and set up its doors, along with its bolts and bars. <sup>7</sup> Next to them M’latyah the Giv’oni, Yadon the Meronoti and the men from Giv’on and Mitzpah made repairs; they worked for the people associated with the governor of the territory beyond the [Euphrates] River. <sup>8</sup> Next to them ‘Uzi’el the son of Harhayah, goldsmiths, made repairs.

Next to him Hananyah, one of the perfume-makers, made repairs; they renovated Yerushalayim as far as the Broad Wall. <sup>9</sup> Next to them Refayah the son of Hur, leader of half the district of Yerushalayim, made repairs. <sup>10</sup> Next to him Y’dayah the son of Harumaf made repairs opposite his own house. Next to him Hatush the son of Hashavn'yah made repairs.<sup>11</sup> Malkiyah the son of Harim and Hashuv the son of Pachat-Mo'av made repairs on another section and on the Tower of the Ovens.<sup>12</sup> Next to him Shalum the son of HaLochesh, leader of half the district of Yerushalayim, he and his daughters, made repairs.

<sup>13</sup> Hanun and the people living in Zanoach repaired the Valley Gate; they rebuilt it and set up its doors, along with its bolts and bars; and they rebuilt 1,500 feet of the wall, as far as the Dung Gate.

<sup>14</sup> Malkiyah the son of Rechav, leader of the district of Beit-Hakerem, repaired the Dung Gate; he rebuilt it and set up its doors, along with its bolts and bars.

<sup>15</sup> Shalun the son of Kol-Hozeh, leader of the district of Mitzpah, repaired the Fountain Gate; he rebuilt it, covered it and set up its doors, along with its bolts and bars; he also rebuilt the wall of the Pool of Shelach, by the royal garden, as far as the stairs that go down from the City of David.

<sup>16</sup> After him Nechemyah the son of Azbuk, leader of half the district of Beit-Tzur, made repairs from the place opposite the tombs of David as far as the artificial pool and the soldiers' barracks.<sup>17</sup> After him the L'vi'im made repairs: Rechum the son of Bani; next to him Hashavyah, leader of half the district of Ke'ilah, made repairs for his district.<sup>18</sup> After him their colleagues, Bavai the son of Henadad, leader of half the district of Ke'ilah, made repairs.<sup>19</sup> Next to him 'Ezer the son of Yeshua, leader of Mitzpah, made repairs on another section, opposite the ascent to the armory at the Angle.<sup>20</sup> After him Barukh the son of Zakkai worked diligently making repairs on another section, from the Angle to the door of the house of Elyashiv the cohen hagadol.<sup>21</sup> After him M'remot the son of Uriyah made repairs on another section, from the door of the house of Elyashiv to the end of the house of Elyashiv.<sup>22</sup> After him the cohanim from the plain made repairs.<sup>23</sup> After them Binyamin and Hashuv made repairs opposite their house. After them 'Azaryah the son of Ma'aseiyah, the son of 'Ananyah, made repairs next to his house.<sup>24</sup> After him Binui the son of Henadad repaired another section, from the house of 'Azaryah to the Angle and to the Corner.<sup>25</sup> Palal the son of Uzai made repairs opposite the Angle and the tower that projects out from the upper part of the royal palace near the Courtyard of the Guard.

After him P'dayah the son of Par'osh made repairs<sup>26</sup> (since the temple servants were living in the 'Ofel) as far as opposite the Water Gate to the east and the tower that projects out.<sup>27</sup> After him the men from T'koa repaired another section, opposite the great tower that projects out and on to the wall of the 'Ofel.

<sup>33(4:1)</sup> But when Sanvalat heard that we were rebuilding the wall, he was furious. Greatly enraged, he ridiculed the Judeans; <sup>34(4:2)</sup> before his kinsmen and the army of Shomron he said, "What are these pathetic Judeans doing? Are they going to rebuild anything they want? Are they going to sacrifice? Are they going to finish today? Are they going to recover useful stones from the piles of rubble, burned rubble at that?" <sup>35(4:3)</sup> Toviyah the 'Amoni was with him, and he said, "Whatever they're building, why, if even a fox went up it, he'd knock their stone wall down!"

<sup>36(4:4)</sup> Our God, listen! We are being treated with contempt. Turn back their jeers on their own heads; give them over to be plundered in a land of exile. <sup>37(4:5)</sup> Don't cover their guilt, don't let their sin be wiped out from before you; because they have insulted the builders to their face.

<sup>38(4:6)</sup> So we kept building the wall, which was soon joined together and completed to half its height all the way around; because the people worked with a will.

4 <sup>1(7)</sup> But when Sanvalat, Toviyah, the Arabs, the 'Amonim and the Ashdodim heard that the repairs on the walls of Yerushalayim were going forward, and the breaks were being filled in, they became very angry. <sup>2(8)</sup> All of them together plotted to come and fight against Yerushalayim and thus throw us into confusion. <sup>3(9)</sup> However, we prayed to our God and, because of them, organized a watch against them day and night. <sup>4(10)</sup> Y'hudah was saying, "The strength of the people who carry loads away is starting to fail, and there is so much rubble that we can't build the wall.” <sup>5(11)</sup> Our enemies were saying, “They won't know or see anything, until we have already infiltrated them and begun killing them and stopping the work.” <sup>6(12)</sup> And even the Judeans living near them came and must have said to us ten times, “From every place you must come back to us.”

<sup>15(21)</sup> So we kept doing the work. Half of them held spears from daybreak until the stars appeared. <sup>16(22)</sup> Also at that time I told the people, “Let everyone with a servant stay the night within Yerushalayim, so that at night they can be a guard for us, even as they work during the day.” <sup>17(23)</sup> I, my kinsmen, my servants and my bodyguards never took off our clothes, and everyone who went to get water took his weapon.

5 <sup>1</sup> Then there arose a great outcry from the common people and their wives against their brothers the [wealthier] Judeans. <sup>2</sup> Some of them said, “Counting our sons and daughters, there are a lot of us! Allow us to get grain for them, so that we can eat and stay alive.” <sup>3</sup> There were also some who said, “We are mortgaging our fields, vineyards and homes in order to buy grain, because of the famine.” <sup>4</sup> Yet others said, “We have borrowed money for the king's taxes against our fields and vineyards. <sup>5</sup> Now our flesh is no different from the flesh of our kinsmen, and our children are the same as their children; yet we are bringing our sons and daughters into bondage as slaves. Some of our daughters have gone into slavery already, and it's beyond our power to do anything about it, because other men have our fields and vineyards."

<sup>6</sup> When I heard their outcry and the reasons for it, I became very angry. <sup>7</sup> I thought the matter over and then took issue with the nobles and rulers. I charged them, "You are lending against pledges, everyone to his brother"; and I summoned a great assembly to deal with them. <sup>8</sup> I said to them, "We, to the limit of our ability, have redeemed our brothers the Judeans who sold themselves to the pagans. Now you are selling your own brothers, and we will have to buy them back!" They stayed silent; they couldn't think of anything to say. <sup>9</sup> I also said, "What you are doing is not good! You should be living in fear of our God, so that our pagan enemies won't have grounds for deriding us. <sup>10</sup> Moreover, my brothers and my servants, I too have loaned them money and grain. Please, let's stop making it so burdensome to go into debt. <sup>11</sup> Please! Today! Give them back their fields, vineyards, olive groves and homes; also the hundred pieces of silver and the grain, wine and olive oil you demand from them as interest."

<sup>12</sup> They answered, "We will give it back. We will require nothing from them. Yes, we will do it, just as you say." Then I called the cohanim and took an oath from them that they would do as they had promised. <sup>13</sup> Shaking out the fold in my garment, I said, "May God thus shake every man from his house and from his work who fails to live up to this promise — may he be shaken out like this and made empty." The whole assembly said, "Amen!" and praised ADONAI; and the people did as they had promised.

<sup>14</sup> Besides that, from the time I was appointed their governor in the land of Y'hudah, from the twentieth year until the thirty-second year of Artach'shashta the king — that is, for twelve years — neither I nor my colleagues drew on the governor's living allowance. <sup>15</sup> The earlier governors, before me, had burdened the people, taxing them more than one-and-a-half pounds of silver shekels for food and wine; and even their servants lorded it over the people. But I didn't, because I feared God. <sup>16</sup> Moreover, I put all my energy into working on this wall. We didn't buy any land, and all my servants were gathered there for the work.

<sup>17</sup> There were 150 leaders and other Judeans who ate at my table, besides those who came to us from the surrounding nations. <sup>18</sup> Every day one ox, six choice sheep, and fowl were prepared for me, and every ten days a supply of all kinds of wine. Yet in spite of all this, I never claimed the governor's allowance, because the people were already bearing the heavy burden of their labor. <sup>19</sup> My God, remember favorably everything I have done for this people!

<sup>5</sup> The fifth time, with the same purpose, Sanvalat sent his servant to me with an open letter in his hand, <sup>6</sup> in which was written: "It is reported among the nations, and Geshem says it too, that you and the Judeans are planning a revolt, that this is why you are rebuilding the wall, and that you intend to be their king," and similar words; <sup>7</sup> "moreover, that you have also appointed prophets to proclaim about you in Yerushalayim, 'There is a king in Y'hudah!' A report along these lines is now going to be made to the king. Come now, therefore, and let's discuss this." <sup>8</sup> I sent him this answer; "Nothing like what you are saying is being done. You're making it all up in your head." <sup>9</sup> They were all just trying to scare us, thinking, "This will sap their strength and keep them from working." But now, [God,] increase my strength!

<sup>10</sup> One day, when I went to the house of Sh'ma'yah the son of D'layah, the son of M'heitav'el, where he was confined, he said, "Let's meet together in the house of God, inside the temple, and let's shut the doors of the temple. For they are going to come and try to assassinate you; yes, they will come at night to kill you." <sup>11</sup> I replied, "Should a man like me run away? Can a man like me go into the temple to save his life? I refuse to go in." <sup>12</sup> Then I realized that God had not sent him, that he was making this prophecy against me, and that Toviyah and Sanvalat had bribed him to say it. <sup>13</sup> He had been hired to frighten me into following his suggestion and thus sin, so that they would have material for their unfavorable report about me and could taunt me with it. <sup>14</sup> My God, remember Toviyah and Sanvalat according to their deeds, also the prophet No'adyah and the other prophets trying to intimidate me.

<sup>15</sup> So the wall was finished on the twenty-fifth day of the month Elul, in fifty-two days. <sup>16</sup> When all our enemies heard about it and the surrounding nations became afraid, our enemies' self-esteem fell severely; because they realized that this work had been accomplished by our God.

<sup>17</sup> During this same period of time, the nobles of Y'hudah sent many letters to Toviyah, and Toviyah kept sending them replies. <sup>18</sup> For there were many in Y'hudah who had sworn allegiance to him, because he was the son-in-law of Sh'khanyah the son of Arach, and his son Y'hochanan had taken as his wife the daughter of Meshulam the son of Berekhyah. <sup>19</sup> They would even praise his good deeds in my presence, and they passed on my words to him. And Toviyah kept sending letters to intimidate me.

7 <sup>1</sup> After the wall had been rebuilt, and I had set up its doors, and the gatekeepers, singers and L'vi'im had been appointed, <sup>2</sup> I put my kinsman Hanani in charge of Yerushalayim, along with Hananyah the commander of the citadel. For he was a faithful man, and he feared God more than most. <sup>3</sup> I said to them, "The gates of Yerushalayim are not to be opened until the sun is hot; and while the gatekeepers are still on duty, have them shut the doors; and you, put up the bars. Appoint watchmen from among those living in Yerushalayim; assign each one his time to guard, and have each one serving near his own house."

<sup>4</sup> The city was large and spacious, but there were few people in it, and the houses had not been rebuilt. <sup>5</sup> My God put it in my heart to assemble the nobles, the leaders and the people, so that they could be registered according to their genealogies. I located the record of the genealogies of those who had come up at the beginning and found written in it:

61 "The following went up from Tel-Melach, Tel-Harsha, K'ruv, Adon and Immer; but they could not state which fathers' clan they and their children belonged to, [so it was not clear] whether they were from Isra'el:

descendants of Havayah,
descendants of Hakotz, and
descendants of Barzillai, who took a wife from the
daughters of Barzillai the Gil'adi and was named after them.

64 "These tried to locate their genealogical records, but they weren't found.
Therefore they were considered defiled and were not allowed to serve as cohanim. 65 The Tirshata told them not to eat any of the especially holy food until a cohen appeared who could consult the urim and tumim.

66 "The entire assembly numbered 42,360, 67 not including their male and female slaves, of whom there were 7,337. They also had 245 male and female singers <sup>68</sup> Their horses numbered 736; their mules, 245; <sup>69</sup> their camels, 435; and their donkeys, 6,720.

(8:1) When the seventh month arrived, after the people of Isra’el had resettled in their towns,

8 <sup>1</sup> all the people gathered with one accord in the open space in front of the Water Gate and asked ‘Ezra the Torah-teacher to bring the scroll of the Torah of Moshe, which ADONAI had commanded Isra’el. <sup>2</sup> ‘Ezra the cohen brought the Torah before the assembly, which consisted of men, women and all children old enough to understand. It was the first day of the seventh month. <sup>3</sup> Facing the open space in front of the Water Gate, he read from it to the men, the women and the children who could understand from early morning until noon; and all the people listened attentively to the scroll of the Torah. <sup>4</sup> ‘Ezra the Torah-teacher stood on a wood platform which they had made for the purpose; beside him on his right stood Mattityah, Shema, ‘Anayah, Uriyah, Hilkiyah and Ma’aseiyah; while on his left were P’dayah, Misha’el, Malkiyah, Hashum, Hashbadanah, Z’kharyah and Meshulam. <sup>5</sup> ‘Ezra opened the scroll where all the people could see him, because he was higher than all the people; when he opened it, all the people rose to their feet. <sup>6</sup> ‘Ezra blessed ADONAI, the great God; and all the people answered, “Amen! Amen!” as they lifted up their hands, bowed their heads and fell prostrate before ADONAI with their faces to the ground. <sup>7</sup> The L’vi’im Yeshua, Bani, Sherevyah, Yamin, ‘Akuv, Shabtai, Hodiya, Ma’aseiyah, K’lita, ‘Azaryah, Yozavad, Hanan and P’layah explained the Torah to the people, while the people remained in their places. <sup>8</sup> They read clearly from the scroll, in the Torah of God, translated it, and enabled them to understand the sense of what was being read.

<sup>9</sup> Nechemyah the Tirshata, ‘Ezra the cohen and Torah-teacher and the L’vi’im who taught the people said to all the people, “Today is consecrated to ADONAI your God; don’t be mournful, don’t weep.” For all the people had been weeping when they heard the words of the Torah. <sup>10</sup> Then he said to them, “Go, eat rich food, drink sweet drinks, and send portions to those who can’t provide for themselves; for today is consecrated to our Lord. Don’t be sad, because the joy of ADONAI is your strength.” <sup>11</sup> In this way the L’vi’im quieted the people, as they said, “Be quiet, for today is holy; don’t be sad.” <sup>12</sup> Then the people went off to eat, drink, send portions and celebrate; because they had understood the words that had been proclaimed to them.

<sup>13</sup> On the second day, the heads of fathers’ clans of all the people assembled with the cohanim and L’vi’im before ‘Ezra the Torah-teacher to study the words of the Torah. <sup>14</sup> They found written in the Torah that ADONAI had ordered through Moshe that the people of Isra’el were to live in sukkot during the feast of the seventh month; <sup>15</sup> and that they were to announce and pass the word in all their cities and in Yerushalayim, “Go out to the mountains, and collect branches of olives, wild olives, myrtles, palms, and other leafy trees to make sukkot, as prescribed.” <sup>16</sup> So the people went out, brought them and made sukkot for themselves, each one on the roof of his house, also in their courtyards, in the courtyards of the house of God, in the open space by the Water Gate and in the open space by the Efrayim Gate. <sup>17</sup> The entire community of those who had returned from the exile made sukkot and lived in the sukkot, for the people of Isra’el had not done this since the days of Yeshua the son of Nun. So there was very great joy. <sup>18</sup> Also they read every day, from the first day until the last day, in the scroll of the Torah of God. They kept the feast for seven days; then on the eighth day there was a solemn assembly, according to the rule.

9 <sup>1</sup> On the twenty-fourth day of this month the people of Isra’el, wearing sackcloth and with dirt on them, assembled for a fast. <sup>2</sup> Those descended from Isra’el separated themselves from all foreigners; then they stood up and confessed their own sins and the iniquities of their ancestors. <sup>3</sup> Standing where they were, they read in the scroll of the Torah of ADONAI their God for one-quarter of the day. For another quarter they confessed and prostrated themselves before ADONAI their God. <sup>4</sup> On the platform of the L'vi'im stood Yeshua, Bani, Kadmi'el, Sh'vanyah, Buni, Sherevyah, Bani and K'nani; they cried out loudly to ADONAI their God. <sup>5</sup> Then the L'vi'im Yeshua, Kadmi'el, Bani, Hashavn'yah, Sherevyah, Hadiyah, Sh'vanyah and P'tachyah said, "Stand up, and bless ADONAI your God from everlasting to everlasting; let them say:

"Blessed be your glorious name,
exalted above all blessing and praise!

<sup>6</sup> "You are ADONAI, you alone.

You made heaven,
the heaven of heavens, with all their array,
the earth and all the things that are in it,
the seas and all that is in them;
and you preserve them all.
The army of heaven worships you.

<sup>7</sup> "You are ADONAI, the God who chose Avram, brought him out of Ur-Kasdim

and gave him the name of Avraham.

<sup>8</sup> Finding that he was faithful to you,

you made a covenant with him
to give the land of the Kena'ani,
the Hitti, Emori and P'rizi,

the Y'vusi and the Girgashi,
to give it to his descendants;
and you have done what you promised,
because you are just.

<sup>9</sup> ““You saw the distress of our ancestors in Egypt and heard their cry by the Sea of Suf.

<sup>10</sup> You performed signs and wonders against Pharaoh, against all his servants and the people of the land;
for you knew how arrogantly they treated them;
and you won yourself a name which is yours to this day.

<sup>11</sup> You divided the sea ahead of them,
so that they could pass through the sea on dry land;
then you hurled their pursuers into the depths,
like a stone into turbulent waters.

<sup>12</sup> ““In a column of cloud you led them by day,
and by night in a column of fire,
so that they would have light ahead of them
on the way that they were to go.

<sup>13</sup> ““You descended on Mount Sinai

and spoke with them from heaven.

You gave them right rulings and true teachings,
good laws and mitzvot.

<sup>14</sup> You revealed to them your holy Shabbat
and gave them mitzvot, laws and the Torah
through Moshe your servant.

<sup>15</sup> “For their hunger you gave them bread from heaven;
for their thirst you brought forth for them water from the rock.
You ordered them to enter and possess the land
you had sworn with your hand to give them.

<sup>16</sup> “But they and our ancestors were arrogant;
they stiffened their necks and ignored your mitzvot;

<sup>17</sup> they refused to listen and paid no attention to the wonders you had done among them.
No, they stiffened their necks, and in their rebellion appointed a leader to return them to their slavery.
But because you are a God of forgiveness,
merciful, full of compassion,
slow to grow angry and full of grace,

you did not abandon them.

<sup>18</sup> Even when they cast themselves a metal calf, saying of it, “This is your god that brought you up from Egypt,”
and committing other gross provocations;

<sup>19</sup> still, you, in your great compassion,
did not abandon them in the desert.
The column of cloud did not leave them by day;
it kept leading them along the way.
By night the column of fire
kept showing them light and the path to take.

<sup>20</sup> You also gave your good Spirit to teach them, did not withhold man from their mouths
and provided them water to quench their thirst.

<sup>21</sup> Yes, forty years you sustained them in the desert;
they lacked nothing —
their clothes did not wear out;
their feet did not swell up.

<sup>22</sup> ““You gave them kingdoms and peoples;

you even gave them extra land,
so that they took possession of the land of Sichon,
also the land of the king of Heshbon
and the land of ‘Og king of Bashan.

<sup>23</sup> You made their children as numerous as the countless stars in the sky.

“Then you brought them into the land
about which you had said to their fathers that they should go in and take possession of it.

<sup>24</sup> So the children went in and possessed the land,
as you subdued ahead of them
the Kena‘ani living in the land,
and handed them over to them,
along with their kings and the peoples of the land,
for them to do with as they wished.

<sup>25</sup> They took fortified cities and fertile land,
possessed houses full of all kinds of good things,
dug-out cisterns, vineyards, olive groves,
fruit trees in plenty;

so they ate their fill and grew robust,
luxuriating in your great goodness.

<sup>26</sup> “Yet they disobeyed and rebelled against you,
throwing your Torah behind their backs.
They killed your prophets for warning them
that they should return to you and committed other gross provocations.

<sup>27</sup> So you handed them over to the power of their adversaries, who oppressed them.
Yet in the time of their trouble,
when they cried out to you,
you heard from heaven, and in keeping with your great compassion,
you gave them saviors to save them
from the power of their adversaries.

<sup>28</sup> But as soon as they had gotten some relief,
they went back to do evil before you.
So you left them in the power of their enemies,
who came down hard on them.

Yet when they returned and cried out to you,
you heard from heaven many times
and saved them, according to your compassion.

<sup>29</sup> You warned them, in order to bring them back to your Torah; yet they were arrogant.
They paid no attention to your mitzvot,
but sinned against your rulings,
which, if a person does them,
he will have life through them.
However, they stubbornly turned their shoulders,
stiffened their necks and refused to hear.

<sup>30</sup> Many years you extended them mercy and warned them by your Spirit through your prophets;
yet they would not listen.
Therefore you handed them over to the peoples of the lands.

<sup>31</sup> Even so, in your great compassion,
you didn't completely destroy them;
nor did you abandon them,
for you are a compassionate and merciful God.

<sup>32</sup>

“Now therefore, our God, great, mighty, fearsome God,
who keeps both covenant and grace:
let not all this suffering seem little to you that has come on us, our kings, our leaders,
our cohanim, our prophets, our ancestors,
and on all your people,
from the times of the kings of Ashur
until this very day.

<sup>33</sup>

There is no question that you are just in all that has come upon us;
for you have treated us fairly.
It is we who have acted wickedly.

<sup>34</sup>

Our kings, our leaders, our cohanim and ancestors
did not keep your Torah,
pay attention to your mitzvot
or heed the warnings you gave them.

<sup>35</sup>

Even when they ruled their own kingdom,
even when you prospered them greatly,
in the great, rich land you gave them,

they did not serve you;
nor did they turn from their wicked deeds.

<sup>36</sup> ““So here we are today, slaves.

Yes, in the land you gave our ancestors,
so that they could eat what it produces and enjoy its good —
here we are in it, slaves!

<sup>37</sup> Its rich yield now goes to the kings

you have set over us because of our sins;
they have power over our bodies,
they can do what they please to our livestock,
and we are in great distress!

10 <sup>1(9:38)</sup> ““In view of all this, we are making a binding covenant, putting it in writing and having it sealed by our leaders, our L’vi’im and our cohanim.””

<sup>29(28)</sup> The rest of the people, the cohanim, the L’vi’im, the gatekeepers, the singers, the temple servants and all who had separated themselves from the peoples of the lands to the Torah of God, along with their wives, sons and daughters, everyone capable of knowing and understanding, <sup>30(29)</sup> joined their kinsmen and their leaders in swearing an oath, accompanied by a curse [in case of noncompliance], as follows:

“We will live by God’s Torah, given by Moshe the servant of God, and will perform and obey all the mitzvot, rulings and laws of ADONAI our Lord.

<sup>31(30)</sup> “We will not give our daughters as wives to the peoples of the land or take their daughters as wives for our sons.

<sup>32(31)</sup> “If the peoples of the lands bring merchandise or food to sell on Shabbat, we will not buy from them on Shabbat or on a holy day.

“We will forego [planting and harvesting our fields] during the seventh year and collecting debts then.

<sup>33(32)</sup> “We will impose on ourselves a yearly tax of one-third of a shekel [one-seventh of an ounce of silver] for the service of the house of our God, <sup>34(33)</sup> for the showbread, for the regular grain offering, for the regular burnt offering, for [the offerings] on Shabbat, on Rosh-Hodesh, at the designated times and at other holy times, for the sin offerings to make atonement for Isra’el, and for all the work connected with the house of our God.

<sup>35(34)</sup> “We, the cohanim, the L’vi’im and the people, will cast lots in connection with the wood offering, so that it will be brought to the house of our God according to our fathers’ clans, at specified times, year by year, and then be burned on the altar of ADONAI our God, as prescribed in the Torah.

<sup>36(35)</sup> “Every year we will bring the firstfruits of our land and the firstfruits of all fruit from every kind of tree to the house of ADONAI. <sup>37(36)</sup> “We will also bring the firstborn of our sons and of our livestock, as prescribed in the Torah, and the firstborn of our herds and flocks, to the house of our God, to the cohanim ministering in the house of our God.

<sup>38(37)</sup> “We will bring the first of our dough, our contributions, the fruit of every kind of tree, wine and olive oil to the cohanim in the storerooms of the house of our God, along with the tenths from our land for the L’vi’im; since they, the L’vi’im, take the tenths in all the cities where we farm. <sup>39(38)</sup> The cohen the descendant of Aharon is to be with the L’vi’im when the L’vi’im take tenths. The L’vi’im will bring the tenth of the tenth to the house of our God, to the storerooms for supplies. <sup>40(39)</sup> For the people of Isra’el and the descendants of Levi are to bring the contribution of grain, wine and olive oil to the rooms where the equipment for the sanctuary, the ministering cohanim, the gatekeepers and the singers are. We will not abandon the house of our God.”

11 <sup>1</sup> The leaders of the people took up residence in Yerushalayim; while the rest of the people cast lots to bring one-tenth of them to live in Yerushalayim the holy city, with the other nine-tenths in the other cities. <sup>2</sup> The people blessed all those who volunteered to live in Yerushalayim.

<sup>3</sup> In the cities of Y’hudah, everyone lived on his own property — the people of Isra’el, the cohanim, the L’vi’im, the temple servants and the descendants of Shlomo’s servants. But the leaders of the province lived in Yerushalayim. <sup>4</sup> Some of those living in Yerushalayim were from people of Y’hudah, and others were from people of Binyamin. Those from the people of Y’hudah were: ‘Atayah the son of ‘Uziah, the son of Z’kharyah, the son of Amaryah, the son of Sh’fatyah, the son of Mahalal’el, from the descendants of Peretz; <sup>5</sup> and Ma’aseiyah the son of Barukh, the son of Kol-Hozeh, the son of Hazayah, the son of ‘Adayah, the son of Yoyariv, the son of Z'kharyah, who belonged to the family of Shelah. <sup>6</sup> The total number of descendants of Peretz living in Yerushalayim was 468 courageous men.

<sup>7</sup> These are the people of Binyamin: Salu the son of Meshulam, the son of Yo'ed, the son of P'dayah, the son of Kolayah, the son of Ma'aseiyah, the son of Iti'el, the son of Yesha'yah. <sup>8</sup> After him: Gabai, Salai; 928 in all. <sup>9</sup> Yo'el the son of Zikhri was their overseer, and Y'hudah the son of Hasnu'ah was second in charge of the city.

<sup>10</sup> From the cohanim: Y'da'yah the son of Yoyariv, Yakhin, <sup>11</sup> S'rayah the son of Hilkiyah, the son of Meshulam, the son of Tzadok, the son of M'rayot, the son of Achituv, the supervisor of the house of God, <sup>12</sup> and their kinsmen who did the work for the house; in all 822; and 'Adayah the son of Yerocham, the son of P'lalyah, the son of Amtzi, the son of Z'kharyah, the son of Pash'chur, the son of Malkiyah; <sup>13</sup> with his kinsmen, heads of fathers' clans, 242; and 'Amash'sai the son of 'Azar'el, the son of Achzai, the son of Meshillemot, the son of Immer; <sup>14</sup> with his kinsmen, courageous men, 128; their overseer was Zavdi'el the son of HaG'dolim.

<sup>20</sup> The rest of Isra'el, [the rest of] the cohanim and [the rest of] the L'vi'im were in all the cities of Y'hudah, each on his own property.

<sup>22</sup> The overseer of the L'vi'im in Yerushalayim was 'Uzi the son of Bani, the son of Hashavyah, the son of Matanyah, the son of Mikha, from the descendants of Asaf the singers; [he was] in charge of the work of the house of God. <sup>23</sup> For they were subject to the king's orders; and there was a fixed schedule for the singers, assigning them their daily duties. <sup>24</sup> P' tachyah the son of Mesheizav'el, from the descendants of Zerach the son of Y'hudah, was the king's deputy in all affairs concerning the people.

<sup>10</sup> Yeshua was the father of Yoyakim, Yoyakim was the father of Elyashiv, Elyashiv was the father of Yoyada, <sup>11</sup> Yoyada was the father of Yonatan, and Yonatan was the father of Yadua.

<sup>25</sup> Mattanyah, Bakbukyah, 'Ovadyah, Meshulam, Talmon and 'Akuv were the gatekeepers who guarded the supplies kept at the gates. <sup>26</sup> This was in the days of Yoyakim the son of Yeshua, the son of Yotzadak, and in the days of Nechemyah the governor and of 'Ezra the cohen and Torah-teacher.

<sup>30</sup> The cohanim and L'vi'im first purified themselves; then they purified the people, the gates and the wall; <sup>31</sup> and after that I brought the leaders of Y'hudah up onto the wall and appointed two large choirs to give thanks and to walk in procession. One went to the right on the wall toward the Dung Gate. <sup>32</sup> After them went Hosha'yah and half of the leaders of Y'hudah, <sup>33</sup> together with 'Azaryah, 'Ezra, Meshulam, <sup>34</sup> Y'hudah, Binyamin, Sh'ma'yah and Yirmeyah. <sup>35</sup> With them were some of the sons of the cohanim carrying trumpets, namely, Z'kharyah the son of Yonatan the son of Sh'ma'yah, the son of Mattanyah, the son of Mikhayah, the son of Zakur, the son of Asaf, <sup>36</sup> and his kinsmen, Sh'ma'yah, 'Azar'el, Milalai, Gilalai, Ma'Ai, N'tan'el, Y'hudah and Hanani, who had the musical instruments of David the man of God. 'Ezra the Torah-teacher led them. <sup>37</sup> At the Fountain Gate they went straight ahead up the steps to the City of David, where the wall goes up, passed above the house of David, and went on to the Water Gate on the east.

the Old City, to the Fish Gate, the Tower of Hanan'el and the Tower of the Hundred, as far as the Sheep Gate, and halted at the Prison Gate.

<sup>44</sup> At that time, men were appointed to be in charge of the storerooms for supplies, contributions, firstfruits and tenths, and to gather into them, from the fields belonging to the cities, the portions prescribed by the Torah for the cohanim and L'vi'im. For Y'hudah rejoiced over the cohanim and L'vi'im who took their position <sup>45</sup> carrying out the duties of their God and the duties of purification, as also did the singers and gatekeepers, in accordance with the order of David and of Shlomo his son. <sup>46</sup> For back in the days of David and Asaf, there had been leaders for those singing the songs of praise and thanksgiving to God. <sup>47</sup> So in the days of Z'rubavel and in the days of Nechemyah, all Isra'el gave portions to the singers and gatekeepers as required daily. They set aside a portion for the L'vi'im, who, in turn set aside a portion for the descendants of Aharon.

13 <sup>1</sup> It was also at that time, when they were reading in the scroll of Moshe, that it was found written that no 'Amoni or Mo'avi may ever enter the assembly of God, <sup>2</sup> because they did not supply the people of Isra'el with food and water, but hired Bil'am against them to put a curse on them — although our God turned the curse into a blessing. <sup>3</sup> On hearing the Torah, they separated from Isra'el everyone of mixed ancestry.

<sup>4</sup> Also, prior to this, Elyashiv the cohen, who had been put in charge of the storage rooms in the house of our God, and who was related by marriage to Toviyah, <sup>5</sup> had prepared for him a large room where formerly they had stored the grain offerings, frankincense, equipment and the tenths of grain, wine and olive oil ordered to be given to the L'vi'im, singers and gatekeepers, and the contributions for the cohanim.

<sup>6</sup> During all this time I wasn't present in Yerushalayim; because in the thirty-second year of Artach'shashta king of Bavel, I went to see the king; then, after some time had passed, I asked permission from the king <sup>7</sup> and returned to Yerushalayim, where I found out about the terrible thing Elyashiv had done for Toviyah by preparing a room for him in the courtyards of the house of our God. <sup>8</sup> I was so furious that I threw all Toviyah's household goods out of the room. <sup>9</sup> Then, at my order, they cleansed the rooms; and I brought back the equipment of the house of God, the grain offerings and frankincense.

<sup>10</sup> I also learned that the portions for the L'vi'im had not been given to them, so that the L'vi'im and singers who were supposed to be doing the work had deserted, each one to his own farm. <sup>11</sup> I disputed with the leaders, demanding, "Why is the house of God abandoned?" I gathered the L'vi'im together and restored them to their stations; <sup>12</sup> and then all Y'hudah brought the tenth of grain, wine and olive oil to the storerooms. <sup>13</sup> To supervise the storerooms I appointed Shelemyah the cohen, Tzadok the Torah-teacher and, from the L'vi'im, P'dayah; assisting them was Hanan the son of Zakur, the son of Mattanyah; for these were considered reliable. Their duty was to make the distribution to their kinsmen. <sup>14</sup> My God, remember me for this; don't wipe out my good deeds which I have done for the house of my God and for his service!

<sup>15</sup> During this time I saw in Y'hudah some people who were treading winepresses on Shabbat, also bringing in heaps of grain and loading donkeys with it, likewise wine, grapes, figs and all kinds of loads; and they were bringing them into Yerushalayim on the day of Shabbat. On the day when they were planning to sell the food, I warned them not to. <sup>16</sup> There were also living there people from Tzor who brought in fish and all kinds of goods, and sold them on Shabbat to the people in Y'hudah and even in Yerushalayim. <sup>17</sup> I disputed with the nobles of Y'hudah, demanding of them, "What is this terrible thing you are doing, profaning the day of Shabbat? <sup>18</sup>Didn't your ancestors do this, and didn't our God bring all this disaster on us and on this city? Yet you are bringing still more fury against Isra'el by profaning Shabbat!" <sup>19</sup>So when the gates of Yerushalayim began to grow dark before Shabbat, I ordered that the doors be shut; and I ordered that they not be reopened until after Shabbat. I put some of my servants in charge of the gates, to see to it that no loads be brought in on Shabbat. <sup>20</sup> The merchants and sellers of all kinds of goods spent the night outside Yerushalayim once or twice, <sup>21</sup> until I warned them, “Why are you spending the night by the wall? Do it again, and I’ll use force against you!” From then on they stopped coming on Shabbat. <sup>22</sup> Then I ordered the L’vi’im to purify themselves and come and guard the gates, in order to keep the day of Shabbat holy. My God, remember this too for me, and have mercy on me in keeping with the greatness of your grace!

<sup>23</sup> Also during this time I saw the Judeans who had married women from Ashdod, ‘Amon and Mo’av; <sup>24</sup> and their children, who spoke half in the language of Ashdod and couldn’t speak in the language the Judeans spoke but only in the language of each people. <sup>25</sup> I disputed with them and cursed them, and I beat some of them up and pulled out their hair. Then I made them swear by God, “You will not give your daughters as wives for their sons or take their daughters as wives for your sons or for yourselves. <sup>26</sup> Wasn’t it by doing these things that Shlomo king of Isra’el sinned? There was no king like him among many nations, and his God loved him, and God made him king over all Isra’el; nevertheless the foreign women caused even him to sin. <sup>27</sup> Are we to give in to you and let you continue in this very great evil, breaking faith with our God by marrying foreign women?”

<sup>28</sup> One of the sons of Yoyada the son of Elyashiv, the cohen hagadol, had become son-in-law to Sanvalat the Horoni; so I drove him out of my presence. <sup>29</sup> My God, remember them; because they have defiled the office of cohen and the covenant of the cohanim and L’vi’im.

<sup>30</sup> Thus I cleansed them of everything foreign, and I had the cohanim and L’vi’im resume their duties, each one in his appointed task. <sup>31</sup> I also made provision for the delivery of wood at stated times, and for the firstfruits. My God, remember me favorably.

1 CHRONICLES

<sup>32</sup> The sons of K' turah Avraham's concubine: she bore Zimran, Yokshan, Medan, Midyan, Yishbak and Shuach. The sons of Yokshan: Sh'va and D'dan. <sup>33</sup> The sons of Midyan: 'Eifah, 'Efer, Hanokh, Avida and Elda'ah. These were all descendants of K'turah.

<sup>3</sup> The sons of Y'hudah: 'Er, Onan and Shelah; the mother of these three was Bat-Shua the Kena'anit. 'Er, Y'hudah's firstborn, was wicked from ADONAI's perspective, so he killed him. <sup>4</sup> Tamar his daughter-in-law bore him Peretz and Zerach; thus Y'hudah had five sons altogether.

The sons of Hur the firstborn of Efratah: Shoval the father of Kiryat-Ye‘arim,<sup>51</sup> Salma the father of Beit-Lechem and Haref the father of Beit-Gader.<sup>52</sup> Shoval the father of Kiryat-Ye‘arim had sons: HaRo‘eh and half of the [inhabitants of] M’nuchot.<sup>53</sup> The families of Kiryat-Ye‘arim: the Yitri, the Puti, the Shumati and the Mishra‘i; from them came the Tzor‘ati and the Eshta‘uli.<sup>54</sup> The sons of Salma: Beit-Lechem, the N’tofati, ‘Atrot-Beit-Yo‘av, half of the Manachati, the Tzor‘i,<sup>55</sup> the families of scribes that lived in Ya‘betz, the Tir‘atim, the Shim‘atim and the Sukhatim. These are the Kinim, who came from Hamat, father of the house of Rekhav.

Elishama, Elyada and Elifelet. <sup>9</sup> All these were sons of David, apart from the sons of the concubines; Tamar was their sister.

<sup>5</sup> Ashur the father of T'koa had two wives, Hel'ah and Na'arah. <sup>6</sup> Na'arah bore him Achuzam, Hefer, Teimni and Achashtari; these were the sons of Na'arah. <sup>7</sup> The sons of Hel'ah were Tzeret, Tzochar and Etnan. <sup>8</sup> Kotz fathered 'Anuv, Tzovevah and the families of Acharchel the son of Harum. <sup>9</sup> Ya'betz was honored more than his brothers; his mother called him Ya'betz, she explained, "because I bore him in pain [Hebrew: 'otzev]." <sup>10</sup> Ya'betz called on the God of Isra'el: "Please bless me by enlarging my territory. May your hand be with me! Keep me from harm, so that it will not cause me pain [Hebrew: 'atzbi]." God granted his request.

<sup>13</sup> The sons of K'naz: 'Otni'el and S'rayah. The son of 'Otni'el: Hatat. <sup>14</sup> M'onotai fathered 'Ofrah, and S'rayah fathered Yo'av the father of Gei-Harashim; for they were craftsmen [Hebrew: harashim].

<sup>15</sup> The sons of Kalev the son of Y'funeh: 'Iru, Elah and Na'am. The son of Elah: K'naz. <sup>16</sup> The sons of Yehallel'el: Zif, Zifah, Tirya and Asar'el. <sup>17-18</sup> The sons of 'Ezrah: Yeter, Mered, 'Efer and Yalon. These are the sons of Bityah the daughter of Pharaoh, whom Mered took as his wife: she conceived Miryam, Shamai and Yishbach the father of Esht'moa; while his Jewish wife bore Yered the father of G'dor, Hever the father of Sokho and Y'kuti'el the father of Zanoach.

the son of Alon the son of Y'da'yah the son of Shimri the son of Sh'ma'yah — <sup>38</sup> these mentioned by name were princes in their clans, and their fathers' houses increased greatly. <sup>39</sup> Seeking pasture for their flocks they went to the entrance of Geder, as far as the east side of the valley. <sup>40</sup> They found rich, good pastures; and the land was spacious, quiet and peaceful. Those who had lived there previously belonged to Ham. <sup>41</sup> Those whose names are written above came during the time of Hizkiyahu king of Y'hudah; they attacked their tents and the Me'unim who were found there, destroyed them completely, and have lived there in place of them to this day; because there was pasture there for their flocks. <sup>42</sup> Some 500 of them who were descendants of Shim'on went to Mount Se'ir under the leadership of P'latyah, Ne'aryah, Refayah and Uzi'el the sons of Yish'i. <sup>43</sup> They attacked the remnant of 'Amalek who had escaped and have lived there to this day.

These are the sons of Avichayil the son of Huri the son of Yaroach the son of Gil 'ad the son of Mikha' el the son of Yeshishai the son of Yachdo the son of Buz; <sup>15</sup> Achi the son of 'Avdi'el the son of Guni was leader of their fathers' house. <sup>16</sup> They lived in Gil'ad, in Bashan, in its towns and in all the pasture lands of the plain as far as their borders. <sup>17</sup> All these were listed in genealogies during the times of Yotam king of Y'hudah and Yarov'am king of Isra'el.

These are the families of the L’vi’im according to father’s clans: <sup>5(20)</sup> [The descendants] of Gershon: his son Livni, his son Yachat, his son Zimah, <sup>6(21)</sup> his son Yo’ach, his son ‘Iddo, his son Zerach, his son Ye’atrai.

<sup>34(49)</sup> But Aharon and his sons were the ones who offered on the altar of burnt offering and on the altar of incense for all the service of the Especially Holy Place and to make atonement for Isra'el, in keeping with all that Moshe the servant of God had ordered to be done. <sup>35(50)</sup> These are the descendants of Aharon: his son El'azar, his son Pinchas, his son Avishua, <sup>36(51)</sup> his son Buki, his son 'Uzi, his son Z'rachyah, <sup>37(52)</sup> his son M'rayot, his son Amaryah, his son Achituv, <sup>38(53)</sup> his son Tzadok and his son Achima'atz.

<sup>39(54)</sup> These were the settlements of the descendants of Aharon according to the territories assigned them: to the descendants of Aharon, of the clans of the K'hati — for the first lot fell to them — <sup>40(55)</sup> they gave Hevron in the land of Y'hudah with the open land surrounding it, <sup>41(56)</sup> but the fields and the dependent villages of the city they gave to Kalev the son of Y'funeh. <sup>42(57)</sup> To the descendants of Aharon they gave the city of refuge Hevron, also Livnah with its surrounding open land, Yatir, Esht'moa with its surrounding open land, <sup>43(58)</sup> Hilan with its surrounding open land, D'vir with its surrounding open land, <sup>44(59)</sup> 'Ashan with its surrounding open land, Beit-Shemesh with its surrounding open land; <sup>45(60)</sup> and out of the tribe of Binyamin: Geva with its surrounding open land, 'Alemet with its surrounding open land and 'Anatot with its surrounding open land. All the cities for all their clans amounted to thirteen cities.

Re'uven, Gad and Z'vulun. <sup>49(64)</sup> So the people of Isra'el gave the L'vi'im these cities with the surrounding open land. <sup>50(65)</sup> From the tribes of the descendants of Y'hudah, Shim'on and Binyamin they assigned these cities mentioned by name.

<sup>62(77)</sup> To the rest [of the L'vi'im], the descendants of M'rari, were given, from the tribe of Z'vulun: Rimmono with the surrounding open land and Tavor with the surrounding open land; <sup>63(78)</sup> and beyond the Yarden at Yericho, on the east side of the Yarden, they were given, from the tribe of Re'uven: Betzer in the desert with the surrounding open land, Yahatz with the surrounding open land, <sup>64(79)</sup> K'demot with the surrounding open land and Mefa'at with the surrounding open land; <sup>65(80)</sup> and from the tribe of Gad: Ramot in Gil'ad with the surrounding open land, Machanayim with the surrounding open land, <sup>66(81)</sup> Heshbon with the surrounding open land and Ya'zer with the surrounding open land.

<sup>3</sup> The son of ‘Uzi was Yizrachyah, and the sons of Yizrachyah were: Mikha’el, ‘Ovadyah, Yo’el and Yishiyah — five, all of them leaders. <sup>4</sup> With them, by their generations, in their fathers’ clans, were army troops organized for war, 36,000 of them, because they had many women and children. <sup>5</sup> Their kinsmen among all the clans of Yissakhar, strong, brave men, numbered 87,000, listed in genealogical records.

<sup>7</sup> The sons of Bela were: Etzbon, ‘Uzi, ‘Uzi’el, Yerimot and ‘Iri — five; they were leaders of fathers’ clans, strong, brave men. They numbered 22,034, listed in genealogical records.

<sup>8</sup> The sons of Bekher were: Z’mirah, Yo’ash, Eli’ezer, Elyo’enai, ‘Omri, Yeremot, Aviyah, ‘Anatot and ‘Alemet; all these were sons of Bekher. <sup>9</sup> Listed in genealogical records by generations under leaders of fathers’ clans, who were strong, brave men, were 20,200.

<sup>10</sup> The son of Y’dia’el was Bilhan. The sons of Bilhan were: Ye’ush, Binyamin, Ehud, Kena’anah, Zeitan, Tarshish and Achishachar. <sup>11</sup> All these were descendants of Y’dia’el, leaders of their fathers’ clans, who were brave, strong men; they numbered 17,200, all fit to fight with the army.

<sup>14</sup> The descendants of M’nasheh: his concubine the woman from Aram bore Makhir the father of Gil’ad; Asri’el [Gil’ad’s son] was descended from her. <sup>15</sup> Makhir’s wife was from the families of Hupim and Shupim, and his sister’s name was Ma’akhah. M’nasheh’s second son was Tz’lof’chad, and Tz’lof’chad had daughters. <sup>16</sup> Ma’akhah the wife of Makhir bore a son whom she named Peresh, the name of his brother was Sheresh, and his sons were Ulam and Rekem. <sup>17</sup> The son of Ulam was B’dan. These were the descendants of Gil’ad the son of Makhir the son of M’nasheh. <sup>18</sup> His sister Hammolekhet [the governor] bore Ish-Hod, Avi’ezer and Machlah. <sup>19</sup> The sons of Sh’mida were Achyan, Sh’khem, Lik’chi and Ani’am.

Bavel because of their unfaithfulness. <sup>2</sup> The first people to return to their possessions in the cities were the Isra'elim, the cohanim, the L'vi'im and the temple servants. <sup>3</sup> In Yerushalayim lived some descendants of Y'hudah, some descendants of Binyamin and some descendants of Efrayim and of M'nasheh: <sup>4</sup> 'Utai the son of 'Ammihud, the son of 'Omri, the son of Imri, the son of Bani, from the descendants of Peretz the son of Y'hudah. <sup>5</sup> Of the Shiloni: 'Asayah the firstborn and his sons. <sup>6</sup> Of the descendants of Zerach: Ye'u'el and their kinsmen, 690. <sup>7</sup> Of the descendants of Binyamin: Salu the son of Meshulam the son of Hodavyah the son of Hasnu'ah, <sup>8</sup> Yivneyah the son of Yerocham, Elah the son of 'Uzi the son of Mikhri, Meshulam the son of Sh'fatyah the son of Re'u'el the son of Yivneyah, <sup>9</sup> and their kinsmen, according to their generations — altogether 956. All these men were leaders of fathers' clans.

<sup>10</sup> Of the cohanim: Y'da'yah, Y'hoyariv, Yakhin, <sup>11</sup> 'Azaryah the son of Hilkiyah the son of Meshulam the son of Tzadok the son of M'rayot the son of Achituv the ruler of the house of God, <sup>12</sup> 'Adayah the son of Yerocham the son of Pash'chur the son of Malkiyah, Ma'asai the son of 'Adi'el the son of Yachzerah the son of Meshulam the son of Meshilmit the son of Immer, <sup>13</sup> and their kinsmen, leaders of their fathers' clans, 1,760 very competent men available for serving in the house of God.

<sup>17</sup> The gatekeepers: Shalum, 'Akuv, Talmon, Achiman and their kinsmen; Shalum was the chief. <sup>18</sup> Previously they had guarded the king's gate to the east; they were gatekeepers for the camp of the descendants of Levi. <sup>19</sup> Shalum the son of Kore the son of Evyasaf the son of Korach and his kinsmen from his father's clan the Korchim were in charge of the work of the service, keepers of the gates of the tent. Their ancestors had been in charge of the camp of ADONAI, keepers of the entryway. <sup>20</sup> Pinchas the son of El'azar had been ruler over them long before; ADONAI had been with him. <sup>21</sup> Z'kharyah the son of Meshelemyah guarded the entryway to the tent of meeting. <sup>22</sup> All these chosen to be gatekeepers numbered 212. Their genealogies were recorded in their towns; they had been appointed to their positions by David and Sh'mu'el the seer.<sup>23</sup> They and their descendants supervised the gates of the house of ADONAI, that is, the house of the tent, by periods of duty.<sup>24</sup> The gatekeepers served on the four sides, east, west, north and south.<sup>25</sup> From time to time their kinsmen had to come in from their towns to help them for seven days.

<sup>26</sup> For the four chief gatekeepers were on permanent duty; they were the L'vi'im in charge of accommodations and supplies in the house of God.<sup>27</sup> They spent their nights in the vicinity of the house of God, because they were in charge of it; they were responsible for opening it up each morning.

<sup>28</sup> Some of [the L'vi'im] were in charge of the articles used for the service; they had to keep records of them when bringing them in and out.<sup>29</sup> Others were in charge of the equipment, the holy utensils, the fine flour, the wine, the olive oil, the frankincense and the spices.<sup>30</sup> Some of the sons of the cohanim mixed together the ingredients for the perfumes.<sup>31</sup> Mattityah, one of the L'vi'im, who was the firstborn of Shalum the Korchi, was permanently in charge of baking operations.<sup>32</sup> Some of their kinsmen, from the descendants of the K'hati, were in charge of preparing the showbread every Shabbat.<sup>33</sup> Also there were the singers, heads of fathers' clans among the L'vi'im. They lived in the accommodations and were free from other kinds of service, for they were employed in their own work day and night.<sup>34</sup> These were heads of fathers' clans among the L'vi'im, according to their generations, and they were leaders; they lived in Yerushalayim.

<sup>7</sup> When all the men of Isra'el who were in the valley saw them fleeing and that Sha'ul and his sons were dead, they abandoned their cities and fled; then the P'lishtim came and lived in them.

<sup>8</sup> The following day, when the P'lishtim came to strip the dead, they found Sha'ul and his sons lying dead on Mount Gilboa. <sup>9</sup> They stripped him, then took his head and his armor and sent them all over the territory of the P'lishtim to carry the news to their idols and to the people. <sup>10</sup> They put his armor in the temple of their gods and fastened his skull to the temple of Dagon. <sup>11</sup> When everyone in Yavesh-Gil'ad heard all that the P'lishtim had done to Sha'ul, <sup>12</sup> all their warriors set out, took away the body of Sha'ul and the bodies of his sons, brought them to Yavesh, buried their bones under the pistachio tree in Yavesh and fasted seven days.

<sup>13</sup> So Sha'ul died for the transgression he committed against ADONAI, because of the word of ADONAI that he did not keep and because he sought the counsel of a spirit <sup>14</sup> instead of consulting ADONAI. Therefore ADONAI put him to death and turned the rulership over to David the son of Yishai.

11 <sup>1</sup> Then all Isra'el gathered themselves to David in Hebron and said, "Here, we are your own flesh and bone. <sup>2</sup> In the past, even when Sha'ul was king, it was you who led Isra'el's military campaigns; and ADONAI your God said to you, 'You will shepherd my people Isra'el, and you will be chief over my people Isra'el.'" <sup>3</sup> So all the leaders of Isra'el came to the king in Hebron; and David made a covenant with them in Hebron in the presence of ADONAI. Then they anointed David king over Isra'el, as ADONAI had said through Sh'mu'el.

<sup>4</sup> David and all Isra'el went to Yerushalayim, also known as Y'vus; and the Y'vusi, the inhabitants of that region, were there. <sup>5</sup> The inhabitants of Y'vus taunted David by saying, "You won't get in here!" Nevertheless, David captured the stronghold of Tziyon, also known now as the City of David. <sup>6</sup> David said, "Whoever attacks the Y'vusi first will be commander-in-chief." Yo'av the son of Tz'ruyah attacked first and was made commander.

Yashov'am son of a Hakhmoni, the chief officer; he is the one who raised his spear against 300 men and killed them in a single encounter.

<sup>12</sup> After him was El'azar the son of Dodo the Achochi, one of the three warriors. <sup>13</sup> He was with David at Pas-Damim, where the P'lishtim had assembled for battle. There was a plot of ground full of barley; and when the people fled from the P'lishtim, <sup>14</sup> they stood in the middle of the plot and defended it, killing the P'lishtim; and ADONAI saved them with a great victory.

<sup>15</sup> Three of the thirty leaders went down to the rock and came to David during harvest season at the cave of 'Adulam when the army of the P'lishtim had set up camp in the Refa'im Valley. <sup>16</sup> At that time David was in the fortress, and the garrison of the P'lishtim was in Beit-Lechem. <sup>17</sup> David had a craving and said, "I wish someone could give me water to drink from the well by the gate of Beit-Lechem!" <sup>18</sup> The three broke through the army of the P'lishtim, drew water from the well by the gate of Beit-Lechem, took it and brought it to David. But David would not drink it; instead, he poured it out to ADONAI <sup>19</sup> and said, "My God forbid that I should do such a thing! Am I to drink the blood of these men who went and put their lives in jeopardy? They risked their lives to bring it!" — and he would not consent to drink it. These are the things the three warrior-heroes did.

<sup>20</sup> Avishai the brother of Yo'av was chief of these three. He raised his spear against 300 men and killed them; thus he had a reputation even among the three. <sup>21</sup> Of the three in the second rank he had the most honor and was therefore made their leader; however, he did not achieve the status of the first three.

<sup>22</sup> B'nayah the son of Y'hoyada, the son of a valiant man of Kavtze'el, was a man of many exploits. He struck down two lion-hearted men of Mo'av. One day when it was snowing, he went down into a pit and killed a lion. <sup>23</sup> Here is how he killed an Egyptian, a man who was very tall, seven-and-a-half feet: the Egyptian had a spear in his hand the size of a weaver's beam; he went down to him with only a stick, seized the spear from the Egyptian's hand and killed him with his own spear. <sup>24</sup> These are things that B'nayah the son of Y'hoyada did that earned him a name among the three warrior-heroes. <sup>25</sup> He had more honor than the thirty, but he did not achieve the status of the first three. David put him in command of his personal guard.

‘Asah’el the brother of Yo’av,

Elchanan the son of Dodo, from Beit-Lechem,

Heletz the P’loni,

<sup>28</sup> ‘Ira son of ‘Ikesh from T’koa,

Avi‘ezer from ‘Anatot,

‘Ilai the Achochi,

Heled the son of Ba‘anah the N’tofati,

<sup>31</sup> Ittai the son of Rivai from Giv‘ah, from the descendants of Binyamin, B'nayahu from Pir'aton,

<sup>32</sup> Hurai from the vadis of Ga'ash,

Avi'el the 'Arvati,

<sup>33</sup> 'Azmavet the Bacharumi,

Elyachba the Sha'alvoni,

Y'honatan the son of Shageh the Harari,

<sup>35</sup> Achi'am the son of Sakhar the Harari,

Elifal the son of Ur,

Achiyah the P'loni,

Na'arai the son of Ezbai,

Mivchar the son of Hagri,

Nachrai the Be'eroti, armor-bearer of Yo'av the son of Tz'ruyah,

Garev the Yitri,

<sup>41</sup>

Uriyah the Hitti,

Zavad the son of Achlai,

<sup>42</sup>

‘Adina the son of Shiza the Re’uveni, a leader among the Re’uveni, and thirty with him,

<sup>43</sup>

Hanan the son of Ma‘akhah,

Yoshafat the Mitni,

<sup>44</sup>

‘Uziah the ‘Asht’rati,

Shama and Ye‘i’el the sons of Hotam the ‘Aro‘eri,

<sup>45</sup>

Y’dia‘el the son of Shimri,

Yocha his brother, the Titzi,

<sup>46</sup>

Eli‘el from Machavim,

Yerivai and Yoshavyah the sons of Elna‘am,

Yitmah the Mo‘avi,

<sup>47</sup>

Eli‘el,

‘Oved,

and Ya‘asi‘el from M’tzovayah.

<sup>17(16)</sup> From the descendants of Binyamin and Y'hudah a number came to David at the fortress. <sup>18(17)</sup> When David went out to meet them, he said, "If you are coming to me in peace to help me, my heart will be bonded to yours. But if you are coming to betray me to my enemies, then, since I have done nothing wrong, may the God of our fathers see it and judge." <sup>19(18)</sup> Then the Spirit covered 'Amasai the chief commander, and he said:

"We are yours, David;

on your side, son of Yishai!

Peace, peace to you,

and peace to your helpers;

for your God helps you."

David welcomed them and made them senior officers.

<sup>20(19)</sup> From M'nasheh some defected to David when he was about to go with the P'lishtim to fight against Sha'ul; but they ended up not helping them; because the rulers of the P'lishtim, after consultation, sent David away, saying, "He will defect to his master Sha'ul at the cost of our heads."

<sup>23(22)</sup> Indeed, reinforcements to assist David reached him daily, until there was a great army, like the army of God. <sup>24(23)</sup> Following are the numbers of those who came armed for war to David in Hevron, in order to transfer to him the kingdom of Sha'ul, according to what ADONAI had said.

<sup>27(26)</sup> Of the descendants of Levi, there were 4,600. <sup>28(27)</sup> Y'hoyada was the leader of the house of Aharon, and with him were 3,700; <sup>29(28)</sup> also Tzadok, a young man, strong and brave, with twenty-two commanders from his father's family.

<sup>30(29)</sup> Of the descendants of Binyamin the kinsmen of Sha'ul, there were 3,000; for up until then, the majority of them had remained loyal to the house of Sha'ul.

<sup>31(30)</sup> Of the descendants of Efrayim, there were 20,800 strong, brave men, well known in their fathers' families.

<sup>32(31)</sup> Of the half-tribe of M'nasheh, 18,000 were designated by name to come and make David king.

<sup>33(32)</sup> Of the descendants of Yissakhar, men who understood the times and knew what Isra'el ought to do, there were 200 leaders, and all their kinsmen were under their command.

<sup>34(33)</sup> Of Z'vulun, 50,000 men were fit for military service, experienced in war and able to use all kinds of weapons; they were brave, and none was doubleminded.

<sup>38(37)</sup> On the other side of the Yarden, from the Re'uvani, the Gadi and the half-tribe of M'nasheh, there were 120,000 with all kinds of weapons for battle.

<sup>39(38)</sup> All these soldiers who were experienced in war came to Hebron wholeheartedly to make David king over all Isra'el, and all the rest from Isra'el were single-hearted in wanting to make David king. <sup>40(39)</sup> They remained there with David for three days, eating and drinking, for their kinsmen had prepared for them. <sup>41(40)</sup> Moreover, those who were near them — and even those as far as Yissakhar, Z'vulun and Naftali — brought food on donkeys, camels, mules and oxen: baked goods, fig cakes, clusters of raisins, wine, oil, and oxen and sheep in abundance; for there was joy in Isra'el.

13 <sup>1</sup> David consulted with the commanders of thousands and of hundreds — with every leader. <sup>2</sup> Then David said to the entire assembly of Isra'el, “If it seems good to you, and if it is the will of ADONAI our God, let's send messengers to the rest of our kinsmen in the land of Isra'el, and also to the cohanim and L'vi'im in their cities with surrounding open land, asking them to join us; <sup>3</sup> and let's bring back the ark of our God to ourselves, since we didn't go after it when Sha'ul was king.” <sup>4</sup> The whole assembly said they would do this, for in the view of all the people it seemed right.

<sup>5</sup> So David summoned all Isra'el to come together, from Shichor in Egypt all the way to the entrance of Hamat, to bring the ark of God from Kiryat-Ye'arim. <sup>6</sup> David went up with all Isra'el to Ba'alah, that is, Kiryat-Ye'arim, which belonged to Y'hudah, to bring up from there the ark of God, ADONAI, who is enthroned above the k'ruvim, bearing the Name. <sup>7</sup> They set the ark of God on a new cart from the house of Avinadav, with 'Uza and Achyo, the sons of Avinadav, driving the cart. <sup>8</sup> David and all Isra'el celebrated in the presence of God with all their strength, with songs, lyres, lutes, tambourines, cymbals and trumpets.

<sup>9</sup> When they arrived at Kidon's threshing-floor, the oxen stumbled; and 'Uza put out his hand to steady the ark. <sup>10</sup> But ADONAI's anger blazed up against 'Uza, and he struck him down, because he had put out his hand and touched the ark, so that he died there before God. <sup>11</sup> It upset David that ADONAI had broken out against 'Uza; that place has been called Peretz-'Uza [breaking-out of 'Uza] ever since. <sup>12</sup> That day, God frightened David; he asked, “How can I bring the ark of God to me?” <sup>13</sup> So David didn’t bring the ark into the City of David; rather, David carried it aside into the house of ‘Oved-’Edom the Gitti. <sup>14</sup> The ark of God stayed with the family of ‘Oved-’Edom the Gitti in his house for three months; and ADONAI blessed the household of ‘Oved-’Edom and all he had.

15 <sup>1</sup> David erected buildings for himself in the City of David, prepared a place for the ark of God, and set up a tent for it. <sup>2</sup> Then David said, “No one but the L’vi’im should carry the ark of God, because ADONAI chose them to carry the ark of ADONAI and to serve him forever.”

<sup>11</sup> David called for Tzadok and Evyatar the cohanim and for the L’vi’im — Uri’el, ‘Asayah, Yo’el, Sh’mayah, Eli’el and ‘Amminadav — <sup>12</sup> and said to them, “You are the clan leaders of the L’vi’im. Consecrate yourselves, both you and your kinsmen, to bring the ark of ADONAI the God of Isra’el up to the place I have prepared for it. <sup>13</sup> It’s because you weren’t there the first time that ADONAI our God broke out against us. We didn’t seek him out according to the rule.” <sup>14</sup> So the cohanim and L’vi’im consecrated themselves to bring up the ark of ADONAI the God of Isra’el; <sup>15</sup> and the L’vi’im carried the ark of God on their shoulders with the poles on it, as Moshe had ordered, according to what ADONAI had said.

K'nanyahu, chief of the L'vi'im, was in charge of the singing; he was put in charge of the singing because he was skillful at it. <sup>23</sup> Berekhyahu and Elkanah were gatekeepers for the ark. <sup>24</sup> Sh'vanyahu, Yoshafat, N'tan'el, 'Amasai, Z'kharyahu, B'nayahu and Eli'ezer the cohanim blew the trumpets in front of the ark of God. 'Oved-Edom and Yechiyah were gatekeepers for the ark.

<sup>25</sup> So David, the leaders of Isra'el and the commanders over thousands went to bring up the ark for the covenant of ADONAI out from the house of 'Oved-Edom with joy. <sup>26</sup> Since God was helping the L'vi'im who were carrying the ark for the covenant of ADONAI, they sacrificed seven young bulls and seven rams. <sup>27</sup> David, all the L'vi'im bearing the ark, the singers and K'nanyah the music leader for the singers were all wearing linen cloaks; and David was also wearing a linen ritual vest. <sup>28</sup> So all Isra'el brought up the ark for the covenant of ADONAI with shouting; blowing on shofars and trumpets; and cymbals sounding with lutes and lyres. <sup>29</sup> As the ark for the covenant of ADONAI entered the City of David, Mikhal the daughter of Sha'ul, watching from the window, saw King David dancing and celebrating; and she was filled with contempt for him.

16 <sup>1</sup> They brought the ark of God in and put it in the tent that David had set up for it; and they offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before God. <sup>2</sup> When David had finished offering the burnt offering and peace offerings, he blessed the people in the name of ADONAI. <sup>3</sup> Then he distributed to everyone in Isra'el, to everyone there, both men and women, a loaf of bread, a portion of meat and a raisin cake.

<sup>4</sup> He appointed certain L'vi'im to serve in front of the ark of ADONAI, to celebrate, and to thank and praise ADONAI the God of Isra'el: <sup>5</sup> Asaf, the leader; assisting him, Z'kharyah; then Ye'i'el, Sh'miramot, Yechi'el, Mattityahu, Eli'av, B'nayahu, 'Oved-Edom and Ye'i'el playing lutes and lyres, while Asaf played cymbals. <sup>6</sup> B'nayah and Yachzi'el the cohanim blew the trumpets continually before the ark for the covenant of God. <sup>7</sup> It was on that same day that David first ordered that thanks be given to ADONAI through Asaf and his kinsmen:

Make his deeds known among the peoples.

Talk about all his wonders.

<sup>10</sup> Glory in his holy name;

let those seeking A<sub>DONAI</sub> have joyful hearts.

<sup>11</sup> Seek A<sub>DONAI</sub> and his strength;

always seek his presence.

<sup>12</sup> Remember the wonders he has done,

his signs and his spoken judgments.

<sup>13</sup> You descendants of Isra'el his servant,

you offspring of Ya'akov, his chosen ones:

<sup>14</sup> he is A<sub>DONAI</sub> our God;

his judgments are everywhere on earth.

<sup>15</sup> Remember his covenant forever,

the word he commanded to a thousand generations,

the oath he swore to Yitz'chak

for Isra'el as an everlasting covenant:

<sup>18</sup> “To you I will give the land of Kena‘an
as your allotted heritage.”

<sup>19</sup> When you were but few in number,
and not only few, but aliens there too,

<sup>20</sup> wandering from nation to nation,
from this kingdom to that people,

<sup>21</sup> he allowed no one to oppress them.

Yes, for their sakes he rebuked even kings:

<sup>23</sup> Sing to A<sub>DONAI</sub>, all the earth!

Proclaim his victory day after day!

his wonders among all peoples!

<sup>25</sup> For A<sub>DONAI</sub> is great, and greatly to be praised;
he is to be feared more than all gods.

but A<sub>DONAI</sub> made the heavens.

In his presence are honor and majesty;
in his place, strength and joy.

<sup>28</sup> Give A<sub>DONAI</sub> his due, you families from the peoples,
give A<sub>DONAI</sub> his due of glory and strength;

<sup>29</sup> give A<sub>DONAI</sub> the glory due to his name;
bring an offering, and come into his presence.
Worship A<sub>DONAI</sub> in splendid, holy attire.

<sup>30</sup> Tremble before him, all the earth!
The world is firmly established, immovable.

<sup>31</sup> Let the heavens rejoice; let the earth be glad;
let them say among the nations, “A<sub>DONAI</sub> is king!”

<sup>32</sup> Let the sea roar, and everything in it;
let the fields exult, and all that is in them.

<sup>33</sup> Then the trees in the forest will sing before A<sub>DONAI</sub>, because he has come to judge the earth.

<sup>34</sup> Give thanks to A<sub>DONAI</sub>; for he is good,
for his grace continues forever.

<sup>35</sup> Say: “Save us, God who can save us!

Gather and rescue us from the nations;
so that we can thank your holy name
and glory in praising you.

from eternity past to eternity future!”

All the people said, “Amen!” and praised ADONAI.

<sup>37</sup> So, there before the ark for the covenant of ADONAI, David left Asaf and his kinsmen to perform the service regularly before the ark, as each day’s work required; <sup>38</sup> also ‘Oved-Edom with their kinsmen, sixty-eight of them — ‘Oved-Edom the son of Y’dutun and Hosah were gatekeepers.

17 <sup>1</sup> After David had been living in his palace awhile, he said to Natan the prophet, “Here, I’m living in a cedar-wood palace; but the ark for the covenant of ADONAI is kept under a tent!” <sup>2</sup> Natan said to David, “Go, do everything that is in your heart, for God is with you.”

<sup>3</sup> But that same night the word of God came to Natan: <sup>4</sup> “Go, and tell David my servant that this is what ADONAI says: ‘You are not to build me a house to live in, <sup>5</sup> because from the day I brought up Isra’el until today, I never lived in a house; rather, I’ve gone from tent to tent and from one tabernacle to another. <sup>6</sup> Everywhere I traveled with all Isra’el, did I ever speak a word to any of the judges of Isra’el, whom I ordered to shepherd

my people Isra'el, asking, "Why haven't you built me a cedar-wood house?"

<sup>7</sup> "Therefore say to my servant David that this is what ADONAI-Tzva'ot says: 'I took you from the sheep-yards, from following the sheep, to make you chief over my people Isra'el. <sup>8</sup> I have been with you wherever you went, I have destroyed all your enemies ahead of you; and I am making your reputation like the reputations of the greatest people on earth. <sup>9</sup> I will assign a place to my people Isra'el; I will plant them there, so that they can live in their own place without being disturbed any more. The wicked will no longer devastate them, as they did at the beginning, <sup>10</sup> and as they did from the time I ordered judges to be over my people Isra'el; instead, I will subdue all your enemies.

"Moreover, I tell you that ADONAI will make you a house. <sup>11</sup> When your days come to an end and you go to be with your ancestors, I will establish one of your descendants to succeed you, one of your own sons; and I will set up his rulership. <sup>12</sup> He will build me a house, and I will establish his throne forever. <sup>13</sup> I will be a father for him, and he will be a son for me; I will not take my grace away from him, as I took it away from your predecessor. <sup>14</sup> Rather, I will maintain him in my house and in my kingdom forever; and his throne will be set up forever.'" <sup>15</sup> Natan told David all of these words and described this entire vision.

<sup>16</sup> Then David went in, sat before ADONAI and said, "Who am I, ADONAI, God, and what is my family, that has caused you to bring me this far? <sup>17</sup> Yet in your view, God, even this was but a small thing; so you have said that your servant's dynasty will continue on into the distant future. You have regarded me, ADONAI, God, as a man of high rank. <sup>18</sup> What more can David say to you about the honor you are bestowing on your servant? For you know your servant intimately. <sup>19</sup> ADONAI, it is for your servant's sake and in accordance with your own heart that you have done all this greatness and revealed all these great things. <sup>20</sup> ADONAI, there is no one like you, and there is no God besides you — everything we have heard confirms that. <sup>21</sup> Who can be compared with your people Isra'el? What other nation on earth did God set out to redeem and turn into a people for himself? You made yourself a reputation by doing great and terrifying things, as you drove out the nations from before your people, whom you redeemed from Egypt. <sup>22</sup> For you made your people Isra'el your people forever; and you, ADONAI, became their God.

<sup>23</sup> So now, ADONAI, let the word that you spoke concerning your servant and his house be confirmed forever; do what you have promised. <sup>24</sup> May your name be confirmed and magnified forever; so that it will be said, ‘ADONAI-Tzva’ot is the God of Isra’el and the God for Isra’el, and the dynasty of David your servant will be set up in your presence.’ <sup>25</sup> For you, my God, have disclosed to your servant that you will build him a house. This is why your servant has the courage to pray to you. <sup>26</sup> Now, ADONAI, you are God; and you have made this wonderful promise to your servant; <sup>27</sup> and now it has pleased you to bless the family of your servant and thereby cause it to continue forever in your presence. For you, ADONAI, have blessed, and it is blessed forever.”

18 <sup>1</sup> Some time afterwards, David attacked the P’lishtim and subdued them; David took Gat and its villages out of the hands of the P’lishtim. <sup>2</sup> He also defeated Mo’av, so that the people of Mo’av became subjects of David and paid tribute.

<sup>7</sup> David took the gold shields which Hadar’ezer’s servants were wearing and brought them to Yerushalayim. <sup>8</sup> From Tivchat and Kun, cities of Hadar’ezer, King David took a great quantity of bronze, which Shlomo used to make the bronze “Sea,” the columns and various bronze articles.

<sup>9</sup> When To’u king of Hamat heard that David had defeated the entire army of Hadar’ezer king of Tzovah, <sup>10</sup> he sent Hadoram his son to King David to greet and congratulate him on fighting and defeating Hadar’ezer — for Hadar’ezer had been at war with To’u — and [he sent] all kinds of articles made of silver, gold and bronze, <sup>11</sup> which King David dedicated to ADONAI, along with the silver and gold that he had carried off from all the nations — from Edom, Mo’av, the people of ‘Amon, the P’lishtim and ‘Amalek. <sup>12</sup> Moreover, Avishai the son of Tz’ruyah killed 18,000 men from Edom in the Salt Valley. <sup>13</sup> David stationed garrisons in Edom, and all the people of Edom became subject to him. ADONAI gave victory to David wherever he went.

<sup>14</sup> David ruled over all Isra'el; he administered law and justice for all his people. <sup>15</sup> Yo'av the son of Tz'ruyah was commander of the army, Y'hoshafat the son of Achilud was chief adviser, <sup>16</sup> Tzadok the son of Achituv and Avimelekh the son of Evyatar were cohanim, Shavsha was secretary, <sup>17</sup> B'nayahu the son of Y'hoyada was in charge of the K'reti and P'leti [serving as the king's bodyguards], and David's sons were the king's chief personal advisers.

19 <sup>1</sup> Some time later, when Nachash the king of the people of 'Amon died, his son became king in his place. <sup>2</sup> David said, "I will be kind to Hanun the son of Nachash, because his father showed grace to me." So David sent messengers to comfort him about his father.

David's servants entered the territory of the people of 'Amon to go to Hanun and comfort him; <sup>3</sup> but the leaders of the people of 'Amon said to Hanun, "Do you really think David is honoring your father by sending people to comfort you? Haven't his servants come to you in order to look the city over, overthrow it and reconnoiter the land?" <sup>4</sup> So Hanun took David's servants, shaved them, cut off their clothes halfway up, at their hips, and then sent them away. <sup>5</sup> Some people reported to David how the men had been treated. He sent a delegation to meet them, because the men had been deeply humiliated. The king said, "Stay in Yericho until your beards have grown back, and then return."

the army he put under the command of Avishai his brother to deploy against the army of 'Amon. <sup>12</sup> He said, "If Aram is too strong for me, you help me; but if the army of 'Amon is too strong for you, then I will help you. <sup>13</sup> Take courage, and let's be strong for the sake of our people and the cities of our God. May ADONAI do what seems good to him."

<sup>14</sup> So Yo'av and the people with him went to engage Aram in battle, and they fled before him. <sup>15</sup> When the people of 'Amon saw that Aram had fled, they likewise fled before Avishai his brother and retreated into the city. Then Yo'av went to Yerushalayim.

<sup>16</sup> When Aram saw that Isra'el had gotten the better of them, they sent messengers and brought out the people of Aram who lived beyond the [Euphrates] River, with Shofakh the commander of Hadar'ezer's army at their head. <sup>17</sup> It was reported to David; so he gathered all Isra'el together and crossed the Yarden to engage them. David deployed his forces for battle against Aram; and after he had done so, fought them. <sup>18</sup> But Aram fled before Isra'el; David killed 7,000 chariot-drivers and 40,000 foot soldiers from Aram; and he killed Shofakh the commander of the army. <sup>19</sup> When all Hadar'ezer's servants saw that they had been defeated by Isra'el, they made peace with David and became his subjects; and Aram would no longer help the people of 'Amon.

man whose fingers and toes numbered twenty-four, six [fingers on each hand] and six [toes on each foot]; and he too was a son of the giant. <sup>7</sup> When he mocked Isra'el, Y'honatan the son of Shim'a David's brother killed him. <sup>8</sup> These were sons of the giant in Gat; they fell at the hands of David and his servants.

21 <sup>1</sup> The Adversary [Hebrew: Satan] now rose up against Isra'el and incited David to take a census of Isra'el. <sup>2</sup> David said to Yo'av and the leaders of the people, "Go, take a census of Isra'el from Be'er-Sheva to Dan; then report to me, so that I can know how many of them there are." <sup>3</sup> Yo'av said, "May ADONAI make his people a hundred times as many as they are now! But, my lord the king, aren't they all my lord's servants in any case? Why does my lord the king require this? Why should he bring guilt upon Isra'el?" <sup>4</sup> Nevertheless, the king's word prevailed against Yo'av. So Yo'av left and went through all Isra'el, after which he came to Yerushalayim.

<sup>7</sup> God was displeased with this and therefore punished Isra'el. <sup>8</sup> David said to God, "I have greatly sinned by doing this. But now, please! Put aside your servant's sin, for I have done a very foolish thing." <sup>9</sup> ADONAI spoke to Gad, David's seer: <sup>10</sup> "Go and tell David that ADONAI says, 'I am offering you a choice of three punishments: choose one of them, and I will execute it against you.'" <sup>11</sup> Gad came to David and said to him, "Take your choice: <sup>12</sup> three years of famine; or three months of being swept away by your enemies, while your enemies' sword overwhelms you; or three days of ADONAI's sword — plague in the land, with the angel of ADONAI destroying everywhere in Isra'el's territory. Now think about what answer I should give to the one who sent me."

<sup>13</sup> David said to Gad, "This is very hard for me. Let me fall into the hand of ADONAI, because his mercies are very great, rather than have me fall into the hand of man." <sup>14</sup> So ADONAI sent a plague on Isra'el; 70,000 of the people of Isra'el died.

<sup>15</sup> God also sent an angel to destroy Yerushalayim, but when he was about to carry out the destruction, ADONAI saw it and changed his mind about causing such distress; so he said to the destroying angel, “Enough! Now withdraw your hand.” The angel of ADONAI was standing at the threshing-floor of Ornan the Y’vusi. <sup>16</sup> David raised his eyes and saw the angel of ADONAI standing between the earth and the sky, and in his hand was a drawn sword stretched out over Yerushalayim. Then David and the leaders, wearing sackcloth, fell on their faces. <sup>17</sup> David said to God, “Wasn’t it I who ordered the census of the people? Yes, I am the one who has sinned and done something very wicked. But these sheep, what have they done? Please! Let your hand be against me and my father’s family, but not against your people, striking them with this plague!”

<sup>18</sup> Then the angel of ADONAI ordered Gad to tell David to go and set up an altar to ADONAI on the threshing-floor of Ornan the Y’vusi. <sup>19</sup> David went up at Gad’s word, spoken in ADONAI’s name. <sup>20</sup> Ornan turned back and saw the angel, and his four sons who were with him hid themselves. As Ornan was threshing wheat, <sup>21</sup> David approached Ornan. When Ornan looked and saw David, he went out from the threshing-floor and prostrated himself before David with his face to the ground. <sup>22</sup> Then David said to Ornan, “Let me have the parcel with this threshing-floor, so that I can build on it an altar to ADONAI — I will pay you its full value — so that the plague will be lifted from the people.” <sup>23</sup> Ornan said to David, “Take it for yourself, and let my lord the king do what seems good to him. I’m giving you the oxen for the burnt offerings, the threshing-sledges for firewood and the wheat for the grain offering — I’m giving it all.” <sup>24</sup> But King David said to Ornan, “No; I insist on buying it from you at the full price. I refuse to take what is yours for ADONAI or offer a burnt offering that costs me nothing.” <sup>25</sup> So David bought the place from Ornan for 600 shekels of gold by weight [fifteen pounds]. <sup>26</sup> Then David built an altar to ADONAI there and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings. He called on ADONAI, who answered him from heaven by fire on the altar for burnt offerings. <sup>27</sup> ADONAI gave an order to the angel, and he put his sword back in its sheath. <sup>28</sup> When David saw that ADONAI had answered him at the threshing-floor of Ornan the Y’vusi, he sacrificed there. <sup>29</sup> For at that time the tabernacle of ADONAI, which Moshe had made in the desert, together with the altar for burnt offerings, were in the high place at Giv’on. <sup>30</sup> But David could not go into its presence to consult God, because the sword of the angel of ADONAI had struck him with terror.

<sup>5</sup> David said, “Shlomo my son is young and inexperienced, while the house to be built for ADONAI must be so magnificent and splendid that its fame and glory will be known in every country; so I will make preparations for him.” Therefore David made extensive preparations before his death. <sup>6</sup> Then he summoned Shlomo his son and charged him to build a house for ADONAI, the God of Isra’el. <sup>7</sup> “My son,” said David to Shlomo, “my heart was set on building a house for the name of ADONAI my God. <sup>8</sup> But a message from ADONAI came to me, ‘You have shed much blood and fought great wars. You are not to build a house for my name, because you have shed so much blood on the earth in my sight. <sup>9</sup> But you will have a son who will be a man of rest. I will give him rest from all his enemies that surround him; for his name is to be Shlomo, and during his reign I will give peace [Hebrew: shalom] and quiet to Isra’el. <sup>10</sup> It is he who will build a house for my name. He will be my son and I will be his father, and I will establish the throne of his kingdom over Isra’el forever.’

<sup>11</sup> “Now, my son, may ADONAI be with you and give you success as you build the house of ADONAI your God, in keeping with what he said about you. <sup>12</sup> May ADONAI give you common sense and understanding, and may he give you his orders concerning Isra’el, so that you will observe the Torah of ADONAI your God. <sup>13</sup> Then you will succeed, if you take care to obey the laws and rulings that ADONAI ordered Moshe concerning Isra’el. Be strong, be bold; don’t be afraid or become discouraged!

<sup>14</sup> “Now look: despite my difficulties, I have prepared for the house of ADONAI 3,300 tons of gold, 33,000 tons of silver, and so much bronze and iron that it can’t be weighed. I’ve also prepared timber and stone, and you can add to it. <sup>15</sup> Moreover, you have plenty of workers — quarrymen, stone-workers, lumbermen, and all kinds of skilled craftsmen to do whatever has to be done with <sup>16</sup> the gold, silver, bronze and iron — they’re beyond number. So get up, and get to work! And may ADONAI be with you.”

<sup>2</sup> Then he assembled all the leaders of Isra'el, with the cohanim and L'vi'im. <sup>3</sup> A census of L'vi'im thirty years old and over was taken, and their number came to 38,000. <sup>4</sup> Of these, 24,000 were to oversee the work on the house of ADONAI, while 6,000 were officials and judges, <sup>5</sup> 4,000 were gatekeepers, and 4,000 sang praise to ADONAI “with the instruments I made for the purpose of singing praise.”

<sup>12</sup> The sons of K'hat: 'Amram, Yitz'har, Hevron and 'Uzi'el — four. <sup>13</sup> The sons of 'Amram: Aharon and Moshe. Aharon was set apart to be consecrated as especially holy, he and his sons forever; so that they might bring offerings before ADONAI, perform the service for him and bless in his name forever. <sup>14</sup> But as for Moshe the man of God, his sons are included with the tribe of Levi. <sup>15</sup> The sons of Moshe: Gershom and Eli'ezer. <sup>16</sup> The sons of Gershom: Sh'vu'el the chief. <sup>17</sup> The sons of Eli'ezer were: Rechavyah the chief. Eli'ezer had no other sons, but the sons of Rechavyah were very numerous.

the fourth. <sup>20</sup> The sons of 'Uzi'el: Mikhah the chief and Yishiyah the second.

<sup>24</sup> These were the descendants of Levi, according to their clans, the heads of clans according to their listing in the register, who did the work for the service of the house of ADONAI, those twenty years old and over. <sup>25</sup> For David said, "ADONAI the God of Isra'el has given rest to his people, and he lives in Yerushalayim forever. <sup>26</sup> The L'vi'im will no longer have to carry the tabernacle and all the equipment that goes with it for its service." <sup>27</sup> For, according to David's last instructions, the descendants of Levi twenty years old and over were to be counted. <sup>28</sup> Their role was to assist the descendants of Aharon with the service of the house of ADONAI in the courtyards and rooms, and with purification of all the holy articles — in other words, with the work needed to minister in the house of God. <sup>29</sup> They were to assist with the showbread and the finely ground flour needed for grain offerings, no matter whether of matzah, pan-baked bread or mixed with oil, and no matter what shape or size. <sup>30</sup> They were to stand every morning to sing thanks and praises to ADONAI, and likewise every evening. <sup>31</sup> They were to be present regularly before ADONAI whenever burnt offerings were offered to ADONAI on Shabbat, at Rosh-Hodesh, and at the other designated times, in the numbers required by the rules for sacrifices. <sup>32</sup> Finally, for the service in the house of ADONAI they were to perform their duties in relation to the tent of meeting, the Holy Place and their kinsmen the descendants of Aharon.

24 <sup>1</sup> The divisions of the descendants of Aharon were as follows:

The sons of Aharon: Nadav, Avihu, El'azar and Itamar. <sup>2</sup> But Nadav and Avihu died before their father and had no children; therefore El'azar and Itamar functioned as the cohanim. <sup>3</sup> David, together with Tzadok from the descendants of El'azar, and Achimelekh from the descendants of Itamar, arranged them in divisions for service. <sup>4</sup> There were more men who were chiefs found among the descendants of El'azar than among the descendants of Itamar; therefore there were sixteen divisions of the descendants of El'azar, headed by clan leaders, and eight divisions of the descendants of Itamar, according to their clans. <sup>5</sup> They were assigned [periods of service]

by lot, the one group equally with the other, since both the descendants of El'azar and the descendants of Itamar had officers of the sanctuary and officers of God. <sup>6</sup> Sh'ma'yah the son of N'tan'el the secretary, one of the L'vi'im, recorded them in the presence of the king, the officers, Tzadok the cohen, Achimelekh the son of Evyatar, and the clan leaders of the cohanim and of the L'vi'im — with two clan divisions taken from El'azar for each one from Itamar.

the second for Y'da'yah,

<sup>8</sup>           the third for Harim,

the fourth for S'orim,

<sup>9</sup>           the fifth for Malkiyah,

the sixth for Miyamin,

<sup>10</sup>          the seventh for Hakotz,

the eighth for Aviyah,

<sup>11</sup>          the ninth for Yeshua,

the tenth for Sh'khanyahu,

<sup>12</sup>          the eleventh for Elyashiv,

the twelfth for Yakim,

<sup>13</sup>          the thirteenth for Hupah,

the fourteenth for Yeshev'av,

<sup>14</sup>          the fifteenth for Bilgah,

the sixteenth for Immer,

<sup>15</sup> the seventeenth for Hezir,

the eighteenth for HaPitzetz,

<sup>16</sup> the nineteenth for P'tachyah,

the twentieth for Yechezk'el,

<sup>17</sup> the twenty-first for Yakhin,

the twenty-second for Gamul,

<sup>18</sup> the twenty-third for D'layahu, and the twenty-fourth for Ma'azyahu.

<sup>19</sup> These are the divisions and the sequence in which they served in the house of ADONAI, in accordance with the rule they were given through Aharon their ancestor, as ADONAI the God of Isra'el had ordered him.

These were the descendants of the L'vi'im according to their clans. <sup>31</sup> These likewise cast lots, as had their kinsmen the descendants of Aharon, in the presence of David the king, Tzadok, Achimelekh, and the clan leaders of the cohanim and of the L'vi'im; with the senior and junior clans casting lots equally.

25 <sup>1</sup> For the service, David and the army commanders selected some of the descendants of Asaf, of Heman and of Y'dutun to prophesy with lyres, lutes and cymbals. The list of those doing this work, according to the type of work performed was:

<sup>2</sup> Of the descendants of Asaf: Zakur, Yosef, N'tanyah and Asar'elah; the sons of Asaf were with Asaf, who prophesied according to the direction of the king. <sup>3</sup> Of Y'dutun, the descendants of Y'dutun: G'dalyahu, Tzeri, Yesha'yahu, Hashavyahu, Mattityahu — six, with their father Y'dutun, who, accompanied by the lyre, prophesied thanks and praise to ADONAI. <sup>4</sup> Of Heman, the sons of Heman: Bukiyahu, Mat-tanyahu, 'Uzi'el, Sh'vu'el, Yerimot, Hananyah, Hanani, Eli'atah, Gidalti, Romamti-'ezer, Yoshb'kashah, Maloti, Hotir and Machzi'ot; <sup>5</sup> all these sons of Heman, the king's seer in matters pertaining to God, were there to exalt [God]. God gave Heman fourteen sons and three daughters. <sup>6</sup> They were all with their fathers Asaf, Y'dutun and Heman to sing with cymbals, lutes and lyres in the house of ADONAI, serving in the house of God under the direction of the king. <sup>7</sup> Their number, together with their kinsmen who had been instructed in singing to ADONAI, was 288, all well trained. <sup>8</sup> Whether great or small, teacher or talmid, they cast lots for their term of duty.

the second to G'dalyah; he, his brothers and his sons numbered twelve;

the tenth to Shim'i, his sons and brothers, twelve;
 18 the eleventh to 'Azar'el, his sons and brothers, twelve;
 19 the twelfth to Hashavyah, his sons and brothers, twelve;
 20 the thirteenth to Shuva'el, his sons and brothers, twelve;
 21 the fourteenth to Mattityahu, his sons and brothers, twelve;
 22 the fifteenth to Yeremot, his sons and brothers, twelve;
 23 the sixteenth to Hananyahu, his sons and brothers, twelve;
 24 the seventeenth to Yoshb'kashah, his sons and brothers, twelve;
 25 the eighteenth to Hanani, his sons and brothers, twelve;
 26 the nineteenth to Maloti, his sons and brothers, twelve;
 27 the twentieth to Eli'atah, his sons and brothers, twelve;
 28 the twenty-first to Hotir, his sons and brothers, twelve;
 29 the twenty-second to Gidalti, his sons and brothers, twelve;
 30 the twenty-third to Machzi'ot, his sons and brothers, twelve; and 31 the twenty-fourth to Romamti-'ezer, his sons and brothers, twelve.

26 <sup>1</sup> The divisions of the gatekeepers:

Of the Korchim: Meshelemyahu the son of Kore, of the descendants of Asaf. <sup>2</sup>Meshelemyahu had sons: Z'kharyahu the firstborn, Y'dia'el the second, Z'vadyahu the third, Yatni'el the fourth, <sup>3</sup> 'Eilam the fifth, Y'hochanan the sixth and Ely'ho'einai the seventh.

<sup>4</sup> 'Oved-Edom had sons: Sh'ma'yah the firstborn, Y'hozavad the second son, Yo'ach the third, Sakhar the fourth, N'tan'el the fifth, <sup>5</sup> 'Ammi'el the sixth, Yissakhar the seventh, and Pe'ultai the eighth; for God blessed him. <sup>6</sup> To his son Sh'ma'yah were born sons who ruled over their father's clan, because they were strong, brave men. <sup>7</sup> The sons of Sh'ma'yah: 'Otni, Refa'el and his brothers 'Oved and Elzavad, valiant men; also Elihu and S'makhyahu. <sup>8</sup> These were all from the sons of 'Oved-Edom, they and their sons and brothers, men of ability and strength for service, sixty-two from 'Oved-Edom.

Hilkiyahu the second, T'valyahu the third and Z'kharyahu the fourth; all the sons and brothers of Hosah were thirteen.

<sup>29</sup> Of the Yitz'hari: K'nanyahu and his sons were assigned to be over Isra'el in regard to outside business as officers and judges. <sup>30</sup> Of the Hevroni: Hashavyah and his kinsmen, 1,700 valiant men, had the oversight of Isra'el west of the Yarden in regard to all the business of ADONAI and the service of the king. <sup>31</sup> Yeriyah was chief of the Hevroni according to their generations by clans. In the fortieth year of David's reign the Hevroni were sought out, and there were found among them strong, brave men at Ya'zer in Gil'ad. <sup>32</sup> King David appointed 2,700 of his kinsmen, valiant men and clan leaders, as overseers over the Re'uveni, the Gadi and the half-tribe of the M'nashi for every matter pertaining to God and for the affairs of the king.

27 <sup>1</sup> The people of Isra'el, registered according to their clan leaders, were drafted for army duty under captains of thousands and of hundreds, and officers serving the king, in divisions of 24,000 each, for month-long terms of duty covering all the months of the year.

<sup>2</sup> Over the first division, for the first month, was Yashov'am the son of Zavdi'el; there were 24,000 in his division. <sup>3</sup> He was from the descendants of Peretz and was in charge of all the army captains during the first month.

<sup>4</sup> Over the division for the second month was Dodai the Achochi; Miklot was the chief officer of his division; there were 24,000 in his division.

<sup>5</sup> The third army commander, for the third month, was B'nayah the son of Y'hoyada the chief cohen; there were 24,000 in his division. <sup>6</sup> This is the same B'nayah who was one of the thirty heroes and was over the thirty; his son 'Ammizavad was in his division.

<sup>7</sup> The fourth commander, for the fourth month, was 'Asah'el the brother of Yo'av, with Z'vadyah his son after him; there were 24,000 in his division.

<sup>8</sup> The fifth commander, for the fifth month, was Shamhut from Yizrach; there were 24,000 in his division.

<sup>9</sup> The sixth commander, for the sixth month, was 'Ira the son of 'Ikesh from T'koa; there were 24,000 in his division.

<sup>10</sup> The seventh commander, for the seventh month, was Heletz the P'loni, from the descendants of Efrayim; there were 24,000 in his division.

<sup>11</sup> The eighth commander, for the eighth month, was Sibkhai the Hushati, from the Zarchi; there were 24,000 in his division.

<sup>12</sup> The ninth commander, for the ninth month, was Avi'ezer from 'Anatot, from the Ben-Y'mini; there were 24,000 in his division.

<sup>13</sup> The tenth commander, for the tenth month, was Mahrai, the N'tofati, from the Zarchi; there were 24,000 in his division.

<sup>14</sup> The eleventh commander, for the eleventh month, was B'nayah from Pir'aton, from the descendants of Efrayim; there were 24,000 in his division.

<sup>15</sup> The twelfth commander, for the twelfth month, was Heldai the N'tofati, from 'Otni'el; there were 24,000 in his division.

leader of the Re'uveni: Eli'ezer the son of Zikhri;
of the Shim'oni: Sh'fatyah the son of Ma'akhah; <sup>17</sup> of Levi: Hashavyah the son of K'mu'el;
of Aharon: Tzadok;
<sup>18</sup> of Y'hudah: Elihu, one of David's brothers;
of Yissakhar: 'Omri the son of Mikha'el;
<sup>19</sup> of Z'vulun: Yishma'yahu the son of 'Ovadyah;
of Naftali: Yerimot the son of 'Azri'el;
<sup>20</sup> of the descendants of Efrayim: Hoshea the son of 'Azazyahu;
of the half-tribe of M'nasheh: Yo'el the son of P'dayah; <sup>21</sup> of the half-tribe of M'nasheh in Gil'ad: Yiddo the son of Z'kharyahu;
of Binyamin: Ya'asi'el the son of Avner;

These were the commanders of the tribes of Isra'el.

<sup>23</sup> But David did not include in the registration those twenty years old or less, because ADONAI had said he would increase Isra'el's numbers like the stars in the sky. <sup>24</sup> Yo'av the son of Tz'ruyah began a census of these, but he did not finish, and wrath came upon Isra'el because of this; moreover the number was not entered into the Annals of King David.

<sup>25</sup> In charge of the king's supplies was 'Azmavet the son of 'Adi'el. In charge of the supplies in the countryside, the cities, the villages and the fortresses was Y'honatan the son of 'Uziyahu. <sup>26</sup> In charge of farmers working the land was 'Ezri the son of K'luv. <sup>27</sup> In charge of the vineyards was Shim'i the Ramati, while Zavdi the Shifmi was responsible for the produce from the vineyards for the wine-cellars. <sup>28</sup> In charge of the olive and sycamore-fig trees in the Sh'felah was Ba'al-Hanan from G'derah, while Yo'ash was put over the storehouses for olive oil. <sup>29</sup> In charge of the herds of livestock feeding in the Sharon was Shirtai from the Sharon, while Shafat

the son of Adlai was put over herds in the valleys.<sup>30</sup> Ovil the Yishma'eli was put over the camels, Yechd'yahu the Meronoti over the donkeys<sup>31</sup> and Yaziz the Hagri over the flocks [of sheep and goats]. All of these were responsible for King David's property.

<sup>32</sup> Y'honatan David's uncle was an adviser, a man of understanding and a secretary. Yechi'el the son of Hachmoni took care of the king's sons.<sup>33</sup> Achitofel was an adviser to the king. Hushai the Archi was the king's confidant;<sup>34</sup> and after Achitofel were Y'hoyada the son of B'nayah and Evyatar. Yo'av was commander of the king's army.

<sup>6</sup> "Moreover, he said to me, 'Shlomo your son will build my house and courtyards, for I have chosen him to be a son to me, and I will be a father to him.<sup>7</sup> I will establish his kingdom forever, if he uses his strength to obey my mitzvot and abide by my rulings, as [he is doing] currently.'<sup>8</sup> Now therefore, in the sight of all Isra'el, the community of ADONAI, and in the hearing of our God, observe and seek out all the mitzvot of ADONAI your God, so that you may continue to possess this good land and leave it as an inheritance to your descendants after you forever.

<sup>9</sup> "As for you, Shlomo my son, know the God of your father. Serve him wholeheartedly and with desire in your being; for ADONAI searches all hearts and understands all the inclinations of people's thoughts. If you seek him, he will let himself be found by you; but if you abandon him, he will reject you forever. <sup>10</sup> See now that ADONAI has chosen you to build a house for the sanctuary; so be strong, and do it!"

<sup>20</sup> Then David said to Shlomo his son, "Be strong, be bold, and do it! Don't be afraid or become discouraged! For ADONAI, God, my God, is with you. He will not fail you or abandon you until all the work for the service in the house of ADONAI has been finished. <sup>21</sup> See, there are the divisions of the cohanim and L'vi'im for all the service in the house of God. For every kind of work, you will have with you every man who is willing and skilled, for every kind of service. Also the captains and all the people will be completely at your disposal."

29 <sup>1</sup> To the whole community, David the king said, “Shlomo my son is the only one God has chosen. But he is still young and inexperienced, whereas the work to be done is great; because the palace is not for anyone human, but for ADONAI, God. <sup>2</sup> Now I have used all my strength to prepare for the house of my God the gold needed for the articles of gold, the silver for the articles of silver, the bronze for the articles of bronze, the iron for the articles of iron, the wood for the articles of wood, onyx stones, gemstones to be set, brilliant stones of various colors, all kinds of precious stones, as well as marble in abundance. <sup>3</sup> In addition, because my desire is set on the house of my God, since I have my own supply of gold and silver, I herewith give it to the house of my God — over and above everything I have prepared for the holy house — <sup>4</sup> ninety-nine tons of gold from the gold of Ofir and 231 tons of refined silver to be used for overlaying the walls of the houses. <sup>5</sup> The gold is for whatever is to be made of gold, and the silver is for whatever is to be made of silver; and they may be used for anything to be made by craftsmen. Therefore, who offers willingly to consecrate himself today to ADONAI?”

<sup>9</sup> The people were filled with joy, because they had given willingly — wholeheartedly they had given willingly to ADONAI; and David the king too was completely filled with joy, <sup>10</sup> as he blessed ADONAI before the entire community: “Blessed be you, ADONAI, the God of Isra’el our father, forever and ever. <sup>11</sup> Yours, ADONAI, is the greatness, the power, the glory, the victory and the majesty; for everything in heaven and on earth is yours. The kingdom is yours, ADONAI; and you are exalted as head over all. <sup>12</sup> Riches and honor come from you, you rule everything, in your hand is power and strength, you have the capacity to make great and to give strength to all. <sup>13</sup> Therefore, our God, we thank you and praise your glorious name.

<sup>14</sup> “But who am I, and what is my people, that we should be able to give so willingly in this way? For all things come from you, so that we have given you what is already yours. <sup>15</sup> For in your presence we are temporary residents, just passing through, as all our ancestors were — our days on earth are like a shadow, without hope. <sup>16</sup> ADONAI our God, all these supplies that we have prepared in order to build you a house for your holy name come from your own hand, all of it is already yours. <sup>17</sup> I know also, my God, that you test the heart and take pleasure in integrity. As for myself, I have given all these things willingly, in the integrity of my heart; and now, with joy, I have seen your people who are present here give willingly to you. <sup>18</sup> ADONAI, God of Avraham, Yitz'chak and Isra'el our ancestors, guard forever the inclinations of the thoughts in the hearts of your people; direct their hearts to you; <sup>19</sup> and give to Shlomo my son wholeheartedness to obey your mitzvot, instructions and rules, to do all these things, and to build the palace for which I have made provision."

<sup>20</sup> Then David said to all the community, "Now bless ADONAI your God." All the community blessed ADONAI, the God of their ancestors, bowing their heads and prostrating themselves before ADONAI and before the king. <sup>21</sup> On the following day they presented sacrifices to ADONAI and offered burnt offerings to ADONAI — a thousand bulls, a thousand rams and a thousand lambs, with their drink offerings — and sacrifices in abundance for all Isra'el. <sup>22</sup> They ate and drank before ADONAI that day with great joy.

Then, for the second time, they made Shlomo the son of David king, anointing him before ADONAI to be king, and Tzadok to be cohen. <sup>23</sup> Shlomo sat on the throne of ADONAI as king in place of David his father and prospered, and all Isra'el obeyed him. <sup>24</sup> All the leaders, the warrior-heroes and likewise the sons of King David submitted themselves to Shlomo the king. <sup>25</sup> ADONAI gave Shlomo exceedingly great power, in full view of all Isra'el, and bestowed on him royal majesty such as had not been seen on any king before him in Isra'el.

<sup>26</sup> Now David the son of Yishai ruled over all Isra'el. <sup>27</sup> The duration of his reign over Isra'el was forty years; he reigned seven years in Hevron, and he reigned thirty-three years in Yerushalayim. <sup>28</sup> Then he died, at a ripe old age, full of years, riches and honor; and Shlomo his son reigned in his place. <sup>29</sup> The activities of David the king, from first to last, are written in the records of Sh'mu'el the seer, Natan the prophet and Gad the seer, <sup>30</sup> with all his reign and his power, and the events that he, Isra'el and the kingdoms of other countries experienced.

2 CHRONICLES

1 <sup>1</sup> Shlomo the son of David grew stronger in his rulership; ADONAI his God was with him, making him greater and greater.

<sup>2</sup> Shlomo spoke to all Isra'el — to the captains of thousands and of hundreds, to the judges and to every leader in all Isra'el, the heads of clans.

<sup>3</sup> Shlomo and the whole community with him went to the high place at Giv'on, because in that place was God's tent of meeting, which Moshe the servant of ADONAI had made in the desert. <sup>4</sup> But the ark of God David had brought up from Kiryat-Ye'arim to the place he had prepared for it — he had set up a tent for it in Yerushalayim. <sup>5</sup> The bronze altar crafted by B'tzal'el the son of Uri, the son of Hur, had been placed before the tabernacle of ADONAI; and there Shlomo and the community consulted him. <sup>6</sup> On the bronze altar at the tent of meeting Shlomo offered a thousand burnt offerings before ADONAI.

<sup>7</sup> That night God appeared to Shlomo and said to him, "Tell me what I should give you." <sup>8</sup> Shlomo said to God, "You showed much grace to your servant David my father and have made me king in his place. <sup>9</sup> Now, ADONAI, God, you have been faithful to your promise to David my father; for you have made me king over a people as numerous as the grains of dust on the earth. <sup>10</sup> So now, give me wisdom and knowledge; so that I will be able to lead this people. For who is equal to judging this great people of yours?"

<sup>11</sup> God said to Shlomo, "Because you set your heart on this — because, instead of asking for riches, wealth, honor, the death of those who hate you, or long life, you asked for wisdom and knowledge for yourself, so that you would be able to judge my people, over whom I made you king — <sup>12</sup> not only are wisdom and knowledge being given to you, but I will also give you riches, wealth and honor such as no king before you has ever had; and no king after you will have as much." <sup>13</sup> So Shlomo came away from the high place at Giv'on, from in front of the tent of meeting, to Yerushalayim; and he ruled over Isra'el.

<sup>14</sup> Shlomo amassed chariots and horsemen; he had 1,400 chariots and 12,000 horsemen; he placed them in the chariot cities and with the king in Yerushalayim. <sup>15</sup> The king made silver and gold in Yerushalayim as common as stones, and he made cedars as abundant as sycamore-fig trees in the Sh'felah. <sup>16</sup> Shlomo's horses had been brought from Egypt and from Keve, with the king's agents having bought them from the dealers in Keve at the going price. <sup>17</sup> A chariot brought from Egypt cost fifteen pounds of silver shekels and a horse three-and-three-quarters pounds [of shekels]; all the kings of the Hittim and the kings of Aram purchased them at these prices through Shlomo's agents.

2 <sup>1(2)</sup> Shlomo enlisted 70,000 men who carried loads, another 80,000 men who were stonecutters in the hills and 3,600 supervising them. <sup>2(3)</sup> Then Shlomo sent this message to Hiram the king of Tzor: "[Deal with me] as you dealt with David my father when you sent him cedar logs, so that he could build himself a palace to live in. <sup>3(4)</sup> Here, I am about to build a house for the name of ADONAI my God, to dedicate it to him, and to burn before him incense made of sweet spices; the house will also be for the continuing showbread and for the burnt offerings presented every morning and evening, on the shabbats, at every Rosh-Hodesh, and at the designated times of ADONAI our God. This is a perpetual regulation for Isra'el. <sup>4(5)</sup> The house I will build will be great, because our God is greater than all gods. <sup>5(6)</sup> But who is equal to building him a house? Why, heaven itself, even the heaven of heavens, cannot contain him; so who am I to build him a house, except to offer sacrifices before him?

<sup>6(7)</sup> "Now, therefore, send me a man skilled at working with gold, silver, bronze and iron; dealing with purple, crimson, and blue dyed materials; and capable of doing all kinds of engraving. He will be with the skilled craftsmen I have with me in Y'hudah and Yerushalayim, whom David my father provided. <sup>7(8)</sup> Also send me cedar, cypress and sandalwood logs from the L'vanon; for I know that your servants are skilled in cutting timber in the L'vanon. I will have my servants work together with your servants <sup>8(9)</sup> to prepare me an abundant supply of timber, for the house I am about to build must be magnificent and wonderful. <sup>9(10)</sup> I will give your servants, the woodcutters who cut the timber, 100,000 bushels of cracked wheat, 100,000

<sup>10(11)</sup> Hiram the king of Tzor wrote this answer and sent it to Shlomo: “Because the Lord loves his people, he has made you king over them.” <sup>11(12)</sup> Hiram continued, “Blessed be ADONAI, the God of Isra’el, who made heaven and earth, who has given David the king a wise, knowledgeable son with common sense to build a house for ADONAI and a royal palace for himself. <sup>12(13)</sup> Now I am sending a man of skill and understanding, my master craftsman Hiram, <sup>13(14)</sup> the son of a woman who was one of the daughters of Dan, while his father was a man from Tzor. He is skilled in working gold, silver, bronze, iron, stone, and timber, as well as purple and blue dyed materials, fine linen and crimson material; he can do any kind of engraving; and he can make all the equipment necessary to accomplish any task assigned to him, with the help of your craftsmen and those of my lord David your father. <sup>14(15)</sup> Therefore let my lord send his servants the wheat, barley, oil and wine he has spoken of; <sup>15(16)</sup> and we will cut wood from the L’vanon, as much as you need; we will float it to you as rafts by sea to Yafo, and you will take it up to Yerushalayim.”

3 <sup>1</sup> Then Shlomo began to build the house of ADONAI in Yerushalayim on Mount Moriyah, where ADONAI had appeared to David his father. Provision had been made for this at the place David had chosen, the threshing-floor of Ornan the Y’vusi. <sup>2</sup> He began building in the fourth year of his reign, on the second day of the second month.

<sup>3</sup> These are the foundations Shlomo laid for building the house of God: the length in old-standard cubits was sixty cubits [105 feet] and the width twenty cubits [thirty-five feet]. <sup>4</sup> The length of the hall fronting the house was the same as the house’s width, thirty-five feet and the height 210 [feet]; and he overlaid it with pure gold.

the building with precious stones and gold from Parvayim, <sup>7</sup> overlaying the house and its beams, thresholds, walls and doors with gold and carving k'ruvim on the walls.

<sup>8</sup> Then he made the Especially Holy Place; its length matched the width of the house, thirty-five feet, and its width was thirty-five feet. He overlaid it with twenty tons of fine gold. <sup>9</sup> The weight of the nails was one-and-a-quarter pounds of gold, and he overlaid the upper rooms with gold.

<sup>10</sup> Inside the Especially Holy Place he made two k'ruvim of cast metal, and they were overlaid with gold. <sup>11</sup> The wings of the k'ruvim were thirty-five feet long — the wing of the one keruv was eight-and-three-quarters feet long and touched the wall of the house; the other wing was also eight-and-three-quarters feet long, so that it touched the wing of the other keruv. <sup>12</sup> The wing of the other keruv was eight-and-three-quarters feet long, touching the wall of the house; and the other wing was also eight-and-three-quarters feet long, touching the wing of the first keruv. <sup>13</sup> The wings of these k'ruvim spread out over thirty-five feet. They stood on their feet with their faces turned inward.

<sup>15</sup> In front of the house he made two columns sixty-one-and-a-quarter feet high, with a capital of eight-and-three-quarters feet on top of each. <sup>16</sup> He made chains in the sanctuary and added them to the tops of the columns, and he made a hundred pomegranates and attached them to the chains. <sup>17</sup> He erected the columns in front of the temple, one on the right and the other on the left; the one on the right he called Yakhin, and the one on the left he called Bo'az.

4 <sup>1</sup> He made an altar of bronze thirty-five feet long, thirty-five feet wide and seventeen-and-a-half feet high.

on top of them. <sup>5</sup> It was a handbreadth thick, its rim was made like the rim of a cup, like the flower of a lily; and its capacity was 16,500 gallons. <sup>6</sup> He also made ten basins for washing and put five on the right and five on the left. Items needed for the burnt offerings would be cleansed in these, but the Sea was for the cohanim to wash in.

<sup>9</sup> He made the courtyard for the cohanim and the great courtyard, also the doors to the courtyard, which he overlaid with bronze.

<sup>11</sup> Hiram made the ash pots, shovels and sprinkling basins. With that, Hiram completed the work he had been doing for King Shlomo in the house of God — <sup>12</sup> the two columns, the two moldings, the two capitals on top of the columns, the two nettings covering the two moldings of the capitals atop the columns, <sup>13</sup> and the 400 pomegranates for the two nettings, two rows of pomegranates for each netting, to cover the two moldings of the capitals atop the columns. <sup>14</sup> He also made the trolleys, the basins on the trolleys, <sup>15</sup> the one Sea, the twelve oxen under it, <sup>16</sup> the ash pots, the shovels, the forks and all the other equipment for it. All these articles that Hiram the master craftsman made for King Shlomo in the house of ADONAI were of brilliant bronze. <sup>17</sup> The king cast them in the plain of the Yarden, in the clay ground between Sukkot and Tz'redah. <sup>18</sup> Shlomo made so many of these objects that the total weight of the bronze could not be determined.

5 <sup>1</sup> Thus all the work that Shlomo did for the house of ADONAI was finished. Then Shlomo brought in the gifts which David his father had consecrated

— the silver, the gold and all the utensils — and put them in the treasuries of the house of God.

<sup>2</sup> Shlomo assembled all the leaders of Isra'el and all the heads of the tribes and the chiefs of the paternal clans of the people of Isra'el, to Yerushalayim, to bring the ark for the covenant of ADONAI out of the City of David, also known as Tziyon. <sup>3</sup> All the people of Isra'el assembled before the king at the festival in the seventh month. <sup>4</sup> All the leaders of Isra'el came. The L'vi'im took the ark <sup>5</sup> and brought up the ark, the tent of meeting and all the holy utensils that were in the tent; these are what the cohanim and L'vi'im brought up. <sup>6</sup> King Shlomo and the whole community of Isra'el who had assembled in his presence were in front of the ark, sacrificing sheep and oxen in numbers beyond counting or recording. <sup>7</sup> The cohanim brought the ark for the covenant of ADONAI in to its place inside the sanctuary of the house, to the Especially Holy Place, under the wings of the k'ruvim. <sup>8</sup> For the k'ruvim spread out their wings over the place for the ark, covering the ark and its poles from above. <sup>9</sup> The poles were so long that their ends could be seen [extending] from the ark into the sanctuary, but they could not be seen from outside; they are there to this day. <sup>10</sup> There was nothing in the ark except the two tablets Moshe put there at Horev, when ADONAI made the covenant with the people of Isra'el at the time of their leaving Egypt.

<sup>11</sup> When the cohanim came out of the Holy Place (for all the cohanim who were present had consecrated themselves; they didn't keep to their divisions; <sup>12</sup> also the L'vi'im who were the singers, all of them — Asaf, Heman, Y'dutun and their sons and relatives — dressed in fine linen, with cymbals, lutes and lyres, stood on the east side of the altar; and with them 120 cohanim sounding trumpets), <sup>13</sup> then, when the trumpeters and singers were playing in concord, to be heard harmoniously praising and thanking ADONAI, and they lifted their voices together with the trumpets, cymbals and other musical instruments to praise ADONAI: “for he is good, for his grace continues forever” — then, the house, the house of ADONAI, was filled with a cloud; <sup>14</sup> so that because of the cloud, the cohanim could not stand up to perform their service; for the glory of ADONAI filled the house of God.

<sup>3</sup> Then the king turned around and blessed the whole community of Isra'el. The whole community of Isra'el stood <sup>4</sup> as he said, "Blessed be ADONAI, the God of Isra'el, who spoke to my father David with his mouth and fulfilled his promise with his hand. He said, <sup>5</sup> 'Since the day I brought my people out of Egypt, I chose no city from any of the tribes of Isra'el to build a house, so that my name might be there; nor did I choose anyone to be the leader of my people Isra'el. <sup>6</sup> But now I have chosen Yerushalayim, so that my name can be there; and I have chosen David to be over my people Isra'el.' <sup>7</sup> It was in the heart of David my father to build a house for the name of ADONAI the God of Isra'el; <sup>8</sup> but ADONAI said to David my father, 'Although it was in your heart to build a house for my name, and you did well that it was in your heart, <sup>9</sup> nevertheless you will not build the house. Rather, you will father a son, and it will be he who will build the house for my name.' <sup>10</sup> Now ADONAI has fulfilled this spoken word of his; for I have succeeded my father and sit on the throne of Isra'el, as ADONAI promised; and I have built the house for the name of ADONAI the God of Isra'el. <sup>11</sup> And there I have placed the ark containing the covenant of ADONAI, which he made with the people of Isra'el."

<sup>12</sup> Then he stood before the altar of ADONAI in the presence of the whole community of Isra'el, spread out his hands — <sup>13</sup> for Shlomo had made a bronze platform eight-and-three quarters feet long, eight-and-three-quarters feet wide and five-and-a-quarter feet high and had set it up in the middle of the courtyard. He stood on it, then got down on his knees before the whole community, spread out his hands toward heaven, <sup>14</sup> and said, "ADONAI, God of Isra'el, there is no God like you in heaven or on earth. You keep covenant with your servants and show them grace, provided they live in your presence with all their heart. <sup>15</sup> You have kept your promise to your servant David, my father; you spoke with your mouth and fulfilled it with your hand; so it is today. <sup>16</sup> Now therefore, ADONAI, God of Isra'el, keep what you promised to your servant David, my father, when you said, 'You will never lack a man in my presence to sit on the throne of Isra'el, if only your children are careful about what they do, so that they live by my Torah, just as you have lived in my presence.' <sup>17</sup> Now therefore, ADONAI, God of Isra'el, please let your word, which you spoke to your servant David, my father, be confirmed.

<sup>18</sup> "But can God actually live with human beings on the earth? Why, heaven itself, even the heaven of heavens, cannot contain you; so how much less this house I have built? <sup>19</sup> Even so, ADONAI my God, pay attention to your servant's prayer and plea, listen to the cry and prayer that your servant is praying before you, <sup>20</sup> that your eyes will be open toward this house day and night — toward the place where you said you would put your name — to listen to the prayer your servant will pray toward this place. <sup>21</sup> Yes, listen to the pleas of your servant, and also those of your people Isra'el when they pray toward this place. Hear from where you live, from heaven; and when you hear, forgive!

<sup>24</sup> “If your people Isra'el sin against you and in consequence are defeated by an enemy; then if they turn back to you, acknowledge your name, and pray and make their plea to you in this house, <sup>25</sup> hear from heaven, forgive the sin of your people Isra'el, and bring them back to the land you gave to them and their ancestors.

<sup>26</sup> “When they sin against you, and in consequence the sky is shut, so that there is no rain; then if they pray toward this place, acknowledge your name and turn from their sin when you have brought them low; <sup>27</sup> hear in heaven, forgive the sin of your servants and of your people Isra'el — since you keep teaching them the good way by which they should live — and send down rain on your land, which you have given your people as their inheritance.

<sup>28</sup> “If there is famine in the land, or blight, windstorm, mildew, locusts or shearer-worms; or if their enemies besiege them in any of their cities — no matter what kind of plague or sickness it is; <sup>29</sup> then, regardless of what prayer or plea anyone among all your people Isra'el makes — for each individual will know his own plague and his own pain — and the person spreads out his hands toward this house; <sup>30</sup> then hear from heaven where you live, and forgive; also, since you know what is in each one's heart, give each person what his conduct deserves (because you, and only you, know human hearts), <sup>31</sup> so that they will fear you and therefore live according to your ways throughout the time they live in the land you gave our ancestors.

<sup>32</sup> “Also the foreigner who does not belong to your people Isra’el — when he comes from a distant country because of your great reputation, your mighty hand and your outstretched arm, when they come and pray toward this house; <sup>33</sup> then hear from heaven, from where you live; and act in accordance with everything about which the foreigner is calling to you; so that all the peoples of the earth will know your name and fear you, as does your people Isra’el, and so that they will know that this house which I have built bears your name.

<sup>34</sup> “If your people go out to fight their enemies, no matter by which way you send them, and they pray to you toward the city you chose and the house I built for your name; <sup>35</sup> then, from heaven, hear their prayer and plea, and uphold their cause.

<sup>36</sup> “If they sin against you — for there is no one who doesn’t sin — and you are angry with them and hand them over to the enemy, so that they carry them off captive to a land far away or nearby; <sup>37</sup> then, if they come to their senses in the land where they have been carried away captive, turn back and make their plea to you in the land where they are being held captive, saying, ‘We sinned, we acted wrongly, we behaved wickedly,’ <sup>38</sup> if, in the land where they were brought and are being held captive, they return to you with all their heart and being and pray to you toward their own land, which you gave to their ancestors, toward the city you chose and toward the house I have built for your name; <sup>39</sup> then, from heaven, from where you live, hear their prayer and pleas, uphold their cause, and forgive your people who have sinned against you.

<sup>40</sup> “Now, my God, please, let your eyes be open, and let your ears pay attention to the prayer being made in this place.

<sup>41</sup> “Now go up, ADONAI, God, to your place of rest,
you and the ark through which you give strength.

“May your cohanim, ADONAI, God, be clothed with salvation;
may those loyal to you take joy in good.

<sup>42</sup> “ADONAI, God, don’t turn away the face of your anointed one;

remember the mercies of your servant David.”

7 <sup>1</sup> When Shlomo had finished praying, fire came down from heaven and consumed the burnt offering and the sacrifices; and the glory of ADONAI filled the house, <sup>2</sup> so that the cohanim could not enter the house of ADONAI; because the glory of ADONAI filled ADONAI’s house. <sup>3</sup> All the people of Isra’el saw when the fire came down, and the glory of ADONAI was on the house; they bowed down with their faces to the ground on the flooring; prostrating themselves, they gave thanks to ADONAI, “for he is good, for his grace continues forever.”

<sup>11</sup> Thus Shlomo finished the house of ADONAI and the royal palace. Everything that Shlomo had set his heart on making in the house of ADONAI and in his own palace he accomplished successfully.

<sup>12</sup> ADONAI appeared to Shlomo by night and said to him, “I have heard your prayer and have chosen this place for myself as a house of sacrifice. <sup>13</sup> If I shut up the sky, so that there is no rain; or if I order locusts to devour the land; or if I send an epidemic of sickness among my people; <sup>14</sup> then, if my people, who bear my name, will humble themselves, pray, seek my face and turn from their evil ways, I will hear from heaven, forgive their sin and heal their land. <sup>15</sup> Now my eyes will be open and my ears will pay attention to the prayer made in this place. <sup>16</sup> For now I have chosen and consecrated this house, so that my name can be there forever; my eyes and heart will always be there. <sup>17</sup> As for you, if you will live in my presence, as did David your father, doing everything I have ordered you to do, and keeping my laws and rulings; <sup>18</sup> then I will establish the throne of your rulership, as I covenanted with David your father when I said, ‘You will never lack a man to be ruler in Isra’el.’ <sup>19</sup> But if you turn away and abandon my regulations and mitzvot which I have set before you, and go and serve other gods, worshipping them; <sup>20</sup> then I will pull them up by the roots out of the land I have given them. This house, which I consecrated for my name, I will eject from my sight; and I will make it an example to avoid and an object of scorn among all peoples. <sup>21</sup> This house, now so exalted — everyone passing by will be shocked at the sight of it and will ask, ‘Why has ADONAI done this to this land and to this house?’ <sup>22</sup> But the answer will be, ‘It’s because they abandoned ADONAI the God of their ancestors, who brought them out of the land of Egypt, and took hold of other gods, worshipping and serving them; this is why [ADONAI] brought all these calamities on them.’”

8 <sup>1</sup> At the end of twenty years, during which time Shlomo had built the house of ADONAI and his own palace, <sup>2</sup> Shlomo built up the cities which Hiram had given to Shlomo and had the people of Isra’el live there.

his chariots and horsemen. <sup>10</sup> King Shlomo had 250 chief officers in charge of the people.

<sup>11</sup> Shlomo brought up Pharaoh's daughter from the City of David to the house he had built for her; because he said, "No wife of mine is going to live in the house of David king of Isra'el, since the [buildings] where the ark of ADONAI has been are holy."

<sup>12</sup> Then Shlomo offered burnt offerings to ADONAI on the altar of ADONAI that he had built in front of the vestibule, <sup>13</sup> as each day required, offering according to the mitzvah of Moshe on Shabbats, at Rosh-Hodesh and at the designated times three times a year — the festivals of Matzah, Shavu'ot and Sukkot. <sup>14</sup> As David his father had ordered, he appointed the divisions of the cohanim for their service and the L'vi'im to their tasks — to praise and to perform their service in the presence of the cohanim according to each day's requirements. He also appointed the gatekeepers by their divisions to be at every gate, for David the man of God had so ordered. <sup>15</sup> They did not deviate from the king's order to the cohanim and L'vi'im in any matter or in regard to the supplies. <sup>16</sup> All the work of Shlomo was organized in this way from the day ground was broken for the house of ADONAI until everything had been accomplished, and the house of ADONAI had been completed.

9 <sup>1</sup> When the queen of Sh'va heard what was being said about Shlomo, she came to test him with difficult questions in Yerushalayim, accompanied by a very great retinue, including camels bearing spices and gold in abundance, and precious stones. When she appeared before Shlomo, she spoke with him about everything on her heart; <sup>2</sup> and Shlomo answered all her questions; nothing was hidden from the king that he could not explain to her. <sup>3</sup> After the queen of Sh'va had seen Shlomo's wisdom, the palace he had built, <sup>4</sup> the food at his table, the manner of seating his officials, the manner in which his staff served him and how they were dressed, his personal servants and how they were dressed, and his manner of going up to the house of ADONAI, it left her breathless. <sup>5</sup> She said to the king, "What I heard in my own country about your deeds and your wisdom is true, <sup>6</sup> but I couldn't believe the report until I came and saw for myself. Actually, they didn't tell me even half of how great your wisdom is. In reality, you surpass the reports I heard. <sup>7</sup> How happy your people must be, how happy these servants of yours who are always here attending you and get to hear your wisdom! <sup>8</sup> Blessed be ADONAI your God, who took pleasure in you to put you on his throne, so that you could be king for ADONAI your God. Because of your God's love for Isra'el, to establish them forever, he has made you king over them, to administer law and judgment.” <sup>9</sup> Then she gave the king four tons of gold, spices in great abundance, and precious stones; there had never been spices like those the queen of Sh'va gave to King Shlomo.

<sup>10</sup> Hiram's servants and Shlomo's servants, who had brought the gold from Ofir, now brought sandalwood and precious stones. <sup>11</sup> The king used the sandalwood to make walkways for the house of ADONAI and for the royal palace, also lyres and lutes for the singers. None like these had been seen before in the land of Y'hudah.

<sup>12</sup> King Shlomo gave the queen of Sh'va everything she wanted, whatever she asked, more than what she had brought to the king. After this, she returned and went back to her own country, she and her servants.

<sup>20</sup> All King Shlomo's drinking vessels were of gold; and all the utensils in the House of the L'vanon Forest were of pure gold; for in Shlomo's time, silver was regarded as having little value. <sup>21</sup> The king had ships that could go to Tarshish with Hiram's servants; once every three years the “Tarshish” ships came in, bringing gold, silver, ivory, apes and peacocks.

<sup>22</sup> So King Shlomo surpassed all the kings on earth in both wealth and wisdom. <sup>23</sup> All the kings on earth sought to have an audience with Shlomo, in order to hear his wisdom, which God had put in his heart. <sup>24</sup> Each one brought his present — articles of silver, articles of gold, clothing, armor, spices, horses and mules; and this continued year after year.

<sup>25</sup> Shlomo also had 4,000 stalls of horses for his chariots and his 12,000 horsemen; he assigned them to the chariot cities and to the king in Yerushalayim. <sup>26</sup> He ruled over all the kingdoms from the [Euphrates] River through the land of the P'lishtim to the border of Egypt. <sup>27</sup> The king made silver in Yerushalayim as common as stones, and he made cedars as abundant as sycamore-fig trees are in the Sh'felah. <sup>28</sup> They brought horses for Shlomo from Egypt and from all countries.

<sup>29</sup> Other activities of Shlomo, from beginning to end, are written in the records of Natan the prophet, in the prophecy of Achiyah of Shiloh and in the visions of Ye'do the seer concerning Yarov'am the son of N'vat. <sup>30</sup> Shlomo reigned in Ye-rushalayim over all Isra'el for forty years. <sup>31</sup> Then Shlomo slept with his ancestors and was buried in the City of David his father, and Rechav'am his son became king in his place.

10 <sup>1</sup> Rechav'am went to Sh'khem, where all Isra'el had come in order to proclaim him king. <sup>2</sup> When Yarov'am the son of N'vat heard of it, he returned from Egypt, where he had fled from Shlomo. <sup>3</sup> They sent and summoned him, so Yarov'am and all Isra'el came and said to Rechav'am, <sup>4</sup> "Your father laid a harsh yoke on us. But if you will lighten the harsh service we had to render your father and ease his heavy yoke that he put on us, we will serve you." <sup>5</sup> He said to them, "Come back to me after three days." So the people left.

young men he had grown up with said to him, “The people who said to you, ‘Your father made our yoke heavy, but you, make it lighter for us’ — here’s the answer you should give them: ‘My little finger is thicker than my father’s waist! <sup>11</sup> Yes, my father burdened you with a heavy yoke, but I will make it heavier! My father controlled you with whips, but I [will control you] with scorpions!’”

<sup>12</sup> So Yarov‘am and all the people came to Rechav‘am the third day, as the king had requested by saying, “Come to me again the third day”; <sup>13</sup> and the king answered them harshly. Abandoning the advice of the older men, King Rechav‘am <sup>14</sup> addressed them according to the advice of the young men and said, “I will make your yoke heavy, and I will add to it! My father controlled you with whips, but I will control you with scorpions!” <sup>15</sup> So the king didn’t listen to the people; and that was something God brought about, so that ADONAI could fulfill his word, which he had spoken through Achiyah from Shiloh to Yarov‘am the son of N’vat.

“Do we have any share in David?

We have no heritage in the son of Yishai!

Everyone to your tents, Isra’el!

Care for your own house, David!”

So all Isra’el left for their tents.

<sup>17</sup> But as for the people of Isra’el living in the cities of Y’hudah, Rechav‘am ruled over them. <sup>18</sup> King Rechav‘am then sent Hadoram, who was in charge of forced labor; but the people of Isra’el stoned him to death. King Rechav‘am managed to mount his chariot and flee to Yerushalayim. <sup>19</sup> Isra’el has been in rebellion against the dynasty of David to this day.

11 <sup>1</sup> When Rechav‘am arrived in Yerushalayim, he assembled the house of Y’hudah and Binyamin, 180,000 select soldiers, to fight Isra’el and bring the rulership back to Rechav‘am. <sup>2</sup> But this word of ADONAI came to Sh’mayyah the man of God: <sup>3</sup> “Speak to Rechav‘am the son of Shlomo, king of Y'hudah, and to all Isra'el in Y'hudah and Binyamin; tell them <sup>4</sup> that this is what ADONAI says: 'You are not to go up and fight your brothers! Every man is to go back home, because this is my doing.'" They paid attention to the words of ADONAI and turned back from attacking Yarov'am.

<sup>13</sup> The cohanim and L'vi'im from wherever they lived throughout all Isra'el made themselves available to Rechav'am. <sup>14</sup> The L'vi'im left their pasture lands and property and came to Y'hudah and Yerushalayim; since Yarov'am and his sons had thrown them out, not allowing them to function as cohanim for ADONAI, <sup>15</sup> and had appointed for himself cohanim for the high places and for the images of goat-demons and calves that he had made. <sup>16</sup> Those from all the tribes of Isra'el who had set their hearts on seeking ADONAI, the God of Isra'el, followed them to Yerushalayim to sacrifice to ADONAI, the God of their fathers. <sup>17</sup> For three years they strengthened the kingdom of Y'hudah and made Rechav'am the son of Shlomo strong, because for three years they followed the way of life of David and Shlomo.

<sup>5</sup> Now Sh'ma'yah the prophet came to Rechav'am and the leaders of Y'hudah who had gathered in Yerushalayim because of Shishak and said to them, "Here is what ADONAI says: 'Because you have abandoned me, I have abandoned you to the hands of Shishak.'" <sup>6</sup> In response, the leaders of Isra'el and the king humbled themselves; they said, "ADONAI is right." <sup>7</sup> When ADONAI saw that they had humbled themselves, this word of ADONAI came to Sh'ma'yah: "Because they have humbled themselves, I will not destroy them but will grant them a measure of deliverance. My wrath will not be poured out on Yerushalayim through Shishak. <sup>8</sup> However, they will become his slaves, so that they will come to appreciate the difference between serving me and serving earthly kingdoms."

<sup>9</sup> So Shishak king of Egypt attacked Yerushalayim. He took the treasures in the house of ADONAI and the treasures in the royal palace — he took everything, including the gold shields Shlomo had made. <sup>10</sup> To replace them, King Rechav'am made shields of bronze, which he entrusted to the commanders of the contingent guarding the gate to the royal palace. <sup>11</sup> Whenever the king went to the house of ADONAI, the guard would come and get the shields; later they would return them to the guardroom.

<sup>12</sup> After he humbled himself, the anger of ADONAI turned away from him, so that he did not altogether destroy him; moreover, some good things were found in Y'hudah. <sup>13</sup> So King Rechav'am consolidated his rule in Yerushalayim.

Rechav'am was forty-one years old when he began his reign; and he ruled seventeen years in Yerushalayim, the city ADONAI had chosen from all the tribes of Isra'el to bear his name; his mother's name was Na'amah the 'Amonit. <sup>14</sup> He did what was evil, because he had not set his heart on seeking ADONAI. <sup>15</sup> The activities of Rechav'am from beginning to end are written in the genealogically organized histories of Sh'ma'yah the prophet and 'Iddo the seer. But there were continual wars between Rechav'am and Yarov'am. <sup>16</sup> Rechav'am slept with his ancestors and was buried in the City of David. Then Aviyah his son became king in his place.

There was war between Aviyah and Yarov'am. <sup>3</sup> Aviyah joined the battle with an army of valiant soldiers, 400,000 select troops; while Yarov'am took the field against him with 800,000 select troops who were valiant, strong men.

<sup>4</sup> Aviyah, standing on Mount Z'marayim, in the hills of Efrayim, cried, "Yarov'am and all Isra'el! Listen to me! <sup>5</sup> Don't you know that ADONAI, the God of Isra'el, gave rulership over Isra'el to David forever, to him and his descendants, by a covenant of salt [which is unbreakable]? <sup>6</sup> Yet Yarov'am the son of N'vat, servant to Shlomo the son of David, rose in rebellion against his lord. <sup>7</sup> There rallied around him worthless brutes who were too strong for Rechav'am the son of Shlomo to withstand when he was young and inexperienced. <sup>8</sup> Now you expect to withstand the kingdom of ADONAI in the hands of the descendants of David. Yes, there are a great number of you, and you have with you the gold calves that Yarov'am made as gods for you. <sup>9</sup> Yes, you drove out the cohanim of ADONAI, the descendants of Aharon, and the L'vi'im; and you made yourselves priests as do the peoples in other countries, so that anyone who comes to consecrate himself with a young bull and seven rams can become a priest of those non-gods.

<sup>10</sup> "But we are different. ADONAI is our God, and we have not abandoned him. We have cohanim performing the service for ADONAI, descendants of Aharon. With the L'vi'im doing their work, <sup>11</sup> they burn to ADONAI every morning and evening burnt offerings and sweet incense; they arrange the showbread on the pure table, and they prepare the gold menorah with its lamps to burn every evening. For we observe the order of ADONAI our God. But you have abandoned him.

<sup>12</sup> "So look here! God is with us, leading us and his cohanim with the battle trumpets to sound an alarm against you. People of Isra'el! Don't fight against ADONAI, the God of your ancestors; because you will not succeed."

<sup>13</sup> But Yarov'am prepared to ambush them from behind, so that the main body was ahead of Y'hudah, while the ambush was behind them. <sup>14</sup> Thus when Y'hudah looked back, the battle had to be fought in front of them and behind them.

They cried to ADONAI, and the cohanim sounded the trumpets. <sup>15</sup> Then the men of Y'hudah gave forth a shout, and as the men of Y'hudah shouted, God struck Yarov'am and all Isra'el before Aviyah and Y'hudah. <sup>16</sup> The people of Isra'el fled before Y'hudah, and God handed them over to them. <sup>17</sup> Aviyah and his army inflicted a great slaughter on them — 500,000 of Isra'el's select soldiers fell dead. <sup>18</sup> Thus the people of Isra'el were subdued that time, and the people of Y'hudah won the victory, because they relied on ADONAI the God of their ancestors. <sup>19</sup> Aviyah pursued Yarov'am, taking from him the towns of Beit-El with its villages, Y'shanah with its villages and 'Efrayin with its villages. <sup>20</sup> Yarov'am did not recover his strength during the time of Aviyahu. Finally ADONAI struck him, and he died. <sup>21</sup> But Aviyahu grew strong; he married fourteen wives and became the father of twenty-two sons and sixteen daughters.

14 <sup>1(2)</sup> Asa did what was good and right from the perspective of ADONAI his God; <sup>2(3)</sup> for he removed the foreign altars and the high places, smashing the standing-stones and chopping down the sacred poles. <sup>3(4)</sup> He ordered Y'hudah to seek ADONAI, the God of their ancestors, and to obey the Torah and the mitzvah. <sup>4(5)</sup> He removed the high places and pillars for sun-worship from all the cities of Y'hudah, and under him the kingdom was quiet.

<sup>5(6)</sup> Because the land was quiet, and he had no war during those years, since ADONAI had given him rest, he built fortified cities in Y'hudah. <sup>6(7)</sup> "Let's build these cities," he said to Y'hudah; "we'll surround them with walls, towers, gates and bars. The land is there for us to use, because we have sought ADONAI our God; we have sought him, and he has given us peace on every side." So they built and prospered.

attack them with an army of one million and three hundred chariots. When he arrived at Mareshah, <sup>9(10)</sup> Asa went out to fight him, and the forces were arranged for battle in the Tz'fat Valley at Mareshah.

<sup>10(11)</sup> Asa cried out to ADONAI his God, "ADONAI, there is no one besides yourself, strong or weak, who can help. Help us, ADONAI our God, because we are relying on you, and we are coming against this vast throng in your name. You are ADONAI our God; don't let human beings stop you!" <sup>11(12)</sup> So ADONAI struck the Ethiopians before Asa and Y'hudah, and the Ethiopians fled. <sup>12(13)</sup> Asa and the army with him pursued them to G'rar, and the Ethiopians were defeated beyond recovery; they were shattered before ADONAI and his army, who carried off much spoil. <sup>13(14)</sup> Then they attacked all the cities in the vicinity of G'rar, for a panic from ADONAI had overcome them. They plundered all the cities, for they were full of spoil. <sup>14(15)</sup> They also attacked the tents of those tending the livestock and carried off sheep and camels in abundance. Then they returned to Yerushalayim.

15 <sup>1</sup> The Spirit of God came on 'Azaryah the son of 'Oded; <sup>2</sup> he went out to meet Asa and said to him, "Listen to me, Asa, and all Y'hudah and Binyamin! ADONAI is with you, as long as you are with him; if you seek him, you will find him; but if you abandon him, he will abandon you!" <sup>3</sup> For a long time Isra'el was without the true God, without a cohen who could teach, and without Torah. <sup>4</sup> But when, in their distress, they turned to ADONAI the God of Isra'el and sought him, they found him. <sup>5</sup> In those times people going about their business were insecure, and great disturbances afflicted all the inhabitants of the lands; <sup>6</sup> so that they were shattered to pieces, nation against nation and city against city, as God troubled them with every kind of distress. <sup>7</sup> But you, be strong, and don't slack off; for your work will be rewarded."

<sup>8</sup> When Asa heard these words prophesied by 'Oded the prophet, it gave him courage to throw the disgusting things out of the whole land of Y'hudah and Binyamin and out of the cities he had captured in the hills of Efrayim; he also renewed the altar of ADONAI which was in front of the vestibule of ADONAI. <sup>9</sup> Then he gathered all Y'hudah and Binyamin, along with those from Efrayim, M'nasheh and Shim'on who were staying with him (for they had defected to him in large numbers upon seeing that ADONAI his God was with him). <sup>10</sup> They assembled together at Yerushalayim in the third month of the fifteenth year of Asa's reign. <sup>11</sup> That day they sacrificed to ADONAI 700 oxen and 7,000 sheep from the spoil they had brought; <sup>12</sup> and they entered into a covenant to seek ADONAI, the God of their ancestors, with all their heart and with all their being; <sup>13</sup> [they also agreed] that whoever refused to seek ADONAI the God of Isra'el should be put to death, whether small or great, man or woman. <sup>14</sup> They swore this to ADONAI in a loud voice, with shouting and blowing of trumpets and shofars. <sup>15</sup> All Y'hudah was full of joy at this oath; for they had sworn with all their heart and had sought him with all their will; and they found him, and ADONAI gave them rest all around.

<sup>16</sup> Asa the king also deposed Ma'akhah his [grand]mother from her position as queen mother, because she had made a disgusting image for an asherah. Asa cut down this image of hers, chopped it into tiny pieces and burned it in Vadi Kidron. <sup>17</sup> But the high places were not removed from Isra'el. Nevertheless, Asa was wholehearted throughout his life. <sup>18</sup> He brought into the house of God all the articles his father had consecrated, also the things he himself had consecrated — silver, gold and utensils.

16 <sup>1</sup> In the thirty-sixth year of Asa's reign, Ba'asha king of Isra'el attacked Y'hudah, and he fortified Ramah to prevent anyone's leaving or entering the territory of Asa king of Y'hudah. <sup>2</sup> Then Asa removed silver and gold from the treasures of the house of ADONAI and the royal palace; and sent this message to Ben-Hadad king of Aram, who lived in Dammesek: <sup>3</sup> "There is a covenant between me and you, as there was between my father and your father. Here, I am sending you silver and gold; go, and break your covenant with Ba'asha king of Isra'el, so that he will leave me alone." <sup>4</sup> Ben-Hadad did as King Asa had asked — he sent the commanders of his armies against the cities of Isra'el, attacking 'Iyon, Dan, Avel-Mayim and all the storage-cities of Naftali. <sup>5</sup> As soon as Ba'asha heard of it, he stopped building Ramah and abandoned his work. <sup>6</sup> Asa the king took all Y'hudah and carried off the stones and timber which Ba'asha had used to fortify Ramah. With them he fortified Geva and Mitzpah.

<sup>7</sup> It was around then that Hanani the seer came to Asa king of Y'hudah and said to him, "Because you relied on the king of Aram and didn't rely on ADONAI your God, the king of Aram's army has escaped from your power. <sup>8</sup>

The army of the Ethiopians and Luvim was huge, wasn't it? How many chariots and horsemen did they have? Yet because you relied on ADONAI, he handed them over to you. <sup>9</sup> For the eyes of ADONAI move here and there throughout the whole earth, to show himself strong on behalf of those who are wholehearted toward him. You acted foolishly in this regard; for from now on, you will have war.” <sup>10</sup> But Asa became angry at the seer; in fact, because of his rage at him over this matter he threw him in prison. Moreover, at the same time, he mistreated some of the people.

17 <sup>1</sup> Then Y'hoshafat his son became king in his place. He strengthened his position against Isra'el <sup>2</sup> by placing forces in all the fortified cities of Y'hudah, and by garrisoning troops in the territory of Y'hudah and in the cities of Efrayim that Asa his father had captured. <sup>3</sup> ADONAI was with Y'hoshafat, because he lived according to the first ways of his ancestor David, not seeking the ba'alim, <sup>4</sup> but seeking the God of his father and living by his mitzvot, not by what Isra'el did. <sup>5</sup> Therefore ADONAI consolidated his rulership; all Y'hudah brought presents to Y'hoshafat, so that he had wealth and honor in abundance. <sup>6</sup> In his heart he highly regarded ADONAI's ways; moreover, he removed the high places and sacred poles from Y'hudah.

<sup>7</sup> In the third year of his reign he sent his leading men Ben-Chayil, 'Ovadyah, Z'kharyah, N'tan'el and Mikhayahu to teach in the cities of Y'hudah; <sup>8</sup> with them were the L'vi'im Sh'ma'yahu, N'tanyahu, Z'vadyahu, 'Asah'el, Sh'miramot, Y'honatan, Adoniyahu, Tuviyahu and Tov-Adoniyah, the L'vi'im; and with them Elishama and Y'horam the cohanim. <sup>9</sup> They taught in Y'hudah, having a scroll of the Torah of ADONAI with them;

they circulated through all the cities of Y'hudah, teaching among the people.

<sup>10</sup> A panic from ADONAI seized all the kingdoms in the lands surrounding Y'hudah, so that they did not make war against Y'hoshafat. <sup>11</sup> Some of the P'lishtim brought Y'hoshafat gifts and silver as tribute; the Arabs too brought him flocks — 7,700 rams and 7,700 male goats.

<sup>12</sup> So Y'hoshafat grew increasingly powerful. In Y'hudah he built fortresses and storage cities. <sup>13</sup> He had many projects in the cities of Y'hudah; and in Yerushalayim he had warriors, strong brave men. <sup>14</sup> Here is a listing of them by clans: from Y'hudah, the captains of thousands: 'Adnah the leader, and with him 300,000 strong, brave men; <sup>15</sup> next to him Y'hochanan the leader, and with him 280,000; <sup>16</sup> next to him 'Amasyah the son of Zikhri, who volunteered to serve ADONAI, and with him 200,000 strong, brave men. <sup>17</sup> From Binyamin: Elyada, a strong, brave man, and with him 200,000 equipped with bows and shields; <sup>18</sup> next to him Y'hozavad, and with him 180,000 prepared for war. <sup>19</sup> These served the king, in addition to those the king assigned to the fortified cities throughout all Y'hudah.

<sup>5</sup> So the king of Isra'el assembled the prophets, 400 men. "Should we attack Ramot-Gil'ad?" he asked them, "Or should I hold off?" They said, "Attack. God will hand it over to the king." <sup>6</sup> But Y'hoshafat said, "Besides these, isn't there a prophet of ADONAI here that we can consult?" <sup>7</sup> The king of Isra'el said to Y'hoshafat, "Yes, there is still one man through whom we can consult ADONAI; but I hate him, because he never prophesies anything good for me, only bad! It's Mikhay'hu the son of Yimlah." Y'hoshafat replied, "The king shouldn't say such a thing."

<sup>8</sup> Then the king called an officer and said, "Quickly! Bring Mikhay'hu the son of Yimlah." <sup>9</sup> Now the king of Isra'el and Y'hoshafat the king of Y'hudah were each sitting on his throne, dressed in their royal robes; they were sitting in a threshing-floor at the entrance to the gate of Shomron; and all the prophets were there, prophesying in their presence. <sup>10</sup> Tzidkiyah the son of Kena'anah had made himself some horns out of iron and said, "This is what ADONAI says: 'With these you will gore Aram until they are destroyed.'" <sup>11</sup> All the prophets prophesied the same thing: "Go up and attack Ramot-Gil'ad. You will succeed, because ADONAI will hand it over to the king."

<sup>14</sup> When he reached the king, the king asked him, "Mikhay'hu, should we go up and attack Ramot-Gil'ad, or should we hold off?" He answered, "Go up, you will succeed, they will be handed over to you." <sup>15</sup> The king said to him, "How many times do I have to warn you to tell me nothing but the truth in the name of ADONAI?" <sup>16</sup> Then he said, "I saw all Isra'el scattered over the hills like sheep without a shepherd; and ADONAI said, 'These men have no leader; let everyone go home in peace.'" <sup>17</sup> The king of Isra'el said to Y'hoshafat, "Didn't I tell you that he wouldn't prophesy good things about me, but bad?"

<sup>28</sup> So the king of Isra'el and Y'hoshafat the king of Y'hudah went up to Ramot-Gil'ad. <sup>29</sup> The king of Isra'el said to Y'hoshafat, "I will disguise myself and go into battle; but you, put on your robes." So the king of Isra'el disguised himself and went into battle. <sup>30</sup> Now the king of Aram had ordered his chariot commanders, "Don't attack anyone of either high or low rank, only the king of Isra'el." <sup>31</sup> So when the chariot commanders saw Y'hoshafat they said, "This is the king of Isra'el," and turned to attack him. But Y'hoshafat called out, and ADONAI came to his aid — God moved them to leave him alone, <sup>32</sup> so that when the chariot commanders saw that he wasn't the king of Isra'el, they stopped pursuing him. <sup>33</sup> However, one soldier shot an arrow at random and struck the king of Isra'el between his lower armor and the breastplate. The king said to his chariot-driver, "Turn the reins and take me out of the fighting; I'm collapsing from my wounds." <sup>34</sup> But the fighting grew fiercer that day; and although the king of Isra'el propped himself upright in his chariot facing Aram until evening, around sunset he died.

19 <sup>1</sup> Then Y'hoshafat the king of Y'hudah returned home to Yerushalayim in peace. <sup>2</sup> Yehu the son of Hanani the seer went out to meet him and said to King Y'hoshafat, "Should you help the wicked and befriend those who hate ADONAI? Because of this, ADONAI's anger is upon you. <sup>3</sup> Still, there is some good in you, in that you have removed the sacred poles from the land and have set your heart on seeking God."

<sup>4</sup> So Y'hoshafat lived in Yerushalayim and again circulated among the people from Be'er-Sheva to the hills of Efrayim, bringing them back to ADONAI, the God of their ancestors.

<sup>5</sup> He appointed judges throughout the land in all the fortified cities of Y'hudah, city by city, <sup>6</sup> and instructed the judges, "Think about what you are doing: you are not dispensing justice by merely human standards but on behalf of ADONAI; he is with you when you deliver a verdict. <sup>7</sup> Therefore, let the fear of ADONAI be upon you; be careful what you do; for ADONAI our God does not allow dishonesty, partiality or bribe-taking.”

<sup>5</sup> Standing in front of the new courtyard in the house of ADONAI, among those assembled from Y’hudah and Yerushalayim, <sup>6</sup> he said: “ADONAI, God of our ancestors, you alone are God in heaven. You rule all the kingdoms of the nations. In your hand are power and strength, so that no one can withstand you. <sup>7</sup> You, our God, drove out those living in the land ahead of your people Isra’el and gave it forever to the descendants of Avraham your friend. <sup>8</sup> They lived in it, built you a sanctuary in it for your name, and said, <sup>9</sup> ‘If calamity strikes us, such as war, judgment, disease or famine, we will stand before this house — that is, before you, since your name is in this house — and cry to you in our distress; and you will hear us and rescue us.’

repaying us [evil]; they have come to throw us out of your possession, which you gave us as an inheritance. <sup>12</sup> Our God! Won't you execute judgment against them? For we haven't strength enough to defeat this huge horde coming against us, and we don't know what to do, but our eyes are on you."

<sup>13</sup> All Y'hudah stood before ADONAI with their little ones, their wives and their children. <sup>14</sup> Then, in the middle of the assembly, the Spirit of ADONAI came upon Yachzi'el the son of Z'kharyahu, the son of B'nayah, the son of Ye'i'el, the son of Matanyah the Levi, from the descendants of Asaf. <sup>15</sup> He said, "Listen, all Y'hudah, you who live in Yerushalayim and King Y'hoshafat: here is what ADONAI is saying to you: 'Don't be afraid or distressed by this great horde; for the battle is not yours, but God's. <sup>16</sup> Tomorrow, go down against them. They will be coming up by the ascent of Tzitz, and you will find them at the end of the vadi, before the Yeru'el Desert. <sup>17</sup> You won't even need to fight this battle! Just take your positions, Y'hudah and Yerushalayim, stand still, and watch how ADONAI will deliver you! Don't be afraid or distressed; tomorrow, go out against them; for ADONAI is with you.'"

<sup>20</sup> The next morning, they rose early and went out into the T'koa Desert. As they left, Y'hoshafat stood and said, "Listen to me, Y'hudah and you inhabitants of Yerushalayim!

"Trust in ADONAI your God,

and you will be safe.

Trust in his prophets,

and you will succeed."

<sup>21</sup> After consulting with the people, he appointed those who would sing to ADONAI and praise the splendor of his holiness as they went out ahead of the army, saying, “Give thanks to ADONAI, for his grace continues forever.”<sup>22</sup> Then, during the time when they were singing and praising, ADONAI brought a surprise attack against the people of ‘Amon, Mo’av and Mount Se‘ir who had come to fight Y’udah; and they were defeated.<sup>23</sup> What happened was that the people of ‘Amon and Mo’av began attacking those people who lived by Mount Se‘ir, to kill and destroy them completely; and when they had finished off the people from Se‘ir, they set to work slaughtering one another.<sup>24</sup> So when Y’udah reached the watchtower overlooking the desert, they looked toward the horde; and there in front of them were corpses fallen to the ground; none had escaped.<sup>25</sup> Y’hoshafat and his army came to take the spoil from them and found among them personal property in abundance and corpses with precious jewels, which they stripped off for themselves until they couldn’t carry any more. They took three days just to collect the spoil, there was so much.<sup>26</sup> On the fourth day, they assembled in the Valley of B’rakhah [blessing], where they blessed ADONAI; hence that place is called the Valley of B’rakhah to this day.

<sup>31</sup> Y’hoshafat ruled over Y’udah; he was thirty-five years old when he began his reign, and he ruled twenty-five years in Yerushalayim. His mother’s name was ‘Azuvah the daughter of Shilchi.<sup>32</sup> He lived in the manner of Asa his father and did not turn away from it, doing what was right from ADONAI’s perspective;<sup>33</sup> although the high places were not taken away, and the people had not yet set their hearts toward the God of their ancestors.<sup>34</sup> Other activities of Y’hoshafat, from beginning to end, are written in the records of Yehu the son of Hanani, which have been inserted in the Annals of the Kings of Isra’el.

Achazyah, ADONAI is wrecking your project.” And the ships were wrecked, so that they couldn’t go to Tarshish.

<sup>12</sup> A letter came to him from Eliyahu the prophet which said, “Here is what ADONAI, the God of David your ancestor, says: ‘You have not lived by the examples of Y’hoshafat your father or Asa king of Y’udah. <sup>13</sup> Instead you have lived by the example of the kings of Isra’el and have caused Y’udah and the people living in Yerushalayim to prostitute themselves, just as the house of Ach’av caused [Isra’el] to prostitute themselves. Moreover, you killed your brothers from your father’s house, men better than you. <sup>14</sup> Because of all this, ADONAI is going to strike your people with a terrible disease, also your children, your wives and everything you have. <sup>15</sup> You will be very ill from a disease in your intestines, until your intestines protrude, because of the effects of this disease, day after day.’”

<sup>18</sup> After all this, ADONAI struck him in his intestines with an incurable disease. <sup>19</sup> In time, after two years, his intestines protruded because of his disease, and he suffered a most painful death. His people kindled no fire for him, as had been done for his ancestors. <sup>20</sup> He was thirty-two years old when he began his reign, he ruled in Yerushalayim for eight years, and he left without joy. They buried him in the City of David, but not in the tombs of the kings.

22 <sup>1</sup> The people living in Yerushalayim made Achazyah his youngest son king in place of him, since the raiding party that had invaded the camp with the Arabs had killed all the older ones. So Achazyah the son of Y’horam king of Y’udah reigned. <sup>2</sup> Achazyah was forty-two years old when he began his reign, and he ruled for one year in Yerushalayim. His mother’s name was ‘Atalyahu the daughter of ‘Omri. <sup>3</sup> He too lived after the example of the house of Ach’av, because his mother was his counselor in acting wickedly. <sup>4</sup> So he did what was evil from ADONAI’s perspective, as had the house of Ach’av; because, to his destruction, they were his counselors after his father died; <sup>5</sup> and he lived his life by their advice.

With Y’horam the son of Ach’av, king of Isra’el, he went to war against Haza’el king of Aram at Ramot-Gil’ad, where the Aramim wounded

Y'horam. <sup>6</sup> He returned to Yizre'el to be healed of the wounds which they had inflicted on him at Ramah while fighting Haza'el king of Aram. Achazyah the son of Y'horam, king of Y'hudah, went down to visit Y'horam the son of Ach'av in Yizre'el, because he was not feeling well.

At this point there was no one in the house of Achazyah strong enough to rule the kingdom. <sup>10</sup> When 'Atalyah the mother of Achazyah saw that her son was dead, she set about destroying the entire royal family of the house of Y'hudah. <sup>11</sup> But Y'hoshav'at the daughter of the king took Yo'ash the son of Achazyah, stole him away from among the princes who were being slaughtered, and sequestered him and his nurse in a bedroom. Thus Y'hoshav'at the daughter of King Y'horam, wife of Y'hoyada the cohen and sister of Achazyah, hid him from 'Atalyah, so that he was not killed. <sup>12</sup> He remained hidden with them in the house of God for six years; during this time 'Atalyah ruled the land.

23 <sup>1</sup> In the seventh year Y'hoyada took courage and formed a conspiracy with certain captains of hundred-man platoons — 'Azaryah the son of Yerocham, Yishma'el the son of Y'hochanan, 'Azaryah the son of 'Oved, Ma'aseiyahu the son of 'Adayahu and Elishafat the son of Zikhri. <sup>2</sup> They canvassed Y'hudah and gathered the L'vi'im from all the cities of Y'hudah, together with the clan heads of Isra'el, and came to Yerushalayim. <sup>3</sup> The whole assembly made an agreement with the king in the house of God. [Y'hoyada] addressed them: "Here! The king's son will reign, as ADONAI said in regard to the descendants of David! <sup>4</sup> Here is what you are to do: of you cohanim and L'vi'im who come on duty on Shabbat, a third are to guard the gates, <sup>5</sup> a third the royal palace and a third the Gate of the Foundation; while all the people are to remain in the courtyards of the house of ADONAI.<sup>6</sup> No one is to enter the house of ADONAI except the cohanim and those L'vi'im who are actually performing the service. These may enter, because they are holy; but all the people are to observe ADONAI's order.<sup>7</sup> The L'vi'im are to surround the king, each man with his weapons in his hand. Anyone who enters the house is to be killed. Stay with the king whenever he enters or leaves."

<sup>8</sup> The L'vi'im and all Y'hudah did exactly as Y'hoyada the cohen ordered. Each took his men, those coming on duty on Shabbat and those going off duty on Shabbat (for Y'hoyada the cohen did not dismiss the divisions).<sup>9</sup> Y'hoyada the cohen issued to the captains of hundreds the spears and the large and small shields that had been King David's and were kept in the house of God.<sup>10</sup> He then positioned all the people, each man with his weapon in his hand, from the right side of the house to the left side of the house, alongside the altar, alongside [the exterior of] the house and around the king.<sup>11</sup> Then they brought out the king's son, crowned him, gave him [a copy of] the testimony and thus made him king. Y'hoyada and his sons anointed him, and they shouted, "Long live the king!"

<sup>12</sup> When 'Atalyah heard the sound of the people running and praising the king, she entered the house of ADONAI where the people were,<sup>13</sup> looked and saw the king standing there on his platform at the entrance, with the leaders and trumpeters next to the king. All the people of the land were celebrating and blowing the trumpets; while the singers with their musical instruments were leading songs of praise. At this, 'Atalyah tore her clothes and cried, "Treason! Treason!"<sup>14</sup> Y'hoyada the cohen brought out the captains of hundreds who were in charge of the army and said to them, "Escort her out past the ranks [of guards]; but anyone who follows her, let him be put to the sword." For the cohen had said, "Do not put her to death in the house of ADONAI."<sup>15</sup> So they took her by force and led her by the horses' entry to the king's palace, and there they put her to death.

<sup>16</sup> Y'hoyada made a covenant between himself, all the people and the king, that they would be ADONAI's people.<sup>17</sup> Then all the people went to the house of Ba'al and broke it down; they smashed his altars and images and killed Mattan the priest of Ba'al in front of the altars.

<sup>18</sup> Y'hoyada appointed officers for the house of ADONAI under the supervision of the cohanim and L'vi'im, whom David had assigned turns of duty in the house of ADONAI, to offer the burnt offerings of ADONAI, as written in the Torah of Moshe, with rejoicing and singing in keeping with David's orders. <sup>19</sup> He stationed guards at the gates of the house of ADONAI, so that no one who was unclean in any respect could enter. <sup>20</sup> He took the captains of hundreds, the men of rank, the rulers of the people and all the people of the land; and they brought the king down from the house of ADONAI, going through the Upper Gate to the royal palace, and seated the king on the royal throne. <sup>21</sup> All the people of the land celebrated, and at last the city was quiet. That is how they killed 'Atalyah with the sword.

24 <sup>1</sup> Yo'ash was seven years old when he began his reign, and he reigned forty years in Yerushalayim. His mother's name was Tzivyah, from Be'er-Sheva. <sup>2</sup> Yo'ash did what was right from ADONAI's perspective throughout the lifetime of Y'hoyada the cohen. <sup>3</sup> Y'hoyada chose two wives for him, and he became the father of sons and daughters.

<sup>4</sup> Some time later, Yo'ash decided to restore the house of ADONAI. <sup>5</sup> He gathered the cohanim and L'vi'im and said to them, "Go out to the cities of Y'hudah, and collect money each year from all Isra'el to repair the house of your God. See that you do this promptly." But when the L'vi'im procrastinated, <sup>6</sup> the king summoned Y'hoyada the chief and said to him, "Why haven't you demanded that the L'vi'im bring in from Y'hudah and Yerushalayim the tax prescribed by Moshe the servant of ADONAI and by the community of Isra'el, for the tent of the testimony?" <sup>7</sup> For the sons of that wicked 'Atalyahu had broken up the house of God, and they had given all the consecrated things belonging to the house of ADONAI to the ba'alim.

<sup>8</sup> Then, at the king's order, they made a box and placed it outside the entrance to the house of ADONAI. <sup>9</sup> They proclaimed throughout Y'hudah and Yerushalayim that the tax Moshe the servant of God had imposed on Isra'el in the desert should be brought in for ADONAI. <sup>10</sup> All the leaders and all the people were glad to bring in their contributions and put them in the box, until it was full. <sup>11</sup> When the box was brought to the king's officials by the L'vi'im, and when they saw how much money there was, the king's secretary and the chief cohen's official came and emptied the box; then they took it and returned it to its place. They did this daily, and they collected money in abundance.

<sup>12</sup> The king and Y'hoyada gave it to those in charge of taking care of the house of ADONAI. They, in turn, hired stone-workers and carpenters to restore the house of ADONAI, also iron- and bronze-workers to repair the house of ADONAI.<sup>13</sup> The workers got on with their tasks, so that the restoration progressed well, until they had returned the house of God to its earlier condition and strengthened it.<sup>14</sup> When they had finished, they brought the rest of the money to the king and Y'hoyada, and it was used to make equipment for the house of ADONAI — articles for ministry, buckets, fire pans, and utensils of gold and silver. So they offered burnt offerings in the house of ADONAI regularly throughout the time of Y'hoyada.

<sup>15</sup> But Y'hoyada grew old; and when he was full of days, he died. He was 130 years old when he died.<sup>16</sup> They buried him in the City of David among the kings, because he had served Isra'el, God and his house well.

<sup>17</sup> After Y'hoyada died, the leaders of Y'hudah came and prostrated themselves before the king. Then the king listened to them;<sup>18</sup> and they abandoned the house of ADONAI the God of their ancestors and served the sacred poles and the idols. In consequence of their guilt, [God's] anger fell on Y'hudah and Yerushalayim.<sup>19</sup> In spite of this, he sent them prophets to bring them back to ADONAI; they warned them, but they wouldn't pay attention.<sup>20</sup> The Spirit of God covered Z'kharyah the son of Y'hoyada the cohen; he stood above the people and addressed them: "Thus says God: 'Why are you transgressing the mitzvot of ADONAI and courting disaster? Because you have abandoned ADONAI, he has abandoned you.'" <sup>21</sup> But they conspired against him and stoned him to death at the order of the king in the courtyard of the house of ADONAI.<sup>22</sup> Thus Yo'ash the king did not remember the kindness which Y'hoyada, [Z'kharyah's] father, had done for him, but put his son to death. As he was dying he said, "May ADONAI see this and take vengeance!"

<sup>25</sup> After they had left him — and they left him seriously wounded — his own servants conspired against him because he had shed the blood of the sons of Y'hoyada the cohen; and they killed him in his own bed. After he died, they buried him in the City of David, but they didn't bury him in the tombs of the kings. <sup>26</sup> Those who conspired against him were Zavad the son of Shim'at the 'Amonit and Y'hozavad the son of Shimrit the Mo'avit.

<sup>27</sup> As for his sons, the heavy tribute imposed on him, and the rebuilding of the house of God, they are recorded in the commentary of the Annals of the Kings. Then Amatzyahu his son took his place as king.

25 <sup>1</sup> Amatzyahu was twenty-five years old when he began his reign, and he ruled for twenty-nine years in Yerushalayim. His mother's name was Y'ho'adan, from Yerushalayim. <sup>2</sup> He did what was right from ADONAI's perspective, but not wholeheartedly.

<sup>3</sup> As soon as he had the kingdom firmly in his control, he put to death the servants of his who had assassinated the king his father. <sup>4</sup> But he did not put their children to death; rather, he acted according to what is written in the Torah, in the scroll of Moshe, as ADONAI ordered when he said, "Fathers are not to die for the children, nor are the children to die for the fathers; every person will die for his own sin."

<sup>5</sup> Amatzyahu assembled Y'hudah together and put them in order by clans under captains of thousands and captains of hundreds — all Y'hudah and Binyamin. He registered everyone twenty years old and older, and found that there were 300,000 select troops able to go to war, capable of using spears and shields. <sup>6</sup> He also hired 100,000 strong, brave men from Isra'el for three-and-a-third tons of silver. <sup>7</sup> But a man of God came to him and said, "King, don't let the army of Isra'el go with you; because ADONAI is not with Isra'el or with any of the people of Efrayim. <sup>8</sup> And if you do go, then no matter how fiercely you fight, God will cause you to fail before the enemy. For God has the power to help and to cause failure." <sup>9</sup> Amatzyahu said to the man of God, "But what do we do about the three-and-a-third tons [of silver] I paid for Isra'el's army?" The man of God answered, "ADONAI can give you far more than that!" <sup>10</sup> Then Amatzyahu separated out the battalion that had come to him from Efrayim and told them to go back home — which made their anger burn hotly against Y'hudah, and they returned home enraged.

<sup>11</sup> Amatzyahu took courage, led his people out and went to the Salt Valley, where he killed 10,000 of the people of Se'ir. <sup>12</sup> The people of Y'hudah took another 10,000 away alive, brought them to the top of the Rock and threw them off the top of the Rock, so that they were all dashed to pieces.

<sup>13</sup> Meanwhile, the men in the army that Amatzyahu had sent back and hadn't allowed to join him in battle fell on the cities of Y'hudah, all the way from Shomron to Beit-Horon, killed 3,000 of them and took much spoil.

<sup>16</sup> But as [the prophet] was speaking to him, he interrupted him: "Were you made an adviser to the king? You had better stop before you get yourself killed!" So the prophet stopped, but he added, "I know that God is planning to destroy you for having done this and for refusing to listen to my advice."

<sup>17</sup> Then, after taking counsel, Amatzyah king of Y'hudah sent a challenge to Yo'ash the son of Y'ho'achaz, the son of Yehu, king of Isra'el: "Come on, let's have it out face-to-face." <sup>18</sup> Yo'ash the king of Isra'el sent this reply to Amatzyah king of Y'hudah: "Once, in the L'vanon, the thistle sent a message to the cedar: 'Give your daughter to my son in marriage.' But a wild animal passed by the thistle and squashed it. <sup>19</sup> You say you defeated Edom, which is true; so you're excited and itching for more glory. But now, stay home! Why provoke calamity, to your own ruin, yours and Y'hudah's too?" <sup>20</sup> But Amatzyah wouldn't listen. And this was from God, so that he could hand them over [to their enemies], because they had sought the gods of Edom. <sup>21</sup> So Yo'ash king of Isra'el went up; and he and Amatzyah king of Y'hudah had it out face-to-face at Beit-Shemesh, which belongs to Y'hudah. <sup>22</sup> Y'hudah was defeated by Isra'el, and every man fled to his tent. <sup>23</sup> Yo'ash king of Isra'el took Amatzyah king of Y'hudah, the son of Yo'ash the son of Y'ho'achaz, prisoner at Beit-Shemesh. Then he brought him to Yerushalayim and demolished the wall of Yerushalayim between the Gate of Efrayim and the Corner Gate, a section 600 feet long. <sup>24</sup> [He took] all the gold and silver, all the articles he could find in the house of God, with 'Oved-Edom, and the treasures of the royal palace, together with hostages; then he returned to Shomron.

activities of Amatzyah, from beginning to end, are recorded in the Annals of the Kings of Y'hudah and Isra'el.

<sup>27</sup> From the time that Amatzyahu turned away from following ADONAI, they formed a conspiracy against him in Yerushalayim. So he fled to Lakhish; but they followed him to Lakhish and killed him there. <sup>28</sup> They brought his body back on horses and buried him with his ancestors in the City of Y'hudah.

26 <sup>1</sup> Meanwhile, all the people of Y'hudah had taken 'Uziyahu at the age of sixteen and made him king in place of his father Amatzyahu. <sup>2</sup> He recovered Eilat for Y'hudah and rebuilt it; it was after this that the king [Amatzyahu] slept with his ancestors.

<sup>6</sup> He went out to fight the P'lishtim, breaking down the walls of Gat, Yavneh and Ashdod; and he built cities in the area of Ashdod and among the P'lishtim. <sup>7</sup> God helped him against the P'lishtim, against the Arabs living in Gur-Ba'al, and against the Me'unim. <sup>8</sup> The 'Amonim brought tribute to 'Uziyahu, and his fame spread abroad as far as the Egyptian frontier, since he kept growing stronger.

<sup>9</sup> 'Uziyahu built towers in Yerushalayim at the Corner Gate, at the Valley Gate and at the Angle, and fortified them. <sup>10</sup> He built towers in the desert and dug many cisterns, because he had much livestock, likewise in the Sh'felah and the coastal plain. He had farmers and vineyard-workers in the hills and in the fertile lands, because he loved the soil.

<sup>15</sup> In Yerushalayim he built devices designed by experts for the towers and angles, from which to shoot arrows and lob large stones. His fame spread far and wide, for he was miraculously helped, until he became strong.

<sup>16</sup> But when he was strong, he became arrogant, which caused him to become corrupt, so that he sinned against ADONAI his God by going into the temple of ADONAI to burn incense on the incense altar. <sup>17</sup> ‘Azaryahu the cohanim went in after him, and with him were eighty of ADONAI’s cohanim, brave men. <sup>18</sup> They stood up to ‘Uziyahu the king; they told him, “It isn’t your job, ‘Uziyahu, to burn incense to ADONAI! The job of burning incense belongs to the cohanim, the descendants of Aharon, who have been consecrated. Get out of the sanctuary! You have trespassed, and ADONAI, God, will not honor you for this.” <sup>19</sup> This made ‘Uziyahu angry as he stood there with a censer in his hand ready to burn incense; and in his anger at the cohanim, tzara’at broke out on his forehead right in front of the cohanim in the house of ADONAI beside the altar for incense. <sup>20</sup> ‘Azaryahu the chief cohan and all the cohanim stared at him — there he was, with tzara’at on his forehead! Quickly they threw him out of there; and indeed, he himself hurried to get out, because ADONAI had struck him. <sup>21</sup> ‘Uziyahu the king had tzara’at until his dying day; he lived in a separate house because he had tzara’at, and was not allowed into the house of ADONAI. Meanwhile, Yotam the king’s son ran the king’s household and was regent over the people of the land.

<sup>22</sup> Other activities of ‘Uziyahu, from beginning to end, were recorded by Yesha’yahu the prophet, the son of Amotz. <sup>23</sup> So ‘Uziyahu slept with his ancestors, and they buried him with his ancestors in the graveyard belonging to the kings, because they said, “He had tzara’at.” Then Yotam his son took his place as king.

27 <sup>1</sup> Yotam was twenty-five years old when he began his reign, and he ruled for sixteen years in Yerushalayim. His mother’s name was Yerushah the daughter of Tzadok. <sup>2</sup> He did what was right from ADONAI’s perspective, following the example of everything his father ‘Uziyahu had done, except that he did not enter the temple of ADONAI. Nevertheless, the people acted corruptly.

wooded areas he built forts and towers.

<sup>5</sup> He fought with the king of the people of 'Amon and defeated them. That year the people of 'Amon paid him tribute of three-and-a-third tons of silver, 50,000 bushels of wheat and 50,000 [bushels] of barley. The people of 'Amon paid him the same amount the second and third years also. <sup>6</sup> Thus Yotam became strong, because he prepared his ways [of doing things] before ADONAI his God.

<sup>7</sup> Other activities of Yotam, all his wars and his ways [of doing things] are recorded in the Annals of the Kings of Isra'el and Y'hudah. <sup>8</sup> He was twenty-five years old when he began his reign, and he ruled for sixteen years in Yerushalayim. <sup>9</sup> Yotam slept with his ancestors and they buried him in the City of David. Then Achaz his son took his place as king.

28 <sup>1</sup> Achaz was twenty years old when he began his reign, and he ruled sixteen years in Yerushalayim. But he did not do what was right from the perspective of ADONAI, as David his ancestor had done. <sup>2</sup> Rather, he lived in the manner of the kings of Isra'el and made cast metal images for the ba'alim. <sup>3</sup> Moreover, he made offerings in the Ben-Hinnom Valley and even burned up his own children as sacrifices, in keeping with the horrible practices of the pagans, whom ADONAI had thrown out ahead of the people of Isra'el. <sup>4</sup> He also sacrificed and offered on the high places, on the hills and under any green tree.

<sup>5</sup> Because of this, ADONAI his God handed him over to the king of Aram; they attacked him and carried off from his people a great number of captives, bringing them to Dammesek.

In addition, he was handed over to the king of Isra'el, who inflicted on him a great massacre. <sup>6</sup> For Pekach the son of Remalyah killed in Y'hudah 120,000 men in one day, all of them brave men, because they had abandoned ADONAI, the God of their ancestors. <sup>7</sup> And Zikhri, a champion from Efrayim, killed Ma'aseiyah the king's son, 'Azrikam the administrator of the household and Elkanah, who was second only to the king. <sup>8</sup> The people of Isra'el took captive from their kinsmen 200,000 wives, sons and daughters; they also captured from them much spoil, which they brought to Shomron.

<sup>9</sup> But a prophet of ADONAI named 'Oded was there; he went out to meet the army coming to Shomron and said to them, "Look, it's because ADONAI

the God of your fathers was angry with Y'hudah that he has handed them over to you, and you have slaughtered them in a fury that has reached up to heaven. <sup>10</sup> Now you intend to force the people from Y'hudah and Yerushalayim into subjection as your slaves; but haven't you guilty deeds of your own that you committed against ADONAI your God? <sup>11</sup> Therefore listen to me now; and send the captives back, the people you have taken captive from your kinsmen; because the fierce anger of ADONAI is on you."

<sup>12</sup> At this, some of the leaders of the people of Efrayim — 'Azaryahu the son of Y'hochanan, Berekhyahu the son of Meshilemot, Y'chizkiyah the son of Shalum and 'Amasa the son of Hadlai — protested against those who were returning from the war, <sup>13</sup> saying to them, "Don't bring the captives here, because you intend to do something that will bring guilt on us against ADONAI. It will only add to our sins and guilt, for our guilt is great, and there is fierce anger against Isra'el."

<sup>14</sup> So the armed soldiers left the captives and the spoil there with the leaders and the whole community; <sup>15</sup> while the men named above took charge of the captives and from the spoil clothed those among them who were inadequately clothed, giving them garments and shoes, providing them food and drink and anointing them with oil. After placing all the weak among them on donkeys, they brought them to Yericho, the City of Date-Palms, to their kinsmen; only then did they return to Shomron.

<sup>16</sup> It was at that time that King Achaz sent to the kings of Ashur to help him. <sup>17</sup> For again the people from Edom had come, attacking Y'hudah and carrying off captives. <sup>18</sup> The P'lishtim too had invaded the cities in the Sh'felah and in the Negev of Y'hudah; they had captured Beit-Shemesh, Ayalon, G'derot, Sokho with its villages, Timnah with its villages and Gimzo with its villages; and they settled there. <sup>19</sup> For ADONAI brought Y'hudah low because of Achaz king of Isra'el, since he had caused disturbances in Y'hudah and acted very treacherously against ADONAI.

<sup>20</sup> Tilgat-Piln'esar king of Ashur attacked and besieged Achaz instead of strengthening him — <sup>21</sup> even though Achaz had stripped the house of ADONAI and the palaces of the king and princes and had given the plunder to the king of Ashur, it didn't help him at all.

<sup>22</sup> During his time of distress this same King Achaz added to his treachery against ADONAI <sup>23</sup> by sacrificing to the gods of Dammesek, who had attacked him, reasoning, "The gods of the kings of Aram helped them, so I will sacrifice to them, and then they'll help me." But they became the ruin of him and of all Isra'el. <sup>24</sup> Achaz collected the equipment from the house of God, broke to pieces the equipment from the house of God and sealed the doors of the house of ADONAI; then he made himself altars in every corner of Yerushalayim. <sup>25</sup> In every city of Y'hudah he made high places for offering to other gods, thus provoking ADONAI the God of his ancestors.

<sup>26</sup> Other activities of Achaz and his ways [of doing things], from beginning to end, are recorded in the Annals of the Kings of Y'hudah and Isra'el. <sup>27</sup> Achaz slept with his ancestors, and they buried him in the city, in Yerushalayim; because they did not bring him to the tombs of the kings of Isra'el. Then Hizkiyahu his son took his place as king.

29 <sup>1</sup> Hizkiyahu was twenty-five years old when he began his reign, and he ruled for twenty-nine years in Yerushalayim. His mother's name was Aviyah the daughter of Z'kharyah. <sup>2</sup> He did what was right from ADONAI's perspective, following the example of everything David his ancestor had done.

<sup>3</sup> In the first month of the first year of his reign, he reopened the doors of the house of ADONAI and repaired them. <sup>4</sup> Then he brought in the cohanim and L'vi'im, assembled them in the open space to the east, <sup>5</sup> and said to them, "Listen to me, L'vi'im: consecrate yourselves now, consecrate the house of ADONAI the God of your ancestors, and remove the filth from the Holy Place. <sup>6</sup> For our ancestors acted treacherously, they did what is evil from the perspective of ADONAI our God, they abandoned him, they turned their faces away from where ADONAI lives and turned their backs on him. <sup>7</sup> They sealed the doors of the vestibule, put out the lamps and stopped burning incense and offering burnt offerings in the Holy Place to the God of Isra'el.

<sup>8</sup> "Because of this, ADONAI's anger has settled on Y'hudah and Yerushalayim; and he has made them an object of horror, astonishment and mocking — as you can see with your own eyes. <sup>9</sup> Here, our ancestors have fallen by the sword; and on this account our sons, daughters and wives have gone into captivity.

<sup>10</sup> "Now it is in my heart to make a covenant with ADONAI the God of Isra'el, so that his furious anger will turn away from us. <sup>11</sup> My sons, now is not a time for being negligent; for you are the ones ADONAI chose to stand before him and serve him as his ministers, offering him incense."

<sup>12</sup> Then the L'vi'im set about the task — Machat the son of 'Amasai and Yo'el the son of 'Azaryahu from the descendants of the K'hati; of the sons of M'rari, Kish the son of 'Avdi and 'Azaryahu the son of Yehallel'el; of the Gershuni, Yo'ach the son of Zimah and 'Eden the son of Yo'ach; <sup>13</sup> of the descendants of Elitzafan, Shimri and Ye'i'el; of the descendants of Asaf, Z'kharyahu and Matanyahu; <sup>14</sup> of the descendants of Heman, Yechi'el and Shim'i; and of the descendants of Y'dutun, Sh'ma'yah and 'Uzi'el.

<sup>15</sup> They gathered their kinsmen, consecrated themselves and, in keeping with the king's order and ADONAI's words, went in to cleanse the house of ADONAI. <sup>16</sup> The cohanim went in to cleanse the inner part of the house of ADONAI; all the unclean things they found in the sanctuary of ADONAI they brought out into the courtyard of the house of ADONAI, where the L'vi'im took and carried them out to Vadi Kidron. <sup>17</sup> They began consecrating on the first day of the first month, and on the eighth day of the month they reached the vestibule of ADONAI. Then they consecrated the house of ADONAI in eight more days; so that on the sixteenth day of the first month, they had finished. <sup>18</sup> Then they went to Hizkiyahu the king in [the palace] and said, "We have cleansed all the house of ADONAI, including the altar for burnt offerings, with all its equipment, and the table for the showbread, with all its equipment. <sup>19</sup> Moreover, we have reconditioned and consecrated all the articles that King Achaz threw out during his reign, when he was sinning; and they are there, in front of the altar of ADONAI."

<sup>20</sup> Next morning, Hizkiyahu the king got up early, gathered the leading men of the city and went up to the house of ADONAI. <sup>21</sup> They brought seven bulls, seven rams, seven lambs and seven male goats as a sin offering for the kingdom, for the sanctuary and for Y'hudah; and he ordered the cohanim to offer them on the altar of ADONAI. <sup>22</sup> After slaughtering the bulls, the cohanim took the blood and splashed it against the altar. Next, they slaughtered the rams and splashed the blood against the altar and also slaughtered the lambs and splashed the blood against the altar. <sup>23</sup> After bringing the male goats for the sin offering close to the king and the assembly and laying their hands on them, <sup>24</sup> the cohanim slaughtered them and made a sin offering with their blood on the altar to make atonement for all Isra'el; for the king had ordered that the burnt offering and the sin offering should be for all Isra'el.

prophet; for the mitzvah had come from ADONAI through his prophets. <sup>26</sup> The L'vi'im stood with the instruments of David and the cohanim with the trumpets. <sup>27</sup> Hizkiyahu ordered that the burnt offering should be offered on the altar. The moment the burnt offering began, the song of ADONAI also began, accompanied by the trumpets and the instruments of David king of Isra'el. <sup>28</sup> The whole assembly prostrated themselves, the singers sang, and the trumpeters sounded; all this continued until the burnt offering was finished.

<sup>29</sup> When the offering was over, the king and everyone present with him bowed down and prostrated themselves. <sup>30</sup> Then Hizkiyahu the king and the leaders ordered the L'vi'im to sing praises to ADONAI, using the words of David and of Asaf the seer. They sang praises until they were filled with joy, and they bowed their heads and prostrated themselves.

<sup>31</sup> Hizkiyahu responded by saying, "Now that you have consecrated yourselves to ADONAI, come close, and bring sacrifices and thank offerings into the house of ADONAI." So the community brought in sacrifices and thank offerings, and as many as were willing volunteered burnt offerings. <sup>32</sup> In all, the burnt offerings brought by the congregation totaled 70 bulls, 100 rams and 200 lambs; all these were for a burnt offering to ADONAI. <sup>33</sup> The consecrated gifts amounted to 600 oxen and 3,000 sheep. <sup>34</sup> Only there weren't enough cohanim to skin and butcher all the burnt offerings, so their colleagues the L'vi'im assisted them until the work was finished and the cohanim had consecrated themselves (for the L'vi'im had been more diligent to consecrate themselves than the cohanim). <sup>35</sup> Besides the abundance of burnt offerings, there was the fat of the peace offerings and drink offerings for each burnt offering.

Thus the service of the house of ADONAI was restored. <sup>36</sup> Hizkiyahu and all the people rejoiced over what God had prepared for the people, since it had all happened so suddenly.

30 <sup>1</sup> Then Hizkiyahu sent to all Isra'el and Y'hudah, and wrote letters also to Efrayim and M'nasheh, summoning them to the house of ADONAI in Yerushalayim, to keep the Pesach to ADONAI the God of Isra'el. <sup>2</sup> For the king, his officials and the entire Yerushalayim community had agreed to keep the Pesach in the second month. <sup>3</sup> They had not been able to observe it at the proper time because the cohanim had not consecrated themselves in sufficient number; also the people had not assembled in Yerushalayim. <sup>4</sup> The idea had seemed right to the king and to the whole community; <sup>5</sup> so they issued a decree that it should be proclaimed throughout all Isra'el, from Be'er-Sheva to Dan, that they should come to keep the Pesach to ADONAI the God of Isra'el at Yerushalayim; for only a few had been observing it as prescribed.

<sup>6</sup> So runners went with the letters from the king and his officers throughout all Isra'el and Y'hudah. They conveyed the king's order: "People of Isra'el! Turn back to ADONAI, the God of Avraham, Yitz'chak and Ya'akov! Then he will return to those of you who remain, who escaped capture by the kings of Ashur. <sup>7</sup> Don't be like your ancestors, or like your kinsmen who sinned against ADONAI the God of their ancestors, with the result that he allowed them to become an object of horror, as you see. <sup>8</sup> Don't be stiffnecked now, as your ancestors were. Instead, yield yourselves to ADONAI; enter his sanctuary, which he has made holy forever; and serve ADONAI your God; so that his fierce anger will turn away from you. <sup>9</sup> For if you turn back to ADONAI, your kinsmen and children will find that those who took them captive will have compassion on them, and they will come back to this land. ADONAI your God is compassionate and merciful; he will not turn his face away from you if you return to him."

<sup>13</sup> Thus, many people assembled in Yerushalayim to keep the festival of Matzot in the second month, a huge crowd. <sup>14</sup> First they set about removing the altars that were in Yerushalayim, and they also removed all the altars for incense and threw them in Vadi Kidron. <sup>15</sup> Then they slaughtered the Pesach lamb on the fourteenth day of the second month. Ashamed of themselves, the cohanim and L'vi'im had consecrated themselves and brought burnt offerings into the house of ADONAI. <sup>16</sup> Now they stood at their stations, as prescribed in the Torah of Moshe the man of God; the cohanim splashed the blood given to them by the L'vi'im. <sup>17</sup> For there were many in the assembly who had not consecrated themselves; therefore the L'vi'im were responsible for slaughtering the Pesach lambs and consecrating them to ADONAI on behalf of everyone who was not clean. <sup>18</sup> For a large number of the people, especially from Efrayim, M'nasheh, Yissakhar and Z'vulun, had not cleansed themselves but ate the Pesach lamb anyway, despite what is written. For Hizkiyahu had prayed for them, "May ADONAI, who is good, pardon <sup>19</sup> everyone who sets his heart on seeking God, ADONAI, the God of his ancestors, even if he hasn't undergone the purification prescribed in connection with holy things." <sup>20</sup> ADONAI heard Hizkiyahu and healed the people.

<sup>21</sup> The people of Isra'el there in Yerushalayim observed the festival of Matzot for seven days with great joy; while every day the L'vi'im and cohanim praised ADONAI, singing to ADONAI with the accompaniment of loud instruments. <sup>22</sup> Hizkiyahu spoke encouragingly to all the L'vi'im who were well skilled in the service of ADONAI. Thus they ate throughout the festival for the seven days, offering sacrifices of peace offerings and giving thanks to ADONAI, the God of their ancestors.

31 <sup>1</sup> After all this was over, all Isra'el who were there went out to the cities of Y'hudah and smashed the standing-stones, chopped down the sacred poles, and broke down the high places and altars throughout Y'hudah, Binyamin, Efrayim and M'nasheh, until they had destroyed them all. Then all the people of Isra'el returned to their own cities, each to his own possession.

<sup>2</sup> Hizkiyahu re-established the divisions of the cohanim and L'vi'im in accordance with the way the divisions had been before, with each man assigned his task, both the cohanim and the L'vi'im, for burnt offerings and for peace offerings, to serve, to give thanks and to praise at the gates of ADONAI's camp. <sup>3</sup> He determined a portion of the king's property to be given for the burnt offerings, that is, for the morning and evening burnt offerings and for burnt offerings on Shabbats, Rosh-Hodesh and the designated times, as prescribed by the Torah of ADONAI. <sup>4</sup> He also ordered the people living in Yerushalayim to contribute the portion meant for the cohanim and L'vi'im, so that they would be submitting themselves to the Torah of ADONAI. <sup>5</sup> As soon as the order was issued, the people of Isra'el gave in abundance from the firstfruits of the grain, wine, olive oil, honey and other agricultural produce; they brought the required tenth and more. <sup>6</sup> The people of Isra'el and Y'hudah living in the cities of Y'hudah also brought the required tenth of oxen and sheep and the required tenth of consecrated gifts that had been dedicated to ADONAI their God, and piled them in heaps. <sup>7</sup> They began accumulating these heaps in the third month and completed them in the seventh month. <sup>8</sup> When Hizkiyahu and the leaders came and saw the heaps, they blessed ADONAI and his people Isra'el. <sup>9</sup> When Hizkiyahu asked the cohanim and L'vi'im about the heaps, <sup>10</sup> 'Azaryahu the chief cohen, from the house of Tzadok, answered him, "Ever since the people began bringing offerings into the house of ADONAI, we have had enough to eat and plenty left over; for ADONAI has blessed his people, and what is left over is this massive supply."

entitled to enter the house of A<sub>DONAI</sub> was given his daily share for performing his duties according to his division, regardless of how he was recorded in the genealogies. <sup>17</sup> Likewise, those recorded in the genealogies of the cohanim by clans received shares, as did the L'vi'im twenty years and older who were performing their duties in their assigned divisions. <sup>18</sup> When shares were assigned, all their little ones, wives, sons and daughters were also recorded in the genealogies, throughout the entire community; for in their faithfulness to this task they consecrated themselves. <sup>19</sup> Finally, shares were assigned to the descendants of Aharon, the cohanim, who lived in the pasture-lands surrounding their cities — in each city they were mentioned by name. Thus portions were distributed to all the males among the cohanim and to all whose genealogies showed that they belonged to the L'vi'im.

<sup>20</sup> This is what Hizkiyahu did throughout all Y'hudah. He accomplished things that were good, right and faithful before A<sub>DONAI</sub> his God. <sup>21</sup> Every project that he undertook in order to seek his God, whether in the service of the house of God or in connection with the Torah and the mitzvot, he did with all his heart; and so he succeeded.

32 <sup>1</sup> After these events and this faithfulness of [Hizkiyahu's], Sancheriv king of Ashur came, invaded Y'hudah and besieged the fortified cities, thinking that he would break in [and capture] them. <sup>2</sup> When Hizkiyahu saw that Sancheriv had come and intended to attack Yerushalayim, <sup>3</sup> he consulted his leading men and military advisers about sealing off the water in the springs outside the city. After gaining their support, <sup>4</sup> a large crowd was gathered to block all the springs and the stream flowing through the countryside. They reasoned, "Why should the kings of Ashur come and find an ample supply of water?" <sup>5</sup> Then, taking courage, he rebuilt all the broken sections of the wall, raised towers on it, built another wall outside that, strengthened the Millo in the City of David, and made a large quantity of spears and shields. <sup>6</sup> He appointed military commanders over the people, then gathered them before him in the open space at the city gate and spoke these words of encouragement to them: <sup>7</sup> "Be strong! Take courage! Don't be afraid or distressed on account of the king of Ashur or all the horde he brings with him. For the One with us is greater than the one with him — <sup>8</sup>

he has human strength, but we have ADONAI our God to help us and fight our battles!” The people took heart at the words of Hizkiyahu king of Y’udah.

<sup>9</sup> After this, while Sancheriv and all his army were besieging Lakhish, he sent his envoys to Yerushalayim, to Hizkiyahu king of Y’udah and to all Y’udah who were there in Yerushalayim, with this message: <sup>10</sup> “This is what Sancheriv king of Ashur says: ‘What gives you the confidence that you can endure a siege against Yerushalayim?’ <sup>11</sup> Hasn’t Hizkiyahu deluded you? Isn’t he condemning you to death by starvation and thirst when he says, “ADONAI our God will save us from the king of Ashur”? <sup>12</sup> Isn’t this the same Hizkiyahu who removed [your God’s] high places and altars and ordered Y’udah and Yerushalayim to worship before one altar and offer sacrifices only on it? <sup>13</sup> Don’t you realize what I and my ancestors have done to all the peoples of the other countries? Were the gods of these nations able to do a thing to rescue their country from me? <sup>14</sup> Who of all the gods of those nations that my ancestors completely destroyed was able to rescue his people from me? How then will your God rescue you from me? <sup>15</sup> Don’t let Hizkiyahu mislead you or delude you this way, don’t believe him. For no god of any nation or kingdom has ever been able to rescue his people from me or my ancestors; how much less will your God rescue you from me!’”

<sup>18</sup> They were shouting loudly in the language of the Judeans to the people of Yerushalayim who were on the wall in order to terrify them and make them fearful, so that they could capture the city. <sup>19</sup> They spoke about the God of Yerushalayim in the same way as about the gods of the other peoples of the earth, which are merely human artifacts. <sup>20</sup> Because of this, Hizkiyahu the king and Yesha’yahu the prophet, the son of Amotz, prayed and cried out to heaven. <sup>21</sup> Then ADONAI sent an angel, who cut down the valiant warriors, the leaders and the officers in the king of Ashur’s camp, so that he had to return shamefaced to his own country. When he entered the house of his god, his own sons, whom he himself had fathered, put him to death with the sword there.

every respect. <sup>23</sup> Many people brought gifts to ADONAI in Yerushalayim and items of value to Hizkiyahu king of Y'hudah, so that from then on he was regarded highly by all the nations.

<sup>24</sup> Around this time, Hizkiyahu became ill to the point of death. But he prayed to ADONAI, who answered him, even giving him a sign. <sup>25</sup> However, Hizkiyahu did not respond commensurately with the benefit done for him, because he had grown proud; thus he brought anger on himself and on Y'hudah and Yerushalayim as well. <sup>26</sup> But Hizkiyahu then humbled himself for his pride, both he and the people living in Yerushalayim, so that ADONAI's anger did not strike them during Hizkiyahu's lifetime.

<sup>27</sup> Hizkiyahu had vast riches and great honor. He provided himself with storage places for silver, gold, precious stones, spices, shields and all kinds of valuable articles; <sup>28</sup> also storehouses for the harvest of grain, wine and olive oil; and stalls for all kinds of livestock and pens for the flocks. <sup>29</sup> He provided cities for himself and purchased flocks and herds in abundance, for God had made him extremely wealthy.

<sup>30</sup> It was this same Hizkiyahu who blocked the upper outlet of the Gichon Spring and diverted the water straight down on the west side of the City of David.

Hizkiyahu succeeded in all that he did. <sup>31</sup> However, in the matter of the ambassadors from the princes of Bavel, who sent to him to learn of the marvel that had taken place in the land, God left him by himself, in order to test him, so that he might know everything that was in his heart.

made sacred poles and worshipped all the army of heaven and served them.<sup>4</sup> He erected altars in the house of ADONAI, concerning which ADONAI had said, “My name will be in Yerushalayim forever.”<sup>5</sup> He erected altars for all the army of heaven in the two courtyards of the house of ADONAI.<sup>6</sup> He made his children pass through the fire [as a sacrifice] in the Ben-Hinnom Valley. He practiced soothsaying, divination and sorcery; and he appointed mediums and persons who used spirit guides. He did much that was evil from ADONAI’s perspective, thus provoking him to anger.<sup>7</sup> He set the carved image of the idol he had made in the house of God, concerning which God had told David and Shlomo his son, “In this house and in Yerushalayim, which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Isra’el, I will put my name forever.<sup>8</sup> Also I will not remove the feet of Isra’el from the land I assigned your ancestors, if only they will take heed to obey every order I have given them, that is, all the Torah, laws and rulings that came through Moshe.”<sup>9</sup> M’nasheh caused Y’hudah and the people of Yerushalayim to go astray, so that they did even worse things than the nations whom ADONAI destroyed ahead of the people of Isra’el.

<sup>10</sup> ADONAI spoke to M’nasheh and to his people, but they paid no attention.<sup>11</sup> Therefore ADONAI brought against them the commanders of the king of Ashur’s army. They took M’nasheh captive with hooks, bound him in chains and carried him off to Bavel.<sup>12</sup> Then, when he was in distress, he began to appease the anger of ADONAI, abjectly humbling himself before the God of his ancestors.<sup>13</sup> He prayed to him; and God was moved by his plea, paid attention to his entreaty and brought him back to Yerushalayim, to his kingly office. Then M’nasheh understood that ADONAI really is God.

<sup>18</sup> Other activities of M’nasheh, his prayer to his God and the words of the seers who spoke to him in the name of ADONAI the God of Isra’el are recorded in the Annals of the Kings of Isra'el. <sup>19</sup> Also his prayer and how God was moved by his plea, all his sin and disloyalty, and the locations where he built high places and set up the sacred poles and carved images before he humbled himself are written in the History of the Seers.

<sup>20</sup> Then M'nasheh slept with his ancestors and was buried at his own house, and Amon his son took his place as king.

<sup>21</sup> Amon was twenty-two years old when he began his reign, and he ruled for two years in Yerushalayim. <sup>22</sup> He did what was evil from ADONAI's perspective, as had M'nasheh his father. Amon sacrificed to all the carved images that M'nasheh his father had made, and served them. <sup>23</sup> He did not humble himself before ADONAI, as M'nasheh his father had done; rather, this Amon kept adding to his guilt.

<sup>24</sup> His servants conspired against him and put the king to death in his own palace. <sup>25</sup> But the people of the land put to death all those who had been part of the conspiracy against King Amon. Then the people of the land made Yoshiyahu his son king in place of him.

<sup>3</sup> For in the eighth year of his reign, when he was still young, he began seeking after the God of David his father; and in the twelfth year, he began cleansing Y'hudah and Yerushalayim from the high places, the sacred poles, and the carved and cast metal images. <sup>4</sup> In his presence they broke down the altars of the ba'alim, and he chopped down the pillars for sun-worship mounted above them. He smashed the sacred poles and the carved and cast metal images, grinding them to dust, which he threw on the graves of those who had sacrificed to them. <sup>5</sup> He burned the bones of the priests on their altars, thus cleansing Y'hudah and Yerushalayim. <sup>6</sup> He did likewise in the cities of M'nasheh, Efrayim, Shim'on and even as far as Naftali, in their surrounding ruins. <sup>7</sup> He broke down the altars, beat the sacred poles and carved images to powder and chopped down the pillars for sun-worship throughout all the land of Isra'el. Then he returned to Yerushalayim.

the city and Yo'ach the son of Yo'achaz the recorder to repair the house of ADONAI his God. <sup>9</sup> They went to Hilkiyahu the cohen hagadol and handed over to him the money that had been brought into the house of God, which the L'vi'im who guarded the doors had collected from M'nasheh, Efrayim, the rest of Isra'el and all Y'hudah and Binyamin. Then they returned to Yerushalayim. <sup>10</sup> They gave it to the supervisors of the work being done in the house of ADONAI; and those doing the work in the house of ADONAI used it to repair and restore the house — <sup>11</sup> that is, they gave it to the carpenters and construction-workers to purchase worked stone, timber for the crossbeams and roof beams for the houses which the kings of Y'hudah had destroyed. <sup>12</sup> The men did the work faithfully. Their supervisors were Yachat and 'Ovadyahu, L'vi'im from the descendants of M'rari, also Z'kharyah and Meshulam from the descendants of the K'hatim to give direction; and other L'vi'im, all of whom could accompany singing with musical instruments. <sup>13</sup> They supervised those carrying the loads and everyone doing any kind of work; and there were also L'vi'im who were secretaries, officials and gatekeepers.

<sup>14</sup> While bringing out the money that had been brought into the house of ADONAI, Hilkiyahu the cohen found the scroll of the Torah of ADONAI given by Moshe. <sup>15</sup> Hilkiyahu said to Shafan the secretary, "I have found the scroll of the Torah in the house of ADONAI." Hilkiyahu gave the scroll to Shafan. <sup>16</sup> Shafan the secretary brought the scroll to the king.

Turning to the king, he gave him this report: "Your servants are doing everything you ordered them to do. <sup>17</sup> They have poured out the money found in the house of ADONAI and handed it over to the supervisors and workers." <sup>18</sup> Then Shafan the secretary told the king, "Hilkiyahu the cohen hagadol gave me a scroll." Shafan read it aloud before the king. <sup>19</sup> After the king had heard what was written in the Torah, he tore his clothes. <sup>20</sup> Then the king issued this order to Hilkiyahu, Achikam the son of Shafan, 'Avdon the son of Mikhah, Shafan the secretary and 'Asayah the king's servant: <sup>21</sup> "Go, and consult ADONAI for me and for the people left in Isra'el and Y'hudah in regard to what is written in this scroll which has been found. For ADONAI must be furious at us, since our ancestors did not observe the word of ADONAI and do everything written in this scroll." <sup>22</sup> So Hilkiyahu and those the king had ordered went to Huldah the prophet, the wife of Shalum the son of Tok'hat, the son of Hasrat, keeper of the wardrobe — she lived in the Second Quarter of Yerushalayim — and spoke with her about this. <sup>23</sup> She told them, “ADONAI the God of Isra’el says to tell the man who sent you to me<sup>24</sup> that ADONAI says this: ‘I am going to bring calamity on this place and on its inhabitants, all the curses written in the scroll they read to the king of Y’hudah;<sup>25</sup> because they have abandoned me and offered to other gods, in order to provoke me with everything they do. Therefore my anger is poured out on this place and will not be quenched.’

<sup>26</sup> “But you are to tell the king of Y’hudah, who sent you to consult ADONAI, that ADONAI the God of Isra’el also says this: ‘In regard to the words you have heard,<sup>27</sup> because your heart was tender, and you humbled yourself before God when you heard his words against this place and its inhabitants — you humbled yourself before me, tore your clothes and cried before me — I have also heard you,’ says ADONAI.<sup>28</sup> ‘Here, I will gather you to your ancestors; you will go to your grave in peace; and your eyes will not see all the calamity I am going to bring on this place and its inhabitants.’” So they brought back word to the king.

<sup>29</sup> Then the king summoned and assembled all the leaders of Y’hudah and Yerushalayim.<sup>30</sup> The king went up to the house of ADONAI with all the men of Y’hudah, those living in Yerushalayim, the cohanim, the L’vi’im and all the people, both great and small; and he read in their hearing everything written in the scroll of the covenant that had been found in the house of ADONAI.<sup>31</sup> The king stood in his place and made a covenant in the presence of ADONAI to live following ADONAI, observing his mitzvot, instructions and laws wholeheartedly and with all his being, so as to perform the words of the covenant written in this scroll.<sup>32</sup> Then, after he had all the people in Yerushalayim and Binyamin stand in affirmation of it, the inhabitants of Yerushalayim acted in accordance with the covenant of God, the God of their ancestors.

<sup>33</sup> Yoshiyahu removed all the abominable idols from all the territories belonging to the people of Isra’el, and he made everyone in Isra’el serve ADONAI their God. Throughout his lifetime, they did not stop following ADONAI, the God of their ancestors.

35<sup>1</sup> Yoshiyahu kept Pesach to ADONAI in Yerushalayim. They slaughtered the Pesach lamb on the fourteenth day of the first month.<sup>2</sup> He assigned the cohanim to their posts and encouraged them to perform the service of the house of ADONAI.<sup>3</sup> To the L’vi’im who were teaching all Isra’el and were holy for ADONAI he said, “Put the holy ark in the house which Shlomo the son of David, king of Isra’el, built; after this, you will not have to carry it again. Now serve ADONAI your God and his people Isra’el. <sup>4</sup>Organize yourselves by clans and duty divisions according to the arrangement written down by David king of Isra’el and Shlomo his son. <sup>5</sup> Stand in the Holy Place according to the divisions of the clans of your kinsmen the ordinary people, with part of a clan of L’vi’im serving each clan [of Isra’el]. <sup>6</sup> Then slaughter the Pesach lamb, consecrate yourselves, prepare what your kinsmen need, and act according to the word of ADONAI given through Moshe.”

<sup>7</sup> Yoshiyahu gave the ordinary people, to all who were present, 30,000 lambs and kids from the flock, all of them for Pesach offerings, and 3,000 bulls. These were from the king’s personal property. <sup>8</sup> Also his leading men voluntarily gave to the people and to the cohanim and L’vi’im. Hilkiyah, Z’kharyahu and Yechi’el, the rulers of the house of God, gave the cohanim 2,600 [lambs and kids] and 300 oxen for Pesach offerings. <sup>9</sup> Konanyah, his brothers Sh’mā’yah and N’tan’el, and Hashavyah, Ye’i’el and Yozavad, the head L’vi’im, gave the L’vi’im 5,000 [lambs and kids] and 500 oxen for Pesach offerings.

<sup>10</sup> So the service was prepared; the cohanim stood at their posts; and the L’vi’im worked in their divisions, in keeping with the king’s order. <sup>11</sup> They slaughtered the Pesach lamb; the cohanim splashed [the blood, which they received from the L’vi’im], and the L’vi’im skinned and butchered them. <sup>12</sup> They removed the portions to be burned, in order to give them to the divisions of the clans of the ordinary people to present to ADONAI, as written in the scroll of Moshe. They did the same with the oxen. <sup>13</sup> They roasted the Pesach lamb over fire, according to the rule; while they boiled the holy offerings in pots, kettles and pans and carried them quickly to all the ordinary people. <sup>14</sup> Afterwards, they prepared food for themselves and for the cohanim; because the cohanim, the descendants of Aharon, were busy till nightfall offering the fat and the portions to be burned up; this is why the L’vi’im prepared food both for themselves and for the cohanim the descendants of Aharon.

<sup>15</sup> The singers the sons of Asaf were at their posts, as ordered by David — Asaf, Heman and Y’dutun the king’s seer. The gatekeepers were at every gate, and they did not need to leave their posts, because their brothers the L’vi’im prepared [food] for them.

<sup>16</sup> Thus all the service of ADONAI was prepared the same day for observing Pesach and offering burnt offerings on the altar of ADONAI, in accordance with the order of King Yoshiyahu. <sup>17</sup> The people of Isra'el who were present observed the Pesach at that time and the festival of Matzot for seven days. <sup>18</sup> No Pesach like that had been kept in Isra'el since the days of Sh'mu'el the prophet, and none of the kings of Isra'el observe a Pesach such as Yoshiyahu observed, with the cohanim, L'vi'im, all Y'hudah, those of Isra'el who were present, and the inhabitants of Yerushalayim. <sup>19</sup> This Pesach was observed in the eighteenth year of Yoshiyahu.

<sup>20</sup> After all this, and after Yoshiyahu had restored the house, N'kho king of Egypt went up to attack Kark'mish by the Euphrates River. King Yoshiyahu went out to oppose him; <sup>21</sup> but N'kho sent envoys to him with this message: "Do I have a conflict with you, king of Y'hudah? No, I am not coming today to attack you, but to attack the dynasty with whom I am at war. God has ordered to speed me along; so don't meddle with God, who is with me; so that he won't destroy you." <sup>22</sup> Nevertheless, Yoshiyahu was determined to go after him. He disguised himself in order to fight against him and wouldn't listen to what N'kho said, which was from the mouth of God. Then he went to fight in the Megiddo Valley. <sup>23</sup> There archers shot King Yoshiyahu. The king said to his servants, "Take me away, because I'm badly wounded." <sup>24</sup> So his servants took him out of the chariot, transferred him to his second chariot and brought him to Yerushalayim. But he died, and he was buried in the tombs of his ancestors. All Y'hudah and Yerushalayim mourned Yoshiyahu. <sup>25</sup> Yirmeyahu composed a lament for Yoshiyahu; and all the men and women singers have sung of Yoshiyahu in their laments till this day. They made singing them a law in Isra'el, and they are recorded in the Laments.

36 <sup>1</sup> Then the people of the land took Y'ho'achaz the son of Yoshiyahu and made him king in his father's place, in Yerushalayim.

<sup>2</sup> Y'ho'achaz was twenty-three years old when he began his reign, and he ruled for three months in Yerushalayim. <sup>3</sup> But the king of Egypt deposed him in Yerushalayim and imposed a penalty on the land of three-and-a-third tons of silver and sixty-six pounds of gold. <sup>4</sup> Then the king of Egypt made Elyakim his brother king over Y'hudah and Yerushalayim, changing his name to Y'hoyakim; N'kho took Yo'achaz his brother and carried him off to Egypt.

<sup>5</sup> Y'hoyakim was twenty-five years old when he began his reign, and he ruled for eleven years in Yerushalayim. He did what was evil from the perspective of ADONAI his God. <sup>6</sup> N'vukhadnetzar king of Bavel attacked him and bound him in chains to carry him off to Bavel. <sup>7</sup> N'vukhadnetzar also carried the articles in the house of ADONAI away to Bavel and put them in his temple in Bavel. <sup>8</sup> Other activities of Y'hoyakim, including all the abominations he did publicly and those discovered later, are recorded in the Annals of the Kings of Isra'el and Y'hudah. Then Y'hoyakhin his son took his place as king.

<sup>9</sup> Y'hoyakhin was eight years old when he began his reign, and he ruled in Yerushalayim for three months and ten days. He did what was evil from ADONAI's perspective. <sup>10</sup> In the spring, King N'vukhadnetzar sent and had him brought to Bavel together with the valuable articles from the house of ADONAI, and made Tzedekyah his brother king over Y'hudah and Yerushalayim.

<sup>11</sup> Tzedekyah was twenty-one years old when he began his reign, and he ruled for eleven years in Yerushalayim. <sup>12</sup> He did what was evil from the perspective of ADONAI his God. He did not humble himself before Yirmeyahu the prophet speaking on behalf of ADONAI.

<sup>13</sup> He also rebelled against King N'vukhadnetzar, who had made him swear loyalty to him by God; instead, he became stiffnecked and hardhearted, refusing to turn to ADONAI the God of Isra'el. <sup>14</sup> In addition, the chief cohanim and the people grew increasingly unfaithful, following all the abominable practices of the other nations; and they polluted the house of ADONAI, which he had consecrated in Yerushalayim. <sup>15</sup> Time after time, and frequently, ADONAI, the God of their ancestors, sent word to them through his messengers; because he had compassion on his people and on the place where he lived. <sup>16</sup> But they ridiculed God's messengers, treating his words with contempt and scoffing at his prophets, until the anger of ADONAI rose up against his people to the extent that there was no longer any remedy.

compassion on either young men or young women, old men or gray-haired; God handed all of them over to him. <sup>18</sup> All the articles in the house of God, great and small; the supplies in the house of ADONAI; and the supplies of the king and his leading men — all these he brought to Bavel. <sup>19</sup> Then they burned down the house of God, broke down the wall of Yerushalayim, put to flames all its palaces and destroyed everything in it of worth. <sup>20</sup> Those who had escaped the sword he carried off to Bavel, and they became slaves to him and his sons until the reign of the kingdom of Persia. <sup>21</sup> Thus was fulfilled the word of ADONAI spoken by Yirmeyahu, “until the land has been paid her Shabbats” — for as long as it lay desolate, it kept Shabbat, until seventy years had passed.

<sup>22</sup> Now in the first year of Koresh king of Persia, so that the word of ADONAI spoken by Yirmeyahu might be fulfilled, ADONAI activated the spirit of Koresh king of Persia to proclaim throughout his entire kingdom, and put in writing as well: <sup>23</sup> “Here is what Koresh king of Persia says: ADONAI, the God of heaven, has given me all the kingdoms on earth, and he has charged me to build him a house in Yerushalayim, in Y’hudah. Whoever there is among you of all his people, may ADONAI his God be with him! He may go up . . . .”

The Good News Yeshua the Messiah, as Reported by

Mattityahu

MATTHEW

1 <sup>1</sup> This is the genealogy of Yeshua the Messiah, son of David, son of Avraham:

Yitz'chak was the father of Ya'akov,
Ya'akov was the father of Y'hudah and his brothers, <sup>3</sup> Y'hudah was the father of Peretz and Zerach (their mother was Tamar), Peretz was the father of Hetzron,
Hetzron was the father of Ram,
<sup>4</sup> Ram was the father of 'Amminadav,
'Amminadav was the father of Nachshon, Nachshon was the father of Salmon,
<sup>5</sup> Salmon was the father of Bo'az (his mother was Rachav), Bo'az was the father of 'Oved (his mother was Rut),
'Oved was the father of Yishai,
<sup>6</sup> Yishai was the father of David the king.

David was the father of Shlomo (his mother was the wife of Uriyah), <sup>7</sup> Shlomo was the father of Rechav'am, Rechav'am was the father of Aviyah, Aviyah was the father of Asa,
<sup>8</sup> Asa was the father of Y'hoshafat, Y'hoshafat was the father of Yoram,
Yoram was the father of 'Uziyahu,
<sup>9</sup> 'Uziyahu was the father of Yotam,
Yotam was the father of Achaz,

10 Achaz was the father of Hizkiyahu,
 Hizkiyahu was the father of M'nasheh,
 M'nasheh was the father of Amon,
 Amon was the father of Yoshiyahu,
 11 Yoshiyahu was the father of Y'khanyahu and his brothers
 at the time of the Exile to Bavel.

12 After the Babylonian Exile, Y'khanyahu was the father of Sh'altiel,
 Sh'altiel was the father of Z'rubavel,
 13 Z'rubavel was the father of Avihud,
 Avihud was the father of Elyakim,
 Elyakim was the father of 'Azur,
 14 'Azur was the father of Tzadok,
 Tzadok was the father of Yakhin,
 Yakhin was the father of El'ichud,
 15 El'ichud was the father of El'azar,
 El'azar was the father of Mattan,
 Mattan was the father of Ya'akov,
 16 Ya'akov was the father of Yosef the husband of Miryam, from whom was born the Yeshua who was called the Messiah.

17 Thus there were fourteen generations from Avraham to David, fourteen generations from David to the Babylonian Exile, and fourteen generations from the Babylonian Exile to the Messiah.

<sup>18</sup> Here is how the birth of Yeshua the Messiah took place. When his mother Miryam was engaged to Yosef, before they were married, she was found to be pregnant from the Ruach HaKodesh. <sup>19</sup> Her husband-to-be, Yosef, was a man who did what was right; so he made plans to break the engagement quietly, rather than put her to public shame. <sup>20</sup> But while he was thinking about this, an angel of ADONAI appeared to him in a dream and said,
 "Yosef, son of David, do not be afraid to take Miryam home with you as your wife; for what has been conceived in her is from the Ruach HaKodesh.

<sup>21</sup> She will give birth to a son, and you are to name him Yeshua, [which means ‘ADONAI saves,’] because he will save his people from their sins.”

<sup>22</sup> All this happened in order to fulfill what ADONAI had said through the prophet,

<sup>23</sup> “The virgin will conceive and bear a son,
and they will call him ‘Immanu El.’”<sup>a</sup>

(The name means, “God is with us.”)

<sup>24</sup> When Yosef awoke he did what the angel of ADONAI had told him to do — he took Miryam home to be his wife, <sup>25</sup> but he did not have sexual relations with her until she had given birth to a son, and he named him Yeshua.

2 <sup>1</sup> After Yeshua was born in Beit-Lechem in the land of Y’hudah during the time when Herod was king, Magi from the east came to Yerushalayim <sup>2</sup> and asked, “Where is the newborn King of the Jews? For we saw his star in the east and have come to worship him.”

<sup>3</sup> When King Herod heard of this he became very agitated, and so did everyone else in Yerushalayim. <sup>4</sup> He called together all the head cohanim and Torah-teachers of the people and asked them, “Where will the Messiah be born?” <sup>5</sup> “In Beit-Lechem of Y’hudah,” they replied, “because the prophet wrote,

are by no means the least among the rulers of Y’hudah;
for from you will come a Ruler
who will shepherd my people Isra’el.’”<sup>b</sup>

<sup>7</sup> Herod summoned the Magi to meet with him privately and asked them exactly when the star had appeared. <sup>8</sup> Then he sent them to Beit-Lechem with these instructions: “Search carefully for the child; and when you find him, let me know, so that I too may go and worship him.”

<sup>9</sup> After they had listened to the king, they went away; and the star which they had seen in the east went in front of them until it came and stopped over the place where the child was. <sup>10</sup> When they saw the star, they were overjoyed. <sup>11</sup> Upon entering the house, they saw the child with his mother Miryam; and they prostrated themselves and worshipped him. Then they opened their bags and presented him gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh. <sup>12</sup> But they had been warned in a dream not to return to Herod, so they took another route back to their own country.

<sup>13</sup> After they had gone, an angel of ADONAI appeared to Yosef in a dream and said, “Get up, take the child and his mother, and escape to Egypt, and stay there until I tell you to leave. For Herod is going to look for the child in order to kill him.” <sup>14</sup> So he got up, took the child and his mother, and left during the night for Egypt, <sup>15</sup> where he stayed until Herod died. This happened in order to fulfill what ADONAI had said through the prophet,

<sup>16</sup> Meanwhile, when Herod realized that the Magi had tricked him, he was furious and gave orders to kill all the boys in and around Beit-Lechem who were two years old or less, calculating from the time the Magi had told him. <sup>17</sup> In this way were fulfilled the words spoken through the prophet Yirmeyahu,

<sup>18</sup> “A voice was heard in Ramah, sobbing and lamenting loudly.
It was Rachel sobbing for her children
and refusing to be comforted,
because they are no longer alive.”<sup>d</sup>

<sup>19</sup> After Herod’s death, an angel of ADONAI appeared in a dream to Yosef in Egypt <sup>20</sup> and said, “Get up, take the child and his mother, and go to Eretz-Yisra’el, for those who wanted to kill the child are dead.” <sup>21</sup> So he got up, took the child and his mother, and went back to Eretz-Yisra’el. <sup>22</sup> However, when he heard that Archelaus had succeeded his father Herod as king of Y’hudah, he was afraid to go there. Warned in a dream, he withdrew to the Galil <sup>23</sup> and settled in a town called Natzeret, so that what had been spoken by the prophets might be fulfilled, that he will be called a Natzrati.

3 <sup>1</sup> It was during those days that Yochanan the Immerser arrived in the desert of Y'hudah and began proclaiming the message, <sup>2</sup> "Turn from your sins to God, for the Kingdom of Heaven is near!" <sup>3</sup> This is the man Yesha'yahu was talking about when he said,

"The voice of someone crying out:
'In the desert prepare the way of ADONAI!
Make straight paths for him!'"<sup>ε</sup>

<sup>7</sup> But when Yochanan saw many of the P'rushim and Tz'dukim coming to be immersed by him, he said to them, "You snakes! Who warned you to escape the coming punishment?" <sup>8</sup> If you have really turned from your sins to God, produce fruit that will prove it! <sup>9</sup> And don't suppose you can comfort yourselves by saying, 'Avraham is our father'! For I tell you that God can raise up for Avraham sons from these stones! <sup>10</sup> Already the axe is at the root of the trees, ready to strike; every tree that doesn't produce good fruit will be chopped down and thrown in the fire! <sup>11</sup> It's true that I am immersing you in water so that you might turn from sin to God; but the one coming after me is more powerful than I — I'm not worthy even to carry his sandals — and he will immerse you in the Ruach HaKodesh and in fire. <sup>12</sup> He has with him his winnowing fork; and he will clear out his threshing floor, gathering his wheat into the barn but burning up the straw with unquenchable fire!"

of God coming down upon him like a dove, <sup>17</sup> and a voice from heaven said, “This is my Son, whom I love; I am well pleased with him.”

4 <sup>1</sup> Then the Spirit led Yeshua up into the wilderness to be tempted by the Adversary. <sup>2</sup> After Yeshua had fasted forty days and nights, he was hungry. <sup>3</sup> The Tempter came and said to him, “If you are the Son of God, order these stones to become bread.” <sup>4</sup> But he answered, “The Tanakh says,

‘Man does not live on bread alone,
but on every word that comes from the mouth of ADONAI’”<sup>f</sup>

<sup>5</sup> Then the Adversary took him to the holy city and set him on the highest point of the Temple. <sup>6</sup> “If you are the Son of God,” he said, “jump! For the Tanakh says,

‘He will order his angels to be responsible for you....
They will support you with their hands,
so that you will not hurt your feet on the stones.’”<sup>g</sup>

<sup>7</sup> Yeshua replied to him, “But it also says, ‘Do not put ADONAI your God to the test.’”<sup>h</sup>

<sup>8</sup> Once more, the Adversary took him up to the summit of a very high mountain, showed him all the kingdoms of the world in all their glory, <sup>9</sup> and said to him, “All this I will give you if you will bow down and worship me.” <sup>10</sup> “Away with you, Satan!” Yeshua told him, “For the Tanakh says,

‘Worship ADONAI your God, and serve only him.’”<sup>i</sup>

<sup>11</sup> Then the Adversary let him alone, and angels came and took care of him.

<sup>12</sup> When Yeshua heard that Yochanan had been put in prison, he returned to the Galil; <sup>13</sup> but he left Natzeret and came to live in K’far-Nachum, a lake shore town near the boundary between Z’vulun and Naftali. <sup>14</sup> This happened in order to fulfill what Yesha’yahu the prophet had said,

toward the lake, beyond the Yarden, Galil-of-the-Goyim —
the people living in darkness have seen a great light;
upon those living in the region, in the shadow of death,
light has dawned.”<sup>j</sup>

<sup>23</sup> Yeshua went all over the Galil teaching in their synagogues, proclaiming the Good News of the Kingdom, and healing people from every kind of disease and sickness. <sup>24</sup> Word of him spread throughout all Syria, and people brought to him all who were ill, suffering from various diseases and pains, and those held in the power of demons, and epileptics and paralytics; and he healed them. <sup>25</sup> Huge crowds followed him from the Galil, the Ten Towns, Yerushalayim, Y’udah, and ‘Ever-HaYarden.

5 <sup>1</sup> Seeing the crowds, Yeshua walked up the hill. After he sat down, his talmidim came to him, <sup>2</sup> and he began to speak. This is what he taught them:

for the Kingdom of Heaven is theirs.

4

“How blessed are those who mourn!
for they will be comforted.

5

“How blessed are the meek!
for they will inherit the Land!<sup>k</sup>

6

“How blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness!
for they will be filled.

for they will be shown mercy.

<sup>8</sup> “How blessed are the pure in heart!
for they will see God.

<sup>9</sup> “How blessed are those who make peace!
for they will be called sons of God.

<sup>10</sup> “How blessed are those who are persecuted
because they pursue righteousness!
for the Kingdom of Heaven is theirs.

<sup>11</sup> “How blessed you are when people insult you and persecute you and tell all kinds of vicious lies about you because you follow me! <sup>12</sup> Rejoice, be glad, because your reward in heaven is great — they persecuted the prophets before you in the same way.

<sup>13</sup> “You are salt for the Land. But if salt becomes tasteless, how can it be made salty again? It is no longer good for anything except being thrown out for people to trample on.

<sup>17</sup> “Don’t think that I have come to abolish the Torah or the Prophets. I have come not to abolish but to complete. <sup>18</sup> Yes indeed! I tell you that until heaven and earth pass away, not so much as a yud or a stroke will pass from the Torah — not until everything that must happen has happened. <sup>19</sup> So whoever disobeys the least of these mitzvot and teaches others to do so will be called the least in the Kingdom of Heaven. But whoever obeys them and so teaches will be called great in the Kingdom of Heaven. <sup>20</sup> For I tell you that unless your righteousness is far greater than that of the Torah-teachers and P'rushim, you will certainly not enter the Kingdom of Heaven!

<sup>21</sup> “You have heard that our fathers were told, ‘Do not murder,’<sup>l</sup> and that anyone who commits murder will be subject to judgment. <sup>22</sup> But I tell you that anyone who nurses anger against his brother will be subject to judgment; that whoever calls his brother, ‘You good-for-nothing!’ will be brought before the Sanhedrin; that whoever says, ‘Fool!’ incurs the penalty of burning in the fire of Gei-Hinnom! <sup>23</sup> So if you are offering your gift at the Temple altar and you remember there that your brother has something against you, <sup>24</sup> leave your gift where it is by the altar, and go, make peace with your brother. Then come back and offer your gift. <sup>25</sup> If someone sues you, come to terms with him quickly, while you and he are on the way to court; or he may hand you over to the judge, and the judge to the officer of the court, and you may be thrown in jail! <sup>26</sup> Yes indeed! I tell you, you will certainly not get out until you have paid the last penny.

<sup>38</sup> “You have heard that our fathers were told, ‘Eye for eye and tooth for tooth,’<sup>t</sup> <sup>39</sup> But I tell you not to stand up against someone who does you wrong. On the contrary, if someone hits you on the right cheek, let him hit you on the left cheek too! <sup>40</sup> If someone wants to sue you for your shirt, let him have your coat as well! <sup>41</sup> And if a soldier forces you to carry his pack for one mile, carry it for two! <sup>42</sup> When someone asks you for something, give it to him; when someone wants to borrow something from you, lend it to him.

<sup>43</sup> “You have heard that our fathers were told, ‘Love your neighbor’ — and hate your enemy.’ <sup>44</sup> But I tell you, love your enemies! Pray for those who persecute you! <sup>45</sup> Then you will become children of your Father in heaven. For he makes his sun shine on good and bad people alike, and he sends rain to the righteous and the unrighteous alike. <sup>46</sup> What reward do you get if you love only those who love you? Why, even tax-collectors do that! <sup>47</sup> And if you are friendly only to your friends, are you doing anything out of the ordinary? Even the Goyim do that! <sup>48</sup> Therefore, be perfect, just as your Father in heaven is perfect.

6 <sup>1</sup> “Be careful not to parade your acts of tzedakah in front of people in order to be seen by them! If you do, you have no reward from your Father in heaven. <sup>2</sup> So, when you do tzedakah, don’t announce it with trumpets to win people’s praise, like the hypocrites in the synagogues and on the streets. Yes! I tell you, they have their reward already! <sup>3</sup> But you, when you do tzedakah, don’t even let your left hand know what your right hand is doing. <sup>4</sup> Then your tzedakah will be in secret; and your Father, who sees what you do in secret, will reward you.

<sup>5</sup> “When you pray, don’t be like the hypocrites, who love to pray standing in the synagogues and on street corners, so that people can see them. Yes! I tell you, they have their reward already! <sup>6</sup> But you, when you pray, go into your room, close the door, and pray to your Father in secret. Your Father, who sees what is done in secret, will reward you.

<sup>7</sup> “And when you pray, don’t babble on and on like the pagans, who think God will hear them better if they talk a lot. <sup>8</sup> Don’t be like them, because your Father knows what you need before you ask him. <sup>9</sup> You, therefore, pray like this:

‘Our Father in heaven!

May your Name be kept holy.

<sup>10</sup>

May your Kingdom come,

your will be done on earth as in heaven.

<sup>11</sup> Give us the food we need today.

<sup>12</sup> Forgive us what we have done wrong,
as we too have forgiven those who have wronged us.

<sup>13</sup> And do not lead us into hard testing, but keep us safe from the Evil One.

*For kingship, power and glory are yours forever.

Amen.'

<sup>14</sup> For if you forgive others their offenses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you; <sup>15</sup> but if you do not forgive others their offenses, your heavenly Father will not forgive yours.

<sup>16</sup> "Now when you fast, don't go around looking miserable, like the hypocrites. They make sour faces so that people will know they are fasting. Yes! I tell you, they have their reward already! <sup>17</sup> But you, when you fast, wash your face and groom yourself, <sup>18</sup> so that no one will know you are fasting — except your Father, who is with you in secret. Your Father, who sees what is done in secret, will reward you.

<sup>25</sup> "Therefore, I tell you, don't worry about your life — what you will eat or drink; or about your body — what you will wear. Isn't life more than food and the body more than clothing? <sup>26</sup> Look at the birds flying about! They neither plant nor harvest, nor do they gather food into barns; yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Aren't you worth more than they are? <sup>27</sup> Can any of you by worrying add a single hour to his life?

<sup>31</sup> “So don’t be anxious, asking, ‘What will we eat?,’ ‘What will we drink?’ or ‘How will we be clothed?’ <sup>32</sup> For it is the pagans who set their hearts on all these things. Your heavenly Father knows you need them all. <sup>33</sup> But seek first his Kingdom and his righteousness, and all these things will be given to you as well. <sup>34</sup> Don’t worry about tomorrow—tomorrow will worry about itself! Today has enough tsuris already!

7 <sup>1</sup> “Don’t judge, so that you won’t be judged. <sup>2</sup> For the way you judge others is how you will be judged — the measure with which you measure out will be used to measure to you. <sup>3</sup> Why do you see the splinter in your brother’s eye but not notice the log in your own eye? <sup>4</sup> How can you say to your brother, ‘Let me take the splinter out of your eye,’ when you have the log in your own eye? <sup>5</sup> You hypocrite! First, take the log out of your own eye; then you will see clearly, so that you can remove the splinter from your brother’s eye!

<sup>7</sup> “Keep asking, and it will be given to you; keep seeking, and you will find; keep knocking, and the door will be opened to you. <sup>8</sup> For everyone who keeps asking receives; he who keeps seeking finds; and to him who keeps knocking, the door will be opened. <sup>9</sup> Is there anyone here who, if his son asks him for a loaf of bread, will give him a stone? <sup>10</sup> or if he asks for a fish, will give him a snake? <sup>11</sup> So if you, even though you are bad, know how to give your children gifts that are good, how much more will your Father in heaven keep giving good things to those who keep asking him!

<sup>13</sup> “Go in through the narrow gate; for the gate that leads to destruction is wide and the road broad, and many travel it; <sup>14</sup> but it is a narrow gate and a hard road that leads to life, and only a few find it.

<sup>15</sup> “Beware of the false prophets! They come to you wearing sheep’s clothing, but underneath they are hungry wolves! <sup>16</sup> You will recognize them by their fruit. Can people pick grapes from thorn bushes, or figs from thistles? <sup>17</sup> Likewise, every healthy tree produces good fruit, but a poor tree produces bad fruit. <sup>18</sup> A healthy tree cannot bear bad fruit, or a poor tree good fruit. <sup>19</sup> Any tree that does not produce good fruit is cut down and thrown in the fire! <sup>20</sup> So you will recognize them by their fruit.

<sup>21</sup> “Not everyone who says to me, ‘Lord, Lord!’ will enter the Kingdom of Heaven, only those who do what my Father in heaven wants. <sup>22</sup> On that Day, many will say to me, ‘Lord, Lord! Didn’t we prophesy in your name? Didn’t we expel demons in your name? Didn’t we perform many miracles in your name?’ <sup>23</sup> Then I will tell them to their faces, ‘I never knew you! Get away from me, you workers of lawlessness!’”

<sup>24</sup> “So, everyone who hears these words of mine and acts on them will be like a sensible man who built his house on bedrock. <sup>25</sup> The rain fell, the rivers flooded, the winds blew and beat against that house, but it didn’t collapse, because its foundation was on rock. <sup>26</sup> But everyone who hears these words of mine and does not act on them will be like a stupid man who built his house on sand. <sup>27</sup> The rain fell, the rivers flooded, the wind blew and beat against that house, and it collapsed — and its collapse was horrendous!”

<sup>28</sup> When Yeshua had finished saying these things, the crowds were amazed at the way he taught, <sup>29</sup> for he was not instructing them like their Torah-teachers but as one who had authority himself.

8 <sup>1</sup> After Yeshua had come down from the hill, large crowds followed him. <sup>2</sup> Then a man afflicted with tzara‘at came, kneeled down in front of him and said, “Sir, if you are willing, you can make me clean.” <sup>3</sup> Yeshua reached out his hand, touched him and said, “I am willing! Be cleansed!” And at once he was cleansed from his tzara‘at. <sup>4</sup> Then Yeshua said to him, “See that you tell no one; but as a testimony to the people, go and let the cohen examine you, and offer the sacrifice that Moshe commanded.”

“Sir, I am unfit to have you come into my home. Rather, if you will only give the command, my orderly will recover. <sup>9</sup> For I too am a man under authority. I have soldiers under me, and I say to this one, ‘Go!’ and he goes; to another, ‘Come!’ and he comes; to my slave, ‘Do this!’ and he does it.” <sup>10</sup> On hearing this Yeshua was amazed and said to the people following him, “Yes! I tell you, I have not found anyone in Isra’el with such trust! <sup>11</sup> Moreover, I tell you that many will come from the east and from the west to take their places at the feast in the Kingdom of Heaven with Avraham, Yitz’chak and Ya’akov. <sup>12</sup> But those born for the Kingdom will be thrown outside in the dark, where people will wail and grind their teeth!” <sup>13</sup> Then Yeshua said to the officer, “Go; let it be for you as you have trusted.” And his orderly was healed at that very moment.

<sup>16</sup> When evening came, many people held in the power of demons were brought to him. He expelled the spirits with a word and healed all who were ill. <sup>17</sup> This was done to fulfill what had been spoken through the prophet Yesha’yahu,

and bore our diseases”<sup>u</sup>

<sup>18</sup> When Yeshua saw the crowd around him, he gave orders to cross to the other side of the lake. <sup>19</sup> A Torah-teacher approached and said to him, “Rabbi, I will follow you wherever you go.” <sup>20</sup> Yeshua said to him, “The foxes have holes, and the birds flying about have nests, but the Son of Man has no home of his own.” <sup>21</sup> Another of the talmidim said to him, “Sir, first let me go and bury my father.” <sup>22</sup> But Yeshua replied, “Follow me, and let the dead bury their own dead.”

<sup>23</sup> He boarded the boat, and his talmidim followed. <sup>24</sup> Then, without warning, a furious storm arose on the lake, so that waves were sweeping over the boat. But Yeshua was sleeping. <sup>25</sup> So they came and roused him, saying, “Sir! Help! We’re about to die!” <sup>26</sup> He said to them, “Why are you afraid? So little trust you have!” Then he got up and rebuked the winds and the waves, and there was a dead calm. <sup>27</sup> The men were astounded. They asked, “What kind of man is this, that even the winds and sea obey him?”

<sup>28</sup> When Yeshua arrived at the other side of the lake, in the Gadarenes' territory, there came out of the burial caves two men controlled by demons, so violent that no one dared travel on that road. <sup>29</sup> They screamed, "What do you want with us, Son of God? Have you come here to torture us before the appointed time?" <sup>30</sup> Now some distance from them a large herd of pigs was feeding. <sup>31</sup> The demons begged him, "If you are going to drive us out, send us into the herd of pigs." <sup>32</sup> "All right, go!" he told them. So they came out and went into the pigs, whereupon the entire herd rushed down the hillside into the lake and drowned. <sup>33</sup> The swineherds fled, went off to the town and told the whole story, including what had happened to the demonized men. <sup>34</sup> At this, the whole town came out to meet Yeshua. When they saw him, they begged him to leave their district.

9 <sup>1</sup> So he stepped into a boat, crossed the lake again and came to his own town. <sup>2</sup> Some people brought him a paralyzed man lying on a mattress. When Yeshua saw their trust, he said to the paralyzed man, "Courage, son! Your sins are forgiven." <sup>3</sup> On seeing this, some of the Torah-teachers said among themselves, "This man is blaspheming!" <sup>4</sup> Yeshua, knowing what they were thinking, said, "Why are you entertaining evil thoughts in your hearts? <sup>5</sup> Tell me, which is easier to say — 'Your sins are forgiven' or 'Get up and walk'? <sup>6</sup> But look! I will prove to you that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins." He then said to the paralyzed man, "Get up, pick up your mattress, and go home!" <sup>7</sup> And the man got up and went home. <sup>8</sup> When the crowds saw this, they were awestruck and said a b'rakhah to God the Giver of such authority to human beings.

<sup>9</sup> As Yeshua passed on from there he spotted a tax-collector named Mattityahu sitting in his collection booth. He said to him, "Follow me!" and he got up and followed him.

<sup>10</sup> While Yeshua was in the house eating, many tax-collectors and sinners came and joined him and his talmidim at the meal. <sup>11</sup> When the P'rushim saw this, they said to his talmidim, "Why does your rabbi eat with tax-collectors and sinners?" <sup>12</sup> But Yeshua heard the question and answered, "The ones who need a doctor aren't the healthy but the sick. <sup>13</sup> As for you, go and learn what this means: 'I want compassion rather than animal-sacrifices.'<sup>v</sup> For I didn't come to call the 'righteous,' but sinners!"

<sup>14</sup> Next, Yochanan's talmidim came to him and asked, "Why is it that we and the P'rushim fast frequently, but your talmidim don't fast at all?" <sup>15</sup> Yeshua said to them, "Can wedding guests mourn while the bridegroom is still with them? But the time will come when the bridegroom is taken away from them; then they will fast. <sup>16</sup> No one patches an old coat with a piece of unshrunk cloth, because the patch tears away from the coat and leaves a worse hole. <sup>17</sup> Nor do people put new wine in old wineskins; if they do, the skins burst, the wine spills and the wineskins are ruined. No, they pour new wine into freshly prepared wineskins, and in this way both are preserved."

<sup>18</sup> While he was talking, an official came in, kneeled down in front of him and said, "My daughter has just died. But if you come and lay your hand on her, she will live." <sup>19</sup> Yeshua, with his talmidim, got up and followed him.

<sup>20</sup> A woman who had had a hemorrhage for twelve years approached him from behind and touched the tzitzit on his robe. <sup>21</sup> For she said to herself, "If I can only touch his robe, I will be healed." <sup>22</sup> Yeshua turned, saw her and said, "Courage, daughter! Your trust has healed you." And she was instantly healed.

<sup>23</sup> When Yeshua arrived at the official's house and saw the flute-players, and the crowd in an uproar, <sup>24</sup> he said, "Everybody out! The girl isn't dead, she's only sleeping!" And they jeered at him. <sup>25</sup> But after the people had been put outside, he entered and took hold of the girl's hand, and she got up. <sup>26</sup> News of this spread through all that region.

<sup>27</sup> As Yeshua went on from there, two blind men began following him, shouting, "Son of David! Take pity on us!" <sup>28</sup> When he entered the house, the blind men came up, and Yeshua said to them, "Do you believe that I have the power to do this?" They replied, "Yes, sir." <sup>29</sup> Then he touched their eyes and said, "Let it happen to you according to your trust"; <sup>30</sup> and their sight was restored. Yeshua warned them severely, "See that no one knows about it." <sup>31</sup> But instead, they went away and talked about him throughout that district.

<sup>32</sup> As they were going, a man controlled by a demon and unable to speak was brought to Yeshua. <sup>33</sup> After the demon was expelled the man who had been mute spoke, and the crowds were amazed. "Nothing like this has ever been seen in Isra'el," they said. <sup>34</sup> But the P'rushim said, "It is through the ruler of the demons that he expels demons."

10 <sup>1</sup> Yeshua called his twelve talmidim and gave them authority to drive out unclean spirits and to heal every kind of disease and weakness. <sup>2</sup> These are the names of the twelve emissaries:

First, Shim‘on, called Kefa, and Andrew his brother,
Ya‘akov Ben-Zavdai and Yochanan his brother,
<sup>3</sup> Philip and Bar-Talmai, T’oma and Mattityahu the tax-collector,
Ya‘akov Bar-Halfai and Taddai,

<sup>11</sup> “When you come to a town or village, look for someone trustworthy and stay with him until you leave. <sup>12</sup> When you enter someone’s household, say, ‘Shalom aleikhem!’ <sup>13</sup> If the home deserves it, let your shalom rest on it; if not, let your shalom return to you. <sup>14</sup> But if the people of a house or town will not welcome you or listen to you, leave it and shake its dust from your feet! <sup>15</sup> Yes, I tell you, it will be more tolerable on the Day of Judgment for the people of S’dom and ‘Amora than for that town!

<sup>16</sup> “Pay attention! I am sending you out like sheep among wolves, so be as prudent as snakes and as harmless as doves. <sup>17</sup> Be on guard, for there will be people who will hand you over to the local Sanhedrins and flog you in their synagogues. <sup>18</sup> On my account you will be brought before governors and kings as a testimony to them and to the Goyim. <sup>19</sup> But when they bring you to trial, do not worry about what to say or how to say it; when the time comes, you will be given what you should say. <sup>20</sup> For it will not be just you speaking, but the Spirit of your heavenly Father speaking through you.

<sup>21</sup> “A brother will betray his brother to death, and a father his child; children will turn against their parents and have them put to death. <sup>22</sup> Everyone will hate you because of me, but whoever holds out till the end will be preserved from harm. <sup>23</sup> When you are persecuted in one town, run away to another. Yes indeed; I tell you, you will not finish going through the towns of Isra’el before the Son of Man comes.

<sup>28</sup> “Do not fear those who kill the body but are powerless to kill the soul. Rather, fear him who can destroy both soul and body in Gei-Hinnom. <sup>29</sup> Aren’t sparrows sold for next to nothing, two for an assarion? Yet not one of them will fall to the ground without your Father’s consent. <sup>30</sup> As for you, every hair on your head has been counted. <sup>31</sup> So do not be afraid, you are worth more than many sparrows.

<sup>32</sup> “Whoever acknowledges me in the presence of others I will also acknowledge in the presence of my Father in heaven. <sup>33</sup> But whoever disowns me before others I will disown before my Father in heaven.

<sup>34</sup> “Don’t suppose that I have come to bring peace to the Land. It is not peace I have come to bring, but a sword! <sup>35</sup> For I have come to set

a man against his father,
a daughter against her mother,
a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law,

so that a man's enemies will be the members of his own household.<sup>w</sup>

<sup>37</sup> Whoever loves his father or mother more than he loves me is not worthy of me; anyone who loves his son or daughter more than he loves me is not worthy of me. <sup>38</sup> And anyone who does not take up his execution-stake and follow me is not worthy of me. <sup>39</sup> Whoever finds his own life will lose it, but the person who loses his life for my sake will find it. <sup>40</sup> “Whoever receives you is receiving me, and whoever receives me is receiving the One who sent me. <sup>41</sup> Anyone who receives a prophet because he is a prophet will receive the reward a prophet gets, and anyone who receives a tzaddik because he is a tzaddik will receive the reward a tzaddik gets. <sup>42</sup> Indeed, if someone gives just a cup of cold water to one of these little ones because he is my talmid — yes! — I tell you, he will certainly not lose his reward!”

<sup>2</sup> Meanwhile, Yochanan the Immerser, who had been put in prison, heard what the Messiah had been doing; so he sent a message to him through his talmidim, <sup>3</sup> asking, “Are you the one who is to come, or should we look for someone else?” <sup>4</sup> Yeshua answered, “Go and tell Yochanan what you are hearing and seeing — <sup>5</sup> the blind are seeing again, the lame are walking, people with tzara‘at are being cleansed, the deaf are hearing,<sup>x</sup> the dead are being raised,<sup>y</sup> the Good News is being told to the poor<sup>z</sup> — <sup>6</sup> and how blessed is anyone not offended by me!”

<sup>7</sup> As they were leaving, Yeshua began speaking about Yochanan to the crowds: “What did you go out to the desert to see? Reeds swaying in the breeze? <sup>8</sup> No? then what did you go out to see? Someone who was well dressed? Well-dressed people live in kings’ palaces. <sup>9</sup> Nu, so why did you go out? To see a prophet! Yes! and I tell you he’s much more than a prophet. <sup>10</sup> This is the one about whom the Tanakh says,

he will prepare your way before you.’<sup>a</sup>

<sup>11</sup> Yes! I tell you that among those born of women there has not arisen anyone greater than Yochanan the Immerser! Yet the one who is least in the Kingdom of Heaven is greater than he! <sup>12</sup> From the time of Yochanan the Immerser until now, the Kingdom of Heaven has been suffering violence; yes, violent ones are trying to snatch it away. <sup>13</sup> For all the prophets and the Torah prophesied until Yochanan. <sup>14</sup> Indeed, if you are willing to accept it, he is Eliyahu, whose coming was predicted. <sup>15</sup> If you have ears, then hear!

<sup>17</sup>       ‘We made happy music,
          but you wouldn’t dance!
          We made sad music,
          but you wouldn’t cry!’

<sup>18</sup> For Yochanan came, fasting, not drinking — so they say, ‘He has a demon.’ <sup>19</sup> The Son of Man came, eating freely and drinking wine — so they say, ‘Aha! A glutton and a drunkard! A friend of tax-collectors and sinners!’ Well, the proof of wisdom is in the actions it produces.”

<sup>20</sup> Then Yeshua began to denounce the towns in which he had done most of his miracles, because the people had not turned from their sins to God. <sup>21</sup> “Woe to you, Korazin! Woe to you, Beit-Tzaidah! Why, if the miracles done in you had been done in Tzor and Tzidon, they would long ago have put on sackcloth and ashes as evidence that they had changed their ways. <sup>22</sup> But I tell you it will be more bearable for Tzor and Tzidon than for you on the Day of Judgment! <sup>23</sup> And you, K’far-Nachum, will you be exalted to heaven? No, you will be brought down to Sh’ol!” <sup>24</sup> For if the miracles done in you had been done in S’dom, it would still be in existence today. <sup>24</sup> But I tell you that on the Day of Judgment it will be more bearable for the land of S’dom than for you!”

<sup>25</sup> It was at that time that Yeshua said, “I thank you, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that you concealed these things from the sophisticated and educated and revealed them to ordinary folks. <sup>26</sup> Yes, Father, I thank you that it pleased you to do this.

<sup>27</sup> “My Father has handed over everything to me. Indeed, no one fully knows the Son except the Father, and no one fully knows the Father except the Son and those to whom the Son wishes to reveal him.

<sup>28</sup> “Come to me, all of you who are struggling and burdened, and I will give you rest. <sup>29</sup> Take my yoke upon you and learn from me, because I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls.” <sup>30</sup> For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.”

12 <sup>1</sup> One Shabbat during that time, Yeshua was walking through some wheat fields. His talmidim were hungry, so they began picking heads of grain and eating them. <sup>2</sup> On seeing this, the P’rushim said to him, “Look! Your talmidim are violating Shabbat!” <sup>3</sup> But he said to them, “Haven’t you ever read what David did when he and those with him were hungry? <sup>4</sup> He entered the House of God and ate the Bread of the Presence!” — which was prohibited, both to him and to his companions; it is permitted only to the cohanim. <sup>5</sup> “Or haven’t you read in the Torah that on Shabbat the cohanim profane Shabbat and yet are blameless? <sup>6</sup> I tell you, there is in this place something greater than the Temple! <sup>7</sup> If you knew what ‘I want compassion rather than animal-sacrifice’<sup>d</sup> meant, you would not condemn the innocent. <sup>8</sup> For the Son of Man is Lord of Shabbat!”

Many people followed him; and he healed them all <sup>16</sup> but warned them not to make him known. <sup>17</sup> This was to fulfill what had been spoken through Yesha’yahu the prophet,

“Here is my servant, whom I have chosen,
my beloved, with whom I am well pleased;
I will put my Spirit on him,
and he will announce justice to the Gentiles.

19

He will not fight or shout,
no one will hear his voice in the streets;

20

he will not snap off a broken reed
or snuff out a smoldering wick
until he has brought justice through to victory.

In him the Gentiles will put their hope.”<sup>ε</sup>

<sup>22</sup> Then some people brought him a man controlled by demons who was blind and mute; and Yeshua healed him, so that he could both speak and see. <sup>23</sup> The crowds were astounded and asked, “This couldn’t be the Son of David, could it?” <sup>24</sup> But when the P’rushim heard of it, they said, “It is only by Ba‘al-Zibbul” — the ruler of the demons — “that this man drives out demons.”

<sup>25</sup> However, knowing what they were thinking, Yeshua said to them, “Every kingdom divided against itself will be ruined, and every city or household divided against itself will not survive. <sup>26</sup> If Satan drives out Satan, he is divided against himself; so how can his kingdom survive? <sup>27</sup> Besides, if I drive out demons by Ba‘al-Zibbul, by whom do your people drive them out? So, they will be your judges! <sup>28</sup> But if I drive out demons by the Spirit of God, then the Kingdom of God has come upon you!

<sup>29</sup> “Or again, how can someone break into a strong man’s house and make off with his possessions unless he first ties up the strong man? After that he can ransack his house.

<sup>30</sup> “Those who are not with me are against me, and those who do not gather with me are scattering. <sup>31</sup> Because of this, I tell you that people will be forgiven any sin and blasphemy, but blaspheming the Ruach HaKodesh will not be forgiven. <sup>32</sup> One can say something against the Son of Man and be forgiven; but whoever keeps on speaking against the Ruach HaKodesh will never be forgiven, neither in the ‘olam hazeh nor in the ‘olam haba.

<sup>33</sup> “If you make a tree good, its fruit will be good; and if you make a tree bad, its fruit will be bad; for a tree is known by its fruit. <sup>34</sup> You snakes! How can you who are evil say anything good? For the mouth speaks what overflows from the heart. <sup>35</sup> The good person brings forth good things from his store of good, and the evil person brings forth evil things from his store of evil. <sup>36</sup> Moreover, I tell you this: on the Day of Judgment people will have to give account for every careless word they have spoken; <sup>37</sup> for by your own words you will be acquitted, and by your own words you will be condemned.”

<sup>38</sup> At this some of the Torah-teachers said, “Rabbi, we want to see a miraculous sign from you.” <sup>39</sup> He replied, “A wicked and adulterous generation asks for a sign? No! None will be given to it but the sign of the prophet Yonah. <sup>40</sup> For just as Yonah was three days and three nights in the belly of the sea-monster, <sup>f</sup> so will the Son of Man be three days and three nights in the depths of the earth. <sup>41</sup> The people of Ninveh will stand up at the Judgment with this generation and condemn it, for they turned from their sins to God when Yonah preached, but what is here now is greater than Yonah. <sup>42</sup> The Queen of the South will stand up at the Judgment with this generation and condemn it, for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Shlomo, but what is here now is greater than Shlomo.

<sup>43</sup> “When an unclean spirit comes out of a person, it travels through dry country seeking rest and does not find it. <sup>44</sup> Then it says to itself, ‘I will return to the house I left.’ When it arrives, it finds the house standing empty, swept clean and put in order. <sup>45</sup> Then it goes and takes with it seven other spirits more evil than itself, and they come and live there — so that in the end, the person is worse off than he was before. This is how it will be for this wicked generation.”

13 <sup>1</sup> That same day, Yeshua went out of the house and sat down by the lake; <sup>2</sup> but such a large crowd gathered around him that he got into a boat and sat there while the crowd stood on the shore. <sup>3</sup> He told them many things in parables:

“A farmer went out to sow his seed. <sup>4</sup> As he sowed, some seed fell alongside the path; and the birds came and ate it up. <sup>5</sup> Other seed fell on rocky patches where there was not much soil. It sprouted quickly because the soil was shallow; <sup>6</sup> but when the sun had risen, the young plants were scorched; and since their roots were not deep, they dried up. <sup>7</sup> Other seed fell among thorns, which grew up and choked the plants. <sup>8</sup> But others fell into rich soil and produced grain, a hundred or sixty or thirty times as much as had been sown. <sup>9</sup> Those who have ears, let them hear!”

<sup>10</sup> Then the talmidim came and asked Yeshua, “Why are you speaking to them in parables?” <sup>11</sup> He answered, “Because it has been given to you to know the secrets of the Kingdom of Heaven, but it has not been given to them. <sup>12</sup> For anyone who has something will be given more, so that he will have plenty; but from anyone who has nothing, even what he does have will be taken away. <sup>13</sup> Here is why I speak to them in parables: they look without seeing and listen without hearing or understanding. <sup>14</sup> That is, in them is fulfilled the prophecy of Yesha‘yahu which says,

and keep on seeing but never perceive,
<sup>15</sup> because the heart of this people has become dull —
with their ears they barely hear,
and their eyes they have closed,
so as not to see with their eyes,
hear with their ears,
understand with their heart,
and do t’shuvah,
so that I could heal them.’<sup>9</sup>

<sup>16</sup> But you, how blessed are your eyes, because they see, and your ears, because they hear! <sup>17</sup> Yes indeed! I tell you that many a prophet and many a tzaddik longed to see the things you are seeing but did not see them, and to hear the things you are hearing but did not hear them.

<sup>18</sup> “So listen to what the parable of the sower means. <sup>19</sup> Whoever hears the message about the Kingdom, but doesn’t understand it, is like the seed sown along the path — the Evil One comes and seizes what was sown in his heart.<sup>20</sup> The seed sown on rocky ground is like a person who hears the message and accepts it with joy at once,<sup>21</sup> but has no root in himself. So he stays on for a while; but as soon as some trouble or persecution arises on account of the message, he immediately falls away.<sup>22</sup> Now the seed sown among thorns stands for someone who hears the message, but it is choked by the worries of the world and the deceitful glamor of wealth, so that it produces nothing.<sup>23</sup> However, what was sown on rich soil is the one who hears the message and understands it; such a person will surely bear fruit, a hundred or sixty or thirty times what was sown.”

<sup>24</sup> Yeshua put before them another parable. “The Kingdom of Heaven is like a man who sowed good seed in his field; <sup>25</sup> but while people were sleeping, his enemy came and sowed weeds among the wheat, then went away.<sup>26</sup> When the wheat sprouted and formed heads of grain, the weeds also appeared.<sup>27</sup> The owner’s servants came to him and said, ‘Sir didn’t you sow good seed in your field? Where have the weeds come from?’ <sup>28</sup> He answered, ‘An enemy has done this.’ The servants asked him, ‘Then do you want us to go and pull them up?’ <sup>29</sup> But he said, ‘No, because if you pull up the weeds, you might uproot some of the wheat at the same time.<sup>30</sup> Let them both grow together until the harvest; and at harvest-time I will tell the reapers to collect the weeds first and tie them in bundles to be burned, but to gather the wheat into my barn.’”

<sup>31</sup> Yeshua put before them another parable. “The Kingdom of Heaven is like a mustard seed which a man takes and sows in his field.<sup>32</sup> It is the smallest of all seeds, but when it grows up it is larger than any garden plant and becomes a tree, so that the birds flying about come and nest in its branches.”

<sup>33</sup> And he told them yet another parable. “The Kingdom of Heaven is like yeast that a woman took and mixed with a bushel of flour, then waited until the whole batch of dough rose.”

<sup>34</sup> All these things Yeshua said to the crowds in parables; indeed, he said nothing to them without using a parable.<sup>35</sup> This was to fulfill what had been spoken through the prophet,

“I will open my mouth in parables,
I will say what has been hidden since the creation of the universe.”<sup>h</sup>

<sup>36</sup> Then he left the crowds and went into the house. His talmidim approached him and said, “Explain to us the parable of the weeds in the field.” <sup>37</sup> He answered, “The one who sows the good seed is the Son of Man; <sup>38</sup> the field is the world. As for the good seed, these are the people who belong to the Kingdom; and the weeds are the people who belong to the Evil One. <sup>39</sup> The enemy who sows them is the Adversary, the harvest is the end of the age, and the harvesters are angels. <sup>40</sup> Just as the weeds are collected and burned up in the fire, so will it be at the end of the age. <sup>41</sup> The Son of Man will send forth his angels, and they will collect out of his Kingdom all the things that cause people to sin and all the people who are far from Torah; <sup>42</sup> and they will throw them into the fiery furnace, where people will wail and grind their teeth. <sup>43</sup> Then the righteous will shine forth like the sun in the Kingdom of their Father. Whoever has ears, let him hear!

<sup>44</sup> “The Kingdom of Heaven is like a treasure hidden in a field. A man found it, hid it again, then in great joy went and sold everything he owned, and bought that field.

<sup>47</sup> “Once more, the Kingdom of Heaven is like a net thrown into the lake, that caught all kinds of fish. <sup>48</sup> When it was full, the fishermen brought the net up onto the shore, sat down and collected the good fish in baskets, but threw the bad fish away. <sup>49</sup> So it will be at the close of the age — the angels will go forth and separate the evil people from among the righteous <sup>50</sup> and throw them into the fiery furnace, where they will wail and grind their teeth.

<sup>51</sup> “Have you understood all these things?” “Yes,” they answered. <sup>52</sup> He said to them, “So then, every Torah-teacher who has been made into a talmid for the Kingdom of Heaven is like the owner of a home who brings out of his storage room both new things and old.”

<sup>53</sup> When Yeshua had finished these parables, he left <sup>54</sup> and went to his home town. There he taught them in their synagogue in a way that astounded them, so that they asked, “Where do this man’s wisdom and miracles come from? <sup>55</sup> Isn’t he the carpenter’s son? Isn’t his mother called Miryam? and his brothers Ya‘akov, Yosef, Shim‘on and Y’hudah? <sup>56</sup> And his sisters, aren’t they all with us? So where does he get all this?” <sup>57</sup> And they took offense at him. But Yeshua said to them, “The only place people don’t respect a prophet is in his home town and in his own house.”<sup>58</sup> And he did few miracles there because of their lack of trust.

14<sup>1</sup> Around that time, Herod, the regional governor, heard of the fame of Yeshua<sup>2</sup> and said to his attendants, “This must be Yochanan the Immerser. He has been raised from the dead; that is why these miraculous powers are at work in him.”

<sup>3</sup> For Herod had arrested Yochanan, put him in chains and thrown him in prison because of Herodias, the wife of his brother Philip; <sup>4</sup> since Yochanan had told Herod, “It violates the Torah for you to have her as your wife.”<sup>5</sup> Herod had wanted to put Yochanan to death; but he was afraid of the people, in whose eyes Yochanan was a prophet. <sup>6</sup> However, at Herod’s birthday celebration, Herodias’ daughter danced before the company and pleased Herod so much<sup>7</sup> that he promised with an oath to give her whatever she asked. <sup>8</sup> Prompted by her mother, she said, “Give me here on a platter the head of Yochanan the Immerser.”<sup>9</sup> The king became deeply upset; but out of regard for the oaths he had sworn before his dinner guests, he ordered that her wish be granted,<sup>10</sup> and sent and had Yochanan beheaded in prison. <sup>11</sup> The head was brought on a platter to the girl, and she gave it to her mother. <sup>12</sup> Yochanan’s talmidim came, took the body and buried it; then they went and told Yeshua.

<sup>13</sup> On hearing about this, Yeshua left in a boat to be by himself in the wilderness. But the people learned of it and followed him from the towns by land. <sup>14</sup> So when he came ashore, he saw a huge crowd; and, filled with compassion for them, he healed those of them who were sick.

<sup>15</sup> As evening approached, the talmidim came to him and said, “This is a remote place and it’s getting late. Send the crowds away, so that they can go and buy food for themselves in the villages.”<sup>16</sup> But Yeshua replied, “They don’t need to go away. Give them something to eat, yourselves!”<sup>17</sup> “All we have with us,” they said, “is five loaves of bread and two fish.”<sup>18</sup> He said, “Bring them here to me.”<sup>19</sup> After instructing the crowds to sit down on the grass, he took the five loaves and the two fish and, looking up toward heaven, made a b’rakhah. Then he broke the loaves and gave them to the talmidim, who gave them to the crowds. <sup>20</sup> They all ate as much as they wanted, and they took up twelve baskets full of the pieces left over. <sup>21</sup> Those eating numbered about five thousand men, plus women and children.

<sup>22</sup> Immediately he had the talmidim get in the boat and go on ahead of him to the other side, while he sent the crowds away. <sup>23</sup> After he had sent the crowds away, he went up into the hills by himself to pray. Night came on, and he was there alone. <sup>24</sup> But by this time, the boat was several miles from shore, battling a rough sea and a headwind. <sup>25</sup> Around four o'clock in the morning, he came toward them, walking on the lake! <sup>26</sup> When the talmidim saw him walking on the lake, they were terrified. "It's a ghost!" they said and screamed with fear. <sup>27</sup> But at once Yeshua spoke to them. "Courage," he said, "it is I. Stop being afraid." <sup>28</sup> Then Kefa called to him, "Lord, if it is really you, tell me to come to you on the water." <sup>29</sup> "Come!" he said. So Kefa got out of the boat and walked on the water toward Yeshua. <sup>30</sup> But when he saw the wind, he became afraid; and as he began to sink, he yelled, "Lord! Save me!" <sup>31</sup> Yeshua immediately stretched out his hand, took hold of him, and said to him, "Such little trust! Why did you doubt?" <sup>32</sup> As they went up into the boat, the wind ceased. <sup>33</sup> The men in the boat fell down before him and exclaimed, "You really are God's son!"

             but their hearts are far away from me.

<sup>9</sup>           Their worship of me is useless,

because they teach man-made rules as if they were doctrines.”<sup>k</sup>

<sup>10</sup> Then he called the crowd to him and said, “Listen and understand this! <sup>11</sup> What makes a person unclean is not what goes into his mouth; rather, what comes out of his mouth, that is what makes him unclean!”

<sup>12</sup> The talmidim came to him and said, “Do you know that the P’rushim were offended by what you said?” <sup>13</sup> He replied, “Every plant that my Father in heaven has not planted will be pulled up by the roots. <sup>14</sup> Let them be. They are blind guides. When a blind man guides another blind man, both will fall in a pit.”

<sup>29</sup> Yeshua left there and went along the shore of Lake Kinneret. He climbed a hill and sat down; <sup>30</sup> and large crowds came to him, bringing with them the lame, the blind, the crippled, the mute and many others. They laid them at his feet, and he healed them. <sup>31</sup> The people were amazed as they saw mute people speaking, crippled people cured, lame people walking and blind people seeing; and they said a b’rakhah to the God of Isra’el.

<sup>32</sup> Yeshua called his talmidim to him and said, “I feel sorry for these people, because they have been with me three days, and now they have nothing to eat. I don’t want to send them away hungry, because they might collapse on the way home.” <sup>33</sup> The talmidim said to him, “Where will we find enough loaves of bread in this remote place to satisfy so big a crowd?” <sup>34</sup> Yeshua asked them, “How many loaves do you have?” They said, “Seven, and a few fish.” <sup>35</sup> After telling the crowd to sit down on the ground, <sup>36</sup> he took the seven loaves and the fish, made a b’rakhah, broke the loaves and gave them to the talmidim, who gave them to the people. <sup>37</sup> Everyone ate his fill, and they took seven large baskets full of the leftover pieces. <sup>38</sup> Those eating numbered four thousand men, plus women and children. <sup>39</sup> After sending the crowd away, he got in the boat and went off to the region of Magadan.

16 <sup>1</sup> Then some P’rushim and Tz’dukim came to trap Yeshua by asking him to show them a miraculous sign from Heaven. <sup>2</sup> But his response was, “When it is evening, you say, ‘Fair weather ahead,’ because the sky is red; <sup>3</sup> and in the morning you say, ‘Storm today!’ because the sky is red and overcast. You know how to read the appearance of the sky, but you can’t read the signs of the times! <sup>4</sup> A wicked and adulterous generation is asking for a sign? It will certainly not be given a sign — except the sign of Yonah!” With that he left them and went off.

<sup>5</sup> The talmidim, in crossing to the other side of the lake, had forgotten to bring any bread. <sup>6</sup> So when Yeshua said to them, “Watch out! Guard yourselves against the hametz of the P’rushim and Tz’dukim,” <sup>7</sup> they thought he said it because they hadn’t brought bread. <sup>8</sup> But Yeshua, aware of this, said, “Such little trust you have! Why are you talking with each other about not having bread? <sup>9</sup> Don’t you understand yet? Don’t you remember the five loaves of the five thousand and how many baskets you filled? <sup>10</sup> Or the seven loaves of the four thousand and how many baskets you filled? <sup>11</sup> How can you possibly think I was talking to you about bread? Guard yourselves from the hametz of the P’rushim and Tz’dukim!” <sup>12</sup> Then they understood — they were to guard themselves not from yeast for bread but from the teaching of the P’rushim and Tz’dukim.

said, “Well, some say Yochanan the Immerser, others Eliyahu, still others Yirmeyahu or one of the prophets.” <sup>15</sup> “But you,” he said to them, “who do you say I am?” <sup>16</sup> Shim’on Kefa answered, “You are the Mashiach, the Son of the living God.” <sup>17</sup> “Shim’on Bar-Yochanan,” Yeshua said to him, “how blessed you are! For no human being revealed this to you, no, it was my Father in heaven. <sup>18</sup> I also tell you this: you are Kefa,” [which means ‘Rock,’] “and on this rock I will build my Community, and the gates of Sh’ol will not overcome it. <sup>19</sup> I will give you the keys of the Kingdom of Heaven. Whatever you prohibit on earth will be prohibited in heaven, and whatever you permit on earth will be permitted in heaven.” <sup>20</sup> Then he warned the talmidim not to tell anyone that he was the Messiah.

<sup>21</sup> From that time on, Yeshua began making it clear to his talmidim that he had to go to Yerushalayim and endure much suffering at the hands of the elders, the head cohanim and the Torah-teachers; and that he had to be put to death; but that on the third day, he had to be raised to life. <sup>22</sup> Kefa took him aside and began rebuking him, “Heaven be merciful, Lord! By no means will this happen to you!” <sup>23</sup> But Yeshua turned his back on Kefa, saying, “Get behind me, Satan! You are an obstacle in my path, because your thinking is from a human perspective, not from God’s perspective!”

<sup>24</sup> Then Yeshua told his talmidim, “If anyone wants to come after me, let him say ‘No’ to himself, take up his execution-stake, and keep following me. <sup>25</sup> For whoever wants to save his own life will destroy it, but whoever destroys his life for my sake will find it. <sup>26</sup> What good will it do someone if he gains the whole world but forfeits his life? Or, what can a person give in exchange for his life? <sup>27</sup> For the Son of Man will come in his Father’s glory, with his angels; and then he will repay everyone according to his conduct. <sup>28</sup> Yes! I tell you that there are some people standing here who will not experience death until they see the Son of Man coming in his Kingdom!”

17 <sup>1</sup> Six days later, Yeshua took Kefa, Ya‘akov and his brother Yochanan and led them up a high mountain privately. <sup>2</sup> As they watched, he began to change form — his face shone like the sun, and his clothing became as white as light. <sup>3</sup> Then they looked and saw Moshe and Eliyahu speaking with him. <sup>4</sup> Kefa said to Yeshua, “It’s good that we’re here, Lord. I’ll put up three shelters if you want — one for you, one for Moshe and one for Eliyahu.” <sup>5</sup> While he was still speaking, a bright cloud enveloped them; and a voice from the cloud said, “This is my Son, whom I love, with whom I am well pleased. Listen to him!” <sup>6</sup> When the talmidim heard this, they were so frightened that they fell face down on the ground. <sup>7</sup> But Yeshua came and touched them. “Get up!” he said, “Don’t be afraid.” <sup>8</sup> So they opened their eyes, looked up and saw only Yeshua by himself.

<sup>9</sup> As they came down the mountain, Yeshua ordered them, “Don’t tell anyone what you have seen until the Son of Man has been raised from the dead.” <sup>10</sup> The talmidim asked him, “Then why do the Torah-teachers say that Eliyahu must come first?” <sup>11</sup> He answered, “On the one hand, Eliyahu is coming and will restore all things; <sup>12</sup> on the other hand, I tell you that Eliyahu has come already, and people did not recognize him but did whatever they pleased to him. In the same way, the Son of Man too is about to suffer at their hands.” <sup>13</sup> Then the talmidim understood that he was talking to them about Yochanan the Immerser.

<sup>14</sup> As they came up to the crowd, a man approached Yeshua, knelt down in front of him, <sup>15</sup> and said, “Sir, have mercy on my son, because he is an epileptic and has such terrible fits that he often falls into the fire or into the water. <sup>16</sup> I brought him to your talmidim, but they couldn’t heal him.” <sup>17</sup> Yeshua answered, “Perverted people, without any trust! How long will I be with you? How long must I put up with you? Bring him here to me!” <sup>18</sup> Yeshua rebuked the demon, and it came out of the boy, so that from that moment he was healed.

<sup>19</sup> Then the talmidim went to him privately and said, “Why couldn’t we drive it out?” <sup>20</sup> He said to them, “Because you have such little trust! Yes! I tell you that if you have trust as tiny as a mustard seed, you will be able to say to this mountain, ‘Move from here to there!’ and it will move; indeed, nothing will be impossible for you!” <sup>21</sup> ❖

<sup>22</sup> As they were going about together in the Galil, Yeshua said to them, “The Son of Man is about to be betrayed into the hands of people <sup>23</sup> who will put him to death, and on the third day he will be raised.” And they were filled with sadness.

<sup>24</sup> When they came to K’far-Nachum, the collectors of the half-shekel came to Kefa and said, “Doesn’t your rabbi pay the Temple tax?” <sup>25</sup> “Of course he does,” said Kefa. When he arrived home, Yeshua spoke first. “Shim’on, what’s your opinion? The kings of the earth — from whom do they collect duties and taxes? From their sons or from others?” <sup>26</sup> “From others,” he answered. “Then,” said Yeshua, “The sons are exempt. <sup>27</sup> But to avoid offending them — go to the lake, throw out a line, and take the first fish you catch. Open its mouth, and you will find a shekel. Take it and give it to them for me and for you.”

18 <sup>1</sup> At that moment the talmidim came to Yeshua and asked, “Who is the greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven?” <sup>2</sup> He called a child to him, stood him among them, <sup>3</sup>and said, “Yes! I tell you that unless you change and become like little children, you won’t even enter the Kingdom of Heaven! <sup>4</sup> So the greatest in the Kingdom is whoever makes himself as humble as this child. <sup>5</sup> Whoever welcomes one such child in my name welcomes me; <sup>6</sup> and whoever ensnares one of these little ones who trust me, it would be better for him to have a millstone hung around his neck and be drowned in the open sea! <sup>7</sup> Woe to the world because of snares! For there must be snares, but woe to the person who sets the snare!

<sup>8</sup> “So if your hand or foot becomes a snare for you, cut it off and throw it away! Better that you should be maimed or crippled and obtain eternal life than keep both hands or both feet and be thrown into everlasting fire! <sup>9</sup> And if your eye is a snare for you, gouge it out and fling it away! Better that you should be one-eyed and obtain eternal life than keep both eyes and be thrown into the fire of Gei-Hinnom. <sup>10</sup> See that you never despise one of these little ones, for I tell you that their angels in heaven are continually seeing the face of my Father in heaven. <sup>11</sup> ☩

<sup>12</sup> “What’s your opinion? What will somebody do who has a hundred sheep, and one of them wanders away? Won’t he leave the ninety-nine on the hillsides and go off to find the stray? <sup>13</sup> And if he happens to find it? Yes! I tell you he is happier over it than over the ninety-nine that never strayed! <sup>14</sup> Thus your Father in heaven does not want even one of these little ones to be lost.

<sup>15</sup> “Moreover, if your brother commits a sin against you, go and show him his fault — but privately, just between the two of you. If he listens to you, you have won back your brother. <sup>16</sup> If he doesn’t listen, take one or two others with you so that every accusation can be supported by the testimony of two or three witnesses. <sup>17</sup> If he refuses to hear them, tell the congregation; and if he refuses to listen even to the congregation, treat him as you would a pagan or a tax-collector. <sup>18</sup> Yes! I tell you people that whatever you prohibit on earth will be prohibited in heaven, and whatever you permit on earth will be permitted in heaven. <sup>19</sup> To repeat, I tell you that if two of you here on earth agree about anything people ask, it will be for them from my Father in heaven. <sup>20</sup> For wherever two or three are assembled in my name, I am there with them.”

<sup>21</sup> Then Kefa came up and said to him, “Rabbi, how often can my brother sin against me and I have to forgive him? As many as seven times?”

<sup>28</sup> “But as that servant was leaving, he came upon one of his fellow servants who owed him some tiny sum. He grabbed him and began to choke him, crying, ‘Pay back what you owe me!’ <sup>29</sup> His fellow servant fell before him and begged, ‘Be patient with me, and I will pay you back.’ <sup>30</sup> But he refused; instead, he had him thrown in jail until he should repay the debt. <sup>31</sup> When the other servants saw what had happened, they were extremely distressed; and they went and told their master everything that had taken place. <sup>32</sup> Then the master summoned his servant and said, ‘You wicked servant! I forgave you all that debt just because you begged me to do it. <sup>33</sup> Shouldn’t you have had pity on your fellow servant, just as I had pity on you?’ <sup>34</sup> And in anger his master turned him over to the jailers for punishment until he paid back everything he owed. <sup>35</sup> This is how my heavenly Father will treat you, unless you each forgive your brother from your hearts.”

and mother and be united with his wife, and the two are to become one flesh’?<sup>a 6</sup> Thus they are no longer two, but one. So then, no one should split apart what God has joined together.”

<sup>7</sup> They said to him, “Then why did Moshe give the commandment that a man should hand his wife a get and divorce her?”<sup>a 8</sup> He answered, “Moshe allowed you to divorce your wives because your hearts are so hardened. But this is not how it was at the beginning. <sup>9</sup> Now what I say to you is that whoever divorces his wife, except on the ground of sexual immorality, and marries another woman commits adultery!”

<sup>16</sup> A man approached Yeshua and said, “Rabbi, what good thing should I do in order to have eternal life?” He said to him, <sup>17</sup> “Why are you asking me about good? There is One who is good! But if you want to obtain eternal life, observe the mitzvot.” <sup>18</sup> The man asked him, “Which ones?” and Yeshua said, “Don’t murder, don’t commit adultery, don’t steal, don’t give false testimony <sup>p 19</sup> honor father and mother <sup>q</sup> and love your neighbor as yourself.”<sup>r 20</sup> The young man said to him, “I have kept all these; where do I still fall short?” <sup>21</sup> Yeshua said to him, “If you are serious about reaching the goal, go and sell your possessions, give to the poor, and you will have riches in heaven. Then come, follow me!” <sup>22</sup> But when the young man heard this, he went away sad, because he was wealthy.

<sup>23</sup> Then Yeshua said to his talmidim, “Yes. I tell you that it will be very hard for a rich man to enter the Kingdom of Heaven. <sup>24</sup> Furthermore, I tell you that it is easier for a camel to pass through a needle’s eye than for a rich man to enter the Kingdom of God.” <sup>25</sup> When the talmidim heard this they were utterly amazed. “Then who,” they asked, “can be saved?” <sup>26</sup> Yeshua looked at them and said, “Humanly, this is impossible; but with God everything is possible.” <sup>27</sup> Kefa replied, “Look, we have left everything and followed you. So what will we have?” <sup>28</sup> Yeshua said to them, “Yes. I tell you that in the regenerated world, when the Son of Man sits on his glorious throne, you who have followed me will also sit on twelve thrones and judge the twelve tribes of Isra’el. <sup>29</sup> Everyone who has left houses, brothers, sisters, father, mother, children or fields for my sake will receive a hundred times more, and he will obtain eternal life. <sup>30</sup> But many who are first will be last, and many who are last will be first.

<sup>17</sup> As Yeshua was going up to Yerushalayim, he took the twelve talmidim aside by themselves and said to them, as they went on their way, <sup>18</sup> “We are now going up to Yerushalayim, where the Son of Man will be handed over to the head cohanim and Torah-teachers. They will sentence him to death <sup>19</sup> and turn him over to the Goyim, who will jeer at him, beat him and execute him on a stake as a criminal. But on the third day, he will be raised.”

21 <sup>1</sup> As they were approaching Yerushalayim, they came to Beit-Pagei on the Mount of Olives. Yeshua sent two talmidim <sup>2</sup> with these instructions: “Go into the village ahead of you, and you will immediately find a donkey tethered there with its colt. Untie them and bring them to me. <sup>3</sup> If anyone says anything to you, tell him, ‘The Lord needs them’; and he will let them go at once.” <sup>4</sup> This happened in order to fulfill what had been spoken through the prophet, <sup>5</sup>       “Say to the daughter of Tziyon, ‘Look! Your King is coming to you,

riding humbly on a donkey,
and on a colt, the offspring of a beast of burden!’”<sup>5</sup>

“Please! Deliver us!” <sup>6</sup>

to the Son of David;

“Blessed is he who comes in the name of A<sub>DONAI</sub>!”

“You in the highest heaven! Please! Deliver us!”<sup>7</sup>

<sup>12</sup> Yeshua entered the Temple grounds and drove out those who were doing business there, both the merchants and their customers. He upset the desks of the money-changers and knocked over the benches of those who were selling pigeons. <sup>13</sup> He said to them, “It has been written, ‘My house will be called a house of prayer.’”<sup>8</sup> But you are making it into a den of robbers!”<sup>9</sup>

deliver us!” to the Son of David, they were furious. <sup>16</sup> They said to him, “Do you hear what they’re saying?” Yeshua replied, “Of course! Haven’t you ever read,

‘From the mouths of children and infants
you have prepared praise for yourself?’”<sup>x</sup>

<sup>23</sup> He went into the Temple area; and as he was teaching, the head cohanim and the elders of the people approached him and demanded, “What s’mikhah do you have that authorizes you to do these things? And who gave you this s’mikhah?” <sup>24</sup> Yeshua answered, “I too will ask you a question. If you answer it, then I will tell you by what s’mikhah I do these things. <sup>25</sup> The immersion of Yochanan — where did it come from? From Heaven or from a human source?” They discussed it among themselves: “If we say, ‘From Heaven,’ he will say, ‘Then why didn’t you believe him?’ <sup>26</sup> But if we say, ‘From a human source,’ we are afraid of the people, for they all regard Yochanan as a prophet.” <sup>27</sup> So they answered Yeshua, “We don’t know.” And he replied, “Then I won’t tell you by what s’mikhah I do these things.

<sup>28</sup> “But give me your opinion: a man had two sons. He went to the first and said, ‘Son, go and work today in the vineyard.’ <sup>29</sup> He answered, ‘I don’t want to’; but later he changed his mind and went. <sup>30</sup> The father went to his other son and said the same thing. This one answered, ‘I will, sir’; but he didn’t go. <sup>31</sup> Which of the two did what his father wanted?” “The first,” they replied. “That’s right!” Yeshua said to them. “I tell you that the tax-collectors and prostitutes are going into the Kingdom of God ahead of you!

<sup>32</sup> For Yochanan came to you showing the path to righteousness, and you wouldn't trust him. The tax-collectors and prostitutes trusted him; but you, even after you saw this, didn't change your minds later and trust him.

<sup>33</sup> "Now listen to another parable. There was a farmer who planted a vineyard. He put a wall around it, dug a pit for the winepress and built a tower; then he rented it to tenants and left. <sup>34</sup> When harvest-time came, he sent his servants to the tenants to collect his share of the crop. <sup>35</sup> But the tenants seized his servants — this one they beat up, that one they killed, another they stoned. <sup>36</sup> So he sent some other servants, more than the first group, and they did the same to them. <sup>37</sup> Finally, he sent them his son, saying, 'My son they will respect.' <sup>38</sup> But when the tenants saw the son, they said to each other, 'This is the heir. Come, let's kill him and take his inheritance!' <sup>39</sup> So they grabbed him, threw him out of the vineyard and killed him. <sup>40</sup> Now when the owner of the vineyard comes, what will he do to those tenants?" <sup>41</sup> They answered him, "He will viciously destroy those vicious men and rent out the vineyard to other tenants who will give him his share of the crop when it's due." <sup>42</sup> Yeshua said to them, "Haven't you ever read in the Tanakh,

'The very rock which the builders rejected
has become the cornerstone!
This has come from ADONAI,
and in our eyes it is amazing'?<sup>43</sup>

<sup>43</sup> Therefore, I tell you that the Kingdom of God will be taken away from you and given to the kind of people that will produce its fruit!" <sup>44</sup> *

<sup>45</sup> As the head cohanim and the P'rushim listened to his stories, they saw that he was speaking about them. <sup>46</sup> But when they set about to arrest him, they were afraid of the crowds; because the crowds considered him a prophet.

‘Look, I’ve prepared my banquet, I’ve slaughtered my bulls and my fattened cattle, and everything is ready. Come to the wedding!’<sup>5</sup> But they weren’t interested and went off, one to his farm, another to his business;<sup>6</sup> and the rest grabbed his slaves, mistreated them and killed them.<sup>7</sup> The king was furious and sent his soldiers, who killed those murderers and burned down their city.

<sup>8</sup> “Then he said to his slaves, ‘Well, the wedding feast is ready; but the ones who were invited didn’t deserve it.’<sup>9</sup> So go out to the street-corners and invite to the banquet as many as you find.’<sup>10</sup> The slaves went out into the streets, gathered all the people they could find, the bad along with the good; and the wedding hall was filled with guests.

<sup>15</sup> Then the P’rushim went away and put together a plan to trap Yeshua with his own words.<sup>16</sup> They sent him some of their talmidim and some members of Herod’s party. They said, “Rabbi, we know that you tell the truth and really teach what God’s way is. You aren’t concerned with what other people think about you, since you pay no attention to a person’s status.<sup>17</sup> So tell us your opinion: does Torah permit paying taxes to the Roman Emperor or not?”<sup>18</sup> Yeshua, however, knowing their malicious intent, said, “You hypocrites! Why are you trying to trap me?<sup>19</sup> Show me the coin used to pay the tax!” They brought him a denarius;<sup>20</sup> and he asked them, “Whose name and picture are these?”<sup>21</sup> “The Emperor’s,” they replied. Yeshua said to them, “Nu, give the Emperor what belongs to the Emperor. And give to God what belongs to God!”<sup>22</sup> On hearing this, they were amazed; and they left him and went away.

<sup>23</sup> That same day, some Tz’dukim came to him. They are the ones who say there is no such thing as resurrection, so they put to him a sh’eilah:<sup>24</sup> “Rabbi, Moshe said, ‘If a man dies childless, his brother must marry his widow and have children to preserve the man’s family line.’”<sup>25</sup> There were seven brothers. The first one married and then died; and since he had no children, he left his widow to his brother.<sup>26</sup> The same thing happened to the second brother, and the third, and finally to all seven.<sup>27</sup> After them all, the woman died. <sup>28</sup> Now in the Resurrection—of the seven, whose wife will she be? For they all married her.”

<sup>29</sup> Yeshua answered them, “The reason you go astray is that you are ignorant both of the Tanakh and of the power of God. <sup>30</sup> For in the Resurrection, neither men nor women will marry; rather, they will be like angels in heaven. <sup>31</sup> And as for whether the dead are resurrected, haven’t you read what God said to you, <sup>32</sup> ‘I am the God of Avraham, the God of Yitz’chak and the God of Ya‘akov’?<sup>a</sup> He is God not of the dead but of the living!”

<sup>41</sup> Then, turning to the assembled P’rushim, Yeshua put a sh’eilah to them: <sup>42</sup> “Tell me your view concerning the Messiah: whose son is he?” They said to him, “David’s.” <sup>43</sup> “Then how is it,” he asked them, “that David, inspired by the Spirit, calls him ‘Lord,’ when he says,

‘ADONAI said to my Lord,
“Sit here at my right hand
until I put your enemies under your feet”’?<sup>d</sup>

<sup>45</sup> If David thus calls him ‘Lord,’ how is he his son?” <sup>46</sup> No one could think of anything to say in reply; and from that day on, no one dared put to him another sh’eilah.

23 <sup>1</sup> Then Yeshua addressed the crowds and his talmidim: <sup>2</sup> “The Torah-teachers and the P’rushim,” he said, “sit in the seat of Moshe. <sup>3</sup> So whatever they tell you, take care to do it. But don’t do what they do, because they talk but don’t act! <sup>4</sup> They tie heavy loads onto people’s shoulders but won’t lift a finger to help carry them. <sup>5</sup> Everything they do is done to be seen by others; for they make their t'fillin broad and their tzitziyot long, <sup>6</sup> they love the place of honor at banquets and the best seats in the synagogues, <sup>7</sup> and they love being greeted deferentially in the marketplaces and being called 'Rabbi.'

<sup>8</sup> "But you are not to let yourselves be called 'Rabbi'; because you have one Rabbi, and you are all each other's brothers. <sup>9</sup> And do not call anyone on earth 'Father.' because you have one Father, and he is in heaven. <sup>10</sup> Nor are you to let yourselves be called 'leaders,' because you have one Leader, and he is the Messiah! <sup>11</sup> The greatest among you must be your servant, <sup>12</sup> for whoever promotes himself will be humbled, and whoever humbles himself will be promoted.

<sup>13</sup> "But woe to you hypocritical Torah-teachers and P'rushim! For you are shutting the Kingdom of Heaven in people's faces, neither entering yourselves nor allowing those who wish to enter to do so. <sup>14</sup> -

<sup>15</sup> "Woe to you hypocritical Torah-teachers and P'rushim! You go about over land and sea to make one proselyte; and when you succeed, you make him twice as fit for Gei-Hinnom as you are!

<sup>16</sup> "Woe to you, you blind guides! You say, 'If someone swears by the Temple, he is not bound by his oath; but if he swears by the gold in the Temple, he is bound.' <sup>17</sup> You blind fools! Which is more important? the gold? or the Temple which makes the gold holy? <sup>18</sup> And you say, 'If someone swears by the altar, he is not bound by his oath; but if he swears by the offering on the altar, he is bound.' <sup>19</sup> Blind men! Which is more important? the sacrifice? or the altar which makes the sacrifice holy? <sup>20</sup> So someone who swears by the altar swears by it and everything on it. <sup>21</sup> And someone who swears by the Temple swears by it and the One who lives in it. <sup>22</sup> And someone who swears by heaven swears by God's throne and the One who sits on it.

<sup>23</sup> "Woe to you hypocritical Torah-teachers and P'rushim! You pay your tithes of mint, dill and cumin; but you have neglected the weightier matters of the Torah — justice, mercy, trust. These are the things you should have attended to — without neglecting the others! <sup>24</sup> Blind guides! — straining out a gnat, meanwhile swallowing a camel!

<sup>25</sup> "Woe to you hypocritical Torah-teachers and P'rushim! You clean the outside of the cup and the dish, but inside they are full of robbery and self-indulgence. <sup>26</sup> Blind Parush! First clean the inside of the cup, so that the outside may be clean too.

<sup>27</sup> “Woe to you hypocritical Torah-teachers and P’rushim! You are like whitewashed tombs, which look fine on the outside but inside are full of dead people’s bones and all kinds of rottenness. <sup>28</sup> Likewise, you appear to people from the outside to be good and honest, but inwardly you are full of hypocrisy and far from Torah.

<sup>29</sup> “Woe to you hypocritical Torah-teachers and P’rushim! You build tombs for the prophets and decorate the graves of the tzaddikim, <sup>30</sup> and you say, ‘Had we lived when our fathers did, we would never have taken part in killing the prophets.’ <sup>31</sup> In this you testify against yourselves that you are worthy descendants of those who murdered the prophets. <sup>32</sup> Go ahead then, finish what your fathers started!

<sup>33</sup> “You snakes! Sons of snakes! How can you escape being condemned to Gei-Hinnom? <sup>34</sup> Therefore I am sending you prophets and sages and Torah-teachers — some of them you will kill, indeed, you will have them executed on stakes as criminals; some you will flog in your synagogues and pursue from town to town. <sup>35</sup> And so, on you will fall the guilt for all the innocent blood that has ever been shed on earth, from the blood of innocent Hevel to the blood of Z’kharyah Ben-Berekhyah, whom you murdered between the Temple and the altar. <sup>36</sup> Yes! I tell you that all this will fall on this generation!

24 <sup>1</sup> As Yeshua left the Temple and was going away, his talmidim came and called his attention to its buildings. <sup>2</sup> But he answered them, “You see all these? Yes! I tell you, they will be totally destroyed — not a single stone will be left standing!”

<sup>3</sup> When he was sitting on the Mount of Olives, the talmidim came to him privately. “Tell us,” they said, “when will these things happen? And what will be the sign that you are coming, and that the ‘olam hazeh is ending?”

<sup>4</sup> Yeshua replied: “Watch out! Don’t let anyone fool you! <sup>5</sup> For many will come in my name, saying, ‘I am the Messiah!’ and they will lead many astray. <sup>6</sup> You will hear the noise of wars nearby and the news of wars far off; see to it that you don't become frightened. Such things must happen, but the end is yet to come. <sup>7</sup> For peoples will fight each other, nations will fight each other, and there will be famines and earthquakes in various parts of the world; <sup>8</sup> all this is but the beginning of the 'birth-pains.' <sup>9</sup> At that time you will be arrested and handed over to be punished and put to death, and all peoples will hate you because of me. <sup>10</sup> At that time many will be trapped into betraying and hating each other, <sup>11</sup> many false prophets will appear and fool many people; <sup>12</sup> and many people's love will grow cold because of increased distance from Torah. <sup>13</sup> But whoever holds out till the end will be delivered. <sup>14</sup> And this Good News about the Kingdom will be announced throughout the whole world as a witness to all the Goyim. It is then that the end will come.

<sup>15</sup> "So when you see the abomination that causes desolation spoken about through the prophet Dani'el standing in the Holy Place"<sup>g</sup> (let the reader understand the allusion), <sup>16</sup> "that will be the time for those in Y'hudah to escape to the hills. <sup>17</sup>If someone is on the roof, he must not go down to gather his belongings from his house; <sup>18</sup> if someone is in the field, he must not turn back to get his coat. <sup>19</sup> What a terrible time it will be for pregnant women and nursing mothers! <sup>20</sup> Pray that you will not have to escape in winter or on Shabbat. <sup>21</sup> For there will be trouble then worse than there has ever been from the beginning of the world until now, and there will be nothing like it again!"<sup>h</sup> <sup>22</sup> Indeed, if the length of this time had not been limited, no one would survive; but for the sake of those who have been chosen, its length will be limited.

<sup>23</sup> "At that time, if someone says to you, 'Look! Here's the Messiah!' or, 'There he is!' don't believe him. <sup>24</sup> For there will appear false Messiahs and false prophets performing great miracles — amazing things! — so as to fool even the chosen, if possible. <sup>25</sup> There! I have told you in advance! <sup>26</sup> So if people say to you, 'Listen! He's out in the desert!' don't go; or, 'Look! He's hidden away in a secret room!' don't believe it. <sup>27</sup> For when the Son of Man does come, it will be like lightning that flashes out of the east and fills the sky to the western horizon. <sup>28</sup> Wherever there's a dead body, that's where you find the vultures.

the sun will grow dark,

the moon will stop shining,<sup>l</sup>
the stars will fall from the sky,
and the powers in heaven will be shaken.<sup>l</sup>

<sup>32</sup> “Now let the fig tree teach you its lesson: when its branches begin to sprout and leaves appear, you know that summer is approaching. <sup>33</sup> In the same way, when you see all these things, you are to know that the time is near, right at the door. <sup>34</sup> Yes! I tell you that this people will certainly not pass away before all these things happen. <sup>35</sup> Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will never pass away.

<sup>36</sup> “But when that day and hour will come, no one knows — not the angels in heaven, not the Son, only the Father. <sup>37</sup> For the Son of Man’s coming will be just as it was in the days of Noach. <sup>38</sup> Back then, before the Flood, people went on eating and drinking, taking wives and becoming wives, right up till the day Noach entered the ark; <sup>39</sup> and they didn’t know what was happening until the Flood came and swept them all away. It will be just like that when the Son of Man comes. <sup>40</sup> Then there will be two men in a field—one will be taken and the other left behind. <sup>41</sup> There will be two women grinding flour at the mill—one will be taken and the other left behind. <sup>42</sup> So stay alert, because you don’t know on what day your Lord will come. <sup>43</sup> But you do know this: had the owner of the house known when the thief was coming, he would have stayed awake and not allowed his house to be broken into. <sup>44</sup> Therefore you too must always be ready, for the Son of Man will come when you are not expecting him.

<sup>45</sup> “Who is the faithful and sensible servant whose master puts him in charge of the household staff, to give them their food at the proper time? <sup>46</sup> It will go well with that servant if he is found doing his job when his master comes. <sup>47</sup> Yes, I tell you that he will put him in charge of all he owns. <sup>48</sup> But if that servant is wicked and says to himself, ‘My master is taking his time’; <sup>49</sup> and he starts beating up his fellow servants and spends his time eating and drinking with drunkards; <sup>50</sup> then his master will come on a day the servant does not expect, at a time he doesn't know; <sup>51</sup> and he will cut him in two and put him with the hypocrites, where people will wail and grind their teeth!

<sup>14</sup> “For it will be like a man about to leave home for awhile, who entrusted his possessions to his servants. <sup>15</sup> To one he gave five talents [equivalent to a hundred years’ wages]; to another, two talents; and to another, one talent — to each according to his ability. Then he left. <sup>16</sup> The one who had received five talents immediately went out, invested it and earned another five. <sup>17</sup> Similarly, the one given two earned another two. <sup>18</sup> But the one given one talent went off, dug a hole in the ground and hid his master’s money.

<sup>19</sup> “After a long time, the master of those servants returned to settle accounts with them. <sup>20</sup> The one who had received five talents came forward bringing the other five and said, ‘Sir, you gave me five talents; here, I have made five more.’ <sup>21</sup> His master said to him, ‘Excellent! You are a good and trustworthy servant. You have been faithful with a small amount, so I will put you in charge of a large amount. Come and join in your master’s happiness!’ <sup>22</sup> Also the one who had received two came forward and said, ‘Sir, you gave me two talents; here, I have made two more.’ <sup>23</sup> His master said to him, ‘Excellent! you are a good and trustworthy servant. You have been faithful with a small amount, so I will put you in charge of a large amount. Come and join in your master's happiness!'

<sup>24</sup> "Now the one who had received one talent came forward and said, 'I knew you were a hard man. You harvest where you didn't plant and gather where you didn't sow seed. <sup>25</sup> I was afraid, so I went and hid your talent in the ground. Here! Take what belongs to you!' <sup>26</sup> 'You wicked, lazy servant!' said his master, 'So you knew, did you, that I harvest where I haven't planted? and that I gather where I didn't sow seed? <sup>27</sup> Then you should have deposited my money with the bankers, so that when I returned, I would at least have gotten back interest with my capital! <sup>28</sup> Take the talent from him and give it to the one who has ten. <sup>29</sup> For everyone who has something will be given more, so that he will have more than enough; but from anyone who has nothing, even what he does have will be taken away. <sup>30</sup> As for this worthless servant, throw him out in the dark, where people will wail and grind their teeth!'

<sup>34</sup> "Then the King will say to those on his right, 'Come, you whom my Father has blessed, take your inheritance, the Kingdom prepared for you from the founding of the world. <sup>35</sup> For I was hungry and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me something to drink, I was a stranger and you made me your guest, <sup>36</sup> I needed clothes and you provided them, I was sick and you took care of me, I was in prison and you visited me.' <sup>37</sup> Then the people who have done what God wants will reply, 'Lord, when did we see you hungry and feed you, or thirsty and give you something to drink? <sup>38</sup> When did we see you a stranger and make you our guest, or needing clothes and provide them? <sup>39</sup> When did we see you sick or in prison, and visit you?' <sup>40</sup> The King will say to them, 'Yes! I tell you that whenever you did these things for one of the least important of these brothers of mine, you did them for me!'

needing clothes and you did not give them to me, sick and in prison and you did not visit me.’<sup>44</sup> Then they too will reply, ‘Lord, when did we see you hungry, thirsty, a stranger, needing clothes, sick or in prison, and not take care of you?’<sup>45</sup> And he will answer them, ‘Yes! I tell you that whenever you refused to do it for the least important of these people, you refused to do it for me!’<sup>46</sup> They will go off to eternal punishment, but those who have done what God wants will go to eternal life.”

26<sup>1</sup> When Yeshua had finished speaking, he said to his talmidim,<sup>2</sup> “As you know, Pesach is two days away, and the Son of Man will be handed over to be nailed to the execution-stake.”

<sup>3</sup> Then the head cohanim and the elders of the people gathered in the palace of Kayafa the cohen hagadol.<sup>4</sup> They made plans to arrest Yeshua surreptitiously and have him put to death;<sup>5</sup> but they said, “Not during the festival, or the people will riot.”

<sup>6</sup> Yeshua was in Beit-Anyah, at the home of Shim‘on, the man who had had tzara‘at.<sup>7</sup> A woman who had an alabaster jar filled with very expensive perfume approached Yeshua while he was eating and began pouring it on his head.<sup>8</sup> When the talmidim saw it, they became very angry. “Why this waste?” they asked.<sup>9</sup> “This could have been sold for a lot of money and given to the poor.”<sup>10</sup> But Yeshua, aware of what was going on, said to them, “Why are you bothering this woman? She has done a beautiful thing for me.<sup>11</sup> The poor you will always have with you, but you will not always have me.<sup>12</sup> She poured this perfume on me to prepare my body for burial.<sup>13</sup> Yes! I tell you that throughout the whole world, wherever this Good News is proclaimed, what she has done will be told in her memory.”

<sup>17</sup> On the first day for matzah, the talmidim came to Yeshua and asked, “Where do you want us to prepare your Seder?”<sup>18</sup> “Go into the city, to so-and-so,” he replied, “and tell him that the Rabbi says, ‘My time is near, my talmidim and I are celebrating Pesach at your house.’”<sup>19</sup> The talmidim did as Yeshua directed and prepared the Seder.

<sup>30</sup> After singing the Hallel, they went out to the Mount of Olives. <sup>31</sup> Yeshua then said to them, “Tonight you will all lose faith in me, as the Tanakh says, ‘I will strike the shepherd dead, and the sheep of the flock will be scattered.’” <sup>32</sup> But after I have been raised, I will go ahead of you into the Galil.” <sup>33</sup> “I will never lose faith in you,” Kefa answered, “even if everyone else does.” <sup>34</sup> Yeshua said to him, “Yes! I tell you that tonight before the rooster crows, you will disown me three times!” <sup>35</sup> “Even if I must die with you,” Kefa replied, “I will never disown you!” And all the talmidim said the same thing.

<sup>36</sup> Then Yeshua went with his talmidim to a place called Gat-Sh’manim and said to them, “Sit here while I go over there and pray.” <sup>37</sup> He took with him Kefa and Zavdai’s two sons. Grief and anguish came over him, <sup>38</sup> and he said to them, “My heart is so filled with sadness that I could die! Remain here and stay awake with me.” <sup>39</sup> Going on a little farther, he fell on his face, praying, “My Father, if possible, let this cup pass from me! Yet—not what I want, but what you want!” <sup>40</sup> He returned to the talmidim and found them sleeping. He said to Kefa, “Were you so weak that you couldn’t stay awake with me for even an hour? <sup>41</sup> Stay awake, and pray that you will not be put to the test—the spirit indeed is eager, but human nature is weak.”

<sup>42</sup> A second time he went off and prayed. “My Father, if this cup cannot pass away unless I drink it, let what you want be done.” <sup>43</sup> Again he returned and found them sleeping, their eyes were so heavy.

<sup>44</sup> Leaving them again, he went off and prayed a third time, saying the same words. <sup>45</sup> Then he came to the talmidim and said, “For now, go on sleeping, take your rest.... Look! The time has come for the Son of Man to be betrayed into the hands of sinners. <sup>46</sup> Get up! Let’s go! Here comes my betrayer!”

<sup>55</sup> Then Yeshua addressed the crowd: “So you came out to take me with swords and clubs, the way you would the leader of a rebellion? Every day I sat in the Temple court, teaching; and you didn’t seize me then. <sup>56</sup> But all this has happened so that what the prophets wrote may be fulfilled.” Then the talmidim all deserted him and ran away.

hagadol stood up and said, “Have you nothing to say to the accusation these men are making?” <sup>63</sup> Yeshua remained silent. The cohen hagadol said to him, “I put you under oath! By the living God, tell us if you are the Mashiach, the Son of God!” <sup>64</sup> Yeshua said to him, “The words are your own. But I tell you that one day you will see the Son of Man sitting at the right hand of HaG’vurah and coming on the clouds of heaven.”<sup>2</sup> <sup>65</sup> At this, the cohen hagadol tore his robes. “Blasphemy!” he said. “Why do we still need witnesses? You heard him blaspheme!” <sup>66</sup> What is your verdict?” “Guilty,” they answered. “He deserves death!” <sup>67</sup> Then they spit in his face and pounded him with their fists; and those who were beating him <sup>68</sup> said, “Now, you ‘Messiah,’ ‘prophecy’ to us: who hit you that time?”

27 <sup>1</sup> Early in the morning, all the head cohanim and elders met to plan how to bring about Yeshua’s death. <sup>2</sup> Then they put him in chains, led him away and handed him over to Pilate the governor.

<sup>3</sup> When Y’hudah, who had betrayed him, saw that Yeshua had been condemned, he was seized with remorse and returned the thirty silver coins to the head cohanim and elders, <sup>4</sup> saying, “I sinned in betraying an innocent man to death.” “What is that to us?” they answered. “That’s your problem.” <sup>5</sup> Hurling the pieces of silver into the sanctuary, he left; then he went off and hanged himself.

what Z'kharyah the prophet spoke was fulfilled, “And they took the thirty silver coins, which was the price the people of Isra’el had agreed to pay for him,<sup>10</sup> and used them to buy the potter’s field, just as the Lord directed me.”<sup>9</sup>

<sup>11</sup> Meanwhile, Yeshua was brought before the governor, and the governor put this question to him: “Are you the King of the Jews?” Yeshua answered, “The words are yours.” <sup>12</sup> But when he was accused by the head cohanim and elders, he gave no answer. <sup>13</sup> Then Pilate said to him, “Don’t you hear all these charges they are making against you?” <sup>14</sup> But to the governor’s great amazement, he did not say a single word in reply to the accusations.

<sup>15</sup> It was the governor’s custom during a festival to set free one prisoner, whomever the crowd asked for. <sup>16</sup> There was at that time a notorious prisoner being held, named Yeshua Bar-Abba. <sup>17</sup> So when a crowd had gathered, Pilate said to them, “Whom do you want me to set free for you? Bar-Abba? or Yeshua, called ‘the Messiah’?” <sup>18</sup> For he understood that it was out of jealousy that they had handed him over. <sup>19</sup> While he was sitting in court, his wife sent him a message, “Leave that innocent man alone. Today in a dream I suffered terribly because of him.” <sup>20</sup> But the head cohanim persuaded the crowd to ask for Bar-Abba’s release and to have Yeshua executed on the stake. <sup>21</sup> “Which of the two do you want me to set free for you?” asked the governor. “Bar-Abba!” they answered. <sup>22</sup> Pilate said to them, “Then what should I do with Yeshua, called ‘the Messiah’?” They all said, “Put him to death on the stake! Put him to death on the stake!” <sup>23</sup> When he asked, “Why? What crime has he committed?” they shouted all the louder, “Put him to death on the stake!” <sup>24</sup> When Pilate saw that he was accomplishing nothing, but rather that a riot was starting, he took water, washed his hands in front of the crowd, and said, “My hands are clean of this man’s blood; it’s your responsibility.” <sup>25</sup> All the people answered, “His blood is on us and on our children!” <sup>26</sup> Then he released to them Bar-Abba; but Yeshua, after having him whipped, he handed over to be executed on a stake.

spit on him and used the stick to beat him about the head. <sup>31</sup> When they had finished ridiculing him, they took off the robe, put his own clothes back on him and led him away to be nailed to the execution-stake.

<sup>32</sup> As they were leaving, they met a man from Cyrene named Shim'on; and they forced him to carry Yeshua's execution-stake. <sup>33</sup> When they arrived at a place called Gulgolta (which means "place of a skull", <sup>34</sup> they gave him wine mixed with bitter gall to drink; but after tasting it, he would not drink it. <sup>35</sup> After they had nailed him to the stake, they divided his clothes among them by throwing dice. <sup>36</sup> Then they sat down to keep watch over him there. <sup>37</sup> Above his head they placed the written notice stating the charge against him,

THIS IS YESHUA THE KING OF THE JEWS

<sup>45</sup> From noon until three o'clock in the afternoon, all the Land was covered with darkness. <sup>46</sup> At about three, Yeshua uttered a loud cry, "Eli! Eli! L'mah sh'vaktani? (My God! My God! Why have you deserted me?)" <sup>47</sup> On hearing this, some of the bystanders said, "He's calling for Eliyahu." <sup>48</sup> Immediately one of them ran and took a sponge, soaked it in vinegar, put it on a stick and gave it to him to drink. <sup>49</sup> The rest said, "Wait! Let's see if Eliyahu comes and rescues him." <sup>50</sup> But Yeshua, again crying out in a loud voice, yielded up his spirit.

<sup>51</sup> At that moment the parokhet in the Temple was ripped in two from top to bottom; and there was an earthquake, with rocks splitting apart. <sup>52</sup> Also the graves were opened, and the bodies of many holy people who had died were raised to life; <sup>53</sup> and after Yeshua rose, they came out of the graves and went into the holy city, where many people saw them.<sup>54</sup> When the Roman officer and those with him who were keeping watch over Yeshua saw the earthquake and what was happening, they were awestruck and said, “He really was a son of God.”

<sup>55</sup> There were many women there, looking on from a distance; they had followed Yeshua from the Galil, helping him.<sup>56</sup> Among them were Miryam from Magdala, Miryam the mother of Ya‘akov and Yosef, and the mother of Zavdai’s sons.

<sup>62</sup> Next day, after the preparation, the head cohanim and the P’rushim went together to Pilate<sup>63</sup> and said, “Sir, we remember that that deceiver said while he was still alive, ‘After three days I will be raised.’<sup>64</sup> Therefore, order that the grave be made secure till the third day; otherwise the talmidim may come, steal him away and say to the people, ‘He was raised from the dead’; and the last deception will be worse than the first.”<sup>65</sup> Pilate said to them, “You may have your guard. Go and make the grave as secure as you know how.”<sup>66</sup> So they went and made the grave secure by sealing the stone and putting the guard on watch.

28<sup>1</sup> After Shabbat, as the next day was dawning, Miryam of Magdala and the other Miryam went to see the grave.<sup>2</sup> Suddenly there was a violent earthquake, for an angel of ADONAI came down from heaven, rolled away the stone and sat on it.<sup>3</sup> His appearance was like lightning, and his clothes were as white as snow.<sup>4</sup> The guards were so terrified at him that they trembled and became like dead men.<sup>5</sup> But the angel said to the women, “Don’t be afraid. I know you are looking for Yeshua, who was executed on the stake.<sup>6</sup> He is not here, because he has been raised—just as he said! Come and look at the place where he lay.<sup>7</sup> Then go quickly and tell the talmidim, ‘He has been raised from the dead, and now he is going to the Galil ahead of you. You will see him there.’ Now I have told you.”

<sup>11</sup> As they were going, some of the guards went into the city and reported to the head cohanim everything that had happened. <sup>12</sup> Then they met with the elders; and after discussing the matter, they gave the soldiers a sizeable sum of money <sup>13</sup> and said to them, “Tell people, ‘His talmidim came during the night and stole his body while we were sleeping.’” <sup>14</sup> If the governor hears of it, we will put things right with him and keep you from getting in trouble.” <sup>15</sup> The soldiers took the money and did as they were told, and this story has been spread about by Judeans till this very day.

<sup>16</sup> So the eleven talmidim went to the hill in the Galil where Yeshua had told them to go. <sup>17</sup> When they saw him, they prostrated themselves before him; but some hesitated. <sup>18</sup> Yeshua came and talked with them. He said, “All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. <sup>19</sup> Therefore, go and make people from all nations into talmidim, immersing them into the reality of the Father, the Son and the Ruach HaKodesh, <sup>20</sup> and teaching them to obey everything that I have commanded you. And remember! I will be with you always, yes, even until the end of the age.”

The Good News of Yeshua the Messiah, as Reported by

MARK

1 <sup>1</sup> The beginning of the Good News of Yeshua the Messiah, the Son of God: <sup>2</sup> It is written in the prophet Yesha'yahu,

“See, I am sending my messenger ahead of you;
he will prepare the way before you.”<sup>a</sup>

<sup>3</sup> “The voice of someone crying out:
‘In the desert prepare the way for ADONAI!
Make straight paths for him!’”<sup>b</sup>

<sup>4</sup> So it was that Yochanan the Immerser appeared in the desert, proclaiming an immersion involving turning to God from sin in order to be forgiven. <sup>5</sup> People went out to him from all over Y'hudah, as did all the inhabitants of Yerushalayim. Confessing their sins, they were immersed by him in the Yarden River. <sup>6</sup> Yochanan wore clothes of camel's hair, with a leather belt around his waist; he ate locusts and wild honey. <sup>7</sup> He proclaimed: “After me is coming someone who is more powerful than I — I'm not worthy even to bend down and untie his sandals. <sup>8</sup> I have immersed you in water, but he will immerse you in the Ruach HaKodesh.”

<sup>12</sup> Immediately the Spirit drove him out into the wilderness, <sup>13</sup> and he was in the wilderness forty days being tempted by the Adversary. He was with the wild animals, and the angels took care of him.

<sup>14</sup> After Yochanan had been arrested, Yeshua came into the Galil proclaiming the Good News from God:

<sup>15</sup> “The time has come,

God's Kingdom is near!

Turn to God from your sins

and believe the Good News!”

<sup>16</sup> As he walked beside Lake Kinneret, he saw Shim‘on and Andrew, Shim‘on’s brother, casting a net into the lake; for they were fishermen. <sup>17</sup> Yeshua said to them, “Come, follow me, and I will make you into fishers for men!” <sup>18</sup> At once they left their nets and followed him.

<sup>21</sup> They entered K’far-Nachum, and on Shabbat Yeshua went into the synagogue and began teaching. <sup>22</sup> They were amazed at the way he taught, for he did not instruct them like the Torah-teachers but as one who had authority himself.

<sup>23</sup> In their synagogue just then was a man with an unclean spirit in him, who shouted, <sup>24</sup> “What do you want with us, Yeshua from Natzeret? Have you come to destroy us? I know who you are — the Holy One of God!” <sup>25</sup> But Yeshua rebuked the unclean spirit, “Be quiet and come out of him!” <sup>26</sup> Throwing the man into a convulsion, it gave a loud shriek and came out of him. <sup>27</sup> They were all so astounded that they began asking each other, “What is this? A new teaching, one with authority behind it! He gives orders even to the unclean spirits, and they obey him!” <sup>28</sup> And the news about him spread quickly through the whole region of the Galil.

<sup>32</sup> That evening after sundown, they brought to Yeshua all who were ill or held in the power of demons, <sup>33</sup> and the whole town came crowding around the door. <sup>34</sup> He healed many who were ill with various diseases and expelled many demons, but he did not allow the demons to speak, because they knew who he was.

those with him went after him; <sup>37</sup> and when they found him, they said, “Everybody is looking for you.” <sup>38</sup> He answered, “Let’s go somewhere else — to the other villages around here. I have to proclaim the message there too — in fact this is why I came out.” <sup>39</sup> So he traveled all through the Galil, preaching in their synagogues and expelling demons.

<sup>40</sup> A man afflicted with tzara’at came to Yeshua and begged him on his knees, “If you are willing, you can make me clean.” <sup>41</sup> Moved with pity, Yeshua reached out his hand, touched him and said to him, “I am willing! Be cleansed!” <sup>42</sup> Instantly the tzara’at left him, and he was cleansed. <sup>43</sup> Yeshua sent him away with this stern warning: <sup>44</sup> “See to it that you tell no one; instead, as a testimony to the people, go and let the cohen examine you, and offer for your cleansing what Moshe commanded.” <sup>45</sup> But he went out and began spreading the news, talking freely about it; so that Yeshua could no longer enter a town openly but stayed out in the country, where people continued coming to him from all around.

2 <sup>1</sup> After a while, Yeshua returned to K’far-Nachum. The word spread that he was back, <sup>2</sup> and so many people gathered around the house that there was no longer any room, not even in front of the door. While he was preaching the message to them, <sup>3</sup> four men came to him carrying a paralyzed man. <sup>4</sup> They could not get near Yeshua because of the crowd, so they stripped the roof over the place where he was, made an opening, and lowered the stretcher with the paralytic lying on it. <sup>5</sup> Seeing their trust, Yeshua said to the paralyzed man, “Son, your sins are forgiven.” <sup>6</sup> Some Torah-teachers sitting there thought to themselves, <sup>7</sup> “How can this fellow say such a thing? He is blaspheming! Who can forgive sins except God?” <sup>8</sup> But immediately Yeshua, perceiving in his spirit what they were thinking, said to them, “Why are you thinking these things? <sup>9</sup> Which is easier to say to the paralyzed man? ‘Your sins are forgiven’? or ‘Get up, pick up your stretcher and walk’? <sup>10</sup> But look! I will prove to you that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins.” He then said to the paralytic, <sup>11</sup> “I say to you: get up, pick up your stretcher and go home!” <sup>12</sup> In front of everyone the man got up, picked up his stretcher at once and left. They were all utterly amazed and praised God, saying, “We have never seen anything like this!”

<sup>13</sup> Yeshua went out again by the lake. All the crowd came to him, and he began teaching them. <sup>14</sup> As he passed on from there, he saw Levi Ben-Halfai sitting in his tax-collection booth and said to him, “Follow me!” And he got up and followed him.

<sup>15</sup> As Yeshua was in Levi’s house eating, many tax-collectors and sinners were sitting with Yeshua and his talmidim, for there were many of them among his followers. <sup>16</sup> When the Torah-teachers and the P’rushim saw that he was eating with sinners and tax-collectors, they said to his talmidim, “Why does he eat with tax-collectors and sinners?” <sup>17</sup> But, hearing the question, Yeshua answered them, “The ones who need a doctor aren’t the healthy but the sick. I didn’t come to call the ‘righteous’ but sinners!”

<sup>18</sup> Also Yochanan’s talmidim and the P’rushim were fasting; and they came and asked Yeshua, “Why is it that Yochanan’s talmidim and the talmidim of the P’rushim fast, but your talmidim don’t fast?” <sup>19</sup> Yeshua answered them, “Can wedding guests fast while the bridegroom is still with them? As long as they have the bridegroom with them, fasting is out of the question. <sup>20</sup> But the time will come when the bridegroom is taken away from them; and when that day comes, they will fast. <sup>21</sup> No one sews a piece of unshrunk cloth on an old coat; if he does, the new patch tears away from the old cloth and leaves a worse hole. <sup>22</sup> And no one puts new wine in old wineskins; if he does, the wine will burst the skins, and both the wine and the skins will be ruined. Rather, new wine is for freshly prepared wineskins.”

3 <sup>1</sup> Yeshua went again into a synagogue, and a man with a shriveled hand was there. <sup>2</sup> Looking for a reason to accuse him of something, people watched him carefully to see if he would heal him on Shabbat. <sup>3</sup> He said to the man with the shriveled hand, “Come up where we can see you!” <sup>4</sup> Then to them he said, “What is permitted on Shabbat? Doing good or doing evil?

Saving life or killing?” But they said nothing. <sup>5</sup> Then, looking them over and feeling both anger with them and sympathy for them at the stoniness of their hearts, he said to the man, “Hold out your hand.” As he held it out, it became restored. <sup>6</sup> The P’rushim went out and immediately began plotting with some members of Herod’s party how to do away with him.

<sup>13</sup> Then he went up into the hill country and summoned to himself those he wanted, and they came to him. <sup>14</sup> He appointed twelve to be with him, to be sent out to preach <sup>15</sup> and to have authority to expel demons:

Then he entered a house; <sup>20</sup> and once more, such a crowd came together that they couldn’t even eat. <sup>21</sup> When his family heard about this, they set out to take charge of him; for they said, “He’s out of his mind!”

<sup>22</sup> The Torah-teachers who came down from Yerushalayim said, “He has Ba‘al-Zibbul in him,” and “It is by the ruler of the demons that he expels the demons.” <sup>23</sup> But he called them and spoke to them in parables: “How can Satan expel Satan? <sup>24</sup> If a kingdom is divided against itself, that kingdom can’t survive; <sup>25</sup> and if a household is divided against itself, that household can’t survive. <sup>26</sup> So if Satan has rebelled against himself and is divided, he can’t survive either; and that’s the end of him. <sup>27</sup> Furthermore, no one can break into a strong man’s house and make off with his possessions unless he first ties up the strong man. After that, he can ransack his house. <sup>28</sup> Yes! I tell you that people will be forgiven all sins and whatever blasphemies they utter; <sup>29</sup> however, someone who blasphemes against the Ruach HaKodesh never has forgiveness but is guilty of an eternal sin.” <sup>30</sup> For they had been saying, “He has an unclean spirit in him.”

4 <sup>1</sup> Again Yeshua began to teach by the lake, but the crowd that gathered around him was so large that he got into a boat on the lake and sat there, while the crowd remained on shore at the water’s edge. <sup>2</sup> He taught them many things in parables. In the course of his teaching, he said to them: <sup>3</sup> “Listen! A farmer went out to sow his seed. <sup>4</sup> As he sowed, some seed fell alongside the path; and the birds came and ate it up. <sup>5</sup> Other seed fell on rocky patches where there was not much soil. It sprouted quickly because the soil was shallow; <sup>6</sup> but when the sun rose, the young plants were scorched; and since their roots were not deep, they dried up. <sup>7</sup> Other seed fell among thorns, which grew up and choked it; so that it yielded no grain. <sup>8</sup> But other seed fell into rich soil and produced grain; it sprouted, and grew, and yielded a crop — thirty, sixty, even a hundred times what was sown.” <sup>9</sup> And he concluded, “Whoever has ears to hear with, let him hear!”

<sup>10</sup> When Yeshua was alone, the people around him with the Twelve asked him about the parables. <sup>11</sup> He answered them, “To you the secret of the Kingdom of God has been given; but to those outside, everything is in parables, <sup>12</sup> so that they may be always looking but never seeing;

always listening but never understanding.

Otherwise, they might turn and be forgiven!”<sup>c</sup>

<sup>13</sup> Then Yeshua said to them, “Don’t you understand this parable? How will you be able to understand any parable? <sup>14</sup> The sower sows the message. <sup>15</sup> Those alongside the path where the message is sown are people who no sooner hear it than the Adversary comes and takes away the message sown in them. <sup>16</sup> Likewise, those receiving seed on rocky patches are people who hear the message and joyfully accept it at once; <sup>17</sup> but they have no root in themselves. So they hold out for a while, but as soon as some trouble or persecution arises on account of the message, they immediately fall away. <sup>18</sup> Others are those sown among thorns — they hear the message; <sup>19</sup> but the worries of the world, the deceitful glamor of wealth and all the other kinds of desires push in and choke the message; so that it produces nothing. <sup>20</sup> But those sown on rich soil hear the message, accept it and bear fruit — thirty, sixty or a hundredfold.”

<sup>24</sup> He also said to them, “Pay attention to what you are hearing! The measure with which you measure out will be used to measure to you — and more besides! <sup>25</sup> For anyone who has something will be given more; but from anyone who has nothing, even what he does have will be taken away.”

<sup>30</sup> Yeshua also said, “With what can we compare the Kingdom of God? What illustration should we use to describe it? <sup>31</sup> It is like a mustard seed, which, when planted, is the smallest of all the seeds in the field; <sup>32</sup> but after it has been planted, it grows and becomes the largest of all the plants, with such big branches that the birds flying about can build nests in its shade.”

<sup>33</sup> With many parables like these he spoke the message to them, to the extent that they were capable of hearing it. <sup>34</sup> He did not say a thing to them without using a parable; when he was alone with his own talmidim he explained everything to them.

<sup>35</sup> That day, when evening had come, Yeshua said to them, “Let’s cross to the other side of the lake.” <sup>36</sup> So, leaving the crowd behind, they took him just as he was, in the boat; and there were other boats with him. <sup>37</sup> A furious windstorm arose, and the waves broke over the boat, so that it was close to being swamped. <sup>38</sup> But he was in the stern on a cushion, asleep. They woke him and said to him, “Rabbi, doesn’t it matter to you that we’re about to be killed?” <sup>39</sup> He awoke, rebuked the wind and said to the waves, “Quiet! Be still!” The wind subsided, and there was a dead calm. <sup>40</sup> He said to them, “Why are you afraid? Have you no trust even now?” <sup>41</sup> But they were terrified and asked each other, “Who can this be, that even the wind and the waves obey him?”

5 <sup>1</sup> Yeshua and his talmidim arrived at the other side of the lake, in the Gerasenes’ territory. <sup>2</sup> As soon as he disembarked, a man with an unclean spirit came out of the burial caves to meet him. <sup>3</sup> He lived in the burial caves; and no one could keep him tied up, not even with a chain. <sup>4</sup> He had often been chained hand and foot, but he would snap the chains and break the irons off his feet, and no one was strong enough to control him. <sup>5</sup> Night and day he wandered among the graves and through the hills, howling and gashing himself with stones.

<sup>6</sup> Seeing Yeshua from a distance, he ran and fell on his knees in front of him <sup>7</sup>and screamed at the top of his voice, “What do you want with me, Yeshua, Son of God Ha’Elyon? I implore you in God’s name! Don’t torture me!” <sup>8</sup> For Yeshua had already begun saying to him, “Unclean spirit, come out of this man!” <sup>9</sup> Yeshua asked him, “What’s your name?” “My name is Legion,” he answered, “there are so many of us”; <sup>10</sup> and he kept begging Yeshua not to send them out of that region.

<sup>11</sup> Now there was a large herd of pigs feeding near the hill, <sup>12</sup> and the unclean spirits begged him, “Send us to the pigs, so we can go into them.” <sup>13</sup> Yeshua gave them permission. They came out and entered the pigs; and the herd, numbering around two thousand, rushed down the hillside into the lake and were drowned. <sup>14</sup> The swineherds fled and told it in the town and in the surrounding country, and the people went to see what had happened. <sup>15</sup> They came to Yeshua and saw the man who had had the legion of demons, sitting there, dressed and in his right mind; and they were frightened. <sup>16</sup> Those who had seen it told what had happened to the man controlled by demons and to the pigs; <sup>17</sup> and the people began begging Yeshua to leave their district.

<sup>18</sup> As he was getting into the boat, the man who had been demonized begged him to be allowed to go with him. <sup>19</sup> But Yeshua would not permit it. Instead, he said to him, “Go home to your people, and tell them how much ADONAI in his mercy has done for you.” <sup>20</sup> He went off and began proclaiming in the Ten Towns how much Yeshua had done for him, and everyone was amazed.

<sup>24</sup> He went with him; and a large crowd followed, pressing all around him. <sup>25</sup> Among them was a woman who had had a hemorrhage for twelve years <sup>26</sup> and had suffered a great deal under many physicians. She had spent her life savings; yet instead of improving, she had grown worse. <sup>27</sup> She had heard about Yeshua, so she came up behind him in the crowd and touched his robe; <sup>28</sup> for she said, “If I touch even his clothes, I will be healed.” <sup>29</sup> Instantly the hemorrhaging stopped, and she felt in her body that she had been healed from the disease. <sup>30</sup> At the same time, Yeshua, aware that power had gone out from him, turned around in the crowd and asked, “Who touched my clothes?” <sup>31</sup> His talmidim responded, “You see the people pressing in on you; and still you ask, ‘Who touched me?’” <sup>32</sup> But he kept looking around to see who had done it. <sup>33</sup> The woman, frightened and trembling, because she knew what had happened to her, came and fell down in front of him and told him the whole truth. <sup>34</sup> “Daughter,” he said to her, “your trust has healed you. Go in peace, and be healed of your disease.”

mother and those with him, and went in where the child was. <sup>41</sup> Taking her by the hand, he said to her, “Talita, kumi!” (which means, “Little girl, I say to you, get up!”). <sup>42</sup> At once the girl got up and began walking around; she was twelve years old. Everybody was utterly amazed. <sup>43</sup> He gave them strict orders to say nothing about this to anyone, and told them to give her something to eat.

6 <sup>1</sup> Then Yeshua left and went to his home town, and his talmidim followed him. <sup>2</sup> On Shabbat he started to teach in the synagogue, and many who heard him were astounded. They asked, “Where did this man get all this? What is this wisdom he has been given? What are these miracles worked through him? <sup>3</sup> Isn’t he just the carpenter? the son of Miryam? the brother of Ya’akov and Yosi and Y’hudah and Shim’on? Aren’t his sisters here with us?” And they took offense at him. <sup>4</sup> But Yeshua said to them. “The only place people don’t respect a prophet is in his home town, among his own relatives, and in his own house.” <sup>5</sup> So he could do no miracles there, other than lay his hands on a few sick people and heal them. <sup>6</sup> He was amazed at their lack of trust.

Then he went through the surrounding towns and villages, teaching.

<sup>14</sup> Meanwhile, King Herod heard about this, for Yeshua’s reputation had spread. Some were saying, “Yochanan the Immerser has been raised from the dead; that is why these miraculous powers are at work in him.” <sup>15</sup> Others said, “It is Eliyahu!” and still others, “He is a prophet, like one of the old prophets.” <sup>16</sup> But when Herod heard about it, he said, “Yochanan, whom I had beheaded, has been raised.”

<sup>17</sup> For Herod had sent and had Yochanan arrested and chained in prison because of Herodias, the wife of his brother Philip. Herod had married her,<sup>18</sup> but Yochanan had told him, “It violates the Torah for you to marry your brother’s wife.”<sup>19</sup> So Herodias had a grudge against him and wanted him put to death. But this she could not accomplish,<sup>20</sup> because Herod stood in awe of Yochanan and protected him, for he knew that he was a tzaddik, a holy man. Whenever he heard him, he became deeply disturbed; yet he liked to listen to him.

<sup>21</sup> Finally, the opportunity came. Herod gave a banquet on his birthday for his nobles and officers and the leading men of the Galil.<sup>22</sup> The daughter of Herodias came in and danced, and she pleased Herod and his guests. The king said to the girl, “Ask me for whatever you want; I will give it to you”;<sup>23</sup> and he made a vow to her, “Whatever you ask me, I will give you, up to half my kingdom.”<sup>24</sup> So she went out and said to her mother, “What should I ask for?” She said, “The head of Yochanan the Immerser.”<sup>25</sup> At once the daughter hurried back to the king and announced her request: “I want you to give me right now on a platter the head of Yochanan the Immerser.”<sup>26</sup> Herod was appalled; but out of regard for the oaths he had sworn before his dinner guests, he did not want to break his word to her.<sup>27</sup> So the king immediately sent a soldier from his personal guard with orders to bring Yochanan’s head. The soldier went and beheaded Yochanan in the prison,<sup>28</sup> brought his head on a platter, and gave it to the girl; and the girl gave it to her mother.<sup>29</sup> When Yochanan’s talmidim heard of it, they came and took the body and laid it in a grave.

<sup>30</sup> Those who had been sent out rejoined Yeshua and reported to him all they had done and taught.<sup>31</sup> There were so many people coming and going that they couldn’t even take time to eat, so he said to them, “Come with me by yourselves to a place where we can be alone, and you can get some rest.”<sup>32</sup> They went off by themselves to an isolated spot;<sup>33</sup> but many people, seeing them leave and recognizing them, ran ahead on foot from all the towns and got there first.<sup>34</sup> When Yeshua came ashore, he saw a huge crowd. Filled with compassion for them, because they were like sheep without a shepherd, he began teaching them many things.

They replied, “We are to go and spend thousands on bread, and give it to them to eat?” <sup>38</sup> He asked them, “How many loaves do you have? Go and check.” When they had found out, they said, “Five. And two fish.” <sup>39</sup> Then he ordered all the people to sit down in groups on the green grass. <sup>40</sup> They sat down in groups of fifty or a hundred. <sup>41</sup> Then he took the five loaves and the two fish, and, looking up toward heaven, made a b’rakhah. Next he broke up the loaves and began giving them to the talmidim to distribute. He also divided up the two fish among them all. <sup>42</sup> They all ate as much as they wanted, <sup>43</sup> and they took up twelve baskets full of the broken pieces and fish. <sup>44</sup> Those who ate the loaves numbered five thousand men.

<sup>53</sup> After they had made the crossing, they landed at Ginosar and anchored. <sup>54</sup> As soon as they got out of the boat, the people recognized him <sup>55</sup> and began running around throughout that whole region and bringing sick people on their stretchers to any place where they heard he was. <sup>56</sup> Wherever he went, in towns, cities or country, they laid the sick in the marketplaces. They begged him to let them touch even the tzitzit on his robe, and all who touched it were healed.

thoughts, sexual immorality, theft, murder, adultery, <sup>22</sup> greed, malice, deceit, indecency, envy, slander, arrogance, foolishness.... <sup>23</sup> All these wicked things come from within, and they make a person unclean.”

<sup>24</sup> Next, Yeshua left that district and went off to the vicinity of Tzor and Tzidon. There he found a house to stay in and wanted to remain unrecognized, but keeping hidden proved impossible. <sup>25</sup> Instead, a woman whose little daughter had an unclean spirit in her came to him and fell down at his feet. <sup>26</sup> The woman was a Greek, by birth a Syro-phoenician, and she begged him to drive the demon out of her daughter. <sup>27</sup> He said, “Let the children be fed first, for it is not right to take the children’s food and toss it to their pet dogs.” <sup>28</sup> She answered him, “That is true, sir; but even the dogs under the table eat the children’s leftovers.” <sup>29</sup> Then he said to her, “For such an answer you may go on home; the demon has left your daughter.” <sup>30</sup> She went back home and found the child lying on the couch, the demon gone.

8 <sup>1</sup> It was during that time that another large crowd gathered, and they had nothing to eat. Yeshua called his talmidim to him and said to them, <sup>2</sup> “I feel sorry for these people, because they have been with me three days, and now they have nothing to eat. <sup>3</sup> If I send them off to their homes hungry, they will collapse on the way; some of them have come a long distance.” <sup>4</sup> His talmidim said to him, “How can anyone find enough bread to satisfy these people in a remote place like this?” <sup>5</sup> “How many loaves do you have?” he asked them. They answered, “Seven.” <sup>6</sup> He then told the crowd to sit down on the ground, took the seven loaves, made a b’rakhah, broke the loaves and gave them to his talmidim to serve to the people. <sup>7</sup> They also had a few fish; making a b'rakhah over them he also ordered these to be served.<sup>8</sup> The people ate their fill; and the talmidim took up the leftover pieces, seven large basketsful.<sup>9</sup> About four thousand were there.<sup>10</sup> After sending them away, Yeshua got into the boat with his talmidim and went off to the district of Dalmanuta.

<sup>11</sup> The P'rushim came and began arguing with him; they wanted him to give them a sign from Heaven, because they were out to trap him.<sup>12</sup> With a sigh that came straight from his heart, he said, "Why does this generation want a sign? Yes! I tell you, no sign will be given to this generation!"<sup>13</sup> With that, he left them, got into the boat again and went off to the other side of the lake.

<sup>22</sup> They came to Beit-Tzaidah. Some people brought him a blind man and begged Yeshua to touch him.<sup>23</sup> Taking the blind man's hand, he led him outside the town. He spit in his eyes, put his hands on him and asked him, "Do you see anything?"<sup>24</sup> He looked up and said, "I see people, but they look like walking trees."<sup>25</sup> Then he put his hands on the blind man's eyes again. He peered intently, and his eyesight was restored, so that he could see everything distinctly.<sup>26</sup> Yeshua sent him home with the words, "Don't go into town."

Man had to endure much suffering and be rejected by the elders, the head cohanim and the Torah-teachers; and that he had to be put to death; but that after three days, he had to rise again. <sup>32</sup> He spoke very plainly about it. Kefa took him aside and began rebuking him. <sup>33</sup> But, turning around and looking at his talmidim, he rebuked Kefa. “Get behind me, Satan!” he said, “For your thinking is from a human perspective, not from God’s perspective!”

<sup>34</sup> Then Yeshua called the crowd and his talmidim to him and told them, “If anyone wants to come after me, let him say ‘No’ to himself, take up his execution-stake, and keep following me. <sup>35</sup> For whoever wants to save his own life will destroy it, but whoever destroys his life for my sake and for the sake of the Good News will save it. <sup>36</sup> Indeed, what will it benefit a person if he gains the whole world but forfeits his life? <sup>37</sup> What could a person give in exchange for his life? <sup>38</sup> For if someone is ashamed of me and of what I say in this adulterous and sinful generation, the Son of Man also will be ashamed of him when he comes in his Father’s glory with the holy angels.

9 <sup>1</sup> Yes!” he went on, “I tell you that there are some people standing here who will not experience death until they see the Kingdom of God come in a powerful way!”

<sup>9</sup> As they came down the mountain, he warned them not to tell anyone what they had seen until after the Son of Man had risen from the dead. <sup>10</sup> So they kept the matter to themselves; but they continued asking each other, “What is this ‘rising from the dead’?” <sup>11</sup> They also asked him, “Why do the Torah-teachers say that Eliyahu has to come first?” <sup>12</sup> “Eliyahu will indeed come first,” he answered, “and he will restore everything. Nevertheless, why is it written in the Tanakh that the Son of Man must suffer much and be rejected? <sup>13</sup> There's more to it: I tell you that Eliyahu has come, and they did whatever they pleased to him, just as the Tanakh says about him."

<sup>14</sup> When they got back to the talmidim, they saw a large crowd around them and some Torah-teachers arguing with them. <sup>15</sup> As soon as the crowd saw him, they were surprised and ran out to greet him. <sup>16</sup> He asked them, "What's the discussion about?" <sup>17</sup> One of the crowd gave him the answer: "Rabbi, I brought my son to you because he has an evil spirit in him that makes him unable to talk. <sup>18</sup> Whenever it seizes him, it throws him to the ground — he foams at the mouth, grinds his teeth and becomes stiff all over. I asked your talmidim to drive the spirit out, but they couldn't do it." <sup>19</sup> "People without any trust!" he responded. "How long will I be with you? How long must I put up with you? Bring him to me!" <sup>20</sup> They brought the boy to him; and as soon as the spirit saw him, it threw the boy into a convulsion. <sup>21</sup> Yeshua asked the boy's father, "How long has this been happening to him?" "Ever since childhood," he said; <sup>22</sup> "and it often tries to kill him by throwing him into the fire or into the water. But if you can do anything, have pity on us and help us!" <sup>23</sup> Yeshua said to him, "What do you mean, 'if you can'? Everything is possible to someone who has trust!" <sup>24</sup> Instantly the father of the child exclaimed, "I do trust — help my lack of trust!" <sup>25</sup> When Yeshua saw that the crowd was closing in on them, he rebuked the unclean spirit, saying to it, "You deaf and dumb spirit! I command you: come out of him, and never go back into him again!" <sup>26</sup> Shrieking and throwing the boy into a violent fit, it came out. The boy lay there like a corpse, so that most of the people said he was dead. <sup>27</sup> But Yeshua took him by the hand and raised him to his feet, and he stood up.

<sup>30</sup> After leaving that place, they went on through the Galil. Yeshua didn't want anyone to know, <sup>31</sup> because he was teaching his talmidim. He told them, "The Son of Man will be betrayed into the hands of men who will put him to death; but after he has been killed, three days later he will rise." <sup>32</sup> But they didn't understand what he meant, and they were afraid to ask him.

<sup>33</sup> They arrived at K'far-Nachum. When Yeshua was inside the house, he asked them, "What were you discussing as we were traveling?" <sup>34</sup> But they kept quiet; because on the way, they had been arguing with each other about who was the greatest. <sup>35</sup> He sat down, summoned the Twelve and said to them, “If anyone wants to be first, he must make himself last of all and servant of all.” <sup>36</sup> He took a child and stood him among them. Then he put his arms around him and said to them, <sup>37</sup> “Whoever welcomes one such child in my name welcomes me, and whoever welcomes me welcomes not me but the One who sent me.”

<sup>38</sup> Yochanan said to him, “Rabbi, we saw a man expelling demons in your name; and because he wasn’t one of us, we told him to stop.” <sup>39</sup> But Yeshua said, “Don’t stop him, because no one who works a miracle in my name will soon after be able to say something bad about me. <sup>40</sup> For whoever is not against us is for us. <sup>41</sup> Indeed, whoever gives you even a cup of water to drink because you come in the name of the Messiah — yes! I tell you that he will certainly not lose his reward.

<sup>42</sup> “Whoever ensnares one of these little ones who trust me — it would be better for him to have a millstone hung around his neck and be thrown in the sea. <sup>43</sup> If your hand makes you sin, cut it off! Better that you should be maimed but obtain eternal life, rather than keep both hands and go to Gei-Hinnom, to unquenchable fire! <sup>44b*-b</sup> <sup>45</sup> And if your foot makes you sin, cut it off! Better that you should be lame but obtain eternal life, rather than keep both feet and be thrown into Gei-Hinnom! <sup>46b*</sup> <sup>47</sup> And if your eye makes you sin, pluck it out! Better that you should be one-eyed but enter the Kingdom of God, rather than keep both eyes and be thrown into Gei-Hinnom,

<sup>49</sup> Indeed, everyone is going to be salted with fire. <sup>50</sup> Salt is excellent, but if it loses its saltiness, how will you season it? So have salt in yourselves — that is, be at peace with each other.”

10 <sup>1</sup> Then Yeshua left that place and went into the regions of Y’hudah and the territory beyond the Yarden. Again crowds gathered around him; and again, as usual, he taught them. <sup>2</sup> Some P’rushim came up and tried to trap him by asking him, “Does the Torah permit a man to divorce his wife?” <sup>3</sup> He replied, “What did Moshe command you?” <sup>4</sup> They said, “Moshe allowed a man to hand his wife a *get and divorce her.”<sup>5</sup> But Yeshua said to them, “He wrote this commandment for you because of your hardheartedness.<sup>6</sup> However, at the beginning of creation, God made them male and female.<sup>7</sup> For this reason, a man should leave his father and mother and be united with his wife,<sup>8</sup> and the two are to become one flesh.<sup>9</sup> Thus they are no longer two, but one.<sup>9</sup> So then, no one should break apart what God has joined together.”<sup>10</sup> When they were indoors once more, the talmidim asked him about this.<sup>11</sup> He said to them, “Whoever divorces his wife and marries another woman commits adultery against his wife;<sup>12</sup> and if a wife divorces her husband and marries another man, she too commits adultery.”

<sup>13</sup> People were bringing children to him so that he might touch them, but the talmidim rebuked those people.<sup>14</sup> However, when Yeshua saw it, he became indignant and said to them, “Let the children come to me, don’t stop them, for the Kingdom of God belongs to such as these.<sup>15</sup> Yes! I tell you, whoever does not receive the Kingdom of God like a child will not enter it!”<sup>16</sup> And he took them in his arms, laid his hands on them, and made a b’rakhah over them.

<sup>17</sup> As he was starting on his way, a man ran up, knelt down in front of him and asked, “Good rabbi, what should I do to obtain eternal life?”<sup>18</sup> Yeshua said to him, “Why are you calling me good? No one is good except God!<sup>19</sup> You know the mitzvot — ‘Don’t murder, don’t commit adultery, don’t steal, don’t give false testimony, don’t defraud, honor your father and mother,...’”<sup>20</sup> “Rabbi,” he said, “I have kept all these since I was a boy.”<sup>21</sup> Yeshua, looking at him, felt love for him and said to him, “You’re missing one thing. Go, sell whatever you own, give to the poor, and you will have riches in heaven. Then come, follow me!”<sup>22</sup> Shocked by this word, he went away sad; because he was a wealthy man.

<sup>23</sup> Yeshua looked around and said to his talmidim, “How hard it is going to be for people with wealth to enter the Kingdom of God!”<sup>24</sup> The talmidim were astounded at these words; but Yeshua said to them again, “My friends, how hard it is to enter the Kingdom of God!<sup>25</sup> It’s easier for a camel to pass through a needle’s eye than for a rich man to enter the Kingdom of God.”<sup>26</sup> They were utterly amazed and said to him, “Then who can be saved?”<sup>27</sup> Yeshua looked at them and said, “Humanly, it is impossible, but not with God; with God, everything is possible.”<sup>28</sup> Kefa began saying to him, “Look, we have left everything and followed you.”<sup>29</sup> Yeshua said, “Yes! I tell you that there is no one who has left house, brothers, sisters, mother, father, children or fields, for my sake and for the sake of the Good News, <sup>30</sup> who will not receive a hundred times over, now, in the ‘olam hazeh, homes, brothers, sisters, mothers, children and lands — with persecutions! — and in the ‘olam haba, eternal life. <sup>31</sup> But many who are first will be last, and many who are last will be first!”

<sup>32</sup> They were on the road going up to Yerushalayim. Yeshua was walking ahead of them, and they were amazed — and those following were afraid. So again taking the Twelve along with him, he began telling them what was about to happen to him. <sup>33</sup> “We are now going up to Yerushalayim, where the Son of Man will be handed over to the head cohanim and the Torah-teachers. They will sentence him to death and turn him over to the Goyim, <sup>34</sup> who will jeer at him, spit on him, beat him and kill him; but after three days, he will rise.”!

<sup>35</sup> Ya‘akov and Yochanan, the sons of Zavdai, came up to him and said, “Rabbi, we would like you to do us a favor.” <sup>36</sup> He said to them, “What do you want me to do for you?” <sup>37</sup> They replied, “When you are in your glory, let us sit with you, one on your right and the other on your left.” <sup>38</sup> But Yeshua answered, “You don’t know what you’re asking! Can you drink the cup that I am drinking? or be immersed with the immersion that I must undergo?” <sup>39</sup> They said to him, “We can.” Yeshua replied, “The cup that I am drinking, you will drink; and the immersion I am being immersed with, you will undergo. <sup>40</sup> But to sit on my right and on my left is not mine to give. Rather, it is for those for whom it has been prepared.”

<sup>41</sup> When the other ten heard about this, they became outraged at Ya‘akov and Yochanan. <sup>42</sup> But Yeshua called them to him and said to them, “You know that among the Goyim, those who are supposed to rule them become tyrants, and their superiors become dictators. <sup>43</sup> But among you, it must not be like that! On the contrary, whoever among you wants to be a leader must be your servant; <sup>44</sup> and whoever wants to be first among you must become everyone’s slave! <sup>45</sup> For the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve — and to give his life as a ransom for many.”

him over!” They called to the blind man, “Courage! Get up! He’s calling for you!” <sup>50</sup> Throwing down his blanket, he jumped up and came over to Yeshua. <sup>51</sup> “What do you want me to do for you?” asked Yeshua. The blind man said to him, “Rabbi, let me be able to see again.” <sup>52</sup> Yeshua said to him, “Go! Your trust has healed you.” Instantly he received his sight and followed him on the road.

11 <sup>1</sup> As they were approaching Yerushalayim, near Beit-Pagei and Beit-Anyah, by the Mount of Olives, Yeshua sent two of his talmidim <sup>2</sup> with these instructions: “Go into the village ahead of you; and as soon as you enter it, you will find a colt tied there that has never been ridden. Untie it, and bring it here. <sup>3</sup> If anyone asks you, ‘Why are you doing this?’ tell him, ‘The Lord needs it,’ and he will send it here right away.”

<sup>8</sup> Many people carpeted the road with their clothing, while others spread out green branches which they had cut in the fields. <sup>9</sup> Those who were ahead and those behind shouted,

“Please! Deliver us!” <sup>m *</sup>

“Blessed is he who comes in the name of ADONAI!” <sup>n</sup>

and,

“You in the highest heaven! Please! Deliver us!” <sup>o *</sup>

<sup>11</sup> Yeshua entered Yerushalayim, went into the Temple courts and took a good look at everything; but since it was now late, he went out with the Twelve to Beit- Anyah.

<sup>12</sup> The next day, as they came back from Beit-Anyah, he felt hungry. <sup>13</sup> Spotting in the distance a fig tree in leaf, he went to see if he could find anything on it. When he came up to it, he found nothing but leaves; for it wasn't fig season. <sup>14</sup> He said to it, "May no one ever eat fruit from you again!" And his talmidim heard what he said.

<sup>15</sup> On reaching Yerushalayim, he entered the Temple courts and began driving out those who were carrying on business there, both the merchants and their customers. He also knocked over the desks of the money-changers, upset the benches of the pigeon-dealers, <sup>16</sup> and refused to let anyone carry merchandise through the Temple courts. <sup>17</sup> Then, as he taught them, he said, "Isn't it written in the Tanakh, 'My house will be called a house of prayer for all the Goyim.'<sup>g</sup> But you have made it into a den of robbers!"<sup>g</sup> <sup>18</sup> The head cohanim and the Torah-teachers heard what he said and tried to find a way to do away with him; they were afraid of him, because the crowds were utterly taken by his teaching. <sup>19</sup> When evening came, they left the city.

<sup>20</sup> In the morning, as the talmidim passed by, they saw the fig tree withered all the way to its roots. <sup>21</sup> Kefa remembered and said to Yeshua, "Rabbi! Look! The fig tree that you cursed has dried up!" <sup>22</sup> He responded, "Have the kind of trust that comes from God! <sup>23</sup> Yes! I tell you that whoever does not doubt in his heart but trusts that what he says will happen can say to this mountain, 'Go and throw yourself into the sea!' and it will be done for him. <sup>24</sup> Therefore, I tell you, whatever you ask for in prayer, trust that you are receiving it, and it will be yours. <sup>25</sup> And when you stand praying, if you have anything against anyone, forgive him; so that your Father in heaven may also forgive your offenses." <sup>26</sup>

<sup>27</sup> They went back into Yerushalayim; and as he was walking in the Temple courts, there came to him the head cohanim, the Torah-teachers and the elders; <sup>28</sup> and they said to him, "What s'mikhah do you have that authorizes you to do these things? Who gave you this s'mikhah authorizing you to do them?" <sup>29</sup> Yeshua said to them, "I will ask you just one question: answer me, and I will tell you by what s'mikhah I do these things. <sup>30</sup> The immersion of Yochanan — was it from Heaven or from a human source? Answer me." <sup>31</sup> They discussed it among themselves: "If we say, 'From Heaven,' he will say, 'Then why didn't you believe him?'" <sup>32</sup> But if we say, 'From a human source,...'" — they were afraid of the people, for they all regarded Yochanan as a genuine prophet. <sup>33</sup> So they answered Yeshua, "We don't know." "Then," he replied, "I won't tell you by what s'mikhah I do these things."

12 <sup>1</sup> Yeshua began speaking to them in parables. "A man planted a vineyard. He put a wall around it, dug a pit for the wine press and built a tower; then he rented it to tenant-farmers and left. <sup>2</sup> When harvest-time came, he sent a servant to the tenants to collect his share of the crop from the vineyard. <sup>3</sup> But they took him, beat him up and sent him away empty-handed. <sup>4</sup> So he sent another servant; this one they punched in the head and insulted. <sup>5</sup> He sent another one, and him they killed; and so with many others — some they beat up, others they killed. <sup>6</sup> He had still one person left, a son whom he loved; in the end, he sent him to them, saying, 'My son they will respect.' <sup>7</sup> But the tenants said to each other, 'This is the heir. Come, let's kill him, and the inheritance will be ours!' <sup>8</sup> So they seized him, killed him and threw him out of the vineyard. <sup>9</sup> What will the owner of the vineyard do? He will come, destroy those tenants and give the vineyard to others! <sup>10</sup> Haven't you read the passage in the Tanakh that says,

'The very rock which the builders rejected
has become the cornerstone!

<sup>11</sup> This has come from ADONAI,

and in our eyes it is amazing'?"<sup>12</sup>

<sup>12</sup> They set about to arrest him, for they recognized that he had told the parable with reference to themselves. But they were afraid of the crowd, so they left him and went away.

<sup>13</sup> Next they sent some P'rushim and some members of Herod's party to him in order to trap him with a sh'eilah. <sup>14</sup> They came and said to him, "Rabbi, we know that you tell the truth and are not concerned with what people think about you, since you pay no attention to a person's status but really teach what God's way is. Does Torah say that taxes are to be paid to the Roman Emperor, or not?" <sup>15</sup> But he, knowing their hypocrisy, said to them, "Why are you trying to trap me? Bring me a denarius so I can look at it.”<sup>16</sup> They brought one; and he asked them, “Whose name and picture are these?” “The Emperor’s,” they replied.<sup>17</sup> Yeshua said, “Give the Emperor what belongs to the Emperor. And give to God what belongs to God!” And they were amazed at him.

<sup>18</sup> Then some Tz’dukim came to him. They are the ones who say there is no such thing as resurrection, so they put to him a sh’eilah:<sup>19</sup> “Rabbi, Moshe wrote for us that if a man’s brother dies and leaves a wife but no child, his brother must take the wife and have children to preserve the man’s family line.”<sup>20</sup> There were seven brothers. The first one took a wife, and when he died, he left no children.<sup>21</sup> Then the second one took her and died without leaving children, and the third likewise,<sup>22</sup> and none of the seven left children. Last of all, the woman also died.<sup>23</sup> In the Resurrection, whose wife will she be? For all seven had her as wife.”

‘You are to love your neighbor as yourself.’<sup>v</sup>

There is no other mitzvah greater than these.”<sup>32</sup> The Torah-teacher said to him, “Well said, Rabbi; you speak the truth when you say that he is one, and that there is no other besides him; <sup>33</sup> and that loving him with all one's heart, understanding and strength, and loving one's neighbor as oneself, mean more than all the burnt offerings and sacrifices." <sup>34</sup> When Yeshua saw that he responded sensibly, he said to him, "You are not far from the Kingdom of God." And after that, no one dared put to him another sh'eilah.

<sup>35</sup> As Yeshua was teaching in the Temple, he asked, "How is it that the Torah-teachers say the Messiah is the Son of David? <sup>36</sup> David himself, inspired by the Ruach HaKodesh, said,

'ADONAI said to my Lord,

"Sit here at my right hand

until I put your enemies under your feet." 'w

The great crowd listened eagerly to him. <sup>38</sup> As he taught them, he said, "Watch out for the kind of Torah-teachers who like to walk around in robes and be greeted deferentially in the marketplaces, <sup>39</sup> who like to have the best seats in the synagogues and take the places of honor at banquets, <sup>40</sup> who like to swallow up widows' houses while making a show of davvening at great length. Their punishment will be all the worse!"

13 <sup>1</sup> As Yeshua came out of the Temple, one of the talmidim said to him, "Look, Rabbi! What huge stones! What magnificent buildings!" <sup>2</sup> "You see all these great buildings?" Yeshua said to him, "They will be totally destroyed — not a single stone will be left standing!"

<sup>3</sup> As he was sitting on the Mount of Olives opposite the Temple, Kefa, Ya'akov, Yochanan and Andrew asked him privately, <sup>4</sup> "Tell us, when will these things happen? And what sign will show when all these things are about to be accomplished?"

<sup>5</sup> Yeshua began speaking to them: "Watch out! Don't let anyone fool you! <sup>6</sup>Many will come in my name, saying, 'I am he!' and they will fool many people. <sup>7</sup> When you hear the noise of wars nearby and the news of wars far off, don't become frightened. Such things must happen, but the end is yet to come. <sup>8</sup> For peoples will fight each other, and nations will fight each other, there will be earthquakes in various places, there will be famines; this is but the beginning of the 'birth pains.'

<sup>9</sup> "But you, watch yourselves! They will hand you over to the local Sanhedrins, you will be beaten up in synagogues, and on my account you will stand before governors and kings as witnesses to them. <sup>10</sup> Indeed, the Good News has to be proclaimed first to all the Goyim. <sup>11</sup> Now when they arrest you and bring you to trial, don't worry beforehand about what to say. Rather, say whatever is given you when the time comes; for it will not be just you speaking, but the Ruach HaKodesh. <sup>12</sup> Brother will betray brother to death, and a father his child; children will turn against their parents and have them put to death; <sup>13</sup> and everyone will hate you because of me. But whoever holds out till the end will be delivered.

<sup>14</sup> "Now when you see the abomination that causes devastation<sup>x</sup> standing where it ought not to be" (let the reader understand the allusion), "that will be the time for those in Y'hudah to escape to the hills. <sup>15</sup> If someone is on the roof, he must not go down and enter his house to take any of his belongings; <sup>16</sup> if someone is in the field, he must not turn back to get his coat. <sup>17</sup> What a terrible time it will be for pregnant women and nursing mothers! <sup>18</sup> Pray that it may not happen in winter. <sup>19</sup> For there will be worse trouble at that time than there has ever been from the very beginning, when God created the universe, until now; and there will be nothing like it again.<sup>y</sup> <sup>20</sup> Indeed, if God had not limited the duration of the trouble, no one would survive; but for the sake of the elect, those whom he has chosen, he has limited it.

<sup>21</sup> "At that time, if anyone says to you, 'Look! Here's the Messiah!' or, 'See, there he is!' — don't believe him! <sup>22</sup> There will appear false Messiahs and false prophets performing signs and wonders for the purpose, if possible, of misleading the chosen. <sup>23</sup> But you, watch out! I have told you everything in advance! <sup>24</sup> In those days, after that trouble,

the sun will grow dark, the

moon will stop shining,

<sup>25</sup> the stars will fall from the sky,

and the powers in heaven will be shaken.<sup>z</sup>

14 <sup>1</sup> It was now two days before Pesach (that is, the festival of Matzah), and the head cohanim and the Torah-teachers were trying to find some way to arrest Yeshua surreptitiously and have him put to death; <sup>2</sup> for they said, “Not during the festival, or the people will riot.”

<sup>3</sup> While he was in Beit-Anyah in the home of Shim'on (a man who had had tzara'at), and as he was eating, a woman came with an alabaster jar of perfume, pure oil of nard, very costly. She broke the jar and poured the perfume over Yeshua's head. <sup>4</sup> But some there angrily said to themselves, "Why this waste of perfume? <sup>5</sup> It could have been sold for a year's wages and given to the poor!" And they scolded her. <sup>6</sup> But he said, "Let her be. Why are you bothering her? She has done a beautiful thing for me. <sup>7</sup> For you will always have the poor with you; and whenever you want to, you can help them. But you will not always have me. <sup>8</sup> What she could do, she did do — in advance she poured perfume on my body to prepare it for burial. <sup>9</sup> Yes! I tell you that wherever in the whole world this Good News is proclaimed, what she has done will be told in her memory."

<sup>10</sup> Then Y'hudah from K'riot, who was one of the Twelve, went to the head cohanim in order to betray Yeshua to them. <sup>11</sup> They were pleased to hear this and promised to give him money. And he began looking for a good opportunity to betray Yeshua.

<sup>12</sup> On the first day for matzah, when they slaughtered the lamb for Pesach, Yeshua's talmidim asked him, "Where do you want us to go and prepare your Seder?" <sup>13</sup> He sent two of his talmidim with these instructions: "Go into the city, and a man carrying a jar of water will meet you. Follow him; <sup>14</sup> and whichever house he enters, tell the owner that the Rabbi says, 'Where is the guest room for me, where I am to eat the Pesach meal with my talmidim?' <sup>15</sup> He will show you a large room upstairs, furnished and ready. Make the preparations there." <sup>16</sup> The talmidim went off, came to the city and found things just as he had told them they would be; and they prepared the Seder.

<sup>17</sup> When evening came, Yeshua arrived with the Twelve. <sup>18</sup> As they were reclining and eating, Yeshua said, "Yes! I tell you that one of you is going to betray me." <sup>19</sup> They became upset and began asking him, one after the other, "You don't mean me, do you?" <sup>20</sup> "It's one of the Twelve," he said to them, "someone dipping matzah in the dish with me. <sup>21</sup> For the Son of Man will die, just as the Tanakh says he will; but woe to that man by whom the Son of Man is betrayed! It would have been better for him had he never been born!"

they all drank. <sup>24</sup> He said to them, “This is my blood, which ratifies the New Covenant, my blood shed on behalf of many people. <sup>25</sup> Yes! I tell you, I will not drink this ‘fruit of the vine’ again until the day I drink new wine in the Kingdom of God.”

<sup>26</sup> After singing the Hallel, they went out to the Mount of Olives. <sup>27</sup> Yeshua said to them, “You will all lose faith in me, for the Tanakh says,

‘I will strike the shepherd dead,

and the sheep will be scattered.’<sup>b</sup>

<sup>28</sup> But after I have been raised, I will go ahead of you into the Galil.” <sup>29</sup> Kefa said to him, “Even if everyone else loses faith in you, I won’t.” <sup>30</sup> Yeshua replied, “Yes! I tell you that this very night, before the rooster crows twice, you will disown me three times!” <sup>31</sup> But Kefa kept insisting, “Even if I must die with you, I will never disown you!” And they all said the same thing.

<sup>32</sup> They went to a place called Gat Sh’manim; and Yeshua said to his talmidim, “Sit here while I pray.” <sup>33</sup> He took with him Kefa, Ya’akov and Yochanan. Great distress and anguish came over him; <sup>34</sup> and he said to them, “My heart is so filled with sadness that I could die! Remain here and stay awake.” <sup>35</sup> Going on a little farther, he fell on the ground and prayed that if possible, the hour might pass from him: <sup>36</sup> “Abba!” (that is, “Dear Father!”) “All things are possible for you. Take this cup away from me! Still, not what I want, but what you want.” <sup>37</sup> He came and found them sleeping; and he said to Kefa, “Shim’on, are you asleep? Couldn’t you stay awake one hour? <sup>38</sup> Stay awake, and pray that you will not be put to the test — the spirit indeed is eager, but human nature is weak.”

<sup>39</sup> Again he went away and prayed, saying the same words; <sup>40</sup> and again he came and found them sleeping, their eyes were so very heavy; and they didn’t know what to answer him.

<sup>41</sup> The third time, he came and said to them, “For now, go on sleeping, take your rest....There, that’s enough! The time has come! Look! The Son of Man is being betrayed into the hands of sinners! <sup>42</sup> Get up! Let’s go! Here comes my betrayer!”

a signal: “The man I kiss is the one you want. Grab him, and take him away under guard.” <sup>45</sup> As he arrived, he went right up to Yeshua, said, “Rabbi!” and kissed him. <sup>46</sup> Then they laid hold of Yeshua and arrested him; <sup>47</sup> but one of the people standing nearby drew his sword and struck at the servant of the cohen hagadol, cutting off his ear.

<sup>48</sup> Yeshua addressed them: “So you came out to take me with swords and clubs, the way you would the leader of a rebellion? <sup>49</sup> Every day I was with you in the Temple court, teaching, and you didn’t seize me then! But let the Tanakh be fulfilled.” <sup>50</sup> And they all deserted him and ran away. <sup>51</sup> There was one young man who did try to follow him; but he was wearing only a nightshirt; and when they tried to seize him, <sup>52</sup> he slipped out of the nightshirt and ran away naked.

<sup>53</sup> They led Yeshua to the cohen hagadol, with whom all the head cohanim, elders and Torah-teachers were assembling. <sup>54</sup> Kefa followed him at a distance right into the courtyard of the cohen hagadol, where he sat down with the guards and warmed himself by the fire.

<sup>60</sup> The cohen hagadol stood up in the front and asked Yeshua, “Have you nothing to say to the accusations these men are making?” <sup>61</sup> But he remained silent and made no reply. Again the cohen hagadol questioned him: “Are you the Mashiach, Ben-HaM’vorakh?” <sup>62</sup> “I AM,” answered Yeshua. “Moreover, you will see the Son of Man sitting at the right hand of HaG’vurah and coming on the clouds of heaven.” <sup>63</sup> At this, the cohen hagadol tore his clothes and said, “Why do we still need witnesses? <sup>64</sup> You heard him blaspheme! What is your decision?” And they all declared him guilty and subject to the death penalty.

<sup>65</sup> Then some began spitting at him; and after blindfolding him, they started pounding him with their fists and saying to him, “Let’s see you prophesy!” And as the guards took him, they beat him too.

and said, “You were with the man from Natzeret, Yeshua!” <sup>68</sup> But he denied it, saying, “I haven’t the faintest idea what you’re talking about!” He went outside into the entryway, and a rooster crowed. <sup>69</sup> The girl saw him there and started telling the bystanders, “This fellow is one of them.” <sup>70</sup> Again he denied it. A little later, the bystanders themselves said to Kefa, “You must be one of them, because you’re from the Galil.” <sup>71</sup> At this he began to invoke a curse on himself as he swore, “I do not know this man you are telling me about!” — <sup>72</sup> and immediately the rooster crowed a second time. Then Kefa remembered what Yeshua had said to him, “Before the rooster crows twice, you will disown me three times.” And throwing himself down, he burst into tears.

15 <sup>1</sup> As soon as it was morning, the head cohanim held a council meeting with the elders, the Torah-teachers and the whole Sanhedrin. Then they put Yeshua in chains, led him away and handed him over to Pilate. <sup>2</sup> Pilate put this question to him: “Are you the King of the Jews?” He answered him, “The words are yours.” <sup>3</sup> The head cohanim too made accusations against him, <sup>4</sup> and Pilate again inquired of him, “Aren’t you going to answer? Look how many charges they are making against you!” <sup>5</sup> But Yeshua made no further response, to Pilate’s amazement.

<sup>6</sup> Now during a festival, Pilate used to set free one prisoner, whomever the crowd requested. <sup>7</sup> There was in prison among the rebels who had committed murder during the insurrection a man called Bar-Abba. <sup>8</sup> When the crowd came up and began asking Pilate to do for them what he usually did, <sup>9</sup> he asked them, “Do you want me to set free for you the ‘King of the Jews’?” <sup>10</sup> For it was evident to him that it was out of jealousy that the head cohanim had handed him over. <sup>11</sup> But the head cohanim stirred up the crowd to have him release Bar-Abba for them instead. <sup>12</sup> Pilate again said to them, “Then what should I do with the man you call the King of the Jews?” <sup>13</sup> They shouted back, “Put him to death on the stake!” <sup>14</sup> He asked, “Why? What crime has he committed?” But they only shouted louder, “Put him to death on the stake!” <sup>15</sup> So Pilate, wishing to satisfy the mob, set Bar-Abba free for them; but he had Yeshua whipped and then handed him over to be executed on the stake.

purple and wove thorn branches into a crown, which they put on him. <sup>18</sup> Then they began to salute him, “Hail to the King of the Jews!” <sup>19</sup> They hit him on the head with a stick, spat on him and kneeled in mock worship of him. <sup>20</sup> When they had finished ridiculing him, they took off the purple robe, put his own clothes back on him and led him away to be nailed to the execution-stake.

<sup>21</sup> A certain man from Cyrene, Shim'on, the father of Alexander and Rufus, was passing by on his way in from the country; and they forced him to carry the stake. <sup>22</sup> They brought Yeshua to a place called Gulgolta (which means “place of a skull”), <sup>23</sup> and they gave him wine spiced with myrrh, but he didn't take it. <sup>24</sup> Then they nailed him to the execution-stake; and they divided his clothes among themselves, throwing dice to determine what each man should get. <sup>25</sup> It was nine in the morning when they nailed him to the stake. <sup>26</sup> Over his head, the written notice of the charge against him read,

THE KING OF THE JEWS

<sup>33</sup> At noon, darkness covered the whole Land until three o'clock in the afternoon. <sup>34</sup> At three, he uttered a loud cry, “Elohi! Elohi! L'mah sh'vaktani?” (which means, “My God! My God! Why have you deserted me?”)<sup>d</sup> <sup>35</sup> On hearing this, some of the bystanders said, “Look! He's calling for Eliyahu!” <sup>36</sup> One ran and soaked a sponge in vinegar, put it on a stick and gave it to him to drink.<sup>e</sup> “Wait!” he said, “Let's see if Eliyahu will come and take him down.” <sup>37</sup> But Yeshua let out a loud cry and gave up his spirit. <sup>38</sup> And the parokhet in the Temple was torn in two from top to bottom. <sup>39</sup> When the Roman officer who stood facing him saw the way he gave up his spirit, he said, “This man really was a son of God!”

<sup>40</sup> There were women looking on from a distance; among them were Miryam from Magdala, Miryam the mother of the younger Ya‘akov and of Yosi, and Shlomit. <sup>41</sup> These women had followed him and helped him when he was in the Galil. And many other women were there who had come up with him to Yerushalayim.

<sup>42</sup> Since it was Preparation Day (that is, the day before a Shabbat), as evening approached, <sup>43</sup> Yosef of Ramatayim, a prominent member of the Sanhedrin who himself was also looking forward to the Kingdom of God, went boldly to Pilate and asked for Yeshua’s body. <sup>44</sup> Pilate was surprised to hear that he was already dead, so he summoned the officer and asked him if he had been dead awhile. <sup>45</sup> After he had gotten confirmation from the officer that Yeshua was dead, he granted Yosef the corpse. <sup>46</sup> Yosef purchased a linen sheet; and after taking Yeshua down, he wrapped him in the linen sheet, laid him in a tomb which had been cut out of the rock, and rolled a stone against the entrance to the tomb. <sup>47</sup> Miryam of Magdala and Miryam the mother of Yosi saw where he had been laid.

16 <sup>1</sup> When Shabbat was over, Miryam of Magdala, Miryam the mother of Ya‘akov, and Shlomit bought spices in order to go and anoint Yeshua. <sup>2</sup> Very early the next day, just after sunrise, they went to the tomb. <sup>3</sup> They were asking each other, “Who will roll away the stone from the entrance to the tomb for us?” <sup>4</sup> Then they looked up and saw that the stone, even though it was huge, had been rolled back already. <sup>5</sup> On entering the tomb, they saw a young man dressed in a white robe sitting on the right; and they were dumbfounded. <sup>6</sup> But he said, “Don’t be so surprised! You’re looking for Yeshua from Natzeret, who was executed on the stake. He has risen, he’s not here! Look at the place where they laid him. <sup>7</sup> But go and tell his talmidim, especially Kefa, that he is going to the Galil ahead of you. You will see him there, just as he told you.” <sup>8</sup> Trembling but ecstatic they went out and fled from the tomb, and they said nothing to anyone, because they were afraid.

<sup>9</sup> When Yeshua rose early on Sunday, he appeared first to Miryam of Magdala, from whom he had expelled seven demons. <sup>10</sup> She went and told those who had been with him, as they were crying and mourning. <sup>11</sup> But when they heard that he was alive and that she had seen him, they wouldn’t believe it.

<sup>12</sup> After that, Yeshua appeared in another form to two of them as they were walking into the country. <sup>13</sup> They went and told the others, but they didn't believe them either.

<sup>14</sup> Later, Yeshua appeared to the Eleven as they were eating, and he reproached them for their lack of trust and their spiritual insensitivity in not having believed those who had seen him after he had risen. <sup>15</sup> Then he said to them, "As you go throughout the world, proclaim the Good News to all creation. <sup>16</sup> Whoever trusts and is immersed will be saved; whoever does not trust will be condemned. <sup>17</sup> And these signs will accompany those who do trust: in my name they will drive out demons, speak with new tongues, <sup>18</sup> not be injured if they handle snakes or drink poison, and heal the sick by laying hands on them."

<sup>19</sup> So then, after he had spoken to them, the Lord Yeshua was taken up into heaven and sat at the right hand of God.<sup>f</sup> <sup>20</sup> And they went out and proclaimed everywhere, the Lord working with them and confirming the message by the accompanying signs.

The Good News of Yeshua the Messiah, as Reported by

LUKE

1 <sup>1</sup> Dear Theophilos:

Concerning the matters that have taken place among us, many people have undertaken to draw up accounts <sup>2</sup> based on what was handed down to us by those who from the start were eyewitnesses and proclaimers of the message. <sup>3</sup> Therefore, Your Excellency, since I have carefully investigated all these things from the beginning, it seemed good to me that I too should write you an accurate and ordered narrative, <sup>4</sup>so that you might know how well-founded are the things about which you have been taught.

<sup>5</sup> In the days of Herod, King of Y'hudah, there was a cohen named Z'kharyah who belonged to the Aviyah division. His wife was a descendant of Aharon, and her name was Elisheva. <sup>6</sup> Both of them were righteous before God, observing all the mitzvot and ordinances of ADONAI blamelessly. <sup>7</sup> But they had no children, because Elisheva was barren; and they were both well along in years.

<sup>8</sup> One time, when Z'kharyah was fulfilling his duties as cohen during his division's period of service before God, <sup>9</sup> he was chosen by lot (according to the custom among the cohanim) to enter the Temple and burn incense. <sup>10</sup> All the people were outside, praying, at the time of the incense burning, <sup>11</sup> when there appeared to him an angel of ADONAI standing to the right of the incense altar. <sup>12</sup> Z'kharyah was startled and terrified at the sight. <sup>13</sup> But the angel said to him, "Don't be afraid, Z'kharyah; because your prayer has been heard. Your wife Elisheva will bear you a son, and you are to name him Yochanan. <sup>14</sup> He will be a joy and a delight to you, and many people will rejoice when he is born, <sup>15</sup> for he will be great in the sight of ADONAI. He is never to drink wine or other liquor, and he will be filled with the Ruach HaKodesh even from his mother's womb. <sup>16</sup> He will turn many of the people of Isra'el to ADONAI their God. <sup>17</sup> He will go out ahead of ADONAI in the spirit and power of Eliyahu to turn the hearts of fathers to their children<sup>a</sup> and the disobedient to the wisdom of the righteous, to make ready for ADONAI a people prepared."

<sup>18</sup> Z'kharyah said to the angel, "How can I be sure of this? For I am an old man; my wife too is well on in years." <sup>19</sup> "I am Gavri'el," the angel answered him, "and I stand in the presence of God. I was sent to speak to you, to give you this good news. <sup>20</sup> Now, because you didn't believe what I said, which will be fulfilled when the time comes, you will be silent, unable to speak until the day these things take place."

<sup>21</sup> Meanwhile, the people were waiting for Z'kharyah; they were surprised at his taking so long in the Temple. <sup>22</sup> But when he came out unable to talk to them, they realized that he had seen a vision in the Temple; speechless, he communicated to them with signs.

<sup>23</sup> When the period of his Temple service was over, he returned home. <sup>24</sup> Following this, Elisheva his wife conceived, and she remained five months in seclusion, saying, <sup>25</sup> "ADONAI has done this for me; he has shown me favor at this time, so as to remove my public disgrace."

<sup>26</sup> In the sixth month, the angel Gavri'el was sent by God to a city in the Galil called Natzeret, <sup>27</sup> to a virgin engaged to a man named Yosef, of the house of David; the virgin's name was Miryam. <sup>28</sup> Approaching her, the angel said, "Shalom, favored lady! ADONAI is with you!" <sup>29</sup> She was deeply troubled by his words and wondered what kind of greeting this might be. <sup>30</sup> The angel said to her, "Don't be afraid, Miryam, for you have found favor with God. <sup>31</sup> Look! You will become pregnant, you will give birth to a son, and you are to name him Yeshua. <sup>32</sup> He will be great, he will be called Son of Ha'Elyon. ADONAI, God, will give him the throne of his forefather David; <sup>33</sup> and he will rule the House of Ya'akov forever — there will be no end to his Kingdom." <sup>34</sup> "How can this be," asked Miryam of the angel, "since I am a virgin?" <sup>35</sup> The angel answered her,

"The Ruach HaKodesh will come over you,

the power of Ha'Elyon will cover you.

Therefore the holy child born to you will be called the Son of God.

<sup>36</sup> "You have a relative, Elisheva, who is an old woman; and everyone says she is barren. But she has conceived a son and is six months pregnant! <sup>37</sup> For with God, nothing is impossible." <sup>38</sup> Miryam said, "I am the servant of ADONAI ; may it happen to me as you have said." Then the angel left her.

"How blessed are you among women!

And how blessed is the child in your womb!

<sup>43</sup> "But who am I, that the mother of my Lord should come to me? <sup>44</sup> For as soon as the sound of your greeting reached my ears, the baby in my womb leaped for joy! <sup>45</sup> Indeed you are blessed, because you have trusted that the promise ADONAI has made to you will be fulfilled."

<sup>46</sup> Then Miryam said,

"My soul magnifies ADONAI;

<sup>47</sup>           and my spirit rejoices in God, my Savior, <sup>48</sup>           who has taken notice of his servant-girl in her humble position.<sup>b</sup>

For—imagine it! — from now on, all generations will call me blessed!

Indeed, his name is holy; <sup>50</sup> and in every generation

          he has mercy on those who fear him. <sup>c</sup>

<sup>51</sup>           "He has performed mighty deeds with his arm, routed the secretly proud, <sup>52</sup>           brought down rulers from their thrones,
          raised up the humble, <sup>53</sup>           filled the hungry with good things,
          but sent the rich away empty.

mindful of the mercy
<sup>55</sup> which he promised to our fathers, to Avraham and his seed forever.”

<sup>59</sup> On the eighth day, they came to do the child’s b’rit-milah. They were about to name him Z’kharyah, after his father, <sup>60</sup> when his mother spoke up and said, “No, he is to be called Yochanan.” <sup>61</sup> They said to her, “None of your relatives has that name,” <sup>62</sup> and they made signs to his father to find out what he wanted him called. <sup>63</sup> He motioned for a writing tablet, and to everyone’s surprise he wrote, “His name is Yochanan.” <sup>64</sup> At that moment, his power of speech returned, and his first words were a b’rakhah to God. <sup>65</sup> All their neighbors were awestruck; and throughout the hill country of Y’hudah, people talked about all these things. <sup>66</sup> Everyone who heard of them said to himself, “What is this child going to be?” For clearly the hand of ADONAI was with him.

because he has visited and made a ransom to liberate his people <sup>69</sup> by raising up for us a mighty Deliverer who is a descendant of his servant David.
<sup>70</sup> It is just as he has spoken through the mouth of the prophets from the very beginning — <sup>71</sup> that we should be delivered from our enemies and from the power of all who hate us.

<sup>72</sup> “This has happened so that he might show
the mercy promised to our fathers —

that he would remember his holy covenant,

73           the oath he swore before Avraham avinu
74       to grant us that we, freed from our enemies,
          would serve him without fear, 75       in holiness and righteousness
          before him all our days.

76       You, child, will be called a prophet of Ha'Elyon;
          you will go before the Lord to prepare his way<sup>e</sup> 77       by spreading the knowledge among his people that deliverance comes by having sins forgiven 78       through our God's most tender mercy, which causes the Sunrise to visit us from Heaven, 79       to shine on those in darkness, living in the shadow of death,<sup>f</sup>
          and to guide our feet into the paths of peace."

80 The child grew and became strong in spirit, and he lived in the wilderness until the time came for him to appear in public to Isra'el.

2 <sup>1</sup> Around this time, Emperor Augustus issued an order for a census to be taken throughout the Empire. <sup>2</sup> This registration, the first of its kind, took place when Quirinius was governing in Syria. <sup>3</sup> Everyone went to be registered, each to his own town. <sup>4</sup> So Yosef, because he was a descendant of David, went up from the town of Natzeret in the Galil to the town of David, called Beit-Lechem, in Y'udah, <sup>5</sup> to be registered, with Miryam, to whom he was engaged, and who was pregnant. <sup>6</sup> While they were there, the time came for her to give birth; <sup>7</sup> and she gave birth to her first child, a son. She wrapped him in cloth and laid him down in a feeding trough, because there was no space for them in the living-quarters.

<sup>8</sup> In the countryside nearby were some shepherds spending the night in the fields, guarding their flocks, <sup>9</sup> when an angel of ADONAI appeared to them, and the Sh'khinah of ADONAI shone around them. They were terrified; <sup>10</sup> but the angel said to them, "Don't be afraid, because I am here announcing to you Good News that will bring great joy to all the people. <sup>11</sup> This very day, in the town of David, there was born for you a Deliverer who is the Messiah, the Lord. <sup>12</sup> Here is how you will know: you will find a baby wrapped in cloth and lying in a feeding trough.” <sup>13</sup> Suddenly, along with the angel was a vast army from heaven praising God:

And on earth, peace among people of good will!”

<sup>15</sup> No sooner had the angels left them and gone back into heaven than the shepherds said to one another, “Let’s go over to Beit-Lechem and see this thing that has happened, that ADONAI has told us about.” <sup>16</sup> Hurrying off, they came and found Miryam and Yosef, and the baby lying in the feeding trough. <sup>17</sup> Upon seeing this, they made known what they had been told about this child; <sup>18</sup> and all who heard were amazed by what the shepherds said to them. <sup>19</sup> Miryam treasured all these things and kept mulling them over in her heart. <sup>20</sup> Meanwhile, the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for everything they had heard and seen; it had been just as they had been told.

<sup>21</sup> On the eighth day, when it was time for his b’rit-milah, he was given the name Yeshua, which is what the angel had called him before his conception.

<sup>22</sup> When the time came for their purification according to the Torah of Moshe, they took him up to Yerushalayim to present him to ADONAI <sup>23</sup> (as it is written in the Torah of ADONAI, “Every firstborn male is to be consecrated to *ADONAI”<sup>g</sup>) <sup>24</sup> and also to offer a sacrifice of a pair of doves or two young pigeons,<sup>h</sup> as required by the Torah of ADONAI.

<sup>25</sup> There was in Yerushalayim a man named Shim’on. This man was a tzaddik, he was devout, he waited eagerly for God to comfort Isra’el, and the Ruach HaKodesh was upon him. <sup>26</sup> It had been revealed to him by the Ruach HaKodesh that he would not die before he had seen the Messiah of ADONAI. <sup>27</sup> Prompted by the Spirit, he went into the Temple courts; and when the parents brought in the child Yeshua to do for him what the Torah required, <sup>28</sup> Shim’on took him in his arms, made a b’rakhah to God, and said,

“Now, ADONAI, according to your word,
your servant is at peace as you let him go;
<sup>30</sup> for I have seen with my own eyes your yesu‘ah,
<sup>31</sup> which you prepared in the presence of all peoples —
<sup>32</sup> a light that will bring revelation to the Goyim
and glory to your people Isra’el.”

<sup>33</sup> Yeshua’s father and mother were marvelling at the things Shim‘on was saying about him. <sup>34</sup> Shim‘on blessed them and said to the child’s mother, Miryam,

“This child will cause many in Isra’el to fall and to rise,
he will become a sign whom people will speak against;
<sup>35</sup> moreover, a sword will pierce your own heart too.
All this will happen in order to reveal many people’s inmost thoughts.”

<sup>36</sup> There was also a prophet named Hannah Bat-P’nu’el, of the tribe of Asher. She was a very old woman—she had lived with her husband seven years after her marriage <sup>37</sup> and had remained a widow ever since; now she was eighty-four. She never left the Temple grounds but worshipped there night and day, fasting and praying. <sup>38</sup> She came by at that moment and began thanking God and speaking about the child to everyone who was waiting for Yerushalayim to be liberated.

<sup>39</sup> When Yosef and Miryam had finished doing everything required by the Torah of ADONAI, they returned to the Galil, to their town Natzeret.

<sup>40</sup> The child grew and became strong and filled with wisdom — God’s favor was upon him.

<sup>41</sup> Every year Yeshua’s parents went to Yerushalayim for the festival of Pesach. <sup>42</sup> When he was twelve years old, they went up for the festival, as custom required. <sup>43</sup> But after the festival was over, when his parents returned, Yeshua remained in Yerushalayim. They didn’t realize this; <sup>44</sup> supposing that he was somewhere in the caravan, they spent a whole day on the road before they began searching for him among their relatives and friends. <sup>45</sup> Failing to find him, they returned to Yerushalayim to look for him. <sup>46</sup> On the third day they found him — he was sitting in the Temple court among the rabbis, not only listening to them but questioning what they said; <sup>47</sup>and everyone who heard him was astonished at his insight and his responses. <sup>48</sup>When his parents saw him, they were shocked; and his mother said to him, “Son! Why have you done this to us? Your father and I have been terribly worried looking for you!” <sup>49</sup> He said to them, “Why did you have to look for me? Didn’t you know that I had to be concerning myself with my Father’s affairs?” <sup>50</sup> But they didn’t understand what he meant.

<sup>51</sup> So he went with them to Natzeret and was obedient to them. But his mother stored up all these things in her heart.

<sup>52</sup> And Yeshua grew both in wisdom and in stature, gaining favor both with other people and with God.

3 <sup>1</sup> In the fifteenth year of Emperor Tiberius’ rule; when Pontius Pilate was governor of Y’hudah, Herod ruler of the Galil, his brother Philip ruler of Iturea and Trachonitis, and Lysanias ruler of Abilene, <sup>2</sup> with ‘Anan and Kayafa being the cohanim g’dolim; the word of God came to Yochanan Ben-Z’kharyah in the desert. <sup>3</sup> He went all through the Yarden region proclaiming an immersion involving turning to God from sin in order to be forgiven. <sup>4</sup> It was just as had been written in the book of the sayings of the prophet Yesha‘yahu,

‘In the desert prepare the way for ADONAI!

Make straight paths for him!

<sup>5</sup> Every valley must be filled in,

every mountain and hill leveled off;

the winding roads must be straightened

and the rough ways made smooth.

Then all humanity will see God's deliverance.'”<sup>6</sup>

<sup>7</sup> Therefore, Yochanan said to the crowds who came out to be immersed by him, “You snakes! Who warned you to escape the coming punishment? <sup>8</sup> If you have really turned from your sins, produce fruit that will prove it! And don't start saying to yourselves, ‘Avraham is our father’! For I tell you that God can raise up for Avraham sons from these stones! <sup>9</sup> Already the axe is at the root of the trees, ready to strike; every tree that doesn't produce good fruit will be chopped down and thrown in the fire!”

<sup>10</sup> The crowds asked Yochanan, “So then, what should we do?” <sup>11</sup> He answered, “Whoever has two coats should share with somebody who has none, and whoever has food should do the same.” <sup>12</sup> Tax-collectors also came to be immersed; and they asked him, “Rabbi, what should we do?” <sup>13</sup> “Collect no more than the government assesses,” he told them. <sup>14</sup> Some soldiers asked him, “What about us? What should we do?” To them he said, “Don't intimidate anyone, don't accuse people falsely, and be satisfied with your pay.”

<sup>15</sup> The people were in a state of great expectancy, and everyone was wondering whether perhaps Yochanan himself might be the Messiah; <sup>16</sup> so Yochanan answered them all, “I am immersing you in water, but he who is coming is more powerful than I — I'm not worthy to untie his sandals! He will immerse you in the Ruach HaKodesh and in fire. <sup>17</sup> He has with him his winnowing fork to clear out his threshing floor and gather his wheat into his barn, but he will burn up the straw with unquenchable fire!”

<sup>19</sup> But Yochanan also denounced Herod the regional governor for taking as his own wife Herodias, the wife of his brother, and for all the other wicked things Herod had done; <sup>20</sup> whereupon Herod added this to the rest: he locked up Yochanan in prison.

<sup>21</sup> While all the people were being immersed, Yeshua too was immersed. As he was praying, heaven was opened; <sup>22</sup> the Ruach HaKodesh came down on him in physical form like a dove; and a voice came from heaven, “You are my Son, whom I love; I am well pleased with you.”

<sup>23</sup> Yeshua was about thirty years old when he began his public ministry. It was supposed that he was a son of Yosef who was of Eli,

<sup>28</sup> of Malki, of Addi, of Kosam, of Elmadan, of Er,
<sup>35</sup> of S'rug, of Re'u, of Peleg, of 'Ever, of Shelah,

<sup>5</sup> The Adversary took him up, showed him in an instant all the kingdoms of the world, <sup>6</sup> and said to him, "I will give you all this power and glory. It has been handed over to me, and I can give it to whomever I choose. <sup>7</sup> So if you will worship me, it will all be yours." <sup>8</sup> Yeshua answered him, "The Tanakh says, 'Worship ADONAI your God and serve him only.'"<sup>k</sup>

<sup>9</sup> Then he took him to Yerushalayim, set him on the highest point of the Temple and said to him, "If you are the Son of God, jump from here! <sup>10</sup> For the Tanakh says,

'He will order his angels

to be responsible for you and to protect you.

<sup>11</sup>

They will support you with their hands,

so that you will not hurt your feet on the stones.’”<sup>1</sup>

<sup>12</sup> Yeshua answered him, “It also says, ‘Do not put ADONAI your God to the test.’”<sup>m</sup> <sup>13</sup> When the Adversary had ended all his testings, he let him alone until an opportune time.

<sup>14</sup> Yeshua returned to the Galil in the power of the Spirit, and reports about him spread throughout the countryside. <sup>15</sup> He taught in their synagogues, and everyone respected him.

<sup>16</sup> Now when he went to Natzeret, where he had been brought up, on Shabbat he went to the synagogue as usual. He stood up to read, <sup>17</sup> and he was given the scroll of the prophet Yesha‘yahu. Unrolling the scroll, he found the place where it was written,

because he has anointed me

to announce Good News to the poor;

he has sent me to proclaim freedom for the imprisoned

and renewed sight for the blind,

to release those who have been crushed,

<sup>20</sup> After closing the scroll and returning it to the shammash, he sat down; and the eyes of everyone in the synagogue were fixed on him. <sup>21</sup> He started to speak to them: “Today, as you heard it read, this passage of the Tanakh was fulfilled!” <sup>22</sup> Everyone was speaking well of him and marvelling that such appealing words were coming from his mouth. They were even asking, “Can this be Yosef’s son?”

<sup>23</sup> Then Yeshua said to them, “No doubt you will quote to me this proverb — “‘Doctor, cure yourself!’ We’ve heard about all the things that have been going on over in K’far-Nachum; now do them here in your home town!’” <sup>24</sup> Yes!” he said, “I tell you that no prophet is accepted in his home town.<sup>25</sup> It's true, I'm telling you — when Eliyahu was in Isra'el, and the sky was sealed off for three-and-a-half years, so that all the Land suffered a severe famine, there were many widows;<sup>26</sup> but Eliyahu was sent to none of them, only to a widow in Tzarfat in the land of Tzidon.<sup>27</sup> Also there were many people with tzara'at in Isra'el during the time of the prophet Elisha; but not one of them was healed, only Na'aman the Syrian."

<sup>28</sup> On hearing this, everyone in the synagogue was filled with fury.<sup>29</sup> They rose up, drove him out of town and dragged him to the edge of the cliff on which their town was built, intending to throw him off.<sup>30</sup> But he walked right through the middle of the crowd and went away.

<sup>31</sup> He went down to K'far-Nachum, a town in the Galil, and made a practice of teaching them on Shabbat.<sup>32</sup> They were amazed at the way he taught, because his word carried the ring of authority.

<sup>33</sup> In the synagogue there was a man who had an unclean demonic spirit, who shouted in a loud voice,<sup>34</sup> "Yaah! What do you want with us, Yeshua from Natzeret? Have you come to destroy us? I know who you are — the Holy One of God!"<sup>35</sup> But Yeshua rebuked it: "Be quiet, and come out of him!" The demonic spirit threw the man down in the middle of the crowd and came out of him, having done him no harm.<sup>36</sup> They were all astounded and said to one another, "What kind of teaching is this? Why, he gives orders with power and authority to the unclean spirits, and they come out!"

<sup>38</sup> Leaving the synagogue, he went to Shim'on's house. Shim'on's mother-in-law was suffering from a high fever, and they asked him to do something for her.<sup>39</sup> So, standing over her, he rebuked the fever; and it left her. She immediately got up and began helping them.

<sup>40</sup> After sunset, all those who had people sick with various diseases brought them to Yeshua, and he put his hands on each one of them and healed them;<sup>41</sup> also demons came out of many, crying, "You are the Son of God!" But, rebuking them, he did not permit them to say that they knew he was the Messiah.

<sup>42</sup> When day had come, he left and went away to a lonely spot. The people looked for him, came to him and would have kept him from leaving them.<sup>43</sup> But he said to them, "I must announce the Good News of the Kingdom of God to the other towns too — this is why I was sent."<sup>44</sup> He also spent time preaching in the synagogues of Y'hudah.

5 <sup>1</sup> One day, as Yeshua was standing on the shore of Lake Kinneret, with the people pressing in around him in order to hear the word of God, <sup>2</sup> he noticed two boats pulled up on the beach, left there by the fishermen, who were cleaning their nets. <sup>3</sup> He got into one of the boats, the one belonging to Shim'on, and asked him to put out a little way from shore. Then he sat down and taught the people from the boat.

<sup>4</sup> When he had finished speaking, he said to Shim'on, "Put out into deep water, and let down your nets for a catch." <sup>5</sup> Shim'on answered, "We've worked hard all night long, Rabbi, and haven't caught a thing! But if you say so, I'll let down the nets." <sup>6</sup> They did this and took in so many fish that their nets began to tear. <sup>7</sup> So they motioned to their partners in the other boat to come and help them; and they came and filled both boats to the point of sinking. <sup>8</sup> When he saw this, Shim'on Kefa fell at Yeshua's knees and said, "Get away from me, sir, because I'm a sinner!" <sup>9</sup> For astonishment had seized him and everyone with him at the catch of fish they had taken, <sup>10</sup> and likewise both Ya'akov and Yochanan, Shim'on's partners. "Don't be frightened," Yeshua said to Shim'on, "from now on you will be catching men — alive!" <sup>11</sup> And as soon as they had beached their boats, they left everything behind and followed him.

<sup>12</sup> Once, when Yeshua was in one of the towns, there came a man completely covered with tzara'at. On seeing Yeshua, he fell on his face and begged him, "Sir, if you are willing, you can make me clean." <sup>13</sup> Yeshua reached out his hand and touched him, saying, "I am willing! Be cleansed!" Immediately the tzara'at left him. <sup>14</sup> Then Yeshua warned him not to tell anyone. "Instead, as a testimony to the people, go straight to the cohen and make an offering for your cleansing, as Moshe commanded." <sup>15</sup> But the news about Yeshua kept spreading all the more, so that huge crowds would gather to listen and be healed of their sicknesses. <sup>16</sup> However, he made a practice of withdrawing to remote places in order to pray.

<sup>17</sup> One day when Yeshua was teaching, there were P'rushim and Torah-teachers present who had come from various villages in the Galil and Y'hudah, also from Yerushalayim; and the power of ADONAI was with him to heal the sick. <sup>18</sup> Some men came carrying a paralyzed man lying on a bed. They wanted to bring him inside and lay him in front of Yeshua, <sup>19</sup> but they couldn't find a way to get him in because of the crowd. So they went up onto the roof and lowered him on his mattress through the tiles into the middle of the gathering, right in front of Yeshua. <sup>20</sup> When Yeshua saw their trust, he said, “Friend, your sins are forgiven you.” <sup>21</sup> The Torah-teachers and the P’rushim began thinking, “Who is this fellow that speaks such blasphemies? Who can forgive sin except God?” <sup>22</sup> But Yeshua, knowing what they were thinking, answered, “Why are you turning over such thoughts in your hearts? <sup>23</sup> Which is easier to say? ‘Your sins are forgiven you’? or ‘Get up and walk’? <sup>24</sup> But look! I will prove to you that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins.” He then said to the paralytic, “I say to you: get up, pick up your mattress and go home!” <sup>25</sup> Immediately, in front of everyone, he stood up, picked up what he had been lying on, and went home praising God. <sup>26</sup> Amazement seized them all, and they made a b’rakhah to God; they were awestruck, saying, “We have seen extraordinary things today.”

6 <sup>1</sup> One Shabbat, while Yeshua was passing through some wheat fields, his talmidim began plucking the heads of grain, rubbing them between their hands and eating the seeds. <sup>2</sup> Some of the P'rushim said, "Why are you violating Shabbat?" <sup>3</sup> Yeshua answered them, "Haven't you ever read what David did when he and his companions were hungry? <sup>4</sup> He entered the House of God and took and ate the Bread of the Presence" — which no one is permitted to eat but the cohanim. <sup>5</sup> "The Son of Man," he concluded, "is Lord of Shabbat."

<sup>6</sup> On another Shabbat, when Yeshua had gone into the synagogue and was teaching, a man was there who had a shriveled hand. <sup>7</sup> The Torah-teachers and P'rushim watched Yeshua carefully to see if he would heal on Shabbat, so that they could accuse him of something. <sup>8</sup> But he knew what they were thinking and said to the man with the shriveled hand, "Come up and stand where we can see you!" He got up and stood there. <sup>9</sup> Then Yeshua said to them, "I ask you now: what is permitted on Shabbat? Doing good or doing evil? Saving life or destroying it?" <sup>10</sup> Then, after looking around at all of them, he said to the man, "Hold out your hand." As he held it out, his hand was restored. <sup>11</sup> But the others were filled with fury and began discussing with each other what they could do to Yeshua.

<sup>12</sup> It was around that time that Yeshua went out to the hill country to pray, and all night he continued in prayer to God. <sup>13</sup> When day came, he called his talmidim and chose from among them twelve to be known as emissaries:

<sup>17</sup> Then he came down with them and stood on a level place. A large crowd of his talmidim was there with great numbers of people from all Y'udah, Yerushalayim and the coast around Tzor and Tzidon; they had come to hear him and be healed of their diseases. <sup>18</sup> Those who were troubled with unclean spirits were being healed; <sup>19</sup> and the whole crowd was trying to touch him, because power kept going out from him, healing everyone. <sup>20</sup> He looked at his talmidim and said:

“How blessed are you poor!

for the Kingdom of God is yours.

<sup>21</sup> “How blessed are you who are hungry!
for you will be filled.

“How blessed are you who are crying now!

for you will laugh.

<sup>22</sup> “How blessed you are whenever people hate you and ostracize you and insult you and denounce you as a criminal on account of the Son of Man. <sup>23</sup> Be glad when that happens; yes, dance for joy! because in heaven your reward is great. For that is just how their fathers treated the prophets.

<sup>24</sup> “But woe to you who are rich, for you have already had all the comfort you will get!

<sup>25</sup> “Woe to you who are full now,
for you will go hungry!

“Woe to you who are laughing now,
for you will mourn and cry!

<sup>26</sup> “Woe to you when people speak well of you, for that is just how their fathers treated the false prophets!

<sup>27</sup> Nevertheless, to you who are listening, what I say is this:

“Love your enemies!

<sup>28</sup> Do good to those who hate you,
bless those who curse you,
pray for those who mistreat you.

29

“If someone hits you on one cheek,
offer the other too;

if someone takes your coat,

let him have your shirt as well.

30

“If someone asks you for something,
give it to him;

if someone takes what belongs to you,

don’t demand it back.

<sup>31</sup> “Treat other people as you would like them to treat you. <sup>32</sup> What credit is it to you if you love only those who love you? Why, even sinners love those who love them. <sup>33</sup> What credit is it to you if you do good only to those who do good to you? Even sinners do that. <sup>34</sup> What credit is it to you if you lend only to those who you expect will pay you back? Even sinners lend to each other, expecting to be repaid in full. <sup>35</sup> But love your enemies, do good, and lend expecting nothing back! Your reward will be great, and you will be children of Ha'Elyon; for he is kind to the ungrateful and the wicked. <sup>36</sup> Show compassion, just as your Father shows compassion.

“Don’t judge,
and you won’t be judged.

Don’t condemn,

and you won’t be condemned.

“Forgive,

and you will be forgiven.

38

Give,
and you will receive gifts —

the full measure, compacted, shaken together and overflowing, will be put right in your lap. For the measure with which you measure out will be used to measure back to you!”

<sup>39</sup> He also told them a parable: “Can one blind man lead another blind man? Won’t they both fall into a pit? <sup>40</sup> A talmid is not above his rabbi; but each one, when he is fully trained, will be like his rabbi. <sup>41</sup> So why do you see the splinter in your brother’s eye, but not notice the log in your own eye? <sup>42</sup> How can you say to your brother, ‘Brother, let me remove the splinter from your eye,’ when you yourself don’t see the log in your own eye? You hypocrite! First take the log out of your own eye; then you will see clearly, so that you can remove the splinter from your brother’s eye!

7this is why I didn't presume to approach you myself. Instead, just give a command and let my servant recover. <sup>8</sup> For I too am a man set under authority. I have soldiers under me; and I say to this one, 'Go!' and he goes; and to another, 'Come!' and he comes; and to my slave, 'Do this!' and he does it." <sup>9</sup> Yeshua was astonished at him when he heard this; and he turned and said to the crowd following him, "I tell you, not even in Isra'el have I found such trust!" <sup>10</sup> When the messengers got back to the officer's house, they found the servant in good health.

<sup>11</sup> The next day Yeshua, accompanied by his talmidim and a large crowd, went to a town called Na'im. <sup>12</sup> As he approached the town gate, a dead man was being carried out for burial. His mother was a widow, this had been her only son, and a sizeable crowd from the town was with her. <sup>13</sup> When the Lord saw her, he felt compassion for her and said to her, "Don't cry." <sup>14</sup> Then he came close and touched the coffin, and the pallbearers halted. He said, "Young man, I say to you: get up!" <sup>15</sup> The dead man sat up and began to speak, and Yeshua gave him to his mother.<sup>g</sup> <sup>16</sup> They were all filled with awe and gave glory to God, saying, "A great prophet has appeared among us," and, "God has come to help his people." <sup>17</sup> This report about him spread throughout all Y'hudah and the surrounding countryside.

<sup>18</sup> Yochanan's talmidim informed him of all these things. Then Yochanan called two of his talmidim <sup>19</sup> and sent them to the Lord to ask, "Are you the one who is to come? Or should we look for someone else?" <sup>20</sup> When the men came to him, they said, "Yochanan the Immerser has sent us to you to ask, 'Are you the one who is to come? Or should we keep looking — for someone else?'" <sup>21</sup> Right then he was healing many people of diseases, pains and evil spirits, and giving sight to many who were blind. <sup>22</sup> So he answered them by saying, "Go, tell Yochanan what you have been seeing and hearing: the blind are seeing again, the lame are walking, people with tzara'at are being cleansed, the deaf are hearing, the dead are being raised, the Good News is being told to the poor<sup>g</sup> — <sup>23</sup> and how blessed is anyone not offended by me!"

<sup>24</sup> When the messengers from Yochanan had gone, Yeshua began speaking to the crowds about Yochanan: "What did you go out into the desert to see? Reeds swaying in the breeze? <sup>25</sup> No? Then what did you go out to see? Someone who was well dressed? But people who dress beautifully and live in luxury are found in kings' palaces. <sup>26</sup> Nu, so what did you go out to see? A prophet! Yes, and I tell you he's much more than a prophet. <sup>27</sup> This is the one about whom the Tanakh says,

‘See, I am sending out my messenger ahead of you;

he will prepare your way before you.’<sup>g</sup>

<sup>28</sup> I tell you that among those born of women there has not arisen anyone greater than Yochanan the Immerser! Yet the one who is least in the Kingdom of Heaven is greater than he!”

<sup>29</sup> All the people who heard him, even the tax-collectors, by undergoing Yochanan's immersion acknowledged that God was right; <sup>30</sup> but the P'rushim and the Torah-teachers, by not letting themselves be immersed by him, nullified for themselves God's plan.

<sup>31</sup> “Therefore,” said the Lord, “how can I describe the people of this generation? What are they like? <sup>32</sup> They are like children sitting in the marketplaces, calling to one another,

‘We made happy music, but you wouldn't dance!

We made sad music, but you wouldn't cry!’

<sup>33</sup> For Yochanan has come not eating bread and not drinking wine; and you say, ‘He has a demon!’ <sup>34</sup> The Son of Man has come eating and drinking; and you say, ‘Aha! A glutton and a drunkard! A friend of tax-collectors and sinners!’ <sup>35</sup> Well, the proof of wisdom is in all the kinds of people it produces.”

<sup>39</sup> When the Parush who had invited him saw what was going on, he said to himself, “If this man were really a prophet, he would have known who is touching him and what sort of woman she is, that she is a sinner.” <sup>40</sup>

Yeshua answered, “Shim‘on, I have something to say to you.” “Say it, Rabbi,” he replied. <sup>41</sup> “A certain creditor had two debtors; the one owed ten times as much as the other. <sup>42</sup> When they were unable to pay him back, he canceled both their debts. Now which of them will love him more?” <sup>43</sup> Shim‘on answered, “I suppose the one for whom he canceled the larger debt.” “Your judgment is right,” Yeshua said to him.

<sup>44</sup> Then, turning to the woman, he said to Shim‘on, “Do you see this woman? I came into your house — you didn’t give me water for my feet, but this woman has washed my feet with her tears and dried them with her hair! <sup>45</sup> You didn’t give me a kiss; but from the time I arrived, this woman has not stopped kissing my feet! <sup>46</sup> You didn’t put oil on my head, but this woman poured perfume on my feet! <sup>47</sup> Because of this, I tell you that her sins — which are many! — have been forgiven, because she loved much. But someone who has been forgiven only a little loves only a little.” <sup>48</sup> Then he said to her, “Your sins have been forgiven.” <sup>49</sup> At this, those eating with him began saying among themselves, “Who is this fellow that presumes to forgive sins?” <sup>50</sup> But he said to the woman, “Your trust has saved you; go in peace.”

8 <sup>1</sup> After this, Yeshua traveled about from town to town and village to village, proclaiming the Good News of the Kingdom of God. With him were the Twelve, <sup>2</sup> and a number of women who had been healed from evil spirits and illnesses — Miryam (called Magdalit), from whom seven demons had gone out; <sup>3</sup> Yochanah the wife of Herod’s finance minister Kuza; Shoshanah; and many other women who drew on their own wealth to help him.

<sup>9</sup> His talmidim asked him what this parable might mean, <sup>10</sup> and he said, “To you it has been given to know the secrets of the Kingdom of God; but the rest are taught in parables, so that they may look but not see, and listen but not understand.”

<sup>11</sup> “The parable is this: the seed is God’s message. <sup>12</sup> The ones along the path are those who hear, but then the Adversary comes and takes the message out of their hearts, in order to keep them from being saved by trusting it. <sup>13</sup> The ones on rock are those who, when they hear the word, accept it with joy; but these have no root — they go on trusting for awhile; but when a time of testing comes, they apostatize. <sup>14</sup> As for what fell in the midst of thorns these are the ones who hear; but as they go along, worries and wealth and life’s gratifications crowd in and choke them, so that their fruit never matures. <sup>15</sup> But what fell in rich soil—these are the ones who, when they hear the message, hold onto it with a good, receptive heart; and by persevering, they bring forth a harvest.

<sup>16</sup> “No one who has lit a lamp covers it with a bowl or puts it under a bed; no, he puts it on a stand; so that those coming in may see the light. <sup>17</sup> For nothing is hidden that will not be disclosed, nothing is covered up that will not be known and come out into the open. <sup>18</sup> Pay attention, then, to how you hear! For anyone who has something will be given more; but from anyone who has nothing, even what he seems to have will be taken away.”

<sup>19</sup> Then Yeshua’s mother and brothers came to see him, but they couldn’t get near him because of the crowd. <sup>20</sup> It was reported to him, “Your mother and your brothers are standing outside and want to see you.” <sup>21</sup> But he gave them this answer: “My mother and brothers are those who hear God’s message and act on it!”

<sup>22</sup> One day Yeshua got into a boat with his talmidim and said to them, “Let’s cross to the other side of the lake.” <sup>23</sup> So they set out; and as they were sailing, he fell asleep. A windstorm came down on the lake, so that the boat began to fill up with water, putting them in great danger. <sup>24</sup> They went and woke him, saying, “Rabbi! Rabbi! We’re about to die!” He woke up, rebuked the wind and the rough water; and they calmed down, so that it was still. <sup>25</sup> Then he said to the talmidim, “Where is your trust?” Awestruck, they marveled, asking one another, “Who can this be, that he commands even the wind and the water, and they obey him?”

had demons came to meet him. For a long time he had not worn clothes; and he lived, not in a house, but in the burial caves. <sup>28</sup> Catching sight of Yeshua, he screamed, fell down in front of him and yelled, “Yeshua! Son of God Ha‘Elyon! What do you want with me? I beg you, don’t torture me!” <sup>29</sup> For Yeshua had ordered the unclean spirit to come out of the man. It had often taken hold of him — he had been kept under guard, chained hand and foot, but had broken the bonds and been driven by the demon into the desert. <sup>30</sup> Yeshua asked him, “What is your name?” “Legion,” he said, because many demons had entered him. <sup>31</sup> They begged Yeshua not to order them to go off into the Bottomless Pit.

<sup>32</sup> Now there was a herd of many pigs, feeding on the hill; and the demons begged him to let them go into these. So he gave them permission. <sup>33</sup> The demons came out of the man and entered the pigs, whereupon the herd rushed down the hillside into the lake and were drowned.

<sup>34</sup> When the swineherds saw what had happened, they fled and told it in the town and in the country; <sup>35</sup> and the people came out to see for themselves. They came to Yeshua and found the man out of whom the demons had gone, sitting — dressed and in his right mind — at the feet of Yeshua; and they were frightened. <sup>36</sup> Those who had seen it told how the formerly demonized man had been delivered.

<sup>37</sup> Then all the people of the Gerasene district asked him to leave them, for they had been seized with great fear. So he boarded the boat and returned. <sup>38</sup> The man from whom the demons had gone out begged that he might go with him; but Yeshua sent him away, saying, <sup>39</sup> “Go back to your home and tell how much God has done for you.” He went away proclaiming throughout the whole town how much Yeshua had done for him.

<sup>40</sup> When Yeshua got back, the crowd welcomed him; for they were all expecting him. <sup>41</sup> Then there came a man named Ya’ir who was president of the synagogue. Falling at Yeshua’s feet, he pleaded with him to come to his house; <sup>42</sup> for he had an only daughter, about twelve years old; and she was dying.

As he went, with the crowds on every side virtually choking him, <sup>43</sup> a woman who had had a hemorrhage for twelve years, and could not be healed by anyone, <sup>44</sup> came up behind him and touched the tzitzit on his robe; instantly her hemorrhaging stopped. <sup>45</sup> Yeshua asked, “Who touched me?” When they all denied doing it, Kefa said, “Rabbi! The crowds are hemming you in and jostling you!” <sup>46</sup> But Yeshua said, “Someone did touch me, because I felt power go out of me.” <sup>47</sup> Seeing she could not escape notice, the woman, quaking with fear, threw herself down before him and confessed in front of everyone why she had touched him and how she had been instantly healed. <sup>48</sup> He said to her, “My daughter, your trust has saved you; go in peace.”

<sup>49</sup> While Yeshua was still speaking, a man came from the synagogue president’s house. “Your daughter has died,” he said. “Don’t bother the rabbi any more.” <sup>50</sup> But on hearing this, Yeshua answered him, “Don’t be afraid! Just go on trusting, and she will be made well.” <sup>51</sup> When he arrived at the house, he didn’t allow anyone to go in with him except Kefa, Yochanan, Ya’akov and the child’s father and mother <sup>52</sup> All the people were wailing and mourning for her; but he said, “Don’t weep; she hasn’t died, she’s sleeping.” <sup>53</sup> They jeered at him, since they knew she had died. <sup>54</sup> But he took her by the hand, called out, “Little girl, get up!” <sup>55</sup> and her spirit returned. She stood up at once, and he directed that something be given her to eat. <sup>56</sup> Her parents were astounded, but he instructed them to tell no one what had happened.

9 <sup>1</sup> Calling together the Twelve, Yeshua gave them power and authority to expel all the demons and to cure diseases; <sup>2</sup> and he sent them out to proclaim the Kingdom of God and to heal. <sup>3</sup> He said to them, “Take nothing for your trip — neither a walking stick nor a pack, neither bread nor money; and don’t have two shirts. <sup>4</sup> Whatever house you enter, stay there and go out from there. <sup>5</sup> Wherever they don’t welcome you, shake the dust from your feet when you leave that town as a warning to them.” <sup>6</sup> They set out and went through village after village, healing and announcing the Good News everywhere.

<sup>7</sup> Herod the governor heard about all that was going on and was perplexed, because it was said by some that Yochanan had been raised from the dead, <sup>8</sup> by others that Eliyahu had appeared, and by others that one of the prophets of long ago had come back to life. <sup>9</sup> Herod said, “I had Yochanan beheaded, so who is this about whom I keep hearing such things?” And he began trying to see him.

<sup>10</sup> On their return, the emissaries detailed to Yeshua what they had done. Then, taking them with him, he withdrew by himself to a town called Beit-

Tzaidah. <sup>11</sup> But the crowds found out and followed him. Welcoming them, he went on to speak to them about the Kingdom of God and to heal those who needed to be healed.

<sup>12</sup> The day began to draw to a close. The Twelve came to him and said, “Send the crowd away, so that they can go and get lodging and food in the towns and farms around here, because where we are is a remote place.” <sup>13</sup> But he said to them, “Give them something to eat, yourselves!” They said, “We have no more than five loaves of bread and two fish — unless we ourselves are supposed to go and buy food for all these people!” <sup>14</sup> (For there were about five thousand men.) He said to his talmidim, “Make them sit down in groups of about fifty each.” <sup>15</sup> They did what he told them and had them all sit down. <sup>16</sup> Then he took the five loaves and the two fish and, looking up toward heaven, made a b’rakhah, broke the loaves and began giving them to the talmidim to distribute to the crowd. <sup>17</sup> Everyone ate as much as he wanted; and they took up what was left over, twelve baskets full of broken pieces.

<sup>18</sup> Once when Yeshua was praying in private, his talmidim were with him; and he asked them, “Who are the crowds saying I am?” <sup>19</sup> They answered, “Yochanan the Immerser; but others say Eliyahu, and others that some prophet of long ago has risen.” <sup>20</sup> “But you,” he said to them, “who do you say I am?” Kefa answered, “The Mashiach of God!” <sup>21</sup> However, he, warning them, ordered them to tell this to no one, <sup>22</sup> adding, “The Son of Man has to endure much suffering and be rejected by the elders, the head cohanim and the Torah-teachers; and he has to be put to death; but on the third day, he has to be raised to life.”

<sup>28</sup> About a week after Yeshua said these things, he took Kefa, Yochanan and Ya‘akov with him and went up to the hill country to pray. <sup>29</sup> As he was praying, the appearance of his face changed; and his clothing became gleaming white. <sup>30</sup> Suddenly there were two men talking with him—Moshe and Eliyahu! <sup>31</sup> They appeared in glorious splendor and spoke of his exodus, which he was soon to accomplish in Yerushalayim. <sup>32</sup> Kefa and those with him had been sound asleep; but on becoming fully awake, they saw his glory and the two men standing with him. <sup>33</sup> As the men were leaving Yeshua, Kefa said to him, not knowing what he was saying, “It’s good that we’re here, Rabbi! Let’s put up three shelters — one for you, one for Moshe and one for Eliyahu.” <sup>34</sup> As he spoke, a cloud came and enveloped them. They were frightened as they entered the cloud; <sup>35</sup> and a voice came out of the cloud, saying, “This is my Son, whom I have chosen. Listen to him!” <sup>36</sup> When the voice spoke, Yeshua was alone once more. They kept quiet — at that time they told no one anything of what they had seen.

<sup>37</sup> The next day, as they were coming down out of the hill country, a large crowd met him. <sup>38</sup> Suddenly a man in the crowd shouted, “Rabbi! Look at my son, I beg you, because he’s my only child! <sup>39</sup> What happens is this: a spirit seizes him, and suddenly it lets out a shriek and throws him into convulsions with foaming at the mouth; and only with difficulty will it leave him. It's destroying him!" <sup>40</sup> I asked your talmidim to drive the spirit out, but they couldn't." <sup>41</sup> "Perverted people, without any trust!" Yeshua answered, "How long do I have to be with you and put up with you? Bring your son here." <sup>42</sup> Even as the boy was coming, the demon dashed him to the ground and threw him into a fit. But Yeshua rebuked the unclean spirit, healed the boy and gave him back to his father. <sup>43</sup> All were struck with amazement at the greatness of God. While they were all marvelling at everything Yeshua was doing, he said to his talmidim, <sup>44</sup> "Listen very carefully to what I'm going to say. The Son of Man is about to be betrayed into the hands of men." <sup>45</sup> But they didn't understand what he meant by this. It had been concealed from them so that they would not grasp its meaning, and they were afraid to ask him about it.

<sup>51</sup> As the time approached for him to be taken up into heaven, he made his decision to set out for Yerushalayim. <sup>52</sup> He sent messengers ahead of him, who went and entered a village in Shomron to make preparations for him. <sup>53</sup> However, the people there would not let him stay, because his destination was Yerushalayim. <sup>54</sup> When the talmidim Ya'akov and Yochanan saw this, they said, "Sir, do you want us to call down fire from heaven to destroy them?" <sup>55</sup> But he turned and rebuked them. <sup>56</sup> And they went on to another village.

<sup>57</sup> As they were traveling on the road, a man said to him, "I will follow you wherever you go." <sup>58</sup> Yeshua answered him, "The foxes have holes, and the birds flying about have nests, but the Son of Man has no home of his own." <sup>59</sup> To another he said, "Follow me!" but the man replied, "Sir, first let me go away and bury my father." <sup>60</sup> Yeshua said, "Let the dead bury their own dead; you, go and proclaim the Kingdom of God!" <sup>61</sup> Yet another said, "I will follow you, sir, but first let me say good-by to the people at home." <sup>62</sup>

To him Yeshua said, “No one who puts his hand to the plow and keeps looking back is fit to serve in the Kingdom of God.”

10 <sup>1</sup> After this, the Lord appointed seventy other talmidim and sent them on ahead in pairs to every town and place where he himself was about to go. <sup>2</sup> He said to them, “To be sure, there is a large harvest. But there are few workers. Therefore, plead with the Lord of the Harvest that he speed workers out to gather in his harvest. <sup>3</sup> Get going now, but pay attention! I am sending you out like lambs among wolves. <sup>4</sup> Don’t carry a money-belt or a pack, and don’t stop to shmoose with people on the road.

<sup>5</sup> “Whenever you enter a house, first say, ‘Shalom!’ to the household. <sup>6</sup> If a seeker of shalom is there, your ‘Shalom!’ will find its rest with him; and if there isn’t, it will return to you. <sup>7</sup> Stay in that same house, eating and drinking what they offer, for a worker deserves his wages — don’t move about from house to house.

<sup>8</sup> “Whenever you come into a town where they make you welcome, eat what is put in front of you. <sup>9</sup> Heal the sick there, and tell them, ‘The Kingdom of God is near you.’ <sup>10</sup> But whenever you enter a town and they don’t make you welcome, go out into its streets and say, <sup>11</sup> ‘Even the dust of your town that sticks to our feet we wipe off as a sign against you! But understand this: the Kingdom of God is near!’ <sup>12</sup> I tell you, it will be more tolerable on the Day of Judgment for S’dom than for that town.

<sup>13</sup> “Woe to you, Korazin! Woe to you, Beit-Tzaidah! For if the miracles done in you had been done in Tzor and Tzidon, they would long ago have put on sackcloth and ashes as evidence that they had changed their ways. <sup>14</sup> But at the Judgment it will be more bearable for Tzor and Tzidon than for you!

<sup>15</sup> “And you, K’far-Nachum, will you be exalted to heaven? No, you will be brought down to Sh’ol!†

<sup>16</sup> “Whoever listens to you listens to me, also whoever rejects you rejects me, and whoever rejects me rejects the One who sent me.”

<sup>17</sup> The seventy came back jubilant. “Lord,” they said, “with your power, even the demons submit to us!” <sup>18</sup> Yeshua said to them, “I saw Satan fall like lightning from heaven. <sup>19</sup> Remember, I have given you authority; so you can trample down snakes and scorpions, indeed, all the Enemy’s forces; and you will remain completely unharmed. <sup>20</sup> Nevertheless, don’t be glad that the spirits submit to you; be glad that your names have been recorded in heaven.”

<sup>21</sup> At that moment he was filled with joy by the Ruach HaKodesh and said, “Father, Lord of heaven and earth, I thank you because you concealed these things from the sophisticated and educated, yet revealed them to ordinary people. Yes, Father, I thank you that it pleased you to do this.

<sup>22</sup> “My Father has handed over everything to me. Indeed, no one fully knows who the Son is except the Father, and who the Father is except the Son and those to whom the Son wishes to reveal him.” <sup>23</sup> Then, turning to the talmidim, he said, privately, “How blessed are the eyes that see what you are seeing! <sup>24</sup> Indeed, I tell you that many prophets and kings wanted to see the things you are seeing but did not see them, and to hear the things you are hearing but did not hear them.”

<sup>25</sup> An expert in Torah stood up to try and trap him by asking, “Rabbi, what should I do to obtain eternal life?” <sup>26</sup> But Yeshua said to him, “What is written in the Torah? How do you read it?” <sup>27</sup> He answered, “You are to love ADONAI your God with all your heart, with all your soul, with all your strength and with all your understanding; and your neighbor as yourself.” <sup>28</sup> “That’s the right answer,” Yeshua said. “Do this, and you will have life.”

<sup>29</sup> But he, wanting to justify himself, said to Yeshua, “And who is my ‘neighbor’?” <sup>30</sup> Taking up the question, Yeshua said: “A man was going down from Yerushalayim to Yericho when he was attacked by robbers. They stripped him naked and beat him up, then went off, leaving him half dead. <sup>31</sup> By coincidence, a cohen was going down on that road; but when he saw him, he passed by on the other side. <sup>32</sup> Likewise a Levi who reached the place and saw him also passed by on the other side.

<sup>33</sup> “But a man from Shomron who was traveling came upon him; and when he saw him, he was moved with compassion. <sup>34</sup> So he went up to him, put oil and wine on his wounds and bandaged them. Then he set him on his own donkey, brought him to an inn and took care of him. <sup>35</sup> The next day, he took out two days’ wages, gave them to the innkeeper and said, ‘Look after him; and if you spend more than this, I’ll pay you back when I return.’ <sup>36</sup> Of these three, which one seems to you to have become the ‘neighbor’ of the man who fell among robbers?” <sup>37</sup> He answered, “The one who showed mercy toward him.” Yeshua said to him, “You go and do as he did.”

11 <sup>1</sup> One time Yeshua was in a certain place praying. As he finished, one of the talmidim said to him, "Sir, teach us to pray, just as Yochanan taught his talmidim." <sup>2</sup> He said to them, "When you pray, say:

'Father,

May your name be kept holy.

May your Kingdom come.

<sup>3</sup> Give us each day the food we need.

<sup>4</sup> Forgive us our sins, for we too forgive everyone who has wronged us.

And do not lead us to hard testing.'"

<sup>5</sup> He also said to them, "Suppose one of you has a friend; and you go to him in the middle of the night and say to him, 'Friend, lend me three loaves of bread, <sup>6</sup>because a friend of mine who has been travelling has just arrived at my house, and I have nothing for him to eat.' <sup>7</sup> Now the one inside may answer, 'Don't bother me! The door is already shut, my children are with me in bed — I can't get up to give you anything!' <sup>8</sup> But I tell you, even if he won't get up because the man is his friend, yet because of the man's hutzpah he will get up and give him as much as he needs.

<sup>9</sup> "Moreover, I myself say to you: keep asking, and it will be given to you; keep seeking, and you will find; keep knocking, and the door will be opened to you. <sup>10</sup>For everyone who goes on asking receives; and he who goes on seeking finds; and to him who continues knocking, the door will be opened.

<sup>11</sup> “Is there any father here who, if his son asked him for a fish, would instead of a fish give him a snake? <sup>12</sup> or if he asked for an egg would give him a scorpion? <sup>13</sup> So if you, even though you are bad, know how to give your children gifts that are good, how much more will the Father keep giving the Ruach HaKodesh from heaven to those who keep asking him!”

<sup>14</sup> He was expelling a demon that was mute. When the demon had gone out, the man who had been mute spoke; and the people were astounded. <sup>15</sup> But some of them said, “It is by Ba’al-Zibbul” — the ruler of the demons — “that he expels the demons.” <sup>16</sup> And others, trying to trap him, demanded from him a sign from Heaven. <sup>17</sup> But he, knowing what they were thinking, said to them, “Every kingdom divided against itself will be ruined, with one house collapsing on another. <sup>18</sup> So if the Adversary too is divided against himself, how can his kingdom survive? I’m asking because you claim it is by Ba’al-Zibbul that I drive out the demons. <sup>19</sup> If I drive out demons by Ba’al-Zibbul, by whom do your people drive them out? So, they will be your judges! <sup>20</sup> But if I drive out demons by the finger of God,<sup>v</sup> then the Kingdom of God has come upon you!

<sup>21</sup> “When a strong man who is fully equipped for battle guards his own house, his possessions are secure. <sup>22</sup> But when someone stronger attacks and defeats him, he carries off all the armor and weaponry on which the man was depending, and divides up the spoils. <sup>23</sup> Those who are not with me are against me, and those who do not gather with me are scattering.

<sup>27</sup> As Yeshua was saying these things, a woman in the crowd raised her voice to call out, “How blessed is the mother that gave birth to you and nursed you from her breast!” <sup>28</sup> But he said, “Far more blessed are those who hear the word of God and obey it!”

<sup>29</sup> As the people crowded around him, Yeshua went on to say, “This generation is a wicked generation! It asks for a sign, but no sign will be given to it — except the sign of Yonah. <sup>30</sup> For just as Yonah became a sign to the people of Ninveh, so will the Son of Man be for this generation. <sup>31</sup> The Queen of the South will appear at the Judgment with the people of this generation and condemn them; for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Shlomo, and what is here now is greater than Shlomo. <sup>32</sup> The people of Ninveh will stand up at the Judgment with this generation and condemn it, for they turned to God from their sins when Yonah preached, and what is here now is greater than Yonah.

<sup>33</sup> “No one who has kindled a lamp hides it or places it under a bowl; rather, he puts it on a stand, so that those coming in may see its light. <sup>34</sup> The lamp of your body is the eye. When you have a ‘good eye,’ [that is, when you are generous,] your whole body is full of light; but when you have an ‘evil eye,’ [when you are stingy,] your body is full of darkness. <sup>35</sup> So take care that the light in you is not darkness! <sup>36</sup> If, then, your whole body is filled with light, with no part dark, it will be wholly lighted, as when a brightly lit lamp shines on you.”

<sup>37</sup> As Yeshua spoke, a Parush asked him to eat dinner with him; so he went in and took his place at the table; <sup>38</sup> and the Parush was surprised that he didn’t begin by doing n’tilat yadayim before the meal. <sup>39</sup> However, the Lord said to him, “Now then, you P’rushim, you clean the outside of the cup and plate; but inside, you are full of robbery and wickedness. <sup>40</sup> Fools! Didn’t the One who made the outside make the inside too? <sup>41</sup> Rather, give as alms what is inside, and then everything will be clean for you!”

<sup>42</sup> “But woe to you P’rushim! You pay your tithes of mint and rue and every garden herb, but you ignore justice and the love of God. You have an obligation to do these things — but without disregarding the others!”

<sup>43</sup> “Woe to you P’rushim, because you love the best seat in the synagogues and being greeted deferentially in the marketplaces!”

<sup>45</sup> One of the experts in Torah answered him, “Rabbi, by saying these things you are insulting us also.” <sup>46</sup> Yeshua said, “Woe to you Torah experts too! You load people down with burdens they can hardly bear, and you won’t lift a finger to help them!”

<sup>47</sup> “Woe to you! You build tombs in memory of the prophets, but your fathers murdered them! <sup>48</sup> Thus you testify that you completely approve of what your fathers did — they did the killing, you do the building! <sup>49</sup>

Therefore the Wisdom of God said, ‘I will send them prophets and emissaries; they will kill some and persecute others’; <sup>50</sup> so that on this generation will fall the responsibility for all the prophets’ blood that has been shed since the world was established, <sup>51</sup> from the blood of Hevel to the blood of Z’kharyah, who was killed between the altar and the Holy Place. Yes, I tell you, the responsibility for it will fall on this generation!

<sup>52</sup> “Woe to you Torah experts! For you have taken away the key of knowledge! Not only did you yourselves not go in, you also have stopped those who were trying to enter!”

<sup>53</sup> As Yeshua left that place, the Torah-teachers and the P’rushim began to oppose him bitterly and to provoke him to express his views on all sorts of subjects, <sup>54</sup>laying traps to catch him in something he might say.

12 <sup>1</sup> Meanwhile, as a crowd in the tens of thousands gathered so closely as to trample each other down, Yeshua began to say to his talmidim first, “Guard yourselves from the hametz of the P’rushim, by which I mean their hypocrisy. <sup>2</sup> There is nothing covered up that will not be uncovered, or hidden that will not become known. <sup>3</sup> What you have spoken in the dark will be heard in the light, and what you have whispered behind closed doors will be proclaimed on the housetops.

<sup>4</sup> “My friends, I tell you: don’t fear those who kill the body but then have nothing more they can do. <sup>5</sup> I will show you whom to fear: fear him who after killing you has authority to throw you into Gei-Hinnom! Yes, I tell you, this is the one to fear! <sup>6</sup> Aren’t sparrows sold for next to nothing, five for two assarions? And not one of them has been forgotten by God. <sup>7</sup> Why, every hair on your head has been counted! Don’t be afraid, you are worth more than many sparrows.

<sup>8</sup> “Moreover, I tell you, whoever acknowledges me in the presence of others, the Son of Man will also acknowledge in the presence of God’s angels. <sup>9</sup> But whoever disowns me before others will be disowned before God’s angels. <sup>10</sup> Also, everyone who says something against the Son of Man will have it forgiven him; but whoever has blasphemed the Ruach HaKodesh will not be forgiven.

<sup>11</sup> “When they bring you before the synagogues and the ruling powers and the authorities, don’t worry about how you will defend yourself or what you will say; <sup>12</sup>because when the time comes, the Ruach HaKodesh will teach you what you need to say.”

<sup>13</sup> Someone in the crowd said to him, “Rabbi, tell my brother to share with me the property we inherited.” <sup>14</sup> But Yeshua answered him, “My friend, who appointed me judge or arbitrator over you?” <sup>15</sup> Then to the people he said, “Be careful to guard against all forms of greed, because even if someone is rich, his life does not consist in what he owns.” <sup>16</sup> And he gave them this illustration: “There was a man whose land was very productive. <sup>17</sup> He debated with himself, ‘What should I do? I haven’t enough room for all my crops.’ <sup>18</sup> Then he said, ‘This is what I will do: I’ll tear down my barns and build bigger ones, and I’ll store all my wheat and other goods there. <sup>19</sup> Then I’ll say to myself, “You’re a lucky man! You have a big supply of goods laid up that will last many years. Start taking it easy! Eat! Drink! Enjoy yourself!”’ <sup>20</sup> But God said to him, ‘You fool! This very night you will die! And the things you prepared — whose will they be?’ <sup>21</sup> That’s how it is with anyone who stores up wealth for himself without being rich toward God.”

<sup>22</sup> To his talmidim Yeshua said, “Because of this I tell you, don’t worry about your life — what you will eat or drink; or about your body — what you will wear. <sup>23</sup>For life is more than food, and the body is more than clothing. <sup>24</sup> Think about the ravens! They neither plant nor harvest, they have neither storerooms nor barns, yet God feeds them. You are worth much more than the birds! <sup>25</sup> Can any of you by worrying add an hour to his life? <sup>26</sup> If you can’t do a little thing like that, why worry about the rest? <sup>27</sup>Think about the wild irises, and how they grow. They neither work nor spin thread; yet, I tell you, not even Shlomo in all his glory was clothed as beautifully as one of these. <sup>28</sup> If this is how God clothes grass, which is alive in the field today and thrown in the oven tomorrow, how much more will he clothe you! What little trust you have!

<sup>29</sup> “In other words, don’t strive after what you will eat and what you will drink — don’t be anxious. <sup>30</sup> For all the pagan nations in the world set their hearts on these things. Your Father knows that you need them too. <sup>31</sup> Rather, seek his Kingdom; and these things will be given to you as well. <sup>32</sup> Have no fear, little flock, for your Father has resolved to give you the Kingdom! <sup>33</sup> Sell what you own and do tzedakah — make for yourselves purses that don’t wear out, riches in heaven that never fail, where no burglar comes near, where no moth destroys. <sup>34</sup> For where your wealth is, there your heart will be also.

<sup>35</sup> “Be dressed for action and have your lamps lit, <sup>36</sup> like people waiting for their master’s return after a wedding feast; so that when he comes and knocks, they will open the door for him without delay. <sup>37</sup> Happy the slaves whom the master finds alert when he comes! Yes! I tell you he will put on his work clothes, seat them at the table, and come serve them himself! <sup>38</sup> Whether it is late at night or early in the morning, if this is how he finds them, those slaves are happy.

<sup>39</sup> “But notice this: no house-owner would let his house be broken into if he knew when the thief was coming. <sup>40</sup> You too, be ready! For the Son of Man will come when you are not expecting him.”

<sup>41</sup> Kefa said, “Sir, are you telling this parable for our benefit only or for everyone’s?” <sup>42</sup> The Lord replied, “Nu, who is the faithful and sensible manager whose master puts him in charge of the household staff to give them their share of food at the proper time? <sup>43</sup> It will go well with that servant if he is found doing his job when his master comes. <sup>44</sup> Yes, I tell you he will put him in charge of all he owns. <sup>45</sup> But if that servant says to himself, ‘My master is taking his time coming,’ and starts bullying the men- and women-servants, and eating and drinking, getting drunk, <sup>46</sup> then his master will come on a day when the servant isn’t expecting him, at a time he doesn’t know in advance; his master will cut him in two and put him with the disloyal. <sup>47</sup> Now the servant who knew what his master wanted but didn’t prepare or act according to his will, will be whipped with many lashes; <sup>48</sup> however, the one who did what deserves a beating, but didn’t know, will receive few lashes. From him who has been given much, much will be demanded—from someone to whom people entrust much, they ask still more.

<sup>49</sup> “I have come to set fire to the earth! And how I wish it were already kindled! <sup>50</sup> I have an immersion to undergo—how pressured I feel till it’s over! <sup>51</sup> Do you think that I have come to bring peace in the Land? Not peace, I tell you, but division! <sup>52</sup> For from now on, a household of five will be divided, three against two, two against three.

<sup>53</sup> Father will be divided against son

and son against father,

mother against daughter

and daughter against mother,

mother-in-law against her daughter-in-law and daughter-in-law against mother-in-law.”<sup>w</sup>

<sup>54</sup> Then to the crowds Yeshua said, “When you see a cloud-bank rising in the west, at once you say that a rainstorm is coming; <sup>55</sup> and when the wind is from the south, you say there will be a heat wave, and there is. <sup>56</sup> Hypocrites! You know how to interpret the appearance of the earth and the sky — how is it that you don’t know how to interpret this present time? <sup>57</sup> Why don’t you decide for yourselves what is the right course to follow? <sup>58</sup> If someone brings a lawsuit against you, take pains to settle with him first; otherwise he will take the matter to court, and the judge will turn you over to the bailiff, and the bailiff will throw you in jail. <sup>59</sup> I tell you, you won’t get out of there till you have paid the last penny!”

13 <sup>1</sup> Just then, some people came to tell Yeshua about the men from the Galil whom Pilate had slaughtered even while they were slaughtering animals for sacrifice. <sup>2</sup> His answer to them was, “Do you think that just because they died so horribly, these folks from the Galil were worse sinners than all the others from the Galil? <sup>3</sup> No, I tell you. Rather, unless you turn to God from your sins, you will all die as they did!

<sup>4</sup> “Or what about those eighteen people who died when the tower at Shiloach fell on them? Do you think they were worse offenders than all the other people living in Yerushalayim? <sup>5</sup> No, I tell you. Rather, unless you turn from your sins, you will all die similarly.”

<sup>6</sup> Then Yeshua gave this illustration: “A man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard, and he came looking for fruit but didn’t find any. <sup>7</sup> So he said to the man who took care of the vineyard, ‘Here, I’ve come looking for fruit on this fig tree for three years now without finding any. Cut it down — why let it go on using up the soil?’ <sup>8</sup> But he answered, ‘Sir, leave it alone one more year. I’ll dig around it and put manure on it. <sup>9</sup> If it bears fruit next year, well and good; if not, you will have it cut down then.’”

<sup>10</sup> Yeshua was teaching in one of the synagogues on Shabbat. <sup>11</sup> A woman came up who had a spirit which had crippled her for eighteen years; she was bent double and unable to stand erect at all. <sup>12</sup> On seeing her, Yeshua called her and said to her, “Lady, you have been set free from your weakness!” <sup>13</sup> He put his hands on her, and at once she stood upright and began to glorify God.

<sup>14</sup> But the president of the synagogue, indignant that Yeshua had healed on Shabbat, spoke up and said to the congregation, “There are six days in the week for working; so come during those days to be healed, not on Shabbat!” <sup>15</sup> However, the Lord answered him, “You hypocrites! Each one of you on Shabbat — don’t you unloose your ox or your donkey from the stall and lead him off to drink? <sup>16</sup> This woman is a daughter of Avraham, and the Adversary kept her tied up for eighteen years! Shouldn’t she be freed from this bondage on Shabbat?” <sup>17</sup> By these words, Yeshua put to shame the people who opposed him; but the rest of the crowd were happy about all the wonderful things that were taking place through him.

<sup>18</sup> So he went on to say, “What is the Kingdom of God like? With what will we compare it? <sup>19</sup> It is like a mustard seed that a man took and planted in his own garden, and it grew and became a tree, and the birds flying about nested in its branches.”

<sup>22</sup> Yeshua continued traveling through town after town and village after village, teaching and making his way toward Yerushalayim. <sup>23</sup> Someone asked him, “Are only a few people being saved?” <sup>24</sup> He answered, “Struggle to get in through the narrow door, because — I’m telling you! — many will be demanding to get in and won’t be able to, <sup>25</sup> once the owner of the house has gotten up and shut the door. You will stand outside, knocking at the door and saying, ‘Lord! Open up for us!’ But he will answer, ‘I don’t know you or where you come from!’ <sup>26</sup> Then you will say, ‘We ate and drank with you! you taught in our streets!’ <sup>27</sup> and he will tell you, ‘I don’t know where you’re from. Get away from me, all you workers of wickedness!’ <sup>28</sup> You will cry and grind your teeth when you see Avraham, Yitz’chak, Ya’akov and all the prophets inside the Kingdom of God, but yourselves thrown outside. <sup>29</sup> Moreover, people will come from the east, the west, the north and the south to sit at table in the Kingdom of God. <sup>30</sup> And notice that some who are last will be first, and some who are first will be last.”

<sup>31</sup> Just at that moment, some P'rushim came up and said to Yeshua, “Get out and go away from here, because Herod wants to kill you!” <sup>32</sup> He said to them, “Go, tell that fox, ‘Pay attention: today and tomorrow I am driving out demons and healing people, and on the third day I reach my goal.’ <sup>33</sup> Nevertheless, I must keep travelling today, tomorrow and the next day; because it is unthinkable that a prophet should die anywhere but in Yerushalayim.

<sup>34</sup> “Yerushalayim! Yerushalayim! You kill the prophets! You stone those who are sent to you! How often I wanted to gather your children, just as a hen gathers her chickens under her wings, but you refused! <sup>35</sup> Look! God is abandoning your house to you! I tell you, you will not see me again until you say, ‘Blessed is he who comes in the name of ADONAI!’”<sup>36</sup>

<sup>7</sup> When Yeshua noticed how the guests were choosing for themselves the best seats at the table, he told them this parable: <sup>8</sup> “When you are invited by someone to a wedding feast, don’t sit down in the best seat; because if there is someone more important than you who has been invited, <sup>9</sup> the person who invited both of you might come and say to you, ‘Give this man your place.’ Then you will be humiliated as you go to take the least important place. <sup>10</sup> Instead, when you are invited, go and sit in the least important place; so that when the one who invited you comes, he will say to you, ‘Go on up to a better seat.’ Then you will be honored in front of everyone sitting with you. <sup>11</sup> Because everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, but everyone who humbles himself will be exalted.”

<sup>12</sup> Yeshua also said to the one who had invited him, “When you give a lunch or a dinner, don’t invite your friends, brothers, relatives or rich neighbors; for they may well invite you in return, and that will be your repayment. <sup>13</sup> Instead, when you have a party, invite poor people, disfigured people, the crippled, the blind! <sup>14</sup> How blessed you will be that they have nothing with which to repay you! For you will be repaid at the resurrection of the righteous.”

“Then the owner of the house, in a rage, told his slave, ‘Quick, go out into the streets and alleys of the city; and bring in the poor, the disfigured, the blind and the crippled!’ <sup>22</sup> The slave said, ‘Sir, what you ordered has been done, and there is still room.’ <sup>23</sup> The master said to the slave, ‘Go out to the country roads and boundary walls, and insistently persuade people to come in, so that my house will be full. <sup>24</sup> I tell you, not one of those who were invited will get a taste of my banquet!’”

<sup>25</sup> Large crowds were traveling along with Yeshua. Turning, he said to them, <sup>26</sup> “If anyone comes to me and does not hate his father, his mother, his wife, his children, his brothers and his sisters, yes, and his own life besides, he cannot be my talmid. <sup>27</sup> Whoever does not carry his own execution-stake and come after me cannot be my talmid.

<sup>28</sup> “Suppose one of you wants to build a tower. Don’t you sit down and estimate the cost, to see if you have enough capital to complete it? <sup>29</sup> If you don’t, then when you have laid the foundation but can’t finish, all the onlookers start making fun of you <sup>30</sup> and say, ‘This is the man who began to build, but couldn’t finish!’

<sup>31</sup> “Or again, suppose one king is going out to wage war with another king. Doesn’t he first sit down and consider whether he, with his ten thousand troops, has enough strength to meet the other one, who is coming against him with twenty thousand? <sup>32</sup> If he hasn’t, then while the other is still far away, he sends a delegation to inquire about terms for peace.

<sup>33</sup> “So every one of you who doesn’t renounce all that he has cannot be my talmid. <sup>34</sup> Salt is excellent. But if even the salt becomes tasteless, what can be used to season it? <sup>35</sup> It is fit for neither soil nor manure — people throw it out. Those who have ears that can hear, let them hear!”

15 <sup>1</sup> The tax-collectors and sinners kept gathering around to hear Yeshua, <sup>2</sup> and the P’rushim and Torah-teachers kept grumbling. “This fellow,” they said, “welcomes sinners — he even eats with them!” <sup>3</sup> So he told them this parable: <sup>4</sup> “If one of you has a hundred sheep and loses one of them, doesn’t he leave the other ninety-nine in the desert and go after the lost one until he finds it? <sup>5</sup> When he does find it, he joyfully hoists it onto his shoulders; <sup>6</sup> and when he gets home, he calls his friends and neighbors together and says, ‘Come, celebrate with me, because I have found my lost sheep!’ <sup>7</sup> I tell you that in the same way, there will be more joy in heaven over one sinner who turns to God from his sins than over ninety-nine righteous people who have no need to repent.

<sup>8</sup> “Another example: what woman, if she has ten drachmas and loses one of these valuable coins, won’t light a lamp, sweep the house and search all over until she finds it? <sup>9</sup> And when she does find it, she calls her friends and neighbors together and says, ‘Come, celebrate with me, because I have found the drachma I lost.’ <sup>10</sup> In the same way, I tell you, there is joy among God’s angels when one sinner repents.”

<sup>11</sup> Again Yeshua said, “A man had two sons. <sup>12</sup> The younger of them said to his father, ‘Father, give me the share of the estate that will be mine.’ So the father divided the property between them. <sup>13</sup> As soon as he could convert his share into cash, the younger son left home and went off to a distant country, where he squandered his money in reckless living. <sup>14</sup> But after he had spent it all, a severe famine arose throughout that country, and he began to feel the pinch.

<sup>15</sup> “So he went and attached himself to one of the citizens of that country, who sent him into his fields to feed pigs. <sup>16</sup> He longed to fill his stomach with the carob pods the pigs were eating, but no one gave him any.

<sup>17</sup> “At last he came to his senses and said, ‘Any number of my father’s hired workers have food to spare; and here I am, starving to death! <sup>18</sup> I’m going to get up and go back to my father and say to him, ‘Father, I have sinned against Heaven and against you; <sup>19</sup> I am no longer worthy to be called your son; treat me like one of your hired workers.” ’ <sup>20</sup> So he got up and started back to his father.

“But while he was still a long way off, his father saw him and was moved with pity. He ran and threw his arms around him and kissed him warmly. <sup>21</sup> His son said to him, ‘Father, I have sinned against Heaven and against you; I am no longer worthy to be called your son—’ <sup>22</sup> but his father said to his slaves, ‘Quick, bring out a robe, the best one, and put it on him; and put a ring on his finger and shoes on his feet; <sup>23</sup> and bring the calf that has been fattened up, and kill it. Let’s eat and have a celebration! <sup>24</sup> For this son of mine was dead, but now he’s alive again! He was lost, but now he has been found!’ And they began celebrating.

<sup>25</sup> “Now his older son was in the field. As he came close to the house, he heard music and dancing. <sup>26</sup> So he called one of the servants and asked, ‘What’s going on?’ <sup>27</sup> The servant told him, ‘Your brother has come back, and your father has slaughtered the calf that was fattened up, because he has gotten him back safe and sound.’ <sup>28</sup> But the older son became angry and refused to go inside.

“So his father came out and pleaded with him. <sup>29</sup> ‘Look,’ the son answered, ‘I have worked for you all these years, and I have never disobeyed your orders. But you have never even given me a young goat, so that I could celebrate with my friends. <sup>30</sup> Yet this son of yours comes, who squandered your property with prostitutes, and for him you slaughter the fattened calf!’ <sup>31</sup> ‘Son, you are always with me,’ said the father, ‘and everything I have is yours. <sup>32</sup> We had to celebrate and rejoice, because this brother of yours was dead but has come back to life — he was lost but has been found.’”

16 <sup>1</sup> Speaking to the talmidim, Yeshua said: “There was a wealthy man who employed a general manager. Charges were brought to him that his manager was squandering his resources. <sup>2</sup> So he summoned him and asked him, ‘What is this I hear about you? Turn in your accounts, for you can no longer be manager.’

<sup>3</sup> “‘What am I to do?’ said the manager to himself. ‘My boss is firing me, I’m not strong enough to dig ditches, and I’m ashamed to go begging. <sup>4</sup> Aha! I know what I’ll do — something that will make people welcome me into their homes after I’ve lost my job here!’

<sup>8</sup> “And the employer of this dishonest manager applauded him for acting so shrewdly! For the worldly have more sekhel than those who have received the light — in dealing with their own kind of people!

<sup>9</sup> “Now what I say to you is this: use worldly wealth to make friends for yourselves, so that when it gives out, you may be welcomed into the eternal home. <sup>10</sup>Someone who is trustworthy in a small matter is also trustworthy in large ones, and someone who is dishonest in a small matter is also dishonest in large ones. <sup>11</sup> So if you haven’t been trustworthy in handling worldly wealth, who is going to trust you with the real thing? <sup>12</sup> And if you haven’t been trustworthy with what belongs to someone else, who will give you what ought to belong to you? <sup>13</sup> No servant can be slave to two masters, for he will either hate the first and love the second, or scorn the second and be loyal to the first. You can’t be a slave to both God and money.”

<sup>14</sup> The P’rushim heard all this, and since they were money-lovers, they ridiculed him. <sup>15</sup> He said to them, “You people make yourselves look righteous to others, but God knows your hearts; what people regard highly is an abomination before God! <sup>16</sup> Up to the time of Yochanan there were the Torah and the Prophets. Since then the Good News of the Kingdom of God has been proclaimed, and everyone is pushing to get in. <sup>17</sup> But it is easier for heaven and earth to pass away than for one stroke of a letter in the Torah to become void. <sup>18</sup> Every man who divorces his wife and marries another woman commits adultery, and a man who marries a woman divorced by her husband commits adultery.

<sup>19</sup> “Once there was a rich man who used to dress in the most expensive clothing and spent his days in magnificent luxury. <sup>20</sup> At his gate had been laid a beggar named El’azar who was covered with sores. <sup>21</sup> He would have been glad to eat the scraps that fell from the rich man’s table; but instead, even the dogs would come and lick his sores. <sup>22</sup> In time the beggar died and was carried away by the angels to Avraham’s side; the rich man also died and was buried.

<sup>23</sup> “In Sh’ol, where he was in torment, the rich man looked up and saw Avraham far away with El’azar at his side. <sup>24</sup> He called out, ‘Father Avraham, take pity on me, and send El’azar just to dip the tip of his finger in water to cool my tongue, because I’m in agony in this fire!’ <sup>25</sup> However, Avraham said, ‘Son, remember that when you were alive, you got the good things while he got the bad; but now he gets his consolation here, while you are the one in agony. <sup>26</sup> Yet that isn’t all: between you and us a deep rift has been established, so that those who would like to pass from here to you cannot, nor can anyone cross over from there to us.’

<sup>27</sup> “He answered, ‘Then, father, I beg you to send him to my father’s house, <sup>28</sup> where I have five brothers, to warn them; so that they may be spared having to come to this place of torment too.’ <sup>29</sup> But Avraham said, ‘They have Moshe and the Prophets; they should listen to them.’ <sup>30</sup> However, he said, ‘No, father Avraham, they need more. If someone from the dead goes to them, they’ll repent!’ <sup>31</sup> But he replied, ‘If they won’t listen to Moshe and the Prophets, they won’t be convinced even if someone rises from the dead!’”

17 <sup>1</sup> Yeshua said to his talmidim, “It is impossible that snares will not be set. But woe to the person who sets them! <sup>2</sup> It would be to his advantage that he have a millstone hung around his neck and he be thrown into the sea, rather than that he ensnare one of these little ones. <sup>3</sup> Watch yourselves! If your brother sins, rebuke him; and if he repents, forgive him. <sup>4</sup> Also, if seven times in one day he sins against you, and seven times he comes to you and says, ‘I repent,’ you are to forgive him.” <sup>5</sup> The emissaries said to the Lord, “Increase our trust.” <sup>6</sup> The Lord replied, “If you had trust as tiny as a mustard seed, you could say to this fig tree, ‘Be uprooted and replanted in the sea!’ and it would obey you. <sup>7</sup> If one of you has a slave tending the sheep or plowing, when he comes back from the field, will you say to him, ‘Come along now, sit down and eat’? <sup>8</sup> No, you’ll say, ‘Get my supper ready, dress for work, and serve me until I have finished eating and drinking; after that, you may eat and drink.’ <sup>9</sup> Does he thank the slave because he did what he was told to do? No! <sup>10</sup> It’s the same with you — when you have done everything you were told to do, you should be saying, ‘We’re just ordinary slaves, we have only done our duty.’”

<sup>20</sup> The P'rushim asked Yeshua when the Kingdom of God would come. "The Kingdom of God," he answered, "does not come with visible signs; <sup>21</sup> nor will people be able to say, 'Look! Here it is!' or, 'Over there!' Because, you see, the Kingdom of God is among you." <sup>22</sup> Then he said to his talmidim, "The time is coming when you will long to see even one of the days of the Son of Man, but you will not see it. <sup>23</sup> People will say to you, 'Look! Right here!' or, 'See! Over there!' Don't run off, don't follow them, <sup>24</sup> because the Son of Man in his day will be like lightning that flashes and lights up the sky from one horizon to the other. <sup>25</sup> But first he must endure horrible suffering and be rejected by this generation.

<sup>26</sup> "Also, at the time of the Son of Man, it will be just as it was at the time of Noach. <sup>27</sup> People ate and drank, and men and women married, right up until the day Noach entered the ark; then the flood came and destroyed them all. <sup>28</sup> Likewise, as it was in the time of Lot — people ate and drank, bought and sold, planted and built; <sup>29</sup> but the day Lot left S'dom, fire and sulfur rained down from heaven and destroyed them all. <sup>30</sup> That is how it will be on the day the Son of Man is revealed. <sup>31</sup> On that day, if someone is on the roof with his belongings in his house, he must not go down to take them away. Similarly, if someone is in the field, he must not turn back — <sup>32</sup>remember Lot's wife! <sup>33</sup> Whoever aims at preserving his own life will lose it, but whoever loses his life will stay alive. <sup>34</sup> I tell you, on that night there will be two people in one bed — one will be taken and the other left behind. <sup>35</sup> There will be two women grinding grain together — one will be taken and the other left behind." <sup>36</sup> *

18 <sup>1</sup> Then Yeshua told his talmidim a parable, in order to impress on them that they must always keep praying and not lose heart. <sup>2</sup> “In a certain town, there was a judge who neither feared God nor respected other people. <sup>3</sup> There was also in that town a widow who kept coming to him and saying, ‘Give me a judgment against the man who is trying to ruin me.’ <sup>4</sup> For a long time he refused; but after awhile, he said to himself, ‘I don’t fear God, and I don’t respect other people; <sup>5</sup> but because this widow is such a nudnik, I will see to it that she gets justice — otherwise, she’ll keep coming and pestering me till she wears me out!’”

<sup>6</sup> Then the Lord commented, “Notice what this corrupt judge says. <sup>7</sup> Now won’t God grant justice to his chosen people who cry out to him day and night? Is he delaying long over them? <sup>8</sup> I tell you that he will judge in their favor, and quickly! But when the Son of Man comes, will he find this trust on the earth at all?”

<sup>9</sup> Also, to some who were relying on their own righteousness and looking down on everyone else, he told this parable: <sup>10</sup> ‘Two men went up to the Temple to pray, one a Parush and the other a tax-collector. <sup>11</sup> The Parush stood and prayed to himself, ‘O God! I thank you that I am not like the rest of humanity — greedy, dishonest, immoral, or like this tax-collector! <sup>12</sup> I fast twice a week, I pay tithes on my entire income, . . . ’ <sup>13</sup> But the tax-collector, standing far off, would not even raise his eyes toward heaven, but beat his breast and said, ‘God! Have mercy on me, sinner that I am!’ <sup>14</sup> I tell you, this man went down to his home right with God rather than the other. For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, but everyone who humbles himself will be exalted.”

<sup>15</sup> People brought him babies to touch; but when the talmidim saw the people doing this, they rebuked them. <sup>16</sup> However, Yeshua called the children to him and said, “Let the children come to me, and stop hindering them, because the Kingdom of God belongs to such as these. <sup>17</sup> Yes! I tell you that whoever does not receive the Kingdom of God like a little child will not enter it at all!”

<sup>18</sup> One of the leaders asked him, “Good rabbi, what should I do to obtain eternal life?” <sup>19</sup> Yeshua said to him, “Why are you calling me good? No one is good but God! <sup>20</sup> You know the mitzvot — ‘Don’t commit adultery, don’t murder, don’t steal, don’t give false testimony, honor your father and mother, . . .’” <sup>21</sup> He replied, “I have kept all these since I was a boy.” <sup>22</sup> On hearing this Yeshua said to him, “There is one thing you still lack. Sell whatever you have, distribute the proceeds to the poor, and you will have riches in heaven. Then come, follow me!”<sup>23</sup> But when the man heard this, he became very sad, because he was very rich.

<sup>24</sup> Yeshua looked at him and said, “How hard it is for people with wealth to enter the Kingdom of God! <sup>25</sup> It’s easier for a camel to pass through a needle’s eye than for a rich man to enter the Kingdom of God!” <sup>26</sup> Those who heard this asked, “Then who can be saved?” <sup>27</sup> He said, “What is impossible humanly is possible with God.”

<sup>28</sup> Kefa said, “Look, we have left our homes and followed you.” <sup>29</sup> Yeshua answered them, “Yes! I tell you that everyone who has left house, wife, brothers, parents or children, for the sake of the kingdom of God, <sup>30</sup> will receive many times as much in the ‘olam hazeh, and in the ‘olam haba eternal life.”

<sup>31</sup> Then, taking the Twelve, Yeshua said to them, “We are now going up to Yerushalayim, where everything written through the prophets about the Son of Man will come true. <sup>32</sup> For he will be handed over to the Goyim and be ridiculed, insulted and spat upon. <sup>33</sup> Then, after they have beaten him, they will kill him. But on the third day he will rise.” <sup>34</sup> However, they understood none of this; its meaning had been hidden from them, and they had no idea what he was talking about.

<sup>35</sup> As Yeshua approached Yericho, a blind man was sitting by the road, begging. <sup>36</sup> When he heard the crowd going past, he asked what it was all about; <sup>37</sup> and they told him, “Yeshua from Natzeret is passing by.” <sup>38</sup> He called out, “Yeshua! Son of David! Have pity on me!” <sup>39</sup> Those in front scolded him in order to get him to shut up, but he shouted all the louder, “Son of David! Have pity on me!” <sup>40</sup> Yeshua stopped and ordered the man to be brought to him. When he had come, Yeshua asked him, <sup>41</sup> “What do you want me to do for you?” The blind man said, “Lord, let me be able to see.” <sup>42</sup> Yeshua said to him, “See again! your trust has healed you!” <sup>43</sup> Instantly he received his sight and began following him, glorifying God; and when all the people saw it, they too praised God.

19 <sup>1</sup> Yeshua entered Yericho and was passing through, <sup>2</sup> when a man named Zakkai appeared who was a chief tax-collector and a wealthy man. <sup>3</sup> He was trying to see who Yeshua was; but, being short, he couldn’t, because of the crowd. <sup>4</sup> So he ran on ahead and climbed a fig tree in order to see him, for Yeshua was about to pass that way.<sup>5</sup> When he came to the place, he looked up and said to him, “Zakkai! Hurry! Come down, because I have to stay at your house today!”<sup>6</sup> He climbed down as fast as he could and welcomed Yeshua joyfully.<sup>7</sup> Everyone who saw it began muttering, “He has gone to be the house-guest of a sinner.”<sup>8</sup> But Zakkai stood there and said to the Lord, “Here, Lord, I am giving half of all I own to the poor; and if I have cheated anyone, I will pay him back four times as much.”<sup>9</sup> Yeshua said to him, “Today salvation has come to this house, inasmuch as this man too is a son of Avraham.”<sup>10</sup> For the Son of Man came to seek and save what was lost.”

<sup>11</sup> While they were listening to this, Yeshua went on to tell a parable, because he was near Yerushalayim, and the people supposed that the Kingdom of God was about to appear at any moment.<sup>12</sup> Therefore he said, “A nobleman went to a country far away to have himself crowned king and then return.<sup>13</sup> Calling ten of his servants, he gave them ten manim [a maneh is about three months’ wages] and said to them, ‘Do business with this while I’m away.’<sup>14</sup> But his countrymen hated him, and they sent a delegation after him to say, ‘We don’t want this man to rule over us.’

<sup>15</sup> “However, he returned, having been made king, and sent for the servants to whom he had given the money, to find out what each one had earned in his business dealings.<sup>16</sup> The first one came in and said, ‘Sir, your maneh has earned ten more manim.’<sup>17</sup> ‘Excellent!’ he said to him. ‘You are a good servant. Because you have been trustworthy in a small matter, I am putting you in charge of ten towns.’<sup>18</sup> The second one came and said, ‘Sir, your maneh has earned five more manim;’<sup>19</sup> and to this one he said, ‘You be in charge of five towns.’

<sup>20</sup> “Then another one came and said, ‘Sir, here is your maneh. I kept it hidden in a piece of cloth,<sup>21</sup> because I was afraid of you — you take out what you didn’t put in, and you harvest what you didn’t plant.’<sup>22</sup> To him the master said, ‘You wicked servant! I will judge you by your own words! So you knew, did you, that I was a severe man, taking out what I didn’t put in and harvesting what I didn’t plant?’<sup>23</sup> Then why didn’t you put my money in the bank? Then, when I returned, I would have gotten it back with interest!’

<sup>24</sup> To those standing by, he said, ‘Take the maneh from him and give it to the one with ten manim.’<sup>25</sup> They said to him, ‘Sir, he already has ten manim!’<sup>26</sup> But the master answered, ‘I tell you, everyone who has something will be given more; but from anyone who has nothing, even what he does have will be taken away. <sup>27</sup> However, as for these enemies of mine who did not want me to be their king, bring them here and execute them in my presence!’”

<sup>28</sup> After saying this, Yeshua went on and began the ascent to Yerushalayim. <sup>29</sup> As he approached Beit-Pagei and Beit-Anyah, by the Mount of Olives, he sent two talmidim, <sup>30</sup> instructing them, “Go into the village ahead; on entering it, you will find a colt tied up that has never been ridden. Untie it and bring it here. <sup>31</sup> If anyone asks why you are untying it, tell him, ‘The Lord needs it.’” <sup>32</sup> Those who were sent went off and found it just as he had told them. <sup>33</sup> As they were untying the colt, its owners said to them, “Why are you untying the colt?” <sup>34</sup> and they said, “Because the Lord needs it.” <sup>35</sup> They brought it to Yeshua; and, throwing their robes on the colt, they put Yeshua on it. <sup>36</sup> As he went along, people carpeted the road with their clothing; <sup>37</sup> and as he came near Yerushalayim, where the road descends from the Mount of Olives, the entire band of talmidim began to sing and praise God at the top of their voices for all the powerful works they had seen:

<sup>38</sup>

“Blessed is the King who is coming in the name of ADONAI!”<sup>z</sup>

“Shalom in heaven!”

and

“Glory in the highest places!”

<sup>39</sup> Some of the P’rushim in the crowd said to him, “Rabbi! Reprimand your talmidim!” <sup>40</sup> But he answered them, “I tell you that if they keep quiet, the stones will shout!”

<sup>41</sup> When Yeshua had come closer and could see the city, he wept over it, <sup>42</sup> saying, “If you only knew today what is needed for shalom! But for now it is hidden from your sight. <sup>43</sup> For the days are coming upon you when your enemies will set up a barricade around you, encircle you, hem you in on every side, <sup>44</sup> and dash you to the ground, you and your children within your walls, leaving not one stone standing on another — and all because you did not recognize your opportunity when God offered it!”

<sup>45</sup> Then Yeshua entered the Temple grounds and began driving out those doing business there, <sup>46</sup> saying to them, “The Tanakh says, ‘My House is to be a house of prayer,’<sup>a</sup> but you have made it into a den of robbers!”<sup>b</sup>

<sup>47</sup> Every day he taught at the Temple. The head cohanim, the Torah-teachers and the leaders of the people tried to find a way of putting an end to him; <sup>48</sup> but they couldn’t find any way of doing it, because all the people were hanging onto his every word.

20 <sup>1</sup> One day, as Yeshua was teaching the people at the Temple, making known the Good News, the head cohanim and the Torah-teachers, along with the elders, came up to him <sup>2</sup> and said, “Tell us, what s’mikhah do you have that authorizes you to do these things? Who gave you this s’mikhah?” <sup>3</sup> He answered, “I too will ask you a question. Tell me, <sup>4</sup> the immersion of Yochanan — was it from Heaven or from a human source?” <sup>5</sup> They discussed it among themselves, saying, “If we say, ‘From Heaven,’ he will say, ‘Then why didn’t you believe him?’ <sup>6</sup> But if we say, ‘From a human source,’ all the people will stone us, because they’re convinced that Yochanan was a prophet.” <sup>7</sup> So they answered, “We don’t know where it came from.” <sup>8</sup> Yeshua said to them, “Then I won’t tell you by what s’mikhah I do these things.”

<sup>9</sup> Next Yeshua told the people this parable: “A man planted a vineyard, rented it to tenant-farmers and went away for a long time. <sup>10</sup> When the time came, he sent a servant to the tenants to receive his share of the crop from the vineyard; but the tenants beat him up and sent him away empty-handed. <sup>11</sup> He sent another servant; they beat him too, insulted him and sent him away empty-handed. <sup>12</sup> He sent yet a third; this one they wounded and threw out.

<sup>13</sup> “Then the owner of the vineyard said, ‘What am I to do? I will send my son, whom I love; maybe they will respect him.’ <sup>14</sup> But when the tenants saw him, they discussed it among themselves and said, ‘This is the heir; let’s kill him, so that the inheritance will be ours!’ <sup>15</sup> And they threw him out of the vineyard and killed him.

“Now what will the owner of the vineyard do to them? <sup>16</sup> He will come and put an end to those tenants and give the vineyard to others!” When the people heard this, they said, “Heaven forbid!” <sup>17</sup> But Yeshua looked searchingly at them and said, “Then what is this which is written in the Tanakh,

‘The very rock which the builders rejected

has become the cornerstone’?<sup>18</sup>

<sup>18</sup> Whoever falls on that stone will be broken in pieces; but if it falls on him, he will be crushed to powder!”

<sup>19</sup> The Torah-teachers and the head cohanim would have seized him at that very moment, because they knew that he had aimed this parable at them, but they were afraid of the people.

<sup>20</sup> So they kept a close watch on the situation. They sent spies who hypocritically represented themselves as righteous, so that they might seize hold of something Yeshua said, as an excuse to hand him over to the jurisdiction and authority of the governor. <sup>21</sup> They put to him this sh’eilah: “Rabbi, we know that you speak and teach straightforwardly, showing no partiality but really teaching what God’s way is. <sup>22</sup> Does Torah permit us to pay taxes to the Roman Emperor or not?” <sup>23</sup> But he, spotting their craftiness, said to them, <sup>24</sup> “Show me a denarius! Whose name and picture does it have?” “The Emperor’s,” they replied. <sup>25</sup> “Then,” he said to them, “give the Emperor what belongs to the Emperor. And give God what belongs to God!” <sup>26</sup> They were unable to trap him by anything he said publicly; indeed, amazed at his answer, they fell silent.

<sup>27</sup> Some Tz’dukim, who say there is no resurrection, came to Yeshua <sup>28</sup> and put to him a sh’eilah: “Rabbi, Moshe wrote for us that if a man dies leaving a wife but no children, his brother must take the wife and have children to preserve the man’s family line.<sup>29</sup> Now there were seven brothers. The first took a wife and died childless, <sup>30</sup> then the second <sup>31</sup> and third took her, and likewise all seven, but they all died without leaving children. <sup>32</sup> Lastly, the woman also died. <sup>33</sup> In the Resurrection, which one’s wife will she be? For all seven were married to her.”

<sup>37</sup> “But even Moshe showed that the dead are raised; for in the passage about the bush, he calls ADONAI ‘the God of Avraham, the God of Yitz’chak and the God of Ya’akov.’<sup>38</sup> Now he is not God of the dead, but of the living — to him all are alive.”

<sup>39</sup> Some of the Torah-teachers answered, “Well spoken, Rabbi.” <sup>40</sup> For they no longer dared put to him a sh’eilah. <sup>41</sup> But he said to them, “How is it that people say the Messiah is David’s son? <sup>42</sup> For David himself says in the book of Psalms,

<sup>43</sup> ‘ADONAI said to my Lord,

“Sit at my right hand

until I make your enemies your footstool.”<sup>44</sup>

<sup>45</sup> Within the hearing of all the people, Yeshua said to his talmidim, <sup>46</sup> “Watch out for the kind of Torah-teachers that like to walk around in robes and be greeted deferentially in the marketplaces, the kind that like to have the best seats in the synagogues and the places of honor at banquets, <sup>47</sup> the kind that swallow up widows’ houses while making a show of davvening at great length. Their punishment will be all the worse!”

<sup>5</sup> As some people were remarking about the Temple, how beautiful its stonework and memorial decorations were, he said, <sup>6</sup> “The time is coming when what you see here will be totally destroyed — not a single stone will be left standing!” <sup>7</sup> They asked him, “Rabbi, if this is so, when will these events take place? And what sign will show that they are about to happen?”

<sup>8</sup> He answered, “Watch out! Don’t be fooled! For many will come in my name, saying, ‘I am he!’ and, ‘The time has come!’ Don’t go after them. <sup>9</sup>

And when you hear of wars and revolutions, don't panic. For these things must happen first, but the end will not follow immediately."

<sup>10</sup> Then he told them, "Peoples will fight each other, nations will fight each other, <sup>11</sup> there will be great earthquakes, there will be epidemics and famines in various places, and there will be fearful sights and great signs from Heaven. <sup>12</sup> But before all this, they will arrest you and persecute you, handing you over to the synagogues and prisons; and you will be brought before kings and governors. This will all be on account of me, <sup>13</sup> but it will prove an opportunity for you to bear witness. <sup>14</sup> So make up your minds not to worry, rehearsing your defense beforehand; <sup>15</sup> for I myself will give you an eloquence and a wisdom that no adversary will be able to resist or refute. <sup>16</sup> You will be betrayed even by parents, brothers, relatives and friends; some of you they will have put to death; <sup>17</sup> and everyone will hate you because of me. <sup>18</sup> But not a hair of your head will be lost. <sup>19</sup> By standing firm you will save your lives.

<sup>20</sup> "However, when you see Yerushalayim surrounded by armies, then you are to understand that she is about to be destroyed. <sup>21</sup> Those in Y'hudah must escape to the hills, those inside the city must get out, and those in the country must not enter it. <sup>22</sup> For these are the days of vengeance, when everything that has been written in the Tanakh will come true. <sup>23</sup> What a terrible time it will be for pregnant women and nursing mothers! For there will be great distress in the Land and judgment on the people. <sup>24</sup> Some will fall by the edge of the sword, others will be carried into all the countries of the Goyim, and Yerushalayim will be trampled down by the Goyim until the age of the Goyim has run its course.

<sup>25</sup> "There will appear signs in the sun, moon and stars; and on earth, nations will be in anxiety and bewilderment at the sound and surge of the sea, <sup>26</sup> as people faint with fear at the prospect of what is overtaking the world; for the powers in heaven will be shaken.<sup>g</sup> <sup>27</sup> And then they will see the Son of Man coming in a cloud with tremendous power and glory. <sup>h</sup> <sup>28</sup> When these things start to happen, stand up and hold your heads high; because you are about to be liberated!"

<sup>29</sup> Then he told them a parable: "Look at the fig tree — indeed, all the trees. <sup>30</sup> As soon as they sprout leaves, you can see for yourselves that summer is near. <sup>31</sup> In the same way, when you see these things taking place, you are to know that the Kingdom of God is near! <sup>32</sup> Yes! I tell you that this people will certainly not pass away before it has all happened. <sup>33</sup> Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will certainly not pass away.

<sup>34</sup> “But keep watch on yourselves, or your hearts will become dulled by carousing, drunkenness and the worries of everyday living, and that Day will be sprung upon you suddenly like a trap! <sup>35</sup> For it will close in on everyone, no matter where they live, throughout the whole world. <sup>36</sup> Stay alert, always praying that you will have the strength to escape all the things that will happen and to stand in the presence of the Son of Man.”

<sup>3</sup> At this point the Adversary went into Y’hudah from K’riot, who was one of the Twelve. <sup>4</sup> He approached the head cohanim and the Temple guard and discussed with them how he might turn Yeshua over to them. <sup>5</sup> They were pleased and offered to pay him money. <sup>6</sup> He agreed and began looking for a good opportunity to betray Yeshua without the people’s knowledge.

<sup>7</sup> Then came the day of matzah, on which the Passover lamb had to be killed. <sup>8</sup> Yeshua sent Kefa and Yochanan, instructing them, “Go and prepare our Seder, so we can eat.” <sup>9</sup> They asked him, “Where do you want us to prepare it?” <sup>10</sup> He told them, “As you’re going into the city, a man carrying a jar of water will meet you. Follow him into the house he enters, <sup>11</sup> and say to its owner, ‘The Rabbi says to you, “Where is the guest room, where I am to eat the Pesach meal with my talmidim?”’” <sup>12</sup> He will show you a large room upstairs already furnished; make the preparations there.” <sup>13</sup> They went and found things just as Yeshua had told them they would be, and they prepared for the Seder.

<sup>14</sup> When the time came, Yeshua and the emissaries reclined at the table, <sup>15</sup> and he said to them, “I have really wanted so much to celebrate this Seder with you before I die! <sup>16</sup> For I tell you, it is certain that I will not celebrate it again until it is given its full meaning in the Kingdom of God.”

<sup>17</sup> Then, taking a cup of wine, he made the b’rakhah and said, “Take this and share it among yourselves. <sup>18</sup> For I tell you that from now on, I will not drink the ‘fruit of the vine’ until the Kingdom of God comes.”<sup>19</sup> Also, taking a piece of matzah, he made the b’rakhah, broke it, gave it to them and said, “This is my body, which is being given for you; do this in memory of me.”<sup>20</sup> He did the same with the cup after the meal, saying, “This cup is the New Covenant, ratified by my blood, which is being poured out for you.

<sup>21</sup> “But look! The person who is betraying me is here at the table with me! <sup>22</sup> The Son of Man is going to his death according to God’s plan, but woe to that man by whom he is being betrayed!”<sup>23</sup> They began asking each other which of them could be about to do such a thing.

<sup>24</sup> An argument arose among them as to which of them should be considered the greatest. <sup>25</sup> But Yeshua said to them, “The kings of the Goyim lord it over them; and those in authority over them are given the title, ‘Benefactor.’ <sup>26</sup> But not so with you! On the contrary, let the greater among you become like the younger, and one who rules like one who serves. <sup>27</sup> For who is greater? The one reclining at the table? or the one who serves? It’s the one reclining at the table, isn’t it? But I myself am among you like one who serves.

<sup>28</sup> “You are the ones who have stayed with me throughout my trials. <sup>29</sup> Just as my Father gave me the right to rule, so I give you an appointment, <sup>30</sup> namely, to eat and drink at my table in my Kingdom and to sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Isra’el.

<sup>31</sup> “Shim’on, Shim’on, listen! The Adversary demanded to have you people for himself, to sift you like wheat! <sup>32</sup> But I prayed for you, Shim’on, that your trust might not fail. And you, once you have turned back in repentance, strengthen your brothers!” <sup>33</sup> Shim’on said to him, “Lord, I am prepared to go with you both to prison and to death!” <sup>34</sup> Yeshua replied, “I tell you, Kefa, the rooster will not crow today until you have denied three times that you know me.”

<sup>35</sup> He said to them, “When I sent you out without wallet, pack or shoes, were you ever short of anything?” “Not a thing,” they answered. <sup>36</sup> “But now,” he said, if you have a wallet or a pack, take it; and if you don’t have a sword, sell your robe to buy one. <sup>37</sup> For I tell you this: the passage from the Tanakh that says, ‘He was counted with transgressors,’<sup>1</sup> has to be fulfilled in me; since what is happening to me has a purpose.” <sup>38</sup> They said, “Look, Lord, there are two swords right here!” “Enough!” he replied.

<sup>39</sup> On leaving, Yeshua went as usual to the Mount of Olives; and the talmidim followed him. <sup>40</sup> When he arrived, he said to them, “Pray that you won't be put to the test.” <sup>41</sup> He went about a stone's throw away from them, kneeled down and prayed, <sup>42</sup> “Father, if you are willing, take this cup away from me; still, let not my will but yours be done.” <sup>43</sup> There appeared to him an angel from heaven giving him strength, <sup>44</sup> and in great anguish he prayed more intensely, so that his sweat became like drops of blood falling to the ground. <sup>45</sup> On rising from prayer and coming to the talmidim, he found them sleeping because of their grief. <sup>46</sup> He said to them, “Why are you sleeping? Get up and pray that you won't be put to the test!”

<sup>47</sup> While he was still speaking, a crowd of people arrived, with the man called Y'hudah (one of the Twelve!) leading them. He came up to Yeshua to kiss him, <sup>48</sup> but Yeshua said to him, “Y'hudah, are you betraying the Son of Man with a kiss?” <sup>49</sup> When his followers saw what was going to happen, they said, “Lord, should we use our swords?” <sup>50</sup> One of them struck at the slave of the cohen hagadol and cut off his right ear. <sup>51</sup> But Yeshua answered, “Just let me do this,” and, touching the man's ear, he healed him.

<sup>52</sup> Then Yeshua said to the head cohanim, the officers of the Temple guard and the elders who had come to seize him, “So you came out just as you would to the leader of a rebellion, with swords and clubs? <sup>53</sup> Every day I was there with you in the Temple court, yet you didn't arrest me. But this is your hour — the hour when darkness rules.”

<sup>54</sup> Having seized him, they led him away and brought him into the house of the cohen hagadol. Kefa followed at a distance; <sup>55</sup> but when they had lit a fire in the middle of the courtyard and sat down together, Kefa joined them. <sup>56</sup> One of the servant girls saw him sitting in the light of the fire, stared at him and said, “This man also was with him.” <sup>57</sup> But he denied it: “Lady, I don't even know him.” <sup>58</sup> A little later, someone else saw him and said, “You're one of them too”; but Kefa said, “Man, I am not!” <sup>59</sup> About an hour later, another man asserted emphatically, “There can be no doubt that this fellow was with him, because he too is from the Galil!” <sup>60</sup> But Kefa said, “Man, I don't know what you're talking about!” And instantly, while he was still speaking, a rooster crowed. <sup>61</sup> The Lord turned and looked straight at Kefa; and Kefa remembered what the Lord had said, “Before the rooster crows today, you will deny me three times.” <sup>62</sup> And he went outside and cried bitterly.

<sup>63</sup> Meanwhile, the men who were holding Yeshua made fun of him. They beat him, <sup>64</sup> blindfolded him, and kept asking him, “Now, ‘prophecy’! Who hit you that time?” <sup>65</sup> And they said many other insulting things to him.

<sup>66</sup> At daybreak, the people's council of elders, including both head cohanim and Torah-teachers, met and led him off to their Sanhedrin, <sup>67</sup> where they said, "If you are the Mashiach, tell us." He answered, "If I tell you, you won't believe me; <sup>68</sup> and if I ask you, you won't answer. <sup>69</sup> But from now on, the Son of Man will be sitting at the right hand of HaG'vurah,"<sup>i</sup> <sup>70</sup> They all said, "Does this mean, then, that you are the Son of God?" And he answered them, "You say I am." <sup>71</sup> They said, "Why do we need additional testimony? We have heard it ourselves from his own mouth!"

23 <sup>1</sup> With that, the whole Sanhedrin got up and brought Yeshua before Pilate, <sup>2</sup> where they started accusing him. "We found this man subverting our nation, forbidding us to pay taxes to the Emperor and claiming that he himself is the Messiah — a king!" <sup>3</sup> Pilate asked him, "Are you the king of the Jews?" And he answered him, "The words are yours." <sup>4</sup> Pilate said to the head cohanim and the crowds, "I find no ground for a charge against this man." <sup>5</sup> But they persisted. "He is inciting the people with his teaching throughout all Y'hudah — he started in the Galil, and now he's here!" <sup>6</sup> On hearing this, Pilate asked if the man was from the Galil; <sup>7</sup> and when he learned that he was under Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him over to Herod, who at that time happened to be in Yerushalayim too.

<sup>8</sup> Herod was delighted to see Yeshua, because he had heard about him and for a long time had been wanting to meet him; indeed, he hoped to see him perform some miracle. <sup>9</sup> He questioned him at great length, but Yeshua made no reply. <sup>10</sup> However, the head cohanim and the Torah-teachers stood there, vehemently pressing their case against him. <sup>11</sup> Herod and his soldiers treated Yeshua with contempt and made fun of him. Then, dressing him in an elegant robe, they sent him back to Pilate. <sup>12</sup> That day Herod and Pilate became friends with each other; previously they had been enemies.

<sup>13</sup> Pilate summoned the head cohanim, the leaders and the people, <sup>14</sup> and said to them, "You brought this man before me on a charge of subverting the people. I examined him in your presence and did not find the man guilty of the crime you are accusing him of. <sup>15</sup> And neither did Herod, because he sent him back to us. Clearly, he has not done anything that merits the death penalty. <sup>16</sup> Therefore, what I will do is have him flogged and release him." <sup>17</sup>

in the city and for murder.)<sup>20</sup> Pilate appealed to them again, because he wanted to release Yeshua.<sup>21</sup> But they yelled, “Put him to death on the stake! Put him to death on the stake!”<sup>22</sup> A third time he asked them, “But what has this man done wrong? I haven’t found any reason to put him to death. So I’m going to have him flogged and set free.”<sup>23</sup> But they went on yelling insistently, demanding that he be executed on the stake; and their shouting prevailed.<sup>24</sup> Pilate decided to grant their demand;<sup>25</sup> he released the man who had been thrown in prison for insurrection and murder, the one they had asked for; and Yeshua he surrendered to their will.

<sup>26</sup> As the Roman soldiers led Yeshua away, they grabbed hold of a man from Cyrene named Shim’on, who was on his way in from the country. They put the execution-stake on his back and made him carry it behind Yeshua.<sup>27</sup> Large numbers of people followed, including women crying and wailing over him.<sup>28</sup> Yeshua turned to them and said, “Daughters of Yerushalayim, don’t cry for me; cry for yourselves and your children!<sup>29</sup> For the time is coming when people will say, ‘The childless women are the lucky ones — those whose wombs have never borne a child, whose breasts have never nursed a baby!’<sup>30</sup> Then

and to the hills, ‘Cover us!’<sup>k</sup>

<sup>31</sup> For if they do these things when the wood is green, what is going to happen when it’s dry?”

They divided up his clothes by throwing dice.<sup>l</sup><sup>35</sup> The people stood watching, and the rulers sneered at him.<sup>m</sup> “He saved others,” they said, “so if he really is the Messiah, the one chosen by God, let him save himself!”<sup>36</sup> The soldiers too ridiculed him; they came up, offered him vinegar<sup>n</sup><sup>37</sup> and said, “If you are the king of the Jews, save yourself!”<sup>38</sup> And there was a notice over him which read,

THIS IS

THE KING OF THE JEWS

<sup>39</sup> One of the criminals hanging there hurled insults at him. “Aren’t you the Messiah? Save yourself and us!” <sup>40</sup> But the other one spoke up and rebuked the first, saying, “Have you no fear of God? You’re getting the same punishment as he is. <sup>41</sup> Ours is only fair; we’re getting what we deserve for what we did. But this man did nothing wrong.” <sup>42</sup> Then he said, “Yeshua, remember me when you come as King.” <sup>43</sup> Yeshua said to him, “Yes! I promise that you will be with me today in Gan-‘Eden.”

<sup>44</sup> It was now about noon, and darkness covered the whole Land until three o’clock in the afternoon; <sup>45</sup> the sun did not shine. Also the parokhet in the Temple was split down the middle. <sup>46</sup> Crying out with a loud voice, Yeshua said, “Father! Into your hands I commit my spirit.”<sup>a</sup> With these words he gave up his spirit.

<sup>47</sup> When the Roman officer saw what had happened, he began to praise God and said, “Surely this man was innocent!” <sup>48</sup> And when all the crowds that had gathered to watch the spectacle saw the things that had occurred, they returned home beating their breasts. <sup>49</sup> All his friends, including the women who had accompanied him from the Galil, had been standing at a distance; they saw it all.

<sup>50</sup> There was a man named Yosef, a member of the Sanhedrin. He was a good man, a tzaddik; <sup>51</sup> and he had not been in agreement with either the Sanhedrin’s motivation or their action. He came from the town of Ramatayim, a town of the Judeans; and he looked forward to the Kingdom of God. <sup>52</sup> This man approached Pilate and asked for Yeshua’s body. <sup>53</sup> He took it down, wrapped it in a linen sheet, and placed it in a tomb cut into the rock, that had never been used.

<sup>54</sup> It was Preparation Day, and a Shabbat was about to begin. <sup>55</sup> The women who had come with Yeshua from the Galil followed; they saw the tomb and how his body was placed in it. <sup>56</sup> Then they went back home to prepare spices and ointments.

On Shabbat the women rested, in obedience to the commandment;

24 <sup>1</sup> but the next day, while it was still very early, they took the spices they had prepared, went to the tomb, <sup>2</sup> and found the stone rolled away from the tomb! <sup>3</sup> On entering, they discovered that the body of the Lord Yeshua was gone! <sup>4</sup> They were standing there, not knowing what to think about it, when suddenly two men in daz-zlingly bright clothing stood next to them. <sup>5</sup> Terror-stricken, they bowed down with their faces to the ground. The two men said to them, “Why are you looking for the living among the dead? <sup>6</sup> He is not here; he has been raised. Remember how he told you while he was still in the Galil, <sup>7</sup> ‘The Son of Man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men and be executed on a stake as a criminal, but on the third day be raised again?’” <sup>8</sup> Then they remembered his words; <sup>9</sup> and, returning from the tomb, they told everything to the Eleven and to all the rest. <sup>10</sup> The women who told the emissaries these things were Miryam of Magdala, Yochanah, Miryam the mother of Ya‘akov, and the others in their circle.

<sup>11</sup> But the emissaries didn’t believe them; in fact, they thought that what they said was utter nonsense! <sup>12</sup> However, Kefa got up and ran to the tomb. Stooping down, he saw only the burial cloths and went home wondering what had happened.

<sup>13</sup> That same day, two of them were going toward a village about seven miles from Yerushalayim called Amma’us, <sup>14</sup> and they were talking with each other about all the things that had happened. <sup>15</sup> As they talked and discussed, Yeshua himself came up and walked along with them, <sup>16</sup> but something kept them from recognizing him. <sup>17</sup> He asked them, “What are you talking about with each other as you walk along?” They stopped short, their faces downcast; <sup>18</sup> and one of them, named Cleopas, answered him, “Are you the only person staying in Yerushalayim that doesn’t know the things that have been going on there the last few days?” <sup>19</sup> “What things?” he asked them. They said to him, “The things about Yeshua from Natzeret. He was a prophet and proved it by the things he did and said before God and all the people. <sup>20</sup> Our head cohanim and our leaders handed him over, so that he could be sentenced to death and executed on a stake as a criminal. <sup>21</sup> And we had hoped that he would be the one to liberate Isra’el! Besides all that, today is the third day since these things happened; <sup>22</sup> and this morning, some of the women astounded us. They were at the tomb early <sup>23</sup> and couldn’t find his body, so they came back; but they also reported that they had seen a vision of angels who say he’s alive! <sup>24</sup> Some of our friends went to the tomb and found it exactly as the women had said, but they didn’t see him.”

<sup>25</sup> He said to them, “Foolish people! So unwilling to put your trust in everything the prophets spoke! <sup>26</sup> Didn’t the Messiah have to die like this before entering his glory?” <sup>27</sup> Then, starting with Moshe and all the prophets, he explained to them the things that can be found throughout the Tanakh concerning himself.

<sup>28</sup> They approached the village where they were going. He made as if he were going on farther; <sup>29</sup> but they held him back, saying, “Stay with us, for it’s almost evening, and it’s getting dark.” So he went in to stay with them. <sup>30</sup> As he was reclining with them at the table, he took the matzah, made the b’rakhah, broke it and handed it to them. <sup>31</sup> Then their eyes were opened, and they recognized him. But he became invisible to them. <sup>32</sup> They said to each other, “Didn’t our hearts burn inside us as he spoke to us on the road, opening up the Tanakh to us?”

<sup>33</sup> They got up at once, returned to Yerushalayim and found the Eleven gathered together with their friends, <sup>34</sup> saying, “It’s true! The Lord has risen! Shim’on saw him!” <sup>35</sup> Then the two told what had happened on the road and how he had become known to them in the breaking of the matzah.

<sup>36</sup> They were still talking about it when—there he was, standing among them! <sup>37</sup> Startled and terrified, they thought they were seeing a ghost. <sup>38</sup> But he said to them, “Why are you so upset? Why are these doubts welling up inside you? <sup>39</sup> Look at my hands and my feet — it is I, myself! Touch me and see — a ghost doesn’t have flesh and bones, as you can see I do.” <sup>40</sup> As he said this, he showed them his hands and feet. <sup>41</sup> While they were still unable to believe it for joy and stood there dumbfounded, he said to them, “Have you something here to eat?” <sup>42</sup> They gave him a piece of broiled fish, <sup>43</sup> which he took and ate in their presence.

<sup>44</sup> Yeshua said to them, “This is what I meant when I was still with you and told you that everything written about me in the Torah of Moshe, the Prophets and the Psalms had to be fulfilled.” <sup>45</sup> Then he opened their minds, so that they could understand the Tanakh, <sup>46</sup> telling them, “Here is what it says: the Messiah is to suffer and to rise from the dead on the third day; <sup>47</sup> and in his name repentance leading to forgiveness of sins is to be proclaimed to people from all nations, starting with Yerushalayim. <sup>48</sup> You are witnesses of these things. <sup>49</sup> Now I am sending forth upon you what my Father promised, so stay here in the city until you have been equipped with power from above.”

<sup>50</sup> He led them out toward Beit-Anyah; then, raising his hands, he said a b’rakhah over them; <sup>51</sup> and as he was blessing them, he withdrew from them and was carried up into heaven. <sup>52</sup> They bowed in worship to him, then returned to Yerushalayim, overflowing with joy. <sup>53</sup> And they spent all their time in the Temple courts, praising God.

Yochanan

JOHN

1 <sup>1</sup> In the beginning was the Word,
and the Word was with God,

and the Word was God.

<sup>2</sup> He was with God in the beginning.

<sup>3</sup> All things came to be through him,
and without him nothing made had being.

<sup>4</sup> In him was life,
and the life was the light of mankind.

<sup>5</sup> The light shines in the darkness,
and the darkness has not suppressed it.

<sup>6</sup> There was a man sent from God whose name was Yochanan. <sup>7</sup> He came to be a testimony, to bear witness concerning the light; so that through him, everyone might put his trust in God and be faithful to him. <sup>8</sup> He himself was not that light; no, he came to bear witness concerning the light.

<sup>9</sup> This was the true light, which gives light to everyone entering the world.

<sup>10</sup> He was in the world — the world came to be through him — yet the world did not know him.

<sup>11</sup> He came to his own homeland,

yet his own people did not receive him.

<sup>12</sup> But to as many as did receive him, to those who put their trust in his person and power, he gave the right to become children of God, <sup>13</sup> not because of bloodline, physical impulse or human intention, but because of God.

<sup>14</sup> The Word became a human being and lived with us, and we saw his Sh'khinah,

the Sh'khinah of the Father's only Son,

full of grace and truth.

<sup>15</sup> Yochanan witnessed concerning him when he cried out, "This is the man I was talking about when I said, 'The one coming after me has come to rank ahead of me, because he existed before me.'"

<sup>16</sup> We have all received from his fullness, yes, grace upon grace.

<sup>17</sup> For the Torah was given through Moshe;
grace and truth came through Yeshua the Messiah.

<sup>18</sup> No one has ever seen God; but the only and unique Son, who is identical with God and is at the Father's side — he has made him known.

<sup>19</sup> Here is Yochanan's testimony: when the Judeans sent cohanim and L'vi'im from Yerushalayim to ask him, "Who are you?" <sup>20</sup> he was very straightforward and stated clearly, "I am not the Messiah." <sup>21</sup> "Then who are you?" they asked him. "Are you Eliyahu?" "No, I am not," he said. "Are you 'the prophet,' the one we're expecting?" "No," he replied. <sup>22</sup> So they said to him, "Who are you? — so that we can give an answer to the people who sent us. What do you have to say about yourself?" <sup>23</sup> He answered in the words of Yesha'yahu the prophet, "I am

The voice of someone crying out:

<sup>24</sup> Some of those who had been sent were P'rushim. <sup>25</sup> They asked him, “If you are neither the Messiah nor Eliyahu nor ‘the prophet,’ then why are you immersing people?” <sup>26</sup> To them Yochanan replied, “I am immersing people in water, but among you is standing someone whom you don’t know. <sup>27</sup> He is the one coming after me — I’m not good enough even to untie his sandal!” <sup>28</sup> All this took place in Beit-Anyah, east of the Yarden, where Yochanan was immersing.

<sup>29</sup> The next day, Yochanan saw Yeshua coming toward him and said, “Look! God’s lamb! The one who is taking away the sin of the world! <sup>30</sup> This is the man I was talking about when I said, ‘After me is coming someone who has come to rank above me, because he existed before me.’ <sup>31</sup> I myself did not know who he was, but the reason I came immersing with water was so that he might be made known to Isra’el.” <sup>32</sup> Then Yochanan gave this testimony: “I saw the Spirit coming down from heaven like a dove, and remaining on him. <sup>33</sup> I myself did not know who he was, but the one who sent me to immerse in water said to me, ‘The one on whom you see the Spirit descending and remaining, this is the one who immerses in the Ruach HaKodesh.’ <sup>34</sup> And I have seen and borne witness that this is the Son of God.”

<sup>35</sup> The next day, Yochanan was again standing with two of his talmidim. <sup>36</sup> On seeing Yeshua walking by, he said, “Look! God’s lamb!” <sup>37</sup> His two talmidim heard him speaking, and they followed Yeshua. <sup>38</sup> Yeshua turned and saw them following him, and he asked them, “What are you looking for?” They said to him, “Rabbi!” (which means “Teacher!”) “Where are you staying?” <sup>39</sup> He said to them, “Come and see.” So they went and saw where he was staying, and remained with him the rest of the day—it was about four o’clock in the afternoon. <sup>40</sup> One of the two who had heard Yochanan and had followed Yeshua was Andrew the brother of Shim’on Kefa.

<sup>41</sup> The first thing he did was to find his brother Shim’on and tell him, “We’ve found the Mashiach!” (The word means “one who has been anointed.” <sup>42</sup> He took him to Yeshua. Looking at him, Yeshua said, “You are Shim’on Bar-Yochanan; you will be known as Kefa.” (The name means “rock.”)

<sup>43</sup> The next day, having decided to leave for the Galil, Yeshua found Philip and said, “Follow me!” <sup>44</sup> Philip was from Beit-Tzaidah, the town where Andrew and Kefa lived. <sup>45</sup> Philip found Natan’el and told him, “We’ve found the one that Moshe wrote about in the Torah, also the Prophets—it’s Yeshua Ben-Yosef from Natzeret!” <sup>46</sup> Natan’el answered him, “Natzeret? Can anything good come from there?” “Come and see,” Philip said to him. <sup>47</sup> Yeshua saw Natan’el coming toward him and remarked about him, “Here’s a true son of Isra’el—nothing false in him!” <sup>48</sup> Natan’el said to him, “How do you know me?” Yeshua answered him, “Before Philip called you, when you were under the fig tree, I saw you.” <sup>49</sup> Natan’el said, “Rabbi, you are the Son of God! You are the King of Isra’el!” <sup>50</sup> Yeshua answered him, “you believe all this just because I told you I saw you under the fig tree? You will see greater things than that!” <sup>51</sup> Then he said to him, “Yes indeed! I tell you that you will see heaven opened and the angels of God going up and coming down<sup>b</sup> on the Son of Man!”

2 <sup>1</sup> On Tuesday<sup>a</sup> there was a wedding at Kanah in the Galil; and the mother of Yeshua was there. <sup>2</sup> Yeshua too was invited to the wedding, along with his talmidim. <sup>3</sup> The wine ran out, and Yeshua’s mother said to him, “They have no more wine.” <sup>4</sup> Yeshua replied, “Mother, why should that concern me? — or you? My time hasn’t come yet.” <sup>5</sup> His mother said to the servants, “Do whatever he tells you.” <sup>6</sup> Now six stone water-jars were standing there for the Jewish ceremonial washings, each with a capacity of twenty or thirty gallons. <sup>7</sup> Yeshua told them, “Fill the jars with water,” and they filled them to the brim. <sup>8</sup> He said, “Now draw some out, and take it to the man in charge of the banquet”; and they took it. <sup>9</sup> The man in charge tasted the water; it had now turned into wine! He did not know where it had come from, but the servants who had drawn the water knew. So he called the bridegroom <sup>10</sup> and said to him, “Everyone else serves the good wine first and the poorer wine after people have drunk freely. But you have kept the good wine until now!” <sup>11</sup> This, the first of Yeshua’s miraculous signs, he did at Kanah in the Galil; he manifested his glory, and his talmidim came to trust in him. <sup>12</sup> Afterwards, he, his mother and brothers, and his talmidim went down to K’far-Nachum and stayed there a few days.

<sup>13</sup> It was almost time for the festival of Pesach in Y’hudah, so Yeshua went up to Yerushalayim. <sup>14</sup> In the Temple grounds he found those who were selling cattle, sheep and pigeons, and others who were sitting at tables exchanging money. <sup>15</sup> He made a whip from cords and drove them all out of the Temple grounds, the sheep and cattle as well. He knocked over the money-changers' tables, scattering their coins;

<sup>16</sup> and to the pigeon-sellers he said, "Get these things out of here! How dare you turn my Father's house into a market?" <sup>17</sup> (His talmidim later recalled that the Tanakh says, "Zeal for your house will devour me." <sup>ε</sup>) <sup>18</sup> So the Judeans confronted him by asking him, "What miraculous sign can you show us to prove you have the right to do all this?" <sup>19</sup> Yeshua answered them, "Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up again." <sup>20</sup> The Judeans said, "It took 46 years to build this Temple, and you're going to raise it in three days?" <sup>21</sup> But the "temple" he had spoken of was his body. <sup>22</sup> Therefore, when he was raised from the dead, his talmidim remembered that he had said this, and they trusted in the Tanakh and in what Yeshua had said.

<sup>23</sup> Now while Yeshua was in Yerushalayim at the Pesach festival, there were many people who "believed in his name" when they saw the miracles he performed. <sup>24</sup> But he did not commit himself to them, for he knew what people are like—<sup>25</sup> that is, he didn't need anyone to inform him about a person, because he knew what was in the person's heart.

3 <sup>1</sup> There was a man among the P'rushim, named Nakdimon, who was a ruler of the Judeans. <sup>2</sup> This man came to Yeshua by night and said to him, "Rabbi, we know it is from God that you have come as a teacher; for no one can do these miracles you perform unless God is with him." <sup>3</sup> "Yes, indeed," Yeshua answered him, "I tell you that unless a person is born again from above, he cannot see the Kingdom of God."

<sup>4</sup> Nakdimon said to him, "How can a grown man be 'born'? Can he go back into his mother's womb and be born a second time?" <sup>5</sup> Yeshua answered, "Yes, indeed, I tell you that unless a person is born from water and the Spirit, he cannot enter the Kingdom of God. <sup>6</sup> What is born from the flesh is flesh, and what is born from the Spirit is spirit. <sup>7</sup> Stop being amazed at my telling you that you must be born again from above! <sup>8</sup> The wind blows where it wants to, and you hear its sound, but you don't know where it comes from or where it's going. That's how it is with everyone who has been born from the Spirit."

<sup>9</sup> Nakdimon replied, “How can this happen?” <sup>10</sup> Yeshua answered him, “You hold the office of teacher in Isra’el, and you don’t know this? <sup>11</sup> Yes, indeed! I tell you that what we speak about, we know; and what we give evidence of, we have seen; but you people don’t accept our evidence! <sup>12</sup> If you people don’t believe me when I tell you about the things of the world, how will you believe me when I tell you about the things of heaven? <sup>13</sup> No one has gone up into heaven; there is only the one who has come down from heaven, the Son of Man. <sup>14</sup> Just as Moshe lifted up the serpent in the desert, so must the Son of Man be lifted up; <sup>15</sup> so that everyone who trusts in him may have eternal life.

<sup>16</sup> “For God so loved the world that he gave his only and unique Son, so that everyone who trusts in him may have eternal life, instead of being utterly destroyed. <sup>17</sup> For God did not send the Son into the world to judge the world, but rather so that through him, the world might be saved. <sup>18</sup> Those who trust in him are not judged; those who do not trust have been judged already, in that they have not trusted in the one who is God’s only and unique Son.

<sup>19</sup> “Now this is the judgment: the light has come into the world, but people loved the darkness rather than the light. Why? Because their actions were wicked. <sup>20</sup> For everyone who does evil things hates the light and avoids it, so that his actions won’t be exposed. <sup>21</sup> But everyone who does what is true comes to the light, so that all may see that his actions are accomplished through God.”

<sup>25</sup> A discussion arose between some of Yochanan’s talmidim and a Judean about ceremonial washing; <sup>26</sup> and they came to Yochanan and said to him, “Rabbi, you know the man who was with you on the other side of the Yarden, the one you spoke about? Well, here he is, immersing; and everyone is going to him!” <sup>27</sup> Yochanan answered, “No one can receive anything unless it has been given to him from Heaven. <sup>28</sup> You yourselves can confirm that I did not say I was the Messiah, but that I have been sent ahead of him. <sup>29</sup> The bridegroom is the one who has the bride; but the bridegroom’s friend, who stands and listens to him, is overjoyed at the sound of the bridegroom's voice. So this joy of mine is now complete. <sup>30</sup> He must become more important, while I become less important.

<sup>5</sup> He came to a town in Shomron called Sh'khem, near the field Ya'akov had given to his son Yosef. <sup>6</sup> Ya'akov's Well was there; so Yeshua, exhausted from his travel, sat down by the well; it was about noon. <sup>7</sup> A woman from Shomron came to draw some water; and Yeshua said to her, "Give me a drink of water." <sup>8</sup> (His talmidim had gone into town to buy food.) <sup>9</sup> The woman from Shomron said to him, "How is it that you, a Jew, ask for water from me, a woman of Shomron?" (For Jews don't associate with people from Shomron.) <sup>10</sup> Yeshua answered her, "If you knew God's gift, that is, who it is saying to you, 'Give me a drink of water,' then you would have asked him; and he would have given you living water."

<sup>11</sup> She said to him, "Sir, you don't have a bucket, and the well is deep; so where do you get this 'living water'?" <sup>12</sup> You aren't greater than our father Ya'akov, are you? He gave us this well and drank from it, and so did his sons and his cattle." <sup>13</sup> Yeshua answered, "Everyone who drinks this water will get thirsty again, <sup>14</sup> but whoever drinks the water I will give him will never be thirsty again! On the contrary, the water I give him will become a spring of water inside him, welling up into eternal life!"

<sup>15</sup> "Sir, give me this water," the woman said to him, "so that I won't have to be thirsty and keep coming here to draw water." <sup>16</sup> He said to her, "Go, call your husband, and come back." <sup>17</sup> She answered, "I don't have a husband.” Yeshua said to her, “You’re right, you don’t have a husband! <sup>18</sup> You’ve had five husbands in the past, and you’re not married to the man you’re living with now! You’ve spoken the truth!”

<sup>19</sup> “Sir, I can see that you are a prophet,” the woman replied. <sup>20</sup> “Our fathers worshipped on this mountain, but you people say that the place where one has to worship is in Yerushalayim.” <sup>21</sup> Yeshua said, “Lady, believe me, the time is coming when you will worship the Father neither on this mountain nor in Yerushalayim. <sup>22</sup> You people don’t know what you are worshipping; we worship what we do know, because salvation comes from the Jews. <sup>23</sup> But the time is coming — indeed, it’s here now — when the true worshippers will worship the Father spiritually and truly, for these are the kind of people the Father wants worshipping him. <sup>24</sup> God is spirit; and worshippers must worship him spiritually and truly.”

<sup>25</sup> The woman replied, “I know that Mashiach is coming” (that is, “the one who has been anointed”). “When he comes, he will tell us everything.”

<sup>27</sup> Just then, his talmidim arrived. They were amazed that he was talking with a woman; but none of them said, “What do you want?” or, “Why are you talking with her?” <sup>28</sup> So the woman left her water-jar, went back to the town and said to the people there, <sup>29</sup> “Come, see a man who told me everything I’ve ever done. Could it be that this is the Messiah?” <sup>30</sup> They left the town and began coming toward him.

<sup>31</sup> Meanwhile, the talmidim were urging Yeshua, “Rabbi, eat something.” <sup>32</sup> But he answered, “I have food to eat that you don’t know about.” <sup>33</sup> At this, the talmidim asked one another, “Could someone have brought him food?” <sup>34</sup> Yeshua said to them, “My food is to do what the one who sent me wants and to bring his work to completion. <sup>35</sup> Don’t you have a saying, ‘Four more months and then the harvest’? Well, what I say to you is: open your eyes and look at the fields! They’re already ripe for harvest! <sup>36</sup> The one who reaps receives his wages and gathers fruit for eternal life, so that the reaper and the sower may be glad together — <sup>37</sup> for in this matter, the proverb, ‘One sows and another reaps,’ holds true. <sup>38</sup> I sent you to reap what you haven’t worked for. Others have done the hard labor, and you have benefited from their work.”

<sup>39</sup> Many people from that town in Shomron put their trust in him because of the woman’s testimony, “He told me all the things I did.” <sup>40</sup> So when these people from Shomron came to him, they asked him to stay with them.

He stayed two days, <sup>41</sup> and many more came to trust because of what he said. <sup>42</sup> They said to the woman, “We no longer trust because of what you said, because we have heard for ourselves. We know indeed that this man really is the Savior of the world.”

<sup>43</sup> After the two days, he went on from there toward the Galil. <sup>44</sup> Now Yeshua himself said, “A prophet is not respected in his own country.” <sup>45</sup> But when he arrived in the Galil, the people there welcomed him, because they had seen all he had done at the festival in Yerushalayim; since they had been there too.

<sup>46</sup> He went again to Kanah in the Galil, where he had turned the water into wine. An officer in the royal service was there; his son was ill in K’far-Nachum. <sup>47</sup> This man, on hearing that Yeshua had come from Y’hudah to the Galil, went and asked him to come down and heal his son, for he was at the point of death. <sup>48</sup> Yeshua answered, “Unless you people see signs and miracles, you simply will not trust!” <sup>49</sup> The officer said to him, “Sir, come down before my child dies.” <sup>50</sup> Yeshua replied, “You may go, your son is alive.” The man believed what Yeshua said and left. <sup>51</sup> As he was going down, his servants met him with the news that his son was alive <sup>52</sup> So he asked them at what time he had gotten better; and they said, “The fever left him yesterday at one o’clock in the afternoon.” <sup>53</sup> The father knew that that was the very hour when Yeshua had told him, “Your son is alive”; and he and all his household trusted. <sup>54</sup> This was a second sign that Yeshua did; he did it after he had come from Y’hudah into the Galil.

them, “The man who healed me — he’s the one who told me, ‘Pick up your mat and walk.’” <sup>12</sup> They asked him, “Who is the man who told you to pick it up and walk?” <sup>13</sup> But the man who had been healed didn’t know who it was, because Yeshua had slipped away into the crowd.

<sup>14</sup> Afterwards Yeshua found him in the Temple court and said to him, “See, you are well! Now stop sinning, or something worse may happen to you!” <sup>15</sup> The man went off and told the Judeans it was Yeshua who had healed him; <sup>16</sup> and on account of this, the Judeans began harassing Yeshua because he did these things on Shabbat.

<sup>17</sup> But he answered them, “My Father has been working until now, and I too am working.” <sup>18</sup> This answer made the Judeans all the more intent on killing him — not only was he breaking Shabbat; but also, by saying that God was his own Father, he was claiming equality with God. <sup>19</sup> Therefore, Yeshua said this to them: “Yes, indeed! I tell you that the Son cannot do anything on his own, but only what he sees the Father doing; whatever the Father does, the Son does too. <sup>20</sup> For the Father loves the Son and shows him everything he does; and he will show him even greater things than these, so that you will be amazed. <sup>21</sup> Just as the Father raises the dead and makes them alive, so too the Son makes alive anyone he wants. <sup>22</sup> The Father does not judge anyone but has entrusted all judgment to the Son, <sup>23</sup> so that all may honor the Son as they honor the Father. Whoever fails to honor the Son is not honoring the Father who sent him. <sup>24</sup> Yes, indeed! I tell you that whoever hears what I am saying and trusts the One who sent me has eternal life — that is, he will not come up for judgment but has already crossed over from death to life! <sup>25</sup> Yes, indeed! I tell you that there is coming a time — in fact, it’s already here — when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God, and those who listen will come to life. <sup>26</sup> For just as the Father has life in himself, so he has given the Son life to have in himself. <sup>27</sup> Also he has given him authority to execute judgment, because he is the Son of Man. <sup>28</sup> Don’t be surprised at this; because the time is coming when all who are in the grave will hear his voice <sup>29</sup> and come out — those who have done good to a resurrection of life, and those who have done evil to a resurrection of judgment. <sup>30</sup> I can’t do a thing on my own. As I hear, I judge; and my judgment is right; because I don’t seek my own desire, but the desire of the one who sent me.

<sup>31</sup> “If I testify on my own behalf, my testimony is not valid. <sup>32</sup> But there is someone else testifying on my behalf, and I know that the testimony he is making is valid — <sup>33</sup> you have sent to Yochanan, and he has testified to the truth. <sup>34</sup> Not that I collect human testimony; rather, I say these things so that you might be saved. <sup>35</sup> He was a lamp burning and shining, and for a little while you were willing to bask in his light.

<sup>36</sup> “But I have a testimony that is greater than Yochanan’s. For the things the Father has given me to do, the very things I am doing now, testify on my behalf that the Father has sent me.

<sup>37</sup> “In addition, the Father who sent me has himself testified on my behalf. But you have never heard his voice or seen his shape; <sup>38</sup> moreover, his word does not stay in you, because you don’t trust the one he sent. <sup>39</sup> You keep examining the Tanakh because you think that in it you have eternal life. Those very Scriptures bear witness to me, <sup>40</sup> but you won’t come to me in order to have life!

<sup>45</sup> “But don’t think that it is I who will be your accuser before the Father. Do you know who will accuse you? Moshe, the very one you have counted on! <sup>46</sup> For if you really believed Moshe, you would believe me; because it was about me that he wrote. <sup>47</sup> But if you don’t believe what he wrote, how are you going to believe what I say?”

6 <sup>1</sup> Some time later, Yeshua went over to the far side of Lake Kinneret (that is, Lake Tiberias), <sup>2</sup> and a large crowd followed him, because they had seen the miracles he had performed on the sick. <sup>3</sup> Yeshua went up into the hills and sat down there with his talmidim. <sup>4</sup> Now the Judean festival of Pesach was coming up; <sup>5</sup> so when Yeshua looked up and saw that a large crowd was approaching, he said to Philip, “Where will we be able to buy bread, so that these people can eat?” <sup>6</sup> (Now Yeshua said this to test Philip, for Yeshua himself knew what he was about to do.) <sup>7</sup> Philip answered, “Half a year’s wages wouldn’t buy enough bread for them — each one would get only a bite!” <sup>8</sup> One of the talmidim, Andrew the brother of Shim’on Kefa, said to him, <sup>9</sup> “There’s a young fellow here who has five loaves of barley bread and two fish. But how far will they go among so many?”

<sup>10</sup> Yeshua said, "Have the people sit down." There was a lot of grass there, so they sat down. The number of men was about five thousand. <sup>11</sup> Then Yeshua took the loaves of bread, and, after making a b'rakhah, gave to all who were sitting there, and likewise with the fish, as much as they wanted. <sup>12</sup> After they had eaten their fill, he told his talmidim, "Gather the leftover pieces, so that nothing gets wasted." <sup>13</sup> They gathered them and filled twelve baskets with the pieces from the five barley loaves left by those who had eaten.

<sup>14</sup> When the people saw the miracle he had performed, they said, "This has to be 'the prophet' who is supposed to come into the world." <sup>15</sup> Yeshua knew that they were on the point of coming and seizing him, in order to make him king; so he went back to the hills again. This time he went by himself.

<sup>22</sup> The next day, the crowd which had stayed on the other side of the lake noticed that there had been only one boat there, and that Yeshua had not entered the boat with his talmidim, but that the talmidim had been alone when they sailed off. <sup>23</sup> Then other boats, from Tiberias, came ashore near the place where they had eaten the bread after the Lord had made the b'rakhah. <sup>24</sup> Accordingly, when the crowd saw that neither Yeshua nor his talmidim were there, they themselves boarded the boats and made for K'far-Nachum in search of Yeshua.

<sup>25</sup> When they found him on the other side of the lake, they asked him, "Rabbi, when did you get here?" <sup>26</sup> Yeshua answered, "Yes, indeed! I tell you, you're not looking for me because you saw miraculous signs, but because you ate the bread and had all you wanted! <sup>27</sup> Don't work for the food which passes away but for the food that stays on into eternal life, which the Son of Man will give you. For this is the one on whom God the Father has put his seal."

<sup>30</sup> They said to him, ‘Nu, what miracle will you do for us, so that we may see it and trust you? What work can you perform?’ <sup>31</sup> Our fathers ate man in the desert — as it says in the Tanakh, ‘He gave them bread from heaven to eat.’<sup>d</sup> <sup>32</sup> Yeshua said to them, “Yes, indeed! I tell you it wasn’t Moshe who gave you the bread from heaven. But my Father is giving you the genuine bread from heaven; <sup>33</sup> for God’s bread is the one who comes down out of heaven and gives life to the world.”

<sup>34</sup> They said to him, “Sir, give us this bread from now on.” <sup>35</sup> Yeshua answered, “I am the bread which is life! Whoever comes to me will never go hungry, and whoever trusts in me will never be thirsty. <sup>36</sup> I told you that you have seen but still don’t trust. <sup>37</sup> Everyone the Father gives me will come to me, and whoever comes to me I will certainly not turn away. <sup>38</sup> For I have come down from heaven to do not my own will but the will of the One who sent me. <sup>39</sup> And this is the will of the One who sent me: that I should not lose any of all those he has given me but should raise them up on the Last Day. <sup>40</sup> Yes, this is the will of my Father: that all who see the Son and trust in him should have eternal life, and that I should raise them up on the Last Day.”

<sup>41</sup> At this the Judeans began grumbling about him because he said, “I am the bread which has come down from heaven.” <sup>42</sup> They said, “Isn’t this Yeshua Ben-Yosef? We know his father and mother! How can he now say, ‘I have come down from heaven’?” <sup>43</sup> Yeshua answered them, “Stop grumbling to each other! <sup>44</sup> No one can come to me unless the Father — the One who sent me — draws him. And I will raise him up on the Last Day. <sup>45</sup> It is written in the Prophets, ‘They will all be taught by ADONAI.’<sup>e</sup> Everyone who listens to the Father and learns from him comes to me. <sup>46</sup> Not that anyone has seen the Father except the one who is from God — he has seen the Father. <sup>47</sup> Yes, indeed! I tell you, whoever trusts has eternal life: <sup>48</sup> I am the bread which is life. <sup>49</sup> Your fathers ate the man in the desert; they died. <sup>50</sup> But the bread that comes down from heaven is such that a person may eat it and not die. <sup>51</sup> I am the living bread that has come down from heaven; if anyone eats this bread, he will live forever. Furthermore, the bread that I will give is my own flesh; and I will give it for the life of the world.”

<sup>52</sup> At this, the Judeans disputed with one another, saying, “How can this man give us his flesh to eat?” <sup>53</sup> Then Yeshua said to them, “Yes, indeed! I tell you that unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you do not have life in yourselves. <sup>54</sup> Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life — that is, I will raise him up on the Last Day. <sup>55</sup> For my flesh is true food, and my blood is true drink. <sup>56</sup> Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood lives in me, and I live in him. <sup>57</sup> Just as the living Father sent me, and I live through the Father, so also whoever eats me will live through me. <sup>58</sup> So this is the bread that has come down from heaven — it is not like the bread the fathers ate; they’re dead, but whoever eats this bread will live forever!” <sup>59</sup> He said these things as he was teaching in a synagogue in K’far-Nachum.

<sup>60</sup> On hearing it, many of his talmidim said, “This is a hard word — who can bear to listen to it?” <sup>61</sup> But Yeshua, aware that his talmidim were grumbling about this, said to them, “This is a trap for you? <sup>62</sup> Suppose you were to see the Son of Man going back up to where he was before? <sup>63</sup> It is the Spirit who gives life, the flesh is no help. The words I have spoken to you are Spirit and life, <sup>64</sup> yet some among you do not trust.” (For Yeshua knew from the outset which ones would not trust him, also which one would betray him.) <sup>65</sup> “This,” he said, “is why I told you that no one can come to me unless the Father has made it possible for him.”

<sup>66</sup> From this time on, many of his talmidim turned back and no longer traveled around with him. <sup>67</sup> So Yeshua said to the Twelve, “Don’t you want to leave too?” <sup>68</sup> Shim’on Kefa answered him, “Lord, to whom would we go? You have the word of eternal life. <sup>69</sup> We have trusted, and we know that you are the Holy One of God.” <sup>70</sup> Yeshua answered them, “Didn’t I choose you, the Twelve? Yet one of you is an adversary.” <sup>71</sup> (He was speaking of Y’hudah Ben-Shim’on, from K’riot; for this man —one of the Twelve! — was soon to betray him.)

7 <sup>1</sup> After this, Yeshua traveled around in the Galil, intentionally avoiding Y’hudah because the Judeans were out to kill him. <sup>2</sup> But the festival of Sukkot in Y’hudah was near; <sup>3</sup> so his brothers said to him, “Leave here and go into Y’hudah, so that your talmidim can see the miracles you do; <sup>4</sup> for no one who wants to become known acts in secret. If you’re doing these things, show yourself to the world!” <sup>5</sup> (His brothers spoke this way because they had not put their trust in him.) <sup>6</sup> Yeshua said to them, “My time has not yet come; but for you, any time is right. <sup>7</sup> The world can’t hate you, but it does hate me, because I keep telling it how wicked its ways are. <sup>8</sup> You, go on up to the festival; as for me, I am not going up to this festival now, because the right time for me has not yet come.” <sup>9</sup> Having said this, he stayed on in the Galil.

<sup>10</sup> But after his brothers had gone up to the festival, he too went up, not publicly but in secret. <sup>11</sup> At the festival, the Judeans were looking for him. “Where is he?” they asked. <sup>12</sup> And among the crowds there was much whispering about him. Some said, “He’s a good man”; but others said, “No, he is deceiving the masses.” <sup>13</sup> However, no one spoke about him openly, for fear of the Judeans.

<sup>14</sup> Not until the festival was half over did Yeshua go up to the Temple courts and begin to teach. <sup>15</sup> The Judeans were surprised: “How does this man know so much without having studied?” they asked. <sup>16</sup> So Yeshua gave them an answer: “My teaching is not my own, it comes from the One who sent me. <sup>17</sup> If anyone wants to do his will, he will know whether my teaching is from God or I speak on my own. <sup>18</sup> A person who speaks on his own is trying to win praise for himself; but a person who tries to win praise for the one who sent him is honest, there is nothing false about him. <sup>19</sup> Didn’t Moshe give you the Torah? Yet not one of you obeys the Torah! Why are you out to kill me?” <sup>20</sup> “You have a demon!” the crowd answered. “Who’s out to kill you?” <sup>21</sup> Yeshua answered them, “I did one thing; and because of this, all of you are amazed. <sup>22</sup> Moshe gave you b’rit-milah — not that it came from Moshe but from the Patriarchs — and you do a boy’s b’rit-milah on Shabbat. <sup>23</sup> If a boy is circumcised on Shabbat so that the Torah of Moshe will not be broken, why are you angry with me because I made a man’s whole body well on Shabbat? <sup>24</sup> Stop judging by surface appearances, and judge the right way!”

<sup>25</sup> Some of the Yerushalayim people said, “Isn’t this the man they’re out to kill? <sup>26</sup> Yet here he is, speaking openly; and they don’t say anything to him. It couldn’t be, could it, that the authorities have actually concluded he’s the Messiah? <sup>27</sup> Surely not — we know where this man comes from; but when the Messiah comes, no one will know where he comes from.” <sup>28</sup> Whereupon Yeshua, continuing to teach in the Temple courts, cried out, “Indeed you do know me! And you know where I’m from! And I have not come on my own! The One who sent me is real. But him you don't know! <sup>29</sup> I do know him, because I am with him, and he sent me!"

<sup>30</sup> At this, they tried to arrest him; but no one laid a hand on him; because his time had not yet come. <sup>31</sup> However, many in the crowd put their trust in him and said, "When the Messiah comes, will he do more miracles than this man has done?"

<sup>32</sup> The P'rushim heard the crowd whispering these things about Yeshua; so the head cohanim and the P'rushim sent some of the Temple guards to arrest him. <sup>33</sup> Yeshua said, "I will be with you only a little while longer; then I will go away to the One who sent me. <sup>34</sup> You will look for me and not find me; indeed, where I am, you cannot come." <sup>35</sup> The Judeans said to themselves, "Where is this man about to go, that we won't find him? Does he intend to go to the Greek Diaspora and teach the Greek-speaking Jews? <sup>36</sup> And when he says, 'You will look for me and not find me; indeed, where I am, you cannot come' — what does he mean?"

<sup>40</sup> On hearing his words, some people in the crowd said, "Surely this man is 'the prophet'"; <sup>41</sup> others said, "This is the Messiah." But others said, "How can the Messiah come from the Galil? <sup>42</sup> Doesn't the Tanakh say that the Messiah is from the seed of David<sup>f</sup> and comes from Beit-Lechem,<sup>g</sup> the village where David lived?" <sup>43</sup> So the people were divided because of him. <sup>44</sup> Some wanted to arrest him, but no one laid a hand on him.

<sup>50</sup> Nakdimon, the man who had gone to Yeshua before and was one of them, said to them, <sup>51</sup> "Our Torah doesn't condemn a man — does it? — until after hearing from him and finding out what he's doing." <sup>52</sup> They replied, "You aren't from the Galil too, are you? Study the Tanakh, and see for yourself that no prophet comes from the Galil!” <sup>53</sup> Then they all left, each one to his own home.

8 <sup>1</sup> But Yeshua went to the Mount of Olives. <sup>2</sup> At daybreak, he appeared again in the Temple Court, where all the people gathered around him, and he sat down to teach them. <sup>3</sup> The Torah-teachers and the P'rushim brought in a woman who had been caught committing adultery and made her stand in the center of the group. <sup>4</sup> Then they said to him, “Rabbi, this woman was caught in the very act of committing adultery. <sup>5</sup> Now in our Torah, Moshe commanded that such a woman be stoned to death. What do you say about it?” <sup>6</sup> They said this to trap him, so that they might have ground for bringing charges against him; but Yeshua bent down and began writing in the dust with his finger. <sup>7</sup> When they kept questioning him, he straightened up and said to them, “The one of you who is without sin, let him be the first to throw a stone at her.” <sup>8</sup> Then he bent down and wrote in the dust again. <sup>9</sup> On hearing this, they began to leave, one by one, the older ones first, until he was left alone, with the woman still there. <sup>10</sup> Standing up, Yeshua said to her, “Where are they? Has no one condemned you?” <sup>11</sup> She said, “No one, sir.” Yeshua said, “Neither do I condemn you. Now go, and don’t sin any more.”

<sup>12</sup> Yeshua spoke to them again: “I am the light of the world; whoever follows me will never walk in darkness but will have the light which gives life.” <sup>13</sup> So the P'rushim said to him, “Now you’re testifying on your own behalf; your testimony is not valid.” <sup>14</sup> Yeshua answered them, “Even if I do testify on my own behalf, my testimony is indeed valid; because I know where I came from and where I’m going; but you do not know where I came from or where I’m going. <sup>15</sup> You judge by merely human standards. As for me, I pass judgment on no one; <sup>16</sup> but if I were indeed to pass judgment, my judgment would be valid; because it is not I alone who judge, but I and the One who sent me. <sup>17</sup> And even in your Torah it is written that the testimony of two people is valid. <sup>18</sup> I myself testify on my own behalf, and so does the Father who sent me.”

<sup>19</sup> They said to him, “Where is this ‘father’ of yours?” Yeshua answered, “You know neither me nor my Father; if you knew me, you would know my Father too.” <sup>20</sup> He said these things when he was teaching in the Temple treasury room; yet no one arrested him, because his time had not yet come.

<sup>21</sup> Again he told them, “I am going away, and you will look for me, but you will die in your sin — where I am going, you cannot come.” <sup>22</sup> The Judeans said, “Is he going to commit suicide? Is that what he means when he says, ‘Where I am going, you cannot come’?” <sup>23</sup> Yeshua said to them, “You are from below, I am from above; you are of this world, I am not of this world. <sup>24</sup> This is why I said to you that you will die in your sins; for if you do not trust that I AM [who I say I am], you will die in your sins.”

<sup>25</sup> At this, they said to him, “You? Who are you?” Yeshua answered, “Just what I’ve been telling you from the start. <sup>26</sup> There are many things I could say about you, and many judgments I could make. However, the One who sent me is true; so I say in the world only what I have heard from him.” <sup>27</sup> They did not understand that he was talking to them about the Father. <sup>28</sup> So Yeshua said, “When you lift up the Son of Man, then you will know that I AM [who I say I am], and that of myself I do nothing, but say only what the Father has taught me. <sup>29</sup> Also, the One who sent me is still with me; he did not leave me to myself, because I always do what pleases him.”

<sup>30</sup> Many people who heard him say these things trusted in him. <sup>31</sup> So Yeshua said to the Judeans who had trusted him, “If you obey what I say, then you are really my talmidim, <sup>32</sup> you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free.” <sup>33</sup> They answered, “We are the seed of Avraham and have never been slaves to anyone; so what do you mean by saying, ‘You will be set free’?” <sup>34</sup> Yeshua answered them, “Yes, indeed! I tell you that everyone who practices sin is a slave of sin. <sup>35</sup> Now a slave does not remain with a family forever, but a son does remain with it forever. <sup>36</sup> So if the Son frees you, you will really be free! <sup>37</sup> I know you are the seed of Avraham. Yet you are out to kill me, because what I am saying makes no headway in you. <sup>38</sup> I say what my Father has shown me; you do what your father has told you!”

<sup>39</sup> They answered him, “Our father is Avraham.” Yeshua replied, “If you are children of Avraham, then do the things Avraham did! <sup>40</sup> As it is, you are out to kill me, a man who has told you the truth which I heard from God. Avraham did nothing like that! <sup>41</sup> You are doing the things your father does.” “We’re not illegitimate children!” they said to him. “We have only one Father — God!” <sup>42</sup> Yeshua replied to them, “If God were your Father, you would love me; because I came out from God; and now I have arrived here. I did not come on my own; he sent me. <sup>43</sup> Why don’t you understand what I’m saying? Because you can’t bear to listen to my message. <sup>44</sup> You belong to your father, Satan, and you want to carry out your father's desires. From the start he was a murderer, and he has never stood by the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he tells a lie, he is speaking in character; because he is a liar — indeed, the inventor of the lie! <sup>45</sup> But as for me, because I tell the truth you don't believe me. <sup>46</sup> Which one of you can show me where I'm wrong? If I'm telling the truth, why don't you believe me? <sup>47</sup> Whoever belongs to God listens to what God says; the reason you don't listen is that you don't belong to God."

<sup>48</sup> The Judeans answered him, "Aren't we right in saying you are from Shomron and have a demon?" <sup>49</sup> Yeshua replied, "Me? I have no demon. I am honoring my Father. But you dishonor me. <sup>50</sup> I am not seeking praise for myself. There is One who is seeking it, and he is the judge. <sup>51</sup> Yes, indeed! I tell you that whoever obeys my teaching will never see death."

<sup>52</sup> The Judeans said to him, "Now we know for sure that you have a demon! Avraham died, and so did the prophets; yet you say, 'Whoever obeys my teaching will never taste death.' <sup>53</sup> Avraham avinu died; you aren't greater than he, are you? And the prophets also died. Who do you think you are?" <sup>54</sup> Yeshua answered, "If I praise myself, my praise counts for nothing. The One who is praising me is my Father, the very one about whom you keep saying, 'He is our God.' <sup>55</sup> Now you have not known him, but I do know him; indeed, if I were to say that I don't know him, I would be a liar like you! But I do know him, and I obey his word. <sup>56</sup> Avraham, your father, was glad that he would see my day; then he saw it and was overjoyed."

<sup>57</sup> "Why, you're not yet fifty years old," the Judeans replied, "and you have seen Avraham?" <sup>58</sup> Yeshua said to them, "Yes, indeed! Before Avraham came into being, I AM!" <sup>59</sup> At this, they picked up stones to throw at him; but Yeshua was hidden and left the Temple grounds.

9 <sup>1</sup> As Yeshua passed along, he saw a man blind from birth. <sup>2</sup> His talmidim asked him, "Rabbi, who sinned — this man or his parents — to cause him to be born blind?" <sup>3</sup> Yeshua answered, "His blindness is due neither to his sin nor to that of his parents; it happened so that God's power might be seen at work in him. <sup>4</sup> As long as it is day, we must keep doing the work of the One who sent me; the night is coming, when no one can work. <sup>5</sup> While I am in the world, I am the light of the world."

<sup>6</sup> Having said this, he spit on the ground, made some mud with the saliva, put the mud on the man's eyes, <sup>7</sup> and said to him, "Go, wash off in the Pool of Shiloach!" (The name means "sent.") So he went and washed and came away seeing.

<sup>8</sup> His neighbors and those who previously had seen him begging said, "Isn't this the man who used to sit and beg?" <sup>9</sup> Some said, "Yes, he's the one"; while others said, "No, but he looks like him." However, he himself said, "I'm the one." <sup>10</sup> "How were your eyes opened?" they asked him. <sup>11</sup> He answered, "The man called Yeshua made mud, put it on my eyes, and told me, 'Go to Shiloach and wash!' So I went; and as soon as I had washed, I could see." <sup>12</sup> They said to him, "Where is he?" and he replied, "I don't know."

<sup>13</sup> They took the man who had been blind to the P'rushim. <sup>14</sup> Now the day on which Yeshua had made the mud and opened his eyes was Shabbat. <sup>15</sup> So the P'rushim asked him again how he had become able to see; and he told them, "He put mud on my eyes, then I washed, and now I can see." <sup>16</sup> At this, some of the P'rushim said, "This man is not from God, because he doesn't keep Shabbat." But others said, "How could a man who is a sinner do miracles like these?" And there was a split among them. <sup>17</sup> So once more they spoke to the blind man: "Since you're the one whose eyes he opened, what do you say about him?" He replied: "He is a prophet."

<sup>18</sup> The Judeans, however, were unwilling to believe that he had formerly been blind, but now could see, until they had summoned the man's parents. <sup>19</sup> They asked them, "Is this your son, who you say was born blind? How is it that now he can see?" <sup>20</sup> His parents answered, "We know that this is our son and that he was born blind; <sup>21</sup> but how it is that he can see now, we don't know; nor do we know who opened his eyes. Ask him — he's old enough, he can speak for himself!" <sup>22</sup> The parents said this because they were afraid of the Judeans, for the Judeans had already agreed that anyone who acknowledged Yeshua as the Messiah would be banned from the synagogue. <sup>23</sup> This is why his parents said, "He's old enough, ask him."

<sup>24</sup> So a second time they called the man who had been blind; and they said to him, "Swear to God that you will tell the truth! We know that this man is a sinner." <sup>25</sup> He answered, "Whether he's a sinner or not I don't know. One thing I do know: I was blind, now I see." <sup>26</sup> So they said to him, "What did he do to you? How did he open your eyes?" <sup>27</sup> "I already told you," he answered, "and you didn't listen. Why do you want to hear it again? Maybe you too want to become his talmidim?" <sup>28</sup> Then they railed at him. "You may be his talmid," they said, "but we are talmidim of Moshe!" <sup>29</sup> We know that God has spoken to Moshe, but as for this fellow — we don't know where he's from!" <sup>30</sup> "What a strange thing," the man answered, "that you don't know where he's from — considering that he opened my eyes!" <sup>31</sup> We know that God doesn't listen to sinners; but if anyone fears God and does his will, God does listen to him. <sup>32</sup> In all history no one has ever heard of someone's opening the eyes of a man born blind. <sup>33</sup> If this man were not from God, he couldn't do a thing!" <sup>34</sup> "Why, you mamzer!" they retorted, "Are you lecturing us?" And they threw him out.

<sup>35</sup> Yeshua heard that they had thrown the man out. He found him and said, "Do you trust in the Son of Man?" <sup>36</sup> "Sir," he answered, "tell me who he is, so that I can trust in him." <sup>37</sup> Yeshua said to him, "You have seen him. In fact, he's the one speaking with you now." <sup>38</sup> "Lord, I trust!" he said, and he knelt down in front of him.

<sup>39</sup> Yeshua said, "It is to judge that I came into this world, so that those who do not see might see, and those who do see might become blind." <sup>40</sup> Some of the P'rushim nearby heard this and said to him, "So we're blind too, are we?" <sup>41</sup> Yeshua answered them, "If you were blind, you would not be guilty of sin. But since you still say, 'We see,' your guilt remains.

10 <sup>1</sup> "Yes, indeed! I tell you, the person who doesn't enter the sheep-pen through the door, but climbs in some other way, is a thief and a robber. <sup>2</sup> But the one who goes in through the gate is the sheep's own shepherd. <sup>3</sup> This is the one the gate-keeper admits, and the sheep hear his voice. He calls his own sheep, each one by name, and leads them out. <sup>4</sup> After taking out all that are his own, he goes on ahead of them; and the sheep follow him because they recognize his voice. <sup>5</sup> They never follow a stranger but will run away from him, because strangers' voices are unfamiliar to them."

<sup>6</sup> Yeshua used this indirect manner of speaking with them, but they didn't understand what he was talking to them about. <sup>7</sup> So Yeshua said to them again, "Yes, indeed! I tell you that I am the gate for the sheep. <sup>8</sup> All those who have come before me have been thieves and robbers, but the sheep didn't listen to them. <sup>9</sup> I am the gate; if someone enters through me, he will be safe and will go in and out and find pasture. <sup>10</sup> The thief comes only in order to steal, kill and destroy; I have come so that they may have life, life in its fullest measure.

<sup>11</sup> “I am the good shepherd. The good shepherd lays down his life for the sheep. <sup>12</sup> The hired hand, since he isn’t a shepherd and the sheep aren’t his own, sees the wolf coming, abandons the sheep and runs away. Then the wolf drags them off and scatters them. <sup>13</sup> The hired worker behaves like this because that’s all he is, a hired worker; so it doesn’t matter to him what happens to the sheep. <sup>14</sup> I am the good shepherd; I know my own, and my own know me — <sup>15</sup> just as the Father knows me, and I know the Father — and I lay down my life on behalf of the sheep. <sup>16</sup> Also I have other sheep which are not from this pen; I need to bring them, and they will hear my voice; and there will be one flock, one shepherd.

<sup>17</sup> “This is why the Father loves me: because I lay down my life — in order to take it up again! <sup>18</sup> No one takes it away from me; on the contrary, I lay it down of my own free will. I have the power to lay it down, and I have the power to take it up again. This is what my Father commanded me to do.”

<sup>19</sup> Again there was a split among the Judeans because of what he said. <sup>20</sup> Many of them said, “He has a demon!” and “He’s meshugga! Why do you listen to him?” <sup>21</sup> Others said, “These are not the deeds of a man who is demonized — how can a demon open blind people’s eyes?”

<sup>22</sup> Then came Hanukkah in Yerushalayim. It was winter, <sup>23</sup> and Yeshua was walking around inside the Temple area, in Shlomo’s Colonnade. <sup>24</sup> So the Judeans surrounded him and said to him, “How much longer are you going to keep us in suspense? If you are the Messiah, tell us publicly!” <sup>25</sup> Yeshua answered them, “I have already told you, and you don’t trust me. The works I do in my Father’s name testify on my behalf, <sup>26</sup> but the reason you don’t trust is that you are not included among my sheep. <sup>27</sup> My sheep listen to my voice, I recognize them, they follow me, <sup>28</sup> and I give them eternal life. They will absolutely never be destroyed, and no one will snatch them from my hands. <sup>29</sup> My Father, who gave them to me, is greater than all; and no one can snatch them from the Father’s hands. <sup>30</sup> I and the Father are one.”

blasphemy — because you, who are only a man, are making yourself out to be God [Hebrew: Elohim].”<sup>34</sup> Yeshua answered them, “Isn’t it written in your Torah, ‘I have said, “You people are Elohim”’?”<sup>35</sup> If he called ‘elohim’ the people to whom the word of Elohim was addressed (and the Tanakh cannot be broken),<sup>36</sup> then are you telling the one whom the Father set apart as holy and sent into the world, ‘You are committing blasphemy,’ just because I said, ‘I am a son of Elohim’?

<sup>37</sup> “If I am not doing deeds that reflect my Father’s power, don’t trust me.”<sup>38</sup> But if I am, then, even if you don’t trust me, trust the deeds; so that you may understand once and for all that the Father is united with me, and I am united with the Father.”<sup>39</sup> One more time they tried to arrest him, but he slipped out of their hands.

<sup>40</sup> He went off again beyond the Yarden, where Yochanan had been immersing at first, and stayed there.<sup>41</sup> Many people came to him and said, “Yochanan performed no miracles, but everything Yochanan said about this man was true.”<sup>42</sup> And many people there put their trust in him.

11<sup>1</sup> There was a man who had fallen sick. His name was El‘azar, and he came from Beit-Anyah, the village where Miryam and her sister Marta lived.<sup>2</sup> (This Miryam, whose brother El‘azar had become sick, is the one who poured perfume on the Lord and wiped his feet with her hair.)<sup>3</sup> So the sisters sent a message to Yeshua, “Lord, the man you love is sick.”<sup>4</sup> On hearing it, he said, “This sickness will not end in death. No, it is for God’s glory, so that the Son of God may receive glory through it.”

<sup>5</sup> Yeshua loved Marta and her sister and El‘azar;<sup>6</sup> so when he heard he was sick, first he stayed where he was two more days;<sup>7</sup> then, after this, he said to the talmidim, “Let’s go back to Y’hudah.”<sup>8</sup> The talmidim replied, “Rabbi! Just a short while ago the Judeans were out to stone you — and you want to go back there?”<sup>9</sup> Yeshua answered, “Aren’t there twelve hours of daylight? If a person walks during daylight, he doesn’t stumble; because he sees the light of this world.<sup>10</sup> But if a person walks at night, he does stumble; because he has no light with him.”

<sup>11</sup> Yeshua said these things, and afterwards he said to the talmidim, “Our friend El‘azar has gone to sleep; but I am going in order to wake him up.”<sup>12</sup> The talmidim said to him, “Lord, if he has gone to sleep, he will get better.”

<sup>13</sup> Now Yeshua had used the phrase to speak about El‘azar’s death, but they thought he had been talking literally about sleep. <sup>14</sup> So Yeshua told them in plain language, “El‘azar has died. <sup>15</sup> And for your sakes, I am glad that I wasn’t there, so that you may come to trust. But let’s go to him.” <sup>16</sup> Then T’oma (the name means “twin”) said to his fellow talmidim, “Yes, we should go, so that we can die with him!”

<sup>21</sup> Marta said to Yeshua, “Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died. <sup>22</sup> Even now I know that whatever you ask of God, God will give you.” <sup>23</sup> Yeshua said to her, “Your brother will rise again.” <sup>24</sup> Marta said, “I know that he will rise again at the Resurrection on the Last Day.” <sup>25</sup> Yeshua said to her, “I AM the Resurrection and the Life! Whoever puts his trust in me will live, even if he dies; <sup>26</sup> and everyone living and trusting in me will never die. Do you believe this?” <sup>27</sup> She said to him, “Yes, Lord, I believe that you are the Messiah, the Son of God, the one coming into the world.”

<sup>32</sup> When Miryam came to where Yeshua was and saw him, she fell at his feet and said to him, “Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died.” <sup>33</sup> When Yeshua saw her crying, and also the Judeans who came with her crying, he was deeply moved and also troubled. <sup>34</sup> He said, “Where have you buried him?” They said, “Lord, come and see.” <sup>35</sup> Yeshua cried; <sup>36</sup> so the Judeans there said, “See how he loved him!” <sup>37</sup> But some of them said, “He opened the blind man’s eyes. Couldn’t he have kept this one from dying?”

<sup>38</sup> Yeshua, again deeply moved, came to the tomb. It was a cave, and a stone was lying in front of the entrance. <sup>39</sup> Yeshua said, “Take the stone away!” Marta, the sister of the dead man, said to Yeshua, “By now his body must smell, for it has been four days since he died!”<sup>40</sup> Yeshua said to her, “Didn’t I tell you that if you keep trusting, you will see the glory of God?”<sup>41</sup> So they removed the stone. Yeshua looked upward and said, “Father, I thank you that you have heard me.”<sup>42</sup> I myself know that you always hear me, but I say this because of the crowd standing around, so that they may believe that you have sent me.”<sup>43</sup> Having said this, he shouted, “El‘azar! Come out!”<sup>44</sup> The man who had been dead came out, his hands and feet wrapped in strips of linen and his face covered with a cloth. Yeshua said to them, “Unwrap him, and let him go!”<sup>45</sup> At this, many of the Judeans who had come to visit Miryam, and had seen what Yeshua had done, trusted in him.

<sup>46</sup> But some of them went off to the P’rushim and told them what he had done.<sup>47</sup> So the head cohanim and the P’rushim called a meeting of the Sanhedrin and said, “What are we going to do? — for this man is performing many miracles.”<sup>48</sup> If we let him keep going on this way, everyone will trust in him, and the Romans will come and destroy both the Temple and the nation.”<sup>49</sup> But one of them, Kayafa, who was cohen gadol that year, said to them, “You people don’t know anything!”<sup>50</sup> You don’t see that it’s better for you if one man dies on behalf of the people, so that the whole nation won’t be destroyed.”<sup>51</sup> Now he didn’t speak this way on his own initiative; rather, since he was cohen gadol that year, he was prophesying that Yeshua was about to die on behalf of the nation,<sup>52</sup> and not for the nation alone, but so that he might gather into one the scattered children of God.

<sup>53</sup> From that day on, they made plans to have him put to death.<sup>54</sup> Therefore Ye-shua no longer walked around openly among the Judeans but went away from there into the region near the desert, to a town called Efrayim, and stayed there with his talmidim.

<sup>55</sup> The Judean festival of Pesach was near, and many people went up from the country to Yerushalayim to perform the purification ceremony prior to Pesach.<sup>56</sup> They were looking for Yeshua, and as they stood in the Temple courts they said to each other, “What do you think? that he simply won’t come to the festival?”<sup>57</sup> Moreover, the head cohanim and the P’rushim had given orders that anyone knowing Yeshua’s whereabouts should inform them, so that they could have him arrested.

12 <sup>1</sup> Six days before Pesach, Yeshua came to Beit-Anyah, where El‘azar lived, the man Yeshua had raised from the dead; <sup>2</sup> so they gave a dinner there in his honor. Marta served the meal, and El‘azar was among those at the table with him. <sup>3</sup> Miryam took a whole pint of pure oil of spikenard, which is very expensive, poured it on Yeshua’s feet and wiped his feet with her hair, so that the house was filled with the fragrance of the perfume. <sup>4</sup> But one of the talmidim, Y’hudah from K’riot, the one who was about to betray him, said, <sup>5</sup> “This perfume is worth a year’s wages! Why wasn’t it sold and the money given to the poor?” <sup>6</sup> Now he said this not out of concern for the poor, but because he was a thief — he was in charge of the common purse and used to steal from it. <sup>7</sup> Yeshua said, “Leave her alone! She kept this for the day of my burial. <sup>8</sup> You always have the poor among you, but you will not always have me.”

<sup>9</sup> A large crowd of Judeans learned that he was there; and they came not only because of Yeshua, but also so that they could see El‘azar, whom he had raised from the dead. <sup>10</sup> The head cohanim then decided to do away with El‘azar too, <sup>11</sup> since it was because of him that large numbers of the Judeans were leaving their leaders and putting their trust in Yeshua.

<sup>12</sup> The next day, the large crowd that had come for the festival heard that Yeshua was on his way into Yerushalayim. <sup>13</sup> They took palm branches and went out to meet him, shouting,

“Deliver us!”<sup>i</sup>

“Blessed is he who comes in the name of ADONAI,<sup>j</sup> the King of Isra’el!”

<sup>14</sup> After finding a donkey colt, Yeshua mounted it, just as the Tanakh says —

Look! your King is coming,

sitting on a donkey’s colt.”<sup>k</sup>

<sup>16</sup> His talmidim did not understand this at first; but after Yeshua had been glorified, then they remembered that the Tanakh said this about him, and that they had done this for him.<sup>17</sup> The group that had been with him when he called El‘azar out of the tomb and raised him from the dead had been telling about it.<sup>18</sup> It was because of this too that the crowd came out to meet him — they had heard that he had performed this miracle.<sup>19</sup> The P’rushim said to each other, “Look, you’re getting nowhere! Why, the whole world has gone after him!”

<sup>20</sup> Among those who went up to worship at the festival were some Greek-speaking Jews.<sup>21</sup> They approached Philip, the one from Beit-Tzaidah in the Galil, with a request. “Sir,” they said, “we would like to see Yeshua.”<sup>22</sup> Philip came and told Andrew; then Andrew and Philip went and told Yeshua.<sup>23</sup> Yeshua gave them this answer: “The time has come for the Son of Man to be glorified.<sup>24</sup> Yes, indeed! I tell you that unless a grain of wheat that falls to the ground dies, it stays just a grain; but if it dies, it produces a big harvest.<sup>25</sup> He who loves his life loses it, but he who hates his life in this world will keep it safe right on into eternal life!<sup>26</sup> If someone is serving me, let him follow me; wherever I am, my servant will be there too. My Father will honor anyone who serves me.

<sup>27</sup> “Now I am in turmoil. What can I say — ‘Father, save me from this hour’? No, it was for this very reason that I have come to this hour. I will say this:<sup>28</sup> ‘Father, glorify your name!’” At this a bat-kol came out of heaven, “I have glorified it before, and I will glorify it again!”<sup>29</sup> The crowd standing there and hearing it said that it had thundered; others said, “An angel spoke to him.”<sup>30</sup> Yeshua answered, “This bat-kol did not come for my sake but for yours.<sup>31</sup> Now is the time for this world to be judged, now the ruler of this world will be expelled.<sup>32</sup> As for me, when I am lifted up from the earth, I will draw everyone to myself.”<sup>33</sup> He said this to indicate what kind of death he would die.

<sup>34</sup> The crowd answered, “We have learned from the Torah that the Messiah remains forever. How is it that you say the Son of Man has to be ‘lifted up’? Who is this ‘Son of Man’?”<sup>35</sup> Yeshua said to them, “The light will be with you only a little while longer. Walk while you have the light, or the dark will overtake you; he who walks in the dark doesn’t know where he’s going.<sup>36</sup> While you have the light, put your trust in the light, so that you may become people of light.” Yeshua said these things, then went off and kept himself hidden from them.

<sup>37</sup> Even though he had performed so many miracles in their presence, they still did not put their trust in him,<sup>38</sup> in order that what Yesha‘yahu the prophet had said might be fulfilled,

“A<sub>DONAI</sub>, who has believed our report?

To whom has the arm of A<sub>DONAI</sub> been revealed?”<sup>l</sup>

<sup>39</sup> The reason they could not believe was—as Yesha‘yahu said elsewhere—

<sup>40</sup> “He has blinded their eyes

and hardened their hearts,

so that they do not see with their eyes,

understand with their hearts,

and do t’shuvah,

so that I could heal them.”<sup>m</sup>

<sup>41</sup> (Yesha‘yahu said these things because he saw the Sh’khinah of Yeshua and spoke about him.) <sup>42</sup> Nevertheless, many of the leaders did trust in him; but because of the P’rushim they did not say so openly, out of fear of being banned from the synagogue; <sup>43</sup> for they loved praise from other people more than praise from God.

<sup>44</sup> Yeshua declared publicly, “Those who put their trust in me are trusting not merely in me, but in the One who sent me. <sup>45</sup> Also those who see me see the One who sent me. <sup>46</sup> I have come as a light into the world, so that everyone who trusts in me might not remain in the dark. <sup>47</sup> If anyone hears what I am saying and does not observe it, I don’t judge him; for I did not come to judge the world, but to save the world. <sup>48</sup> Those who reject me and don’t accept what I say have a judge—the word which I have spoken will judge them on the Last Day. <sup>49</sup> For I have not spoken on my own initiative, but the Father who sent me has given me a command, namely, what to say and how to say it. <sup>50</sup> And I know that his command is eternal life. So what I say is simply what the Father has told me to say.”

13 <sup>1</sup> It was just before the festival of Pesach, and Yeshua knew that the time had come for him to pass from this world to the Father. Having loved his own people in the world, he loved them to the end. <sup>2</sup> They were at supper, and the Adversary had already put the desire to betray him into the heart of Y'hudah Ben-Shim'on from K'riot. <sup>3</sup> Yeshua was aware that the Father had put everything in his power, and that he had come from God and was returning to God. <sup>4</sup> So he rose from the table, removed his outer garments and wrapped a towel around his waist. <sup>5</sup> Then he poured some water into a basin and began to wash the feet of the talmidim and wipe them off with the towel wrapped around him.

<sup>6</sup> He came to Shim'on Kefa, who said to him, "Lord! You are washing my feet?" <sup>7</sup> Yeshua answered him, "You don't understand yet what I am doing, but in time you will understand." <sup>8</sup> "No!" said Kefa, "You will never wash my feet!" Yeshua answered him, "If I don't wash you, you have no share with me." <sup>9</sup> "Lord," Shim'on Kefa replied, "not only my feet, but my hands and head too!" <sup>10</sup> Yeshua said to him, "A man who has had a bath doesn't need to wash, except his feet — his body is already clean. And you people are clean, but not all of you." <sup>11</sup> (He knew who was betraying him; this is why he said, "Not all of you are clean.")

<sup>12</sup> After he had washed their feet, taken back his clothes and returned to the table, he said to them, "Do you understand what I have done to you? <sup>13</sup> You call me 'Rabbi' and 'Lord,' and you are right, because I am. <sup>14</sup> Now if I, the Lord and Rabbi, have washed your feet, you also should wash each other's feet. <sup>15</sup> For I have set you an example, so that you may do as I have done to you. <sup>16</sup> Yes, indeed! I tell you, a slave is not greater than his master, nor is an emissary greater than the one who sent him. <sup>17</sup> If you know these things, you will be blessed if you do them.

<sup>18</sup> "I'm not talking to all of you — I know which ones I have chosen. But the words of the Tanakh must be fulfilled that say, 'The one eating my bread has turned against me.'" <sup>19</sup> I'm telling you now, before it happens; so that when it does happen, you may believe that I AM [who I say I am]. <sup>20</sup> Yes, indeed! I tell you that a person who receives someone I send receives me, and that anyone who receives me receives the One who sent me."

<sup>24</sup> So Shim'on Kefa motioned to him and said, "Ask which one he's talking about." <sup>25</sup> Leaning against Yeshua's chest, he asked Yeshua, "Lord, who is it?" <sup>26</sup> Yeshua answered, "It's the one to whom I give this piece of matzah after I dip it in the dish." So he dipped the piece of matzah and gave it to Y'hudah Ben-Shim'on from K'riot. <sup>27</sup> As soon as Y'hudah took the piece of matzah, the Adversary went into him. "What you are doing, do quickly!" Yeshua said to him. <sup>28</sup> But no one at the table understood why he had said this to him. <sup>29</sup> Some thought that since Y'hudah was in charge of the common purse, Yeshua was telling him, "Buy what we need for the festival," or telling him to give something to the poor. <sup>30</sup> As soon as he had taken the piece of matzah, Y'hudah went out, and it was night.

<sup>31</sup> After Y'hudah had left, Yeshua said, "Now the Son of Man has been glorified, and God has been glorified in him. <sup>32</sup> If the Son has glorified God, God will himself glorify the Son, and will do so without delay. <sup>33</sup> Little children, I will be with you only a little longer. You will look for me; and, as I said to the Judeans, 'Where I am going, you cannot come,' now I say it to you as well.

<sup>34</sup> "I am giving you a new command: that you keep on loving each other. In the same way that I have loved you, you are also to keep on loving each other. <sup>35</sup> Everyone will know that you are my talmidim by the fact that you have love for each other."

<sup>36</sup> Shim'on Kefa said to him, "Lord, where are you going?" Yeshua answered, "Where I am going, you cannot follow me now; but you will follow later." <sup>37</sup> "Lord," Kefa said to him, "why can't I follow you now? I will lay down my life for you!" <sup>38</sup> Yeshua answered, "You will lay down your life for me? Yes, indeed! I tell you, before the rooster crows you will disown me three times.

14 <sup>1</sup> Don't let yourselves be disturbed. Trust in God and trust in me. <sup>2</sup> In my Father's house are many places to live. If there weren't, I would have told you; because I am going there to prepare a place for you. <sup>3</sup> Since I am going and preparing a place for you, I will return to take you with me; so that where I am, you may be also. <sup>4</sup> Furthermore, you know where I'm going; and you know the way there."

<sup>5</sup> T'oma said to him, "Lord, we don't know where you're going; so how can we know the way?" <sup>6</sup> Yeshua said, "I AM the Way — and the Truth and the Life; no one comes to the Father except through me. <sup>7</sup> Because you have known me, you will also know my Father; from now on, you do know him — in fact, you have seen him.”

<sup>8</sup> Philip said to him, “Lord, show us the Father, and it will be enough for us.” <sup>9</sup> Yeshua replied to him, “Have I been with you so long without your knowing me, Philip? Whoever has seen me has seen the Father; so how can you say, ‘Show us the Father’? <sup>10</sup> Don’t you believe that I am united with the Father, and the Father united with me? What I am telling you, I am not saying on my own initiative; the Father living in me is doing his own works. <sup>11</sup> Trust me, that I am united with the Father, and the Father united with me. But if you can’t, then trust because of the works themselves. <sup>12</sup> Yes, indeed! I tell you that whoever trusts in me will also do the works I do! Indeed, he will do greater ones, because I am going to the Father. <sup>13</sup> In fact, whatever you ask for in my name, I will do; so that the Father may be glorified in the Son. <sup>14</sup> If you ask me for something in my name, I will do it.

<sup>15</sup> “If you love me, you will keep my commands; <sup>16</sup> and I will ask the Father, and he will give you another comforting Counselor like me, the Spirit of Truth, to be with you forever. <sup>17</sup> The world cannot receive him, because it neither sees nor knows him. You know him, because he is staying with you and will be united with you. <sup>18</sup> I will not leave you orphans — I am coming to you. <sup>19</sup> In just a little while, the world will no longer see me; but you will see me. Because I live, you too will live. <sup>20</sup> When that day comes, you will know that I am united with my Father, and you with me, and I with you. <sup>21</sup> Whoever has my commands and keeps them is the one who loves me, and the one who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and reveal myself to him.”

<sup>22</sup> Y’hudah (not the one from K’riot) said to him, “What has happened, Lord, that you are about to reveal yourself to us and not to the world?” <sup>23</sup> Yeshua answered him, “If someone loves me, he will keep my word; and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our home with him. <sup>24</sup> Someone who doesn’t love me doesn’t keep my words — and the word you are hearing is not my own but that of the Father who sent me.

<sup>25</sup> “I have told you these things while I am still with you. <sup>26</sup> But the Counselor, the Ruach HaKodesh, whom the Father will send in my name, will teach you everything; that is, he will remind you of everything I have said to you.

<sup>27</sup> “What I am leaving with you is shalom — I am giving you my shalom. I don’t give the way the world gives. Don’t let yourselves be upset or frightened. <sup>28</sup> You heard me tell you, ‘I am leaving, and I will come back to you.’ If you loved me, you would have been glad that I am going to the Father; because the Father is greater than I.

<sup>29</sup> “Also, I have said it to you now, before it happens; so that when it does happen, you will trust.

<sup>30</sup> “I won’t be talking with you much longer, because the ruler of this world is coming. He has no claim on me; <sup>31</sup> rather, this is happening so that the world may know that I love the Father, and that I do as the Father has commanded me.

“Get up! Let’s get going!

15 <sup>1</sup> “I am the real vine, and my Father is the gardener. <sup>2</sup> Every branch which is part of me but fails to bear fruit, he cuts off; and every branch that does bear fruit, he prunes, so that it may bear more fruit. <sup>3</sup> Right now, because of the word which I have spoken to you, you are pruned. <sup>4</sup> Stay united with me, as I will with you — for just as the branch can’t put forth fruit by itself apart from the vine, so you can’t bear fruit apart from me.

<sup>5</sup> “I am the vine and you are the branches. Those who stay united with me, and I with them, are the ones who bear much fruit; because apart from me you can’t do a thing. <sup>6</sup> Unless a person remains united with me, he is thrown away like a branch and dries up. Such branches are gathered and thrown into the fire, where they are burned up.

<sup>7</sup> “If you remain united with me, and my words with you, then ask whatever you want, and it will happen for you. <sup>8</sup> This is how my Father is glorified—in your bearing much fruit; this is how you will prove to be my talmidim.

<sup>9</sup> “Just as my Father has loved me, I too have loved you; so stay in my love. <sup>10</sup> If you keep my commands, you will stay in my love —just as I have kept my Father’s commands and stay in his love. <sup>11</sup> I have said this to you so that my joy may be in you, and your joy be complete.

<sup>12</sup> “This is my command: that you keep on loving each other just as I have loved you. <sup>13</sup> No one has greater love than a person who lays down his life for his friends. <sup>14</sup> You are my friends, if you do what I command you. <sup>15</sup> I no longer call you slaves, because a slave doesn’t know what his master is about; but I have called you friends, because everything I have heard from my Father I have made known to you. <sup>16</sup> You did not choose me, I chose you; and I have commissioned you to go and bear fruit, fruit that will last; so that whatever you ask from the Father in my name he may give you. <sup>17</sup> This is what I command you: keep loving each other!

<sup>18</sup> “If the world hates you, understand that it hated me first. <sup>19</sup> If you belonged to the world, the world would have loved its own. But because you do not belong to the world — on the contrary, I have picked you out of the world — therefore the world hates you. <sup>20</sup> Remember what I told you, ‘A slave is not greater than his master.’ If they persecuted me, they will persecute you too; if they kept my word, they will keep yours too. <sup>21</sup> But they will do all this to you on my account, because they don’t know the One who sent me.

<sup>22</sup> “If I had not come and spoken to them, they wouldn’t be guilty of sin; but now, they have no excuse for their sin. <sup>23</sup> Whoever hates me hates my Father also. <sup>24</sup> If I had not done in their presence works which no one else ever did, they would not be guilty of sin; but now, they have seen them and have hated both me and my Father. <sup>25</sup> But this has happened in order to fulfill the words in their Torah which read, ‘They hated me for no reason at all.’<sup>26</sup>

<sup>26</sup> “When the Counselor comes, whom I will send you from the Father — the Spirit of Truth, who keeps going out from the Father—he will testify on my behalf. <sup>27</sup> And you testify too, because you have been with me from the outset.

16 <sup>1</sup> “I have told you these things so that you won’t be caught by surprise. <sup>2</sup> They will ban you from the synagogue; in fact, the time will come when anyone who kills you will think he is serving God! <sup>3</sup> They will do these things because they have understood neither the Father nor me. <sup>4</sup> But I have told you this, so that when the time comes for it to happen, you will remember that I told you. I didn’t tell you this at first, because I was with you. <sup>5</sup> But now I am going to the One who sent me.

“Not one of you is asking me, ‘Where are you going?’ <sup>6</sup> Instead, because I have said these things to you, you are overcome with grief. <sup>7</sup> But I tell you the truth, it is to your advantage that I go away; for if I don’t go away, the comforting Counselor will not come to you. However, if I do go, I will send him to you.

<sup>8</sup> “When he comes, he will show that the world is wrong about sin, about righteousness and about judgment — <sup>9</sup> about sin, in that people don’t put their trust in me; <sup>10</sup> about righteousness, in that I am going to the Father and you will no longer see me; <sup>11</sup> about judgment, in that the ruler of this world has been judged.

<sup>12</sup> “I still have many things to tell you, but you can’t bear them now. <sup>13</sup> However, when the Spirit of Truth comes, he will guide you into all the truth; for he will not speak on his own initiative but will say only what he hears. He will also announce to you the events of the future. <sup>14</sup> He will glorify me, because he will receive from what is mine and announce it to you. <sup>15</sup> Everything the Father has is mine; this is why I said that he receives from what is mine and will announce it to you.

<sup>16</sup> “In a little while, you will see me no more; then, a little while later, you will see me.” <sup>17</sup> At this, some of the talmidim said to one another, “What is this that he’s telling us, ‘In a little while, you won’t see me; then, a little while later, you will see me’? and, ‘I am going to the Father’?” <sup>18</sup> They went on saying, “What is this ‘little while’? We don’t understand what he’s talking about.”

<sup>19</sup> Yeshua knew that they wanted to ask him, so he said to them, “Are you asking each other what I meant by saying, ‘In a little while, you won’t see me; and then, a little while later, you will see me’? <sup>20</sup> Yes, it’s true. I tell you that you will sob and mourn, and the world will rejoice; you will grieve, but your grief will turn to joy. <sup>21</sup> When a woman is giving birth, she is in pain; because her time has come. But when the baby is born, she forgets her suffering out of joy that a child has come into the world. <sup>22</sup> So you do indeed feel grief now, but I am going to see you again. Then your hearts will be full of joy, and no one will take your joy away from you.

<sup>23</sup> “When that day comes, you won’t ask anything of me! Yes, indeed! I tell you that whatever you ask from the Father, he will give you in my name. <sup>24</sup> Till now you haven’t asked for anything in my name. Keep asking, and you will receive, so that your joy may be complete.

<sup>25</sup> “I have said these things to you with the help of illustrations; however, a time is coming when I will no longer speak indirectly but will talk about the Father in plain language. <sup>26</sup> When that day comes, you will ask in my name. I am not telling you that I will pray to the Father on your behalf, <sup>27</sup> for the Father himself loves you, because you have loved me and have believed that I came from God.

<sup>28</sup> “I came from the Father and have come into the world; again, I am leaving the world and returning to the Father.”

<sup>29</sup> The talmidim said to him, “Look, you’re talking plainly right now, you’re not speaking indirectly at all. <sup>30</sup> Now we know that you know everything, and that you don’t need to have people put their questions into words. This makes us believe that you came from God.”

<sup>31</sup> Yeshua answered, “Now you do believe. <sup>32</sup> But a time is coming — indeed it has come already — when you will be scattered, each one looking out for himself; and you will leave me all alone. Yet I am not alone; because the Father is with me.

<sup>33</sup> “I have said these things to you so that, united with me, you may have shalom. In the world, you have tsuris. But be brave! I have conquered the world!”

17 <sup>1</sup> After Yeshua had said these things, he looked up toward heaven and said, “Father, the time has come. Glorify your Son, so that the Son may glorify you — <sup>2</sup>just as you gave him authority over all mankind, so that he might give eternal life to all those whom you have given him. <sup>3</sup> And eternal life is this: to know you, the one true God, and him whom you sent, Yeshua the Messiah.

<sup>4</sup> “I glorified you on earth by finishing the work you gave me to do. <sup>5</sup> Now, Father, glorify me alongside yourself. Give me the same glory I had with you before the world existed.

<sup>6</sup> “I made your name known to the people you gave me out of the world. They were yours, you gave them to me, and they have kept your word. <sup>7</sup> Now they know that everything you have given me is from you, <sup>8</sup> because the words you gave me I have given to them, and they have received them. They have really come to know that I came from you, and they have come to trust that you sent me.

<sup>9</sup> “I am praying for them. I am not praying for the world, but for those you have given to me, because they are yours. <sup>10</sup> Indeed, all I have is yours, and all you have is mine, and in them I have been glorified. <sup>11</sup> Now I am no longer in the world. They are in the world, but I am coming to you. Holy Father, guard them by the power of your name, which you have given to me, so that they may be one, just as we are. <sup>12</sup> When I was with them, I guarded them by the power of your name, which you have given to me; yes, I kept watch over them; and not one of them was destroyed (except the one meant for destruction, so that the Tanakh might be fulfilled). <sup>13</sup> But now, I am coming to you; and I say these things while I am still in the world so that they may have my joy made complete in themselves.

<sup>14</sup> “I have given them your word, and the world hated them, because they do not belong to the world — just as I myself do not belong to the world. <sup>15</sup> I don’t ask you to take them out of the world, but to protect them from the Evil One. <sup>16</sup> They do not belong to the world, just as I do not belong to the world. <sup>17</sup> Set them apart for holiness by means of the truth—your word is truth. <sup>18</sup> Just as you sent me into the world, I have sent them into the world. <sup>19</sup> On their behalf I am setting myself apart for holiness, so that they too may be set apart for holiness by means of the truth.

<sup>20</sup> “I pray not only for these, but also for those who will trust in me because of their word, <sup>21</sup> that they may all be one. Just as you, Father, are united with me and I with you, I pray that they may be united with us, so that the world may believe that you sent me. <sup>22</sup> The glory which you have given to me, I have given to them; so that they may be one, just as we are one—<sup>23</sup> I united with them and you with me, so that they may be completely one, and the world thus realize that you sent me, and that you have loved them just as you have loved me.

<sup>24</sup> “Father, I want those you have given me to be with me where I am; so that they may see my glory, which you have given me because you loved me before the creation of the world. <sup>25</sup> Righteous Father, the world has not known you, but I have known you, and these people have known that you sent me. <sup>26</sup> I made your name known to them, and I will continue to make it known; so that the love with which you have loved me may be in them, and I myself may be united with them.”

18 <sup>1</sup> After Yeshua had said all this, he went out with his talmidim across the stream that flows in winter through the Vadi Kidron, to a spot where there was a grove of trees; and he and his talmidim went into it. <sup>2</sup> Now Y’hudah, who was betraying him, also knew the place; because Yeshua had often met there with his talmidim. <sup>3</sup> So Y’hudah went there, taking with him a detachment of Roman soldiers and some Temple guards provided by the head cohanim and the P'rushim; they carried weapons, lanterns and torches.

<sup>4</sup> Yeshua, who knew everything that was going to happen to him, went out and asked them, "Whom do you want?" <sup>5</sup> "Yeshua from Natzeret," they answered. He said to them, "I AM." Also standing with them was Y'hudah, the one who was betraying him. <sup>6</sup> When he said, "I AM," they went backward from him and fell to the ground. <sup>7</sup> So he inquired of them once more, "Whom do you want?" and they said, "Yeshua from Natzeret." <sup>8</sup> "I told you, 'I AM,'" answered Yeshua, "so if I'm the one you want, let these others go." <sup>9</sup> This happened so that what he had said might be fulfilled, "I have not lost one of those you gave me."

<sup>10</sup> Then Shim'on Kefa, who had a sword, drew it and struck the slave of the cohen hagadol, cutting off his right ear; the slave's name was Melekh. <sup>11</sup> Yeshua said to Kefa, "Put your sword back in its scabbard! This is the cup the Father has given me; am I not to drink it?"

<sup>12</sup> So the detachment of Roman soldiers and their captain, together with the Temple Guard of the Judeans, arrested Yeshua, tied him up, <sup>13</sup> and took him first to 'Anan, the father-in-law of Kayafa, who was cohen gadol that fateful year. <sup>14</sup> (It was Kayafa who had advised the Judeans that it would be good for one man to die on behalf of the people.) <sup>15</sup> Shim'on Kefa and another talmid followed Yeshua. The second talmid was known to the cohen hagadol, and he went with Yeshua into the courtyard of the cohen hagadol; <sup>16</sup> but Kefa stood outside by the gate. So the other talmid, the one known to the cohen hagadol, went back out and spoke to the woman on duty at the gate, then brought Kefa inside. <sup>17</sup> The woman at the gate said to Kefa, "Aren't you another of that man's talmidim?" He said, "No, I'm not."

<sup>18</sup> Now the slaves and guards had lit a fire because it was cold, and they were standing around it warming themselves; Kefa joined them and stood warming himself too.

<sup>19</sup> The cohen hagadol questioned Yeshua about his talmidim and about what he taught. <sup>20</sup> Yeshua answered, "I have spoken quite openly to everyone; I have always taught in a synagogue or in the Temple where all Jews meet together, and I have said nothing in secret; <sup>21</sup> so why are you questioning me? Question the ones who heard what I said to them; look, they know what I said." <sup>22</sup> At these words, one of the guards standing by slapped Yeshua in the face and said, "This is how you talk to the cohen hagadol?" <sup>23</sup> Yeshua answered him, "If I said something wrong, state publicly what was wrong; but if I was right, why are you hitting me?”<sup>24</sup> So ‘Anan sent him, still tied up, to Kayafa the cohen hagadol.

<sup>25</sup> Meanwhile, Shim‘on Kefa was standing and warming himself. They said to him, “Aren’t you also one of his talmidim?” He denied it, saying, “No, I am not.”<sup>26</sup> One of the slaves of the cohen hagadol, a relative of the man whose ear Kefa had cut off, said, “Didn’t I see you with him in the grove of trees?”<sup>27</sup> So again Kefa denied it, and instantly a rooster crowed.

<sup>28</sup> They led Yeshua from Kayafa to the governor’s headquarters. By now it was early morning. They did not enter the headquarters building because they didn’t want to become ritually defiled and thus unable to eat the Pesach meal.<sup>29</sup> So Pilate went outside to them and said, “What charge are you bringing against this man?”<sup>30</sup> They answered, “If he hadn’t done something wrong, we wouldn’t have brought him to you.”<sup>31</sup> Pilate said to them, “You take him and judge him according to your own law.” The Judeans replied, “We don’t have the legal power to put anyone to death.”<sup>32</sup> This was so that what Yeshua had said, about how he was going to die, might be fulfilled.

<sup>33</sup> So Pilate went back into the headquarters, called Yeshua and said to him, “Are you the king of the Jews?”<sup>34</sup> Yeshua answered, “Are you asking this on your own, or have other people told you about me?”<sup>35</sup> Pilate replied, “Am I a Jew? Your own nation and head cohanim have handed you over to me; what have you done?”<sup>36</sup> Yeshua answered, “My kingship does not derive its authority from this world’s order of things. If it did, my men would have fought to keep me from being arrested by the Judeans. But my kingship does not come from here.”<sup>37</sup> “So then,” Pilate said to him, “You are a king, after all.” Yeshua answered, “You say I am a king. The reason I have been born, the reason I have come into the world, is to bear witness to the truth. Every one who belongs to the truth listens to me.”<sup>38</sup> Pilate asked him, “What is truth?”

Having said this, Pilate went outside again to the Judeans and told them, “I don’t find any case against him.”<sup>39</sup> However, you have a custom that at Passover I set one prisoner free. Do you want me to set free for you the ‘king of the Jews’?”<sup>40</sup> But they yelled back, “No, not this man but Bar-Abba!” (Bar-Abba was a revolutionary.)

19 <sup>1</sup> Pilate then took Yeshua and had him flogged. <sup>2</sup> The soldiers twisted thorn-branches into a crown and placed it on his head, put a purple robe on him, <sup>3</sup> and went up to him, saying over and over, “Hail, ‘king of the Jews’!” and hitting him in the face.

<sup>4</sup> Pilate went outside once more and said to the crowd, “Look, I’m bringing him out to you to get you to understand that I find no case against him.” <sup>5</sup> So Yeshua came out, wearing the thorn-branch crown and the purple robe. Pilate said to them, “Look at the man!” <sup>6</sup> When the head cohanim and the Temple guards saw him they shouted, “Put him to death on the stake! Put him to death on the stake!” Pilate said to them, “You take him out yourselves and put him to death on the stake, because I don’t find any case against him.” <sup>7</sup> The Judeans answered him, “We have a law; according to that law, he ought to be put to death, because he made himself out to be the Son of God.” <sup>8</sup> On hearing this, Pilate became even more frightened.

<sup>9</sup> He went back into the headquarters and asked Yeshua, “Where are you from?” But Yeshua didn’t answer. <sup>10</sup> So Pilate said to him, “You refuse to speak to me? Don’t you understand that it is in my power either to set you free or to have you executed on the stake?” <sup>11</sup> Yeshua answered, “You would have no power over me if it hadn’t been given to you from above; this is why the one who handed me over to you is guilty of a greater sin.” <sup>12</sup> On hearing this, Pilate tried to find a way to set him free; but the Judeans shouted, “If you set this man free, it means you’re not a ‘Friend of the Emperor’! Everyone who claims to be a king is opposing the Emperor!” <sup>13</sup> When Pilate heard what they were saying, he brought Yeshua outside and sat down on the judge’s seat in the place called The Pavement (in Aramaic, Gabta); <sup>14</sup> it was about noon on Preparation Day for Pesach. He said to the Judeans, “Here’s your king!” <sup>15</sup> They shouted, “Take him away! Take him away! Put him to death on the stake!” Pilate said to them, “You want me to execute your king on a stake?” The head cohanim answered, “We have no king but the Emperor.” <sup>16</sup> Then Pilate handed Yeshua over to them to have him put to death on the stake.

So they took charge of Yeshua. <sup>17</sup> Carrying the stake himself he went out to the place called Skull (in Aramaic, Gulgolta). <sup>18</sup> There they nailed him to the stake along with two others, one on either side, with Yeshua in the middle. <sup>19</sup> Pilate also had a notice written and posted on the stake; it read,

YESHUA FROM NATZERET THE KING OF THE JEWS

<sup>20</sup> Many of the Judeans read this notice, because the place where Yeshua was put on the stake was close to the city; and it had been written in Hebrew, in Latin and in Greek. <sup>21</sup> The Judeans' head cohanim therefore said to Pilate, "Don't write, 'The King of the Jews,' but 'He said, "I am King of the Jews."'" <sup>22</sup> Pilate answered, "What I have written, I have written."

<sup>23</sup> When the soldiers had nailed Yeshua to the stake, they took his clothes and divided them into four shares, a share for each soldier, with the under-robe left over. Now the under-robe was seamless, woven in one piece from top to bottom; <sup>24</sup> so they said to one another, "We shouldn't tear it in pieces; let's draw for it." This happened in order to fulfill the words from the Tanakh,

"They divided my clothes among themselves and gambled for my robe."<sup>25</sup>

This is why the soldiers did these things.

<sup>25</sup> Nearby Yeshua's execution stake stood his mother, his mother's sister Miryam the wife of K'lofah, and Miryam from Magdala. <sup>26</sup> When Yeshua saw his mother and the talmid whom he loved standing there, he said to his mother, "Mother, this is your son." <sup>27</sup> Then he said to the talmid, "This is your mother." And from that time on, the talmid took her into his own home.

<sup>28</sup> After this, knowing that all things had accomplished their purpose, Yeshua, in order to fulfill the words of the Tanakh, said, "I'm thirsty." <sup>29</sup> A jar full of cheap sour wine was there; so they soaked a sponge in the wine, coated it with oregano leaves and held it up to his mouth. <sup>30</sup> After Yeshua had taken the wine, he said, "It is accomplished!" And, letting his head droop, he delivered up his spirit.

<sup>31</sup> It was Preparation Day, and the Judeans did not want the bodies to remain on the stake on Shabbat, since it was an especially important Shabbat. So they asked Pilate to have the legs broken and the bodies removed. <sup>32</sup> The soldiers came and broke the legs of the first man who had been put on a stake beside Yeshua, then the legs of the other one; <sup>33</sup> but when they got to Yeshua and saw that he was already dead, they didn't break his legs. <sup>34</sup> However, one of the soldiers stabbed his side with a spear, and at once blood and water flowed out. <sup>35</sup> The man who saw it has testified about it, and his testimony is true. And he knows that he tells the truth, so you too can trust. <sup>36</sup> For these things happened in order to fulfill this passage of the Tanakh:

<sup>37</sup> And again, another passage says,

“They will look at him whom they have pierced.”<sup>z</sup>

<sup>38</sup> After this, Yosef of Ramatayim, who was a talmid of Yeshua, but a secret one out of fear of the Judeans, asked Pilate if he could have Yeshua's body. Pilate gave his consent, so Yosef came and took the body away. <sup>39</sup> Also Nakdimon, who at first had gone to see Yeshua by night, came with some seventy pounds of spices — a mixture of myrrh and aloes. <sup>40</sup> They took Yeshua's body and wrapped it up in linen sheets with the spices, in keeping with Judean burial practice. <sup>41</sup> In the vicinity of where he had been executed was a garden, and in the garden was a new tomb in which no one had ever been buried. <sup>42</sup> So, because it was Preparation Day for the Judeans, and because the tomb was close by, that is where they buried Yeshua.

20 <sup>1</sup> Early on the first day of the week, while it was still dark, Miryam from Magdala went to the tomb and saw that the stone had been removed from the tomb. <sup>2</sup> So she came running to Shim'on Kefa and the other talmid, the one Yeshua loved, and said to them, “They've taken the Lord out of the tomb, and we don't know where they've put him!”

<sup>3</sup> Then Kefa and the other talmid started for the tomb. <sup>4</sup> They both ran, but the other talmid outran Kefa and reached the tomb first. <sup>5</sup> Stooping down, he saw the linen burial-sheets lying there but did not go in. <sup>6</sup> Then, following him, Shim'on Kefa arrived, entered the tomb and saw the burial-sheets lying there, <sup>7</sup> also the cloth that had been around his head, lying not with the sheets but in a separate place and still folded up. <sup>8</sup> Then the other talmid, who had arrived at the tomb first, also went in; he saw, and he trusted.<sup>9</sup> (They had not yet come to understand that the Tanakh teaches that the Messiah has to rise from the dead.)

<sup>14</sup> As she said this, she turned around and saw Yeshua standing there, but she didn’t know it was he.<sup>15</sup> Yeshua said to her, “Lady, why are you crying? Whom are you looking for?” Thinking he was the gardener, she said to him, “Sir, if you’re the one who carried him away, just tell me where you put him; and I’ll go and get him myself.”<sup>16</sup> Yeshua said to her, “Miryam!” Turning, she cried out to him in Hebrew, “Rabbani!” (that is, “Teacher!”)<sup>17</sup> “Stop holding onto me,” Yeshua said to her, “because I haven’t yet gone back to the Father. But go to my brothers, and tell them that I am going back to my Father and your Father, to my God and your God.”<sup>18</sup> Miryam of Magdala went to the talmidim with the news that she had seen the Lord and that he had told her this.

<sup>19</sup> In the evening that same day, the first day of the week, when the talmidim were gathered together behind locked doors out of fear of the Judeans, Yeshua came, stood in the middle and said, “Shalom aleikhem!”<sup>20</sup> Having greeted them, he showed them his hands and his side. The talmidim were overjoyed to see the Lord.<sup>21</sup> “Shalom aleikhem!” Yeshua repeated. “Just as the Father sent me, I myself am also sending you.”<sup>22</sup> Having said this, he breathed on them and said to them, “Receive the Ruach HaKodesh!<sup>23</sup> If you forgive someone’s sins, their sins are forgiven; if you hold them, they are held.”

<sup>26</sup> A week later his talmidim were once more in the room, and this time T’oma was with them. Although the doors were locked, Yeshua came, stood among them and said, “Shalom aleikhem!”<sup>27</sup> Then he said to T’oma, “Put your finger here, look at my hands, take your hand and put it into my side. Don’t be lacking in trust, but have trust!”<sup>28</sup> T’oma answered him, “My Lord and my God!”<sup>29</sup> Yeshua said to him, “Have you trusted because you have seen me? How blessed are those who do not see, but trust anyway!”

<sup>30</sup> In the presence of the talmidim Yeshua performed many other miracles which have not been recorded in this book. <sup>31</sup> But these which have been recorded are here so that you may trust that Yeshua is the Messiah, the Son of God, and that by this trust you may have life because of who he is.

21 <sup>1</sup> After this, Yeshua appeared again to the talmidim at Lake Tiberias. Here is how it happened: <sup>2</sup> Shim'on Kefa and T'oma (his name means “twin”) were together with Natan'el from Kanah in the Galil, the sons of Zavdai, and two other talmidim. <sup>3</sup> Shim'on Kefa said, “I’m going fishing.” They said to him, “We’re coming with you.” They went and got into the boat, but that night they didn’t catch anything. “However, just as day was breaking, Yeshua stood on shore, but the talmidim didn’t know it was he. <sup>5</sup> He said to them, “You don’t have any fish, do you?” “No,” they answered him. <sup>6</sup> He said to them, “Throw in your net to starboard and you will catch some.” So they threw in their net, and there were so many fish in it that they couldn’t haul it aboard. <sup>7</sup> The talmid Yeshua loved said to Kefa, “It’s the Lord!” On hearing it was the Lord, Shim'on Kefa threw on his coat, because he was stripped for work, and plunged into the lake; <sup>8</sup> but the other talmidim followed in the boat, dragging the net full of fish; for they weren’t far from shore, only about a hundred yards. <sup>9</sup> When they stepped ashore, they saw a fire of burning coals with a fish on it, and some bread. <sup>10</sup> Yeshua said to them, “Bring some of the fish you have just caught.” <sup>11</sup> Shim'on Kefa went up and dragged the net ashore. It was full of fish, 153 of them; but even with so many, the net wasn’t torn. <sup>12</sup> Yeshua said to them, “Come and have breakfast.” None of the talmidim dared to ask him, “Who are you?” They knew it was the Lord. <sup>13</sup> Yeshua came, took the bread and gave it to them, and did the same with the fish. <sup>14</sup> This was now the third time Yeshua had appeared to the talmidim after being raised from the dead.

<sup>15</sup> After breakfast, Yeshua said to Shim'on Kefa, “Shim'on Bar-Yochanan, do you love me more than these?” He replied, “Yes, Lord, you know I’m your friend.” He said to him, “Feed my lambs.” <sup>16</sup> A second time he said to him, “Shim'on Bar-Yochanan, do you love me?” He replied, “Yes, Lord, you know I’m your friend.” He said to him, “Shepherd my sheep.” <sup>17</sup> The third time he said to him, “Shim'on Bar-Yochanan, are you my friend?” Shim‘on was hurt that he questioned him a third time: “Are you my friend?” So he replied, “Lord, you know everything! You know I’m your friend!” Yeshua said to him, “Feed my sheep! <sup>18</sup> Yes, indeed! I tell you, when you were younger, you put on your clothes and went where you wanted. But when you grow old, you will stretch out your hands, and someone else will dress you and carry you where you do not want to go.” <sup>19</sup> He said this to indicate the kind of death by which Kefa would bring glory to God. Then Yeshua said to him, “Follow me!”

<sup>20</sup> Kefa turned and saw the talmid Yeshua especially loved following behind, the one who had leaned against him at the supper and had asked, “Who is the one who is betraying you?” <sup>21</sup> On seeing him, Kefa said to Yeshua, “Lord, what about him?” <sup>22</sup> Yeshua said to him, “If I want him to stay on until I come, what is it to you? You, follow me!” <sup>23</sup> Therefore the word spread among the brothers that that talmid would not die. However, Yeshua didn’t say he wouldn’t die, but simply, “If I want him to stay on until I come, what is it to you?”

<sup>24</sup> This one is the talmid who is testifying about these things and who has recorded them.

And we know that his testimony is true.

<sup>25</sup> But there are also many other things Yeshua did; and if they were all to be recorded, I don’t think the whole world could contain the books that would have to be written!

of the Emissaries of Yeshua the Messiah

1 <sup>1</sup> Dear Theophilos:

In the first book, I wrote about everything Yeshua set out to do and teach, <sup>2</sup> until the day when, after giving instructions through the Ruach HaKodesh to the emissaries whom he had chosen, he was taken up into heaven.

<sup>3</sup> After his death he showed himself to them and gave many convincing proofs that he was alive. During a period of forty days they saw him, and he spoke with them about the Kingdom of God.

<sup>4</sup> At one of these gatherings, he instructed them not to leave Yerushalayim but to “wait for what the Father promised, which you heard about from me. <sup>5</sup> For Yochanan used to immerse people in water; but in a few days, you will be immersed in the Ruach HaKodesh!”

<sup>6</sup> When they were together, they asked him, “Lord, are you at this time going to restore self-rule to Isra’el?” <sup>7</sup> He answered, “You don’t need to know the dates or the times; the Father has kept these under his own authority. <sup>8</sup> But you will receive power when the Ruach HaKodesh comes upon you; you will be my witnesses both in Yerushalayim and in all Y’hudah and Shomron, indeed to the ends of the earth!”

<sup>9</sup> After saying this, he was taken up before their eyes; and a cloud hid him from their sight. <sup>10</sup> As they were staring into the sky after him, suddenly they saw two men dressed in white standing next to them. <sup>11</sup> The men said, “You Galileans! Why are you standing, staring into space? This Yeshua, who has been taken away from you into heaven, will come back to you in just the same way as you saw him go into heaven.”

<sup>12</sup> Then they returned the Shabbat-walk distance from the Mount of Olives to Yerushalayim. <sup>13</sup> After entering the city, they went to the upstairs room where they were staying. The names of the emissaries were Kefa, Ya’akov, Yochanan, Andrew, Philip, T’oma, Bar-Talmi, Mattityahu, Ya’akov Ben-Halfai, Shim’on “the Zealot,” and Y’hudah Ben-Ya’akov. <sup>14</sup> These all devoted themselves single-mindedly to prayer, along with some women, including Miryam (Yeshua’s mother), and his brothers.

<sup>15</sup> During this period, when the group of believers numbered about 120, Kefa stood up and addressed his fellow-believers: <sup>16</sup> “Brothers, the Ruach HaKodesh spoke in advance through David about Y’hudah, and these words of the Tanakh had to be fulfilled. He was guide for those who arrested Yeshua — <sup>17</sup> he was one of us and had been assigned a part in our work.” <sup>18</sup> (With the money Y’hudah received for his evil deed, he bought a field; and there he fell to his death. His body swelled up and burst open, and all his insides spilled out. <sup>19</sup> This became known to everyone in Yerushalayim, so they called that field Hakal-D’ma — which in their language means “Field of Blood”. <sup>20</sup> “Now,” said Kefa, “it is written in the book of Psalms,

let there be no one to live in it’;<sup>a</sup>

and

‘Let someone else take his place as a supervisor.’<sup>b</sup>

<sup>21</sup> Therefore, one of the men who have been with us continuously throughout the time the Lord Yeshua traveled around among us, <sup>22</sup> from the time Yochanan was immersing people until the day Yeshua was taken up from us — one of these must become a witness with us to his resurrection.”

<sup>23</sup> They nominated two men — Yosef Bar-Sabba, surnamed Justus, and Mattityahu. <sup>24</sup> Then they prayed, “Lord, you know everyone’s heart. Show us which of these two you have chosen <sup>25</sup> to take over the work and the office of emissary that Y’hudah abandoned to go where he belongs.” <sup>26</sup> Then they drew lots to decide between the two, and the lot fell to Mattityahu. So he was added to the eleven emissaries.

2 <sup>1</sup> The festival of Shavu‘ot arrived, and the believers all gathered together in one place. <sup>2</sup> Suddenly there came a sound from the sky like the roar of a violent wind, and it filled the whole house where they were sitting. <sup>3</sup> Then they saw what looked like tongues of fire, which separated and came to rest on each one of them. <sup>4</sup> They were all filled with the Ruach HaKodesh and began to talk in different languages, as the Spirit enabled them to speak.

<sup>5</sup> Now there were staying in Yerushalayim religious Jews from every nation under heaven. <sup>6</sup> When they heard this sound, a crowd gathered; they were confused, because each one heard the believers speaking in his own language. <sup>7</sup> Totally amazed, they asked, “How is this possible? Aren’t all these people who are speaking from the Galil?” <sup>8</sup> How is it that we hear them speaking in our native languages? <sup>9</sup> We are Parthians, Medes, Elamites; residents of Mesopotamia, Y’hudah, Cappadocia, Pontus, Asia, <sup>10</sup> Phrygia, Pamphylia, Egypt, the parts of Libya near Cyrene; visitors from Rome; <sup>11</sup> Jews by birth and proselytes; Jews from Crete and from Arabia. . . ! How is it that we hear them speaking in our own languages about the great things God has done?” <sup>12</sup> Amazed and confused, they all went on asking each other, “What can this mean?” <sup>13</sup> But others made fun of them and said, “They’ve just had too much wine!”

<sup>14</sup> Then Kefa stood up with the Eleven and raised his voice to address them: “You Judeans, and all of you staying here in Yerushalayim! Let me tell you what this means! Listen carefully to me!

“In the Last Days,

I will pour out from my Spirit upon everyone.

Your sons and daughters will prophesy,

your young men will see visions,

your old men will dream dreams.

<sup>18</sup>       Even on my slaves, both men and women, will I pour out from my Spirit in those days;

and they will prophesy.

<sup>19</sup>

I will perform miracles in the sky above and signs on the earth below —
blood, fire and thick smoke.

<sup>20</sup>

The sun will become dark and the moon blood
before the great and fearful Day of A<sub>DONAI</sub> comes.

<sup>21</sup>

And then, whoever calls on the name of A<sub>DONAI</sub> will be saved.”<sup>ε</sup>

<sup>22</sup> “Men of Isra’el! Listen to this! Yeshua from Natzeret was a man demonstrated to you to have been from God by the powerful works, miracles and signs that God performed through him in your presence. You yourselves know this. <sup>23</sup> This man was arrested in accordance with God’s predetermined plan and foreknowledge; and, through the agency of persons not bound by the Torah, you nailed him up on a stake and killed him!

<sup>24</sup> “But God has raised him up and freed him from the suffering of death; it was impossible that death could keep its hold on him. <sup>25</sup> For David says this about him:

‘I saw A<sub>DONAI</sub> always before me,
for he is at my right hand,
so that I will not be shaken.

<sup>26</sup>

For this reason, my heart was glad;
and my tongue rejoiced;
and now my body too will live on in the certain hope

<sup>27</sup>

that you will not abandon me to Sh’ol or let your Holy One see decay.

<sup>28</sup>

You have made known to me the ways of life;
you will fill me with joy by your presence.’<sup>d</sup>

<sup>29</sup> “Brothers, I know I can say to you frankly that the patriarch David died and was buried — his tomb is with us to this day. <sup>30</sup> Therefore, since he was a prophet and knew that God had sworn an oath to him that one of his descendants would sit on his throne, <sup>31</sup> he was speaking in advance about the resurrection of the Messiah, that it was he who was not abandoned in Sh’ol and whose flesh did not see decay. <sup>32</sup> God raised up this Yeshua! And we are all witnesses of it!

<sup>33</sup> “Moreover, he has been exalted to the right hand of God; has received from the Father what he promised, namely, the Ruach HaKodesh; and has poured out this gift, which you are both seeing and hearing. <sup>34</sup> For David did not ascend into heaven. But he says,

‘ADONAI said to my Lord,
“Sit at my right hand
until I make your enemies a footstool for your feet.”’<sup>e</sup>

<sup>36</sup> Therefore, let the whole house of Isra’el know beyond doubt that God has made him both Lord and Messiah — this Yeshua, whom you executed on a stake!”

<sup>37</sup> On hearing this, they were stung in their hearts; and they said to Kefa and the other emissaries, “Brothers, what should we do?” <sup>38</sup> Kefa answered them, “Turn from sin, return to God, and each of you be immersed on the authority of Yeshua the Messiah into forgiveness of your sins, and you will receive the gift of the Ruach HaKodesh! <sup>39</sup> For the promise is for you, for your children, and for those far away — as many as ADONAI our God may call!”

<sup>41</sup> So those who accepted what he said were immersed, and there were added to the group that day about three thousand people.

<sup>42</sup> They continued faithfully in the teaching of the emissaries, in fellowship, in breaking bread and in the prayers. <sup>43</sup> Everyone was filled with awe, and many miracles and signs took place through the emissaries. <sup>44</sup> All those trusting in Yeshua stayed together and had everything in common; <sup>45</sup> in fact, they sold their property and possessions and distributed the proceeds to all who were in need. <sup>46</sup> Continuing faithfully and with singleness of purpose to meet in the Temple courts daily, and breaking bread in their several homes, they shared their food in joy and simplicity of heart, <sup>47</sup> praising God and having the respect of all the people. And day after day the Lord kept adding to them those who were being saved.

3 <sup>1</sup> One afternoon at three o’clock, the hour of minchah prayers, as Kefa and Yochanan were going up to the Temple, <sup>2</sup> a man crippled since birth was being carried in. Every day people used to put him at the Beautiful Gate of the Temple, so that he could beg from those going into the Temple court. <sup>3</sup> When he saw Kefa and Yochanan about to enter, he asked them for some money. <sup>4</sup> But they stared straight at him; and Kefa said, “Look at us!” <sup>5</sup> The crippled man fixed his attention on them, expecting to receive something from them. <sup>6</sup> Kefa said, “I don’t have silver, and I don’t have gold, but what I do have I give to you: in the name of the Messiah, Yeshua of Natzeret, walk!” <sup>7</sup> And taking hold of him by his right hand, Kefa pulled him up. Instantly his feet and ankles became strong; <sup>8</sup> so that he sprang up, stood a moment, and began walking. Then he entered the Temple court with them, walking and leaping and praising God! <sup>9</sup> Everyone saw him walking and praising God. <sup>10</sup> They recognized him as the same man who had formerly sat begging at the Beautiful Gate of the Temple, and they were utterly amazed and confounded at what had happened to him. <sup>11</sup> While he clung to Kefa and Yochanan, all the people came running in astonishment toward them in Shlomo’s Colonnade.

<sup>12</sup> Seeing this, Kefa addressed the people: “Men of Isra’el! Why are you amazed at this? Or why do you stare at us as if we had made this man walk through some power or godliness of our own? <sup>13</sup> The God of Avraham,

Yitz'chak and Ya'akov, the God of our fathers,<sup>f</sup> has glorified his servant Yeshua — the same Yeshua you handed over and disowned before Pilate, even after he had decided to release him.<sup>14</sup> You denied the holy and innocent one, and instead asked for the reprieve of a murderer!<sup>15</sup> You killed the author of life!

“But God has raised him from the dead! Of this we are witnesses.<sup>16</sup> And it is through putting trust in his name that his name has given strength to this man whom you see and know. Yes, it is the trust that comes through Yeshua which has given him this perfect healing in the presence of you all.

<sup>17</sup> “Now, brothers, I know that you did not understand the significance of what you were doing; neither did your leaders.<sup>18</sup> But this is how God fulfilled what he had announced in advance, when he spoke through all the prophets, namely, that his Messiah was to die.

<sup>19</sup> “Therefore, repent and turn to God, so that your sins may be erased;<sup>20</sup> so that times of refreshing may come from the Lord's presence; and he may send the Messiah appointed in advance for you, that is, Yeshua.<sup>21</sup> He has to remain in heaven until the time comes for restoring everything, as God said long ago, when he spoke through the holy prophets.<sup>22</sup> For Moshe himself said, ‘ADONAI will raise up for you a prophet like me from among your brothers. You are to listen to everything he tells you.<sup>23</sup> Everyone who fails to listen to that prophet will be removed from the people and destroyed.’<sup>g</sup><sup>24</sup> Indeed, all the prophets announced these days, starting with Sh'mu'el and continuing through all who followed.

<sup>25</sup> “You are the sons of the prophets; and you are included in the covenant which God made with our fathers when he said to Avraham, ‘By your seed will all the families of the earth be blessed.’<sup>h</sup><sup>26</sup> So it is to you first that God has sent his servant whom he has raised up, so that he might bless you by turning each one of you from your evil ways.”

4<sup>1</sup> Kefa and Yochanan were still speaking to the people when the cohanim, the captain in charge of the Temple police, and the Tz'dukim came upon them,<sup>2</sup> very annoyed that they were teaching the people the doctrine of resurrection from the dead and offering Yeshua as proof.<sup>3</sup> The Temple police arrested them; and since it was already evening, they put them in custody overnight.<sup>4</sup> However, many of those who heard the message trusted; the number of men alone was about five thousand.

<sup>8</sup> Then Kefa, filled with the Ruach HaKodesh, said to them, "Rulers and elders of the people! <sup>9</sup> If we are being examined today about a good deed done for a disabled person, if you want to know how he was restored to health, <sup>10</sup> then let it be known to you and to all the people of Isra'el that it is in the name of the Messiah, Yeshua from Natzeret, whom you had executed on a stake as a criminal but whom God has raised from the dead, that this man stands before you perfectly healed.

<sup>11</sup> "This Yeshua is the stone rejected by you builders which has become the cornerstone.<sup>i</sup> <sup>12</sup> There is salvation in no one else! For there is no other name under heaven given to mankind by whom we must be saved!"

<sup>13</sup> When they saw how bold Kefa and Yochanan were, even though they were untrained 'am-ha'aretz, they were amazed; also they recognized them as having been with Yeshua. <sup>14</sup> Moreover, since they could see the man who had been healed standing right there beside them, there was nothing they could say to discredit the healing. <sup>15</sup> So they told them to step away from the Sanhedrin while they discussed the matter privately. <sup>16</sup> "What can we do with these men?" they asked each other. "Why, anyone in Yerushalayim can see that a remarkable miracle has come about through them — we can't possibly deny that. <sup>17</sup> But to prevent it from spreading any further among the people, let's warn them not to speak any more to anyone in this name."

<sup>18</sup> So they called them in again and ordered them under no circumstances to speak or teach in the name of Yeshua. <sup>19</sup> But Kefa and Yochanan answered, "You must judge whether it is right in the sight of God to listen to you rather than God. <sup>20</sup> As for us, we can't help talking about what we have actually seen and heard." <sup>21</sup> They threatened them some more but finally let them go — they couldn't punish them because of the people, for everyone was praising God over what had happened, <sup>22</sup> since the man who had been miraculously healed was more than forty years old.

<sup>23</sup> Upon being released, they went back to their friends and reported what the head cohanim and elders had said to them. <sup>24</sup> When they heard it, they raised their voices to God with singleness of heart. "Master," they prayed, “You made heaven, earth, the sea and everything in them.<sup>j 25</sup> By the Ruach HaKodesh, through the mouth of our father David, your servant, you said,

‘Why did the nations rage

and the peoples devise useless plans?

<sup>26</sup>

The kings of the earth took their stand;

and the rulers assembled together

against *ADONAI

and against his Messiah.’<sup>k</sup>

<sup>27</sup> “This has come true in this city, since Herod and Pontius Pilate, with Goyim and the peoples of Isra’el, all assembled against your holy servant Yeshua, whom you made Messiah, <sup>28</sup> to do what your power and plan had already determined beforehand should happen.

<sup>29</sup> “So now, Lord, take note of their threats; and enable your slaves to speak your message with boldness! <sup>30</sup> Stretch out your hand to heal and to do signs and miracles through the name of your holy servant Yeshua!”

<sup>31</sup> While they were still praying, the place where they were gathered was shaken. They were all filled with the Ruach HaKodesh, and they spoke God’s message with boldness.

<sup>32</sup> All the many believers were one in heart and soul, and no one claimed any of his possessions for himself, but everyone shared everything he had. <sup>33</sup> With great power the emissaries continued testifying to the resurrection of the Lord Yeshua, and they were all held in high regard. <sup>34</sup> No one among them was poor, since those who owned lands or houses sold them and turned over the proceeds <sup>35</sup> to the emissaries to distribute to each according to his need. <sup>36</sup> Thus Yosef, whom the emissaries called Bar-Nabba (which means “the Exhorter”), a Levi and a native of Cyprus, <sup>37</sup> sold a field which belonged to him and brought the money to the emissaries.

5 <sup>1</sup> But there was a man named Hananyah who, with his wife Shappirah, sold some property <sup>2</sup> and, with his wife's knowledge, withheld some of the proceeds for himself; although he did bring the rest to the emissaries. <sup>3</sup> Then Kefa said, "Why has the Adversary so filled your heart that you lie to the Ruach HaKodesh and keep back some of the money you received for the land? <sup>4</sup> Before you sold it, the property was yours; and after you sold it, the money was yours to use as you pleased. So what made you decide to do such a thing? You have lied not to human beings but to God!"

<sup>5</sup> On hearing these words, Hananyah fell down dead; and everyone who heard about it was terrified. <sup>6</sup> The young men got up, wrapped his body in a shroud, carried him out and buried him.

<sup>7</sup> Some three hours later, his wife came in, unaware of what had happened. <sup>8</sup> Kefa challenged her: "Tell me, is it true that you sold the land for such-and-such a price?" "Yes," she answered, "that is what we were paid for it." <sup>9</sup> But Kefa came back at her, "Then why did you people plot to test the Spirit of the Lord? Listen! The men who buried your husband are at the door. They will carry you out too!" <sup>10</sup> Instantly she collapsed at his feet and died. The young men entered, found her there dead, carried her out and buried her beside her husband. <sup>11</sup> As a result of this, great fear came over the whole Messianic community, and indeed over everyone who heard about it.

<sup>12</sup> Meanwhile, through the emissaries many signs and miracles continued to be done among the people. United in mind and purpose, the believers met in Shlomo's Colonnade; <sup>13</sup> and no one else dared to join them. Nevertheless, the people continued to regard them highly; <sup>14</sup> and throngs of believers were added to the Lord, both men and women. <sup>15</sup> They went so far as to bring the sick into the streets and lay them on mattresses and stretchers, so that at least Kefa's shadow might fall on them as he passed by. <sup>16</sup> Crowds also gathered from the towns around Yerushalayim, bringing the sick and those afflicted with unclean spirits; and every one of them was healed.

Now the cohen hagadol and his associates came and called a meeting of the Sanhedrin (that is, of Isra'el's whole assembly of elders) and sent to the jail to have them brought. <sup>22</sup> But the officers who went did not find them in the prison. So they returned and reported, <sup>23</sup> "We found the jail securely locked and the guards standing at the doors; but when we opened it, we found no one inside!" <sup>24</sup> When the captain of the Temple police and the head cohanim heard these things, they were puzzled and wondered what would happen next.

<sup>25</sup> Then someone came and reported to them, "Listen! The men you ordered put in prison are standing in the Temple court, teaching the people!" <sup>26</sup> The captain and his officers went and brought them, but not with force; because they were afraid of being stoned by the people. <sup>27</sup> They conducted them to the Sanhedrin, where the cohen hagadol demanded of them, <sup>28</sup> "We gave you strict orders not to teach in this name! Look here! you have filled Yerushalayim with your teaching; moreover, you are determined to make us responsible for this man's death!"

<sup>29</sup> Kefa and the other emissaries answered, "We must obey God, not men. <sup>30</sup> The God of our fathers raised up Yeshua, whereas you men killed him by having him hanged on a stake. <sup>31</sup> God has exalted this man at his right hand as Ruler and Savior, in order to enable Isra'el to do t'shuvah and have her sins forgiven. <sup>32</sup> We are witnesses to these things; so is the Ruach HaKodesh, whom God has given to those who obey him."

<sup>33</sup> On hearing this, the members of the Sanhedrin were infuriated and wanted to put the emissaries to death. <sup>34</sup> But one of the members of the Sanhedrin rose to his feet, a Parush named Gamli'el, a teacher of the Torah highly respected by all the people. He ordered the men put outside for a little while <sup>35</sup> and then addressed the court: "Men of Isra'el, take care what you do to these people. <sup>36</sup> Some time ago, there was a rebellion under Todah, who claimed to be somebody special; and a number of men, maybe four hundred, rallied behind him. But upon his being put to death, his whole following was broken up and came to nothing. <sup>37</sup> After this, Y'hudah HaG'lili led another uprising, back at the time of the enrollment for the Roman tax; and he got some people to defect to him. But he was killed, and all his followers were scattered. <sup>38</sup> So in the present case, my advice to you is not to interfere with these people, but to leave them alone. For if this idea or this movement has a human origin, it will collapse. <sup>39</sup> But if it is from God, you will not be able to stop them; you might even find yourselves fighting God!”

They heeded his advice. <sup>40</sup> After summoning the emissaries and flogging them, they commanded them not to speak in the name of Yeshua, and let them go. <sup>41</sup> The emissaries left the Sanhedrin overjoyed at having been considered worthy of suffering disgrace on account of him. <sup>42</sup> And not for a single day, either in the Temple court or in private homes, did they stop teaching and proclaiming the Good News that Yeshua is the Messiah.

6 <sup>1</sup> Around this time, when the number of talmidim was growing, the Greek-speaking Jews began complaining against those who spoke Hebrew that their widows were being overlooked in the daily distribution. <sup>2</sup> So the Twelve called a general meeting of the talmidim and said, “It isn’t appropriate that we should neglect the Word of God in order to serve tables. <sup>3</sup> Brothers, choose seven men from among yourselves who are known to be full of the Spirit and wisdom. We will appoint them to be in charge of this important matter, <sup>4</sup> but we ourselves will give our full attention to praying and to serving the Word.”

<sup>5</sup> What they said was agreeable to the whole gathering. They chose Stephen, a man full of faith and the Ruach HaKodesh, Philip, Prochoros, Nikanor, Timon, Parmenas and Nicholas, who was a proselyte from Antioch. <sup>6</sup> They presented these men to the emissaries, who prayed and laid their hands on them.

<sup>7</sup> So the word of God continued to spread. The number of talmidim in Yerusha-layim increased rapidly, and a large crowd of cohanim were becoming obedient to the faith.

<sup>8</sup> Now Stephen, full of grace and power, performed great miracles and signs among the people. <sup>9</sup> But opposition arose from members of the Synagogue of the Freed Slaves (as it was called), composed of Cyrenians, Alexandrians and people from Cilicia and the province of Asia. They argued with Stephen, <sup>10</sup> but they could not stand up against his wisdom or the Spirit by which he spoke.

<sup>11</sup> So they secretly persuaded some men to allege, “We heard him speak blasphemously against Moshe and against God.” <sup>12</sup> They stirred up the people, as well as the elders and the Torah-teachers; so they came and arrested him and led him before the Sanhedrin. <sup>13</sup> There they set up false witnesses who said, “This man never stops speaking against this holy place and against the Torah; <sup>14</sup> for we have heard him say that Yeshua from Natzeret will destroy this place and will change the customs Moshe handed down to us.”

“Brothers and fathers, listen to me! The God of glory appeared to Avraham avinu in Mesopotamia before he lived in Haran <sup>3</sup> and said to him, ‘Leave your land and your family, and go into the land that I will show you.’ <sup>4</sup> So he left the land of the Kasdim and lived in Haran. After his father died, God made him move to this land where you are living now. <sup>5</sup> He gave him no inheritance in it, not even space for one foot; <sup>6</sup> yet he promised to give it to him as a possession and to his descendants after him, <sup>7</sup> even though at the time he was childless. <sup>8</sup> What God said to him was, ‘Your descendants will be aliens in a foreign land, where they will be in slavery and oppressed for four hundred years.’ <sup>9</sup> But I will judge the nation that enslaves them,’ God said, ‘and afterwards they will leave and worship me in this place.’ <sup>10</sup> And he gave him b’rit-milah. So he became the father of Yitz’chak and did his b’rit-milah on the eighth day, and Yitz’chak became the father of Ya’akov, and Ya’akov became the father of the Twelve Patriarchs.

<sup>11</sup> “Now the Patriarchs grew jealous of Yosef and sold him into slavery in Egypt. But ADONAI was with him; <sup>12</sup> he rescued him from all his troubles and gave him favor and wisdom before Pharaoh, king of Egypt, who appointed him chief administrator over Egypt and over all his household. <sup>13</sup> Now there came a famine that caused much suffering throughout Egypt and Kena’an. <sup>14</sup> But when Ya’akov heard that there was grain in Egypt, he sent our fathers there the first time. <sup>15</sup> The second time, Yosef revealed his identity to his brothers, <sup>16</sup> and Yosef’s family became known to Pharaoh. <sup>17</sup> Yosef then sent for his father Ya’akov and all his relatives, seventy-five people. <sup>18</sup> And Ya’akov went down to Egypt; there he died, as did our other ancestors. <sup>19</sup> Their bodies were removed to Sh’khem and buried in the tomb Avraham had bought from the family of Hamor in Sh'khem for a certain sum of money.

<sup>17</sup> “As the time drew near for the fulfillment of the promise God had made to Avraham, the number of our people in Egypt increased greatly, <sup>18</sup> until there arose another king over Egypt who had no knowledge of Yosef. <sup>19</sup> With cruel cunning this man forced our fathers to put their newborn babies outside their homes, so that they would not survive.

<sup>20</sup> “It was then that Moshe was born, and he was beautiful in God’s sight. For three months he was reared in his father’s house; <sup>21</sup> and when he was put out of his home, Pharaoh’s daughter took him and brought him up as her own son. <sup>22</sup> So Moshe was trained in all the wisdom of the Egyptians and became both a powerful speaker and a man of action.

<sup>23</sup> “But when he was forty years old, the thought came to him to visit his brothers, the people of Isra’el. <sup>24</sup> On seeing one of them being mistreated, he went to his defense and took revenge by striking down the Egyptian. <sup>25</sup> He supposed his brothers would understand that God was using him to rescue them, but they didn’t understand. <sup>26</sup> When he appeared the next day, as they were fighting, and tried to make peace between them by saying, ‘Men, you are brothers! Why do you want to hurt each other?’ <sup>27</sup> the one who was mistreating his fellow pushed Moshe away and said, ‘Who made you a ruler and judge over us? <sup>28</sup> Do you want to kill me, the way you killed that Egyptian yesterday?’ <sup>29</sup> On hearing this, Moshe fled the country and became an exile in the land of Midyan, where he had two sons.

<sup>30</sup> “After forty more years, an angel appeared to him in the desert near Mount Sinai in the flames of a burning thorn bush. <sup>31</sup> When Moshe saw this, he was amazed at the sight; and as he approached to get a better look, there came the voice of ADONAI, <sup>32</sup> ‘I am the God of your fathers, the God of Avraham, Yitz’chak and Ya’akov.’ But Moshe trembled with fear and didn’t dare to look. <sup>33</sup> ADONAI said to him, ‘Take off your sandals, because the place where you are standing is holy ground. <sup>34</sup> I have clearly seen how My people are being oppressed in Egypt, I have heard their cry, and I have come down to rescue them, and now I will send you to Egypt.’ <sup>x</sup>

<sup>35</sup> “This Moshe, whom they rejected, saying, ‘Who made you a ruler and judge?’ is the very one whom God sent as both ruler and ransom by means of the angel that appeared to him in the thorn bush. <sup>36</sup> This man led them out, performing miracles and signs in Egypt, at the Red Sea and in the wilderness for forty years. <sup>37</sup> This is the Moshe who said to the people of Isra'el, 'God will raise up a prophet like me from among your brothers'<sup>z</sup>

<sup>38</sup> This is the man who was in the assembly in the wilderness, accompanied by the angel that had spoken to him at Mount Sinai and by our fathers, the man who was given living words to pass on to us.

<sup>39</sup> "But our fathers did not want to obey him. On the contrary, they rejected him and in their hearts turned to Egypt, <sup>40</sup> saying to Aharon, 'Make us some gods to lead us; because this Moshe, who led us out of Egypt — we don't know what has become of him.'<sup>g</sup> <sup>41</sup> That was when they made an idol in the shape of a calf and offered a sacrifice to it and held a celebration in honor of what they had made with their own hands. <sup>42</sup> So God turned away from them and gave them over to worship the stars<sup>b</sup> — as has been written in the book of the prophets,

'People of Isra'el, it was not to me

that you offered slaughtered animals

and sacrifices for forty years in the wilderness!

<sup>43</sup> No, you carried the tent of Molekh

and the star of your god Reifan,

the idols you made so that you could worship them.

Therefore, I will send you into exile beyond Bavel.'<sup>c</sup>

<sup>44</sup> "Our fathers had the Tent of Witness in the wilderness. It had been made just as God, who spoke to Moshe, had ordered it made, according to the pattern Moshe had seen. <sup>45</sup> Later on, our fathers who had received it brought it in with Y'hoshua when they took the Land away from the nations that God drove out before them.

"So it was until the days of David. <sup>46</sup> He enjoyed God's favor and asked if he might provide a dwelling place for the God of Ya'akov <sup>47</sup> and Shlomo did build him a house. <sup>48</sup> But Ha'Elyon does not live in places made by hand! As the prophet says,

‘Heaven is my throne,’ says A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

‘and the earth is my footstool.

What kind of house could you build for me?

What kind of place could you devise for my rest?

Didn’t I myself make all these things?’<sup>d</sup>

<sup>54</sup> On hearing these things, they were cut to their hearts and ground their teeth at him. <sup>55</sup> But he, full of the Ruach HaKodesh, looked up to heaven and saw God’s Sh’khinah, with Yeshua standing at the right hand of God. <sup>56</sup> “Look!” he exclaimed, “I see heaven opened and the Son of Man standing at the right hand of God!”<sup>h</sup>

<sup>57</sup> At this, they began yelling at the top of their voices, so that they wouldn’t have to hear him; and with one accord, they rushed at him, <sup>58</sup> threw him outside the city and began stoning him. And the witnesses laid down their coats at the feet of a young man named Sha’ul.

<sup>59</sup> As they were stoning him, Stephen called out to God, “Lord Yeshua! Receive my spirit!” <sup>60</sup> Then he kneeled down and shouted out, “Lord! Don’t hold this sin against them!” With that, he died;

Starting with that day, there arose intense persecution against the Messianic Community in Yerushalayim; all but the emissaries were scattered throughout the regions of Y’hudah and Shomron. <sup>2</sup> Some godly men buried Stephen and mourned him deeply. <sup>3</sup> But Sha’ul set out to destroy the Messianic Community — entering house after house, he dragged off both men and women and handed them over to be put in prison. <sup>4</sup> However, those who were scattered announced the Good News of the Word wherever they went.

<sup>5</sup> Now Philip went down to a city in Shomron and was proclaiming the Messiah to them; <sup>6</sup> and the crowds were paying close attention to what Philip said, as they heard and saw the miraculous signs he was doing. <sup>7</sup> For many people were having unclean spirits driven out of them, shrieking; also many paralytics and crippled persons were being healed; <sup>8</sup> so that there was great joy in that city.

<sup>9</sup> But there was a man named Shim'on in the city who for some time had been practicing magic and astonishing the nation of Shomron, claiming to be somebody great. <sup>10</sup> Everyone gave heed to him, from the lowest to the highest, saying, "This man is the power of God called 'The Great Power'." <sup>11</sup> They followed him because for a considerable time he had amazed them with his magic.

<sup>12</sup> But when they came to believe Philip, as he announced the Good News concerning the Kingdom of God and the name of Yeshua the Messiah, they were immersed, both men and women. <sup>13</sup> Moreover, Shim'on himself came to believe; and after being immersed, he attached himself closely to Philip; and he was amazed as he saw the miraculous signs and great works of power that kept taking place.

<sup>14</sup> When the emissaries in Yerushalayim heard that Shomron had received the Word of God, they sent them Kefa and Yochanan, <sup>15</sup> who came down and prayed for them, that they might receive the Ruach HaKodesh. <sup>16</sup> For until then he had not come upon any of them; they had only been immersed into the name of the Lord Yeshua. <sup>17</sup> Then, as Kefa and Yochanan placed their hands on them, they received the Ruach HaKodesh.

<sup>18</sup> Shim'on saw that the Spirit was given when the emissaries placed their hands on them, and he offered them money. <sup>19</sup> "Give this power to me, too," he said, "so that whoever I place my hands on will receive the Ruach HaKodesh." <sup>20</sup> But Kefa said to him, "Your silver go to ruin — and you with it, for thinking the free gift of God can be bought! <sup>21</sup> You have no part at all in this matter; because in the eyes of God, your heart is crooked. <sup>22</sup> So repent of this wickedness of yours, and pray to the Lord. Perhaps you will yet be forgiven for holding such a thought in your heart. <sup>23</sup> For I see that you are extremely bitter and completely under the control of sin!" <sup>24</sup> Shim'on answered, "Pray to the Lord for me, so that none of the things you have spoken about will happen to me."

<sup>25</sup> Then, after giving a thorough witness and speaking the Word of the Lord, Kefa and Yochanan started back to Yerushalayim, announcing the Good News to many villages in Shomron.

<sup>26</sup> An angel of Adonai said to Philip, “Get up, and go southward on the road that goes down from Yerushalayim to ‘Azah, the desert road.” <sup>27</sup> So he got up and went. On his way, he caught sight of an Ethiopian, a eunuch who was minister in charge of all the treasure of the Kandake, or queen, of Ethiopia. He had been to Yerushalayim to worship; <sup>28</sup> and now, as he was returning home, he was sitting in his chariot, reading the prophet Yesha‘yahu. <sup>29</sup> The Spirit said to Philip, “Go over to this chariot, and stay close to it.” <sup>30</sup> As Philip ran up, he heard the Ethiopian reading from Yesha‘yahu the prophet. “Do you understand what you’re reading?” he asked. <sup>31</sup> “How can I,” he said, “unless someone explains it to me?” And he invited Philip to climb up and sit with him.

<sup>32</sup> Now the portion of the Tanakh that he was reading was this:

“He was like a sheep led to be slaughtered;

like a lamb silent before the shearer, he does not open his mouth.

<sup>33</sup>

He was humiliated and denied justice.

Who will tell about his descendants,

since his life has been taken from the earth?”!

<sup>34</sup> The eunuch said to Philip, “Here’s my question to you — is the prophet talking about himself or someone else?” <sup>35</sup> Then Philip started to speak—beginning with that passage, he went on to tell him the Good News about Yeshua.

<sup>36</sup> As they were going down the road, they came to some water; and the eunuch said, “Look! Here’s some water! Is there any reason why I shouldn’t be immersed?” <sup>37</sup>  <sup>38</sup> He ordered the chariot to stop; then both Philip and the eunuch went down into the water, and Philip immersed him. <sup>39</sup> When they came up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord snatched Philip away. The eunuch saw no more of him, because he continued on his way — full of joy.

<sup>40</sup> But Philip showed up at Ashdod and continued proclaiming the Good News as he went through all the towns until he came to Caesarea.

9 <sup>1</sup> Meanwhile, Sha'ul, still breathing murderous threats against the Lord's talmidim, went to the cohen hagadol <sup>2</sup> and asked him for letters to the synagogues in Dammesek, authorizing him to arrest any people he might find, whether men or women, who belonged to "the Way," and bring them back to Yerushalayim.

<sup>7</sup> The men traveling with him stood speechless, hearing the voice but seeing no one. <sup>8</sup> They helped Sha'ul get up off the ground; but when he opened his eyes, he could see nothing. So, leading him by the hand, they brought him into Dammesek. <sup>9</sup> For three days he remained unable to see, and he neither ate nor drank.

<sup>10</sup> There was a talmid in Dammesek, Hananyah by name; and in a vision the Lord said to him, "Hananyah!" He said, "Here I am, Lord." <sup>11</sup> The Lord said to him, "Get up and go to Straight Street, to Y'hudah's house; and ask for a man from Tarsus named Sha'ul; for he is praying, <sup>12</sup> and in a vision he has seen a man named Hananyah coming in and placing his hands on him to restore his sight." <sup>13</sup> But Hananyah answered, "Lord, many have told me about this man, how much harm he has done to your people in Yerushalayim; <sup>14</sup> and here he has a warrant from the head cohanim to arrest everyone who calls on your name." <sup>15</sup> But the Lord said to him, "Go, because this man is my chosen instrument to carry my name to the Goyim, even to their kings, and to the sons of Isra'el as well. <sup>16</sup> For I myself will show him how much he will have to suffer on account of my name."

<sup>17</sup> So Hananyah left and went into the house. Placing his hands on him, he said, "Brother Sha'ul, the Lord — Yeshua, the one who appeared to you on the road as you were coming here — has sent me so that you may see again and be filled with the Ruach HaKodesh." <sup>18</sup> In that moment, something like scales fell away from Sha'ul's eyes; and he could see again.

He got up and was immersed; <sup>19</sup> then he ate some food and regained his strength.

Sha'ul spent some days with the talmidim in Dammesek, <sup>20</sup> and immediately he began proclaiming in the synagogues that Yeshua is the Son of God. <sup>21</sup> All who heard him were amazed. They asked, "Isn't he the man who in Yerushalayim was trying to destroy the people who call on this name? In fact, isn't that why he came here, to arrest them and bring them back to the head cohanim?" <sup>22</sup> But Sha'ul was being filled with more and more power and was creating an uproar among the Jews living in Dammesek with his proofs that Yeshua is the Messiah.

<sup>23</sup> Quite some time later, the non-believing Jews gathered together and made plans to kill him; <sup>24</sup> but their plot became known to Sha'ul. They were watching the gates day and night in order to do away with him; <sup>25</sup> but under cover of night, his talmidim took him and let him down over the city wall, lowering him in a large basket.

<sup>26</sup> On reaching Yerushalayim, he tried to join the talmidim; but they were all afraid of him — they didn't believe he was a talmid. <sup>27</sup> However, Bar-Nabba got hold of him and took him to the emissaries. He told them how Sha'ul had seen the Lord while traveling, that the Lord had spoken to him, and how in Dammesek Sha'ul had spoken out boldly in the name of Yeshua. <sup>28</sup> So he remained with them and went all over Yerushalayim continuing to speak out boldly in the name of the Lord. <sup>29</sup> He talked and debated with the Greek-speaking Jews, but they began making attempts to kill him. <sup>30</sup> When the brothers learned of it, they brought him down to Caesarea and sent him away to Tarsus.

<sup>31</sup> Then the Messianic community throughout Y'hudah, the Galil and Shomron enjoyed peace and was built up. They lived in the fear of the Lord, with the counsel of the Ruach HaKodesh; and their numbers kept multiplying.

<sup>32</sup> As Kefa traveled around the countryside, he came down to the believers in Lud. <sup>33</sup> There he found a man named Aeneas who had lain bedridden for eight years, because he was paralyzed. <sup>34</sup> Kefa said to him, "Aeneas! Yeshua the Messiah is healing you! Get up, and make your bed!"

<sup>35</sup> Everyone living in Lud and the Sharon saw him, and they turned to the Lord.

Now in Yafo there was a talmidah named Tavita <sup>36</sup> (which means "gazelle"); she was always doing tzedakah and other good deeds. <sup>37</sup> It happened that just at that time, she took sick and died. After washing her, they laid her in a room upstairs. <sup>38</sup>Lud is near Yafo, and the talmidim had heard that Kefa was there, so they sent two men to him and urged him, "Please come to us without delay." <sup>39</sup> Kefa got up and went with them.

When he arrived, they led him into the upstairs room. All the widows stood by him, sobbing and showing all the dresses and coats Tavita had made them while she was still with them. <sup>40</sup> But Kefa put them all outside, kneeled down and prayed. Then, turning to the body, he said, "Tavita! Get up!" She opened her eyes; and on seeing Kefa, she sat up. <sup>41</sup> He offered her his hand and helped her to her feet; then, calling the believers and the widows, he presented her to them alive. <sup>42</sup> This became known all over Yafo, and many people put their trust in the Lord. <sup>43</sup> Kefa stayed on in Yafo for some time with a man named Shim'on, a leather-tanner.

10 <sup>1</sup> There was a man in Caesarea named Cornelius, a Roman army officer in what was called the Italian Regiment. <sup>2</sup> He was a devout man, a "God-fearer," as was his whole household; he gave generously to help the Jewish poor and prayed regularly to God. <sup>3</sup> One afternoon around three o'clock he saw clearly in a vision an angel of God coming in and saying to him, "Cornelius!" <sup>4</sup> Cornelius stared at the angel, terrified. "What is it, sir?" he asked. "Your prayers," replied the angel, "and your acts of charity have gone up into God's presence, so that he has you on his mind. <sup>5</sup> Now send some men to Yafo to bring back a man named Shim'on, also called Kefa. <sup>6</sup> He's staying with Shim'on the leather-tanner, who has a house by the sea." <sup>7</sup> As the angel that had spoken to him went away, Cornelius called two of his household slaves and one of his military aides, who was a godly man; <sup>8</sup> he explained everything to them and sent them to Yafo.

<sup>9</sup> The next day about noon, while they were still on their way and approaching the city, Kefa went up onto the roof of the house to pray. <sup>10</sup> He began to feel hungry and wanted something to eat; but while they were preparing the meal, he fell into a trance <sup>11</sup> in which he saw heaven opened, and something that looked like a large sheet being lowered to the ground by its four corners. <sup>12</sup> In it were all kinds of four-footed animals, crawling creatures and wild birds. <sup>13</sup> Then a voice came to him, "Get up, Kefa, slaughter and eat!" <sup>14</sup> But Kefa said, "No, sir! Absolutely not! I have never eaten food that was unclean or treif." <sup>15</sup> The voice spoke to him a second time: “Stop treating as unclean what God has made clean.” <sup>16</sup> This happened three times, and then the sheet was immediately taken back up into heaven.

<sup>17</sup> Kefa was still puzzling over the meaning of the vision he had seen, when the men Cornelius had sent, having inquired for Shim‘on’s house, stood at the gate <sup>18</sup> and called out to ask if the Shim‘on known as Kefa was staying there. <sup>19</sup> While Kefa’s mind was still on the vision, the Spirit said, “Three men are looking for you. <sup>20</sup> Get up, go downstairs, and have no misgivings about going with them, because I myself have sent them.”

<sup>21</sup> So Kefa went down and said to the men, “You were looking for me? Here I am. What brings you here?” <sup>22</sup> They answered, “Cornelius. He’s a Roman army officer, an upright man and a God-fearer, a man highly regarded by the whole Jewish nation; and he was told by a holy angel to have you come to his house and listen to what you have to say.” <sup>23</sup> So Kefa invited them to be his guests.

The next day, he got up and went with them, accompanied by some of the brothers from Yafo; <sup>24</sup> and he arrived at Caesarea the day after that. Cornelius was expecting them — he had already called together his relatives and close friends. <sup>25</sup> As Kefa entered the house, Cornelius met him and fell prostrate at his feet. <sup>26</sup> But Kefa pulled him to his feet and said, “Stand up! I myself am just a man.”

<sup>27</sup> As he talked with him, Kefa went inside and found many people gathered. <sup>28</sup> He said to them, “You are well aware that for a man who is a Jew to have close association with someone who belongs to another people, or to come and visit him, is something that just isn’t done. But God has shown me not to call any person common or unclean; <sup>29</sup> so when I was summoned, I came without raising any questions. Tell me, then, why did you send for me?”

<sup>30</sup> Cornelius answered, “Three days ago around this time, I was at minchah prayers in my house, when suddenly a man in shining clothes stood in front of me <sup>31</sup> and said, ‘God has heard your prayer and remembered your acts of charity. <sup>32</sup> Now send to Yafo and ask for Shim‘on, known as Kefa; he is staying in the house of Shim‘on, a leather-tanner, by the sea.’ <sup>33</sup> So I sent for you immediately, and you have been kind enough to come. Now all of us are here in the presence of God to hear everything the Lord has ordered you to say.”

<sup>34</sup> Then Kefa addressed them: “I now understand that God does not play favorites, <sup>35</sup> but that whoever fears him and does what is right is acceptable to him, no matter what people he belongs to.

<sup>36</sup> “Here is the message that he sent to the sons of Isra’el announcing shalom through Yeshua the Messiah, who is Lord of everything. <sup>37</sup> You know what has been going on throughout Y’hudah, starting from the Galil after the immersion that Yochanan proclaimed; <sup>38</sup> how God anointed Yeshua from Natzeret with the Ruach HaKodesh and with power; how Yeshua went about doing good and healing all the people oppressed by the Adversary, because God was with him.

<sup>39</sup> “As for us, we are witnesses of everything he did, both in the Judean countryside and in Yerushalayim. They did away with him by hanging him on a staked; <sup>40</sup> but God raised him up on the third day and let him be seen, <sup>41</sup> not by all the people, but by witnesses God had previously chosen, that is, by us, who ate and drank with him after he had risen again from the dead.

<sup>42</sup> “Then he commanded us to proclaim and attest to the Jewish people that this man has been appointed by God to judge the living and the dead. <sup>43</sup> All the prophets bear witness to him, that everyone who puts his trust in him receives forgiveness of sins through his name.”

<sup>44</sup> Kefa was still saying these things when the Ruach HaKodesh fell on all who were hearing the message. <sup>45</sup> All the believers from the Circumcision faction who had accompanied Kefa were amazed that the gift of the Ruach HaKodesh was also being poured out <sup>46</sup> on the Goyim, for they heard them speaking in tongues and praising God. Kefa’s response was, <sup>47</sup> “Is anyone prepared to prohibit these people from being immersed in water? After all, they have received the Ruach HaKodesh, just as we did.” <sup>48</sup> And he ordered that they be immersed in the name of Yeshua the Messiah. Then they asked Kefa to stay on with them for a few days.

<sup>4</sup> In reply, Kefa began explaining in detail what had actually happened: <sup>5</sup> “I was in the city of Yafo, praying; and in a trance I had a vision. I saw something like a large sheet being lowered by its four corners from heaven, and it came down to me. <sup>6</sup> I looked inside and saw four-footed animals, beasts of prey, crawling creatures and wild birds. <sup>7</sup> Then I heard a voice telling me, 'Get up, Kefa, slaughter and eat!' <sup>8</sup> I said, 'No, sir! Absolutely not! Nothing unclean or treif has ever entered my mouth!' <sup>9</sup> But the voice spoke again from heaven: 'Stop treating as unclean what God has made clean.' <sup>10</sup> This happened three times, and then everything was pulled back up into heaven.

<sup>11</sup> "At that very moment, three men who had been sent to me from Caesarea arrived at the house where I was staying; <sup>12</sup> and the Spirit told me to have no misgivings about going back with them. These six brothers also came with me, and we went into the man's house. <sup>13</sup> He told us how he had seen the angel standing in his house and saying, 'Send to Yafo and bring back Shim'on, known as Kefa. <sup>14</sup> He has a message for you which will enable you and your whole household to be saved.'

<sup>15</sup> "But I had hardly begun speaking when the Ruach HaKodesh fell on them, just as on us at the beginning! <sup>16</sup> And I remembered that the Lord had said, 'Yochanan used to immerse people in water, but you will be immersed in the Ruach HaKodesh.' <sup>17</sup> Therefore, if God gave them the same gift as he gave us after we had come to put our trust in the Lord Yeshua the Messiah, who was I to stand in God's way?"

<sup>18</sup> On hearing these things, they stopped objecting and began to praise God, saying, "This means that God has enabled the Goyim as well to do t'shuvah and have life!"

<sup>19</sup> Now those who had been scattered because of the persecution which had arisen over Stephen went as far as Phoenicia, Cyprus and Antioch; they spoke God's word, but only to Jews. <sup>20</sup> However, some of these, men from Cyprus and Cyrene, when they arrived at Antioch, began speaking to the Greeks too, proclaiming the Good News of the Lord Yeshua. <sup>21</sup> The hand of the Lord was with them, and a great number of people trusted and turned to the Lord.

<sup>22</sup> News of this reached the ears of the Messianic community in Yerushalayim, and they sent Bar-Nabba to Antioch. <sup>23</sup> On arriving and seeing for himself the grace of God at work, he was glad; and he encouraged them all to remain true to the Lord with their whole hearts; <sup>24</sup> for he was a good man, full of the Ruach HaKodesh and trust.

<sup>25</sup> Then Bar-Nabba went off to Tarsus to look for Sha'ul; <sup>26</sup> and when he found him, he brought him to Antioch. They met with the congregation

there for a whole year and taught a sizeable crowd. Also it was in Antioch that the talmidim for the first time were called “Messianic.”

<sup>27</sup> During this time, some prophets came down from Yerushalayim to Antioch; <sup>28</sup> and one of them named Agav stood up and through the Spirit predicted that there was going to be a severe famine throughout the Roman Empire. (It took place while Claudius was Emperor.) <sup>29</sup> So the talmidim decided to provide relief to the brothers living in Y’hudah, each according to his means; <sup>30</sup> and they did it, sending their contribution to the elders in the care of Bar-Nabba and Sha’ul.

12 <sup>1</sup> It was around this time that King Herod began arresting and persecuting certain members of the Messianic community; <sup>2</sup> and he had Ya’akov, Yochanan’s brother, put to death by the sword. <sup>3</sup> When Herod saw how much this pleased the Judeans, he went on to arrest Kefa as well. It was during the Days of Matzah, <sup>4</sup> so when Herod seized him, he threw him in prison, handing him over to be guarded by four squads of four soldiers each, with the intention of bringing him to public trial after Pesach. <sup>5</sup> So Kefa was being held under watch in prison, but intense prayer was being made to God on his behalf by the Messianic community.

<sup>6</sup> The night before Herod was going to bring him to trial, Kefa was sleeping between two soldiers. He was bound with two chains; and guards were at the door, keeping watch over the prison. <sup>7</sup> Suddenly an angel of ADONAI stood there, and a light shone in the cell. He tapped Kefa’s side and woke him. “Hurry! Get up!” he said; and the chains fell off his hands. <sup>8</sup> The angel said to him, “Put on your clothes and sandals,” and he did. “Throw on your robe,” he said, “and follow me!” <sup>9</sup> Going out, Kefa followed him but did not realize that what was happening through the angel was real — he thought he was seeing a vision. <sup>10</sup> Having passed a first guard and a second, they arrived at the iron gate leading to the city. This opened to them by itself, and they made their exit. They went down the length of one street, and suddenly the angel left him. <sup>11</sup> Then Kefa came to himself and said, “Now I know for sure that the Lord sent his angel to rescue me from Herod’s power and from everything the Judean people were hoping for.”

answer. <sup>14</sup> She recognized Kefa's voice and was so happy that she ran back in without opening the door, and announced that Kefa was standing outside. <sup>15</sup> "You're out of your mind!" they said to her. But she insisted it was true. So they said, "It is his angel." <sup>16</sup> Meanwhile, Kefa kept knocking; and when they opened the door and saw him, they were amazed. <sup>17</sup> Motioning to them with his hand to be quiet, he told them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison and said, "Tell all this to Ya'akov and the brothers." Then he left and went elsewhere.

<sup>18</sup> When daylight came, there was no small commotion among the soldiers over what had become of Kefa. <sup>19</sup> Herod had a thorough search made for him, but they failed to find him, so he cross-examined the guards and ordered them put to death. Then Herod went down from Y'hudah to Caesarea and spent some time there.

<sup>20</sup> Now Herod was very angry with the people of Tzor and Tzidon, so they joined together and sought an audience with him. After securing the support of Blastus, the king's chief personal servant, they asked for peace; because they depended on the king's lands for their food supply. <sup>21</sup> A day was set, and Herod in his royal robes sat on the throne and made a speech to them. <sup>22</sup> The mob cried out, "This is the voice of a god, not a man!" <sup>23</sup> At once, because Herod did not give the glory to God, an angel of ADONAI struck him down. He was eaten away by worms and died.

13 <sup>1</sup> In the Antioch congregation were prophets and teachers — Bar-Nabba, Shim'on (known as "the Black"), Lucius (from Cyrene), Menachem (who had been brought up with Herod the governor) and Sha'ul. <sup>2</sup> One time when they were worshipping the Lord and fasting, the Ruach HaKodesh said to them, "Set aside for me Bar-Nabba and Sha'ul for the work to which I have called them." <sup>3</sup> After fasting and praying, they placed their hands on them and sent them off.

<sup>4</sup> So these two, after they had been sent out by the Ruach HaKodesh, went down to Seleucia and from there sailed to Cyprus. <sup>5</sup> After landing in Salamis, they began proclaiming the word of God in the synagogues, with Yochanan (Mark) as an assistant; <sup>6</sup> and thus they made their way throughout the whole island.

They ended up in Paphos, where they found a Jewish sorcerer and pseudo-prophet named Bar-Yeshua. <sup>7</sup> He had attached himself to the governor, Sergius Paulus, who was an intelligent man. Now the governor had called for Bar-Nabba and Sha'ul and was anxious to hear the message about God; <sup>8</sup> but the sorcerer Elymas (for that is how his name is translated) opposed them, doing his best to turn the governor away from the faith. <sup>9</sup> Then Sha'ul, also known as Paul, filled with the Ruach HaKodesh, stared straight at him and said, <sup>10</sup> “You son of Satan, full of fraud and evil! You enemy of everything good! Won't you ever stop making crooked the straight paths of the Lord?” <sup>11</sup> So now, look! The hand of the Lord is upon you; and for a while you will be blind, unable to see the sun.” Immediately mist and darkness came over Elymas; and he groped about, trying to find someone to lead him by the hand. <sup>12</sup> Then, on seeing what had happened, the governor trusted, astounded by the teaching about the Lord.

<sup>13</sup> Having set sail from Paphos, Sha'ul and his companions arrived at Perga in Pamphylia. There Yochanan left them and returned to Yerushalayim, <sup>14</sup> but the others went on from Perga to Pisidian Antioch, and on Shabbat they went into the synagogue and sat down. <sup>15</sup> After the reading from the Torah and from the Prophets, the synagogue leaders sent them a message, “Brothers, if any of you has a word of exhortation for the people, speak!” <sup>16</sup> So Sha'ul stood, motioned with his hand, and said:

“Men of Isra'el and God-fearers, listen! <sup>17</sup> The God of this people Isra'el chose our fathers. He made the people great during the time when they were living as aliens in Egypt and with a stretched-out arm he led them out of that land <sup>18</sup> ! For some forty years <sup>19</sup> he took care of them in the desert, and after he had destroyed seven nations <sup>20</sup> in the land of Kena'an he gave their land to his people as an inheritance. <sup>21</sup> All this took about 450 years. After that, he gave them judges, <sup>22</sup> down to the prophet Sh'mu'el. <sup>23</sup> Then they asked for a king, and God gave them Sha'ul Ben-Kish, a man from the tribe of Binyamin. After forty years, <sup>24</sup> God removed him and raised up David as king for them, making his approval known with these words, ‘I found David Ben-Yishai to be a man after my own heart; he will do everything I want.’ <sup>25</sup>

Yochanan proclaimed to all the people of Isra'el an immersion in connection with turning to God from sin. <sup>25</sup> But as Yochanan was ending his work, he said, 'Who do you suppose I am? Well — I'm not! But after me is coming someone, the sandals of whose feet I am unworthy to untie.'

<sup>26</sup> "Brothers! — sons of Avraham and those among you who are 'God-fearers'! It is to us that the message of this deliverance has been sent! <sup>27</sup> For the people living in Yerushalayim and their leaders did not recognize who Yeshua was or understand the message of the Prophets read every Shabbat, so they fulfilled that message by condemning him. <sup>28</sup> They could not find any legitimate ground for a death sentence; nevertheless they asked Pilate to have him executed; <sup>29</sup> and when they had carried out all the things written about him, he was taken down from the stake<sup>g</sup> and placed in a tomb.

<sup>30</sup> "But God raised him from the dead! <sup>31</sup> He appeared for many days to those who had come up with him from the Galil to Yerushalayim; and they are now his witnesses to the people.

<sup>32</sup> "As for us, we are bringing you the Good News that what God promised to the fathers, <sup>33</sup> he has fulfilled for us the children in raising up Yeshua, as indeed it is written in the second Psalm,

'You are my Son;

today I have become your Father.'<sup>h</sup>

<sup>34</sup> And as for his raising him up from the dead, to return to decay no more, he said,

'I will give the holy and trustworthy things of David to you.'<sup>i</sup>

<sup>35</sup> This is explained elsewhere:

'You will not let your Holy One see decay.'<sup>j</sup>

<sup>36</sup> For David did indeed serve God's purposes in his own generation; but after that, he died, was buried with his fathers and did see decay. <sup>37</sup> However, the one God raised up did not see decay.

<sup>38</sup> “Therefore, brothers, let it be known to you that through this man is proclaimed forgiveness of sins! <sup>39</sup> That is, God clears everyone who puts his trust in this man, even in regard to all the things concerning which you could not be cleared by the Torah of Moshe.

<sup>40</sup> “Watch out, then, so that this word found in the Prophets may not happen to you:

<sup>41</sup> ‘You mockers! Look, and marvel, and die!

For in your own time, I am doing a work

that you simply will not believe,

even if someone explains it to you!’”<sup>u</sup>

<sup>42</sup> As they left, the people invited Sha’ul and Bar-Nabba to tell them more about these matters the following Shabbat. <sup>43</sup> When the synagogue meeting broke up, many of the born Jews and devout proselytes followed Sha’ul and Bar-Nabba, who spoke with them and urged them to keep holding fast to the love and kindness of God.

<sup>44</sup> The next Shabbat, nearly the whole city gathered together to hear the message about the Lord; <sup>45</sup> but when the Jews who had not believed saw the crowds, they were filled with jealousy and spoke up against what Sha’ul was saying and insulted him. <sup>46</sup> However, Sha’ul and Bar-Nabba answered boldly: “It was necessary that God’s word be spoken first to you. But since you are rejecting it and are judging yourselves unworthy of eternal life — why, we’re turning to the Goyim! <sup>47</sup> For that is what ADONAI has ordered us to do:

‘I have set you as a light for the Goyim,

to be for deliverance to the ends of the earth.’”<sup>v</sup>

<sup>48</sup> The Gentiles were very happy to hear this. They honored the message about the Lord, and as many as had been appointed to eternal life came to trust. <sup>49</sup> And the message about the Lord was carried throughout the whole region.

<sup>50</sup> But the unbelieving Jews stirred up the women ‘God-fearers’ of high social standing and the leading men of the city, and they organized persecution against Sha’ul and Bar-Nabba and expelled them from their district. <sup>51</sup> However, Sha’ul and Bar-Nabba shook off the dust of their feet against them and went on to Iconium; <sup>52</sup> and the talmidim were filled with joy and with the Ruach HaKodesh.

<sup>5</sup> Eventually the unbelievers, both Jews and Gentiles, together with their leaders, made a move to mistreat the emissaries, even to stone them; <sup>6</sup> but they learned of it and escaped to Lystra and Derbe, towns in Lycaonia, and to the surrounding country, <sup>7</sup> where they continued proclaiming the Good News.

<sup>8</sup> There was a man living in Lystra who could not use his feet — crippled from birth, he had never walked. <sup>9</sup> This man listened to Sha’ul speaking. Sha’ul, looking at him intently and seeing that he had faith to be healed, <sup>10</sup> said with a loud voice, “Stand up on your feet!” He jumped up and began to walk. <sup>11</sup> When the crowds saw what Sha’ul had done, they began to shout in the Lycaonian language, “The gods have come down to us in the form of men!” <sup>12</sup> They began calling Bar-Nabba “Zeus” and Sha’ul “Hermes,” since he did most of the talking; <sup>13</sup> and the priest of Zeus, whose temple was just outside the city, brought bulls and wreaths to the city gates, intending to offer a sacrifice to them with the people.

<sup>14</sup> When the emissaries Bar-Nabba and Sha’ul heard of it, they tore their clothes and ran into the crowd, shouting, <sup>15</sup> “Men! Why are you doing this? We’re just men, human like you! We are announcing Good News to you — turn from these worthless things to the living God who made heaven and earth and the sea and everything in them!” <sup>16</sup> In times past, he allowed all peoples to walk in their own ways; <sup>17</sup> yet he did not leave himself without evidence of his nature; because he does good things, giving you rain from heaven and crops in their seasons, filling you with food and your hearts with happiness!”<sup>18</sup> Even saying this barely kept the crowds from sacrificing to them.

<sup>19</sup> Then some unbelieving Jews came from Antioch and Iconium. They won over the crowds, stoned Sha’ul and dragged him outside the city, thinking he was dead. <sup>20</sup> But as the talmidim gathered around him, he got up and went back into the town. The next day, he left with Bar-Nabba for Derbe.

<sup>21</sup> After proclaiming the Good News in that city and making many people into talmidim, they returned to Lystra, Iconium and Antioch, <sup>22</sup> strengthening the talmidim, encouraging them to remain true to the faith, and reminding them that it is through many hardships that we must enter the Kingdom of God. <sup>23</sup> After appointing elders for them in every congregation, Sha’ul and Bar-Nabba, with prayer and fasting, committed them to the Lord in whom they had put their trust.

<sup>24</sup> Passing through Pisidia, they came to Pamphylia. <sup>25</sup> After speaking the message in Perga, they came down to Attalia; and from there, they sailed back to Antioch, <sup>26</sup> the place where they had been handed over to the care of God for the work which they had now completed.

<sup>27</sup> When they arrived, they gathered the Messianic community together and reported what God had done through them, that he had opened a door of faith to the Gentiles. <sup>28</sup> And they stayed for some time there with the talmidim.

15 <sup>1</sup> But some men came down from Y’hudah to Antioch and began teaching the brothers, “You can’t be saved unless you undergo b’rit-milah in the manner prescribed by Moshe.” <sup>2</sup> This brought them into no small measure of discord and dispute with Sha’ul and Bar-Nabba. So the congregation assigned Sha’ul, Bar-Nabba and some of themselves to go and put this sh’eilah before the emissaries and the elders up in Yerushalayim.

<sup>3</sup> After being sent off by the congregation, they made their way through Phoenicia and Shomron, recounting in detail how the Gentiles had turned to God; and this news brought great joy to all the brothers.

<sup>4</sup> On arrival in Yerushalayim, they were welcomed by the Messianic community, including the emissaries and the elders; and they reported what

God had done through them. <sup>5</sup> But some of those who had come to trust were from the party of the P'rushim; and they stood up and said, "It is necessary to circumcise them and direct them to observe the Torah of Moshe."

<sup>6</sup> The emissaries and the elders met to look into this matter. <sup>7</sup> After lengthy debate, Kefa got up and said to them, "Brothers, you yourselves know that a good while back, God chose me from among you to be the one by whose mouth the Goyim should hear the message of the Good News and come to trust. <sup>8</sup> And God, who knows the heart, bore them witness by giving the Ruach HaKodesh to them, just as he did to us; <sup>9</sup> that is, he made no distinction between us and them, but cleansed their heart by trust. <sup>10</sup> So why are you putting God to the test now by placing a yoke on the neck of the talmidim which neither our fathers nor we have had the strength to bear? <sup>11</sup> No, it is through the love and kindness of the Lord Yeshua that we trust and are delivered—and it's the same with them."

<sup>12</sup> Then the whole assembly kept still as they listened to Bar-Nabba and Sha'ul tell what signs and miracles God had done through them among the Gentiles. <sup>13</sup> Ya'akov broke the silence to reply. "Brothers," he said, "hear what I have to say. <sup>14</sup> Shim'on has told in detail what God did when he first began to show his concern for taking from among the Goyim a people to bear his name. <sup>15</sup> And the words of the Prophets are in complete harmony with this for it is written,

and I will rebuild the fallen tent of David.

I will rebuild its ruins,

I will restore it,

<sup>17</sup> so that the rest of mankind may seek the Lord,

that is, all the Goyim who have been called by my name,"

<sup>18</sup> says ADONAI, who is doing these things.'<sup>א</sup>

All this has been known for ages.

<sup>19</sup> “Therefore, my opinion is that we should not put obstacles in the way of the Goyim who are turning to God. <sup>20</sup> Instead, we should write them a letter telling them to abstain from things polluted by idols, from fornication, from what is strangled and from blood. <sup>21</sup> For from the earliest times, Moshe has had in every city those who proclaim him, with his words being read in the synagogues every Shabbat.”

<sup>22</sup> Then the emissaries and the elders, together with the whole Messianic community, decided to select men from among themselves to send to Antioch with Sha’ul and Bar-Nabba. They sent Y’hudah, called Bar-Sabba, and Sila, both leading men among the brothers, <sup>23</sup> with the following letter:

From: The emissaries and the elders, your brothers

To: The brothers from among the Gentiles throughout Antioch, Syria and Cilicia:

Greetings!

<sup>24</sup> We have heard that some people went out from among us without our authorization, and that they have upset you with their talk, unsettling your minds. <sup>25</sup> So we have decided unanimously to select men and send them to you with our dear friends Bar-Nabba and Sha’ul, <sup>26</sup> who have dedicated their lives to upholding the name of our Lord, Yeshua the Messiah. <sup>27</sup> So we have sent Y’hudah and Sila, and they will confirm in person what we are writing.

<sup>28</sup> For it seemed good to the Ruach HaKodesh and to us not to lay any heavier burden on you than the following requirements: <sup>29</sup> to abstain from what has been sacrificed to idols, from blood, from things strangled, and from fornication. If you keep yourselves from these, you will be doing the right thing.

Shalom!

<sup>30</sup> The messengers were sent off and went to Antioch, where they gathered the group together and delivered the letter. <sup>31</sup> After reading it, the people were delighted by its encouragement.<sup>32</sup> Y'hudah and Sila, who were also prophets, said much to encourage and strengthen the brothers.<sup>33</sup> After they had spent some time there, they were sent off with a greeting of “Shalom!” from the brothers to those who had sent them.<sup>34*</sup><sup>35</sup> But Sha’ul and Bar-Nabba stayed in Antioch, where they and many others taught and proclaimed the Good News of the message about the Lord.

<sup>36</sup> After some time, Sha’ul said to Bar-Nabba, “Let’s go back and visit the brothers in all the towns where we proclaimed the message about the Lord, and see how they’re doing.”<sup>37</sup> Now Bar-Nabba wanted to take with them Yochanan, the one called Mark.<sup>38</sup> But Sha’ul thought it would be unwise to take this man with them, since he had gone off and left them in Pamphylia to do the work by themselves.<sup>39</sup> There was such sharp disagreement over this that they separated from each other, with Bar-Nabba taking Mark and sailing off to Cyprus.

16<sup>1</sup> Sha’ul came down to Derbe and went on to Lystra, where there lived a talmid named Timothy. He was the son of a Jewish woman who had come to trust, and a Greek father.<sup>2</sup> All the brothers in Lystra and Iconium spoke well of Timothy.<sup>3</sup> Sha’ul wanted Timothy to accompany him; so he took him and did a b’rit-milah, because of the Jews living in those areas; for they all knew that his father had been a Greek.

<sup>4</sup> As they went on through the towns, they delivered to the people the decisions reached by the emissaries and the elders in Yerushalayim for them to observe.<sup>5</sup> Accordingly, the congregations were strengthened in the faith and increased in number day by day.

<sup>6</sup> They traveled through the region of Phrygia and Galatia, because they had been prevented by the Ruach HaKodesh from speaking the message in the province of Asia.<sup>7</sup> When they came to the frontier of Mysia, they tried to go into Bithynia; but the Spirit of Yeshua would not let them.<sup>8</sup> So, after passing by Mysia, they came down to Troas.

<sup>9</sup> There a vision appeared to Sha’ul at night. A man from Macedonia was standing and begging him, “Come over to Macedonia and help us!”<sup>10</sup> As soon as he had seen the vision, we lost no time getting ready to leave for Macedonia; for we concluded that God had called us to proclaim the Good News to them.

<sup>11</sup> Sailing from Troas, we made a straight run to Samothrace; the next day we went to Neapolis; <sup>12</sup> and from there, we went on to Philippi, a Roman colony and the leading city of that part of Macedonia. We spent a few days in this city; <sup>13</sup> then on Shabbat, we went outside the gate to the riverside, where we understood a minyan met. We sat down and began speaking to the women who had gathered there. <sup>14</sup> One of those listening was a woman from the city of Thyatira named Lydia, a dealer in fine purple cloth. She was already a “God-fearer,” and the Lord opened up her heart to respond to what Sha’ul was saying. <sup>15</sup> After she and the members of her household had been immersed, she gave us this invitation: “If you consider me to be faithful to the Lord, come and stay in my house.” And she insisted till we went.

<sup>16</sup> Once, when we were going to the place where the minyan gathered, we were met by a slave girl who had in her a snake-spirit that enabled her to predict the future. She earned a lot of money for her owners by telling fortunes. <sup>17</sup> This girl followed behind Sha’ul and the rest of us and kept screaming, “These men are servants of God Ha’Elyon! They’re telling you how to be saved!” <sup>18</sup> She kept this up day after day, until Sha’ul, greatly disturbed, turned and said to the spirit, “In the name of Yeshua the Messiah, I order you to come out of her!” And the spirit did come out, at that very moment.

<sup>19</sup> But when her owners saw that what had come out was any further prospect of profit for them, they seized Sha’ul and Sila and dragged them to the market square to face the authorities. <sup>20</sup> Bringing them to the judges, they said, “These men are causing a lot of trouble in our city, since they are Jews. <sup>21</sup> What they are doing is advocating customs that are against the law for us to accept or practice, since we are Romans.” <sup>22</sup> The mob joined in the attack against them, and the judges tore their clothes off them and ordered that they be flogged. <sup>23</sup> After giving them a severe beating, they threw them in prison, charging the jailer to guard them securely. <sup>24</sup> Upon receiving such an order, he threw them into the inner cell and clamped their feet securely between heavy blocks of wood.

<sup>25</sup> Around midnight, Sha’ul and Sila were praying and singing hymns to God, while the other prisoners listened attentively. <sup>26</sup> Suddenly there was a violent earthquake which shook the prison to its foundations. All the doors flew open and everyone's chains came loose. <sup>27</sup> The jailer awoke, and when he saw the doors open he drew his sword and was about to kill himself, for he assumed that the prisoners had escaped. <sup>28</sup> But Sha'ul shouted, "Don't harm yourself! We're all here!"

<sup>29</sup> Calling for lights, the jailer ran in, began to tremble and fell down in front of Sha'ul and Sila. <sup>30</sup> Then, leading them outside, he said, "Men, what must I do to be saved?" <sup>31</sup> They said, "Trust in the Lord Yeshua, and you will be saved — you and your household!" <sup>32</sup> Whereupon they told him and everyone in his household the message about the Lord.

<sup>33</sup> Then, even at that late hour of the night, the jailer took them and washed off their wounds; and without delay, he and all his people were immersed. <sup>34</sup> After that, he brought them up to his house and set food in front of them; and he and his entire household celebrated their having come to trust in God.

<sup>35</sup> The next morning, the judges sent police officers with the order, "Release those men." <sup>36</sup> The jailer told Sha'ul, "The judges have sent word to release both of you. So come out, and go on your way in peace." <sup>37</sup> But Sha'ul said to the officers, "After flogging us in public when we hadn't been convicted of any crime and are Roman citizens, they threw us in prison. Now they want to get rid of us secretly? Oh, no! Let them come and escort us out themselves!"

<sup>38</sup> The officers reported these words to the judges, who became frightened when they heard that Sha'ul and Sila were Roman citizens. <sup>39</sup> They came and apologized to them; then, after escorting them out, requested them to leave the city. <sup>40</sup> From the prison they went to Lydia's house, and after seeing and encouraging the brothers they departed.

<sup>5</sup> But the unbelieving Jews grew jealous; so they got together some vicious men from the riffraff hanging around in the market square, collected a crowd and started a riot in the city. They attacked Jason's house, hoping to bring Sha'ul and Sila out to the mob. <sup>6</sup> But when they didn't find them, they dragged Jason and some other brothers before the city authorities and shouted, "These men who have turned the whole world upside down have come here too! <sup>7</sup> And Jason has let them stay in his home! All of them are defying the decrees of the Emperor; because they assert that there is another king, Yeshua!" <sup>8</sup> Their words threw the crowd and the authorities into a turmoil, <sup>9</sup> so that only after Jason and the others had posted bond did they let them go. <sup>10</sup> But as soon as night fell, the brothers sent Sha'ul and Sila off to Berea.

As soon as they arrived, they went to the synagogue. <sup>11</sup> Now the people here were of nobler character than the ones in Thessalonica; they eagerly welcomed the message, checking the Tanakh every day to see if the things Sha'ul was saying were true. <sup>12</sup> Many of them came to trust, as did a number of prominent Greek women and not a few Greek men.

<sup>13</sup> But when the unbelieving Jews of Thessalonica learned that the word of God had been proclaimed by Sha'ul in Berea as well, they went there too to make trouble and agitate the crowds. <sup>14</sup> The brothers sent Sha'ul away at once to go down to the seacoast, while Sila and Timothy stayed behind. <sup>15</sup> Sha'ul's escort went with him as far as Athens, then left with instructions for Sila and Timothy to come as quickly as they could.

<sup>16</sup> While Sha'ul was waiting for them in Athens, his spirit within him was disturbed at the sight of the city full of idols. <sup>17</sup> So he began holding discussions in the synagogue with the Jews and the "God-fearers," and in the market square every day with the people who happened to be there.

<sup>18</sup> Also a group of Epicurean and Stoic philosophers started meeting with him. Some asked, "What is this babbler trying to say?" Others, because he proclaimed the Good News about Yeshua and the resurrection, said, "He sounds like a propagandist for foreign gods." <sup>19</sup> They took and brought him before the High Council, saying, "May we know what this new teaching is that you are presenting? <sup>20</sup> Some of the things we are hearing from you strike us as strange, and we would like to know what they mean." <sup>21</sup> (All the Athenians and the foreigners living there used to spend their spare time talking or hearing about the latest intellectual fads.)

<sup>22</sup> Sha'ul stood up in the Council meeting and said, "Men of Athens: I see how very religious you are in every way! <sup>23</sup> For as I was walking around, looking at your shrines, I even found an altar which had been inscribed, 'To An Unknown God.' So, the one whom you are already worshipping in ignorance — this is the one I proclaim to you.

<sup>24</sup> "The God who made the universe and everything in it, and who is Lord of heaven and earth, does not live in man-made temples; <sup>25</sup> nor is he served by human hands, as if he lacked something; since it is he himself who gives life and breath and everything to everyone.

<sup>26</sup> "From one man he made every nation living on the entire surface of the earth, and he fixed the limits of their territories and the periods when they would flourish. <sup>27</sup> God did this so that people would look for him and perhaps reach out and find him although in fact, he is not far from each one of us, <sup>28</sup> 'for in him we live and move and exist.' Indeed, as some of the poets among you have said, 'We are actually his children.' <sup>29</sup> So, since we are children of God, we shouldn't suppose that God's essence resembles gold, silver or stone shaped by human technique and imagination.

<sup>30</sup> "In the past, God overlooked such ignorance; but now he is commanding all people everywhere to turn to him from their sins. <sup>31</sup> For he has set a Day when he will judge the inhabited world, and do it justly, by means of a man whom he has designated. And he has given public proof of it by resurrecting this man from the dead."

<sup>32</sup> At the mention of a resurrection of dead people, some began to scoff; while others said, "We want to hear you again on this subject." <sup>33</sup> So Sha'ul left the meeting. <sup>34</sup> But some men stayed with him and came to trust, including the High Council member Dionysius; there was also a woman named Damaris; and others came to trust along with them.

<sup>4</sup> Sha'ul also began carrying on discussions every Shabbat in the synagogue, where he tried to convince both Jews and Greeks. <sup>5</sup> But after

Sila and Timothy arrived from Macedonia, Sha'ul felt pressed by the urgency of the message and testified in depth to the Jews that Yeshua is the Messiah. <sup>6</sup> However when they set themselves against him and began hurling insults, he shook out his clothes and said to them, "Your blood be on your own heads! For my part, I am clean; from now on, I will go to the Goyim!"

<sup>9</sup> One night, in a vision, the Lord said to Sha'ul, "Don't be afraid, but speak right up, and don't stop, <sup>10</sup> because I am with you. No one will succeed in harming you, for I have many people in this city." <sup>11</sup> So Sha'ul stayed there for a year and a half, teaching them the word of God.

<sup>12</sup> But when Gallio became the Roman governor of Achaia, the unbelieving Jews made a concerted attack on Sha'ul and took him to court, <sup>13</sup> saying, "This man is trying to persuade people to worship God in ways that violate the Torah." <sup>14</sup> Sha'ul was just about to open his mouth, when Gallio said to the Jews, "Listen, you Jews, if this were a case of inflicted injury or a serious crime, I could reasonably be expected to hear you out patiently. <sup>15</sup> But since it involves questions about words and names and your own law, then you must deal with it yourselves. I flatly refuse to judge such matters." <sup>16</sup> And he had them ejected from the court. <sup>17</sup> They all grabbed Sosthenes, the president of the synagogue, and gave him a beating in full view of the bench; but Gallio showed no concern whatever.

<sup>18</sup> Sha'ul remained for some time, then said good-bye to the brothers and sailed off to Syria, after having his hair cut short in Cenchrea, because he had taken a vow; with him were Priscilla and Aquila.

<sup>19</sup> They came to Ephesus, and he left them there; but he himself went into the synagogue and held dialogue with the Jews. <sup>20</sup> When they asked him to stay with them longer, he declined; <sup>21</sup> however, in his farewell he said, "God willing, I will come back to you." Then he set sail from Ephesus.

<sup>22</sup> After landing at Caesarea, he went up to Yerushalayim and greeted the Messianic community. Then he came down to Antioch, <sup>23</sup> spent some time there, and afterwards set out and passed systematically through the region of Galatia and Phrygia, strengthening all the talmidim.

<sup>24</sup> Meanwhile, a Jewish man named Apollos, a native of Alexandria, came to Ephesus. He was an eloquent speaker with a thorough knowledge of the Tanakh. <sup>25</sup> This man had been informed about the Way of the Lord, and with great spiritual fervor he spoke and taught accurately the facts about Yeshua, but he knew only the immersion of Yochanan. <sup>26</sup> He began to speak out boldly in the synagogue; but when Priscilla and Aquila heard him, they took him aside and explained to him the Way of God in fuller detail. <sup>27</sup> When he made plans to cross over into Achaia, the brothers encouraged him and wrote the talmidim there to welcome him. On arrival, he greatly helped those who through grace had come to trust; <sup>28</sup> for he powerfully and conclusively refuted the unbelieving Jews in public, demonstrating by the Tanakh that Yeshua is the Messiah.

19 <sup>1</sup> While Apollos was in Corinth, Sha'ul completed his travels through the inland country and arrived at Ephesus, where he found a few talmidim. <sup>2</sup> He asked them, "Did you receive the Ruach HaKodesh when you came to trust?" "No," they said to him, "we have never even heard that there is such a thing as the Ruach HaKodesh." <sup>3</sup> "In that case," he said, "into what were you immersed?" "The immersion of Yochanan," they answered. <sup>4</sup> Sha'ul said, "Yochanan practiced an immersion in connection with turning from sin to God; but he told the people to put their trust in the one who would come after him, that is, in Yeshua." <sup>5</sup> On hearing this, they were immersed into the name of the Lord Yeshua; <sup>6</sup> and when Sha'ul placed his hands on them, the Ruach HaKodesh came upon them; so that they began speaking in tongues and prophesying. <sup>7</sup> In all, there were about twelve of these men.

<sup>8</sup> Sha'ul went into the synagogue; and for three months he spoke out boldly, engaging in dialogue and trying to persuade people about the Kingdom of God. <sup>9</sup> But some began hardening themselves and refusing to listen; and when these started defaming the Way before the whole synagogue, Sha'ul withdrew, took the talmidim with him, and commenced holding daily dialogues in Tyrannus's yeshivah. <sup>10</sup> This went on for two years; so that everyone, both Jews and Greeks, living in the province of Asia heard the message about the Lord.

<sup>11</sup> God did extraordinary miracles through Sha'ul. <sup>12</sup> For instance, handkerchiefs and aprons that had touched him were brought to sick people;

they would recover from their ailments; and the evil spirits would leave them.

<sup>13</sup> Then some of the Jewish exorcists who traveled from place to place tried to make use of the name of the Lord Yeshua in connection with people who had evil spirits. They would say, “I exorcise you by the Yeshua that Sha’ul is proclaiming!” <sup>14</sup>One time, seven sons of a Jewish cohen gadol named Skeva were doing this; <sup>15</sup> and the evil spirit answered them. It said, “Yeshua I know. And Sha’ul I recognize. But you? Who are you?” <sup>16</sup> Then the man with the evil spirit fell upon them, overpowered them and gave them such a beating that they ran from the house, naked and bleeding.

<sup>17</sup> When all this became known to the residents of Ephesus, fear fell on all of them, Jews and Greeks alike; and the name of the Lord Yeshua came to be held in high regard. <sup>18</sup> Many of those who had earlier made professions of faith now came and admitted publicly their evil deeds; <sup>19</sup> and a considerable number of those who had engaged in occult practices threw their scrolls in a pile and burned them in public. When they calculated the value of the scrolls, it came to fifty thousand drachmas. <sup>20</sup> Thus the message about the Lord continued in a powerful way to grow in influence.

<sup>21</sup> Some time later, Sha’ul decided by the Spirit to pass through Macedonia and Achaia and then go to Yerushalayim. “After I have been there,” he said, “I must visit Rome.” <sup>22</sup> So he dispatched two of his helpers, Timothy and Erastus, to Macedonia; but he himself remained in the province of Asia for awhile.

<sup>23</sup> It was at this time that a major furor arose concerning the Way. <sup>24</sup> There was a silversmith named Demetrius who manufactured from silver, objects connected with the worship of the goddess Artemis; and he provided no small amount of work for the craftsmen. <sup>25</sup> He called a meeting of them and of those engaged in similar trades, and said, “Men, you understand that this line of business provides us our living. <sup>26</sup> And you can see and hear for yourselves that not only here in Ephesus, but in practically the whole province of Asia, this Sha’ul has convinced and turned away a considerable crowd by saying that man-made gods aren’t gods at all. <sup>27</sup> Now the danger is not only that the reputation of our trade will suffer, but that the temple of the great goddess Artemis will come to be taken lightly. It could end up with the goddess herself, who is worshipped throughout the province of Asia and indeed throughout the whole world, being ignominiously brought down from her divine majesty!”

<sup>28</sup> Hearing this, they were filled with rage and began bellowing, “Great is Artemis of the Ephesians!” <sup>29</sup> Soon the whole city was in an uproar. As one man, the mob rushed into the theater, dragging along Gaius and Aristarchus, Sha’ul’s traveling companions from Macedonia. <sup>30</sup> Sha’ul himself wanted to appear before the crowd, but the talmidim wouldn’t let him. <sup>31</sup> Even some of the officials of the province, friends of his, sent a message begging him not to risk entering the theater. <sup>32</sup> Meanwhile, some were shouting one thing and others something else, because the assembly was in complete confusion, and the great majority didn’t even know why they were there. <sup>33</sup> Some of the crowd explained the situation to Alexander, whom the Jews had pushed to the front. So Alexander motioned for silence, hoping to make a defense speech to the people. <sup>34</sup> But as soon as they recognized that he was a Jew, they began bellowing in unison, “Great is Artemis of the Ephesians!” and they kept it up for about two hours.

<sup>35</sup> At last, the city clerk was able to quiet the crowd. “Men of Ephesus!” he said, “Is there anyone who doesn’t know that the city of Ephesus is the guardian of the temple of the great Artemis, and of the sacred stone which fell from the sky? <sup>36</sup> Since this is beyond dispute, you had better calm down and not do anything rash. <sup>37</sup> For you have brought these men here who have neither robbed the temple nor insulted your goddess. <sup>38</sup> So if Demetrius and his fellow craftsmen have a complaint against anyone, the courts are open and the judges are there — let them bring charges and counter-charges. <sup>39</sup> But if there is something more you want, it will have to be settled in a lawful assembly. <sup>40</sup> For we are in danger of being accused of rioting on account of what has happened today. There is no justification for it; and if we are asked, we will be unable to give any reasonable explanation for this disorderly gathering.” <sup>41</sup> And with these words, he dismissed the assembly.

and Tychicus and Trophimus from the province of Asia.<sup>5</sup> These men went on and waited for us in Troas,<sup>6</sup> while we sailed from Philippi after the Days of Matzah. Five days later, we met them in Troas, where we spent a week.

<sup>7</sup> On Motza'ei-Shabbat, when we were gathered to break bread, Sha'ul addressed them. Since he was going to leave the next day, he kept talking until midnight.<sup>8</sup> Now there were many oil lamps burning in the upstairs room where we were meeting,<sup>9</sup> and there was a young fellow named Eutychus sitting on the window-sill. As Sha'ul's drash went on and on, Eutychus grew sleepier and sleepier; until finally he went sound asleep and fell from the third story to the ground. When they picked him up, he was dead.<sup>10</sup> But Sha'ul went down, threw himself onto him, put his arms around him and said, "Don't be upset, he's alive!"<sup>11</sup> Then he went back upstairs, broke the bread and ate. He continued talking with them till daylight, then left.<sup>12</sup> So, greatly relieved, they brought the boy home alive.

<sup>13</sup> We went on ahead to the ship and set sail for Assos, where we were planning to take Sha'ul aboard — he had arranged this because he wanted to go there by land.<sup>14</sup> After he met us at Assos, we took him aboard and went on to Mitylene.<sup>15</sup> The next day, we sailed from there and arrived off Chios; the following day, we crossed over to Samos; and the day after that, we reached Miletus.<sup>16</sup> For Sha'ul had decided to bypass Ephesus on his voyage, in order to avoid losing time in the province of Asia, because he was hurrying to get to Yerushalayim, if possible in time to celebrate Shavu'ot.

<sup>17</sup> But he did send from Miletus to Ephesus, summoning the elders of the Messianic community.<sup>18</sup> When they arrived, he said to them, "You yourselves know how, from the first day I set foot in the province of Asia, I was with you the whole time,<sup>19</sup> serving the Lord with much humility and with tears, in spite of the tests I had to undergo because of the plots of the unbelieving Jews.<sup>20</sup> You know that I held back nothing that could be helpful to you, and that I taught you both in public and from house to house,<sup>21</sup> declaring with utmost seriousness the same message to Jews and Greeks alike: turn from sin to God; and put your trust in our Lord, Yeshua the Messiah.

<sup>22</sup> "And now, compelled by the Spirit, I am going to Yerushalayim. I don't know what will happen to me there,<sup>23</sup> other than that in every city the Ruach HaKodesh keeps warning me that imprisonment and persecution await me.<sup>24</sup> But I consider my own life of no importance to me whatsoever, as long as I can finish the course ahead of me, the task I received from the Lord Yeshua — to declare in depth the Good News of God’s love and kindness.

<sup>25</sup> “Now, listen! I know that none of you people among whom I have gone about proclaiming the Kingdom will ever see me again. <sup>26</sup> Therefore, I testify on this day that I am innocent of the blood of all. <sup>27</sup> For I did not shrink from proclaiming to you the whole plan of God.

<sup>28</sup> “Watch out for yourselves, and for all the flock in which the Ruach HaKodesh has placed you as leaders, to shepherd God’s Messianic community, which he won for himself at the cost of his own Son’s blood. <sup>29</sup> I know that after I leave, savage wolves will come in among you; and they won’t spare the flock. <sup>30</sup> Even from among your own number, men will arise and teach perversions of the truth, in order to drag away the talmidim after themselves. <sup>31</sup> So stay alert! Remember that for three years, night and day, with tears in my eyes, I never stopped warning you!

<sup>32</sup> “And now I entrust you to the care of the Lord and to the message of his love and kindness, for it can build you up and give you an inheritance among all those who have been set apart for God.

<sup>33</sup> “I have not wanted for myself anyone’s silver or gold or clothing. <sup>34</sup> You yourselves know that these hands of mine have provided not only for my own needs, but for the needs of my co-workers as well. <sup>35</sup> In everything I have given you an example of how, by working hard like this, you must help the weak, remembering the words of the Lord Yeshua himself, ‘There is more happiness in giving than in receiving.’”

<sup>36</sup> When he had finished speaking, Sha’ul knelt down with them all and prayed. <sup>37</sup> They were all in tears as they threw their arms around his neck and kissed him farewell. <sup>38</sup> What saddened them the most was his remark that they would never see him again. Then they accompanied him to the ship.

21 <sup>1</sup> After we had torn ourselves away from the Ephesian elders, we set sail and made a straight run to Cos. The next day we went to Rhodes, and from there to Patara. <sup>2</sup> On finding a ship that was crossing over to Phoenicia, we embarked and set sail. <sup>3</sup> After sighting Cyprus, we passed it on the left, sailed to Syria and landed at Tzor, because that was where the ship was unloading its cargo. <sup>4</sup> Having searched out the talmidim there, we remained for a week. Guided by the Spirit, they told Sha'ul not to go up to Yerushalayim; <sup>5</sup> but when the week was over, we left to continue our journey. All of them, with their wives and children, accompanied us until we were outside the town. Kneeling on the beach and praying, <sup>6</sup> we said good-bye to each other. Then we boarded the ship, and they returned home.

<sup>7</sup> When the voyage from Tzor was over, we arrived at Ptolemais. There we greeted the brothers and stayed with them overnight. <sup>8</sup> The following day, we left and came to Caesarea, where we went to the home of Philip the proclaimer of the Good News, one of the Seven, and stayed with him. <sup>9</sup> He had four unmarried daughters with the gift of prophecy.

<sup>10</sup> While we were staying there, a prophet named Agav came down from Y'hudah <sup>11</sup> to visit us. He took Sha'ul's belt, tied up his own hands and feet and said, "Here is what the Ruach HaKodesh says: the man who owns this belt — the Judeans in Yerushalayim will tie him up just like this and hand him over to the Goyim." <sup>12</sup> When we heard this, both we and the people there begged him not to go up to Yerushalayim; <sup>13</sup> but Sha'ul answered, "What are you doing, crying and trying to weaken my resolve? I am prepared not only to be tied up, but even to die in Yerushalayim for the name of the Lord Yeshua." <sup>14</sup> And when he would not be convinced, we said, "May the Lord's will be done," and kept quiet.

<sup>15</sup> So at the end of our stay, we packed and went up to Yerushalayim; <sup>16</sup> and with us went some of the talmidim from Caesarea. They brought us to the home of the man with whom we were to stay, Mnason from Cyprus, who had been a talmid since the early days.

<sup>17</sup> In Yerushalayim, the brothers received us warmly. <sup>18</sup> The next day Sha'ul and the rest of us went in to Ya'akov, and all the elders were present. <sup>19</sup> After greeting them, Sha'ul described in detail each of the things God had done among the Gentiles through his efforts.

<sup>20</sup> On hearing it, they praised God; but they also said to him, "You see, brother, how many tens of thousands of believers there are among the Judeans, and they are all zealots for the Torah. <sup>21</sup> Now what they have been told about you is that you are teaching all the Jews living among the Goyim to apostatize from Moshe, telling them not to have a b'rit-milah for their sons and not to follow the traditions.

<sup>22</sup> "What, then, is to be done? They will certainly hear that you have come. <sup>23</sup> So do what we tell you. We have four men who are under a vow. <sup>24</sup> Take them with you, be purified with them, and pay the expenses connected with having their heads shaved. Then everyone will know that there is nothing to these rumors which they have heard about you; but that, on the contrary, you yourself stay in line and keep the Torah.

<sup>25</sup> “However, in regard to the Goyim who have come to trust in Yeshua, we all joined in writing them a letter with our decision that they should abstain from what had been sacrificed to idols, from blood, from what is strangled and from fornication.”

<sup>26</sup> The next day Sha’ul took the men, purified himself along with them and entered the Temple to give notice of when the period of purification would be finished and the offering would have to be made for each of them.

<sup>27</sup> The seven days were almost up when some unbelieving Jews from the province of Asia saw him in the Temple, stirred up all the crowd and grabbed him. <sup>28</sup> “Men of Isra’el, help!” they shouted. “This is the man who goes everywhere teaching everyone things against the people, against the Torah and against this place! And now he has even brought some Goyim into the Temple and defiled this holy place!” <sup>29</sup> (They had previously seen Trophimus from Ephesus in the city with him and assumed that Sha’ul had brought him into the Temple.)

<sup>30</sup> The whole city was aroused, and people came running from all over. They seized Sha’ul and dragged him out of the Temple, and at once the gates were shut. <sup>31</sup> But while they were attempting to kill him, word reached the commander of the Roman battalion that all Yerushalayim was in turmoil. <sup>32</sup> Immediately he took officers and soldiers and charged down upon them. As soon as they saw the commander, they quit beating Sha’ul.

<sup>33</sup> Then the commander came up, arrested him and ordered him to be tied up with two chains. He asked who he was and what he had done. <sup>34</sup> Everyone in the crowd shouted something different; so, since he couldn’t find out what had happened because of the uproar, he ordered him brought to the barracks. <sup>35</sup> When Sha’ul got to the steps, he actually had to be carried by the soldiers, because the mob was so wild — <sup>36</sup> the crowd kept following and screaming, “Kill him!”

<sup>37</sup> As Sha’ul was about to be brought into the barracks, he said to the commander, “Is it all right if I say something to you?” The commander said, “You know Greek! <sup>38</sup> Say, aren’t you that Egyptian who tried to start a revolution a while back, and led four thousand armed terrorists out into the desert?” <sup>39</sup> Sha’ul said, “I am a Jew from Tarsus in Cilicia, a citizen of an important city; and I ask your permission to let me speak to the people.”

22 <sup>1</sup> “Brothers and fathers! Listen to me as I make my defense before you now!” <sup>2</sup> When they heard him speaking to them in Hebrew, they settled down more; so he continued: <sup>3</sup> “I am a Jew, born in Tarsus of Cilicia, but brought up in this city and trained at the feet of Gamli'el in every detail of the Torah of our forefathers. I was a zealot for God, as all of you are today. <sup>4</sup> I persecuted to death the followers of this Way, arresting both men and women and throwing them in prison. <sup>5</sup> The cohen hagadol and the whole Sanhedrin can also testify to this. Indeed, after receiving letters from them to their colleagues in Dammesek, I was on my way there in order to arrest the ones in that city too and bring them back to Yerushalayim for punishment.

<sup>6</sup> “As I was traveling and approaching Dammesek, around noon, suddenly a brilliant light from heaven flashed all around me! <sup>7</sup> I fell to the ground and heard a voice saying to me, ‘Sha'ul! Sha'ul! Why do you keep persecuting me?’ <sup>8</sup> I answered, ‘Sir, who are you?’ ‘I am Yeshua from Natzeret,’ he said to me, ‘and you are persecuting me!’ <sup>9</sup> Those who were with me did see the light, but they didn't hear the voice of the one who was speaking to me. <sup>10</sup> I said ‘What should I do, Lord?’ And the Lord said to me, ‘Get up, and go into Dammesek, and there you will be told about everything that has been laid out for you to do.’ <sup>11</sup> I had been blinded by the brightness of the light, so my companions led me by the hand into Dammesek.

<sup>12</sup> “A man named Hananyah, an observant follower of the Torah who was highly regarded by the entire Jewish community there, <sup>13</sup> came to me, stood by me and said, ‘Brother Sha'ul, see again!’ And at that very moment, I recovered my sight and saw him. <sup>14</sup> He said, ‘The God of our fathers determined in advance that you should know his will, see the Tzaddik and hear his voice; <sup>15</sup> because you will be a witness for him to everyone of what you have seen and heard. <sup>16</sup> So now, what are you waiting for? Get up, immerse yourself and have your sins washed away as you call on his name.’

<sup>17</sup> “After I had returned to Yerushalayim, it happened that as I was praying in the Temple, I went into a trance, <sup>18</sup> and I saw Yeshua. ‘Hurry!’ he said to me, ‘Get out of Yerushalayim immediately, because they will not accept what you have to say about me.’ <sup>19</sup> I said, ‘Lord, they know themselves that in every synagogue I used to imprison and flog those who trusted in you; <sup>20</sup> also that when the blood of your witness Stephen was being shed, I was standing there too, in full agreement; I was even looking after the clothes of the ones who were killing him!’ <sup>21</sup> But he said, ‘Get going! For I am going to send you far away — to the Goyim!’”

<sup>22</sup> They had been listening to him up to this point; but now they shouted at the top of their lungs, “Rid the earth of such a man! He’s not fit to live!”

<sup>24</sup> so the commander ordered him brought into the barracks and directed that he be interrogated and whipped, in order to find out why they were yelling at him like this.

<sup>25</sup> But as they were stretching him out with thongs to be flogged, Sha’ul said to the captain standing by, “Is it legal for you to whip a man who is a Roman citizen and hasn’t even had a trial?” <sup>26</sup> When the captain heard that, he went and reported it to the commander, “Do you realize what you’re doing? This man is a Roman citizen!” <sup>27</sup> The commander came and said to Sha’ul, “Tell me, are you a Roman citizen?” “Yes,” he said. <sup>28</sup> The commander replied, “I bought this citizenship for a sizeable sum of money.” “But I was born to it,” Sha’ul said. <sup>29</sup> At once the men who had been about to interrogate him drew back from him; and the commander was afraid too, because he realized that he had put this man who was a Roman citizen in chains.

<sup>30</sup> However, the next day, since he wanted to know the specific charge the Judeans were bringing against him, he released him and ordered the head cohanim and the whole Sanhedrin to meet. Then he brought Sha’ul down and put him in front of them.

23 <sup>1</sup> Sha’ul looked straight at them and said, “Brothers, I have been discharging my obligations to God with a perfectly clear conscience, right up until today.” <sup>2</sup> But the cohen hagadol, Hananyah, ordered those standing near him to strike him on the mouth. <sup>3</sup> Then Sha’ul said to him, “God will strike you, you whitewashed wall! Will you sit there judging me according to the Torah, yet in violation of the Torah order me to be struck?” <sup>4</sup> The men nearby said, “This is the cohen hagadol of God that you’re insulting!” <sup>5</sup>

Sha'ul said, "I didn't know, brothers, that he was the cohen hagadol; for it says in the Torah, 'You are not to speak disparagingly of a ruler of your people.'"<sup>5</sup>

<sup>6</sup> But knowing that one part of the Sanhedrin consisted of Tz'dukim and the other of P'rushim, Sha'ul shouted, "Brothers, I myself am a Parush and the son of P'rushim; and it is concerning the hope of the resurrection of the dead that I am being tried!" <sup>7</sup> When he said this, an argument arose between the P'rushim and the Tz'dukim, and the crowd was divided. <sup>8</sup> For the Tz'dukim deny the resurrection and the existence of angels and spirits; whereas the P'rushim acknowledge both. <sup>9</sup> So there was a great uproar, with some of the Torah-teachers who were on the side of the P'rushim standing up and joining in — "We don't find anything wrong with this man; and if a spirit or an angel spoke to him, what of it?" <sup>10</sup> The dispute became so violent that the commander, fearing that Sha'ul would be torn apart by them, ordered the soldiers to go down, take him by force and bring him back into the barracks.

<sup>11</sup> The following night, the Lord stood by him and said, "Take courage! For just as you have borne a faithful witness to me in Yerushalayim, so now you must bear witness in Rome."

<sup>12</sup> The next day, some of the Judeans formed a conspiracy. They took an oath, saying they would neither eat nor drink until they had killed Sha'ul; <sup>13</sup> more than forty were involved in this plot. <sup>14</sup> They went to the head cohanim and the elders and said, "We have bound ourselves by an oath to taste no food until we have killed Sha'ul. <sup>15</sup> What you are to do is make it appear to the commander that you and the Sanhedrin want to get more accurate information about Sha'ul's case, so that he will bring him down to you; while we, for our part, are prepared to kill him before he ever gets here."

<sup>16</sup> But the son of Sha'ul's sister got wind of the planned ambush, and he went into the barracks and told Sha'ul. <sup>17</sup> Sha'ul called one of the officers and said, "Take this man up to the commander; he has something to tell him." <sup>18</sup> So he took him and brought him to the commander and said, "The prisoner Sha'ul called me and asked me to bring this young man to you, because he has something to tell you." <sup>19</sup> The commander took him by the hand, led him aside privately and asked, "What is it you have to tell me?" <sup>20</sup> He said, "The Judeans have agreed to ask you tomorrow to bring Sha'ul down to the Sanhedrin on the pretext that they want to investigate his case more thoroughly. <sup>21</sup> But don't let yourself be talked into it, because more than forty men are lying in wait for him. They have taken an oath neither to eat nor to drink until they kill him; and they are ready now, only waiting for you to give your consent to their request.”

<sup>22</sup> The commander let the young man go, cautioning him, “Don’t tell anyone that you have reported this to me.” <sup>23</sup> Then he summoned two of the captains and said, “Get two hundred infantry soldiers ready to leave for Caesarea at nine o’clock tonight, and seventy mounted cavalry and two hundred spearmen; <sup>24</sup> also provide replacements for Sha’ul’s horse when it gets tired; and bring him through safely to Felix the governor.” <sup>25</sup> And the commander wrote the following letter:

<sup>26</sup> From: Claudius Lysias
To: His Excellency, Governor Felix:

Greetings!

<sup>27</sup> This man was seized by the Judeans and was about to be killed by them, when I came on the scene with my troops and rescued him. After learning that he was a Roman citizen, <sup>28</sup> I wanted to understand exactly what they were charging him with; so I brought him down to their “Sanhedrin.”

<sup>29</sup> I found that he was charged in connection with questions of their “Torah” but that there was no charge deserving death or prison.

<sup>30</sup> But when I was informed of a plot against the man, I immediately sent him to you and also ordered his accusers to state their case against him before you.

<sup>31</sup> So the soldiers, following their orders, took Sha’ul during the night and brought him to Antipatris, <sup>32</sup> then returned to the barracks after leaving the cavalry to go on with him. <sup>33</sup> The cavalry took him to Caesarea, delivered the letter to the governor, and handed Sha’ul over to him. <sup>34</sup> The governor read the letter and asked what province he was from. On learning he was from Cilicia, <sup>35</sup> he said, “I will give you a full hearing after your accusers have also arrived,” and ordered him to be kept under guard in Herod’s headquarters.

24 <sup>1</sup> After five days, the cohen hagadol Hananyah came down with some elders and a lawyer named Tertullus, and they presented their case against Sha’ul to the governor. <sup>2</sup> Sha’ul was called, and Tertullus began to make the charges: “Felix, your Excellency, it is because of you that we enjoy unbroken peace, and it is your foresight that has brought to this nation <sup>3</sup> so many reforms in so many areas. It is with the utmost gratitude that we receive this. <sup>4</sup> But, in order not to take up too much of your time, I beg your indulgence to give us a brief hearing.

<sup>5</sup> “We have found this man a pest. He is an agitator among all the Jews throughout the world and a ringleader of the sect of the Natzratim. <sup>6</sup> He even tried to profane the Temple, but we arrested him. <sup>7</sup> <sup>8</sup> By questioning this man yourself, you will be able to learn all about the things of which we are accusing him.” <sup>9</sup> The Judeans also joined in the accusation and alleged that these were the facts.

<sup>10</sup> When the governor motioned for Sha’ul to speak, he replied, “I know that you have been judge over this nation for a number of years, so I am glad to make my defense. <sup>11</sup> As you can verify for yourself, it has not been more than twelve days since I went up to worship in Yerushalayim; <sup>12</sup> and neither in the Temple nor in the synagogues nor anywhere else in the city did they find me either arguing with anyone or collecting a crowd. <sup>13</sup> Nor can they give any proof of the things of which they are accusing me.

<sup>14</sup> “But this I do admit to you: I worship the God of our fathers in accordance with the Way (which they call a sect). I continue to believe everything that accords with the Torah and everything written in the Prophets. <sup>15</sup> And I continue to have a hope in God — which they too accept — that there will be a resurrection of both the righteous and the unrighteous. <sup>16</sup> Indeed, it is because of this that I make a point of always having a clear conscience in the sight of both God and man.

<sup>17</sup> “After an absence of several years, I came to Yerushalayim to bring a charitable gift to my nation and to offer sacrifices. <sup>18</sup> It was in connection with the latter that they found me in the Temple. I had been ceremonially purified, I was not with a crowd, and I was not causing a disturbance. <sup>19</sup> But some Jews from the province of Asia — they ought to be here before you to make a charge if they have anything against me! <sup>20</sup> Or else, let these men themselves say what crime they found me guilty of when I stood in front of the Sanhedrin, <sup>21</sup> other than this one thing which I shouted out when I was standing among them: ‘I am on trial before you today because I believe in the resurrection of the dead!’”

<sup>22</sup> But Felix, who had rather detailed knowledge of things connected with the Way, put them off, saying, “When Lysias the commander comes down, I will decide your case.” <sup>23</sup> He ordered the captain to keep Sha’ul in custody, but to let him have considerable liberty and not prevent any of his friends from taking care of his needs.

<sup>24</sup> After some days, Felix came with his wife Drusilla, who was Jewish. He sent for Sha’ul and listened to him as he spoke about trusting in the Messiah Yeshua. <sup>25</sup> But when Sha’ul began to discuss righteousness, self-control and the coming Judgment, Felix became frightened and said, “For the time being, go away! I will send for you when I get a chance.” <sup>26</sup> At the same time, he hoped that Sha’ul would offer him a bribe; so he sent for him rather often and kept talking with him.

25 <sup>1</sup> Three days after Festus had entered the province, he went up from Caesarea to Yerushalayim. <sup>2</sup> There the head cohanim and the Judean leaders informed him of the case against Sha’ul, and they asked him <sup>3</sup> to do them the favor of having the man sent to Yerushalayim. (They had plotted to have him ambushed and killed en route.) <sup>4</sup> Festus replied that Sha’ul was being kept under guard in Caesarea, and that he was about to go there shortly himself. <sup>5</sup> “So,” he said, “let competent men among you come down with me and press charges against the man, if he has done something wrong.”

<sup>6</sup> After staying with them at most eight or ten days, Festus went down to Caesarea; and on the following day, he took his seat in court and ordered Sha’ul to be brought in. <sup>7</sup> When he arrived, the Judeans who had come down from Yerushalayim stood around him, bringing many serious charges against him which they could not prove. <sup>8</sup> In reply, Sha’ul said, “I have committed no offense — not against the Torah to which the Jews hold, not against the Temple, and not against the Emperor.”

<sup>9</sup> But Festus, wanting to do the Judeans a favor, asked Sha'ul, "Would you be willing to go up to Yerushalayim and be tried before me there on these charges?" <sup>10</sup> Sha'ul replied, "I am standing right now in the court of the Emperor, and this is where I should be tried. I have done no wrong to the Judeans, as you very well know. <sup>11</sup> If I am a wrongdoer, if I have done something for which I deserve to die, then I am ready to die. But if there is nothing to these charges which they are bringing against me, no one can give me to them just to grant a favor! I appeal to the Emperor!" <sup>12</sup> Then Festus, after talking with his advisers, answered, "You have appealed to the Emperor; you will go to the Emperor!"

<sup>13</sup> After some days, King Agrippa and Bernice arrived at Caesarea to pay their respects to Festus. <sup>14</sup> Since they were staying on there for some time, Festus had the opportunity to acquaint the king with Sha'ul's situation. "There is a man here," he said, "who was left behind in custody by Felix. <sup>15</sup> When I was in Yerushalayim, the head cohanim and the elders of the Judeans informed me about him and asked me to pronounce judgment against him. <sup>16</sup> My answer to them was that it is not the custom with Romans to give up an accused man just to grant a favor, before he has met his accusers face to face and had the opportunity to defend himself against the charge. <sup>17</sup> So when they arrived here with me, I did not delay, but took my seat in court the next day and ordered the man brought in.

<sup>18</sup> "When the accusers stood up, instead of charging him with some serious crime as I had expected, <sup>19</sup> they disputed with him about certain points of their own religion, and particularly about somebody called Yeshua, who had died, but who Sha'ul claimed was alive. <sup>20</sup> Being at a loss as to how to investigate such questions, I asked him if he would be willing to go to Yerushalayim and be tried on these matters there. <sup>21</sup> But since Sha'ul appealed to be kept in custody and have his case decided by His Imperial Majesty, I ordered him held until I could send him to the Emperor."

<sup>23</sup> So the next day, Agrippa and Bernice came with much pageantry; they entered the audience room accompanied by military commanders and the prominent men of the city. Then, at the command of Festus, Sha'ul was brought in. <sup>24</sup> Festus said, "King Agrippa and all of you here with us, do you see this man? The whole Judean community has complained to me about him both in Yerushalayim and here, crying that he shouldn't be allowed to remain alive. <sup>25</sup> But I discovered that he had done nothing that deserves a death sentence. Now when he himself appealed to the Emperor, I decided to send him. <sup>26</sup> However, I have nothing specific to write to His Majesty about him. This is why I have brought him before all of you, and especially before you, King Agrippa — so that after we have examined him, I might have something to write. <sup>27</sup> It seems irrational to me to send a prisoner without also indicating what the charges against him are.”

26 <sup>1</sup> Agrippa said to Sha'ul, “You have permission to speak on your own behalf.” Then Sha'ul motioned with his hand and began his defense:

<sup>2</sup> “King Agrippa, I consider myself fortunate that it is before you today that I am defending myself against all the charges made against me by Jews, <sup>3</sup> because you are so well informed about all the Jewish customs and controversies. Therefore, I beg you to listen to me patiently.

<sup>4</sup> “So then! All Jews know how I lived my life from my youth on, both in my own country and in Yerushalayim. <sup>5</sup> They have known me for a long time; and if they are willing, they can testify that I have followed the strictest party in our religion — that is, I have lived as a Parush. <sup>6</sup> How ironic it is that I stand on trial here because of my hope in the promise made to our fathers! <sup>7</sup> It is the fulfillment of this very promise that our twelve tribes hope to attain, as they resolutely carry on their acts of worship night and day; yet it is in connection with this hope, your Majesty, that I am being accused by Jews! <sup>8</sup> Why do you people consider it incredible that God raises the dead?

<sup>9</sup> “I used to think it was my duty to do all I could to combat the name of Yeshua from Natzeret; <sup>10</sup> and in Yerushalayim I did so. After receiving authority from the head cohanim, I myself threw many of God's people in prison; when they were put to death, I cast my vote against them. <sup>11</sup> Often I went from one synagogue to another, punishing them and trying to make them blaspheme; and in my wild fury against them, I even went so far as to persecute them in cities outside the country.

<sup>12</sup> “On one such occasion, I was traveling to Dammesek with the full authority and power of the head cohanim. <sup>13</sup> I was on the road, and it was noon, your Majesty, when I saw a light from heaven, brighter than the sun, shining around me and my traveling companions. <sup>14</sup> We all fell to the ground; and then I heard a voice saying to me, in Hebrew, ‘Sha’ul! Sha’ul! Why do you keep persecuting me? It’s hard on you to be kicking against the ox-goads!’ <sup>15</sup> I said, ‘Who are you, sir?’ and the Lord answered, ‘I am Yeshua, and you are persecuting me!’ <sup>16</sup> But get up, and stand on your feet! I have appeared to you to appoint you to serve and bear witness to what you have already seen of me, and to what you will see when I appear to you in the future. <sup>17</sup> I will deliver you from the People and from the Goyim. I am sending you <sup>18</sup> to open their eyes; so that they will turn from darkness to light, from the power of the Adversary to God, and thus receive forgiveness of sins and a place among those who have been separated for holiness by putting their trust in me.’

<sup>19</sup> “So, King Agrippa, I did not disobey the vision from heaven! <sup>20</sup> On the contrary, I announced first in Dammesek, then in Yerushalayim and throughout Y’hudah, and also to the Goyim, that they should turn from their sins to God and then do deeds consistent with that repentance. <sup>21</sup> It was because of these things that Jews seized me in the Temple and tried to kill me. <sup>22</sup> However, I have had God’s help; so to this day, I stand testifying to both small and great, saying nothing but what both the prophets and Moshe said would happen — <sup>23</sup> that the Messiah would die, and that he, as the first to rise from the dead, would proclaim light to both the People and the Goyim.”

<sup>25</sup> But Sha’ul said, “No, I am not ‘crazy,’ Festus, your Excellency; on the contrary, I am speaking words of truth and sanity. <sup>26</sup> For the king understands these matters, so to him I express myself freely, because I am sure that none of these things have been hidden from him. After all, they didn’t happen in some back alley. <sup>27</sup> King Agrippa, do you believe the prophets? I know you believe!”

<sup>28</sup> Agrippa said to Sha’ul, “In this short time, you’re trying to convince me to become Messianic?” <sup>29</sup> Sha’ul replied, “Whether it takes a short time or a long time, I wish to God that not only you, but also everyone hearing me today, might become just like me except for these chains!”

<sup>30</sup> Then the king got up, and with him the governor and Bernice and the others sitting with them. <sup>31</sup> After they had left, they said to one another, “This man is doing nothing that deserves either death or prison.” <sup>32</sup> And

Agrippa said to Festus, “If he hadn’t appealed to the Emperor, he could have been released.”

27 <sup>1</sup> Once it had been decided that we should set sail for Italy, they handed Sha’ul and some other prisoners over to an officer of the Emperor’s Regiment named Julius. <sup>2</sup> We embarked in a ship from Adramyttium which was about to sail to the ports along the coast of the province of Asia, and put out to sea, accompanied by Aristarchus, a Macedonian from Thessalonica. <sup>3</sup> The next day, we landed at Tzidon; and Julius considerably allowed Sha’ul to go visit his friends and receive what he needed. <sup>4</sup> Putting to sea from there, we sailed close to the sheltered side of Cyprus because the winds were against us, <sup>5</sup> then across the open sea along the coasts of Cilicia and Pamphylia; and so we reached Myra in Lycia.

<sup>6</sup> There the Roman officer found an Alexandrian vessel sailing to Italy and put us aboard. <sup>7</sup> For a number of days we made little headway, and we arrived off Cnidus only with difficulty. The wind would not let us continue any farther along the direct route; so we ran down along the sheltered side of Crete from Cape Salmone; <sup>8</sup> and, continuing to struggle on, hugging the coast, we reached a place called Pleasant Harbor, near the town of Lasea.

<sup>9</sup> Since much time had been lost, and continuing the voyage was risky, because it was already past Yom-Kippur, Sha’ul advised them, <sup>10</sup> “Men, I can see that our voyage is going to be a catastrophe, not only with huge losses to the cargo and the ship but with loss of our lives as well.” <sup>11</sup> However, the officer paid more attention to the pilot and the ship’s owner than to what Sha’ul said. <sup>12</sup> Moreover, since the harbor was not well suited to sitting out the winter, the majority reached the decision to sail on from there in the hope of reaching Phoenix, another harbor in Crete, and wintering there, where it is protected from the southwest and northwest winds.

<sup>13</sup> When a gentle southerly breeze began to blow, they thought that they had their goal within grasp; so they raised the anchor and started coasting by Crete close to shore. <sup>14</sup> But before long there struck us from land a full gale from the northeast, the kind they call an Evrakilon. <sup>15</sup> The ship was caught up and unable to face the wind, so we gave way to it and were driven along.

then fastened cables tightly around the ship itself to reinforce it. Fearing they might run aground on the Syrtis sandbars, they lowered the topsails and thus continued drifting.<sup>18</sup> But because we were fighting such heavy weather, the next day they began to jettison non-essentials;<sup>19</sup> and the third day, they threw the ship's sailing equipment overboard with their own hands.<sup>20</sup> For many days neither the sun nor the stars appeared, while the storm continued to rage, until gradually all hope of survival vanished.

<sup>21</sup> It was then, when they had gone a long time without eating, that Sha'ul stood up in front of them and said, "You should have listened to me and not set out from Crete; if you had, you would have escaped this disastrous loss."<sup>22</sup> But now, my advice to you is to take heart; because not one of you will lose his life — only the ship will be lost.<sup>23</sup> For this very night, there stood next to me an angel of the God to whom I belong and whom I serve.<sup>24</sup> He said, 'Don't be afraid, Sha'ul! You have to stand before the Emperor. Look! God has granted you all those who are sailing with you.'<sup>25</sup> So, men, take heart! For I trust God and believe that what I have been told will come true.<sup>26</sup> Nevertheless, we have to run aground on some island."

<sup>27</sup> It was the fourteenth night, and we were still being driven about in the Adriatic Sea, when around midnight the sailors sensed that we were nearing land.<sup>28</sup> So they dropped a plumbline and found the water one hundred and twenty feet deep. A little farther on, they took another sounding and found it ninety feet.<sup>29</sup> Fearing we might run on the rocks, they let out four anchors from the stern and prayed for daylight to come.

<sup>30</sup> At this point, the crew made an attempt to abandon ship — they lowered the lifeboat into the sea, pretending that they were about to let out some anchors from the bow.<sup>31</sup> Sha'ul said to the officer and the soldiers, "Unless these men remain aboard the ship, you yourselves cannot be saved."<sup>32</sup> Then the soldiers cut the ropes holding the lifeboat and let it go.

<sup>33</sup> Just before daybreak, Sha'ul urged them all to eat, saying, "Today is the fourteenth day you have been in suspense, going hungry, eating nothing."<sup>34</sup> Therefore I advise you to take some food; you need it for your own survival. For not one of you will lose so much as a hair from his head."<sup>35</sup> When he had said this, he took bread, said the b'rakhah to God in front of everyone, broke it and began to eat.<sup>36</sup> With courage restored, they all ate some food themselves.<sup>37</sup> Altogether there were 276 of us on board the ship.

<sup>38</sup> After they had eaten all they wanted, they lightened the ship by dumping the grain into the sea.

<sup>39</sup> When day broke, they didn't recognize the land; but they noticed a bay with a sand beach, where they decided to run the ship aground if they could. <sup>40</sup> So they cut away the anchors and left them in the sea; at the same time, they loosened the ropes that held the rudders out of the water. Then they hoisted the foresail to the wind and headed for the beach. <sup>41</sup> But they encountered a place where two currents meet, and ran the vessel aground on the sandbar there. The bow stuck and would not move, while the pounding of the surf began to break up the stern.

<sup>42</sup> At this point the soldiers' thought was to kill the prisoners, so that none of them would swim off and escape. <sup>43</sup> But the officer, wanting to save Sha'ul, kept them from carrying out their plan. He ordered those who could swim to throw themselves overboard first and head for shore, <sup>44</sup> and the rest to use planks or whatever they could find from the ship. Thus it was that everyone reached land safely.

28 <sup>1</sup> After our escape, we learned that the island was called Malta. <sup>2</sup> Its people showed extraordinary kindness — it was cold and it had started to rain, so they lit a bonfire and welcomed us all. <sup>3</sup> Sha'ul had gathered a bundle of sticks and was adding them to the fire, when a poisonous snake, driven out by the heat, fastened itself to his hand. <sup>4</sup> The islanders saw the creature hanging from Sha'ul's hand and said to one another, "This man must be a murderer. Even though he escaped the sea, justice has not allowed him to live." <sup>5</sup> But he shook the snake off into the fire and suffered no harm. <sup>6</sup> They waited, expecting him to swell up or suddenly fall down dead; but after waiting a long time and seeing that nothing amiss was happening to him, they reversed their opinion and said he was a god.

<sup>7</sup> Nearby were lands belonging to the governor of the island, whose name was Publius. He received us in a friendly manner and put us up for three days. <sup>8</sup> Now it so happened that Publius' father was lying in bed, sick with fever attacks and dysentery. Sha'ul went in to him, prayed, placed his hands on him and healed him. <sup>9</sup> After this happened, the rest of those on the island who had ailments came and were healed. <sup>10</sup> They heaped honors on us; and when the time came for us to sail, they provided the supplies we needed.

<sup>11</sup> After three months, we sailed away on a ship from Alexandria called “Twin Gods,” which had passed the winter at the island. <sup>12</sup> We landed at Syracuse and stayed three days. <sup>13</sup> From there, we arrived at Rhegium by tacking; but after one day, a south wind sprang up; so we made it to Puteoli the second day. <sup>14</sup> There we found brothers who invited us to spend a week with them. And so we went on toward Rome.

<sup>15</sup> The brothers there had heard about us and came as far as Appian Market and Three Inns to meet us. When Sha’ul saw them, he thanked God and took courage. <sup>16</sup> And when we arrived at Rome, the officer allowed Sha’ul to stay by himself, though guarded by a soldier.

<sup>17</sup> After three days Sha’ul called a meeting of the local Jewish leaders. When they had gathered, he said to them: “Brothers, although I have done nothing against either our people or the traditions of our fathers, I was made a prisoner in Yerushalayim and handed over to the Romans. <sup>18</sup> They examined me and were ready to release me, because I had done nothing to justify a death sentence. <sup>19</sup> But when the Judeans objected, I was forced to appeal to the Emperor — not that I had any charge to make against my own people. <sup>20</sup> This is why I have asked to see you and speak with you, for it is because of the hope of Isra’el that I have this chain around me.”

<sup>21</sup> They said to him, “We have not received any letters about you from Y’hudah, and none of the brothers who have come from there has reported or said anything bad about you. <sup>22</sup> But we do think it would be appropriate to hear your views from you, yourself; for all we know about this sect is that people everywhere speak against it.”

<sup>23</sup> So they arranged a day with him and came to his quarters in large numbers. From morning until evening he explained the matter to them, giving a thorough witness about the Kingdom of God and making use of both the Torah of Moshe and the Prophets to persuade them about Yeshua. <sup>24</sup> Some were convinced by what he said, <sup>25</sup> while others refused to believe.

So they left, disagreeing among themselves, after Sha’ul had made one final statement: “The Ruach HaKodesh spoke well in saying to your fathers through Yesha’yahu the prophet,

‘Go to this people and say,

“You will keep on hearing but never understand,

and you will keep on seeing but never perceive,

<sup>27</sup>

because the heart of this people has grown thick —
with their ears they barely hear,
and their eyes they have closed,
for fear that they should see with their eyes,
hear with their ears,
understand with their heart,
and do t'shuvah,
so that I could heal them.””<sup>b</sup>

<sup>28</sup> Therefore, let it be known to you that this salvation of God has been sent to the Goyim, and they will listen!” <sup>29</sup> *

<sup>30</sup> Sha’ul remained two whole years in a place he rented for himself; and he continued receiving all who came to see him, <sup>31</sup> openly and without hindrance proclaiming the Kingdom of God and teaching about the Lord Yeshua the Messiah.

The Letter from Yeshua's Emissary Sha'ul (Paul) to the Messianic Community in Rome

ROMANS

1 <sup>1</sup> From: Sha'ul, a slave of the Messiah Yeshua, an emissary because I was called and set apart for the Good News of God.

<sup>2</sup> God promised this Good News in advance through his prophets in the Tanakh. <sup>3</sup> It concerns his Son — he is descended from David physically; <sup>4</sup> he was powerfully demonstrated to be Son of God spiritually, set apart by his having been resurrected from the dead; he is Yeshua the Messiah, our Lord.

<sup>5</sup> Through him we received grace and were given the work of being an emissary on his behalf promoting trust-grounded obedience among all the Gentiles, <sup>6</sup> including you, who have been called by Yeshua the Messiah.

<sup>7</sup> To: All those in Rome whom God loves, who have been called, who have been set apart for him:

Grace to you and shalom from God our Father and the Lord Yeshua the Messiah.

<sup>8</sup> First, I thank my God through Yeshua the Messiah for all of you, because the report of your trust is spreading throughout the whole world. <sup>9</sup> For God, whom I serve in my spirit by spreading the Good News about his Son, is my witness that I regularly remember you <sup>10</sup> in my prayers; and I always pray that somehow, now or in the future, I might, by God's will, succeed in coming to visit you. <sup>11</sup> For I long to see you, so that I might share with you some spiritual gift that can make you stronger — <sup>12</sup> or, to put it another way, so that by my being with you, we might, through the faith we share, encourage one another. <sup>13</sup> Brothers, I want you to know that although I have been prevented from visiting you until now, I have often planned to do so, in order that I might have some fruit among you, just as I have among the other Gentiles. <sup>14</sup> I owe a debt to both civilized Greeks and uncivilized people, to both the educated and the ignorant; <sup>15</sup> therefore I am eager to proclaim the Good News also to you who live in Rome.

<sup>16</sup> For I am not ashamed of the Good News, since it is God's powerful means of bringing salvation to everyone who keeps on trusting, to the Jew especially, but equally to the Gentile. <sup>17</sup> For in it is revealed how God makes people righteous in his sight; and from beginning to end it is through trust — as the Tanakh puts it, “But the person who is righteous will live his life by trust.”<sup>a</sup>

<sup>18</sup> What is revealed is God's anger from heaven against all the godlessness and wickedness of people who in their wickedness keep suppressing the truth; <sup>19</sup> because what is known about God is plain to them, since God has made it plain to them. <sup>20</sup> For ever since the creation of the universe his invisible qualities — both his eternal power and his divine nature — have been clearly seen, because they can be understood from what he has made. Therefore, they have no excuse; <sup>21</sup> because, although they know who God is, they do not glorify him as God or thank him. On the contrary, they have become futile in their thinking; and their undiscerning hearts have become darkened. <sup>22</sup> Claiming to be wise, they have become fools! <sup>23</sup> In fact, they have exchanged the glory of the immortal God for mere images, like a mortal human being, or like birds, animals or reptiles!

<sup>24</sup> This is why God has given them up to the vileness of their hearts' lusts, to the shameful misuse of each other's bodies. <sup>25</sup> They have exchanged the truth of God for falsehood, by worshipping and serving created things, rather than the Creator — praised be he for ever. Amen. <sup>26</sup> This is why God has given them up to degrading passions; so that their women exchange natural sexual relations for unnatural; <sup>27</sup> and likewise the men, giving up natural relations with the opposite sex, burn with passion for one another, men committing shameful acts with other men and receiving in their own persons the penalty appropriate to their perversion. <sup>28</sup> In other words, since they have not considered God worth knowing, God has given them up to worthless ways of thinking; so that they do improper things. <sup>29</sup> They are filled with every kind of wickedness, evil, greed and vice; stuffed with jealousy, murder, quarrelling, dishonesty and ill-will; they are gossips, <sup>30</sup> slanderers, haters of God; they are insolent, arrogant and boastful; they plan evil schemes; they disobey their parents; <sup>31</sup> they are brainless, faithless, heartless and ruthless. <sup>32</sup> They know well enough God's righteous decree that people who do such things deserve to die; yet not only do they keep doing them, but they applaud others who do the same.

yet doing them yourself, will escape the judgment of God? <sup>4</sup> Or perhaps you despise the riches of his kindness, forbearance and patience; because you don't realize that God's kindness is intended to lead you to turn from your sins. <sup>5</sup> But by your stubbornness, by your unrepentant heart, you are storing up anger for yourself on the Day of Anger, when God's righteous judgment will be revealed; <sup>6</sup> for he will pay back each one according to his deeds.<sup>b</sup> <sup>7</sup> To those who seek glory, honor and immortality by perseverance in doing good, he will pay back eternal life. <sup>8</sup> But to those who are self-seeking, who disobey the truth and obey evil, he will pay back wrath and anger.

<sup>9</sup> Yes, he will pay back misery and anguish to every human being who does evil, to the Jew first, then to the Gentile; <sup>10</sup> but glory and honor and shalom to everyone who keeps doing what is good, to the Jew first, then to the Gentile. <sup>11</sup> For God does not show favoritism. <sup>12</sup> All who have sinned outside the framework of Torah will die outside the framework of Torah; and all who have sinned within the framework of Torah will be judged by Torah. <sup>13</sup> For it is not merely the hearers of Torah whom God considers righteous; rather, it is the doers of what Torah says who will be made righteous in God's sight. <sup>14</sup> For whenever Gentiles, who have no Torah, do naturally what the Torah requires, then these, even though they don't have Torah, for themselves are Torah! <sup>15</sup> For their lives show that the conduct the Torah dictates is written in their hearts.<sup>c</sup> Their consciences also bear witness to this, for their conflicting thoughts sometimes accuse them and sometimes defend them <sup>16</sup> on a day when God passes judgment on people's inmost secrets. (According to the Good News as I proclaim it, he does this through the Messiah Yeshua.)

<sup>17</sup> But if you call yourself a Jew and rest on Torah and boast about God <sup>18</sup> and know his will and give your approval to what is right, because you have been instructed from the Torah; <sup>19</sup> and if you have persuaded yourself that you are a guide to the blind, a light in the darkness, <sup>20</sup> an instructor for the spiritually unaware and a teacher of children, since in the Torah you have the embodiment of knowledge and truth; <sup>21</sup> then, you who teach others, don't you teach yourself? Preaching, "Thou shalt not steal,"<sup>d</sup> do you steal? <sup>22</sup> Saying, "Thou shalt not commit adultery,"<sup>e</sup> do you commit adultery? Detesting idols, do you commit idolatrous acts? <sup>23</sup> You who take such pride in Torah, do you, by disobeying the Torah, dishonor God?—<sup>24</sup> as it says in the Tanakh, "For it is because of you that God's name is blasphemed by the Goyim."<sup>f</sup> <sup>25</sup> For circumcision is indeed of value if you do what Torah says. But if you are a transgressor of Torah, your circumcision has become uncircumcision! <sup>26</sup>Therefore, if an uncircumcised man keeps the righteous requirements of the Torah, won't his uncircumcision be counted as circumcision? <sup>27</sup> Indeed, the man who is physically uncircumcised but obeys the Torah will stand as a judgment on you who have had a b'rit-milah and have Torah written out but violate it! <sup>28</sup> For the real Jew is not merely Jewish outwardly: true circumcision is not only external and physical. <sup>29</sup> On the contrary, the real Jew is one inwardly; and true circumcision is of the heart, spiritual not literal; so that his praise comes not from other people but from God.

3 <sup>1</sup> Then what advantage has the Jew? What is the value of being circumcised? <sup>2</sup>Much in every way! In the first place, the Jews were entrusted with the very words of God. <sup>3</sup> If some of them were unfaithful, so what? Does their faithlessness cancel God's faithfulness? <sup>4</sup> Heaven forbid! God would be true even if everyone were a liar! — as the Tanakh says,

“so that you, God, may be proved right in your words and win the verdict when you are put on trial.”<sup>g</sup>

<sup>5</sup> Now if our unrighteousness highlights God's righteousness, what should we say? That God is unrighteous to inflict his anger on us? (I am speaking here the way people commonly do.) <sup>6</sup> Heaven forbid! Else, how could God judge the world? <sup>7</sup> “But,” you say, “if, through my lie, God's truth is enhanced and brings him greater glory, why am I still judged merely for being a sinner?” <sup>8</sup> Indeed! Why not say (as some people slander us by claiming we do say), “Let us do evil, so that good may come of it”? Against them the judgment is a just one!

<sup>9</sup> So are we Jews better off? Not entirely; for I have already made the charge that all people, Jews and Gentiles alike, are controlled by sin. <sup>10</sup> As the Tanakh puts it,

“There is no one righteous, not even one!

No one understands,

<sup>11</sup>       no one seeks God, <sup>12</sup>       all have turned away

and at the same time become useless;

there is no one who shows kindness, not a single one!<sup>h</sup>

<sup>13</sup>       “Their throats are open graves,

they use their tongues to deceive.<sup>i</sup>

Vipers’ venom is under their lips.<sup>j</sup>

<sup>14</sup>       Their mouths are full of curses and bitterness.<sup>k</sup>

<sup>15</sup>       “Their feet rush to shed blood,

<sup>16</sup>       in their ways are ruin and misery,

<sup>19</sup> Moreover, we know that whatever the Torah says, it says to those living within the framework of the Torah, in order that every mouth may be stopped and the whole world be shown to deserve God’s adverse judgment.

<sup>21</sup> But now, quite apart from Torah, God’s way of making people righteous in his sight has been made clear — although the Torah and the Prophets give their witness to it as well — <sup>22</sup> and it is a righteousness that comes from God, through the faithfulness of Yeshua the Messiah, to all who continue trusting. For it makes no difference whether one is a Jew or a Gentile, <sup>23</sup> since all have sinned and come short of earning God’s praise. <sup>24</sup> By God’s grace, without earning it, all are granted the status of being considered righteous before him, through the act redeeming us from our enslavement to sin that was accomplished by the Messiah Yeshua.<sup>25</sup> God put Yeshua forward as the kapparah for sin through his faithfulness in respect to his bloody sacrificial death. This vindicated God's righteousness; because, in his forbearance, he had passed over [with neither punishment nor remission] the sins people had committed in the past;<sup>26</sup> and it vindicates his righteousness in the present age by showing that he is righteous himself and is also the one who makes people righteous on the ground of Yeshua's faithfulness.

<sup>27</sup> So what room is left for boasting? None at all! What kind of Torah excludes it? One that has to do with legalistic observance of rules? No, rather, a Torah that has to do with trusting.<sup>28</sup> Therefore, we hold the view that a person comes to be considered righteous by God on the ground of trusting, which has nothing to do with legalistic observance of Torah commands.

<sup>29</sup> Or is God the God of the Jews only? Isn't he also the God of the Gentiles? Yes, he is indeed the God of the Gentiles;<sup>30</sup> because, as you will admit, God is one.<sup>g</sup> Therefore, he will consider righteous the circumcised on the ground of trusting and the uncircumcised through that same trusting.<sup>31</sup> Does it follow that we abolish Torah by this trusting? Heaven forbid! On the contrary, we confirm Torah.

4<sup>1</sup> Then what should we say Avraham, our forefather, obtained by his own efforts? <sup>2</sup> For if Avraham came to be considered righteous by God because of legalistic observances, then he has something to boast about. But this is not how it is before God! <sup>3</sup> For what does the Tanakh say? "Avraham put his trust in God, and it was credited to his account as righteousness."<sup>g 4</sup> Now the account of someone who is working is credited not on the ground of grace but on the ground of what is owed him. <sup>5</sup> However, in the case of one who is not working but rather is trusting in him who makes ungodly people righteous, his trust is credited to him as righteousness.

<sup>7</sup>

"Blessed are those whose transgressions are forgiven,

whose sins are covered over;

will not reckon against his account.”<sup>9</sup>

<sup>9</sup> Now is this blessing for the circumcised only? Or is it also for the uncircumcised? For we say that Avraham’s trust was credited to his account as righteousness; <sup>10</sup>but what state was he in when it was so credited — circumcision or uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision! <sup>11</sup> In fact, he received circumcision as a sign, as a seal of the righteousness he had been credited with on the ground of the trust he had while he was still uncircumcised. This happened so that he could be the father of every uncircumcised person who trusts and thus has righteousness credited to him, <sup>12</sup> and at the same time be the father of every circumcised person who not only has had a b’rit-milah, but also follows in the footsteps of the trust which Avraham avinu had when he was still uncircumcised.

<sup>13</sup> For the promise to Avraham and his seed that he would inherit the world did not come through legalism but through the righteousness that trust produces. <sup>14</sup> For if the heirs are produced by legalism, then trust is pointless and the promise worthless. <sup>15</sup> For what law brings is punishment. But where there is no law, there is also no violation.

<sup>16</sup> The reason the promise is based on trusting is so that it may come as God’s free gift, a promise that can be relied on by all the seed, not only those who live within the framework of the Torah, but also those with the kind of trust Avraham had — Avraham avinu for all of us. <sup>17</sup> This accords with the Tanakh, where it says, “I have appointed you to be a father to many nations.”<sup>z</sup> Avraham is our father in God’s sight because he trusted God as the one who gives life to the dead and calls nonexistent things into existence. <sup>18</sup> For he was past hope, yet in hope he trusted that he would indeed become a father to many nations, in keeping with what he had been told, “So many will your seed be.”<sup>t</sup> <sup>19</sup> His trust did not waver when he considered his own body — which was as good as dead, since he was about a hundred years old — or when he considered that Sarah’s womb was dead too. <sup>20</sup> He did not by lack of trust decide against God’s promises. On the contrary, by trust he was given power as he gave glory to God, <sup>21</sup> for he was fully convinced that what God had promised he could also accomplish. <sup>22</sup> This is why it was credited to his account as righteousness.<sup>u</sup>

<sup>23</sup> But the words, “it was credited to his account . . .,” were not written for him only. <sup>24</sup> They were written also for us, who will certainly have our account credited too, because we have trusted in him who raised Yeshua our Lord from the dead — <sup>25</sup>Yeshua, who was delivered over to death because of our offenses and raised to life in order to make us righteous.

5 <sup>1</sup> So, since we have come to be considered righteous by God because of our trust, let us continue to have shalom with God through our Lord, Yeshua the Messiah. <sup>2</sup>Also through him and on the ground of our trust, we have gained access to this grace in which we stand; so let us boast about the hope of experiencing God’s glory. <sup>3</sup> But not only that, let us also boast in our troubles; because we know that trouble produces endurance, <sup>4</sup> endurance produces character, and character produces hope; <sup>5</sup> and this hope does not let us down, because God’s love for us has already been poured out in our hearts through the Ruach HaKodesh who has been given to us.

<sup>6</sup> For while we were still helpless, at the right time, the Messiah died on behalf of ungodly people. <sup>7</sup> Now it is a rare event when someone gives up his life even for the sake of somebody righteous, although possibly for a truly good person one might have the courage to die. <sup>8</sup> But God demonstrates his own love for us in that the Messiah died on our behalf while we were still sinners. <sup>9</sup> Therefore, since we have now come to be considered righteous by means of his bloody sacrificial death, how much more will we be delivered through him from the anger of God’s judgment! <sup>10</sup> For if we were reconciled with God through his Son’s death when we were enemies, how much more will we be delivered by his life, now that we are reconciled! <sup>11</sup> And not only will we be delivered in the future, but we are boasting about God right now, because he has acted through our Lord Yeshua the Messiah, through whom we have already received that reconciliation.

<sup>15</sup> But the free gift is not like the offense. For if, because of one man's offense, many died, then how much more has God's grace, that is, the gracious gift of one man, Yeshua the Messiah, overflowed to many! <sup>16</sup> No, the free gift is not like what resulted from one man's sinning; for from one sinner came judgment that brought condemnation; but the free gift came after many offenses and brought acquittal. <sup>17</sup> For if, because of the offense of one man, death ruled through that one man; how much more will those receiving the overflowing grace, that is, the gift of being considered righteous, rule in life through the one man Yeshua the Messiah!

<sup>18</sup> In other words, just as it was through one offense that all people came under condemnation, so also it is through one righteous act that all people come to be considered righteous. <sup>19</sup> For just as through the disobedience of the one man, many were made sinners, so also through the obedience of the other man, many will be made righteous. <sup>20</sup> And the Torah came into the picture so that the offense would proliferate; but where sin proliferated, grace proliferated even more. <sup>21</sup> All this happened so that just as sin ruled by means of death, so also grace might rule through causing people to be considered righteous, so that they might have eternal life, through Yeshua the Messiah, our Lord.

6 <sup>1</sup> So then, are we to say, "Let's keep on sinning, so that there can be more grace"? <sup>2</sup> Heaven forbid! How can we, who have died to sin, still live in it? <sup>3</sup> Don't you know that those of us who have been immersed into the Messiah Yeshua have been immersed into his death? <sup>4</sup> Through immersion into his death we were buried with him; so that just as, through the glory of the Father, the Messiah was raised from the dead, likewise we too might live a new life. <sup>5</sup> For if we have been united with him in a death like his, we will also be united with him in a resurrection like his. <sup>6</sup> We know that our old self was put to death on the execution-stake with him, so that the entire body of our sinful propensities might be destroyed, and we might no longer be enslaved to sin. <sup>7</sup> For someone who has died has been cleared from sin. <sup>8</sup> Now since we died with the Messiah, we trust that we will also live with him. <sup>9</sup> We know that the Messiah has been raised from the dead, never to die again; death has no authority over him. <sup>10</sup> For his death was a unique event that need not be repeated; but his life, he keeps on living for God. <sup>11</sup> In the same way, consider yourselves to be dead to sin but alive for God, by your union with the Messiah Yeshua.

<sup>12</sup> Therefore, do not let sin rule in your mortal bodies, so that it makes you obey its desires; <sup>13</sup> and do not offer any part of yourselves to sin as an instrument for wickedness. On the contrary, offer yourselves to God as people alive from the dead, and your various parts to God as instruments for righteousness. <sup>14</sup> For sin will not have authority over you; because you are not under legalism but under grace.

<sup>15</sup> Therefore, what conclusion should we reach? “Let’s go on sinning, because we’re not under legalism but under grace”? Heaven forbid! <sup>16</sup> Don’t you know that if you present yourselves to someone as obedient slaves, then, of the one whom you are obeying, you are slaves — whether of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to being made righteous? <sup>17</sup> By God’s grace, you, who were once slaves to sin, obeyed from your heart the pattern of teaching to which you were exposed; <sup>18</sup> and after you had been set free from sin, you became enslaved to righteousness. <sup>19</sup> (I am using popular language because your human nature is so weak.) For just as you used to offer your various parts as slaves to impurity and lawlessness, which led to more lawlessness; so now offer your various parts as slaves to righteousness, which leads to being made holy, set apart for God. <sup>20</sup> For when you were slaves of sin, you were free in relationship to righteousness; <sup>21</sup> but what benefit did you derive from the things of which you are now ashamed? The end result of those things was death. <sup>22</sup> However, now, freed from sin and enslaved to God, you do get the benefit — it consists in being made holy, set apart for God, and its end result is eternal life. <sup>23</sup> For what one earns from sin is death; but eternal life is what one receives as a free gift from God, in union with the Messiah Yeshua, our Lord.

7 <sup>1</sup> Surely you know, brothers — for I am speaking to those who understand Torah — that the Torah has authority over a person only so long as he lives? <sup>2</sup> For example, a married woman is bound by Torah to her husband while he is alive; but if the husband dies, she is released from the part of the Torah that deals with husbands. <sup>3</sup> Therefore, while the husband is alive, she will be called an adulteress if she marries another man; but if the husband dies, she is free from that part of the Torah; so that if she marries another man, she is not an adulteress.

<sup>4</sup> Thus, my brothers, you have been made dead with regard to the Torah through the Messiah's body, so that you may belong to someone else, namely, the one who has been raised from the dead, in order for us to bear fruit for God. <sup>5</sup> For when we were living according to our old nature, the passions connected with sins worked through the Torah in our various parts, with the result that we bore fruit for death. <sup>6</sup> But now we have been released from this aspect of the Torah, because we have died to that which had us in its clutches, so that we are serving in the new way provided by the Spirit and not in the old way of outwardly following the letter of the law.

<sup>7</sup> Therefore, what are we to say? That the Torah is sinful? Heaven forbid! Rather, the function of the Torah was that without it, I would not have known what sin is. For example, I would not have become conscious of what greed is if the Torah had not said, "Thou shalt not covet."<sup>8</sup> But sin, seizing the opportunity afforded by the commandment, worked in me all kinds of evil desires — for apart from Torah, sin is dead. <sup>9</sup> I was once alive outside the framework of Torah. But when the commandment really encountered me, sin sprang to life,<sup>10</sup> and I died. The commandment that was intended to bring me life was found to be bringing me death! <sup>11</sup> For sin, seizing the opportunity afforded by the commandment, deceived me; and through the commandment, sin killed me. <sup>12</sup> So the Torah is holy; that is, the commandment is holy, just and good.

<sup>13</sup> Then did something good become for me the source of death? Heaven forbid! Rather, it was sin working death in me through something good, so that sin might be clearly exposed as sin, so that sin through the commandment might come to be experienced as sinful beyond measure. <sup>14</sup> For we know that the Torah is of the Spirit; but as for me, I am bound to the old nature, sold to sin as a slave. <sup>15</sup> I don't understand my own behavior — I don't do what I want to do; instead, I do the very thing I hate! <sup>16</sup> Now if I am doing what I don't want to do, I am agreeing that the Torah is good. <sup>17</sup> But now it is no longer "the real me" doing it, but the sin housed inside me. <sup>18</sup> For I know that there is nothing good housed inside me — that is, inside my old nature. I can want what is good, but I can't do it! <sup>19</sup> For I don't do the good I want; instead, the evil that I don't want is what I do! <sup>20</sup> But if I am doing what "the real me" doesn't want, it is no longer "the real me" doing it but the sin housed inside me. <sup>21</sup> So I find it to be the rule, a kind of perverse "torah," that although I want to do what is good, evil is right there with me! <sup>22</sup> For in my inner self I completely agree with God's Torah; <sup>23</sup> but in my various parts, I see a different “torah,” one that battles with the Torah in my mind and makes me a prisoner of sin’s “torah,” which is operating in my various parts. <sup>24</sup> What a miserable creature I am! Who will rescue me from this body bound for death? <sup>25</sup> Thanks be to God [, he will]! — through Yeshua the Messiah, our Lord!

To sum up: with my mind, I am a slave of God’s Torah; but with my old nature, I am a slave of sin’s “torah.”

8 <sup>1</sup> Therefore, there is no longer any condemnation awaiting those who are in union with the Messiah Yeshua. <sup>2</sup> Why? Because the Torah of the Spirit, which produces this life in union with Messiah Yeshua, has set me free from the “torah” of sin and death. <sup>3</sup> For what the Torah could not do by itself, because it lacked the power to make the old nature cooperate, God did by sending his own Son as a human being with a nature like our own sinful one [but without sin]. God did this in order to deal with sin, and in so doing he executed the punishment against sin in human nature, <sup>4</sup>so that the just requirement of the Torah might be fulfilled in us who do not run our lives according to what our old nature wants but according to what the Spirit wants. <sup>5</sup> For those who identify with their old nature set their minds on the things of the old nature, but those who identify with the Spirit set their minds on the things of the Spirit. <sup>6</sup> Having one’s mind controlled by the old nature is death, but having one’s mind controlled by the Spirit is life and shalom. <sup>7</sup> For the mind controlled by the old nature is hostile to God, because it does not submit itself to God’s Torah — indeed, it cannot. <sup>8</sup> Thus, those who identify with their old nature cannot please God.

<sup>9</sup> But you, you do not identify with your old nature but with the Spirit — provided the Spirit of God is living inside you, for anyone who doesn’t have the Spirit of the Messiah doesn’t belong to him. <sup>10</sup> However, if the Messiah is in you, then, on the one hand, the body is dead because of sin; but, on the other hand, the Spirit is giving life because God considers you righteous. <sup>11</sup> And if the Spirit of the One who raised Yeshua from the dead is living in you, then the One who raised the Messiah Yeshua from the dead will also give life to your mortal bodies through his Spirit living in you.

<sup>12</sup> So then, brothers, we don’t owe a thing to our old nature that would require us to live according to our old nature. <sup>13</sup> For if you live according to your old nature, you will certainly die; but if, by the Spirit, you keep putting to death the practices of the body, you will live.

<sup>14</sup> All who are led by God's Spirit are God's sons. <sup>15</sup> For you did not receive a spirit of slavery to bring you back again into fear; on the contrary, you received the Spirit, who makes us sons and by whose power we cry out, "Abba!" (that is, "Dear Father!"). <sup>16</sup> The Spirit himself bears witness with our own spirits that we are children of God; <sup>17</sup> and if we are children, then we are also heirs, heirs of God and joint-heirs with the Messiah — provided we are suffering with him in order also to be glorified with him.

<sup>18</sup> I don't think the sufferings we are going through now are even worth comparing with the glory that will be revealed to us in the future. <sup>19</sup> The creation waits eagerly for the sons of God to be revealed; <sup>20</sup> for the creation was made subject to frustration — not willingly, but because of the one who subjected it. But it was given a reliable hope <sup>21</sup>that it too would be set free from its bondage to decay and would enjoy the freedom accompanying the glory that God's children will have. <sup>22</sup> We know that until now, the whole creation has been groaning as with the pains of childbirth; <sup>23</sup> and not only it, but we ourselves, who have the firstfruits of the Spirit, groan inwardly as we continue waiting eagerly to be made sons — that is, to have our whole bodies redeemed and set free. <sup>24</sup> It was in this hope that we were saved. But if we see what we hope for, it isn't hope — after all, who hopes for what he already sees? <sup>25</sup> But if we continue hoping for something we don't see, then we still wait eagerly for it, with perseverance.

<sup>26</sup> Similarly, the Spirit helps us in our weakness; for we don't know how to pray the way we should. But the Spirit himself pleads on our behalf with groanings too deep for words; <sup>27</sup> and the one who searches hearts knows exactly what the Spirit is thinking, because his pleadings for God's people accord with God's will. <sup>28</sup> Furthermore, we know that God causes everything to work together for the good of those who love God and are called in accordance with his purpose; <sup>29</sup> because those whom he knew in advance, he also determined in advance would be conformed to the pattern of his Son, so that he might be the firstborn among many brothers; <sup>30</sup> and those whom he thus determined in advance, he also called; and those whom he called, he also caused to be considered righteous; and those whom he caused to be considered righteous he also glorified!

<sup>31</sup> What, then, are we to say to these things? If God is for us, who can be against us? <sup>32</sup> He who did not spare even his own Son, but gave him up on behalf of us all — is it possible that, having given us his Son, he would not give us everything else too? <sup>33</sup> So who will bring a charge against God's chosen people? Certainly not God — he is the one who causes them to be considered righteous! <sup>34</sup> Who punishes them? Certainly not the Messiah Yeshua, who died and — more than that — has been raised, is at the right hand of God and is actually pleading on our behalf! <sup>35</sup> Who will separate us from the love of the Messiah? Trouble? Hardship? Persecution? Hunger? Poverty? Danger? War? <sup>36</sup> As the Tanakh puts it,

“For your sake we are being put to death all day long,
we are considered sheep to be slaughtered.”<sup>w</sup>

<sup>37</sup> No, in all these things we are superconquerors, through the one who has loved us. <sup>38</sup> For I am convinced that neither death nor life, neither angels nor other heavenly rulers, neither what exists nor what is coming, <sup>39</sup> neither powers above nor powers below, nor any other created thing will be able to separate us from the love of God which comes to us through the Messiah Yeshua, our Lord.

9 <sup>1</sup> I am speaking the truth — as one who belongs to the Messiah, I do not lie; and also bearing witness is my conscience, governed by the Ruach HaKodesh: <sup>2</sup> my grief is so great, the pain in my heart so constant, <sup>3</sup> that I could wish myself actually under God's curse and separated from the Messiah, if it would help my brothers, my own flesh and blood, <sup>4</sup> the people of Isra'el! They were made God's children, the Sh'khinah has been with them, the covenants are theirs, likewise the giving of the Torah, the Temple service and the promises; <sup>5</sup> the Patriarchs are theirs; and from them, as far as his physical descent is concerned, came the Messiah, who is over all. Praised be ADONAI for ever! Amen.

<sup>6</sup> But the present condition of Isra'el does not mean that the Word of God has failed.

For not everyone from Isra'el is truly part of Isra'el; <sup>7</sup> indeed, not all the descendants are seed of Avraham; <sup>x</sup> rather, “What is to be called your ‘seed’ will be in Yitz'chak.”<sup>y</sup> <sup>8</sup> In other words, it is not the physical children who are children of God, but the children the promise refers to who are considered seed.<sup>9</sup> For this is what the promise said: “At the time set, I will come; and Sarah will have a son.”<sup>z 10</sup> And even more to the point is the case of Rivkah; for both her children were conceived in a single act with Yitz’chak, our father;<sup>11</sup> and before they were born, before they had done anything at all, either good or bad (so that God’s plan might remain a matter of his sovereign choice, not dependent on what they did, but on God, who does the calling),<sup>12</sup> it was said to her, “The older will serve the younger.”<sup>a 13</sup> This accords with where it is written, “Ya’akov I loved, but Esav I hated.”<sup>b</sup>

<sup>14</sup> So are we to say, “It is unjust for God to do this”? Heaven forbid!<sup>15</sup> For to Moshe he says, “I will have mercy on whom I have mercy, and I will pity whom I pity.”<sup>c 16</sup> Thus it doesn’t depend on human desires or efforts, but on God, who has mercy.<sup>17</sup> For the Tanakh says to Pharaoh, “It is for this very reason that I raised you up, so that in connection with you I might demonstrate my power, so that my name might be known throughout the world.”<sup>d 18</sup> So then, he has mercy on whom he wants, and he hardens whom he wants.

<sup>19</sup> But you will say to me, “Then why does he still find fault with us? After all, who resists his will?”<sup>20</sup> Who are you, a mere human being, to talk back to God? Will what is formed say to him who formed it, “Why did you make me this way?”<sup>e 21</sup> Or has the potter no right to make from a given lump of clay this pot for honorable use and that one for dishonorable?<sup>22</sup> Now what if God, even though he was quite willing to demonstrate his anger and make known his power, patiently put up with people who deserved punishment and were ripe for destruction?<sup>23</sup> What if he did this in order to make known the riches of his glory to those who are the objects of his mercy, whom he prepared in advance for glory —<sup>24</sup> that is, to us, whom he called not only from among the Jews but also from among the Gentiles?<sup>25</sup> As indeed he says in Hoshea,

“Those who were not my people I will call my people;

her who was not loved I will call loved;

<sup>26</sup>

and in the very place where they were told,

‘You are not my people,’

there they will be called sons of the living God!”<sup>f</sup>

<sup>27</sup> But Yesha‘yahu, referring to Isra’el, cries out,

“Even if the number of people in Isra’el is as large as the number of grains of sand by the sea,
only a remnant will be saved.

<sup>28</sup> For ADONAI will fulfill his word on the earth with certainty and without delay.”<sup>g</sup>

<sup>29</sup> Also, as Yesha‘yahu said earlier,

“If ADONAI-Tzva’ot had not left us a seed,
we would have become like S’dom,
we would have resembled ‘Amora.”<sup>h</sup>

<sup>30</sup> So, what are we to say? This: that Gentiles, even though they were not striving for righteousness, have obtained righteousness; but it is a righteousness grounded in trusting! <sup>31</sup> However, Isra’el, even though they kept pursuing a Torah that offers righteousness, did not reach what the Torah offers. <sup>32</sup> Why? Because they did not pursue righteousness as being grounded in trusting but as if it were grounded in doing legalistic works. They stumbled over the stone that makes people stumble.<sup>i</sup> <sup>33</sup> As the Tanakh puts it,

“Look, I am laying in Tziyon
a stone that will make people stumble,
a rock that will trip them up.

But he who rests his trust on it will not be humiliated.”<sup>j</sup>

10 <sup>1</sup> Brothers, my heart’s deepest desire and my prayer to God for Isra’el is for their salvation; <sup>2</sup> for I can testify to their zeal for God. But it is not based on correct understanding; <sup>3</sup> for, since they are unaware of God’s way of making people righteous and instead seek to set up their own, they have not submitted themselves to God’s way of making people righteous. <sup>4</sup> For the goal at which the Torah aims is the Messiah, who offers righteousness to everyone who trusts. <sup>5</sup> For Moshe writes about the righteousness grounded in the Torah that the person who does these things will attain life through them.<sup>k</sup> <sup>6</sup> Moreover, the righteousness grounded in trusting says:

“Do not say in your heart, ‘Who will ascend to heaven?’” —

that is, to bring the Messiah down — <sup>7</sup> or,

“‘Who will descend into Sh’ol?’” —

that is, to bring the Messiah up from the dead. <sup>8</sup> What, then, does it say?

“The word is near you, in your mouth and in your heart.”<sup>l</sup> —

that is, the word about trust which we proclaim, namely, <sup>9</sup> that if you acknowledge publicly with your mouth that Yeshua is Lord and trust in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be delivered. <sup>10</sup> For with the heart one goes on trusting and thus continues toward righteousness, while with the mouth one keeps on making public acknowledgement and thus continues toward deliverance. <sup>11</sup> For the passage quoted says that everyone who rests his trust on him will not be humiliated.<sup>m</sup> <sup>12</sup> That means that there is no difference between Jew and Gentile — ADONAI is the same for everyone, rich toward everyone who calls on him, <sup>13</sup> since everyone* who calls on the name of ADONAI will be delivered.<sup>n</sup>

<sup>14</sup> But how can they call on someone if they haven’t trusted in him? And how can they trust in someone if they haven’t heard about him? And how can they hear about someone if no one is proclaiming him? <sup>15</sup> And how can people proclaim him unless God sends them? — as the Tahakh puts it, “How beautiful are the feet of those announcing good news about good things!”<sup>e</sup>

<sup>16</sup> The problem is that they haven’t all paid attention to the Good News and obeyed it. For Yesha‘yahu says,

“ADONAI, who has trusted what he has heard from us?”<sup>e</sup>

<sup>17</sup> So trust comes from what is heard, and what is heard comes through a word proclaimed about the Messiah.

<sup>18</sup> “But, I say, isn’t it rather that they didn’t hear?” No, they did hear —

“Their voice has gone out throughout the whole world and their words to the ends of the earth.”<sup>g</sup>

“I will provoke you to jealousy over a non-nation, over a nation void of understanding I will make you angry.”<sup>t</sup>

<sup>20</sup> Moreover, Yesha‘yahu boldly says,

“I was found by those who were not looking for me,
I became known to those who did not ask for me”;<sup>s</sup>

<sup>21</sup> but to Isra’el he says,

“All day long I held out my hands to a people who kept disobeying and contradicting.”<sup>t</sup>

11 <sup>1</sup> In that case, I say, isn't it that God has repudiated his people?" Heaven forbid! For I myself am a son of Isra'el, from the seed of Avraham,<sup>u</sup> of the tribe of Binyamin. <sup>2</sup> God has not repudiated his people,<sup>x</sup> whom he chose in advance. Or don't you know what the Tanakh says about Eliyahu? He pleads with God against Isra'el, <sup>3</sup> "ADONAI, they have killed your prophets and torn down your altars, and I'm the only one left, and now they want to kill me too!"<sup>w</sup> <sup>4</sup> But what is God's answer to him? "I have kept for myself seven thousand men who have not knelt down to Ba'al."<sup>x</sup> <sup>5</sup> It's the same way in the present age: there is a remnant, chosen by grace. <sup>6</sup> (Now if it is by grace, it is accordingly not based on legalistic works; if it were otherwise, grace would no longer be grace.) <sup>7</sup> What follows is that Isra'el has not attained the goal for which she is striving. The ones chosen have obtained it, but the rest have been made stonelike, <sup>8</sup> just as the Tanakh says,

"God has given them a spirit of dullness —

eyes that do not see

and ears that do not hear,

right down to the present day."<sup>x</sup>

<sup>9</sup> And David says,

"Let their dining table become for them

a snare and a trap, a pitfall and a punishment.

<sup>10</sup> Let their eyes be darkened, so that they can't see,

with their backs bent continually."<sup>z</sup>

<sup>11</sup> "In that case, I say, isn't it that they have stumbled with the result that they have permanently fallen away?" Heaven forbid! Quite the contrary, it is by means of their stumbling that the deliverance has come to the Gentiles, in order to provoke them to jealousy.<sup>a</sup> <sup>12</sup> Moreover, if their stumbling is bringing riches to the world — that is, if Isra'el's being placed temporarily in a condition less favored than that of the Gentiles is bringing riches to the latter — how much greater riches will Isra'el in its fullness bring them!

<sup>13</sup> However, to those of you who are Gentiles I say this: since I myself am an emissary sent to the Gentiles, I make known the importance of my work <sup>14</sup> in the hope that somehow I may provoke some of my own people to jealousy and save some of them! <sup>15</sup> For if their casting Yeshua aside means reconciliation for the world, what will their accepting him mean? It will be life from the dead!

<sup>16</sup> Now if the hallah offered as firstfruits is holy, so is the whole loaf. And if the root is holy, so are the branches. <sup>17</sup> But if some of the branches were broken off, and you — a wild olive — were grafted in among them and have become equal sharers in the rich root of the olive tree, <sup>18</sup> then don't boast as if you were better than the branches! However, if you do boast, remember that you are not supporting the root, the root is supporting you. <sup>19</sup> So you will say, "Branches were broken off so that I might be grafted in." <sup>20</sup> True, but so what? They were broken off because of their lack of trust. However, you keep your place only because of your trust. So don't be arrogant; on the contrary, be terrified! <sup>21</sup> For if God did not spare the natural branches, he certainly won't spare you! <sup>22</sup> So take a good look at God's kindness and his severity: on the one hand, severity toward those who fell off; but, on the other hand, God's kindness toward you—provided you maintain yourself in that kindness! Otherwise, you too will be cut off! <sup>23</sup> Moreover, the others, if they do not persist in their lack of trust, will be grafted in; because God is able to graft them back in. <sup>24</sup> For if you were cut out of what is by nature a wild olive tree and grafted, contrary to nature, into a cultivated olive tree, how much more will these natural branches be grafted back into their own olive tree!

<sup>25</sup> For, brothers, I want you to understand this truth which God formerly concealed but has now revealed, so that you won't imagine you know more than you actually do. It is that stoniness, to a degree, has come upon Isra'el, until the Gentile world enters in its fullness; <sup>26</sup> and that it is in this way that all Isra'el will be saved. As the Tanakh says,

“Out of Tziyon will come the Redeemer;

he will turn away ungodliness from Ya‘akov

<sup>27</sup>

and this will be my covenant with them, . . .

when I take away their sins.”<sup>b</sup>

<sup>28</sup> With respect to the Good News they are hated for your sake. But with respect to being chosen they are loved for the Patriarchs’ sake, <sup>29</sup> for God’s free gifts and his calling are irrevocable. <sup>30</sup> Just as you yourselves were disobedient to God before but have received mercy now because of Isra’el’s disobedience; <sup>31</sup> so also Isra’el has been disobedient now, so that by your showing them the same mercy that God has shown you, they too may now receive God’s mercy. <sup>32</sup> For God has shut up all mankind together in disobedience, in order that he might show mercy to all.

<sup>33</sup>

O the depth of the riches
and the wisdom and knowledge of God!

How inscrutable are his judgments!

How unsearchable are his ways!

<sup>34</sup>

For, ‘Who has known the mind of A<sub>DONAI</sub>?
Who has been his counselor?’<sup>c</sup>

<sup>35</sup>

Or, ‘Who has given him anything
and made him pay it back?’<sup>d</sup>

<sup>36</sup>

For from him and through him
and to him are all things.

To him be the glory forever!

Amen.

12 <sup>1</sup> I exhort you, therefore, brothers, in view of God's mercies, to offer yourselves as a sacrifice, living and set apart for God. This will please him; it is the logical "Temple worship" for you. <sup>2</sup> In other words, do not let yourselves be conformed to the standards of the 'olam hazeh. Instead, keep letting yourselves be transformed by the renewing of your minds; so that you will know what God wants and will agree that what he wants is good, satisfying and able to succeed. <sup>3</sup> For I am telling every single one of you, through the grace that has been given to me, not to have exaggerated ideas about your own importance. Instead, develop a sober estimate of yourself based on the standard which God has given to each of you, namely, trust. <sup>4</sup> For just as there are many parts that compose one body, but the parts don't all have the same function; <sup>5</sup> so there are many of us, and in union with the Messiah we comprise one body, with each of us belonging to the others. <sup>6</sup> But we have gifts that differ and which are meant to be used according to the grace that has been given to us. If your gift is prophecy, use it to the extent of your trust; <sup>7</sup> if it is serving, use it to serve; if you are a teacher, use your gift in teaching; <sup>8</sup> if you are a counselor, use your gift to comfort and exhort; if you are someone who gives, do it simply and generously; if you are in a position of leadership, lead with diligence and zeal; if you are one who does acts of mercy, do them cheerfully.

<sup>9</sup> Don't let love be a mere outward show. Recoil from what is evil, and cling to what is good. <sup>10</sup> Love each other devotedly and with brotherly love; and set examples for each other in showing respect. <sup>11</sup> Don't be lazy when hard work is needed, but serve the Lord with spiritual fervor. <sup>12</sup> Rejoice in your hope, be patient in your troubles, and continue steadfastly in prayer. <sup>13</sup> Share what you have with God's people, and practice hospitality.

<sup>14</sup> Bless those who persecute you — bless them, don't curse them! <sup>15</sup> Rejoice with those who rejoice, and weep with those who weep. <sup>16</sup> Be sensitive to each other's needs — don't think yourselves better than others, but make humble people your friends. Don't be conceited. <sup>17</sup> Repay no one evil for evil, but try to do what everyone regards as good. <sup>18</sup> If possible, and to the extent that it depends on you, live in peace with all people. <sup>19</sup> Never seek revenge, my friends; instead, leave that to God's anger; for in the Tanakh it is written,

"ADONAI says, 'Vengeance is my responsibility; I will repay.'"<sup>e</sup>

“If your enemy is hungry, feed him;

if he is thirsty, give him something to drink.

For by doing this, you will heap

fiery coals [of shame] on his head.”<sup>f</sup>

13 <sup>1</sup> Everyone is to obey the governing authorities. For there is no authority that is not from God, and the existing authorities have been placed where they are by God. <sup>2</sup> Therefore, whoever resists the authorities is resisting what God has instituted; and those who resist will bring judgment on themselves. <sup>3</sup> For rulers are no terror to good conduct, but to bad. Would you like to be unafraid of the person in authority? Then simply do what is good, and you will win his approval; <sup>4</sup> for he is God’s servant, there for your benefit. But if you do what is wrong, be afraid! Because it is not for nothing that he holds the power of the sword; for he is God’s servant, there as an avenger to punish wrongdoers. <sup>5</sup> Another reason to obey, besides fear of punishment, is for the sake of conscience. <sup>6</sup> This is also why you pay taxes; for the authorities are God’s public officials, constantly attending to these duties. <sup>7</sup> Pay everyone what he is owed: if you owe the tax-collector, pay your taxes; if you owe the revenue-collector, pay revenue; if you owe someone respect, pay him respect; if you owe someone honor, pay him honor. <sup>8</sup> Don’t owe anyone anything — except to love one another; for whoever loves his fellow human being has fulfilled Torah. <sup>9</sup> For the commandments, “Don’t commit adultery,” “Don’t murder,” “Don’t steal,” “Don’t covet,”<sup>g</sup> and any others are summed up in this one rule: “Love your neighbor as yourself.”<sup>h</sup> <sup>10b</sup> Love does not do harm to a neighbor; therefore love is the fullness of Torah.

<sup>11</sup> Besides all this, you know at what point of history we stand; so it is high time for you to rouse yourselves from sleep; for the final deliverance is nearer than when we first came to trust. <sup>12</sup> The night is almost over, the day is almost here. So let us put aside the deeds of darkness and arm ourselves with the weapons of light. <sup>13</sup> Let us live properly, as people do in the daytime—not partying and getting drunk, not engaging in sexual immorality and other excesses, not quarrelling and being jealous. <sup>14</sup> Instead, clothe yourselves with the Lord Yeshua the Messiah; and don’t waste your time thinking about how to provide for the sinful desires of your old nature.

14 <sup>1</sup> Now as for a person whose trust is weak, welcome him — but not to get into arguments over opinions. <sup>2</sup> One person has the trust that will allow him to eat anything, while another whose trust is weak eats only vegetables. <sup>3</sup> The one who eats anything must not look down on the one who abstains; and the abstainer must not pass judgment on the one who eats anything, because God has accepted him — <sup>4</sup>who are you to pass judgment on someone else’s servant? It is before his own master that he will stand or fall; and the fact is that he will stand, because the Lord is able to make him stand.

<sup>5</sup> One person considers some days more holy than others, while someone else regards them as being all alike. What is important is for each to be fully convinced in his own mind. <sup>6</sup> He who observes a day as special does so to honor the Lord. Also he who eats anything, eats to honor the Lord, since he gives thanks to God; likewise the abstainer abstains to honor the Lord, and he too gives thanks to God. <sup>7</sup> For none of us lives only in relation to himself, and none of us dies only in relation to himself; <sup>8</sup> for if we live, we live in relation to the Lord; and if we die, we die in relation to the Lord. So whether we live or die, we belong to the Lord — <sup>9</sup> indeed, it was for this very reason that the Messiah died and came back to life, so that he might be Lord of both the dead and the living. <sup>10</sup> You then, why do you pass judgment on your brother? Or why do you look down on your brother? For all of us will stand before God’s judgment seat; <sup>11</sup> since it is written in the Tanakh,

“As I live, says ADONAI, every knee will bend before me, and every tongue will publicly acknowledge God.”<sup>12</sup>

<sup>12</sup> So then, every one of us will have to give an account of himself to God.

<sup>13</sup> Therefore, let’s stop passing judgment on each other! Instead, make this one judgment — not to put a stumbling block or a snare in a brother’s way. <sup>14</sup> I know — that is, I have been persuaded by the Lord Yeshua the Messiah — that nothing is unclean in itself. But if a person considers something unclean, then for him it is unclean; <sup>15</sup> and if your brother is being upset by the food you eat, your life is no longer one of love. Do not, by your eating habits, destroy someone for whom the Messiah died! <sup>16</sup> Do not let what you know to be good, be spoken of as bad; <sup>17</sup> for the Kingdom of God is not eating and drinking, but righteousness, shalom and joy in the Ruach HaKodesh. <sup>18</sup> Anyone who serves the Messiah in this fashion both pleases God and wins the approval of other people.

<sup>19</sup> So then, let us pursue the things that make for shalom and mutual upbuilding. <sup>20</sup> Don't tear down God's work for the sake of food. True enough, all things are clean; but it is wrong for anybody by his eating to cause someone to fall away. <sup>21</sup> What is good is not to eat meat or drink wine or do anything that causes your brother to stumble. <sup>22</sup> The belief you hold about such things, keep between yourself and God. Happy the person who is free of self-condemnation when he approves of something! <sup>23</sup> But the doubter comes under condemnation if he eats, because his action is not based on trust. And anything not based on trust is a sin.

15 <sup>1</sup> So we who are strong have a duty to bear the weaknesses of those who are not strong, rather than please ourselves. <sup>2</sup> Each of us should please his neighbor and act for his good, thus building him up. <sup>3</sup> For even the Messiah did not please himself; rather, as the Tanakh says, 'The insults of those insulting you fell on me.' <sup>4</sup> For everything written in the past was written to teach us, so that with the encouragement of the Tanakh we might patiently hold on to our hope. <sup>5</sup> And may God, the source of encouragement and patience, give you the same attitude among yourselves as the Messiah Yeshua had, <sup>6</sup> so that with one accord and with one voice you may glorify the God and Father of our Lord Yeshua the Messiah.

<sup>7</sup> So welcome each other, just as the Messiah has welcomed you into God's glory. <sup>8</sup> For I say that the Messiah became a servant of the Jewish people in order to show God's truthfulness by making good his promises to the Patriarchs, <sup>9</sup> and in order to show his mercy by causing the Gentiles to glorify God — as it is written in the Tanakh,

“Because of this I will acknowledge you among the Gentiles and sing praise to your name.”<sup>k</sup>

<sup>10</sup> And again it says,

<sup>11</sup> And again,

“Praise ADONAI, all Gentiles!

Let all peoples praise him!”<sup>m</sup>

<sup>12</sup> And again, Yesha‘yahu says,

“The root of Yishai will come,

he who arises to rule Gentiles;

Gentiles will put their hope in him.”<sup>n</sup>

<sup>13</sup> May God, the source of hope, fill you completely with joy and shalom as you continue trusting, so that by the power of the Ruach HaKodesh you may overflow with hope.

<sup>14</sup> Now I myself am convinced, my brothers, that you are full of goodness, filled with knowledge and well able to counsel each other. <sup>15</sup> But on some points I have written you quite boldly by way of reminding you about them, because of the grace God has given me <sup>16</sup> to be a servant of the Messiah Yeshua for the Gentiles, with the priestly duty of presenting the Good News of God, so that the Gentiles may be an acceptable offering, made holy by the Ruach HaKodesh.

<sup>17</sup> In union with the Messiah Yeshua, then, I have reason to be proud of my service to God; <sup>18</sup> for I will not dare speak of anything except what the Messiah has accomplished through me to bring the Gentiles to obedience by my words and deeds, <sup>19</sup> through the power of signs and miracles, through the power of the Spirit of God. So from Yerushalayim all the way to Illyricum I have fully proclaimed the Good News of the Messiah. <sup>20</sup> I have always made it my ambition to proclaim the Good News where the Messiah was not yet known, so that I would not be building on someone else's foundation,<sup>21</sup> but rather, as the Tanakh puts it,

“Those who have not been told about him will see,

and those who have not heard will understand.”<sup>22</sup>

<sup>22</sup> This is also why I have so often been prevented from visiting you.<sup>23</sup> But now, since there is no longer a place in these regions that needs me, and since I have wanted for many years to come to you,<sup>24</sup> I hope to see you as I pass through on my way to Spain, and to have you help me travel there after I have enjoyed your company awhile.

<sup>25</sup> But now I am going to Yerushalayim with aid for God's people there.
<sup>26</sup> For Macedonia and Achaia thought it would be good to make some contribution to the poor among God's people in Yerushalayim.<sup>27</sup> They were pleased to do it, but the fact is that they owe it to them. For if the Gentiles have shared with the Jews in spiritual matters, then the Gentiles clearly have a duty to help the Jews in material matters.<sup>28</sup> So when I have finished this task and made certain that they have received this fruit, I will leave for Spain and visit you on my way there;<sup>29</sup> and I know that when I come to you, it will be with the full measure of the Messiah's blessings.<sup>30</sup> And now I urge you, brothers, by our Lord Yeshua the Messiah and by the love of the Spirit, to join me in my struggle by praying to God on my behalf<sup>31</sup> that I will be rescued from the unbelievers in Y'hudah, and that my service for Yerushalayim will be acceptable to God's people there.<sup>32</sup> Then, if it is God's will, I will come to you with joy and have a time of rest among you.<sup>33</sup> Now may the God of shalom be with you all. Amen.

16<sup>1</sup> I am introducing to you our sister Phoebe, shammash of the congregation at Cenchrea,<sup>2</sup> so that you may welcome her in the Lord, as God's people should, and give her whatever assistance she may need from you; for she has been a big help to many people — including myself.

<sup>3</sup> Give my greetings to Priscilla and Aquila, my fellow workers for the Messiah Yeshua.<sup>4</sup> They risked their necks to save my life; not only I thank them, but also all the Messianic communities among the Gentiles. <sup>5</sup> And give my greetings to the congregation that meets in their house.

Give my greetings to my dear friend Epaenetus, who was the first person in the province of Asia to put his trust in the Messiah.

<sup>6</sup> Give my greetings to Miryam, who has worked very hard for you.

<sup>7</sup> Greetings to Andronicus and Junia, relatives of mine who were in prison with me. They are well known among the emissaries; also they came to trust in the Messiah before I did.

<sup>8</sup> Greetings to Ampliatus, my dear friend in the Lord.

<sup>9</sup> Greetings to Urbanus, our fellow worker for the Messiah, and to my dear friend Stachys.

<sup>10</sup> Greetings to Appeles, whose trust in the Messiah has been tested and proved. Greet those in the household of Aristobulus.

Greet my dear friend Persis, another woman who has done a lot of hard work for the Lord.

<sup>13</sup> Greet Rufus, chosen by the Lord, and his mother, who has been a mother to me too.

<sup>15</sup> Greet Philologus, Julia, Nereus and his sister, and Olympas, and all of God's people who are with them.

<sup>16</sup> Greet one another with a holy kiss. All the Messiah's congregations send their greetings to you.

<sup>17</sup> I urge you, brothers, to watch out for those who cause divisions and put snares alongside the teaching in which you have been trained — keep away from them. <sup>18</sup> For men like these are not serving our Lord the Messiah but their own belly; by smooth talk and flattery they deceive the innocent. <sup>19</sup> For everyone has heard about your obedience; therefore I rejoice over you. However, I want you to be wise concerning good, but innocent concerning evil. <sup>20</sup> And God, the source of shalom, will soon crush the Adversary under your feet.

The grace of our Lord Yeshua be with you.

<sup>21</sup> Timothy, my fellow-worker, sends greetings to you; so do Lucius, Jason and Sosipater, my relatives.

<sup>22</sup> I, Tertius, the one writing down this letter, greet you in the Lord.

<sup>23</sup> My host Gaius, in whose home the whole congregation meets, greets you. Erastus the city treasurer and brother Quartus greet you. <sup>24*</sup>

<sup>25</sup> Now to God, who can strengthen you, according to my Good News, in harmony with the revelation of the secret truth
which is the proclamation of Yeshua the Messiah, kept hidden in silence for ages and ages,

<sup>26</sup> but manifested now through prophetic writings,
in keeping with the command of God the Eternal,
and communicated to all the Gentiles to promote in them trust-grounded obedience —

<sup>27</sup> to the only wise God, through Yeshua the Messiah, be the glory forever and ever!

Amen.

The First Letter from Yeshua's Emissary Sha'ul (Paul) to the Messianic Community in Corinth

1 CORINTHIANS

1 <sup>1</sup> From: Sha'ul, called by God's will to be an emissary of the Messiah Yeshua; and from brother Sosthenes

<sup>2</sup> To: God's Messianic community in Corinth, consisting of those who have been set apart by Yeshua the Messiah and called to be God's holy people — along with everyone everywhere who calls on the name of our Lord Yeshua the Messiah, their Lord as well as ours:

<sup>3</sup> Grace to you and shalom from God our Father and the Lord Yeshua the Messiah.

<sup>4</sup> I thank my God always for you because of God's love and kindness given to you through the Messiah Yeshua, <sup>5</sup> in that you have been enriched by him in so many ways, particularly in power of speech and depth of knowledge. <sup>6</sup> Indeed, the testimony about the Messiah has become firmly established in you; <sup>7</sup> so that you are not lacking any spiritual gift and are eagerly awaiting the revealing of our Lord Yeshua the Messiah. <sup>8</sup> He will enable you to hold out until the end and thus be blameless on the Day of our Lord Yeshua the Messiah — <sup>9</sup> God is trustworthy: it was he who called you into fellowship with his Son, Yeshua the Messiah, our Lord.

<sup>10</sup> Nevertheless, brothers, I call on you in the name of our Lord Yeshua the Messiah to agree, all of you, in what you say, and not to let yourselves remain split into factions but be restored to having a common mind and a common purpose. <sup>11</sup> For some of Chloe's people have made it known to me, my brothers, that there are quarrels among you. <sup>12</sup> I say this because one of you says, "I follow Sha'ul"; another says, "I follow Apollos"; another, "I follow Kefa"; while still another says, "I follow the Messiah!" <sup>13</sup> Has the Messiah been split in pieces? Was it Sha'ul who was put to death on a stake for you? Were you immersed into the name of Sha'ul? <sup>14</sup> I thank God that I didn't immerse any of you except Crispus and Gaius — <sup>15</sup> otherwise someone might say that you were indeed immersed into my name. <sup>16</sup> (Oh yes, I did also immerse Stephanas and his household; beyond that, I can't remember whether I immersed anyone else.)

<sup>17</sup> For the Messiah did not send me to immerse but to proclaim the Good News — and to do it without relying on "wisdom" that consists of mere rhetoric, so as not to rob the Messiah's execution-stake of its power. <sup>18</sup> For the message about the execution-stake is nonsense to those in the process of being destroyed, but to us in the process of being saved it is the power of God. <sup>19</sup> Indeed, the Tanakh says,

“I will destroy the wisdom of the wise
and frustrate the intelligence of the intelligent.”<sup>a</sup>

<sup>20</sup> Where does that leave the philosopher, the Torah-teacher, or any of today’s thinkers? Hasn’t God made this world’s wisdom look pretty foolish?

<sup>21</sup> For God’s wisdom ordained that the world, using its own wisdom, would not come to know him. Therefore God decided to use the “nonsense” of what we proclaim as his means of saving those who come to trust in it. <sup>22</sup> Precisely because Jews ask for signs and Greeks try to find wisdom, <sup>23</sup> we go on proclaiming a Messiah executed on a stake as a criminal! To Jews this is an obstacle, and to Greeks it is nonsense; <sup>24</sup> but to those who are called, both Jews and Greeks, this same Messiah is God’s power and God’s wisdom! <sup>25</sup> For God’s “nonsense” is wiser than humanity’s “wisdom.”

And God’s “weakness” is stronger than humanity’s “strength.” <sup>26</sup> Just look at yourselves, brothers — look at those whom God has called! Not many of you are wise by the world’s standards, not many wield power or boast noble birth. <sup>27</sup> But God chose what the world considers nonsense in order to shame the wise; God chose what the world considers weak in order to shame the strong; <sup>28</sup> and God chose what the world looks down on as common or regards as nothing in order to bring to nothing what the world considers important; <sup>29</sup> so that no one should boast before God. <sup>30</sup> It is his doing that you are united with the Messiah Yeshua. He has become wisdom for us from God, and righteousness and holiness and redemption as well! <sup>31</sup> Therefore — as the Tanakh says — “Let anyone who wants to boast, boast about ADONAI.”<sup>b</sup>

2 <sup>1</sup> As for me, brothers, when I arrived among you, it was not with surpassing eloquence or wisdom that I came announcing to you the previously concealed truth about God; <sup>2</sup> for I had decided that while I was with you I would forget everything except Yeshua the Messiah, and even him only as someone who had been executed on a stake as a criminal. <sup>3</sup> Also

I myself was with you as somebody weak, nervous and shaking all over from fear; <sup>4</sup> and neither the delivery nor the content of my message relied on compelling words of “wisdom” but on a demonstration of the power of the Spirit, <sup>5</sup> so that your trust might not rest on human wisdom but on God’s power.

<sup>6</sup> Yet there is a wisdom that we are speaking to those who are mature enough for it. But it is not the wisdom of this world or of this world’s leaders, who are in the process of passing away. <sup>7</sup> On the contrary, we are communicating a secret wisdom from God which has been hidden until now but which, before history began, God had decreed would bring us glory. <sup>8</sup> Not one of this world’s leaders has understood it; because if they had, they would not have executed the Lord from whom this glory flows. <sup>9</sup> But, as the Tanakh says,

“No eye has seen, no ear has heard

and no one’s heart has imagined

all the things that God has prepared

for those who love him.”<sup>ε</sup>

<sup>10</sup> It is to us, however, that God has revealed these things. How? Through the Spirit. For the Spirit probes all things, even the profoundest depths of God.

<sup>11</sup> For who knows the inner workings of a person except the person’s own spirit inside him? So too no one knows the inner workings of God except God’s Spirit. <sup>12</sup> Now we have not received the spirit of the world but the Spirit of God, so that we might understand the things God has so freely given us. <sup>13</sup> These are the things we are talking about when we avoid the manner of speaking that human wisdom would dictate and instead use a manner of speaking taught by the Spirit, by which we explain things of the Spirit to people who have the Spirit. <sup>14</sup> Now the natural man does not receive the things from the Spirit of God — to him they are nonsense! Moreover, he is unable to grasp them, because they are evaluated through the Spirit. <sup>15</sup> But the person who has the Spirit can evaluate everything, while no one is in a position to evaluate him.

For who has known the mind of ADONAI?

Who will counsel him?<sup>d</sup>

But we have the mind of the Messiah!

3 <sup>1</sup> As for me, brothers, I couldn't talk to you as spiritual people but as worldly people, as babies, so far as experience with the Messiah is concerned. <sup>2</sup> I gave you milk, not solid food, because you were not yet ready for it. But you aren't ready for it now either! <sup>3</sup> For you are still worldly! Isn't it obvious from all the jealousy and quarrelling among you that you are worldly and living by merely human standards? <sup>4</sup> For when one says, "I follow Sha'ul" and another, "I follow Apollos," aren't you being merely human? <sup>5</sup> After all, what is Apollos? What is Sha'ul? Only servants through whom you came to trust. Indeed, it was the Lord who brought you to trust through one of us or through another. <sup>6</sup> I planted the seed, and Apollos watered it, but it was God who made it grow. <sup>7</sup> So neither the planter nor the waterer is anything, only God who makes things grow — <sup>8</sup> planter and waterer are the same.

However, each will be rewarded according to his work. <sup>9</sup> For we are God's co-workers; you are God's field, God's building. <sup>10</sup> Using the grace God gave me, I laid a foundation, like a skilled master-builder; and another man is building on it. But let each one be careful how he builds. <sup>11</sup> For no one can lay any foundation other than the one already laid, which is Yeshua the Messiah. <sup>12</sup> Some will use gold, silver or precious stones in building on this foundation; while others will use wood, grass or straw. <sup>13</sup> But each one's work will be shown for what it is; the Day will disclose it, because it will be revealed by fire — the fire will test the quality of each one's work. <sup>14</sup> If the work someone has built on the foundation survives, he will receive a reward; <sup>15</sup> if it is burned up, he will have to bear the loss: he will still escape with his life, but it will be like escaping through a fire.

<sup>16</sup> Don't you know that you people are God's temple and that God's Spirit lives in you? <sup>17</sup> So if anyone destroys God's temple, God will destroy him. For God's temple is holy, and you yourselves are that temple.

<sup>18</sup> Let no one fool himself. If someone among you thinks he is wise (by this world's standards), let him become "foolish," so that he may become really wise. <sup>19</sup>For the wisdom of this world is nonsense, as far as God is concerned; inasmuch as the Tanakh says, “He traps the wise in their own cleverness,”<sup>g 20</sup> and again, “ADONAI knows that the thoughts of the wise are worthless.”<sup>f 21</sup> So let no one boast about human beings, for all things are yours — <sup>22</sup> whether Sha’ul or Apollos or Kefa or the world or life or death or the present or the future: they all belong to you, <sup>23</sup> and you belong to the Messiah, and the Messiah belongs to God.

4 <sup>1</sup> So, you should regard us as the Messiah’s servants, as trustees of God’s secret truths. <sup>2</sup> Now the one thing that is asked of a trustee is that he be found trustworthy. <sup>3</sup> And it matters very little to me how I am evaluated by you or by any human court; in fact, I don’t even evaluate myself. <sup>4</sup> I am not aware of anything against me, but this does not make me innocent. The one who is evaluating me is the Lord. <sup>5</sup> So don’t pronounce judgment prematurely, before the Lord comes; for he will bring to light what is now hidden in darkness; he will expose the motives of people’s hearts; and then each will receive from God whatever praise he deserves.

<sup>6</sup> Now in what I have said here, brothers, I have used myself and Apollos as examples to teach you not to go beyond what the Tanakh says, proudly taking the side of one leader against another. <sup>7</sup> After all, what makes you so special? What do you have that you didn’t receive as a gift? And if in fact it was a gift, why do you boast as if it weren’t? <sup>8</sup> You are gluttoned already? You are rich already? You have become kings, even though we are not? Well, I wish you really were kings, so that we might share the kingship with you! <sup>9</sup> For I think God has been placing us emissaries on display at the tail of the parade, like men condemned to die in the public arena: we have become a spectacle before the whole universe, angels as well as men. <sup>10</sup> For the Messiah’s sake we are fools, but united with the Messiah you are wise! We are weak, but you are strong; you are honored, but we are dishonored. <sup>11</sup> Till this very moment we go hungry and thirsty, we are dressed in rags, we are treated roughly, we wander from place to place, <sup>12</sup> we exhaust ourselves working with our own hands for our living. When we are cursed, we keep on blessing; when we are persecuted, we go on putting up with it; <sup>13</sup> when we are slandered, we continue making our appeal. We are the world’s garbage, the scum of the earth — yes, to this moment!

<sup>14</sup> I am not writing you this to make you feel ashamed, but, as my dear children, to confront you and get you to change. <sup>15</sup> For even if you have ten thousand trainers in connection with the Messiah, you do not have many fathers; for in connection with the Messiah Yeshua it was I who became your father by means of the Good News. <sup>16</sup> Therefore I urge you to imitate me. <sup>17</sup> This is why I have sent you Timothy, my beloved and trustworthy child in the Lord. He will remind you of the way of life I follow in union with the Messiah Yeshua and teach everywhere in every congregation.

<sup>18</sup> When I didn't come to visit you, some of you became arrogant. <sup>19</sup> But I am coming to you soon, if the Lord wills; and I will take cognizance not of the talk of these arrogant people but of their power. <sup>20</sup> For the Kingdom of God is not a matter of words but of power. <sup>21</sup> Which do you prefer — should I come to you with a stick? or with love in a spirit of gentleness?

5 <sup>1</sup> It is actually being reported that there is sexual sin among you, and it is sexual sin of a kind that is condemned even by pagans — a man is living with his stepmother! <sup>2</sup> And you stay proud? Shouldn't you rather have felt some sadness that would have led you to remove from your company the man who has done this thing? <sup>3</sup> For I myself, even though I am absent physically, am with you spiritually; and I have already judged the man who has done this as if I were present. <sup>4</sup> In the name of the Lord Yeshua, when you are assembled, with me present spiritually and the power of our Lord Yeshua among us, <sup>5</sup> hand over such a person to the Adversary for his old nature to be destroyed, so that his spirit may be saved in the Day of the Lord.

<sup>6</sup> Your boasting is not good. Don't you know the saying, "It takes only a little hametz to leaven a whole batch of dough?" <sup>7</sup> Get rid of the old hametz, so that you can be a new batch of dough, because in reality you are unleavened. For our Pesach lamb, the Messiah, has been sacrificed. <sup>8</sup> So let us celebrate the Seder not with leftover hametz, the hametz of wickedness and evil, but with the matzah of purity and truth.

<sup>9</sup> In my earlier letter I wrote you not to associate with people who engage in sexual immorality. <sup>10</sup> I didn't mean the sexually immoral people outside your community, or the greedy, or the thieves or the idol-worshippers — for then you would have to leave the world altogether! <sup>11</sup> No, what I wrote you was not to associate with anyone who is supposedly a brother but who also engages in sexual immorality, is greedy, worships idols, is abusive, gets drunk or steals. With such a person you shouldn't even eat! <sup>12</sup> For what business is it of mine to judge outsiders? Isn't it those who are part of the community that you should be judging? <sup>13</sup> God will judge those who are outside. Just expel the evildoer from among yourselves. <sup>9.</sup>

6 <sup>1</sup> How dare one of you with a complaint against another go to court before pagan judges and not before God's people? <sup>2</sup> Don't you know that God's people are going to judge the universe? If you are going to judge the universe, are you incompetent to judge these minor matters? <sup>3</sup> Don't you know that we will judge angels, not to mention affairs of everyday life? <sup>4</sup> So if you require judgments about matters of everyday life, why do you put them in front of men who have no standing in the Messianic Community? <sup>5</sup> I say, shame on you! Can it be that there isn't one person among you wise enough to be able to settle a dispute between brothers? <sup>6</sup> Instead, a brother brings a lawsuit against another brother, and that before unbelievers!

<sup>7</sup> Actually, if you are bringing lawsuits against each other, it is already a defeat for you. Why not rather be wronged? Why not rather be cheated? <sup>8</sup> Instead, you yourselves wrong and cheat; and you do it to your own brothers! <sup>9</sup> Don't you know that unrighteous people will have no share in the Kingdom of God? Don't delude yourselves — people who engage in sex before marriage, who worship idols, who engage in sex after marriage with someone other than their spouse, who engage in active or passive homosexuality, <sup>10</sup> who steal, who are greedy, who get drunk, who assail people with contemptuous language, who rob — none of them will share in the Kingdom of God. <sup>11</sup> Some of you used to do these things. But you have cleansed yourselves, you have been set apart for God, you have come to be counted righteous through the power of the Lord Yeshua the Messiah and the Spirit of our God.

<sup>12</sup> You say, "For me, everything is permitted"? Maybe, but not everything is helpful. "For me, everything is permitted"? Maybe, but as far as I am concerned, I am not going to let anything gain control over me. <sup>13</sup> "Food is meant for the stomach and the stomach for food"? Maybe, but God will put an end to both of them. Anyhow, the body is not meant for sexual immorality but for the Lord, and the Lord is for the body. <sup>14</sup> God raised up the Lord, and he will raise us up too by his power.

<sup>15</sup> Don't you know that your bodies are parts of the Messiah? So, am I to take parts of the Messiah and make them parts of a prostitute? Heaven forbid! <sup>16</sup> Don't you know that a man who joins himself to a prostitute becomes physically one with her? For the Tanakh says, "The two will become one flesh";<sup>h</sup> <sup>17</sup> but the person who is joined to the Lord is one spirit.

<sup>18</sup> Run from sexual immorality! Every other sin a person commits is outside the body, but the fornicator sins against his own body. <sup>19</sup> Or don't you know that your body is a temple for the Ruach HaKodesh who lives inside you, whom you received from God? The fact is, you don't belong to yourselves; <sup>20</sup> for you were bought at a price. So use your bodies to glorify God.

7 <sup>1</sup> Now to deal with the questions you wrote about: "Is it good for a man to keep away from women?" <sup>2</sup> Well, because of the danger of sexual immorality, let each man have his own wife and each woman her own husband. <sup>3</sup> The husband should give his wife what she is entitled to in the marriage relationship, and the wife should do the same for her husband. <sup>4</sup> The wife is not in charge of her own body, but her husband is; likewise, the husband is not in charge of his own body, but his wife is. <sup>5</sup> Do not deprive each other, except for a limited time, by mutual agreement, and then only so as to have extra time for prayer; but afterwards, come together again. Otherwise, because of your lack of self-control, you may succumb to the Adversary's temptation. <sup>6</sup> I am giving you this as a suggestion, not as a command. <sup>7</sup> Actually, I wish everyone were like me; but each has his own gift from God, one this, another that.

<sup>8</sup> Now to the single people and the widows I say that it is fine if they remain unmarried like me; <sup>9</sup> but if they can't exercise self-control, they should get married; because it is better to get married than to keep burning with sexual desire.

<sup>10</sup> To those who are married I have a command, and it is not from me but from the Lord: a woman is not to separate herself from her husband. <sup>11</sup> But if she does separate herself, she is to remain single or be reconciled with her husband. Also, a husband is not to leave his wife.

<sup>12</sup> To the rest I say — I, not the Lord: if any brother has a wife who is not a believer, and she is satisfied to go on living with him, he should not leave her.<sup>13</sup> Also, if any woman has an unbelieving husband who is satisfied to go on living with her, she is not to leave him.<sup>14</sup> For the unbelieving husband has been set aside for God by the wife, and the unbelieving wife has been set aside for God by the brother — otherwise your children would be “unclean,” but as it is, they are set aside for God.<sup>15</sup> But if the unbelieving spouse separates himself, let him be separated. In circumstances like these, the brother or sister is not enslaved — God has called you to a life of peace.<sup>16</sup> For how do you know, wife, whether you will save your husband? Or how do you know, husband, whether you will save your wife?

<sup>17</sup> Only let each person live the life the Lord has assigned him and live it in the condition he was in when God called him. This is the rule I lay down in all the congregations.<sup>18</sup> Was someone already circumcised when he was called? Then he should not try to remove the marks of his circumcision. Was someone uncircumcised when he was called? He shouldn’t undergo b’rit-milah.<sup>19</sup> Being circumcised means nothing, and being uncircumcised means nothing; what does mean something is keeping God’s commandments.<sup>20</sup> Each person should remain in the condition he was in when he was called.

<sup>21</sup> Were you a slave when you were called? Well, don’t let it bother you; although if you can gain your freedom, take advantage of the opportunity.<sup>22</sup> For a person who was a slave when he was called is the Lord’s freedman; likewise, someone who was a free man when he was called is a slave of the Messiah.<sup>23</sup> You were bought at a price, so do not become slaves of other human beings.<sup>24</sup> Brothers, let each one remain with God in the condition in which he was called.

<sup>25</sup> Now the question about the unmarried: I do not have a command from the Lord, but I offer an opinion as one who by the Lord’s mercy is worthy to be trusted.<sup>26</sup> I suppose that in a time of stress like the present it is good for a person to stay as he is.<sup>27</sup> That means that if a man has a wife, he should not seek to be free of her; and if he is unmarried, he should not look for a wife.<sup>28</sup> But if you marry you do not sin, and if a girl marries she does not sin. It is just that those who get married will have the normal problems of married life, and I would rather spare you.<sup>29</sup> What I am saying, brothers, is that there is not much time left: from now on a man with a wife should live as if he had none —<sup>30</sup> and those who are sad should live as if they weren’t, those who are happy as if they weren’t,<sup>31</sup> and those who deal in worldly affairs as if not engrossed in them — because the present scheme of things in this world won't last much longer.<sup>32</sup> What I want is for you to be free of concern. An unmarried man concerns himself with the Lord's affairs,<sup>33</sup> with how to please the Lord; but the married man concerns himself with the world's affairs, with how to please his wife;<sup>34</sup> and he finds himself split. Likewise the woman who is no longer married or the girl who has never been married concerns herself with the Lord's affairs, with how to be holy both physically and spiritually; but the married woman concerns herself with the world's affairs, with how to please her husband.<sup>35</sup> I am telling you this for your own benefit, not to put restrictions on you — I am simply concerned that you live in a proper manner and serve the Lord with undivided devotion.

<sup>39</sup> A wife is bound to her husband as long as he lives, but if the husband dies she is free to marry anyone she wishes, provided he is a believer in the Lord.<sup>40</sup> However, in my opinion, she will be happier if she remains unmarried, and in saying this I think I have God's Spirit.

8<sup>1</sup> Now about food sacrificed to idols: we know that, as you say, "We all have knowledge." Yes, that is so, but "knowledge" puffs a person up with pride; whereas love builds up.<sup>2</sup> The person who thinks he "knows" something doesn't yet know in the way he ought to know.<sup>3</sup> However, if someone loves God, God knows him.

<sup>4</sup> So, as for eating food sacrificed to idols, we "know" that, as you say, "An idol has no real existence in the world, and there is only one God."<sup>5</sup> For even if there are so-called "gods," either in heaven or on earth — as in fact there are "gods" and "lords" galore —<sup>6</sup> yet for us there is one God, the Father, from whom all things come and for whom we exist; and one Lord, Yeshua the Messiah, through whom were created all things and through whom we have our being.

<sup>7</sup> But not everyone has this knowledge. Moreover, some people are still so accustomed to idols that when they eat food which has been sacrificed to them, they think of it as really affected by the idol; and their consciences, being weak, are thus defiled. <sup>8</sup> Now food will not improve our relationship with God — we will be neither poorer if we abstain nor richer if we eat. <sup>9</sup> However watch out that your mastery of the situation does not become a stumbling block to the weak. <sup>10</sup> You have this “knowledge”; but suppose someone with a weak conscience sees you sitting, eating a meal in the temple of an idol. Won’t he be built up wrongly to eat this food which has been sacrificed to idols? <sup>11</sup> Thus by your “knowledge” this weak person is destroyed, this brother for whom the Messiah died; <sup>12</sup> and so, when you sin against the brothers by wounding their conscience when it is weak, you are sinning against the Messiah!

<sup>13</sup> To sum up, if food will be a snare for my brother, I will never eat meat again, lest I cause my brother to sin.

9 <sup>1</sup> Am I not a free man? Am I not an emissary of the Messiah? Haven’t I seen Yeshua our Lord? And aren’t you yourselves the result of my work for the Lord? <sup>2</sup> Even if to others I am not an emissary, at least I am to you; for you are living proof that I am the Lord’s emissary. <sup>3</sup> That is my defense when people put me under examination.

<sup>4</sup> Don’t we have the right to be given food and drink? <sup>5</sup> Don’t we have the right to take along with us a believing wife, as do the other emissaries, also the Lord’s brothers and Kefa? <sup>6</sup> Or are Bar-Nabba and I the only ones required to go on working for our living? <sup>7</sup> Did you ever hear of a soldier paying his own expenses? or of a farmer planting a vineyard without eating its grapes? Who shepherds a flock without drinking some of the milk? <sup>8</sup> What I am saying is not based merely on human authority, because the Torah says the same thing — <sup>9</sup> for in the Torah of Moshe it is written, “You are not to put a muzzle on an ox when it is treading out the grain.”<sup>i</sup> If God is concerned about cattle, <sup>10</sup> all the more does he say this for our sakes. Yes, it was written for us, meaning that he who plows and he who threshes should work expecting to get a share of the crop. <sup>11</sup> If we have sown spiritual seed among you, is it too much if we reap a material harvest from you? <sup>12</sup> If others are sharing in this right to be supported by you, don’t we have a greater claim to it?

But we don't make use of this right. Rather, we put up with all kinds of things so as not to impede in any way the Good News about the Messiah.<sup>13</sup> Don't you know that those who work in the Temple get their food from the Temple, and those who serve at the altar get a share of the sacrifices offered there?<sup>14</sup> In the same way, the Lord directed that those who proclaim the Good News should get their living from the Good News.

<sup>15</sup> But I have not made use of any of these rights. Nor am I writing now to secure them for myself, for I would rather die than be deprived of my ground for boasting!<sup>16</sup> For I can't boast merely because I proclaim the Good News — this I do from inner compulsion: woe is me if I don't proclaim the Good News!<sup>17</sup> For if I do this willingly, I have a reward; but if I do it unwillingly, I still do it, simply because I've been entrusted with a job.<sup>18</sup> So then, what is my reward? Just this: that in proclaiming the Good News I can make it available free of charge, without making use of the rights to which it entitles me.

<sup>19</sup> For although I am a free man, not bound to do anyone's bidding, I have made myself a slave to all in order to win as many people as possible.<sup>20</sup> That is, with Jews, what I did was put myself in the position of a Jew, in order to win Jews. With people in subjection to a legalistic perversion of the Torah, I put myself in the position of someone under such legalism, in order to win those under this legalism, even though I myself am not in subjection to a legalistic perversion of the Torah.<sup>21</sup> With those who live outside the framework of Torah, I put myself in the position of someone outside the Torah in order to win those outside the Torah — although I myself am not outside the framework of God's Torah but within the framework of Torah as upheld by the Messiah.<sup>22</sup> With the "weak" I became "weak," in order to win the "weak." With all kinds of people I have become all kinds of things, so that in all kinds of circumstances I might save at least some of them.

<sup>23</sup> But I do it all because of the rewards promised by the Good News, so that I may share in them along with the others who come to trust.<sup>24</sup> Don't you know that in a race all the runners compete, but only one wins the prize? So then, run to win!<sup>25</sup> Now every athlete in training submits himself to strict discipline, and he does it just to win a laurel wreath that will soon wither away. But we do it to win a crown that will last forever.<sup>26</sup> Accordingly, I don't run aimlessly but straight for the finish line; I don't shadow-box but try to make every punch count.<sup>27</sup> I treat my body hard and make it my slave so that, after proclaiming the Good News to others, I myself will not be disqualified.

10 <sup>1</sup> For, brothers, I don't want you to miss the significance of what happened to our fathers. All of them were guided by the pillar of cloud, and they all passed through the sea, <sup>2</sup> and in connection with the cloud and with the sea they all immersed themselves into Moshe, <sup>3</sup> also they all ate the same food from the Spirit, <sup>4</sup> and they all drank the same drink from the Spirit — for they drank from a Spirit-sent Rock which followed them, and that Rock was the Messiah. <sup>5</sup> Yet with the majority of them God was not pleased, so their bodies were strewn across the desert.

<sup>6</sup> Now these things took place as prefigurative historical events, warning us not to set our hearts on evil things as they did. <sup>7</sup> Don't be idolaters, as some of them were — as the Tanakh puts it, “The people sat down to eat and drink, then got up to indulge in revelry.” <sup>8</sup> And let us not engage in sexual immorality, as some of them did, with the consequence that 23,000 died in a single day. <sup>9</sup> And let us not put the Messiah to the test, as some of them did, and were destroyed by snakes. <sup>10</sup> And don't grumble, as some of them did, and were destroyed by the Destroying Angel.

<sup>11</sup> These things happened to them as prefigurative historical events, and they were written down as a warning to us who are living in the acharit-hayamim. <sup>12</sup> Therefore, let anyone who thinks he is standing up be careful not to fall! <sup>13</sup> No temptation has seized you beyond what people normally experience, and God can be trusted not to allow you to be tempted beyond what you can bear. On the contrary, along with the temptation he will also provide the way out, so that you will be able to endure.

<sup>14</sup> Therefore, my dear friends, run from idolatry! <sup>15</sup> I speak to you as sensible people; judge for yourselves what I am saying. <sup>16</sup> The “cup of blessing” over which we make the b'rakhah — isn't it a sharing in the bloody sacrificial death of the Messiah? The bread we break, isn't it a sharing in the body of the Messiah? <sup>17</sup> Because there is one loaf of bread, we who are many constitute one body, since we all partake of the one loaf of bread. <sup>18</sup> Look at physical Isra'el: don't those who eat the sacrifices participate in the altar? <sup>19</sup> So, what am I saying? That food sacrificed to idols has any significance in itself? or that an idol has significance in itself? <sup>20</sup> No, what I am saying is that the things which pagans sacrifice, they sacrifice not to God but to demons; and I don't want you to become sharers of the demons! <sup>21</sup> You can't drink both a cup of the Lord and a cup of demons, you can't partake in both a meal of the Lord and a meal of demons. <sup>22</sup> Or are we trying to make the Lord jealous? We aren't stronger than he is, are we?

<sup>2</sup> Now I praise you because you have remembered everything I told you and observe the traditions just the way I passed them on to you. <sup>3</sup> But I want you to understand that the head of every man is the Messiah, and the head of a wife is her husband, and the head of the Messiah is God. <sup>4</sup> Every man who prays or prophesies wearing something down over his head brings shame to his head, <sup>5</sup> but every woman who prays or prophesies with her head unveiled brings shame to her head — there is no difference between her and a woman who has had her head shaved. <sup>6</sup> For if a woman is not veiled, let her also have her hair cut short; but if it is shameful for a woman to wear her hair cut short or to have her head shaved, then let her be veiled. <sup>7</sup> For a man indeed should not have his head veiled, because he is the image and glory of God, and the woman is the glory of man. <sup>8</sup> For man was not made from woman, but woman from man; <sup>9</sup> and indeed man was not created for the sake of the woman but woman for the sake of the man. <sup>10</sup> The reason a woman should show by veiling her head that she is under authority has to do with the angels. <sup>11</sup> Nevertheless, in union with the Lord neither is woman independent of man nor is man independent of woman; <sup>12</sup> for as the woman was made from the man, so also the man is now born through the woman. But everything is from God. <sup>13</sup> Decide for yourselves: is it appropriate for a woman to pray to God when she is unveiled? <sup>14</sup> Doesn't the nature of things itself teach you that a man who wears his hair long degrades himself? <sup>15</sup> But a woman who wears her hair long enhances her appearance, because her hair has been given to her as a covering. <sup>16</sup> However, if anyone wants to argue about it, the fact remains that we have no such custom, nor do the Messianic communities of God.

<sup>17</sup> But in giving you this next instruction I do not praise you, because when you meet together it does more harm than good! <sup>18</sup> For, in the first place, I hear that when you gather together as a congregation you divide up into cliques; and to a degree I believe it <sup>19</sup> (granted that there must be some divisions among you in order to show who are the ones in the right). <sup>20</sup> Thus, when you gather together, it is not to eat a meal of the Lord; <sup>21</sup> because as you eat your meal, each one goes ahead on his own; so that one stays hungry while another is already drunk! <sup>22</sup> Don't you have homes to eat and drink in? Or are you trying to show your contempt for God's Messianic community and embarrass those who are poor? What am I supposed to say to you? Am I supposed to praise you? Well, for this I don't praise you!

<sup>23</sup> For what I received from the Lord is just what I passed on to you — that the Lord Yeshua, on the night he was betrayed, took bread; <sup>24</sup> and after he had made the b'rakhah he broke it and said, "This is my body, which is for you. Do this as a memorial to me"; <sup>25</sup> likewise also the cup after the meal, saying, "This cup is the New Covenant effected by my blood; do this, as often as you drink it, as a memorial to me." <sup>26</sup> For as often as you eat this bread and drink the cup, you proclaim the death of the Lord, until he comes.

<sup>27</sup> Therefore, whoever eats the Lord's bread or drinks the Lord's cup in an unworthy manner will be guilty of desecrating the body and blood of the Lord! <sup>28</sup> So let a person examine himself first, and then he may eat of the bread and drink from the cup; <sup>29</sup> for a person who eats and drinks without recognizing the body eats and drinks judgment upon himself. <sup>30</sup> This is why many among you are weak and sick, and some have died! <sup>31</sup> If we would examine ourselves, we would not come under judgment. <sup>32</sup> But when we are judged by the Lord, we are being disciplined, so that we will not be condemned along with the world.

<sup>33</sup> So then, my brothers, when you gather together to eat, wait for one another. <sup>34</sup> If someone is hungry, he should eat at home, so that when you meet together it will not result in judgment.

As for the other matters, I will instruct you about them when I come.

12 <sup>1</sup> But, brothers, I do not want you to go on being ignorant about the things of the Spirit. <sup>2</sup> You know that when you were pagans, no matter how you felt you were being led, you were being led astray to idols, which can't speak at all. <sup>3</sup> Therefore, I want to make it clear to you that no one speaking by the Spirit of God ever says, "Yeshua is cursed!" and no one can say, "Yeshua is Lord," except by the Ruach HaKodesh.

<sup>4</sup> Now there are different kinds of gifts, but the same Spirit gives them. <sup>5</sup> Also there are different ways of serving, but it is the same Lord being served. <sup>6</sup> And there are different modes of working, but it is the same God working them all in everyone. <sup>7</sup> Moreover, to each person is given the particular manifestation of the Spirit that will be for the common good. <sup>8</sup> To one, through the Spirit, is given a word of wisdom; to another, a word of knowledge, in accordance with the same Spirit; <sup>9</sup> to another, faith, by the same Spirit; and to another, gifts of healing, by the one Spirit; <sup>10</sup> to another, the working of miracles; to another, prophecy; to another, the ability to judge between spirits; to another, the ability to speak in different kinds of tongues; and to yet another, the ability to interpret tongues. <sup>11</sup> One and the same Spirit is at work in all these things, distributing to each person as he chooses. <sup>12</sup> For just as the body is one but has many parts; and all the parts of the body, though many, constitute one body; so it is with the Messiah. <sup>13</sup> For it was by one Spirit that we were all immersed into one body, whether Jews or Gentiles, slaves or free; and we were all given the one Spirit to drink.

<sup>14</sup> For indeed the body is not one part but many. <sup>15</sup> If the foot says, "I'm not a hand, so I'm not part of the body," that doesn't make it stop being part of the body. <sup>16</sup> And if the ear says, "I'm not an eye, so I'm not part of the body," that doesn't make it stop being part of the body. <sup>17</sup> If the whole body were an eye, how could it hear? If it were all hearing, how could it smell? <sup>18</sup>

But as it is, God arranged each of the parts in the body exactly as he wanted them. <sup>19</sup> Now if they were all just one part, where would the body be? <sup>20</sup> But as it is, there are indeed many parts, yet just one body. <sup>21</sup> So the eye cannot say to the hand, “I don’t need you”; or the head to the feet, “I don’t need you.” <sup>22</sup> On the contrary, the parts of the body that seem to be less important turn out to be all the more necessary; <sup>23</sup> and upon body parts which we consider less dignified we bestow greater dignity; and the parts that aren’t attractive are the ones we make as attractive as we can, <sup>24</sup> while our attractive parts have no need for such treatment. Indeed, God has put the body together in such a way that he gives greater dignity to the parts that lack it, <sup>25</sup> so that there will be no disagreements within the body, but rather all the parts will be equally concerned for all the others. <sup>26</sup> Thus if one part suffers, all the parts suffer with it; and if one part is honored, all the parts share its happiness.

<sup>27</sup> Now you together constitute the body of the Messiah, and individually you are parts of it. <sup>28</sup> And God has placed in the Messianic Community first, emissaries; second, prophets; third, teachers; then those who work miracles; then those with gifts of healing; those with ability to help; those skilled in administration; and those who speak in various tongues. <sup>29</sup> Not all are emissaries, are they? Not all are prophets, are they? or teachers? or miracle-workers? <sup>30</sup> Not all have gifts of healing, not all speak in tongues, not all interpret, do they? <sup>31</sup> Eagerly seek the better gifts.

But now I will show you the best way of all.

13 <sup>1</sup> I may speak in the tongues of men, even angels;

but if I lack love, I have become merely blaring brass or a cymbal clanging.

<sup>2</sup> I may have the gift of prophecy,

I may fathom all mysteries, know all things,

have all faith — enough to move mountains;

but if I lack love, I am nothing.

<sup>3</sup> I may give away everything that I own,

I may even hand over my body to be burned;

but if I lack love, I gain nothing.

<sup>5</sup> not proud, rude or selfish, not easily angered,

and it keeps no record of wrongs.

<sup>6</sup> Love does not gloat over other people's sins

but takes its delight in the truth.

<sup>7</sup> Love always bears up, always trusts,

always hopes, always endures.

<sup>8</sup> Love never ends; but prophecies will pass,

tongues will cease, knowledge will pass.

<sup>9</sup> For our knowledge is partial, and our prophecy partial;

<sup>11</sup> When I was a child, I spoke like a child, thought like a child, argued like a child;

now that I have become a man,

I have finished with childish ways.

<sup>12</sup> For now we see obscurely in a mirror,

but then it will be face to face.

Now I know partly; then I will know fully,

just as God has fully known me.

<sup>13</sup> But for now, three things last —

trust, hope, love;

and the greatest of these is love.

However, keep on eagerly seeking the things of the Spirit; and especially seek to be able to prophesy. <sup>2</sup> For someone speaking in a tongue is not speaking to people but to God, because no one can understand, since he is uttering mysteries in the power of the Spirit. <sup>3</sup> But someone prophesying is speaking to people, edifying, encouraging and comforting them. <sup>4</sup> A person speaking in a tongue does edify himself, but a person prophesying edifies the congregation. <sup>5</sup> I wish you would all speak in tongues, but even more I wish you would all prophesy. The person who prophesies is greater than the person who speaks in tongues, unless someone gives an interpretation, so that the congregation can be edified.

<sup>6</sup> Brothers, suppose I come to you now speaking in tongues. How can I be of benefit to you unless I bring you some revelation or knowledge or prophecy or teaching? <sup>7</sup> Even with lifeless musical instruments, such as a flute or a harp, how will anyone recognize the melody if one note can't be distinguished from another? <sup>8</sup> And if the bugle gives an unclear sound, who will get ready for battle? <sup>9</sup> It's the same with you: how will anyone know what you are saying unless you use your tongue to produce intelligible speech? You will be talking to the air! <sup>10</sup> There are undoubtedly all kinds of sounds in the world, and none is altogether meaningless; <sup>11</sup> but if I don't know what a person's sounds mean, I will be a foreigner to the speaker and the speaker will be a foreigner to me. <sup>12</sup> Likewise with you: since you eagerly seek the things of the Spirit, seek especially what will help in edifying the congregation.

<sup>13</sup> Therefore someone who speaks in a tongue should pray for the power to interpret. <sup>14</sup> For if I pray in a tongue, my spirit does pray, but my mind is unproductive. <sup>15</sup> So, what about it? I will pray with my spirit, but I will also pray with my mind; I will sing with my spirit, but I will also sing with my mind. <sup>16</sup> Otherwise, if you are giving thanks with your spirit, how will someone who has not yet received much instruction be able to say, “Amen,” when you have finished giving thanks, since he doesn’t know what you are saying? <sup>17</sup> For undoubtedly you are giving thanks very nicely, but the other person is not being edified. <sup>18</sup> I thank God that I speak in tongues more than all of you, <sup>19</sup> but in a congregation meeting I would rather say five words with my mind in order to instruct others than ten thousand words in a tongue!

“By other tongues,

by the lips of foreigners

I will speak to this people.

But even then they will not listen to me,”

says ADONAI. <sup>1</sup>

<sup>22</sup> Thus tongues are a sign not for believers but for unbelievers, while prophecy is not for unbelievers but for believers. <sup>23</sup> So if the whole congregation comes together with everybody speaking in tongues, and uninstructed people or unbelievers come in, won’t they say you’re crazy? <sup>24</sup> But if you all prophesy, and some unbeliever or uninstructed person enters, he is convicted of sin by all, he is brought under judgment by all, <sup>25</sup> and the secrets of his heart are laid bare; so he falls on his face and worships God, saying, “God is really here among you!”

<sup>26</sup> What is our conclusion, brothers? Whenever you come together, let everyone be ready with a psalm or a teaching or a revelation, or ready to use his gift of tongues or give an interpretation; but let everything be for edification. <sup>27</sup> If the gift of tongues is exercised, let it be by two or at most three, and each in turn; and let someone interpret. <sup>28</sup> And if there is no one present who can interpret, let the people who speak in tongues keep silent when the congregation meets — they can speak to themselves and to God. <sup>29</sup> Let two or three prophets speak, while the others weigh what is said. <sup>30</sup> And if something is revealed to a prophet who is sitting down, let the first one be silent. <sup>31</sup> For you can all prophesy one by one, with the result that all will learn something and all will be encouraged. <sup>32</sup> Also, the prophets' spirits are under the prophets' control; <sup>33</sup> for God is not a God of unruliness but of shalom.

As in all the congregations of God's people, <sup>34</sup> let the wives remain silent when the congregation meets; they are certainly not permitted to speak out. Rather, let them remain subordinate, as also the Torah says; <sup>35</sup> and if there is something they want to know, let them ask their own husbands at home; for it is shameful for a woman to speak out in a congregational meeting.

<sup>36</sup> Did the word of God originate with you? Or are you the only people it has reached? <sup>37</sup> If anyone thinks he is a prophet or is endowed with the Spirit, let him acknowledge that what I am writing you is a command of the Lord. <sup>38</sup> But if someone doesn't recognize this, then let him remain unrecognized.

<sup>39</sup> So, my brothers, eagerly seek to prophesy; and do not forbid speaking in tongues; <sup>40</sup> but let all things be done in a proper and orderly way.

15 <sup>1</sup> Now, brothers, I must remind you of the Good News which I proclaimed to you, and which you received, and on which you have taken your stand, <sup>2</sup> and by which you are being saved — provided you keep holding fast to the message I proclaimed to you. For if you don't, your trust will have been in vain. <sup>3</sup> For among the first things I passed on to you was what I also received, namely this: the Messiah died for our sins, in accordance with what the Tanakh says; <sup>4</sup> and he was buried; and he was raised on the third day, in accordance with what the Tanakh says; <sup>5</sup> and he was seen by Kefa, then by the Twelve; <sup>6</sup> and afterwards he was seen by more than five hundred brothers at one time, the majority of whom are still alive, though some have died. <sup>7</sup> Later he was seen by Ya'akov, then by all the emissaries; <sup>8</sup> and last of all he was seen by me, even though I was born at the wrong time. <sup>9</sup> For I am the least of all the emissaries, unfit to be called an emissary, because I persecuted the Messianic Community of God. <sup>10</sup> But by God's grace I am what I am, and his grace towards me was not in vain; on the contrary, I have worked harder than all of them, although it was not I but the grace of God with me. <sup>11</sup> Anyhow, whether I or they, this is what we proclaim, and this is what you believed.

<sup>12</sup> But if it has been proclaimed that the Messiah has been raised from the dead, how is it that some of you are saying there is no such thing as a resurrection of the dead? <sup>13</sup> If there is no resurrection of the dead, then the Messiah has not been raised; <sup>14</sup> and if the Messiah has not been raised, then what we have proclaimed is in vain; also your trust is in vain; <sup>15</sup> furthermore, we are shown up as false witnesses for God in having testified that God raised up the Messiah, whom he did not raise if it is true that the dead are not raised. <sup>16</sup> For if the dead are not raised, then the Messiah has not been raised either; <sup>17</sup> and if the Messiah has not been raised, your trust is useless, and you are still in your sins. <sup>18</sup> Also, if this is the case, those who died in union with the Messiah are lost. <sup>19</sup> If it is only for this life that we have put our hope in the Messiah, we are more pitiable than anyone.

<sup>20</sup> But the fact is that the Messiah has been raised from the dead, the firstfruits of those who have died. <sup>21</sup> For since death came through a man, also the resurrection of the dead has come through a man. <sup>22</sup> For just as in connection with Adam all die, so in connection with the Messiah all will be made alive. <sup>23</sup> But each in his own order: the Messiah is the firstfruits; then those who belong to the Messiah, at the time of his coming; <sup>24</sup> then the culmination, when he hands over the Kingdom to God the Father, after having put an end to every rulership, yes, to every authority and power. <sup>25</sup> For he has to rule until he puts all his enemies under his feet. <sup>26</sup> The last enemy to be done away with will be death, <sup>27</sup> for “He put everything in subjection under his feet.” <sup>28</sup> But when it says that “everything” has been subjected, obviously the word does not include God, who is himself the one subjecting everything to the Messiah. <sup>28</sup> Now when everything has been subjected to the Son, then he will subject himself to God, who subjected everything to him; so that God may be everything in everyone.

<sup>29</sup> Were it otherwise, what would the people accomplish who are immersed on behalf of the dead? If the dead are not actually raised, why are people immersed for them? <sup>30</sup> For that matter, we ourselves — why do we keep facing danger hour by hour? <sup>31</sup> Brothers, by the right to be proud which the Messiah Yeshua our Lord gives me, I solemnly tell you that I die every day. <sup>32</sup> If my fighting with “wild beasts” in Ephesus was done merely on a human basis, what do I gain by it? If dead people are not raised, we might as well live by the saying, “Let’s eat and drink, for tomorrow we die!” <sup>33</sup> Don’t be fooled. “Bad company ruins good character.” <sup>34</sup> Come to your senses! Live righteously and stop sinning! There are some people who lack knowledge of God — I say this to your shame.

<sup>35</sup> But someone will ask, “In what manner are the dead raised? What sort of body do they have?” <sup>36</sup> Stupid! When you sow a seed, it doesn’t come alive unless it first dies. <sup>37</sup> Also, what you sow is not the body that will be, but a bare seed of, say, wheat or something else; <sup>38</sup> but God gives it the body he intended for it; and to each kind of seed he gives its own body. <sup>39</sup> Not all living matter is the same living matter; on the contrary, there is one kind for human beings, another kind of living matter for animals, another for birds and another for fish. <sup>40</sup> Further, there are heavenly bodies and earthly bodies; but the beauty of heavenly bodies is one thing, while the beauty of earthly bodies is something else. <sup>41</sup> The sun has one kind of beauty, the moon another, the stars yet another; indeed, each star has its own individual kind of beauty.

<sup>42</sup> So it is with the resurrection of the dead. When the body is “sown,” it decays; when it is raised, it cannot decay. <sup>43</sup> When sown, it is without dignity; when raised, it will be beautiful. When sown, it is weak; when raised, it will be strong. <sup>44</sup> When sown, it is an ordinary human body; when raised, it will be a body controlled by the Spirit. If there is an ordinary human body, there is also a body controlled by the Spirit. <sup>45</sup> In fact, the Tanakh says so: Adam, the first man, became a living human being; <sup>46</sup> but the last “Adam” has become a life-giving Spirit. <sup>46</sup> Note, however, that the body from the Spirit did not come first, but the ordinary human one; the one from the Spirit comes afterwards. <sup>47</sup> The first man is from the earth, made of dust; the second man is from heaven. <sup>48</sup> People born of dust are like the man of dust, and people born from heaven are like the man from heaven; <sup>49</sup> and just as we have borne the image of the man of dust, so also we will bear the image of the man from heaven.

<sup>50</sup> Let me say this, brothers: flesh and blood cannot share in the Kingdom of God, nor can something that decays share in what does not decay. <sup>51</sup> Look, I will tell you a secret — not all of us will die! But we will all be changed! <sup>52</sup> It will take but a moment, the blink of an eye, at the final shofar.

For the shofar will sound, and the dead will be raised to live forever, and we too will be changed. <sup>53</sup> For this material which can decay must be clothed with imperishability, this which is mortal must be clothed with immortality. <sup>54</sup> When what decays puts on imperishability and what is mortal puts on immortality, then this passage in the Tanakh will be fulfilled:

“Death is swallowed up in victory.”<sup>b</sup>

<sup>55</sup>

“Death, where is your victory?

Death, where is your sting?”<sup>g</sup>

<sup>56</sup> The sting of death is sin; and sin draws its power from the Torah; <sup>57</sup> but thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Yeshua the Messiah!

<sup>58</sup> So, my dear brothers, stand firm and immovable, always doing the Lord’s work as vigorously as you can, knowing that united with the Lord your efforts are not in vain.

16 <sup>1</sup> Now, in regard to the collection being made for God’s people: you are to do the same as I directed the congregations in Galatia to do. <sup>2</sup> Every week, on Motza’ei-Shabbat, each of you should set some money aside, according to his resources, and save it up; so that when I come I won’t have to do fundraising. <sup>3</sup> And when I arrive, I will give letters of introduction to the people you have approved, and I will send them to carry your gift to Yerushalayim. <sup>4</sup> If it seems appropriate that I go too, they will go along with me.

<sup>5</sup> I will visit you after I have gone through Macedonia, for I am intending to pass through Macedonia, <sup>6</sup> and I may stay with you or even spend the winter, so that you may help me continue my travels wherever I may go. <sup>7</sup> For I don’t want to see you now, when I am only passing through; because I am hoping to spend some time with you, if the Lord allows it. <sup>8</sup> But I will remain in Ephesus until Shavu’ot, <sup>9</sup> because a great and important door has opened for my work, and there are many people opposing me.

<sup>10</sup> If Timothy comes, see that he has nothing to be afraid of while he is with you; for he is doing the Lord’s work, just as I am. <sup>11</sup> So let no one treat him with disrespect. Help him on his way in peace, so that he will return to me, for the brothers and I are expecting him.

<sup>12</sup> As for brother Apollos, I strongly urged him to go and visit you along with the other brothers; and although it was not at all his desire to come at this time, he will come when he has the opportunity.

<sup>15</sup> Now, brothers, you know that the household of Stephanas were the first people in Achaia to put their trust in the Messiah, and they have devoted themselves to serving God's people. <sup>16</sup> I urge you to submit yourselves to people like these and to everyone who works and toils with them. <sup>17</sup> I am glad that Stephanas and Fortunatus and Achaicus are here, because they have helped make up for your not being here. <sup>18</sup> They have refreshed my spirit, just as they have yours. I want you to show appreciation for people like these.

<sup>19</sup> The congregations in the province of Asia send greetings to you. Aquila and Priscilla greet you in union with the Lord, as does the congregation that meets in their house. <sup>20</sup> All the brothers send you their greetings. Greet one another with a holy kiss.

<sup>24</sup> My love is with you all, in union with the Messiah Yeshua.

The Second Letter from Yeshua's Emissary Sha'ul (Paul) to the Messianic Community in Corinth

2 CORINTHIANS

1 <sup>1</sup> From: Sha'ul, by God's will an emissary of the Messiah Yeshua, and brother Timothy

To: God's Messianic community in Corinth, along with all God's people throughout Achaia:

<sup>2</sup> Grace to you and shalom from God our Father and the Lord Yeshua the Messiah.

<sup>3</sup> Praised be God, Father of our Lord Yeshua the Messiah, compassionate Father, God of all encouragement and comfort; <sup>4</sup> who encourages us in all our trials, so that we can encourage others in whatever trials they may be undergoing with the encouragement we ourselves have received from God.

<sup>5</sup> For just as the Messiah's sufferings overflow into us, so through the Messiah our encouragement also overflows. <sup>6</sup> So if we undergo trials, it is for your encouragement and deliverance; and if we are encouraged, that should encourage you when you have to endure sufferings like those we are experiencing. <sup>7</sup> Moreover, our hope for you remains staunch, because we know that as you share in the sufferings, you will also share in the encouragement.

<sup>8</sup> For, brothers, we want you to know about the trials we have undergone in the province of Asia. The burden laid on us was so far beyond what we could bear that we even despaired of living through it. <sup>9</sup> In our hearts we felt we were under sentence of death. However, this was to get us to rely not on ourselves but on God, who raises the dead! <sup>10</sup> He rescued us from such deadly peril, and he will rescue us again! The one in whom we have placed our hope will indeed continue to rescue us. <sup>11</sup> And you must add your help by praying for us; for the more people there are praying, the more people there will be to give thanks when their prayer for us is answered.

<sup>12</sup> For we take pride in this: that our conscience assures us that in our dealings with the world, and especially with you, we have conducted ourselves with frankness and godly pureness of motive — not by worldly wisdom but by God-given grace. <sup>13</sup> There are no hidden meanings in our letters other than what you can read and understand; and my hope is that you will understand fully, <sup>14</sup> as indeed you have already understood us in part; so that on the Day of our Lord Yeshua you can be as proud of us as we are of you.

<sup>15</sup> So sure was I of this that I had planned to come and see you, so that you might have the benefit of a second visit. <sup>16</sup> I wanted to visit you on my way to Macedonia, visit you again on my way back from Macedonia, and then have you send me on my way to Y'hudah.

<sup>17</sup> Did I make these plans lightly? Or do I make plans the way a worldly man does, ready to say, "Yes, yes," and "No, no," in the same breath? <sup>18</sup> As surely as God is trustworthy, we don't say "Yes" when we mean "No." <sup>19</sup> For the Son of God, the Messiah Yeshua, who was proclaimed among you through us — that is, through me and Sila and Timothy — was not a yes-and-no man; on the contrary, with him it is always "Yes!" <sup>20</sup> For however many promises God has made, they all find their "Yes" in connection with him; that is why it is through him that we say the "Amen" when we give glory to God. <sup>21</sup> Moreover, it is God who sets both us and you in firm union with the Messiah; he has anointed us, <sup>22</sup> put his seal on us, and given us his Spirit in our hearts as a guarantee for the future.

<sup>23</sup> I call God to witness — he knows what my life is like — that the reason I held back from coming to Corinth was out of consideration for you! <sup>24</sup> We are not trying to dictate how you must live out your trust in the Messiah, for in your trust you are standing firm. Rather, we are working with you for your own happiness.

2 <sup>1</sup> So I made up my mind that I would not pay you another painful visit. <sup>2</sup> For if I cause you pain, who is left to make me happy except the people I have pained? <sup>3</sup> Indeed, this is why I wrote as I did — so that when I came, I would not have to be pained by those who ought to be making me happy; for I had enough confidence in all of you to believe that unless I could be happy, none of you could be happy either. <sup>4</sup> I wrote to you with a greatly distressed and anguished heart, and with many tears, not in order to cause you pain, but to get you to realize how very much I love you.

<sup>5</sup> Now if someone has been a cause of pain, it is not I whom he has pained, but, in some measure — I don't want to overstate it — all of you. <sup>6</sup> For such a person the punishment already imposed on him by the majority is sufficient, <sup>7</sup> so that now you should do the opposite — forgive him, encourage him, comfort him. Otherwise such a person might be swallowed up in overwhelming depression. <sup>8</sup> So I urge you to show that you really do love him. <sup>9</sup> The reason I wrote you was to see if you would pass the test, to see if you would fully obey me. <sup>10</sup> Anyone you forgive, I forgive too. For indeed, whatever I have forgiven, if there has been anything to forgive, has been for your sake in the presence of the Messiah <sup>11</sup> so that we will not be taken advantage of by the Adversary — for we are quite aware of his schemes!

<sup>12</sup> Now when I went to Troas to proclaim the Good News of the Messiah, since a door had been opened for me by the Lord, <sup>13</sup> I could not rest, because I failed to find my brother Titus. So I left the people there and went on to Macedonia.

<sup>14</sup> But thanks be to God, who in the Messiah constantly leads us in a triumphal procession and through us spreads everywhere the fragrance of what it means to know him! <sup>15</sup> For to God we are the aroma of the Messiah, both among those being saved and among those being lost; <sup>16</sup> to the latter, we are the smell of death leading only to more death; but to the former, we are the sweet smell of life leading to more life. Who is equal to such a task? <sup>17</sup> For we are not like a lot of folks who go about huckstering God's message for a fee; on the contrary, we speak out of a sincere heart, as people sent by God, standing in God's presence, living in union with the Messiah.

3 <sup>1</sup> Are we starting to recommend ourselves again? Or do we, like some, need letters of recommendation either to you or from you? <sup>2</sup> You yourselves are our letter of recommendation, written on our hearts, known and read by everyone. <sup>3</sup> You make it clear that you are a letter from the Messiah placed in our care, written not with ink but by the Spirit of the living God, not on stone tablets but on human hearts.

<sup>4</sup> Such is the confidence we have through the Messiah toward God. <sup>5</sup> It is not that we are competent in ourselves to count anything as having come from us; on the contrary, our competence is from God. <sup>6</sup> He has even made us competent to be workers serving a New Covenant, the essence of which is not a written text but the Spirit. For the written text brings death, but the Spirit gives life.

<sup>7</sup> Now if that which worked death, by means of a written text engraved on stone tablets, came with glory — such glory that the people of Isra'el could not stand to look at Moshe's face because of its brightness, even though that brightness was already fading away — <sup>8</sup> won't the working of the Spirit be accompanied by even greater glory? <sup>9</sup> For if there was glory in what worked to declare people guilty, how much more must the glory abound in what works to declare people innocent! <sup>10</sup> In fact, by comparison with this greater glory, what was made glorious before has no glory now. <sup>11</sup> For if there was glory in what faded away, how much more glory must there be in what lasts.

<sup>12</sup> Therefore, with a hope like this, we are very open — <sup>13</sup> unlike Moshe, who put a veil over his face, so that the people of Isra'el would not see the fading brightness come to an end.

<sup>14</sup> What is more, their minds were made stonelike; for to this day the same veil remains over them when they read the Old Covenant; it has not been unveiled, because only by the Messiah is the veil taken away. <sup>15</sup> Yes, till today, whenever Moshe is read, a veil lies over their heart. <sup>16</sup> “But,” says the Torah, “whenever someone turns to ADONAI, the veil is taken away.” <sup>17</sup> Now, “ADONAI” in this text means the Spirit. And where the Spirit of ADONAI is, there is freedom. <sup>18</sup> So all of us, with faces unveiled, see as in a mirror the glory of the Lord; and we are being changed into his very image, from one degree of glory to the next, by ADONAI the Spirit.

4 <sup>1</sup> God has shown us such mercy that we do not lose courage as we do the work he has given us. <sup>2</sup> Indeed, we refuse to make use of shameful underhanded methods, employing deception or distorting God's message. On the contrary, by making very clear what the truth is, we commend ourselves to everyone's conscience in the sight of God. <sup>3</sup> So if indeed our Good News is veiled, it is veiled only to those in the process of being lost. <sup>4</sup> They do not come to trust because the god of the 'olam hazeh has blinded their minds, in order to prevent them from seeing the light shining from the Good News about the glory of the Messiah, who is the image of God. <sup>5</sup> For what we are proclaiming is not ourselves, but the Messiah Yeshua as Lord, with ourselves as slaves for you because of Yeshua. <sup>6</sup> For it is the God who once said, “Let light shine out of darkness,” who has made his light shine in our hearts, the light of the knowledge of God's glory shining in the face of the Messiah Yeshua.

<sup>7</sup> But we have this treasure in clay jars, so that it will be evident that such overwhelming power comes from God and not from us. <sup>8</sup> We have all kinds of troubles, but we are not crushed; we are perplexed, yet not in despair; <sup>9</sup> persecuted, yet not abandoned; knocked down, yet not destroyed. <sup>10</sup> We always carry in our bodies the dying of Yeshua, so that the life of Yeshua may be manifested in our bodies too. <sup>11</sup> For we who are alive are always being handed over to death for Yeshua's sake, so that Yeshua's life also might be manifested in our mortal bodies. <sup>12</sup> Thus death is at work in us but life in you.

<sup>13</sup> The Tanakh says, “I trusted, therefore I spoke.”<sup>b</sup> Since we have that same Spirit who enables us to trust, we also trust and therefore speak; <sup>14</sup> because we know that he who raised the Lord Yeshua will also raise us with Yeshua and bring us along with you into his presence. <sup>15</sup> All this is for your sakes, so that as grace flows out to more and more people, it may cause thanksgiving to overflow and bring glory to God.

<sup>16</sup> This is why we do not lose courage. Though our outer self is heading for decay, our inner self is being renewed daily. <sup>17</sup> For our light and transient troubles are achieving for us an everlasting glory whose weight is beyond description. <sup>18</sup> We concentrate not on what is seen but on what is not seen, since things seen are temporary, but things not seen are eternal.

5 <sup>1</sup> We know that when the tent which houses us here on earth is torn down, we have a permanent building from God, a building not made by human hands, to house us in heaven. <sup>2</sup> For in this tent, our earthly body, we groan with desire to have around us the home from heaven that will be ours. <sup>3</sup> With this around us we will not be found naked. <sup>4</sup> Yes, while we are in this body, we groan with the sense of being oppressed: it is not so much that we want to take something off, but rather to put something on over it; so that what must die may be swallowed up by the Life. <sup>5</sup> Moreover, it is God who has prepared us for this very thing, and as a pledge he has given us his Spirit.

<sup>6</sup> So we are always confident — we know that so long as we are at home in the body, we are away from our home with the Lord; <sup>7</sup> for we live by trust, not by what we see. <sup>8</sup> We are confident, then, and would much prefer to leave our home in the body and come to our home with the Lord.

<sup>9</sup> Therefore, whether at home or away from home, we try our utmost to please him; <sup>10</sup> for we must all appear before the Messiah's court of judgment, where everyone will receive the good or bad consequences of what he did while he was in the body.

<sup>11</sup> So it is with the fear of the Lord before us that we try to persuade people. Moreover, God knows us as we really are; and I hope that in your consciences you too know us as we really are. <sup>12</sup> We are not recommending ourselves to you again but giving you a reason to be proud of us, so that you will be able to answer those who boast about a person's appearance rather than his inner qualities. <sup>13</sup> If we are insane, it is for God's sake; and if we are sane, it is for your sake. <sup>14</sup> For the Messiah's love has hold of us, because we are convinced that one man died on behalf of all mankind (which implies that all mankind was already dead), <sup>15</sup> and that he died on behalf of all in order that those who live should not live any longer for themselves but for the one who on their behalf died and was raised. <sup>16</sup> So from now on, we do not look at anyone from a worldly viewpoint. Even if we once regarded the Messiah from a worldly viewpoint, we do so no longer. <sup>17</sup> Therefore, if anyone is united with the Messiah, he is a new creation — the old has passed; look, what has come is fresh and new! <sup>18</sup> And it is all from God, who through the Messiah has reconciled us to himself and has given us the work of that reconciliation, <sup>19</sup> which is that God in the Messiah was reconciling mankind to himself, not counting their sins against them, and entrusting to us the message of reconciliation. <sup>20</sup> Therefore we are ambassadors of the Messiah; in effect, God is making his appeal through us. What we do is appeal on behalf of the Messiah, "Be reconciled to God! <sup>21</sup> God made this sinless man be a sin offering on our behalf, so that in union with him we might fully share in God's righteousness."

6 <sup>1</sup> As God's fellow-workers we also urge you not to receive his grace and then do nothing with it. <sup>2</sup> For he says,

"At the acceptable time I heard you;

in the day of salvation I helped you."<sup>3</sup>

<sup>3</sup> We try not to put obstacles in anyone's path, so that no one can find fault with the work we do. <sup>4</sup> On the contrary, we try to commend ourselves in every way as workers for God by continually enduring troubles, hardships, calamities, <sup>5</sup> beatings, imprisonments, riots, overwork, lack of sleep and food. <sup>6</sup> We commend ourselves by our purity, knowledge, patience and kindness; by the Ruach HaKodesh; by genuineness of love <sup>7</sup> and truthfulness of speech; and by God's power. We commend ourselves through our use of righteous weapons, whether for pressing our cause or defending it; <sup>8</sup> through being honored and dishonored, praised and blamed, considered deceptive and sincere, <sup>9</sup> unknown and famous. And we commend ourselves as God's workers headed for death, yet look! we're alive! as punished, yet not killed; <sup>10</sup> as having reason to be sad, yet always filled with joy; as poor, yet making many people rich; as having nothing, yet having everything!

<sup>11</sup> Dear friends in Corinth! We have spoken frankly to you, we have opened our hearts wide. <sup>12</sup> Any constraint you feel has not been imposed by us, but by your own inner selves. <sup>13</sup> So, just to be "fair" (I am using the language of children), open wide your hearts too.

<sup>14</sup> Do not yoke yourselves together in a team with unbelievers. For how can righteousness and lawlessness be partners? What fellowship does light have with darkness? <sup>15</sup> What harmony can there be between the Messiah and B'liya'al? What does a believer have in common with an unbeliever? <sup>16</sup> What agreement can there be between the temple of God and idols? For we are the temple of the living God — as God said,

"I will house myself in them, . . .

and I will walk among you.

I will be their God,

and they will be my people."<sup>d</sup>

<sup>17</sup> Therefore ADONAI says,

"Go out from their midst;

separate yourselves;

don't even touch what is unclean."<sup>e</sup>

Then I myself will receive you.<sup>f</sup>

<sup>18</sup>

In fact, I will be your Father,
and you will be my sons and daughters.’

says ADONAI-Tzva’ot.<sup>g</sup>

7 <sup>1</sup> Therefore, my dear friends, since we have these promises, let us purify ourselves from everything that can defile either body or spirit, and strive to be completely holy, out of reverence for God.

<sup>2</sup> Make room for us in your hearts — we haven’t wronged anyone, we haven’t corrupted anyone, we haven’t exploited anyone. <sup>3</sup> I am not saying this to put blame on you, for I have already said that you have a place in our hearts, whether we live together or die together; <sup>4</sup> that I am very confident in you; that I am very proud of you; that you have filled me with encouragement; and that in spite of all our troubles, I am overflowing with joy.

<sup>5</sup> For indeed when we came into Macedonia, our bodies had no rest. On the contrary, we faced all kinds of troubles — altercations without, apprehensions within. <sup>6</sup> But God, who encourages the downhearted, encouraged us with the arrival of Titus! <sup>7</sup> However, it was not only his arrival which encouraged us, but also how encouraged he was about you, as he told us how you long to see me, how distressed you are over my situation, how zealous you are in my defense — this news made me even happier!

<sup>8</sup> If I caused you pain by my letter, I do not regret it. Even if I did regret it before — for I do see that that letter did distress you, though only for a short time — <sup>9</sup> now I rejoice not because you were pained, but because the pain led you to turn back to God. For you handled the pain in God’s way, so that you were not harmed by us at all. <sup>10</sup> Pain handled in God’s way produces a turning from sin to God which leads to salvation, and there is nothing to regret in that! But pain handled in the world’s way produces only death. <sup>11</sup> For just look at what handling the pain God’s way produced in you! What earnest diligence, what eagerness to clear yourselves, what indignation, what fear, what longing, what zeal, what readiness to put things right! In everything you have proved yourselves blameless in the matter. <sup>12</sup> So even though I wrote to you, it was not for the sake of either the one who did the wrong or the one wronged, but so that before God you could see for yourselves how deep is your devotion to us. <sup>13</sup> This is the reason we have been encouraged.

Besides our own encouragement, we had the even greater joy of seeing how happy Titus was, because all of you set his mind at rest. <sup>14</sup> For I had boasted somewhat about you to him, and now I have not been made to look foolish. On the contrary, just as everything we have said to you is true, so too our boasting in front of Titus has proved true. <sup>15</sup> And his affection for you is all the greater as he remembers how ready you were to obey and how you received him with reverence and respect. <sup>16</sup> I am glad that I can have such complete confidence in you.

8 <sup>1</sup> Now, brothers, we must tell you about the grace God has given the congregations in Macedonia. <sup>2</sup> Despite severe trials, and even though they are desperately poor, their joy has overflowed in a wealth of generosity. <sup>3</sup> I tell you they have not merely given according to their means, but of their own free will they have given beyond their means. <sup>4</sup> They begged and pleaded with us for the privilege of sharing in this service for God's people. <sup>5</sup> Also, they didn't do this in the way we had expected, but first they gave themselves to the Lord, which means, by God's will, to us.

<sup>6</sup> All this has led us to urge Titus to bring this same gracious gift to completion among you, since he has already made a beginning of it. <sup>7</sup> Just as you excel in everything — in faith, in speech, in knowledge, in diligence of every kind, and in your love for us — see that you excel in this gift too. <sup>8</sup> I am not issuing an order; rather, I am testing the genuineness of your love against the diligence of others. <sup>9</sup> For you know how generous our Lord Yeshua the Messiah was — for your sakes he impoverished himself, even though he was rich, so that he might make you rich by means of his poverty. <sup>10</sup> As I say, in regard to this matter I am only giving an opinion. A year ago you were not only the first to take action but the first to want to do so. Now it would be to your advantage <sup>11</sup> to finish what you started, so that your eagerness in wanting to commence the project may be matched by your eagerness to complete it, as you contribute from what you have. <sup>12</sup> For if the eagerness to give is there, the acceptability of the gift will be measured by what you have, not by what you don't have. <sup>13</sup> It is not that relief for others should cause trouble for you, but that there should be a kind of reciprocity: <sup>14</sup>at present your abundance can help those in need; so that when you are in need, their abundance can help you — thus there is reciprocity. <sup>15</sup> It is as the Tanakh says,

and he who gathered little had nothing lacking.”<sup>h</sup>

<sup>16</sup> Now I thank God for making Titus as devoted to you as we are; <sup>17</sup> for he not only responded to our urging, but, being so devoted, he is coming to you on his own initiative. <sup>18</sup> And with him we are sending the brother whose work for the Good News is praised in all the congregations; <sup>19</sup> not only that, he has also been appointed by the congregations to travel with us, so that the way we administer this charitable work will bring honor to the Lord and show our eagerness to help. <sup>20</sup> Our aim in this is to show that our conduct in dealing with these substantial sums is above reproach; <sup>21</sup> for we take pains to do what is right not only in the sight of God but also in the sight of other people. <sup>i</sup> <sup>22</sup> With these two we are sending another brother of ours, one whose diligence we have tested many times in many ways, but who is now all the more diligent because of his great confidence in you. <sup>23</sup> As for Titus, he is my partner who works with me on your behalf; and the other brothers with him are emissaries of the congregations and bring honor to the Messiah. <sup>24</sup> So the love you show these men will justify our pride in you to them, and through them to the congregations that sent them.

9 <sup>1</sup> There is really no need for me to write you about this offering for God's people — <sup>2</sup> I know how eager you are, and I boast about you to the Macedonians. I tell them, “Achaia has been ready since last year,” and it was your zeal that stirred up most of them. <sup>3</sup> But now I am sending the brothers so that our boast about you in this regard will not prove hollow, so that you will be ready, as I said you would be. <sup>4</sup> For if some Macedonians were to come with me and find you unprepared, we would be humiliated at having been so confident — to say nothing of how you would feel. <sup>5</sup> So I thought it necessary to urge these brothers to go on to you ahead of me and prepare your promised gift in plenty of time; this way it will be ready when I come and will be a genuine gift, not something extracted by pressure.

<sup>6</sup> Here's the point: he who plants sparingly also harvests sparingly. <sup>7</sup> Each should give according to what he has decided in his heart, not grudgingly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver.<sup>j</sup> <sup>8</sup> Moreover, God has the power to provide you with every gracious gift in abundance, so that always in every way you will have all you need yourselves and be able to provide abundantly for every good cause — <sup>9</sup> as the Tanakh says,

“He gave generously to the poor;

his tzedakah lasts forever.”<sup>k</sup>

<sup>10</sup> He who provides both seed for the planter and bread for food will supply and multiply your seed and increase the harvest of your tzedakah. <sup>11</sup> You will be enriched in every way, so that you can be generous in everything. And through us your generosity will cause people to thank God, <sup>12</sup> because rendering this holy service not only provides for the needs of God's people, but it also overflows in the many thanks people will be giving to God. <sup>13</sup> In offering this service you prove to these people that you glorify God by actually doing what your acknowledgement of the Good News of the Messiah requires, namely, sharing generously with them and with everyone. <sup>14</sup> And in their prayers for you they will feel a strong affection for you because of how gracious God has been to you. <sup>15</sup> Thanks be to God for his indescribable gift!

10 <sup>1</sup> Now it is I myself, Sha'ul, making an appeal to you with the meekness and forbearance that come from the Messiah, I who am considered timid when face-to-face with you but intimidating from a distance. <sup>2</sup> But I beg you not to force me to be intimidating when I am with you, as I expect to be toward some who regard us as living in a worldly way. <sup>3</sup> For although we do live in the world, we do not wage war in a worldly way; <sup>4</sup> because the weapons we use to wage war are not worldly. On the contrary, they have God's power for demolishing strongholds. We demolish arguments <sup>5</sup> and every arrogance that raises itself up against the knowledge of God; we take every thought captive and make it obey the Messiah. <sup>6</sup> And when you have become completely obedient, then we will be ready to punish every act of disobedience.

<sup>7</sup> You are looking at the surface of things. If anyone is convinced that he belongs to the Messiah, he should remind himself that we belong to the Messiah as much as he does. <sup>8</sup> For even if I boast a little too much about the authority the Lord has given us — authority to build you up, not tear you down — I am not ashamed. <sup>9</sup> My object is not to seem as if I were trying to frighten you with these letters. <sup>10</sup> Someone says, “His letters are weighty and powerful, but when he appears in person he is weak, and as a speaker he is nothing.” <sup>11</sup> Such a person should realize that what we say in our letters when absent, we will do when present.

<sup>12</sup> We don’t dare class or compare ourselves with some of the people who advertise themselves. In measuring themselves against each other and comparing themselves with each other, they are simply stupid. <sup>13</sup> We will not boast about what lies outside the area of work which God has given us; rather, we will boast within our assigned area, and that area does reach as far as you. <sup>14</sup> We are not overextending our boasting as if we had not reached as far as you; for we did come all the way to you with the Good News of the Messiah. <sup>15</sup> We do not boast about the area in which others labor; but our hope is that as your trust grows, we will be magnified in your midst in relation to our own area of work, so that we can go on to do even more, <sup>16</sup> namely, to proclaim the Good News in regions beyond you. Our hope is not to boast about the work already done by someone else.

<sup>17</sup> So, let anyone who wants to boast, boast about ADONAI! <sup>18</sup> because it is not the one who recommends himself who is worthy of approval, but the one whom the Lord recommends.

11 <sup>1</sup> I would like you to bear with me in a little foolishness — please do bear with me! <sup>2</sup> For I am jealous for you with God’s kind of jealousy; since I promised to present you as a pure virgin in marriage to your one husband, the Messiah; <sup>3</sup> and I fear that somehow your minds may be seduced away from simple and pure devotion to the Messiah, just as Havah was deceived by the serpent and his craftiness. <sup>4</sup> For if someone comes and tells you about some other Yeshua than the one we told you about, or if you receive a spirit different from the one you received or accept some so-called “good news” different from the Good News you already accepted, you bear with him well enough! <sup>5</sup> For I don’t consider myself in any way inferior to these “super-emissaries.” <sup>6</sup> I may not be a skilled speaker, but I do have the knowledge; anyhow, we have made this clear to you in every way and in every circumstance.

<sup>7</sup> Or did I sin in humbling myself so that you could be exalted, in proclaiming God’s Good News to you free of charge? <sup>8</sup> I robbed other congregations by accepting support from them in order to serve you. <sup>9</sup> And when I was with you and had needs, I did not burden anyone: my needs were met by the brothers who came from Macedonia. In nothing have I been a burden to you, nor will I be. <sup>10</sup> The truthfulness of the Messiah is in me, so that this boast concerning me is not going to be silenced anywhere in Achaia. <sup>11</sup> Why won’t I ever accept your support? Is it that I don’t love you? God knows I do! <sup>12</sup> No, I do it — and will go on doing it — in order to cut the ground from under those who want an excuse to boast that they work the same way we do. <sup>13</sup> The fact is that such men are pseudo-emissaries: they tell lies about their work and masquerade as emissaries of the Messiah. <sup>14</sup> There is nothing surprising in that, for the Adversary himself masquerades as an angel of light; <sup>15</sup> so it’s no great thing if his workers masquerade as servants of righteousness. They will meet the end their deeds deserve.

<sup>16</sup> I repeat: don’t let anyone think I am a fool. But even if you do, at least receive me as a fool; so that I too may do a little boasting! <sup>17</sup> What I am saying is not in accordance with the Lord; rather, this conceited boasting is spoken as a fool would speak. <sup>18</sup> Since many people boast in a worldly way, I too will boast this way. <sup>19</sup> For since you yourselves are so wise, you gladly put up with fools! <sup>20</sup> You put up with it if someone makes slaves of you, exploits you, takes you in, puffs himself up, slaps you in the face. <sup>21</sup> To my shame, I must admit that we have been too “weak” to do such things!

But if anyone dares to boast about something — I’m talking like a fool! — I am just as daring. <sup>22</sup> Are they Hebrew-speakers? So am I. Are they of the people of Isra’el? So am I. Are they descendants of Avraham? So am I. <sup>23</sup> Are they servants of the Messiah? (I’m talking like a madman!) I’m a better one! I’ve worked much harder, been imprisoned more often, suffered more beatings, been near death over and over. <sup>24</sup> Five times I received “forty lashes less one” from the Jews. <sup>25</sup> Three times I was beaten with rods. Once

I was stoned. Three times I was shipwrecked. I spent a night and a day in the open sea. <sup>26</sup> In my many travels I have been exposed to danger from rivers, danger from robbers, danger from my own people, danger from Gentiles, danger in the city, danger in the desert, danger at sea, danger from false brothers. <sup>27</sup> I have toiled and endured hardship, often not had enough sleep, been hungry and thirsty, frequently gone without food, been cold and naked. <sup>28</sup> And besides these external matters, there is the daily pressure of my anxious concern for all the congregations. <sup>29</sup> Who is weak without my sharing his weakness? Who falls into sin without my burning inside?

<sup>30</sup> If I must boast, I will boast about things that show how weak I am. <sup>31</sup> God the Father of the Lord Yeshua — blessed be he forever — knows that I am not lying! <sup>32</sup> When I was in Dalmanuta, the governor under King Aretas had the city of Dalmanuta guarded in order to arrest me; <sup>33</sup> but I was lowered in a basket through an opening in the wall and escaped his clutches.

12 <sup>1</sup> I have to boast. There is nothing to be gained by it, but I will go on to visions and revelations of the Lord. <sup>2</sup> I know a man in union with the Messiah who fourteen years ago was snatched up to the third heaven; whether he was in the body or outside the body I don't know, God knows. <sup>3</sup> And I know that such a man — whether in the body or apart from the body I don't know, God knows — <sup>4</sup> was snatched into Gan-‘Eden and heard things that cannot be put into words, things unlawful for a human being to utter. <sup>5</sup> About such a man I will boast; but about myself I will not boast, except in regard to my weaknesses. <sup>6</sup> If I did want to boast, I would not be foolish; because I would be speaking the truth. But, because of the extraordinary greatness of the revelations, I refrain, so that no one will think more of me than what my words or deeds may warrant. <sup>7</sup> Therefore, to keep me from becoming overly proud, I was given a thorn in my flesh, a messenger from the Adversary to pound away at me, so that I wouldn't grow conceited. <sup>8</sup> Three times I begged the Lord to take this thing away from me; <sup>9</sup> but he told me, “My grace is enough for you, for my power is brought to perfection in weakness.” Therefore, I am very happy to boast about my weaknesses, in order that the Messiah's power will rest upon me. <sup>10</sup> Yes, I am well pleased with weaknesses, insults, hardships, persecutions and difficulties endured on behalf of the Messiah; for it is when I am weak that I am strong.

<sup>11</sup> I have behaved like a fool, but you forced me to do it — you who should have been commending me. For I am in no way inferior to the “super-emissaries,” even if I am nothing. <sup>12</sup> The things that prove I am an emissary — signs, wonders and miracles — were done in your presence, despite what I had to endure. <sup>13</sup> Is there any way in which you have been behind any of the other congregations, other than in my not having been a burden to you? For this unfairness, please forgive me!

<sup>14</sup> Look, I am ready this third time to come and visit you; and I will not be a burden to you; for it is not what you own that I want, but you! Children are not supposed to save up for their parents, but parents for their children. <sup>15</sup> And as for me, I will most gladly spend everything I have and be spent myself too for your sakes. If I love you more, am I to be loved less?

<sup>16</sup> Let it be granted, then, that I was not a burden to you; but, crafty fellow that I am, I took you with trickery! <sup>17</sup> Was it perhaps through someone I sent you <sup>18</sup> that I took advantage of you? I urged Titus to go and sent the brother with him; Titus didn’t take advantage of you, did he? Didn’t we live by the same Spirit and show you the same path?

<sup>19</sup> Perhaps you think that all this time we have been defending ourselves before you. No, we have been speaking in the sight of God, as those united with the Messiah should; and, my dear friends, it is all for your upbuilding.

<sup>20</sup> For I am afraid of coming and finding you not the way I want you to be, and also of not being found the way you want me to be. I am afraid of finding quarreling and jealousy, anger and rivalry, slander and gossip, arrogance and disorder. <sup>21</sup> I am afraid that when I come again, my God may humiliate me in your presence, and that I will be grieved over many of those who sinned in the past and have not repented of the impurity, fornication and debauchery that they have engaged in.

13 <sup>1</sup> This will be the third time that I have come to visit you. Any charge must be established by the testimony of two or three witnesses. <sup>2</sup> To those who sinned in the past and to the rest I say beforehand while absent the same thing I said when I was with you the second time: if I come again I will not spare you — <sup>3</sup> since you are looking for proof of the Messiah speaking in me. He is not weak in dealing with you, but he is powerful among you. <sup>4</sup> For although he was executed on a stake in weakness, now he lives by God's power. And we too are weak in union with him, but in dealing with you we will live with him by God's power.

<sup>5</sup> Examine yourselves to see whether you are living the life of trust. Test yourselves. Don't you realize that Yeshua the Messiah is in you? — unless you fail to pass the test. <sup>6</sup> But I hope you will realize that we are not failures. <sup>7</sup> And we pray to God that you will do nothing wrong. We are not concerned with our appearing successful, but with your doing what is right, even if we appear to be failures. <sup>8</sup> For we cannot act against the truth, only for it. <sup>9</sup> So we rejoice whenever we are weak and you are strong; indeed, what we pray for is that you become perfect. <sup>10</sup> I write these things while away from you, so that when I am with you I will not have to use my authority to deal sharply with you, for the Lord gave it to me for building up and not for tearing down.

<sup>11</sup> And now, brothers, shalom! Put yourselves in order, pay attention to my advice, be of one mind, live in shalom — and the God of love and shalom will be with you.

<sup>13</sup> All God's people send greetings to you.

<sup>14</sup> The grace of the Lord Yeshua the Messiah,
the love of God
and the fellowship of the Ruach HaKodesh
be with you all.

The Letter from Yeshua's Emissary Sha'ul (Paul) to the Messianic Community in Galatia

GALATIANS

1 <sup>1</sup> From: Sha'ul, an emissary — I received my commission not from human beings or through human mediation but through Yeshua the Messiah and God the Father, who raised him from the dead — also from all the brothers with me

<sup>3</sup> Grace and shalom to you from God our Father and from the Lord Yeshua the Messiah, <sup>4</sup> who gave himself for our sins, so that he might deliver us from the present evil world-system, in obedience to the will of God, our Father. <sup>5</sup> To him be the glory forever and ever! Amen.

<sup>6</sup> I am astounded that you are so quick to remove yourselves from me, the one who called you by the Messiah's grace, and turn to some other supposedly "Good News," <sup>7</sup> which is not good news at all! What is really happening is that certain people are pestering you and trying to pervert the genuine Good News of the Messiah. <sup>8</sup> But even if we — or, for that matter, an angel from heaven! — were to announce to you some so-called "Good News" contrary to the Good News we did announce to you, let him be under a curse forever! <sup>9</sup> We said it before, and I say it again: if anyone announces "Good News" contrary to what you received, let him be under a curse forever!

<sup>10</sup> Now does that sound as if I were trying to win human approval? No! I want God's approval! Or that I'm trying to cater to people? If I were still doing that, would not be a servant of the Messiah.

<sup>11</sup> Furthermore, let me make clear to you, brothers, that the Good News as I proclaim it is not a human product; <sup>12</sup> because neither did I receive it from someone else nor was I taught it — it came through a direct revelation from Yeshua the Messiah. <sup>13</sup> For you have heard about my former way of life in [traditional] Judaism — how I did my best to persecute God's Messianic Community and destroy it; <sup>14</sup> and how, since I was more of a zealot for the traditions handed down by my forefathers than most Jews my age, I advanced in [traditional] Judaism more rapidly than they did.

<sup>15</sup> But when God, who picked me out before I was born and called me by his grace, chose <sup>16</sup> to reveal his Son to me, so that I might announce him to the Gentiles, I did not consult anyone; <sup>17</sup> and I did not go up to Yerushalayim to see those who were emissaries before me. Instead, I immediately went off to Arabia and afterwards returned to Dammesek. <sup>18</sup> Not until three years later did I go up to Yerushalayim to make Kefa's acquaintance, and I stayed with him for two weeks, <sup>19</sup> but I did not see any of the other emissaries except Ya'akov the Lord's brother. <sup>20</sup> (Concerning these matters I am writing you about, I declare before God that I am not lying!) <sup>21</sup> Next I went to Syria and Cilicia; <sup>22</sup> but in Y'udah, the Messianic congregations didn't even know what I looked like — <sup>23</sup> they were only hearing the report, "The one who used to persecute us now preaches the Good News of the faith he was formerly out to destroy"; <sup>24</sup> and they praised God for me.

2 <sup>1</sup> Then after fourteen years I again went up to Yerushalayim, this time with Bar-Nabba; and I took with me Titus. <sup>2</sup> I went up in obedience to a revelation, and I explained to them the Good News as I proclaim it among the Gentiles — but privately, to the acknowledged leaders. I did this out of concern that my current or previous work might have been in vain.

<sup>3</sup> But they didn't force my Gentile companion Titus to undergo b'rit-milah. <sup>4</sup> Indeed, the question came up only because some men who pretended to be brothers had been sneaked in — they came in surreptitiously to spy out the freedom we have in the Messiah Yeshua, so that they might enslave us. <sup>5</sup> Not even for a minute did we give in to them, so that the truth of the Good News might be preserved for you.

<sup>6</sup> Moreover, those who were the acknowledged leaders — what they were makes no difference to me; God does not judge by outward appearances — these leaders added nothing to me. <sup>7</sup> On the contrary, they saw that I had been entrusted with the Good News for the Uncircumcised, just as Kefa had been for the Circumcised; <sup>8</sup> since the One working in Kefa to make him an emissary to the Circumcised had worked in me to make me an emissary to the Gentiles. <sup>9</sup> So, having perceived what grace had been given to me, Ya'akov, Kefa and Yochanan, the acknowledged pillars of the community, extended to me and Bar-Nabba the right hand of fellowship; so that we might go to the Gentiles, and they to the Circumcised. <sup>10</sup> Their only request was that we should remember the poor — which very thing I have spared no pains to do.

<sup>11</sup> Furthermore, when Kefa came to Antioch, I opposed him publicly, because he was clearly in the wrong. <sup>12</sup> For prior to the arrival of certain people from [the community headed by] Ya'akov, he had been eating with the Gentile believers; but when they came, he withdrew and separated himself, because he was afraid of the faction who favored circumcising Gentile believers.<sup>13</sup> And the other Jewish believers became hypocrites along with him, so that even Bar-Nabba was led astray by their hypocrisy.<sup>14</sup> But when I saw that they were not walking a straight path, keeping in line with the truth of the Good News, I said to Kefa, right in front of everyone, "If you, who are a Jew, live like a Goy and not like a Jew, why are you forcing the Goyim to live like Jews?"<sup>15</sup> We are Jews by birth, not so-called 'Goyishe sinners';<sup>16</sup> even so, we have come to realize that a person is not declared righteous by God on the ground of his legalistic observance of Torah commands, but through the Messiah Yeshua's trusting faithfulness. Therefore, we too have put our trust in Messiah Yeshua and become faithful to him, in order that we might be declared righteous on the ground of the Messiah's trusting faithfulness and not on the ground of our legalistic observance of Torah commands. For on the ground of legalistic observance of Torah commands, no one will be declared righteous.<sup>g</sup>

<sup>17</sup> But if, in seeking to be declared righteous by God through our union with the Messiah, we ourselves are indeed found to be sinners, then is the Messiah an aider and abettor of sin? Heaven forbid!<sup>18</sup> Indeed, if I build up again the legalistic bondage which I destroyed, I really do make myself a transgressor.<sup>19</sup> For it was through letting the Torah speak for itself that I died to its traditional legalistic misinterpretation, so that I might live in direct relationship with God.<sup>20</sup> When the Messiah was executed on the stake as a criminal, I was too; so that my proud ego no longer lives. But the Messiah lives in me, and the life I now live in my body I live by the same trusting faithfulness that the Son of God had, who loved me and gave himself up for me.<sup>21</sup> I do not reject God's gracious gift; for if the way in which one attains righteousness is through legalism, then the Messiah's death was pointless.

3<sup>1</sup> You stupid Galatians! Who has put you under a spell? Before your very eyes Yeshua the Messiah was clearly portrayed as having been put to death as a criminal!<sup>2</sup> I want to know from you just this one thing: did you receive the Spirit by legalistic observance of Torah commands or by trusting in what you heard and being faithful to it?<sup>3</sup> Are you that stupid? Having begun with the Spirit's power, do you think you can reach the goal under your own power? <sup>4</sup> Have you suffered so much for nothing? If that's the way you think, your suffering certainly will have been for nothing! <sup>5</sup> What about God, who supplies you with the Spirit and works miracles among you — does he do it because of your legalistic observance of Torah commands or because you trust in what you heard and are faithful to it?

<sup>6</sup> It was the same with Avraham: “He trusted in God and was faithful to him, and that was credited to his account as righteousness.”<sup>b</sup> <sup>7</sup> Be assured, then, that it is those who live by trusting and being faithful who are really children of Avraham. <sup>8</sup> Also the Tanakh, foreseeing that God would consider the Gentiles righteous when they live by trusting and being faithful, told the Good News to Avraham in advance by saying, “In connection with you, all the Goyim will be blessed.”<sup>c</sup> <sup>9</sup> So then, those who rely on trusting and being faithful are blessed along with Avraham, who trusted and was faithful.

<sup>10</sup> For everyone who depends on legalistic observance of Torah commands lives under a curse, since it is written, “Cursed is everyone who does not keep on doing everything written in the Scroll of the Torah.”<sup>d</sup> <sup>11</sup> Now it is evident that no one comes to be declared righteous by God through legalism, since “The person who is righteous will attain life by trusting and being faithful.”<sup>e</sup> <sup>12</sup> Furthermore, legalism is not based on trusting and being faithful, but on [a misuse of] the text that says, “Anyone who does these things will attain life through them.”<sup>f</sup> <sup>13</sup> The Messiah redeemed us from the curse pronounced in the Torah by becoming cursed on our behalf; for the Tanakh says, “Everyone who hangs from a stake comes under a curse.”<sup>g</sup> <sup>14</sup> Yeshua the Messiah did this so that in union with him the Gentiles might receive the blessing announced to Avraham, so that through trusting and being faithful, we might receive what was promised, namely, the Spirit.

<sup>15</sup> Brothers, let me make an analogy from everyday life: when someone swears an oath, no one else can set it aside or add to it. <sup>16</sup> Now the promises were made to Avraham and to his seed. It doesn't say, “and to seeds,” as if to many; on the contrary, it speaks of one — “and to your seed”<sup>h</sup> — and this “one” is the Messiah. <sup>17</sup> Here is what I am saying: the legal part of the Torah, which came into being <sup>430</sup> years later, does not nullify an oath sworn by God, so as to abolish the promise. <sup>18</sup> For if the inheritance comes from the legal part of the Torah, it no longer comes from a promise. But God gave it to Avraham through a promise.

<sup>19</sup> So then, why the legal part of the Torah? It was added in order to create transgressions, until the coming of the seed about whom the promise had been made. Moreover, it was handed down through angels and a mediator. <sup>20</sup> Now a mediator implies more than one, but God is one.

<sup>21</sup> Does this mean that the legal part of the Torah stands in opposition to God's promises? Heaven forbid! For if the legal part of the Torah which God gave had had in itself the power to give life, then righteousness really would have come by legalistically following such a Torah. <sup>22</sup> But instead, the Tanakh shuts up everything under sin; so that what had been promised might be given, on the basis of Yeshua the Messiah's trusting faithfulness, to those who continue to be trustingly faithful.

<sup>23</sup> Now before the time for this trusting faithfulness came, we were imprisoned in subjection to the system which results from perverting the Torah into legalism, kept under guard until this yet-to-come trusting faithfulness would be revealed. <sup>24</sup> Accordingly, the Torah functioned as a custodian until the Messiah came, so that we might be declared righteous on the ground of trusting and being faithful. <sup>25</sup> But now that the time for this trusting faithfulness has come, we are no longer under a custodian.

<sup>26</sup> For in union with the Messiah, you are all children of God through this trusting faithfulness; <sup>27</sup> because as many of you as were immersed into the Messiah have clothed yourselves with the Messiah, in whom <sup>28</sup> there is neither Jew nor Gentile, neither slave nor freeman, neither male nor female; for in union with the Messiah Yeshua, you are all one. <sup>29</sup> Also, if you belong to the Messiah, you are seed of Avraham and heirs according to the promise.

4 <sup>1</sup> What I am saying is that as long as the heir is a minor he is no different from a slave, even though he is the legal owner of the estate; <sup>2</sup> rather, he is subject to guardians and caretakers until the time previously set by his father. <sup>3</sup> So it is with us — when we were “children” we were slaves to the elemental spirits of the universe; <sup>4</sup> but when the appointed time arrived, God sent forth his Son. He was born from a woman, born into a culture in which legalistic perversion of the Torah was the norm, <sup>5</sup> so that he might redeem those in subjection to this legalism and thus enable us to be made God's sons. <sup>6</sup> Now because you are sons, God has sent forth into our hearts the Spirit of his Son, the Spirit who cries out, “Abba!” (that is, “Dear Father!”). <sup>7</sup> So through God you are no longer a slave but a son, and if you are a son you are also an heir.

<sup>8</sup> In the past, when you did not know God, you served as slaves beings which in reality are non-gods. <sup>9</sup> But now you do know God, and, more than that, you are known by God. So how is it that you turn back again to those weak and miserable elemental spirits? Do you want to enslave yourselves to them once more? <sup>10</sup> You observe special days, months, seasons and years! <sup>11</sup> I fear for you that my work among you has been wasted!

<sup>12</sup> Brothers, I beg of you: put yourselves in my place — after all, I put myself in your place. It isn’t that you have done me any wrong — <sup>13</sup> you know that it was because I was ill that I proclaimed the Good News to you at first; <sup>14</sup> and even though my physical condition must have tempted you to treat me with scorn, you did not display any sign of disdain or disgust. No, you welcomed me as if I had been an angel of God, as if I had been the Messiah Yeshua himself! <sup>15</sup> So what has become of the joy you felt? For I bear you witness that had it been possible, you would have gouged out your eyes and given them to me. <sup>16</sup> Have I now become your enemy because I tell you the truth? <sup>17</sup> True, these teachers are zealous for you, but their motives are not good. They want to separate you from us so that you will become zealous for them. <sup>18</sup> To be zealous is good, provided always that the cause is good. Indeed, whether I am present with you or not, <sup>19</sup> my dear children, I am suffering the pains of giving birth to you all over again — and this will go on until the Messiah takes shape in you. <sup>20</sup> I wish I could be present with you now and change my tone of voice. I don’t know what to do with you.

<sup>21</sup> Tell me, you who want to be in subjection to the system that results from perverting the Torah into legalism, don’t you hear what the Torah itself says? <sup>22</sup> It says that Avraham had two sons, one by the slave woman and one by the free woman. <sup>23</sup> The one by the slave woman was born according to the limited capabilities of human beings, but the one by the free woman was born through the miracle-working power of God fulfilling his promise. <sup>24</sup> Now, to make a midrash on these things: the two women are two covenants. One is from Mount Sinai and bears children for slavery — this is Hagar. <sup>25</sup> Hagar is Mount Sinai in Arabia; she corresponds to the present Yerushalayim, for she serves as a slave along with her children. <sup>26</sup>

But the Yerushalayim above is free, and she is our mother; <sup>27</sup> for the Tanakh says, “Rejoice, you barren woman who does not bear children!

Break forth and shout, you who are not in labor!

For the deserted wife will have more children

than the one whose husband is with her!”<sup>i</sup>

<sup>29</sup> But just as then the one born according to limited human capability persecuted the one born through the Spirit’s supernatural power, so it is now. <sup>30</sup> Nevertheless, what does the Tanakh say? “Get rid of the slave woman and her son, for by no means will the son of the slave woman inherit along with the son of the free woman!”<sup>j</sup> <sup>31</sup> So, brothers, we are children not of the slave woman, but of the free woman.

5 <sup>1</sup> What the Messiah has freed us for is freedom! Therefore, stand firm, and don’t let yourselves be tied up again to a yoke of slavery. <sup>2</sup> Mark my words — I, Sha’ul, tell you that if you undergo b’rit-milah the Messiah will be of no advantage to you at all! <sup>3</sup> Again, I warn you: any man who undergoes b’rit-milah is obligated to observe the entire Torah! <sup>4</sup> You who are trying to be declared righteous by God through legalism have severed yourselves from the Messiah! You have fallen away from God’s grace! <sup>5</sup> For it is by the power of the Spirit, who works in us because we trust and are faithful, that we confidently expect our hope of attaining righteousness to be fulfilled. <sup>6</sup> When we are united with the Messiah Yeshua, neither being circumcised nor being uncircumcised matters; what matters is trusting faithfulness expressing itself through love.

<sup>7</sup> You were running the race well; who has stopped you from following the truth? <sup>8</sup> Whatever means of persuasion he used was not from the One who calls you. <sup>9</sup> “It takes only a little hametz to leaven the whole batch of dough.” <sup>10</sup> I am confident that since you are united with the Lord, you will take no other view; and I am confident that the one who has been disturbing you, whoever he may be, will have to bear his punishment.

<sup>11</sup> And as for me, brothers, if I am still preaching that circumcision is necessary, why am I still being persecuted? If that were the case, my preaching about the execution-stake would cause no offense whatever. <sup>12</sup> I wish the people who are bothering you would go the whole way and castrate themselves!

<sup>13</sup> For, brothers, you were called to be free. Only do not let that freedom become an excuse for allowing your old nature to have its way. Instead, serve one another in love. <sup>14</sup> For the whole of the Torah is summed up in this one sentence: “Love your neighbor as yourself”; <sup>15</sup> but if you go on snapping at each other and tearing each other to pieces, watch out, or you will be destroyed by each other!

<sup>16</sup> What I am saying is this: run your lives by the Spirit. Then you will not do what your old nature wants. <sup>17</sup> For the old nature wants what is contrary to the Spirit, and the Spirit wants what is contrary to the old nature. These oppose each other, so that you find yourselves unable to carry out your good intentions. <sup>18</sup> But if you are led by the Spirit, then you are not in subjection to the system that results from perverting the Torah into legalism.

<sup>19</sup> And it is perfectly evident what the old nature does. It expresses itself in sexual immorality, impurity and indecency; <sup>20</sup> involvement with the occult and with drugs; in feuding, fighting, becoming jealous and getting angry; in selfish ambition, factionalism, intrigue <sup>21</sup> and envy; in drunkenness, orgies and things like these. I warn you now as I have warned you before: those who do such things will have no share in the Kingdom of God!

<sup>24</sup> Moreover, those who belong to the Messiah Yeshua have put their old nature to death on the stake, along with its passions and desires. <sup>25</sup> Since it is through the Spirit that we have Life, let it also be through the Spirit that we order our lives day by day.

6 <sup>1</sup> Brothers, suppose someone is caught doing something wrong. You who have the Spirit should set him right, but in a spirit of humility, keeping an eye on yourselves so that you won't be tempted too. <sup>2</sup> Bear one another's burdens — in this way you will be fulfilling the Torah's true meaning, which the Messiah upholds. <sup>3</sup> For if anyone thinks he is something when he is really nothing, he is fooling himself. <sup>4</sup> So let each of you scrutinize his own actions. Then if you do find something to boast about, at least the boasting will be based on what you have actually done and not merely on a judgment that you are better than someone else; <sup>5</sup> for each person will carry his own load. <sup>6</sup> But whoever is being instructed in the Word should share all the good things he has with his instructor. <sup>7</sup> Don't delude yourselves: no one makes a fool of God! A person reaps what he sows. <sup>8</sup> Those who keep sowing in the field of their old nature, in order to meet its demands, will eventually reap ruin; but those who keep sowing in the field of the Spirit will reap from the Spirit everlasting life. <sup>9</sup> So let us not grow weary of doing what is good; for if we don't give up, we will in due time reap the harvest. <sup>10</sup> Therefore, as the opportunity arises, let us do what is good to everyone, and especially to the family of those who are trustingly faithful.

<sup>12</sup> It is those who want to look good outwardly who are trying to get you to be circumcised. The only reason they are doing it is to escape persecution for preaching about the Messiah's execution-stake. <sup>13</sup> For even those who are getting circumcised don't observe the Torah. On the contrary, they want you to get circumcised so that they can boast of having gained your adherence. <sup>14</sup> But as for me, Heaven forbid that I should boast about anything except the execution-stake of our Lord Yeshua the Messiah! Through him, as far as I am concerned, the world has been put to death on the stake; and through him, as far as the world is concerned, I have been put to death on the stake.

<sup>15</sup> For neither being circumcised nor being uncircumcised matters; what matters is being a new creation. <sup>16</sup> And as many as order their lives by this rule, shalom upon them and mercy, and upon the Isra'el of God!

<sup>17</sup> From now on, I don't want anyone to give me any more tsuris, because I have scars on my body to prove that I belong to Yeshua!

<sup>18</sup> The grace of our Lord Yeshua the Messiah be with your spirit, brothers. Amen.

The Letter from Yeshua's Emissary Sha'ul (Paul) to the Messianic Community in Ephesus

EPHESIANS

1 <sup>1</sup> From: Sha'ul, by God's will an emissary of the Messiah Yeshua
To: God's people living in Ephesus, that is, those who are trusting in the Messiah Yeshua:

<sup>2</sup> Grace to you and shalom from God our Father and the Lord Yeshua the Messiah.

<sup>3</sup> Praised be ADONAI, Father of our Lord Yeshua the Messiah, who in the Messiah has blessed us with every spiritual blessing in heaven. <sup>4</sup> In the Messiah he chose us in love before the creation of the universe to be holy and without defect in his presence. <sup>5</sup> He determined in advance that through Yeshua the Messiah we would be his sons — in keeping with his pleasure and purpose — <sup>6</sup> so that we would bring him praise commensurate with the glory of the grace he gave us through the Beloved One.

<sup>7</sup> In union with him, through the shedding of his blood, we are set free — our sins are forgiven; this accords with the wealth of the grace <sup>8</sup> he has lavished on us. In all his wisdom and insight <sup>9</sup> he has made known to us his secret plan, which by his own will he designed beforehand in connection with the Messiah <sup>10</sup> and will put into effect when the time is ripe — his plan to place everything in heaven and on earth under the Messiah's headship.

<sup>11</sup> Also in union with him we were given an inheritance, we who were picked in advance according to the purpose of the One who effects everything in keeping with the decision of his will, <sup>12</sup> so that we who earlier had put our hope in the Messiah would bring him praise commensurate with his glory.

<sup>13</sup> Furthermore, you who heard the message of the truth, the Good News offering you deliverance, and put your trust in the Messiah were sealed by him with the promised Ruach HaKodesh, <sup>14</sup> who guarantees our inheritance until we come into possession of it and thus bring him praise commensurate with his glory.

<sup>15</sup> For this reason, ever since I heard about your trust in the Lord Yeshua and your love for all God's people, <sup>16</sup> I have not stopped giving thanks for you. In my prayers I keep asking <sup>17</sup> the God of our Lord Yeshua the Messiah, the glorious Father, to give you a spirit of wisdom and revelation, so that you will have full knowledge of him. <sup>18</sup> I pray that he will give light to the eyes of your hearts, so that you will understand the hope to which he has called you, what rich glories there are in the inheritance he has promised his people, <sup>19</sup> and how surpassingly great is his power working in us who trust him. It works with the same mighty strength he used <sup>20</sup> when he worked in the Messiah to raise him from the dead and seat him at his right hand in heaven, <sup>21</sup> far above every ruler, authority, power, dominion or any other name that can be named either in the 'olam hazeh or in the 'olam haba. <sup>22</sup> Also, he has put all things under his feet<sup>a</sup> and made him head over everything for the Messianic Community, <sup>23</sup> which is his body, the full expression of him who fills all creation.

2 <sup>1</sup> You used to be dead because of your sins and acts of disobedience. <sup>2</sup> You walked in the ways of the 'olam hazeh and obeyed the Ruler of the Powers of the Air, who is still at work among the disobedient. <sup>3</sup> Indeed, we all once lived this way — we followed the passions of our old nature and obeyed the wishes of our old nature and our own thoughts. In our natural condition we were headed for God's wrath, just like everyone else.

<sup>4</sup> But God is so rich in mercy and loves us with such intense love <sup>5</sup> that, even when we were dead because of our acts of disobedience, he brought us to life along with the Messiah — it is by grace that you have been delivered. <sup>6</sup> That is, God raised us up with the Messiah Yeshua and seated us with him in heaven, <sup>7</sup> in order to exhibit in the ages to come how infinitely rich is his grace, how great is his kindness toward us who are united with the Messiah Yeshua. <sup>8</sup> For you have been delivered by grace through trusting, and even this is not your accomplishment but God's gift. <sup>9</sup> You were not delivered by your own actions; therefore no one should boast. <sup>10</sup> For we are of God's making, created in union with the Messiah Yeshua for a life of good actions already prepared by God for us to do.

<sup>11</sup> Therefore, remember your former state: you Gentiles by birth — called the Uncircumcised by those who, merely because of an operation on their flesh, are called the Circumcised — <sup>12</sup> at that time had no Messiah. You were estranged from the national life of Isra'el. You were foreigners to the covenants embodying God's promise. You were in this world without hope and without God.

<sup>13</sup> But now, you who were once far off have been brought near through the shedding of the Messiah's blood. <sup>14</sup> For he himself is our shalom — he has made us both one and has broken down the m'chitzah which divided us<sup>15</sup> by destroying in his own body the enmity occasioned by the Torah, with its commands set forth in the form of ordinances. He did this in order to create in union with himself from the two groups a single new humanity and thus make shalom,<sup>16</sup> and in order to reconcile to God both in a single body by being executed on a stake as a criminal and thus in himself killing that enmity.

<sup>17</sup> Also, when he came, he announced as Good News shalom to you far off and shalom to those nearby,<sup>b</sup> <sup>18</sup> news that through him we both have access in one Spirit to the Father.

<sup>19</sup> So then, you are no longer foreigners and strangers. On the contrary, you are fellow-citizens with God's people and members of God's family.<sup>20</sup> You have been built on the foundation of the emissaries and the prophets, with the cornerstone being Yeshua the Messiah himself.<sup>21</sup> In union with him the whole building is held together, and it is growing into a holy temple in union with the Lord.<sup>22</sup> Yes, in union with him, you yourselves are being built together into a spiritual dwelling-place for God!

3 <sup>1</sup> It is a consequence of this that I, Sha'ul, am a prisoner of the Messiah Yeshua on behalf of you Gentiles. <sup>2</sup> I assume that you have heard of the work God in his grace has given me to do for your benefit, <sup>3</sup> and that it was by a revelation that this secret plan was made known to me. I have already written about it briefly, <sup>4</sup> and if you read what I have written, you will grasp how I understand this secret plan concerning the Messiah. <sup>5</sup> In past generations it was not made known to mankind, as the Spirit is now revealing it to his emissaries and prophets, <sup>6</sup> that in union with the Messiah and through the Good News the Gentiles were to be joint heirs, a joint body and joint sharers with the Jews in what God has promised. <sup>7</sup> I became a servant of this Good News by God's gracious gift, which he gave me through the operation of his power. <sup>8</sup> To me, the least important of all God's holy people, was given this privilege of announcing to the Gentiles the Good News of the Messiah's unfathomable riches, <sup>9</sup> and of letting everyone see how this secret plan is going to work out. This plan, kept hidden for ages by God, the Creator of everything, <sup>10</sup> is for the rulers and authorities in heaven to learn, through the existence of the Messianic Community, how many-sided God's wisdom is. <sup>11</sup> This accords with God's age-old purpose, accomplished in the Messiah Yeshua, our Lord. <sup>12</sup> In union with him, through his faithfulness, we have boldness and confidence when we approach God. <sup>13</sup> So I ask you not to be discouraged by the troubles I endure on your behalf — it is all for your glory.

<sup>14</sup> For this reason, I fall on my knees before the Father, <sup>15</sup> from whom every family in heaven and on earth receives its character. <sup>16</sup> I pray that from the treasures of his glory he will empower you with inner strength by his Spirit, <sup>17</sup> so that the Messiah may live in your hearts through your trusting. Also I pray that you will be rooted and founded in love, <sup>18</sup> so that you, with all God's people, will be given strength to grasp the breadth, length, height and depth of the Messiah's love, <sup>19</sup> yes, to know it, even though it is beyond all knowing, so that you will be filled with all the fullness of God.

<sup>20</sup> Now to him who by his power working in us is able to do far beyond anything we can ask or imagine, <sup>21</sup> to him be glory in the Messianic Community and in the Messiah Yeshua from generation to generation forever. Amen.

4 <sup>1</sup> Therefore I, the prisoner united with the Lord, beg you to lead a life worthy of the calling to which you have been called.

<sup>2</sup> Always be humble, gentle and patient, bearing with one another in love, <sup>3</sup> and making every effort to preserve the unity the Spirit gives through the binding power of shalom. <sup>4</sup> There is one body and one Spirit, just as when you were called you were called to one hope. <sup>5</sup> And there is one Lord, one trust, one immersion, <sup>6</sup> and one God, the Father of all, who rules over all, works through all and is in all.

<sup>7</sup> Each one of us, however, has been given grace to be measured by the Messiah's bounty. <sup>8</sup> This is why it says,

“After he went up into the heights,

he led captivity captive

and he gave gifts to mankind.”<sup>c</sup>

<sup>9</sup> Now this phrase, “he went up,” what can it mean if not that he first went down into the lower parts, that is, the earth? <sup>10</sup> The one who went down is himself the one who also went up, far above all of heaven, in order to fill all things. <sup>11</sup> Furthermore, he gave some people as emissaries, some as prophets, some as proclaimers of the Good News, and some as shepherds and teachers. <sup>12</sup> Their task is to equip God's people for the work of service that builds the body of the Messiah, <sup>13</sup> until we all arrive at the unity implied by trusting and knowing the Son of God, at full manhood, at the standard of maturity set by the Messiah's perfection.

<sup>14</sup> We will then no longer be infants tossed about by the waves and blown along by every wind of teaching, at the mercy of people clever in devising ways to deceive. <sup>15</sup> Instead, speaking the truth in love, we will in every respect grow up into him who is the head, the Messiah. <sup>16</sup> Under his control, the whole body is being fitted and held together by the support of every joint, with each part working to fulfill its function; this is how the body grows and builds itself up in love.

<sup>17</sup> Therefore I say this — indeed, in union with the Lord I insist on it: do not live any longer as the pagans live, with their sterile ways of thinking. <sup>18</sup> Their intelligence has been shrouded in darkness, and they are estranged from the life of God, because of the ignorance in them, which in turn comes from resisting God's will. <sup>19</sup> They have lost all feeling, so they have abandoned themselves to sensuality, practicing any kind of impurity and always greedy for more. <sup>20</sup> But this is not the lesson you learned from the Messiah! <sup>21</sup> If you really listened to him and were instructed about him, then you learned that since what is in Yeshua is truth, <sup>22</sup> then, so far as your former way of life is concerned, you must strip off your old nature, because your old nature is thoroughly rotted by its deceptive desires; <sup>23</sup> and you must let your spirits and minds keep being renewed, <sup>24</sup> and clothe yourselves with the new nature created to be godly, which expresses itself in the righteousness and holiness that flow from the truth.

<sup>28</sup> The thief must stop stealing; instead, he should make an honest living by his own efforts. This way he will be able to share with those in need.

<sup>29</sup> Let no harmful language come from your mouth, only good words that are helpful in meeting the need, words that will benefit those who hear them.<sup>30</sup> Don't cause grief to God's Ruach HaKodesh, for he has stamped you as his property until the day of final redemption.<sup>31</sup> Get rid of all bitterness, rage, anger, violent assertiveness and slander, along with all spitefulness.<sup>32</sup> Instead, be kind to each other, tenderhearted; and forgive each other, just as in the Messiah God has also forgiven you.

5<sup>1</sup> So imitate God, as his dear children;<sup>2</sup> and live a life of love, just as also the Messiah loved us, indeed, on our behalf gave himself up as an offering, as a slaughtered sacrifice to God with a pleasing fragrance.<sup>3</sup> Among you there should not even be mentioned sexual immorality, or any kind of impurity, or greed; these are utterly inappropriate for God's holy people.<sup>4</sup> Also out of place are obscenity and stupid talk or coarse language; instead, you should be giving thanks.<sup>5</sup> For of this you can be sure: every sexually immoral, impure or greedy person — that is, every idol-worshipper — has no share in the Kingdom of the Messiah and of God.<sup>6</sup> Let no one deceive you with empty talk; for it is because of these things that God's judgment is coming on those who disobey him.<sup>7</sup> So don't become partners with them!

<sup>8</sup> For you used to be darkness; but now, united with the Lord, you are light. Live like children of light,<sup>9</sup> for the fruit of the light is in every kind of goodness, rightness and truth — <sup>10</sup> try to determine what will please the Lord.<sup>11</sup> Have nothing to do with the deeds produced by darkness, but instead expose them,<sup>12</sup> for it is shameful even to speak of the things these people do in secret.<sup>13</sup> But everything exposed to the light is revealed clearly for what it is,<sup>14</sup> since anything revealed is a light. This is why it says, “Get up, sleeper! Arise from the dead, and the Messiah will shine on you!”

<sup>15</sup> Therefore, pay careful attention to how you conduct your life — live wisely, not unwisely.<sup>16</sup> Use your time well, for these are evil days.<sup>17</sup> So don't be foolish, but try to understand what the will of the Lord is.

<sup>18</sup> Don't get drunk with wine, because it makes you lose control. Instead, keep on being filled with the Spirit — <sup>19</sup> sing psalms, hymns and spiritual songs to each other; sing to the Lord and make music in your heart to him;<sup>20</sup> always give thanks for everything to God the Father in the name of our Lord Yeshua the Messiah.

<sup>25</sup> As for husbands, love your wives, just as the Messiah loved the Messianic Community, indeed, gave himself up on its behalf, <sup>26</sup> in order to set it apart for God, making it clean through immersion in the mikveh, so to speak, <sup>27</sup> in order to present the Messianic Community to himself as a bride to be proud of, without a spot, wrinkle or any such thing, but holy and without defect. <sup>28</sup> This is how husbands ought to love their wives — like their own bodies; for the man who loves his wife is loving himself. <sup>29</sup> Why, no one ever hated his own flesh! On the contrary, he feeds it well and takes care of it, just as the Messiah does the Messianic Community, <sup>30</sup> because we are parts of his Body. <sup>31</sup> “Therefore a man will leave his father and mother and remain with his wife, and the two will become one.”<sup>f</sup> <sup>32</sup> There is profound truth hidden here, which I say concerns the Messiah and the Messianic Community. <sup>33</sup> However, the text also applies to each of you individually: let each man love his wife as he does himself, and see that the wife respects her husband.

6 <sup>1</sup> Children, what you should do in union with the Lord is obey your parents, for this is right. <sup>2</sup> “Honor your father and mother” — this is the first commandment that embodies a promise — <sup>3</sup> “so that it may go well with you, and you may live long in the Land.”<sup>g</sup>

<sup>4</sup> Fathers, don’t irritate your children and make them resentful; instead, raise them with the Lord’s kind of discipline and guidance.

<sup>5</sup> Slaves, obey your human masters with the same fear, trembling and single-heartedness with which you obey the Messiah. <sup>6</sup> Don’t obey just to win their favor, serving only when they are watching you; but serve as slaves of the Messiah, doing what God wants with all your heart. <sup>7</sup> Work willingly as slaves, as people do who are serving not merely human beings

but the Lord. <sup>8</sup> Remember that whoever does good work, whether he be a slave or a free man, will be rewarded by the Lord.

<sup>9</sup> And masters, treat your slaves the same way. Don't threaten them. Remember that in heaven both you and they have the same Master, and he has no favorites.

<sup>10</sup> Finally, grow powerful in union with the Lord, in union with his mighty strength! <sup>11</sup> Use all the armor and weaponry that God provides, so that you will be able to stand against the deceptive tactics of the Adversary. <sup>12</sup> For we are not struggling against human beings, but against the rulers, authorities and cosmic powers governing this darkness, against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly realm. <sup>13</sup> So take up every piece of war equipment God provides; so that when the evil day comes, you will be able to resist; and when the battle is won, you will still be standing. <sup>14</sup> Therefore, stand! Have the belt of truth buckled around your waist,<sup>h</sup> put on righteousness for a breastplate,<sup>i</sup> <sup>15</sup> and wear on your feet the readiness that comes from the Good News of shalom<sup>i</sup> <sup>16</sup> Always carry the shield of trust, with which you will be able to extinguish all the flaming arrows of the Evil One. <sup>17</sup> And take the helmet of deliverance;<sup>k</sup> along with the sword given by the Spirit, that is, the Word of God; <sup>18</sup> as you pray at all times, with all kinds of prayers and requests, in the Spirit, vigilantly and persistently, for all God's people.

<sup>19</sup> And pray for me, too, that whenever I open my mouth, the words will be given to me to be bold in making known the secret of the Good News, <sup>20</sup> for which I am an ambassador in chains. Pray that I may speak boldly, the way I should.

<sup>21</sup> Now, so that you may also be informed about how I am and what I am doing, Tychicus, the dear brother and a faithful worker for the Lord, will tell you everything. <sup>22</sup> This is the very reason I have sent him to you, so that you may know how we are getting along and so that he may comfort and encourage you.

<sup>23</sup> Shalom to the brothers. May God the Father and the Lord Yeshua the Messiah give you love and trust. <sup>24</sup> Grace be to all who love our Lord Yeshua the Messiah with undying love.

The Letter from Yeshua's Emissary Sha'ul (Paul) to the Messianic Community in Philippi

PHILIPPIANS

1 <sup>1</sup> From: Sha'ul and Timothy, slaves of the Messiah Yeshua

To: All God's people united with the Messiah Yeshua and living in Philippi, along with the congregation leaders and shammashim:

<sup>2</sup> Grace to you and shalom from God our Father and the Lord Yeshua the Messiah.

<sup>3</sup> I thank my God every time I think of you. <sup>4</sup> Whenever I pray for all of you I always pray with joy, <sup>5</sup> because you have shared in proclaiming the Good News from the very first day until now. <sup>6</sup> And I am sure of this: that the One who began a good work among you will keep it growing until it is completed on the Day of the Messiah Yeshua. <sup>7</sup> It is right for me to think this way about you all, because I have you on my heart; for whether I am in chains or defending and establishing the Good News, you are all sharing with me in this privileged work. <sup>8</sup> God can testify how I long for all of you with the deep affection of the Messiah Yeshua.

<sup>9</sup> And this is my prayer: that your love may more and more overflow in fullness of knowledge and depth of discernment, <sup>10</sup> so that you will be able to determine what is best and thus be pure and without blame for the Day of the Messiah, <sup>11</sup> filled with the fruit of righteousness that comes through Yeshua the Messiah — to the glory and praise of God.

<sup>12</sup> Now, brothers, I want you to know that what has happened to me has helped in advancing the Good News. <sup>13</sup> It has become clear to the whole palace and to everyone else that it is because of the Messiah that I am in chains. <sup>14</sup> Also, my being in prison has given most of the brothers in the Lord confidence, so that they have become much more bold in speaking the word of God fearlessly. <sup>15</sup> True, some are proclaiming the Messiah out of jealousy and rivalry, but others are doing it in goodwill. <sup>16</sup> The latter act from love, aware that I am put where I am for defending the Good News; <sup>17</sup> while the former announce the Messiah out of selfish ambition, with impure motives, supposing they can stir up trouble for me in prison. <sup>18</sup> But so what? All that matters is that in every way, whether honestly or in pretense, the Messiah is being proclaimed; and in that I rejoice.

Yes, and I will continue to rejoice, <sup>19</sup> for I know that this will work out for my deliverance,<sup>a</sup> because of your prayers and the support I get from the Spirit of Yeshua the Messiah. <sup>20</sup> It all accords with my earnest expectation and hope that I will have nothing to be ashamed of; but rather, now, as always, the Messiah will be honored by my body, whether it is alive or dead. <sup>21</sup> For to me, life is the Messiah, and death is gain. <sup>22</sup> But if by living on in the body I can do fruitful work, then I don't know which to choose. <sup>23</sup> I am caught in a dilemma: my desire is to go off and be with the Messiah — that is better by far — <sup>24</sup> but because of you, the greater need is to stay on in the body. <sup>25</sup> Yes, I am convinced of this; so I know I will stay on with you in order to help you progress in the faith and have joy in it. <sup>26</sup> Then, through my being with you again, you will have even greater reason for boasting about the Messiah Yeshua.

<sup>27</sup> Only conduct your lives in a way worthy of the Good News of the Messiah; so that whether I come and see you or I hear about you from a distance, you stand firm, united in spirit, fighting with one accord for the faith of the Good News, <sup>28</sup>not frightened by anything the opposition does. This will be for them an indication that they are headed for destruction and you for deliverance. And this is from God; <sup>29</sup>because for the Messiah's sake it has been granted to you not only to trust in him but also to suffer on his behalf, <sup>30</sup> to fight the same battles you once saw me fight and now hear that I am still fighting.

2 <sup>1</sup> Therefore, if you have any encouragement for me from your being in union with the Messiah, any comfort flowing from love, any fellowship with me in the Spirit, or any compassion and sympathy, <sup>2</sup> then complete my joy by having a common purpose and a common love, by being one in heart and mind. <sup>3</sup> Do nothing out of rivalry or vanity; but, in humility, regard each other as better than yourselves — <sup>4</sup> look out for each other's interests and not just for your own.

<sup>5</sup> Let your attitude toward one another be governed by your being in union with the Messiah Yeshua:

<sup>6</sup>        Though he was in the form of God,

he did not regard equality with God

something to be possessed by force.

<sup>7</sup> On the contrary, he emptied himself,

in that he took the form of a slave

by becoming like human beings are.

And when he appeared as a human being,

<sup>8</sup> he humbled himself still more

by becoming obedient even to death —

death on a stake as a criminal!

<sup>9</sup> Therefore God raised him to the highest place and gave him the name above every name;

<sup>10</sup> that in honor of the name given Yeshua,

every knee will bow —

in heaven, on earth and under the earth —

<sup>11</sup> and every tongue will acknowledge<sup>b</sup>

that Yeshua the Messiah is A<sub>DONAI</sub> —

to the glory of God the Father.

<sup>12</sup> So, my dear friends, just as you have always obeyed when I was with you, it is even more important that you obey now when I am away from you: keep working out your deliverance with fear and trembling,<sup>c</sup> <sup>13</sup> for God is the one working among you both the willing and the working for what pleases him. <sup>14</sup> Do everything without kvetching or arguing, <sup>15</sup> so that you may be blameless and pure children of God, without defect in the midst of a twisted and perverted generation,<sup>d</sup> among whom you shine like stars in the sky, <sup>16</sup> as you hold on to the Word of Life. If you do this, I will be able to boast, when the Day of the Messiah comes, that I did not run or toil for nothing. <sup>17</sup> Indeed, even if my lifeblood is poured out as a drink offering over the sacrifice and service of your faith, I will still be glad and rejoice with you all. <sup>18</sup> Likewise, you too should be glad and rejoice with me.

<sup>19</sup> But I hope in the Lord Yeshua to send Timothy to you shortly, so that I too may be cheered by knowing how you are doing. <sup>20</sup> I have no one who compares with him, who will care so sincerely for your welfare — <sup>21</sup> people all put their own interests ahead of the Messiah Yeshua's. <sup>22</sup> But you know his character, that like a child with his father he slaved with me to advance the Good News. <sup>23</sup> So I hope to send him just as soon as I see how things will go with me, <sup>24</sup> and I am confident in the Lord that before long I myself will come too.

<sup>25</sup> Also I considered it necessary to send you Epaphroditus, my brother, fellow-worker and fellow-soldier, the emissary whom you sent to take care of my needs; <sup>26</sup> since he has been longing for you all and has been distressed because you heard he was ill. <sup>27</sup> Indeed he was ill, close to death; but God had mercy on him — and not only on him, but also on me — otherwise I would have had sorrow piled on sorrow. <sup>28</sup> Therefore, I am all the more eager to send him, so that you may rejoice when you see him again; and I, for my part, may be less sad. <sup>29</sup> So give him a joyful welcome in the Lord; honor such people. <sup>30</sup> For he risked his life and nearly died working for the Messiah, in order to give me the help you were not in a position to give.

It is no trouble for me to repeat what I have written you before, and for you it will be a safeguard: <sup>2</sup> beware of the dogs, those evildoers, the Mutilated! <sup>3</sup> For it is we who are the Circumcised, we who worship by the Spirit of God and make our boast in the Messiah Yeshua! We do not put confidence in human qualifications, <sup>4</sup> even though I certainly have grounds for putting confidence in such things. If anyone else thinks he has grounds for putting confidence in human qualifications, I have better grounds:

<sup>5</sup> • b'rit-milah on the eighth day,

• by birth belonging to the people of Isra'el,

- from the tribe of Binyamin,
- a Hebrew-speaker, with Hebrew-speaking parents,
- in regard to the Torah, a Parush,

- <sup>6</sup>
  - in regard to zeal, a persecutor of the Messianic Community,
- in regard to the righteousness demanded by legalism, blameless.

<sup>7</sup> But the things that used to be advantages for me, I have, because of the Messiah, come to consider a disadvantage. <sup>8</sup> Not only that, but I consider everything a disadvantage in comparison with the supreme value of knowing the Messiah Yeshua as my Lord. It was because of him that I gave up everything and regard it all as garbage, in order to gain the Messiah <sup>9</sup> and be found in union with him, not having any righteousness of my own based on legalism, but having that righteousness which comes through the Messiah's faithfulness, the righteousness from God based on trust. <sup>10</sup> Yes, I gave it all up in order to know him, that is, to know the power of his resurrection and the fellowship of his sufferings as I am being conformed to his death, <sup>11</sup> so that somehow I might arrive at being resurrected from the dead. <sup>12</sup> It is not that I have already obtained it or already reached the goal — no, I keep pursuing it in the hope of taking hold of that for which the Messiah Yeshua took hold of me. <sup>13</sup> Brothers, I, for my part, do not think of myself as having yet gotten hold of it; but one thing I do: forgetting what is behind me and straining forward toward what lies ahead, <sup>14</sup> I keep pursuing the goal in order to win the prize offered by God's upward calling in the Messiah Yeshua. <sup>15</sup> Therefore, as many of us as are mature, let us keep paying attention to this; and if you are differently minded about anything, God will also reveal this to you. <sup>16</sup> Only let our conduct fit the level we have already reached.

<sup>17</sup> Brothers, join in imitating me, and pay attention to those who live according to the pattern we have set for you. <sup>18</sup> For many — I have told you about them often before, and even now I say it with tears — live as enemies of the Messiah's execution-stake. <sup>19</sup> They are headed for destruction! Their god is the belly; they are proud of what they ought to be ashamed of, since they are concerned about the things of the world. <sup>20</sup> But we are citizens of heaven, and it is from there that we expect a Deliverer, the Lord Yeshua the Messiah. <sup>21</sup> He will change the bodies we have in this humble state and make them like his glorious body, using the power which enables him to bring everything under his control.

4 <sup>1</sup> So, my brothers, whom I love and long for, my joy and my crown, my dear friends, keep standing firm in union with the Lord.

<sup>2</sup> I beg Evodia and I beg Syntyche to agree with each other in union with the Lord. <sup>3</sup> I also request you, loyal Syzygus, to help these women; for they have worked hard proclaiming the Good News with me, along with Clement and the rest of my fellow-workers whose names are in the Book of Life.

<sup>4</sup> Rejoice in union with the Lord always! I will say it again: rejoice! <sup>5</sup> Let everyone see how reasonable and gentle you are. The Lord is near! <sup>6</sup> Don't worry about anything; on the contrary, make your requests known to God by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving. <sup>7</sup> Then God's shalom, passing all understanding, will keep your hearts and minds safe in union with the Messiah Yeshua. <sup>8</sup> In conclusion, brothers, focus your thoughts on what is true, noble, righteous, pure, lovable or admirable, on some virtue or on something praiseworthy. <sup>9</sup> Keep doing what you have learned and received from me, what you have heard and seen me doing; then the God who gives shalom will be with you.

<sup>10</sup> In union with the Lord I greatly rejoice that now, after this long time, you have let your concern for me express itself again. Of course, you were concerned for me all along, but you had no opportunity to express it. <sup>11</sup> Not that I am saying this to call attention to any need of mine; since, as far as I am concerned, I have learned to be content regardless of circumstances. <sup>12</sup> I know what it is to be in want, and I know what it is to have more than enough — in everything and in every way I have learned the secret of being full and being hungry, of having abundance and being in need. <sup>13</sup> I can do all things through him who gives me power.

the gift; rather, I am looking for what will increase the credit balance of your account. <sup>18</sup> I have been more than paid in full: I have been filled, since I have received from Epaphroditus the gifts you sent — they are a fragrant aroma,<sup>e</sup> an acceptable sacrifice, one that pleases God well. <sup>19</sup> Moreover, my God will fill every need of yours according to his glorious wealth, in union with the Messiah Yeshua. <sup>20</sup> And to God our Father be the glory forever and ever. Amen.

<sup>21</sup> Greet each of God's people in the Messiah Yeshua. The brothers with me send their greetings to you. <sup>22</sup> All God's people send greetings, but especially those in the Emperor's household.

<sup>23</sup> The grace of the Lord Yeshua the Messiah be with your spirit.

The Letter from Yeshua's Emissary Sha'ul (Paul) to the Messianic Community in Colosse

COLOSSIANS

Grace to you and shalom from God our Father.

<sup>3</sup> Whenever we pray, we always give thanks for you to God, the Father of our Lord Yeshua the Messiah. <sup>4</sup> For we have heard of your trust in the Messiah Yeshua and of the love you have for all God's people. <sup>5</sup> Both spring from the confident hope that you will receive what is stored up for you in heaven. You heard of this earlier in the message about the truth. This Good News <sup>6</sup> has made its presence felt among you, just as it is also being fruitful and multiplying throughout the world in the same way as it has among you since the day you heard and understood the grace of God as it really is. <sup>7</sup> You learned it from Epaphras, our dear fellow-slave and a faithful worker for the Messiah on your behalf; <sup>8</sup> and he has told us about the love which the Spirit has given you.

<sup>9</sup> Therefore, from the day we heard of it, we have not stopped praying for you, asking God to fill you with the knowledge of his will in all the wisdom and understanding which the Spirit gives; <sup>10</sup> so that you may live lives worthy of the Lord and entirely pleasing to him, being fruitful in every good work and multiplying in the full knowledge of God. <sup>11</sup> We pray that you will be continually strengthened with all the power that comes from his glorious might; so that you will be able to persevere and be patient in any situation, joyfully <sup>12</sup> giving thanks to the Father for having made you fit to share in the inheritance of his people in the light. <sup>13</sup> He has rescued us from the domain of darkness and transferred us into the Kingdom of his dear Son.

<sup>14</sup> It is through his Son that we have redemption — that is, our sins have been forgiven. <sup>15</sup> He is the visible image of the invisible God. He is supreme over all creation, <sup>16</sup> because in connection with him were created all things — in heaven and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones, lordships, rulers or authorities — they have all been created through him and for him.

<sup>18</sup> Also he is head of the Body, the Messianic Community — he is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead, so that he might hold first place in everything. <sup>19</sup> For it pleased God to have his full being live in his Son <sup>20</sup> and through his Son to reconcile to himself all things, whether on earth or in heaven, making peace through him, through having his Son shed his blood by being executed on a stake.

<sup>21</sup> In other words, you, who at one time were separated from God and had a hostile attitude towards him because of your wicked deeds, <sup>22</sup> he has now reconciled in the Son's physical body through his death; in order to present you holy and without defect or reproach before himself — <sup>23</sup> provided, of course, that you continue in your trusting, grounded and steady, and don't let yourselves be moved away from the hope offered in the Good News you heard.

This is the Good News that has been proclaimed in all creation under heaven; and I, Sha'ul, have become a servant of it. <sup>24</sup> I rejoice in my present sufferings on your behalf! Yes, I am completing in my own flesh what has been lacking of the Messiah's afflictions, on behalf of his Body, the Messianic Community. <sup>25</sup> I became a servant of the Good News because God gave me this work to do for your benefit. The work is to make fully known the message from God, <sup>26</sup> the secret hidden for generations, for ages, but now made clear to the people he has set apart for himself. <sup>27</sup> To them God wanted to make known how great among the Gentiles is the glorious richness of this secret. And the secret is this: the Messiah is united with you people! In that rests your hope of glory! <sup>28</sup> We, for our part, proclaim him; we warn, confront and teach everyone in all wisdom; so that we may present everyone as having reached the goal, united with the Messiah. <sup>29</sup> It is for this that <sup>1</sup> toil, striving with all the energy that he stirs up in me so mightily.

2 <sup>1</sup> For I want you to know how hard I work for you, for those in Laodicea, and for the rest of those who have not met me personally. <sup>2</sup> My purpose is that they may be encouraged, that they may be joined together in love, and that they may have all the riches derived from being assured of understanding and fully knowing God's secret truth, which is — the Messiah! <sup>3</sup> It is in him that all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge are hidden.

<sup>4</sup> I say this so that no one will fool you with plausible but specious arguments. <sup>5</sup> For although I am away from you physically, I am with you in spirit, rejoicing as I see the disciplined and resolute firmness of your trust in the Messiah. <sup>6</sup> Therefore, just as you received the Messiah Yeshua as Lord, keep living your life united with him. <sup>7</sup> Remain deeply rooted in him; continue being built up in him and confirmed in your trust, the way you were taught, so that you overflow in thanksgiving.

<sup>8</sup> Watch out, so that no one will take you captive by means of philosophy and empty deceit, following human tradition which accords with the elemental spirits of the world but does not accord with the Messiah. <sup>9</sup> For in him, bodily, lives the fullness of all that God is. <sup>10</sup> And it is in union with him that you have been made full — he is the head of every rule and authority.

<sup>11</sup> Also it was in union with him that you were circumcised with a circumcision not done by human hands, but accomplished by stripping away the old nature's control over the body. In this circumcision done by the Messiah, <sup>12</sup> you were buried along with him by being immersed; and in union with him, you were also raised up along with him by God's faithfulness that worked when he raised Yeshua from the dead. <sup>13</sup> You were dead because of your sins, that is, because of your "foreskin," your old nature. But God made you alive along with the Messiah by forgiving you all your sins. <sup>14</sup> He wiped away the bill of charges against us. Because of the regulations, it stood as a testimony against us; but he removed it by nailing it to the execution-stake. <sup>15</sup> Stripping the rulers and authorities of their power, he made a public spectacle of them, triumphing over them by means of the stake.

<sup>16</sup> So don't let anyone pass judgment on you in connection with eating and drinking, or in regard to a Jewish festival or Rosh-Hodesh or Shabbat. <sup>17</sup> These are a shadow of things that are coming, but the body is of the Messiah.

<sup>18</sup> Don't let anyone deny you the prize by insisting that you engage in self-mortification or angel-worship. Such people are always going on about some vision they have had, and they vainly puff themselves up by their worldly outlook. <sup>19</sup> They fail to hold to the Head, from whom the whole Body, receiving supply and being held together by its joints and ligaments, grows as God makes it grow. <sup>20</sup> If, along with the Messiah, you died to the elemental spirits of the world, then why, as if you still belonged to the world, are you letting yourselves be bothered by its rules? — <sup>21</sup> “Don’t touch this!” “Don’t eat that!” “Don’t handle the other!” <sup>22</sup> Such prohibitions are concerned with things meant to perish by being used [not by being avoided!], and they are based on man-made rules and teachings.<sup>b</sup> <sup>23</sup> They do indeed have the outward appearance of wisdom, with their self-imposed religious observances, false humility and asceticism; but they have no value at all in restraining people from indulging their old nature.

<sup>5</sup> Therefore, put to death the earthly parts of your nature — sexual immorality, impurity, lust, evil desires and greed (which is a form of idolatry); <sup>6</sup> for it is because of these things that God’s anger is coming on those who disobey him. <sup>7</sup> True enough, you used to practice these things in the life you once lived; <sup>8</sup> but now, put them all away — anger, exasperation, meanness, slander and obscene talk. <sup>9</sup> Never lie to one another; because you have stripped away the old self, with its ways, <sup>10</sup> and have put on the new self, which is continually being renewed in fuller and fuller knowledge, closer and closer to the image of its Creator. <sup>11</sup> The new self allows no room for discriminating between Gentile and Jew, circumcised and uncircumcised, foreigner, savage, slave, free man; on the contrary, in all, the Messiah is everything.

<sup>12</sup> Therefore, as God’s chosen people, holy and dearly loved, clothe yourselves with feelings of compassion and with kindness, humility, gentleness and patience. <sup>13</sup> Bear with one another; if anyone has a complaint against someone else, forgive him. Indeed, just as the Lord has forgiven you, so you must forgive.

<sup>14</sup> Above all these, clothe yourselves with love, which binds everything together perfectly; <sup>15</sup> and let the shalom which comes from the Messiah be your heart’s decision-maker, for this is why you were called to be part of a single Body.

And be thankful — <sup>16</sup> let the Word of the Messiah, in all its richness, live in you, as you teach and counsel each other in all wisdom, and as you sing psalms, hymns and spiritual songs with gratitude to God in your hearts. <sup>17</sup> That is, everything you do or say, do in the name of the Lord Yeshua, giving thanks through him to God the Father.

<sup>18</sup> Wives, subject yourselves to your husbands, as is appropriate in the Lord.

<sup>21</sup> Fathers, don't irritate your children and make them resentful, or they will become discouraged.

<sup>22</sup> Slaves, obey your human masters in everything, not serving only when they are watching you, to win their favor, but single-heartedly, fearing the Lord. <sup>23</sup> Whatever work you do, put yourself into it, as those who are serving not merely other people, but the Lord. <sup>24</sup> Remember that as your reward, you will receive the inheritance from the Lord. You are slaving for the Lord, for the Messiah. <sup>25</sup> Don't worry — whoever is doing wrong will be paid in kind for his wrong, and there is no favoritism shown.

4 <sup>1</sup> Masters, treat your slaves justly and fairly. Remember that you too have a Master in heaven.

<sup>2</sup> Keep persisting in prayer, staying alert in it and being thankful. <sup>3</sup> Include prayer for us, too, that God may open a door for us to proclaim the message about the secret of the Messiah — for that is why I am in prison. <sup>4</sup> And pray that I may speak, as I should, in a way that makes the message clear.

<sup>5</sup> Behave wisely toward outsiders, making full use of every opportunity — <sup>6</sup> let your conversation always be gracious and interesting, so that you will know how to respond to any particular individual.

<sup>7</sup> Our dear brother Tychicus, who is a faithful worker and fellow-slave in the Lord, will give you all the news about me. <sup>8</sup> I have sent him to you for this very reason — so that you might know how we are, and so that he might encourage you. <sup>9</sup> I have sent him with Onesimus, the dear and faithful brother, who is one of you; they will tell you everything that has happened here.

<sup>10</sup> Aristarchus, my fellow prisoner, sends greetings, as does Mark, Barnabba's cousin, concerning whom you have received instructions — if he comes to you, welcome him. <sup>11</sup> Yeshua, the one called Justus, also sends greetings. These three are among the Circumcised; and among my fellow workers for the Kingdom of God, only they have turned out to be a comfort to me.

<sup>12</sup> Epaphras sends greetings; he is one of you, a slave of the Messiah Yeshua who always agonizes in his prayer on your behalf, praying that you may stand firm, mature and fully confident, as you devote yourselves completely to God's will. <sup>13</sup>For I can testify to him that he works hard for you and for those in Laodicea and Hierapolis.

<sup>15</sup> Give my greetings to the brothers in Laodicea, also to Nympha and the congregation that meets in her home. <sup>16</sup> After this letter has been read to you, have it read also in the congregation of the Laodiceans; and you, in turn, are to read the letter that will come from Laodicea. <sup>17</sup> And tell Archippus, "See that you complete the task you were given in the Lord."

Remember my imprisonment!

Grace be with you!

The First Letter from Yeshua's Emissary Sha'ul (Paul) to the Messianic Community in Thessalonica

1 THESSALONIANS

1 <sup>1</sup> From: Sha'ul, Sila and Timothy

To: The Messianic Community of the Thessalonians, united with God the Father and the Lord Yeshua the Messiah:

Grace to you and shalom.

<sup>2</sup> We always thank God for all of you, regularly mentioning you in our prayers, <sup>3</sup>calling to mind before God our Father what our Lord Yeshua the Messiah has brought about in you — how your trust produces action, your love hard work, and your hope perseverance. <sup>4</sup> We know, brothers, that God has loved and chosen you; <sup>5</sup> that the Good News we brought did not become for you a matter only of words, but also one of power, the Ruach HaKodesh and total conviction — just as you know how we lived for your sakes when we were with you. <sup>6</sup> You, indeed, became imitators of us and of the Lord; so that even though you were going through severe troubles, you received the Word with joy from the Ruach HaKodesh.

<sup>7</sup> Thus you became a pattern for all the believers in Macedonia and Achaia; <sup>8</sup>for the Lord's message sounded forth from you not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but everywhere your trust toward God became known. The result is that we don't need to say anything; <sup>9</sup> since they themselves keep telling us about the welcome we received from you and how you turned to God from idols, to serve the true God, the one who is alive, <sup>10</sup> and to wait for his Son Yeshua, whom he raised from the dead, to appear from heaven and rescue us from the impending fury of God's judgment.

2 <sup>1</sup> You yourselves know, brothers, that our visit to you was not fruitless. <sup>2</sup> On the contrary, although we had already suffered and been outraged in Philippi, as you know, we had the courage, united with our God, to tell you the Good News even under great pressure. <sup>3</sup> For the appeal we make does not flow from error or from impure motives, neither do we try to trick people. <sup>4</sup> Instead, since God has tested us and found us fit to be entrusted with Good News, this is how we speak: not to win favor with people but with God, who tests our hearts. <sup>5</sup> For, as you know, never did we employ flattering talk, nor did we put on a false front to mask greed — God is witness. <sup>6</sup> Nor did we seek human praise — either from you or from others. <sup>7</sup> As emissaries of the Messiah, we could have made our weight felt; but instead, we were gentle when we were with you, like a mother feeding and caring for her children. <sup>8</sup> We were so devoted to you that we were glad to share with you not only God's Good News but also our own lives, because you had become very dear to us. <sup>9</sup> For you remember, brothers, our toil and hardship, how we worked night and day not to put a burden on any of you while we were proclaiming God's Good News to you. <sup>10</sup> You are witnesses, and so is God, of how holy, righteous and blameless our behavior was in the sight of you believers; <sup>11</sup> for you know that we treated each one of you the way a father treats his children — <sup>12</sup> we encouraged you and comforted you and appealed to you to lead lives worthy of God, who calls you into his Kingdom and glory.

<sup>13</sup> Another reason we regularly thank God is that when you heard the Word of God from us, you received it not merely as a human word, but as it truly is, God's Word, which is at work in you believers. <sup>14</sup> For, brothers, you came to be imitators of God's congregations in Y'hudah that are united with the Messiah Yeshua — you suffered the same things from your countrymen as they did from the Judeans who <sup>15</sup> both killed the Lord Yeshua and the prophets, and chased us out too. They are displeasing God and opposing all mankind <sup>16</sup> by trying to keep us from speaking to the Gentiles, so that they may be delivered. Their object seems to be always to make their sins as bad as possible! But God's fury will catch up with them in the end.

<sup>17</sup> And as for us, brothers, when we were deprived of your company for a short time — in person, but not in thought — we missed you and tried hard to come and see you. <sup>18</sup> We wanted so much to come to you — I, Sha'ul, tried more than once — but the Adversary stopped us. <sup>19</sup> For when our Lord Yeshua returns, what will be our hope, our joy, our crown to boast about? Won't it be you? <sup>20</sup> Yes, you are our glory and our joy!

3 <sup>1</sup> So when we could no longer stand it, we agreed to be left in Athens alone <sup>2</sup> and sent Timothy, our brother and God's fellow worker for the Good News of the Messiah, to make you solid and encourage you in your trust; <sup>3</sup> so that none of you would let these persecutions unsettle him. For you yourselves know that these are bound to come to us; <sup>4</sup> even when we were with you, we kept telling you in advance that we were about to be persecuted; and indeed it has happened, as you know. <sup>5</sup> That is the reason why, after I could stand it no longer, I sent to find out about your trust. I was afraid that somehow the Tempter had tempted you, and our hard work had been wasted.

<sup>6</sup> But now Timothy has come to us from you, bringing good news about your trust and love, and telling us that you remember us well and are always longing to see us, just as we long to see you. <sup>7</sup> Because of this, brothers, in spite of all our trouble and distress, we were comforted over you — because of your trust; <sup>8</sup> so that now we are alive; since you continue to stand fast, united with the Lord.

<sup>9</sup> Indeed, how can we thank God enough for you or express to our God all the joy we feel because of you? <sup>10</sup> Night and day we pray as hard as we can that we will be able to see you face to face and supply whatever shortcomings there may be in your trust. <sup>11</sup> May God our Father and our Lord Yeshua direct our way to you.

<sup>12</sup> And as for you, may the Lord make you increase and overflow in love toward each other, indeed, toward everyone, just as we do toward you; <sup>13</sup> so that he may give you the inner strength to be blameless, by reason of your holiness, when you stand before God our Father at the coming of our Lord Yeshua with all his angels.

4 <sup>1</sup> Therefore, brothers, just as you learned from us how you had to live in order to please God, and just as you are living this way now, we ask you — indeed, united with the Lord Yeshua, we urge you — to keep doing so more and more. <sup>2</sup> For you know what instructions we gave you on the authority of the Lord Yeshua. <sup>3</sup> What God wants is that you be holy, that you keep away from sexual immorality, <sup>4</sup> that each of you know how to manage his sexual impulses in a holy and honorable manner, <sup>5</sup> without giving in to lustful desires, like the pagans who don't know God. <sup>6</sup> No one should wrong his brother in this matter or take advantage of him, because the Lord punishes all who do such things — as we have explained to you before at length. <sup>7</sup> For God did not call us to live an unclean life but a holy one. <sup>8</sup> Therefore, whoever rejects this teaching is rejecting not a man but God, indeed, the One who gives you the Ruach HaKodesh, which is his.

<sup>9</sup> Concerning love for the brothers we do not need to write you, for you yourselves have been taught by God to love each other; <sup>10</sup> and you do love all the brothers throughout Macedonia. But we urge you, brothers, to do it even more.

<sup>11</sup> Also, make it your ambition to live quietly, to mind your own business and to earn your living by your own efforts — just as we told you. <sup>12</sup> Then your daily life will gain the respect of outsiders, and you will not be dependent on anyone.

<sup>13</sup> Now, brothers, we want you to know the truth about those who have died; otherwise, you might become sad the way other people <sup>14</sup> do who have nothing to hope for. For since we believe that Yeshua died and rose again, we also believe that in the same way God, through Yeshua, will take with him those who have died. <sup>15</sup> When we say this, we base it on the Lord's own word: we who remain alive when the Lord comes will certainly not take precedence over those who have died. <sup>16</sup> For the Lord himself will come down from heaven with a rousing cry, with a call from one of the ruling angels, and with God's shofar; those who died united with the Messiah will be the first to rise; <sup>17</sup> then we who are left still alive will be caught up with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air; and thus we will always be with the Lord. <sup>18</sup> So encourage each other with these words.

5 <sup>1</sup> But you have no need to have anything written to you, brothers, about the times and dates when this will happen; <sup>2</sup> because you yourselves well know that the Day of the Lord will come like a thief in the night. <sup>3</sup> When people are saying, "Everything is so peaceful and secure," then destruction will suddenly come upon them, the way labor pains come upon a pregnant woman, and there is no way they will escape.

<sup>4</sup> But you, brothers, are not in the dark, so that the Day should take you by surprise like a thief; <sup>5</sup> for you are all people who belong to the light, who belong to the day. We don't belong to the night or to darkness, <sup>6</sup> so let's not be asleep, like the rest are; on the contrary, let us stay alert and sober. <sup>7</sup> People who sleep, sleep at night; and people who get drunk, get drunk at night. <sup>8</sup> But since we belong to the day, let us stay sober, putting on trust and love as a breastplate and the hope of being delivered as a helmet. <sup>9</sup> For God has not intended that we should experience his fury, but that we should gain deliverance through our Lord Yeshua the Messiah, <sup>10</sup> who died on our behalf so that whether we are alive or dead, we may live along with him. <sup>11</sup> Therefore, encourage each other, and build each other up — just as you are doing.

<sup>12</sup> We ask you, brothers, to respect those who are working hard among you, those who are guiding you in the Lord and confronting you in order to help you change. <sup>13</sup> Treat them with the highest regard and love because of the work they are doing. Live at peace among yourselves; <sup>14</sup> but we urge you, brothers, to confront those who are lazy, your aim being to help them change, to encourage the timid, to assist the weak, and to be patient with everyone.

<sup>23</sup> May the God of shalom make you completely holy — may your entire spirit, soul and body be kept blameless for the coming of our Lord Yeshua the Messiah. <sup>24</sup> The one calling you is faithful, and he will do it.

<sup>27</sup> I charge you in the Lord to have this letter read to all the brothers.

<sup>28</sup> The grace of our Lord Yeshua the Messiah be with you.

The Second Letter from Yeshua's Emissary Sha'ul (Paul) to the Messianic Community in Thessalonica

2 THESSALONIANS

1 <sup>1</sup> From: Sha'ul, Sila and Timothy

To: The Messianic Community of the Thessalonians, united with God our Father and the Lord Yeshua the Messiah:

<sup>2</sup> Grace to you and shalom from God the Father and the Lord Yeshua the Messiah.

<sup>3</sup> We have to keep thanking God for you always, brothers, as is appropriate; because your trust continues to grow greater, and the love you each have for one another continues to increase. <sup>4</sup> Therefore, we boast about you in the congregations of God because of your perseverance and trust in all the persecutions and troubles you are going through. <sup>5</sup> This is clear evidence that God's judgment is just; and as a result, you will be counted worthy of the Kingdom of God for which you are suffering. <sup>6</sup> For it is justice for God to pay back trouble to those who are troubling you, <sup>7</sup> and to give rest along with us to you who are being troubled, when the Lord Yeshua is revealed from heaven with his mighty angels <sup>8</sup> in a fiery flame. Then he will punish those who don't know God,<sup>a</sup> that is, those who don't listen to the Good News of our Lord Yeshua and obey it. <sup>9</sup> They will suffer the just penalty of eternal destruction, far away from the face of the Lord and the glory of his might.<sup>b</sup> <sup>10</sup> On that Day, when he comes to be glorified by his holy people and admired by all who have trusted, you will be among them, because you trusted our witness to you.

<sup>11</sup> With this in view, we always pray for you that our God may make you worthy of his calling and may fulfill by his power every good purpose of yours and every action stemming from your trust. <sup>12</sup> In this way, the name of our Lord Yeshua will be glorified in you, and you in him, in accordance with the grace of our God and the Lord Yeshua the Messiah.

2 <sup>1</sup> But in connection with the coming of our Lord Yeshua the Messiah and our gathering together to meet him, we ask you, brothers, <sup>2</sup> not to be easily shaken in your thinking or anxious because of a spirit or a spoken message or a letter supposedly from us claiming that the Day of the Lord has already come. <sup>3</sup> Don't let anyone deceive you in any way.

For the Day will not come until after the Apostasy has come and the man who separates himself from Torah has been revealed, the one destined for doom. <sup>4</sup> He will oppose himself to everything that people call a god or make an object of worship; he will put himself above them all, so that he will sit in the Temple of God and proclaim that he himself is God.<sup>c</sup>

<sup>5</sup> Don't you remember that when I was still with you, I used to tell you these things? <sup>6</sup> And now you know what is restraining, so that he may be revealed in his own time. <sup>7</sup> For already this separating from Torah is at work secretly, but it will be secretly only until he who is restraining is out of the way. <sup>8</sup> Then the one who embodies separation from Torah will be revealed, the one whom the Lord Yeshua will slay with the breath of his mouth<sup>d</sup> and destroy by the glory of his coming.

<sup>9</sup> When this man who avoids Torah comes, the Adversary will give him the power to work all kinds of false miracles, signs and wonders. <sup>10</sup> He will enable him to deceive, in all kinds of wicked ways, those who are headed for destruction because they would not receive the love of the truth that could have saved them. <sup>11</sup> This is why God is causing them to go astray, so that they will believe the Lie. <sup>12</sup> The result will be that all who have not believed the truth, but have taken their pleasure in wickedness, will be condemned.

<sup>13</sup> But we have to keep thanking God for you always, brothers whom the Lord loves, because God chose you as firstfruits for deliverance by giving you the holiness that has its origin in the Spirit and the faithfulness that has its origin in the truth. <sup>14</sup> He called you to this through our Good News, so that you could have the glory of our Lord Yeshua the Messiah.

<sup>15</sup> Therefore, brothers, stand firm; and hold to the traditions you were taught by us, whether we spoke them or wrote them in a letter. <sup>16</sup> And may our Lord Yeshua the Messiah himself and God our Father, who has loved us and by his grace given us eternal comfort and a good hope, <sup>17</sup> comfort your hearts and strengthen you in every good word and deed.

3 <sup>1</sup> Finally, brothers, pray for us that the Lord's message may spread rapidly and receive honor, just as it did with you; <sup>2</sup> and that we may be rescued from wicked and evil people, for not everyone has trust. <sup>3</sup> But the Lord is worthy of trust; he will make you firm and guard you from the Evil One. <sup>4</sup> Yes, united with the Lord we are confident about you, that you are doing the things we are telling you to do, and that you will keep on doing them. <sup>5</sup> May the Lord direct your hearts into God's love and the perseverance which the Messiah gives.

<sup>6</sup> Now, in the name of the Lord Yeshua the Messiah we command you, brothers, to stay away from any brother who is leading a life of idleness, a life not in keeping with the tradition you received from us. <sup>7</sup> For you yourselves know how you must imitate us, that we were not idle when we were among you. <sup>8</sup> We did not accept anyone's food without paying; on the contrary, we labored and toiled, day and night, working so as not to be a burden to any of you. <sup>9</sup> It was not that we hadn't the right to be supported, but so that we could make ourselves an example to imitate. <sup>10</sup> For even when we were with you, we gave you this command: if someone won't work, he shouldn't eat! <sup>11</sup> We hear that some of you are leading a life of idleness — not busy working, just busybodies! <sup>12</sup> We command such people — and in union with the Lord Yeshua the Messiah we urge them — to settle down, get to work, and earn their own living. <sup>13</sup> And you brothers who are doing what is good, don't slack off! <sup>14</sup> Furthermore, if anyone does not obey what we are saying in this letter, take note of him and have nothing to do with him, so that he will be ashamed. <sup>15</sup> But don't consider him an enemy; on the contrary, confront him as a brother and try to help him change.

<sup>16</sup> Now may the Lord of shalom himself give you shalom always in all ways. The Lord be with all of you.

The First Letter from Yeshua's Emissary Sha'ul (Paul) to Timothy

1 TIMOTHY

1 <sup>1</sup> From: Sha'ul, an emissary of the Messiah Yeshua by command of God our deliverer and the Messiah Yeshua our hope,

<sup>2</sup> To: Timothy, a true son because of your trust:

Grace, mercy and shalom from God the Father and the Messiah Yeshua our Lord.

<sup>3</sup> As I counseled you when I was leaving for Macedonia, stay on in Ephesus, so that you may order certain people who are teaching a different doctrine to stop. <sup>4</sup> Have them stop devoting their attention to myths and never-ending genealogies; these divert people to speculating instead of doing God's work, which requires trust. <sup>5</sup> The purpose of this order is to promote love from a clean heart, from a good conscience and from sincere trust. <sup>6</sup> Some, by aiming amiss, have wandered off into fruitless discussion. <sup>7</sup> They want to be teachers of Torah, but they understand neither their own words nor the matters about which they make such emphatic pronouncements. <sup>8</sup> We know that the Torah is good, provided one uses it in the way the Torah itself intends. <sup>9</sup> We are aware that Torah is not for a person who is righteous, but for those who are heedless of Torah and rebellious, ungodly and sinful, wicked and worldly, for people who kill their fathers and mothers, for murderers, <sup>10</sup> the sexually immoral — both heterosexual and homosexual — slave dealers, liars, perjurers, and anyone who acts contrary to the sound teaching <sup>11</sup> that accords with the Good News of the glorious and blessed God.

This Good News was entrusted to me; <sup>12</sup> and I thank the one who has given me strength, the Messiah Yeshua, our Lord, that he considered me trustworthy enough to put me in his service, <sup>13</sup> even though I used to be a man who blasphemed and persecuted and was arrogant! But I received mercy because I had acted in unbelief, not understanding what I was doing. <sup>14</sup> Our Lord's grace overflowed to me with trust and love that come through the Messiah Yeshua. <sup>15</sup> So here is a statement you can trust, one that fully deserves to be accepted: the Messiah came into the world to save sinners, and I'm the number one sinner! <sup>16</sup> But this is precisely why I received mercy — so that in me, as the number one sinner, Yeshua the Messiah might demonstrate how very patient he is, as an example to those who would later come to trust in him and thereby have eternal life. <sup>17</sup> So to the King — eternal, imperishable and invisible, the only God there is — let there be honor and glory for ever and ever! Amen.

<sup>18</sup> This charge, son Timothy, I put to you, in keeping with the prophecies already made about you, so that by these prophecies you may fight the good fight, <sup>19</sup> armed with trust and a good conscience. By rejecting conscience, some have made shipwreck of their trust; <sup>20</sup> among them are Hymenaeus and Alexander. I have turned them over to the Adversary, so that they will learn not to insult God.

2 <sup>1</sup> First of all, then, I counsel that petitions, prayers, intercessions and thanksgivings be made for all human beings, <sup>2</sup> including kings and all in positions of prominence; so that we may lead quiet and peaceful lives, being godly and upright in everything. <sup>3</sup> This is what God, our Deliverer, regards as good; this is what meets his approval.

<sup>4</sup> He wants all humanity to be delivered and come to full knowledge of the truth. <sup>5</sup> For God is one; <sup>a</sup> and there is but one Mediator between God and humanity, Yeshua the Messiah, himself human, <sup>6</sup> who gave himself as a ransom on behalf of all, thus providing testimony to God's purpose at just the right time. <sup>7</sup> This is why I myself was appointed a proclaimer, even an emissary — I am telling the truth, not lying! — a trustworthy and truthful teacher of the Goyim.

<sup>8</sup> Therefore, it is my wish that when the men pray, no matter where, they should lift up hands that are holy — they should not become angry or get into arguments.

<sup>9</sup> Likewise, the women, when they pray, should be dressed modestly and sensibly in respectable attire, not with elaborate hairstyles and gold jewelry, or pearls, or expensive clothes. <sup>10</sup> Rather, they should adorn themselves with what is appropriate for women who claim to be worshipping God, namely, good deeds.

<sup>11</sup> Let a woman learn in peace, fully submitted; <sup>12</sup> but I do not permit a woman to teach a man or exercise authority over him; rather, she is to remain at peace. <sup>13</sup> For Adam was formed first, then Havah. <sup>14</sup> Also it was not Adam who was deceived, but the woman who, on being deceived, became involved in the transgression. <sup>15</sup> Nevertheless, the woman will be delivered through childbearing, provided that she continues trusting, loving and living a holy life with modesty.

3 <sup>1</sup> Here is a statement you can trust: anyone aspiring to be a congregation leader is seeking worthwhile work. <sup>2</sup> A congregation leader must be above reproach, he must be faithful to his wife, temperate, self-controlled, orderly, hospitable and able to teach. <sup>3</sup> He must not drink excessively or get into fights; rather, he must be kind and gentle. He must not be a lover of money. <sup>4</sup> He must manage his own household well, having children who obey him with all proper respect; <sup>5</sup> for if a man can't manage his own household, how will he be able to care for God's Messianic Community? <sup>6</sup> He must not be a new believer, because he might become puffed up with pride and thus fall under the same judgment as did the Adversary. <sup>7</sup> Furthermore, he must be well regarded by outsiders, so that he won't fall into disgrace and into the Adversary's trap.

<sup>8</sup> Likewise, the shammashim must be of good character, people whose word can be trusted. They must not give themselves to excessive drinking or be greedy for dishonest gain. <sup>9</sup> They must possess the formerly hidden truth of the faith with a clean conscience. <sup>10</sup> And first, let them be tested; then, if they prove themselves blameless, let them be appointed shammashim. <sup>11</sup> Similarly, the wives must be of good character, not gossips, but temperate, faithful in everything. <sup>12</sup> Let the shammashim each be faithful to his wife, managing his children and household well. <sup>13</sup> For those who serve well as shammashim gain good standing for themselves and much boldness in the trust that comes through Yeshua the Messiah.

<sup>14</sup> I hope to visit you soon; but I am writing these things <sup>15</sup> so that if I am delayed, you may know how one should behave in the household of God, which is the Messianic Community of the living God, the pillar and support of the truth. <sup>16</sup> Great beyond all question is the formerly hidden truth underlying our faith:

He was manifested physically and proved righteous spiritually,

seen by angels

and proclaimed among the nations, trusted throughout the world
and raised up in glory to heaven.

<sup>6</sup> If you present all this to the brothers, you will be serving the Messiah Yeshua well; it will show that you have digested the words of the faith and of the good teaching which you have followed. <sup>7</sup> But refuse godless bubbe-meises, and exercise yourself in godliness. <sup>8</sup> For although physical exercise does have some value, godliness is valuable for everything, since it holds promise both for the present life and for the life to come. <sup>9</sup> Here is a statement you can trust, one that fully deserves to be accepted <sup>10</sup> (indeed, it is for this that we toil and strive): we have our hope set on a living God who is the deliverer of all humanity, especially of those who trust.

younger women like sisters, with absolute purity.

<sup>3</sup> Show respect to widows who are really in need. <sup>4</sup> But if a widow has children or grandchildren, first let them learn to do their religious duty to their own family and thus repay some of the debt they owe their forebears, for this is what is acceptable in the sight of God. <sup>5</sup> Now the widow who is really in need, the one who has been left all alone, has set her hope on God and continues in petitions and prayers night and day. <sup>6</sup> But the one who is self-indulgent is already dead, even though she lives. <sup>7</sup> And instruct them about this, so that they will not be open to blame. <sup>8</sup> Moreover, anyone who does not provide for his own people, especially for his family, has disowned the faith and is worse than an unbeliever.

<sup>9</sup> Let a widow be enrolled on the list of widows only if she is more than sixty years old, was faithful to her husband, <sup>10</sup> and is known for her good deeds — as one who has reared her children well, showed hospitality, washed the feet of God’s people, helped those in trouble, and engaged in all kinds of good work.

<sup>11</sup> But refuse to enroll younger widows, for when they begin to feel natural passions that alienate them from the Messiah, they want to get married. <sup>12</sup> This brings them under condemnation for having set aside the trust they had at first. <sup>13</sup> Besides that, they learn to be idle, going around from house to house; and not only idle, but gossips and busybodies, saying things they shouldn’t. <sup>14</sup> Therefore, I would rather the young widows get married, have children and take charge of their homes, so as to give the opposition no occasion for slandering us. <sup>15</sup> For already some have turned astray to follow the Adversary.

<sup>16</sup> If any believing woman has relatives who are widows, she should provide relief for them — the congregation shouldn’t be burdened, so that it may help the widows who are really in need.

<sup>17</sup> The leaders who lead well should be considered worthy of double honor, especially those working hard at communicating the Word and at teaching. <sup>18</sup> For the Tanakh says, “You are not to muzzle an ox when it is treading out the grain,”<sup>b</sup> in other words, “The worker deserves his wages.”

<sup>19</sup> Never listen to any accusation against a leader unless it is supported by two or three witnesses.<sup>c</sup> <sup>20</sup> Rebuke before the whole assembly those leaders who continue sinning, as a warning to the others. <sup>21</sup> Before God, the Messiah Yeshua and the chosen angels, I solemnly charge you to observe these instructions, not pre-judging and not doing anything out of favoritism. <sup>22</sup> Do not be hasty in granting s'mikhah to anyone, and do not share in other people's sins — keep yourself pure.

<sup>23</sup> Stop drinking water; instead, use a little wine for the sake of your digestion and because of your frequent illnesses.

<sup>24</sup> The sins of some people are obvious and go ahead of them to judgment, but the sins of others follow afterwards. <sup>25</sup> Likewise, good deeds are obvious; and even when they are not, they can't stay hidden.

6 <sup>1</sup> Those who are under the yoke of slavery should regard their masters as worthy of full respect, so that the name of God and the teaching will not be brought into disrepute. <sup>2</sup> And those who have believing masters are not to show them less respect on the ground that they are brothers; on the contrary, they should serve all the more diligently, since those benefiting from their service are believers whom they love.

Teach and exhort people about these things. <sup>3</sup> If anyone teaches differently and does not agree to the sound precepts of our Lord Yeshua the Messiah and to the doctrine that is in keeping with godliness, <sup>4</sup> he is swollen with conceit and understands nothing. Instead, he has a morbid desire for controversies and word-battles, out of which come jealousy, dissension, insults, evil suspicions, <sup>5</sup> and constant wrangling among people whose minds no longer function properly and who have been deprived of the truth, so that they imagine that religion is a road to riches. <sup>6</sup> Now true religion does bring great riches, but only to those who are content with what they have. <sup>7</sup> For we have brought nothing into the world; and we can take nothing out of it; <sup>8</sup> so if we have food and clothing, we will be satisfied with these. <sup>9</sup> Furthermore, those whose goal is to be rich fall into temptation; they get trapped in many foolish and hurtful ambitions which plunge them into ruin and destruction. <sup>10</sup> For the love of money is a root of all the evils; because of this craving, some people have wandered away from the faith and pierced themselves to the heart with many pains.

<sup>11</sup> But you, as a man of God, flee from these things; and pursue righteousness, godliness, faithfulness, love, steadfastness, gentleness. <sup>12</sup> Fight the good fight of the faith, take hold of the eternal life to which you were called when you testified so well to your faith before many witnesses.

<sup>13</sup> I charge you before God, who gives life to all things, and before the Messiah Yeshua, who in his witness to Pontius Pilate gave the same good testimony, <sup>14</sup> to obey your commission spotlessly and irreproachably until our Lord Yeshua the Messiah appears. <sup>15</sup> His appearing will be brought about in its own time by the blessed and sole Sovereign, who is King of kings and Lord of lords, <sup>16</sup> who alone is immortal, who dwells in unapproachable light that no human being has ever seen or can see — to him be honor and eternal power. Amen.

<sup>17</sup> As for those who do have riches in this present world, charge them not to be proud and not to let their hopes rest on the uncertainties of riches but to rest their hopes on God, who richly provides us with all things for our enjoyment. <sup>18</sup> Charge them to do good, to be rich in good deeds, to be generous and ready to share. <sup>19</sup> In this way they will treasure up for themselves a good foundation for the future, so that they may lay hold of the real life.

<sup>20</sup> Oh, Timothy! Keep safe what has been entrusted to you. Turn away from the ungodly babblings and the argumentative opposition of what is falsely called “knowledge.” <sup>21</sup> For many who promise this “knowledge” have missed the mark, as far as the faith is concerned. Grace be with you.

The Second Letter from Yeshua's Emissary Sha'ul (Paul) to Timothy

2 TIMOTHY

1 <sup>1</sup> From: Sha'ul, an emissary of the Messiah Yeshua by God's will, which holds forth a promise of life through being united with Messiah Yeshua

<sup>2</sup> To: Timothy, my dear son:

Grace, mercy and shalom from God the Father and the Messiah Yeshua, our Lord.

<sup>3</sup> I give thanks to God, whom, like my forbears, I worship with a clean conscience, as I regularly remember you in my prayers night and day. <sup>4</sup> I am reminded of your tears, and I long to see you, so that I might be filled with joy. <sup>5</sup> I recall your sincere trust, the same trust that your grandmother Lois and your mother Eunice had first; and I am convinced that you too now have this trust.

<sup>6</sup> For this reason, I am reminding you to fan the flame of God's gift, which you received through s'mikhah from me. <sup>7</sup> For God gave us a Spirit who produces not timidity, but power, love and self-discipline. <sup>8</sup> So don't be ashamed of bearing testimony to our Lord or to me, his prisoner. On the contrary, accept your share in suffering disgrace for the sake of the Good News. God will give you the strength for it, <sup>9</sup> since he delivered us and called us to a life of holiness as his people. It was not because of our deeds, but because of his own purpose and the grace which he gave to us who are united with the Messiah Yeshua. He did this before the beginning of time, <sup>10</sup> but made it public only now through the appearing of our Deliverer, the Messiah Yeshua, who abolished death and, through the Good News, revealed life and immortality.

<sup>11</sup> It was for this Good News that I was appointed a proclaimer, emissary and teacher of the Goyim; <sup>12</sup> and this is why I suffer as I do. But I am not ashamed, because I know him in whom I have put my trust, and I am persuaded that he can keep safe until that Day what he has entrusted to me.

<sup>13</sup> Follow the pattern of the sound teachings you have heard from me, with trust and the love which is yours in the Messiah Yeshua. <sup>14</sup> Keep safe the great treasure that has been entrusted to you, with the help of the Ruach HaKodesh, who lives in us.

<sup>15</sup> You know that everyone in the province of Asia turned away from me, including Phygelus and Ermogenes. <sup>16</sup> May the Lord show mercy to the household of Onesiphorus, because he was often a comfort to me and was not ashamed of my being in prison. <sup>17</sup> On the contrary, when he came to Rome, he diligently searched for me and found me. <sup>18</sup> May the Lord grant it to him to find mercy from ADONAI on that Day. And you know very well how much he helped me in Ephesus.

2 <sup>1</sup> So then, you, my son, be empowered by the grace that comes from the Messiah Yeshua. <sup>2</sup> And the things you heard from me, which were supported by many witnesses, these things commit to faithful people, such as will be competent to teach others also. <sup>3</sup> Accept your share in suffering disgrace as a good soldier of the Messiah Yeshua. <sup>4</sup> No soldier on duty gets involved with civilian affairs, since he has to please his commanding officer. <sup>5</sup> Also an athlete can't win a contest unless he competes according to the rules. <sup>6</sup> The farmer who has done the hard work should be the first to receive a share of the harvest. <sup>7</sup> Think about what I am saying, for the Lord will enable you to understand everything.

<sup>8</sup> Remember Yeshua the Messiah, who was raised from the dead, who was a descendant of David. This is the Good News I proclaim, <sup>9</sup> and for which I am suffering to the point of being bound in chains — but the Word of God is not bound in chains! <sup>10</sup> Why do I persevere through it all? For the sake of those who have been chosen, so that they too may obtain the deliverance that comes through the Messiah Yeshua, with eternal glory. <sup>11</sup> Here is a statement you can trust:

If we have died with him,

we will also live with him.

<sup>12</sup>

If we persevere,

we will also rule with him

If we disown him,

he will also disown us.

<sup>13</sup>

If we are faithless,

he remains faithful,

for he cannot disown himself.

<sup>14</sup> Keep reminding people of this, and charge them solemnly before the Lord not to engage in word-battles. They accomplish nothing useful and are a catastrophe for the hearers! <sup>15</sup> Do all you can to present yourself to God as someone worthy of his approval, as a worker with no need to be ashamed, because he deals straightforwardly with the Word of the Truth. <sup>16</sup> But keep away from godless babbling, for those who engage in it will only become more ungodly, <sup>17</sup> and their teaching will eat away at people like gangrene. Hymenaeus and Philetus are among these; <sup>18</sup> they have missed the mark, as far as the truth is concerned, by saying that our resurrection has already taken place; and they are overturning some people's faith. <sup>19</sup> Nevertheless, God's firm foundation stands, stamped with these words:

“The Lord knows his own,”<sup>a</sup>

and,

“Let everyone who claims he belongs to the Lord stand apart from wrongdoing.”<sup>b</sup>

<sup>20</sup> In a large house there are dishes and pots not only of gold and silver, but also of wood and clay. That is, some are meant for honorable use and some for dishonorable. <sup>21</sup> If a person keeps himself free of defilement by the latter, he will be a vessel set aside for honorable use by the master of the house and ready for every kind of good work. <sup>22</sup> So, flee the passions of youth; and, along with those who call on the Lord from a pure heart, pursue righteousness, faithfulness, love and peace. <sup>23</sup> But stay away from stupid and ignorant controversies — you know that they lead to fights, <sup>24</sup> and a slave of the Lord shouldn't fight. On the contrary, he should be kind to everyone, a good teacher, and not resentful when mistreated. <sup>25</sup> Also he should be gentle as he corrects his opponents. For God may perhaps grant them the opportunity to turn from their sins, acquire full knowledge of the truth, <sup>26</sup> come to their senses and escape the trap of the Adversary, after having been captured alive by him to do his will.

Stay away from these people! <sup>6</sup> For some of them worm their way into homes and get control of weak-willed women who are heaped with sins and swayed by various impulses, <sup>7</sup> who are always learning but never able to come to full knowledge of the truth. <sup>8</sup> In the same way as Jannes and Jambres opposed Moshe, so also these people oppose the truth. They are people with corrupted minds, whose trust cannot pass the test. <sup>9</sup> However, they won't get very far; because everyone will see how stupid they are, just as happened with those two.

<sup>10</sup> But you, you have closely followed my teaching, conduct, purpose in life, trust, steadfastness, love and perseverance — <sup>11</sup> as well as the persecutions and sufferings that came my way in Antioch, Iconium and Lystra. What persecutions I endured! Yet the Lord rescued me from all of them. <sup>12</sup> And indeed, all who want to live a godly life united with the Messiah Yeshua will be persecuted, <sup>13</sup> while evil people and impostors will go from bad to worse, deceiving others and being deceived themselves.

<sup>14</sup> But you, continue in what you have learned and have become convinced of, recalling the people from whom you learned it; <sup>15</sup> and recalling too how from childhood you have known the Holy Scriptures, which can give you the wisdom that leads to deliverance through trusting in Yeshua the Messiah. <sup>16</sup> All Scripture is God-breathed and is valuable for teaching the truth, convicting of sin, correcting faults and training in right living; <sup>17</sup> thus anyone who belongs to God may be fully equipped for every good work.

4 <sup>1</sup> I solemnly charge you before God and the Messiah Yeshua, who will judge the living and the dead when he appears and establishes his Kingdom: <sup>2</sup> proclaim the Word! Be on hand with it whether the time seems right or not. Convict, censure and exhort with unfailing patience and with teaching.

<sup>3</sup> For the time is coming when people will not have patience for sound teaching, but will cater to their passions and gather around themselves teachers who say whatever their ears itch to hear. <sup>4</sup> Yes, they will stop listening to the truth, but will turn aside to follow myths.

<sup>5</sup> But you, remain steady in every situation, endure suffering, do the work that a proclaimer of the Good News should, and do everything your service to God requires.

<sup>6</sup> For as for me, I am already being poured out on the altar; yes, the time for my departure has arrived. <sup>7</sup> I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. <sup>8</sup> All that awaits me now is the crown of righteousness which the Lord, “the Righteous Judge,” will award to me on that Day — and not only to me, but also to all who have longed for him to appear.

<sup>9</sup> Do your best to come to me soon. <sup>10</sup> For Demas, because he has fallen in love with this present world, has deserted me and gone off to Thessalonica; Crescens has gone to Galatia; Titus has gone to Dalmatia — <sup>11</sup> only Luke is with me. Take Mark, and bring him with you, because he is a very useful helper in my work. <sup>12</sup> But Tychicus I have sent to Ephesus. <sup>13</sup> When you come, bring the coat which I left with Carpus in Troas, also the scrolls and especially the parchments. <sup>14</sup> Alexander the metalworker did me a great deal of harm; the Lord will render to him according to his works; <sup>15</sup> and you should guard against him, because he bitterly opposed everything we said.

<sup>16</sup> The first time I had to present my defense, no one stood by me; everyone deserted me — may it not be counted against them. <sup>17</sup> But the Lord stood by me and gave me power to proclaim the full message for all the Goyim to hear, and I was rescued from the lion’s mouth. <sup>18</sup> The Lord will rescue me from every evil attack and bring me safely into his heavenly Kingdom. To him be the glory forever and ever. Amen.

<sup>22</sup> The Lord be with your spirit. Grace be with you.

The Letter from Yeshua's Emissary Sha'ul (Paul) to Titus

TITUS

1 <sup>1</sup> From: Sha'ul, God's slave and an emissary of Yeshua the Messiah, sent to promote among God's chosen people the trust and knowledge of truth which lead to godliness <sup>2</sup> and which are based on the certain hope of eternal life. God, who does not lie, promised that life before the beginning of time <sup>3</sup> but made public this word of his in its own season through a proclamation with which I have been entrusted by order of God, our Deliverer.

Grace and shalom from God the Father and from the Messiah Yeshua, our Deliverer.

<sup>5</sup> The reason I left you in Crete was so that you might attend to the matters still not in order and appoint congregation leaders in each city — those were my instructions. <sup>6</sup> A leader must be blameless, husband to one wife, with believing children who do not have a reputation for being wild or rebellious. <sup>7</sup> For an overseer, as someone entrusted with God's affairs, must be blameless — he must not be self-willed or quicktempered, he must not drink excessively, get into fights or be greedy for dishonest gain. <sup>8</sup> On the contrary, he must be hospitable, devoted to good, sober-mindedness, uprightness, holiness and self-control. <sup>9</sup> He must hold firmly to the trustworthy Message that agrees with the doctrine; so that by his sound teaching he will be able to exhort and encourage, and also to refute those who speak against it.

<sup>10</sup> For there are many, especially from the Circumcision faction, who are rebellious, who delude people's minds with their worthless and misleading talk. <sup>11</sup> They must be silenced; because they are upsetting entire households by teaching what they have no business teaching, and doing it for the sake of dishonest gain. <sup>12</sup> Even one of the Cretans' own prophets has said, "Cretans are always liars, evil brutes, lazy gluttons" — <sup>13</sup> and it's true! For this reason, you must be severe when you rebuke those who have followed this false teaching, so that they will come to be sound in their trust <sup>14</sup> and no longer pay attention to Judaistic myths or to the commands of people who reject the truth.

<sup>15</sup> To all who are themselves pure, everything is pure. But to those who are defiled and without trust, nothing is pure — even their minds and consciences have been defiled. <sup>16</sup> They claim to know God, but with their actions they deny him. They are detestable and disobedient; they have proved themselves unfit to do anything good.

2 <sup>1</sup> But you, explain what kind of behavior goes along with sound teaching.

<sup>2</sup> Tell the older men to be serious, sensible, self-controlled and sound in their trust, love and perseverance.

<sup>3</sup> Likewise, tell the older women to behave the way people leading a holy life should. They shouldn't be slanderers or slaves to excessive drinking. They should teach what is good, <sup>4</sup> thus training the younger women to love their husbands and children, <sup>5</sup> to be self-controlled and pure, to take good care of their homes and submit to their husbands. In this way, God's message will not be brought into disgrace.

<sup>6</sup> Similarly, urge the young men to be self-controlled, <sup>7</sup> and in everything set them an example yourself by doing what is good. When you are teaching, have integrity and be serious; <sup>8</sup> let everything you say be so wholesome that an opponent will be put to shame because he will have nothing bad to say about us.

<sup>9</sup> Tell slaves to submit to their masters in everything, to give satisfaction without talking back <sup>10</sup> or pilfering. On the contrary, they should demonstrate complete faithfulness always, so that in every way they will make the teaching about God our Deliverer more attractive.

<sup>11</sup> For God's grace, which brings deliverance, has appeared to all people. <sup>12</sup> It teaches us to renounce godlessness and worldly pleasures, and to live self-controlled, upright and godly lives now, in this age; <sup>13</sup> while continuing to expect the blessed fulfillment of our certain hope, which is the appearing of the Sh'khinah of our great God and the appearing of our Deliverer, Yeshua the Messiah. <sup>14</sup> He gave himself up on our behalf in order to free us from all violation of Torah and purify for himself a people who would be his own, eager to do good.

<sup>15</sup> These are the things you should say. Encourage and rebuke with full authority; don't let anyone look down on you.

3 <sup>1</sup> Remind people to submit to the government and its officials, to obey them, to be ready to do any honorable kind of work, <sup>2</sup> to slander no one, to avoid quarrelling, to be friendly, and to behave gently towards everyone.

<sup>3</sup> For at one time, we too were foolish and disobedient, deceived and enslaved by a variety of passions and pleasures. We spent our lives in evil and envy; people hated us, and we hated each other. <sup>4</sup> But when the kindness and love for mankind of God our Deliverer was revealed, <sup>5</sup> he delivered us. It was not on the ground of any righteous deeds we had done, but on the ground of his own mercy. He did it by means of the mikveh of rebirth and the renewal brought about by the Ruach HaKodesh, <sup>6</sup>whom he poured out on us generously through Yeshua the Messiah, our Deliverer. <sup>7</sup> He did it so that by his grace we might come to be considered righteous by God and become heirs, with the certain hope of eternal life. <sup>8</sup> You can trust what I have just said, and I want you to speak with confidence about these things, so that those who have put their trust in God may apply themselves to doing good deeds. These are both good in themselves and valuable to the community.

<sup>9</sup> But avoid stupid controversies, genealogies, quarrels and fights about the Torah; because they are worthless and futile. <sup>10</sup> Warn a divisive person once, then a second time; and after that, have nothing more to do with him. <sup>11</sup> You may be sure that such a person has been perverted and is sinning: he stands self-condemned.

<sup>12</sup> When I send Artemas or Tychicus to you, do your best to come to me in Nicopolis, for I have decided to spend the winter there. <sup>13</sup> Do your best to help Zenas the Torah expert and Apollos with their arrangements for travelling, so that they will lack nothing. <sup>14</sup> And have our people learn to apply themselves to doing good deeds that meet genuine needs, so that they will not be unproductive.

<sup>15</sup> All who are with me send you greetings. Give our greetings to our friends in the faith.

Grace be with you all.

The Letter from Yeshua's Emissary Sha'ul (Paul) to Philemon

PHILEMON

To: Our dear fellow-worker Philemon, <sup>2</sup> along with sister Apphia, our fellow-soldier Archippus and the congregation that gathers in your home:

<sup>3</sup> Grace and shalom to you from God our Father and the Lord Yeshua the Messiah.

<sup>4</sup> I thank my God every time I mention you in my prayers, Philemon, <sup>5</sup> for I am hearing about your love and commitment to the Lord Yeshua and to all God's people. <sup>6</sup> I pray that the fellowship based on your commitment will produce full understanding of every good thing that is ours in union with the Messiah. <sup>7</sup> For your love has given me much joy and encouragement. Brother, you have refreshed the hearts of God's people.

<sup>8</sup> Therefore, I would not hesitate, in union with the Messiah, to direct you to do the thing you ought to do. <sup>9</sup> But since I, Sha'ul, am the kind of person I am, an old man and now for the Messiah Yeshua's sake a prisoner besides, I prefer to appeal to you on the basis of love. <sup>10</sup> My request to you concerns my son, of whom I became the father while here in prison, Onesimus. <sup>11</sup> His name means "useful," and although he was once useless to you, he has now become most useful — not only to you but also to me; <sup>12</sup> so that in returning him to you I am sending a part of my very heart. <sup>13</sup> I would dearly have loved to keep him with me, in order for him to serve me in your place while I am in prison because of the Good News. <sup>14</sup> But I didn't want to do anything without your consent, so that the good you do for me may be voluntary and not forced.

<sup>15</sup> Perhaps the reason he was separated from you for a brief period was so that you could have him back forever, <sup>16</sup> no longer as a slave but as more than a slave, as a dear brother. And that he is, especially to me. But how much dearer he must be to you, both humanly and in union with the Lord!

<sup>17</sup> So if you are in fellowship with me, receive him as you would me. <sup>18</sup> And if he has wronged you in any way or owes you anything, charge it to me.

(I won't mention, of course, that you owe me your very life.) <sup>20</sup> Yes, brother, please do me this favor in the Lord; refresh my heart in the Messiah.

<sup>21</sup> Trusting that you will respond positively, I write knowing that you will indeed do more than I am asking.

<sup>22</sup> One more thing: please get a room ready for me. For I hope that through the prayers of you all God will give me a chance to visit you.

Messianic Jews

HEBREWS

1 <sup>1</sup> In days gone by, God spoke in many and varied ways to the Fathers through the prophets. <sup>2</sup> But now, in the acharit-hayamim, he has spoken to us through his Son, to whom he has given ownership of everything and through whom he created the universe. <sup>3</sup> This Son is the radiance of the Sh'khinah, the very expression of God's essence, upholding all that exists by his powerful word; and after he had, through himself, made purification for sins, he sat down at the right hand of HaG'dulah BaM'romim.<sup>a</sup>

<sup>4</sup> So he has become much better than angels, and the name God has given him is superior to theirs. <sup>5</sup> For to which of the angels did God ever say,

“You are my Son;

today I have become your Father”?<sup>b</sup>

Also, God never said of any angel,

“I will be his Father,

and he will be my Son.”<sup>c</sup>

<sup>6</sup> And again, when God brings his Firstborn into the world, he says,

“Let all God's angels worship him.”<sup>d</sup>

<sup>7</sup> Indeed, when speaking of angels, he says,

“ . . . who makes his angels winds

and his servants fiery flames”;<sup>e</sup>

<sup>8</sup> but to the Son, he says,

“Your throne, O God, will last forever and ever;

you rule your Kingdom with a scepter of equity;

<sup>9</sup> you have loved righteousness and hated wickedness.

Therefore, O God, your God has anointed you

with the oil of joy in preference to your companions”;<sup>f</sup>

<sup>10</sup> and,

“In the beginning, ADONAI, you laid the foundations of the earth;

heaven is the work of your hands.

<sup>11</sup> They will vanish, but you will remain;

like clothing, they will all grow old;

<sup>12</sup> and you will fold them up like a coat.

Yes, they will be changed like clothing,

but you remain the same,

your years will never end.”<sup>g</sup>

<sup>13</sup> Moreover, to which of the angels has he ever said,

“Sit at my right hand

until I make your enemies a footstool for your feet”?<sup>h</sup>

<sup>14</sup> Aren't they all merely spirits who serve, sent out to help those whom God will deliver?

2 <sup>1</sup> Therefore, we must pay much more careful heed to the things we have heard, so that we will not drift away. <sup>2</sup> For if the word God spoke through angels became binding, so that every violation and act of disobedience received its just deserts in full measure, <sup>3</sup> then how will we escape if we ignore such a great deliverance? This deliverance, which was first declared by the Lord, was confirmed to us by those who heard him; <sup>4</sup> while God also bore witness to it with various signs, wonders and miracles, and with gifts of the Ruach HaKodesh which he distributed as he chose.

<sup>5</sup> For it was not to angels that God subjected the 'olam haba — which is what we are talking about. <sup>6</sup> And there is a place where someone has given this solemn testimony:

“What is mere man, that you concern yourself with him?

or the son of man, that you watch over him with such care?

<sup>7</sup> You made him a little lower than the angels,

you crowned him with glory and honor,

In subjecting everything to him, he left nothing unsubjected to him. However, at present, we don't see everything subjected to him — at least, not yet. <sup>9</sup> But we do see Yeshua — who indeed was made for a little while lower than the angels — now crowned with glory and honor because he suffered death, so that by God's grace he might taste death for all humanity.

<sup>10</sup> For in bringing many sons to glory, it was only fitting that God, the Creator and Preserver of everything, should bring the Initiator of their deliverance to the goal through sufferings. <sup>11</sup> For both Yeshua, who sets people apart for God, and the ones being set apart have a common origin — this is why he is not ashamed to call them brothers <sup>12</sup> when he says,

“I will proclaim your name to my brothers;
in the midst of the congregation I will sing your praise.”<sup>j</sup>

“I will put my trust in him, . . .”<sup>k</sup>

and then it goes on,

“Here I am, along with the children God has given me.”<sup>l</sup>

<sup>14</sup> Therefore, since the children share a common physical nature as human beings, he became like them and shared that same human nature; so that by his death he might render ineffective the one who had power over death (that is, the Adversary) <sup>15</sup> and thus set free those who had been in bondage all their lives because of their fear of death.

<sup>16</sup> Indeed, it is obvious that he does not take hold of angels to help them; on the contrary,

“He takes hold of the seed of Avraham.”<sup>m</sup>

<sup>17</sup> This is why he had to become like his brothers in every respect — so that he might become a merciful and faithful cohen gadol in the service of God, making a kapparah for the sins of the people. <sup>18</sup> For since he himself suffered death when he was put to the test, he is able to help those who are being tested now.

3 <sup>1</sup> Therefore, brothers whom God has set apart, who share in the call from heaven, think carefully about Yeshua, whom we acknowledge publicly as God’s emissary and as cohen gadol. <sup>2</sup> He was faithful to God, who appointed him; just as

“Moshe was faithful in all God’s house.”<sup>n</sup>

<sup>3</sup> But Yeshua deserves more honor than Moshe, just as the builder of the house deserves more honor than the house. <sup>4</sup> For every house is built by someone, but the one who built everything is God.

<sup>5</sup> Also, Moshe was faithful in all God's house, as a servant giving witness to things God would divulge later. <sup>6</sup> But the Messiah, as Son, was faithful over God's house. And we are that house of his, provided we hold firmly to the courage and confidence inspired by what we hope for.

<sup>7</sup> Therefore, as the Ruach HaKodesh says,

“Today, if you hear God's voice,

<sup>8</sup> don't harden your hearts, as you did in the Bitter Quarrel

on that day in the Wilderness when you put God to the test.

<sup>9</sup> Yes, your fathers put me to the test;

they challenged me, and they saw my work for forty years!

<sup>10</sup> Therefore, I was disgusted with that generation —

I said, ‘Their hearts are always going astray,

they have not understood how I do things’;

<sup>11</sup> in my anger, I swore

that they would not enter my rest.”<sup>2</sup>

<sup>12</sup> Watch out, brothers, so that there will not be in any one of you an evil heart lacking trust, which could lead you to apostatize from the living God!

<sup>13</sup> Instead, keep exhorting each other every day, as long as it is called Today, so that none of you will become hardened by the deceit of sin. <sup>14</sup> For we have become sharers in the Messiah, provided, however, that we hold firmly to the conviction we began with, right through until the goal is reached.

<sup>15</sup> Now where it says,

don’t harden your hearts, as you did in the Bitter Quarrel,”<sup>16</sup>

<sup>16</sup> who were the people who, after they heard, quarreled so bitterly? All those whom Moshe brought out of Egypt. <sup>17</sup> And with whom was God disgusted for forty years? Those who sinned — yes, they fell dead in the Wilderness! <sup>18</sup> And to whom was it that he swore that they would not enter his rest? Those who were disobedient. <sup>19</sup> So we see that they were unable to enter because of lack of trust.

4 <sup>1</sup> Therefore, let us be terrified of the possibility that, even though the promise of entering his rest remains, any one of you might be judged to have fallen short of it; <sup>2</sup> for Good News has also been proclaimed to us, just as it was to them. But the message they heard didn’t do them any good, because those who heard it did not combine it with trust. <sup>3</sup> For it is we who have trusted who enter the rest.

It is just as he said,

“And in my anger, I swore
that they would not enter my rest.”<sup>4</sup>

He swore this even though his works have been in existence since the founding of the universe. <sup>4</sup> For there is a place where it is said, concerning the seventh day,

“And God rested on the seventh day from all his works.”<sup>5</sup>

<sup>5</sup> And once more, our present text says,

“They will not enter my rest.”<sup>6</sup>

<sup>6</sup> Therefore, since it still remains for some to enter it, and those who received the Good News earlier did not enter, <sup>7</sup> he again fixes a certain day,

“Today,” saying through David, so long afterwards, in the text already given,

“Today, if you hear God’s voice, don’t harden your hearts.”<sup>t</sup>

<sup>8</sup> For if Y’hoshua had given them rest, God would not have spoken later of another “day.”

<sup>9</sup> So there remains a Shabbat-keeping for God’s people. <sup>10</sup> For the one who has entered God’s rest has also rested from his own works, as God did from his. <sup>11</sup> Therefore, let us do our best to enter that rest; so that no one will fall short because of the same kind of disobedience.

<sup>12</sup> See, the Word of God is alive! It is at work and is sharper than any double-edged sword — it cuts right through to where soul meets spirit and joints meet marrow, and it is quick to judge the inner reflections and attitudes of the heart. <sup>13</sup> Before God, nothing created is hidden, but all things are naked and open to the eyes of him to whom we must render an account.

<sup>14</sup> Therefore, since we have a great cohen gadol who has passed through to the highest heaven, Yeshua, the Son of God, let us hold firmly to what we acknowledge as true. <sup>15</sup> For we do not have a cohen gadol unable to empathize with our weaknesses; since in every respect he was tempted just as we are, the only difference being that he did not sin. <sup>16</sup> Therefore, let us confidently approach the throne from which God gives grace, so that we may receive mercy and find grace in our time of need.

5 <sup>1</sup> For every cohen gadol taken from among men is appointed to act on people’s behalf with regard to things concerning God, to offer gifts and sacrifices for sins. <sup>2</sup> He can deal gently with the ignorant and with those who go astray, since he too is subject to weakness. <sup>3</sup> Also, because of this weakness, he has to offer sacrifices for his own sins, as well as those of the people. <sup>4</sup> And no one takes this honor upon himself, rather, he is called by God, just as Aharon was.

<sup>5</sup> So neither did the Messiah glorify himself to become cohen gadol; rather, it was the One who said to him,

“You are my Son;

today I have become your Father.”<sup>u</sup>

<sup>6</sup> Also, as he says in another place,

“You are a cohen forever,

to be compared with Malki-Tzedek.”<sup>v</sup>

<sup>7</sup> During Yeshua’s life on earth, he offered up prayers and petitions, crying aloud and shedding tears, to the One who had the power to deliver him from death; and he was heard because of his godliness. <sup>8</sup> Even though he was the Son, he learned obedience through his sufferings. <sup>9</sup> And after he had been brought to the goal, he became the source of eternal deliverance to all who obey him, <sup>10</sup> since he had been proclaimed by God as a cohen gadol to be compared with Malki-Tzedek.

<sup>11</sup> We have much to say about this subject, but it is hard to explain, because you have become sluggish in understanding. <sup>12</sup> For although by this time you ought to be teachers, you need someone to teach you the very first principles of God’s Word all over again! You need milk, not solid food! <sup>13</sup> Anyone who has to drink milk is still a baby, without experience in applying the Word about righteousness. <sup>14</sup> But solid food is for the mature, for those whose faculties have been trained by continuous exercise to distinguish good from evil.

<sup>4</sup> For when people have once been enlightened, tasted the heavenly gift, become sharers in the Ruach HaKodesh, <sup>5</sup> and tasted the goodness of God’s Word and the powers of the ‘olam haba — <sup>6</sup> and then have fallen away — it is impossible to renew them so that they turn from their sin, as long as for themselves they keep executing the Son of God on the stake all over again and keep holding him up to public contempt. <sup>7</sup> For the land that soaks up frequent rains and then brings forth a crop useful to its owners receives a blessing from God; <sup>8</sup> but if it keeps producing thorns and thistles, it fails the test and is close to being cursed; <sup>w</sup> in the end, it will be burned.

<sup>9</sup> Now even though we speak this way, dear friends, we are confident that you have the better things that come with being delivered. <sup>10</sup> For God is not so unfair as to forget your work and the love you showed for him in your past service to his people — and in your present service too. <sup>11</sup> However, we want each one of you to keep showing the same diligence right up to the end, when your hope will be realized; <sup>12</sup> so that you will not become sluggish, but will be imitators of those who by their trust and patience are receiving what has been promised.

<sup>13</sup> For when God made his promise to Avraham, he swore an oath to do what he had promised; and since there was no one greater than himself for him to swear by, he swore by himself <sup>x</sup> <sup>14</sup> and said,

“I will certainly bless you, and I will certainly give you many descendants”; <sup>x</sup>

<sup>15</sup> and so, after waiting patiently, Avraham saw the promise fulfilled. <sup>16</sup> Now people swear oaths by someone greater than themselves, and confirmation by an oath puts an end to all dispute. <sup>17</sup> Therefore, when God wanted to demonstrate still more convincingly the unchangeable character of his intentions to those who were to receive what he had promised, he added an oath to the promise; <sup>18</sup> so that through two unchangeable things, in neither of which God could lie, we, who have fled to take a firm hold on the hope set before us, would be strongly encouraged. <sup>19</sup> We have this hope as a sure and safe anchor for ourselves, a hope that goes right on through to what is inside the parokhet, <sup>20</sup> where a forerunner has entered on our behalf, namely, Yeshua, who has become a cohen gadol forever, to be compared with Malki-Tzedek. <sup>z</sup>

Now first of all, by translation of his name, he is “king of righteousness”; and then he is also king of Shalem, which means “king of peace.”

<sup>3</sup> There is no record of his father, mother, ancestry, birth or death; rather, like the Son of God, he continues as a cohen for all time.

<sup>4</sup> Just think how great he was! Even the Patriarch Avraham gave him a tenth of the choicest spoils. <sup>5</sup> Now the descendants of Levi who became cohanim have a commandment in the Torah to take a tenth of the income of the people, that is, from their own brothers, despite the fact that they too are descended from Avraham. <sup>6</sup>But Malki-Tzedek, even though he was not descended from Levi, took a tenth from Avraham.

Also, he blessed Avraham, the man who received God’s promises; <sup>7</sup> and it is beyond all dispute that the one who blesses has higher status than the one who receives the blessing.

<sup>8</sup> Moreover, in the case of the cohanim, the tenth is received by men who die; while in the case of Malki-Tzedek, it is received by someone who is testified to be still alive.

<sup>9</sup> One might go even further and say that Levi, who himself receives tenths, paid a tenth through Avraham; <sup>10</sup> inasmuch as he was still in his ancestor Avraham’s body when Malki-Tzedek met him.

<sup>11</sup> Therefore, if it had been possible to reach the goal through the system of cohanim derived from Levi (since in connection with it, the people were given the Torah), what need would there have been for another, different kind of cohen, the one spoken of as to be compared with Malki-Tzedek and not to be compared with Aharon? <sup>12</sup> For if the system of cohanim is transformed, there must of necessity occur a transformation of Torah. <sup>13</sup> The one about whom these things are said belongs to another tribe, from which no one has ever served at the altar; <sup>14</sup> for everyone knows that our Lord arose out of Y’hudah, and that Moshe said nothing about this tribe when he spoke about cohanim.

<sup>15</sup> It becomes even clearer if a “different kind of cohen,” one like Malki-Tzedek, arises, <sup>16</sup> one who became a cohen not by virtue of a rule in the Torah concerning physical descent, but by virtue of the power of an indestructible life. <sup>17</sup> For it is stated,

“You are a cohen FOREVER,

to be compared with Malki-Tzedek.”<sup>b</sup>

<sup>18</sup> Thus, on the one hand, the earlier rule is set aside because of its weakness and inefficacy <sup>19</sup> (for the Torah did not bring anything to the goal); and, on the other hand, a hope of something better is introduced, through which we are drawing near to God.

<sup>20</sup> What is more, God swore an oath. For no oath was sworn in connection with those who become cohanim now; <sup>21</sup> but Yeshua became a cohen by the oath which God swore when he said to him,

“A<sub>DONAI</sub> has sworn and will not change his mind,

‘You are a cohen forever.’”<sup>22</sup>

<sup>23</sup> Moreover, the present cohanim are many in number, because they are prevented by death from continuing in office. <sup>24</sup> But because he lives forever, his position as cohen does not pass on to someone else; <sup>25</sup> and consequently, he is totally able to deliver those who approach God through him; since he is alive forever and thus forever able to intercede on their behalf.

<sup>26</sup> This is the kind of cohen gadol that meets our need — holy, without evil, without stain, set apart from sinners and raised higher than the heavens; <sup>27</sup> one who does not have the daily necessity, like the other cohanim g’dolim, of offering up sacrifices first for their own sins and only then for those of the people; because he offered one sacrifice, once and for all, by offering up himself. <sup>28</sup> For the Torah appoints as cohanim g’dolim men who have weakness; but the text which speaks about the swearing of the oath, a text written later than the Torah, appoints a Son who has been brought to the goal forever.

8 <sup>1</sup> Here is the whole point of what we have been saying: we do have just such a cohen gadol as has been described. And he does sit at the right hand of *HaG’dulah in heaven.<sup>2</sup> There he serves in the Holy Place, that is, in the true Tent of Meeting, the one erected not by human beings but by A<sub>DONAI</sub>.

<sup>3</sup> For every cohen gadol is appointed to offer both gifts and sacrifices; so this cohen gadol too has to have something he can offer. <sup>4</sup> Now if he were on earth, he wouldn't be a cohen at all, since there already are cohanim offering the gifts required by the Torah. <sup>5</sup> But what they are serving is only a copy and shadow of the heavenly original; for when Moshe was about to erect the Tent, God warned him, “See to it that you make everything according to the pattern you were shown on the mountain.”<sup>ε</sup>

<sup>6</sup> But now the work Yeshua has been given to do is far superior to theirs, just as the covenant he mediates is better. For this covenant has been given as Torah on the basis of better promises. <sup>7</sup> Indeed, if the first covenant had not given ground for faultfinding, there would have been no need for a second one. <sup>8</sup> For God does find fault with the people when he says,

“‘See! The days are coming,’ says ADONAI,

‘when I will establish

over the house of Isra’el and over the house of Y’hudah

a new covenant.

<sup>9</sup> “‘It will not be like the covenant

which I made with their fathers

on the day when I took them by their hand

and led them forth out of the land of Egypt;

because they, for their part,

did not remain faithful to my covenant;

so I, for my part,

stopped concerning myself with them,’

says ADONAI.

10

“For this is the covenant which I will make with the house of Isra’el after those days,’
says A<sub>DONAI</sub>:

‘I will put my Torah in their minds and write it on their hearts;
I will be their God,
and they will be my people.

11

“None of them will teach his fellow-citizen or his brother, saying, “Know A<sub>DONAI</sub>!”
For all will know me,
from the least of them to the greatest,

12

because I will be merciful toward their wickednesses
and remember their sins no more.”<sup>f</sup>

<sup>13</sup> By using the term, “new,” he has made the first covenant “old”; and something being made old, something in the process of aging, is on its way to vanishing altogether.

9 <sup>1</sup> Now the first covenant had both regulations for worship and a Holy Place here on earth. <sup>2</sup> A tent was set up, the outer one, which was called the Holy Place; in it were the menorah, the table and the Bread of the Presence. <sup>3</sup> Behind the second parokhet was a tent called the Holiest Place, <sup>4</sup> which had the golden altar for burning incense and the Ark of the Covenant, entirely covered with gold. In the Ark were the gold jar containing the man, Aharon’s rod that sprouted and the stone Tablets of the Covenant; <sup>5</sup> and above it were the k’ruvim representing the Sh’khinah, casting their shadow on the lid of the Ark — but now is not the time to discuss these things in detail.

<sup>6</sup> With things so arranged, the cohanim go into the outer tent all the time to discharge their duties; <sup>7</sup> but only the cohen hagadol enters the inner one; and he goes in only once a year, and he must always bring blood, which he offers both for himself and for the sins committed in ignorance by the people. <sup>8</sup> By this arrangement, the Ruach HaKodesh showed that so long as the first Tent had standing, the way into the Holiest Place was still closed. <sup>9</sup> This symbolizes the present age and indicates that the conscience of the person performing the service cannot be brought to the goal by the gifts and sacrifices he offers. <sup>10</sup> For they involve only food and drink and various ceremonial washings — regulations concerning the outward life, imposed until the time for God to reshape the whole structure.

<sup>11</sup> But when the Messiah appeared as cohen gadol of the good things that are happening already, then, through the greater and more perfect Tent which is not man-made (that is, it is not of this created world), <sup>12</sup> he entered the Holiest Place once and for all.

And he entered not by means of the blood of goats and calves, but by means of his own blood, thus setting people free forever. <sup>13</sup> For if sprinkling ceremonially unclean persons with the blood of goats and bulls and the ashes of a heifer restores their outward purity; <sup>14</sup> then how much more the blood of the Messiah, who, through the eternal Spirit, offered himself to God as a sacrifice without blemish, will purify our conscience from works that lead to death, so that we can serve the living God!

<sup>15</sup> It is because of this death that he is mediator of a new covenant [or will].<sup>9</sup> Because a death has occurred which sets people free from the transgressions committed under the first covenant, those who have been called may receive the promised eternal inheritance. <sup>16</sup> For where there is a will, there must necessarily be produced evidence of its maker's death, <sup>17</sup> since a will goes into effect only upon death; it never has force while its maker is still alive.

<sup>18</sup> This is why the first covenant too was inaugurated with blood. <sup>19</sup> After Moshe had proclaimed every command of the Torah to all the people, he took the blood of the calves with some water and used scarlet wool and hyssop to sprinkle both the scroll itself and all the people; <sup>20</sup> and he said, “This is the blood of the covenant which God has ordained for you.”<sup>h 21</sup> Likewise, he sprinkled with the blood both the Tent and all the things used in its ceremonies. <sup>22</sup> In fact, according to the Torah, almost everything is purified with blood; indeed, without the shedding of blood there is no forgiveness of sins.

<sup>23</sup> Now this is how the copies of the heavenly things had to be purified, but the heavenly things themselves require better sacrifices than these. <sup>24</sup> For the Messiah has entered a Holiest Place which is not man-made and merely a copy of the true one, but into heaven itself, in order to appear now on our behalf in the very presence of God.

<sup>25</sup> Further, he did not enter heaven to offer himself over and over again, like the cohen hagadol who enters the Holiest Place year after year with blood that is not his own; <sup>26</sup> for then he would have had to suffer death many times — from the founding of the universe on. But as it is, he has appeared once at the end of the ages in order to do away with sin through the sacrifice of himself. <sup>27</sup> Just as human beings have to die once, but after this comes judgment, <sup>28</sup> so also the Messiah, having been offered once to bear the sins of many,<sup>i</sup> will appear a second time, not to deal with sin, but to deliver those who are eagerly waiting for him.

10 <sup>1</sup> For the Torah has in it a shadow of the good things to come, but not the actual manifestation of the originals. Therefore, it can never, by means of the same sacrifices repeated endlessly year after year, bring to the goal those who approach the Holy Place to offer them. <sup>2</sup> Otherwise, wouldn't the offering of those sacrifices have ceased? For if the people performing the service had been cleansed once and for all, they would no longer have sins on their conscience. <sup>3</sup> No, it is quite the contrary — in these sacrifices is a reminder of sins, year after year. <sup>4</sup> For it is impossible that the blood of bulls and goats should take away sins.

“It has not been your will

to have an animal sacrifice and a meal offering;

rather, you have prepared for me a body.

<sup>6</sup> No, you have not been pleased with burnt offerings and sin offerings.

<sup>7</sup> Then I said, ‘Look!

In the scroll of the book

it is written about me.

I have come to do your will.’”<sup>l</sup>

<sup>8</sup> In saying first, “You neither willed nor were pleased with animal sacrifices, meal offerings, burnt offerings and sin offerings,” things which are offered in accordance with the Torah; <sup>9</sup> and then, “Look, I have come to do your will”; he takes away the first system in order to set up the second. <sup>10</sup> It is in connection with this will that we have been separated for God and made holy, once and for all, through the offering of Yeshua the Messiah’s body.

<sup>11</sup> Now every cohen stands every day doing his service, offering over and over the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins. <sup>12</sup> But this one, after he had offered for all time a single sacrifice for sins, sat down at the right hand of God, <sup>13</sup>from then on to wait until his enemies be made a footstool for his feet.<sup>k</sup> <sup>14</sup> For by a single offering he has brought to the goal for all time those who are being set apart for God and made holy.

<sup>16</sup> “ ‘This is the covenant which I will make

with them after those days,’ says ADONAI:

‘I will put my Torah on their hearts,

and write it on their minds . . . ,’<sup>l</sup>

<sup>17</sup> he then adds,

“ ‘And their sins and their wickednesses

I will remember no more.””<sup>m</sup>

<sup>18</sup> Now where there is forgiveness for these, an offering for sins is no longer needed.

<sup>19</sup> So, brothers, we have confidence to use the way into the Holiest Place opened by the blood of Yeshua. <sup>20</sup> He inaugurated it for us as a new and living way through the parokhet, by means of his flesh. <sup>21</sup> We also have a great cohen over God’s household. <sup>22</sup> Therefore, let us approach the Holiest Place with a sincere heart, in the full assurance that comes from trusting — with our hearts sprinkled clean from a bad conscience and our bodies washed with pure water.<sup>n</sup> <sup>23</sup> Let us continue holding fast to the hope we acknowledge, without wavering; for the One who made the promise is trustworthy. <sup>24</sup> And let us keep paying attention to one another, in order to spur each other on to love and good deeds, <sup>25</sup> not neglecting our own congregational meetings, as some have made a practice of doing, but, rather, encouraging each other.

And let us do this all the more as you see the Day approaching. <sup>26</sup> For if we deliberately continue to sin after receiving the knowledge of the truth, there no longer remains a sacrifice for sins, <sup>27</sup> but only the terrifying prospect of Judgment, of raging fire that will consume the enemies.<sup>g</sup>

<sup>28</sup> Someone who disregards the Torah of Moshe is put to death without mercy on the word of two or three witnesses.<sup>p</sup> <sup>29</sup> Think how much worse will be the punishment deserved by someone who has trampled underfoot the Son of God; who has treated as something common the blood of the covenant<sup>q</sup> which made him holy; and who has insulted the Spirit, giver of God’s grace!

<sup>30</sup> For the One we know is the One who said,

“Vengeance is my responsibility;

I will repay,”

and then said,

“ADONAI will judge his people.”<sup>r</sup>

<sup>31</sup> It is a terrifying thing to fall into the hands of the living God!

<sup>32</sup> But remember the earlier days, when, after you had received the light, you endured a hard struggle with sufferings. <sup>33</sup> Sometimes you were publicly disgraced and persecuted, while at other times you stood loyally by those who were treated this way. <sup>34</sup> For you shared the sufferings of those who had been put in prison. Also when your possessions were seized, you accepted it gladly; since you knew that what you possessed was better and would last forever.

<sup>35</sup> So don't throw away that courage of yours, which carries with it such a great reward. <sup>36</sup> For you need to hold out; so that, by having done what God wills, you may receive what he has promised. <sup>37</sup> For

“There is so, so little time!

The One coming will indeed come,

he will not delay.

<sup>38</sup> But the person who is righteous

will live his life by trusting,

and if he shrinks back,

I will not be pleased with him.”<sup>z</sup>

<sup>39</sup> However, we are not the kind who shrink back and are destroyed; on the contrary, we keep trusting and thus preserve our lives!

11 <sup>1</sup> Trusting<sup>z</sup> is being confident of what we hope for, convinced about things we do not see. <sup>2</sup> It was for this that Scripture attested the merit of the people of old.

<sup>3</sup> By trusting, we understand that the universe was created through a spoken word of God, so that what is seen did not come into being out of existing phenomena.

<sup>4</sup> By trusting, Hevel offered a greater sacrifice than Kayin; because of this, he was attested as righteous, with God giving him this testimony on the ground of his gifts. Through having trusted, he still continues to speak, even though he is dead.

<sup>5</sup> By trusting, Hanokh was taken away from this life without seeing death — “He was not to be found, because God took him away” — for he has been attested as having been, prior to being taken away, well pleasing to God.<sup>u</sup> <sup>6</sup> And without trusting, it is impossible to be well pleasing to God, because whoever approaches him must trust that he does exist and that he becomes a Rewarder to those who seek him out.

<sup>7</sup> By trusting, Noach, after receiving divine warning about things as yet unseen, was filled with holy fear and built an ark to save his household. Through this trusting, he put the world under condemnation and received the righteousness that comes from trusting.

<sup>8</sup> By trusting, Avraham obeyed, after being called to go out<sup>v</sup> to a place which God would give him as a possession; indeed, he went out without knowing where he was going. <sup>9</sup> By trusting, he lived as a temporary resident in the Land of the promise, as if it were not his, staying in tents with Yitz’chak and Ya’akov, who were to receive what was promised along with him. <sup>10</sup> For he was looking forward to the city with permanent foundations, of which the architect and builder is God.

<sup>11</sup> By trusting, he received potency to father a child, even when he was past the age for it, as was Sarah herself; because he regarded the One who had made the promise as trustworthy. <sup>12</sup> Therefore this one man, who was virtually dead, fathered descendants

as numerous as the stars in the sky,

and as countless as the grains of the sand on the seashore.<sup>w</sup>

<sup>13</sup> All these people kept on trusting until they died, without receiving what had been promised. They had only seen it and welcomed it from a distance, while acknowledging that they were aliens and temporary residents on the earth.<sup>x</sup> <sup>14</sup> For people who speak this way make it clear that they are looking for a fatherland. <sup>15</sup> Now if they were to keep recalling the one they left, they would have an opportunity to return; <sup>16</sup>but as it is, they aspire to a better fatherland, a heavenly one. This is why God is not ashamed to be called their God, for he has prepared for them a city.

<sup>17</sup> By trusting, Avraham, when he was put to the test, offered up Yitz'chak as a sacrifice. Yes, he offered up his only son, he who had received the promises, <sup>18</sup> to whom it had been said, "What is called your 'seed' will be in Yitz'chak."<sup>x</sup> <sup>19</sup> For he had concluded that God could even raise people from the dead! And, figuratively speaking, he did so receive him.

<sup>20</sup> By trusting, Yitz'chak, in his blessings over Ya'akov and Esav, made reference to events yet to come.

<sup>21</sup> By trusting, Ya'akov, when he was dying, blessed each of Yosef's sons, leaning on his walking-stick as he bowed in prayer.<sup>z</sup>

<sup>23</sup> By trusting, the parents of Moshe hid him for three months after he was born, because they saw that he was a beautiful child,<sup>a</sup> and they weren't afraid of the king's decree.

<sup>24</sup> By trusting, Moshe, after he had grown up,<sup>b</sup> refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter. <sup>25</sup> He chose being mistreated along with God's people rather than enjoying the passing pleasures of sin. <sup>26</sup> He had come to regard abuse suffered on behalf of the Messiah as greater riches than the treasures of Egypt, for he kept his eyes fixed on the reward.

<sup>27</sup> By trusting, he left Egypt, not fearing the king's anger; he persevered as one who sees the unseen.

<sup>28</sup> By trusting, he obeyed the requirements for the Pesach, including the smearing of the blood, so that the Destroyer of the firstborn would not touch the firstborn of Isra'el.

<sup>29</sup> By trusting, they walked through the Red Sea as through dry land; when the Egyptians tried to do it, the sea swallowed them up.

<sup>30</sup> By trusting, the walls of Yericho fell down — after the people had marched around them for seven days.

<sup>31</sup> By trusting, Rachav the prostitute welcomed the spies and therefore did not die along with those who were disobedient.

<sup>32</sup> What more should I say? There isn't time to tell about Gid'on, Barak, Shimshon, Yiftach, David, Sh'mu'el and the prophets; <sup>33</sup> who, through trusting, conquered kingdoms, worked righteousness, received what was promised, shut the mouths of lions,<sup>c34</sup> quenched the power of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, had their weakness turned to strength, grew mighty in battle and routed foreign armies. <sup>35</sup> Women received back their dead resurrected; other people were stretched on the rack and beaten to death, refusing to be ransomed, so that they would gain a better resurrection. <sup>36</sup> Others underwent the trials of being mocked and whipped, then chained and imprisoned. <sup>37</sup> They were stoned, sawed in two, murdered by the sword; they went about clothed in sheepskins and goatskins, destitute, persecuted, mistreated, <sup>38</sup> wandering about in deserts and mountains, living in caves and holes in the ground! The world was not worthy of them!

<sup>39</sup> All of these had their merit attested because of their trusting. Nevertheless, they did not receive what had been promised, <sup>40</sup> because God had planned something better that would involve us, so that only with us would they be brought to the goal.

12 <sup>1</sup> So then, since we are surrounded by such a great cloud of witnesses, let us, too, put aside every impediment — that is, the sin which easily hampers our forward movement — and keep running with endurance in the contest set before us, <sup>2</sup> looking away to the Initiator and Completer of that trusting,<sup>d</sup> Yeshua — who, in exchange for obtaining the joy set before him, endured execution on a stake as a criminal, scorning the shame, and has sat down at the right hand of the throne of God.<sup>e</sup> <sup>3</sup> Yes, think about him who endured such hostility against himself from sinners, so that you won't grow tired or become despondent. <sup>4</sup> You have not yet resisted to the point of shedding blood in the contest against sin.

<sup>5</sup> Also you have forgotten the counsel which speaks with you as sons:

“My son, don’t despise the discipline of *ADONAI

or become despondent when he corrects you.

<sup>6</sup> For ADONAI disciplines those he loves

and whips everyone he accepts as a son.”<sup>f</sup>

<sup>7</sup> Regard your endurance as discipline; God is dealing with you as sons. For what son goes undisciplined by his father? <sup>8</sup> All legitimate sons undergo discipline; so if you don't, you're a mamzer and not a son!

<sup>9</sup> Furthermore, we had physical fathers who disciplined us, and we respected them; how much more should we submit to our spiritual Father and live! <sup>10</sup> For they disciplined us only for a short time and only as best they could; but he disciplines us in a way that provides genuine benefit to us and enables us to share in his holiness.

<sup>11</sup> Now, all discipline, while it is happening, does indeed seem painful, not enjoyable; but for those who have been trained by it, it later produces its peaceful fruit, which is righteousness. <sup>12</sup> So, strengthen your drooping arms,

and steady your tottering knees;<sup>g</sup>

<sup>13</sup> and

make a level path for your feet;<sup>h</sup>

so that what has been injured will not get wrenched out of joint but rather will be healed.

<sup>18</sup> For you have not come to a tangible mountain, to an ignited fire, to darkness, to murk, to a whirlwind, <sup>19</sup> to the sound of a shofar, and to a voice whose words made the hearers beg that no further message be given to them — <sup>20</sup> for they couldn't bear what was being commanded them, "If even an animal touches the mountain, it is to be stoned to death";<sup>j</sup> <sup>21</sup> and so terrifying was the sight that Moshe said, "I am quaking with dread."<sup>k</sup>

<sup>22</sup> On the contrary, you have come to Mount Tziyon, that is, the city of the living God, heavenly Yerushalayim; to myriads of angels in festive assembly; <sup>23</sup> to a community of the firstborn whose names have been recorded in heaven; to a Judge who is God of everyone; to spirits of righteous people who have been brought to the goal; <sup>24</sup> to the mediator of a new covenant, Yeshua; and to the sprinkled blood that speaks better things than that of Hevel.

<sup>25</sup> See that you don't reject the One speaking! For if those did not escape who rejected him when he gave divine warning on earth, think how much less we will escape if we turn away from him when he warns from heaven.

<sup>26</sup> Even then, his voice shook the earth; but now, he has made this promise:

“One more time I will shake

not only the earth, but heaven too!”<sup>1</sup>

<sup>27</sup> And this phrase, “one more time,” makes clear that the things shaken are removed, since they are created things, so that the things not shaken may remain. <sup>28</sup> Therefore, since we have received an unshakeable Kingdom, let us have grace, through which we may offer service that will please God, with reverence and fear. <sup>29</sup> For indeed,

13 <sup>1</sup> Let brotherly friendship continue; <sup>2</sup> but don't forget to be friendly to outsiders; for in so doing, some people, without knowing it, have entertained angels. <sup>3</sup>Remember those in prison and being mistreated, as if you were in prison with them and undergoing their torture yourselves.

<sup>4</sup> Marriage is honorable in every respect; and, in particular, sex within marriage is pure. But God will indeed punish fornicators and adulterers.

<sup>5</sup> Keep your lives free from the love of money; and be satisfied with what you have; for God himself has said, “I will never fail you or abandon you.”<sup>3</sup> <sup>6</sup> Therefore, we say with confidence,

“ADONAI is my helper; I will not be afraid —

what can a human being do to me?”<sup>4</sup>

<sup>7</sup> Remember your leaders, those who spoke God's message to you. Reflect on the results of their way of life, and imitate their trust — <sup>8</sup> Yeshua the Messiah is the same yesterday, today and forever.

<sup>9</sup> Do not be carried away by various strange teachings; for what is good is for the heart to be strengthened by grace, not by foods. People who have made these the focus of their lives have not benefited thereby.

<sup>10</sup> We have an altar from which those who serve in the Tent are not permitted to eat. <sup>11</sup> For the cohen hagadol brings the blood of animals into the Holiest Place as a sin offering, but their bodies are burned outside the camp.<sup>p</sup> <sup>12</sup> So too Yeshua suffered death outside the gate, in order to make the people holy through his own blood. <sup>13</sup> Therefore, let us go out to him who is outside the camp and share his disgrace. <sup>14</sup> For we have no permanent city here; on the contrary, we seek the one to come. <sup>15</sup> Through him, therefore, let us offer God a sacrifice of praise continually. <sup>g</sup>For this is the natural product of lips that acknowledge his name.

<sup>16</sup> But don't forget doing good and sharing with others, for with such sacrifices God is well pleased.

<sup>17</sup> Obey your leaders and submit to them, for they keep watch over your lives, as people who will have to render an account. So make it a task of joy for them, not one of groaning; for that is of no advantage to you.

<sup>18</sup> Keep praying for us, for we are certain that we have a clear conscience and want to conduct ourselves properly in everything we do. <sup>19</sup> And all the more I beg you to do this, so that I may be restored to you that much sooner.

<sup>20</sup> The God of shalom brought up from the dead the great Shepherd of the sheep, our Lord Yeshua, by the blood of an eternal covenant. <sup>21</sup> May God equip you with every good thing you need to do his will; and may he do in us whatever pleases him, through Yeshua the Messiah. To him be the glory forever and ever. Amen.

<sup>22</sup> Now I urge you, brothers, to bear with my message of exhortation; for I have written you only briefly.

<sup>23</sup> Know that our brother Timothy has been released. If he comes soon enough, I will bring him with me when I come to see you.

<sup>24</sup> Greet all your leaders and all God's people. The people from Italy send greetings to you.

<sup>25</sup> Grace be with you all.

JAMES

1 <sup>1</sup> From: Ya‘akov, a slave of God and of the Lord Yeshua the Messiah
To: The Twelve Tribes in the Diaspora:
Shalom!

<sup>2</sup> Regard it all as joy, my brothers, when you face various kinds of temptations; <sup>3</sup> for you know that the testing of your trust produces perseverance. <sup>4</sup> But let perseverance do its complete work; so that you may be complete and whole, lacking in nothing. <sup>5</sup> Now if any of you lacks wisdom, let him ask God, who gives to all generously and without reproach; and it will be given to him. <sup>6</sup> But let him ask in trust, doubting nothing; for the doubter is like a wave in the sea being tossed and driven by the wind. <sup>7</sup> Indeed that person should not think that he will receive anything from the Lord, <sup>8</sup> because he is double-minded, unstable in all his ways.

<sup>9</sup> Let the brother in humble circumstances boast about his high position. <sup>10</sup> But let the rich brother boast about his being humbled; since, like a wildflower, he will pass away. <sup>11</sup> For just as the sun rises with the sharav and dries up the plant, so that its flower falls off and its beauty is destroyed, so too the rich person going about his business will wither away.

<sup>12</sup> How blessed is the man who perseveres through temptation! For after he has passed the test, he will receive as his crown the Life which God has promised to those who love him. <sup>13</sup> No one being tempted should say, “I am being tempted by God.” For God cannot be tempted by evil, and God himself tempts no one. <sup>14</sup> Rather, each person is being tempted whenever he is being dragged off and enticed by the bait of his own desire. <sup>15</sup> Then, having conceived, the desire gives birth to sin; and when sin is fully grown, it gives birth to death. <sup>16</sup> Don’t delude yourselves, my dear brothers.

<sup>17</sup> Every good act of giving and every perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father who made the heavenly lights; with him there is neither variation nor darkness caused by turning. <sup>18</sup> Having made his decision, he gave birth to us through a Word that can be relied upon, in order that we should be a kind of firstfruits of all that he created. <sup>19</sup> Therefore, my dear brothers, let every person be quick to listen but slow to speaking, slow to get angry; <sup>20</sup> for a person's anger does not accomplish God's righteousness!

<sup>21</sup> So rid yourselves of all vulgarity and obvious evil, and receive meekly the Word implanted in you that can save your lives. <sup>22</sup> Don't deceive yourselves by only hearing what the Word says, but do it! <sup>23</sup> For whoever hears the Word but doesn't do what it says is like someone who looks at his face in a mirror, <sup>24</sup> who looks at himself, goes away and immediately forgets what he looks like. <sup>25</sup> But if a person looks closely into the perfect Torah, which gives freedom, and continues, becoming not a forgetful hearer but a doer of the work it requires, then he will be blessed in what he does.

<sup>26</sup> Anyone who thinks he is religiously observant but does not control his tongue is deceiving himself, and his observance counts for nothing. <sup>27</sup> The religious observance that God the Father considers pure and faultless is this: to care for orphans and widows in their distress and to keep oneself from being contaminated by the world.

2 <sup>1</sup> My brothers, practice the faith of our Lord Yeshua, the glorious Messiah, without showing favoritism. <sup>2</sup> Suppose a man comes into your synagogue wearing gold rings and fancy clothes, and also a poor man comes in dressed in rags. <sup>3</sup> If you show more respect to the man wearing the fancy clothes and say to him, "Have this good seat here," while to the poor man you say, "You, stand over there," or, "Sit down on the floor by my feet," <sup>4</sup> then aren't you creating distinctions among yourselves, and haven't you made yourselves into judges with evil motives?

<sup>5</sup> Listen, my dear brothers, hasn't God chosen the poor of the world to be rich in faith and to receive the Kingdom which he promised to those who love him? <sup>6</sup> But you despise the poor! Aren't the rich the ones who oppress you and drag you into court? <sup>7</sup> Aren't they the ones who insult the good name of Him to whom you belong? <sup>8</sup> If you truly attain the goal of Kingdom Torah, in conformity with the passage that says, "Love your neighbor as yourself,"<sup>a</sup> you are doing well. <sup>9</sup> But if you show favoritism, your actions constitute sin, since you are convicted under the Torah as transgressors.

<sup>10</sup> For a person who keeps the whole Torah, yet stumbles at one point, has become guilty of breaking them all. <sup>11</sup> For the One who said, "Don't commit adultery,"<sup>b</sup> also said, "Don't murder."<sup>c</sup> Now, if you don't commit adultery but do murder, you have become a transgressor of the Torah.

<sup>12</sup> Keep speaking and acting like people who will be judged by a Torah which gives freedom. <sup>13</sup> For judgment will be without mercy toward one who doesn't show mercy; but mercy wins out over judgment.

<sup>14</sup> What good is it, my brothers, if someone claims to have faith but has no actions to prove it? Is such "faith" able to save him? <sup>15</sup> Suppose a brother or sister is without clothes and daily food, <sup>16</sup> and someone says to him, "Shalom! Keep warm and eat hearty!" without giving him what he needs, what good does it do? <sup>17</sup> Thus, faith by itself, unaccompanied by actions, is dead.

<sup>18</sup> But someone will say that you have faith and I have actions. Show me this faith of yours without the actions, and I will show you my faith by my actions! <sup>19</sup> You believe that "God is one"?<sup>d</sup> Good for you! The demons believe it too — the thought makes them shudder with fear!

<sup>25</sup> Likewise, wasn't Rachav the prostitute also declared righteous because of actions when she welcomed the messengers and sent them out by another route? <sup>26</sup> Indeed, just as the body without a spirit is dead, so too faith without actions is dead.

3 <sup>1</sup> Not many of you should become teachers, my brothers, since you know that we will be judged more severely. <sup>2</sup> For we all stumble in many ways; if someone does not stumble in what he says, he is a mature man who can bridle his whole body. <sup>3</sup> If we put a bit into a horse's mouth to make it obey us, we control its whole body as well. <sup>4</sup> And think of a ship — although it is huge and is driven by strong winds, yet the pilot can steer it wherever he wants with just a small rudder. <sup>5</sup> So too the tongue is a tiny part of the body, yet it boasts great things. See how a little fire sets a whole forest ablaze! <sup>6</sup> Yes, the tongue is a fire, a world of wickedness. The tongue is so placed in our body that it defiles every part of it, setting ablaze the whole of our life; and it is set on fire by Gei-Hinnom itself. <sup>7</sup> For people have tamed and continue to tame all kinds of animals, birds, reptiles and sea creatures; <sup>8</sup> but the tongue no one can tame — it is an unstable and evil thing, full of death-dealing poison! <sup>9</sup> With it we bless ADONAI, the Father; and with it we curse people, who were made in the image of God.<sup>g</sup> <sup>10</sup> Out of the same mouth come blessing and cursing! Brothers, it isn't right for things to be this way. <sup>11</sup> A spring doesn't send both fresh and bitter water from the same opening, does it? <sup>12</sup> Can a fig tree yield olives, my brothers? or a grapevine, figs? Neither does salt water produce fresh.

<sup>13</sup> Who among you is wise and understanding? Let him demonstrate it by his good way of life, by actions done in the humility that grows out of wisdom. <sup>14</sup> But if you harbor in your hearts bitter jealousy and selfish ambition, don't boast and attack the truth with lies! <sup>15</sup> This wisdom is not the kind that comes down from above; on the contrary, it is worldly, unspiritual, demonic. <sup>16</sup> For where there are jealousy and selfish ambition, there will be disharmony and every foul practice. <sup>17</sup> But the wisdom from above is, first of all, pure, then peaceful, kind, open to reason, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality and without hypocrisy. <sup>18</sup> And peacemakers who sow seed in peace raise a harvest of righteousness.

4 <sup>1</sup> What is causing all the quarrels and fights among you? Isn't it your desires battling inside you? <sup>2</sup> You desire things and don't have them. You kill, and you are jealous, and you still can't get them. So you fight and quarrel. The reason you don't have is that you don't pray! <sup>3</sup> Or you pray and don't receive, because you pray with the wrong motive, that of wanting to indulge your own desires.

<sup>4</sup> You unfaithful wives! Don't you know that loving the world is hating God? Whoever chooses to be the world's friend makes himself God's enemy! <sup>5</sup> Or do you suppose the Scripture speaks in vain when it says that there is a spirit in us which longs to envy? <sup>6</sup> But the grace he gives is greater, which is why it says,

“God opposes the arrogant,

but to the humble he gives grace.”<sup>h</sup>

<sup>7</sup> Therefore, submit to God. Moreover, take a stand against the Adversary, and he will flee from you. <sup>8</sup> Come close to God, and he will come close to you. Clean your hands, sinners; and purify your hearts, you double-minded people! <sup>9</sup> Wail, mourn, sob! Let your laughter be turned into mourning and your joy into gloom! <sup>10</sup> Humble yourselves before the Lord, and he will lift you up.

<sup>11</sup> Brothers, stop speaking against each other! Whoever speaks against a brother or judges a brother is speaking against Torah and judging Torah. And if you judge Torah, you are not a doer of what Torah says, but a judge.

<sup>12</sup> There is but one Giver of Torah; he is also the Judge, with the power to deliver and to destroy. Who do you think you are, judging your fellow human being?

<sup>13</sup> Now listen, you who say, “Today or tomorrow we will go to such-and-such a city, stay there a year trading and make a profit”! <sup>14</sup> You don’t even know if you will be alive tomorrow! For all you are is a mist that appears for a little while and then disappears. <sup>15</sup> Instead, you ought to say, “If ADONAI wants it to happen, we will live” to do this or that. <sup>16</sup> But as it is, in your arrogance you boast. All such boasting is evil. <sup>17</sup> So then, anyone who knows the right thing to do and fails to do it is committing a sin.

5 <sup>1</sup> Next, a word for the rich: weep and wail over the hardships coming upon you! <sup>2</sup> Your riches have rotted, and your clothes have become moth-eaten; <sup>3</sup> your gold and silver have corroded, and their corrosion will be evidence against you and will eat up your flesh like fire! This is the acharit-hayamim, and you have been storing up wealth! <sup>4</sup> Listen! The wages you have fraudulently withheld from the workers who mowed your fields are calling out against you, and the outcries of those who harvested have reached the ears of ADONAI-Tzva’ot. <sup>5</sup> You have led a life of luxury and self-indulgence here on earth — in a time of slaughter, you have gone on eating to your heart’s content. <sup>6</sup> You have condemned, you have murdered the innocent; they have not withstood you.

standing at the door! <sup>10</sup> As an example of suffering mistreatment and being patient, brothers, take the prophets who spoke in the name of ADONAI. <sup>11</sup> Look, we regard those who persevered as blessed. You have heard of the perseverance of Iyov, and you know what the purpose of ADONAI was, that ADONAI* is very compassionate and merciful.<sup>j</sup>

<sup>12</sup> Above all, brothers, stop swearing oaths — not “By heaven,” not “By the earth,” and not by any other formula; rather, let your “Yes” be simply “Yes” and your “No” simply “No,” so that you won’t fall under condemnation.

<sup>13</sup> Is someone among you in trouble? He should pray. Is someone feeling good? He should sing songs of praise.

<sup>14</sup> Is someone among you ill? He should call for the elders of the congregation. They will pray for him and rub olive oil on him in the name of the Lord. <sup>15</sup> The prayer offered with trust will heal the one who is ill—the Lord will restore his health; and if he has committed sins, he will be forgiven. <sup>16</sup> Therefore, openly acknowledge your sins to one another, and pray for each other, so that you may be healed. The prayer of a righteous person is powerful and effective. <sup>17</sup> Eliyahu was only a human being like us; yet he prayed fervently that it might not rain, and no rain fell on the Land for three years and six months. <sup>18</sup> Then he prayed again, and heaven gave rain, and the Land produced its crops.

<sup>19</sup> My brothers, if one of you wanders from the truth, and someone causes him to return, <sup>20</sup> you should know that whoever turns a sinner from his wandering path will save him from death and cover many sins.<sup>k</sup>

The First Letter from Yeshua's Emissary Kefa

1 Kefa

1 PETER

1 <sup>1</sup> From: Kefa, an emissary of Yeshua the Messiah

To: God's chosen people, living as aliens in the Diaspora — in Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, the province of Asia, and Bythinia — <sup>2</sup> chosen according to the foreknowledge of God the Father and set apart by the Spirit for obeying Yeshua the Messiah and for sprinkling with his blood:

Grace and shalom be yours in full measure.

<sup>3</sup> Praised be God, Father of our Lord Yeshua the Messiah, who, in keeping with his great mercy, has caused us, through the resurrection of Yeshua the Messiah from the dead, to be born again to a living hope, <sup>4</sup> to an inheritance that cannot decay, spoil or fade, kept safe for you in heaven. <sup>5</sup> Meanwhile, through trusting, you are being protected by God's power for a deliverance ready to be revealed at the Last Time. <sup>6</sup> Rejoice in this, even though for a little while you may have to experience grief in various trials. <sup>7</sup> Even gold is tested for genuineness by fire. The purpose of these trials is so that your trust's genuineness, which is far more valuable than perishable gold, will be judged worthy of praise, glory and honor at the revealing of Yeshua the Messiah.

<sup>8</sup> Without having seen him, you love him. Without seeing him now, but trusting in him, you continue to be full of joy that is glorious beyond words.

<sup>10</sup> The prophets, who prophesied about this gift of deliverance that was meant for you, pondered and inquired diligently about it. <sup>11</sup> They were trying to find out the time and circumstances to which the Spirit of the Messiah in them was referring in predicting the Messiah's sufferings and the glorious things to follow. <sup>12</sup> It was revealed to them that their service when they spoke about these things was not for their own benefit, but for yours. And these same things have now been proclaimed to you by those who communicated the Good News to you through the Ruach HaKodesh sent from heaven. Even angels long to look into these things!

<sup>13</sup> Therefore, get your minds ready for work, keep yourselves under control, and fix your hopes fully on the gift you will receive when Yeshua the Messiah is revealed. <sup>14</sup> As people who obey God, do not let yourselves be shaped by the evil desires you used to have when you were still ignorant. <sup>15</sup> On the contrary, following the Holy One who called you, become holy yourselves in your entire way of life; <sup>16</sup> since the Tanakh says,

“You are to be holy because I am holy.”<sup>a</sup>

<sup>17</sup> Also, if you are addressing as Father the one who judges impartially according to each person’s actions, you should live out your temporary stay on earth in fear. <sup>18</sup> You should be aware that the ransom paid to free you from the worthless way of life which your fathers passed on to you did not consist of anything perishable like silver or gold; <sup>19</sup> on the contrary, it was the costly bloody sacrificial death of the Messiah, as of a lamb without defect or spot. <sup>20</sup> God knew him before the founding of the universe, but revealed him in the acharit-hayamim for your sakes. <sup>21</sup> Through him you trust in God, who raised him from the dead and gave him glory; so that your trust and hope are in God.

<sup>22</sup> Now that you have purified yourselves by obeying the truth, so that you have a sincere love for your brothers, love each other deeply, with all your heart. <sup>23</sup> You have been born again not from some seed that will decay, but from one that cannot decay, through the living Word of God that lasts forever. <sup>24</sup> For all humanity is like grass,

all its glory is like a wildflower —

the grass withers, and the flower falls off;

<sup>25</sup>

but the Word of ADONAI lasts forever.<sup>b</sup>

Moreover, this Word is the Good News which has been proclaimed to you.

2 <sup>1</sup> Therefore, rid yourselves of all malice, of all deceit, hypocrisy and envy, and of all the ways there are of speaking against people; <sup>2</sup> and be like newborn babies, thirsty for the pure milk of the Word; so that by it, you may grow up into deliverance. <sup>3</sup> For you have tasted that Adonai is good.<sup>c</sup>

<sup>4</sup> As you come to him, the living stone, rejected by people but chosen by God and precious to him, <sup>5</sup> you yourselves, as living stones, are being built into a spiritual house to be cohanim set apart for God to offer spiritual sacrifices acceptable to him through Yeshua the Messiah. <sup>6</sup> This is why the Tanakh says,

“Look! I am laying in Tziyon a stone,
a chosen and precious cornerstone;
and whoever rests his trust on it will certainly not be humiliated.”<sup>d</sup>

<sup>7</sup> Now to you who keep trusting, he is precious. But to those who are not trusting,

“The very stone that the builders rejected has become the cornerstone”;<sup>e</sup>

<sup>8</sup> also he is

a rock over which they will trip.<sup>f</sup>

They are stumbling at the Word, disobeying it — as had been planned. <sup>9</sup> But you are a chosen people,<sup>g</sup> the King’s cohanim,<sup>h</sup> a holy nation,<sup>i</sup> a people for God to possess!<sup>j</sup> Why? In order for you to declare the praises of the One who called you out of darkness into his wonderful light. <sup>10</sup> Once you were not a people, but now you are God's people; before, you had not received mercy, but now you have received mercy.<sup>k</sup>

<sup>11</sup> Dear friends, I urge you as aliens and temporary residents<sup>l</sup> not to give in to the desires of your old nature, which keep warring against you; <sup>12</sup> but to live such good lives among the pagans that even though they now speak against you as evil-doers, they will, as a result of seeing your good actions, give glory to God on the Day of his coming. <sup>13</sup> For the sake of the Lord, submit yourselves to every human authority — whether to the emperor as being supreme, <sup>14</sup> or to governors as being sent by him to punish wrongdoers and praise those who do what is good. <sup>15</sup> For it is God's will that your doing good should silence the ignorant talk of foolish people. <sup>16</sup> Submit as people who are free, but not letting your freedom serve as an excuse for evil; rather, submit as God's slaves. <sup>17</sup> Be respectful to all — keep loving the brotherhood, fearing God and honoring the emperor.

<sup>18</sup> Household servants, submit yourselves to your masters, showing them full respect — and not only those who are kind and considerate, but also those who are harsh. <sup>19</sup> For it is a grace when someone, because he is mindful of God, bears up under the pain of undeserved punishment. <sup>20</sup> For what credit is there in bearing up under a beating you deserve for doing something wrong? But if you bear up under punishment, even though you have done what is right, God looks on it with favor. <sup>21</sup> Indeed, this is what you were called to; because the Messiah too suffered, on your behalf, leaving an example so that you should follow in his steps.

“He committed no sin,

nor was any deceit found on his lips.”<sup>m</sup>

<sup>23</sup> When he was insulted, he didn't retaliate with insults; when he suffered, he didn't threaten, but handed them over to him who judges justly. <sup>24</sup> He himself bore our sins<sup>n</sup> in his body on the stake,<sup>o</sup> so that we might die to sins and live for righteousness — by his wounds you were healed.<sup>p</sup> <sup>25</sup> For you used to be like sheep gone astray, but now you have turned to<sup>q</sup> the Shepherd, who watches over you.

3 <sup>1</sup> In the same way, wives, submit to your husbands; so that even if some of them do not believe the Word, they will be won over by your conduct, without your saying anything, <sup>2</sup> as they see your respectful and pure behavior. <sup>3</sup> Your beauty should not consist in externals such as fancy hairstyles, gold jewelry or what you wear; <sup>4</sup> rather, let it be the inner character of your heart, with the imperishable quality of a gentle and quiet spirit. In God's sight this is of great value. <sup>5</sup> This is how the holy women of the past who put their hope in God used to adorn themselves and submit to their husbands, <sup>6</sup> the way Sarah obeyed Avraham, honoring him as her lord. You are her daughters if you do what is right and do not succumb to fear.

<sup>7</sup> You husbands, likewise, conduct your married lives with understanding. Although your wife may be weaker physically, you should respect her as a fellow-heir of the gift of Life. If you don't, your prayers will be blocked.

<sup>8</sup> Finally, all of you, be one in mind and feeling; love as brothers; and be compassionate and humble-minded, <sup>9</sup> not repaying evil with evil or insult with insult, but, on the contrary, with blessing. For it is to this that you have been called, so that you may receive a blessing. <sup>10</sup> For

must keep his tongue from evil and his lips from speaking deceit,

<sup>11</sup> turn from evil and do good,

seek peace and chase after it.

<sup>12</sup> For A<sub>DONAI</sub> keeps his eyes on the righteous,

and his ears are open to their prayers;

but the face of A<sub>DONAI</sub> is against

those who do evil things.”Ⓛ

<sup>13</sup> For who will hurt you if you become zealots for what is good? <sup>14</sup> But even if you do suffer for being righteous, you are blessed! Moreover, don't fear what they fear or be disturbed, <sup>15</sup> but treat the Messiah as holy, as Lord in your hearts;<sup>3</sup> while remaining always ready to give a reasoned answer to anyone who asks you to explain the hope you have in you — yet with humility and fear, <sup>16</sup> keeping your conscience clear, so that when you are spoken against, those who abuse the good behavior flowing from your union with the Messiah may be put to shame. <sup>17</sup> For if God has in fact willed that you should suffer, it is better that you suffer for doing what is good than for doing what is evil.

<sup>18</sup> For the Messiah himself died for sins, once and for all, a righteous person on behalf of unrighteous people, so that he might bring you to God. He was put to death in the flesh but brought to life by the Spirit; <sup>19</sup> and in this form he went and made a proclamation to the imprisoned spirits, <sup>20</sup> to those who were disobedient long ago, in the days of Noah, when God waited patiently during the building of the ark, in which a few people — to be specific, eight — were delivered by means of water. <sup>21</sup> This also prefigures what delivers us now, the water of immersion, which is not the removal of dirt from the body, but one's pledge to keep a good conscience toward God, through the resurrection of Yeshua the Messiah. <sup>22</sup> He has gone into heaven and is at the right hand of God,<sup>4</sup> with angels, authorities and powers subject to him.

4 <sup>1</sup> Therefore, since the Messiah suffered physically, you too are to arm yourselves with the same attitude. For whoever has suffered physically is finished with sin, <sup>2</sup> with the result that he lives the rest of his earthly life no longer controlled by human desires, but by God's will. <sup>3</sup> For you have spent enough time already living the way the pagans want you to live — in debauchery, lust, drunkenness, orgies, wild parties and forbidden idol-worship. <sup>4</sup> They think it strange that you don't plunge with them into the same flood of dissoluteness, and so they heap insults on you. <sup>5</sup> But they will have to give an account to him who stands ready to judge the living and the dead. <sup>6</sup> This is why he was proclaimed to those who have died; it was so that, although physically they would receive the judgment common to all humanity, they might live by the Spirit in the way that God has provided.

<sup>7</sup> The accomplishing of the goal of all things is close at hand. Therefore, keep alert and self-controlled, so that you can pray. <sup>8</sup> More than anything, keep loving each other actively; because love covers many sins.<sup>u</sup> <sup>9</sup>

Welcome one another into your homes without grumbling. <sup>10</sup> As each one has received some spiritual gift, he should use it to serve others, like good managers of God's many-sided grace — <sup>11</sup>if someone speaks, let him speak God's words; if someone serves, let him do so out of strength that God supplies; so that in everything God may be glorified through Yeshua the Messiah — to him be glory and power forever and ever. Amen.

<sup>12</sup> Dear friends, don't regard as strange the fiery ordeal occurring among you to test you, as if something extraordinary were happening to you. <sup>13</sup> Rather, to the extent that you share the fellowship of the Messiah's sufferings, rejoice; so that you will rejoice even more when his Sh'khinah is revealed. <sup>14</sup> If you are being insulted because you bear the name of the Messiah, how blessed you are! For the Spirit of the Sh'khinah, that is, the Spirit of God, is resting on you! <sup>15</sup> Let none of you suffer for being a murderer or a thief or an evildoer or a meddler in other people's affairs. <sup>16</sup> But if anyone suffers for being Messianic, let him not be ashamed; but let him bring glory to God by the way he bears this name. <sup>17</sup> For the time has come for the judgment to begin. It begins with the household of God; and if it starts with us, what will the outcome be for those who are disobeying God's Good News? —

“If the righteous is barely delivered,

where will the ungodly and sinful end up?”<sup>y</sup>

<sup>19</sup> So let those who are suffering according to God's will entrust themselves to a faithful Creator by continuing to do what is good.

5 <sup>1</sup> Therefore, I urge the congregation leaders among you, as a fellow-leader and witness to the Messiah's sufferings, as well as a sharer in the glory to be revealed: <sup>2</sup> shepherd the flock of God that is in your care, exercising oversight not out of constraint, but willingly, as God wants; and not out of a desire for dishonest gain, but with enthusiasm; <sup>3</sup> also not as machers domineering over those in your care, but as people who become examples to the flock. <sup>4</sup> Then, when the Chief Shepherd appears, you will receive glory as your unfading crown.

<sup>5</sup> Likewise, you who are less experienced, submit to leaders. Further, all of you should clothe yourselves in humility toward one another, because

God opposes the arrogant,

but to the humble he gives grace.<sup>w</sup>

<sup>6</sup> Therefore, humble yourselves under the mighty hand of God, so that at the right time he may lift you up. <sup>7</sup> Throw all your anxieties upon him, because he cares about you.

<sup>8</sup> Stay sober, stay alert! Your enemy, the Adversary, stalks about like a roaring lion looking for someone to devour. <sup>9</sup> Stand against him, firm in your trust, knowing that your brothers throughout the world are going through the same kinds of suffering. <sup>10</sup> You will have to suffer only a little while; after that, God, who is full of grace, the one who called you to his eternal glory in union with the Messiah, will himself restore, establish and strengthen you and make you firm. <sup>11</sup> To him be the power forever and ever. Amen.

<sup>12</sup> Through Sila, whom I regard as a faithful brother, I have written you briefly, encouraging you and giving my witness that this is God's true grace. Stand firm in it!

<sup>13</sup> Your sister congregation in Bavel, chosen along with you, sends greetings to you, as does my son Mark. <sup>14</sup> Greet each other with a kiss of love.

"Shalom aleikhem!" to all who belong to the Messiah.

2 PETER

1 <sup>1</sup> From: Shim'on Kefa, a slave and emissary of Yeshua the Messiah

To: Those who, through the righteousness of our God and of our Deliverer Yeshua the Messiah, have been given the same kind of trust as ours:

<sup>2</sup> May grace and shalom be yours in full measure, as you come to a full knowledge of God and Yeshua our Lord.

<sup>3</sup> God's power has given us everything we need for life and godliness, through our knowing the One who called us to his own glory and goodness.

<sup>4</sup> By these he has given us valuable and superlatively great promises, so that through them you might come to share in God's nature and escape the corruption which evil desires have brought into the world.

<sup>12</sup> For this reason, I will always remind you about these things, even though you know them and are firmly established in the truth you already have. <sup>13</sup> And I consider it right to keep stirring you up with reminders, as long as I am in the tent of this body. <sup>14</sup> I know that I will soon lay aside this tent of mine, as our Lord Yeshua the Messiah has made clear to me. <sup>15</sup> And I will do my best to see that after my exodus, you will be able to remember these things at all times.

<sup>16</sup> For when we made known to you the power and the coming of our Lord Yeshua the Messiah, we did not rely on cunningly contrived myths. On the contrary, we saw his majesty with our own eyes. <sup>17</sup> For we were there when he received honor and glory from God the Father; and the voice came to him from the grandeur of the Sh'khinah, saying, "This is my son, whom I love; I am well pleased with him!" <sup>18</sup> We heard this voice come out of heaven when we were with him on the holy mountain.

<sup>19</sup> Yes, we have the prophetic Word made very certain. You will do well to pay attention to it as to a light shining in a dark, murky place, until the Day dawns and the Morning Star rises in your hearts. <sup>20</sup> First of all, understand this: no prophecy of Scripture is to be interpreted by an individual on his own; <sup>21</sup> for never has a prophecy come as a result of human willing — on the contrary, people moved by the Ruach HaKodesh spoke a message from God.

2 <sup>1</sup> But among the people there were also false prophets, just as there will be false teachers among you. Under false pretenses they will introduce destructive heresies, even denying the Master who bought them, and thus bring on themselves swift destruction. <sup>2</sup> Many will follow their debaucheries; and because of them, the true Way will be maligned. <sup>3</sup> In their greed they will exploit you with fabricated stories.

Their punishment, decreed long ago, is not idle; their destruction is not asleep! <sup>4</sup> For God did not spare the angels who sinned; on the contrary, he put them in gloomy dungeons lower than Sh'ol to be held for judgment. <sup>5</sup> And he did not spare the ancient world; on the contrary, he preserved Noach, a herald of righteousness, with seven others, and brought the Flood upon a world of ungodly people. <sup>6</sup> And he condemned the cities of S'dom and 'Amora, reducing them to ashes and ruin, as a warning to those in the future who would live ungodly lives; <sup>7</sup> but he rescued Lot, a righteous man who was distressed by the debauchery of those unprincipled people; <sup>8</sup> for the wicked deeds which that righteous man saw and heard, as he lived among them, tormented his righteous heart day after day. <sup>9</sup> So the Lord knows how to rescue the godly from trials and how to hold the wicked until the Day of Judgment while continuing to punish them, <sup>10</sup> especially those who follow their old natures in lust for filth and who despise authority.

Presumptuous and self-willed, these false teachers do not tremble at insulting angelic beings; <sup>11</sup> whereas angels, though stronger and more powerful, do not bring before the Lord an insulting charge against them. <sup>12</sup> But these people, acting without thinking, like animals without reason, born to be captured and destroyed, insult things about which they have no knowledge. When they are destroyed, their destruction will be total — <sup>13</sup> they will be paid back harm as wages for the harm they are doing.

Their idea of pleasure is carousing in broad daylight; they are spots and defects reveling in their deceptions as they share meals with you — <sup>14</sup> for they have eyes always on the lookout for a woman who will commit adultery, eyes that never stop sinning; and they have a heart that has exercised itself in greed; so that they seduce unstable people. What a cursed brood!

<sup>19</sup> They promise them freedom, but they themselves are slaves of corruption; for a person is slave to whatever has defeated him. <sup>20</sup> Indeed, if they have once escaped the pollutions of the world through knowing our Lord and Deliverer, Yeshua the Messiah, and then have again become entangled and defeated by them, their latter condition has become worse than their former. <sup>21</sup> It would have been better for them not to have known the Way of righteousness than, fully knowing, to turn from the holy command delivered to them. <sup>22</sup> What has happened to them accords with the true proverb, “A dog returns to its own vomit.”<sup>a</sup> Yes, “The pig washed itself, only to wallow in the mud!”

3 <sup>1</sup> Dear friends, I am writing you now this second letter; and in both letters I am trying to arouse you to wholesome thinking by means of reminders; <sup>2</sup> so that you will keep in mind the predictions of the holy prophets and the command given by the Lord and Deliverer through your emissaries.

<sup>3</sup> First, understand this: during the Last Days, scoffers will come, following their own desires <sup>4</sup> and asking, “Where is this promised ‘coming’ of his? For our fathers have died, and everything goes on just as it has since the beginning of creation.” <sup>5</sup>But, wanting so much to be right about this, they overlook the fact that it was by God’s Word that long ago there were heavens, and there was land which arose out of water and existed between the waters, <sup>6</sup> and that by means of these things the world of that time was flooded with water and destroyed. <sup>7</sup> It is by that same Word that the present heavens and earth, having been preserved, are being kept for fire until the Day of Judgment, when ungodly people will be destroyed.

<sup>8</sup> Moreover, dear friends, do not ignore this: with the Lord, one day is like a thousand years and a thousand years like one day.<sup>9</sup> The Lord is not slow in keeping his promise, as some people think of slowness; on the contrary, he is patient with you; for it is not his purpose that anyone should be destroyed, but that everyone should turn from his sins. <sup>10</sup> However, the Day of the Lord will come “like a thief.” On that Day the heavens will disappear with a roar, the elements will melt and disintegrate, and the earth and everything in it will be burned up.

<sup>11</sup> Since everything is going to be destroyed like this, what kind of people should you be? You should lead holy and godly lives, <sup>12</sup> as you wait for the Day of God and work to hasten its coming. That Day will bring on the destruction of the heavens by fire, and the elements will melt from the heat; <sup>13</sup> but we, following along with his promise, wait for new heavens and a new earth,<sup>14</sup> in which righteousness will be at home. <sup>14</sup> Therefore, dear friends, as you look for these things, do everything you can to be found by him without spot or defect and at peace. <sup>15</sup> And think of our Lord’s patience as deliverance, just as our dear brother Sha’ul also wrote you, following the wisdom God gave him. <sup>16</sup> Indeed, he speaks about these things in all his letters. They contain some things that are hard to understand, things which the uninstructed and unstable distort, to their own destruction, as they do the other Scriptures.

<sup>17</sup> But you, dear friends, since you know this in advance, guard yourselves; so that you will not be led away by the errors of the wicked and fall from your own secure position. <sup>18</sup> And keep growing in grace and knowledge of our Lord and Deliverer, Yeshua the Messiah. To him be the glory, both now and forever! Amen.

1 JOHN

1<sup>1</sup> The Word, which gives life!
He existed from the beginning.

We have heard him,
we have seen him with our eyes,
we have contemplated him,
we have touched him with our hands!

<sup>2</sup> The life appeared,
and we have seen it.

We are testifying to it and announcing it to you — eternal life!

He was with the Father,
and he appeared to us.

<sup>3</sup> What we have seen and heard,
we are proclaiming to you;

so that you too
may have fellowship with us.

Our fellowship is with the Father and with his Son, Yeshua the Messiah.

<sup>4</sup>

We are writing these things
so that our joy may be complete.

<sup>5</sup> And this is the message which we have heard from him and proclaim to you: God is light, and there is no darkness in him — none!

<sup>6</sup> If we claim to have fellowship with him while we are walking in the darkness, we are lying and not living out the truth. <sup>7</sup> But if we are walking in the light, as he is in the light, then we have fellowship with each other, and the blood of his Son Yeshua purifies us from all sin.

<sup>8</sup> If we claim not to have sin, we are deceiving ourselves, and the truth is not in us. <sup>9</sup> If we acknowledge our sins, then, since he is trustworthy and just, he will forgive them and purify us from all wrongdoing.

<sup>10</sup> If we claim we have not been sinning, we are making him out to be a liar, and his Word is not in us.

2 <sup>1</sup> My children, I am writing you these things so that you won't sin. But if anyone does sin, we have Yeshua the Messiah, the Tzaddik, who pleads our cause with the Father. <sup>2</sup> Also, he is the kapparah for our sins — and not only for ours, but also for those of the whole world.

<sup>3</sup> The way we can be sure we know him is if we are obeying his commands. <sup>4</sup> Anyone who says, "I know him," but isn't obeying his commands is a liar — the truth is not in him. <sup>5</sup> But if someone keeps doing what he says, then truly love for God has been brought to its goal in him. This is how we are sure that we are united with him. <sup>6</sup> A person who claims to be continuing in union with him ought to conduct his life the way he did.

<sup>7</sup> Dear friends, I am not writing you a new command. On the contrary, it is an old command, which you have had from the beginning; the old command is the message which you have heard before. <sup>8</sup> Yet I am writing you a new command, and its reality is seen both in him and in you, because the darkness is passing away and the true light is already shining. <sup>9</sup> Anyone who claims to be in this light while hating his brother is still in the dark. <sup>10</sup> The person who keeps loving his brother remains in the light, and there is nothing in him that could make him trip. <sup>11</sup> But the person who hates his brother is in the dark — yes, he is walking in the dark, and he doesn't know where he is going, because the darkness has blinded his eyes.

<sup>12</sup> You children, I am writing you because your sins have been forgiven for his sake.

<sup>13</sup> You fathers, I am writing you because you have known him who has existed from the beginning.

You young people, I am writing you because you have overcome the Evil One.

<sup>14</sup> You children, I have written you because you have known the Father.

You fathers, I have written you

because you have known him who has existed from the beginning.

You young people, I have written you because you are strong —

the Word of God remains in you,
and you have overcome the Evil One.

<sup>15</sup> Do not love the world or the things of the world. If someone loves the world, then love for the Father is not in him; <sup>16</sup> because all the things of the world — the desires of the old nature, the desires of the eyes, and the pretensions of life — are not from the Father but from the world. <sup>17</sup> And the world is passing away, along with its desires. But whoever does God's will remains forever.

<sup>18</sup> Children, this is the Last Hour. You have heard that an Anti-Messiah is coming; and in fact, many anti-Messiahs have arisen now — which is how we know that this is the Last Hour. <sup>19</sup> They went out from us, but they weren't part of us; for had they been part of us, they would have remained with us.

<sup>20</sup> But you have received the Messiah's anointing from HaKadosh, and you know all this. <sup>21</sup> It is not because you don't know the truth that I have written to you, but because you do know it, and because no lie has its origin in the truth. <sup>22</sup> Who is a liar at all, if not the person who denies that Yeshua is the Messiah? Such a person is an anti-Messiah — he is denying the Father and the Son. <sup>23</sup> Everyone who denies the Son is also without the Father, but the person who acknowledges the Son has the Father as well. <sup>24</sup> Let what you heard from the beginning remain in you. If what you heard from the beginning remains in you, you will also remain in union with both the Son and the Father. <sup>25</sup> And this is what he has promised us: eternal life.

<sup>26</sup> I have written you these things about the people who are trying to deceive you. <sup>27</sup> As for you, the Messianic anointing you received from the Father remains in you, so that you have no need for anyone to teach you. On the contrary, as his Messianic anointing continues to teach you about all things, and is true, not a counterfeit, so, just as he taught you, remain united with him.

<sup>28</sup> And now, children, remain united with him; so that when he appears, we may have confidence and not shrink back from him in shame at his coming. <sup>29</sup> If you know that he is righteous, you should also know that he is the Father of everyone who does what is right.

3 <sup>1</sup> See what love the Father has lavished on us in letting us be called God's children! For that is what we are. The reason the world does not know us is that it has not known him. <sup>2</sup> Dear friends, we are God's children now; and it has not yet been made clear what we will become. We do know that when he appears, we will be like him; because we will see him as he really is.

<sup>3</sup> And everyone who has this hope in him continues purifying himself, since God is pure. <sup>4</sup> Everyone who keeps sinning is violating Torah — indeed, sin is violation of Torah. <sup>5</sup> You know that he appeared in order to take away sins, and that there is no sin in him. <sup>6</sup> So no one who remains united with him continues sinning; everyone who does continue sinning has neither seen him nor known him.

<sup>7</sup> Children, don't let anyone deceive you — it is the person that keeps on doing what is right who is righteous, just as God is righteous. <sup>8</sup> The person who keeps on sinning is from the Adversary, because from the very beginning the Adversary has kept on sinning. It was for this very reason that the Son of God appeared, to destroy these doings of the Adversary. <sup>9</sup> No one who has God as his Father keeps on sinning, because the seed planted by God remains in him. That is, he cannot continue sinning, because he has

God as his Father. <sup>10</sup> Here is how one can distinguish clearly between God's children and those of the Adversary: everyone who does not continue doing what is right is not from God.

Likewise, anyone who fails to keep loving his brother is not from God. <sup>11</sup> For this is the message which you have heard from the beginning: that we should love each other <sup>12</sup> and not be like Kayin, who was from the Evil One and murdered his own brother. Why did he murder him? Because his own actions were evil, and his brother's were righteous. <sup>13</sup> Don't be amazed, brothers, if the world hates you. <sup>14</sup> We, for our part, know that we have passed from death to life because we keep loving the brothers. The person who fails to keep on loving is still under the power of death. <sup>15</sup> Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life in him.

<sup>16</sup> The way that we have come to know love is through his having laid down his life for us. And we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers! <sup>17</sup> If someone has worldly possessions and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how can he be loving God? <sup>18</sup> Children, let us love not with words and talk, but with actions and in reality!

<sup>19</sup> Here is how we will know that we are from the truth and will set our hearts at rest in his presence: <sup>20</sup> if our hearts know something against us, God is greater than our hearts, and he knows everything. <sup>21</sup> Dear friends, if our hearts know nothing against us, we have confidence in approaching God; <sup>22</sup> then, whatever we ask for, we receive from him; because we are obeying his commands and doing the things that please him.

<sup>23</sup> This is his command: that we are to trust in the person and power of his Son Yeshua the Messiah and to keep loving one another, just as he commanded us. <sup>24</sup> Those who obey his commands remain united with him and he with them.

Here is how we know that he remains united with us: by the Spirit whom he gave us.

4 <sup>1</sup> Dear friends, don't trust every spirit. On the contrary, test the spirits to see whether they are from God; because many false prophets have gone out into the world. <sup>2</sup> Here is how you recognize the Spirit of God: every spirit which acknowledges that Yeshua the Messiah came as a human being is from God, <sup>3</sup> and every spirit which does not acknowledge Yeshua is not from God — in fact, this is the spirit of the Anti-Messiah. You have heard that he is coming. Well, he's here now, in the world already!

<sup>4</sup> You, children, are from God and have overcome the false prophets, because he who is in you is greater than he who is in the world. <sup>5</sup> They are from the world; therefore, they speak from the world's viewpoint; and the world listens to them. <sup>6</sup> We are from God. Whoever knows God listens to us; whoever is not from God doesn't listen to us. This is how we distinguish the Spirit of truth from the spirit of error.

<sup>7</sup> Beloved friends, let us love one another; because love is from God; and everyone who loves has God as his Father and knows God. <sup>8</sup> Those who do not love, do not know God; because God is love. <sup>9</sup> Here is how God showed his love among us: God sent his only Son into the world, so that through him we might have life. <sup>10</sup> Here is what love is: not that we have loved God, but that he loved us and sent his Son to be the kapparah for our sins.

<sup>11</sup> Beloved friends, if this is how God loved us, we likewise ought to love one another. <sup>12</sup> No one has ever seen God; if we love one another, God remains united with us, and our love for him has been brought to its goal in us. <sup>13</sup> Here is how we know that we remain united with him and he with us: he has given to us from his own Spirit. <sup>14</sup> Moreover, we have seen and we testify that the Father has sent his Son as Deliverer of the world. <sup>15</sup> If someone acknowledges that Yeshua is the Son of God, God remains united with him, and he with God. <sup>16</sup> Also we have come to know and trust the love that God has for us. God is love; and those who remain in this love remain united with God, and God remains united with them.

<sup>17</sup> Here is how love has been brought to maturity with us: as the Messiah is, so are we in the world. This gives us confidence for the Day of Judgment. <sup>18</sup> There is no fear in love. On the contrary, love that has achieved its goal gets rid of fear, because fear has to do with punishment; the person who keeps fearing has not been brought to maturity in regard to love.

<sup>19</sup> We ourselves love now because he loved us first. <sup>20</sup> If anyone says, "I love God," and hates his brother, he is a liar. For if a person does not love his brother, whom he has seen, then he cannot love God, whom he has not seen. <sup>21</sup> Yes, this is the command we have from him: whoever loves God must love his brother too.

5 <sup>1</sup> Everyone who believes that Yeshua is the Messiah has God as his father, and everyone who loves a father loves his offspring too. <sup>2</sup> Here is how we know that we love God's children: when we love God, we also do what he commands. <sup>3</sup> For loving God means obeying his commands. Moreover, his commands are not burdensome, <sup>4</sup> because everything which has God as its Father overcomes the world. And this is what victoriously overcomes the world: our trust. <sup>5</sup> Who does overcome the world if not the person who believes that Yeshua is the Son of God?

<sup>6</sup> He is the one who came by means of water and blood, Yeshua the Messiah — not with water only, but with the water and the blood. And the Spirit bears witness, because the Spirit is the truth. <sup>7</sup> There are three witnesses — <sup>8</sup> the Spirit, the water and the blood — and these three are in agreement. <sup>9</sup> If we accept human witness, God's witness is stronger, because it is the witness which God has given about his Son. <sup>10</sup> Those who keep trusting in the Son of God have this witness in them. Those who do not keep trusting God have made him out to be a liar, because they have not trusted in the witness which God has given about his Son. <sup>11</sup> And this is the witness: God has given us eternal life, and this life is in his Son. <sup>12</sup> Those who have the Son have the life; those who do not have the Son of God do not have the life. <sup>13</sup> I have written you these things so that you may know that you have eternal life — you who keep trusting in the person and power of the Son of God.

<sup>14</sup> This is the confidence we have in his presence: if we ask anything that accords with his will, he hears us. <sup>15</sup> And if we know that he hears us — whatever we ask — then we know that we have what we have asked from him.

<sup>16</sup> If anyone sees his brother committing a sin that does not lead to death, he will ask; and God will give him life for those whose sinning does not lead to death. There is sin that does lead to death; I am not saying he should pray about that. <sup>17</sup> All wrongdoing is sin, but there is sin that does not lead to death.

<sup>18</sup> We know that everyone who has God as his Father does not go on sinning; on the contrary, the Son born of God protects him, and the Evil One does not touch him.

<sup>19</sup> We know that we are from God, and that the whole world lies in the power of the Evil One.

<sup>20</sup> And we know that the Son of God has come and has given us discernment, so that we may know who is genuine; moreover, we are united with the One who is genuine, united with his Son Yeshua the Messiah. He is the genuine God and eternal life.

<sup>21</sup> Children, guard yourselves against false gods!

2 JOHN

To: The chosen lady and her children, whom I love in truth — and not only I but also all who have come to know the truth — <sup>2</sup> because of the Truth which remains united with us and will be with us forever:

<sup>3</sup> Grace, mercy and shalom will be with us from God the Father and from Yeshua the Messiah, the Son of the Father, in truth and love.

<sup>4</sup> I was very happy when I found some of your children living in truth, just as the Father commanded us. <sup>5</sup> And now, dear lady, I am requesting that we love one another — not as if this were a new command I am writing you, for it is the one which we have had from the beginning. <sup>6</sup> Moreover, love is this: that we should live according to his commands. This is the command, as you people have heard from the beginning; live by it!

<sup>7</sup> For many deceivers have gone out into the world, people who do not acknowledge Yeshua the Messiah's coming as a human being. Such a person is a deceiver and an anti-Messiah. <sup>8</sup> Watch yourselves, so that you won't lose what you have worked for, but will receive your full reward. <sup>9</sup> Everyone who goes ahead and does not remain true to what the Messiah has taught does not have God. Those who remain true to his teaching have both the Father and the Son. <sup>10</sup> If someone comes to you and does not bring this teaching, don't welcome him into your home. Don't even say, "Shalom!" to him; <sup>11</sup> for the person who says, "Shalom!" to him shares in his evil deeds.

<sup>12</sup> Although I have much to write you people, I would rather not use paper and ink. Instead, I hope to come and see you and to talk with you face to face, so that our joy may be complete.

3 JOHN

To: Dear Gaius, whom I love in truth:

<sup>2</sup> Dear friend, I am praying that everything prosper with you and that you be in good health, as I know you are prospering spiritually. <sup>3</sup> For I was so happy when some brothers came and testified how faithful you are to the truth, as you continue living in the truth. <sup>4</sup> Nothing gives me greater joy than hearing that my children are living in the truth.

<sup>5</sup> Dear friend, you are faithful in all the work you are doing for the brothers, even when they are strangers to you. <sup>6</sup> They have testified to your love in front of the congregation. You will be doing well if you send them on their way in a manner worthy of God, <sup>7</sup> since it was for the sake of HaShem that they went out without accepting anything from the Goyim. <sup>8</sup> It is we, therefore, who should support such people; so that we may share in their work for the truth.

<sup>9</sup> I wrote something to the congregation; but Diotrephes, who likes to be the macher among them, doesn't recognize our authority. <sup>10</sup> So if I come, I will bring up everything he is doing, including his spiteful and groundless gossip about us. And as if that weren't enough for him, he refuses to recognize the brothers' authority either; moreover, he stops those who want to do so and tries to drive them out of the congregation!

<sup>11</sup> Dear friend, don't imitate the bad, but the good. Those who do what is good are from God; those who do what is bad are not from God.

<sup>12</sup> Everyone speaks well of Demetrius, and so does the truth itself. We vouch for him, and you know that our testimony is true.

<sup>13</sup> I have much to write you, but I don't want to write with pen and ink; <sup>14</sup> however, I am hoping to see you very soon, and we will speak face to face.

Shalom to you. Your friends send you their greetings. Greet each of our friends by name.

JUDE

To: Those who have been called, who are loved by God the Father and kept for Yeshua the Messiah:

<sup>3</sup> Dear friends, I was busily at work writing to you about the salvation we share, when I found it necessary to write, urging you to keep contending earnestly for the faith which was once and for all passed on to God's people. <sup>4</sup> For certain individuals, the ones written about long ago as being meant for this condemnation, have wormed their way in — ungodly people who pervert God's grace into a license for debauchery and disown our only Master and Lord, Yeshua the Messiah.

<sup>5</sup> Since you already know all this, my purpose is only to remind you that ADONAI, who once delivered the people from Egypt, later destroyed those who did not trust. <sup>6</sup> And the angels that did not keep within their original authority, but abandoned their proper sphere, he has kept in darkness, bound with everlasting chains for the Judgment of the Great Day. <sup>7</sup> And S'dom, 'Amora and the surrounding cities, following a pattern like theirs, committing sexual sins and perversions, lie exposed as a warning of the everlasting fire awaiting those who must undergo punishment.

<sup>8</sup> Likewise, these people, with their visions, defile their own flesh, despise godly authority and insult angelic beings. <sup>9</sup> When Mikha'el, one of the ruling angels, took issue with the Adversary, arguing over the body of Moshe, he did not dare bring against him an insulting charge, but said, "May ADONAI rebuke you." <sup>10</sup> However, these people insult anything they don't understand; and what they do understand naturally, without thinking, like animals — by these things they are destroyed!

<sup>11</sup> Woe to them, in that they have walked the road of Kayin, they have given themselves over for money to the error of Bil'am, they have been destroyed in the rebellion of Korach. <sup>12</sup> These men are filthy spots at your festive gatherings meant to foster love; they share your meals without a qualm, while caring only for themselves. They are waterless clouds carried along by the winds; trees without fruit even in autumn, and doubly dead because they have been uprooted; <sup>13</sup> savage sea-waves heaving forth their shameful deeds like foam; wandering stars for whom the blackest darkness has been reserved forever.

<sup>14</sup> Moreover, Hanokh, in the seventh generation starting with Adam, also prophesied about these men, saying, “Look! ADONAI came with his myriads of holy ones <sup>15</sup> to execute judgment against everyone, that is, to convict all the godless for their godless deeds which they have done in such a godless way, and for all the harsh words these godless sinners have spoken against him.”

<sup>17</sup> But you, dear friends, keep in mind the words spoken in advance by the emissaries of our Lord Yeshua the Messiah. <sup>18</sup> They told you, “During the acharit-hayamim there will be scoffers following their own godless passions.” <sup>19</sup> These are the people who cause divisions. They are controlled by their impulses, because they don’t have the Spirit.

<sup>20</sup> But you, dear friends, build yourselves up in your most holy faith, and pray in union with the Ruach HaKodesh. <sup>21</sup> Thus keep yourselves in God’s love, as you wait for our Lord Yeshua the Messiah to give you the mercy that leads to eternal life.

to the one who can keep you from falling

and set you without defect and full of joy in the presence of his Sh’khinah —

<sup>25</sup>

to God alone, our Deliverer, through Yeshua the Messiah, our Lord —

be glory, majesty, power and authority

before all time, now and forever.

Amen.

REVELATION

of Yeshua the Messiah to Yochanan (John)

1 <sup>1</sup> This is the revelation which God gave to Yeshua the Messiah, so that he could show his servants what must happen very soon. He communicated it by sending his angel to his servant Yochanan, <sup>2</sup> who bore witness to the Word of God and to the testimony of Yeshua the Messiah, as much as he saw. <sup>3</sup> Blessed are the reader and hearers of the words of this prophecy, provided they obey the things written in it! For the time is near!

To: The seven Messianic communities in the province of Asia:

Grace and shalom to you from the One who is, who was and who is coming; from the sevenfold Spirit before his throne; <sup>5</sup> and from Yeshua the Messiah, the faithful witness, the firstborn from the dead and the ruler of the earth's kings.

To him, the one who loves us, who has freed us from our sins at the cost of his blood, <sup>6</sup> who has caused us to be a kingdom, that is, cohanim for God, his Father — to him be the glory and the rulership forever and ever. Amen.

<sup>7</sup> Look! He is coming with the clouds!<sup>a</sup>

Every eye will see him,

including those who pierced him;

and all the tribes of the Land will mourn him.<sup>b</sup>

Yes! Amen!

<sup>8</sup> “I am the ‘A’ and the ‘Z,’” says A<sub>DONAI</sub>,

God of heaven's armies,

the One who is, who was and who is coming.

<sup>9</sup> I, Yochanan, am a brother of yours and a fellow-sharer in the suffering, kingship and perseverance that come from being united with Yeshua. I had been exiled to the island called Patmos for having proclaimed the message of God and borne witness to Yeshua. <sup>10</sup> I came to be, in the Spirit, on the Day of the Lord; and I heard behind me a loud voice, like a trumpet, <sup>11</sup> saying, “Write down what you see on a scroll, and send it to the seven Messianic communities — Ephesus, Smyrna, Pergamum, Thyatira, Sardis, Philadelphia and Laodicea!” <sup>12</sup> I turned around to see who was speaking to me; and when I had turned, I saw seven gold menorahs; <sup>13</sup> and among the menorahs was someone like a Son of Man, wearing a robe down to his feet and a gold band around his chest. <sup>14</sup> His head and hair were as white as snow-white wool, his eyes like a fiery flame, <sup>15</sup> his feet like burnished brass refined in a furnace, and his voice like the sound of rushing waters. <sup>16</sup> In his right hand he held seven stars, out of his mouth went a sharp double-edged sword, and his face was like the sun shining in full strength.

<sup>17</sup> When I saw him, I fell down at his feet like a dead man. He placed his right hand upon me and said, “Don’t be afraid! I am the First and the Last, <sup>18</sup> the Living One. I was dead, but look! — I am alive forever and ever! And I hold the keys to Death and Sh’ol. <sup>19</sup> So write down what you see, both what is now, and what will happen afterwards. <sup>20</sup> Here is the secret meaning of the seven stars you saw in my right hand, and of the seven gold menorahs: the seven stars are the angels of the seven Messianic communities, and the seven menorahs are the seven Messianic communities.

2 <sup>1</sup> “To the angel of the Messianic Community in Ephesus, write: ‘Here is the message from the one who holds the seven stars in his right hand and walks among the seven gold menorahs: <sup>2</sup> “I know what you have been doing, how hard you have worked, how you have persevered, and how you can’t stand wicked people; so you tested those who call themselves emissaries but aren’t — and you found them to be liars. <sup>3</sup> You are persevering, and you have suffered for my sake without growing weary. <sup>4</sup> But I have this against you: you have lost the love you had at first. <sup>5</sup> Therefore, remember where you were before you fell, turn from this sin, and do what you used to do before. Otherwise, I will come to you and remove your menorah from its place — if you don’t turn from your sin! <sup>6</sup> But you have this in your favor: you hate what the Nicolaitans do — I hate it too. <sup>7</sup> Those who have ears, let them hear what the Spirit is saying to the Messianic communities. To him winning the victory I will give the right to eat from the Tree of Life which is in God's Gan-'Eden.'"

<sup>8</sup> "To the angel of the Messianic Community in Smyrna, write: 'Here is the message from the First and the Last, who died and came alive again: <sup>9</sup> "I know how you are suffering and how poor you are (though in fact you are rich!), and I know the insults of those who call themselves Jews but aren't — on the contrary, they are a synagogue of the Adversary. <sup>10</sup> Don't be afraid of what you are about to suffer. Look, the Adversary is going to have some of you thrown in prison, in order to put you to the test; and you will face an ordeal for ten days. Remain faithful, even to the point of death; and I will give you life as your crown. <sup>11</sup> Those who have ears, let them hear what the Spirit is saying to the Messianic communities. He who wins the victory will not be hurt at all by the second death.'"

<sup>12</sup> "To the angel of the Messianic Community in Pergamum, write: 'Here is the message from the one who has the sharp double-edged sword: <sup>13</sup> "I know where you are living, there where the Adversary's throne is. Yet you are holding onto my name. You did not deny trusting me even at the time when my faithful witness Antipas was put to death in your town, there where the Adversary lives. <sup>14</sup> Nevertheless, I have a few things against you: you have some people who hold to the teaching of Bil'am, who taught Balak to set a trap for the people of Isra'el, so that they would eat food that had been sacrificed to idols and commit sexual sin. <sup>15</sup> Likewise, you too have people who hold to the teaching of the Nicolaitans. <sup>16</sup> Therefore, turn from these sins. Otherwise, I will come to you very soon and make war against them with the sword of my mouth. <sup>17</sup> Those who have ears, let them hear what the Spirit is saying to the Messianic communities. To him winning the victory I will give some of the hidden man. I will also give him a white stone, on which is written a new name that nobody knows except the one receiving it.'"

<sup>18</sup> "To the angel of the Messianic Community in Thyatira, write: 'Here is the message from the Son of God, whose eyes are like a fiery flame and whose feet are like burnished brass: <sup>19</sup> I know what you are doing, your love, trust, service and perseverance. And I know that you are doing more now than before. <sup>20</sup> But I have this against you: you continue to tolerate that Izevel woman, the one who claims to be a prophet, but is teaching and deceiving my servants to commit sexual sin and eat food that has been sacrificed to idols. <sup>21</sup> I gave her time to turn from her sin, but she doesn't want to repent of her immorality. <sup>22</sup> So I am throwing her into a sickbed; and those who commit adultery with her I am throwing into great trouble, unless they turn from the sins connected with what she does; <sup>23</sup> and I will strike her children dead! Then all the Messianic communities will know that I am the one who searches minds and hearts, and that I will give to each of you what your deeds deserve. <sup>24</sup> But to the rest of you in Thyatira, to those who do not hold this teaching, who have not learned what some people call the 'deep things' of the Adversary, I say this: I am not loading you up with another burden; <sup>25</sup> only hold fast to what you have until I come. <sup>26</sup> To him who wins the victory and does what I want until the goal is reached,

I will give him authority over the nations;

and dash them to pieces like pottery,<sup>e</sup>

<sup>28</sup> just as I have received authority from my Father. I will also give him the morning star. <sup>29</sup> Those who have ears, let them hear what the Spirit is saying to the Messianic communities.””

3 <sup>1</sup> “To the angel of the Messianic Community in Sardis, write: ‘Here is the message from the one who has the sevenfold Spirit of God and the seven stars: “I know what you are doing — you have a reputation for being alive, but in fact you are dead! <sup>2</sup>Wake up, and strengthen what remains, before it dies too! For I have found what you are doing incomplete in the sight of my God. <sup>3</sup> So remember what you received and heard, and obey it, and turn from your sin! For if you don't wake up, I will come like a thief; and you don't know at what moment I will come upon you. <sup>4</sup> Nevertheless, you do have a few people in Sardis who have not soiled their clothes; and they will walk with me, clothed in white, because they are worthy. <sup>5</sup> He who wins the victory will, like them, be dressed in white clothing; and I will not blot his name out of the Book of Life; in fact, I will acknowledge him individually before my Father and before his angels. <sup>6</sup> Those who have ears, let them hear what the Spirit is saying to the Messianic communities.””

<sup>7</sup> “To the angel of the Messianic Community in Philadelphia, write: ‘Here is the message of HaKadosh, the True One, the one who has the key of David, who, if he opens something, no one else can shut it, and if he closes something, no one else can open it.’<sup>8</sup> “I know what you are doing. Look, I have put in front of you an open door, and no one can shut it. I know that you have but little power, yet you have obeyed my message and have not disowned me. <sup>9</sup> Here, I will give you some from the synagogue of the Adversary, those who call themselves Jews but aren’t — on the contrary, they are lying — see, I will cause them to come and prostrate themselves at your feet, and they will know that I have loved you. <sup>10</sup> Because you did obey my message about persevering, I will keep you from the time of trial coming upon the whole world to put the people living on earth to the test. <sup>11</sup> I am coming soon; hold on to what you have, so that no one will take away your crown. <sup>12</sup> I will make him who wins the victory a pillar in the Temple of my God, and he will never leave it. Also I will write on him the name of my God and the name of my God’s city, the new Yerushalayim coming down out of heaven from my God, and my own new name. <sup>13</sup> Those who have ears, let them hear what the Spirit is saying to the Messianic communities.””

<sup>14</sup> “To the angel of the Messianic Community in Laodicea, write: ‘Here is the message from the Amen, the faithful and true witness, the Ruler of God’s creation: <sup>15</sup> “I know what you are doing: you are neither cold nor hot. How I wish you were either one or the other! <sup>16</sup> So, because you are lukewarm, neither cold nor hot, I will vomit you out of my mouth! <sup>17</sup> For you keep saying, ‘I am rich, I have gotten rich,’<sup>g</sup> I don’t need a thing!’ You don’t know that you are the one who is wretched, pitiable, poor, blind and naked! <sup>18</sup> My advice to you is to buy from me gold refined by fire, so that you may be rich; and white clothing, so that you may be dressed and not have to be ashamed of your nakedness; and eyesalve to rub on your eyes, so that you may see. <sup>19</sup> As for me, I rebuke and discipline everyone I love; so exert yourselves, and turn from your sins! <sup>20</sup> Here, I’m standing at the door, knocking. If someone hears my voice and opens the door, I will come in to him and eat with him, and he will eat with me. <sup>21</sup> I will let him who wins the victory sit with me on my throne, just as I myself also won the victory and sat down with my Father on his throne. <sup>22</sup> Those who have ears, let them hear what the Spirit is saying to the Messianic communities.””

4 <sup>1</sup> After these things, I looked; and there before me was a door standing open in heaven; and the voice like a trumpet which I had heard speaking with me before said, “Come up here, and I will show you what must happen after these things.” <sup>2</sup> Instantly I was in the Spirit, and there before me in heaven stood a throne, and on the throne Someone was sitting. <sup>3</sup> The One sitting there gleamed like diamonds and rubies, and a rainbow shining like emerald encircled the throne.

<sup>4</sup> Surrounding the throne were twenty-four other thrones, and on the thrones sat twenty-four elders dressed in white clothing and wearing gold crowns on their heads. <sup>5</sup> From the throne came forth lightnings, voices and thunderings; and before the throne were seven flaming torches, which are the sevenfold Spirit of God. <sup>6</sup> In front of the throne was what looked like a sea of glass, clear as crystal.

In the center, around the throne, were four living beings covered with eyes in front and behind. <sup>7</sup> The first living being was like a lion, the second living being was like an ox, the third living being had a face that looked human, and the fourth living being was like a flying eagle.<sup>h</sup> <sup>8</sup> Each of the four living beings had six wings<sup>i</sup> and was covered with eyes inside and out; and day and night they never stop saying,

“Holy, holy, holy is ADONAI, God of heaven’s armies<sup>i</sup>

the One who was, who is and who is coming!”

<sup>9</sup> And whenever the living beings give glory, honor and thanks to the One sitting on the throne, to the One who lives forever and ever, <sup>10</sup> the twenty-four elders fall down before the One sitting on the throne, who lives forever and ever, and worship him. They throw their crowns in front of the throne and say, to have glory, honor and power,

because you created all things —

yes, because of your will they were created and came into being!”

<sup>6</sup> Then I saw standing there with the throne and the four living beings, in the circle of the elders, a Lamb that appeared to have been slaughtered. He had seven horns and seven eyes, which are the sevenfold Spirit of God sent out into all the earth. <sup>7</sup> He came and took the scroll out of the right hand of the One sitting on the throne. <sup>8</sup> When he took the scroll, the four living beings and the twenty-four elders fell down in front of the Lamb. Each one held a harp and gold bowls filled with pieces of incense, which are the prayers of God’s people; <sup>9</sup> and they sang a new song,

“You are worthy to take the scroll and break its seals;

because you were slaughtered;

at the cost of blood you ransomed for God

persons from every tribe, language, people and nation.

<sup>10</sup>

You made them into a kingdom for God to rule,
cohanim to serve him;

and they will rule over the earth.”

<sup>11</sup> Then I looked, and I heard the sound of a vast number of angels — thousands and thousands, millions and millions! They were all around the throne, the living beings and the elders; <sup>12</sup> and they shouted out,

“Worthy is the slaughtered Lamb to receive power, riches, wisdom, strength,

honor, glory and praise!”

<sup>13</sup> And I heard every creature in heaven, on earth, under the earth and on the sea — yes, everything in them — saying,

“To the One sitting on the throne

and to the Lamb

belong praise, honor, glory and power

forever and ever!”

<sup>14</sup> The four living beings said, “Amen!” and the elders fell down and worshipped.

6 <sup>1</sup> Next I watched as the Lamb broke the first of the seven seals, and I heard one of the four living beings say in a thundering voice, “Go!” <sup>2</sup> I looked, and there in front of me was a white horse; its rider had a bow and was given a crown; and he rode off as a conqueror to conquer.

<sup>3</sup> When he broke the second seal, I heard the second living being say, “Go!” <sup>4</sup> Another horse went out, a red one; and its rider was given the power to take peace away from the earth and make people slaughter each other. He was given a great sword.

<sup>5</sup> When he broke the third seal, I heard the third living being say, “Go!” I looked, and there in front of me was a black horse, and its rider held in his hand a pair of scales. <sup>6</sup> Then I heard what sounded like a voice from among the four living beings say, “Two pounds of wheat for a day’s wages! Six pounds of barley for the same price! But don’t damage the oil or the wine!”

<sup>7</sup> When he broke the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth living being say, “Go!” <sup>8</sup> I looked, and there in front of me was a pallid, sickly-looking horse. Its rider’s name was Death, and Sh’ol followed behind him.

They were given authority to kill one-quarter of the world by war, by famine, by plagues and with the wild animals of the earth.

<sup>9</sup> When the Lamb broke the fifth seal, I saw underneath the altar the souls of those who had been put to death for proclaiming the Word of God, that is, for bearing witness. <sup>10</sup> They cried out in a loud voice, “Sovereign Ruler, HaKadosh, the True One, how long will it be before you judge the people living on earth and avenge our blood?” <sup>11</sup> Each of them was given a white robe; and they were told to wait a little longer, until the full number of their fellow-servants should be reached, of their brothers who would be killed, just as they had been.

7 <sup>1</sup> After this, I saw four angels standing at the four corners of the earth, holding back the four winds of the earth, so that no wind would blow on the land, on the sea or on any tree. <sup>2</sup> I saw another angel coming up from the east with a seal from the living God, and he shouted to the four angels who had been given power to harm the land and the sea, <sup>3</sup> “Do not harm the land or the sea or the trees until we have sealed the servants of our God on their foreheads!” <sup>4</sup> I heard how many were sealed — 144,000 from every tribe of the people of Isra’el:

<sup>5</sup>	From the tribe of Y’hudah	12,000 were sealed,
	from the tribe of Re’uven	12,000,
	from the tribe of Gad	12,000,
<sup>6</sup>	from the tribe of Asher	12,000,

	from the tribe of Naftali	12,000,
	from the tribe of M'nasheh	12,000,
<sup>7</sup>	from the tribe of Shim'on	12,000,
	from the tribe of Levi	12,000,
	from the tribe of Yissakhar	12,000,
<sup>8</sup>	from the tribe of Z'vulun	12,000,
	from the tribe of Yosef	12,000,
	from the tribe of Binyamin	12,000.

<sup>9</sup> After this, I looked; and there before me was a huge crowd, too large for anyone to count, from every nation, tribe, people and language. They were standing in front of the throne and in front of the Lamb, dressed in white robes and holding palm branches in their hands; <sup>10</sup> and they shouted, “Victory to our God,

who sits on the throne,
and to the Lamb!”

<sup>11</sup> All the angels stood around the throne, the elders and the four living beings; they fell face down before the throne and worshipped God, saying,

<sup>12</sup> “Amen!”

“Praise and glory, wisdom and thanks, honor and power and strength
belong to our God forever and ever!
“Amen!”

<sup>13</sup> One of the elders asked me, “These people dressed in white robes — who are they, and where are they from?” <sup>14</sup> “Sir,” I answered, “you know.”

Then he told me, “These are the people who have come out of the Great Persecution. They have washed their robes and made them white with the blood of the Lamb. <sup>15</sup> That is why they are before God’s throne.

“Day and night they serve him in his Temple;
and the One who sits on the throne
will put his Sh’khinah upon them.

<sup>16</sup>       “They will never again be hungry,
they will never again be thirsty,
the sun will not beat down on them,
nor will any burning heat.!

<sup>17</sup>       “For the Lamb at the center of the throne will shepherd them, will lead them to springs of living water,<sup>m</sup>
and God will wipe every tear from their eyes.”<sup>n</sup>

8 <sup>1</sup> When the Lamb broke the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven for what seemed like half an hour. <sup>2</sup> Then I saw the seven angels who stand before God, and they were given seven shofars. <sup>3</sup> Another angel came and stood at the altar with a gold incense-bowl, and he was given a large quantity of incense to add to the prayers of all God’s people <sup>4</sup> on the gold altar in front of the throne. The smoke of the incense went up with the prayers of God’s people from the hand of the angel before God. <sup>5</sup> Then the angel took the incense-bowl, filled it with fire from the altar and threw it down onto the earth; and there followed peals of thunder, voices, flashes of lightning and an earthquake.

<sup>6</sup> Now the seven angels with the seven shofars prepared to sound them.

<sup>7</sup> The first one sounded his shofar; and there came hail and fire mingled with blood, and it was thrown down upon the earth. A third of the earth was burned up, a third of the trees were burned up, and all green grass was burned up.

<sup>8</sup> The second angel sounded his shofar, and what looked like an enormous blazing mountain was hurled into the sea. A third of the sea turned to blood, <sup>9</sup> a third of the living creatures in the sea died, and a third of the ships were destroyed.

<sup>10</sup> The third angel sounded his shofar; and a great star, blazing like a torch, fell from the sky onto a third of the rivers and onto the springs of water. <sup>11</sup> The name of the star was “Bitterness,” and a third of the water became bitter, and many people died from the water that had been turned bitter.

<sup>12</sup> The fourth angel sounded his shofar; and a third of the sun was struck, also a third of the moon and a third of the stars; so that a third of them were darkened, the day had a third less light, and the night likewise.

<sup>13</sup> Then I looked, and I heard a lone eagle give a loud cry, as it flew in mid-heaven, “Woe! Woe! Woe to the people living on earth, because of the remaining blasts from the three angels who have yet to sound their shofars!”

9 <sup>1</sup> The fifth angel sounded his shofar; and I saw a star that had fallen out of heaven onto the earth, and he was given the key to the shaft leading down to the Abyss. <sup>2</sup> He opened the shaft of the Abyss, and there went up smoke from the shaft like the smoke of a huge furnace; the sun was darkened, and the sky too, by the smoke from the shaft. <sup>3</sup> Then out of the smoke onto the earth came locusts, and they were given power like the power scorpions have on earth. <sup>4</sup> They were instructed not to harm the grass on the earth, any green plant or any tree, but only the people who did not have the seal of God on their foreheads. <sup>5</sup> The locusts were not allowed to kill them, only to inflict pain on them for five months; and the pain they caused was like the pain of a scorpion sting. <sup>6</sup> In those days people will seek death but will not find it; they will long to die, but death will elude them.

<sup>7</sup> Now these locusts looked like horses outfitted for battle. On their heads were what looked like crowns of gold, and their faces were like human faces. <sup>8</sup> They had hair like women’s hair, and their teeth were like those of lions.<sup>9</sup> Their chests were like iron breastplates, and the sound their wings made was like the roar of many horses and chariots rushing into battle.<sup>10</sup> They had tails like those of scorpions, with stings; and in their tails was their power to hurt people for five months.<sup>11</sup> They had as king over them the angel of the Abyss, whose name in Hebrew is “Abaddon” and in our language, “Destroyer.”

<sup>12</sup> The first woe has passed, but there are still two woes to come.

<sup>13</sup> The sixth angel sounded his shofar, and I heard a voice from the four horns of the gold altar before God,<sup>14</sup> saying to the sixth angel, the one with the shofar, “Release the four angels that are bound at the great river Euphrates!”<sup>15</sup> And they were released. These four angels had been kept ready for this moment, for this day and month and year, to kill a third of mankind;<sup>16</sup> and the number of cavalry soldiers was two hundred million! — I heard the number.

<sup>17</sup> Here is how the horses looked in the vision: the riders had breastplates that were fire-red, iris-blue and sulfur-yellow; the horses’ heads were like lions’ heads; and from their mouths issued fire, smoke and sulfur.<sup>18</sup> It was these three plagues that killed a third of mankind — the fire, smoke and sulfur issuing from the horses’ mouths.<sup>19</sup> For the power of the horses was in their mouths — and also in their tails, for their tails were like snakes with heads, and with them they could cause injury.

<sup>20</sup> The rest of mankind, those who were not killed by these plagues, even then did not turn from what they had made with their own hands — they did not stop worshipping demons and idols made of gold, silver, bronze, stone and wood, which cannot see or hear or walk.<sup>21</sup> Nor did they turn from their murdering, their involvement with the occult and with drugs, their sexual immorality or their stealing.

10<sup>1</sup> Next I saw another mighty angel coming down from heaven. He was dressed in a cloud, with a rainbow over his head; his face was like the sun, his legs like columns of fire;<sup>2</sup> and he had a little scroll lying open in his hand. He planted his right foot on the sea and his left foot on the land,<sup>3</sup> and shouted in a voice as loud as the roar of a lion; and when he shouted, seven thunderclaps sounded with voices that spoke.<sup>4</sup> When the seven thunders spoke, I was about to write; but I heard a voice from heaven say,

“Seal up the things the seven thunders said,
do not write them down!”

<sup>5</sup> Then the angel I saw standing on the sea and on the land lifted his right hand toward heaven <sup>6</sup> and swore by the One who lives forever and ever, <sup>7</sup> who created heaven and what is in it, earth and what is in it, and the sea and what is in it: <sup>8</sup> “There will be no more delay; <sup>9</sup> on the contrary, in the days of the sound from the seventh angel when he sounds his shofar, the hidden plan of God will be brought to completion, the Good News as he proclaimed it to his servants the prophets.”

<sup>10</sup> Next the voice which I had heard from heaven spoke to me again and said, “Go, take the scroll lying open in the hand of the angel standing on the sea and on the land!” <sup>11</sup> So I went over to the angel and asked him to give me the little scroll; and he said to me, “Take it and eat it. It will turn your stomach bitter, but in your mouth it will be sweet as honey.” <sup>12</sup> I took the little scroll from the angel’s hand and ate it; and in my mouth it was sweet as honey; but after I had swallowed it, my stomach turned bitter. <sup>13</sup> Then I was told, “You must prophesy again about many peoples, nations, languages and kings.”

11 <sup>1</sup> I was given a measuring rod like a stick and told, “Get up, and measure the Temple of God and the altar, and count how many people are worshipping there! <sup>2</sup> But the court outside the Temple, leave that out; don’t measure it; because it has been given to the Goyim, and they will trample over the holy city for forty-two months.

<sup>3</sup> “Also I will give power to my two witnesses; and they will prophesy for 1,260 days, dressed in sackcloth.” <sup>4</sup> These are the two olive trees and the two menorahs standing before the Lord of the earth. <sup>5</sup> If anyone tries to do them harm, fire comes out of their mouth and consumes their enemies — yes, if anyone tries to harm them, that is how he must die. <sup>6</sup> They have the authority to shut up the sky, so that no rain falls during the period of their prophesying; also they have the authority to turn the waters into blood and to strike the earth with every kind of plague as often as they want.

<sup>7</sup> When they finish their witnessing, the beast coming up out of the Abyss will fight against them, overcome them and kill them; <sup>8</sup> and their dead bodies will lie in the main street of the great city whose name, to reflect its spiritual condition, is “S’dom” and “Egypt” — the city where their Lord was executed on a stake. <sup>9</sup> Some from the nations, tribes, languages and peoples see their bodies for three-and-a-half days and do not permit the corpses to be placed in a tomb. <sup>10</sup> The people living in the Land rejoice over them, they celebrate and send each other gifts, because these two prophets tormented them so.

<sup>11</sup> But after the three-and-a-half days a breath of life from God entered them, they stood up on their feet, and great fear fell on those who saw them.

<sup>12</sup> Then the two heard a loud voice from heaven saying to them, “Come up here!” And they went up into heaven in a cloud, while their enemies watched them. <sup>13</sup> In that hour there was a great earthquake, and a tenth of the city collapsed. Seven thousand people were killed in the earthquake, and the rest were awestruck and gave glory to the God of heaven.

<sup>14</sup> The second woe has passed; see, the third woe is coming quickly.

<sup>15</sup> The seventh angel sounded his shofar; and there were loud voices in heaven, saying,

“The kingdom of the world has become the Kingdom of our Lord and his Messiah,
and he will rule forever and ever!”

<sup>16</sup> The twenty-four elders sitting on their thrones in God’s presence fell on their faces and worshipped God, <sup>17</sup> saying,

“We thank you, ADONAI,

God of heaven’s armies,

the One who is and was,

that you have taken your power

and have begun to rule.

“The Goyim raged.<sup>s</sup>

But now your rage has come,
 the time for the dead to be judged,
 the time for rewarding your servants the prophets
 and your holy people,
 those who stand in awe of your name,
 both small and great.
 It is also the time for destroying those who destroy the earth.”

<sup>19</sup> Then the Temple of God in heaven was opened, and the Ark of the Covenant was seen in his Temple; and there were flashes of lightning, voices, peals of thunder, an earthquake and violent hail.

12 <sup>1</sup> Now a great sign was seen in heaven — a woman clothed with the sun, under her feet the moon, and on her head a crown of twelve stars. <sup>2</sup> She was pregnant and about to give birth, and she screamed in the agony of labor.

<sup>3</sup> Another sign was seen in heaven: there was a great red dragon with seven heads and ten horns, and on its heads were seven royal crowns. <sup>4</sup> Its tail swept a third of the stars out of heaven and threw them down to the earth. It stood in front of the woman about to give birth, so that it might devour the child the moment it was born.

<sup>5</sup> She gave birth to a son, a male child, the one who will rule all the nations with a staff of iron.<sup>4</sup> But her child was snatched up to God and his throne; <sup>6</sup> and she fled into the desert, where she has a place prepared by God so that she can be taken care of for 1,260 days.

<sup>7</sup> Next there was a battle in heaven — Mikha’el and his angels fought against the dragon, and the dragon and his angels fought back. <sup>8</sup> But it was not strong enough to win, so that there was no longer any place for them in heaven. <sup>9</sup> The great dragon was thrown out, that ancient serpent, also known as the Devil and Satan [the Adversary], the deceiver of the whole world. He was hurled down to the earth, and his angels were hurled down with him.

<sup>10</sup> Then I heard a loud voice in heaven saying,

“Now have come God’s victory, power and kingship, and the authority of his Messiah;

because the Accuser of our brothers,

who accuses them day and night before God,

has been thrown out!

<sup>11</sup> “They defeated him because of the Lamb’s blood and because of the message of their witness.

Even when facing death

they did not cling to life.

<sup>12</sup> “Therefore, rejoice, heaven and you who live there!

But woe to you, land and sea,

for the Adversary has come down to you, and he is very angry, because he knows that his time is short!”

<sup>13</sup> When the dragon saw that he had been hurled down to the earth, he went in pursuit of the woman who had given birth to the male child. <sup>14</sup> But the woman was given the two wings of the great eagle, so that she could fly to her place in the desert, where she is taken care of for a season and two seasons and half a season,<sup>u</sup> away from the serpent’s presence. <sup>15</sup> The serpent spewed water like a river out of its mouth after the woman, in order to sweep her away in the flood; <sup>16</sup> but the land came to her rescue — it opened its mouth and swallowed up the river which the dragon had spewed out of its mouth. <sup>17</sup> The dragon was infuriated over the woman and went off to fight the rest of her children, those who obey God's commands and bear witness to Yeshua.

13 <sup>1</sup> and I saw a beast come up out of the sea, with ten horns and seven heads. On its horns were ten royal crowns and on its heads blasphemous names. <sup>2</sup> The beast which I saw was like a leopard, but with feet like those of a bear and a mouth like the mouth of a lion. To it the dragon gave its power, its throne and great authority. <sup>3</sup> One of the heads of the beast appeared to have received a fatal wound, but its fatal wound was healed, and the whole earth followed after the beast in amazement. <sup>4</sup> They worshipped the dragon, because he had given his authority to the beast; and they worshipped the beast, saying,

“Who is like the beast?

Who can fight against it?”

<sup>5</sup> It was given a mouth speaking arrogant blasphemies; and it was given authority to act for forty-two months. <sup>6</sup> So it opened its mouth in blasphemies against God to insult his name and his Sh'khinah, and those living in heaven; <sup>7</sup> it was allowed to make war on God's holy people and to defeat them; and it was given authority over every tribe, people, language and nation. <sup>8</sup> Everyone living on earth will worship it except those whose names are written in the Book of Life belonging to the Lamb slaughtered before the world was founded. <sup>9</sup> Those who have ears, let them hear!

<sup>10</sup> “If anyone is meant for captivity,

into captivity he goes!

If anyone is to be killed with the sword,

with the sword he is to be killed!”<sup>v</sup>

This is when God’s holy people must persevere and trust!

<sup>11</sup> Then I saw another beast coming up out of the earth. It had two horns like those of a lamb, but it spoke like a dragon. <sup>12</sup> It exercises all the authority of the first beast in its presence; and it makes the earth and its inhabitants worship the first beast, the one whose fatal wound had been healed. <sup>13</sup> It performs great miracles, even causing fire to come down from heaven onto the earth as people watch. <sup>14</sup> It deceives the people living on earth by the miracles it is allowed to perform in the presence of the beast, and it tells them to make an image honoring the beast that was struck by the sword but came alive again. <sup>15</sup> It was allowed to put breath into the image of the beast, so that the image of the beast could even speak; and it was allowed to cause anyone who would not worship the image of the beast to be put to death. <sup>16</sup> Also it forces everyone — great and small, rich and poor, free and slave — to receive a mark on his right hand or on his forehead <sup>17</sup> preventing anyone from buying or selling unless he has the mark, that is, the name of the beast or the number of its name. <sup>18</sup> This is where wisdom is needed; those who understand should count the number of the beast, for it is the number of a person, and its number is 666.

14 <sup>1</sup> Then I looked, and there was the Lamb standing on Mount Tziyon; and with him were 144,000 who had his name and his Father’s name written on their foreheads. <sup>2</sup> I heard a sound from heaven like the sound of rushing waters and like the sound of pealing thunder; the sound I heard was also like that of harpists playing on their harps. <sup>3</sup> They were singing a new song before the throne and before the four living beings and the elders, and no one could learn the song except the 144,000 who have been ransomed from the world. <sup>4</sup> These are the ones who have not defiled themselves with women, for they are virgins; they follow the Lamb wherever he goes; they have been ransomed from among humanity as firstfruits for God and the Lamb; <sup>5</sup> on their lips no lie was found — they are without defect.

<sup>6</sup> Next I saw another angel flying in mid-heaven with everlasting Good News to proclaim to those living on the earth — to every nation, tribe, language and people. <sup>7</sup> In a loud voice he said,

“Fear God, give him glory,
for the hour has come when he will pass judgment!
Worship the One who made heaven and earth,
the sea and the springs of water!”

<sup>8</sup> Another angel, a second one, followed, saying,

“She has fallen! She has fallen!

Bavel the Great!<sup>u</sup>

She made all the nations drink the wine
of God’s fury caused by her whoring!”

<sup>9</sup> Another angel, a third one, followed them and said in a loud voice, “If anyone worships the beast and its image and receives the mark on his forehead or on his hand, <sup>10</sup> he will indeed drink the wine of God’s fury poured undiluted into the cup of his rage. He will be tormented by fire and sulfur before the holy angels and before the Lamb, <sup>11</sup> and the smoke from their tormenting goes up forever and ever. They have no rest, day or night, those who worship the beast and its image and those who receive the mark of its name.” <sup>12</sup> This is when perseverance is needed on the part of God’s people, those who observe his commands and exercise Yeshua’s faithfulness.

<sup>13</sup> Next I heard a voice from heaven saying, “Write: ‘How blessed are the dead who die united with the Lord, from now on!’ ‘Yes,’ says the Spirit, ‘now they may rest from their efforts, for the things they have accomplished follow along with them.’”

<sup>14</sup> Then I looked, and there before me was a white cloud. Sitting on the cloud was someone like a Son of Man<sup>s</sup> with a gold crown on his head and a sharp sickle in his hand. <sup>15</sup> Another angel came out of the Temple and shouted to the one sitting on the cloud, “Start using your sickle to reap, because the time to reap has come — the earth’s harvest is ripe!” <sup>16</sup> The one sitting on the cloud swung his sickle over the earth, and the earth was harvested.

<sup>17</sup> Another angel came out of the Temple in heaven, and he too had a sharp sickle. <sup>18</sup> Then out from the altar went yet another angel, who was in charge of the fire; and he called in a loud voice to the one with the sharp sickle, “Use your sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of grapes from the earth’s vine, because they are ripe!” <sup>19</sup> The angel swung his sickle down onto the earth, gathered the earth’s grapes and threw them into the great winepress of God’s fury. <sup>20</sup> The winepress was trodden outside the city, and blood flowed from the winepress as high as the horses’ bridles for two hundred miles!

15 <sup>1</sup> Then I saw another sign in heaven, a great and wonderful one — seven angels with the seven plagues that are the final ones; because with them, God’s fury is finished. <sup>2</sup> I saw what looked like a sea of glass mixed with fire. Those defeating the beast, its image and the number of its name were standing by the sea of glass, holding harps which God had given them. <sup>3</sup> They were singing the song of Moshe, the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb:

“Great and wonderful are the things you have done,

ADONAI*, God of heaven’s armies!<sup>x</sup>

Just and true are your ways,

king of the nations!

<sup>4</sup> ADONAI, who will not fear and glorify your name?
because you alone are holy.

All nations will come and worship before you,

for your righteous deeds have been revealed.”

<sup>5</sup> After this I looked, and the sanctuary (that is, the Tent of Witness in heaven) was opened, <sup>6</sup> and out of the sanctuary came the seven angels with the seven plagues. They were dressed in clean bright linen and had gold belts around their chests. <sup>7</sup> One of the four living beings gave to the seven angels seven gold bowls filled with the fury of God, who lives forever and ever. <sup>8</sup> Then the sanctuary was filled with smoke from God's Sh'khinah, that is, from his power; and no one could enter the sanctuary until the seven plagues of the seven angels had accomplished their purpose.

16 <sup>1</sup> I heard a loud voice from the sanctuary say to the seven angels, "Go, and pour out on the earth the seven bowls of God's fury!"

<sup>2</sup> So the first one went and poured his bowl onto the earth, and disgusting and painful sores appeared on all the people who had the mark of the beast and worshipped its image.

<sup>3</sup> The second one poured out his bowl into the sea, and it became like the blood of a dead person, and every living thing in the sea died.

<sup>4</sup> The third one poured out his bowl into the rivers and springs of water, and they turned to blood. <sup>5</sup> Then I heard the angel of the waters say,

"O HaKadosh, the One who is and was,

you are just in these judgments of yours.

<sup>6</sup> They poured out the blood of your people and your prophets, so you have made them drink blood. They deserve it!"

<sup>7</sup> Then I heard the altar say,

"Yes, ADONAI, God of heaven's armies,

your judgments are true and just!"

<sup>8</sup> The fourth one poured out his bowl on the sun, and it was permitted to burn people with fire. <sup>9</sup> People were burned by the intense heat; yet they cursed the name of God, who had the authority over these plagues, instead of turning from their sins to give him glory.

they cursed the God of heaven because of their pains and sores, and did not turn from their sinful deeds.

<sup>12</sup> The sixth one poured out his bowl on the great river Euphrates, and its water dried up, in order to prepare the way for the kings from the east. <sup>13</sup> And I saw three unclean spirits that looked like frogs; they came from the mouth of the dragon, from the mouth of the beast and from the mouth of the false prophet. <sup>14</sup> They are miracle-working demonic spirits which go out to the kings of the whole inhabited world to assemble them for the War of the Great Day of ADONAI-Tzva'ot. <sup>15</sup> ("Look! I am coming like a thief! How blessed are those who stay alert and keep their clothes clean, so that they won't be walking naked and be publicly put to shame!") <sup>16</sup> And they gathered the kings to the place which in Hebrew is called Har Megiddo.

<sup>17</sup> The seventh one poured out his bowl on the air, and a loud voice came out of the Temple from the throne, saying, "It is done!" <sup>18</sup> There were flashes of lightning, voices and peals of thunder; and there was a massive earthquake, such as has never occurred since mankind has been on earth, so violent was the earthquake. <sup>19</sup> The great city was split into three parts, the cities of the nations fell, and God remembered Bavel the Great and made her drink the wine from the cup of his raging fury. <sup>20</sup> Every island fled, and no mountains were to be found. <sup>21</sup> And huge seventy-pound hailstones fell on people from the sky. But the people cursed God for the plague of hail, that it was such a terrible plague.

17 <sup>1</sup> Then came one of the angels with the seven bowls; and he said to me, "Come, I will show you the judgment of the great whore who is sitting by many waters. <sup>2</sup> The kings of the earth went whoring with her, and the people living on earth have become drunk from the wine of her whoring." <sup>3</sup> He carried me off in the Spirit to a desert, and I saw a woman sitting on a scarlet beast filled with blasphemous names and having seven heads and ten horns. <sup>4</sup> The woman was dressed in purple and scarlet and glittered with gold, precious stones and pearls. In her hand was a gold cup filled with the obscene and filthy things produced by her whoring. <sup>5</sup> On her forehead was written a name with a hidden meaning,

BAVEL THE GREAT MOTHER OF WHORES AND OF

THE EARTH'S OBSCENITIES

<sup>6</sup> I saw the woman drunk from the blood of God's people, that is, from the blood of the people who testify about Yeshua.

On seeing her, I was altogether astounded. <sup>7</sup> Then the angel said to me, "Why are you astounded? I will tell you the hidden meaning of the woman and of the beast with seven heads and ten horns that was carrying her. <sup>8</sup> The beast you saw once was, now is not, and will come up from the Abyss; but it is on its way to destruction. The people living on earth whose names have not been written in the Book of Life since the founding of the world will be astounded to see the beast that once was, now is not, but is to appear. <sup>9</sup> This calls for a mind with wisdom: the seven heads are seven hills on which the woman is sitting; also they are seven kings — <sup>10</sup> five have fallen, one is living now and the other is yet to come; and when he does come, he must remain only a little while. <sup>11</sup> The beast which once was and now is not is an eighth king; it comes from the seven and is on its way to destruction. <sup>12</sup> The ten horns you saw are ten kings who have not yet begun to rule, but they receive power as kings for one hour, along with the beast. <sup>13</sup> They have one mind, and they hand over their power and authority to the beast. <sup>14</sup> They will go to war against the Lamb, but the Lamb will defeat them, because he is Lord of lords and King of kings, and those who are called, chosen and faithful will overcome along with him."

<sup>15</sup> Then he said to me, "The waters that you saw, where the whore is sitting, are peoples, crowds, nations and languages. <sup>16</sup> As for the ten horns that you saw and the beast, they will hate the whore, bring her to ruin, leave her naked, eat her flesh and consume her with fire. <sup>17</sup> For God put it in their hearts to do what will fulfill his purpose, that is, to be of one mind and give their kingdom to the beast until God's words have accomplished their intent. <sup>18</sup> And the woman you saw is the great city that rules over the kings of the earth."

18 <sup>1</sup> After these things, I saw another angel coming down from heaven. He had great authority, the earth was lit up by his splendor. <sup>2</sup> He cried out in a strong voice,

"She has fallen! She has fallen!

Bavel the Great!<sup>g</sup>

She has become a home for demons,
a prison for every unclean spirit,
a prison for every unclean, hated bird.

<sup>3</sup> “For all the nations have drunk of the wine
of God’s fury caused by her whoring —
yes, the kings of the earth went whoring with her,
and from her unrestrained love of luxury
the world’s businessmen have grown rich.”

<sup>4</sup> Then I heard another voice out of heaven say:

“My people, come out of her!
so that you will not share in her sins,
so that you will not be infected by her plagues,

<sup>5</sup> for her sins are a sticky mass piled up to heaven,
and God has remembered her crimes.

<sup>6</sup> “Render to her as she rendered to others!

Pay her back double for what she has done!

Use the cup in which she has brewed
to brew her a double-sized drink!

<sup>7</sup> “Give her as much torment and sorrow

as the glory and luxury she gave herself!

For in her heart she says, ‘I sit a queen —

I am not a widow, I will never see sorrow.’

<sup>8</sup> “Therefore, her plagues will come in a single day —

death, sorrow and famine;

and she will be burned with fire,

because ADONAI, God, her Judge, is mighty”

<sup>9</sup> The kings of the earth who went whoring with her and shared her luxury will sob and wail over her when they see the smoke as she burns. <sup>10</sup> Standing at a distance, for fear of her torment, they will say,

“Oh no! The great city!

Bavel, the mighty city!

In a single hour

your judgment has come!”

<sup>11</sup> The world’s businessmen weep and mourn over her, because no one is buying their merchandise any more — <sup>12</sup> stocks of gold and silver, gems and pearls, fine linen and purple, silk and scarlet, all rare woods, all ivory goods, all kinds of things made of scented wood, brass, iron and marble; <sup>13</sup> cinnamon, cardamom, incense, myrrh, frankincense, wine, oil, flour, grain, cattle, sheep, horses, chariots — and bodies — and people’s souls.

<sup>14</sup> The fruits you lusted for with all your heart have gone!

All the luxury and flashiness have been destroyed, never to return!

<sup>15</sup> The sellers of these things, who got rich from her, will stand at a distance, for fear of her torment, weeping and mourning, <sup>16</sup> and saying,

“Oh no! The great city used to wear fine linen, purple and scarlet!

She glittered with gold, precious stones and pearls!

<sup>17</sup> Such great wealth —

in a single hour, ruined!”

All the ship masters, passengers, sailors and everyone making his living from the sea stood at a distance <sup>18</sup> and cried out when they saw the smoke as she burned, “What city was like the great city?” <sup>19</sup> And they threw dust on their heads as they wept and mourned, saying,

“Oh no! The great city!

The abundance of her wealth

made all the ship owners rich!

In a single hour she is ruined!”

<sup>20</sup> Rejoice over her, heaven!

Rejoice, people of God,

emissaries and prophets!

For in judging her, God has vindicated you.

<sup>21</sup> Then a mighty angel picked up a boulder the size of a great millstone, and hurled it into the sea, saying,

“With violence like this will the great city Babel
be hurled down,
never to be found again!

<sup>22</sup> “The sound of harpists and musicians, flute-players and trumpeters
will never again be heard in you.

No worker of any trade
will ever again be found in you,
the sound of a mill

will never again be heard in you, <sup>23</sup> the light of a lamp will never again shine in you,

the voice of bridegroom and bride
will never again be heard in you.

“For your businessmen were the most powerful on earth,
all the nations were deceived by your magic spell.

<sup>24</sup> “In her was found the blood of prophets and of God’s people, indeed, of all who have ever been slaughtered on earth!”

19<sup>1</sup> After these things, I heard what sounded like the roar of a huge crowd in heaven, shouting,

“Halleluyah!

The victory, the glory, the power of our God!

<sup>2</sup> For his judgments are true and just.

He has judged the great whore

who corrupted the earth with her whoring.

He has taken vengeance on her

who has the blood of his servants on her hands.”

<sup>3</sup> And a second time they said,

Her smoke goes up forever and ever!”

<sup>4</sup> The twenty-four elders and the four living beings fell down and worshipped God, sitting on the throne, and said, “Amen!

Halleluyah!”

<sup>5</sup> A voice went out from the throne, saying,

“Praise our God, all you his servants,

you who fear him, small and great!”

<sup>6</sup> Then I heard what sounded like the roar of a huge crowd, like the sound of rushing waters, like loud peals of thunder, saying,

“Halleluyah!

ADONAI, God of heaven’s armies,<sup>b</sup>

has begun his reign!

<sup>7</sup> “Let us rejoice and be glad!

Let us give him the glory!

For the time has come for the wedding of the Lamb,

and his Bride has prepared herself —

<sup>8</sup> fine linen, bright and clean

has been given her to wear.”

(“Fine linen” means the righteous deeds of God’s people.)

<sup>9</sup> The angel said to me, “Write: ‘How blessed are those who have been invited to the wedding feast of the Lamb!’” Then he added, “These are God’s very words.” <sup>10</sup> I fell at his feet to worship him; but he said, “Don’t do that! I’m only a fellow-servant with you and your brothers who have the testimony of Yeshua. Worship God! For the testimony of Yeshua is the Spirit of prophecy.”

<sup>11</sup> Next I saw heaven opened, and there before me was a white horse. Sitting on it was the one called Faithful and True, and it is in righteousness that he passes judgment and goes to battle. <sup>12</sup> His eyes were like a fiery flame, and on his head were many royal crowns. And he had a name written which no one knew but himself. <sup>13</sup> He was wearing a robe that had been soaked in blood, and the name by which he is called is, “THE WORD OF GOD.” <sup>14</sup> The armies of heaven, clothed in fine linen, white and pure, were following him on white horses. <sup>15</sup> And out of his mouth comes a sharp sword with which to strike down nations — “He will rule them with a staff of iron.”<sup>ε</sup> It is he who treads the winepress from which flows the wine of the furious rage of ADONAI, God of heaven’s armies. <sup>16</sup> And on his robe and on his thigh he has a name written:

KING OF KINGS AND
LORD OF LORDS.

<sup>17</sup> Then I saw an angel standing in the sun, and he cried out in a loud voice to all the birds that fly about in mid-heaven, “Come, gather together for the great feast God is giving, <sup>18</sup> to eat the flesh of kings, the flesh of generals, the flesh of important men, the flesh of horses and their riders and the flesh of all kinds of people, free and slave, small and great!” <sup>19</sup> I saw the beast and the kings of the earth and their armies gathered together to do battle with the rider of the horse and his army. <sup>20</sup> But the beast was taken captive, and with it the false prophet who, in its presence, had done the miracles which he had used to deceive those who had received the mark of the beast and those who had worshipped his image. The beast and the false prophet were both thrown alive into the lake of fire that burns with sulfur. <sup>21</sup> The rest were killed with the sword that goes out of the mouth of the rider on the horse, and all the birds gorged themselves on their flesh.

20 <sup>1</sup> Next I saw an angel coming down from heaven, who had the key to the Abyss and a great chain in his hand. <sup>2</sup> He seized the dragon, that ancient serpent, who is the Devil and Satan [the Adversary], and chained him up for a thousand years. <sup>3</sup> He threw him into the Abyss, locked it and sealed it over him; so that he could not deceive the nations any more until the thousand years were over. After that, he has to be set free for a little while.

<sup>4</sup> Then I saw thrones, and those seated on them received authority to judge. And I saw the souls of those who had been beheaded for testifying about Yeshua and proclaiming the Word of God, also those who had not worshipped the beast or its image and had not received the mark on their foreheads and on their hands. They came to life and ruled with the Messiah for a thousand years. <sup>5</sup> (The rest of the dead did not come to life until the thousand years were over.) This is the first resurrection. <sup>6</sup> Blessed and holy is anyone who has a part in the first resurrection; over him the second death has no power. On the contrary, they will be cohanim of God and of the Messiah, and they will rule with him for the thousand years.

<sup>7</sup> When the thousand years are over, the Adversary will be set free from his prison <sup>8</sup> and will go out to deceive the nations in the four quarters of the earth, Gog and Magog<sup>d</sup> to gather them for the battle. Their number is countless as the sand on the seashore; <sup>9</sup> and they came up over the breadth of the Land and surrounded the camp of God's people and the city he loves. But fire came down from heaven and consumed them. <sup>10</sup> The Adversary who had deceived them was hurled into the lake of fire and sulfur, where the beast and the false prophet were; and they will be tormented day and night forever and ever.

<sup>11</sup> Next I saw a great white throne and the One sitting on it. Earth and heaven fled from his presence, and no place was found for them. <sup>12</sup> And I saw the dead, both great and small, standing in front of the throne. Books were opened; and another book was opened, the Book of Life; and the dead were judged from what was written in the books, according to what they had done. <sup>13</sup> The sea gave up the dead in it; and Death and Sh'ol gave up the dead in them; and they were judged, each according to what he had done. <sup>14</sup> Then Death and Sh'ol were hurled into the lake of fire. This is the second death—the lake of fire. <sup>15</sup> Anyone whose name was not found written in the Book of Life was hurled into the lake of fire.

21 <sup>1</sup> Then I saw a new heaven and a new earth,<sup>e</sup> for the old heaven and the old earth had passed away, and the sea was no longer there. <sup>2</sup> Also I saw the holy city, New Yerushalayim, coming down out of heaven from God, prepared like a bride beautifully dressed for her husband. <sup>3</sup> I heard a loud voice from the throne say, “See! God's Sh'khinah is with mankind, and he will live with them. They will be his people, and he himself, God-with-them, will be their God.<sup>f</sup> <sup>4</sup> He will wipe away every tear from their eyes. There will no longer be any death; and there will no longer be any mourning, crying or pain; because the old order has passed away.”

<sup>5</sup> Then the One sitting on the throne said, “Look! I am making everything new!” Also he said, “Write, ‘These words are true and trustworthy!’” <sup>6</sup> And he said to me, “It is done! I am the ‘A’ and the ‘Z,’ the Beginning and the End. To anyone who is thirsty I myself will give water free of charge from the Fountain of Life. <sup>7</sup> He who wins the victory will receive these things, and I will be his God, and he will be my son. <sup>8</sup> But as for the cowardly, the untrustworthy, the vile, the murderers, the sexually immoral, those involved with the occult and with drugs, idol-worshippers, and all liars — their destiny is the lake burning with fire and sulfur, the second death.”

<sup>9</sup> One of the seven angels having the seven bowls full of the seven last plagues approached me and said, “Come! I will show you the Bride, the Wife of the Lamb.” <sup>10</sup> He carried me off in the Spirit to the top of a great, high mountain and showed me the holy city, Yerushalayim, coming down out of heaven from God. <sup>11</sup> It had the Sh’khinah of God, so that its brilliance was like that of a priceless jewel, like a crystal-clear diamond. <sup>12</sup> It had a great, high wall with twelve gates; at the gates were twelve angels; and inscribed on the gates were the names of the twelve tribes of Isra’el. <sup>13</sup> There were three gates to the east, three gates to the north, three gates to the south and three gates to the west. <sup>14</sup> The wall of the city was built on twelve foundation-stones, and on these were the twelve names of the twelve emissaries of the Lamb.

<sup>15</sup> The angel speaking with me had a gold measuring-rod with which to measure the city, its gates and its wall. <sup>16</sup> The city is laid out in a square, its length equal to its width. With his rod he measured the city at 1,500 miles, with length, width and height the same. <sup>17</sup> He measured its wall at 216 feet by human standards of measurement, which the angel was using. <sup>18</sup> The wall was made of diamond and the city of pure gold resembling pure glass. <sup>19</sup> The foundations of the city wall were decorated with all kinds of precious stones — the first foundation stone was diamond, the second sapphire, the third chalcedony, the fourth emerald, <sup>20</sup> the fifth sardonyx, the sixth carnelian, the seventh chrysolite, the eighth beryl, the ninth topaz, the tenth chrysoprase, the eleventh turquoise and the twelfth amethyst. <sup>21</sup> The twelve gates were twelve pearls, with each gate made of a single pearl. The city’s main street was pure gold, transparent as glass.

<sup>22</sup> I saw no Temple in the city, for ADONAI, God of heaven’s armies, is its Temple, as is the Lamb. <sup>23</sup> The city has no need for the sun or the moon to shine on it, because God’s Sh’khinah gives it light, and its lamp is the Lamb. <sup>24</sup> The nations will walk by its light, and the kings of the earth will bring their splendor into it. <sup>25</sup> Its gates will never close, they stay open all day because night will not exist there, <sup>26</sup> and the honor and splendor of the nations will be brought into it. <sup>27</sup> Nothing impure may enter it, nor anyone who does shameful things or lies; the only ones who may enter are those whose names are written in the Lamb's Book of Life.

22 <sup>1</sup> Next the angel showed me the river of the water of life, sparkling like crystal, flowing from the throne of God and of the Lamb. <sup>2</sup> Between the main street and the river was the Tree of Life producing twelve kinds of fruit, a different kind every month; and the leaves of the tree were for healing the nations — <sup>3</sup> no longer will there be any curses. The throne of God and of the Lamb will be in the city, and his servants will worship him; <sup>4</sup> they will see his face, and his name will be on their foreheads. <sup>5</sup> Night will no longer exist, so they will need neither the light of a lamp nor the light of the sun, because ADONAI, God, will shine upon them. And they will reign as kings forever and ever.

<sup>6</sup> Then he said to me, "These words are true and trustworthy: ADONAI, God of the spirits of the prophets, sent his angel to show his servants the things that must happen soon."

<sup>8</sup> Then I, Yochanan, the one hearing and seeing these things, when I heard and saw them, I fell down to worship at the feet of the angel showing them to me. <sup>9</sup> But he said to me, "Don't do that! I am only a fellow-servant with you and your brothers, the prophets and the people who obey the words in this book. Worship God!"

<sup>10</sup> Then he said to me, "Don't seal up the words of the prophecy in this book,<sup>g</sup> because the time of their fulfillment is near.

<sup>11</sup> "Whoever keeps acting wickedly, let him go on acting wickedly;

whoever is filthy, let him go on being made filthy.

"Also, whoever is righteous, let him go on doing what is righteous;

and whoever is holy, let him go on being made holy."

<sup>12</sup> “Pay attention!” [says Yeshua,] “I am coming soon, and my rewards are with me to give to each person according to what he has done. <sup>13</sup> I am the ‘A’ and the ‘Z,’ the First and the Last, the Beginning and the End.”

<sup>14</sup> How blessed are those who wash their robes, so that they have the right to eat from the Tree of Life and go through the gates into the city! <sup>15</sup> Outside are the homosexuals, those involved with the occult and with drugs, the sexually immoral, murderers, idol-worshippers, and everyone who loves and practices falsehood. <sup>16</sup> “I, Yeshua, have sent my angel to give you this testimony for the Messianic communities. I am the Root and Offspring of David, the bright Morning Star. <sup>17</sup> The Spirit and the Bride say, ‘Come!’ Let anyone who hears say, ‘Come!’ And let anyone who is thirsty come — let anyone who wishes, take the water of life free of charge.”

<sup>18</sup> I warn everyone hearing the words of the prophecy in this book that if anyone adds to them, God will add to him the plagues written in this book. <sup>19</sup> And if anyone takes anything away from the words in the book of this prophecy, God will take away his share in the Tree of Life and the holy city, as described in this book.

<sup>20</sup> “The one who is testifying to these things says, ‘Yes, I am coming soon!’”

Amen! Come, Lord Yeshua!

Pronouncing Explanatory Glossary

Format. Names of persons and places are printed in ordinary type, other terms in italics. All terms are Hebrew except where [A] indicates Aramaic, [Y] Yiddish, and [O] some other language. Usual English renderings are shown in parentheses, unless the usual ones are the same as the CJB ones or differ only by reason of apostrophes. The definition or explanation, if there is one, follows a dash. In the case of B'rit Hadashah names and terms, there is given at the end of each entry the book, chapter and verse of the B'rit Hadashah where the name or term first appears (see abbreviations below); a “+” means it appears in at least one subsequent verse; “f.” or “ff.” means it appears again only in the verse or verses immediately following. Tanakh names and terms are generally not explained, although translations are given where needed.

Pronunciation. Vowels are pronounced as boldfaced in the following words: father, aisle, bed, need, neigh, whey, marine (accented on last syllable) or invest (not accented), obey, rule. As for consonants, “ch” is pronounced as in Johann Sebastian Bach, and so is “kh”; “g” is always hard (give); other consonants are more or less as in English. The guttural stop alef is represented by an apostrophe (') before a vowel, except at the beginning of a word (example: Natan'el is pronounced Na-tan'el and not Na-tan-nel). The stronger guttural stop 'ayin (closer to the hard “g” sound) is represented by a reverse apostrophe (◌') before or after a vowel.

Dots separate syllables unless hyphens or apostrophes do the job already. Accented syllables are printed in boldface. Except where an asterisk (*) follows the word, the pronunciation shown for Hebrew and Aramaic is that used in Israel, where at least 90% of all words are accented on the last syllable; many of the exceptions, in which the next-to-last syllable is accented, end with “ch,” with a vowel followed by “a,” or with “e” in the last syllable. Ashkenazic (German and eastern European) pronunciations common in English-speaking countries often shift “a” sounds towards “o,” turn some “t’s” into “s’s,” and accent the next-to-last syllable where the Israelis accent the last, e.g., Shab·bos instead of Shab·bat.

Section XVI of the Introduction tells more about how to pronounce Hebrew. An asterisk (*) means: See “Accentuation” paragraph on p. liii.

A·men—“It is true,” “So be it,” “May it become true.” Spoken after a prayer or statement to indicate agreement. (1) Most translators take Yeshua’s “Amen” as referring forward to what he was about to say: “Truly, I say to you,...” But there is no other instance of “Amen” pointing forward in early Jewish literature, and the context does not require it. Yeshua uses “Amen” to refer back, either seriously or ironically, to what he or someone else has said, or to what has just happened. Mt 5:18+ “Yes indeed!”). (2) Occasionally the term tells the congregation to say “Amen” at the end of a prayer. Mt 6:13+.

‘am·ha’·a·retz—literally, “people of the Land”, that is, ordinary, unlearned people; used pejoratively in the first century: “boors.” May be used as a singular noun to describe an individual: “He’s just an am·ha’aretz.” Yn 7:49; Ac 4:13.

Ga·cham (Gaham)

Ga·char (Gahar)

Gad—one of the twelve tribes of Israel. Rv 7:5.

Ga·di (Gadite, -s)

Ga·di·’el (Gaddiel)

Ga·‘al

Ga·‘ash

Ga·‘tam

Gal-‘Ed (Galeed)

Ga·lal

Ga·lil, the (Galilee)—the Galil is the portion of Eretz-Yisra’el west of Lake Kinneret and north of the Yizre’el (Jezreel) Valley. Mt 2:22+.

Ga·lil-of-the-Go·yim (Galilee of the nations)—the portion of Eretz-Yisra’el east of the Galil and of Lake Kinneret in what is now the country of Jordan. Its name describes the fact that it was inhabited largely by non-Jews. Mt 4:15.

Gal·lim

Ga·ma·dim (Gammadim)

Gam·li·'el (Gamaliel)—a major figure in non-Messianic Judaism, the first to be given the title Rabban (“our great one”). Of him the Mishna says, “When Rabban Gamli’el the Elder died, the glory of the Torah ceased, and purity and modesty died.” (Sotah 9:15) He was Sha’ul’s teacher, and he warned the Sanhedrin not to act rashly against the Messianic Jews. Ac 5:34–39; 22:3.

Ga·mul

Gan·‘E·den (Paradise)—literally, “Garden of Eden”; in Judaism the term also refers to Paradise. Lk 23:43.

Ga·rev (Gareb)

Gar·mi (Garmite)

Gat (Gath)

Gat·He·fer (Gath-hepher)

Gat·Rim·mon (Gath-rimmon)

Gat·Sh·ma·nim (Gethsemane)—garden where Yeshua prayed and was apprehended by the Temple police. The term is odd, meaning, literally, “winepress of oils.” Since it is located on the flank of the Mount of Olives, it is presumed that the garden was an olive orchard with an olive-oil press. Mt 26:36+.

Gav·ri·'el (Gabriel)—Angel sent in the Tanakh to Dani’el and in the New Testament to Z’kharyah #2 and Miryam #2. Lk 1:19, 26.

go·fer wood (gopher wood)

Go·lan

Gol·yat (Goliath)

Go·mer

Go·shen

Gov

Goy, pl. Go·yim—corresponding to the Greek word ethnos in the New Testament, variously rendered “Gentile,” “nation,” “pagan,” “non-Jew,” and “Goy”; other versions sometimes translate it “heathen.” As used among English-speaking Jews Goyim means “Non-Jews,” i.e., those outside “our group”; as with all words employed in this way, it can have a positive, a neutral or a negative connotation, depending on the speaker and the situation. In the CJB, to avoid suggesting exclusivist overtones when the text does not intend them, the word is used rather rarely and then only when God is speaking or when a Jew is addressing other Jews. Mt 5:47+.

Goy·i·she [Y]—Gentile (adjective). Ga 2:15.

Go·zan

G'·rar (Gerar)

G'·shur (Geshur)

G'shu·ri (Geshurite)

Gud·god (Gudgodah)

Gul·gol·ta (Golgotha, Calvary) [A]—"which means 'place of a skull,'" the place where Yeshua was executed on a stake. Archeologists are in general agreement that the traditional site of Gulgolta, in the Church of the Holy Sepulchre within the Old City of Yerushalayim, is the correct one. Mt 27:33+.

Hal·chul (Halhul)

Hal·fai (Alpheus, Alpheus)—father of Ya'akov Ben-Halfai, who was one of Yeshua's twelve talmidim. Mt 10:3+.

Ha·li

Hal·lah—loaf or cake. The modern popular meaning is the special bread eaten on Shabbat. But in Romans 11:16 it refers to the share of the dough set aside for the cohanim in accordance with Numbers 15:20 (where "cake" translates "hallah") and Mishna tractate Hallah.

Hal·lel—literally, "praise." The "Egyptian" Hallel consists of Psalms 113–118; the "Great" Hallel is Psalm 136. Both are recited as part of the Seder service. Mt 26:30+.

Hal·le·lu·yah! (Hallelujah!)—a command in the plural, "Praise Yah!" (Yah is a name of God; see Psalm 68:5 (4)). Sometimes rendered: "Praise the LORD!" Rv 19:1ff.

mik·veh—bath or pool with a flow of fresh water; used in Orthodox Judaism to this day for ritual purification. Ep 5:26, Ti 3:5.

Mi·la·lai

Mil·kah (Milcah)

Mil·kom (Milcom)

Mil·lo

min·chah—the afternoon Temple sacrifice, which was accompanied by prayers. In today's Judaism the afternoon synagogue service is called minchah by way of commemoration. Ac 3:1; 10:30.

Min·ni

Min·nit (Minnith)

Min·ya·min (Miniamin)

min·yan—quorum needed for certain public prayers; Orthodox Judaism sets it at ten men, while Conservative Judaism includes women. Ac 16:13.

Mir·mah (Mirma)

Mir·yam (Mary, Miriam)—(1) The original Miryam was the sister of Moshe, but she does not appear in the New Testament. (2) Mother of Yeshua the Messiah. Mt 1:16+. (3) Miryam from Magdala (see below). (4) Mother of Ya'akov #7 and Yosef #8 (Yosi #2). Mt 27:56+. (5) Wife of Klofah. Yn 19:25. (6) Sister of Marta and El'azar in Beit-Anyah. Lk 10:39+. (7) Mother of Yochanan Mark. Ac 12:12. (8) A believer in Rome. Ro 16:6.

Mir·yam from Mag·da·la; Mir·yam, called Mag·da·lit (Mary Magdalene)—talmidah of Yeshua from the town of Magdala (see glossary entry). Mt 27:56+.

Mis·gav (Misgab)

Mi·sha·'el

Mi·shal

Mish-'am

Mish·ma

Mish·ma·nah (Mishmannah)

Mish·pa·tim—Parashah 18; Exodus 21:1–24:18

Mish·ra·‘i (Mishraite)

Mis·par

Mis·pe·ret (Mispereth)

Mo·re·shet-Gat (Moresbeth-gath)

Mo·ri·yah (Moriah)

Mo·se·rah (Mosera)

Mo·se·rot (Moseroth)

Mo·she* (Moses)—(1) Deliverer of Israel from Egypt, agent through whom Israel received the Torah. Mt 8:4+. (2) In the time of Yeshua and after, the “seat of Moshe” was not only a metaphor for the authority of the Torah-teachers, but an actual chair on which they sat when they taught. An example, from the third century C.E., discovered in the ruins of Korazin (see glossary entry), is on display at the Israel Museum in Yerushalayim. Mt 23:2.

Mo·tza (Moza)

Mo·tza·‘ei-Shab·bat—literally, the “going-out of the Sabbath,” i.e., Saturday night. By biblical and Jewish reckoning days begin at sunset; so where the text tells us that the believers met on “the first day of the week.” it means Saturday night, not Sunday. Ac 20:7; 1C 16:2.

Mo·tzah (Mozah)

M’·ra·ri (Merari)

M’·ra·yah (Meraiah)

M’·ra·yot (Meraioth)

M’·re·mot (Meremoth)

M’·ri·vat-Ka·desh (Meribah in Kadesh)

M’·riv·Ba·‘al (Merib-baal)

M’·ri·vot-Ka·desh (Meriboth-kadesh)

M’·ro·dakh-Bal·‘a·dan (Merodach-baladan)

M’·tzo·ra—Parashah 28; Leviticus 14:1–15:33

Na·‘a·rai

Na·‘a·ran

Na·cha·li·’el (Nahaliel)

Na·cham (Naham)

Na·chash (Nahash)

Na·chat (Nahath)

Nach·bi (Nahbi)

Nach·ma·ni (Nahamani)

Na·chor (Nahor)—grandfather of Avraham; in Messianic genealogy. Lk 3:34.

Nach·rai (Nahari)

Nach·shon (Nahshon, Naasson)—ancestor of King David; in Messianic genealogy. Mt 1:4; Lk 3:32.

Na·chum (Nahum, Naum)—in Messianic genealogy. Lk 3:25.

Na·dav (Nadab)

Na·fish (Naphish)

Naf·ta·li (Naphtali, Nephthalim)—(1) Tribe of Israel descended from a son of the Patriarch Ya’akov. Rv 7:6. (2) The territory in Eretz-Yisra’el assigned to that tribe (Joshua 19–21). Mt 4:13ff.

Naf·tu·chim (Naphtuhim)

Nag·gai (Nagge)—in Messianic genealogy. Lk 3:25.

Na·ha·lal

Na·ha·lol

Na·‘im (Nain)—town in the Galil where Yeshua raised a widow’s son from the dead. The name means “pleasant.” Lk 7:11.

Nak·di·mon (Nicodemus)—Parush, member of the Sanhedrin and “teacher in Israel.” Though the name Nico-demus is Greek, it was hebraized to Nakdimon, and a well-known 1st-century Jerusalemite was named Nakdimon Ben-Gurion (Ta’anit 19b, Genesis Rabbah 42, etc.) Yn 3:1+.

Na·khon (Nachon)

Na·'o·mi

Na·so—Parashah 35; Numbers 4:21–7:89

Na·tan (Nathan)—son of King David; in Messianic genealogy. Lk 3:31.

Na·tan·'el (Nathanael)—talmid of Yeshua. Yn 1:45+.

Na·tze·ret (Nazareth)—town in the Galil where Yeshua grew up and lived most of his life. Mt 2:23+.

Natz·ra·ti (Nazarene), pl. Natz·ra·tim—In regard to Mattityahu, the Tanakh nowhere says that the Messiah is to be called a Natzrati, but Isaiah 11:1 refers to him as a netzer (“branch, shoot”). Since Natzrati means “resident of Natzeret,” the name Natzratim (followers of the man from Natzeret) is given to the Jewish followers of Yeshua. Thus Mattityahu’s “fulfillment” apparently involves a word play, although other explanations have been offered. The modern Hebrew word for “Christian” is Notzri, a variant of Natzrati. Mt 2:23; Ac 24:5.

Na·val (Nabal)

Na·vot (Naboth)

na·zir, n'zi·rim (nazirite, -s)

Tad·mor

Ta·fat (Taphath)

talent [O]—a weight variously between 60 and 100 pounds. A talent of gold would be worth around $300,000 at the current price of $300/ounce. Mt 25:15+.

ta·li·ta, ku·mi! [A]—Little girl, get up! The word talita, being the feminine form of the word for “lamb,” is therefore an affectionate diminutive (compare English “lambikin”). Mk 5:41.

Tal·mai—Hebrew form of Egyptian ptolemy, the name given to Egyptian kings during the centuries before Yeshua. In the New Testament the name is found in the form Bar-Talmi (Bartholomew), “son of ptolemy.” Mt 10:3+.

tal·mid, fem. tal·mi·dah, pl. tal·mi·dim—disciple, student. The relationship between a talmid and his rabbi was very close: not only did the talmid learn facts, reasoning processes and how to perform religious practices from his rabbi, but he regarded him as an example to be imitated in conduct and character (see Mt 10:24–25; Lk 6:40; Yn 13:13–15; 1C 11:1). The rabbi, in turn, was considered responsible for his talmidim (Mt 12:2; Lk 19:39; Yn 17:12). Mt 5:1+.

Tal·mon

Ta·mar (Thamar)—mother of Peretz and Zerach; in Messianic genealogy. Mt 1:3.

Tam·muz

Ta’·nakh (Tanach)

Ta·nakh—acronym formed from the first letters of the three parts of the Hebrew Bible: Torah, Nevi’im and K’tuvim (see glossary entries). Hence, the Old Testament. Rendered “scripture” or “it is written” in most translations of the New Testament. The reason the New Testament writers cite the Tanakh so frequently is that they understand it as God’s authoritative Word to mankind. Mt 4:4+.

T·‘o·ma (Thomas) [A]—one of the twelve emissaries of Yeshua. Mt 10:3+.

To·rah*—literally, “teaching,” but usually translated “Law” because Greek uses nomos (“law”) to render Hebrew Torah. (1) The Five Books of Moses, the Pentateuch (Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers, Deuteronomy), called the Written Torah. Mt 5:17. (2) That plus the Nevi'im (Prophets) and K'tuvim (Writings), i.e., the whole Tanakh. Yn 10:34. (3) That plus additional material (the Oral Torah) considered in varying degree authoritative in Judaism, Ga 5:3. (4) Uncapitalized, torah can be understood generically as “law” or “principle.” Ro 7:21–8:2.

To·rah*—teacher—this term translates Hebrew sofer (pl. sofrim), corresponding to Greek grammateus, and usually rendered “scribe.” The first-century scribes were apparently non-ordained teachers of Torah. Mt 2:4+.

Tz’·dad (Zedad)

Tz’du kim (Sadducees), sing. Tza dok—One of the two main components of the religious establishment in Yeshua’s time, the other being the P’rushim. The Tz’dukim tended to be richer, more skeptical, more worldly, and more willing to cooperate with the Roman conquerors than the P’rushim. The Tz’dukim emphasized Temple rituals; when it was destroyed (70 C.E.), so was their viability. Mt 3:7+.

tze·da·kah—literally, “righteousness,” but since ancient times also used to mean “charity.” Mt 6:1+.

Ye·shi·mon (Jeshimon)

Ye·shi·shai (Jeshishai)

ye·shi·vah—Jewish religious school. Ac 19:9.

Ye·shu·a (Jesus)—Variant of "Y'hoshua" (Joshua; see below). In the Tanakh nine persons and a city have the name Yeshua, usually transliterated as "Je-shua" or "Jeshuah." In the Septuagint and the

New Testament the name was brought over into Greek as Iêsous and thence into English as “Jesus.” It means “Y-H-V-H saves” (Mt 1:21) and is also the masculine form of yeshu’ah (“salvation”). (1) The Messiah of Israel, Yeshua from Natzeret. In modern Hebrew Yeshua’s name is pronounced and written “Yeshu,” which may have been the ancient pronunciation in the Galil. However, reflecting two thousand years of conflict between the Church and the Synagogue, it is also an acronym for Yimach sh’mo v’zikhrono (“May his name and memory be blotted out”). However, the late Yosef Vaktor, a Messianic Jewish Holocaust survivor, took it as an acronym for Yigdal sh’mo umalkhuto (“May his name and kingdom grow”). Mt 1:1+. (2) A Messianic Jew in Rome, “Yeshua, the one called Justus.” Co 4:11.

ye·shu·‘ah—salvation; used in a word play on Yeshua’s name at Lk 2:30.

Ye·shu·run (Jeshurun)—The upright one.

Y'hu·dah (Judah, Judas, Juda, Jude)—(1) The fourth son of Ya'akov avinu. Mt 1:2+. (2) The tribe of Israel named after him. Rv 5:5+. (3) The southern kingdom over which various kings reigned, c. 926–586 B.C.E.; contrasted with the northern kingdom, Israel. MJ 8:8. (4) Y'hudah from K'riot, Yeshua's betrayer (see below). (5) Another emissary of Yeshua, perhaps identical with Taddai. Yn 14:22. (6) A brother of Yeshua, traditionally the author of the book of Y'hudah (Jude). Mt 13:55; Mk 6:3. (7) Talmid of Yeshua and son of Ya'akov #5. Lk 6:16+. (8) Y'hudah HaG'lili (see below). (9) Prophet surnamed BarSabba. Ac 15:22ff. (10) Messianic Jew in Dammesek. Ac 9:11.

Y'hu·dah (Judea, Judah, Juda)—the portion of Eretz-Yisra'el allotted to the tribe of Y'hudah. Yerushalayim was at its northern border, and it extended southward past Hevron (Hebron). Mt 2:1+.

Y'hu·dah of K'ri·ot (Judas Iscariot)—Yeshua's betrayer's full name in Hebrew is Y'hudah Ben-Shim'on Ish-K'riot (Yn 6:71), which means “Judah, son of Simon, a man of K'riot,” a town some twenty miles south of Yerushalayim. Mt 10:4+.

Y'hu·dah Ha·G'li·li (Judah the Galilean, Judas of Galilee)—popular Jewish leader who led a rebellion against Rome in 6–7 C.E. and founded the party of the Zealots (Sicarii). Ac 5:37.

Y'hu·di, pl. Y'hu·dim (Jew, Judean)—This term, which means “one who praises,” does not appear in the CJB. When it or the equivalent Greek word Ioudaios is used by a non-Jew, or by a Jew outside Eretz-Yisra'el, it is generally rendered “Jew.” When used by a Jew within Eretz-Yisra'el, it is rendered “Judean,” i.e., a resident or citizen of Y'hudah.

Index of Tanakh Passages Cited in the B'rit Hadashah

There are 484 passages from the Tanakh cited a total of 695 times in the Complete Jewish Bible's B'rit Hadashah. This index shows the verses in the B'rit Hadashah which cite each of these passages. The books of the Tanakh are listed in the same order as in the CJB, and the system for citing verses is the same—that is, the Tanakh passages are listed by their Hebrew Bible chapter-and-verse numbers, with Christian Bible chapter-and-verse numbers shown in parentheses, if different. “LXX” means that the B'rit Hadashah cites the Septuagint version of the Tanakh. The English names of the books of the Tanakh are used. The abbreviations for books of the B'rit Hadashah are shown at the beginning of the Pronouncing Explanatory Glossary. Inclusive passages are listed first, as with these seven successive entries: Deuteronomy 5:16-20, 5:16, 5:17-20, 5:17-18, 5:17, 5:18, 5:19.

Scripture Readings for Shabbat and Holidays

This appendix, which relates to Section XV of the Introduction, lists the parashot-hashavua (the Scripture readings from the Torah and the Prophets read each week in the synagogue on Shabbat) and the Scripture readings for the Jewish holidays. In the tables that follow, “A” and “S” refer to Ashkenazic and Sefardic customary readings, respectively, where these differ. “M” means “suggested Messianic adaptation.” The B’rit Hadashah readings are suggestions only and often include more material than most congregations will wish to use on any particular occasion. The abbreviations for B’rit Hadashah books are given at the bottom of page 1556.

There are 54 parashot-hashavua to allow for readings on 54 Shabbats - which can happen during a Jewish leap year, since a leap year adds a thirteenth lunar month to the calendar. Regular years, those with twelve months, have fewer Shabbats, so that in some weeks two parashot are read. The table below indicates these with “RY.” On the holiday called Simchat Torah, which usually falls in October, there is a reading from the end of Deuteronomy (parashah #54); then the Torah scroll is rewound, and the reading continues from Genesis 1:1 (parashah #1). In other words, the cycle takes a year, ending and beginning on Simchat Torah (which means, literally, “joy of the Torah”), and continuing parashah by parashah each week until the next year’s Simchat Torah.

The special readings from the Torah and the Prophets for the Jewish holidays are arranged chronologically according to the Jewish calendar, which begins with Rosh HaShanah (the Jewish New Year) in September or early October. The readings are those used in the Diaspora, where some Jewish holidays are celebrated for an extra day beyond what is specified in the Bible (and observed in Israel), because of uncertainty about the calendar in earlier times. (Determination of the new month required that the crescent moon actually be seen in the west from Jerusalem, and whether it had been seen yet could not be quickly communicated to distant points.) Therefore Israelis using the Complete Jewish Bible should consult local calendars.

ABOUT THE TRANSLATOR

DAVID H. STERN was born in Los Angeles in 1935, the great-grandson of two of the city's first twenty Jews. He earned a Ph.D. in economics at Princeton University and was a professor at UCLA, mountain-climber, co-author of a book on surfing and owner of health-food stores.

In 1972 he came to believe in Yeshua as the Messiah, after which he received a Master of Divinity degree at Fuller Theological Seminary and did graduate work at the University of Judaism.

He was married in 1976 to Martha Frankel, also a Messianic Jew, and together they served one year on the staff of Jews for Jesus. Dr. Stern taught Fuller Theological Seminary's first course in "Judaism and Christianity," organized Messianic Jewish conferences and leaders' meetings, and was an officer of the Messianic Jewish Alliance of America.

In 1979 the Stern family made aliyah (immigrated to Israel). They now live in Jerusalem and are active in Israel's Messianic Jewish community.

Dr. Stern is the author of Messianic Judaism: A Modern Movement with an Ancient Past (formerly Messianic Jewish Manifesto), which outlines the destiny, identity, history, theology and program of today's Messianic Jewish movement. He also wrote Restoring the Jewishness of the Gospel: A Message for Christians. It consists of excerpts from the former book selected for Christians to whom the Jewishness of the Gospel is an unfamiliar idea.

His Jewish New Testament, which has been incorporated into the Complete Jewish Bible, is the basis for its companion volume, the Jewish New Testament Commentary. This book discusses Jewish issues raised in the New Testament —questions Jews have about Yeshua, the New Testament and Christianity; questions Christians have about Judaism and the Jewish roots of their faith; and questions Messianic Jews have about their own identity and role.

The Jewish New Testament and the Jewish New Testament Commentary are available together on CD-ROM for Windows 98+. The Jewish New Testament has also been produced on sixteen audio cassettes, twenty audio CDS, and MP3. Several of his books are available in other languages.

Introduction

<sup>5</sup> The abbreviations “B.C.E.” and “C.E.,” which mean “Before the Common Era” and “Common Era” respectively, are used by the Jewish community in place of “B.C.” and “A.D.,” which signify “Before Christ” and “Anno Domini” (Latin for “in the year of our Lord”).

<sup>6</sup> More about the original-language texts used for the CJB will be found in Section VIII.

<sup>7</sup> The word Tanakh is an acronym made from the first letters of the three main divisions of the Hebrew Bible: Torah (the “Law,” Pentateuch), Nevi'im (Prophets) and K'tuvim (Writings).

<sup>8</sup> Genesis 1:26–2:25

<sup>10</sup> 1 Kings 8:46; Ecclesiastes 7:20; Romans 3:23

<sup>11</sup> Genesis 2:17, 5:5; Romans 6:23

<sup>13</sup> Genesis 12:1–3; Isaiah 49:6

<sup>15</sup> Daniel 7:13

<sup>17</sup> John 1:29, 36

<sup>18</sup> Isaiah 9:5–6(6–7); Zechariah 12:10; Psalm 2:7; Proverbs 30:4

<sup>19</sup> Matthew 1:18–23

<sup>21</sup> John 3:16

<sup>22</sup> Romans 11:16–26

<sup>23</sup> Jeremiah 31:30–36(31–37)

<sup>25</sup> Exodus 19–24

<sup>28</sup> The following material concerning the historicity of the events related in the B'rit Hadashah and the authorship and dating of its documents is based on mainstream conservative New Testament scholarship. See the discussion of tradition and scholarship below in Section V.

<sup>29</sup> His emphasis on the universality of salvation and his addressing his book to “Theophilus” (Greek for “lover of God”) suggest that he is writing for the broadest possible audience.

<sup>30</sup> Acts 1:8

<sup>35</sup> Exodus 14–15

<sup>38</sup> For others, consult David Bivin and Roy Blizzard, Jr., Understanding the Difficult Words of Jesus (Austin, Texas: Center for Judaic-Christian Studies, 1984). See also the Jewish New Testament Commentary (Jewish New Testament Publications, Inc., 4th edition, 1996) and Section XI below.

<sup>39</sup> Matthew 5–7

<sup>41</sup> Matthew 6:21, 24

<sup>45</sup> Exceptions in varying degrees: Sid Roth's The Book of Life (Nashville: Thomas Nelson, 1982) and David Bronstein, Jr.'s The Living Bible: Messianic Edition (Wheaton, Illinois: Tyndale House, 1984); both are adaptations of existing English versions made by Messianic Jews. The Original New Testament (San Francisco: Harper & Row, 1985) is Hugh Schonfield's revision of his earlier translation, The Authentic New Testament (1955); Schonfield (1901–1988) accepted Yeshua as the Messiah in his youth but reneged in later years. God's New Covenant: A New Testament Translation, by the Messianic Jew, Heinz W. Cassirer (1903–1979), was published by William B. Eerdsman Publishing Company, Grand Rapids, Michigan, in 1989.

<sup>46</sup> Romans 1:16, 3:29–30, 10:12

<sup>51</sup> The phrase is quoted from Acts 13:9. Some suppose that at this point God changed his name from Sha'ul to Paul as a sign that he “had stopped being a Jew and become a Christian.” Nothing could be further from the truth. Like many Jews in the Diaspora both then and now, he had two names — one suited to the country in which he was living, and the other, his Hebrew name, given at his circumcision.

<sup>52</sup> See Acts 16:3, 17:2, 18:18, 20:16, 21:23–27, 23:5–6, 25:8, 28:17.

Randolph and Company, 1884), by the Messianic Jew Alfred Edersheim, in which a list of 456 Tanakh passages messianically applied in ancient rabbinic writings is supported by 558 quotations from those writings. Also see J. Barton Payne, Encyclopedia of Biblical Prophecy (New York: Harper & Row, 1973).

<sup>69</sup> The Hebrew word ‘almah in Isaiah 7:14 means “a young woman,” and in the context of the Tanakh always “a young woman of unsullied reputation,” which is why the Jewish translators of the Septuagint, the Greek version of the Tanakh prepared 200 years before Yeshua’s birth, rendered this word into Greek as parthenos, “virgin”; this is the word used at Mattityahu 1:23.

<sup>70</sup> The Septuagint (see footnote 69) has: “They pierced my hands and my feet,” implying the Hebrew word karu (כָּרוּ) in its source text. The Masoretic Hebrew text, accepted as standard in traditional Judaism, has k’ari (כָּאֲרִי), and the line reads, “Like a lion, my hands and my feet.” See Section VIII, paragraph 6.

<sup>71</sup> See footnote 70.

Genesis

* or: until Shiloh comes

* or: that says beautiful words.

Joshua

* These verses do not appear in the Masoretic text; they are usually included with the Masoretic text, accompanied by a note stating that they are taken from the parallel description at 1 Chronicles 6:63–64.

1 Samuel

* “Sh’mu’el” is derived from shem El, “name of God,” but sounds like sha’ul me’el, “asked from God.”

* The Hebrew text lacks the number.

2 Kings

- * Hebrew nachash means “serpent,” and n’choshet means “bronze.”

Isiah

- * Or: “the virgin.” See Introduction, Section XIV, footnote 69.
- * Hebrew ‘ir haheres, parodying ‘ir hacheres, “City of the Sun,” i.e., Heliopolis
- * Rahav symbolizes Egypt; the sea monster symbolizes Pharaoh
- * Or: and in fellowship with him

Ezekiel

- * The Hebrew word bamah means “high place”; the etymology suggested here relates it to Hebrew ba (“go”) and mah (“what”).

Psalms Book1

- * or: Kiss purely
- * Or: “They pierced my hands and feet.” See Introduction, Section VIII, paragraph 6, and Section XIV, footnote 70.

Psalms Book2

- * Or: “May his name flourish/propagate as long as the sun.” Jewish tradition considers Yinnon a name of the Messiah.

Song of Solomon

- * Shir-HaShirim means “Song of Songs” or “The Ultimate Song.”

Daniel

* M'ne — a maneh was a coin; Aramaic mena means “to count.” T'kel is Aramaic for shekel, a unit of weight; Aramaic tekiltameans “you are weighed.” P'res (an Aramaic noun, plural parsin), is half a maneh; p'ris means “cut up, divided”; Paras is Persia. (The “f” in ufarsin is the Aramaic letter peh, sometimes pronounced “p” and sometimes, “f.”)

Nehemiah

* Verse 68 is not included in some versions; it corresponds to ‘Ezra 2:66.
